Christ came to save fallen man, and Satan with fiercest wrath met him on the field of conflict; for the enemy knew that when divine strength was added to human weakness, man was armed with power and intelligence, and could break away from the captivity in which he had bound him. Satan sought to intercept every ray of light from the throne of God. He sought to cast his shadow across the earth, that men might lose the true views of God's character, and that the knowledge of God might become extinct in the earth. He had caused truth of vital importance to be so mingled with error that it had lost its significance. The law of Jehovah was burdened with needless exactions and traditions, and God was represented as severe, exacting, revengeful, and arbitrary. He was pictured as one who could take pleasure in the sufferings of his creatures. The very attributes that belonged to the character of Satan, the evil one represented as belonging to the character of God. Jesus came to teach men of the Father, to correctly represent him before the fallen children of earth. Angels could not fully portray the character of God, but Christ, who was a living impersonation of God, could not fail to accomplish the work. The only way in which he could set and keep men right was to make himself visible and familiar to their eyes. That men might have salvation he came directly to man, and became a partaker of his nature. {ST, January 20, 1890 par. 6}

From the beginning it has been Satan's studied plan to cause men to forget God, that he might secure them to himself. Therefore he has sought to misrepresent the character of God, to lead men to cherish a false conception of Him. The Creator has been presented to their minds as clothed with the attributes of the prince of evil himself--as arbitrary, severe, and unforgiving--that He might be feared, shunned, and even hated by men. . . . {HP 8.2}

The law of Jehovah, dating back to creation, was comprised in the two great principles, "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength. This is the first commandment. And the second is like, namely this: Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. There is none other commandment greater than these." These two great principles embrace the first four commandments, showing the duty of man to God, and the last six, showing the duty of man to his fellow-man. The principles were more explicitly stated to man after the fall, and worded to meet the case of fallen intelligences. This was necessary in consequence of the minds of men being blinded by transgression. {RH, May 6, 1875 par. 13}

The apostle gives us the true definition of sin. "Sin is the transgression of the law." The largest class of Christ's professed ambassadors are blind guides. They lead the people away from the path of safety by representing the requirements and prohibitions of the ancient law of Jehovah as arbitrary and severe. {Con 75.2}

Christ came to our world to become our sacrifice. He came to discover to our eyes the gems of truth, to place them in a new setting,--the frame-work of truth... When Christ came, it was to engage in the conflict with the enemy of God and man, on this earth, in the sight of the universe of heaven. But why was it necessary to wage the warfare in the sight of other worlds?--It was because Satan had been an exalted angel, and when he fell, he induced many angels to join him in his revolt against God's government. He worked in the minds of the angels as he works in the minds of men today. He made a pretension of loyalty to God, and yet he argued that angels should not be under law. He inculcated his ideas, his rebellion and enmity, and hatred of God's law originated in the minds of the angels in heaven through his influence. He caused the fall of man through the same temptations with which he had caused the fall of angels; [He inculcated his ideas about God's law into the minds of angels and he caused the fall of man through the same temptations, what is his idea about God's law? "In the opening of the great controversy, Satan had declared that the law of God could not be obeyed, that justice was inconsistent with mercy, and that, should the law be broken, it would be impossible for the sinner to be pardoned. Every sin must meet its punishment, urged Satan...DA761] and in the world where he proposed to work out his principles of rebellion, the battle had to be fought, that all might behold the real nature and results of disobedience to God's great moral standard. He represented God in a false light, clothing him with his own attributes. Christ came to represent the Father in his true character. He showed that he was not an arbitrary judge, ready to bring judgments upon men, and delighting in condemning and punishing them for their evil deeds. The Lord proclaimed his character to Moses in the mount. "And the Lord descended in the cloud, and stood with him there, and proclaimed the name of the Lord. And the Lord passed by before him, and proclaimed, The Lord, The Lord God, merciful and gracious, long-suffering, and abundant in goodness and truth, keeping mercy for thousands, forgiving iniquity and transgression and sin, and that will by no means clear the guilty." {ST, November 18, 1889 par. 6}

Why has the second message of the three angels been ineffective in calling people out of a confused system of beliefs? Because the first angel's message has not been presented in its right light.

- We have not presented God's character correctly
- We have not presented the good news about God
- We have not presented the truth about God's law
- We have continued to promote an arbitrary law by an arbitrary god
- Thus, we have merely taken people trapped in a imposed legal religious system and transferred them to a different system of imposed arbitrary rules, but still they are trapped under the oppression of worshipping a dictator god.
- Babylon the Great = confused Christianity, speaking with thousands of different voices, ideas, doctrines, arguing. Currently there are 34,000 different Christian groups, yes, Christianity is a confused mess, just like Babel after the languages were confused. Further, Babylon represents the confusion that happens when we have imposed law. Think about earthly governments and how things get so confused with arbitrary law, with rules made up and externally enforced. Thus, Babylon represents a manmade religious system, the Imperial Roman law structure projected upon God and heaven, and manifests in the form of penal substitution theology, and other dictator views of God.

Before we go on to the third angel's message, I received an email from an online listener regarding the investigative judgment and the idea of God being judged rather than God sitting in judgment of us.

I am starting to realize that while it's true most of Revelation needs to be taken as symbolic of something else, I think mostly everyone can agree that from a biblical and logical standpoint, it is not all symbolic (2nd coming included for instance) and thus requires careful analysis to see what is what. I am also realizing that the pre-advent judgment is not exclusively about us judging God to be trustworthy or not. Relationships always go two ways. For those seeking to put away sin, there should be no fear in realizing we too will be judged by unfallen beings and God as trustworthy or not, based on our actions. This reality provides assurance that one day sin will forever be a thing of the past. Reinterpreting the Bible to say it is all about us judging God ignores the other side of the relationship coin.

Thoughts?

My response:

Yes, relationships do go two ways, but the way one understands the two sides of "judgment" goes back to how one sees God's law. Imposed law, i.e. human law projected back onto God, which came through the little horn power, and has infected Christianity, including Adventism, sees judgment as you have described. God and heavenly beings "judging" us based on our "actions." I believe this is completely false.

When we see God's law as the design protocol for life, then we realize our actions (As Jesus taught in MT 5 regarding adultery and murder) are merely symptoms, or the outworking of sin in the heart. Another way to say it is, when the character is deviant from God's design the automatic outcome is to sin behaviorally. Thus, the actions are "symptoms" to reveal the condition of the heart. The non-divine beings can observe the actions to understand how things go in the heart. But, God Himself doesn't look on the outward appearance, He looks on the heart. And He "judges" the secret intents of the heart, in the same way a doctor, who examines and MRI and looks inside the person "judges" what He sees. God accurately diagnosis what the actual condition of each heart is. And our actual heart condition is determined by whether we trust God and open the heart to the working of the Spirit, which is determined by our judgment of Him.

So, the idea that God judges us based on our actions, is an artifact of the Roman infection of Christianity, and is needed for the babes in Christ, who, according to Paul focus on the actions and are not acquainted with righteousness:

¹¹ We have much to say about this, but it is hard to explain because you are slow to learn. ¹² In fact, though by this time you ought to be teachers, you need someone to teach you the elementary truths of God's word all over again. You need milk, not solid food! ¹³ Anyone who lives on milk, being still an infant, is not acquainted with the teaching about righteousness. ¹⁴ But solid food is for the mature, who by constant use have trained themselves to distinguish good from evil. Therefore let us leave the elementary teachings about Christ and go on to maturity, not laying again the foundation of repentance from acts that lead to death, (Heb 5:11-6:1)

Notice, the children, the spiritual infants, are focused on "acts that lead to death" in other words on being judged by their acts, or actions. This is not righteousness, not even acquainted with righteousness. This is childishness. This is like an adult brushing their teeth because mommy has a rule and if I don't I will get judged bad by mommy. This is penal theology, God has rules and He must judge us if we don't do right.

Christianity is filled with children, who as children needed the rules to help them, but who have never grown up to understand what righteousness really is. What is happening is that people find themselves at different levels of development, intellectually, morally, relationally and God wants to reach them all, so God has used language for the children, the babies, but sadly, many of the children never grow up and continue to believe God's baby talk is what He wants for all eternity. This is where penal models of atonement and judgment and punishment arise. Have you read Kohlberg's moral development stages, which do a good job of describing normal human development, and give some insight into the mindset different people view the Bible through:

KOHLBERG'S STAGES OF MORAL DEVELOPMENT

A. PREMORAL OR PRECONVENTIONAL STAGES:

Behavior motivated by anticipation of pleasure or pain.

STAGE 1: PUNISHMENT AND OBEDIENCE:

Avoidance of physical punishment and deference to power. The immediate physical consequences of an action determine its goodness or badness.

The atrocities carried out by soldiers during the holocaust who were simply "carrying out orders" under threat of punishment, illustrate that adults as well as children may function at stage one level.

- Israel as it left Egypt – slave mentality

STAGE 2: INSTRUMENTAL EXCHANGE:

Marketplace exchange of favors or blows. "You scratch my back, I'll scratch yours." Justice is: "Do unto others as they do unto you." Eye for an eye mentality. Wrong doing must be punished.

Vengeance is considered a moral duty.

- Israel at Sinai, God tries to advance them one step into maturity,
- But sadly much of the Middle East still operates on this childlike level

B. CONVENTIONAL MORALITY:

Acceptance of the rules and standards of one's group.

STAGE 3: INTERPERSONAL CONFORMITY:

Right is conformity to the behavioral expectations of one's society or peers. Individuals act to gain approval of others.

Good behavior is that which pleases or helps others within the group. "Everybody is doing it." One earns approval by being conventionally "respectable" and "nice."

Sin is a breach of the expectations of the social order.

Retribution, however, at this stage is collective. Individual vengeance is not allowed. Forgiveness is preferable to revenge. Punishment is mainly for deterrence. Failure to punish is "unfair." "If he can get away with it, why can't I?"

- Israel after the time of the judges. Their request for kings, "everybody is doing it" So they turned away from God and tried to conform to the world around them – this led to the 70 years to teach them not to be like the nations around them, which helped them go to the next level

STAGE 4: LAW AND ORDER:

Respect for rules, laws and properly constituted authority. Defense of the given social and institutional order for it's own sake.

"Justice" normally refers to criminal or forensic justice. Justice demands that the wrongdoer be punished, that he "pay his debt to society," and that law abiders be rewarded. "A good day's pay for a good day's work."

Injustice is failing to reward work or punish demerit.

Authority figures are seldom questioned. "He must be right. He's the Pope (or the President, or the Judge, or God)."

- Israel at the time of Christ, a legalistic system of rules that must be kept for the rules sake.

STAGE 4 ½:

Between the conventional stages and the post-conventional Levels 5 and 6, there is a transitional stage. College-age students that have come to see conventional morality as relative and arbitrary, but have not yet discovered universal ethical principles, may drop into a hedonistic ethic of "do your own thing." This was well noted in the hippie culture of the 1960's. Disrespect for conventional morality was especially infuriating to the Stage 4 mentality, and indeed was calculated to be so.

C. POSTCONVENTIONAL OR PRINCIPLED MORALITY:

Ethical principles

STAGE 5: PRIOR RIGHTS AND SOCIAL CONTRACT:

Moral action in a specific situation is not defined by reference to a checklist of rules, but from logical application of universal, abstract, moral principles. Individuals have natural or inalienable rights and liberties that are prior to society and must be protected by society. Retributive justice is repudiated.

The statement, "Justice demands punishment," which is a self-evident truism to the Stage 4 mind, is just as self-evidently nonsense at Stage 5. Retributive punishment is neither rational nor just, because it does not promote the rights and welfare of the individual. Only legal sanctions that fulfill that purpose are imposed-- protection of future victims, deterrence, and rehabilitation.

The freedom of the individual should be limited by society only when it infringes upon someone else's freedom.

- What Jesus tried to teach them, no need to punish the woman caught in adultery
- All humans are valuable, even the lepers, tax collectors and prostitutes

STAGE 6: UNIVERSAL ETHICAL PRINCIPLES:

An individual who reaches this stage acts out of universal principles based upon the equality and worth of all human beings.

Persons are never means to an end, but are ends in themselves. Having rights means more than individual liberties.

This is the "Golden Rule" model. A list of rules inscribed in stone is no longer necessary.

At this level, God is understood to say what is right because it is right; His sayings are not right, just because it is God who said them.

Persons at this level have accepted God's invitation to "come and let us reason together".

- Jesus lived this level
- The New Testament church lived this level and the Apostles taught this, thus the law is the law of love, and that the written law was useful only to diagnose and not given for the righteous but for the wicked. The law is written on the heart, new covenant
- This is the level our class seeks to achieve

THE FOLLOWING ARE OBSERVATIONS THAT WERE MADE BY KOHLBERG

1. STAGE DEVELOPMENT IS INVARIANT.

One must progress through the stages in order, and one cannot get to a higher stage without passing through the stage immediately preceding it.

2. IN STAGE DEVELOPMENT, SUBJECTS CANNOT COMPREHEND MORAL REASONING AT A STAGE MORE THAN ONE STAGE BEYOND THEIR OWN.

3. IN STAGE DEVELOPMENT, MOVEMENT THROUGH THE STAGES IS EFFECTED WHEN COGNITIVE DISEQUILIBRIUM IS CREATED, THAT IS, WHEN A PERSON'S COGNITIVE OUTLOOK IS NOT ADEQUATE TO COPE WITH A GIVEN MORAL DILEMMA.

4. IT IS QUITE POSSIBLE FOR A HUMAN BEING TO BE PHYSICALLY MATURE BUT NOT MORALLY MATURE.

5. KOHLBERG BELIEVED THAT ONLY ABOUT 25% OF PERSONS EVER GROW TO LEVEL SIX, THE MAJORITY REMAINING AT LEVEL FOUR.

The Bible enjoins principles of modesty, humility, and wise stewardship of the money. Application of these principles might preclude the purchase of expensive jewelry, furs, flashy cars, or other items primarily for show. A person functioning at level six would have no problem applying these principles. Persons functioning at a level four on the other hand, might make rules about "jewelry" (in a church for instance) or red dresses, or cosmetics. But they might not even notice a flashy car or the lady who wears a new dress every single week. Those things aren't on the list. If Kohlberg's observation is true, then level 6 thinkers would be in the minority. They might even be misunderstood and persecuted by a level 4 majority (Christ being the primary example).

STAGE THEORY AND THE ATONEMENT

Level 1: Man sinned and offended God. God responded with angry vengeance taking the life of Jesus.

Level 2: God somehow struck a bargain with the Devil, a market place exchange of Christ's life, paid as a ransom to the Devil, in trade for the devil's releasing his hostages. In the popular version, Satan found out too late that God had conned him, when Christ rose from the dead.

Level 3-4: The Law must be kept. Man broke the Law. Someone had to pay the penalty. "The wages of sin is death." Jesus paid that penalty. The integrity of the Law was maintained.

There is an aspect of truth on the law must be kept when the law is understood as the law life is built upon.

Level 5-6: He demonstrated that separation from God is death. ("Why have you forsaken me?") Since we separate ourselves from Him, not He from us, He is not our executioner. He allowed Satan to play out his hand, exposing his selfish character for all both man and angels to see, and thus erasing all sympathy for the accusations of the fallen foe. God's character was vindicated.

Level 7: Atonement becomes at-one-ment. God did what it took to win our love and trust, destroy the infection of sin and restore us to unity with Him again. Neither God, nor His law, defined as the eternal principles upon which He bases His government, change, but our understanding of His law changes, and God speaks to us at each level of our understanding. It is a mistake to cling to expressions appropriate to an earlier age of understanding, regardless of how valid and useful they were in their own context, when more appropriate expressions exist.

Where are you on this moral hierarchy? Where do you experience the majority of church leadership to be? Have we taken the first and second angel's messages to the world?

The message of the third angel can only be effectively given when the first two angel's messages are given in their right light:

⁹ A third angel followed them and said in a loud voice: "If anyone worships the beast and his image and receives his mark on the forehead or on the hand, ¹⁰ he, too, will drink of the wine of God's fury, which has been poured full strength into the cup of his wrath. He will be tormented with burning sulfur in the presence of the holy angels and of the Lamb. ¹¹ And the smoke of their torment rises for ever and ever. There is no rest day or night for those who worship the beast and his image, or for anyone who receives the mark of his name." ¹² This calls for patient endurance on the part of the saints who obey God's commandments and remain faithful to Jesus.

Thoughts?

Angel = messenger

Loud voice = heard all over the world

Worships = values the doctrines, adheres to the principles, practices the methods of the beast, regardless of denomination

Beast and image = a merger of religious and political powers, particularly the merger of religious rhetoric with human law constructs, creating a dictator god and political religious organization that will use coercive tactics

Mark = that which distinguishes one as a follower of the beast system

Forehead = true believer in the penal legal god who must punish

Hand = practitioner of those coercive methods even though one doesn't believe

God's anger and wrath = God letting go His restraining hand and allowing unremedied sin to take its full toll

Burning sulfur = God's life giving glory, the Greek thion, neutered form of thios, which means divine, or God, and which is the basis of "theology" the study of God. Thus, the burning sulfur is God's fiery presence, the fire of truth and love which consumes sin, seen in Ezek 28, the fiery stones Lucifer walked amongst before his fall, or Daniel 7 when the ancient of days took his seat. And the text explicitly states this fire takes place in "the presence of the holy angels and the Lamb."

Smoke = Is what is left behind after something is burned up. Thus it symbolizes the history of the lives and choices of the lost, the memory of what they chose and did which is remembered by the saved forever and ever. We never forget the lessons taught us through this battle between Christ and Satan, and why the wicked are lost in the end – by their own choices.

Forever = eternity, the end of the wicked is eternal, and we will remember for all eternity, never forgetting

No rest = the mind is never at peace or rest in deviation from God's design, and they never enter the eternal rest, or reunion with God

Keep the commandments = live the law of love

Faithful to Jesus = represent God rightly and tell the truth about God's character

My paraphrase of the Three Angel's Messages:

Rev 14:6 Then I saw another messenger flying in midair, and he had the eternal good news about God's character of love to proclaim to everyone living on earth, to every nation, tribe, language and people, which represents a movement of people who arise to proclaim the truth about God's character of love throughout the world. 7 He said in a clear resounding voice, "Be in awe of God, and glorify him by living his methods of love, because the hour has come for everyone to make a judgment about God and worship the Designer, Creator and Builder who made the heavens, the earth, the sea and springs of water, which all operate upon his law of love."

Rev 14:8 Then I saw a second messenger follow the first proclaiming throughout the world, "Don't trust Babylon the Great, a symbolic description of religions that misrepresent God; it is fallen into the lies about God and intoxicates the world with its pagan views of God, maddening them with its adulterous idea that God coerces and must inflict punishment if not properly appeased."

Rev 14:9 A third messenger followed them and proclaimed in a voice heard throughout the world, "If anyone gives worth and honor to the beastly system of coercion by choosing the methods of the beast and thus marking themselves as loyal in heart by embracing the character of the beast or marking themselves as loyal in deed by practicing his methods, 10 they will reap the full fury of unremedied sin when God let's go his protective hand. They will experience immeasurable torment of mind and burning anguish of heart when they stand in God's fiery presence and are bathed in unquenchable fire of truth and love, all in the very presence of Jesus and the holy angels. 11 And the memory of their suffering and the lesson of their self-destructive choices will never be forgotten throughout all eternity future. There will be no peace of mind, day or night for those who prefer the methods of the beast and model after him, nor for any who choose to mark themselves as followers of the beast." 12 This requires patient endurance on the part of the healed who live God's methods of love and remain true to Jesus.

Thoughts?

Is there any wonder why the church has not fulfilled its prophetic mission? We cannot fulfill the mission until we come back to the truth about God, reject the dictator view of God, which is promoted in:

- the imposed law model
- penal substitution theology
- God must punish sin
- Sabbath is a test of obedience without reason just because God said so
- Judgment is God sitting in judgment determine who will be saved and ordering punishments
- God is the source of inflicted pain, suffering and death
- All sin must be punished and God will inflict it

All these presentations continue to confuse the world and misrepresent God and obstruct the message of the three angels from doing its work in preparing the world for Christ's return.

SUNDAY

The lesson talks about the terrible persecution that is to occur during the 1260 year period

The time frame for this is historically said to be from 538 CE, when Justinian's general, Belisarius defeated the last of the Arian nations, the Ostrogoths, drove them out of Rome and turned over the city to the Bishop of Rome.

1260 years later, would be 1798, and that year, the French general Berthier, enters Rome, declares it a Republic, takes the pope captive, exiles him to France where the pope dies a prisoner.

Because of this prophecy, and the history of the Dark Ages, and the physical persecution such as burning at the stake, crusades, inquisition, many have concluded that the war against the saints is/was a physical war.

Thoughts?

Jesus said, “You have heard that it was said, ‘Do not commit adultery.’ But I tell you that anyone who looks at a woman lustfully has already committed adultery with her in his heart.”
MT 5:27,28

What was He saying about the physical acts of sin? They are a result of heart defects. Is this true only for adultery? What did Jesus say about murder?

Then would the actions of the church in the Dark Ages, when it persecuted physically, be the actual war against the saints, or the symptoms, the outworking, the result of the real war going on in the hearts and minds of men?

Remember the law of worship, or modeling, by beholding we become changed? We become like the God we worship. Therefore, the reason the church persecuted others and violated human rights, was because it had been infected with lies about God. It had accepted a change in God’s law as imposed and imposed laws require imposed punishments. It falsely viewed God’s government as a government like Imperial Rome, made up of imposed rules requiring the ruling authority to police the laws and punish law breakers. Therefore, as “God’s church on earth”, it naturally practiced those methods.

But the real war, was not a physical war, it was a war of ideas, of beliefs, of concepts about God. And while political powers have come along to restrain the physical persecution of religious institutions, the churches, all of them, remain infected with the lies about God and His law. (2Cor 10:3-5)

MONDAY

Read first two paragraphs, “Fear could be...” thoughts?

I agree that fear can be understood in two ways. I also agree that if someone is in the middle of an orgy at the foot of Sinai worshipping a golden calf and God’s thundering incites fear, that fear may result in one stepping back and rethinking one’s position.

But, in the context of the three angels, is it appropriate to suggest that God is calling for people to experience “terror”?

Absolutely NOT! This is a result of the distortion to God’s character which has infected Christianity.

Remember, the people specifically called upon in the first angel’s message to fear God are the same ones called upon to give Him glory, meaning to reveal Him in their character, so others can see the truth about God and make a right judgment about Him. This means they are called upon to reveal God’s love in their lives. And perfect love casts out all fear! Perfect love does not cast out awe, admiration and respect for God, it enhances it. But perfect love does cast out terror of God! So, if they were going around showing terror or dread about God, their witness would lead people to make the WRONG judgment about God, and perhaps reject God and conclude God doesn't exist.

Thus, Revelation's call to fear God is NOT the call to be in terror but a call to reveal our awe, admiration and love for our God of love!

But the lesson rightly points out, there is something to fear – what? The lesson suggests it is God, but what is your answer? Unremedied sin!

But Satan is such a good liar he has far too many more afraid of God who is trying to heal them, than sin which is destroying them! Think about it, which do we need to fear more – Ebola, or a doctor with a remedy for Ebola? What do we need to fear more, sin, or God who has the remedy for sin?

Read bottom pink section “We know...” thoughts?

What does this imply to you?

Does this imply God is your friend, someone safe to go to with sin in your life? Or does it imply that God will hurt you?

This idea corrupts how we present the gospel and bring people to Christ.

In NT times when they preached and the Holy Spirit convicted people they were baptized then, meaning they were brought immediately into relationship with Christ and the church as new babes in Christ.

We don't do this today – why? Because when someone is convicted by the Holy Spirit to accept Jesus, we believe God is too just, or too Holy to tolerate sinners coming into the church without first getting themselves cleaned up from sin. Or perhaps, it is the idea the church needs to be protected from sinners, so we must put them through indoctrination classes, but even worse – they must quit smoking before baptism, they must quit working on Sabbath before baptism, they must stop using alcohol before baptism etc. etc.

In other words, they must clean up sin in their lives BEFORE we allow them baptism. But, where does the power to overcome sin in the life originate? In Christ, thus this legal model causes us to put burdens on people, make them feel pressure to perform, makes them feel they are not good enough to come to Christ, make them feel underserving of His love, make them feel God is intolerant of them in their sick state, distorts their idea of God and His single desire to deliver, heal and save them.

When did the lepers come to Christ, before or after they were healed of leprosy? What is leprosy symbolic of in Scripture? Sin! Naaman in OT times was a leper, and was instructed to do what? Go and baptize himself in the Jordan 7 times – as a leper. Symbolically, go as a sinner to Christ, be immersed by the Holy Spirit (baptized) and in that immersion you will be cleansed from sin.

When we realize sin is a condition, with which we are born, and God has a healing remedy we go to Him, in our sin-sick condition and are immersed in His love, truth, power, presence and it is this experience which purges the lies, purifies the heart, removes the selfishness, writes in the love and cleanses and heals us.

But, when we have a penal legal system, we have rules which must be met first. We have behaviors we must change first. We have lists of beliefs we must adhere to first, or God cannot accept us while we smoke, drink, work on Sabbath etc.

Is it any wonder the three angels messages have not done their work to call people out of Babylon?

Lest anyone get confused and think I am suggesting that there is not place or need for a change in behavior let me state it clearly. We must experience a change in behavior, but only after we come to Christ and experience His healing power in our hearts and minds. Anything else is a false remedy.

TUESDAY

Read third paragraph, “God reacts to the rage of the nations ...” thoughts?

Before we talk about God’s power, let’s talk about Satan’s wrath or methods of attack.

When you study Scripture, have you observed that Satan attacks in a certain pattern? Can you describe the pattern?

The best place to see his tactics is in the life of Christ.

How did Satan first attack Christ?

- By subtle deception and appeal to carnal weakness
 - Hunger was used to incite doubt and tempt him to use his power for self interest (lust of the flesh)
 - Ego, or pride, was used to tempt him to prove Himself (pride of life)
 - Greed or gain was used to tempt him to save self (lust of the eyes)
- Then when this didn’t work, Satan worked through family, brothers tempted him to use his power to prove self
- Then when this didn’t work, his disciples tempted him to use his power to destroy his enemies
- Then the religious leadership was used in attempts to trick him with theological tricks and legal entanglements
- Then, when none of the subtle temptations worked, Satan moved on to coercion, pressure, threat, with physical attack, mockery, humiliation, betrayal, rejection, and ultimately execution

Likewise, Satan’s methods are the same against us. We are tempted first through our own carnal weakness:

- Lust of the flesh (addictions, sensual pleasures, gluttony etc)
- Lust of the eyes (money, stocks, cars, etc.)
- Pride of life (need to be first, head elder, pastor of largest church, first in sales, first in class, gold medals etc.)
- When this doesn't work he hits us with all kinds of subtle lies (evolutionism, theistic evolution, legal theologies, humanism, eastern philosophies, etc.)
- He attacks us through family and friends who ridicule, reject, betray for our beliefs and following his methods. (You're a legalist for not eating meat. You're rigid for....)
- He attacks us from religious leaders (you teach contrary to church beliefs...)
- Then, one day, when none of this works, Revelation predicts there will come again actual physical persecution to incite fear, inflame or desire to save self, and tempt us to deny God, and practice Satan's survival of the fittest principle and betray what we believe in order to save self.

What is God's power to defeat Satan and his attacks?

- Truth, love and freedom
- Truth destroys lies
- Love destroys selfishness
- Freedom destroys coercion
- Prayer and Bible study keeps one humble and connected to God
- Fellowship with believers keeps one encouraged and connected to community, which destroys fear of isolation and abandonment
- Trusting God with outcomes destroys fear about the future

Read next paragraph, "Revelation 11:17,18 gives..." thoughts?

What is the lesson suggesting? How do you hear it? Does this cause one to feel safe with God or become terrified of Him?

Does it sound like a threat, do it my way or else I will pour plagues out upon you? Can love exist under threat? Is God love? Then can God be threatening to inflict pain and suffering on those who won't love Him?

What then do we make of this?

Let's read Revelation 11:16-18

And the twenty-four elders, who were seated on their thrones before God, fell on their faces and worshiped God, ¹⁷ saying: "We give thanks to you, Lord God Almighty, the One who is and who was, because you have taken your great power and have begun to reign.

¹⁸ The nations were angry; and your wrath has come. The time has come for judging the dead, and for rewarding your servants the prophets and your saints and those who reverence your name, both small and great— and for destroying those who destroy the earth.”

Thoughts?

So, we have what it says, the critical question is what does it mean? What are God’s methods for destroying the earth?

Revelation 7:1-3 gives a clue:

After this I saw four angels standing at the four corners of the earth, holding back the four winds of the earth to prevent any wind from blowing on the land or on the sea or on any tree. ² Then I saw another angel coming up from the east, having the seal of the living God. He called out in a loud voice to the four angels who had been given power to harm the land and the sea: ³ “Do not harm the land or the sea or the trees until we put a seal on the foreheads of the servants of our God.”

Notice these four angels are doing something, what are they ACTIVELY doing? Holding back the four winds and it says later they have power to do something, what? To harm the land and sea. What do you think their power is? To let go that which they are restraining or hold back, which is Satan and his forces.

Thus, the harm does not come out from God, the plagues are not inflictions from God, but are God’s restraining hand letting go and Satan gaining more and more freedom to use his power on earth.

Why, does God let go? Why is His presence withdrawn from the earth? What is the dwelling place of God’s Spirit on earth? The heart of men. And what happens as billions of people harden their hearts and close their hearts to God? Where does the Spirit go, slowly withdrawn, and thus the four winds are slowly loosed.

This is exactly what historic Adventism taught, before penal substitution infected our theology. Here is from EGW:

"I was shown that the judgments of God would not come directly out from the Lord upon them, but in this way;

"They place themselves beyond His protection. He warns, corrects, reproves, and points out the only path of safety; then if those who have been the objects of His special care will follow their own course, independent of the Spirit of God, after repeated warnings, if they choose their own way, then He does not commission His angels to prevent Satan's decided attacks upon them.

"It is Satan's power that is at work at sea and on land, bringing calamity and distress, and sweeping off multitudes to make sure of his prey, and storm and tempest both by sea and land will be, for Satan has come down in great wrath. He is at work. He knows his time is short and, he is not restrained; we shall see more terrible manifestations of his great power than we have ever dreamed of."

I want to tell you another thing. The vials of God's wrath and the sprinkling of them, are already coming. What is the matter that we do not discern it? [What is the matter? I believe the problem is we have accepted Satan's view of God's law, the wine of Babylon, that God's law is imposed, that sin must be punished, and thus we view Satan's behavior as God's behavior] It is because the light of truth does not affect the heart. The Spirit of God is being withdrawn from the world.

You hear of calamities by land and by sea, and they are constantly increasing. What is the matter? The Spirit of God is taken away from those who have the lives of men in their hands, and Satan is coming in to control them, because they give themselves to his control. Those who profess to be the children of God do not place themselves under the guardianship of the heavenly angels, and as Satan is a destroyer, he works through those men and they make mistakes, and they will get drunk, and because of intemperance, many times bring these terrible calamities upon us.

And see the storms and tempests! Satan is working in the atmosphere; he is poisoning the atmosphere, and here we are dependent upon God for our lives—our present and eternal life. And being in the position that we are, we need to be wide-awake, wholly devoted, wholly converted, wholly consecrated to God. But we seem to sit as though we were paralyzed. God of heaven, wake us up! Sermons and Talks Volume 2, p. 69.3; Manuscript 1, 1890; SM book 2, p. 52

As I said last week, the 10 virgins, the church is asleep, and what puts the church to sleep? The wine of Babylon, which is the false doctrine of penal substitution, God's law being imposed and God in order to be just must inflict punishment. Thus, we falsely teach God inflicts the plagues. We need to wake up!

Here is my paraphrase of Revelation 11:16-18:

Rev 11:16 And the twenty-four elders, who were seated on thrones before God, humbled themselves in awe and admiration, 17 and said: "We are thankful to you, Lord God Almighty, who lives today and who has always existed, because you have unveiled your great power and begun to reign in truth and love. 18 The nations of the selfish world lived in anger, and you have let them reap what they have chosen. The time for accurately diagnosing those who sleep in the grave has come, and for rewarding your spokespersons the prophets and your saints and all those who revere your character of love, both small and great, and for the destruction of those who destroy the earth."

WEDNESDAY

In the second paragraph it states, “The final test will be between the commandments of God and the commandments of men.” What do you understand this to be?

One view has taken this idea and boiled it down to one test, which day one worships upon. Is this what it boils down to? Is it only about the day of week one attends services?

Or, is it actually about THE commandments of God versus THE commandments of men?

What is the difference between the commandments of God and men?

What are God’s commands?

- Love the Lord your God with all your heart and neighbor as yourself
- According to Jesus “All law” how much? “All” law hangs on these.
- So every commandment of God, regardless of which one, is an expression of love.
- Thus God’s law is the law of love, which functions as the principle of giving
- This is a natural law, the design protocol for life and deviations are incompatible with life
- Justice requires healing and deliverance of the oppressed

What are the commandments or law of men?

- Survival of the fittest, which is fear based, threaten and coerce with
- Imposed rules
- Legal requirements
- Justice requires infliction of punishment

Sabbath, originated in Eden, at the end of six days of God delivering and providing incredible evidence of His nature, character, methods and principles, which were summed up in His closing arguments about His government, the Sabbath. I rest my case. Universe, you’ve heard the arguments against me. You’ve seen the evidence, the mini-theater I have just created, showing my creative power, that all life originates with me. Yet, I don’t hoard power and have given dominion to Adam and procreative ability to humanity. Consider all I have revealed to you, take 24 hours aside, think for yourselves, no pressure, no coercion, I rest my case!

The Sabbath, created in the midst of a war over God’s right to rule, is invested, created, built, by God, upon God’s very methods – truth, presented in love, leaving intelligent beings free to think for themselves, no threat, no coercion, no pressure. Thus the Sabbath was CREATED holy, and stands as evidence of God’s government, methods and character.

The fact the Sabbath exists proves Satan a liar. If Satan were right and God was selfish and used power to threaten and coerce, then there would be no Sabbath, God would have merely executed Satan and told the other beings to get in line or He would kill them too.

Thus, the Sabbath stands as a sign, a signpost, a billboard, a declaration point, an evidence of God's law of love embodied in time, by our creator to remind us of God's methods of love and liberty. Its holiness is created within the day itself and because its existence is evidence of God's methods it cannot be supplanted by any other day.

No other day was created on the 7th day. On day 1-6 we learn that God has power, it is only on day seven we learn the character of the one who wields the power.

Sunday, or any other day of the week, provide evidence of God's power, but not God's character of love. Thus, these two days of worship are SYMBOLIC or representative of two methods of governing.

God's law- the method of love, truth and freedom or man's law, arbitrary rules chosen and enforced upon threat of punishment. So, when we take the Sabbath and claim there is no logical reason, just God commands us, we pervert the very purpose and meaning of the Sabbath and make the Sabbath support Satan's argument. So people can worship on the "right" day, but still crucify the Lord of the Sabbath. This is what is happening within Adventism today.

Real Sabbath observance occurs in the heart and character, by people who practice God's methods.

The Sanctuary Lesson 12 4Q 2013

The Cosmic Conflict Over God's Character

I want to start out by giving kudos to the editors for including this topic. I am happy they are acknowledging that the character of God is THE Central issue in the Cosmic Conflict.

Some guidelines I like to use for determining the truth about God's character:

- Jesus is God in human flesh. Therefore, Jesus is the clearest picture of God and God's character. Jesus said "If you've seen me you've seen the Father." So, if we have some idea about God that is not true in the life of Jesus then we need to rethink that view.
- God is love – every other aspect of His character is an expression of love. Thus, it is a distortion to say, "God is not only loving, He is also just."
 - This is a classic distortion from the imperial legal proponents. When we say "loving" instead of "love" we have diminished God. God is more than loving, He is love! This means every action, including God's "justice" is an outworking of love.
 - So, when we understand the reality of God's character, statements like, "God is not only loving, He is also just" are realized to be nonsense. It would be like saying "God is not only Creator He is the one who made us." Of course God is just because love always does what is right and that is what is just.
- God's law is an expression of His character of love, which is the principle of giving. Any doctrine which has God acting contrary to His character of love would be false.
- Love requires genuine freedom. Therefore, God never uses coercion. Any doctrine which has God in the role of coercing would be a lie.
- God is the source of all truth. Any doctrine which has God using deceit would be a lie.
- God is the source of life. Any doctrine which has God as the source of death, i.e. inflicting death, would be a lie. (We are speaking of death as defined by God in the Bible, not as we humans define death. Thus, we are speaking of the death that is the wages of sin, not the death which the righteous also experience.)
- We must use the integrative evidence based approach, which requires our understanding of God to include the entire inspired record, so we don't use select passages while refusing to deal with others. But more, our understanding requires the inspired text to harmonize with God's laws of nature/science and our experience.
- God is infinite and we are finite, so we must always remain open to advance, and change our views with new insights. We never want to "arrive" at a position that we refuse to reevaluate, if new evidence is presented.

With these guidelines in mind let's examine our lesson

SABBATH

The first sentence of the second paragraph states, “Central to this controversy is the sanctuary...” thoughts about this?

How is this true?

If we use the Bible and understand that the true sanctuary, the heavenly sanctuary, the sanctuary not built by human hands, but built in Eden by God, is the sanctuary of the human soul, the living being, both individually, but also corporately, then we understand why the sanctuary is central – because.....

What is the central issue in the war?

2Cor 10:3-5... which means the war is fought where? In our minds. Note, it is not fought in a building made out of brick and mortar in heaven. It is fought in the Spirit Temple.

Further, Satan is the father of lies. Where do lies have their power? In the minds of intelligent beings. He isn't writing graffiti on the walls of a heavenly building.

Further, where does Satan want to sit enthroned, in an empty building made out of brick, or in the hearts of intelligent beings to be most loved and cherished? In other words, from where did Satan want to dethrone God – a physical chair, or the hearts of His intelligent beings?

God's weapons are Truth, Love and Freedom – where do they have power? In the mind of intelligent beings. So, yes the sanctuary is central, because the sanctuary is you and me and God is working to heal us, while Satan is trying to destroy us.

SUNDAY

Revolt in heaven – let's consider this.

If you were an angel in heaven, no carnal nature, never seen sin, you know God personally, you have spent eons with Jesus, what could Lucifer do to get you to rebel?

- Tempt you with gold, drugs, alcohol, sex, grand theft, embezzlement etc.?
- Did Satan allege he was more powerful than God and challenge him to arm-wrestling contest?
- What strategy could Satan use?

He attacked God's character – how? Through alleging God was arbitrary, a God who made up rules and used His power to dictate His way. In other words, Satan alleged God's was a dictator, and therefore created rules that had no intrinsic value, but required external enforcement, such as judging and punishing. Thus, Satan put God in the role of being a judge and executioner, just like much of Christianity does today.

I thought we could review some historical documents, how our church viewed this message over 100 years ago. The first chapter of Patriarchs and Prophets, entitled, Why Was Sin Permitted and then Desire of Ages, It is Finished. Let's examine portions, and take note throughout how what is being described is Satan's attempt to make God appear to be a dictator, but God's true character is love.

"God is love." 1 John 4:16. His nature, His law, is love. It ever has been; it ever will be. "The high and lofty One that inhabiteth eternity," whose "ways are everlasting," changeth not. With Him "is no variableness, neither shadow of turning." Isaiah 57:15; Habakkuk 3:6; James 1:17. {PP 33.1}

- What is the first and last and always central truth about God?
- What is God's law?
- How long has it been so?
- How long will it be so?
- Does God ever change from love?

Then, as we progress through this conflict between Christ and Satan, centering on God's character, you can be certain that any representation of God that is other than love is a lie. If you do this analysis you will be amazed at how deeply the lie has penetrated all of Christianity, including our own church.

Every manifestation of creative power is an expression of infinite love. The sovereignty of God involves fullness of blessing to all created beings... The history of the great conflict between good and evil, from the time it first began in heaven to the final overthrow of rebellion and the total eradication of sin, is also a demonstration of God's unchanging love. {PP 33.3}

What do all of God's actions reveal? Love.

So, if we read some story in Scripture and don't see love, what does that mean? We are misunderstanding something.

If we hear that God is not only loving but just, we know the infection is working to erode our conception of God's character of love. All God's actions are demonstrations of love!

The Sovereign of the universe was not alone in His work of beneficence. He had an associate--a co-worker who could appreciate His purposes, and could share His joy in giving happiness to created beings. "In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. The same was in the beginning with God." John 1:1, 2. Christ, the Word, the only begotten of God, was one with the eternal Father--one in nature, in character, in purpose--the only being that could enter into all the counsels and purposes of God. "His name shall be called Wonderful, Counselor, The mighty God, The everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace." Isaiah 9:6. His "goings forth have been from of old, from everlasting." Micah 5:2. And the Son of God declares concerning Himself: "The Lord possessed Me in the beginning of His way, before His works of old. I was set up from everlasting. . . . When He appointed the foundations of the earth: then I was by Him, as one brought up with Him: and I was daily His delight, rejoicing always before Him." Proverbs 8:22-30.... {PP 34.1}

Who was with the Father from the beginning?

One of the attacks on God's character is an attack on the Trinity. It has resurfaced again, and making the rounds again that there is no Trinity. That Christ is not fully God. This argument is an attack on God's character of love, why? Because love cannot exist in isolation, love by definition needs an object an other to pour itself upon. A singularity is not love, a plurality is love. God is love, thus the Father, Son and Holy Spirit, together, make up the Godhead, all loving each other.

The law of love being the foundation of the government of God, the happiness of all intelligent beings depends upon their perfect accord with its great principles of righteousness. God desires from all His creatures the service of love--service that springs from an appreciation of His character. He takes no pleasure in a forced obedience; and to all He grants freedom of will, that they may render Him voluntary service. {PP 34.3}

- In the first few paragraphs we have emphasized what?
- God's character is what? Love.
- God's law is what? Love.
- Why does the happiness of all creatures depend upon perfect accord with the law of love? Because life is constructed to operate upon this law.

What other design law, an expression of love, is described in this paragraph? The law of liberty, love cannot exist in an atmosphere without freedom. So, regarding the character of God, what does it mean? What does it mean if we hear arguments about God using power to force His way? It is a lie and something is misunderstood.

So long as all created beings acknowledged the allegiance of love, there was perfect harmony throughout the universe of God. It was the joy of the heavenly host to fulfill the purpose of their Creator. They delighted in reflecting His glory and showing forth His praise. And while love to God was supreme, love for one another was confiding and unselfish. There was no note of discord to mar the celestial harmonies. But a change came over this happy state. There was one who perverted the freedom that God had granted to His creatures. Sin originated with him who, next to Christ, had been most honored of God and was highest in power and glory among the inhabitants of heaven. Lucifer, "son of the morning," was first of the covering cherubs, holy and undefiled. He stood in the presence of the great Creator, and the ceaseless beams of glory enshrouding the eternal God rested upon him. "Thus saith the Lord God; Thou sealest up the sum, full of wisdom, and perfect in beauty. Thou hast been in Eden the garden of God; every precious stone was thy covering. . . . Thou art the anointed cherub that covereth; and I have set thee so: thou wast upon the holy mountain of God; thou hast walked up and down in the midst of the stones of fire. Thou wast perfect in thy ways from the day that thou wast created, till iniquity was found in thee." Ezekiel 28:12-15. {PP 35.1}

- What was supposed to be the allegiance of the created beings? The allegiance of love.

- What is the essence of love? Other-centered regard.
- What is the essence of sin? Selfishness, exploitation of others.
- How could deviation from love occur? Because of genuine freedom.
- What does this say about God? God is NOT a dictator.

If God was like Satan says, Satan could never exist. It is only because God is love and gives real freedom that Satan had the liberty to misuse and abuse.

Little by little Lucifer came to indulge the desire for self-exaltation. The Scripture says, "Thine heart was lifted up because of thy beauty, thou hast corrupted thy wisdom by reason of thy brightness." Ezekiel 28:17. "Thou hast said in thine heart, . . . I will exalt my throne above the stars of God. . . . I will be like the Most High." Isaiah 14:13, 14. Though all his glory was from God, this mighty angel came to regard it as pertaining to himself. Not content with his position, though honored above the heavenly host, he ventured to covet homage due alone to the Creator. Instead of seeking to make God supreme in the affections and allegiance of all created beings, it was his endeavor to secure their service and loyalty to himself. And coveting the glory with which the infinite Father had invested His Son, this prince of angels aspired to power that was the prerogative of Christ alone.... {PP 35.2}

- Does this motive, this intent, have any bearing on the “sanctuary”?
- Does it have any bearing on defiling the sanctuary, or cleansing the sanctuary?
- Does it have any bearing on how we teach the sanctuary?

Lucifer did not want a building. He wanted the loyalty and devotion of intelligent creatures turned to him. Thus, he worked to corrupt their hearts, the sanctuary of the soul of intelligent beings. We err when we focus on inanimate materials in heaven.

To dispute the supremacy of the Son of God, thus impeaching the wisdom and love of the Creator, had become the purpose of this prince of angels. To this object he was about to bend the energies of that master mind, which, next to Christ's, was first among the hosts of God. But He who would have the will of all His creatures free, left none unguarded to the bewildering sophistry by which rebellion would seek to justify itself. Before the great contest should open, all were to have a clear presentation of His will, whose wisdom and goodness were the spring of all their joy. {PP 36.1}

- What was Satan's wedge to cause discontent in heaven? He alleged no difference between himself and Christ and that God was arbitrary in choosing Christ over Lucifer.
- How could this argument be made? Because Christ was the member of the Godhead, who while fully God, pre-existent, fully divine, left infinity and moved out toward His creation to interact on the level of His creation.

Thus Christ “manifested” Himself in the form of an angel, even though He was not an angel. (Exodus 3 the burning bush and many other places) And Satan complains that Christ gets privileges to go into counsels that Lucifer doesn’t get to go in to.

The King of the universe summoned the heavenly hosts before Him, that in their presence He might set forth the true position of His Son and show the relation He sustained to all created beings. The Son of God shared the Father's throne, and the glory of the eternal, self-existent One encircled both. About the throne gathered the holy angels, a vast, unnumbered throng--"ten thousand times ten thousand, and thousands of thousands" (Revelation 5:11.), the most exalted angels, as ministers and subjects, rejoicing in the light that fell upon them from the presence of the Deity. Before the assembled inhabitants of heaven the King declared that none but Christ, the Only Begotten of God, could fully enter into His purposes, and to Him it was committed to execute the mighty counsels of His will. The Son of God had wrought the Father's will in the creation of all the hosts of heaven; and to Him, as well as to God, their homage and allegiance were due. Christ was still to exercise divine power, in the creation of the earth and its inhabitants. But in all this He would not seek power or exaltation for Himself contrary to God's plan, but would exalt the Father's glory and execute His purposes of beneficence and love.... {PP 36.2}

- Why was it necessary to state this before the angels?
- Was God’s declaration that only Christ could fully enter into His purposes an edict?
- Was it the declaration that made it so, or did God declare what was already true?
- Why could others not enter fully into the purposes of God?
- Was it because God was restrictive, exclusive, selfish? No, God is infinite, and only an infinite being can enter infinity.

Created beings, including angels, are finite. This was no arbitrary decree on God’s part, but merely the way reality is. In other words, natural law. But Lucifer, alleged God made up arbitrary rules and enforced them by use of selfish power. Just as Satan has caused human’s to conceive of God’s law today.

He [Lucifer] was beloved and revered by the heavenly host, angels delighted to execute his commands, and he was clothed with wisdom and glory above them all. Yet the Son of God was exalted above him, as one in power and authority with the Father. He shared the Father's counsels, while Lucifer did not thus enter into the purposes of God. "Why," questioned this mighty angel, "should Christ have the supremacy? Why is He honored above Lucifer?"

Leaving his place in the immediate presence of the Father, Lucifer went forth to diffuse the spirit of discontent among the angels. He worked with mysterious secrecy, and for a time concealed his real purpose under an appearance of reverence for God. {PP 36.3}

Hypocrisy. Note how he pretends to be righteous but actually sews discord. And where do we find such activity in human history? Where do we find those who profess to be promoting God’s cause? In religious institutions. It was religious leaders who pretended to be righteous while crucifying Christ, burned people at the stake, carried out crusades, conducted the inquisition. Yes, there are also righteous leaders, but Satan's most powerful agents are those cloaked in the pretense of righteousness.

The false claim of equality with Christ was made possible only because God is love, humble, meek, kind, gentle, completely trustworthy, and Jesus the self-existent eternal Creator, chose to move out of infinity and interact intimately with His creation.

He began to insinuate doubts concerning the laws that governed heavenly beings, intimating that though laws might be necessary for the inhabitants of the worlds, angels, being more exalted, needed no such restraint, for their own wisdom was a sufficient guide... The exaltation of the Son of God as equal with the Father was represented as an injustice to Lucifer, who, it was claimed, was also entitled to reverence and honor... But now even the liberty which they had hitherto enjoyed was at an end; for an absolute Ruler had been appointed them, and to His authority all must pay homage. Such were the subtle deceptions that through the wiles of Lucifer were fast obtaining in the heavenly courts. {PP 37.1}

In other words, Satan alleges God appointed Jesus arbitrarily; God's law is an imposed list of rules. But the truth is, Christ possessed His position, not by appointment, but by inherent ability of His being. He is God.

There had been no change in the position or authority of Christ. Lucifer's envy and misrepresentation and his claims to equality with Christ had made necessary a statement of the true position of the Son of God; but this had been the same from the beginning. Many of the angels were, however, blinded by Lucifer's deceptions.... {PP 38.1}

How many humans are likewise confused and deceived about Christ and God? A battle of ideas about God raged in heaven between loyal angels and deceived angels.

Still the loyal angels urged him [Lucifer] and his sympathizers to submit to God; and they set before them the inevitable result should they refuse: He who had created them could overthrow their power and signally punish their rebellious daring. No angel could successfully oppose the law of God, which was as sacred as Himself. They warned all to close their ears against Lucifer's deceptive reasoning, and urged him and his followers to seek the presence of God without delay and confess the error of questioning His wisdom and authority. {PP 40.2}

Many were disposed to heed this counsel, to repent of their disaffection, and seek to be again received into favor with the Father and His Son. But Lucifer had another deception ready. The mighty revolter now declared that the angels who had united with him had gone too far to return; that he was acquainted with the divine law, and knew that God would not forgive.

How many today declare the same thing, that God will not forgive, unless he receives the blood payment of His Son. This lie is one of Satan's lies from the beginning of the conflict in heaven, which infected the minds of angels, and infects the minds of humans on earth today.

He declared that all who should submit to the authority of Heaven would be stripped of their honor, degraded from their position. For himself, he was determined never again to acknowledge the authority of Christ. The only course remaining for him and his followers, he said, was to assert their liberty, and gain by force the rights which had not been willingly accorded them. {PP 40.3}

So far as Satan himself was concerned, it was true that he had now gone too far to return. But not so with those who had been blinded by his deceptions. To them the counsel and entreaties of the loyal angels opened a door of hope; and had they heeded the warning, they might have broken away from the snare of Satan. {PP 41.1}

Here is it suggested that angels in rebellion against God could have returned to God without a blood payment, without any legal payment being made. It was Lucifer who said that God would not forgive. Today, much of Christianity teaches this lie. God will not forgive unless He receives a blood payment.

- Why was it true that Lucifer had gone too far?
- Does it mean God was so upset with Lucifer that God wouldn't forgive him?
- Or, that Lucifer, by persistent rebellion, had destroyed the faculties that respond to truth and love and there was no way to reach him?

Lucifer was beyond healing!

- And if God didn't need a blood payment for angels, does He need a blood payment for humans?
- Then why was Christ's death necessary, and it absolutely was? Let's keep reading.

But pride, love for their leader, and the desire for unrestricted freedom were permitted to bear sway, and the pleadings of divine love and mercy were finally rejected... {PP 41.1}

The discord which his own course had caused in heaven, Satan charged upon the government of God. All evil he declared to be the result of the divine administration. He claimed that it was his own object to improve upon the statutes of Jehovah. Therefore God permitted him to demonstrate the nature of his claims, to show the working out of his proposed changes in the divine law. His own work must condemn him. Satan had claimed from the first that he was not in rebellion. The whole universe must see the deceiver unmasked.... {PP 42.2}

- What does it mean "his own work must condemn him"?
- What kind of process is this?
- Is it a court room, with testimony, witnesses, prosecution and defense arguments etc. or is it the evidence and results of the choices and actions themselves being carried to their inevitable conclusion and becoming self evident as they inherently lead to certain results?

This is the outworking of the natural results of deviating from God's design. The entire imposed law construct is a lie, foisted on us by Satan, to confuse us about the divine government and just as angels in heaven were confused, so too people on earth have been confused.

Chapter 79 of The Desire of Ages, entitled It Is Finished, is another historic document to give us insights into how our church founders thought of these issues. Let's go through some of it together and see if it helps us gain insight:

Christ did not yield up His life till He had accomplished the work which He came to do, and with His parting breath He exclaimed, "It is finished." John 19:30. The battle had been won. His right hand and His holy arm had gotten Him the victory. As a Conqueror He planted His banner on the eternal heights. Was there not joy among the angels? All heaven triumphed in the Saviour's victory. Satan was defeated, and knew that his kingdom was lost. {DA 758.1}

Satan was defeated by Christ's death. Just as Scripture says, "By his death he might destroy him who holds the power of death that is the devil." Heb 2:14

- Why? How? What does it mean?
- What is revealed in this?
- What method is God using to destroy Satan and Satan's kingdom?
- What does it say about God?
- What does it say about Satan?
- How did Jesus conquer? Did Jesus conquer with the exercise of His personal divine power, or by the exercise of His human brain?
- What does this mean?
- What did Jesus achieve?

To the angels and the unfallen worlds the cry, "It is finished," had a deep significance. It was for them as well as for us that the great work of redemption had been accomplished. They with us share the fruits of Christ's victory. {DA 758.2}

- How do angels, with unfallen natures, share in Christ's victory?
- What does this mean regarding what Christ was to accomplish?

"All things in heaven and earth are reconciled to Christ at the cross." Col 1:20

Why? Because Satan's war was not a war of physical might and power, but of ideas, focused on distorting God's character in the minds of intelligent beings. Thus, the angels who remained loyal needed clarification, needed truth, needed the questions answered, needed to understand, needed to have the issues settled in their minds. What does this tell us about God, His methods, and the current war on earth? But because of Adam's choice humans needed more from Christ than the angels did.

Not until the death of Christ was the character of Satan clearly revealed to the angels or to the unfallen worlds. The archapostate had so clothed himself with deception that even holy beings had not understood his principles. They had not clearly seen the nature of his rebellion. {DA 758.3}

- If angels in heaven were deceived, and even the loyal angels were confused, does that inform us of the power of Satanic deception?
- Where is the battleground?
- What is the key to winning the victory? The death of Christ.
- Did the angels need a legal payment? No!
- Did they need the death of Christ? Yes!
- Do we need what the angels needed? Yes, and more of course.
- What more do we need? A new nature, healing of our characters.

Let's see if this is part of the achievement of Christ.

It was a being of wonderful power and glory that had set himself against God. Of Lucifer the Lord says, "Thou sealest up the sum, full of wisdom, and perfect in beauty." Ezekiel 28:12. Lucifer had been the covering cherub. He had stood in the light of God's presence. He had been the highest of all created beings, and had been foremost in revealing God's purposes to the universe. After he had sinned, his power to deceive was the more deceptive, and the unveiling of his character was the more difficult, because of the exalted position he had held with the Father. {DA 758.4}

Thoughts? What is the point? Because of his exalted station, because of his years of good service, because of prior truth telling, because of trust he had earned over the years, because he was esteemed and looked up to, because he pretended to be righteous, when he lied it was much more impactful. Is this instructive for us today? What lessons?

- Be careful who you trust
- Always think for yourself
- Don't believe on claims, examine the claims in light of the abundant evidences God has given, which are found in Scripture, Science/nature and Experience
- Remember God's testable laws, law of love, law of liberty etc.

God could have destroyed Satan and his sympathizers as easily as one can cast a pebble to the earth; but He did not do this. Rebellion was not to be overcome by force. Compelling power is found only under Satan's government. The Lord's principles are not of this order. His authority rests upon goodness, mercy, and love; and the presentation of these principles is the means to be used. God's government is moral, and truth and love are to be the prevailing power. {DA 759.1}

What are the powers of God that prevail? Truth and love. What will never be used? Coercive power, the use of force. Then what would it mean if people teach that God will use force to kill His enemies, even torture them? That the people who teach this still have their minds infected with distortions about God. They need their sanctuary cleansed.

We don't need to hate such people or be derogatory about such people, many of us thought and taught similar things at some point in our journey, why? Because we are all infected with sin, selfishness, lies, misunderstandings. So, when we hear such distortions we need to recognize them as symptoms of the infection and use the divine weapons provided by Christ – truth, love and freedom, which have prevailing power!

It was God's purpose to place things on an eternal basis of security, and in the councils of heaven it was decided that time must be given for Satan to develop the principles which were the foundation of his system of government. He had claimed that these were superior to God's principles. Time was given for the working of Satan's principles, that they might be seen by the heavenly universe. {DA 759.2}

- How are things placed on an eternal basis of security?
- Why can things not be eternally secure if the war is won by force?
- So, what would be the problem if God uses His power to torture and kill in the end, or burn people for all eternity?

- What method is being used to win the war?
- Is it a court room, reading a record of sins, of charges, of offenses? No, it is Satan himself revealing his methods and what they result in. It is the outworking of the natural result of deviating from God's design.
- What would God have lost if God did not allow Satan time to develop and reveal his principles?
- What are Satan's principles?
 - Lies
 - Coercion
 - Flattery
 - Force
 - Intimidation
 - Death, disease, perversion

Satan led men into sin, and the plan of redemption was put in operation. For four thousand years, Christ was working for man's uplifting, and Satan for his ruin and degradation. And the heavenly universe beheld it all. {DA 759.3}

- What was Christ doing in Old Testament times? Working for man's uplifting.
- What does it mean when some suggest God was punishing sin in the OT?

God, therapeutically intervened throughout the OT in many places, but all His actions were part of the plan to heal and restore. When a doctor cauterizes a cancer he is not torturing, or punishing, but excising dead and destructive tissue. Likewise, in OT times, God sometimes cauterized festering pockets of moral decay, for the purpose of keeping open the avenue for the Messiah. Yet, even those individuals who were put in the grave by God, are not terminated. Each will still arise to complete their lives by the exercise of their own freewill choices.

When Jesus came into the world, Satan's power was turned against Him. From the time when He appeared as a babe in Bethlehem, the usurper worked to bring about His destruction. In every possible way he sought to prevent Jesus from developing a perfect childhood, a faultless manhood, a holy ministry, and an unblemished sacrifice. But he was defeated. He could not lead Jesus into sin. He could not discourage Him, or drive Him from a work He had come on earth to do. From the desert to Calvary, the storm of Satan's wrath beat upon Him, but the more mercilessly it fell, the more firmly did the Son of God cling to the hand of His Father, and press on in the bloodstained path. All the efforts of Satan to oppress and overcome Him only brought out in a purer light His spotless character... {DA 759.4}

- What did Satan do? Why did he do it?
- Why did Satan want to prevent Christ from developing a perfect childhood?
- When Satan led Herod to try and have baby Jesus killed, why did God intervene to prevent it?
- If sin is a legal problem, and God requires a legal payment, and that payment is the blood of His sinless Son, then why stop it? Jesus was human, on earth, sinless and about to be executed by evil men at the prompting of Satan. So, we would have had a "blood payment."
- Why stop it? Because a blood payment was NEVER needed, NEVER. The idea of a legal blood payment is a lie of Satan. What was needed was for Christ to reveal the truth about God, expose Satan and develop a perfect human character!

Heaven beheld the Victim betrayed into the hands of the murderous mob, and with mockery and violence hurried from one tribunal to another. It heard the sneers of His persecutors because of His lowly birth. It heard the denial with cursing and swearing by one of His best-loved disciples. It saw the frenzied work of Satan, and his power over the hearts of men. Oh, fearful scene! the Saviour seized at midnight in Gethsemane, dragged to and fro from palace to judgment hall, arraigned twice before the priests, twice before the Sanhedrin, twice before Pilate, and once before Herod, mocked, scourged, condemned, and led out to be crucified, bearing the heavy burden of the cross, amid the wailing of the daughters of Jerusalem and the jeering of the rabble. {DA 760.1}

Heaven viewed with grief and amazement Christ hanging upon the cross, blood flowing from His wounded temples, and sweat tinged with blood standing upon His brow. From His hands and feet the blood fell, drop by drop, upon the rock drilled for the foot of the cross. The wounds made by the nails gaped as the weight of His body dragged upon His hands. His labored breath grew quick and deep, as His soul panted under the burden of the sins of the world. All heaven was filled with wonder when the prayer of Christ was offered in the midst of His terrible suffering,—"Father, forgive them; for they know not what they do." Luke 23:34. Yet there stood men, formed in the image of God, joining to crush out the life of His only-begotten Son. What a sight for the heavenly universe! {DA 760.2}

- What is happening in the war?
- What is the purpose of Christ?
- Is Christ working to convince His Father to love us?
- Is Christ working to win His Father's favor as is often taught?
- Is Christ seeking legal means to get His Father's government to pardon us? No, Christ is working to undo the lies of Satan, to expose Satan as a fraud, to vindicate the truth about God's character and to Remedy the fallen condition of humanity.

The principalities and powers of darkness were assembled around the cross, casting the hellish shadow of unbelief into the hearts of men. When the Lord created these beings to stand before His throne, they were beautiful and glorious. Their loveliness and holiness were in accordance with their exalted station. They were enriched with the wisdom of God, and girded with the panoply of heaven. They were Jehovah's ministers. But who could recognize in the fallen angels the glorious seraphim that once ministered in the heavenly courts? {DA 760.3}

Satanic agencies confederated with evil men in leading the people to believe Christ the chief of sinners, and to make Him the object of detestation. Those who mocked Christ as He hung upon the cross were imbued with the spirit of the first great rebel. He filled them with vile and loathsome speeches. He inspired their taunts. But by all this he gained nothing. {DA 760.4}

Could one sin have been found in Christ, had He in one particular yielded to Satan to escape the terrible torture, the enemy of God and man would have triumphed. Christ bowed His head and died, but He held fast His faith and His submission to God. "And I heard a loud voice saying in heaven, Now is come salvation, and strength, and the kingdom of our God, and the power of His Christ: for the accuser of our brethren is cast down, which accused them before our God day and night." Revelation 12:10. {DA 761.1}

Satan was cast down from heaven at the Cross – why? Note the reason and what restricted his access to heaven.

Satan saw that his disguise was torn away. His administration was laid open before the unfallen angels and before the heavenly universe. He had revealed himself as a murderer. By shedding the blood of the Son of God, he had uprooted himself from the sympathies of the heavenly beings. Henceforth his work was restricted. Whatever attitude he might assume, he could no longer await the angels as they came from the heavenly courts, and before them accuse Christ's brethren of being clothed with the garments of blackness and the defilement of sin. The last link of sympathy between Satan and the heavenly world was broken. {DA 761.2}

Think of the significance – no heavenly beings listen to anything Satan says any more. God doesn't listen, Christ doesn't listen, angels unfallen don't listen. He is restricted. He is cast down. He is cast out of their hearts, affections and sympathies. This is a war of ideas and loyalties and there is no being in the heavenly universe who will any longer listen to anything Satan has to say. He is not able to stand in heaven and accuse us before the heavenly beings. There is no courtroom scene going on in heaven in which Satan is a prosecuting attorney trying to get us convicted and Jesus is our defense attorney pleading His blood and claiming its legal power to grant us pardon. This is all false, based on Satan's distortion and lies about God and God's law.

In the opening of the great controversy, Satan had declared that the law of God could not be obeyed, that justice was inconsistent with mercy, and that, should the law be broken, it would be impossible for the sinner to be pardoned. Every sin must meet its punishment, urged Satan; and if God should remit the punishment of sin, He would not be a God of truth and justice. When men broke the law of God, and defied His will, Satan exulted. It was proved, he declared, that the law could not be obeyed; man could not be forgiven. Because he, after his rebellion, had been banished from heaven, Satan claimed that the human race must be forever shut out from God's favor. God could not be just, he urged, and yet show mercy to the sinner. {DA 761.4}

Here is Satan's view of God's law. And many church leaders, when I have shown them this have said, "well Satan was right about this." Unbelievably, those who have opposed our ministry have done so by sustaining and supporting Satan to be right, and most of the members of our church don't even notice.

This is the argument of imposed law. But the Creator could do justice how? By revealing the truth, winning us to trust and healing us, fixing what is broken in our hearts and character. This is right, this is just and then it is perfectly proper and in harmony with God's government for us to enter heaven, for we will have been restored into harmony with it. This is what Christ came to achieve for us!

But even as a sinner, man was in a different position from that of Satan. Lucifer in heaven had sinned in the light of God's glory. To him as to no other created being was given a revelation of God's love. Understanding the character of God, knowing His goodness, Satan chose to follow his own selfish, independent will. This choice was final. There was no more that God could do to save him. But man was deceived; his mind was darkened by Satan's sophistry. The height and depth of the love of God he did not know. For him there was hope in a knowledge of God's love. By beholding His character he might be drawn back to God. {DA 761.5}

Where is our hope? In a knowledge of God's character of love. Not in a legal blood payment. Why? Because it was never a legal problem, it has always been a problem with our actual condition. Sin is deviation from love and trust and a condition out of harmony with how life is built. This requires healing, recreation, restoration, and of course occurs because God forgives. But His forgiveness precedes Christ's mission to earth, it is not in response to it.

Through Jesus, God's mercy was manifested to men; but mercy does not set aside justice. The law reveals the attributes of God's character, and not a jot or tittle of it could be changed to meet man in his fallen condition...

Why? For the same reason the law of respiration cannot be changed to meet a person who ties weights to their legs and jumps in the ocean. It is the design for life, to change the law WOULD DESTROY ALL LIFE

...God did not change His law, but He sacrificed Himself, in Christ, for man's redemption. "God was in Christ, reconciling the world unto Himself." 2 Corinthians 5:19. {DA 762.1}

Sacrificed Christ for man's redemption, healing, saving, note the very next words of what the law requires and what Christ accomplished.

The law requires righteousness,--a righteous life, a perfect character; and this man has not to give. He cannot meet the claims of God's holy law. But Christ, coming to the earth as man, lived a holy life, and developed a perfect character. These He offers as a free gift to all who will receive them. His life stands for the life of men. Thus they have remission of sins that are past, through the forbearance of God. More than this, Christ imbues men with the attributes of God. He builds up the human character after the similitude of the divine character, a goodly fabric of spiritual strength and beauty. Thus the very righteousness of the law is fulfilled in the believer in Christ. God can "be just, and the justifier of him which believeth in Jesus."... Romans 3:26. {DA 762.2}

Note what is actually happening, Christ reveals the truth about God, exposes Satan as a fraud, wins us to trust, and cured the condition by developing a perfect character which He imbues to all who trust Him, thus transforming us to be like Him. We are reborn, healed, renewed, recreated in righteousness!

His life stands for earth. He is our head. He is our Adam. He is our champion. He stands for us, not in some legal sense, but in actuality. He is human and He is perfect and sinless. Thus He took His humanity to what Adam was created to be.

The warfare against God's law, which was begun in heaven, will be continued until the end of time. Every man will be tested. Obedience or disobedience is the question to be decided by the whole world. All will be called to choose between the law of God and the laws of men. Here the dividing line will be drawn. There will be but two classes. Every character will be fully developed; and all will show whether they have chosen the side of loyalty or that of rebellion. {DA 763.3}

- What kind of law is God's law? Natural, design template for life, intrinsic.
- What kind of law is man's? Imposed, rules without inherent consequence.
- Thus, we must all decide, whose law will we follow?
- How do we see and understand God's law?

There will be but two classes, those who worship the Designer and adhere to the law of love, the design template for life and thus practice presenting truth in love and leaving others free. Or those who adhere to imposed law, and worship the dictator god who inflicts pain, suffering and death for disobedience, and thus they will use their power to coerce others, as they practice and implement human law to force their religious way.

The character we develop is based on what God we worship, which is impacted by how we see His law. Is God the Designer or Dictator? Thus, SDAs who present the Sabbath as an imposed law, to test obedience, misrepresent the law of God and move people way from salvation.

Then the end will come. God will vindicate His law and deliver His people. Satan and all who have joined him in rebellion will be cut off. Sin and sinners will perish, root and branch, (Malachi 4:1),--Satan the root, and his followers the branches. The word will be fulfilled to the prince of evil, "Because thou hast set thine heart as the heart of God; . . . I will destroy thee, O covering cherub, from the midst of the stones of fire. . . . Thou shalt be a terror, and never shalt thou be any more." Then "the wicked shall not be: yea, thou shalt diligently consider his place, and it shall not be;" "they shall be as though they had not been." Ezekiel 28:6-19; Psalm 37:10; Obadiah 16. {DA 763.4}

This is not an act of arbitrary power on the part of God. The rejecters of His mercy reap that which they have sown. God is the fountain of life; and when one chooses the service of sin, he separates from God, and thus cuts himself off from life. He is "alienated from the life of God." Christ says, "All they that hate Me love death." Ephesians 4:18; Proverbs 8:36. God gives them existence for a time that they may develop their character and reveal their principles. This accomplished, they receive the results of their own choice. By a life of rebellion, Satan and all who unite with him place themselves so out of harmony with God that His very presence is to them a consuming fire. The glory of Him who is love will destroy them. {DA 764.1}

This is not an arbitrary act, God does not use His power to inflict this. Their destruction is the NATURAL result of what happens when one deviates from the law upon which life is built! Yet, those who have accepted Satan's lie that every sin must be punished, that God's law is imposed, teach that God uses His power to inflict pain suffering and death.

At the beginning of the great controversy, the angels did not understand this. [What did they not understand?] Had Satan and his host then been left to reap the full result of their sin, they would have perished; but it would not have been apparent to heavenly beings that this was the inevitable result of sin. A doubt of God's goodness would have remained in their minds as evil seed, to produce its deadly fruit of sin and woe. {DA 764.2}

Note how this is described, reaping the full result of sin, the inevitable result of sin. Sin destroys, sin deviates from God's design, sin is the cause of death. Angels would not have understood this originally and what would that have caused? A doubt of God. And what about today? Because of Satan's lies so infecting Christianity about God and His law, many Christians teach that it is not sin that causes death, but God inflicts it to punish for sin. Thus many Christians teach ideas that cause people to doubt God. This is what needs to be cleansed. This is the prophecy of Daniel 8, to cleanse the sanctuary of all these lies and distortions about God.

But not so when the great controversy shall be ended. Then, the plan of redemption having been completed, the character of God is revealed to all created intelligences. The precepts of His law are seen to be perfect and immutable. Then sin has made manifest its nature, Satan his character. Then the extermination of sin will vindicate God's love and establish His honor before a universe of beings who delight to do His will, and in whose heart is His law. {DA 764.3}

Thoughts?

MONDAY

The lesson, in paragraph four quotes a section out of Christ's Object Lessons page 167 – "Satan 'is accusing the children of God, and making their case appear as desperate as possible. He presents before the Lord their evil doings and their defects.'"

Is there a trial going on in heaven, or is something else happening? Let's read the context carefully:

The people of God are here represented as a criminal on trial. Joshua, as high priest, is seeking for a blessing for his people, who are in great affliction. While he is pleading before God, Satan is standing at his right hand as his adversary. He is accusing the children of God, and making their case appear as desperate as possible. He presents before the Lord their evil doings and their defects. He shows their faults and failures, hoping they will appear of such a character in the eyes of Christ that He will render them no help in their great need. Joshua, as the representative of God's people, stands under condemnation, clothed with filthy garments. Aware of the sins of his people, he is weighed down with discouragement. Satan is pressing upon his soul a sense of guiltiness that makes him feel almost hopeless. Yet there he stands as a suppliant, with Satan arrayed against him... {COL 166.4}

Every manifestation of God's power for His people arouses the enmity of Satan. Every time God works in their behalf, Satan with his angels works with renewed vigor to compass their ruin. He is jealous of all who make Christ their strength. His object is to instigate evil, and when he has succeeded, throw all the blame upon the tempted ones. He points to their filthy garments, their defective characters. He presents their weakness and folly, their sins of ingratitude, their unlikeness to Christ, which have dishonored their Redeemer. All this he urges as an argument proving his right to work his will in their destruction. He endeavors to affright their souls with the thought that their case is hopeless, that the stain of their defilement can never be washed away. He hopes so to destroy their faith that they will yield fully to his temptations, and turn from their allegiance to God. {COL 168.1}

Thoughts?

Do you notice, that in heaven no one pays any mind to Satan's allegations? The only place Satan's allegations have traction, make an impact, is in the minds of human beings. Thus, before the Father, Christ is pleading to you and me and the Holy Spirit takes Christ's pleas and communicates them to your heart and mind!

Read last paragraph, "In both cases..." what is this paragraph communicating? What law is it predicated upon? Which version of God is it connoting? Is it representing God's character correctly?

TUESDAY

Read first paragraph, "From the very beginning..." Do you hear Satan's allegations from the opening of the controversy in heaven? We read this earlier. The lesson claims that the act of an innocent dying to pay the legal death payment of the guilty is an act of justice.

The truth is, that what they propose is the most unjust act possible in the universe and thus the present God as the most unjust being in the universe. It is just as EGW said Satan hid his rebellion under the pretense of righteousness. These theologians claim this is just, when it is vile, evil and unjust.

It is unjust to execute the innocent in place of the guilty, even if the innocent is willing to take the place of the guilty.

However, it is absolutely just, for love to interpose itself and sacrifice itself to save someone dying of a terminal condition. It is a just act of love to give a kidney to a child dying of kidney failure, to step into harms way to save one, to give up your seat on the life raft for another. When death is a result of deviation from the design protocol for life, it is an act of love and justice for a being to step in and take the place of the terminal party for the purpose of saving the one they love, for the purpose of providing Remedy.

Thus, Christ is our substitute. He took our terminal condition upon Himself and He overcame. He revealed the truth to win us to trust and He developed a perfect human character that He freely provides to all who trust Him. But God did NOT execute Jesus the innocent in our place to satisfy a divine legal penalty.

WEDNESDAY

Read first paragraph, "As Scripture..." thoughts? To whom is Satan presenting his allegations? Who needs the answer? Who is the one listening?

Read second paragraph, "God's character..." thoughts?

This is correct, the purpose of the records are like medical records, there to exonerate the Creator when allegations of misconduct are made against Him. They are not their to judge or impugn the patient or sinner.

THURSDAY

Read Ezekiel 36:22-27:

“Therefore say to the house of Israel, ‘This is what the Sovereign Lord says: It is not for your sake, O house of Israel, that I am going to do these things, but for the sake of my holy name, which you have profaned among the nations where you have gone. ²³ I will show the holiness of my great name, which has been profaned among the nations, the name you have profaned among them. Then the nations will know that I am the Lord, declares the Sovereign Lord, when I show myself holy through you before their eyes.

²⁴ “ ‘For I will take you out of the nations; I will gather you from all the countries and bring you back into your own land. ²⁵ I will sprinkle clean water on you, and you will be clean; I will cleanse you from all your impurities and from all your idols. ²⁶ I will give you a new heart and put a new spirit in you; I will remove from you your heart of stone and give you a heart of flesh. ²⁷ And I will put my Spirit in you and move you to follow my decrees and be careful to keep my laws.

Thoughts? Why does giving us a new heart and spirit bring honor to God? For the same reason a patient being cured of cancer brings honor to the doctor who developed the cure.

We are sick, we don't get any glory from our being cured, God the Creator gets the honor and glory for creation and recreation.

FRIDAY

Read and discuss question 1

Discipleship Lesson 1 1Q 2014

Disciples and Scripture

Before we begin the new quarter, I wanted to follow up on a point from last week's lesson regarding baptism and church membership. We were discussing why don't we baptize into Christ, why do we require people to make all these changes in their lives before they are baptized, rather than bringing them, in baptism to Christ, for the power to overcome in their relationship with Him

We speculated it may be to "protect" the church from those deemed to be unsavory, not yet orthodox enough.

After class, James Erlich mentioned to me that we could solve the problem by baptizing immediately when people are convicted and want to give their lives to Christ, like they did in Bible times, but membership in the church is something achieved by the vote of the church. Thus, not hold the vote for membership until whatever standards, the various church's determine are necessary to constitute spiritual maturity enough to be a member of the church, which would entail voting, ability to hold office etc.

I thought this was "brilliant" why don't we do it this way?

Is it because we recognize on some level that when someone is baptized into Christ they enter the mystical body of Christ and become part of the church invisible, and we want to believe that our denominational church is the repository of all such members?

Could it be our denominationalism has been misunderstood? Could it be that denominations are manifestations of fracturing amongst the body of Christ, as confusion creeps in, and that what should motivate one to join a denomination, is not necessarily the same thing that motivates one to give their heart to Christ? Specifically, can one join a denomination because they identify with the mission of that organization and want to use the gifts Christ has given them to further that mission? So could there be two people, both who have given their lives to Christ and are renewed in heart, but have fields of service, led by the Holy Spirit, in two different denominations?

Should we lead people to Christ and let the Holy Spirit determine which field of labor that person is best suited to pursue, including which denomination?

Would our arguments today over denomination be similar to what Paul wrote to the Corinthians?

My brothers, some from Chloe's household have informed me that there are quarrels among you. ¹² What I mean is this: One of you says, "I follow Paul"; another, "I follow Apollos"; another, "I follow Peter"; still another, "I follow Christ."

¹³ Is Christ divided? Was Paul crucified for you? Were you baptized into the name of Paul?
1Cor 1:11-13

Are we today doing this? Are we baptized into Luther, Calvin, Knox, White, or are we baptized into Christ?

Which brings us to the Introduction to our lesson, Christ's example of making disciples, of the Great Commission, the process whereby we become followers of Jesus.

What is our mission to the world? How would you state our mission? What is the Great Commission?

Therefore go and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, ²⁰ and teaching them to obey everything I have commanded you. And surely I am with you always, to the very end of the age." MT 28:19,20

What does this mean? What are we to do? Make followers of all the peoples of the world, "baptizing" meaning what? Simply dunking or sprinkling with water, depending on denomination? Or when Jesus said baptizing He meant something more?

Immersing their minds, hearts, characters, into the character of the Father, Son and Holy Spirit – which is what? It is immersing people into the truth of God's character and methods of love, teaching them how God's kingdom of love operates, a surrender of self, dying to selfishness, and living to love, which is then symbolized by the act of water baptism.

Thus one of the founders of our church wrote:

"It is the darkness of misapprehension of God that is enshrouding the world. Men are losing their knowledge of His character. It has been misunderstood and misinterpreted. At this time a message from God is to be proclaimed, a message illuminating in its influence and saving in its power. His character is to be made known. Into the darkness of the world is to be shed the light of His glory, the light of His goodness, mercy and truth... The last rays of merciful light, the last message of mercy to be given to the world, is the revelation of His character of love." Christ's Object Lessons, p.415

This is what Christ dealt with 2000 years ago, Isaiah prophesied that darkness covers the people gross darkness the people. John, in John 1, stated that Jesus was the light to lighten all men, but even though the light was shining into the darkness the darkness did not understand it.

What about today? Is there still darkness in the world, in the church, about God's character and methods of love?

Do we promote the kingdom of love by denominationalism, by harping on doctrinal differences, by running down other organizations, by bragging up our own?

Should we be promoting our denomination, or our Savior Jesus Christ?

And then, we can show how our organization is working to further the mission of Christ, the revealing of God's true character and methods to prepare the world for His return, and invite people to join the mission?

One of the devil's tricks is to get groups pitted against each other and arguing over various doctrinal points, all while ignoring the truth about God's character, methods and principles.

Thus 2000 years ago the Sadducees and Pharisees argued constantly over the state of the dead and resurrection, but what understanding of God did they hold? Even if one group was right regarding resurrection did it do them any good? No, they still rejected and crucified Jesus.

This is like many Christians today, so concerned with right doctrine, which day is the Sabbath, what is about the state of the dead, what foods are right to eat, what is right to wear, who is the beast of revelation, what is the mark of the beast, what is the right ending for this prophecy or that prophecy – but what does it matter if they don't know the truth about God and His kingdom of love? Don't take it from me, take it from Paul:

I may be able to speak the languages of human beings and even of angels, but if I have no love, my speech is no more than a noisy gong or a clanging bell. I may have the gift of inspired preaching; I may have all knowledge and understand all secrets; I may have all the faith needed to move mountains—but if I have no love, I am nothing. ³I may give away everything I have, and even give up my body to be burnt— but if I have no love, this does me no good.

⁸ Love is eternal. There are inspired messages, but they are temporary; there are gifts of speaking in strange tongues, but they will cease; there is knowledge, but it will pass. ⁹For our gifts of knowledge and of inspired messages are only partial; ¹⁰but when what is perfect comes, then what is partial will disappear.

¹¹ When I was a child, my speech, feelings, and thinking were all those of a child; now that I have grown up, I have no more use for childish ways. ¹²What we see now is like a dim image in a mirror; then we shall see face to face. What I know now is only partial; then it will be complete—as complete as God's knowledge of me.

¹³ Meanwhile these three remain: faith, hope, and love; and the greatest of these is love. (1Cor 13)

Thoughts? What is he saying? That without an experience of God's love, of partaking of the kingdom of love, without being immersed (baptized) into the character of God, God's love, then all right doctrine, prophecy, languages and works are worthless, for we remain outside God's design for life and in a terminal condition.

But someone, who has been renewed in love, may not understand some point of doctrine correctly, but they are healed in the inner man and have entered eternal life. This is what really matters, bringing people back to God's true character and methods of love!

We have so focused on right doctrine we have lost site of righteousness – of actually being right with God. Worse, we have supplanted true righteousness, being renewed in heart to love like God loves, with a false righteousness of legal declaration, without actual transformation.

Am I saying doctrine doesn't matter, or it doesn't matter what we believe if we have love? Of course not! Doctrine does matter in its right place, and what is the right place for right doctrine? Always connected to the truth about God.

If we separate doctrine from God's character and stand them up like toy soldiers, with their proof texts and present them as stand alone ideas, we have created a distorted reality in which the doctrines work to obstruct the greater reality of God's kingdom.

Every doctrine, rightly understood, is valuable in that it leads us to a deeper and more meaningful appreciation of God's kingdom and character of love. This is why we value and share the Fundamental Focus pamphlet, because it demonstrates that every doctrine does indeed reveal the truth of God's character of love.

So, what does it mean to make disciples of all nations? To bring all people back to love for God, His methods, principles and love for each other, so that we actually live in harmony with His methods, with Him and each other.

The introduction also asks what method Jesus used to draw people to Him. Thoughts?

- Miracles
 - Miracles were done as an outworking of love to those whose hearts were open to receive truth and love from God
 - But miracles were NOT done as a proof or evidence to win converts or followers or to pass some test of orthodoxy
 - “Some Pharisees came to Jesus and started to argue with him. They wanted to trap him, so they asked him to perform a miracle to show that God approved of him. But Jesus gave a deep groan and said, “Why do the people of this day ask for a miracle? No, I tell you! No such proof will be given to these people!” (MK 8:11,12)
- Compassion and love
- Serving others
- Healing, ministering
- Teaching truths in ways people could understand
- Reasonable and practical truths
- Revealing God to be a God of love
- Disabusing people of contradictory teachings and hypocritical practices

- Overthrowing the idea that one should follow church leaders blindly, but teaching people to think for themselves
- Breaking social convention, talking to women, touching lepers, socializing with tax collectors, talking with prostitutes, seeking to heal rather than seeking to condemn
- His attitude was NOT one of finding faults in order to condemn, but like a physician He loved people and any fault He saw He sought to heal. His frustration grew, just like a physician, when He saw defects He could heal, but people hardened their hearts and wouldn't allow Him to heal.
- Other methods?

SABBATH

Read memory text, “Search the scriptures; for in them ye think ye have eternal life: and they are they which testify of me.” (John 5:39)

Thoughts?

What is the message of this passage? What is Jesus saying? Does this go back to our discussion on doctrines? If we separate our teaching, prophetic interpretations, doctrines from Jesus we miss the entire point and instead of leading people to Christ for healing, we lead them to a system of rules, burdens, oppressions and discouragements.

SUNDAY

Read second paragraph, “The narrative of Christ’s...” thoughts?
Did Christ overcome the devil by “quoting” Scripture? Think carefully...

Or did Christ overcome by choosing to live in harmony with the Scripture and practice God’s methods and principles as taught in Scripture, and used the Scripture to convey His purposes and intents of His heart and attitude? In other words, Jesus comprehended and practiced what the Scripture taught, He didn’t merely memorize and quote Scripture when in crisis.

I have had many patients who have come to see me distressed, overwhelmed, frustrated and confused. They have had a crisis in their life, they had been taught to memorize Scripture and then quote it when in crisis, but in this circumstance it didn’t work. Is memorizing and quoting enough? Or is there something more needed for victory?

It is when the meaning, the reality of which the Scripture is pointing is internalized into the heart and mind, resulting in an abiding trust in God, that one gains power for victorious living. Merely quoting a Scripture doesn’t provide that power or that trust.

Many use Scripture almost like magical incantations, with the idea that if they cite the Scripture something supernatural will happen. I have known of people who wouldn’t travel without a Bible in the car, because they believed the Bible provided supernatural protection. This is superstition. The Bible doesn't provide protection, God provides protection. The Bible is God's inspired Word to lead us to Him. It is in our union with Him that we experience power, growth, healing, wisdom, confidence, love, and the ability to overcome.

Just as with doctrines, if we separate the Scripture from the God of Scripture we experience no benefit. So, is the Scripture valuable, important, absolutely, but only as it leads us to and connects us with Christ.

The lesson recognizes this same point, in the bottom green section it states, "Though it's important to know the Bible, that alone isn't enough. Some of the biggest-named Bible scholars have not even been believing Christians."

MONDAY

Read first paragraph? Thoughts?

What was the difference between Jesus' use of Scripture and that of the Pharisees, or even Satan himself in the wilderness temptation?

Didn't the tempters use Scripture? What is the difference?

- Jesus used Scripture to reveal truth
- Satan used Scripture to obscure truth
- What does this mean about using Scripture? That Scripture can be misused, therefore, quoting Scripture alone is not enough.

Who was the audience to whom Jesus quoted Scripture? Did Jesus quote Scripture to Pilate? How did He deal with Pilate? Why didn't He quote Scripture to Pilate?

The lesson seems to be using Jesus' example of when He did use Scripture to suggest that Scripture is the only means to be used. Is this so? Should we have other means in addition to Scripture, especially for speaking to those who do not yet value or believe in Scripture?

In fact, if one insists on using Scripture and quoting Scripture to those who don't believe in it, will you likely have success? So do we need threads other than Scripture? What are those other threads? From the Scripture (Science/nature Rom 1:20, and experience

Why is appeal to Scripture alone, i.e. sola scriptura NOT sufficient for our arguments?

It doesn't help reach those who currently don't believe it. But also...

- What did those who promoted slavery use? They used Scripture.
- Those who promote polygamy use Scripture
- those who continue to promote inequality of women use Scripture

- those who promote God as the source of inflicted pain and suffering use Scripture
- those who attack homosexuals use Scripture
- those who suggest God must be appeased use Scripture

Am I saying Scripture is unreliable, or uninspired, or faulty in any way? Absolutely not! I have every confidence in God's Word as inspired by God for our salvation – yet that Word can be misused and misapplied, so relying solely on Scripture opens us up to deception.

Did Christ use Scripture – absolutely, but what made His use of it different from those who misused it?

- He understood it – but what allowed Him to understand it properly?
- He knew His Father, His Father's character and methods and then when reading Scripture could understand the right meaning.
- But those who opposed Jesus used Scripture, but read it through a different filter, a different concept of God, a god who they conceived as being intolerant, prejudicial, legalistic, requiring penalties be paid etc. Thus though seeing they did not see and hearing they did not hear.
- We have the same problem today.
- Jesus also used the Integrative-Evidence Based Approach – He did not use Scripture alone or sola scriptura, this idea is a tool of the devil to divide and separate the threads of evidence God has given. We should harmonize the threads, not divide them.
- Those threads are: Scripture, Science, Experience; How did Jesus use all three?
- He clearly quoted Scripture – but also He used nature to illustrate how natural law works constantly stating God's kingdom is like, or works like this. He also had His disciples experience Him, and the evidence of His person. On one occasion saying specifically to Thomas, put your hands in my side, touch me, experience me, have faith, believe based on what you experience.
- Here are a couple of quotes from one of the founders of our church, documenting what method we, as an organization, were to use in determining our beliefs, but we have diverted onto the path of Scripture alone:
 - In the study of the sciences also, we are to obtain a knowledge of the Creator. All true science is but an interpretation of the handwriting of God in the material world. Science brings from her research only fresh evidences of the wisdom and power of God. Rightly understood, both the book of nature and the written word make us acquainted with God by teaching us something of the wise and beneficent laws through which he works. {CE 66.2}
 - Rightly understood, both the revelations of science and the experiences of life are in harmony with the testimony of Scripture to the constant working of God in nature. {Ed 130.3}

This week I received an email from one of our online listeners, Mark Ueek, who sent this quote from Derek Barton, Nobel Laureate in Chemistry:

“God is Truth. There is no incompatibility between science and religion. Both are seeking the same truth. Science shows that God exists.”

Thoughts?

- What is the danger of Scripture alone? Confusion and disintegration into factions, 34,000 different groups claim the Bible supports them.
- What is the danger of science alone – godlessness
- What is the danger of evidence alone – mysticism

TUESDAY

Read second paragraph, “During Christ’s earthly...” thoughts? Are the people of Christ’s day the only ones who relate to the Scripture in legalistic ways?

The lesson rightly points out in the second paragraph, “Christ-centered religion is rooted in a heart transformation that leads to ethical behavior.”

Thoughts?

Any examples of unethical behavior because people are following the rules they believe come from Scripture?

- Violence against homosexuals
- Shooting abortion doctors and bombing abortion clinics
- What about passing laws forcing people to worship in certain ways, go to church on certain days, be baptized in certain ways, because one believes the Bible describes a particular day or method of baptism as the correct one?
- What about using the power of the state to enforce one’s religious beliefs upon others? What if that belief is to ban abortion?
- What about the church firing a woman from her church employed position because she divorced her husband after years of physical abuse, but without “Biblical” grounds?
- What about disfellowshipping a woman who sits at a hearing in Collegedale for her daughter who is seeking partner benefits for her lesbian partner, even though the mother, never speaks in favor just sits next to her daughter?
 - What did the Pharisees in Christ’s day say about Christ’s association with prostitutes?
 - Who is more Christlike, the mother sitting with her daughter, or the church leaders taking a stand against sin by disfellowshipping the mother from membership in the church?

Where do humans focus? On the outward appearance, on behavior – where does God focus – on the heart. Any examples of people, considered righteous by God, doing behavior that go against the stated rules?

- Rahab – a prostitute who lies but is in the hall of faith
- David – AFTER his sin of adultery and murder, when did sexual relations with Bathsheba no longer constitute sin?

How do you explain these?

It took faith for Rahab to align herself with God. God doesn't applaud her lying, He applauds her choosing to side with Him and act in accordance with her belief in Him to do her best in the situation. She didn't know much, but she acted on what she knew to protect God's people.

The theologians who believe our problem is our "sins" i.e. bad deeds, which need to be punished, have problems with David. He is supposed to have repented, which in the legal model means "to turn away from the sinful behavior." And to them the sin is sexual relationships with Bathsheba, thus they think David, after repenting should turn away from her, not embrace her and place her first amongst his wives.

Yet, God sees it differently, and blesses them with Solomon. What is the difference?

David did repent, and he turned away from SELFISHNESS in his heart. He was no longer motivated to "save self" but to save others and in this case to as far as possible repair the damage he inflicted upon Bathsheba. His actions, by killing her husband, made her a widow, took her livelihood, home, property, name, station, reputation. She would have ended up on the street, homeless. Thus the legal model would have added more damage to her. But, David, having experienced a new heart and right spirit, married her, to as far as possible restore to her what he had taken.

Ethical, Christlike behavior, cannot be distilled down to a list of rules, behaviors, or actions. The situation will frequently determine which is the ethical and appropriate action to take. The appropriate action always heals, restores, saves, in harmony with truth, love and freedom.

Thoughts?

WEDNESDAY

Read third paragraph, "Beginning at Moses..." thoughts?

On the road to Emmaus why didn't Christ just appear before them in glory, perform some miracles and declare Himself?

Why must their faith be established upon the evidences of fulfilled Bible prophecy?

Because miracles can be faked, Satan can impersonate Christ, false Messiahs can come and still come today. It is only through the evidence, reasoned out with God and, understood and practiced that we can have confidence in our beliefs.

Do you know the truth about God, His design so much that nothing can shake you from it?
Do miracles determine truth? When a serpent spoke in Eden did that make what the serpent said true?

When Jesus was miraculously transported to the top of the Temple and an angel spoke to Him, did the accompanying miracles make what the angel say true?

If you were suddenly confronted with an angel “of light” and teleported instantly to the top of the capital in Washington DC and given some instruction, along with Scripture quotation, what would you do?

What if you had an angel visit you and give you some gold plates with a new theology on it, what would be the basis upon which you would determine whether this new theology is true or false?

Read bottom green section, thoughts?

Truth brings conviction, this is the burning in the heart, however, there is a false burning, a counterfeit, which is promoted by some.

In that view the burning in the bosom doesn't come from evidence of Scripture being comprehended and the conviction of the soul. No, in that view the mind actually turns away from evidence and truth and instead goes into private prayer and prays long and hard for a feeling, not for evidence, for a feeling a conviction, a burning in the bosom to determine whether something is true or not. But James tells us this method is the way of temptation, the way in which Satan deceives.

When we pray we are to pray for God's Spirit of Truth and Love to enlighten our faculties so that every person “can be fully persuaded in their own mind.” (Rom 14:5). We are not to stop thinking. When you have all evidence on your side, when all truth supports you, then you want people to investigate and examine the evidence. But when you are the father of lies and have no truth, then you want practices that move people with emotions while simultaneously getting them to believe it is pious and holy to ignore the evidence or use ones feelings as the barometer to determine what is true and false.

THURSDAY

Read second paragraph, “The earliest Christian...” thoughts?

Should we have confidence in Scripture? Absolutely – for what? For all truth necessary for salvation and to understand God's methods and live in harmony with them. It is not the best book for calculus, or piano instruction, or anatomy and physiology, or microbiology etc. To use the Bible for what it was not intended leads to error and opens the Bible up to ridicule, like using the Bible as an astronomy text.

How do we determine what Scripture is reliable for and what it is not?

- Martin Luther didn't include James, Hebrews, Revelation and Jude in his “cannon” but relegated them to the end and said he couldn't find Jesus in them.
- Thomas Jefferson used a razor to remove most of the miracles from the Bible

- Roman Catholics and the original King James Version include the Apocrypha, but most Protestants do not
- Mormons include the Book of Mormon as Scripture
- Muslims include the Koran as Scripture
- Recently some have tried to include the book of Thomas

What determine whether something is “Scripture”?

What standard? What can we utilize?

If we don’t have any knowledge of God at all, and we don’t use reason, don’t think, don’t use evidence, if we surrender our thinking, experience, common sense to others, then we can accept and believe anything, including non-sense and superstitious systems of belief.

FRIDAY

Read Question 1 – “What are some...” thoughts?

I am asked how to I reach people who don’t believe in God, or the Bible? By demonstrating God’s laws in their lives – law of liberty etc. In lectures I present how God’s design permeates all nature and how Scripture teaches this design.

Epigenetics now document that Scripture is more scientifically accurate than Darwin, who postulated random mutations caused finch beaks to be different.

The promise for long life from honoring parents is not an arbitrary use of power to cause the outcome, but the cascade of what happens when we have relationship conflict, activation of inflammatory pathways and destruction of our physical health resulting in early death.

Discuss question 4 – thoughts? Consider what Peter said about Paul’s writings.

Bear in mind that our Lord’s patience means salvation, just as our dear brother Paul also wrote you with the wisdom that God gave him. ¹⁶ He writes the same way in all his letters, speaking in them of these matters. His letters contain some things that are hard to understand, which ignorant and unstable people distort, as they do the other Scriptures, to their own destruction.

Do we need to be careful quoting texts here and there? Could we actually be quoting Satan if we do this?

Discipleship Lesson 2 1Q 2014

Discipling Through Metaphor

SABBATH

Read first paragraph – thoughts? Is Christianity supposed to be reasonable and logical? Absolutely! Is it consistently presented that way?

This week I was reading an online discussion and some people were discussing penal versus healing models. One person told a metaphor he heard once:

Jesus is knocking on the door to a person's heart and saying, "Let me in."
The person asks, "Why?"
Jesus responds, "So I can save you."
"From what?" the man asks.
Jesus replies, "From what I will do to you if you don't let me in."

This is a great metaphor for penal theologies. Is this reasonable and logical?

What about the idea of an innocent being punished in place of the guilty and calling it justice, is it reasonable and logical?

What about God saying, "I love you, all I want is you to love me, but if you don't I will kill you, after proper torture of course."

What about, "We have faith we don't need evidence." Is that reasonable and logical?

Any examples of ideas that permeate Christianity that don't make sense to you?

Read second paragraph, "Meanwhile, complex..." thoughts?

Do you find these ideas complex? What do you think the source of their complexity is: that the idea and concept itself is complex, or what is currently taught within Christianity about these topics is so convoluted, infected with false ideas, and inherently contradictory that it becomes confusing and appears complex?

Listen to this description of Satan's methods from a book called Patriarchs and Prophets. See if you agree with it.

He [Lucifer] had artfully presented his side of the question, employing sophistry and fraud to secure his objects. His power to deceive was very great. By disguising himself in a cloak of falsehood, he had gained an advantage. All his acts were so clothed with mystery that it was difficult to disclose to the angels the true nature of his work...It was his policy to perplex with subtle arguments concerning the purposes of God. Everything that was simple he shrouded in mystery, and by artful perversion cast doubt upon the plainest statements of Jehovah. And his high position, so closely connected with the divine government, gave greater force to his representations. {PP 41.3}

What do you hear in this passage? Do you agree that such tactics as sophistry, fraud, subtlety, perversion, mysteriousness are used by Satan? And that such tactics are used to make the simple and plain mysterious and complex?

Would Satan abandon such tactics after being cast out of heaven, or would he continue to use them?

How would such tactics be manifest today? Would Satan have agents in places of high position, appearing to be closely connected to God's government on earth? Who would such people be? Theologians, Pastors, Church leaders, and would their power to deceive be all the greater because of their leadership position?

Let's be balanced: Does Gabriel hold a high position in God's government? Does he deceive or work against God? Absolutely not, so I am not suggesting every theologian, pastor or church leader is an agent of Satan, only that Satan would use such strategies as getting his agents into leadership positions.

Examples from history: Caiaphas, Annas, and many leaders in the Dark Ages etc. Do you think such tactics stopped in the Dark Ages, did it stop with every denomination except ours?

Do you think all the various people in positions of church authority throughout history who worked to misrepresent God were aware they were working for the enemy, or did many, most perhaps, think they were doing God's work?

Many will say to me on that day, 'Lord, Lord, did we not prophesy in your name, and in your name drive out demons and perform many miracles?' Then I will tell them plainly, 'I never knew you. Away from me, you evildoers!' (MT 7:22,23)

So, back to the question of these ideas being complex, are they inherently complex ideas or have they been made to seem complex by, perhaps well meaning, but misguided theologians?

Let's examine these ideas:

How is justification traditionally taught?

From Wikipedia:

Justification, in Christian theology, is God's act of removing the guilt and penalty of sin while at the same time declaring a sinner righteous through Christ's atoning sacrifice.

In Protestantism, righteousness from God is viewed as being credited to the sinner's account through faith alone without works.

The means of justification is an area of significant difference between Catholics/Eastern Orthodox and Protestants. Broadly speaking, Catholic and Orthodox Christians distinguish between initial justification, which in their view occurs at baptism, and permanent justification, accomplished after a lifetime of striving to do God's will. Most Protestants believe that justification is a singular act in which God declares an unrighteous individual to be righteous, an act made possible because Christ was legally "made sin" while on the cross (2 Cor 5:21). Justification is granted to all who exercise faith, and that is viewed as a gift from God (unmerited favour) by Lutherans and Calvinists, who use Eph 2:8, as well as Acts 16:14 and Phil 1:29 to support that belief. Catholics and Eastern Orthodox use James 2:14-26, Galatians 5:19-21 and Matthew 19:17 to support their belief that justification is kept through avoiding grave sins. Justification is seen by Protestants as being the theological fault line that divided Catholic from Protestant during the Protestant Reformation.

Christ's death and resurrection (triumph over Satan and death) provide justification for believers before God. His righteousness becomes theirs, and his death becomes an offering to God in their place, to pay for all of their sins. According to Protestants this justification is by faith alone - not through good deeds - and is a gift from God through Christ. According to Catholics and Eastern Orthodox justification is a free gift but is gotten through baptism initially and through the sacrament of reconciliation if justification is lost through grave sin.

So, is this simple or complex? Why? It is actually very simple, if you start from a bedrock of reality – the way the universe actually works, and do not start off from a false assumption regarding God's law.

God's law – is it design law, protocols upon which the Creator constructed life to operate, or imposed law, rules like humans use, with no inherent consequence for breaking?

Daniel prophesied that a little horn power would arise and seek to change God's law – which happened when Constantine converted and Imperial Rome's idea of law infected Christianity. God's law was no longer seen as design protocols, the principles of love functioning in the circle of giving, but rules we must adhere to, which requires the law giver to punish for breaking.

Thus both Protestant and Catholic theologies have a God, which must receive some form of payment from His Son in order to legally pardon, assuage wrath, have sin penalty paid, expiate His vengeance, or justify us legally before God.

The point of argument between the two is not over God's character or law, both Protestants and Catholics agree God requires payment, God inflicts suffering and death, God tortures, God must be paid by the blood of His Son, that sin must be punished by God, that God cannot forgive sin unless He receives something from humanity. The point of argument is what? Protestants say only the blood of Jesus, which the believer accepts on faith justifies, Catholics say the blood of Jesus plus the sacraments when we fall and fail justifies.

Do you see they are both actually teaching the exact same thing, the exact same view of God, and don't even realize it.

If you start out upon the truth of God's law of love, and realize deviations are incompatible with life, you understand justification is simply setting one right with God, in heart, in trust, in relationship, and righteousness is the experience of actually being right with God, in heart, in character, in method, motive, relationship, and sanctification is the maturing, growing, healing that comes from being set right and abiding daily in one's right relationship and heart attitude with God.

But if you start out with the false law construct, that God operates like a Roman dictator, and imposes law, without inherent consequence, and then He must inflict punishments, justification becomes a legal process whereby one is declared to be righteous, based on some legal event, even though the person is actually not righteous. It has the unjust act of an innocent being tortured and killed in place of the guilty and then calling that just. It becomes convoluted, contradictory and confusing, because it is based on a lie.

But the Bible says:

“Abraham believed God, and because of his faith God accepted him as righteous.” (Rom 4:3 GNT)

the word “accepted” in some translations is “credited” others “reckoned.” This is from Strong's Lexicon:

3049 λογίζομαι [logizomai /log·id·zom·ahee/] v. Middle voice from 3056; TDNT 4:284; TDNTA 536; GK 3357; 41 occurrences; AV translates as “think” nine times, “impute” eight times, “reckon” six times, “count” five times, “account” four times, “suppose” twice, “reason” once, “number” once, and translated miscellaneous five times. 1 to reckon, count, compute, calculate, count over. 1a to take into account, to make an account of. 1a1 metaph. to pass to one's account, to impute. 1a2 a thing is reckoned as or to be something, i.e. as availing for or equivalent to something, as having the like force and weight. 1b to number among, reckon with. 1c to reckon or account. 2 to reckon inward, count up or weigh the reasons, to deliberate. 3 by reckoning up all the reasons, to gather or infer. 3a to consider, take into account, weigh, meditate on. 3b to suppose, deem, judge. 3c to determine, purpose, decide. *Additional Information: This word deals with reality. If I “logizomai” or reckon that my bank book has $25 in it, it has $25 in it. Otherwise I am deceiving myself. This word refers to facts not suppositions.*¹

When people account something, or reckon something, they are counting up what actually is, what already exists.

So, in the case of Abraham, what came first was a change in Abraham's heart, which was naturally "enmity" to God, in a distrusting state, but was changed to a heart that trusted God. Heart change CAME FIRST and then God accounted, reckoned, recognized, stated, agreed, declared the reality of what had already happened in Abraham's heart, that Abraham had been "set right" with God in heart, from distrust to trust, thus Abraham was recognized to be right with God, or righteous.

This is not complex, it is straightforward and simple, the reality of God's law of love, the methods of truth at work to displace lies and win to trust. Yet, theologians have come along and built a confusing pile of distorted ideas founded on Satan's lie about God's law.

Thus, they make God out to be a liar when they have God declaring people righteous when they are not righteous. Penal substitution theology makes God out to create a duplicity, a falsehood. They claim God doesn't see our wickedness, but the righteousness of Christ, which is legally accounted to our records, even though we are actually not righteous in heart and character.

Here is a metaphor: You are sick with the black plague. Because of this you are quarantined and "judged" to be in a terminal condition, unless the disease can be cured. A doctor is coming to examine your case. When he arrives he picks up your chart, but before he does so your older brother, who is perfectly healthy, has replaced your record with his physical examine findings, taking his name off and putting your name on the findings of his exam. Now, when the doctor comes and examines the record he declares you healthy, even though you are still terminal and dying. Note:

- The doctor is being deceived
- The doctor is declaring something to be true which is not true
- The doctor is participating in a fraud and deception along with the older brother
- You the patient are still terminal and dying
- If this wasn't bad enough, in the penal theologies of Christianity, the doctor is unwilling to sign off on the fraud unless He personally receives some payment to do so

This is the grossest and most disgusting portrayal of God. It makes God out to be a fraud, a liar, and in pursuit of some recompense to benefit Himself.

But if one worships Him who made the heaven, earth and seas, the Designer and not the dictator, one realizes justification, is setting people right in heart, character, method and motive with God. Here is from one of the founders of our church:

Christ came to save fallen man, and Satan with fiercest wrath met him on the field of conflict; for the enemy knew that when divine strength was added to human weakness, man was armed with power and intelligence, and could break away from the captivity in which he had bound him. Satan sought to intercept every ray of light from the throne of God. He sought to cast his shadow across the earth, that men might lose the true views of God's character, and that the knowledge of God might become extinct in the earth. He had caused truth of vital importance to be so mingled with error that it had lost its significance. The law of Jehovah was burdened with needless exactions and traditions, and God was represented as severe, exacting, revengeful, and arbitrary. He was pictured as one who could take pleasure in the sufferings of his creatures. The very attributes that belonged to the character of Satan, the evil one represented as belonging to the character of God. Jesus came to teach men of the Father, to correctly represent him before the fallen children of earth. Angels could not fully portray the character of God, but Christ, who was a living impersonation of God, could not fail to accomplish the work. The only way in which he could set and keep men right was to make himself visible and familiar to their eyes. That men might have salvation he came directly to man, and became a partaker of his nature. {ST, January 20, 1890 par. 6}

The only way to “justify” the only way to make humans right with God, was to take beings whose minds were filled with lies about God, whose characters were dominated by selfishness and 1) present the truth about God in order to destroy the lies and win to trust which is to justify or set right, and 2) provide a new heart and right spirit, write the law of love on the heart and mind, to develop a perfect character that is freely given, reproduced in the heart of all those who trust God. Thus the human species was set right (justified) in the person of Christ who constantly and always had a right relationship with His Father and purged the infection of selfishness and developed a perfect human character. And we as individuals are set right (justified) by Christ when we accept the truth and trust God, and then actually made righteous and transformed by the Holy Spirit taking what Christ achieved and reproducing it in us.

Thus, when God looks at us He does not see our wickedness and sin, not because of some trickery, but because “it is no longer I that live but Christ lives in me.” We are renewed, reborn, recreated, cleansed within so that we actually love God, His methods, principles and law of love and long to be like Him, grieving over every shortcoming, old habit, selfish motive that remains in this defective body of sin.

So listen to what Paul says in Romans:

²¹ But now a righteousness from God, apart from law, has been made known, to which the Law and the Prophets testify. ²² This righteousness from God comes through faith in Jesus Christ to all who believe. There is no difference, ²³ for all have sinned and fall short of the glory of God, ²⁴ and are justified freely by his grace through the redemption that came by Christ Jesus. ²⁵ God presented him as a sacrifice of atonement, through faith in his blood. He did this to demonstrate his justice, because in his forbearance he had left the sins committed beforehand unpunished— ²⁶ he did it to demonstrate his justice at the present time, so as to be just and the one who justifies those who have faith in Jesus. (Rom 3:21-26 NIV)

I purposely quoted the NIV, which uses the most legal sounding language. But interestingly the word for righteous, righteousness, justice, justify, justification in the Greek are all the same basic word, and it simply means to be right, or put right, or set right, or do the right thing.

From my paraphrase:

^{3:21} But now God has revealed, a healthy state of being – a character that is right and perfect in every way, that did not come from the written code, but is exactly what the Scriptures and the 10 Commandments were pointing your minds toward.²² This perfect state of being comes from Christ and is created within us by God when we trust him. Our trust in him is established by the evidence given through Jesus Christ of his supreme trustworthiness. There is no difference amongst any ethnic group,²³ for all humanity is infected with the same disease of distrust, fear and selfishness, and are deformed in character and fall far short of God's glorious ideal for mankind.²⁴ Yet all, who are willing, are healed freely by God's gracious remedy that has been provided by Jesus Christ.²⁵ God presented Jesus as the way and means of restoration. Now, through trust established by the evidence of God's character revealed when Christ died, we may partake of the remedy procured by Christ. God did this to demonstrate he is right and good, because in his forbearance he suspended, for a time, the ultimate consequence of being out of harmony with how he designed life to exist and has been falsely accused of being unfair.²⁶ So, he did it to demonstrate how right and good he is at the present time, so he would be seen as being right when he heals those who trust in Jesus.

Thoughts?

Now, listen to this written in 1902, more than 100 years ago in a periodical called Signs of the Times:

God is omnipotent, omniscient, immutable. He always pursues a straightforward course. His law is truth--immutable, eternal truth. His precepts are consistent with His attributes. But Satan makes them appear in a false light. By perverting them, he seeks to give human beings an unfavorable impression of the Law-giver. [Attack God's law, and alters how we see the Law-giver. How is the law attacked? Changed from Design law to Imposed law] Throughout his rebellion he has sought to represent God as an unjust, tyrannical being. [What does a tyrant do? Makes up rules and imposes them as they see fit.] {ST, July 23, 1902 par. 12}

In the beginning it was Satan's purpose to separate man from God. [How? Lies believed break the circle of love and trust...] And this purpose he has carried out in every age. Constantly he is at work among the children of men. He sways all classes. The same method of deception, the same logic, that he used to deceive the holy pair in Eden, he has used in all succeeding ages. His plan of work has ever been one of deception. [What method? Lies believed...] At times he assumes a cloak of piety, purity, and holiness. Often he transforms himself into an angel of light. [Where will Satan have agents placed?] He has blinded the eyes of men so that they can not see beneath the surface and discern his real purpose. [How? Could it be by complex and confusing theologies?] As a result of Adam's disobedience, every human being is a transgressor of the law, sold under sin. [Why? Born in sin, conceived in iniquity Ps 51, what kind of law?] Unless he repents and is converted, he is under bondage to the law, serving Satan, falling into the deceptions of the enemy, and bearing witness against the precepts of Jehovah. But by perfect obedience to the requirements of the law, man is justified. [Who obeyed perfectly? Jesus, as a human, thus humanity, man, was set right with God in the person of Jesus Christ. Why? Because Jesus restored God's design of love back into the humanity He assumed] Only through faith in Christ is such obedience possible. Men may comprehend the spirituality of the law, they may realize its power as a detector of sin, but they are helpless to withstand Satan's power and deceptions, unless they accept the atonement provided for them in the remedial sacrifice of Christ, who is our Atonement--our At-one-ment--with God. [What was the atonement provided for? Not a legal payment, but as a remedy, it was a remedial sacrifice, it remedied, remediated, what was wrong in man that sin caused, and thus when we trust God, we experience renewal of heart so that we are at-one with Him again, through what Christ accomplished in our behalf] {ST, July 23, 1902 par. 13}

Those who believe on Christ and obey His commandments are not under bondage to God's law; for to those who believe and obey, His law is not a law of bondage, but of liberty. [What does bondage to the law mean? How does God's law, if broken, hold one in bondage? Is it a legal condemnation by the ruling authority, or an actual state of being, for which we cannot of ourselves escape or change? A person who violates God's laws of health, and becomes sick, say smokes 2 packs per day and gets COPD, do they experience bondage? Do tight cords hold them where they do not have the liberty that once was theirs? Can they climb stairs, go skiing at altitude, run, walk fast, cut wood, or do any real labor? Are they actually tied down to an oxygen bottle, their liberty restricted? Consider someone who does MDMA, an illegal drug, which if prepared wrong can destroy the dopamine producing cells in the brain and cause a Parkinson's like problem, permanently. Will they be in bondage? Will their liberty be restricted? Which restricts ones liberty more completely and without compromise, a jail cell, a legal condemnation, or inability to move because one had destroyed either their lungs or their brain cells? Penal models of atonement undermine the law of God by representing it as human law, and suggesting what holds us in bondage is legal condemnation and the law enforcement angels from heaven.] Every one who believes on Christ, every one who relies on the keeping power of a risen Saviour that has suffered the penalty pronounced upon the transgressor, every one who resists temptation and in the midst of evil copies the pattern given in the Christ-life, will through faith in the atoning sacrifice of Christ become a partaker of the divine nature, having escaped the corruption that is in the world through lust. Every one who by faith obeys God's commandments, will reach the condition of sinlessness in which Adam lived before his transgression. {ST, July 23, 1902 par. 14} [What is the penalty of unremedied sin? Being let go by God, complete separation from Him. Jesus experienced this on the Cross, "My God, My God, Why have you forsaken me?" God let Jesus go to experience what Jesus chose, to be our Remedy, to do what was necessary to heal our condition, to love perfectly and purge the infection of fear and selfishness from humanity. Thus He rose again, having cleansed and purified the humanity He assumed. Christ, in His human brain, developed a perfect human character and became the human that God intended Adam originally to become. But of course, Christ was more than Adam, for He is also fully God. And notice, our faith in our reconciling (atoning) sacrifice results in what? Our actual partaking of the divine nature, we are not declared righteous merely, we are regenerated as righteous, and one day we will be fully glorified to be sinless.

SUNDAY

Read second paragraph, "Isaiah's poetic story..." thoughts?

Are punishment and discipline the same? Do you hear them the same. Do we derive the same connotation from them?

Dictionary definition:

PUNISHMENT

- 1: the act of punishing
- 2: a: suffering, pain, or loss that serves as retribution
 b: a penalty inflicted on an offender through judicial procedure
- 3: severe, rough, or disastrous treatment

DISCIPLINE

- 1: punishment
- 2: obsolete : instruction
- 3: a field of study
- 4: training that corrects, molds, or perfects the mental faculties or moral character
- 5 a: control gained by enforcing obedience or order
 b: orderly or prescribed conduct or pattern of behavior
 c: self-control
- 6: a rule or system of rules governing conduct or activity

So, one can hear discipline as punishment, but do you think they actually mean the same when referring to God?

My son, do not despise the Lord's discipline and do not resent his rebuke, because the Lord disciplines those he loves, as a father the son he delights in. Prov 3:11,12

Read last paragraph, "Jeremiah's parable..." thoughts? So what does the Lord do to those who refuse Him? He eventually releases them to reap what separation from the Lord and His design for life brings.

Examples:

- Snakes in the desert – were they sent of God, or when they rebelled, God withdrew His protection that was keeping the snakes away, and snakes came in, as snakes do?
- Babylonian captivity –

These were disciplines, but what about other actions in the OT?

- The 10 plagues of Egypt?
- Sodom and Gomorrah?
- 185,000 Assyrians?
- The platoons that came to arrest Elijah?

Were these discipline or punishment?

- 10 Plagues – discipline to expose the falsehood of their idols and lead to God
- the other three – neither discipline nor punishment, but therapeutic intervention to keep open the channel for Messiah. Cauterizing a necrotic or cancerous lesion. When one cauterizes a lesion they are not punishing, or disciplining, but working to heal. Without Christ’s arrival, the entire race is lost. Satan is working to shut down the avenue for the Messiah, God worked to keep it open. All those individuals put in the grave will arise again in one of two resurrections. What happened at that time was not the end of their existence.

MONDAY

The lesson asks us to read MT 7:24-27:

“Therefore everyone who hears these words of mine and puts them into practice is like a wise man who built his house on the rock. ²⁵ The rain came down, the streams rose, and the winds blew and beat against that house; yet it did not fall, because it had its foundation on the rock. ²⁶ But everyone who hears these words of mine and does not put them into practice is like a foolish man who built his house on sand. ²⁷ The rain came down, the streams rose, and the winds blew and beat against that house, and it fell with a great crash.”

Thoughts? What do you understand the metaphor to mean?

Christ illustrated character building by a house built on a rock, against which storm and tempest were powerless, and the house built on the sand, which was swept away. We are living in perilous times. Amidst the changing scenes, with heresy and false doctrines coming in that will test the faith of all, the house built on the solid rock cannot be shaken. But when storm and tempest come, the house built on the sand will fall, and great will be the fall of it.

Let us take heed, then, how we build. Let no one build unwisely. The word of God is our only foundation. Every semblance of error will come upon us. Some of these errors will be very specious and attractive, but if received, they would remove the pillars of the foundation that Christ has established and set up a structure of man's building. There are those who seeing, see not, and hearing, hear not, and under Satan's guidance they prepare false foundations for human minds. {MM 87.2}

Consider the following metaphor, and examine which method will most likely result in building habits or traits of character that will be solid, and less likely to collapse, versus those which can be undone under deception or stress:

Child A is taught by their parent that they are to brush their teeth, because the parent has a rule, and if they don't, the parent will punish. The child never grows to understand any other reason for brushing teeth, other than parental rules, and imposed punishments by parents if the rules are not obeyed.

Child B is taught by their parent, when they are very young, to brush their teeth, because the parent has a rule, and if they don't, the parent will punish. But as the child grows older they discover that the reason the parent had the rule was because of love to protect the child from violations of the design law, of entropy, that if energy isn't put into the system the system will decay. If they don't brush they will eventually get cavities and lose their teeth. They realize their parents punishments were never the actual punishments for not brushing, but were disciplines designed to protect and prevent the loss of their teeth. They now understand the real purpose for brushing.

Which child, when an adult, will have their teeth brushing built on solid rock, and which will be built on sand? Why?

How does this metaphor apply to Christianity, our understanding of God's law and our obedience to God? What builds our character on solid rock and what constitutes sand?

What false doctrines have come in to test our faith, to erode solid rock? Nothing is more destructive to character than distortions of God's character, and particularly God's law as imposed, which has infected Christianity in the guise of penal theologies. This is part of the wine of Babylon that must be replaced with the truth about God the Designer and His law as the law of love.

TUESDAY

Read second paragraph, "At the same time..." thoughts? The paragraph is referring to the wheat and tares growing up together until the harvest.

Did you find it peculiar that they use judgment that God does as "condemnation" but judgment we do as "discernment"? Do you see again the infection into our theology of the imperial Roman law construct?

The idea that God judges, i.e. finds guilt or innocence and then condemns the guilty, rather than the truth, that God's law is design law, and God judges, or diagnoses perfectly. His judgments are merely the accurate diagnosis of one's condition, example,

- "Ephraim is joined to idols; leave him alone! (Hos 4:17)
- Or "Let him who does wrong continue to do wrong; let him who is vile continue to be vile; let him who does right continue to do right; and let him who is holy continue to be holy." (Rev 22:11)

WEDNESDAY

Read first paragraph, "Christ's ministry..." thoughts? Well said, yes revolutionary, and the weapons were truth, love and freedom. Breaking down the lies and setting minds free.

But, what did Satan do? He counterattacked, the man of sin, set himself up in God's temple proclaiming himself to be god. How? By infecting Christianity with Satan's view of God's law, thus altering in the minds of Christians how they conceive of God's character and government. Thus, in the spirit temple is a false god construct set up proclaiming God is like a dictator who inflicts pain and suffering and death for disobedience.

Read last paragraph, "No question..." thoughts? What does this sound like? Does it sound like lack of mercy, the judge doesn't care whether you are ignorant, meant well, etc. He has rules you broke them and he must punish?

Why will ignorance not be an excuse? Deviations from God's design for life are deviations from God's design for life, thus a person who smokes cigarettes ignorantly, believing they help a person live longer and have better health, will still suffer the results of damaged lungs and heart disease.

A person, who prefers selfishness, lies, etc. will still find love and truth hateful, will still experience torment of their own condition when they can no longer hide from who they really are, having never been reborn and transformed to be like Jesus.

Many well meaning Christians will find themselves crying out in pain, we kept the rules, we ate the right foods, we worshipped on the right day, we did miracles in your name, but they never experienced a changed heart. Why? Because they relied on a legal religion and had false security, never believing transformation of the inner man was necessary, just legal pardon.

THURSDAY

Read last paragraph, "However they are expressed..." thoughts? The Bible is filled with imagery, metaphor, parable – but we must remember there is an eternal reality to which all this metaphor and imagery points. Are we to remain in symbols, or should we struggle to move past metaphor and symbol to, as far as possible, reality?

Is healing, transformation, regeneration of character, renewal, restoration in Godlikeness metaphor or the reality to which God, through Christ is working?

Then we need to stop calling the healing plan of salvation a metaphor, and lumping it in with all the other actual metaphors like ransom etc. It is not a metaphor, it is the reality to which all the metaphors point.

FRIDAY

Read and discuss the questions.

Discipleship Lesson 3 1Q 2014

Discipleship and Prayer

Announcement: We have transitioned our webcasting to a new online platform and hosting service. Over the last few weeks a few glitches have occurred. Our class is in the Eastern Time Zone but our hosting service is in Mountain Time Zone. Last week this resulted in our online chat room being opened at the wrong time, basically two hours late. We have resolved this now and apologize for the inconvenience to those who were unable to log on last week, which was everyone.

SABBATH

Read Memory Text: “ ‘I do not pray for these alone, but also for those who will believe in Me through their word; that they all may be one, as You, Father, are in Me, and I in You; that they also may be one in Us, that the world may believe that You sent Me.’ ” (John 17:20,21 NKJV)

Thoughts?

What does this mean? How are we to be one?

What prevents unity, what causes division?

- Lies
- Selfishness
- Pride
- Fear
- Doubt
- Distrust

What is necessary to establish unity? What enables us to be one?

- Truth
- Love
- Freedom

How does truth help establish unity?

What does it mean that Jesus prayed to His Father? Why was Jesus praying if He was fully God? Many use texts like this to draw conclusions that Jesus wasn't fully God. What is the problem with that conclusion?

Jesus lived as a human, and had to overcome as a human, by the exercise of His human brain, while denying use of His personal divine abilities. So, when we read such texts they inform us of Jesus' humanity, but not His divinity.

There are many texts in which the Bible speaks of Jesus' humanity, such as the Father granting, gifting, elevating, etc. the humanity of Jesus, and some erroneously conclude these texts speak of Christ's divinity and thus conclude that Christ is not fully and equally God.

I can understand how this could be confusing, but we must remember what damage we do to the plan of salvation and God's character if we suggest Christ is less than the Father.

There was a quote I intended to read last week from one of the founders of our church, but didn't get to and it speaks of this "oneness" as well. So I thought I would read it today:

God is omnipotent, omniscient, immutable. He always pursues a straightforward course. His law is truth--immutable, eternal truth. His precepts are consistent with His attributes. [Meaning He built His universe to run in harmony with His character of love] But Satan makes them appear in a false light. By perverting them, he seeks to give human beings an unfavorable impression of the Law-giver. [Attack God's law to alter how we see the Law-giver. How is the law attacked? Changed from Design law to Imposed law and this causes division, breaks down unity as each group has its own interpretation of the legal requirements of God] Throughout his rebellion he has sought to represent God as an unjust, tyrannical being. [What does a tyrant do? Makes up rules and imposes them as they see fit.] {ST, July 23, 1902 par. 12}

In the beginning it was Satan's purpose to separate man from God. [How? Lies believed break the circle of love and trust...] And this purpose he has carried out in every age. Constantly he is at work among the children of men. He sways all classes. The same method of deception, the same logic, that he used to deceive the holy pair in Eden, he has used in all succeeding ages. His plan of work has ever been one of deception. [What method? Those who believe on Christ and obey His commandments are not under bondage to God's law; for to those who believe and obey, His law is not a law of bondage, but of liberty. [What does bondage to the law mean? How does God's law, if broken, hold one in bondage? SUNDAY

Read first paragraph, "Frequently, prayer assumes..." thoughts?

The lesson suggests one way to have our prayers become less self-centered is to engage in intercessory prayer.

What do you understand intercessory prayer to be?

- Who needs the intercessory prayers? And why?
- Does God need someone to pray to Him to encourage Him, persuade Him, convince Him, or somehow induce Him to do some good He would not want of His own accord want to do?
- Then, if God wants to do good anyway, what is the purpose of intercessory prayer?
- Will God violate the freewill of others? Why not? So if a person says to God, leave me alone, get out of my life, I am going to go it alone, will God force Himself into their lives?
- But, if another person says to God, “God, I know my child is choosing to turn away from You, but they don’t really understand. I know you give them freedom to make this choice, but for me will you continue to seek opportunities to reach them.” Does this give God, within the bounds of respecting freedom, an avenue to stay engaged? Any evidence?

Daniel 10:12-14, 20,21:

¹² Then he [an angel] continued, “Do not be afraid, Daniel. Since the first day that you set your mind to gain understanding and to humble yourself before your God, your words were heard, and I have come in response to them. ¹³ But the prince of the Persian kingdom resisted me twenty-one days. Then Michael, one of the chief princes, came to help me, because I was detained there with the king of Persia. ¹⁴ Now I have come to explain to you what will happen to your people in the future, for the vision concerns a time yet to come.”

²⁰ So he said, “Do you know why I have come to you? Soon I will return to fight against the prince of Persia, and when I go, the prince of Greece will come; ²¹ but first I will tell you what is written in the Book of Truth. (No one supports me against them except Michael, your prince.

Thoughts?

What is going on here? Daniel has been praying for the fulfillment of Jeremiah’s prophecy (see Daniel 9) and the release of the Jews from captivity. 21 days later Gabriel comes and tells him he has been delayed because the prince of Persia has been opposing him, and soon the prince of Greece will join the prince of Persia in opposing him, and the only one to help him is Michael.

What going on? Let’s identify the players involved in the Daniel text above:

Now is the time for judgment on this world; now the prince of this world will be driven out.

³² But I, when I am lifted up from the earth, will draw all to myself.” John 12:31,32

- Who is the prince of this world that is being driven out by Christ? Satan
- Then who would be a prince of Persia and Greece? Would they be superior or inferior to the prince of the world? And they oppose Gabriel and Michael and are able to fight these heavenly beings, so what kind of beings must they be?
- These are fallen angels, who have authority in Satan’s order over these regions of the world

Some type of battle between angelic beings is being waged behind the scenes, and our prayers are involved in this battle. Angels appear to respond to our prayers. But what kind of war is this?

For though we live in the world, we do not wage war as the world does. ⁴ The weapons we fight with are not the weapons of the world. On the contrary, they have divine power to demolish strongholds. ⁵ We demolish arguments and every pretension that sets itself up against the knowledge of God, and we take captive every thought to make it obedient to Christ. 2Cor 10:3-5

- What kind of war is this?
- What weapons are used?
- Satan is the Father of lies, and his weapons are lies, selfishness, deception, fear, coercion etc.
- So where is the battle ground of the war?
- Are angel beings involved in the war going on in our minds?

Why were no other angels able to help Gabriel other than Michael?

What kind of war is this? What weapons are used?

This is a war of ideas, the weapons of God are truth, love, freedom which oppose lies, deceit, selfishness, and coercion.

Lucifer, prior to his fall, was the covering cherub, a light bearer. So, how powerful and effective are Satan's lies likely to be? What kind of weapon is necessary to destroy such lies? Truth!

Gabriel took Lucifer's place, the implication is that Gabriel is now the highest created being in the army of truth. He would be the created being with the greatest breadth, depth, and ability to wield the sword of truth, which combats the weapons of Satan, IN THE MINDS of humans. The only One in heaven more capable than Gabriel would be who? Jesus, or in His preincarnate form Michael, the Divine Son of God, fully God, the source of all truth and light. Thus, the only one to help Gabriel is Michael. (Remember Michael is not a created being, but fully divine)

Jesus answered, "I am the way and the truth and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me. John 14:6

Thoughts?

So, Daniel is praying for the fulfillment of Jeremiah's prophecy, the release of the Jews to return to the promised land. This requires the human ruler to pronounce it. Satan's agencies, the prince of Persia, is working through his means, consider the various people who tricked Nebuchadnezzar to set up the idol in order to trap the three worthies, or those who tricked Darius with to trap Daniel and the lion's den. Thus, Satan's agencies are working to bias Darius and give his false reasons to deny the release. Gabriel and Michael are on the scene to provide truth, love, and promote freedom, to offset the lies and allow Darius the freedom to choose rightly.

So, what does intercession do? It provides freedom, protection from evil, counterbalance to Satanic ideas, desires, which enables a person the ability to choose for themselves. Without the intercessions of Christ in our hearts and minds, we would not be able to conceive a good thought, choose a healthy choice or in any other way break free from Satan's power.

Here is a perspective from one of the founders of our church:

Christ desires His followers to reveal in their lives this same character. In His intercessory prayer for His disciples He declared: "The glory [character] which thou gavest me I have given them; that they may be one, even as we are one; I in them, and thou in me, that they may be made perfect in one; and that the world may know that thou hast sent me, and hast loved them, as thou hast loved me" (John 17:22, 23). {Amazing Grace 322.4}

Today it is still His purpose to sanctify and cleanse His church ". . . that he might present it to himself a glorious church, not having spot, or wrinkle, or any such thing . . ." (Ephesians 5:26, 27). No greater gift than the character that He revealed, can Christ ask His Father to bestow upon those who believe on Him. What largeness there is in His request! What fullness of grace every follower of Christ has the privilege of receiving!. . . O that we might more fully appreciate the honor Christ confers upon us! By wearing His yoke and learning of Him, we become like Him in aspiration, in meekness and lowliness, in fragrance of character. {AG 322.5}

What is Christ's prayer of intercession? For what is Christ praying in our behalf? For our healing and transformation to be like Him!

Any examples in Scripture of people engaged in intercessory prayer?

- Moses, people of Israel – note concerned for the people and God's reputation
- Abraham, Sodom – note concerned for the people and God's reputation
- Daniel – concerned for the people and God's reputation
- Jesus – concerned for us and our knowledge of God and unity with God
- Others?

MONDAY

Read first paragraph, "Think through what prayer really is..." thoughts?

What does this paragraph say to you? How do you hear it? What is implied?

What does it mean, "sinful beings worthy of death?"

Which way is it?

- A child has disobeyed their parent, who happens to be the judge and executioner of their jurisdiction, and the child is currently being held on death row, awaiting their sentence of death, but they have a radio where they can talk to their father.
- A child has disobeyed their parent and went caving where their parent told them not to go, and while in the cave it began to rain very hard, and water has risen in a stream in the cave trapping the child, as the water continues to rise it is only a short while and the child will be drowned, but the child has a radio they can talk with their parent.

Why is the child in the first scenario worthy of death?

Why is the child in the second scenario worthy of death?

If the child believed that the father was required by law and justice to execute them, would that increase their desire to talk with him? And if they did, perhaps out of fear and desperation talk to their father, what would they likely say?

If the child believed their situation was what condemned them, and though it resulted from disobedience, and they knew their father was crying longing to rescue them, would they want to talk to him? And if they did what would they likely say?

When we talk about prayer, what it really is, does our view of God affect it?

If we hold to a god who is the source of death, a god who is required to punish, a god who needs some other being to stand between us in order to absorb His wrath etc., and we do still pray to this god, will our prayers be affected by this conception of god?

How do prayers get impacted when we are afraid of God and believe His agenda is legal justice and punishment of sin?

- Are we afraid?
- Do we pray to the Father or to Jesus more often? Who did Jesus pray to? Did He tell us to pray like He did? Do penal theologies undermine our willingness to pray to God, and thus we pray more often to Jesus, or some even pray to Mary and the saints because they want more beings between them and God?
- Do we pray for ourselves more, for forgiveness, for pardon, for avoidance of punishment?
- Do we make deals with God, “I promise I will never do this again, please God just...” “God if you don’t do this then I will never speak to you again.” “God if you let me do this then I will do that for you...”
- Do we claim Bible promises as a way to hold God to it? “God you promised that if...”
- Do we pray the blood of Jesus to the Father, seeking to influence the Father with the blood of His Son? “Father, I don’t come before you on my own, I come by the mighty blood of Jesus, who has paid my sin and given me the right to come boldly before you...”
- Consider how the 450 prophets of Baal prayed? They prayed and prayed, but for what, with what mindset? Did they come with hearts that trusted, or with offerings to influence?

- Consider how the publicans and Pharisees prayed and prayed, but with what mindset and for what?

Do our prayers change when we come to realize that God is just like Jesus, that He is for us, on our side, giving everything He has for our salvation and redemption, a God who never needed convincing to do what is best for us, a being who set out to save us before we even knew we needed to be saved. If we view God like this do our prayers change? How?

- Instead of being afraid we move toward thankfulness
- Instead of focusing on self we meditate on Him
- We move away from insecurity and uncertainty to love and admiration
- We bring our concerns to our Father confident that He is for us, wants to know the issues of our hearts, longs for our good, will always listen, always understand, always forgive, always intervene with what is for our eternal best good, including if necessary, loving discipline, but He would much prefer such discipline would never be needed.
- We come to know He longs for us to be with Him infinitely more than we long for Him to be with us
- As we begin to appreciate His true self we begin to grieve at how little we have loved Him, how little we have spent time with Him, how little of ourselves we have actually returned to Him, how little of our hearts are truly dedicated to Him, and we tell Him of our sorrow, “Father I am so sorry.” And we, in our mind’s eye, see Him smile in love and reach out and like the prodigal’s father, pull us in for a big hug.

Does our conception of God make a difference in what prayer is?

Read fourth paragraph, “Prayer is the opening of the heart to God as to a friend. Not that it is necessary in order to make known to God what we are, but in order to enable us to receive Him. Prayer does not bring God down to us, but brings us up to Him.”

Thoughts? Isn’t this beautifully stated?

Remember what Jesus said to His disciples in John 15:15:

I no longer call you servants, because a servant does not know his master’s business. Instead, I have called you friends, for everything that I learned from my Father I have made known to you.

Can you talk to someone as a friend, if you live in fear that that person is out to kill you?

What is the essence of friendship? Love, trust and understanding! Friends are for each other. Friends know each other, understand each other, care for each other, want what is best for each other, love each other and trust each other.

In our case, we are imperfect, so human friends may fall short, may make mistakes, but such mistakes are not purposeful betrayals. A friend who lets a friend down is grieved, even before the friend knows about it. When we let God down, if we are His friend, we grieve because we have let Him down. We are sad in our hearts and we go to our heavenly Friend, tearful at times, and talk to Him, “Lord I am so sorry. I blew it. I am so weak. I want to never let you down, but sometimes the good I want to do, I don’t do it and the things I don’t want to do I find myself doing. I am so sorry...”

And Jesus responds by saying, “I know your heart is willing but your flesh is weak. I know you are for me. You just need more time with me, practicing choosing the right. Don’t worry, our friendship hasn’t changed. The only thing that will change our friendship is if you close your heart to me and stop coming to me when you make mistakes.”

But, if we are not friends, if we are instead servants, then we fear what the master will do to us when we make mistakes. Instead of being sad, we are afraid of the punishment, so we seek to get our mistakes covered by the blood of His Son, or our punishment placed on Jesus and be sure the Father punishes Jesus for our mistake, or get the record books erased from any record of our mistake, or get Jesus to hide us from the Father so the Father won’t know about our mistakes.

Which type of conversation do you think God wants to have with us, that of servants or friends?

If you have never read the book by Graham Maxwell, Servants or Friends I highly recommend it to you. Graham does a masterful job of helping people see God in His true light, a God of consummate love and grace, who longs for His relationship with His children to be restored, and for us to grow up beyond just sons and daughters of God, to be also His understanding friends.

Think how our prayers change from focusing on ourselves to God’s greater purpose when we know and understand Him.

- Remember how David prayed to be able to build a house for God
- Remember how Daniel prayed for Israel, for the fulfillment of God’s purpose
- Remember how Moses and Abraham prayed for God’s reputation
- Remember how Jesus prayed that God’s will be done on earth as it is in heaven

Do you have a vision of what God is trying to accomplish? Do your prayers go beyond our safety, our earthly needs (which are good and proper to talk with God about), but do we go beyond this and also talk to Him about His desires and longings? Do we pray for greater opportunities to fulfill His purposes? Do we ask God for enabling to represent Him, for resources, skills, abilities to take a message forward to enlighten the world?

Do we ever talk with God and let Him know we are sorry for the pain and suffering He endures every day as He looks upon this sin sick world? Do we empathize with Him and tell Him, that we would love to shield Him from the agony He must endure, that if we could we would? Do you think such prayers are appropriate and proper?

TUESDAY

Read first paragraph, “Prayer miraculously...” thoughts?

If prayer is spiritual adhesive, if it bonds us to God, then is it critical that we are praying to the “right” God?

It is enough to end our prayers with, “in Jesus’ name”?

Can a person pray to “Jesus” or to the “Father” and actually be praying to a false god? If so, how?

Could a person pray to a deity, with a different salutation (something other than Jesus or Heavenly Father) and be praying to the true God?

What makes the difference? The kind of God one believes in and the motives of the heart.

In C.S. Lewis’ last book of the Narnia series Lewis describes a Calormene soldier named Emeth and his encounter with Aslan the lion. Emeth was a worshipper of Tash, and as a result was terrified when he came face to face with Aslan. This is that encounter from the book:

I fell at his feet and thought surely this is the hour of death, for the Lion will know that I have served Tash all my days and not him.

But Aslan’s response?

Son thou art welcome. But I said, alas Lord I am no son of thine but the servant of Tash. He answered, Child all the service thou hast done to Tash I account as service done to me.

I questioned the Glorious One: Lord, is it then true that thou and Tash are one? The Lion growled and said, It is false. Not because he and I are one, but because we are opposites, I take to me the services which thou hast done to him. For I and he are of such different kinds that no service which is vile can be done to me, and none which is not vile can be done to him. Therefore if any man swear by Tash and keep his oath for the oath’s sake, it is by me that he has truly sworn, though he know it not, and it is I who reward him. And if any man do a cruelty in my name, then, though he says the name Aslan, it is Tash whom he serves and by Tash his deed is accepted”.

Emeth questions once more:

Lord, I have been seeking Tash all my days.

Beloved, said the Glorious One, unless thy desire had been for me thou shouldst not have sought so long and so truly. For all find what they truly seek.

Thoughts? Do you agree with this assessment? If a person prayed to Buddha their entire life, but lived in harmony with God's methods, having the right conception of God's principles, methods, but not knowing about Jesus, would God take all of that as service to Him, would such a person be saved?

If a person prayed to Jesus their entire life, but viewed God as punitive, severe, and thus they practiced such methods toward others, though they claimed the blood of Jesus, they would coerce and pressure others to bend toward their way, could they actually be praying to Satan?

This is from the book The Desire of Ages:

Those whom Christ commends in the judgment may have known little of theology, but they have cherished His principles. Through the influence of the divine Spirit they have been a blessing to those about them. Even among the heathen are those who have cherished the spirit of kindness; before the words of life had fallen upon their ears, they have befriended the missionaries, even ministering to them at the peril of their own lives. Among the heathen are those who worship God ignorantly, those to whom the light is never brought by human instrumentality, yet they will not perish. Though ignorant of the written law of God, they have heard His voice speaking to them in nature, and have done the things that the law required. Their works are evidence that the Holy Spirit has touched their hearts, and they are recognized as the children of God. {DA 638.2}

Thoughts? Does it matter to whom we pray? Is it the salutation that matters the most, or the character of the one to whom we pray?

Here is from Paul in the NT:

For it is not those who hear the law who are righteous in God's sight, but it is those who obey the law who will be declared righteous. ¹⁴ (Indeed, when Gentiles, who do not have the law, do by nature things required by the law, they are a law for themselves, even though they do not have the law, ¹⁵ since they show that the requirements of the law are written on their hearts, their consciences also bearing witness, and their thoughts now accusing, now even defending them.) Rom 2:13-15

What is the New Covenant?

This is the covenant I will make with the house of Israel after that time, declares the Lord. I will put my laws in their minds and write them on their hearts. I will be their God, and they will be my people. Heb 8:10

So, if a person has the law written on their heart, how did it get there? Who did the writing? The Holy Spirit. So, is Paul saying a person can have the law of God written on their heart without ever having the Scripture presented to them, without ever going through water baptism, without ever partaking communion, without ever attending church, without ever paying tithe, without ever claiming the blood of Jesus for their sins? Is Paul really saying this?

What would this say about God and His law?

That God is love and His law is an expression of His character of love, the protocols of life.

- It doesn't matter what one calls oxygen as long as one breathes it
- It doesn't matter what one calls water as long as one drinks it
- It doesn't matter what one calls bread as long as one eats it
- A rose by any other name is just as sweet
- The true God, by any other name is just as beautiful and true
- But, also, it doesn't matter what one calls cyanide it is just as deadly

So, the point, when we understand God's law as the protocols of life, then what label we put on Him doesn't matter, what matters is whether we actually know Him, partake of Him, internalize His methods and principles into the heart. This is Design law, not imposed law.

But, if we have penal views, if we have imposed laws then it can't be like this. In that view we must go through the proper rituals, be baptized by the proper authorized representatives, have the proper incantations spoken above us as we are baptized, ensure we ask forgiveness and claim the blood of Jesus as our legal penalty for each and every individual act of sin. If we don't do this, then we can't be legally saved – or so the false gospel teaches.

The true God is our Creator, our Designer, and He knows we are defective, deviant from the design and in a terminal condition and He has worked through Christ to provide Remedy to heal us.

He isn't concerned if we call the Remedy:

- Jesus
- Joshua
- Yohua
- Immanuel
- El-Shaddai
- Elohim
- El
- Rose of Sharon
- Lilly of the Valley
- Bright and Morning Star
- King, Lord, Master, Sovereign, Ruler, Creator, Designer, Teacher, Heavenly Physician, Father, Daddy, Papa or any other name

He is concerned with whether we actually partake the Remedy, whether we partake the truth about God as revealed by Jesus and trust Him and open the heart to the Holy Spirit for healing and transformation!

What do we do with the passages that no one comes to the Father except through Christ and there is no other name under heaven whereby men can be saved?

Who is the member of the Godhead through whom all things were made? Jesus

And, Scripture says that God's divine nature are seen in what He has made, (Rom 1:20) so if someone comes to know God through seeing God's methods in nature, who is the one who put that lesson into nature? Who wrote it there? Jesus, so they still come through Jesus.

And when they are won to trust through the evidence Jesus provided, whether in Scripture or nature, from where does the healing remedy come that the Spirit applies? In other words, how does the divine nature get back into humanity? Who did that? Jesus! Jesus is still the healing Remedy, the pattern, the connecting link, the conduit through which God's character is reproduced into the heart of all the saved, whether they have heard the name "Jesus" or not.

A person doesn't have to know what penicillin is, nor have heard the name "penicillin" to benefit from taking it.

WEDNESDAY

Third paragraph states, "Jesus could effectively intercede on His disciples' behalf because He was actively engaged in their lives, thoroughly understood them, and passionately desired their good. Effective intercession today demands nothing less."

Thoughts?

When you hear intercession what comes to mind? What does it entail?

Who needs the intercession to influence them to cooperate with the plan of salvation?

Does God need to be interceded with in order to influence Him to be positively involved in our salvation?

Do we need to be interceded with in order to influence us to be positively involved in our own salvation and the salvation of others?

So, when we hear of intercessory prayer is it ever to influence God to be positive in His desire, willingness or attitude to help?

Then what is it for?

THURSDAY

The second paragraph, speaking of the Apostles states, "Frequently their payers assumed the form of intercession. They prayed for government leaders, fellow believers, and, generally speaking, everyone!"

Thoughts about this?

So, could this be a form of intercession – praying that God would give true wisdom in decision making to government officials who don't acknowledge Him and don't seek His wisdom in their decision-making?

With your prayers, might God send an angel to provide insight, perspectives, wisdom, discernment to an individual who might not otherwise receive that special help because they themselves are simply not seeking for it?

In researching I came across this description and found it quite interesting:

I was shown that the advocates of truth should not seek discussions. And whenever it is necessary for the advancement of the cause of truth and the glory of God that an opponent be met, how carefully and with what humility should they go into the conflict. With heart-searching, confession of sin, and earnest prayer, and often fasting for a time, they should entreat that God would especially help them and give His saving, precious truth a glorious victory, that error might appear in its true deformity and its advocates be completely discomfited. Those who battle for the truth, against its opposers, should realize that they are not meeting merely men, but that they are contending with Satan and his angels, who are determined that error and darkness shall retain the field and the truth be covered up with error. As error is most in accordance with the natural heart, it is taken for granted to be clear. Men who are at ease love error and darkness, and are unwilling to be reformed by the truth. They do not love to come to the light, lest their deeds should be reproved. {1T 624.2}

If those who stand in vindication of the truth, trust to the weight of argument, with but a feeble reliance upon God, and thus meet their opponents, nothing will be gained on the side of truth, but there will be a decided loss. Unless there is an evident victory in favor of truth, the matter is left worse than before the conflict. Those who might formerly have had convictions in regard to the truth set their minds at rest and decide in favor of error, because in their darkened state they cannot perceive that the truth had the advantage. These last two discussions did but little to advance the cause of God, and it would have been better had they not occurred. Brother F did not engage in them with a spirit of self-abasement and a firm reliance upon God. He was puffed up by the enemy and had a spirit of self-sufficiency and confidence not becoming a humble servant of Christ. He had on his own armor, not the armor of God. {1T 624.3}

Brother F, God had provided you with a laborer of deep experience, the ablest in the field. He was one who had been acquainted in his own experience with the wiles of Satan, and who had passed through most intense mental anguish. He had been permitted in the all-wise providence of God to feel the heat of the refining furnace and had there learned that every refuge but God would fail and every prop upon which he could lean for support would prove but a broken reed. You should have realized that Brother Andrews had as deep an interest in the discussion as yourself, and you should have listened in the spirit of humility to his counsel and profited by his instructions. But Satan had an object to gain here, to defeat the purpose of God, and he stepped in to take possession of your mind and thereby thwart the work of God. You rushed into battle in your own strength, and angels left you to carry it on. But God in mercy to His cause would not suffer the enemies of His truth to obtain a decided victory, and in answer to the earnest, agonizing prayers of His servant, angels came to the rescue. Instead of an utter failure there was a partial victory, that the enemies of truth might not exult over the believers. But nothing was gained by that effort, when there might have been a glorious triumph of truth over error. There were two of the ablest advocates of truth by your side; three men, with the strength of truth, to stand against one man who was seeking to cover up truth with error. In God you could have been a host, had you entered the conflict right. Your self-sufficiency caused it to be almost an entire failure. {1T 625.1}

Never should you enter a discussion where so much is at stake, relying upon your aptness to handle strong arguments. If it cannot be well avoided, enter the conflict, but enter upon it with firm trust in God and in the spirit of humility, in the spirit of Jesus, who has bidden you learn of Him, who is meek and lowly in heart. And then in order to glorify God and exemplify the character of Christ, you should never take unlawful advantage of your opponent. Lay aside sarcasm and playing upon words. Remember that you are in a combat with Satan and his angels, as well as with the man. He who overcame Satan in heaven and vanquished the fallen foe and expelled him from heaven, and who died to redeem fallen man from his power, when at the grave of Moses, disputing about his body, durst not bring against Satan a railing accusation, but said: "The Lord rebuke thee." {1T 626.1}

Read and discuss first three questions

Lesson 4: January 18 – 24

Discipling Children

As I was looking for specific texts and quotations to illustrate the points I wanted to make this week, I came across this statement.

“The student of the Bible should be taught to approach it in the spirit of a learner. We are to search its pages, not for proof to sustain our opinions, but in order to know what God says.”
Education pg 189.1

What is the difference between disciple, discipline, discipling, and disciplining? My spell checker did not recognize the word.

I am the wrong person to speak to this subject

- Absent father for many years
- My presence in Chattanooga is in large part due to the decisions that were made in regard to this topic.
- To a large degree, the shaping of our children’s lives is due to the steady influence of their mother.

What is the age of the class members?

- Do any have children currently under the age of 16?
- This is not a time to gang up on the few people in the room who do have small children
 - Rally around them and encourage them in many ways that we have failed
- If there are few people in here that have young children, why study this class topic?
 - How can we use the information we are learning in our Bible study this week?
 - Our grand children
 - “others”, but word of warning
 - most parents are hostile to outside influence in the raising of their children
- The children of our church
 - By our presence here, we are not in children’s divisions helping out, and unless you are a part, you are not part of the solution.
 - encourage emphasis of church programs
 - mentoring programs in the roles of the church, occupation, life.
 - Growing up, all my contacts with orthopaedic surgeons were with people who did not have a Christian outlook
 - I did not think it was possible to be a Christian orthopaedic surgeon until shown by Dr Forlidas
- We associate with others of like age and interests

- Limits the impact that this class has on other segments of the world
- We have to be intentional to spread our outreach to others with the message God's character and love of all.
- We learn something of our Heavenly Father and His interest in us as His children.
- Members of this class, if they are to have influence, will have to be actively searching for friends and contacts outside of this class.
 - That is true whether we are talking about discipling children or any other age group

Discipling children: what will happen if we get this wrong? Will God have to punish you for your mistakes

SATURDAY

Memory Text: Mat 21:16 GW

They said to him, "Do you hear what these children are saying?" Jesus replied, "Yes, I do. Have you never read, 'From the mouths of little children and infants, you have created praise?'"

How do we evangelize children?

- Is it appropriate to do so?
- Who is responsible for a child's eternal destiny?
- Is there a group of people that are more important for ministry than others?
 - What is that group?
 - Is there an emphasis that needs to be applied to a particular audience?
 - Should we "target" audiences or specific groups of people?
 - Mat 28:18-20 GW When Jesus came near, he spoke to them. He said, "All authority in heaven and on earth has been given to me. (19) So wherever you go, make disciples of all nations: Baptize them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit. (20) Teach them to do everything I have commanded you. "And remember that I am always with you until the end of time."
- Is there a "market" here? If so what is it?
- Did Jesus target audiences?
 - Did he use the same tactic with the Woman-at-the-Well as with Nicodemus?

SUNDAY

A couple statements about wrath:

Read first paragraph of Sunday's lesson. Ends with "Truly, the day of wrath must come."

The third paragraph of Wednesday's lesson, in talking about the tragedy of criminal acts against children, including those that happen within the confines of the church says: “Criminal acts against children - especially during church-sponsored activities- can destroy a child’s confidence about the church and, usually, about the God of the church What wrath must justly await those who perpetrate such actions and those who protect the perpetrators.”

Why? Must wrath come?

- Is this an imposed penalty by a righteous God?
- As I heard this week on the radio: “Every sin comes with a requirement that must be punished.”
- The day of wrath will come, not because it is decreed, but the universe was made that way.
- You grow what you plant.
- How well your plants grow, depends on how well you take care of what you plant.
- The second law of thermodynamics applies to more than a campfire.
- Sometimes even a well tended gardener experiences blight.

Read second paragraph “Under spiritual leadership, Israelites greatly valued their offspring.”

- What do we/our societies sacrifice to our gods?
 - That which we most highly value: whatever it is
 - What we think is important
 - If truly we believe something to be important, everything that is of lesser value than that supreme entity will be sacrificed to that “god”
- By sacrificing their children, people do not signify how much they value their children, but rather what kind of God they worship.
 - Many Christians sacrifice their children’s future, identities, self confidence, independence, ability for self control to a god that is either controlling and demanding or is unconcerned and inattentive to detail or directions.
 - We are just as wrong if we serve a
 - demanding, coercive god that does not respect personal freedom’s
 - a god that doesn’t care what we do and or how we treat ourselves or our neighbors as long as we provide him with the correct payment.
 - a god that makes up laws to his best interest and enforces them to please himself

For many years, I thought the highest ideal was being a “Christian physician” and I sacrificed everything else to that false god, including my children.

Read the highlighted box at the bottom of the screen

It is not just those “corrupted, evil and degraded people” who hurt their children.

Jeremiah 17:9 GW "The human mind is the most deceitful of all things. It is incurable. No one can understand how deceitful it is.

We are all damaged goods. It is only by God's graciousness, that we may be healed and live for Him.

MONDAY

Read the first paragraph

Would God have known what it was like to be a child, if Christ had not gone through childhood.
Did God 'learn' something by Christ being a human?

Isa 53:11 God's Word "He will see and be satisfied because of his suffering. My righteous servant will acquit many people because of what he has learned through suffering. He will carry their sins as a burden.

Did Christ go back to the Trinity and say: "You just don't know what it is like down there. Give them some slack."

Does the human Jesus have more 'pull' with the Trinity than the pre-incarnate God-the-Son have before incarnation?

What was the purpose of Christ going through childhood?

He would not have been human if He had not.

He would not have "developed a perfect character" which we needed for our salvation, for correction of our own.

The law requires righteousness,—a righteous life, a perfect character; and this man has not to give. He cannot meet the claims of God's holy law. But Christ, coming to the earth as man, lived a holy life, and developed a perfect character. These He offers as a free gift to all who will receive them. His life stands for the life of men. Thus they have remission of sins that are past, through the forbearance of God. More than this, Christ imbues men with the attributes of God. He builds up the human character after the similitude of the divine character, a goodly fabric of spiritual strength and beauty. Thus the very righteousness of the law is fulfilled in the believer in Christ. God can "be just, and the justifier of him which believeth in Jesus." Romans 3:26. {DA 762.2}

What scriptural helps do we have? Also compare with Romans 5:18, 19

Read Luke 2:40-52 - story of "lost in temple three days" at time of Passover.

Luke 2:52 KJV And Jesus increased in wisdom and stature, and in favour with God and man.

What does that word 'stature' mean?

Some Greek lexicons: "of the same age, mature, maturity, :synonyms: age, life, life's span, stature.

Echoed in God's Word Translation:

Verse 52: God's Word Translation Luke 2:52 Jesus grew in wisdom and maturity. He gained favor from God and people.

- Like people say: "He grew up"
- He grew up in Nazareth
- "Can anything good come out of Nazareth"
- We chose a 'good' town to raise our children
- So did Lot
- Our town: Asheville NC
 - The Good Things
 - Large number of SDA churches
 - Four SDA elementary schools
 - Two SDA high schools
 - A relatively large Christian medical community
 - There were some aspects of the town that were demon possessed.
 - If you are where God has placed you, He can help you raise God-centered children.
 - The parents need to be God-centered themselves.
 - The parents should create a heavenly atmosphere for their children, wherever they live
 - Christ did not have special advantage in where He was raised

TUESDAY

The Bible readings are four stories of Christ healing children:

- Raising little girl from the dead
- Healing the Syrophenician woman's daughter
- The story of the man with the seizing son.
- The nobleman from Capernaum's son

The main points:

- Each child was brought to the attention of Christ by a desperate parent
- He healed them all
- Why does that not happen now? Our questions of anguish at the loss of a child.
- Mourning physical death and observing spiritual decay may be equally painful.
- We must cling to our loving God.

The tragedy of death of a child

The tragedy of a wayward child

God has known the agony of both!

WEDNESDAY

Interesting statements:

First sentence of paragraph #2:

“Modern disciplinarians need to learn another lesson: Children need never leave their childlike dependency behind.”

Galatians 5:22 - 23 GW “But the spiritual nature produces love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, (23) gentleness, and selfcontrol. There are no laws against things like that.”

To a Physician Bearing Large Responsibility
“Elmshaven,” Sanitarium, Cal.,
August 6, 1902.

My Dear Brother,

“You regard too lightly the sacred truth for this time. You are not, in all things, walking in the light that God has sent you. Beware lest you confederate with unbelievers, accepting them as your counselors, and following their worldly policy; for this is dishonoring to God. The less you expect from the world, the less attention you pay to its flattery, the safer you will be and the surer of securing salvation. The less dependency you place in men who are wise in their own conceit, the better will be your standing before God. There is no safety in trusting in men who do not honor the Lord, who disregard his holy law. The less we expect of such men, whether of temporal help or inspiring example, the less bitter will be our disappointment. {SpTB06 35.2}

And he who depends on his own strength leans on a broken reed. Put your trust in the Lord. Wait patiently for him, and he will cause his name to be magnified. {SpTB06 36.1}

The Lord encouraged you, not because your ways had been perfect in his sight, but because he would not permit those who were opposing a good work to carry out their own ideas and plans, to the injury of his cause. {SpTB06 36.2}

You are taking honor to yourself. You are in danger of placing yourself where God should be. Unless you change, the Lord cannot sustain you in your exalted position of sacred responsibility. The Lord is proving you. Because it is more convenient, you have mixed with the truth that God commanded you to keep pure and holy, the very principles he forbade you to cherish. The principles of truth and righteousness have been turned aside. Unless you depend continually upon God, truth is no safer in your hands than in the hands of those whom you supposed to be your enemies. Some of these are as righteous as you are in practice. Had you made straight paths for your feet, God would have delighted to co-operate with you. At the last General Conference you stood on vantage ground. God called upon you to take a higher stand. But you misinterpreted his purposes. {SpTB06 36.4}

Those who are connected with Christ, the chief worker, will represent his character in all their work. God is calling men, “Come to me as my helpers in the performance of my work.” Righteousness and truth are the habitation of this throne. No man can execute his will who has not surrendered himself to God, that God’s will may be done in him. “Come to me as my right-hand helper,” will be the message to the faithful of the land,—the men who are trustworthy, who will exalt the God of heaven, not merely in their words, but in their deeds; men who can be relied on to do their duty under all trials, and whatever the circumstances may be. {SpTB06 37.3}

Righteous, high-principled, God-fearing men will stand before him as capable of receiving his orders and of executing them with exactitude. The work of such men will bear the similitude of heaven. They will choose as their counselors and helpers only the good and faithful. Our God is a jealous God, and those who fear him, who live as if in his presence, as they surely are, will choose as counselors those who are pure and righteous, who understand the will of God, and who refuse to uphold unrighteousness or selfishness in themselves or in any one else, who will not oppress their fellow-men because they have it in their power to build up or to tear down, but who treat the humble as God treats them, showing them favor. When the heart is purified, refined by the Spirit of God, there will be fewer judgments pronounced upon others, and far more meekness and lowliness will be revealed. {SpTB06 38.1}

To all who obey him the Lord will say, “Dwell with me as my servants.” “He that worketh deceit shall not dwell within my house; he that telleth lies shall not tarry in my sight.... Whoso privily slandereth is neighbor, him will I cut off, him that hath an high look and a proud heart will not I suffer. Mine eyes shall be upon the faithful of the land, that they may dwell with me; he that walketh in a perfect way, he shall serve me.” {SpTB06 38.2}

Those whom God shall favor, exalting them to a high place before angels and before men, should ascribe to him all the glory, giving him the praise for their influence and their opportunities. Those whom God has made rulers in his stead, dishonor him when they put self into their work, which then bears the imperfections of the human agent. God demands that both in private and in public life men shall honor him, in the home, in the church, and in their daily business, setting an example which may be safely followed. Those whose hearts are fully with the Lord will not draw one thread of selfishness into the web. Not one jot or tittle of glory will they take to self. {SpTB06 38.3}

The benefits that God bestows are daily renewed, and should be gratefully remembered and acknowledged. Should the Lord deal with men according to their sins, according to their underhand dealing, their departure from righteousness, how changed all would be. His blessings would be withdrawn; his indignation and wrath would be manifested. But he bears long. He allows misfortune and loss to come upon the wrong-doer. If this does not bring him to repentance, he comes close to him in affliction. If none of these things succeed in drawing him to the Saviour, he cuts down the fruitless tree. {SpTB06 39.1}

God is plenteous in mercy. “He will not always chide, neither will he keep his anger forever.” Just as soon as men heed his warnings, and set their own hearts in order, he will make the rough places plain before them. It is God that is dealing with his people. Trials as well as blessings come from him. His hand is to be acknowledged in all. {SpTB06 39.2}

Read the highlighted section at the bottom of the page.

- What does it mean that “their angels do always behold the face of my Father which is in heaven?”
- Why should that make anyone who hurts a child tremble?
- What is the point of the statement and that section of Christ’s discourse? (Matthew 18: 1-10)
 - Is that the point of the statement? If we should not look down on these little ones, God places high value on them to the point of having heavenly representation before the universe. Compare to a heavenly congress, senate or Parliament with the representation. They have value.

THURSDAY

Read Mark 10:13 – 16

Mar 10:13-16 GW Some people brought little children to Jesus to have him hold them. But the disciples told the people not to do that. (14) When Jesus saw this, he became irritated. He told them, "Don't stop the children from coming to me. Children like these are part of the kingdom of God. (15) I can guarantee this truth: Whoever doesn't receive the kingdom of God as a little child receives it will never enter it." (16) Jesus put his arms around the children and blessed them by placing his hands on them.

Read the first paragraph: “what Jesus wanted them to know”

- What did Jesus want them (His disciples) to know?
- See John 17:26 Why did He do all these things and what was His ministry for? “John17:26 GW I have made your name known to them, and I will make it known so that the love you have for me will be in them and I will be in them.
 - That is not an age dependent goal.
- Christ blessed the children that were brought to Him by their mothers.
 - Is this a true statement?We can only reach children who are brought to Christ.
- The Saviour regards with infinite tenderness the souls whom He has purchased with His own blood. They are the claim of His love. He looks upon them with unutterable longing. His heart is drawn out, not only to the best-behaved children, but to those who have by inheritance objectionable traits of character. Many parents do not understand how much they are responsible for these traits in their children. They have not the tenderness and wisdom to deal with the erring ones whom they have made what they are. But Jesus looks upon these children with pity. He traces from cause to effect. {DA 517.5}

The Christian worker may be Christ's agent in drawing these children to the Saviour. By wisdom and tact he may bind them to his heart, he may give them courage and hope, and through the grace of Christ may see them transformed in character, so that of them it may be said, "Of such is the kingdom of God." { 17.6}

We have often mentioned in this class how our behaviors, our choices, our actions and our thoughts change our DNA. This causes our offspring to be different in many ways, not all of them good.

Christ has the remedy.

As we cooperate with the Creator, he will pardon, heal and restore us and our children to Him.

FRIDAY

The Jews were looking for a Messiah to be revealed in outward show. They expected Him, by one flash of overmastering will, to change the current of men's thoughts, and force from them an acknowledgment of His supremacy. Thus, they believed, He was to secure His own exaltation, and gratify their ambitious hopes. Thus when Christ was treated with contempt, there came to Him a strong temptation to manifest His divine character. By a word, by a look, He could compel His persecutors to confess that He was Lord above kings and rulers, priests and temple. But it was His difficult task to keep to the position He had chosen as one with humanity. {DA 700.4}

John was to go forth as Jehovah's messenger, to bring to men the light of God. He must give a new direction to their thoughts. He must impress them with the holiness of God's requirements, and their need of His perfect righteousness. Such a messenger must be holy. He must be a temple for the indwelling Spirit of God. In order to fulfill his mission, he must have a sound physical constitution, and mental and spiritual strength. Therefore it would be necessary for him to control the appetites and passions. He must be able so to control all his powers that he could stand among men as unmoved by surrounding circumstances as the rocks and mountains of the wilderness. {DA 100.4}

In childhood and youth the character is most impressible. The power of self-control should then be acquired. By the fireside and at the family board influences are exerted whose results are as enduring as eternity. More than any natural endowment, the habits established in early years decide whether a man will be victorious or vanquished in the battle of life. Youth is the sowing time. It determines the character of the harvest, for this life and for the life to come. {DA 101.1}

As a prophet, John was "to turn the hearts of the fathers to the children, and the disobedient to the wisdom of the just; to make ready a people prepared for the Lord." In preparing the way for Christ's first advent, he was a representative of those who are to prepare a people for our Lord's second coming. The world is given to self-indulgence. Errors and fables abound. Satan's snares for destroying souls are multiplied. All who would perfect holiness in the fear of God must learn the lessons of temperance and self-control. The appetites and passions must be held in subjection to the higher powers of the mind. This self-discipline is essential to that mental strength and spiritual insight which will enable us to understand and to practice the sacred truths of God's word. For this reason temperance finds its place in the work of preparation for Christ's second coming. {DA 101.2}

The student of the Bible should be taught to approach it in the spirit of a learner. We are to search its pages, not for proof to sustain our opinions, but in order to know what God says. {Ed 189.1}

Lesson 5 Discipling the Sick

SABBATH

Then great multitudes came to Him, having with them the lame, blind, mute, maimed, and many others; and they laid them down at Jesus' feet, and He healed them. ³¹ So the multitude marveled when they saw the mute speaking, the maimed made whole, the lame walking, and the blind seeing; and they glorified the God of Israel. Matthew 15: 30-31.

If Christ's mission on Earth was to render a payment to His father, or the Law, or why didn't he go about paying everyone's governmental fines?

How did Jesus heal the sick, blind, deaf, mute, lame, paralyzed, leprous, etc?

How does a modern physician restore health?

Many persons bring disease upon themselves by their self-indulgence. They have not lived in accordance with natural law or the principles of strict purity. Others have disregarded the laws of health in their habits of eating and drinking, dressing, or working. Often some form of vice is the cause of feebleness of mind or body. Should these persons gain the blessing of health, many of them would continue to pursue the same course of heedless transgression of God's natural and spiritual laws, reasoning that if God heals them in answer to prayer, they are at liberty to continue their unhealthful practices and to indulge perverted appetite without restraint. If God were to work a miracle in restoring these persons to health, He would be encouraging sin. {MH 227.3}

It is labor lost to teach people to look to God as a healer of their infirmities, unless they are taught also to lay aside unhealthful practices. In order to receive His blessing in answer to prayer, they must cease to do evil and learn to do well. Their surroundings must be sanitary, their habits of life correct. They must live in harmony with the law of God, both natural and spiritual. {MH 227.4}

Surely He has borne our griefs and carried our sorrows; Yet we esteemed Him stricken, smitten by God, and afflicted. Isa. 53:4.

...that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Isaiah the prophet, saying; He himself took our infirmities, and bore our sicknesses." Matt. 8:17.

Now as Jesus passed by, He saw a man who was blind from birth. ² And His disciples asked Him, saying, "Rabbi, who sinned, this man or his parents, that he was born blind?"

³ Jesus answered, "Neither this man nor his parents sinned, but that the works of God should be revealed in him. John 9:1-3.

From the Lesson:

“In antiquity, sickness was considered the result of sinful actions. (And even today, who hasn’t at times—even if only for a moment—wondered if illness, either their own or that of a loved one, wasn’t brought on as a punishment for sin?) In the book of Job, his friends suggested that his misfortunes, which included personal illness, resulted from hidden faults; the implication was that somehow his sinfulness caused his predicament. Similarly, Christ’s disciples understood blindness as punishment for someone’s sinfulness. This suggests that sickness required not diagnosis or medication but atonement. Matthew references Isaiah’s Messianic prophecy, stating that Christ fulfilled this prediction and that healing can be found in Him.” Emphasis added.

Do we not hear the same argument from most of Christianity today?? Most of Adventism??

MONDAY

Jesus Heals a Paralytic

2 And when he returned to Capernaum after some days, it was reported that he was at home. 2 And many were gathered together, so that there was no more room, not even at the door. And he was preaching the word to them. 3 And they came, bringing to him a paralytic carried by four men. 4 And when they could not get near him because of the crowd, they removed the roof above him, and when they had made an opening, they let down the bed on which the paralytic lay. 5 And when Jesus saw their faith, he said to the paralytic, “Son, your sins are forgiven.” 6 Now some of the scribes were sitting there, questioning in their hearts, 7 “Why does this man speak like that? He is blaspheming! Who can forgive sins but God alone?” 8 And immediately Jesus, perceiving in his spirit that they thus questioned within themselves, said to them, “Why do you question these things in your hearts? 9 Which is easier, to say to the paralytic, ‘Your sins are forgiven,’ or to say, ‘Rise, take up your bed and walk’? 10 But that you may know that the Son of Man has authority on earth to forgive sins”—he said to the paralytic— 11 “I say to you, rise, pick up your bed, and go home.” 12 And he rose and immediately picked up his bed and went out before them all, so that they were all amazed and glorified God, saying, “We never saw anything like this!” Mark 2: 1-12.

What is Jesus telling us?? Is there some relationship between forgiveness of sin, physical healing, and the “gospel”?? Why didn’t Jesus tell the paralytic, “Your fine will be paid soon. Sorry about the paralysis.”??

TUESDAY

We, in this class, have unique insights as to the mind/body connection and how it relates to health [for more information see the most recent DVD series – The God Shaped Brain, Designer vs Dictator, and Buddha vs Jesus]. Science is only now scratching the surface of the relationship of the brain and other systems.

What does it mean to “heal” the mind?

The following is from Dr. Tim Jennings’ blog dated: 27 July, 2012.

10 Simple Steps to a Healthy Brain

1. Regular Sleep

Approximately one in three Americans is chronically sleep deprived, sleeping less than seven hours per night. Sleep is one of four physical requirements for life, along with air, water, and food. Yet far too many people fail to provide their brain and body with adequate sleep.

Chronic sleep deprivation is devastating to brain health. Without regular adequate sleep brain function is impaired, particularly the part of the brain in which we attend, focus, organize, plan, self-restrain, calm self and modulate mood.

Chronic sleep deprivation results in higher activation of the brain stress circuits, with subsequent increase in inflammation and oxidative stress – cellular damage to body and brain. This increases the risk for illness of brain and body such as, diabetes, obesity, depression and dementia.

A healthy brain requires regular sleep.

2. Regular Exercise (Both Physical & Mental)

According to the Centers for Disease Control, more than one third of US adults (35.7%) are obese.

Obesity is a high inflammatory state that reduces quality and length of life and results in accelerated aging and loss of brain tissue. A combination of a high sugar, high saturated fat diet and lack of regular exercise are primary contributing factors to obesity.

Regular exercise not only results in better physical health, and generally better weight profile, but also causes a cascade of beneficial events for the brain. Regular exercise causes the muscles to produce powerful anti-inflammatory cytokines that reduce inflammation. Exercise increases blood vessel growth in the brain improving oxygenation. Additionally, regular exercise causes the brain to produce proteins that stimulate the brain to make new neurons and increase the growth neuron-to-neuron connections. People who exercise regularly are at lower risk for dementia. Finally, exercising the brain itself by engaging in mentally stimulating activities, puzzles, Bible study, learning a new language etc. activates growth factors that promote brain health. If you don’t use it, you will lose it – so exercise regularly!

3. Hydration

Water is the single largest component of your body comprising well more than half of your body weight. Every cell of the body requires water. Water is essential for the functioning of our cells and the removal of waste products of metabolism.

Dehydration shrinks the cells of the body and their function becomes impaired. This results in increased oxidative stress and inability to clear toxins, which results in greater damage to our cells, including our brain. Concentration, memory and general alertness can be negatively affected by dehydration.

An average adult should drink eight 8-ounce glasses of water each day, and more if exercising vigorously, or working in hot humid environments in which sweating profusely.

4. Healthy Diet

You have probably heard the old adage we are what we eat. Well there is much truth in this saying. What we eat provides the nutrients and building blocks from which the tissues of our bodies are made.

Diets high in sugar and saturated fats increase inflammation and oxidative stress accelerating the aging process and decline in brain function. Conversely, diets high in fruits, nuts, grains, vegetables, cold-water fish, olive oil, provide antioxidants, which reduce inflammation and slow the aging process.

In general, the more highly processed the food the less healthy and more damaging to body and brain. The less processed the food the healthier for body and brain.

5. Avoid Toxins

It doesn't take much brain power to figure out that tobacco, heavy alcohol use, and illegal drugs are damaging to body and brain and accelerate the aging process. But one toxin often missed is high caffeine use. While one or two caffeinated beverages may not confer great risk, higher amounts do increase inflammation, interfere with sleep, reduce blood flow to the brain and increase oxidative stress on the brain.

Other potential toxins, for which we have concern, but not solid evidence, include the myriad of man-made chemicals infused into our society. Read the labels on many household items and you will discover a long list of man-made chemicals, to which we are daily exposed. Only time and research will tell the full impact on physical and mental health these substances are having.

6. Forgive

Grudge holding, bitterness, resentment are toxic emotions that activate the brain's stress pathways causing activation of inflammatory factors. Failure to resolve such feelings results in increased oxidative stress and damage to physical, mental and relational health. Forgiving those who have offended us does not mean what they did was okay, but relieves us of carrying the toxic emotions of anger and resentment everywhere we go and over time ruining our own health.

7. Develop Healthy Relationships

Relationship conflict activates the brain's stress circuits, which turns on the immune system causing increase levels of inflammatory factors. Chronic relationship conflict also interferes with regular sleep. The combined effect of increased inflammation and sleep deprivation accelerate aging and undermine brain health. People with chronic relationship problems have higher rates of mental and physical health problems.

Conversely, healthy relationships are protective and reduce the incidence of both physical and mental health problems. Adolescents who grow up in homes in which they have one adult who is a close confidant perform better in school, get more awards, have less depression and lower rates of drug problems.

8. Be a Giver

Multiple studies have demonstrated that persons who are involved in any form of regular volunteerism have better physical health, lower blood pressure, are on less medicines, maintain independence longer in life and have lower rates of dementia.

Loving other people is healthy for the brain.

9. Minimize Theatrical Entertainment

Brain research has demonstrated that theatrical entertainment (but not education programming) alters the brain structure, resulting in decreased development of the prefrontal cortex (higher brain where we plan, organize, self-restrain, attend, have good judgment), and over development of the limbic system (lower brain where we experience fear and irritability). This occurs in a dose dependent fashion, meaning the more TV watched the more damaged done. This imbalance increases the risk for attention problems as well as anxiety and mood problems.

Minimizing theatrical entertainment is protective for the brain.

10. Build relationship with God of Love

Individuals with a healthy spirituality, focusing on a God of love, have reduced anxiety, stress and overall more meaningful and satisfied life. Research shows healthy spirituality reduces rates of suicide, increases life satisfaction scores, and general results in healthier relationships and lifestyle.

Conversely, God constructs that incite fear are associated with increased anxiety, dread, worry, relationship conflict and a general sense of life dissatisfaction, all of which increase inflammation and are unhealthy for the brain.

WEDNESDAY

The lesson suggests that “eternal life in a new world” is what Jesus has to “offer” us. Is that accurate?? Is that all?? See John 17:3.

As far as we know, the Centurion’s servant, the Widow’s son, and Lazarus all went back to “sleep” or died. What was Christ telling us in the raising them from the dead the first time?

Have you ever thanked God for the sleep we know as death?? If you’ve ever lost a loved one, did it make you yearn for something better; an existence without damage, disease, and death?? Consider, for a moment, if God had allowed humanity access to the Tree of Life and there was no death. What would this world look like?? The avenue for the Messiah narrowed down to ONE man just a few generations after Creation even with death in the picture. The entire world would have been overrun with evil if mankind had been allowed access to the Tree of Life. It is Grace and Mercy that allow humans to “sleep” in death.

“In order to possess an endless existence, man must continue to partake of the tree of life. Deprived of this, his vitality would gradually diminish until life should become extinct. It was Satan’s plan that Adam and Eve should by disobedience incur God’s displeasure; and then, if they failed to obtain forgiveness, he hoped that they would eat of the tree of life, and thus perpetuate an existence of sin and misery. But after man’s fall, holy angels were immediately commissioned to guard the tree of life. Around these angels flashed beams of light having the appearance of a glittering sword. None of the family of Adam were permitted to pass the barrier to partake of the life-giving fruit; hence there is not an immortal sinner.” PP 60.

THURSDAY

First-century disciples witnessed firsthand Christ’s promise of seeing “greater things than these” fulfilled (John 1:50, compare John 5:20, 14:12). Miraculous healings and resurrections attended the ministries of early Christianity’s most prominent disciples: Peter and Paul. These events figured significantly in the early church’s growth. God’s eternal presence, signified by miraculous healing, influenced thousands of religious leaders to accept Christ. Their flocks often followed.

What did Christ mean by “greater things than these” in John 14:12? Were the miracles of the Apostles any more fantastic than Christ’s?? Did the people raised from the dead by the Apostles die again sooner than did those raised by Christ??

Christ never had to transform his character. He developed it – perfectly, but he never had to transform it. The Apostles, and all true Christians, since, have experienced character transformation which, in my opinion, is the greatest miracle ever performed, and the greatest evidence of the Truth of Christ’s mission of healing.

Discipleship Lesson 6 1Q 2014

Discipling the Ordinary

Two weeks ago I was in St. Helena CA, speaking at The Haven, formerly known as Elmshaven. What a great experience. Record breaking turnout and the response to this picture of God was overwhelmingly positive.

Last week I spoke at East Cleveland SDA church and again the response was incredibly positive to this view of God.

Monday and Tuesday next week I will be speaking for the leadership teams of 15 Baptist churches in Texas. Please pray that God will bless this presentation.

For those who haven't yet heard, the long awaited book, Servant God: The Cosmic Conflict Over God's Trustworthiness, is now available on Amazon. It is an excellent resource, 19 authors, published by Loma Linda University Press. I wrote chapter two.

SABBATH

Read first paragraph, "Christ's death was..." thoughts?

For the believer in Christ this is certainly true, at the foot of the cross there is no difference, all are sinners. But, what about those who don't believe in Christ? Is Christ's death the great equalizer for those who don't believe in God?

Does the Bible present any other tool that is useful in bringing people to realize they are no better than anyone else? The written law – it is the 10 Commandments that diagnose, that expose the defects, that reveal our shortcomings. And, whether one believes in Jesus or not, if one examines the principles in the law of love every person falls short.

The law exposes our sickness, whereas the death of Christ reveals and provides the Remedy! Those, who have not yet realized their condition find no need of the remedy provided by Christ.

And when we present the law as a list of rules, imposed by a God who is waiting to punish if we disobey, then how does evangelism usually work? But if we present the law as the design protocol upon which life is constructed, and deviations damage the deviant, while God works to heal, then how does evangelism work?

What about how the lesson suggests we seek to win those who are great in the world?

Read second paragraph, "Not so with Jesus..." thoughts?

What about today? What kind of a god appeals to those who prefer the methods of the world?

- Would it be a power over god?
- Would they look for a god who would come to use his power to hurt people?
- March 5, 2006 Louis Farrakhan

We are living at a time that was described by Jesus in these words: “If those days were not shortened for his elect sake, no flesh would be saved.” We know that we have now entered that period when we witnessed a tsunami killing over 200,000 people in Asia; an earthquake in Pakistan; storms raging throughout America, fire on one side, water on the other, snow, cold, ice in between...

At the townhall meeting in New Orleans, I pointed out the high Black-on-Black crime rates, rebellion against the will and law of God, and the love of partying and acting foolishness that prevails in the city. I asked them if they did not think that Allah (God) would handle the city as He did two ancient cities that lived in rebellion. I told them Allah (God) brought a punishment to America, but He also brought a punishment to Black people, and that punishment is going to spread. There will be many more disasters that we are not prepared for in this country.

This country glories in its cities and skyscrapers, but Allah (God) is going to bring them down. We are going to know that He is God. ..

The Bible says that in His Second Coming, He will have a sword dripping with blood in His hand. He is not coming back to teach. He is coming back to kill the enemies of His teaching and set up a new government.

If people prefer the methods of the world to God’s true methods, how do the present justice? Do those who like the methods of the world, like it when we suggest God forgives freely, God pardons without payment?

The ideas of the world have corrupted the church by presenting God’s law like human law, and God like a dictator who inflicts pain and suffering upon the disobedient. This is not restricted to Christianity. Believers of other religions have been corrupted by this same misunderstanding of God’s law. Thus when people believe that God uses force to get His way, they use similar methods. Look at the history of Christianity since Constantine – crusades, inquisitions, burning people at the stake etc.

Is physical violence the only way the methods of the world? What methods of the world are more common? What about coercive pressure, not buying and selling? What about pressuring others what to think? What about intimidation and fear tactics? What about decisions based upon fear?

What about using fear as a mode to get people to accept Jesus? Did Jesus ever use fear?

How do we understand the Old Testament when God thundered at Sinai? Was God using fear? What did Moses say, at that very moment? “there is no need to be afraid.” If God was using fear tactics, then why did Moses tell them they did not need to be afraid?

Could it be God was not using fear tactics, but was intervening to save them from themselves. Rightly understood God was acting in mercy in love, not anger and vengeance.

In chapter three of Servant God the question of suffering is explored and what is God's role in it, does He use His power to inflict suffering?

The book points out how Jesus taught that natural disaster were not from God, when answering the question about the tower of Siloam. And this from the book:

Two events in the Bible that are attributed to God – the Flood and the destruction of Sodom and Gomorrah – came with much warning and an active rescue effort on God's part to save his children from these disasters. In fact, rather than interpreting these events as God's retributive punishment, the narrative reveals a God who is actively trying to rescue his people from being engulfed by their dark spiritual surroundings. The Bible records instances when God disciplined people to prevent greater harm. What we can be sure of, however, is that God in human form never inflicted physical suffering on anyone. Also significant is that Jesus rebuked his disciples when they wanted to call down fire to destroy rebellious people (Luke 9:54,55). (page 59)

Thoughts?

What about lying? Do those who value the methods of the world lie from their position in the church? What about if a pastor is fired from his job because he wants to present a loving picture of God, but the senior pastor presents a punitive God, and after firing the associate pastor with the loving God picture, the church leadership tells the congregation that the fired pastor "took a call" to another position.

Is this God's methods for dealing with situations? Why do people use such methods?

How can we expect to win people to God's kingdom of love if there is not different in method or function by those proclaiming Christ? In other words, why leave the world with its domination over, coercion, deceit, manipulation, and come into a religion that uses the same methods, albeit while claiming the penalty for such abuses was laid upon Christ and He was punished in our place.

SUNDAY

Read first paragraph, "Joseph and Mary..." thoughts?

Were Joseph and Mary ordinary or extraordinary?

Man looks on the outward appearance but the Lord looks on the heart.

Regarding position, wealth, rank, skill-set, perhaps they were ordinary people, but what about regarding character?

How would an ordinary man, in that culture, have reacted to his fiancé being pregnant but not by him?

How would an ordinary woman, in that culture, have reacted to being asked to be pregnant out of wedlock?

And what do you think the character of Mary was that she was chosen to be the human mother of Christ?

Ordinary or extraordinary?

Read last paragraph, “The parents of Jesus...” Thoughts?

Are there any lessons in this paragraph for us?

Where do we draw the line between providing for our children, and providing work for our children?

Do we set character development as the number one goal for ourselves and our children, or do we have other things we put before it, like education, awards, making money, retirement?

Do we experience ourselves and others as successful if they are not wealthy or highly educated?

Do we experience ourselves and others as successful if they are mature and Christlike in character?

Why do education, wealth, position, power too often become the measure of success?

I have patients who fear they are failures because they have lost a job, bankrupted, lost their home, or lost a relationship, break up or divorce.

Are any of these measures of success or failure? Why or why not?

What does God consider to be a successful life? Examples?

- Enoch, Elijah and Moses are obvious
- Daniel and John
- David, Solomon, Manasseh?
- Rahab, Mary Magdalene, and the thief on the cross?
 - How could a murderer, polygamist, idol worshipper who sacrificed his own son, prostitute and thief be successful?
 - Does this mean it doesn't matter what we do as long as we accept Jesus in the end?
 - Think of the Design law, like laws of health. All of these bad deeds are symptoms of hearts that are sick with sin. The disease is raging and destroying their character, some of these individuals were hanging between life and death, eternal life and death, by a thread, and praise God, as sick as they were when they partook the Remedy, it cured them.

- But wouldn't it have been better to take the Remedy earlier, to avoid so much sickness, pain, suffering and damage to self and others?
- Wouldn't it have been better to have years of influence in promoting the Remedy?
- And wasn't it dangerous to allow the disease of sin to rage? What is the danger? Destroying permanently the faculties that are sensitive to the Spirit of truth and love.
- Caiaphas & Annas? Did they have successful lives? Why or why not? They were High Priests, could anything in that culture be more successful?

What about in our culture today? What does success look like?

- Becoming President of the US?
- Winning the Super Bowl?
- Winning gold at the Olympics?
- Sharing the true picture of God and practicing His methods of love?
- Which do you value more?

What determines if one is successful? Is it not partaking of Jesus Christ, and the sooner one does so, and is reconciled to God and begins practicing God's methods, then the greater good they can achieve with their lives.

The thief on the cross, ultimately succeeded in that he accepted Christ, but he accomplished nothing for the kingdom here on earth. Rahab saved the spies and became a progenitor of Christ...

The sooner we come the Christ, partake the Remedy, and the more consistently we practice His methods, the more impact we have for His kingdom.

MONDAY

Read third paragraph, "So often..." thoughts

The take away from this is that if we depend on self and not Christ we ultimately fail. Those who depend on Christ however, ultimately succeed.

But there are some big premises in this statement, that "ordinary people" lack self-sufficiency. Really? Aren't many "ordinary" people self-sufficient?

And who is an "ordinary" person? Why is it sometimes difficult to reach those with wealth and power?

Could it be those struggling with financial or health problems have come up against their own limitations and thus look beyond self for help? And could it be those with more means could falsely think they can handle more of life's problems on their own?

What about people in power or with wealth having been conditioned to be skeptical from all the people coming to them with their hands out wanting something, and those with little means, while self-sufficient aren't as jaded because they haven't been approached by as many scams and con men, not to mention the multiplicity of genuine and legitimate charities requesting aid?

So could the "ordinary" be more open and less guarded? Could they also be more vulnerable to flattery, the flattery of being valued and needed?

Read bottom green, "We all tend..." Did Jesus ever become an icon of His time, and people flocked to Him to see a show?

How did Jesus handle this? How should we?

TUESDAY

The lesson is about Peter and his experiences with Christ, when you think of Peter what lessons do you learn from his life?

Does the history of Peter encourage or discourage you?

Peter was perhaps the most impulsive of the disciples. He would blurt things out, jumped right out of the boat when he saw Jesus, asked Jesus to let him walk on the water, then took his eyes off Jesus and panicked. Sounds like Peter may have had ADHD, couldn't stay focused on one thing for more than a minute.

But, what was necessary for Peter to become effective for Jesus?

What did Peter tell Jesus when Jesus said all would run away and leave him?

Peter declared he wouldn't, was Peter lying to Jesus? Could Jesus trust Peter?

How can it be that Peter was not lying, yet he was also not being truthful?

Did Peter love Jesus? Did he want to stay and be loyal to Jesus? But what happened that prevented this?

Did Peter still love himself more than Jesus? Was survival of the fittest still the ruling agency in Peter's character? Thus, while he loved Jesus, he still hadn't died to self and totally surrendered to Christ. This is why he along with the others, were arguing about who would be greater in heaven just before the Last Supper.

But what changed after Peter's denial of Christ? Did Jesus change? Did God change? Did Peter's legal status change?

Peter had a change of heart, he loathed the selfishness and fear in his heart and realized he could not fix it, thus he finally surrendered all to Jesus.

This is what caused Peter to go from ordinary to extraordinary!

WEDNESDAY

Read MT 6:25-30:

⁵ “Therefore I tell you, do not worry about your life, what you will eat or drink; or about your body, what you will wear. Is not life more important than food, and the body more important than clothes? ²⁶ Look at the birds of the air; they do not sow or reap or store away in barns, and yet your heavenly Father feeds them. Are you not much more valuable than they? ²⁷ Who of you by worrying can add a single hour to his life?

²⁸ “And why do you worry about clothes? See how the lilies of the field grow. They do not labor or spin. ²⁹ Yet I tell you that not even Solomon in all his splendor was dressed like one of these. ³⁰ If that is how God clothes the grass of the field, which is here today and tomorrow is thrown into the fire, will he not much more clothe you, O you of little faith?

Thoughts?

Do we worry? About what do we worry?

What of Christ’s question, who can add a single day to his life by worrying?

In fact, worrying shortens the life, by activating inflammatory cascades, which damage the body and increases disease.

Does worry solve any problem? Does worry increase faith, trust, peace?

Do you notice most of the things we worry about are things that are not our responsibility?

- What others think of us – we are not responsible for what others think, we are responsible for what we think and how we act
- Whether we are liked – we are not responsible for whether others like us, we are responsible for whether we are like Christ
- How our children turn out – we are not responsible for how they turn out, we are responsible for our conduct in parenting
- Whether we get into a certain school, or hired for a certain job, we are not responsible for whether we get in or hired, we are responsible for preparing ourselves, applying and presenting ourselves in the most favorable way

- Whether a sickness gets cured in us or a loved one, we are not responsible for how a sickness turns out, but for living in harmony with God's methods and principles for health and doing all in our power to bring healing.

We worry because we take outcomes upon ourselves and try to force events to go the way we want, rather than focusing on fulfilling our responsibilities in governance of ourselves, in any given situation, and trusting God with how things turn out.

What about our worth? Where does our worth originate?

Does sin change a person's worth?

If a person murders is their worth affected?

If they commit adultery?

If a person is abused by their parents is their worth affected?

If a person is rejected and divorced is their worth affected?

If a church disfellowships someone is their worth affected?

If a person rejects God is their worth affected?

In other words, are the lost, those who reject Jesus, worth less than those who accept Him?

What determines our worth? From where does it originate?

Our actions for good or evil cannot change our worth, but our actions can change our health. Our physical, mental, relational and spiritual health are all affected by our choices and actions, but not our worth.

THURSDAY

Read first paragraph, "Perhaps the most..." thoughts?

This confused me a little, when it suggested no class distinctions, didn't they still have slaves in Bible times, amongst the Christians? Did women have equality in the early church?

Why did these disparities exist in the early church? Was it because slavery and bigotry were part of Christianity, or were these issues part of the culture upon which Christianity grew? Was Christianity supposed to incorporate slavery and bigotry or rise above it?

How has Christianity done?

Did the early church have women pastors? Why not?

- Because it violates God's will?
- Because people were biased by culture and were not yet enlightened, including Bible writers?

- Because elevating women would have offended the unconverted and thus closed the minds of people to the gospel before they even had a chance to hear it?
- Or could it have been that in that culture women in religious circles were held in high esteem as cult priestesses and prostitutes and Christianity wanted to distinguish itself from these perverse religions, thus they relegated women to non-leadership roles for the purpose of making the chastity of Christian values understood to those outside the church?
- And the Christian women were gracious enough to be like Jesus who did not think equality with God was something to be grasped but humbled himself into the form of a servant.

Do we have struggles with class distinctions in Christianity today?

- Are women treated as equals in Christianity?
- Should they be?

What about black conferences rather than integrated conferences?

How do we find the unity in Christ with the beauty of the plurality of divergence?

How do we present our unique culture in ways that win rather than offend others?

How can culture become an obstacle to the gospel message?

Do we have doctrinal class distinction – i.e. those who hold to certain tenants are considered more orthodox and thus superior to those who don't?

Do we have educational class distinction, those with greater degrees, doctors etc, or certain degrees, theology degrees, are esteemed higher and given more credence?

Discipleship Lesson 7 1Q 2014

Jesus and the Social Outcasts

Monday and Tuesday of this week I had the privilege of speaking with the leadership of 15 Southern Baptist Churches, over 200 people, in Texas. What a great group of people.

I presented God's design of love and how our view of God changes our brain and then met in small groups with their various leadership teams and had incredibly positive response across the board.

Thank you for all your prayers and support and let's keep sharing this beautiful picture of God in every opportunity we get.

SABBATH

Read the first two paragraphs, "A young woman..." thoughts?

How do you view this young woman? How is it God can know her sin, your sin, my sin and still love us?

Is there something about how God views our sin and us that if we shared that viewpoint it would enable us to love those who sin against us?

Why did this young woman murder the social worker? What led her to do it? Was it fear, desperation, terror of losing the only being whom she had ever felt love from?

And from where did the fear, that this woman struggled against, come? When did this woman choose to have problems with fear, insecurity, doubt, & selfishness?

So, her behaviors, her actions what did they reveal? A sickness of heart. A heart lacking in love, a heart filled with fear and insecurity, which inevitably acts to protect self.

Her sin, her behavior, then was a symptom of a heart condition, with which she was born, but for which she had yet to take the Remedy that Christ provided.

This is the condition of all humans since Adam's sin, we are born filled with fear, insecurity and selfishness. Thus, we must be reborn, we must have new motives take root in the heart.

But, from where can a person find the solution when they are all alone? Thus the pastor who visited her not only taught her about Jesus, but his concern for her, his compassion, his refusal to reject her, his love for her as a person revealed God's love to her and it was this love that opened the door for her to receive the truth about God as revealed in Jesus.

When we understand God's law as the design upon which life was constructed, the protocols of love, then we realize deviations result in dysfunction, bad behaviors. But the behaviors are merely symptoms of a heart and mind out of balance from God's design.

When you have a child who is sick, and that child may have vomiting, diarrhea, productive cough, they may cry, whine, and be irritable, what is your attitude toward that child? Do you hate the child or do you long to heal the child?

This is how God sees everyone of us. He knows that sin is a sickness of heart, mind and character that steals peace, incites fear, destroys love and instills guilt. He knows that these symptoms lead to behaviors designed to comfort, to bring peace, to bring security, but based on a survival principle, not on God's design and thus we only get worse. But, He also knows He can heal us, if we let Him.

God's forgiveness is not judicial, it is restorative. True Bible forgiveness is the process of recreating in the believer the mind and heart of Christ so that we are restored to God's design and live in harmony and unity with Him.

Thoughts?

We have such problem with people who commit overt sin because we see through human eyes, sinful human law lens and think of sin primarily as bad behavior, breaking the rules and that punishment is deserved. This distortion interferes with our ability to love like Christ loves.

But how did Jesus tell us to treat those who do us wrong, who sin against us?

- Love them and heap burning coals their head
- Turn the other cheek
- Pray for those who spitefully use you
- Forgive

Why? Because they are sick and are dying in their sin and the only remedy to their sinful condition is the truth and love of God. Thus, when we love and treat with Godly concern those who sin, we minister the remedy of God's truth and love and reveal God's design for their lives. This is what the pastor did for the woman in the story.

SUNDAY

Read first two paragraphs, "Societies establish..." thoughts?

There is a societal hierarchy, which values worldly things. Does God have a hierarchy or is it only human societies that establish hierarchies?

What makes one great in the kingdom of heaven?

Love! The willingness to live in harmony with God's character and design, living to give to help others makes one great in God's kingdom.

“Do not think that I have come to abolish the Law or the Prophets; I have not come to abolish them but to fulfill them. ¹⁸ I tell you the truth, until heaven and earth disappear, not the smallest letter, not the least stroke of a pen, will by any means disappear from the Law until everything is accomplished. ¹⁹ Anyone who breaks one of the least of these commandments and teaches others to do the same will be called least in the kingdom of heaven, but whoever practices and teaches these commands will be called great in the kingdom of heaven. ²⁰ For I tell you that unless your righteousness surpasses that of the Pharisees and the teachers of the law, you will certainly not enter the kingdom of heaven. MT 5:17-20

Jesus just finished His sermon on the mount, and what was the message of that sermon?

³ “Blessed are the poor in spirit,
for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

⁴ Blessed are those who mourn, for they will be comforted.

⁵ Blessed are the meek, for they will inherit the earth.

⁶ Blessed are those who hunger and thirst for righteousness, for they will be filled.

⁷ Blessed are the merciful, for they will be shown mercy.

⁸ Blessed are the pure in heart, for they will see God.

⁹ Blessed are the peacemakers, for they will be called sons of God.

¹⁰ Blessed are those who are persecuted because of righteousness,
for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

¹¹ “Blessed are you when people insult you, persecute you and falsely say all kinds of evil against you because of me. ¹² Rejoice and be glad, because great is your reward in heaven, for in the same way they persecuted the prophets who were before you. MT 5:3-11

Note what Jesus says makes you blessed – can anyone tell me?

Where did Jesus place the emphasis?

Did he say, “Blessed are you when you pay your tithe?” or “Blessed are you when you eat according to the law?” or “Blessed are you when you don't lie, steal, murder, or commit adultery?”

Why not?

Do you notice Jesus did NOT focus on behavior. Jesus focused on heart attitude. We are not blessed for doing the right thing; we are blessed for having the right heart!

And such a heart we cannot create, we can only receive it in relationship with Jesus Christ!

We are also blessed when we endure the abuse of the world with a heart like Christ, when we love our enemies, when we turn the other cheek, when we pray for those who spitefully use us. Again, we are blessed when our hearts are divergent from the world, when our hearts are in harmony with the King of love from the kingdom of love.

In this context Jesus speaks of the law and those who live in harmony with God's law, His law of love, His design for life, will be great in the kingdom of heaven!

Are their degrees of sin, some that are more offensive to God?

I read this recently in a book entitled Steps To Christ:

God does not regard all sins as of equal magnitude; there are degrees of guilt in His estimation, as well as in that of man; but however trifling this or that wrong act may seem in the eyes of men, no sin is small in the sight of God. Man's judgment is partial, imperfect; but God estimates all things as they really are. The drunkard is despised and is told that his sin will exclude him from heaven; while pride, selfishness, and covetousness too often go unrebuked. But these are sins that are especially offensive to God; for they are contrary to the benevolence of His character, to that unselfish love which is the very atmosphere of the unfallen universe. He who falls into some of the grosser sins may feel a sense of his shame and poverty and his need of the grace of Christ; but pride feels no need, and so it closes the heart against Christ and the infinite blessings He came to give. {SC 30.1}

What is God's scale upon which He measures the severity of sin? The more severely it numbs the conscience and makes one unresponsive to His endeavors to save and heal. It isn't about the specific act, it is about the condition of heart and mind, the closing out of God.

David's sin of adultery and murder was not as severe or offensive in God's eyes as the church leader who judges someone for believing differently and works to have them disfellowshipped. Why? Because David knew he was wrong and repented and sought God's healing presence, but the prideful church leader believes they are right and thus don't recognize the sickness of pride and selfness in their heart and don't partake of God's true remedy.

This makes God sick, listen to the message Jesus has for the Christian church today:

To the angel of the church in Laodicea write:

These are the words of the Amen, the faithful and true witness, the ruler of God's creation. ¹⁵ I know your deeds, that you are neither cold nor hot. I wish you were either one or the other!

¹⁶ So, because you are lukewarm—neither hot nor cold—I am about to spit you out of my mouth. ¹⁷ You say, ‘I am rich; I have acquired wealth and do not need a thing.’ But you do not realize that you are wretched, pitiful, poor, blind and naked. ¹⁸ I counsel you to buy from me gold refined in the fire, so you can become rich; and white clothes to wear, so you can cover your shameful nakedness; and salve to put on your eyes, so you can see. Rev 3:16-18

Let’s decode this – How does one get lukewarm? By a mixture of hot and cold – and these people are religiously hot, they promote themselves as being God’s representatives and doing God’s work, yet their hearts are cold and selfish, thus they are lukewarm. And the Greek word for spit is emeo from which we get emesis, it means to vomit. In other words, God is saying this pretentious piety, the presenting oneself on fire for God but having a cold heart makes God sick.

So, he counsels, stop looking at self, stop feeling righteous because you have always gone to church on the “right day” or eaten the right foods, or been baptized in the right way, or you didn’t have sex before marriage, or you never smoked, used drugs or drank alcohol, or whatever. Stop thinking you are good because you have done this or that and come back to reality and recognize you are infected with the same disease of fear and selfishness and no amount of external behavior will change what’s in the heart. So, buy from Jesus the gold refined in fire, which is to say, His perfect character refined by His trial of his ordeal, then our filthy selfishness will be overwritten, as He writes the law of love upon our hearts and minds.

How do we buy it? It is the barter method, we exchange what we have for what He has. Our sinful life for His sinless life, our terminal condition for His immortal condition, our wickedness for His righteousness, our selfishness for His love! We then become partakers of the divine nature and live new lives, having our minds enlightened by the Holy Spirit, our eyes anointed with oil.

Thoughts?

The lesson states the same, read paragraph four, “Although hardened by sinful...” Thoughts?

How do we reach those who are struggling with fear and insecurity and seeking to find themselves by abusing themselves with various forms of going against their upbringing?

Grace- can someone tell me about grace? What is it, what does it look like?

MONDAY

- The woman caught in adultery, what did Jesus say?
- What did Jesus do with the knowledge of the sins of the people who brought the woman caught in adultery?
- Adam after sin, how did God approach him? What did God say and do?
- How did Jesus treat Judas?
- How did Jesus treat those who crucified Him?

Here is a story from Philip Yancey’s book What’s So Amazing About Grace? On page 49...

Thoughts?

Do we love or do we judge? Where is the balance between loving and intervening? Is there a difference between diagnosing and judging? Can you explain the difference?

When we love someone and they are sick how do you approach them? When they are sick but refusing help how do you approach them? But if you see them as doing bad stuff, not as sick, but as rebellious, how do we often approach?

Can we confront and deal with the sickness of sin in our families in ways that are consistent with love? What might that look like?

TUESDAY

The lesson points us to the story of the demoniac who was living in a cemetery, in rags, with broken chains still upon him, cutting and abusing himself.

Read second paragraph, “A crucial point...” thoughts?

Well said, professional help is often needed but many people reject professional help, believing that if they just had enough faith they would be okay.

What barriers have you seen that prevent people from getting professional help?

Does mental illness determine one’s relationship with God? Absolutely not, any more than physical illness. One of the lies of the devil is that if you are sick it is because of some sin that separates you from God. The story of Job is a great example that disproves this, or the blind man who according to Jesus his blindness was not from his or his parents sin. Likewise mental illness can be a sickness that is physical.

But, it is also true that physical illness could be brought about by sin. A person could get HIV from sinful living, or lung cancer from smoking etc. Likewise some mental health problems could be from sinful living, a person committing adultery will have increased anxiety, insecurity, fear, conflict etc. But it would be wrong to conclude that all illness, physical or mental is a result of some sin by that person.

In the last paragraph it states, “but from God’s perspective every human being is of infinite worth.”

Absolutely true, this is a fact – but have you or anyone you’ve known ever struggled with feelings of worthlessness?

What would you say to someone who was feeling worthless?

From where does one's worth originate?

WEDNESDAY

The lesson asks us to review Jesus' encounter with the woman at the well.

What are the lessons you take from this experience?

- Jesus breaks down human barriers
- Jesus loves all people regardless of race or gender
- Jesus disarms by asking her to help him
- Jesus offers her what she really longs for, love (metaphor living water), she had five husbands and her current live-in partner is not her husband. She is lonely, empty, discouraged, and afraid, Jesus offers her love, genuine Godly love. And such love that when she receives it will overflow from her and go out to many. This is the nature of God's love, it gives it cannot be taken and hoarded, it must be given away and when it is it grows and grows.
- Jesus didn't condemn her but offered her hope, he showed her grace
- He diagnosed and provided Remedy
- Jesus told her salvation is of the Jews – yet He told the Pharisees that when they convert a person to Judaism they make him twice the son of hell. How are both true? Because Jesus is representative of true Judaism, the Pharisees practiced false Judaism, a counterfeit. Is there a lesson for us today? Salvation is of Christ, i.e. Christianity, but could some people be converted to a form of Christianity that makes them more bonded to hell than before they converted? Thoughts about this? What might this look like?

THURSDAY

Read first paragraph, "It's hard to imagine..." thoughts?

No doubt there would be no prejudice in a world without sin, but what about the rest of it?

Are class distinctions evil and a part of sin, are cultural differences evil and a part of sin? Or are these Godly and the evil is the selfishness that causes these differences to be used as means of oppressing others?

Did God make:

- Male and female? In His design their was equality, divergence, two separate classes, but equal, sin causes inequality between these two classes God created.
- What about Cherubim and Seraphim are these classes of angels, different divisions?
- What about in Revelation and Ezekiel do we see divisions? Two covering Cherubs, four living creatures, twenty-four elders, thousands and thousands, and then ten thousands times ten thousands?
- Are their beings of different unfallen worlds? Would they have different culture? Is this evil?

- Sin is selfishness, and selfishness has taken the divergence God created, which provides beauty and novelty and uniqueness, and used those differences to create points of exploitation and abuse.

So must we transcend culture or transcend selfishness which makes us uncomfortable with other cultures?

Do we admire other cultures or look down on them as not being as good as us?

Discipleship Lesson 9 1Q 2014

Discipling the Powerful

This class and our online class has been actively supporting us in preparing and sharing all the materials, DVDs, Study Guides, etc. I wanted to share some of the feedback we have been getting. I have received more than a thousand emails and letters from around the world thus far, this is just a sampling of some of the feedback we are getting:

We'd like to order another case of the DVD's, if we might. We've given out the previous case here in California. Now we're heading to Arizona and have relatives and friends there we'd like to share with. Thought you might enjoy some of the feedback we've been getting here with regard to the DVDs.

One woman was intrigued when I told her we found the DVD life changing. She watched the whole seminar in one afternoon, and watched it again the next day so she could absorb the points presented. She said she now understands why we found it life changing and was very excited about the message.

Another couple, on their own initiative, watched the DVD with a group of eight in their home.

We're pretty excited that the videos are being so well received and are praying that those who haven't yet viewed them will sometime in the future.

Thanks again for all the wonderful thoughts put forth by your ministry.

I run the English Speaking group of the SDA church here in Freiburg Germany. We have been following your Bible lessons with great interest for a few months now, and they have been the cause for much deep discussion.

We would be extremely happy to receive any of the books, dvds and seminars that you have available.

They will be used not only for our own study purposes, but also for distribution to the other English speakers and churches here...

Thank you for your Ministry. It has meant a lot to me personally. It has changed my thinking about God and has challenged my belief systems in many respects. There are many statements from you that I am battling with (at a theological and conceptual level at minimum). I am very disappointed that many in our Church are not willing to consider the perspective that you have studied in great detail. It really does offer tangible answers to many of the "difficult questions" most of us struggle with (e.g. why does a loving God let innocent children die?).

Yes, we have our own set of lenses whereby we view God and the world around us. Our son passed away 4 years ago (he was 3.5 years), so we have had our own battle with this question. Ironically, this experience drew us closer to God and has led us to become born-again Christians. Our study of the book of Job led us to understand there is a great battle raging in a realm that we can't see, but are intrinsically part of. We understood the Great Controversy even before we studied the book by the same title. Our studies have led us to the Seventh Day Adventist Church. We were baptised 3 years ago. I therefore find it difficult that in our own Church, the Character of God is so misrepresented (i.e. non Biblical or seen through lenses that of the wrathful God).

The view that God has led you, brings a refreshing perspective about Him that appeals to my belief that God is love, that He REALY cares for us and REALY wants to saves all of us. I also enjoy the balanced view that He created certain constructs/Laws of nature that we are "bound" to. The law of love, if broken breaks the circle of love and trust, and therefore damages our relationship with Him (and others around us). I truly believe that God's will is to change our hearts (to restore in us love and trust), to save us from sin, while we are still at the mercy of the consequences of sin.

I recognize that email is not the best forum for these discussions, nor is English my first language. The bottom-line is that I want to encourage you to continue to spread His story. The Gospel of Jesus. The one that brings people closer to the real God, through the Holy Spirit's ministrations and through the lens of a living and loving Jesus that came to exemplify God's character on earth.

I have worked through "Healing the mind" and I am eager to learn more. I have distributed a number of copies of your first book to Church members (with mixed results I am afraid ;)).

Would you be able to ship the new DVDs to South Africa?

People have been getting restful minds because Of These DVD Seminars. - California

I received one of your copies of the three seminars and I am having a hard time in trying to keep them. Several my friends would like a copy of them. Could you send me 20 copies so I can pass them out to our leaders in our church. -Massachusetts

Wow, all the DVDs are free?! I don't know how you can afford it, but I would love to have all three sets. - Maryland

I am a Juvenile prison Chaplain. I work for the Illinois Department of Juvenile Justice. At the request of one of our volunteers I read your book The God Shaped Brain. I was challenged theologically, and confronted with a lot of great meditation material. All I know for sure is that the things that you speak about would do a lot to help the 165 bruised, broken, abused, neglected and genetically challenged male youth who reside within our razor wired prison fences. For that reason I am asking that you would send me your series, "God And Your Brain."

I have watched GOD AND YOUR BRAIN DVD you graciously sent me multiple times, and i realize that our church, needs to know this new enlightenment about our brain how it works. May I request again to have more copies, at least 10 of them if there are more left available. We will use this as one the tools for church planting in our city. Thank you very much. Canada

I just received the dvds today. Thank you so much. Dr. Jennings' seminars have been such a blessing to me. I am beginning to see God the Father as He really is... A God of Love...love beyond anything our finite minds can fathom. I am so thankful for the light about God's love that Dr. Jennings is sharing in his seminars and books. I am reading "The God Shaped Brain". What a wonderful book!!! I got it on Amazon. I will read it all the way through from cover to cover. It vindicates God's true character as our loving heavenly Father. Truly a God of Love. I am learning so much from Dr Jennings. This message is for the last days. It should be preached in every church. So many people would turn to God if they only knew how He really is. I am grateful for this ministry and will be praying for it and that the message will be spread everywhere. God bless all of you.... - California

I have sat at the feet of some pretty impressive and Godly people; Maxwell, Anderson, Stone, Ellquist, Gothard, are some of the names. These are human heroes I've met and whom I long to meet again. And as refreshed and encouraged as I've been by all these and more, Tim Jennings has thrown open a window the size of the whole wall on the sunny side of the room. Its like I had cataract surgery of the mind! I'm really almost speechless. - California

All three cases arrived within the last few days, and I have begun to share the DVD sets. Having the connection between scripture, science, and experience outlined so clearly makes seeking Truth a freeing rather than a scary or depressing experience. For the last couple of decades, God has been leading me to find truth through scripture and my experience. Looking back now, I see that He was using science as well, but I really hadn't recognized its part of the process. Seeing the Venn Diagram model of Truth incorporating all three avenues of God's revelation cleared so many things up for me! I am no longer at the mercy of those whose views take into account only one or two of God's avenues of revealing Himself and His truth. How freeing that is! – Oregon

These are just some of the emails we are getting. The message about God and His character and methods of love is changing lives and I want thank you each of you for your contribution and support in helping us share this message and encourage you to continue pressing forward, promoting this message as lives are being healed and minds are being set free.

I also want to make a personal request – I will be in an out throughout the year as different groups have scheduled me to come speak and present this material in their community. My request – don't let this class disintegrate if I am not here. Some people have suggested that this class is a Dr. Jennings' personality cult – rather than a group of people committed to this message about God. I know you don't follow me, you love the truth about God we cherish in this class.

SUNDAY

Read first paragraph, “Over the long...” thoughts?

What gives rulers the right to rule? Has anyone heard of “The Divine Right of Kings?” It was a theory from the middle ages that monarchs received their right to rule from God and as such could only be judged by God. Therefore, they were not subject to any court, law, church, or aristocracy.

This idea was supported particularly by Protestants as a way of diminishing the power of the Pope over the state.

King James I of England was a strong supporter of this idea and of course is the Monarch who commissioned the King James Bible.

Thoughts about this theory? Are kings above the law? Do monarchs have divine rights and can only be judged by God?

Interestingly, this idea has its roots, not in the Bible, but comes from Roman law. Doesn't it fit with Roman, imposed law, that a human ruler could have such absolute, arbitrary power? Who presents

God as ruling like this, absolute power, above all accountability, answerable to no one, creating rules without inherent consequence that required God to be the inflictor of punishment and pain to breakers of His rules.

This is an historic view from our church, from RH, February 18, 1890 par. 2:

Satan had accused God of requiring self-denial of the angels, when he knew nothing of what it meant himself, and when he would not himself make any self-sacrifice for others. This was the accusation that Satan made against God in heaven; and after the evil one was expelled from heaven, he continually charged the Lord with exacting service which he would not render himself. Christ came to the world to meet these false accusations, and to reveal the Father.

And this is from RH, September 7, 1897 par. 4:

As one in holy office, he [Lucifer] manifested an overbearing desire for justice, but it was a counterfeit of justice, which was entirely contrary to God's love and compassion and mercy.

What was the kind of justice, that was counterfeit, that Lucifer alleged God must perform? From the same author, the historic SDA view, found in DA 761:

In the opening of the great controversy, Satan had declared that the law of God could not be obeyed, that justice was inconsistent with mercy, and that, should the law be broken, it would be impossible for the sinner to be pardoned. Every sin must meet its punishment, urged Satan; and if God should remit the punishment of sin, He would not be a God of truth and justice. When men broke the law of God, and defied His will, Satan exulted. It was proved, he declared, that the law could not be obeyed; man could not be forgiven. Because he, after his rebellion, had been banished from heaven, Satan claimed that the human race must be forever shut out from God's favor. God could not be just, he urged, and yet show mercy to the sinner. {DA 761.4}

Satan presents God as a God who inflicts punishment for disobedience. This is false justice. This is the justice that stems from imposed law, this is the justice that created beings invent, because created beings can only impose rules, and then impose punishments for the rules they have created.

But the Creator operates on a different plane of existence. He constructs, He builds, He designs, He creates the very fabric of the cosmos, the protocols upon which all life, all nature operates. His laws are not imposed rules, but the design parameters for life itself.

Thus God's justice is the justice of restoration, healing, recreation, renewal, and allowing those deviant, who refuse healing, to reap what they have sewn.

But Satan alleges God is like human rulers, who impose rules and answers to no one.

But when we think about the divine right of kings, this idea that rulers are not subject to law, that only works when we accept the false view of law, imposed rules. Why? Because a ruler is still subject to the laws of health, the laws of nature, the law of liberty, and in fact, it was the violation by rulers of the law of liberty, the abuse of liberty, that led to the rebellion of their subjects and the revolutions that eventually destroyed the divine right of kings doctrine.

If kings and rulers would have understood God's law, as the design protocol, and not operated upon the Roman concept of imposed law, perhaps they would have won the love and support of their subjects.

The lesson asks what is the best form of government, any thoughts? Does it matter the situation? What form of government is best in a sinless world versus a sinful world?

Do we govern children different than mature adults? Do immature adults need different governing than mature adults?

What is the difference? Which group gets more freedom? When liberties are being restricted by governments, what is the driving force? Is it love or fear? And is the government making rules for the most mature in society or the most impaired?

When speed limits are posted, are those limits for the best cars, with the best suspension, traction, and handling, with the most experienced drivers, or for the worse cars, with the worse handling and least experienced drivers?

In other words, the laws are on the dumb side of the population curve, for the most immature, the most ignorant, the least capable.

So what is the best form of government? In my opinion? Self-government in harmony with God's design! In Galatians we are told that when the Holy Spirit has His way in our lives we get certain traits of character the last is, "self-control" or self-government, the Greek, enkratia en – within, crat, like democrat, autocrat, means to exercise authority or control. Thus, the best form of government is a government in which all inhabitants are self-governing, operating upon God's original design, the law of love! Thus, the new covenant, the new plan, the new agreement, the new government God will have with His people?

This is the covenant I will make with the house of Israel
after that time, declares the Lord.
I will put my laws in their minds
and write them on their hearts.
I will be their God,
and they will be my people.
No longer will a man teach his neighbor,
or a man his brother, saying, 'Know the Lord,'
because they will all know me,
from the least of them to the greatest. (Heb 8:10,11)

Thoughts?

Read Romans 13:1-7:

Everyone must submit himself to the governing authorities, for there is no authority except that which God has established. The authorities that exist have been established by God. ² Consequently, he who rebels against the authority is rebelling against what God has instituted, and those who do so will bring judgment on themselves. ³ For rulers hold no terror for those who do right, but for those who do wrong. Do you want to be free from fear of the one in authority? Then do what is right and he will commend you. ⁴ For he is God's servant to do you good. But if you do wrong, be afraid, for he does not bear the sword for nothing. He is God's servant, an agent of wrath to bring punishment on the wrongdoer. ⁵ Therefore, it is necessary to submit to the authorities, not only because of possible punishment but also because of conscience.

⁶ This is also why you pay taxes, for the authorities are God's servants, who give their full time to governing. ⁷ Give everyone what you owe him: If you owe taxes, pay taxes; if revenue, then revenue; if respect, then respect; if honor, then honor.

Are all governments and leaders set up by God? Did God set up Adolf Hitler, Stalin, Hussein, Pol Pot?

Are such leaders the leaders God Himself chose? Or, does God allow humans to reap what they choose? When they choose to deviate from His plan, to value human and Satanic values, they love and prefer leaders who share such debased values and methods?

Why would God allow such leaders to ever get power and hurt so many innocents?

Because intelligent beings can be fooled by lies, flattery, innuendo, and the only way to expose a liar once the liar is loved and trusted is to what? Let the liar expose himself. Let the methods of the liar be carried to its conclusion.

Parents, how many times have you had to let your children experience something because they would not learn because you told them? Whether it be not to eat too many pieces of pie lest they get sick, to something more serious?

Once intelligent beings have believed a lie, only overwhelming evidence will displace the lie.

Thoughts about obeying human governments? The lesson asked in the first paragraph, "Should we always obey the governments?" What do you think in light of this Romans 13 passage?

Does this Bible passage give much leeway? Was the government of Rome a respecter of human rights? What is going on? Do the instructions of God change from time and place?

Read second paragraph, "Oppression and brutality..." thoughts?

Were Jesus' actions in the temple civil disobedience? I would not characterize it as such, but as theological correction. They were misrepresenting God in the service instituted by God to reveal His character. Jesus intervened to set the lesson right.

Why didn't Jesus go to the various pagan worship centers and overthrow their false worship tables, and idols etc?

What is the big point then? Jesus never taught, nor did His disciples practice, politics or attempts to reform earthly governments. Jesus taught explicitly that His kingdom was not of this world. Is the church on mission or off mission when it gets involved in promoting political agendas?

Should the church seek to control the state or seek to convert the hearts of men?

Is there a difference between the church mobilizing its membership and using its resources for political agenda, and a Christian relying on his relationship with God to give him wisdom in how he votes and acts as a citizen? For instance, if individuals in political office were converted to God's methods and operated like Daniel, would those individuals bring God's principles into the way they govern? Is that the same as the church seeking to control the state?

What method uses coercive tactics? What would lead Christians to want to use the state to legislate laws to force non-believers to practice lifestyle in harmony with Christian beliefs?

Where is the balance between granting liberty and promoting God's values and principles?

When societies make laws, where to draw the line? What laws intrude into personal conscience, and what laws are appropriate for social order?

- What about laws that require parents to get medical treatment for their children who are under 18, including antibiotics even if they believe such decisions violate God's will?
- What about laws that make it illegal to smoke hallucinogens, such as peyote, when it is part of certain religious rights to some American Indians?
- What about drafting individuals into the armed forces?
- What about laws regarding marriage and adoption?
- What about prohibition?
- What about legalizing marijuana, not just by prescription for medicinal uses, but for recreational use?
- What about blue laws, requiring stores to close for business on Sunday?
- What about restricting the sales of alcohol on Sunday?
- What about restricting the sales of alcohol and tobacco in your community?

Are there any lessons from history regarding states that try to enforce religious code upon people with a different belief system?

- Crusades
- Inquisition

- Witch burnings

What principles did Christ and His Apostles use? What do you think is the proper role for the church in today's world?

Can we win people to God's kingdom by force? What about by coercion, sanctions, believe in God or you cannot trade with America?

MONDAY

Read first paragraph, "Unfortunately, some of..." thoughts

Is there a lesson in this for us? Throughout history has the state or the church been more active in opposing the gospel? Certainly, there have been some states that have opposed the gospel – Rome – initially through legal and military opposition, and later through infection of its ideas into the church, Communism, but throughout the landscape of human history, who has done more to obstruct the truth of God, civil powers or religious powers?

Isn't it interesting that the very institution set up by God, can become infected with beliefs and ideas that result in that institution misrepresenting God and opposing His methods, principles and agents?

What would cause people who claim to be on God's side to end up opposing Him?

Would it be, not actually knowing God and His methods? Wouldn't it be accepting false ideas about who God is, what He is like, what His law is, what His justice looks like and then practicing those false ideas?

What about today? How did Christ deal with religious leaders, who held to wrong God concepts, in His day? Did He or the Apostles spend time seeking out theological debates with the religious leaders? Did they seek out the religious leaders to get their approval of their message?

What did they do? They went to the people with the message of truth and how did religious leaders respond? They became threatened and used what tactics?

- They misrepresented Jesus – saying He had a demon
- They threatened people with disfellowship
- They accused Jesus of denying traditional beliefs
- They tried to twist Scripture to undermine Jesus' message
- They twisted Jesus words to make it appear He said things He didn't actually say
- They sought to confuse his followers
- They refused to embrace the truths and principles He taught

When they did confront Christ, seeking Him out to force a discussion, how did Jesus deal with them?

- He discerned their purpose, on the occasion when a person legitimately sought to find out the true intention of the law Jesus validated him
- But, when they were trying to trick Him He let them entrap themselves. When they asked by what authority He was teaching He said He would tell them if they would first answer His question, and He asked them by what authority was John's baptism....
- Other times He spoke in parables and had them incriminate themselves

The leaders in Christ's day had problems with authority – they believed authority rested in position, tradition, status, wealth, or the written word. They refused to recognize Jesus as authoritative,

- because He held no church office,
- because He was not taught in their theology department,
- because He didn't have a theology degree
- because He was not wealthy or come from a connected family
- because He didn't promote their traditions and man made rules
- because He wasn't exclusive and egotistical, he loved the non-Jews

What makes Jesus authoritative?

When an expert witness is called in to testify on a subject, what makes them an “authority” or authoritative? It is their knowledge of the subject matter. To the degree they can communicate reality/truth accurately they are authoritative.

Thus, truth, fact, reality is authoritative and God is truth, Jesus is the truth, the Word made flesh. But they refused to recognize it.

Today, many people suffer the same problem, they falsely believe authority comes from position. So if someone is pastor, conference president, chair department of theology, bishop, cardinal, pope – then by right of position what they say is authoritative.

This was one of the arguments put forth when we met with local church leaders. How could I question the senior pastor, he is the “Lord's anointed.”

Position doesn't make what one says true and only truth is authoritative. This is why I tell my patients, when I give them a copy of my first book, “Never believe anything because it is written in a book. Believe it only after you have thought it through, examined the evidence for yourself and found it to be true.”

The last paragraph states, “Finally, the miracles...” thoughts? What about miracles? What role should they play in our pursuit of truth? Are miracles reliable indicators of truth? Why or why not?

TUESDAY

The lesson notes that while most of the time Jesus' encounters with those in power ended "acrimoniously" that there are exceptions. They cite Nicodemus.

Thoughts about Nicodemus? What positive things can we say about him?

- He was willing to inquire
- He was willing to consider new ideas
- He was willing to be taught
- He was willing to follow new truth
- He was willing to admit he was wrong
- He was willing to accept Jesus, after investigation
- He didn't convert on emotions
- He didn't convert for political expediency
- He didn't convert to please others
- He didn't convert to avoid punishment

Then the lesson asks us to examine the centurion, He didn't need Christ to come personally; he only need Christ to command it and he believed it would be so. Thoughts about his faith? Where do you think this man's faith originated?

WEDNESDAY

The last sentence of the first paragraph states, "Whatever judgment they pronounce against Christ is ultimately the judgment they pronounce against themselves." Thoughts?

Why is it that the measure we use to judge others is the measure that is used to judge us?

Because our judgment of others is actually a reflection of the motives, character, principles and methods of our own heart. This is natural law at work. Our actions toward others reveal the very attributes of our own character. Do we promote mercy and love or vengeance and punishment? Do we operate on Design law, seeking to heal and restore, or imposed law seeking to stone and execute?

How do we represent God as judge and His judgments? Do we represent Him as a being who inflicts punishment and vengeance or do we represent Him as the Great Physician who intervenes in love with therapeutic judgments designed to heal?

Read last paragraph, "Likewise, Christ's..." thoughts?

What is the relationship between prayer and outcomes? Are we to pray for what we want? Are we to have any qualifiers? Do we allow, in our prayer life, for possibilities beyond our awareness and invite God to intervene to bring about His purposes, even overruling our request if He knows better? Or do we insist and plead for certain outcomes?

What does it mean to call listeners to a decision? A decision about what?

The classic question is “are you saved?” Do you like this question? Why or why not? Where does this question put the emphasis? Any better questions?

How about instead of asking people if they are saved, we instead ask, Do you know God – personally, as a friend? Do you walk with Him daily? Do you trust Him with your life, your eternal life? Do you trust outcomes to Him? Do you know Him well enough that you love Him and open your heart to Him inviting Him in all day long?

Are these better questions? Where is the focus? It is on God and our relationship with Him.

The “are you saved question” focuses on self and what must I do, and we too often boil it down to some formula that people can go through without ever actually coming to know God as Jesus revealed.

THURSDAY

Read first paragraph, “Christ’s earliest...” thoughts?

Notice they met in various places, but they didn’t actually have church buildings for worship until around 320 AD when Constantine outlawed home churches and required Christians worship in the worship centers set up by the state, which were the pagan worship centers, recently modified for Christians. This introduced the professional speaker, and moved Christian worship from community, discussion, fellowship, sharing, to spectators being entertained by the “Spiritual elite” who merit the special robes and elevated podiums.

Thoughts? Any impact on how we see God? Any impact on church parishioner relationships? Any impact on church leadership?

The lesson points out that political motives were frequently the motive for the rejection of the gospel and God’s witnesses. Do we have problems like that today?

Are politics limited to the state or are there politics within the church structure?

FRIDAY

The lesson points out that the powerful are often the most difficult to witness to, why might that be? What are some of the obstacles?

- Inaccessibility
- Guardedness of the powerful, conditioned to anticipate requests
- Star-struck mindset of the person witnessing – not treating them as equal?
- Fear of rejection by the powerful or just the opposite an over zealous belief in the need to “witness” to the powerful

Discipleship Lesson 10 1Q 2014

Discipling the Nations

SABBATH

Memory Text: “For my house shall be called a house of prayer for all nations.” Isaiah 56.7

Thoughts? What does this text mean?

Why is God’s house to be called a house of prayer for all nations?
What was the purpose of the Jewish Temple?

Does the phrase “my house” refer to the Jewish Temple?

Was the Jewish Temple the actual house of God? Or was it symbolic of God’s true house?

From Paul:

“Consequently, you are no longer foreigners and aliens, but fellow citizens with God's people and members of God's HOUSE built on the foundation of the apostles and prophets, with Christ Jesus himself as the chief cornerstone. In him the whole building is joined together and rises to become a HOLY TEMPLE in the Lord. And in him YOU too [you all] are being built together to become a dwelling in which God lives by his Spirit.” Ephesians 2:19-22.

From Peter:

“As you come to him, the living Stone--rejected by men but chosen by God and precious to him-- YOU also, like LIVING STONES, are being built into a SPIRITUAL HOUSE to be a holy priesthood, offering spiritual sacrifices acceptable to God through Jesus Christ.” 1 Pet 2:4,5.

Where does God actually dwell? What is God’s true house? Then, in light of this, what does it mean that God’s house is to be a house of prayer for all nations?

Read first paragraph, “Christ’s message...” thoughts?

Why is the gospel of Christ for everyone?

- Because all humans are part of the same creation, descendants of Adam, infected with the same condition and in need of the same remedy
- Because God’s government operates upon design law, protocols upon which life is constructed, and these laws, these protocols, work in all lives whether the persons realize it or not, just like gravity
- Because only in harmony with God’s design is there life, why?

What is the message of Christ that is to go to everyone?

How would you describe it?

It is the gospel of Jesus so what was His message?

⁶ Jesus answered, “I am the way and the truth and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me. ⁷ If you really knew me, you would know my Father as well. From now on, you do know him and have seen him.”

⁸ Philip said, “Lord, show us the Father and that will be enough for us.”

⁹ Jesus answered: “Don’t you know me, Philip, even after I have been among you such a long time? Anyone who has seen me has seen the Father. How can you say, ‘Show us the Father’? ¹⁰ Don’t you believe that I am in the Father, and that the Father is in me? The words I say to you are not just my own. Rather, it is the Father, living in me, who is doing his work. ¹¹ Believe me when I say that I am in the Father and the Father is in me; (John 14:6-11)

Why is this good news? What is the war over? 2Cor 10:3-5 – the knowledge of God. Satan lied about God and those lies broke the circle of love and trust and broken love and trust results in fear and selfishness, we are infected with hearts deviant from God’s design.

What is the need, the purpose, the reason that Christ perfectly revealed the Father? To dispel lies and win us back to trust? So in response to this, what are we to do? What is our work?

⁸ Then they asked him, “What must we do to do the works God requires?”

²⁹ Jesus answered, “The work of God is this: to believe in the one he has sent.” JN 6:28,29

What does this mean, to believe in the one he sent? To believe what? To believe that He paid some legal price? Is that what Jesus said? Or would it mean to believe in Him means to believe in what He taught, who He was, the truth He revealed about the Father and the Father’s methods and principles, and thereby be won back to trust in Him and His Father?

What did Jesus say is the result of this restored trust with the Father?

“Now this is eternal life: that they may know you, the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom you have sent. ⁴ I have brought you glory on earth by completing the work you gave me to do... I have revealed you to those whom you gave me out of the world.” John 17:3,4,6

So Jesus is the perfect revelation of God, to destroy the lies of Satan and win us back to trust, that we might truly know God and thus, in trust, be renewed back to God’s original ideal and live eternally.

What did Jesus teach regarding God’s law and government?

⁷ Jesus replied: “ ‘Love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind.’ ³⁸ This is the first and greatest commandment. ³⁹ And the second is like it: ‘Love your neighbor as yourself.’ ⁴⁰ All the Law and the Prophets hang on these two commandments.” MT 22:37-40

What is the law of God according to the gospel of Jesus? The law of love! And how does that function?

TUESDAY

The lesson asks us to read John 12:20-32:

²⁰ Now there were some Greeks among those who went up to worship at the Feast. ²¹ They came to Philip, who was from Bethsaida in Galilee, with a request. “Sir,” they said, “we would like to see Jesus.” ²² Philip went to tell Andrew; Andrew and Philip in turn told Jesus.

²³ Jesus replied, “The hour has come for the Son of Man to be glorified. ²⁴ I tell you the truth, unless a kernel of wheat falls to the ground and dies, it remains only a single seed. But if it dies, it produces many seeds. ²⁵ The man who loves his life will lose it, while the man who hates his life in this world will keep it for eternal life. ²⁶ Whoever serves me must follow me; and where I am, my servant also will be. My Father will honor the one who serves me.

²⁷ “Now my heart is troubled, and what shall I say? ‘Father, save me from this hour’? No, it was for this very reason I came to this hour. ²⁸ Father, glorify your name!”

Then a voice came from heaven, “I have glorified it, and will glorify it again.” ²⁹ The crowd that was there and heard it said it had thundered; others said an angel had spoken to him.

³⁰ Jesus said, “This voice was for your benefit, not mine. ³¹ Now is the time for judgment on this world; now the prince of this world will be driven out. ³² But I, when I am lifted up from the earth, will draw all men to myself.”

What do you hear about the gospel of Jesus in this passage? What is the gospel in this passage?

Do you hear God’s law, the law of love, described in this text? What do you hear? Do you notice Jesus uses nature to teach truth, in addition to Scripture – He uses the integrative evidence based approach.

Here is this passage from my paraphrase:

^{John 12:20} Now some Greeks who had come to worship at the Feast, ²¹ came to Philip, who was from Bethsaida in Galilee, and asked, “Sir we would sure like to see Jesus. Would it be possible to meet him?” ²² Philip went and told Andrew; and Andrew and Philip together went and told Jesus.

^{John 12:23} Jesus replied, “It is now time for the Son of Man to have his character and nature fully revealed. ²⁴ I tell you the clear truth, unless a kernel of wheat gives itself up to be buried and die, it will remain a lone and a solitary seed. But if it surrenders itself and dies, it produces many seeds. ²⁵ The man who practices the principle of survival of the fittest, and loves his own life so much that he will kill in order to preserve it – will ultimately destroy himself and lose his life. But the man who loves others more than himself and is willing to give his life freely so that others may live is back in harmony with the principles of love, upon which life is based, and will preserve his life and live eternally. ²⁶ Whoever wants to serve with me in my healing ministry must practice my methods, value my principles and follow my ways. All those who serve with me will be with me where I am. My Father will fully heal, restore, and exalt all those who truly serve with me in this way.

John 12:27 “My heart is heavy, but what shall I say? ‘Father, deliver me from this hour?’ No, my entire purpose for being here is to come to this very hour. ²⁸ Father, may your true character and nature be fully revealed and may Satan’s lies about you be fully exposed!”

Then a voice came from heaven, “I have revealed my true character and nature, and will reveal it again.” ²⁹ The crowd, with their darkened minds couldn’t understand the voice; some thought it was thunder, but others thought an angel had spoken to him.

John 12:30 Jesus said, “This voice was to strengthen your faith, not mine. ³¹ Now is the time for the infection of selfishness and sin in this world to be fully diagnosed and revealed as destructive; now, Satan, the prince of this selfishness world will be driven out into the open, out of the shadows, out from behind his lies and distortions about God and God’s methods, out where all can see him as the murderer he truly is and thus out of the hearts of all who love me. ³² When I am lifted up from the earth, I will draw all intelligences throughout the universe to me.”

Thoughts?

What is the gospel of Jesus? Jesus described it in His sermon on the mount:

MT 5:3 "Blessed are those who are humble in spirit, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

- The kingdom of God is the kingdom of humility, the kingdom of service, the kingdom of giving, the kingdom of love!

MT 5:4 Blessed are those who mourn, for they will be comforted.

- The kingdom of God is the kingdom of tender hearts, the kingdom that is heartbroken at cruelty, unkindness, pride, the kingdom that mourns as it sees people living for the kingdom of the world!

MT 5:5 Blessed are the meek, for they will inherit the earth.

- The kingdom of God is the kingdom of meekness, the kingdom that does not seek to serve self, the kingdom that puts others first, the kingdom of beneficence!

MT 5:6 Blessed are those who hunger and thirst for righteousness, for they will be filled.

- The kingdom of God is filled with people hungering to be like Jesus, longing to see God’s face, who have developed minds and hearts which love truth, who love to lift up others, who care more about doing good, doing what’s right than what happens to themselves.

MT 5:7 Blessed are the merciful, for they will be shown mercy.

- The kingdom of God is forgiving, merciful, kind. The kingdom of God is compassionate to the homosexual, the abortionist, the prostitute, the murderer. The kingdom of God longs for their healing, their restoration in righteousness, their friendship!

MT 5:8 Blessed are the pure in heart, for they will see God.

- The kingdom of God is pure, holy and true – no fear, no selfishness, no cruelty, no unkindness!

MT 5:9 Blessed are the peacemakers, for they will be called sons of God.

- The kingdom of God is a unifying kingdom, a kingdom that seeks to reconcile, to heal, to restore, a kingdom of peace. A kingdom reaching out to all peoples, of all nations, of all races, of all cultures, of all backgrounds – through all time to restore oneness with God for all eternity!

MT 5:10 Blessed are those who are persecuted because of righteousness, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

- The Kingdom of Heaven – is at war with the kingdom of the world – the kingdom of the world will use its methods of coercion, control, intimidation, beating, imprisonment, sanction, legislation – But blessed are you who are persecuted for presenting the truth about God in love and leaving others free, for living like Jesus lived – For yours is the kingdom of heaven!

What is the message of Jesus? Jesus said, “My kingdom is not of this world.” John 18:36

What is the message that is to go to the world? God and His Kingdom are not like kingdoms of this world. God’s kingdom is the kingdom of love, truth, freedom, righteousness, purity, holiness. It is the kingdom upon which life is built to operate. God is not the source of death; God is the source of life!

Are we taking the message of Jesus to the world, or are we taking a false message, a distorted message, a message that misrepresents God and His kingdom to the world?

SUNDAY

Read first paragraph, “Ancient prophets foretold...” thoughts?

Is converting people to a scripturally based faith the same thing as converting people to the kingdom of God?

According to the Christian Encyclopedia there are 34,000 different Christian groups all claiming their beliefs are scripturally based. Are all those groups doing God’s will? Are all those groups accurately revealing God’s kingdom?

Did the Jews 2000 years ago base their religion on scripture? Were they part of God’s kingdom? Jesus said they were of their Father the devil.

How can it be, that people can value Scripture, cite Scripture, base their beliefs on Scripture and still crucify Jesus, burn people at the stake, shoot abortion doctors, stone the prostitute, burn witches, picket homosexuals, teach that God will use His power to torture and kill the disobedient?

Because they use Scripture piecemeal and separated from the other evidences God has given to anchor our understanding.

Jesus used Scripture, but also used nature and experience and harmonized all three in His teachings. Do we present the truth as Jesus did? Then we must integrate all three threads, the distorted views of God occur when the three threads are separated.

What about the idea that Jesus is the way to the Father, that there is no other name under heaven whereby men can be saved? What does this mean? Does it mean people must hear the life history of Jesus earthly sojourn? Does it mean they must take an affirmative stand accepting Him as their Savior? Does it mean they must have certain rituals, such as baptism done? Or does it mean that whoever is saved it is only saved because of what Jesus has accomplished, whether the individual realizes it or not?

Did Enoch get baptized? Did Elijah know the earthly life story of Jesus? Were they saved through some other path, or was Jesus the only path to the Father?

How could they be saved without knowing the earthly history of Jesus? How could they be saved without baptism?

Or were they baptized? What is true baptism, dunking the body in water, or immersing the mind/character/heart with the Holy Spirit for internal transformation and regeneration?

Did Enoch and Elijah experience renewal of heart and character? Did they have the law written on their hearts?

What do you make of Paul's comments in Romans, notice first Paul says in Romans 1:20

For since the creation of the world God's invisible qualities—his eternal power and divine nature—have been clearly seen, being understood from what has been made, so that men are without excuse.

Then he goes on to say this in chapter two:

¹² All who sin apart from the law will also perish apart from the law, and all who sin under the law will be judged by the law. ¹³ For it is not those who hear the law who are righteous in God's sight, but it is those who obey the law who will be declared righteous. ¹⁴ (Indeed, when Gentiles, who do not have the law, do by nature things required by the law, they are a law for themselves, even though they do not have the law, ¹⁵ since they show that the requirements of the law are written on their hearts, their consciences also bearing witness, and their thoughts now accusing, now even defending them.) Romans 2:12-15

What is the new covenant?

This is the covenant I will make with the house of Israel
after that time, declares the Lord.

I will put my laws in their minds
and write them on their hearts.

I will be their God,
and they will be my people.

- ¹¹ No longer will a man teach his neighbor,
or a man his brother, saying, 'Know the Lord,'
because they will all know me,
from the least of them to the greatest. Heb 8:10,11

What is the new covenant, writing the law on the heart, and when that happens, who do they know? They know God and what did Jesus say is life eternal? Knowing God.

Wait a minute – is Paul saying people can know God without hearing the gospel message, without the Scriptures being presented? How, by nature, God's divine nature has been seen in what he has made so that men are without excuse.

And what is seen in nature? God's design protocols for life, His law, His methods, and thus His character, which is the law of love, the protocol of giving. And nature reveals that only in harmony with this design is life possible. Those who see this in nature and love it and choose it open their heart to God's Spirit, even though they do it ignorantly, yet the Spirit still heals them.

Then how do they come to God through Christ, how is Jesus the only way if they come through nature?

He [Jesus] is the image of the invisible God, the firstborn over all creation. ¹⁶ For by him all things were created: things in heaven and on earth, visible and invisible, whether thrones or powers or rulers or authorities; all things were created by him and for him. ¹⁷ He is before all things, and in him all things hold together. Col 1:15-17

And Jesus procured the Remedy to cure our condition. Thus, when people see God's character in nature, open their hearts to the movement of the Spirit, they come through the evidence Christ has provided when Christ made earth, and the Spirit takes what Christ achieved in their behalf and reproduces it in them, thus they are healed by Christ. Christ is the way and means of restoration to God, even for those who have yet to hear about Him.

Thoughts?

This is an historic SDA view:

Those whom Christ commends in the judgment may have known little of theology, but they have cherished His principles. Through the influence of the divine Spirit they have been a blessing to those about them. Even among the heathen are those who have cherished the spirit of kindness; before the words of life had fallen upon their ears, they have befriended the missionaries, even ministering to them at the peril of their own lives. Among the heathen are those who worship God ignorantly, those to whom the light is never brought by human instrumentality, yet they will not perish. Though ignorant of the written law of God, they have heard His voice speaking to them in nature, and have done the things that the law required. Their works are evidence that the Holy Spirit has touched their hearts, and they are recognized as the children of God. {DA 638.2}

Don't you love it to know that God isn't some arbitrary being who requires some facts be understood, some ritual be enacted, some word be spoken before a person can be saved?

Read third and fourth paragraph, "Israel was to be the light..." thoughts?

What impaired Israel from fulfilling their mission of being lights to the world about the true nature of God and His kingdom?

- False ideas about God
- Failure to move past symbolism
- Believing ritual had saving power
- Pride and selfishness
- Legal religious constructs
- Misunderstanding God's kingdom and law, believing God operated like human governments and required appeasement
- Believing the rituals were primarily a means to save themselves, i.e. a religion focused on personal salvation, rather than realizing that it was all designed to reveal God to them

Do we struggle with any of these problems today?

Do we:

- Have False ideas about God
- Fail to move past symbolism
- Believe ritual had saving power
- Struggle with pride and selfishness
- Promote legal religious constructs
- Misunderstand God's kingdom and law,
- Believe God operates like human governments and requires appeasement
- Teach a religion focused on personal salvation, that puts self at the center, rather than keeping the truth about God at the center

MONDAY

Read first paragraph, "Christ wanted His own..." thoughts?

What about us? Do we need to wake up? Is the church asleep? Remember the parable of the 10 virgins, both the wise and foolish were asleep.

What puts us to sleep?

- Boredom
- Fatigue
- Anesthesia

Boredom – the long delay, get stuck in routines, forget our mission, and get caught up into a boring, uninspiring religious routine. Our minds shut down, we quit growing, quit advancing, quit working for God’s kingdom, we become complacent and fall asleep.

Fatigue – we get busy with our responsibilities in the world, or perhaps the church, and exhaust ourselves and stop our growth and ministry

Anesthesia – wine – not mere physical alcohol and drugs, but spiritual wine, false doctrines that put people to sleep – the wine of Babylon, the idea that God’s kingdom is like Rome, imposed law, which requires God to punish, but no worries, you can accept a legal payment, made by Jesus and you are saved. Boom, go to sleep now, all is secure.

Read bottom green section, “What about us?...”

Thoughts? What advantages did the Jews have?

- Sabbath
- Feast Days
- Sanctuary service
- Inspired writings
- Prophets
- Jesus Himself in person
- The 10 Commandments
- The civil and health laws

How were these advantages? How were they turned to be a disadvantage? What advantages do we have?

- The Inspired record
- History of Patriarchs, Prophets, OT, Jesus, Dark Ages
- Science
- The 10 Commandments
- Modern technologies in spreading the message
- Understanding of God’s design and methods
- Other advantages

Are any of these turned to disadvantages? How?

WEDNESDAY

Read first paragraph, “Some of the leaders’...” thoughts? Why? What caused their animosity and hatred of Jesus?

They also said He had a devil and was a Samaritan, what was the purpose of saying such things? To discredit Him and undermine other people’s views of Him and get others to not listen to Him.

Is this strategy used today? How? Calling people a heretic, or...

And Jesus countered their attacks by pointing out what mattered was character not ethnic origin. Does this apply today? Does character matter or is it genetics? What is more important, character or day of worship, character or denominational affiliation, character or diet?

Are we vulnerable to be just as biased and prejudiced as they, only our biases are related to doctrines and church affiliations and religious practices, yet we still fail to see what matters is character. Are we like Jesus, has fear and selfishness been replaced with love and trust?

THURSDAY

Read first paragraph, “God’s final work...” thoughts?

What is the message that is to penetrate all racial, ethnic, national and geographic boundary?

It is the message of the Creator – the first angel, to worship the Designer, a call to design law, the protocols upon which life is constructed, and a refocusing on God’s true character and methods of love. This penetrates all these divisions. But Roman imposed law causes division, focuses on self, and stirs up contention.

It doesn’t matter ones race, geographic location, denomination – every human needs to breath, drink water, eat food, there are design laws upon which life is created, break those laws and suffer the painful results. We are called to present God as creator and His law as the protocols of life and show people how only in harmony with God’s design is there life, health and happiness.

We are to call people to reject the dictator views of God, to reject the imposed law construct the penal substitutionary lie that has infected Christianity and obstructed Christ’s return.

Discipleship Lesson 11 1Q 2014

Discipling Spiritual Leaders

Before we start class I wanted to share another email I received. I am getting about 100 emails or more per week from around the world. This is another representative of what we are experiencing all over.

I can't believe how well your DVDs took off in our church. Glory to God. I gave out fifty copies in Sabbath School within twenty minutes more and more members were requesting DVDs. The next Sabbath other church members were coming to me reporting, "I heard some good news about the DVDs you gave out, do you have anymore?" One of my spiritual mentors reported that this was the most powerful messages he has ever received and feels blessed for receiving it. I truly believe this message is right on time, as many people are turning away from the church due to the presentation of dictator God. So many forget we serve a God of love. People's faces are changed after viewing this DVD, I know God inspired you to create these series. Thank You Tim. I have bought 5 copies of "The God Shaped Brain" and I wont stop purchasing this book until every Sabbath School Teacher, Elder, Pastor and leaders in the church has one. It will take me some time, but it is my mission. Can you send me 50 more copies of the "God and Your Brain DVD", "Healing The Mind DVD" and "Truth, Love and Freedom Bible Study Guides. I am taking up a collection of a free will offering to send your ministry as you are much needed in this day and time. – Massachusetts

Read first paragraph, "Christ's earthly sojourn..." thoughts? Whom should Jesus select? What qualities should the persons possess that would be selected to be Jesus' Apostles?

Here is a view from more than a century ago:

The work of Jesus was to reveal the character of the Father, and to unfold the truth which He Himself had spoken through prophets and apostles; but there was found no place for the truth in those wise and prudent men. Christ, the Way, the Truth, and the Life, had to pass by the self-righteous Pharisees, and take his disciples from unlearned fishers and men of humble rank. These who had never been to the rabbis, who had never sat in the schools of the prophets, who had not been members of the Sanhedrin, whose hearts were not bound about with their own ideas,--these He took and educated for His own use. He could make them as new bottles for the new wine of His kingdom. These were the babes to whom the Father could reveal spiritual things; but the priests and rulers, the scribes and Pharisees, who claimed to be the depositaries of knowledge, could give no room for the principles of Christianity, afterward taught by the apostles of Christ. The chain of truth, link after link, was given to those who realized their own ignorance, and were willing to learn of the great Teacher. {5BC 1088.9}

Whom should Jesus choose?

I like to remember, while Jesus did not choose one theologian to be amongst His Apostles, He did choose a physician – Dr. Luke! He wasn't against education, only certain types of education. Notice who else He chose, and see if we can discern what their educations had in common?

He also chose an accountant, Matthew, and fishermen, and Jesus Himself was a carpenter.

What do all these professions have in common? What professions did He noticeably not choose?

- Lawyers
- Theologians
- Priests

What is the significant difference between the education of doctors, accountants, fishermen, carpenters and lawyers, theologians and priests?

The first group all worked with and were educated to understand natural law:

- Doctors – the laws of health
- Accountants – mathematics
- Fisherman and carpenters the laws of nature and cause and effect

But lawyers, theologians and priests were all educated on imposed law; they worked in an arbitrary world of rules, restrictions, rituals, and legalities, that had been disconnected from the reality of the fabric of the cosmos. Thus, they presented things disconnected from their true importance, and taught an arbitrary deity. Thus these professions are particularly vulnerable to distorting the truth about God.

Jesus chose those who were open and connected to God's law in nature, His law of design, and thus with these minds he could enlighten with the greater truths of the Cosmic Conflict and the purpose of His mission.

So, what other qualities did His Apostles possess?

- Teachableness
- An open mind
- A desire to know God
- A longing to be better people
- A desire to help others
- A willingness to admit they were wrong
- Life experience in the natural world
- Yet all were imperfect, infected with fear and selfishness and in need of renewal of heart

Why do you think Christ chose 12? He didn't choose 10 or 13 or some other number, why 12?

Was it because He was making a statement that He was replacing the 12 tribes of Israel with a new system? As we read last week:

“Consequently, you are no longer foreigners and aliens, but fellow citizens with God's people and members of God's HOUSE built on the foundation of the apostles and prophets, with Christ Jesus himself as the chief cornerstone. In him the whole building is joined together and rises to become a HOLY TEMPLE in the Lord. And in him YOU too [you all] are being built together to become a dwelling in which God lives by his Spirit.” Ephesians 2:19-22.

Was Jesus building His true House, of which the house built by the Jews was only a little theater?

Read second paragraph, “Choosing effectively...” thoughts?

Did Jesus choose Judas? Here is an historic SDA perspective:

While Jesus was preparing the disciples for their ordination, one who had not been summoned urged his presence among them. It was Judas Iscariot, a man who professed to be a follower of Christ. He now came forward, soliciting a place in this inner circle of disciples. With great earnestness and apparent sincerity he declared, "Master, I will follow Thee whithersoever Thou goest." Jesus neither repulsed nor welcomed him, but uttered only the mournful words: "The foxes have holes, and the birds of the air have nests; but the Son of man hath not where to lay His head." Matthew 8:19, 20.

Judas believed Jesus to be the Messiah; and by joining the apostles, he hoped to secure a high position in the new kingdom. This hope Jesus designed to cut off by the statement of His poverty. {DA 293.2}

What motive did Judas have for joining the apostles? Greed, selfishness, self-advancement.

What do you think about Christ's response, neither welcoming, nor rejecting, but articulating His earthly poverty?

Consider the different reactions and potential outcomes had Jesus done the following:

- Welcomed Judas – what is the potential result? Judas feels validated in his motive, and the other disciples have even more confidence in him
- Reject Judas – Judas feels rejected, and accuses Jesus of being just as bigoted as the Pharisees, not truly open to all who want to come to Him
- Tell Judas of His poverty – provide evidence for Judas to evaluate and consider, which has the potential to lead Judas to reexamine his motives, repent and become a true follower, or realize Jesus is not the worldly messiah he is looking for and thus, on his own, leave.

Does God work with us like this today? Give us evidence and leave it to us to consider its import and draw our conclusions?

Read third paragraph, “Having chosen...” Thoughts?

What is “spiritual authority?” Here is another historic SDA perspective:

Christ's words contain nothing that is nonessential. The Sermon on the Mount is a wonderful production, yet so simple that a child can study it without misunderstanding. The mount of beatitudes is a symbol of the spiritual elevation on which Christ ever stood. Every word He uttered came from God, and He spoke with the authority of heaven. "The words that I speak unto you," He said, "they are spirit, and they are life." John 6:63. His teaching is full of ennobling, saving truth, to which men's highest ambitions and most profound investigations can bear no comparison. He was alive to the terrible ruin hanging over the race, and He came to save souls by His own righteousness, bringing to the world definite assurance of hope and complete relief. {Counsels to Parents and Teachers 439.1}

What do you hear described? A list of rules, or something more? Is heavenly authority the authority of raw power, intimidation, and ability to destroy the disobedient? Or is it something else?

What do you think of this warning from Conflict and Courage:

No error accepted by the Christian world strikes more boldly against the authority of Heaven, . . . none is more pernicious in its results, than the modern doctrine, so rapidly gaining ground, that God's law is no longer binding upon men. {CC 210.3}

The last great conflict between truth and error is but the final struggle of the long-standing controversy concerning the law of God. Upon this battle we are now entering. {CC 210.5}

What law? And nothing strikes more boldly against the authority of Heaven than to attack God's law – i.e. How is God's law attacked and how does that strike at the authority of heaven?

What does it mean to suggest that God's law is no longer binding on men? Do they suggest the law of gravity is no longer binding, or the laws of health, or the laws of thermodynamics. So, to suggest the law of God is no longer binding on me, means what? It means they have attacked God's law much more perniciously than simply saying we don't have to obey. God's law is attacked by replacing the design protocols, the parameters upon which life is built, with the idea of an Imperial Roman law, which is a list of rules without inherent consequence.

And many Christians fall right into the changed law trap arguing how this commandment or that commandment was changed by God, but is an arbitrary test of obedience. In other words, many of those arguing for the honor of God's law are actually spreading the lie and don't even know it.

How does the idea that God's law is not the design protocols but imposed rules attack the authority of heaven?

It represents God as dictator, representing His law as a list of rules that the rule giver must externally enforce, strikes at heaven's authority because it is a lie, and as such breaks trust and incites rebellion; AND because it is a violation of the law of liberty which incites rebellion, and because it misrepresents God as a dictator which instills rebellion.

Here is from a book called The Desire of Ages:

There stood the young Galilean [Jesus], bearing no earthly honor or royal badge. Surrounding Him were priests in their rich apparel, rulers with robes and badges significant of their exalted station, and scribes with scrolls in their hands, to which they made frequent reference. Jesus stood calmly before them, with the dignity of a king. As one invested with the authority of heaven, He looked unflinchingly upon His adversaries, who had rejected and despised His teachings, and who thirsted for His life. They had assailed Him in great numbers, but their schemes to ensnare and condemn Him had been in vain. Challenge after challenge He had met, presenting the pure, bright truth in contrast to the darkness and errors of the priests and Pharisees. He had set before these leaders their real condition, and the retribution sure to follow persistence in their evil deeds. The warning had been faithfully given. Yet another work remained for Christ to do. Another purpose was still to be accomplished. {DA 610.1}

The interest of the people in Christ and His work had steadily increased. They were charmed with His teaching, but they were also greatly perplexed. They had respected the priests and rabbis for their intelligence and apparent piety. In all religious matters they had ever yielded implicit obedience to their authority. Yet they now saw these men trying to cast discredit upon Jesus, a teacher whose virtue and knowledge shone forth the brighter from every assault. They looked upon the lowering countenances of the priests and elders, and there saw discomfiture and confusion. They marveled that the rulers would not believe on Jesus, when His teachings were so plain and simple. They themselves knew not what course to take. With eager anxiety they watched the movements of those whose counsel they had always followed. {DA 611.1}

What authority did Jesus wield? The authority of heaven, which is what? Truth and love, and He exposed the true “condition” of the Jewish leadership – which is what? A diagnosis, it is reality, it is not a legal condition, but a state of being. Their hearts were deviant from God’s design. They were in a terminal condition and believed in a false remedy, thus they only worsened. The retribution, was not an imposed punishment by God, but the inevitable pain and suffering that unremedied sin brings.

Christ’s teaching was simple, and appealed to the people. What obstructed the people from fully embracing His teaching? The church leadership, the theologians, why? Because the people had been conditioned to surrender their thinking to others. They had been deceived into believing that authority rests in rank, church office, or position, rather than learning that genuine authority is in truth, the reality of the cosmos, which originates in God and His character of love!

MONDAY

Read first paragraph, “Information was an...” thoughts? Do you agree with this? Is there a difference between information and truth? What is the difference between information and truth?

What did Jesus mean when He said, “You will know the truth and the truth will set you free”? Jn 8:32

What of this commentary on the work of the Holy Spirit:

The Comforter is called "the Spirit of truth." His work is to define and maintain the truth. He first dwells in the heart as the Spirit of truth, and thus He becomes the Comforter. There is comfort and peace in the truth, but no real peace or comfort can be found in falsehood. It is through false theories and traditions that Satan gains his power over the mind. By directing men to false standards, he misshapes the character. Through the Scriptures the Holy Spirit speaks to the mind, and impresses truth upon the heart. Thus He exposes error, and expels it from the soul. It is by the Spirit of truth, working through the word of God, that Christ subdues His chosen people to Himself. {DA 671.1}

Can bad information, lies, damage? Can they destroy? Can good information, truth, heal?

The lesson points out that "Biblical knowledge coupled with God's Divine Spirit form a spiritual combination that transforms individuals and societies."

Is Biblical knowledge different from information?

The fourth paragraph states, "Christianity is not..." thoughts? What is the balance between truth, knowledge, facts and experience?

The integrative evidence based approach, requires harmony of all three. Satan wants to split the three threads, experience alone leads to mysticism or fanaticism, whereas scientific facts alone lead to godlessness, Biblical facts alone lead to distortions, confusion and ultimately false religions that misrepresent God and abuse others.

We need to harmonize the three threads.

TUESDAY

Read second paragraph, "Twenty-first century disciple-makers..." thoughts?

Absolutely, we need to be acquainted with Scripture, but what does it mean authentic spiritual information?

Are they saying if it doesn't come from Scripture it is not authentic spiritual information? And if not authentic, then what? Fraudulent? Are they suggesting that Scripture is the only place for authentic spiritual information?

But, can the Scripture also be a place where people claim authority for false spiritual ideas?

Let's give an example – there is a spiritual idea taught by some that God predetermines who will be saved and who will be lost, some even teach God predetermines who will be raped, who will be molested, who will go to prison, who will die in car crashes, that we have no free will choice, God is Sovereign and thus is in control and has predetermined some for eternal hell and others for eternal salvation.

They use texts like:

What then shall we say? Is God unjust? Not at all! ¹⁵ For he says to Moses,
“I will have mercy on whom I have mercy, and I will have compassion on whom I have compassion.”

¹⁶ It does not, therefore, depend on man’s desire or effort, but on God’s mercy. ¹⁷ For the Scripture says to Pharaoh: “I raised you up for this very purpose, that I might display my power in you and that my name might be proclaimed in all the earth.” ¹⁸ Therefore God has mercy on whom he wants to have mercy, and he hardens whom he wants to harden. Rom 9:16-18

Those who teach predestination would say they are basing their beliefs upon the Bible. Yet, those who teach freewill choice, that we decide our destiny, not God, use passages like:

“For God so loved the world that he gave his one and only Son, that whoever believes in him shall not perish but have eternal life. ¹⁷ For God did not send his Son into the world to condemn the world, but to save the world through him. ¹⁸ Whoever believes in him is not condemned, but whoever does not believe stands condemned already because he has not believed in the name of God’s one and only Son. Jn 3:16-18

How can we tell which view is right, both say they use the Bible?

We use the integrative evidenced based approach. We examine the Scripture in light of God’s design laws. One of those laws, the law of liberty. Love cannot exist in an atmosphere without freedom. Once we understand this law, it is a predictable and reproducible law, then we know that the interpretation of Scripture that violates freedom cannot be right, we must find another understanding. Also, what kind of being would God be, if He predetermined everyone’s choices?

So how do we understand the Romans text? From my paraphrase:

^{9:14} How shall we interpret this? Is God unfair? Is God arbitrary or unjust? Absolutely not! In no way! ¹⁵ For he says to Moses,

“I choose to be merciful to all mankind, and I will have compassion on the entire human race.”

^{9:16} Our healing doesn’t depend on some effort, desire or work on our part, but on the fact that God is merciful and offers the Remedy freely to everyone. ¹⁷ For the Scripture says of Pharaoh: “I raised you up so that I might pour out my truth upon you and that my character might be known throughout the entire world. And even though you resisted me and fought against me I was patient and merciful with you.” ¹⁸ Therefore, God is merciful to whom he chooses, and stern to those he chooses.

Were God’s actions to Pharaoh merciful or unmerciful to him? Is a parent merciful or unmerciful to give their child vaccines? If your 3 y/o child is playing with lighter fluid and matches and you take them with a severe chastisement are you being merciful or unmerciful?

What was Pharaoh doing before God sent Moses? And because God's universe operates upon design law, what impact does worshipping false God's have upon the worshipper? It is destructive, damages the mind, warps the character and ultimately destroys the individual.

Was God's actions against Egypt punishments or therapeutic interventions to reveal the impotence of the Egyptian god's and lead Pharaoh out of darkness, where his terminal condition was only worsening, into the truth where he could experience eternal healing?

This week Dr. George Graves sent me an article I had not come across before, one of the historic documents filled with great insights. Here is a portion:

"Then opened he their understanding, that they might understand the Scriptures." Before this opening of their understanding, the disciples had not understood the spiritual meaning of what Christ had taught them. And it is necessary now that the minds of God's people should be opened to understand the Scriptures. To say that a passage means just this and nothing more, that you must not attach any broader meaning to the words of Christ than we have in the past, is saying that which is not actuated by the Spirit of God. The more we walk in the light of the truth, the more we shall become like Christ in spirit in character and in the manner of our work, and the brighter will the truth become to us. As we behold it in the increasing light of revelation, it will become more precious than we first estimated it from a casual hearing or examination. The truth, as it is in Jesus, is capable of constant expansion, of new development, and like its divine Author it will become more precious and beautiful; it will constantly reveal deeper significance, and lead the soul to aspire for more perfect conformity to its exalted standard. Such understanding of the truth will elevate the mind and transform the character to its divine perfection.... {RH, October 21, 1890 par. 1}

It is not God that puts the blinder before the eyes of men or makes their hearts hard; it is the light which God sends to his people, to correct their errors, to lead them in safe paths, but which they refuse to accept,—it is this that blinds their minds and hardens their hearts. They choose to turn from the light, to stubbornly walk in sparks of their own kindling, and the Lord positively declares that they shall lie down in sorrow. When one ray of light which the Lord sends is not acknowledged, there is a partial benumbing of the spiritual perceptions, and the second revealing of light is less clearly discerned, and so the darkness will constantly increase until it is night to the soul. Christ said, "How great is that darkness!" {RH, October 21, 1890 par. 3}

What kind of law is being described here?

Did God harden Pharaoh's heart? Without the truth presented Pharaoh would have had no opportunity to reject it and his heart would not have been as hard as it ended up. Did God present the truth to Pharaoh for the purpose of hardening his heart? No! Who was responsible for the hardening of Pharaoh's heart?

So, to whom does God want to have mercy? Everyone! And to whom does God want to harden – from His heart motive, no one, but from the outworking of His law of love and liberty, God wants people to be free and therefore experience what their freedom brings.

What makes an authentic Spiritual experience? The Holy Spirit – without the Holy Spirit the Scriptures are not useful, without the Holy Spirit church is not helpful, without the Holy Spirit prayer is not beneficial, what about Christ's death, can we benefit from it without the Holy Spirit?

Here is a historic Adventist View:

The Holy Spirit was the highest of all gifts that He could solicit from His Father for the exaltation of His people. The Spirit was to be given as a regenerating agent, and without this the sacrifice of Christ would have been of no avail. The power of evil had been strengthening for centuries, and the submission of men to this satanic captivity was amazing. Sin could be resisted and overcome only through the mighty agency of the Third Person of the Godhead, who would come with no modified energy, but in the fullness of divine power. It is the Spirit that makes effectual what has been wrought out by the world's Redeemer. It is by the Spirit that the heart is made pure. Through the Spirit the believer becomes a partaker of the divine nature. Christ has given His Spirit as a divine power to overcome all hereditary and cultivated tendencies to evil, and to impress His own character upon His church. {DA 671.2}

Of the Spirit Jesus said, "He shall glorify Me." The Saviour came to glorify the Father by the demonstration of His love; so the Spirit was to glorify Christ by revealing His grace to the world. The very image of God is to be reproduced in humanity. The honor of God, the honor of Christ, is involved in the perfection of the character of His people. {DA 671.3}

"When He [the Spirit of truth] is come, He will reprove the world of sin, and of righteousness, and of judgment." The preaching of the word will be of no avail without the continual presence and aid of the Holy Spirit. This is the only effectual teacher of divine truth. Only when the truth is accompanied to the heart by the Spirit will it quicken the conscience or transform the life. One might be able to present the letter of the word of God, he might be familiar with all its commands and promises; but unless the Holy Spirit sets home the truth, no souls will fall on the Rock and be broken. No amount of education, no advantages, however great, can make one a channel of light without the co-operation of the Spirit of God. The sowing of the gospel seed will not be a success unless the seed is quickened into life by the dew of heaven. Before one book of the New Testament was written, before one gospel sermon had been preached after Christ's ascension, the Holy Spirit came upon the praying apostles. Then the testimony of their enemies was, "Ye have filled Jerusalem with your doctrine." Acts 5:28. {DA 671.4}

Read first paragraph, "It is of no small..." thoughts?

Why were they not graduates from the Jewish educational system? Why did Jesus not go to that system, they wanted him at age 12, why didn't he attend?

Here is another historic view:

The child Jesus did not receive instruction in the synagogue schools. His mother was His first human teacher. From her lips and from the scrolls of the prophets, He learned of heavenly things. The very words which He Himself had spoken to Moses for Israel He was now taught at His mother's knee. As He advanced from childhood to youth, He did not seek the schools of the rabbis. He needed not the education to be obtained from such sources; for God was His instructor. {DA 70.1}

The question asked during the Saviour's ministry, "How knoweth this man letters, having never learned?" does not indicate that Jesus was unable to read, but merely that He had not received a rabbinical education. John 7:15. Since He gained knowledge as we may do, His intimate acquaintance with the Scriptures shows how diligently His early years were given to the study of God's word. And spread out before Him was the great library of God's created works. He who had made all things studied the lessons which His own hand had written in earth and sea and sky. Apart from the unholy ways of the world, He gathered stores of scientific knowledge from nature. He studied the life of plants and animals, and the life of man. From His earliest years He was possessed of one purpose; He lived to bless others. For this He found resources in nature; new ideas of ways and means flashed into His mind as He studied plant life and animal life. Continually He was seeking to draw from things seen illustrations by which to present the living oracles of God. The parables by which, during His ministry, He loved to teach His lessons of truth show how open His spirit was to the influences of nature, and how He had gathered the spiritual teaching from the surroundings of His daily life. {DA 70.2}

Every child may gain knowledge as Jesus did. As we try to become acquainted with our heavenly Father through His word, angels will draw near, our minds will be strengthened, our characters will be elevated and refined. We shall become more like our Saviour. And as we behold the beautiful and grand in nature, our affections go out after God. While the spirit is awed, the soul is invigorated by coming in contact with the Infinite through His works. Communion with God through prayer develops the mental and moral faculties, and the spiritual powers strengthen as we cultivate thoughts upon spiritual things. {DA 70.4}

Did you notice Jesus not only studied Scripture, but science and nature as well and integrated them in His teaching? Did you also notice that each of us can learn this way as well?

Here is another historic perspective:

Jesus did not go to these schools, for they taught many things that were not true. Instead of God's Word, the sayings of men were studied, and often these were contrary to that which God had taught through His prophets. {The Story of Jesus 30.4}

God Himself by His Holy Spirit instructed Mary how to bring up His Son. Mary taught Jesus from the Holy Scriptures, and He learned to read and study them for Himself. {SJ 30.5}

Jesus also loved to study the wonderful things which God had made, in the earth and in the sky. In this book of nature He saw the trees and plants and animals, and the sun and the stars. {SJ 30.6}

Day by day He watched them, and tried to learn lessons from them, and to understand the reason of things. {SJ 30.7}

Holy angels were with Him, and helped Him to learn from these things about God. Thus, as He grew in height and strength, He grew also in knowledge and wisdom. {SJ 30.8}

Every child may gain knowledge as Jesus did. We should spend our time in learning only that which is true. Falsehood and fables will do us no good. {SJ 30.9}

Only the truth is of any value, and this we may learn from God's Word and from His works. As we study these things the angels will help us to understand. {SJ 31.1}

Once again what method did Jesus use? The Integrative-Evidence Based approach. One of the reasons we have such problems with distorted views about God in the church today is the theory of Sola Scriptura, that we can only use Scripture and other threads of evidence should be excluded. This is false. We are not to exclude or discard or in any way devalue Scripture, but our understanding of Scripture must be harmonized with nature and experience.

Jesus also studied as a child to understand the reason for things, what does this mean? It means there are reasons, that God's laws are not lists of rules, but actual protocols upon which life is built. Thus, nature reveals it.

Christianity has been so infected with Imperial Roman law concepts that we have forgotten so much.

The schools in Jesus' day had become infected with so many distortions about God that they were ineffective in teaching and actually darkened minds. Jesus said of the Pharisees that when they won a convert they made him twice the son of hell, how? By darkening their mind with useless ideas and distortions about God.

Are our schools in danger of this? Do we have distortions about God being taught in our schools? Are we teaching our young people to avoid integrating the three threads of evidence? Are we teaching them to believe things that don't make sense? Are we teaching ideas that faith doesn't require evidence, that we shouldn't ask questions, we should just take the Bible as it reads?

What are these teachers afraid of? The truth sets free, and loses nothing by close investigation and inquiry, but lies, falsehood, distortion, misunderstanding all get exposed with investigation of evidence.

The lesson points out that Jesus was not against education, or those who were educated. What was Jesus against in regard to education? He was against false education, i.e. teaching lies, teaching distortions, teaching faulty methods and principles, but not true education which teach His methods, strengthen the mind, and ability to discern.

But solid food is for the mature, who by constant use have trained themselves to distinguish good from evil. Heb 5:14

THURSDAY

Read first paragraph, “Future generations...” thoughts? Does the success of a method mean it should be studied and practiced? If so, which has more adherents, Christianity, or Eastern Meditation practices? Which has thus far been more successful?

We need to study methods that are in harmony with God’s methods, character and principles, not simply on how it turns out.

Throughout earth’s history how many have actually usually been on God’s side?

- Noah’s preaching – how many responded?
- Moses teaching – how did the generations do?
- Elijah – how many on his side?
- What about fertility worship? How well did it do through the generation? Even today, 68% of Christian men use porn on a regular basis. The advertising industry uses sex to sell, should we use this because it gets such good sales results?

The third paragraph states: “Jesus established His kingdom and exemplified the principles that would perpetuate its growth.”

What is His kingdom and what are His principles?

- Truth
- Love
- Freedom
- Honesty
- Industry
- Determination
- Hope
- Patience
- Kindness
- Compassion
- Helpfulness
- Accountability
- Sewing and reaping/ allowing people to reap results in order to learn
- Humility
- Others?

Discuss question 3

Discipleship Lesson 12 1Q 2014

The Harvest and the Harvesters

We continue to receive numerous emails each week. Here is one from the many that came in this week that I thought fit well with this week's lesson (emphasis by author of email):

I thought that you might find it interesting that I am listening to your Sabbath School discussions and making an attempt to bring those concepts and discussions to my Sabbath School class of 11 and 12 year olds. The lessons that are in the quarterly for them do not seem to hold their attention, much.

I am finding that they do not have a problem becoming engaged in thought when we study about the character of God, and even how we are to behave and disciple others when we understand a bit about that character. I believe that this is crucial for their spiritual development that we help them find as many answers as possible to their questions in a way that makes sense and gets them to examine their own beliefs and how it affects their interactions with people and with their God.

As you can imagine, some of these children have been schooled very well in "Adventist doctrine", and they can spout out pat answers with the best of them. But now, when certain concepts or questions are put to them, they have to put some energy into their answers. We sit at a round table so that each child feels equal and has an equal chance to be heard. It is great to see the wheels turning.

Even the boy who supposedly has a hyperactivity disorder sits there and interacts as a normal kid raising some pretty thought-provoking questions, himself.

I have asked them whether our discussions help them to have a better understanding of why there is a struggle for our race, and why there is a controversy about God at all, and they all invariable answer with a relieved, "Yes!"

These children are now even asking that we pray that some of the adults they know will come to understand God as the benevolent Father, and not the angry judge that their parents fear.

I feel that this needs to be brought to our children. I sense that if more children had had this sort of presentation of the reasons why Christ died, and all that it represents, rather than the angry God seeking blood to pay for sins routine, we probably would have retained far more children in this church than we have. Jesus becomes more relevant, and so does His Father become more real to us when they are presented with this integrated approach.*

There are several of us in [our] church that have wondered whether we could do a bible study for the adults, using your seminars that are on line. We want to get your permission that this is acceptable to you.

I also just have to tell you that there is a preacher's wife from the local Pentecostal church who has a women's bible study, and who has benefited greatly by listening to and sharing your DVD on God and the Brain, which my husband gave to her just a few weeks ago. We are delighted, and so are they.

I just had an emergency patient, today, (I have no idea of her religion) with whom I fell into a conversation about why there were so many wars in the Old Testament and not in the New. I proposed the idea to her that I had learned from Dr. Jennings, which makes perfectly good sense. She literally "lit up" with understanding and a new concept of the love of God. She said she got "goose bumps" just thinking about how God loves us that much! We talked about this longer than it took me to take care of her emergency procedure! I gave her a "God and Your Brain" DVD that I had in my car and just told her to pass it forward when she was done. She said she would.

This is a healing message, and I feel privileged to pass it along.

Happy us, that we have such a God!

For those who want to present this material, on the God and Your Brain DVD set we have included PDF files with the entire slide deck so you can use them and present them yourself. So if you have one of the DVD sets, then you have the slides. Please be encouraged to go and share!

SABBATH

Read first paragraph, "In many respects..." How would you describe the kingdom of God? What are the methods God uses to promote His kingdom?

I just love this description of God's methods:

God could have destroyed Satan and his sympathizers as easily as one can cast a pebble to the earth; but He did not do this. Rebellion was not to be overcome by force. Compelling power is found only under Satan's government. The Lord's principles are not of this order. His authority rests upon goodness, mercy, and love; and the presentation of these principles is the means to be used. God's government is moral, and truth and love are to be the prevailing power. {DA 759.1}

Thoughts? Do you agree? Or do you think God does use coercive power, threats, intimidation and inflicted death to win the war?

Why can God NOT win the war by the use of physical power? What does a win look like for God? Intelligent beings love and trust Him completely and therefore live in harmony with His design for life. Can love and trust be obtained through force?

So how do we take the principles of truth, love, mercy, goodness and put them into practical application?

How many of those who teach a god who is punitive, one who must inflict torture, would argue with this? In other words, how many would say God is not a God of truth, love, mercy or goodness? The lie about God isn't between the God of love and a god who is merely power and unforgiveness etc. The lie is when they continue to promote the idea that God is love, truth, mercy and goodness, but then add things like He is also just, and then define justice as human justice of inflicted torment, rather than Godly justice of love and freedom.

This is the rub, many of those who are teaching a theology that misrepresents God don't even know it. This is why Jesus said,

Many will say to me on that day, 'Lord, Lord, did we not prophesy in your name, and in your name drive out demons and perform many miracles?' ²³ Then I will tell them plainly, 'I never knew you. Away from me, you evildoers!' MT 7:22,23

How is it people could dedicate their lives to sharing the gospel, yet be God's enemies?

What would constitute being an enemy of God? Would it not be persons who work against God's methods, principles, character, motives? Would it not be people who misrepresent Him and infect minds with lies about Him that undermine trust, whether the person realizes it or not?

Were the leaders of the Jewish religious system 2000 years ago enemies of God? Did they think they were?

Consider the problem we have with the conflict between Christians and Muslims, how did this happen?

Prior to Constantine, Christians met in homes, lived communally, shared to help each other, refused to war against others, perhaps the closest example of this today would be the Amish.

After Constantine converted, the church changed. It stopped meeting in homes and began meeting in large public buildings, which had been pagan places of worship. We were in Rome a couple of years ago and essentially all the Christian cathedrals had been pagan places of worship and still had statues of many of the Roman gods. Christianity became infected with many pagan beliefs and ideas, but the most pernicious change happened when God's law of love was replaced with the imperial Roman concept of law, imposed rules; and God was seen as a cosmic dictator.

Some have argued that Mohammad was the first protestant – protesting much of this distortion about God. As a result of this change in God's law, from love to imposed rules requiring imposed punishment, Christians didn't go to the Muslims with a message of love, compassion, grace, forgiveness, seeking to love them, but instead sent soldiers to massacre them.

What view of the Christian God do you think the crusaders planted in the minds of Muslims?

Are we any better today? How many Christians would give their lives for a Muslim? Did our leader – Jesus give His life for Muslims? Of course He did!

Do you think history might be different had Christians gone to Muslims with a message of love?

What could we do to insulate, protect, insure we do not find ourselves as one of God's enemies?

If we want to share God's message, using God's principles, might it be helpful to learn of God the way Jesus did when He was a boy? I found this description in a book called The Story of Jesus, written over 100 years ago:

Jesus did not go to these schools, for they taught many things that were not true. Instead of God's Word, the sayings of men were studied, and often these were contrary to that which God had taught through His prophets. {The Story of Jesus 30.4}

God Himself by His Holy Spirit instructed Mary how to bring up His Son. Mary taught Jesus from the Holy Scriptures, and He learned to read and study them for Himself. {SJ 30.5}

Jesus also loved to study the wonderful things which God had made, in the earth and in the sky. In this book of nature He saw the trees and plants and animals, and the sun and the stars. {SJ 30.6}

Day by day He watched them, and tried to learn lessons from them, and to understand the reason of things. {SJ 30.7}

Holy angels were with Him, and helped Him to learn from these things about God. Thus, as He grew in height and strength, He grew also in knowledge and wisdom. {SJ 30.8}

Every child may gain knowledge as Jesus did. We should spend our time in learning only that which is true. Falsehood and fables will do us no good. {SJ 30.9}

Only the truth is of any value, and this we may learn from God's Word and from His works. As we study these things the angels will help us to understand. {SJ 31.1}

What method, according to this author, did Jesus use? The integrative evidence based approach. Notice Jesus learned from God's word, Jesus learned from nature and Jesus studied to know the "reasons" for things.

Do we have any evidence from Scripture to support this conclusion? Yes, the life of Jesus and His methods of teaching. Jesus quoted Scripture, Jesus used lessons from science and nature, and Jesus appealed to their experience.

We can learn as Jesus did, IF, we are willing to open our minds to all the threads of evidence God has given, think for ourselves, and REJECT the false ideas put forward by men that have infected our schools and churches.

Why do so many end up Jesus' enemies in the end? Because they have theologies based on what they think Scripture teaches, beliefs that operate contrary to God's laws in nature and science, and are inconsistent with experience and often unreasonable.

They haven't found the truth, the truth of God's character and design that is the very building blocks upon which reality is constructed. When we find this truth we have real wisdom, real understanding and real harmony with God. And Jesus is the source of this truth as He is the inspiring source for Scripture, the Creator/Designer and the Redeemer.

Thoughts?

The second paragraph states, "Whenever proselytizing displaces repentance, conversion, and spiritual transformation, the mission falters."

I couldn't agree more, well said. Do you think your church leadership would support a series of meetings designed to bring people to the truth about God's character of love, His methods of running the universe, His principles of goodness, mercy and truth, which teach how deviations from God's design are actually destructive, while harmony with God's design is healing (in other words the reason for things), call people to Jesus and harmony with His kingdom, offering baptism into Jesus Christ for those who desire it, but not merely focus on a list of fundamental beliefs or doctrines that one can hold to without actually know God? An evangelistic series focusing on people coming to a healing and transforming experience with God, without requiring a specific denominational affiliation?

Would you like to participate with such an endeavor?

When the Apostles preached they preached Christ, and argued against sects or denominations. In the end, when Jesus returns, how many groups will their be?

Two – and how would you describe those two groups?

- Sheep and goats
- Wheat and tares
- Pure woman and harlot
- Fruitful vine and withered vine
- Saved and lost

And what is it that is the demarcating factor amongst these two groups?
Will it be?

- The method of ritual baptism (immersion vs. sprinkling)?
- Which day one holds sacred?

- What food one eats?
- What clothing or jewelry one wears?
- How one takes communion?
- What one believes about the state of the dead?
- Whether one identifies correctly the king of the north?
- Whether one has the right idea regarding the trinity?
- Whether one has said the sinners prayer?
- Whether one has claimed the blood of Jesus for their sins or not?

What is it that will be the consistent, common, non-negotiable difference between the saved and the lost?

- Character transformation – actually partaking the divine nature, so it is no longer our selfish nature we live by but we have died to self and have been renewed in heart with new motives of love, thus it is Christ living in us.
- The saved will love God and others more than self; they will love the truth and long to grow in it every day, while the lost will love self and reject truth preferring their long held ideas and beliefs.

And how is it possible for any descendant of Adam to experience this change from fear and selfishness to love and trust? Only through the accomplishments of Jesus – He is the way and means of restoration of rightness within us.

Thoughts?

SUNDAY

First paragraph points out that the disciples were to wait for the empowering of the Holy Spirit before they went out to present the gospel. Then it states, “God could have commissioned angels, unassisted by human beings, to broadcast the gospel. Instead, He elected to appoint sinful, erring, unpredictable humans for this sacred calling.” Thoughts?

Does God have reasons for what He does? Has He invited us to, as far as we are able, understand His methods and reasons? (Jn 15:15)

What reason, might God have, for using sinful humans to take the gospel to the world and not unfallen angels?

- For the character development and healing of those taking the message
- To be able to identify with and share a common experience of the pain and despair of sin and the healing found in Christ
- Because God wants conversion, not submission – what would likely happen if an angel appeared with a message?
 - Would people, in general, be as critical?

- Would they be more vulnerable to accepting what is presented without thinking, without reasoning, without investigation?
- And then what happens to the character when we believe things based on someone else's authority, but not actual understanding and agreement? Our development is stunted, our ability to think is impaired, our ability to grow to the full stature of men and women that God designs for us to be is undermined.
- Thus, for the healing and recovery of our God-given capacities, "God chose the foolish things of the world to shame the wise; God chose the weak things of the world to shame the strong." 1Cor 1:27

Thoughts?

Read bottom paragraph, "How many of God's..." This is an excellent point. Just because you have never spoken to large crowds doesn't mean your sharing of the gospel won't impact many people. Consider:

- The woman with two mites
- Mary Magdalene
- Marian and Barbie Fisher
- The person who shared the gospel with Billy Graham, whether his parents, Sunday School Teacher, coach or whomever

But regardless of our sharing of the gospel – it only grows in hearts that are receptive under the influence of the Holy Spirit.

We are not responsible for converting anyone. We are responsible for being open to the work of the Spirit in our lives, for living in harmony with God's design, for studying to understand God's character, methods, and principles to the best of our ability, and for sharing what we know to the best of our ability to others.

We are never responsible for how others respond. Look at how they treated Jesus, was He crucified because He did a poor job of presenting the gospel? Of course not! Likewise, when you find a local pastor, elder, church board, conference committee etc. rejecting you, don't get discouraged or immediately conclude that you have failed, or not presented it right. No, we are responsible for presenting the gospel, the Holy Spirit enlightens and convicts, and others choose how they will respond.

How do we share the gospel?

My mother forwarded an email she recently received. Last year my mother went to the beach in Florida, while there she got to talking to a lady she met there and told her about the God we love and then, as a proud mom, about my book The God-Shaped Brain. She received this email a couple of weeks ago:

I just went to San Francisco and Napa with my husband. I tagged along on a business trip and guess what book I read while I was there – THE GOD SHAPED BRAIN! It is such a great book my husband is reading it now and I want my kids to read it. God has really been doing something in me and healing me from wrong thoughts that I didn't even know I had... I know He used you on the beach that day to tell me about your son's book. I even bought it for a friend of mine who is going thru a really bad divorce. Let me know if he ever comes to Florida to do a conference. It is such a powerful message and I have had many of the same beliefs that he talks about in the book and I could recognize many of the wrong thought processes I have had too. This has been such a difficult season of my life but I know that God has used this book to transform my thoughts. I am ready to move into the next season.

I will keep you and your family in my prayers. Especially Tim because this book can bring such freedom I know the enemy will be on the prowl. Please tell him I said Thank You for writing it.

Do we have to be preachers to share the gospel? My mother chose to share my book, but it doesn't have to be my book that is shared. Share a resource that has been meaningful to you and which you believe will be helpful to the person with whom you are speaking.

MONDAY

Read first paragraph, "Through discourse and example..." Why did Jesus, since He was the Son of God and not only man but fully divine, have to have complete dependence upon the Holy Spirit?

What is the problem with the theology that says Jesus won His victory by the exercise of His divine nature?

Did Jesus win by relying on a power that is unavailable to us? Or did Jesus win His victory by relying on the same power that is available to us?

So, first reason, His victory was through the same resources available to us.

Second reason, "He was tempted in every way just as we are yet without sin" Heb 2:14. What does this mean? That Jesus' victory was achieved via the exercise of His human brain, not His divine self. This is hugely significant – why?

Why was it necessary that Christ achieve the victory by the exercise of His human brain, relying upon the Holy Spirit, rather than via the exercise of His divine power?

- The only way to fix what was broken in the human species was by replacing the law of sin and death with God's law perfectly restored into the heart, mind and being of the human creation. This could only happen by a human being, descended from Adam choosing to live a perfect life via the exercise of human brain. Any other being – angel, beings from other planets etc. would not fix what was broken in humankind.

- Further – it demonstrated that there was no manufacturer’s defect. God did not make Adam and Eve with some inherent flaw such that they were incapable of living in harmony with God’s design.
- Further – He did this with the same resources available to us – He had no advantage, thus through those resources we can experience freedom from the domination and control (NOT the temptation) of fear and selfishness.
- But because He was also fully divine, He had a level of temptation we never have to face – using divine power to advantage self. And because He was fully divine we also learn, by revelation of His conduct, God’s true character and How God wields power. Satan’s argument has always been that God is selfish. His temptations upon Christ were targeted to get Him to use divine power for selfish purposes, thus confirming Satan’s allegations. Jesus destroyed Satan’s lies by never exercising divine power for self.

Read green section at bottom, “How can our anxious...” Anyone want to share what helps them deal with anxiety, restlessness, uncertainty?

- Spend time with God, know Him and His methods
- Trust Him with outcomes
- Allow for possibilities beyond your awareness
- Remember history – we have nothing to fear for the future save we forget how God has led in the past.
- Examine one’s thoughts and replace any distortions or lies with truth
- Forgive if haven’t forgiven
- Repent if haven’t repented
- Lies, unforgiveness and unrepentance all disrupt the salience network and cause ruminating loops of anxiety and negative thinking
- Take focus off self and seek to help others – not to get their love and approval of you, but for the genuine good of others

TUESDAY

Read first two paragraphs, “Peter had expressed...” What are the keys to God’s kingdom?

The words of Christ – meaning what? The truth, reality. The keys to the kingdom of God is reality itself. God is Creator, Builder, Designer – and the key to being part of that kingdom is being in harmony with that kingdom. That requires, we who are deviant, to understand our condition, understand His true character and nature, trust Him for His regenerating Spirit, and choose with the power we have to live, as far as possible, in harmony with His design.

Or, are the keys to the kingdom some institutional authority to grant absolution from sin, condemn to eternal destruction, carry out various ordinances and sacraments? Are the keys of the kingdom found in secret rites, special words or incantations, such as “I baptize you in the name of...” Or are the keys knowing the reality of God’s nature and being? (JN 17:3)

Read last two paragraphs, “Sometimes human leadership...” How is it some seek to subjugate the thoughts, God-given creativity and individuality of others?

Where do we find the balance between leaving others free and engaging in spiritual warfare, as Christ said He did not bring peace but a sword?

Our responsibility is always in governance of self, while leaving others free to choose for themselves. We must also use discernment and wisdom as to where and when we present the truths we love. Jesus counseled not to cast our pearls before swine.

There are some individuals who are not interested in the truth and only interested in seeking some pretext to criticize and attack. A few years ago a pastor came to me and spoke to me asking me what I believe. He presented himself as having sincere interest in understanding our views. But immediately after our conversation went online and twisted what I said and accused me of being a heretic.

How do we deal with such people?

If we use Christ as an example He didn't seek to focus His work on evangelizing religious leaders. When they came to Him He sought to reveal to them the corruption of their motives and hearts through nature, parable, direct testimony and questioning them.

WEDNESDAY

Read top dark section, “But when he saw...” Many of us have been praying this prayer for several years, and God has been answering this as more and more people are sharing this message in their communities.

The lesson goes on to ask how can we find the balance between ministering to the needs of those in the church, while not neglecting evangelism?

What is the purpose of evangelism?

- To indoctrinate to believe certain tenants?
- To convert people to loyalty and membership in certain organizations?
- To lead people to the truth about God and His kingdom such that they freely choose to invite Him into their hearts and live in harmony with His design?

If the third is our goal in evangelism is there any synergy with our ministry to those in the church?

Would it not be an ever increasing unfolding of the truth about God and His character of love and continual growth in our ability to apply His methods to our lives?

Is the church itself not strengthened by outreach? Do we not grow as we share this truth to others? So wouldn't one of the best ways to help the church grow be in helping people learn how to use all their unique experiences to witness God's kingdom?

THURSDAY

Read first paragraph, "Through teaching and personal example..." What do you think about how the lesson suggests Jesus' comments of the prostitutes and tax collectors as being "lost" is a nice way to say sinner?

Was it that, or was Jesus describing reality? They were lost – they were lonely, empty, confused, they didn't have peace inside and the religious system treated them as outcasts without hope – they didn't know where to go or what to do. They didn't understand God's character nor His methods or design for life. And thus they sought to fill the emptiness of soul with worldly things. They were actually lost.

But what about the condition of the church leaders in Christ's day? Were they not even more lost? Why? Because the prostitutes knew they were lost and knew they needed a way out, but couldn't find it without Jesus, but the Pharisees though lost didn't know it, they thought they were actually standing in the light.

In the third paragraph the lesson quotes from a book entitled Christ's Object Lessons: "When you see yourself as a sinner saved only by the love of your heavenly Father, you will have tender pity for others who are suffering in sin. You will no longer meet misery and repentance with jealousy and censure. When the ice of selfishness is melted from your hearts, you will be in sympathy with God, and will share His joy in the saving of the lost."

Thoughts?

Did you notice this author suggests we need to realize we are saved by the love of God, and in this knowledge we experience melting of the selfish heart and have sympathy with God.

Could it be that presenting salvation as being not from the love of God, but from the selfless love of Jesus, who paid a legal penalty to His Father to turn away God's wrath, that we obstruct God's healing plan, we increase fear and selfishness and we fail to experience unity with God?

Discipleship Lesson 13 1Q 2014

The Cost of Discipleship

Here is another email I recently received:

I have been ordering C&R materials & sharing them for a few years, thanks to my Uncle Martin & Aunt Antoinette that introduced us to your ministry several years ago. So many have been so blessed! Another couple in our church has also been so blessed that they have ordered the dvd's several times over the last few months for all the church members & many other folks (tho we got some flack from our pastor) & we continue to run out. :)! I have to share the following message I received from friends many states away that I sent the "God & your brain DVD to. These folks have been SDA's all their lives & have worked for many supporting ministries of the SDA church.

WOW! I'm so glad you shared this with me. We need to have a phone conversation when I get home it's too much to write here but these are an amazing NEED for all of us to see. Toni it is transforming! I have profusely thanked you but you have no idea the depths of which this is touching my family me included. Wish I had heard this long ago as well.

This is only one of many friends that are so blessed and excited about this message! And the fact that you send all this FREE. I have had many that are so touched by that fact, & have started ordering them to share as well! :) We will continue to support & uplift comeandreason in our prayers!! The blessings are evident in the many hearts that are finally able to begin healing!!

Thank you so MUCH!!

SABBATH

The title for this week's lesson immediately reminded me of Rachel's comments last week when she mentioned that before people are baptized they need to consider the cost of commitment to Christ.

And I thought perhaps I had confused things on this point last week so I wanted to clarify with you. Is there a difference in helping someone understand what it means to be a follower of Jesus, how it will impact their life, and indoctrination into a certain set of beliefs?

I think Rachel brought up a great point when cautioning that people need to consider the cost of committing to Christ – but isn't it also true we should not seek to place barriers in the way of people committing to Christ?

How do we strike that balance?

Read first paragraph, “Throughout history...” thoughts?

No doubt many good people have been persecuted for accepting Jesus as their Savior, but, what about:

- The six million Jews killed by the Nazis?
- The Muslims killed by so-called Christians during the crusades?
- What about the 80 million Hindus killed by Muslims between 1000-1500 AD?
- The witches burned by Christians in the colonies?
- The Protestants killed by Catholics and Catholics killed by Protestants?

Does being persecuted set one apart as being on God’s side?

Does the lack of persecution set one apart as being on God’s side?

What does persecution mean? That there is evil and selfishness in the world, and in the world the strong will prey on the weak. Jesus said:

The good man brings good things out of the good stored up in his heart, and the evil man brings evil things out of the evil stored up in his heart. For out of the overflow of his heart his mouth speaks. Lk 6:45

So, when persecution happens what can we say with confidence? That those who are persecuting others are not operating on God’s methods or following God’s purposes.

But, can we draw any conclusions about the righteousness of those being persecuted? No, the attitudes and responses of the persecuted will reveal their character and upon whose methods they operate, not merely the fact they are persecuted.

What sets one apart as being on God’s side?

- Membership in church organization?
- Baptism by immersion?
- Partaking communion?
- Paying tithe?
- Claiming the blood of Jesus as your payment for sin?
- Acknowledging one’s sin before God?
- Or, actually be reborn, having a new heart, trusting God so that one dies to fear and selfishness and is recreated within by the HS.

Read third paragraph, “Despite the promises...” thoughts?

Is there anything wrong with wealth? Is wealth a sign of rightness with God? With what did Satan tempt Christ? Third temptation was with all the riches of the world.

Jesus said, “What good will it be for a man if he gains the whole world, yet forfeits his soul?” MT 16:26

Are there some things worth dying for? What things could be worth dying for?

- Saving people you love?
- Some greater good?
- Standing up for principle, belief, God?
- What about riches, cars, houses, stocks, gold?

Do we ever over-value riches?

THURSDAY

Jump to THURSDAY’s lesson and read second paragraph, “In a sense...” thoughts?

Is this why we follow Jesus for the reward? Is this a good reason to follow Jesus?

Is the kingdom of God done good service when we promote a message that emphasizes either avoiding punishment or seeking eternal reward?

What is the problem with such preaching? To what motivation does it appeal?

Is it not feeding our selfishness under the guise of righteousness?

Here are a couple of historic quotes, written more than 100 years ago:

Love to God is the very foundation of religion. To engage in His service merely from the hope of reward or the fear of punishment would avail nothing. Open apostasy would not be more offensive to God than hypocrisy and mere formal worship.— PP 523

It is not the fear of punishment, or the hope of everlasting reward, that leads the disciples of Christ to follow Him. They behold the Saviour's matchless love, revealed throughout His pilgrimage on earth, from the manger of Bethlehem to Calvary's cross, and the sight of Him attracts, it softens and subdues the soul. Love awakens in the heart of the beholders. They hear His voice, and they follow Him. {DA 480.3}

Why this emphasis on either hope of reward or avoidance of punishment? These are fear based motivation – the appeal to reward is really a way of pointing out what they will lose if they don’t accept the reward, which is a fear based appeal.

Fear is the infection of sin – and perfect love casts out fear. We are to present the truth about God’s character of love, which drives out fear and wins us as loyal friends and devotees to God and His kingdom.

What would you recommend for evangelism? What should we tell someone as the reason to follow Jesus Christ?

- There simply is no better way to live because
 - It is sensible
 - Reasonable
 - The basis of life
 - Health and happiness cannot be achieved outside the parameters upon which life was constructed to operate.
- If someone has a Ford Fusion – what fuel should they put in it? Unleaded gasoline – why? Why should they not put diesel or water in the tank? Because it was not designed to operate on diesel or water.
- Everyone of God’s instructions for us are for our good, to lead us back into the paths of life and health
- Do we present God as Designer and His law as the design protocols for life and thus returning to harmony with Him is the only sensible course?

Even if there were not an eternal reward, is there a better way to live.

SUNDAY

Read Luke 12:49-53:

I have come to bring fire on the earth, and how I wish it were already kindled! ⁵⁰ But I have a baptism to undergo, and how distressed I am until it is completed! ⁵¹ Do you think I came to bring peace on earth? No, I tell you, but division. ⁵² From now on there will be five in one family divided against each other, three against two and two against three. ⁵³ They will be divided, father against son and son against father, mother against daughter and daughter against mother, mother-in-law against daughter-in-law and daughter-in-law against mother-in-law.”

Thoughts? What fire? Was Christ speaking of combustion or something else? Is the fire Christ spoke of here different from the fire in the end of time, the fire that consumes sin?

Here is the same idea from Matthew – does it add any insight?

“Do not suppose that I have come to bring peace to the earth. I did not come to bring peace, but a sword. ³⁵ For I have come to turn “ ‘a man against his father, a daughter against her mother, a daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law—
³⁶ a man’s enemies will be the members of his own household.’
³⁷ “Anyone who loves his father or mother more than me is not worthy of me; anyone who loves his son or daughter more than me is not worthy of me; ³⁸ and anyone who does not take his cross and follow me is not worthy of me.³⁹ Whoever finds his life will lose it, and whoever loses his life for my sake will find it. MT 10:34-49

What is this idea of a sword? Why did Christ say He came to bring a sword, yet when Peter pulled his sword and struck the servant of the High Priest Jesus said: “Put away your sword”? Jn 18:11

Was Jesus speaking of a physical sword or something else? Is Jesus advocating violence or something else?

What is going on? Any other Bible verses come to mind?

Revelation 19:19-21 Then I saw the beast and the kings of the earth and their armies gathered together to make war against the rider on the horse and his army. But the beast was captured, and with him the false prophet who had performed the miraculous signs on his behalf. With these signs he had deluded those who had received the mark of the beast and worshiped his image. The two of them were thrown alive into the fiery lake of burning sulfur. The rest of them were killed with the sword that came out of the mouth of the rider on the horse, and all the birds gorged themselves on their flesh.

Wait a minute – what’s going on? Is God using power to inflict death? Does God use His power to torment, torture and eliminate His opposition?

Notice the sword is coming out of the rider’s mouth, who is the Rider? The Rider is Christ. Do you think He will have a large piece of metal sticking out of His mouth when He returns? No, what comes out of a person’s mouth? Words and what kind of words does Christ always speak? Truth! Therefore, the sword is symbolic of the truth.

“The word of God is living and active. Sharper than any double-edged sword, it penetrates even to dividing soul and spirit, joints and marrow; it judges the thoughts and attitudes of the heart.” Hebrews 4:12

Well how could the word of God kill? Is He condemning them? Is He speaking ugly words? Is He saying “Die, die, die”? Of course not.

The wicked are destroyed “because they did love the truth and thus be saved.” 2 Thes 2:10.

Why would it be that people die because they didn’t love the truth? How is it that truth is a sword that cuts and divides? How does truth destroy? Why do those who prefer lies die when confronted with truth?

The wicked have hardened their minds in lies, solidified their characters in falsehood, warped their selves in deception and the sword of God is the truth that cuts through their lies right to their inner self. And what happens in the mind, heart, character of someone who has lived lies when the truth shines in?

Here is an historic view originally written in 1888 and then republished in 1911, from a book entitled The Great Controversy, what do you think of this description:

God has given to men a declaration of His character and of His method of dealing with sin. "The Lord God, merciful and gracious, long-suffering and abundant in goodness and truth, keeping mercy for thousands, forgiving iniquity and transgression and sin, and that will by no means clear the guilty." Exodus 34:6, 7. "All the wicked will He destroy." "The transgressors shall be destroyed together: the end of the wicked shall be cut off." Psalm 145:20; 37:38. The power and authority of the divine government will be employed to put down rebellion; yet all the manifestations of retributive justice will be perfectly consistent with the character of God as a merciful, long-suffering, benevolent being. {GC 541.2} [Consider – how can the manifestations of retributive justice be consistent with God's character of mercy and benevolence? Which law lens do you look through? If one uses the Imperial Roman lens of imposed rules requiring externally imposed punishment, then one finds conflict. But if one looks through the lens of Design law, the protocols upon which life is built then we find a beautiful harmony.]

God does not force the will or judgment of any. [Would this be true if God were to be the one who inflicts externally imposed pain and death on those who don't obey Him? No, in order for this to be true death and pain cannot come out from God as an infliction upon them.] He takes no pleasure in a slavish obedience. He desires that the creatures of His hands shall love Him because He is worthy of love. [What makes someone worthy of love? Do men who physically abuse their wives engender love?] He would have them obey Him because they have an intelligent appreciation of His wisdom, justice, and benevolence. And all who have a just conception of these qualities will love Him because they are drawn toward Him in admiration of His attributes. {GC 541.3} [When God is presented as a being who is the source of inflicted pain and suffering do those qualities draw forth admiration? Again, which law lens do you see God through?]

The principles of kindness, mercy, and love, taught and exemplified by our Saviour, are a transcript of the will and character of God. Christ declared that He taught nothing except that which He had received from His Father. The principles of the divine government are in perfect harmony with the Saviour's precept, "Love your enemies." [How can we harmonize this idea that the principles of the divine government are to love one's enemies, with the torture and death of God's enemies? If one holds to imposed law one cannot because one sees God as inflicting torture and death, but when we return to design law we see the truth that the torture and death result from unremedied sin not an imposition by God] God executes justice upon the wicked, for the good of the universe, and even for the good of those upon whom His judgments are visited. He would make them happy if He could do so in accordance with the laws of His government and the justice of His character. He surrounds them with the tokens of His love, He grants them a knowledge of His law, and follows them with the offers of His mercy; but they despise His love, make void His law, and reject His mercy. While constantly receiving His gifts, they dishonor the Giver; they hate God because they know that He abhors their sins. The Lord bears long with their perversity; but the decisive hour will come at last, when their destiny is to be decided. Will He then chain these rebels to His side? Will He force them to do His will? {GC 541.4}

Those who have chosen Satan as their leader and have been controlled by his power are not prepared to enter the presence of God. Pride, deception, licentiousness, cruelty, have become fixed in their characters. Can they enter heaven to dwell forever with those whom they despised and hated on earth? Truth will never be agreeable to a liar; meekness will not satisfy self-esteem and pride; purity is not acceptable to the corrupt; disinterested love does not appear attractive to the selfish. What source of enjoyment could heaven offer to those who are wholly absorbed in earthly and selfish interests? {GC 542.1} [What is being described, imposed punishments or natural results?]

Could those whose lives have been spent in rebellion against God be suddenly transported to heaven and witness the high, the holy state of perfection that ever exists there,-- every soul filled with love, every countenance beaming with joy, enrapturing music in melodious strains rising in honor of God and the Lamb, and ceaseless streams of light flowing upon the redeemed from the face of Him who sitteth upon the throne,--could those whose hearts are filled with hatred of God, of truth and holiness, mingle with the heavenly throng and join their songs of praise? Could they endure the glory of God and the Lamb? No, no; [Why not? What prevents them? Is God the obstacle?] years of probation were granted them, that they might form characters for heaven; but they have never trained the mind to love purity; they have never learned the language of heaven, and now it is too late. A life of rebellion against God has unfitted them for heaven. Its purity, holiness, and peace would be torture to them; the glory of God would be a consuming fire. [Why are they tortured? What is the glory of God to them? Is the glory of God harmful to the righteous? What causes the suffering and pain? Is it God or is it unremedied sin in the sinner?] They would long to flee from that holy place. They would welcome destruction, that they might be hidden from the face of Him who died to redeem them. The destiny of the wicked is fixed by their own choice. Their exclusion from heaven is voluntary with themselves, and just and merciful on the part of God. {GC 542.2} [Who fixes or determines the destiny of the wicked? Is it decided in a courtroom in heaven? Or is it decided in the hearts of each person? And what is the determining factor? Character, whether one loves God and His methods or prefers Satan and his methods]

Like the waters of the Flood the fires of the great day declare God's verdict that the wicked are incurable. [Why are the wicked lost because God doesn't want them saved? Why is a gangrenous foot amputated, because doctors don't want to save it? God's verdict is they are incurable – does that mean God's verdict makes them incurable? Is God's verdict the cause of their condition, the reason they die? The typical judicial presentation is that it is Gods' judgment that is carried out upon the wicked. No, God's verdict is His diagnosis, simply pronouncing the reality of the condition of the wicked. They are terminal and beyond healing, incurable and they are in this condition as a result of their own choice, not God's verdict.]

So, what does it mean that Christ brought a sword? A sword to do what? What does it mean to turn family members against each other? On what basis?

Read first paragraph SUNDAY, "Modern television..." thoughts?

What is the paragraph doing? While it is written to make obvious that they are “spinning” the words of Jesus to imply a meaning Jesus never intended, how many modern religious teachers do this very things to the message of Jesus?

Any examples?

MONDAY

Read first paragraph, - “Discipleship...” thoughts? What do you think of the idea that we must be honest in the way we present our message? How would you present our message?

What is righteousness by faith? Is there a difference between righteousness by faith and justification by faith? What is the honest way to communicate this?

- That when we have faith in God that He declares us righteous and we have legal pardon, even though we are not righteous? That Jesus’ righteousness is credited to us and thus God declares we are righteous, even though we are not?
- Or is it legal pardon, forgiveness, that we are pardoned or forgiven if we accept the payment of Christ’s blood to our account?
- Or, justice required God to punish sin and thus He punished the only innocent One in our place to satisfy His justice?

Are any of these ideas honest? No, they are filled with falsehoods and distortions about God and His character and government because they are all based on the wrong concept of God’s law. Every one of these ideas comes through the Imperial Roman view of law.

We get an honest representation of our message when we return to the Creator God and view His law as the law upon which life was built.

- God is love and built His universe to operate upon the principles of love
- Adam was created in harmony with God’s character and principles and was capable of exercising his power of choice to solidify himself into loyalty. But he and Eve chose to believe a lie and instead broke trust and changed themselves to beings infected with fear and selfishness.
- We are born with a condition of fear and selfishness we did not choose, which is deviant from God’s design, and this condition, if not remedied, is terminal.
- God sent Jesus to fix what was broken in humankind and restore the species back into unity with God and His design protocols for life.
- Those who examine the evidence God has provided and choose to believe the truth are won to trust. This is a change of heart from natural state of distrust to trust. God recognizes that trust has aligned the heart with Him, opened the door to the soul and thus God recognizes that the person is no longer against God, but set right, or righteous by faith. In that trust relationship the Holy Spirit is poured out and transforms the inner person.

Read third paragraph, “Before baptism...” What is the cross we must bear? Why must we bear a cross? For what purpose?

This was written more than 100 years ago, what do you think?

The Lord brings His children over the same ground again and again, increasing the pressure until perfect humility fills the mind, and the character is transformed; then they are victorious over self, and in harmony with Christ and the Spirit of heaven. The purification of God's people cannot be accomplished without suffering. . . . He passes us from one fire to another, testing our true worth. True grace is willing to be tried. If we are loath to be searched by the Lord, our condition is one of peril. . . . {ML 92.2}

If when the Lord reveals your errors you do not repent or make confession, his providence will bring you over the ground again and again. You will be left to make mistakes of a similar character, you will continue to lack wisdom, and will call sin righteousness, and righteousness sin. The multitude of deceptions that will prevail in these last days will encircle you, and you will change leaders, and not know that you have done so. {RH, December 16, 1890 par. 19}

What is being described? What is the purpose of bearing a cross? It is for our victory, for our overcoming, for our strengthening, for our development of character.

We only develop, only grow stronger as we choose the right and say no to the wrong. It is true we don't have the power to overcome unaided, but we must make the choice, then God provides the power.

The HS works to enlighten and convict, to bring us to the cross road of decision, then we are left free to make our choice. When we choose the right THEN we receive divine power sufficient for the task, but we don't receive the power until we make the choice. Many people wait until they are empowered to choose.

Others, when God brings them over a difficulty in their character (notice I am not suggesting all trails are for our development, only those which serve to expose character flaw and give us opportunity for overcoming), a place where they are faced again with a choice to do right, but which would cause suffering, some instead of choosing the right and bearing their cross to overcome, use their suffering to garner sympathy and validate themselves as not needing to really change.

There are those here upon whom great light in warnings and reproofs has shone. Whenever reproofs are given, the enemy seeks to create in those reprov'd a desire for human sympathy. Therefore I would warn you to beware lest in appealing to the sympathy of others, and going back over your past trials, you again err on the same points in seeking to build yourselves up. The Lord brings his erring children over the same ground again and again; but if they continually fail to heed the admonitions of his Spirit, if they fail to reform on every point where they have erred, he will finally leave them to their own weakness. {HS 137.4}

Why does God finally leave them, because He is fed up, or because at some point people destroy the faculties that respond to the Spirit of truth and there is nothing more God can do for them?

TUESDAY

Read first two paragraphs, “The cost of discipleship...” thoughts? How do we overcome? Is it force of will? Does will have a role to play? Where do we exercise or will, to do what?

Have you ever heard the greatest battle we will ever fight is with self? What does it mean? Is it limited to addictions?

What about the person who is afraid of rejection – are they fighting with others or self? How?

WEDNESDAY

Read second paragraph, “The rewards...” thoughts? What are the rewards of discipleship?

Well – it depends on whose disciple one is: Are you a disciple of the Designer or dictator?

Disciples of the dictator? What might such disciples look like?

- Rules, regulations, punishments
- Pharisees
- Seek to use force, intimidation, criticism
- What are the rewards to such disciples?
 - Power
 - Ego boosts
 - Worldly honor and recognition
 - Control over others
 - Wont associate with “sinners”

Disciples of the Designer, what might such disciples look like?

- Living in harmony with God’s design
- Principle based living not rules based living
- Loves people
- Compassion on sinners
- Seeks to use resources to help others
- Rules are not an end to themselves but only tools to help the immature

FRIDAY

Read first two paragraphs, “Fire comes down from God...” thoughts? How do you understand this?

What is the purpose of putting these paragraphs at this point in the lesson, when we are talking about counting the cost of discipleship?

Is it to incite fear? What does fear do to love? What does God want from us? Love, can you get love by threat?

Should we interpret such descriptions as God threatening us?

What other ways to understand such statements?

All are punished according to their deeds? How does this work in reality?

Which law does one hold:

Roman Imperial law – then punishment is something inflicted by an external authority upon law breakers. In this view some authorized body investigates the crimes (sins) and determines extent of guilt and then what is proper punishment and then some authorized agency inflicts the punishment upon the law breaker.

Many people criticize the eternal burning view of hell because it makes God out to be sadistic and cruel. But which God is actually worse in character, the God held by those who believe in eternal hell, or those who believe God punishes for days, but no longer than a person deserves?

The eternal hell proponents hold this view because they accept a false premise that God created humans in Eden with immortality. When humans sinned they were already immortal and thus could never die, so if they did not return to loyalty, sadly, not at God’s hand, they would suffer eternal torment separate from Him.

But the limited view some holds proposes a god who must perform a miracle in order to inflict proscribed amounts of torment and torture upon intelligent beings before he kills them.

What is a better view? Seeing God’s law as the design protocols upon which life is constructed to operate. Deviate from these and one punishes oneself and the punishment is according to their deeds.

- The smoker with COPD suffers according to their deeds
- The abuser of others experiences hardness of heart, distrust of others, fear, insecurity, has no real peace, constantly worries about exploitation and retribution – they suffer according to their deed.

2nd Quarter 2014 - Christ and His Law

Lesson 1: Laws in Christ's Day

From the lesson introduction:

““From the very beginning of the great controversy in Heaven, it has been Satan's purpose to overthrow the law of God.”—Ellen G. White, The Great Controversy, p. 582. Why? Because the law, as the foundation of God's government, expresses the moral integrity of the cosmos, and to overthrow that law would be to overthrow the moral order of the creation itself. Morality, though, means the ability to choose right or wrong, good or evil—and the only way for the universe to be moral, to allow the potential for good or evil, for right or wrong, would be for it to have a law that defines them.

“What shall we say, then? Is the law sin? Certainly not! Indeed I would not have known what sin was except through the law. For I would not have known what coveting really was if the law had not said, ‘Do not covet,’ ” (Rom. 7:7). Our universe is moral because God created free beings answerable to His law. If there were no law against coveting, there would be no sin of covetousness. Indeed, God created humans as creatures who can love. Love, though, can't exist without freedom, moral freedom. And moral freedom can't exist without law, moral law. Love rests on freedom, and freedom rests on law.

Hence, the topic for our quarter: Christ and His law. We will study the law, especially the question of why so many Christians—misunderstanding the relationship between law and grace—have fallen in the trap of denying the continued validity of the Ten Commandments and thus, unwittingly, have helped in the attempt to “overthrow” it. The Bible, though, is clear: “For this is the love of God, that we keep his commandments ” (1 John 5:3). The link between our loving God and keeping His commandments is stronger than we realize, until we realize that we can love God because we live in a universe where love can exist. And it can exist because the universe is moral, and that morality is based, at least for us as created beings, on God's moral law—the subject we will now pursue.”

Wheels should already be turning in our minds as to which lens the author views Christ's Law. Natural? or, Imposed? Frankly, we should make this determination whenever we read, hear, or, discuss any spiritual topic.

My first thought after reading the intro was: If Satan's purpose has, from the beginning, been to overthrow the Law of God, then he must have, also, viewed the Law as an imposed law, and not a natural one.

My second thought after reading the intro was the following quote [special thanks to Tim's photographic memory for the reference]:

But in heaven, service is not rendered in the spirit of legality. When Satan rebelled against the law of Jehovah, the thought that there was a law came to the angels almost as an awakening to something unthought of. In their ministry the angels are not as servants, but as sons. There is perfect unity between them and their Creator. Obedience is to them no drudgery. Love for God makes their service a joy. So in every soul wherein Christ, the hope of glory, dwells, His words are re-echoed, “I delight to do Thy will, O My God: yea, Thy law is within My heart.” Psalm 40:8. {MB 109.2}

“In New Testament times, a person could use the common word for “law” (nomos in Greek, lex in Latin, and Torah in Hebrew). In doing so, he or she could mean any one of the many laws. Often, the only example of the exact law depends on what law we are talking about. So, as we study this quarter, we will always need to remember what subject we are dealing with in order to understand best what law is being discussed.

This week’s lesson studies the different laws that worked in the community during the time of Christ and the early church. We will study these different laws to help us to understand God’s moral law, the Ten Commandments.” emphasis added.

We, absolutely, need to remember what law is being discussed.

SUNDAY – ROMAN LAW

The author correctly states that Rome’s legal system is used as a model for many modern legal systems. Why do societies need legal systems? Why do they need governments? Isn’t it because most of mankind cannot self-govern? Will we have a court system in Heaven? Will we have judges in Heaven? Will we have attorneys in Heaven? Trick question. So, if societies need to impose law on their citizens, who are unable to self-govern, then can’t we consider that Earthly governments were a necessity to check the results of sin [living out of harmony with God’s natural Law, e.g. “lawlessness”]?

In the last paragraph: “Many things taking place in the New Testament, from the death of Jesus to the imprisonment of Paul, make much better sense when we understand whatever we can about the environment of their times.” How does our knowledge of Roman Law help us make sense of the death of Jesus?? Who demanded Jesus’ death? Rome, or Israel? When confronted with their choice, what did the Jews publically declare?? What does Jesus’ death show us about imposed law? What does it show us about natural law??

MONDAY – MOSAIC LAW: CIVIC

Mid-2nd paragraph: “When God originally gave the laws to Moses, He envisioned a state where

He would be the head and the people would enforce His legal mandates.” Really?? Was not God’s actual purpose for Israel to reveal HIM to the rest of humanity??

How did Jesus deal with civic Mosaic Law?? Paying taxes? Stoning adulterers? Levirate marriage [widows marry her late husband’s brother]? Divorces? Did He comply with the imposed law of the time or try to reveal something of the natural design protocols He created life to operate within??

We are invited to read: Matt 26:59-61, Heb 10:28, & Deut. 17:2-6, which basically tells us that someone could be stoned to death on the testimony of two or more witnesses. The lesson asks us: “What does this tell us about biblical concepts of justice and fairness?? Thoughts??

Ps. 72:4. He will bring justice to the poor of the people; He will save the children of the needy, And will break in pieces the oppressor.

Ps. 82:3. Defend the poor and fatherless; Do justice to the afflicted and needy.

Isa. 41: 2,3. “Behold! My Servant whom I uphold, My Elect One in whom My soul delights! I have put My Spirit upon Him; He will bring forth justice to the Gentiles. A bruised reed He will not break, And smoking flax He will not quench; He will bring forth justice for truth. Note: Re-quoted by Christ, himself [see Matt. 12: 18,20].

Zech. 7:9. “Thus says the Lord of hosts: ‘Execute true justice, Show mercy and compassion Everyone to his brother.

What do these texts tell us about Biblical concepts of justice and fairness??

The pink section at the bottom of Monday’s lesson references Deut 21 for examples of some of God’s laws and “Considering who the Author is of these laws, what should this tell us about how we must learn to trust the Lord in all things, especially those things we don’t fully understand?” What do the expansion of the Ten Commandments, known as the Mosaic Laws, and the Ten Commandments themselves, really tell us about their Author?? What does Nature tell us about its “Author”?

Consider this:

“If man had kept the law of God, as given to Adam after his fall, preserved by Noah, and observed by Abraham, there would have been no necessity for the ordinance of circumcision. And if the descendants of Abraham had kept the covenant, of which circumcision was a sign, they would never have been seduced into idolatry, nor would it have been necessary for them to suffer a life of bondage in Egypt; they would have kept God’s law in mind, and there would have been no necessity for it to be proclaimed from Sinai or engraved upon the tables of stone. And had the people practiced the principles of the Ten Commandments, there would have been no need of the additional directions given to Moses. {PP 364.2}”

Does this give us any perspective?? The Ten Commandments were 3rd in God’s major attempts to preserve mankind’s knowledge of Himself, and they were so perverted that He eventually needed to come to Earth in the person of Jesus. Consider the state of mind of someone actually needing “Thou shalt not murder.” carved in stone, yet who would murder God, himself, for healing on the Sabbath.

Are we going to worship the Ten Commandments or the God who, condescended in great Love and patience to give them when they were most needed? Make NO mistake. We are not saying the Ten Commandments were ONLY for the Israelites, and are no longer binding. I am just wondering when we are going to grow up and get to know their Author.

TUESDAY – MOSAIC LAW: CEREMONIAL

We covered this extensively in the 4th quarter of 2013. I would encourage you to review on our web site: comeandreason.com. There are some wonderful insights on the Sanctuary service and the ceremonial laws, as well as indications how this was perverted by the Jews and Christians also.

WEDNESDAY – RABBINIC LAW

The lesson correctly states that Christ had to deal with the additional laws the Jewish rabbis [aka church leadership] interpreted from the Mosaic laws, and asks us what we can learn from how He dealt with the “church leadership”? Any thoughts??

Matt. 23: 1-36. Then Jesus spoke to the multitudes and to His disciples, 2 saying: “The scribes and the Pharisees sit in Moses’ seat. 3 Therefore whatever they tell you to observe,[a] that observe and do, but do not do according to their works; for they say, and do not do. 4 For they bind heavy burdens, hard to bear, and lay them on men’s shoulders; but they themselves will not move them with one of their fingers. 5 But all their works they do to be seen by men. They make their phylacteries broad and enlarge the borders of their garments. 6 They love the best places at feasts, the best seats in the synagogues, 7 greetings in the marketplaces, and to be called by men, ‘Rabbi, Rabbi.’ 8 But you, do not be called ‘Rabbi’; for One is your Teacher, the Christ,[b] and you are all brethren. 9 Do not call anyone on earth your father; for One is your Father, He who is in heaven. 10 And do not be called teachers; for One is your Teacher, the Christ. 11 But he who is greatest among you shall be your servant. 12 And whoever exalts himself will be humbled, and he who humbles himself will be exalted. 13 “But woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you shut up the kingdom of heaven against men; for you neither go in yourselves, nor do you allow those who are entering to go in. 14 Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you devour widows' houses, and for a pretense make long prayers. Therefore you will receive greater condemnation.[c] 15 "Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you travel land and sea to win one proselyte, and when he is won, you make him twice as much a son of hell as yourselves. 16 "Woe to you, blind guides, who say, 'Whoever swears by the temple, it is nothing; but whoever swears by the gold of the temple, he is obliged to perform it.' 17 Fools and blind! For which is greater, the gold or the temple that sanctifies[d] the gold? 18 And, 'Whoever swears by the altar, it is nothing; but whoever swears by the gift that is on it, he is obliged to perform it.' 19 Fools and blind! For which is greater, the gift or the altar that sanctifies the gift? 20 Therefore he who swears by the altar, swears by it and by all things on it. 21 He who swears by the temple, swears by it and by Him who dwells[e] in it. 22 And he who swears by heaven, swears by the throne of God and by Him who sits on it. 23 "Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you pay tithe of mint and anise and cummin, and have neglected the weightier matters of the law: justice and mercy and faith. These you ought to have done, without leaving the others undone. 24 Blind guides, who strain out a gnat and swallow a camel! 25 "Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you cleanse the outside of the cup and dish, but inside they are full of extortion and self-indulgence.[f] 26 Blind Pharisee, first cleanse the inside of the cup and dish, that the outside of them may be clean also. 27 "Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you are like whitewashed tombs which indeed appear beautiful outwardly, but inside are full of dead men's bones and all uncleanness. 28 Even so you also outwardly appear righteous to men, but inside you are full of hypocrisy and lawlessness. 29 "Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! Because you build the tombs of the prophets and adorn the monuments of the righteous, 30 and say, 'If we had lived in the days of our fathers, we would not have been partakers with them in the blood of the prophets.'

31 "Therefore you are witnesses against yourselves that you are sons of those who murdered the prophets. 32 Fill up, then, the measure of your fathers' guilt. 33 Serpents, brood of vipers! How can you escape the condemnation of hell? 34 Therefore, indeed, I send you prophets, wise men, and scribes: some of them you will kill and crucify, and some of them you will scourge in your synagogues and persecute from city to city, 35 that on you may come all the righteous blood shed on the earth, from the blood of righteous Abel to the blood of Zechariah, son of Berechiah, whom you murdered between the temple and the altar. 36 Assuredly, I say to you, all these things will come upon this generation

THURSDAY – THE MORAL LAW.

This is the memory text from Sabbath's lesson: "For when Gentiles who do not have the Law do instinctively the things of the Law, these, not having the Law, are a law to themselves" (Romans 2:14, NASB) Keep this in mind.

Is there any "Moral Law" in Heaven?

“The Ten Commandments provide Israel with the moral framework for maintaining it [their relationship with God]. The metaphor that the Bible uses to express this relationship is covenant. While the metaphor comes from the sphere of international law, it is wrong to understand the commandments merely as a summary of Israel’s obligations toward God. . . . Israel’s obedience to the commandments was not a matter of submission to the divine will as much as it was a response to love.” —Leslie J. Hoppe, “Ten Commandments,” Eerdmans Dictionary of the Bible (Grand Rapids, Mich.: Eerdmans, 2000), p. 1285.

This is an interesting take on things, especially the last sentence. It’s almost like the author is suggesting that if one allows the Love of God to transform them, then they will resemble the “Ten Commandments”.

Never forget that when Jesus was asked which is the greatest commandment, he answered: “You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart, with all your soul, and with all your mind.’ 38 This is the first and great commandment. 39 And the second is like it: ‘You shall love your neighbor as yourself.’ 40 On these two commandments hang all the Law and the Prophets.”

Lesson 2: Christ and the Law of Moses

Introduction:

Thankfulness for Russell's Introduction to the Lesson Guide Watching it on YouTube was a blessing, but not as good as being here in person.

Watching it on another day did vindicate my wife's frequent comment to me after any given class: most of my comments could be left unsaid and the points would still be made by someone else most of the time. I will have to admit, that for this past week, most of the thoughts and notes I had made in my Lesson Guide were more than adequately defended by members of the class who were in attendance last week. Thank you.

Christ and Law of Moses:

One other use of the terminology of "law" not mentioned last week in the lesson study guide.

- It was mentioned on Thursday of this week's lesson
- "The Law and the prophets"
 - Matthew 5:17-20 ESV "Do not think that I have come to abolish the Law or the Prophets; I have not come to abolish them but to fulfill them. (18) For truly, I say to you, until heaven and earth pass away, not an iota, not a dot, will pass from the Law until all is accomplished. (19) Therefore whoever relaxes one of the least of these commandments and teaches others to do the same will be called least in the kingdom of heaven, but whoever does them and teaches them will be called great in the kingdom of heaven. (20) For I tell you, unless your righteousness exceeds that of the scribes and Pharisees, you will never enter the kingdom of heaven.
 - Matt 7:12 Golden rule is "the Law and the Prophets" ESV "So whatever you wish that others would do to you, do also to them, for this is the Law and the Prophets."
 - Matt 11:13 prophesied until John
 - Matt 22:40 "On these two commandments hang all the law and the prophets"
 - Luke 24:27 On the road to Emmaus
 - Luke 24:43 Later (in the same chapter) in the upper room he "the Law of Moses and in the prophets and in the psalms concerning me. Luke 24:44 KJV And he said unto them, These are the words which I spake unto you, while I was yet with you, that all things must be fulfilled, which were written in the law of Moses, and in the prophets, and in the psalms, concerning me.
- Law, prophets, writings
- Tanakh
 - Torah, Prophets, Writings
 - It was with some consternation that I found out that the book of Daniel was not considered to be one of the prophets, but rather one of the "writings". That placed it in the same category as the Psalms, Proverbs, Song of Solomon, etc.

The lesson guide is directing us to the study of the ceremonial laws given to the Children of Israel by God through Moses during the period of the Exodus and continued until their dispersion during the time of Roman authority.

Galatians 3:19 GNB “What, then, was the purpose of the Law? It was added in order to show what wrongdoing is, and it was meant to last until the coming of Abraham's descendant, to whom the promise was made. The Law was handed down by angels, with a man acting as a go-between.”

- Here Paul says the law was “added”
- What was added?
 - Divorce law
 - Ceremonial requirements
 - Ten commandments
 - All Law
- How do we know what was added?
- When was it added?
- Why was it added?
 - If the law is inherent in the design, why did it have to be added?
- What does it mean “due to transgressions?”
 - Does “hardness of your hearts” help (Matthew 19:8) understand why it was added? The same description is given of the Jewish rulers at the time of healing of the man with the withered hand on Sabbath in the synagogue. They then plotted to kill Christ.
- If it was added, then was it an imposed law or a natural law?
- How can it be added if the Law of God has been forever?
- Matthew 22:37-40 GNB “Jesus answered, " 'Love the Lord your God with all your heart, with all your soul, and with all your mind.' (38) This is the greatest and the most important commandment. (39) The second most important commandment is like it: 'Love your neighbor as you love yourself.' (40) The whole Law of Moses and the teachings of the prophets depend on these two commandments.”

In this class we have heard a quotation from the book Patriarchs & Prophets about how and why God gave additional directions to the Children of Israel.

- Russell read it last week
- I would like to read it again in relationship to our topic today, paying particular attention to the ending.
- PP 364.2 “If man had kept the law of God, as given to Adam after his fall, preserved by Noah, and observed by Abraham, there would have been no necessity for the ordinance of circumcision. And if the descendants of Abraham had kept the covenant, of which circumcision was a sign, they would never have been seduced into idolatry, nor would it have been necessary for them to suffer a life of bondage in Egypt; they would have kept God’s law in mind, and there would have been no necessity for it to be proclaimed from Sinai or engraved upon the tables of stone. And had the people practiced the principles of the Ten Commandments, there would have been no need of the additional directions given to Moses.”

- What do you understand the additional directions to be?
- Were these additional directions natural/ foundational or imposed?

Is the Law proscriptive or descriptive? (Yes, both)

- Early on, it may be proscriptive
- Later it should be descriptive
- Negative Law: The rule about not smoking tobacco in our household growing up
- Positive Law: The rule of sleep
 - When I was young there were certain rules made about when I had to go to bed and when I had to stop talking and when I had to stop bothering my brothers.
 - At times I have had external forces of society tell me I had to go to bed/sleep (Academy dorm life, mutual camping trips with clubs, etc)
 - I now have figured out my rules of sleep
 - I don't always adhere to the rules
 - Enforcement / consequences are not always immediate
 - Eleven rules of sleep hygiene. It is amazing how many do not know these or abide by them and wonder why things are not going well for them.

What is the difference between the ceremonial and the civic laws of Moses?

Let's look at some examples

- Levirate marriage
- rules on sexual relations
- rules on feasts (Passover, Booths, First Fruits) and sacrifices (sin, purification, dedication, thank)

Newton's laws of motion are three physical laws that together laid the foundation for classical mechanics. They describe the relationship between a body and the forces acting upon it, and its motion in response to said forces. They have been expressed in several different ways over nearly three centuries, and can be summarized as follows:

- First law: When viewed in an inertial reference frame, an object either remains at rest or continues to move at a constant velocity, unless acted upon by an external force.
- Second law: $F = ma$. The vector sum of the forces F on an object is equal to the mass m of that object multiplied by the acceleration vector a of the object.
- Third law: When one body exerts a force on a second body, the second body simultaneously exerts a force equal in magnitude and opposite in direction on the first body.
- Newton's law of universal gravitation states that any two bodies in the universe attract each other with a force that is directly proportional to the product of their masses and inversely proportional to the square of the distance between them. (July 5, 1687)

Questions:

- Is Newton's laws enacted or natural?
- When did they become laws?

- Newton first published his laws of motion in 1687.
- Is that when they first became effective?
- What is the benefit if that is not when they went into effect?
- Is that (July 5, 1687) when these laws were first enforced?
- Who is enforcing these laws?

Just because God gave them a rule or law to live by, does not mean it was the best for them. Because of their sinfulness, they (we) failed to reach all that God had in mind for them. Some rules were better than where they had been, but were not as far as God wanted for them to go. Consider Christ's statements on divorce or his sermon on the mount "you have heard it said, but I say unto you. . ."

SABBATH

First paragraph: "Jesus spoke out against abuses of the religion, . . . but not against the religion itself"

- Why is this true?
- Any scriptural support for your answer?
 - John 4:22 GW You don't know what you're worshipping. We Jews know what we're worshipping, because salvation comes from the Jews.
 - Matthew 16:6 "Watch out and beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and Sadducees."
 - Matthew 23:1 - 12 Do what they say, but do not do what they do.
- If Christ knew what the pharisees and Jewish leaders were like, why would he say to do what they say? (Matt 23:3)
- How is the position of the people different in Christ's day from our position today with our church leaders?
- What was Christ commanding us to do?
- What is being "subject to the authorities" mean?
 - Read Romans 13:1 & Titus
 - Smoldering wick he will not put out.
 - Voice is not heard in the street.
 - "The malice of the Jews was so great in consequence of the miracle of Jesus in healing the man with the withered hand on the Sabbath day, that he with his disciples withdrew to a more favorable field of labor. They went to the seaside of Galilee, and great multitudes followed him, for this new miracle wrought upon the Sabbath day was noised abroad through all that region." SP 201.1
 - "The news that had been carried to John concerning the success of Jesus, was also borne to Jerusalem, and there created against him jealousy, envy, and hatred. Jesus knew the hard hearts and darkened minds of the Pharisees, and that they would spare no pains to create a division between his own disciples and those of John that would greatly injure the work, so he quietly ceased to baptize and withdrew to Galilee. He knew that the storm was gathering which was soon to sweep away the noblest prophet God had ever given to the world. He wished to avoid all division of feeling in the great work before him, and, for the time, removed from that region for the purpose of allaying all excitement detrimental to the cause of God.” {2SP 139.1, DA541} (See RH May 4, 1911 for a more complete statement)

- Christ was both the source of the Law as given to Moses and subject to the same law.
- The Law of Moses is an explanation of the Law of God (Law of Love) for humans.
 - Angels have the law of God, but not the same parameters as humans need, such as Honor parents and Not commit adultery.

SUNDAY: CIRCUMCISION AND DEDICATION

Circumcision

- Ceremonial

Dedication

- Civic (or both)
 - Time of registration of name
 - Registration into tribal lists / geneology
 - Birth

Mary & Joseph were pretty conservative in practice

Firstborn dedicated to the Lord

- Redeem with Shekel
- ½ shekel per year temple tax

MONDAY: JEWISH FEASTS

Which law: ceremonial function

Feasts

- Passover, then unleavened bread
- Pentecost (fifty days later)
- Feast of Booths, followed by Day of Atonement (Yom Kippur)
- Purim
- Hanukkah (Feast of Dedication)
 - There is no recorded Biblical command to observe this feast but John 10:22 shows Christ partook of this as well as the “big three”
- Fifth paragraph: “Of course, the biblical feasts were done away with . . .”

How do we know this?

- Christ is the illustration of what the Law of Love is really like.
 - what parts of the law pointed to Christ?
 - Why are certain parts no longer needed?
 - What about Communion?

- The hymn “Sweet Hour of Prayer”
The last stanza says “and shout while passing through the air, “Farewell, Farewell, sweet hour of prayer”
Does that mean we are saying, “Jesus, I never want to talk to you again.”
Why will we say goodbye to something that is so crucial to a relationship with God?
- Pink section at bottom of page:
 - “Though we no longer keep the feasts, . . .”
Do you celebrate the feasts? If so, why? If not, why not?
- “What things can we do that help to keep before us the reality of God, what He has done for us, and what He asks of us?”

TUESDAY: JESUS IN THE TEMPLE

This is a story about Christ’s first Passover in the temple

- Age 12
- Bar Mitzvah

Each of the questions

- How does the story illustrate Jewish character?
- How is it significant that this story took place during the Passover?
- How many days. . . Of what does that remind you?
- Though Jesus was an obedient child. . . Submission in the right time and place. . .

WEDNESDAY: TAXES

Civil or ceremonial: (this is a religious tax)

- ½ shekel temple tax every year
- What significance is the fact that Jesus was not subject to the tax and still paid it?
- Offend them? . . . Read Romans 8 in its entirety.
 - Vs 12 “And so, by sinning against the brethren and wound their conscience when it is weak, you sin against Christ.” . . . “I will never eat meat again, so that I will not cause my brother to stumble.”
- Larry Stevens
 - Pastor
 - Bible teacher
 - did not eat ice cream for an entire year for the sake of one of his students.
- Read pink section at bottom of page.
 - Is it ever appropriate to not pay tithe / offerings?
 - Money gains / is attention.

THURSDAY: LAW ENFORCEMENT

Read the first paragraph

Stories

- John 8:1-11 the adulterous woman
- Matthew 19:1-9 Teaching regarding divorce
- Deut. 22:23,24 Stoning for adultery delineated
- Deut. 24:1-4 Rules for divorce and remarriage

In all these stories, Christ upheld not only the civic law, the ceremonial law, the authority of the priests and rabbis, but also the Roman laws.

Read the highlighted area at bottom of page.

FRIDAY

Discussion questions:

- Dwell on the incredible truth that though Jesus instituted these laws, when He enters into humanity He places Himself under them. What does this tell us about the Character of God?

Questions:

- Would Jesus be human if he were not under the law?
- Is it possible for anyone not be to under the Law of God?
- If the law is the design template for the universe, then it is not possible to live outside the law without some support mechanism.
- Angels have a different subset of the Law of God from humans. (No need for “Honor your father and mother . . .; Adultery prohibition, etc”)

Recent Email feedback:

I want to thank you for the case of God and Your Brain that was sent to me. I have distributed them and have four left. I have given them to pastors of other churches, and the resounding affirmation has been incredible. I want more. I will be sending you a hundred dollar donation within the next week. I know it is nothing in comparison to the value, or investment you have made, but it is the most I have at the moment. I would that every Christian had this set of DVD's. Thank you so much. CA

*Hi Dr. J and Come and Reason Ministries,
Your seminar was presented as a sermon in my local church today. Many lives were touched. People are requesting more copies of your God and Your Brain DVD to share with families and friends. I gave your business card out to some people but some suggested a collective request. I am wondering if you could send more copies (a box perhaps). Thanks. Canada*

I am getting quite a response to your DVDs. I have friends in Denver and St. Petersburg that I have shared your DVDs and both places are telling me they are getting a great response to your material. It's generating conversation and people are examining their thought processes and actions more closely. There are so many churches here in the Washington DC beltway area, and just as great a need for closer self-examination. Please send 25 copies of the DVDs. VA

I saw this series on YouTube and they absolutely have changed my life! I want to help change the lives of others who are also suffering with depression, sense of worthlessness and fear of abandonment, insecurities etc. WA

Got the DVDs, thank you, will give you a Great Report in Class > Its a like the Latter Rain in a Berry Colored Box. HI

SABBATH

Read memory text:

“These people honor me with their lips, but their hearts are far from me.
They worship me in vain; their teachings are but rules taught by men.” MT 15:8,9

Read first paragraph, “John Wesley...” thoughts?

If our ability to understand Scripture is impacted by our own intelligence and ability to comprehend, then, who’s clear teaching of Scripture is the lesson talking about?

In other words, they suggest that many people value their reason over the clear teachings of Scripture – but isn’t that just the problem, those they accuse of valuing reason over the “clear teachings of Scripture” could turn around and say back, you value your opinion over the clear teaching of Scripture, because we understand the Scripture teaches something different, and it is so clear to us that you are wrong.

How can we tell?

This past weekend I was in a church in California presenting the God and Your Brain Seminar. During the question time a question came in challenging the idea that the Bible does not teach penal substitution. They asked about the legal language in Romans and Paul's writings.

What would you say?

Ask, when you read the Bible, what language do you read it in? If English, then there is a translation bias toward legal language.

When Constantine converted, Christianity accepted a change in the way it viewed God's law, away from the construction protocols for life and accepted the idea that God's law is like Imperial Rome. Thus Christianity began seeing God as a legal dictator.

ALL BIBLE TRANSLATIONS have been done AFTER Constantine converted. This means the translators, while sincere, all had preconceived ideas about the law being imposed and therefore when they translated projected legal language that was not in the original text.

A classic example is one of the favorite texts of the penal proponents, Romans 3:21-26:

But now a righteousness from God, apart from law, has been made known, to which the Law and the Prophets testify. ²² This righteousness from God comes through faith in Jesus Christ to all who believe. There is no difference, ²³ for all have sinned and fall short of the glory of God, ²⁴ and are justified freely by his grace through the redemption that came by Christ Jesus. ²⁵ God presented him as a sacrifice of atonement, through faith in his blood. He did this to demonstrate his justice, because in his forbearance he had left the sins committed beforehand unpunished— ²⁶ he did it to demonstrate his justice at the present time, so as to be just and the one who justifies those who have faith in Jesus. (NIV)

whom God set forth as a propitiation by His blood, through faith, to demonstrate His righteousness, because in His forbearance God had passed over the sins that were previously committed

Do you hear how this could sound like a legal problem and solution, with words like justification, atonement, justice, propitiation etc?

This is because of the fact that the translations occurred after the infection of imposed law into Christianity, and also because in English our legal language has a Latin basis.

But the Bible doesn't actually present a legal problem with a legal solution, it presents a problem of our actual condition with a healing solution.

The Greek translated as either "sacrifice of atonement" or "propitiation" is the word hilasterion, which is the word for the lid to the ark of the covenant.

Notice, this is no a legal word, it is a noun. So when the translators interpreted the word they projected onto it what they believed happened at the mercy seat. And what did they believe happened? A legal process of expiation of sin by the sprinkling of blood.

In other words, they already had false ideas about God's law and what the plan of salvation is; believing in an imposed law, they falsely believed the plan was to take care of legal requirements, thus when they interpreted the word they added legal ideas not actually in the text.

When one realizes God's law is not imperial, not imposed, but the protocols upon which life is built, then one realizes that humankind is not in legal trouble, but suffering from a condition, a state of being, that is terminal, out of harmony with God's design. In this light one realizes God's plan of salvation is to heal and restore. Thus, the sprinkling of blood was not for the purpose of taking care of legal penalties, but for the purpose of cleansing and restoring, regenerating and recreating in righteousness.

The lesson couldn't be more obvious – according to Leviticus the life is in the blood– and thus in sprinkling the blood the priests were symbolically sharing the LIFE of Christ. The application of the blood is the pure life, or character of Christ, partaken of by the believer, which regenerates and transforms us.

But Satan has so infected our minds with his lies about God that many Christians teach the blood is not the healing life of Christ, but instead is the contaminating defilement of sin or the death. How utterly twisted and wrong could one be!

Here is my paraphrase of Romans 3:21-26:

^{3:21} But now God has revealed, a healthy state of being – a character that is right and perfect in every way, that did not come from the written code, but is exactly what the Scriptures and the 10 Commandments were pointing your minds toward. ²² This perfect state of being comes from Christ and is created within us by God when we trust him. Our trust in him is established by the evidence given through Jesus Christ of his supreme trustworthiness. There is no difference amongst any ethnic group, ²³ for all humanity is infected with the same disease of distrust, fear and selfishness, and are deformed in character and fall far short of God's glorious ideal for mankind. ²⁴ Yet all, who are willing, are healed freely by God's gracious Remedy that has been provided by Jesus Christ. ²⁵ God presented Jesus as the way and means of restoration. Now, through trust established by the evidence of God's character revealed when Christ died, we may partake of the Remedy procured by Christ. God did this to demonstrate he is right and good, because in his forbearance he suspended, for a time, the ultimate consequence of being out of harmony with how he designed life to exist and has been falsely accused of being unfair. ²⁶ So, he did it to demonstrate how right and good he is at the present time, so he would be seen as being right when he heals those who trust in Jesus.

Here is a view of this very process, quoting Romans 3:26 in summation by one of the founders of our church, demonstrating that the historic view in our church is what I am presenting, but sadly our church has embraced the infection of penal substitution:

The law requires righteousness,—a righteous life, a perfect character; and this man has not to give. He cannot meet the claims of God's holy law. But Christ, coming to the earth as man, lived a holy life, and developed a perfect character. These He offers as a free gift to all who will receive them. His life stands for the life of men. Thus they have remission of sins that are past, through the forbearance of God. More than this, Christ imbues men with the attributes of God. He builds up the human character after the similitude of the divine character, a goodly fabric of spiritual strength and beauty. Thus the very righteousness of the law is fulfilled in the believer in Christ. God can "be just, and the justifier of him which believeth in Jesus." Romans 3:26. {DA 762.2}

Did you notice this description is not a "legal" process but a healing regenerating process that is just or right and good!

How can we tell the difference between clear Bible teaching and the teachings of men?

Manmade teaching always are infected with self, infected with imposed rules, incite fear, incite insecurity, lead away from God's design, fail to actually transform and heal. Man's teachings are inconsistent, irrational, and often make no sense to anyone who thinks.

Examples:

- It is sin to walk so many feet on Sabbath
- It is sin to carry a handkerchief on Sabbath, but okay to pin it to your clothing
- It is sin to help a person on Sabbath but not sin to lift your donkey of the ditch
- What one eats makes one righteous or unrighteous
- It doesn't matter what one eats because all things are ceremonially clean
- People are saved or lost based on which day they worship
- One can't be saved unless one has the right words spoken during their baptism
- One can't be saved unless a Priest does some ritual
- One can't be saved unless one partakes communion
- One can't be saved unless one is a member of a particular organization

Do you notice how all of these ideas are not based in design protocols, but upon manmade rules, or taking a God given teaching tool and making it into a rule.

For instance, baptism by water is a God given teaching tool, designed to help us understand and experience what genuine baptism is. Genuine baptism is immersion of the entire being, mind, soul, spirit, into the Holy Spirit, where the old ways, methods, motives die and one lives a new life with a new heart and right spirit. But water baptism doesn't provide any of that, and people have been renewed and saved without water baptism, but no one is saved without baptism by the Holy Spirit, the rebirth, renewal experience. Yet, some teach that without water baptism, in the right ritualistic way, one cannot be saved. The place the teaching tool, before the reality, the shadow before the substance. This is what the Jews did with the sacrificial system.

God's truth actually heals, brings peace, leads one to live in harmony with the design. God's truth is always sensible, rational, reasonable.

Examples:

- Sabbath is evidence of God's character given at the time in history when His character and methods were called into question
 - Sabbath therefore becomes a sign – and what do signs do? Are signs the reality or do signs direct, educate, illuminate, reveal, point toward the reality?
 - What happens if one makes the sign the ultimate test of reality?
 - What happens if one suggests the Sabbath is an arbitrary test of obedience? Then one has just taken a sign, which reveals God's character of love, truth and freedom, and turned it around to it points in the opposite direction, to an arbitrary God who makes imposed rules. And then, with that way of thinking, one can kill the Creator of the Sabbath and want Him down by sunset in order to keep the Sabbath.
- God's health laws were not rules or tests of obedience but protections to promote our better health. Just like a parent's rule for a child to brush their teeth.
 - But what if the children took the rule to brush teeth as a test of obedience and required all members of the organization to be teeth brushers? Then they reject and accuse as rebellious those who use a water pick instead of a toothbrush. Why? Because they miss the point that the brushing is a helpful tool, but not a legal requirement.
- All the religious directions were teaching tools to stimulate thinking to help people break out of false understanding, just like the felt board or sandbox. The benefit was in helping one to think and learn the truth of reality, to lead people back to harmony with God and His design for life.

SUNDAY

Read third paragraph, "In saying..." thoughts?

What do you think about the idea that the Pharisees took the responsibility to ensure the people were instructed in the way of the law? Does it sound like the lesson is suggesting this was a good thing? Was it?

What did Jesus say was the result of their instruction in the law? Look at Matthew 23, starting at verse 13:

Woe to you, teachers of the law and Pharisees, you hypocrites! You shut the kingdom of heaven in men's faces. You yourselves do not enter, nor will you let those enter who are trying to. Woe to you, teachers of the law and Pharisees, you hypocrites! You travel over land and sea to win a single convert, and when he becomes one, you make him twice as much a son of hell as you are.

Note they are teaching the law, and what was the result? Damaging the minds and characters of the people who accepted their teaching and making them more deeply entrapped into Satan's kingdom. Why?

What kind of law did they teach? They taught imposed law, rules without inherent consequence, legal restrictions, penal substitution ideas. This makes people more trapped into the hell of satanic lies. If you doubt, keep reading Jesus' words in MT 23 and you will discover Jesus is describing an arbitrary, imposed legal system, with irrational rules that ignore the reality upon which the cosmos is built. He points them to what matters, which is healing the mind, heart, character, inner transformation, but they are only focused on behavioral performance and external appearance.

I would like to share with you this section of Matthew from my paraphrase:

MT 23:13 "Misery is yours, you who teach a legal religion, you penal theologians, you counterfeits! Your false teachings obstruct people from being healed and entering God's kingdom of love. You certainly are not healed and do not enter into salvation, but worse, you actively work to prevent others who want to be saved from being healed.

MT 23:15 "Misery is yours, you who teach a legal religion, you penal theologians, you counterfeits! You go around the world trying to convert one person, and when you do, you indoctrinate them so deeply into your false penal system they become twice the child of lies and selfishness as you are.

MT 23:16 "Misery is yours, you irrational and unthinking teachers! Unbelievably, you say, 'If anyone swears by the temple, it doesn't count; but if anyone swears by the gold of the temple, then they are bound by the oath.' 17 You make no sense at all! Think about it, which is truly most important, the gold, or the temple that makes the gold holy? 18 Another of your sayings is, 'If anyone swears by the altar, it doesn't count; but if anyone swears by the gift on the altar then they are bound by the oath.' 19 You don't understand the simplest truths! Think about it, which is truly most important: the gift, or the altar that makes the gift holy? 20 Don't you get it, the one who swears by the altar swears by it and everything on it. 21 And whoever swears by the temple swears by it and by the one whose dwelling place it is. 22 It is about integrity, honesty, fidelity, such that oaths are sworn before heaven, God's throne, and the one who sits on it knows the heart.

MT 23:23 "Misery is yours, you who teach a legal religion, you penal theologians, you counterfeits! You keep rules, like proudly paying a pre-tax tithe and even give a tenth of the herbs in your garden. But you fail to do what actually matters, live in harmony with God's law, his design for life. You fail to do what is right because it is right. You are not merciful, but judgmental, and you cannot be trusted to protect those struggling with sin. You should have lived lives of love for others, without neglecting the simple instructions of God. 24 You are truly irrational and unthinking teachers! You are so focused on keeping the rules, like dietary laws, that you fail to understand their purpose is to promote health. You're so confused you actually think it would be a virtue to die of starvation than to eat something not on the approved list.

MT 23:25 “Misery is yours, you who teach a legal religion, you penal theologians, you counterfeits! You work so hard to make yourselves look good on the outside, but the inside, the heart, is full of selfishness, arrogance, and greed. 26 You truly don’t understand anything about God’s kingdom! The mind, the character, the heart must be cleansed first, and then the outside will also be clean.

MT 23:27 “Misery is yours, you who teach a legal religion, you penal theologians, you counterfeits! You are like highly polished burial vaults; they look beautiful on the outside but inside are nothing but the bones of the dead and everything that defiles. 28 You are just like that. On the outside you appear to people as good and righteous, but on the inside you are full of lies, selfishness and evil. You are great counterfeits.

MT 23:29 “Misery is yours, you who teach a legal religion, you penal theologians, you counterfeits! You go to great lengths to give praise and honor to the prophets and church leaders of the past. 30 You say, ‘If we would have lived back then, we would never have rejected the prophets or joined those who killed them.’ 31 By such claims you condemn yourselves, because you acknowledge such actions are wrong, yet by your actions today you reveal you are the true descendants of those who murdered the prophets. You’re just like them 32 and your sins pile on top of the sin of your forefathers!

MT 23:33 “You slippery serpents! You brood of venomous vipers! You think you can cure yourselves with your own snake-oil? 34 It’s because of your false remedy, your penal legal trickery, that I am sending my spokespersons, instructors and Bible scholars. You will attack, kill and crucify some of them; others you will beat, some physically, some verbally, right in church, running them out of town with beatings and the most viscous gossip. 35 The pure and holy lives that have been sacrificed through history, from Abel all the way through to Zechariah son of Berekiah, who was murdered right in church, at the altar, testify the truth to you. 36 But, the sad truth is, this generation will reject all this evidence.

MT 23:37 “O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, you sick and hard-hearted people who have rejected the Remedy, killed God’s spokespersons and stoned those sent to you with the cure, how my heart has longed to pull you to safety, like a hen gathers her chicks under her wings, but you would not let me. 38 Look around, I leave your house to you, abandoned without Remedy, infected without cure. 39 For I tell you plainly, when you see me next you will say, “He is the one sent by God to reveal God’s true character and provide the Remedy.”

Read last paragraph, “Most of the references...” thoughts?

Was their core problem that they taught one thing and did another? No, their core problem was accepting a false idea about God’s law and therefore viewing God as a cosmic dictator.

Here is a quote from historic Adventism:

The effort to earn salvation by one's own works inevitably leads men to pile up human exactions as a barrier against sin. For, seeing that they fail to keep the law, they will devise rules and regulations of their own to force themselves to obey. All this turns the mind away from God to self. His love dies out of the heart, and with it perishes love for his fellow men. A system of human invention, with its multitudinous exactions, will lead its advocates to judge all who come short of the prescribed human standard. The atmosphere of selfish and narrow criticism stifles the noble and generous emotions, and causes men to become self-centered judges and petty spies. {MB 123.1}

Wow – what insight? When we believe the law is a set of rules we must keep, then we focus on behavior and begin adding rules upon rules. And when we work so hard to keep the rules we get angry at those who are not keeping the rules, we begin to judge, criticize, belittle, demean those who don't eat like we do etc.

But that is only because we view the law as restrictive rather than protective. When you see someone smoking to you get angry, or sad, compassionate, understanding how they are hurting themselves? Likewise, any deviation from God's design should be seen in this way.

MONDAY

Read first paragraph, "Although the scribes..." thoughts?

Do we have our own list of added rules? Any examples?

- Jewelry?
- Music?
- Food?
- Others?

Read fourth paragraph, "It does not appear..." thoughts?

What about the sentence, "No human has the authority to create religious restrictions and elevate them to the level of divine mandate."

Any concerns about this statement? This is a dangerous idea. This is so subtly the poison is so deeply hidden that most will accept it and not even notice.

This is a perfect example of a lie hidden beneath a truth. Can anyone see the truth and then the lie beneath it?

Is it true that humans cannot make divine decrees? This is the truth – what is the lie? That God is restrictive, He undermines liberty and makes mandates – it is the idea that God imposes laws, rules and restrictions upon us to curtail our liberty, to control behavior.

This is Satan's first lie in Eden, "Did God really say, 'You must not eat from any tree in the garden'?"
Gen 3:1

Note, the lie, God is restrictive, you can't eat from any tree in this entire garden. Rather than the truth that God is liberal – You can eat of the entire garden, everything on the entire planet is yours save only one tree.

This same idea is woven into religion, the Sabbath. The Jews presented the Sabbath as the day of greatest restrictions, and sadly many SDAs do also. But, is the Sabbath the day of restriction or should it be the day of greatest liberty?

Now does God actually give us restrictions? Yes, are they designed to restrict or liberate? Here is one statement from one of the founders of our church:

The time will come when we may have to discard some of the articles of diet we now use, such as milk and cream and eggs; but it is not necessary to bring upon ourselves perplexity by premature and extreme restrictions. Wait until the circumstances demand it and the Lord prepares the way for it. {CCh 237.6}

What is the purpose of the restriction? Why? To protect? When is it necessary to apply? When is it damaging to partake? And does the restriction not to partake of the contaminated food result in loss of liberty or retention of liberty?

What happens when one is sick? One loses freedom. So, rightly understood, God's restrictions are always to promote freedom, not hinder it, by keeping us in harmony with His design for life.

In Eden, God's restriction of the Tree of Knowledge, was it to restrict them or to promote their eternal liberty and freedom?

But Satan, and false religion, misrepresent God and make it appear He places mandates, demands, and restrictions to test our obedience and loyalty, with no reason, just because He can.

TUESDAY

Read first paragraph, "As we saw..." What of this idea "people thought they were as binding as Scripture?" Are the Scriptures binding? When you bind something or someone what are you doing?

Does this language suggest a system of rules?

What do you understand is the purpose of Scripture? Is it a code book?

Which is more binding, a medical textbook, or the laws of health?

Do you see Scripture as a revelation – a description of God’s interactions to save mankind and man’s struggle in sin?

If it is a revelation, what is it revealing? Is it revealing a list of rules or reality, who God actually is, how He constructed the universe to operate, what deviation from the design is, how deviations from the design damage, His plan to heal and restore?

If we read Scripture this way do we read it as a rule books to bind us? Or a truth book to free us from misunderstand and lies, thus freeing us from fear and selfishness and the destruction that comes from living outside the design?

WEDNESDAY

Read first paragraph, “The substitution...” thoughts?

Classic examples:

- Holy relics
- Priest to hear confessions and grant absolution
- Sabbath/Sunday
- Form of baptism
- Righteousness through sacraments

But are there any that are actually more damaging and dangerous that penetrate all church groups?

The substitution of God who is our Father, who is in character like Jesus, kind, merciful, benevolent, with a god who is severe, unforgiving, who is the source of inflicted pain and suffering. This is the most egregious lie told and it is a manmade idea of a god who runs his government like humans run theirs.

This leads to the replacement of the true Remedy, Jesus, His victory and development of perfect character, which we receive when we trust Him and experience a new heart and right spirit within, with a false remedy, one of legal payment, legal pardon, and declaration of righteous, even though one is not.

THURSDAY

The second paragraph states, “The Pharisees were so focused on the laws of human origin that they blatantly broke the law of God. Their righteousness was based on their own efforts, and as such, was defective.”

First question, what is the problem in breaking the law of God? Why is it bad to break the law of God? Is it bad because God said don’t do it, or did God say don’t do it because it, in some way, is bad – i.e. destructive to the breaker of the law?

What is righteousness? It is a state of being in harmony with God's character and design. We are inherently out of harmony, we cannot do anything to remove or fear and selfishness, thus our efforts to make us right, to restore our own selves to God's ideal fail. We can only experience righteousness, restoration to the design, as we receive it from Christ, through the work of the Holy Spirit in the heart and mind.

Read last paragraph, "Jesus calls for a righteousness..."

The false view suggest our righteousness come by faith from Jesus and is legally credited to our record book, our legal ledger in heaven and is a visual barrier that prohibits the Father from seeing our true condition of unrighteousness so the Father declares us righteous based on the record of Jesus, even though we are not.

True righteousness is when, having seen the truth about God as revealed in Christ, we are won to trust. In trust we open our hearts, surrendering ourselves in love and admiration to our Creator and the Spirit comes and actually reproduces in us the righteousness of Christ.

FRIDAY

Read and discuss questions 1 and 3

Lesson 4 - Christ and the Law in the Sermon on the Mount

SABBATH

“ ‘Do not think that I came to destroy the Law or the Prophets. I did not come to destroy but to fulfill. For assuredly, I say to you, till heaven and earth pass away, one jot, or one tittle will by no means pass from the law till all is fulfilled’ ” (Matthew 5:17, 18, NKJV).

What is Jesus telling us in this passage?? He’s telling us that God’s Law is Natural, NOT imposed. See Matt. 22: 34-40.

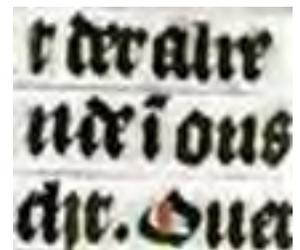

34 But when the Pharisees heard that He had silenced the Sadducees, they gathered together. 35 Then one of them, a lawyer, asked Him a question, testing Him, and saying, 36 “Teacher, which is the great commandment in the law?”

37 Jesus said to him, “‘You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart, with all your soul, and with all your mind.’ 38 This is the first and great commandment. 39 And the second is like it: ‘You shall love your neighbor as yourself.’ 40 On these two commandments hang all the Law and the Prophets.”

SUNDAY -- “ONE JOT OR TITTLE”

FYI: A jot is the name of the least letter of an alphabet or the smallest part of a piece of writing. It is the Anglicized version of the Greek iota - the smallest letter of the Greek alphabet, which corresponds to the Roman 'i'. This, in turn, was derived from the Hebrew word jod, or yodr, which is the smallest letter of the square Hebrew alphabet. Apart from its specialist typographical meaning, we still use the word jot more generally to mean 'a tiny amount'. Hence, when we have a brief note to make, we 'jot it down'.

A tittle, rather appropriately for a word which sounds like a combination of tiny and little, is smaller still. It refers to a small stroke or point in writing or printing. In classical Latin this applied to any accent over a letter, but is now most commonly used as the name for the dot over the letter 'i'. It is also the name of the dots on dice. In medieval calligraphy the tittle was written as quite large relative to the stem of the 'i'. Since fixed typeface printing was introduced in the 15th century the tittle has been rendered smaller. www.phrases.org.uk.

Does this mean that when “all is fulfilled” God’s Law will change? Could we say “not one breath will pass from the law of respiration till breathing is no longer necessary for life”?

The lesson makes a nice point that the word used for “fulfill” is plero which means, literally, to “fill up” or “complete”. Jesus is the completion of God’s Law of Love. He lived it in its entirety, and because that Law is the Law of Life, he was able to “take up His life again” at the resurrection. I used to think that Christ’s resurrection was a result of God’s anger being appeased from the shedding of His Son’s blood, however, a better understanding of God’s Law, and character reveal something very different. Earth is the only place in the universe where death [sleep] is the norm. Christ showed us, clearly, that Life is the norm in God’s Kingdom, by living out God’s Law of Love.

19 Whoever therefore breaks one of the least of these commandments, and teaches men so, shall be called least in the kingdom of heaven; but whoever does and teaches them, he shall be called great in the kingdom of heaven. 20 For I say to you, that unless your righteousness exceeds the righteousness of the scribes and Pharisees, you will by no means enter the kingdom of heaven.

What is the “least of the commandments”? What was the “righteousness of the Pharisees”? What was our Savior trying to tell us??

MONDAY -- MURDER.

Jesus takes up the commandments separately, and explains the depth and breadth of their requirement. Instead of removing one jot of their force, He shows how far-reaching their principles are, and exposes the fatal mistake of the Jews in their outward show of obedience. He declares that by the evil thought or the lustful look the law of God is transgressed. One who becomes a party to the least injustice is breaking the law and degrading his own moral nature. Murder first exists in the mind. He who gives hatred a place in his heart is setting his feet in the path of the murderer, and his offerings are abhorrent to God. DA. 310.

1 John 3: 15 Whoever hates his brother is a murderer, and you know that no murderer has eternal life abiding in him.

John 17: 3 And this is eternal life, that they may know You, the only true God, and Jesus Christ whom You have sent.

The lesson asks us, “What is the real issue here that Jesus is pointing to and what does this tell us about the real reach of God’s law?” Thoughts??

In the bottom section, the lesson asks, “What does such a high standard tell you about the need to be covered by Christ’s righteousness at all times?” More thoughts?? Which law lens is implied, Imposed or Natural??

TUESDAY– ADULTERY

The source of the adultery issue is the SAME as the source of the murder issue – a heart of stone, an unregenerate character, a heart at enmity with God [the metaphors are numerous].

Jesus was not only revealing that adultery/murder/theft/idolatry/etc were heart issues, he later revealed what our position should be in response to seeing them in others, AND more importantly what God's position is. [see John 8: 3-11 below] When we have an imposed law viewpoint, we want to punish those who "break" the law, however, when we adopt a natural law position, we can understand that we are ALL sick & in need of healing, though we manifest different symptoms of the same illness.

3 Then the scribes and Pharisees brought to Him a woman caught in adultery. And when they had set her in the midst, 4 they said to Him, "Teacher, this woman was caught in adultery, in the very act. 5 Now Moses, in the law, commanded us that such should be stoned. But what do You say?" 6 This they said, testing Him, that they might have something of which to accuse Him. But Jesus stooped down and wrote on the ground with His finger, as though He did not hear. 7 So when they continued asking Him, He raised Himself up and said to them, "He who is without sin among you, let him throw a stone at her first." 8 And again He stooped down and wrote on the ground. 9 Then those who heard it, being convicted by their conscience, went out one by one, beginning with the oldest even to the last. And Jesus was left alone, and the woman standing in the midst. 10 When Jesus had raised Himself up and saw no one but the woman, He said to her, "Woman, where are those accusers of yours? Has no one condemned you?" 11 She said, "No one, Lord." And Jesus said to her, "Neither do I condemn you; go and sin no more."

The lesson, correctly points out that "The solution is not to follow through with the sin but to have a conversion of the heart."

"The surrender of the will is represented as plucking out the eye or cutting off the hand. Often it seems to us that to surrender the will to God is to consent to go through life maimed or crippled. But it is better, says Christ, for self to be maimed, wounded, crippled, if thus you may enter into life. That which you look upon as disaster is the door to highest benefit."—Ellen G. White, Thoughts From the Mount of Blessing, p. 61.

In reality, is surrendering our will to God like being maimed or crippled? Aren't we actually truly free, when we do this?? We are "free" to violate the laws of health, but is this really freedom? Is the obese, diabetic, smoker free?? Is the heroin addict free? We are free to violate the Law of Love, but is this really freedom? Is the child molester free? Is the manipulative spouse free? We are free to violate the Law of Worship, but is this really freedom? Is the rat worshipping Hindu free? Is the Satanist free? Is the Christian who worships an angry God that would kill his own Son free?

WEDNESDAY – PROMISES, PROMISES ...

We are invited to read Lev. 19: 11-13. I would suggest reading the entire chapter. Note the one prevailing theme throughout “I am the Lord [your God]”. Above & beyond the list of rules God is giving, what is He trying to teach the Israelites, and us?

I referenced this quote a few weeks ago, but it’s worth repeating:

“If man had kept the law of God, as given to Adam after his fall, preserved by Noah, and observed by Abraham, there would have been no necessity for the ordinance of circumcision. And if the descendants of Abraham had kept the covenant, of which circumcision was a sign, they would never have been seduced into idolatry, nor would it have been necessary for them to suffer a life of bondage in Egypt; they would have kept God’s law in mind, and there would have been no necessity for it to be proclaimed from Sinai or engraved upon the tables of stone. And had the people practiced the principles of the Ten Commandments, there would have been no need of the additional directions given to Moses. {PP 364.2}”

God’s mission, since Adam & Eve “fell” has been to reveal Himself to humanity, and win us back to trust, so He could heal us.

Everything He has done, from putting “enmity” between us & Satan, to the flood, to having the Earth swallow Korah, Dathan, & Abiram, to putting 185,000 Assyrians to sleep, to has been for the benefit of mankind. Even when mankind has “handcuffed” Him [by demanding meat, instead of manna, or by demanding to go to war, instead of letting God use the hornet to drive out the Canaanites], He has lovingly given us over to “what we want” that we may see the error of our ways, and repent and return to Him for healing.

Regarding divorce:

31 “Furthermore it has been said, ‘Whoever divorces his wife, let him give her a certificate of divorce.’ 32 But I say to you that whoever divorces his wife for any reason except sexual immorality causes her to commit adultery; and whoever marries a woman who is divorced commits adultery.

Any thoughts on this passage? I think this passage has been more misunderstood than any other in all of Scripture [with the possible exception of the prophecies in Dan / Rev].

What is God’s ideal for marriage?? Why the exception for “sexual immorality” above?? Might God actually want adultery to be forgiven / reconciled as well?? Might He understand the human spirit so well, since He designed it, that He knows that a breach of trust of that magnitude cannot be reconciled by some?? Have you known anyone who has been able to reconcile a relationship after an affair??

Regarding making oaths:

Have you ever known anyone whose “yes” meant maybe and their “no” meant maybe? Any gender patterns you’ve noticed? Any gender that gives long, evasive answers to simple yes or no questions?? Those questions were rhetorical. Were these people tolerable to be around for long??

THURSDAY – LEX TALIONIS.

“An eye for an eye, and soon the whole world will be blind.” generally attributed to Gandhi.

Who gave the “Mosaic Law” at the foot of Mt Sinai?? Was Christ contradicting Himself in His Sermon on the Mount?? How do we explain the apparent “change of tune”? Read Ex. 23: 4, 5 & Rom. 12: 20.

43 “You have heard that it was said, ‘You shall love your neighbor and hate your enemy.’
44 But I say to you, love your enemies, bless those who curse you, do good to those who hate you, and pray for those who spitefully use you and persecute you, 45 that you may be sons of your Father in heaven; for He makes His sun rise on the evil and on the good, and sends rain on the just and on the unjust. Matt. 5: 43-45.

What does this passage say about our Designer??

Christ and His Law Lesson 5 1Q 2014

Christ and the Sabbath

Some recent emails:

I've been so blessed the last couple of years listening to your lessons. I've started to use your material when presenting the lesson to our youth class. The young people are so excited and some of them who used to stare down at their feet and weren't interested started to share some great insights. [One friend] in particular wanted to be baptised and asked me to do the baptismal class. I've never presented any baptismal classes in my life, so I decided to use some of your material that's on your blog. He was baptized last year and even started [teaching] the lesson at church. I was so proud and wanted to cry of pure joy when he gave his first sermon this weekend. It was awesome. He [used to be] totally goth and didn't want anything to do with God before. His girlfriend brought him to our Friday youth evenings and there his life started to change. I can't believe it's the same person. God transforming people is real. Having the right picture of God changed our youth group. We just have a struggle with our older people in church to understand this message. Although I'm an elder, the church board didn't want me to preach anymore. It's all because I'm presenting the natural law and not a legal penal law. Other churches asked me to come and preach at their churches this year. When one door is closed, God opens another. This message must be spread to the whole world. If there is any spelling faults, sorry... English isn't my first language. We would like to know if you could send us 100 copies of all 3 DVDs. South Africa

I would like to request all three sets of DVD's you have offered on your website. I have purchased and read both of Dr. Jennings' books and they have been a real blessing in my life. The message he presents is a balm for the soul and a message I (unfortunately) have never heard preached in our church. I want to pass this information along to my granddaughter. CA

Read memory text, "The Sabbath was made for man, and not man for the Sabbath. Therefore the Son of Man is also Lord of the Sabbath." Mk 2:27,28

Thoughts about this text? To whom was Jesus referring when He said the Sabbath was made for man? Just the Jews or for all mankind?

It was made for man – when? What was the condition of the world when the Sabbath was made? What was its purpose back then?

Do we have any evidence that there was a written commandment regarding how to behave on the Sabbath before Sinai?

Was the Sabbath in Eden about avoiding work?

What kind of things do you think Adam and Eve did during the rest of the week?

- Went for walks in nature
- Studied nature
- Played or interacted with animals
- Appreciated God and all He had done in the creation of the world
- Talked with angels
- Were there any weeds to pull?
- Any planting to do?
- Any harvesting and storing in barns to do?
- Any fertilizing, irrigating, pesticides to spread?
- Were there houses to build?
- Was there banking and investments to deal with?
- Was there laundry, vacuuming, dishes to wash?
- Was there anything to do that we call work?

In other words, were their weekly activities very similar to the activities we find valuable for Sabbath?

So what did Adam and Eve do on Sabbath?

- Attend church?
- Have communion ceremony?
- Go to confession?
- Do penance?
- Pay tithe?
- Would they still walk in nature, pick fruit from the trees to eat, play and interact with the animals, converse with God and angels?
- So what was different for Adam and Eve about the Sabbath than any other day of the week?
- Was the difference primarily in their behavior or something else?

Could the difference be in what the day itself revealed? Could it be in what the day itself represented? Could it be in what God did differently on the seventh day of creation week, not what humans did differently? Could it be in the purpose for which the Sabbath was created?

Do we miss the point of the Sabbath when we focus on self, on our behavior, on what we should or should not do?

Do you notice how much of the Sabbath is seen through the lens of self, what we should or should not do, and if God is ever thought of in regard to the Sabbath it is typically restricted to a memorial of creation and redemption.

But we often miss the most profound elements of what creation and redemption mean about God and His law - what kind of law does the Creator utilize?

The first angel's message of Revelation 14 calls us to worship Him who "created", the builder, and what kind of law is this focusing upon? Design parameter. Only the Creator can build the fabric of the cosmos and the protocols upon which it operates. Likewise, redemption uses what kind of law? Redemption is the process of restoring defective beings back into harmony with God and His design for life; it is healing, restorative and the application and reconstruction of God's design.

Doctors cannot cure patients outside the laws of health. Doctors don't alter the laws of health; they intervene in the sick patient to alter the patient restoring the patient back into harmony with the laws of health. Likewise, God doesn't operate outside His design in our salvation, but works to restore humanity back into harmony with His design. The Sabbath, rightly understood reveals both!

The Sabbath was made – just like the earth was made, animals were made, human beings were made – the Sabbath was made holy, built that way, and what is different about the building of the Sabbath from the other first six days of Creation week?

What did God do on the first six days? What did God do on the seventh? On the first six days we see God has power. On the seventh we see the character of the One who wields the power. God didn't use power over, God stepped back and stopped using power, and instead created a time for freedom to think and consider.

The Sabbath is a gift from God to his creation. As our memory verse states, it was made for man. Consider a gift, is it a gift for our blessing, or is it a gift with strings attached?

Why do you think the commandment has the direction not to work? Prior to human sin did God have to instruct Adam and Eve not to work on Sabbath? Why did He give this instruction at Sinai? The Sabbath was made for man, what about the instruction not to work, was that also for man? Several reasons:

- To help us stop the rat wheel of life long enough to think of heavenly things, to contemplate reality, so we can be healed. Remember the parable of the sower; the seeds overtaken by weeds were choked out. And the weeds represent the cares of this life.
- AFTER sin, in bodies that degrade, get sick and die, the rest prescribed on the Sabbath at Sinai would promote better mental and physical health.
 - Many of my patients are worn out and exhausted because they never rest their minds, they work all week, and even if they go to church on Sunday, then the rest of the day is busy cleaning house, doing laundry, catching up on yard work etc.
 - The Bluezones website document the zones in the world with the highest concentration of people living over 100. Only 1 in the US, Loma Linda, CA. And on this non-Christian website, they note that Loma Linda has a high concentration of SDAs who observe a weekly Sabbath. The website recommends a weekly Sabbath rest for better health.
- To weekly have an entire period where we practice saying no to what our selfishness tempts us to do. Where we sacrifice ourselves for another, where we discipline ourselves to wait, not merely avoiding harmful things, but denying self, restraining impulse, which would mature the brain, develop self governance, and which would then grow to be a way of life all week long. But this only works when done from love and appreciation and thankfulness, when done from fear or threat it results in rebellion.

Satan works to get us to either discard the gift of the Sabbath or experience the gift as something else, as a leash, a slave collar, a imposition, a requirement we fulfill, a burden we must endure.

The Sabbath is evidence that Satan's allegations about God, that God imposes rules, that God imposes punishments, that God abuses power are all lies. This is why Satan hates the Sabbath, because rightly seen and understood it reveals Satan as a liar. Satan hates the Sabbath in the same way Richard Nixon hated the Watergate tapes or Clinton hated Monica's dress. Nixon would have loved to destroy the tapes, and in fact tried. Clinton would have loved to destroy the dress. And Satan tries to destroy the Sabbath, to distort and twist the evidence into something it isn't. How?

First, by replacing the day as a sign or evidence of God's character of love, and His law as the design law upon which life is built, with the idea that God's law is a bunch of imposed rules and the Sabbath is an arbitrary test of obedience.

The Jews fell into this distortion and thought the Sabbath was a rule to be observed, rather than an evidence to be understood and a sign of God's methods to be practiced. Thus they burdened the Sabbath with all types of behavioral restrictions making it the most oppressive day of the week, distorting the freedom we have in God with a false sense of fear and enslavement.

Today, many Sabbath observers fall into the same trap, understanding which day is the Sabbath, but accepting lies about it such that the Sabbath is seen as an arbitrary test of obedience, a rule put upon us rather than evidence of God's law of love which frees us.

This week I received an email from one of our online listeners, Curtis Wiltse, who shared the following quote, which is from George Fifiield's book God is Love published in 1897:

God created all things by Jesus Christ, and therefore Christ is the "mighty God," the "everlasting Father" of all intelligent beings in all worlds. God the Father is the Father of Christ, and therefore through him of all these beings created by Christ...

Now the All-Father gave to his children certain rules or laws to regulate their conduct. These laws were not arbitrary, not designed to show his right or power to boss, or domineer, over his children, but, like the rules of well-regulated families, they were designed to promote the happiness of all the children, and the unity of the family life.

Although many might hesitate to express it thus, the thought that lingers in their minds is about like this: "God is arbitrary and obstinate, and will not permit the slightest variation from his laws without plunging us into eternal death." This is what Satan has ever said of God and of his government. I desire to show the contrary so that all may see. I desire to show that it is the variation itself that plunges us into eternal death, and not the arbitrary decree of God. It is the love of God that will not in any way countenance that variation, because it leads to such terrible results.

The law of God is not simply fiat; it rests upon eternal principles of pleasure and pain, -- principles as unchangeable in their very nature as the laws that govern the seasons or control the motions of the planets. The law is not so simply because God said so, but he said so because it was so, and because it must eternally and universally be so.

On the correct understanding of these principles of the nature of God's law depends our power to comprehend God's love in all his dealings with his creatures. On this rests the whole philosophy of the purpose of creation and of the plan of redemption. The existence of misery and suffering, the need for an atonement, and how that atonement is accomplished by Christ, can be understood in the light of God's love only as the nature of his law stands revealed. It is for this reason that we purpose to dwell at some length in these pages on the nature of God's law.

We have always thought of the ten commandments as requiring our love to God and to all his creatures; have we ever thought of them as an expression of his love to us? It would be absolutely foolish to demand our love by arbitrary fiat; love cannot be given in that way; love is born only of love. The state might as well legislate that the sun should not shine or the water should not flow downhill, as for the Lord to make such arbitrary demands for love. In either case the law could not affect in the slightest the things legislated about.

Yet it remains true that all the law of God requires is love, and that, as the apostle says, love is the fulfilling of the law, -- of the whole law. How is this? -- Simply that the law itself, when we understand it, is the revelation of such infinite love as to beget within us a returning, responsive love that can and will fulfill the law.

“God is love.” Every word, every jot and tittle, of that law, coming from love, require only such service as love dictates. When the same love which that law expresses to us is begotten by it in our hearts, and flows out toward God and all his creatures in loving action, then the law is fulfilled. (Fifield, God is Love, p53-55, Theodore Reese, 155 LaSalle Street, Chicago, in 1897)

The Sabbath rightly understood stands as evidence of God's love, His character: truth, presented in love and leaving all His creation free. But, wrongly understood it is misrepresented as a rule that must be enforced, an arbitrary decree by an arbitrary god to test us. This is one way Satan attacks the Sabbath, twisting it. But, he attacks it in another way. How?

Second, by replacing it with another day. Any concerns as to which day is actually the Sabbath of the Bible?

Some argue that the current Sabbath was changed to Sunday when the Julian calendar was changed to the Gregorian calendar. This argument fails to realize that the Gregorian calendar is concerned with the dates of the year, not the weekly cycle, so when the calendar went into place the “date” changed but the day of the week did not. For instance, Thursday October 4, 1582, was followed by Friday October 15, 1582. The dates changed, but the weekly cycle was not affected.

Evidences for a weekly Sabbath from sunset Friday to sunset Saturday:

- Genesis 2:2
- Exodus 16
- Exodus 20 the 10 Commandments
- The Jewish people who generation after generation, in an unbroken chain of human history worship on the same Sabbath each week since Exodus 16.
- Jesus worshipped on the same Sabbath as the Jews today
- The New Testament has many Sabbath controversies, but none revolved around which day was Sabbath. All were about what activities were appropriate for the Sabbath.
 - The point being is that if the Jewish leadership was upset because Jesus healed on Sabbath, or the disciples picked grain on Sabbath – how much more conflict would have occurred if any attempts to change the day the Sabbath was observed was taking place?
 - Also all Christians acknowledge Jesus died on Good Friday and was resurrected on Easter Sunday, and the Bible states that they took Him off the cross in order to keep or observe the Sabbath, so which day falls between Friday and Sunday? Saturday, the Bible Sabbath.
- The languages of the world, many of which have Sabbath for the name of Saturday, the seventh day of the week.

○ Arabic: Sabat	○ Greek: Savvato	○ Russian: Subbota
○ Armenian: Shabat	○ Indonesian: Sabtu	○ Serbian: Subota

- Documents of history which record the historical accuracy that Saturday is the day the Jews observed when Christ was on earth, and the early Christians observed.
- The seven day weekly cycle in history – all cultures regardless of religion operate on a seven day weekly cycle – why? Because of creation week, not astronomical events.
- The admission of the Catholic Church that the Sabbath of the Bible is Saturday. “The church after changing the day of rest from the Jewish Sabbath or seventh-day of the week to the first, made the third commandment refer to Sunday as the day to be kept holy as the Lord’s day.” Catholic Encyclopedia, Vol. 4, p. 153.

And what is so devastating about the change in the day? The change of the Bible Sabbath to another day is in actuality an attack on the entire law of God. How? Because one can only change the Sabbath,

AFTER, one accepts the idea that God's law is like human law, rules imposed and rejects the idea that God's law is the design parameters for life.

In other words, the change in the Sabbath, was really an exchange of the entire law, it is no longer protocols upon which life is constructed, but a list of rules requiring external policing and imposition of punishment. God is now seen as a cosmic dictator, who must be appeased, and Christ's mission is not taught as God's means to heal and restore humans back into harmony with Him, but as the way to pay our legal penalty and appease an angry and offended God.

Thus, with this change in the law to an imposed law, Christians claim Christ while worshipping Satan's version of God.

This has also corrupted the SDA church and its understanding of God, the purpose of Christ's mission to earth, prophecy and the meaning of the mark of the beast and seal of God.

As Fifield said:

On the correct understanding of these principles of the nature of God's law depends our power to comprehend God's love in all his dealings with his creatures. On this rests the whole philosophy of the purpose of creation and of the plan of redemption. The existence of misery and suffering, the need for an atonement, and how that atonement is accomplished by Christ, can be understood in the light of God's love only as the nature of his law stands revealed.

When SDAs recovered the fact of which day of the week is the Sabbath, many failed to recover the truth that God's law is the law of love, the design protocols upon which life is built. Thus, they became like the Jews in Christ's day, worshipping on the right day, but still holding to a false law and false god, as Jesus told them they were of their father the devil. Why? Because it is Satan's law that is imposed, rules enforced, external coercion, force, punishment. And many SDAs teach this version of God, albeit on the Sabbath.

The Seventh-day Adventist Church has held a certain view of the importance of the Sabbath Sunday issue. I will read a view, often promoted in a misunderstood way by well meaning but misguided individuals, and would like your response. There are longer versions of this, but this gets the point across:

- The sign, or seal, of God is revealed in the observance of the seventh-day Sabbath, the Lord's memorial of creation. . . . The mark of the beast is the opposite of this--the observance of the first day of the week.--8T 117 (1904). {LDE 224.3}

Any concerns or questions about these statements? Statements like this are often misunderstood and misused, because they are viewed through the imposed law model. Let's see if we can understand such ideas accurately.

Questions:

- Is the issue in our salvation, in our preparation to meet Jesus, in our being ready to translate into heaven without seeing death as simple as which day of the week a person worships upon?
- If a person absolutely insists on worshipping on the Bible Sabbath does that guarantee they won't get the mark of the beast?
- Those who crucified Christ 2000 years ago wanted Him off the Cross by sunset why? So they could keep the Sabbath – does that mean they had the seal of God?
- Does Satan care if a group of people worships on Sabbath as long as they worship him?
- How should we understand the statements above that we just read?

What is a mark or sign?

A symbol that stands for or signifies something else:

- The sign of the cross stands for what?
- The mark of the fish stands for what?
- The goat's head symbolizes what?
- A pentagram is a mark of what?

So:

- If someone wears a cross are they saved because it is the sign of our crucified Savior?
- If someone has a fish sticker on their car does that mean they are saved because it is a sign of Jesus?
- If someone has a goat ornament hanging on their Xmas tree, does that mean they are condemned because a goat's head symbolizes Satan?
- Or, if someone has a pentagram on their car does that mean they are lost because pentagrams can represent the demonic?
- If someone worships on Sabbath are they saved because it is a sign of God?

So, the passages we read stated that the Bible Sabbath and its observance, is a sign or seal of God, whereas Sunday and its observance is a mark symbolizing the beast.

Question, are these days themselves the reality, or symbols, signs, marks of some deeper reality, just as a fish, cross, pentagram or goat's head?

Could a person wear the flag or uniform of one country, which marks them as being a member of that country; the uniform being an external visible sign of whom they serve, but could the person actually be a traitor and fighting for the other side?

US Army Major Nidal Hasan, shot and killed 13 people at Ft Hood November 2009. Whose uniform was he wearing? Whose side was he on?

Even if we accept that the day upon which one worships can be a mark of loyalty to one side or the other, does that actually inform us of whom is on which side?

Is it possible the days mentioned are signs because they symbolize something that demarcates God's government from Satan's? Could they stand as signals, signets, of the mode of governing each side uses? Could these days, in their origin as days of worship, contain the very elements of the two types of governing – God's vs Satan's?

Given what we have discussed thus far today – how do these two days stand as symbols or signs? Of what?

Here is another quote from one of our church founders:

Why are men not interested to know what constitutes the mark of the beast? Exodus 31:12-17. The Sabbath question will be the issue in the great conflict in which all the world will act a part. [How does the entire world act a part? Will Muslims give up Friday and start worshipping on Sunday? What about agnostics and atheists? Or, is it these two days stand as signs of something more, and everyone will choose one or the other of two methods, of which these days stand as symbols?] Revelation 13:4-17. {RH, April 27, 1911 par. 3}

"Christ died to save sinners, not in their sins, but from their sins. [Imposed law constructs teach that we are saved in our sins, from the legal penalty, but not saved from our sins, that we continue to live sinfully until Christ returns. The truth is that God actually transforms us here and now and we stop living for self, and live to love God and others more than self. This is the heart of the Sabbath, a sign of design law, restoration, healing and that God is making us right in heart again.] The warning given in Revelation shows us the terrible consequence of transgression. By lips that will not lie, God's law is declared to be holy, just, and good. Our duty to obey this law is to be the burden of the last message of mercy to the world.¹ God's law is not a new thing. It is not holiness created, but holiness made known. It is a code of principles expressing mercy, goodness, and love. It presents to fallen humanity the character of God, and states plainly the whole duty of man. {RH, April 27, 1911 par. 4} "'Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength.' This command contains the principles of the first four precepts. And 'thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself.' Upon these two great principles, the Word of God declares, hang all the law and the prophets. {RH, April 27, 1911 par. 5}

"These principles are made known by the third angel's message, which declares that the Creator has always required and always will require obedience to his royal law. [Why does the Creator require obedience? Why does the Creator require we breathe? Because that is how life is built to operate. Remember the law is not holiness created but holiness made known. The commandments did not impose a law, but made the law known. As Fifield said it was an expression of God's love to us!] But this law has been disregarded and transgressed, and is now being ignored by the churches. Human enactments are placed where God's law should be. [Imposed law has replaced design law in our minds and thus our view of God is one of dictator not designer] Sunday, a child of the Papacy, has taken the place of God's holy Sabbath. As Nebuchadnezzar made a golden image, and set it up to be worshiped by all, so Sunday is placed before the people to be regarded as sacred. This day bears not a vestige of sanctity, yet it is held up to be honored by all. {RH, April 27, 1911 par. 6} [So recognizing Sunday as sacred is an acknowledgement that God's law is like Rome's, capable of being changed by decree. This is the real problem, not going to church on Sunday and more than going to church on Wednesday is a problem].

What is the implication of changing the Bible Sabbath for Sunday? What does this act mean in regard to how God and his government are understood? How can a church vote to change the day of worship? What must first happen concerning God's law? What church committee has ever voted to change the law of gravity, or the law of thermodynamics, or the law of respiration? Why don't they vote to change these?

So what does it mean if an ecclesiastical board votes to change the Sabbath? That they believe God's law is imposed, and therefore believe God is like a Roman emperor a cosmic dictator. And accepting this change in the law is the root to the beast system.

The Sabbath stands as evidence of God's character and therefore is symbolic, a sign, of those who value God's law of love, and practice his methods of presenting the truth in love and leaving others free.

Then what is the mark of the beast?

The time has come for the true light to shine amid moral darkness. The third angel's message has been sent forth to the world, warning men against receiving the mark of the beast or of his image in their foreheads or in their hands. To receive this mark means to come to the same decision as the beast has done, and to advocate the same ideas, in direct opposition to the word of God. {RH, July 13, 1897 par. 5}

What decisions did the beast make and what ideas did it advocate that are in direct opposition to the word of God?

That God's law is imposed, and as an imposed law it can be changed, amended, abrogated, altered, thus, under the imposed law construct Sabbath can be changed to Sunday. And, imposed laws require judicial proceedings, investigation, records, judgments, imposed punishments. Therefore, coercive pressure is used to punish lawbreakers and ensure obedience.

Presenting God as a being who imposes law, must punish sin, requires appeasement, requires legal penalties be paid is part of the mark of the beast system regardless of which day one worships upon!

Sunday, being established upon the basis of imposed law becomes a sign or insignia or mark of those who practice such methods. So:

- Muslims, who would kidnap and kill people who believe differently, who would gain governmental power to enforce their religious law, but never worship on Sunday, are still practicing the methods of the beast and thus will receive the mark of the beast.
- Seventh-day Adventists who worship on Sabbath but teach the Sabbath is an arbitrary test of obedience, that God's law is imposed, and God is an imperial dictator who must impose punishment, will like the Pharisees 2000 years ago, oppose the kingdom of love and receive the mark of the beast – which is what? Coming to the same conclusions about God and his law and advocate the same ideas about God!

Thus the issue in the end, of which the two days stand as signs, is the issue of God's law of love, versus Satan's imposed law construct; God's rule of love versus Satan's rule of fear and selfishness; God's design law versus worldly imposed laws. It comes down to the methods one practices and the two days are symbolic of two systems.

Here is another quote from the same founder who wrote the others we have read:

In striking contrast to the wrong and oppression so universally practised were the mission and work of Christ. Earthly kingdoms are established and upheld by physical force, but this was not to be the foundation of the Messiah's kingdom. In the establishment of his government no carnal weapons were to be used, no coercion practised; no attempt would be made to force the consciences of men. These are the principles used by the prince of darkness for the government of his kingdom. His agents are actively at work, seeking in their human independence to enact laws which are in direct contrast to Christ's mercy and loving-kindness. {RH, August 18, 1896 par. 2}

Prophecy has plainly stated the nature of Christ's kingdom. He planned a government which would use no force; his subjects would know no oppression. [no arrests, no detainments, no imposed punishments, no force, no cosmic execution of the wicked by God] The symbols of earthly governments are wild beasts, but in the kingdom of Christ, men are called upon to behold, not a ferocious beast, but the Lamb of God. Not as a fierce tyrant did he come, but as the Son of man; not to conquer the nations by his iron power, but "to preach good tidings unto the meek;" "to bind up the broken-hearted, to proclaim liberty to the captives, and the opening of the prison to them that are bound;" "to comfort all that mourn." He came as the divine Restorer, bringing to oppressed and downtrodden humanity the rich and abundant grace of Heaven, that by the power of his righteousness, man, fallen and degraded though he was, might be a partaker of divinity. [which is healing and restorative, an expression of the law of love, the law life is built to operate upon] {RH, August 18, 1896 par. 3}

Those who promote a god who acts like a Roman emperor, who imposes law, who inflicts punishment, are actively promoting the system of the beast.

Questions?

SUNDAY

The lesson points out that the commandments were given to Israel twice – and the Sabbath is stated differently in the two sets:

“Remember the Sabbath day by keeping it holy. ⁹ Six days you shall labor and do all your work, ¹⁰ but the seventh day is a Sabbath to the Lord your God. On it you shall not do any work, neither you, nor your son or daughter, nor your manservant or maidservant, nor your animals, nor the alien within your gates. ¹¹ For in six days the Lord made the heavens and the earth, the sea, and all that is in them, but he rested on the seventh day. Therefore the Lord blessed the Sabbath day and made it holy. Exodus 20:8-11

“Observe the Sabbath day by keeping it holy, as the Lord your God has commanded you. ¹³ Six days you shall labor and do all your work, ¹⁴ but the seventh day is a Sabbath to the Lord your God. On it you shall not do any work, neither you, nor your son or daughter, nor your manservant or maidservant, nor your ox, your donkey or any of your animals, nor the alien within your gates, so that your manservant and maidservant may rest, as you do. ¹⁵ Remember that you were slaves in Egypt and that the Lord your God brought you out of there with a mighty hand and an outstretched arm. Therefore the Lord your God has commanded you to observe the Sabbath day. DT 5:12-15

Two separate reasons for the Sabbath – why? What is the reason?

What makes the Sabbath holy? Is it a declaration from God, a proclamation, a decree, an arbitrary act that says its holy? Or, is the Sabbath built, created, instituted in a way that sets it apart as being different from the other days when it, as a day, was created? And is it this difference that makes it holy?

So, the two reasons for the Sabbath – Creation and Redemption; God created and then God rested, God delivered and rested. We focus on the creative aspects, which are right to do as we are worshipping the true creator God, and also that nature operates on design law not imposed law, but more than this the Bible says that after creating God rested – this is what separates the Sabbath, God’s activity, actions of resting, not ours. And then the delivery from Egypt?

Israel was an acting troupe, acting out the drama of the plan of salvation. Egypt stood for the sinful world, with Pharaoh as Satan, the many gods the false systems of the world, delivery from Egypt was metaphorical delivery from fear and selfishness, sin.

So the Sabbath is a day that reveals God as creator and recreator, deliverer, destroyer of the defects of sin, both aspects are design law in action, not rules imposed, creating and restoring creation back to His design.

MONDAY

In the middle of the first paragraph we read, “Although Christ was central in the creative process, when He was transformed into human flesh, He subjected Himself to His Father’s commandments.”

Thoughts about this? What does this mean?

Does it mean – He who lived in infinity, outside the bounds of time/space, entered into finiteness, and lived within the confines of the laws of time/space? Christ, as a human, didn’t know the future, wasn’t able to be omni-present, etc. He was subject to fatigue, hunger, required oxygen, water, food, and had a body that could be killed.

But what about the idea of love – was Christ’s relation to the law of love different as a human, other than He struggled with temptations as a human He did not experience before His incarnation? In other words, did Christ have “obligations” or “requirements” regarding God’s law of love that were different than God Himself practiced?

Was the Sabbath to Jesus as a human restrictive or freeing?

TUESDAY

Read first paragraph, “Many who claim...” What does it mean to keep the Sabbath holy?

Can the Sabbath be kept holy by behavior, by avoiding certain activities or affirmatively doing other activities?

Or, is the Sabbath only kept holy by beings who have been reborn, recreated within, to have the law written on the hearts and minds, such that they operate in harmony with the principles that the Sabbath signifies?

WEDNESDAY

Read first paragraph, “When God created...”

Read second paragraph, “Each of the...”

THURSDAY

Read first paragraph, “Sabbath...”

Does the Sabbath reach back past creation of this planet? Is there any evidence the Sabbath existed before earth was created? Was there a need for the Sabbath, the evidence of God’s character it reveals, before Satan started his war and lied about God?

Read second paragraph, “God created...”

Yes, creation has been defiled, and God is working to heal, cleanse, and restore His creation – this is not a legal problem, but an actual condition that needs fixing.

FRIDAY

Read first paragraph, “From the very beginning...” Why is breaking the law in one point breaking in all points?

Read and discuss the questions.

God's Law Lesson 6: Christ's Death and the Law

For May 10, 2014

2 Peter 3:15-16 GNB "Look on our Lord's patience as the opportunity he is giving you to be saved, just as our dear friend Paul wrote to you, using the wisdom that God gave him. (16) This is what he says in all his letters when he writes on the subject. There are some difficult things in his letters which ignorant and unstable people explain falsely, as they do with other passages of the Scriptures. So they bring on their own destruction."

Memory Text:

Romans 7:4 GNB "That is how it is with you, my friends. As far as the Law is concerned, you also have died because you are part of the body of Christ; and now you belong to him who was raised from death in order that we might be useful in the service of God."

SABBATH

Christ's Death and the Law

Read the first three paragraphs. What is the difference between the speed limit and the law of God?

- One is enacted
- One is inherent

If the law was an enacted law, the law could be done away with to suit a change in circumstances. Why can't the law of God be changed?

- It is inherent in who God is and thus in how things are constructed.
- To do away with / change the law of God would end life / universe as it truly is.

This week's lesson assumes that the Law of God is an enacted law and therefore confuses two laws

- The Law of God (the law of love) of God's kingdom
- The Law of sin and death of Satan's kingdom.
- The law of selfishness and survival of self at the expense of all others.

At the cross, the epitome of both of these laws was demonstrated. Christ's death demonstrated the Law of God's kingdom (love) and Satan demonstrated the law of his kingdom (the law of sin and death).

"At the cross of Calvary, love and selfishness stood face to face. Here was their crowning manifestation. Christ had lived only to comfort and bless, and in putting Him to death, Satan manifested the malignity of his hatred against God. He made it evident that the real purpose of his rebellion was to dethrone God, and to destroy Him through whom the love of God was shown." {DA 57.2}

It is impossible to explain the origin of sin so as to give a reason for its existence. Yet enough may be understood concerning both the origin and the final disposition of sin, to make fully manifest the justice and benevolence of God in all His dealings with evil. Nothing is more plainly taught in Scripture than that God was in no wise responsible for the entrance of sin.... Sin is an intruder, for whose presence no reason can be given. It is mysterious, unaccountable; to excuse it, is to defend it. Could excuse for it be found, or cause be shown for its existence, it would cease to be sin. Our only definition of sin is that given in the word of God; it is “the transgression of the law;” (1 John 3:4) it is the outworking of a principle at war with the great law of love which is the foundation of the divine government.19{TMK 15.2}

“The Bible is its own expositor. Scripture is to be compared with scripture. The student should learn to view the word as a whole, and to see the relation of its parts. He should gain a knowledge of its grand central theme, of God’s original purpose for the world, of the rise of the great controversy, and of the work of redemption. He should understand the nature of the two principles that are contending for supremacy, and should learn to trace their working through the records of history and prophecy, to the great consummation. He should see how this controversy enters into every phase of human experience; how in every act of life he himself reveals the one or the other of the two antagonistic motives; and how, whether he will or not, he is even now deciding upon which side of the controversy he will be found.” {Ed 190.2}

Read the Text of the day: Romans 7:1-6

The Lesson Study Guide has it right in the first paragraph, “The emphasis is not on the dead but on the living”

Just a side note: Why are the dead no longer under the law? They are no longer in the universe?

If they were not sleeping; if they had gone immediately to some other of God’s realm: the law would still apply because they would still be part of God’s universe that was constructed on God’s principles.

Second paragraph: The old self is under the law of this world.

In the fourth paragraph the guide says: “the believer is now married to Christ means that the law is no longer an instrument of condemnation; the believer in Jesus is free from the condemnation of the law because he or she is covered in the righteousness of Jesus.”

He is not just covered. He is Christ through and through.

Romans 12:2 GNB “Do not conform yourselves to the standards of this world, but let God transform you inwardly by a complete change of your mind. Then you will be able to know the will of God---what is good and is pleasing to him and is perfect.”

The next paragraph ends by saying: “the law no longer hold him or her in the grip of condemnation because the person now “belongs to Jesus.”

Just as an MRI no longer “condemns” a person whose tumor has disappeared and been healed into a healthy person. The MRI scanner now no longer holds you in fear because you have been made whole.

MONDAY

The first paragraph states there is one law. I believe, as stated earlier, there are two. Read Romans 7:7-13

How does the law “cause sin to stir up all kinds of selfish desires”? It also says that Paul was “alive apart from the law.” Really? Or in perception

Second paragraph talks about a purse thief and purse owner. How does an enacted law protect the purse owner? Fear, risk of punishment, etc

How does an inherent law protect the purse holder? The Golden Rule as part of the DNA of all concerned.

The will of God is expressed in the precepts of His holy law, and the principles of this law are the principles of heaven. The angels of heaven attain unto no higher knowledge than to know the will of God, and to do His will is the highest service that can engage their powers. {MB 109.1}

But in heaven, service is not rendered in the spirit of legality. When Satan rebelled against the law of Jehovah, the thought that there was a law came to the angels almost as an awakening to something unthought of. In their ministry the angels are not as servants, but as sons. There is perfect unity between them and their Creator. Obedience is to them no drudgery. Love for God makes their service a joy. So in every soul wherein Christ, the hope of glory, dwells, His words are re-echoed, “I delight to do Thy will, O My God: yea, Thy law is within My heart.” Psalm 40:8. {MB 109.2}

“However, in the same way that God’s retributive vengeance does not stop Him from being a God of love, the law’s function as an agent of sin and death does not make it sinful.”

Wrong, wrong, wrong.

If God is truly a God of vengeance, then he is using force to coerce beings into law obedience, and he has destroyed his universe of love. It does make a difference!

Bottom pink question: “How do you relate to the law when you violate it?”

How do you relate to the MRI scanner when you have a tumor? When you go into the scanner is there any concern? Is because the scanner is going to hurt you?

I have often wanted to go in the scanner just to look at my innards. What I call a healthy curiosity. But if I was sick, I would really like them to find what was wrong.

Psalms 139:23 - 24 “Search me, O God, and know my heart: try me, and know my thoughts: And see if there be any wicked way in me, and lead me in the way everlasting.”

Psalms 139:23-24 GNB “Examine me, O God, and know my mind; test me, and discover my thoughts. (24) Find out if there is any evil in me and guide me in the everlasting way.”

TUESDAY:

The Power of the Law

First question: What is the function of the Law?

Romans 4:15 “PhillipsNT “For the Law can produce no promise, only the threat of wrath to come. And, indeed, if there were no Law the question of sin would not arise.” Where is there no law? No where.

Even if we do not know there is a law, that does not mean that it does not exist.

Acts 17:30 GW “God overlooked the times when people didn't know any better. But now he commands everyone everywhere to turn to him and change the way they think and act.”

Were they still dying? If the consequences of the law are inherent. If the consequences of the law are enacted.

Romans 5:12-14 GNB “Sin came into the world through one man, and his sin brought death with it. As a result, death has spread to the whole human race because everyone has sinned. (13) There was sin in the world before the Law was given; but where there is no law, no account is kept of sins. (14) But from the time of Adam to the time of Moses, death ruled over all human beings, even over those who did not sin in the same way that Adam did when he disobeyed God's command. Adam was a figure of the one who was to come.”

Romans 7:7 GNB Shall we say, then, that the Law itself is sinful? Of course not! But it was the Law that made me know what sin is. If the Law had not said, "Do not desire what belongs to someone else," I would not have known such a desire.

Read first paragraph: “So the law is used to define sin. Had it not been for God’s law, there would be no absolute method of knowing what actions were acceptable or unacceptable to Him. And though sin cannot exist without the law, Paul makes it clear that the law is not a willing partner with sin:

So what is killing me? The Law? Sin! The wages of sin is death.

What about the angels in heaven? Did they know what they were supposed to do without a written law?

Why? / Why not?

Romans 7:13 GNB But does this mean that what is good caused my death? By no means! It was sin that did it; by using what is good, sin brought death to me, in order that its true nature as sin might be revealed. And so, by means of the commandment sin is shown to be even more terribly sinful.

Read 1 Corinthians 15:54-58

Second paragraph of Tuesday's Lesson Guide: "Had it not been for the law, there would be no death because it would be impossible to define sin."

No! "Death reigned from Adam to Moses" Romans 5:14

Just because you do not know the danger, doesn't mean danger does not exist. You are able to recognize danger and find a cure (Christ) when you are aware of the danger you are in. We should be thankful when we have guardrails and warning signs.

My experience hiking in Italy with my little children:

- ages 5 & 7
- Rode the cable car up into the mountains and walked out to a large cross.
- My surgery professor: if you need guard rails you don't belong up there.
- You should have enough self control to not need external controls.

WEDNESDAY:

The Impotent Law

Read the first paragraph of Wednesday's Lesson: Though in one sense, as we saw, the law "empowers" sin, in another real way the law is terribly impotent. How can the same object be both powerful and impotent at the same time.

Just like an MRI: it can diagnose but cannot heal. It would be like a physician that was trying to treat your disease with an MRI.

In the second paragraph it speaks about "God's will" What is God's will?

"All come to repentance" and "all to be saved"

Wednesday's texts are some of the most meaningful texts for God's love and restoration for us. Acts 13:38, 39; Romans 8:3; Galatians 3:21

The second paragraph is well said. Read it out loud for the class.

Why is the third paragraph true? Or not.

Romans 8:7 GNB “And so people become enemies of God when they are controlled by their human nature; for they do not obey God's law, and in fact they cannot obey it.”

“The man who attempts to keep the commandments of God from a sense of obligation merely—because he is required to do so—will never enter into the joy of obedience. He does not obey. When the requirements of God are accounted a burden because they cut across human inclination, we may know that the life is not a Christian life. True obedience is the outworking of a principle within. It springs from the love of righteousness, the love of the law of God. The essence of all righteousness is loyalty to our Redeemer. This will lead us to do right because it is right—because right doing is pleasing to God.” {COL 97}

THURSDAY:

The Curse of the Law

What is the curse of the law? How do you get the curse of the law? Does the law do it?

Read the Bible texts for the day:

Psalms 51:5 GNB “I have been evil from the day I was born; from the time I was conceived, I have been sinful.”

Isaiah 64:6 GNB “All of us have been sinful; even our best actions are filthy through and through. Because of our sins we are like leaves that wither and are blown away by the wind.”

Romans 3:23 GNB “everyone has sinned and is far away from God's saving presence.”

The first paragraph talks about a “natural person.” Is there such a thing anymore? In God’s universe, what is natural? Only by being infected with the disease of sin, are we what we are today. Some day soon, God will make all things new, and then the natural state of things will be restored.

The illustration of my laptop: I had been working on typing out my study notes when I heard an audio alarm from my laptop. My battery was almost expired. Only by connecting to the power source was healthy computing restored. We need daily and constant connection with our “Power Source” to truly live. We may think we are OK, and it may appear to be so for a short period of time, but we ultimately will cease to live without God.

The last sentence of the first paragraph says: “ The truth is, the law demands total and complete conformity, and who has ever always given that, except Jesus?”

Christ goal for us is not conformity... It is Unity

John 17:21 GNB “I pray that they may all be one. Father! May they be in us, just as you are in me and I am in you. May they be one, so that the world will believe that you sent me.”

Why? We have a disease. We need a cure, not a legal pardon.

We need to read the last three paragraphs of Thursday’s lesson with an understanding of where the curse comes from. It is not from God.

Genesis 3: there are only two things that were cursed.

- The serpent
- The ground
- Genesis 3:17 GW Then he said to the man, "You listened to your wife and ate fruit from the tree, although I commanded you, 'You must never eat its fruit.' The ground is cursed because of you. Through hard work you will eat food that comes from it every day of your life.

- The ground was cursed “because of you” (Adam)
- It wasn’t from God
- It was the result of what man (Adam) had done and it is played out of the succeeding generations / years.

FRIDAY:

Further Study

Read the first paragraph from EGW

Read the first two sentences of the second paragraph: “In summary, the death of Jesus powerfully demonstrated the permanence of God’s law. When our first parents sinned, God could have abolished His laws and taken away the penalties for violation.”

- This is impossible
- God can change not
- He is and always will be love personified

The last sentence: “This means that any one of us, through faith in Jesus, can have our sins forgiven and stand perfect in God’s sight.

How?

2 Corinthians 5:17 “Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature; old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new.”

God’s graciousness is not a cover for sin, it is a transformation. It is a gift of transformation and restoration to his original ideal. This passage does not say “he will be a new creature” ; It says he is a new creature.

Christ and His Law Lesson 7 2Q 2014

Christ, the End of the Law

ANNOUNCEMENTS:

May 16/17: Dr. Jennings will be speaking at the Auburn SDA Church, in Auburn CA. Friday Evening – The Model of the Mind; and Saturday – The God and Your Brain Seminar

June 21 Saturday – Jfest: Come and Reason Ministries will have a booth at J103's Jfest at Camp Jordan. We will give away our materials. We will still have class on June 21 at our regular time.

July 11-13: Dr. Jennings will be presenting at the Rethinking Hell Conference: The Legacy of Edward Fudge and the Future of Conditionalism in Houston, TX. To find our more visit: <http://www.rethinkinghellconference.com/2014/>

Before we start the lesson I wanted to share a few emails I have received over the last couple of weeks.

I post your [Bible Study] classes on my facebook page and I got a message from an SDA Pastor in Northern Minnesota, today, [he said] there are some concerns about Tim Jennings' beliefs on the atonement and he sent me a website to try and give me better understanding on it!

I smiled to myself because I see people in the [church] that I [have] known for years [that] are thinking I'm misguided! For the first time in my life, I finally have found peace. Not only in Jesus, but in His Abba, too! Thank you for your Ministry. MN

Thanks for the ministry you're providing. My heart is glad every day as I continue to learn about this actuality of the character of God. It's my heart's desire to be available to God, every moment of every day, to adequately impart this life-changing truth to others. WA

Someone recently shared a copy of God and Your Brain with me, I found it a very enlightening presentation and want to share it with others.

That led me to your web sight where I have watched the April 19th, then April 5th [Bible Study] class. I cannot wait to go back and watch the 4th quarter on the Sanctuary and get caught up on this quarter. You have inspired me to an awakened interest in the lessons. The quarterlies have had an excellent subject matter for a time such as this; but have been biased in opinions that I don't believe correctly reveal my GOD the way He intended them to.

Thank you for showing me that there are Adventist People that believe as I do about the Love of GOD and not the demanding and punishing god. You are proof to me of the nearness of Christ's soon return: for, when Christ's character shall be revealed in His people He shall return. NE

From Simon Harrison our Distribution Manager in Australia:

*Perth had it's annual SDA "Big Camp" over the Easter weekend. Yesterday we were able to set up a stall outside the ABC bookstore with C&R materials. We gave away over two hundred of each DVD set, a box of each study guide, countless Fundamental Focus and brochures etc! We were able to sell Could it Be This Simple? and The God-Shaped Brain books through the ABC. Not sure of the final numbers as the ABC Manager also purchased some for the ABC stock.*

We had many positive comments, with many people saying they had heard good things from your visit. Made some good contacts and overall pleased with the response. I heard that today people were going into the ABC asking for more and bought all of your books that were in stock. Of all the people that came we only had one negative response. I know there were some of my very active opposers there, but they just walked past and tried not to make eye contact. But the message is going forward! Praise God!

For some time we have been teaching the truth about God's law of love, the design protocols upon which life is made to operate, and exposing how Christianity became infected with an imposed law idea, like a dictator uses his power to create arbitrary laws, laws with no reason other than the one in power said so. This infection of thought has deeply penetrated Christianity.

An online listener, Curtis Wiltse, in follow-up from our lesson on the Sabbath a couple of weeks ago, emailed me the following, which documents how this infection has penetrated our church. This is from a book entitled The Sabbath in Scripture and History published by the Review and Herald 1982:

In an arbitrary manner God appointed that on the seventh day we should come to rest with His creation in a particular way. He filled this day with a content that is "uncontaminated" by anything related to the cyclical changes of nature or the movements of the heavenly bodies. That content is the idea of the absolute sovereignty of God, sovereignty unqualified even by an indirect cognizance of the natural movements of time and rhythms of life. As the Christian takes heed of the Sabbath day and keeps it holy, he does so purely in answer to God's command, and simply because God is his Creator. Thus, the Sabbath command comes nearer to being a true measure of spirituality than any other of the commandments, and, as in the days of Israel of old, it is often more of a test of loyalty to God than is any of the others. (Raoul Dederen, The chapter is titled, "Reflections on a Theology of the Sabbath".)

Thoughts? This paragraph describes a dictator. This paragraph describes Satan's view of God. This paragraph is evidence of how deeply the infection has penetrated to our church, our church leaders, publications, institutions and why it is so important that each person think for themselves.

Listen to the position our church founders took, and notice the clear difference:

Again the people were reminded of the sacred obligation of the Sabbath. Yearly feasts were appointed, at which all the men of the nation were to assemble before the Lord, bringing to Him their offerings of gratitude and the first fruits of His bounties. The object of all these regulations was stated: they proceeded from no exercise of mere arbitrary sovereignty; all were given for the good of Israel. The Lord said, "Ye shall be holy men unto Me"--worthy to be acknowledged by a holy God. PP 311

As the Jews departed from God, and failed to make the righteousness of Christ their own by faith, the Sabbath lost its significance to them. Satan was seeking to exalt himself and to draw men away from Christ, and he worked to pervert the Sabbath, because it is the sign of the power of Christ. The Jewish leaders accomplished the will of Satan by surrounding God's rest day with burdensome requirements. In the days of Christ the Sabbath had become so perverted that its observance reflected the character of selfish and arbitrary men rather than the character of the loving heavenly Father. The rabbis virtually represented God as giving laws which it was impossible for men to obey. They led the people to look upon God as a tyrant, and to think that the observance of the Sabbath, as He required it, made men hard-hearted and cruel. It was the work of Christ to clear away these misconceptions. Although the rabbis followed Him with merciless hostility, He did not even appear to conform to their requirements, but went straight forward, keeping the Sabbath according to the law of God. DA 283,284

Another online listener, Dell Topel, emailed me a quotation from George Knight's new book, Turn Your Eyes Upon Jesus, Review & Herald Publishing, 2013. Remember, George Knight wrote the book The Cross of Christ, which was used a few years ago by our opponents in an attempt to refute our views about God. It would appear that George Knight is having a change of views and moving in our direction on these things. Listen to this from page 122:

I Am My Own Judge

The Father judges no one, but has given all judgment to the Son. John 5:22 RSV

Now there is a thought pregnant with meaning: Jesus as our judge. Many of us have seen pictures of the judgment in which a somewhat apathetic (if not fearsome) Father sits upon the judgment throne with Jesus prostrate before Him pleading for salvation of His followers.

Wrong on both counts. First, the Father is not indifferent, let alone fearsome. He is not someone who has to be persuaded by Jesus or anyone else. The plain fact of the case is that He "so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life. For God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved.” (John 3:16,17).

Banish all thought of God as a stern judge who needs to be convinced by a soft-hearted Christ. No! It was the Father Himself who out of a warm and caring heart initiated the plan of salvation.

Not only did the Father begin the plan, but, according to Jesus, the Father has even handed the responsibility for judgment over to Him. And that is just the beginning of an interesting part of the story. Because Jesus tells us in John 12 that He is turning over our judgment to us.

Do you find that one hard to believe? Well, listen to Him: “If any one hears my sayings and does not keep them, I do not judge him: for I did not come to judge the world but to save the world. He who rejects me and does not receive my sayings has a judge; the word that I have spoken will be his judge on the last day” (John12:47, 48 RSV).

Now, I know that Jesus said that it will be His words that finally judge. But think about the implications of that statement. It is you and I as individuals who make decisions about accepting or rejecting that judgmental word. We have the final decision-making authority as to where we will spend eternity. The hinge is how we relate to Him through His Word. In that sense we are our own judges.

He is describing natural law, design law, sowing and reaping, that it is our decisions which change us and result in our salvation and loss. Rev 14 “Fear God and give glory to him for the hour of his judgment has come.”

But notice what this same author wrote in his 2008 book The Cross of Christ, page 39:

“God, as the Bible pictures Him, cannot and will not stand idly by while His creation suffers. His reaction is judgment on sin, and we should see this judgment as the real meaning of biblical wrath. God condemns sin in judgment and will eventually move to destroy it completely... Once sin fully matures so that all creation recognizes that God is right in His judgments on sin and sinners, He will react to annihilate both (Rev. 20:13-15...)”

God did react to sin – by doing what? Judging it? No, not in a legal sense, but diagnosing it certainly. Diagnosing it as being out of harmony with how He constructed life to operate, and then by overcoming and curing it in the person of Jesus Christ.

Judging it as described here is based on the imposed law lie, which leads to the inevitable lie, that God is the source of death, and death is inflicted upon people by God

Curing it, overcoming it, is based on the truth of God’s law of love, the design protocol upon which life is constructed, and those who refuse the Remedy provided by God, die as the result of uncured sin, just as the Bible teaches, “the wages of sin is death” Rom 6:23, “sin when full grown brings forth death” James 1:15.

So, the good news is that perhaps, truth about God is penetrating the church and the infection of the false legal view is losing hold on people’s minds. The gates of hell cannot stand against the truth about God!

SABBATH

Read first three paragraphs, “A well-known magazine...” thoughts?

What does this mean, “we have been shown the only way to achieve immortality, and that is through faith in Jesus as opposed to the keeping of the law—even though we are to keep it.”

What does it mean, “though faith in Jesus?”

- We claim the legal payment of His blood to pay our sin debt?
- We are won to genuine trust, open our hearts, surrender our entire selves, lives, future, etc to Him and the Holy Spirit enters and transforms us to be like Him? We partake of the divine nature, as Peter says?

These two views of faith and salvation lead down two different paths:

- The first – a path in which people claim salvation, based on a legal payment, but with no power to change the life, because God is still misrepresented and people continue to live in fear. Thus Christianity has suffered for millennia under this view, with infant Christians, sick, abusing others in the name of Christ, including their own families.
- The second – a path in which people actually die to self, are renewed in the inner man and live victorious Christlike lives empowered by the Holy Spirit

SUNDAY

First sentence is fairly well said, “Though it points out sins, the law is powerless to save us from them.”

How could you say it better?

“Though it points out sin, the law is powerless to save us from it.”

What is the difference?

The way they state it emphasizes acts, behaviors, deeds, which is all based on an imposed law construct, which generally leads to payment theologies.

The way I said it, emphasizes our condition, being deviant or out of harmony with God's design, which is based on design law, which leads to the truth, God's plan of healing, or salvation.

Read the first paragraph, which is in reaction to Romans 5:12-20, "Notice in this passage..." thoughts?

Why is there an association between sin and death? Either because sin actually does something to the sinner which causes death, or sin breaks a heavenly rule God and God responds to the break in the rule by using His power to inflict death as a punishment. Which is it?

Notice the second paragraph, "Now read Romans..." thoughts? Did you notice how the paragraph said, "However, instead of bringing in the natural result of sin..." The lesson acknowledges here that death is the result of sin, not the infliction of God.

But then the lesson seems to struggle a bit with this, "no matter how bad sin is, God's grace is sufficient to cover it for those who claim His promises by faith."

What does this sound like? How can this be misunderstood? What is a healthy and correct way to understand this?

Here is how it was understood by Christians over 100 years ago, from a book called Christ's Object Lessons:

This robe, woven in the loom of heaven, has in it not one thread of human devising. Christ in His humanity wrought out a perfect character, and this character He offers to impart to us. "All our righteousness are as filthy rags." Isaiah 64:6. Everything that we of ourselves can do is defiled by sin. But the Son of God "was manifested to take away our sins; and in Him is no sin..." By His perfect obedience He has made it possible for every human being to obey God's commandments. When we submit ourselves to Christ, the heart is united with His heart, the will is merged in His will, the mind becomes one with His mind, the thoughts are brought into captivity to Him; we live His life. This is what it means to be clothed with the garment of His righteousness. Then as the Lord looks upon us He sees, not the fig-leaf garment, not the nakedness and deformity of sin, but His own robe of righteousness, which is perfect obedience to the law of Jehovah. {COL 311.4}

What, according to this view, does it mean to be covered by Christ's robe of righteousness? Notice, it is actual transformation of the believer, not a covering over of deformity and sin. So a covering over could be more accurately stated as a writing over, as we do with our computers we write over defective software with new software, thus the old is not merely covered, but destroyed. Or how we record over a VCR tape, not a mere covering over, a overwriting of a new character received from Jesus, when we trust Him.

This is the true Gospel, the power of the Creator God to heal and recreate His people back into His image.

Read the fourth paragraph, “Influenced by the translation...” Do you notice how the lesson focuses on behavior, but is this the primary issue of sin, or is sin a condition of heart and mind that leads to destructive behaviors? Which comes first sin or bad behavior?

According to Jesus, in MT 5, the behavior is the outgrowth of a sinful heart.

Here is an historic view:

Eve believed the words of Satan, and the belief of that falsehood in regard to God's character, changed the condition and character of both herself and husband. They were changed from good and obedient children into transgressors... {RH, January 5, 1886 par. 8}

- Lies believed break the circle of love and trust
- Broken love and trust result in fear and selfishness
- Fear and selfishness result in acts of sin

Here is my paraphrase of Romans 5:12-21:

^{5:12} Therefore, the infection of distrust of God, which deformed man's heart and mind with selfishness and fear and results only in death, infected the human race when Adam accepted Satan's lies about God and broke trust with him. This infection of fear and selfishness is inherited by all human beings, because all are born infected – ¹³ this is revealed by the fact that before the written law was given, the infection of distrust, fear and selfishness was already in the world. But this infection of distrust, fear and selfishness is not diagnosable without the law. ¹⁴ Nevertheless, even without being diagnosed as infected with this terminal condition, humans still died from the time of Adam to Moses, even those who did not break a specific command, like Adam did – revealing that the problem is the infected state of our minds not a legal issue with God.

Adam, the first man, being the conduit through which the infection entered humanity, represents the one man who is the conduit of the antidote which cures the many who accept it.

^{5:15} But the gift of the antidote is not like the infection. For if everyone is born infected with a terminal condition because of the choice of Adam, how incredibly effective must the antidote, brought by Christ, be, since it cures all who take it! ¹⁶ Again the gift of the antidote is not like the result of the breach of trust. Adam's breach of trust infected all humanity and all humanity is diagnosed as sick and dying. This occurred without each individual choosing to be infected, but the antidote came after humankind had been severely damaged and deformed by selfishness and sin and brought cleansing, purification, health and complete restoration. ¹⁷ If by the choice of one man's distrust, selfishness and death permeated all humanity, how much more will those who accept the Remedy that Christ has achieved, experience restored trust and complete healing to live forever with God.

^{5:18} Therefore, just as Adam's distrust infected humanity with the fatal condition of fear and selfishness, so too Christ's choice to sacrifice self achieved the life-giving Remedy for all mankind. ¹⁹ Just as Adam's choice infected the human race with a terminal condition, so too Christ's perfect life has brought the Remedy to heal all who accept it.

^{5:20} The written law was added so that the infection of distrust and selfishness could be more easily seen and diagnosed. And where the exposure of sin and selfishness increased, God's willingness to heal increased all the more, ²¹ so that, just as distrust and selfishness brought deformity and death, even more importantly God's gracious Remedy, brought by Jesus Christ, results in complete healing and life eternal.

MONDAY

Read first paragraph, "One of the most difficult..." Do you find this concept difficult? It is only difficult for those who have accepted Satan's version of God's law, that it is a set of imposed rules. Notice how they use speed limit law as an example? What type of law is this? Imposed, which requires imposed penalties, which misrepresents God. When we understand God's law is the design protocol for life, it isn't hard to understand why we should live in harmony with it.

The paralytic healed by Christ – first Christ forgave him, then physically healed him, why? Because his physical illness was a result of breaking God's law. (DA 267) After healing, would he be free from destruction if he went out and broke the law of God again?

A person who contracted HIV from promiscuous behavior receives a miraculous healing from God – are they free from destruction and reinfection if they resume their promiscuity?

The lesson asks us to read Romans 6:15-23, this is from my paraphrase:

^{6:15} What then? Shall we indulge selfish desires because God has provided a gracious cure for our terminal condition? Absolutely not! ¹⁶ Don't you realize that when you gratify the selfish desires, you are slowly transformed and become more and more selfish destroying the very faculties that recognize and respond to God's healing truth – thus over time you lose your freedom to choose and become a slave to selfishness and lust, which leads only to self-destruction and death? Conversely if you accept God's gracious Remedy and choose his methods you are transformed and become Christlike in character. ¹⁷ Thanks be to God, that even though you used to be slaves to selfishness, you wholeheartedly accepted the truth revealed by Jesus, trusted God and practice his methods of love, truth and freedom, which you were taught. ¹⁸ Therefore, you have been freed from distrust, fear and selfishness and have been bonded to love, truth and liberty, doing what is right because it is right.

^{6:19} I state this as simply as possible, using human terms because it is easier to understand and learn that way. Just as you used to choose to use your bodies in lewd, vile and debasing ways, so now choose to use your bodies doing what is right, reasonable and healthy, which leads to purity and holiness. ²⁰ When you slavishly indulged the selfish desires you avoided what was healthy, right and good.²¹ But what good did that do you? It only caused pain, heartache and ultimately death.²² But now you have accepted the truth about God, been restored to trust and been set free from fear and selfishness. You are wholeheartedly committed to God and receive complete recreation of heart and mind resulting in eternal life.²³ For the infection of selfishness leads only to death, but the gift of God is eternal life through the healing Remedy brought by Jesus Christ our Lord.

Read last paragraph, “Paul had ever exalted...” How do you understand this passage? First define the pertinent terms from Scripture:

- Divine law is what? The law of love, which is the template upon which life is constructed and an expression of God’s character.
 - Where do the 10 Commandment fit? Are they the eternal law or a distilled version, a codification for humans in sin?
 - In Sunday’s lesson it stated that in Eden “the 10 commandments had not yet been formally revealed.” Why? Because they weren’t even in existence anywhere in the universe in that codified form.
 - “By lips that will not lie, God's law is declared to be holy, just, and good. Our duty to obey this law is to be the burden of the last message of mercy to the world.¹ God's law is not a new thing. It is not holiness created, but holiness made known. It is a code of principles expressing mercy, goodness, and love. It presents to fallen humanity the character of God, and states plainly the whole duty of man. {RH, April 27, 1911 par. 4}
 - The 10 Commandments were added because of human sin to diagnose and reveal our condition and help us understand God’s character of love
- What is the penalty for disobedience? Death, why?
 - What is the penalty for breaking the law of respiration by jumping in the ocean with 100 pounds of concrete tied to your legs? Why? Can the law of respiration save you from breaking it?
 - So, does God’s law have any power to save someone who is out of harmony with it?
- What does repent mean? Turning away from, not confession, but actual desire to be changed, sick and disgusted with the selfishness which infects us.
- What is just or justice? Doing what is right, based upon the law of love
- What is wrath? Letting go to reap what one has chosen
- What is faith? Trusting God with everything, our lives, outcomes...
- What does the blood represent? According to Scripture, “the life is in the blood”
- What about pardon? Forgiveness, escape from the consequences

¹ It is the darkness of misapprehension of God that is enshrouding the world. Men are losing their knowledge of His character. It has been misunderstood and misinterpreted. At this time a message from God is to be proclaimed, a message illuminating in its influence and saving in its power. His character is to be made known. Into the darkness of the world is to be shed the light of His glory, the light of His goodness, mercy, and truth... The last rays of merciful light, the last message of mercy to be given to the world, is a revelation of His character of love. The children of God are to manifest His glory. In their own life and character they are to reveal what the grace of God has done for them. {COL 415}

So what does it all mean?

Paul promoted the truth about God, His law and character of love. He revealed that the written law was a diagnostic instrument our gracious God provided to expose sin and lead us to Christ for healing. He taught that those out of harmony with God's design (wrongdoers) must have a fundamental transformation of the heart motives (repentance) and die to self (humble themselves). God's right or just action to those who choose to remain outside His design it to ultimately set them free to reap the result, (His wrath). And the only way to be restored back to God's design is by trusting Jesus and partaking of His character represented by His blood. Thus, once restored back into harmony with the law, there is reconciliation with God or pardon.

Do you like the language used in the paragraph from the lesson? Why do you think such language is used? Because different people understand in different ways, are at different levels of development, have different abilities to comprehend, speak different languages, within the same language, and God loves them all so presents the message in a variety of ways in order to reach all people. Such descriptions are intended to reach people whose minds are operating upon certain preconceived ideas or premises in order to give them hope and restore them to trust in God. Then as they walk with God, the Holy Spirit will lead them into ever increasing light and truth of His character.

TUESDAY

The lesson asks us to read Romans 7:13-25, it asks, is the passage talking about a converted or unconverted person. This is from my paraphrase and my view is obvious:

^{7:13} Did the law, which did good by diagnosing what was wrong with me, become the source of my terminal condition? Of course not! It only exposed what was already in me so that I could recognize how totally decayed, putrid and near death I was, so that through the lens of the commandment I might become utterly disgusted with evil and selfishness and long for a cure.

^{7:14} We know that the law is consistent, reliable and reasonable; but I am inconsistent, unreliable and unreasonable, because the infection of distrust, fear and selfishness has warped my mind and damaged my thinking. ¹⁵ I am frustrated with what I do. For having been restored to trust, I want to do what is in harmony with God and his methods and principles; but I find that even though I trust God, old habits, conditioned responses, preconceived ideas and other remnants of the devastation caused by distrust and selfishness are not yet fully removed. ¹⁶ And if I find an old habit causing me to behave in ways that I now find detestable, I affirm that the law is a very helpful tool revealing residual damage in need of healing. ¹⁷ What is happening is this: I have come to trust God and desire to do his will, but old habits and conditioned responses, which present almost reflexively in certain situations, have not yet been totally eliminated and thus cause me to do things I do not want to do. ¹⁸ I know that my mind was completely infected with distrust, fear and selfishness which totally perverted all my desires and faculties, so that even when distrust has been eradicated and trust has been restored, the damage caused by years of distrustful and selfish behavior has not yet been fully healed. So I find, at times, I have the desire to do what is right, but do not yet have the ability to carry out the desire. ¹⁹ For the old habits and conditioned responses are not the good I want to do; no, they are remnants of my selfish unconverted mind. ²⁰ So, if I find myself doing what I no longer desire to do, it is not I, but vestiges of old habits and conditioned responses that have yet to be removed, and through God's grace will soon be removed.

^{7:21} So, I find this reality at work: When I want to do good, old selfish habits and residual feelings of fear are right there with me. ²² For in my mind I rejoice in God's methods and principles; ²³ but I recognize I remain damaged from years of being infected with distrust and practicing Satan's methods, so that even though the infection of distrust has been removed, the old habits of fear and self-promotion tempt me from within. ²⁴ What a damaged and corrupt man I am! Who will deliver and heal me from a brain and body so diseased and deformed? ²⁵ Praise be to God – for he has provided the healing solution through Jesus Christ our Lord!

So then, I find that in my mind I am now renewed with trust for God and love of his methods, but my brain and body remain damaged by years of self-indulgent behavior.

Read second paragraph, "No matter..." Any concerns with this paragraph? "sin often starts before and act..." do you see how this reveals the false belief that sin is primarily behavioral. No, it always starts in the mind, with a breach of trust, fear, and can eventually behavior acts, but doesn't have to.

Then what about the next sentence, "Consequently, a person is in violation of the law simply by thinking something sinful."

This is a dangerous way to express it, because it is so easily misunderstood. Is it sin to have a thought of sinful things? Some patients come to me tormented because of this idea; if you think the wrong thought, you have sinned. This is not Biblical.

Here is what the Bible says:

¹³ When tempted, no one should say, "God is tempting me." For God cannot be tempted by evil, nor does he tempt anyone; ¹⁴ but each one is tempted when, by his own evil desire, he is dragged away and enticed. ¹⁵ Then, after desire has conceived, it gives birth to sin; and sin, when it is full-grown, gives birth to death. James 1:13-15

It isn't sin until the desire is conceived, which is choosing it with the will, saying "yes" with the heart, not merely having the thought.

Examples:

- Joseph when Potiphar's wife tempts him – did Joseph have to think about the sinful act, what she was asking him to do, in order to choose to say no? Was it sin to think the thought?
- Did the three worthies on the plane of Dura have to think about bowing to the idol in order to choose not to? Was the thought of doing it sin?

- Jesus, when tempted to avoid the cross, agonized and prayed to His Father, but chose the Father's will – thus no sin.

It is about character, motive, principles of the heart, not mere behavior, act, or thought.

WEDNESDAY

The lesson asks us to read Romans 9:30-10:4, this is from the NIV:

³⁰ What then shall we say? That the Gentiles, who did not pursue righteousness, have obtained it, a righteousness that is by faith; ³¹ but Israel, who pursued a law of righteousness, has not attained it. ³² Why not? Because they pursued it not by faith but as if it were by works. They stumbled over the “stumbling stone.” ³³ As it is written: “See, I lay in Zion a stone that causes men to stumble and a rock that makes them fall, and the one who trusts in him will never be put to shame.”

10 Brothers, my heart's desire and prayer to God for the Israelites is that they may be saved. ² For I can testify about them that they are zealous for God, but their zeal is not based on knowledge. ³ Since they did not know the righteousness that comes from God and sought to establish their own, they did not submit to God's righteousness. ⁴ Christ is the end of the law so that there may be righteousness for everyone who believes.

How do you understand it?

This is from my paraphrase:

^{9:30} How then do we understand this? It is very simple – the Gentiles who had no idea they were infected with selfishness and were therefore dying, and certainly didn't have a clue that a Remedy to heal them was available, therefore, didn't pursue God's healing cure. But when they became aware of their condition and that a cure existed obtained it by trust in him who heals and restores; ³¹ but Israel, who knew their condition and knew a cure was available, who had been given the teaching tools designed to lead them back to trust did not attain it. ³² Why not? Instead of trusting God and accepting his free Remedy, they attempted to cure themselves by their own efforts. Thus they stumbled over the “stumbling stone” refusing to trust in him. ³³ As it is written:

“See, I have placed in Zion a stone of truth that reveals the stumbling and shortcoming of men, and a rock of righteousness that exposes how far short they fall, but the one who trusts in him will be completely healed and never stumble or fall again.”

Romans 10:1 Brothers, my heart's great desire and constant request to God is that the Israelites – the genetic descendants of Abraham – will accept the truth and be healed. ² I can assure you from my own experience that they are zealous to serve God, but their zeal is based on the wrong concept of God, for they don't really know him. ³ And because they do not know him - his goodness, mercy, forgiveness, kindness, love and free gift to heal and restore, they have sought to please him by working to create their own Remedy, and thus have refused God's free healing plan already provided by him. ⁴ Christ is the total fulfillment of the law so that there may be perfection of character and healing of mind and heart for all who trust him.

Read bottom pink section, "People who take..." Is the problem of legalism that people take the law seriously? Or that people don't actually understand God's law – the law of love, the design protocols, and have instead accepted a false view of the law, as an imposed set of rules?

THURSDAY

Read first paragraph, "In harmony..." thoughts? This is well said.

Read Gal 3:19,21:

What, then, was the purpose of the law? It was added because of transgressions until the Seed to whom the promise referred had come. The law was put into effect through angels by a mediator...²¹ Is the law, therefore, opposed to the promises of God? Absolutely not! For if a law had been given that could impart life, then righteousness would certainly have come by the law.

Do you notice Paul says the law was added? What law was added? Some argue it was just the ceremonial law, but not so, Paul is stating that all written law, including, and especially the 10 Commandments were added after sin, because humans needed the help of the diagnostic instrument known as the 10 Commandments. Before sin the written law was not needed.

Our founders saw it this way:

If man had kept the law of God, as given to Adam after his fall, preserved by Noah, and observed by Abraham, there would have been no necessity for the ordinance of circumcision. And if the descendants of Abraham had kept the covenant, of which circumcision was a sign, they would never have been seduced into idolatry, nor would it have been necessary for them to suffer a life of bondage in Egypt; they would have kept God's law in mind, and there would have been no necessity for it to be proclaimed from Sinai or engraved upon the tables of stone. And had the people practiced the principles of the Ten Commandments, there would have been no need of the additional directions given to Moses. {PP 364.2}

I am asked concerning the law in Galatians. What law is the schoolmaster to bring us to Christ? I answer: Both the ceremonial and the moral code of ten commandments... "The law was our schoolmaster to bring us unto Christ, that we might be justified by faith" (Gal. 3:24). In this scripture, the Holy Spirit through the apostle is speaking especially of the moral law. {ISM 233, 234}

What is the danger to believing the 10 Commandments were always in existence?

- Misrepresents God as a dictator
- Misrepresents God's law as rules rather than design protocols
- Incites fear and leads to rebellion against God
- Leads to legalism
- Obstructs the gospel

FRIDAY

Read question #2, ““Godly living...” What is the healthy way to understand this? What is the dangerous and false way?

Healthy – we live in mortal bodies with, physical defects, and will be subject to temptation, and mistakes until Christ returns. Yet our characters our capable of constant growth, maturing, advancement, development and purification; we do experience regeneration of motive, desire, thought, and ability to love, losing our fearful self focused drive to protect self, until we are like Jesus in character, yet still subject to human weakness. Thus the quote we read earlier, that the covering of the robe of righteousness is actually a regeneration of heart and mind.

False and Dangerous: There is no victory here, we continue to live sinfully, and are only covered with Christ's record, obstructing the reality of our wicked, selfish, sinful heart and character. Don't expect victory until the second coming. This is a lie!

They were broadcasting in India, and may still be.

Before we start the lesson I wanted to share a few emails I have received over the last couple of weeks.

I am so pleased with the response your message is receiving at my church from the middle age and young adults. I have given out 100 copies of the first two seminars and there are more requests every Sabbath. One of my Sabbath School brothers came to me after viewing the series grateful, impressed with how easy the message was retained. He had been a Seventh day Adventist in fear all his life, and felt like the scales were removed from his eyes after viewing the seminars. I am so impressed by the change I see in members who have received this message, we are in one accord. I am saddened by the negative response of the older people in my church. I am verbally attacked anytime I talk about imposed laws, but I believe my mission is to enlighten everyone I can. I watch your Sabbath School Class on you tube every Friday night and I feel like I am apart of the class. All of you are in one accord and I am so blessed to have found you. I pray that all of you continue to spread this message and I am committed to doing my part.

Can you please send me fifty more copies of the 3 Seminar DVDs and fifty of the truth love and freedom bible study guides. A lot of the members of my church are from other countries and I am told this study guide is much easier to understand. Many of the people I meet in the community receive this study guide more easily than amazing facts. MA

Christie and I have been praying that God would bring more people to help share this message and this week I received the following email:

I want to start off thanking you for the work that you do, and the blessing of the seminar "God and Your Brain". It was inspiring and I immediately started sharing it with the people I know. I'm a Bible worker and belong to a network of Bible workers all across the country. I have told them about your seminar and would like them to distribute them where they are as well. I'm not sure how many to ask for because combined we have thousands of Bible students every week. So I hope I'm not asking too much.

Please send 50 seminars to _____ CO and 100 to _____ CA

Thank you in advance. These are two of our hubs and therefore can get them out into the field with the other Bible workers. If there is any other literature we can pass out that will help you guys out as well please sent it along. Anything I can do to help advertise and help your ministry I would like to do. CA

I received this from another individual in MN:

We have shared close to 150 of the new DVD presentation. We shared the DVD with friends from his last district near the Twin Cities. They shared them for vespers and they were so well received. After the first one was shown over twice as many folks attended the second wk, and they had wonderful discussions, and folks were excited about the message. [Our pastor] happened to be visiting his past district during the 4th session. Up to that point he had not seen the DVD, however gave strong caution on it when it was shared with folks at our church, which caused many never watch it:(. Please remember this congregation and us in your prayers. I will be putting together food for thought with our friends there. Satan cannot stand the truth of God's character coming to light, and as you well know the battle is on. If there are some things in particular that I should not leave out in sharing with our friends please share. [Our pastor] will not be moved from his stance, he preaches that penal subt model theology more than ever. Makes our hearts so sad, and makes it VERY difficult to share truth in our congregation. We have small congregations up north here, and many miles in between churches. Most of all we covet your prayers!! MN

Thoughts? Let's remember this group, and all our friends around the world who are meeting similar opposition when they try and teach the truth about God as revealed by Jesus – and their opposition is not from atheists, but from theologians and pastors and church members. But this is not new, listen to this:

- When Jesus left there, the Pharisees and the teachers of the law began to oppose him fiercely and to besiege him with questions, waiting to catch him in something he might say. Luke 11:53, 54
- But I will stay on at Ephesus until Pentecost, because a great door for effective work has opened to me, and there are many who oppose me. 1Co 16:8,9
- Whatever happens, conduct yourselves in a manner worthy of the gospel of Christ. Then, whether I come and see you or only hear about you in my absence, I will know that you stand firm in one spirit, contending as one man for the faith of the gospel ²⁸ without being frightened in any way by those who oppose you. Philippians 1:27,28

Why is there ongoing opposition to this message?

- Don't let anyone deceive you in any way, for that day will not come until the rebellion occurs and the man of lawlessness is revealed, the man doomed to destruction. ⁴ He will oppose and will exalt himself over everything that is called God or is worshiped, so that he sets himself up in God's temple, proclaiming himself to be God. 2Thes 2:3,4

Just as our listener wrote, we are in a war, a war over the truth about God and His character and methods of love. But the gates of hell cannot prevail against the truth. So, don't be discouraged wherever you are, keep presenting the truth, patiently, in love, and hearts and minds will be set free!

SABBATH

What do you think about the title of this week's lesson? Are there two laws? Do God and Christ have two different laws?

Read first paragraph, "In most nations..." Any concerns with this paragraph? Any fundamental flaws that foundationally undermine our ability to correctly understand God and His government from this paragraph?

Yes! This paragraphs uses kingdoms of the world as the template, model, example, comparator for us to learn about God's kingdom – why is that a problem? Why is that fundamentally flawed?

- Jesus said, "My kingdom is not of this world. If it were, my servants would fight to prevent my arrest by the Jews. But now my kingdom is from another place." JN 18:36
 - What does this mean?
 - His kingdom is not like earthly kingdoms, if it were then His followers would use the methods of the world, fighting, power over. This is Satan's method, Satan is the prince of this world. The kingdoms of the world represent Satan's methods of governing.
 - But, God's kingdom operates upon a different law.

- Yet, our lesson uses the kingdoms of Satan as a template to teach God's kingdom – but in so doing misrepresent God and His kingdom and prevent the church from maturing to be ready to meet Christ.
- Here is what our church used to teach about God's kingdom:
 - The germ in the seed grows by the unfolding of the life-principle which God has implanted. Its development depends upon no human power. So it is with the kingdom of Christ. It is a new creation. Its principles of development are the opposite of those that rule the kingdoms of this world. Earthly governments prevail by physical force; they maintain their dominion by war; but the founder of the new kingdom is the Prince of Peace. The Holy Spirit represents worldly kingdoms under the symbol of fierce beasts of prey; but Christ is "the Lamb of God, which takes away the sin of the world." John 1:29. [His government heals, actually removes sin, cleanses, renews] In His plan of government there is no employment of brute force to compel the conscience. [which means there is no use of brute force that threatens to destroy those who refuse to be healed, why? Because God's kingdom is built upon design law and deviations are destructive to the deviant] The Jews looked for the kingdom of God to be established in the same way as the kingdoms of the world. To promote righteousness they resorted to external measures. They devised methods and plans. [in other words they made rules, imposed laws] But Christ implants a principle. By implanting truth and righteousness, He counterworks error and sin. {COL 77.1}
 - What do you learn from this description?
 - Earthly governments are based upon imposed rules requiring external coercion and force
 - God's government is based on design principles, and grows naturally in the heart
 - Christ takes away sin – not pays for sins
 - The Jews 2000 years ago and many Christians today, look for God to establish a government in the same way humans do, by the use of force to punish and destroy His enemies.
 - But Jesus works by implanting the principle of love, which transforms the character and heals the person back into unity with God

Have you wondered why Christ hasn't returned yet? Because the church has not made herself ready to meet Him. And the church will continue to fail to be ready as long as it presents God's government to be like human governments.

Read second paragraph, "As the Supreme Head..." What does it mean "established laws for all of His creatures"?

Does it mean God made rules we must follow or else we will be legally guilty of breaking the rules and God, in order to be just, must impose punishments?

Or does it mean, God who is love, built His universe to operate upon principles that are in harmony with His nature, and deviations from these principles are incompatible with life?

Here are some quotes:

- In the way of righteousness there is life; along that path is immortality. Pr 12:28
 - Why?
- He who pursues righteousness and love finds life, prosperity and honor. Pr 21:21
 - Why?
- The law of the Lord is perfect, reviving the soul. Ps 19:7
 - How does the law or the Lord revive the soul?
 - If you had a plastic bag over your head and were about to pass out, what happens if we remove the plastic bag and put you back in harmony with the law of respiration?
 - Harmony with God's law is restorative rejuvenating to the soul – why? Because it is God's design for life
 - And what is that law?
- Love does no harm to its neighbor. Therefore love is the fulfillment of the law. Romans 13:10
- The entire law is summed up in a single command: "Love your neighbor as yourself." Galatians 5:14
- If you really keep the royal law found in Scripture, "Love your neighbor as yourself," you are doing right. James 2:8
- Jesus replied: "Love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind.' This is the first and greatest commandment. And the second is like it: 'Love your neighbor as yourself.' All the Law and the Prophets hang on these two commandments." Matt 22:37-40

Here is how our church started out teaching this:

- In living for self he [man] has rejected that divine love which would have flowed out in mercy to his fellow men. Thus he has rejected life. For God is love, and love is life. COL 258
- Our only definition of sin is that given in the word of God; it is "the transgression of the law;" it is the outworking of a principle at war with the great law of love which is the foundation of the divine government. GC 493
 - Sin is more than a behavior it is a principle opposed to love
- The law of love being the foundation of the government of God, the happiness of all created beings depended upon their perfect accord with its great principles of righteousness. GC 493
 - Why? Because God will make you miserable if you don't comply? Or because happiness is a result of healthiness, and deviations from the laws upon which life is built undermine health, thus destroying happiness
- As the Supreme Ruler of the universe, God has ordained laws for the government not only of all living beings, but of all the operations of nature. Everything, whether great or small, animate or inanimate, is under fixed laws which cannot be disregarded. There are no exceptions to this rule; for nothing that the divine hand has made has been forgotten by the divine mind. But while everything in nature is governed by natural law, man alone, as an intelligent being, capable of understanding its requirements, is amenable to moral law. To man alone, the crowning work of his creation, God has given a conscience to realize the sacred claims of the divine law, and a heart capable of loving it as holy, just, and good; and of man prompt and perfect obedience is required. Yet God does not compel him to obey; he is left a free moral agent. {ST, April 15, 1886 par. 2}

Thoughts? Did you notice the last quote, as Supreme Ruler God has ordained laws, but what kind of laws did He ordain? Every one of these quotations and Scripture references reveal that the Creator builds, designs, constructs and His laws are the protocols upon which the fabric of the cosmos is built.

Satan has infected minds with the lie that God's laws are rules, which require imposed punishment. This is what Jesus came to reveal. Jesus didn't come to reveal a new law, but to educate humanity about the reality of what God's law really is. To elevate human thinking away from slave mentality of rules and punishment to the reality of our Creator God of love, whose universe is built upon the protocols of love!

SUNDAY

Read first paragraph, "Some believe..."

Do you see the struggle for the authors as they operate through the lens of imposed law. They forget their own teaching, in last week's lesson they pointed out that the law was only given to expose sin, to be a diagnostic instrument, but this week they are arguing for the importance of keeping the law. Do you notice how they are behavior focused?

This is infancy, not Christian maturity:

We have much to say about this, but it is hard to explain because you are slow to learn. ¹² In fact, though by this time you ought to be teachers, you need someone to teach you the elementary truths of God's word all over again. You need milk, not solid food! ¹³ Anyone who lives on milk, being still an infant, is not acquainted with the teaching about righteousness. ¹⁴ But solid food is for the mature, who by constant use have trained themselves to distinguish good from evil. Therefore let us leave the elementary teachings about Christ and go on to maturity, not laying again the foundation of repentance from acts that lead to death... Heb 5:11-6:1

Notice – the immature, the infants, still don't experience righteousness, they still live in fear, in insecurity, specifically focused on "repentance from acts that lead to death." They are focused on the do's and don'ts they haven't figured out yet it isn't about behavior, it is about character.

God is longing for His church to mature, to grow up, to develop character like His, to die to self, to love like He loves. But this cannot happen when our teachings misrepresent God, misrepresent His government and methods, and incite fear and focus people back on themselves and their behavior etc.

We must reject the imposed law and embrace the Design law, the protocols of love!

Read second paragraph, "In the context..." Did the 10 Commandments contain the covenant of God? Or were the 10 Commandments given to expose sin and expose the desperate need of the Israelites for the covenant of grace?

Here is what our church used to teach, does it still?

As the Bible presents two laws, one changeless and eternal, the other provisional and temporary, so there are two covenants. [What are those two laws? Which is the eternal and which is temporary? If one law is not eternal but temporary, then it was added later. What law was added?] The covenant of grace was first made with man in Eden, when after the Fall, there was given a divine promise that the seed of the woman should bruise the serpent's head. To all men this covenant offered pardon, and the assisting grace of God for future obedience through faith in Christ. It also promised them eternal life on condition of fidelity to God's law. Thus the patriarchs received the hope of salvation. {FLB 77.2}

This same covenant was renewed to Abraham in the promise, "In thy seed shall all the nations of the earth be blessed." Gen. 22:18. This promise pointed to Christ. So Abraham understood it, and he trusted in Christ for the forgiveness of sins. It was this faith that was accounted unto him for righteousness. The covenant with Abraham also maintained the authority of God's law. The Lord appeared unto Abraham, and said, "I am the Almighty God; walk before me, and be thou perfect." The testimony of God concerning His faithful servant was, "Abraham obeyed my voice, and kept my charge, my commandments, my statutes, and my laws." Gen. 17:1; 26:5. . . . {FLB 77.3}

The Abrahamic covenant was ratified by the blood of Christ, and it is called the "second," or "new," covenant, because the blood by which it was sealed was shed after the blood of the first covenant. {FLB 77.4}

The covenant of grace is not a new truth, for it existed in the mind of God from all eternity. This is why it is called the everlasting covenant. {FLB 77.5}

There is hope for us only as we come under the Abrahamic covenant, which is the covenant of grace by faith in Christ Jesus. The gospel preached to Abraham, through which he had hope, was the same gospel that is preached to us today. . . . Abraham looked unto Jesus, who is also the author and the finisher of our faith. FLB 77.6

What is the law that is eternal? What law was added?

- The law was added so that the trespass might increase. But where sin increased, grace increased all the more Rom 5:20
- What, then, was the purpose of the law? It was added because of transgressions until the Seed to whom the promise referred had come. Gal 3:19

So, what law was added to help us see sin more clearly? The 10 Commandments!

So many people want to make the 10 Commandments the eternal law and the ceremonial system the added law – but think? Where was the 10 Commandment law kept? In the ark, which was the heart of the ceremonial system!

What did our church used to teach about this?

- If man had kept the law of God, as given to Adam after his fall, preserved by Noah, and observed by Abraham, there would have been no necessity for the ordinance of circumcision. And if the descendants of Abraham had kept the covenant, of which circumcision was a sign, they would never have been seduced into idolatry, nor would it have been necessary for them to suffer a life of bondage in Egypt; they would have kept God's law in mind, and there would have been no necessity for it to be proclaimed from Sinai or engraved upon the tables of stone. And had the people practiced the principles of the Ten Commandments, there would have been no need of the additional directions given to Moses. {PP 364.2}
- I am asked concerning the law in Galatians. What law is the schoolmaster to bring us to Christ? I answer: Both the ceremonial and the moral code of ten commandments... "The law was our schoolmaster to bring us unto Christ, that we might be justified by faith" (Gal. 3:24). In this scripture, the Holy Spirit through the apostle is speaking especially of the moral law. {ISM 233, 234}

The eternal, changeless law is God's character of love, which is the foundation upon which life is constructed. The 10 Commandments are a codification of this law especially adapted to the needs of human beings in sin. Thus the 10 Commandments were ADDED, and part of the temporary system, NOT the eternal system.

TUESDAY

The lesson asks us to read 1Co 9:19-23:

Though I am free and belong to no man, I make myself a slave to everyone, to win as many as possible. ²⁰ To the Jews I became like a Jew, to win the Jews. To those under the law I became like one under the law (though I myself am not under the law), so as to win those under the law. ²¹ To those not having the law I became like one not having the law (though I am not free from God's law but am under Christ's law), so as to win those not having the law. ²² To the weak I became weak, to win the weak. I have become all things to all men so that by all possible means I might save some. ²³ I do all this for the sake of the gospel, that I may share in its blessings.

Read second paragraph, "Ultimately, all who..." What about those who refuse to be part of His kingdom, will they not be subject to His laws?

Why will Paul's desire to save people not allow him to compromise God's law?

For the same reason a doctor's desire to save people will not allow him to compromise the laws of health. A doctor must move the patient back into harmony with the laws of health if he wants to save them.

If a doctor wants to destroy his patient then he teaches them to violate the laws of health. Likewise, religions that teach imposed law, undermine God's plan to heal because they are teaching people to practice methods outside God's design, thus they are, as Jesus told the Jews, making their converts twice the son of hell – they have their sin which is damaging them, and now they have a false law construct blinding them.

Here is 1Cor 9:19-23 from my paraphrase:

1Cor 9:19 Although I am free and not required to live by the rules of others, I freely choose to identify with everyone's plight and become a servant to all in order to inoculate as many as possible with the Remedy to sin and selfishness. 20 When I am with Jews I respect their customs and traditions in order not to offend so their hearts may open to be inoculated with the truth about Christ. When I am with legalists, who adhere to many rules, I respect their rules (even though I know they provide no remedy to sin), in order not to offend so that their hearts may be opened and inoculated with the truth about Christ. 21 When I am with those who don't know about God's law of love or his methods that heal, I respect their customs and don't act in ways that will make them feel inferior or condemned (but I continue to live in harmony with God's law of love as revealed in Christ), in order not to offend so their hearts may be opened and inoculated with the truth about God as revealed in Christ. 22 To the weak in faith I empathize with their weakness in order to win them to the truth about God as revealed in Christ. I meet all people where they are in order to open their hearts to the Remedy Christ has procured and thereby save as many as possible. 23 I do this for God and His kingdom of love, as one who is renewed and empowered by that love.

Read last paragraph, "We can also..." What do you think of the phrase the law of God and the law of Christ?

Why do the two work harmoniously? Because they are actually one and the same. The law of God he refers to is the written diagnostic instrument, the 10 Commandments. The law of Christ is the full revelation of love in action.

The law of love is a living law – not a code of conduct. Mankind was created as the repository of God's law of love – man was made in God's image, to operate upon God's law of love and to develop character like God's.

When man sinned, the law of love was replaced with fear and selfishness, i.e. the law of sin and death. Christ restored the law of God back into the human being, God's temple, God's showcase for His living law.

What is the new covenant in Hebrews? Writing the law on the heart and mind. Here is an historic view:

The life of Christ is to be revealed in humanity. Man was the crowning act of the creation of God, made in the image of God, and designed to be a counterpart of God; but Satan has labored to obliterate the image of God in man, and to imprint upon him his own image. Lift Him Up 48.

And from the book The Desire of Ages:

The fullness of the time had come. Humanity, becoming more degraded through ages of transgression, called for the coming of the Redeemer. Satan had been working to make the gulf deep and impassable between earth and heaven. By his falsehoods he had emboldened men in sin. It was his purpose to wear out the forbearance of God, and to extinguish His love for man, so that He would abandon the world to satanic jurisdiction. {DA 34.4}

Satan was seeking to shut out from men a knowledge of God, to turn their attention from the temple of God, and to establish his own kingdom. His strife for supremacy had seemed to be almost wholly successful. It is true that in every generation God had His agencies. Even among the heathen there were men through whom Christ was working to uplift the people from their sin and degradation. But these men were despised and hated. Many of them suffered a violent death. The dark shadow that Satan had cast over the world grew deeper and deeper. {DA 35.1}

Through heathenism, Satan had for ages turned men away from God; but he won his great triumph in perverting the faith of Israel. By contemplating and worshiping their own conceptions, the heathen had lost a knowledge of God, and had become more and more corrupt. So it was with Israel... {DA 35.2}

The people whom God had called to be the pillar and ground of the truth had become representatives of Satan. They were doing the work that he desired them to do, taking a course to misrepresent the character of God, and cause the world to look upon Him as a tyrant. The very priests who ministered in the temple had lost sight of the significance of the service they performed. They had ceased to look beyond the symbol to the thing signified. In presenting the sacrificial offerings they were as actors in a play. The ordinances which God Himself had appointed were made the means of blinding the mind and hardening the heart. God could do no more for man through these channels. The whole system must be swept away. {DA 36.2}

The deception of sin had reached its height. All the agencies for depraving the souls of men had been put in operation... Satanic agencies were incorporated with men. The bodies of human beings, made for the dwelling place of God, had become the habitation of demons. The senses, the nerves, the passions, the organs of men, were worked by supernatural agencies in the indulgence of the vilest lust. The very stamp of demons was impressed upon the countenances of men. Human faces reflected the expression of the legions of evil with which they were possessed. Such was the prospect upon which the world's Redeemer looked. What a spectacle for Infinite Purity to behold! {DA 36.3}

Sin had become a science, and vice was consecrated as a part of religion. Rebellion had struck its roots deep into the heart, and the hostility of man was most violent against heaven. It was demonstrated before the universe that, apart from God, humanity could not be uplifted. A new element of life and power must be imparted by Him who made the world. {DA 37.1} [not a legal payment, an appeasement was NOT needed. Man was terminal, our condition out of harmony a new element of life and power needed to infuse the species human]

With intense interest the unfallen worlds had watched to see Jehovah arise, and sweep away the inhabitants of the earth. And if God should do this, Satan was ready to carry out his plan for securing to himself the allegiance of heavenly beings. He had declared that the principles of God's government make forgiveness impossible. [how much of Christianity teaches this satanic lie? How, when they teach Jesus died to pay the penalty of our sin, or offers His blood or pleads His blood to the Father. Think about it, if someone stole $10,000 and couldn't pay it back, and then their brother comes along and pays the $10,000 debt, does the one who received the payment say, "I forgive your debt?" When we teach Jesus paid our legal debt we represent God as unforgiving] Had the world been destroyed, he would have claimed that his accusations were proved true. He was ready to cast blame upon God, and to spread his rebellion to the worlds above. But instead of destroying the world, God sent His Son to save it. Though corruption and defiance might be seen in every part of the alien province, a way for its recovery was provided. At the very crisis, when Satan seemed about to triumph, the Son of God came with the embassy of divine grace. Through every age, through every hour, the love of God had been exercised toward the fallen race. Notwithstanding the perversity of men, the signals of mercy had been continually exhibited. And when the fullness of the time had come, the Deity was glorified by pouring upon the world a flood of healing grace that was never to be obstructed or withdrawn till the plan of salvation should be fulfilled. {DA 37.2}

Satan was exulting that he had succeeded in debasing the image of God in humanity. Then Jesus came to restore in man the image of his Maker. None but Christ can fashion anew the character that has been ruined by sin. He came to expel the demons that had controlled the will. He came to lift us up from the dust, to reshape the marred character after the pattern of His divine character, and to make it beautiful with His own glory.
{DA 37.3}

Do you see it? The plan of salvation is healing, restoring, recreating humanity back to God's original ideal. Making us like Him! This is accomplished only through rejecting the lies about God, accepting the truth that Jesus revealed, and in trust opening the heart to become a Temple for the Holy Spirit who will take all Christ as achieved and reproduce it in you!

WEDNESDAY

Read second paragraph, "According to Paul..." Why doesn't the message taught by Christianity move people to live victorious lives more often?

Here is what Paul says about the time right before Christ's return:

But mark this: There will be terrible times in the last days. ² People will be lovers of themselves, lovers of money, boastful, proud, abusive, disobedient to their parents, ungrateful, unholy, ³ without love, unforgiving, slanderous, without self-control, brutal, not lovers of the good, ⁴ treacherous, rash, conceited, lovers of pleasure rather than lovers of God— ⁵ having a form of godliness but denying its power. Have nothing to do with them. 2Tim 3:1-5

What does it mean having a form of godliness but denying its power?

- Are these atheists?
- Are these Christians and religious people?

What is the power they deny?

I am not ashamed of the gospel, because it is the power of God for the salvation of everyone who believes.. Romans 1:16

What is the gospel?

The good news about what? About God, just as we read in The Desire of Ages quote above, it is the truth about God which sets us free and restores us to trust.

Those who have a form of godliness but deny the power, deny the truth of God's character and methods and present a false version of God, which is based on a distortion of His law. They present Him as the source of inflicted punishment and death.

Read third paragraph, "It is important..." thoughts?

Is human weakness sin? The lesson sounds like they are making it behavioral, but it is NOT, it is heart motivational, it is about character. A person who has been reborn, and has a new heart and right spirit, is still plagued by human weakness, conditioned responses, old habits, misunderstanding, confused ideas and based on all this human weakness will have moments of stumbling but this is not rebellion against God, it is manifestation of deficits not yet healed. Such a person, when aware of their shortcoming is grieved in their heart, hate the weakness in themselves and long to be purified and perfected by the Spirit so they no longer come up short.

Consider a husband and wife who are in a healthy love relationship, but they are encumbered by human weakness. Their hearts are for the other, but they get tired, fatigued, and in a moment might respond with a sharp reaction – have they given their heart to another, have they betrayed their love? And what do they do when they realize their cutting comment? They are grieved, they acknowledge their shortcoming and ask forgiveness.

So, too in our relationship with God, shortcomings for which we are grieved, repent of and long for deliverance to not separate us from God. It is only when we cherish the defect and want to retain it in our lives that we choose the sin over God.

As we walk with God in humbleness our characters are changed, our neurobiology is changed, our habits change and we come up short less and less.

THURSDAY

Read first paragraph, “Although God’s law is a law...” How does this sound?

This is worded to make it sound like God has a law, and we are compared to this law for the purpose of God making a determination and judgment about us, and to which He then must either pardon, if the proper penalty is paid, or punish if not.

But the Bible text they quoted actually reveals a different idea – notice it is not an active infliction that God “judges” or “pronounces.” What is described is a doctor’s judgment, a diagnosis – “Let the condition they have chosen, the character they have formed be theirs.”

Rev 14:7 the hour of God’s judgment means what? The hour God makes a judicial decision or the hour we judge God to be trustworthy or not?

Let God be true though every one were a liar, as it is written, “That you may be justified in your words, and prevail when you are judged.” Rom 3:4 ESV

Read second paragraph, “Although Christ had laid...” thoughts?

What do you think of this, “Because Christ has become one with the human race, He is in a position to judge impartially. Given His familiarity with the human experience, Christ would not condemn a person unjustly.”

First, the entire scenario is flawed. It is based on imposed law and misconstrues the judgment to be like a human court, which it is not. But, it gets much much worse. What else are they saying? Are they saying that God would? Or that God is incapable of judging impartially? Unbelievable they would suggest this about God on the one hand on the other, would Christ, who had suffered at the devil’s hand really be an impartial judge or would he be partial to us?

What actually happens in the judgment is not what they describe it is symbolically represented in Zech 3:

Then he showed me Joshua the high priest standing before the angel of the Lord, and Satan standing at his right side to accuse him. ² The Lord said to Satan, “The Lord rebuke you, Satan! The Lord, who has chosen Jerusalem, rebuke you! Is not this man a burning stick snatched from the fire?”

³ Now Joshua was dressed in filthy clothes as he stood before the angel. ⁴ The angel said to those who were standing before him, “Take off his filthy clothes.”

Then he said to Joshua, “See, I have taken away your sin, and I will put rich garments on you.”

⁵ Then I said, “Put a clean turban on his head.” So they put a clean turban on his head and clothed him, while the angel of the Lord stood by...

⁸ “Listen, O high priest Joshua and your associates seated before you, who are men symbolic of things to come: I am going to bring my servant, the Branch.

Notice – there is no investigation of records, there is no judicial proceeding. The Lord says to Satan, we are not listening to you. He did the same thing when He resurrected Moses. Notice what the Lord does do; He removes sinfulness and reproduces perfection of Christlike character in the believer who trusts in Him. This is symbolic of things to come, of the Branch Jesus coming to restore His character in humanity, and symbolic of all of us who partake of it!

God’s judgment is diagnosing and then healing all who will let Him.

FRIDAY

Read question 3 – can effectively do this ONLY when understand God’s law as design law. As long as thinking through imposed lens will fail. Example of teacher whose husband beat her...

MONDAY

Read second paragraph, “Jesus understood...” Can love be commanded? Then why the 10 Commandments? Because they are NOT rules of love, they are a diagnostic instrument, added for our need, to reveal or sick condition and lead us to Christ for remedy.

God's Law Lesson #9: Christ, the Law and the Gospel

For May 31, 2014

Memory Text: "For the law was given through Moses, but grace and truth came through Jesus Christ" (John 1:17, NKJV)

Grace

- Your definition of grace will depend upon your perspective of what has gone wrong.
- If the object of salvation is doing away with records of sinful acts: you need a magic solution

Grace is Magic - Applied

- If you understand salvation as a destruction of a relationship and infection of character: then you need to know the characteristics of the people involved

Grace is an individual's characteristic

Grace is a description of what God is like

Would it bother you if you lost the word "grace" from your favorite texts?

When you read John 1:14, what do you hear?

John 1:14 KJV And the Word was made flesh, and dwelt among us, (and we beheld his glory, the glory as of the only begotten of the Father,) full of grace and truth.

Would it bother you to read it from a more contemporary translation.

John 1:14 GW The Word became human and lived among us. We saw his glory. It was the glory that the Father shares with his only Son, a glory full of kindness and truth.

John 1:14 CEV The Word became a human being and lived here with us. We saw his true glory, the glory of the only Son of the Father. From him all the kindness and all the truth of God have come down to us.

John 1:14 - 17 NLT14 So the Word became human[d] and made his home among us. He was full of unfailing love and faithfulness.[e] And we have seen his glory, the glory of the Father's one and only Son.15 John testified about him when he shouted to the crowds, "This is the one I was talking about when I said, 'Someone is coming after me who is far greater than I am, for he existed long before me.'"16 From his abundance we have all received one gracious blessing after another.[f] 17 For the law was given through Moses, but God's unfailing love and faithfulness came through Jesus Christ. 18 No one has ever seen God. But the unique One, who is himself God,[g] is near to the Father's heart. He has revealed God to us.

How you understand what the problem is, what your's and my problem is, will determine what you or I hear is good news.

Discussion about Bible translations

- No heritage of dominating translation and it's misuse
- Translators in my office
- Family members as translators
- Four professional

We need to be aware of where our wording and terminology of theology comes from.

Songs alter our perception. The translator's paradigm modifies the words they choose for translation.

SABBATH

Read first two paragraphs

The second says: "And two manifestations of that passionate interest in humanity are found in His law (which is to guide how we live) and His grace (His means of saving us even though we have violated that law)."

We have often compared the law to an MRI scanner. Both are diagnostic instruments. Paul says he would not have known what sin was without the law.

Consider the MRI scanner:

- It does not tell me how to form my parts.
- It doesn't tell me how to get well.
- It tells me when my parts are not formed correctly.

How is the law different?

Can we truly mend our ways by seeing the perfect law or are we not brought to Christ by the law: Christ is the perfecter of our faith and healer of our lives. (Hebrews 12:2) "the founder and perfecter of our faith"

completer, finisher, bringing to maturity

The law does not have the power

We do not have the power

Law and grace are not external forces that are sprinkled on our exterior to make us look good.

They are inherent in the Christian that the Holy Spirit uses in our transformation from within to become like God.

"Now, this is the covenant that I will make with the people of Israel in the days to come, says the Lord: I will put my laws in their minds and write them on their hearts. I will be their God, and they will be my people. 11 None of them will have to teach their friends or tell their neighbors, 'Know the Lord.' For they will all know me, from the least to the greatest. 12 I will forgive their sins and will no longer remember their wrongs.”

SUNDAY

Sin and the Law

As a result of the discussion in the first six chapters of Romans, Paul is discussing the law and sin. The implication is that there may be something wrong with the law.

Is the law sin or sinful? Is the law bad or at fault?

Read the first three paragraphs. Is the second paragraph describing God's law? Could it apply to one location, time, place and not another?

Which law?

- God's Law of Love: no
- The Ten Commandments: yes
- Angels do not need guidelines for parents, etc
- But as a distillation of God's Law of Love for humans, they always apply. It cannot be changed to something else.
- They were not enacted

Read the third paragraph. Would a good law be good if it was enforced incorrectly? That is why the issue of who God is and what he is like is so crucial to the basis of the Great Controversy.

MONDAY

The Law and Israel (Deut 30:15 - 18)

The point of the first paragraph is that the Law was the distinguishing thing for the Children of Israel. Why is it not the distinguishing thing that Christ said would identify His followers? It is!!!

God's law of love is to be our distinguishing mark. Hint: What have we made the law into?

How do people see it? If we see it as an enacted entity, to control us, then it is external and coercive. If it truly is an internal design protocol that is inherent in how we are made, then it is a divine blessing.

Have we been part of changing "times and laws"?

Read Deuteronomy 30:15 - 20 from GNB/TEV.

"Today I am giving you a choice between good and evil, between life and death. (16) If you obey the commands of the LORD your God, which I give you today, if you love him, obey him, and keep all his laws, then you will prosper and become a nation of many people. The LORD your God will bless you in the land that you are about to occupy. (17) But if you disobey and refuse to listen, and are led away to worship other gods, (18) you will be destroyed---I warn you here and now. You will not live long in that land across the Jordan that you are about to occupy. (19) I am now giving you the choice between life and death, between God's blessing and God's curse, and I call heaven and earth to witness the choice you make. Choose life. (20) Love the LORD your God, obey him and be faithful to him, and then you and your descendants will live long in the land that he promised to give your ancestors, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob."

"Choose Life" -- The Study Guide links to Matthew 7:24-27. The Wise Man and the Foolish Man each build a house. God did not intervene to knock down the Foolish Man's house. If we do not listen to what Christ says, we are being foolish and no one will have to destroy us.

The Pink Section:

"In your own experience, how are obedience and faith related? That is, when you obey, what happens to your faith in contrast to when you disobey? How does obedience strengthen faith?"

TUESDAY

The Law and the Nations

The third paragraph beginning "Whether God's will is revealed. . ." is a lot of "dark speech".

I remember thinking as a young person: "Don't learn anything more about God, that way you won't be responsible for anything else."

An Ellen White quote squashed that for me, but how sad that someone is tempted to learn less about God.

- He is our source
- Our friend
- Our closest family member
- Our best supporter and confidant.

In the last paragraph, it discusses the Law received in the Bible or Ten Commandments and the law of conscience.

- Is there a difference between these two laws?
- They are the same (if our conscience is healthy).
 - That is the point of a part of the Sermon on the Mount
 - The law of our life is internal, either the law of love or the law of sin and death.
- Is there a benefit from being a Jew and growing up with the Mosaic Law?
- Is there a benefit for the SDA Christian?
- Is there a benefit from living with your spouse as opposed to living 500 miles away?
- If your spouse is lovely to be with and a good person, it is beneficial to live as close as possible.
- God's word in all its forms help us live closer to Him.

WEDNESDAY

Grace and Truth

Are these things different from each other? What about the blind men and the elephant? These are the epitome of how things are revealed about God: Did God reveal grace and truth prior to Christ? What are your examples?

Read the first paragraph. The last sentence is excellent!

Question in middle of page: "What do Philippians 2:8, John 15:10, and Matthew 26:39 tell us about the kind of life that Jesus lived?"

Philippians 2:8 GNB He was humble and walked the path of obedience all the way to death--- his death on the cross.

John 15:10 GNB If you obey my commands, you will remain in my love, just as I have obeyed my Father's commands and remain in his love.

Matthew 26:39 GNB He went a little farther on, threw himself face downward on the ground, and prayed, "My Father, if it is possible, take this cup of suffering from me! Yet not what I want, but what you want."

The second paragraph says: "When he disobeyed the express command of God, the first Adam plunged the entire world into disarray and bondage."

When did Adam sin?

When he distrusted God?

The chewing on the apple was a result of his sin and distrust of God.

Read the rest of the paragraph.

Psalms 85:10 GNB "Love and faithfulness will meet; righteousness and peace will embrace."

According to Romans 6:23 and Ephesians 2:8, what is the nature of the grace that originates in Jesus? How did Jesus supply grace for humans? In the same way that He provided law; it is inherent in His being.

Romans 6:23 GNB "For sin pays its wage---death; but God's free gift is eternal life in union with Christ Jesus our Lord."

Ephesians 2:8 GNB For it is by God's grace that you have been saved through faith. It is not the result of your own efforts, but God's gift, so that no one can boast about it.

The last sentence of the page says: "Grace not only frees us from the condemnation of the law, but it enables us to keep the law in the way that we are called to do." This is by changing us into His likeness so we will "be like He is." 1 John 3:2

THURSDAY

The Law and the Gospel

Read the first paragraph. Read Revelation 12:10

Romans 7:24-25 GNB What an unhappy man I am! Who will rescue me from this body that is taking me to death? (25) Thanks be to God, who does this through our Lord Jesus Christ! This, then, is my condition: on my own I can serve God's law only with my mind, while my human nature serves the law of sin.

Romans 8:37-39 GNB No, in all these things we have complete victory through him who loved us! (38) For I am certain that nothing can separate us from his love: neither death nor life, neither angels nor other heavenly rulers or powers, neither the present nor the future, (39) neither the world above nor the world below---there is nothing in all creation that will ever be able to separate us from the love of God which is ours through Christ Jesus our Lord.

Read the second and third paragraph of Thursday's lesson. (We are terminal without salvation. Salvation is the Gospel / Good News)

This is the gospel.

My gospel is not about me.

The Salvation of me and others is not my gospel.

My gospel is that God is love.

Because of His love He has done everything necessary to heal me and return me to being human.

But the real good news is what He is really like.

That makes eternity Heaven.

What was the Gospel in Christ's day? What gospel did Christ preach? The word used 18 times in four books we call the gospels.

Matthew doesn't say what Christ was preaching when He preached the gospel.

Mark 1:14 "preaching the Gospel of God, and saying "The time is fulfilled, and the kingdom of God is at hand; repent and believe in the gospel (good news)."

Luke 16:16 "The Law and the Prophets were proclaimed until John; since that time the gospel of the kingdom of God has been preached, and everyone is forcing his way into it. But it is easier for heaven and earth to pass away than for one stroke of a letter of the law to fail."

Why was this good news to those people? Would it be good news for us?

What is the good news we as 21st century Christians to be giving to those around us?

Before we start the lesson I wanted to share a few emails I have received over the last couple of weeks.

I just finished two trips where I have been sharing your books and videos successfully and am about to leave for yet another one in PA where I hope to share more. However this is being financed, please offer our deepest gratitude to the supporters. I wish we were in a position to provide more ourselves, but the generosity of those who do have means it making it possible for many who do not have resources to be able to spread the good news to many who would not be able to hear it otherwise. IL

I woke up this morning at 3am and God impressed my mind to watch your DVD "God and your Brain Seminar" which was handed to my wife from a friend yesterday. I watch all the four seminars in one setting. It was a phenomenal blessing to me and I'm so excited to give it to my church members and friends. I am planning to have a seminar in my church on your DVDs too.

With this impact from your heaven-sent presentation, I would like to avail your free DVDs so I could reach out others starting from my family, my congregation, friends and neighbors in the community. Thank you very much and God bless you more abundantly. Canada

Christ, the Law and the Covenants

Read memory text: "For this reason Christ is the mediator of a new covenant, that those who are called may receive the promised eternal inheritance – now that he has died as a ransom to set them free from the sins committed under the first covenant." (Hebrews 9:15 NIV)

Thoughts?

Read first paragraph, "God's eternal..." Do you hear any legal interpretation of the memory text?

I received this from Jim Harris in an email this week:

Thomas Lindsay in his book A History of the Reformation page 168.

The great men who built up the Western Church were almost all trained Roman lawyers. Tertullian, Cyprian, Augustine, Gregory the Great (whose writings form the bridge between the Latin Fathers and the Schoolmen) were all men whose early training had been that of a Roman lawyer,—a training which moulded and shaped all their thinking, whether theological or ecclesiastical. They instinctively regarded all questions as a great Roman lawyer would. They had the lawyer's craving for exact definitions. They had the lawyer's idea that the primary duty laid upon them was to enforce obedience to authority, whether that authority expressed itself in external institutions or in the precise definitions of the correct ways of thinking about spiritual truths. NO BRANCH OF WESTERN CHRISTENDOM HAS BEEN ABLE TO FREE ITSELF FROM THE SPELL CAST UPON IT BY THESE ROMAN LAWYERS OF THE EARLY CENTURIES OF THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH.

Do you agree? How does the false legal lens impact our interpretation of our memory text?

Here is my paraphrase of Heb 9:15:

Heb 9:15 For this reason – because he is the source of all truth and love – Christ is the administrator of the true healing plan, so that all those who desire may receive the promised recreation, healing and eternal life. He died to provide the ransom of the truth necessary to free our minds from the lies about God and the perfect Remedy to heal our characters from fear and selfishness, which continued unabated during the little theater of the first covenant.

Do you notice the difference between reading through imposed law and design law?

When we conceive of God’s government like human governments we get all types of legal confusion and distortions of God’s character.

Imposed Law

Mediator - one who pleads your case to a magistrate or judge

Covenant - legal contract

Inheritance - legal property or rights

Ransom – legal price

Sins – bad deeds

Thoughts?

Design Law

One who intervenes in the disease process to administer remedy (truth and love:
truth to restore trust in God and thus heal our relationship with God, and God’s law/character of love reproduced within us with God’s design

MONDAY

Read first paragraph, “Covenants are based...” Can God make covenants without our agreement?

- Flood – never to destroy the world again
- Send Messiah to save this creation
- Provide Remedy to our condition

God can covenant or promise what He will do, but what is our responsibility in God’s covenant to save sinners?

Oswald Chambers My Utmost for His Highest

The Bible does not say that God punished the human race for one man's sin, but that the nature of sin, namely, my claim to my right to myself, entered into the human race through one man. But it also says that another Man took upon Himself the sin of the human race and put it away — an infinitely more profound revelation...

Sin is something I am born with and cannot touch— only God touches sin through redemption. It is through the Cross of Christ that God redeemed the entire human race from the possibility of damnation through the heredity of sin. God nowhere holds a person responsible for having the heredity of sin, and does not condemn anyone because of it. Condemnation comes when I realize that Jesus Christ came to deliver me from this heredity of sin, and yet I refuse to let Him do so. From that moment I begin to get the seal of damnation. “This is the condemnation [and the critical moment], that the light has come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than light.” (John 3:19)

What is our responsibility? To accept and partake the remedy He has provided.

TUESDAY

Read first paragraph, “Although...” Does the Abrahamic covenant require those males who participate to be circumcised physically?

A man is not a Jew if he is only one outwardly, nor is circumcision merely outward and physical. ²⁹ No, a man is a Jew if he is one inwardly; and circumcision is circumcision of the heart, by the Spirit, not by the written code. Such a man's praise is not from men, but from God. Rom 2:28,29

Turn to Friday and read first four paragraphs for a historic perspective:

This same covenant [of grace] was renewed to Abraham in the promise, "In thy seed shall all the nations of the earth be blessed." Gen. 22:18. This promise pointed to Christ. So Abraham understood it, and he trusted in Christ for the forgiveness of sins. It was this faith that was accounted unto him for righteousness. The covenant with Abraham also maintained the authority of God's law. . . . {FLB 77.3}

The Abrahamic covenant was ratified by the blood of Christ, and it is called the "second," or "new," covenant, because the blood by which it was sealed was shed after the blood of the first covenant. {FLB 77.4}

The covenant of grace is not a new truth, for it existed in the mind of God from all eternity. This is why it is called the everlasting covenant. {FLB 77.5}

There is hope for us only as we come under the Abrahamic covenant, which is the covenant of grace by faith in Christ Jesus... FLB 77.6

As we come under the Abrahamic covenant must we be circumcised physically to benefit from this covenant of grace? Then why did they circumcise it in the OT? Why infants?

Because they were acting out the plan of salvation in theater, it is the reality that the theater taught that all must experience. Everyone doesn't have to act out the symbolic theater, but all have to experience the reality to which the symbols pointed.

When we are first converted we are considered babes, and it is then we are to experience the work of the Holy Spirit in cutting away ties to the world. In fact, until those ties are cut away, we would still be spiritual babes even if we have been Christians for fifty years.

Read second paragraph, "Because they detailed..." thoughts?

The lesson points us to Jeremiah and Hebrews and asks in what ways these passages "uphold the everlasting nature of God's law in the New Covenant?"

Is the lesson equating the 10 Commandments with the law written upon the heart in the New Covenant? Is it the same?

"This is the covenant I will make with them after that time, says the Lord.
I will put my laws in their hearts, and I will write them on their minds." Heb 10:16

Is this text talking about the 10 Commandments?

Here is the paragraph left out of the quotation from Friday's lesson, in fact this starts the original quotation:

As the Bible presents two laws, one changeless and eternal, the other provisional and temporary, so there are two covenants. [What are those two laws? Which is the eternal and which is temporary? If one law is not eternal but temporary, then it was added later. What law was added?] The covenant of grace was first made with man in Eden, when after the Fall, there was given a divine promise that the seed of the woman should bruise the serpent's head. To all men this covenant offered pardon, and the assisting grace of God for future obedience through faith in Christ. It also promised them eternal life on condition of fidelity to God's law. Thus the patriarchs received the hope of salvation. {FLB 77.2}

What is the eternal law and what is the temporary one? Which one was given at Sinai? What did the children of Israel do when they received it? They said they would obey and keep it, and what happened? They broke it. This is the first covenant – the law written on stone, which was given as a diagnostic tool but which the children of Israel said they would keep.

The new covenant is the full law, not the distilled codified version, the complete, full law and character of God reproduced in the believer.

Read third paragraph, “Under the Old Covenant...” Is this true? Were animal sacrifices necessary for the forgiveness of sins?

What is the problem with teaching animal sacrifice was necessary for the forgiveness of sins?

- God needs to be appeased
- Forgiveness is not freely given
- Christ’s death is superfluous, if sin could be forgiven with animal sacrifice, then why the death of Christ?

Did the sacrifices actually do anything to contribute to the forgiveness of sins?

With what shall I come before the Lord and bow down before the exalted God? Shall I come before him with burnt offerings, with calves a year old?

⁷ Will the Lord be pleased with thousands of rams, with ten thousand rivers of oil? Shall I offer my firstborn for my transgression, the fruit of my body for the sin of my soul?

⁸ He has showed you, O man, what is good. And what does the Lord require of you? To act justly and to love mercy and to walk humbly with your God. Micah 6:6-8

Sacrifice and offering you did not desire, but a body you have prepared for me ; burnt offerings and sin offerings you did not require. Ps 40:6

Therefore, when Christ came into the world, he said: “Sacrifice and offering you did not desire, but a body you prepared for me; with burnt offerings and sin offerings you were not pleased. Then I said, ‘Here I am—it is written about me in the scroll— I have come to do your will, O God.’” Heb 10:5-7

For I desire mercy, not sacrifice, and acknowledgment of God rather than burnt offerings. Hosea 6:6

The blood of goats and bulls and the ashes of a heifer sprinkled on those who are ceremonially unclean sanctify them so that they are outwardly clean.¹⁴ How much more, then, will the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit offered himself unblemished to God, cleanse our consciences from acts that lead to death, so that we may serve the living God! Heb 9:13,14

Notice the blood of animals “outwardly” cleansed, in other words, within the drama it acted out the cleansing of conscience, heart, mind that comes when we partake of Jesus.

Any examples of people in the OT times being in right relationship with God without animal sacrifices – at least without the ongoing, lifelong animal sacrifices, so no record of regular animal sacrifices for forgiveness of sin?

- Naaman
- Nebuchadnezzar
- Joseph in Egypt
- Daniel and the three worthies in Babylon
- Esther in Persia
 - Then Esther sent this reply to Mordecai: ¹⁶“Go, gather together all the Jews who are in Susa, and fast for me. Do not eat or drink for three days, night or day. I and my maids will fast as you do. When this is done, I will go to the king, even though it is against the law. And if I perish, I perish.” Es 4:15,16

The sacrifices were NOT required for forgiveness they were only required for the play, the drama, but not the reality.

Christianity has been corrupted by the influence of Roman lawyers, and legal ideas, not in Scripture, have infected every aspect of our doctrines. God is waiting for a people who will see Him for who He really is and be in awe of Him, and with their lives glorify Him, because the hour in earth’s history has come for people to make a right judgment about who God is. We are to worship the Designer and reject this dictator view of God!

WEDNESDAY

Read first paragraph, “There were strong...” Why were they cut off from the people? Because they were going off script and what happens in reality when one goes off script i.e. leaves God design for life? They cease to exist, so to act that out the actors would have to leave the stage never to return, thus cut off from the people.

What about the curses in DT 27:11-26, how do we understand them? Is God threatening to inflict suffering, or describing reality?

¹¹ On the same day Moses commanded the people:

¹² When you have crossed the Jordan, these tribes shall stand on Mount Gerizim to bless the people: Simeon, Levi, Judah, Issachar, Joseph and Benjamin. ¹³ And these tribes shall stand on Mount Ebal to pronounce curses: Reuben, Gad, Asher, Zebulun, Dan and Naphtali.

¹⁴ The Levites shall recite to all the people of Israel in a loud voice:

¹⁵ “Cursed is the man who carves an image or casts an idol—a thing detestable to the Lord, the work of the craftsman’s hands—and sets it up in secret.”

Then all the people shall say, “Amen!”

¹⁶ “Cursed is the man who dishonors his father or his mother.”

Then all the people shall say, “Amen!”

- ¹⁷ “Cursed is the man who moves his neighbor’s boundary stone.”
Then all the people shall say, “Amen!”
- ¹⁸ “Cursed is the man who leads the blind astray on the road.”
Then all the people shall say, “Amen!”
- ¹⁹ “Cursed is the man who withholds justice from the alien, the fatherless or the widow.”
Then all the people shall say, “Amen!”
- ²⁰ “Cursed is the man who sleeps with his father’s wife, for he dishonors his father’s bed.”
Then all the people shall say, “Amen!”
- ²¹ “Cursed is the man who has sexual relations with any animal.”
Then all the people shall say, “Amen!”
- ²² “Cursed is the man who sleeps with his sister, the daughter of his father or the daughter of his mother.”
Then all the people shall say, “Amen!”
- ²³ “Cursed is the man who sleeps with his mother-in-law.”
Then all the people shall say, “Amen!”
- ²⁴ “Cursed is the man who kills his neighbor secretly.”
Then all the people shall say, “Amen!”
- ²⁵ “Cursed is the man who accepts a bribe to kill an innocent person.”
Then all the people shall say, “Amen!”
- ²⁶ “Cursed is the man who does not uphold the words of this law by carrying them out.”
Then all the people shall say, “Amen!”

Why are they cursed? What is the curse?

The imposed law model would have us believe it is an infliction by God to cause pain and suffering to punish those who rebel.

Natural law understands the reality that it is the result of being out of harmony with God’s design, the curse of sin itself. Such acts sear the conscience, warp the character, damage the reason, increase guilt, fear, shame, destroy peace, rob one of happiness, corrupt relationships, and life becomes a curse.

All who rely on observing the law are under a curse, for it is written: “Cursed is everyone who does not continue to do everything written in the Book of the Law.” Gal 3:10

An historic view:

The fall of man filled all heaven with sorrow. The world that God had made was blighted with the curse of sin and inhabited by beings doomed to misery and death. PP 63

Why were they doomed to misery and death? As Oswald Chambers said, because of the inheritance of sin, because the curse of being out of harmony with God’s design.

As the Israelites indulged the spirit of discontent, they were disposed to find fault even with their blessings... {PP 428.2}

Moses faithfully set before the people their great sin. It was God's power alone that had preserved them in "that great and terrible wilderness, wherein were fiery serpents, and scorpions, and drought, where there was no water." Deuteronomy 8:15. Every day of their travels they had been kept by a miracle of divine mercy...PP 428.3}

Because they had been shielded by divine power they had not realized the countless dangers by which they were continually surrounded. In their ingratitude and unbelief they had anticipated death, and now the Lord permitted death to come upon them. The poisonous serpents that infested the wilderness were called fiery serpents, on account of the terrible effects produced by their sting, it causing violent inflammation and speedy death. As the protecting hand of God was removed from Israel, great numbers of the people were attacked by these venomous creatures. {PP 429.1}

What happened? God granted them what they had chosen, freedom from Him, and what happens disconnected from our Creator, the Designer, the Sustainer? Curses – no infliction, but the natural result of deviation from harmony with God.

What happens in the character of those who do all the things described in DT above?

Questions?

Read second paragraph, "Heb 9:15-28" What does it mean Jesus is mediator of a new covenant?

Here is my paraphrase of these verses:

Heb 9:15 For this reason – because he is the source of all truth and love – Christ is the administrator of the true healing plan, so that all those who desire may receive the promised recreation, healing and eternal life. He died to provide the ransom of the truth necessary to free our minds from the lies about God and the perfect Remedy to heal our characters from fear and selfishness, which continued unabated during the little theater of the first covenant.

Heb 9:16 Consider the example of a will, in order for the true contents of the will to be known the one who made it must have died, ¹⁷ because the will of a person is revealed only when he has died; it is never made known while the one who made it is alive. ¹⁸ This is why even the symbolic stage play was not started without blood. ¹⁹ When Moses had read the entire script to the people, he took the blood of calves, together with water, scarlet wool and branches of hyssop, and sprinkled the script and all the people. ²⁰ He said, "This is the blood of the symbolic healing plan, which God has given you to act out." ²¹ In the same way, he sprinkled with the blood both the tabernacle and all the props used in the play. ²² In fact, the script requires that nearly everything be symbolically cleansed with blood, because without the shedding of blood there could be no restoration to God's original ideal – without the death of Christ we would not know the true loving character of God and could not be restored to God's original ideal for mankind.

Heb 9:23 For the script to be accurate it was necessary that the earthly model of God's heavenly temple be purified with these animal sacrifices, but the heavenly designed Spirit temple needed purifying with the truth and righteousness only Christ's self-sacrifice could provide. ²⁴ For Christ did not enter a man-made stone and mortar sanctuary that was only a copy of the true heavenly temple designed and built by God; he entered heaven itself, and now appears as the representative from earth in God's great heavenly counsel – in the living sanctuary built by God from the billions of intelligent loyal beings surrounding his throne. ²⁵ And he did not enter heaven to be sacrificed over and over again, the way the earthly high priest enters the Most Holy Place every year with animal blood. ²⁶ Absolutely not, for that would mean he would have to die repeatedly since the creation of the world. But he appeared at the proper time and only needed to sacrifice himself once in order to reveal the truth about God, expose the lies of Satan, develop the Remedy and bring all things into unity with God. ²⁷ Just as each man is destined to die once and reap the eternal destiny he has chosen, ²⁸ so Christ sacrificed himself once to restore trust in God and purge selfishness from the hearts and minds of as many people as are willing; and he will come again a second time, not to remove selfishness from the heart and mind, but to remove the last residual traces of death, disease and the scars of sin and restore to complete perfection those who are waiting for him.

Read third paragraph, “In verse 16...” Why does the “covenant” require the death of each sinner? What are the possible reasons? Which are consistent with God and His character? How has imposed Roman law constructs perverted this idea?

What is the covering? How is this metaphor true and how is it perverted to misrepresent God and His kingdom?

Read last paragraph, “Then we shall...” How does the blood of Christ cleanse? Notice in the quote the cleansing is happening to and in the believer, not their records or the eyes of God.

Read bottom pink section, “God Himself...” thoughts? What is the punishment? Did Jesus bear it? Is the punishment for sin the second eternal death?

If it is the second eternal death did Jesus die that death? So when Jesus confronted death, who won, Jesus or death?

Christ Jesus, who has destroyed death and has brought life and immortality to light through the gospel. 2Tim 1:10

The death Christ died is not the same event the wicked experience in the end:

- Christ died trusting the Father – Luke 23:46
The wicked die distrusting the Father – Revelation 6:16
- Christ died longing to see the Father – Mark 15:34
The wicked die hiding from the Father – Revelation 6:16
- Christ died when the Father's presence was hidden – Mark 15:34
The wicked die when the Father is fully revealed – 2 Thes 2:8
- Christ died less than 72 hours – Luke 24:1-8
The wicked die eternally – Malachi 4:1-3, Romans 6:23, James 1:15, 2Pet 3:10-12
- Christ died when love overcame selfishness – John 3:16, 10:17,18, 1John 3:16
The wicked die overcome by selfishness – Revelation 21:8
- Christ had His individuality preserved in death (Acts 1:11)
The wicked have their individuality destroyed in death

Those who hold penal models must undermine the beauty and reality of what Christ did accomplish. It is much more profound to realize Christ destroyed death than to teach He was destroyed by death, or He died the second death.

How is death destroyed? By life – and life originates in God and is constructed to operate upon the law of love. Death ensues from deviations from the design upon which life is constructed to operate. One destroys death by restoring things i.e. humanity, back to the right way, i.e. righteousness, or harmony with the law of love. Christ accomplished this in His human brain, when He loved perfectly and surrendered voluntarily to death, refusing to act in selfishness. Thus, He destroyed death and rose again in a humanity He perfected!

The Scripture says that “he was made to be sin though he knew no sin that we might become the righteousness of God.” 2Cor 5:21

What is the punishment for sin? Eternal non-existence – Christ DID suffer in our place, but NOT as a legal punishment for sin. Christ suffered in our place as the means to destroy death, destroy the devil and restore the image of God in man. In other words, Christ suffered in order to destroy sin and save man, not be punished for man's sin.

19th Century Theologian and Evangelist George MacDonald:

The Lord never came to deliver men from the consequences of their sins while those sins yet remained ... Yet, feeling nothing of the dread hatefulness of their sin, men have constantly taken this word that the Lord came to deliver us from our sins to mean that he came to save them from the punishment of their sins. This idea has terribly corrupted the preaching of the Gospel. The message of the Good News has not been truly communicated. Unable to believe in the forgiveness of the Father in heaven, imagining him not at liberty to forgive, or incapable of forgiving forthright; not really believing him God who is fully our Savior, but a God bound — either in his own nature or by a law above him and compulsory upon him — to exact some recompense or satisfaction for sin, a multitude of religious teachers have taught their fellow men that Jesus came to bear our punishment and save us from hell. But in that they have misrepresented his true mission. George MacDonald, Discovering the Character of God, Minneapolis: Bethany House, 1989, p. 39.

THURSDAY

Read second paragraph, “Think, for instance...” What is the problem with this idea?

Can people follow the 10 Commandments without being reborn? And once reborn where is the law of love written? In the heart, so living in harmony with it is an outgrowth of renewed motives and purified character, not something we work to achieve.

In fact, attempting to work to keep the Commandments actually worsens the condition making prideful self-righteous hard-hearted people, who are like those who crucified Christ.

I found that the very commandment that was intended to bring life actually brought death.¹¹ For sin, seizing the opportunity afforded by the commandment, deceived me, and through the commandment put me to death. Rom 7:10, 11

My paraphrase:

I discovered that the very commandment given only to diagnose my condition, I had unwittingly attempted to use as a cure and thus my condition only worsened.¹¹ For selfishness, taking advantage of the fact that the commandment could only diagnose and not cure, deceived me into thinking I could be cured by working to keep the commandments, but instead my terminal state only worsened.ori

Example: Teach a child to brush teeth, grows up and now does it to keep the rules and not get punished, or not upset mommy. While their teeth would benefit, their minds and characters wouldn't and they would likely criticize and be intolerant of those who didn't brush their teeth.

Likewise, not committing adultery, or not stealing, while one may benefit from avoiding diseases and prison etc., if the reason one avoids these behaviors is to keep the rules, to avoid punishment, etc. but not from an enlightened love of God and His methods, then one's character is still not transformed and a person is still not righteous. Heb 5-6.

Here is another email I received:

Just wanted to share with you what a wonderful GOD-inspired work you are doing, spreading the true, benevolent and consistent message about the character of Jesus Christ and the Father. The Christian world is due up for a revolution, and this would be one of the truths that MUST come to the fore...that GOD is love, in His Character, thought and deed - and that it is all consistent.

I am a middle-forties male who has been a Seventh-Day Adventist all my life. I am currently a Sabbath School "guide/instructor", a Pathfinder Counselor, a Deacon, and a proud & happy father of 3 beautiful children married to a God-given wife described in Proverbs 31. I am blessed in so many ways, I cannot begin to describe. I, however, harbored a struggle deep within. A conflict that had me challenging the very tenets of my faith, and had me tongue-tied when talking to my children about a God that loves us but yet was an apathetic Judge ready to pronounce judgment on sins. The struggle that nearly overwhelmed me was this image that I had of God the Father. It is the image that pervades Christendom thinking today, even in our own beloved Seventh-Day Adventist Church. This imposing, imperial dictatorial construct of a God just did not fit with the God who would send His Own Son to die in my place, even were I the only sinner on earth! It just did not work, this ideology of what I had been taught versus a God of Love who would do anything to redeem me.

After some friends suggested that I take note of your [Bible Study] Classes on-line, I must admit that it was like torrents of water to a parched and thirsty land. I soaked up the image of a God who Loves me and whose character is consistent. Love engenders love, and I began to fall in love with my Lord and Savior once again. This message has saved my marriage, my family, my life if you will.

Here in California, the message of a Transformational God of Love is taking hold in the social and religious circles that I inhabit. It is just too bad that there is so much resistance in our own SDA Church to this message of a Truly Loving God. I feel that many Christians resist because they want to worship a God that is in many ways like themselves, ready to judge others for their sins. All the while they can justify this as not being judgmental because their God had already pronounced judgment on those they themselves are so quick to condemn. While obviously this is a deception that many of us live with, it is sad that we attribute to God the Father the exact opposite of what He really is. We do so much more damage in His Name we might as well advertise that we sell Indulgences or have red crosses on our tunics.

I am excited to share with others the message that I am learning and loving of my God who transforms my life into something that I never would have thought possible. Truly we serve a wondrous, glorious God who is worthy of all praise and honor.

Thank you once again for your message of a transformational God of Love, the true picture of how our God really is.

The Apostles and the Law

SABBATH

Read first paragraph, “With so much evidence...” How many of you read your lesson for the week? What evidence did the quarterly cite for the continued validity of God’s law?

The title of this week’s lesson gives a clue. They cite the fact that the Apostles didn’t argue for doing away with the law. Over and again the fact that the Apostles didn’t mention doing away with the law is the evidence they use.

Now, this is certainly true – the Apostles definitely did NOT ever suggest God’s law is done away with. But, is this the best evidence available?

What kind of evidence is this? It is the evidence of another’s testimony, of another’s understanding, of another’s opinion. It is the evidence of basing your faith on what another has experienced and understood.

The purpose of the testimony of the Apostles is to stimulate us to study, reason, evaluate the evidences for ourselves and come to understand God and His methods for ourselves.

But to use the testimony as the determining evidence undermines your own thinking, your own mental development. It is valid to take the opinions and perspectives of other but then one needs to examine the evidence and come to their own conclusion, but it is dangerous, and even damaging, to just believe because another said so.

Using Scripture like this makes mental cripples. This is NOT what God nor His true representatives want or do.

God wants us to have the mind of Christ, to grow up into the full stature of sons and daughters of God, to be renewed in our characters, to develop our own ability to discern right from wrong, not to rest on the conclusions of others, but to use those conclusions to learn the reasons for ourselves and thus the conclusions become ours.

It is a weak argument to say, red and yellow mixed together make orange, BECAUSE an artist instructor told me it does, even if your artist instructor was Michael Angelo. It is much better to say, my artist instructor taught me this, but I have actually mixed the colors myself and know from experience this is true. Or, I observed the colors being mixed and saw for myself they make orange. Or, I have studied light and the wavelength of visible light is between 400-700 nm. Red is 650 nm, yellow is 570 nm, and orange is 590 nm, so I know when you mix the red and yellow you get orange.

Here are some quotes from one of our founders:

Every human being, created in the image of God, is endowed with a power akin to that of the Creator-- individuality, power to think and to do. The men in whom this power is developed are the men who bear responsibilities, who are leaders in enterprise, and who influence character. It is the work of true education to develop this power, to train the youth to be thinkers, and not mere reflectors of other men's thought. Instead of confining their study to that which men have said or written, let students be directed to the sources of truth, to the vast fields opened for research in nature and revelation. Let them contemplate the great facts of duty and destiny, and the mind will expand and strengthen.

Instead of educated weaklings, institutions of learning may send forth men strong to think and to act, men who are masters and not slaves of circumstances, men who possess breadth of mind, clearness of thought, and the courage of their convictions. {Ed 17.2}

Does God want us to have our faith based on what others have thought out? Here is another historical quote, from 1888:

We say decidedly, every minister of Jesus Christ must bind himself to the Source of all light and power and he must not follow in the shadow of any other living man, because there is Christ to whom he must become attached, and he should not bind his heart to any human being and let man do his thinking for him. He is not filling his position in society or in the world if he simply accepts what his father has said and what his father, or some great and good man in past generations, has done, and sinks himself, his individuality, in them. Some who think that they preach the gospel are preaching other men's ideas. Through some means they have come to the decision that it is no part of a minister's calling or duty to think diligently and prayerfully. He accepts what other men have taught without asserting his individuality... {1888 834.2}

Now Satan has his hand in all this work to narrow down the work of God. Ministers of Jesus Christ are to be constantly receiving light from the Source of all light. They are not to be simply receivers of other men's thoughts, they themselves not plowing deep into the mines of truth. If a minister is not a worker himself, digging for the truth as for hidden treasure to find the precious jewels of truth, he is forfeiting his God-given privileges. He is not to put any human mind, any human intelligence, between his soul and God. There is to come no authority from human minds that will in the least degree interpose between him and God's authority to lead, to guide, and to dictate. The ministers of Christ should gather up every ray of light, every jot of strength and illumination from other minds whom God has blessed, but that is not enough. They must go to the Fountainhead for themselves. God has given men reasoning minds and He will not hold them guiltless if they trust in man or make flesh their arm. He wants you individually to come to Him, to draw from Him, to use the ability God gives to understand the living oracles. If one man can see light in examining the Scriptures, so may every true Christian have the right to read, to examine, to search the Scriptures with unabated interest, and gather light therefrom. {1888 834.3}

As I have said in here over and over again, I am not to do your thinking for you, or tell you what to think. But I am here to challenge each of you to think for yourselves, to understand God, His design and methods and be able to tell the difference for yourselves.

What is the danger if we believe based on what others have concluded, without thinking things through for ourselves and understanding for ourselves the reasons for things?

This next quotation describes a natural law, a natural process that happens in the mind when we surrender our thinking to others, and it destroys the individuality, it corrupts the person and obstructs their salvation. Listen to this:

If we mistake the wisdom of man for the wisdom of God we are led astray by the foolishness of man's wisdom. Here is the great danger of many in -----. They have not an experience for themselves. They have not been in the habit of prayerfully considering for themselves, with unprejudiced, unbiased judgment, questions and subjects that are new and that are ever liable to arise. They wait to see what others will think. If these dissent, that is all that is needed to convince them that the subject under consideration is of no account whatever. Although this class is large, it does not change the fact that they are inexperienced and weak-minded through long yielding to the enemy, and will always be as sickly as babes, walking by others' light, living on others' experience, feeling as others feel, and acting as others act. They act as though they had not an individuality. Their identity is submerged in others; they are merely shadows of those whom they think about right. Unless these become sensible of their wavering character and correct it, they will all fail of everlasting life; they will be unable to cope with the perils of the last days. They will possess no stamina to resist the devil, for they do not know that it is he. Someone must be at their side to inform them whether a foe or a friend is approaching. They are not spiritual, therefore spiritual things are not discerned. They are not wise in those things which relate to the kingdom of God. Neither young nor old are excusable in trusting to another to have an experience for them. Said the angel: "Cursed be the man that trusteth in man, and maketh flesh his arm." A noble self-reliance is needed in the Christian experience and warfare. {2T 129.2}

What happens when we surrender our thinking to another, rather than be stimulated to think for ourselves?

Why is the person who does this cursed? What is the curse? It is the curse of consequence, the curse of losing one's ability to think for oneself, the curse of losing one's individuality, one's personhood. This is not an infliction, but the natural result of choosing to squander the gifts God has given.

So, having said all this, what is better evidence that God's law is not annulled nor ever shall be than the fact the Apostles never said it was?

Understanding the nature of the law itself and then testing it in action, having experience with it.

First, what type of law is God's law – design or imposed?

Give examples of God's laws:

- Law of love – principle of giving – life is built upon this, examples?
- Law of liberty – love only exists in freedom, what happens when violated
- Law of worship – by beholding we become changed – examples

- Law of sowing and reaping – examples
- Law of truth – truth heals and sets free – examples
- Laws of health – examples
- Laws of nature – examples
- Law of strength acquired by effort or exercise - examples

When we understand God’s laws, what difference does this make for us?

So why is God’s law not done away with? Because it is the parameters upon which the cosmos is built.
To do away with the law would be destroy the universe!

What happens when we violate these laws? What does God do?

The lesson states, “As a result, they claim the Ten Commandments are not obligatory for those under the New Covenant.” Are the commandments obligatory to those who are under the New Covenant?

What do you make of Paul’s comments to Timothy?

We know that the law is good if one uses it properly. ⁹ We also know that law is made not for the righteous but for lawbreakers and rebels, the ungodly and sinful, the unholy and irreligious; for those who kill their fathers or mothers, for murderers, ¹⁰ for adulterers and perverts, for slave traders and liars and perjurers—and for whatever else is contrary to the sound doctrine ¹¹ that conforms to the glorious gospel of the blessed God, which he entrusted to me. 1Tim 1:8-11

The next paragraph states, “Second, others are so convinced that the Sabbath is not binding on Christians that, in order to justify this position, they claim that all the commandments have been crucified with Jesus on the cross.”

What have they done with these two ideas?

They have substituted the truth of God’s law of love, the blessing of freedom with imposed law ideas and given false reasons for the law that abuses and injures people who believe the lie.

What does obligation mean? How do you hear it?

Does obligation connote a sense of coercive pressure, a burden, do it or else?

This is an historic view, what our church used to know about our relationship to God’s law:

The man who attempts to keep the commandments of God from a sense of obligation merely--because he is required to do so--will never enter into the joy of obedience. He does not obey. When the requirements of God are accounted a burden because they cut across human inclination, we may know that the life is not a Christian life. True obedience is the outworking of a principle within. It springs from the love of righteousness, the love of the law of God. The essence of all righteousness is loyalty to our Redeemer. This will lead us to do right because it is right--because right doing is pleasing to God. {COL 97.3}

A sullen submission to the will of the Father will develop the character of a rebel. By such a one service is looked upon as drudgery. It is not rendered cheerfully, and in the love of God. It is a mere mechanical performance. If he dared, such a one would disobey. His rebellion is smothered, ready to break out at any time in bitter murmurings and complaints. Such service brings no peace or quietude to the soul. {ST, July 22, 1897}

It is true we are “obligated” to breathe if we want to live, but if we view the law of respiration as an obligation, an order we must do or else, our attitude about breathing changes, rather than a natural and enjoyable function we might come to resent it, why should I have to breathe. Why cant I just live without the need to breathe, it is so restrictive, I can’t go underwater, I can’t go out into space....

When we accept the lie that God’s law is like human law, imposed rules that must be enforced, then we oblige people to keep them, and we take the truth and turn it to a lie. We cheat people from the blessing of the Sabbath and rather than a day of freedom, a day of delight, we make it and the rest of God’s law into a burden that enslaves, burdens and grinds down, to the point of causing people to rebel.

Only by understanding God’s law in its right light, the design protocols for life, do we set people free to be transformed by God’s grace.

If you keep your feet from breaking the Sabbath and from doing as you please on my holy day, if you call the Sabbath a delight and the Lord’s holy day honorable, and if you honor it by not going your own way and not doing as you please or speaking idle words,¹⁴ then you will find your joy in the Lord, and I will cause you to ride on the heights of the land and to feast on the inheritance of your father Jacob.” Isa 58:13,14

SUNDAY

Read Romans 3:28: “For we maintain that a man is justified by faith apart from observing the law.”

Romans 6:14: “For sin shall not be your master, because you are not under law, but under grace.”

Romans 7:4: “So, my brothers, you also died to the law through the body of Christ, that you might belong to another, to him who was raised from the dead, in order that we might bear fruit to God.”

Romans 3:31: “Do we, then, nullify the law by this faith? Not at all! Rather, we uphold the law.”

What do these texts mean?

Read last paragraph, “For those who don’t...” Can someone explain justification by faith?

Here is a definition found on Wikipedia:

Justification, in Christian theology, is God’s act of removing the guilt and penalty of sin while at the same time declaring a sinner righteous through Christ’s atoning sacrifice. In Protestantism, righteousness from God is viewed as being credited to the sinner's account through faith alone, without works.

Thoughts? This sums up the classic view very nicely and notice this view is the view that comes when one accepts the false view of God’s law. Thus much of our own theology has been tainted through a wrong understanding of God and His law.

Here is a description of genuine justification, taught by one of the founders of our church:

Christ came to save fallen man, and Satan with fiercest wrath met him on the field of conflict; for the enemy knew that when divine strength was added to human weakness, man was armed with power and intelligence, and could break away from the captivity in which he had bound him. Satan sought to intercept every ray of light from the throne of God. He sought to cast his shadow across the earth, that men might lose the true views of God's character, and that the knowledge of God might become extinct in the earth. He had caused truth of vital importance to be so mingled with error that it had lost its significance. The law of Jehovah was burdened with needless exactions and traditions, and God was represented as severe, exacting, revengeful, and arbitrary. He was pictured as one who could take pleasure in the sufferings of his creatures. The very attributes that belonged to the character of Satan, the evil one represented as belonging to the character of God. Jesus came to teach men of the Father, to correctly represent him before the fallen children of earth. Angels could not fully portray the character of God, but Christ, who was a living impersonation of God, could not fail to accomplish the work. The only way in which he could set and keep men right was to make himself visible and familiar to their eyes. That men might have salvation he came directly to man, and became a partaker of his nature. {ST, January 20, 1890 par. 6}

Where was justification mentioned in this passage? Setting right. This is what justification truly means, setting people right with God.

What is wrong that needs setting right? The heart, mind, character of humans, primarily about God, and secondarily our underlying motives of selfishness.

Christ came to set us right in our minds and hearts about God, and in that renewed trust relationship, we are restored to right character. Thus the only way to set and keep us right was to destroy the lies that cause mistrust, reestablish trust, which is faith, and in that trust we open the heart and experience the filling of the Holy Spirit, which takes all Christ achieved and reproduces it in us. Thus we become partakers of the divine nature and it is no longer our sinful selves that live, but Christ lives in us. We are set right, actually, literally, with God and His universe of love again.

Here true justification is stated more clearly in the book Desire of Ages:

The law requires righteousness,--a righteous life, a perfect character[why?]; and this man has not to give. He cannot meet the claims of God's holy law. But Christ, coming to the earth as man, lived a holy life, and developed a perfect character. These He offers as a free gift to all who will receive them. His life stands for the life of men. Thus they have remission of sins that are past, through the forbearance of God. More than this, Christ imbues men with the attributes of God. He builds up the human character after the similitude of the divine character, a goodly fabric of spiritual strength and beauty. Thus the very righteousness of the law is fulfilled in the believer in Christ. God can "be just, and the justifier of him which believeth in Jesus."... Romans 3:26. {DA 762.2}

So what Paul is saying is this, the law is the protocols upon which life is built, we are born out of harmony and thus terminal. The written law was given to help us realize our condition, to diagnose us as such. Those, who have accepted the truth about God as revealed by Jesus, and in trust open the heart, are reborn with Christ's motives, methods and principles in their hearts; thus they are set right with God and are no longer out of harmony with Him. They are justified. Therefore, the law no longer condemns them because they live in harmony with it.

So, how did Christ take away the law's condemnation? By curing the condition which it condemns.

What does the law of respiration say about a person who hangs themselves with a noose? The law of respiration condemns them to death. What is necessary to take away the condemnation? Remove the noose and put them in harmony with the law.

Will having some other person hung by a noose take away the condemnation of the person you find hanging by a noose?

This idea of penal substitution is a lie and needs to be rejected. The church corrupts the gospel and obstructs the final message of mercy by misrepresenting God with this false teaching.

TUESDAY

Read first paragraph, "John is the second..." Why does the lesson go on and on about how the Apostles did not set aside God's law?

Because they consider it imposed rules. Would the authors go on and on about how the Apostles never argued that gravity was done away with, any other natural law?

Here is an historic perspective, note God's law in this passage:

By the laws of God in nature, effect follows cause with unvarying certainty. The reaping testifies to the sowing. Here no pretense is tolerated. Men may deceive their fellow men and may receive praise and compensation for service which they have not rendered. But in nature there can be no deception. On the unfaithful husbandman the harvest passes sentence of condemnation. And in the highest sense this is true also in the spiritual realm. It is in appearance, not in reality, that evil succeeds. The child who plays truant from school, the youth who is slothful in his studies, the clerk or apprentice who fails of serving the interests of his employer, the man in any business or profession who is untrue to his highest responsibilities, may flatter himself that, so long as the wrong is concealed, he is gaining an advantage. But not so; he is cheating himself. The harvest of life is character, and it is this that determines destiny, both for this life and for the life to come. {Ed 108.2}

The harvest is a reproduction of the seed sown. Every seed yields fruit after its kind. So it is with the traits of character we cherish. Selfishness, self-love, self-esteem, self-indulgence, reproduce themselves, and the end is wretchedness and ruin. "He that soweth to his flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption; but he that soweth to the Spirit shall of the Spirit reap life everlasting." Galatians 6:8. Love, sympathy, and kindness yield fruitage of blessing, a harvest that is imperishable. {Ed 109.1}

What law is described? Why is it that Apostles don't argue that God's law was set aside? Because they knew what this author knew, that God's law is the design template and deviations are destructive to the deviant.

WEDNESDAY

Read first paragraph, "There is only one book..." Could Jesus abrogate the divine law?

Not and have the universe continue, destroying the law destroys the very fabric of reality and thus destroys everything. This is what many Christians fail to realize.

Thus they have arguments about whether Christ intended to abrogate or destroy the law or not – the entire argument is already in the wrong playing field, because when one finally agrees Christ didn't set aside the law they are still in a false mental world where His law could have been set aside, i.e. an arbitrary imposed law maintained by the authority or force of the cosmic ruler.

Read last paragraph, "Misunderstanding Paul's..." What is the understanding of the relationship between faith and works?

The reason so many groups struggle is because they misunderstand the law as imposed. If my penalty is paid, and nothing I can do adds to the payment, then my salvation is obtained totally by grace, and I access it through faith. If I say I must do good works to achieve salvation then I am adding something to what Christ has done for me.

This is the confusion that results from operating on the false law lie.

Come back to the truth of God's law being the design upon which life is constructed and it all makes perfect sense.

Christ singly and alone revealed the truth about God which destroys the lies of Satan and wins to trust and He procured the remedy which cures and heals all who take it.

Yet, we still have to accept the truth, choose to trust God, partake the remedy and follow the treatment plan of our Savior.

- In accepting the truth are we the source of truth?
- In choosing to trust God are we generating His trustworthiness?
- In taking the remedy do we create the remedy? Do we add to the remedy? When taking the remedy does it do something in us we cannot do for ourselves?
- In choosing to follow the treatment plan, have we created the plan? Is it our human strength that enables us to follow through with the plan?
- Do we save ourselves? Absolutely not!
- Yet, is there a work for us to do in partaking what Christ has achieved and applying it to our lives? Thus we work out our salvation with fear and trembling, in the same way a patient works out their healing by taking their prescription and doing their therapy, but the patient doesn't create the cure nor do they save themselves.

THURSDAY

The lesson, midway states, "The very mention of grace demands the existence of law, because grace would not be necessary if there were no sin (Rom 5:18-6:15).

What is sin? Transgression of the law, which means what? Being deviant from the protocols life is constructed to operate upon?

What is grace? God's goodwill for us expressed in actions to restore us back to perfection and harmony with His design, which He originates in His character of love not because we have done something to earn it or influence Him to do so.

The lesson references Rom 5:18-6:15, this is through 6:18 in my paraphrase:

^{5:18} Therefore, just as Adam's distrust infected humanity with the fatal condition of fear and selfishness, so too Christ's choice to sacrifice self achieved the life-giving Remedy for all mankind. ¹⁹ Just as Adam's choice infected the human race with a terminal condition, so too Christ's perfect life has brought the Remedy to heal all who accept it.

^{5:20} The written law was added so that the infection of distrust and selfishness could be more easily seen and diagnosed. And where the exposure of sin and selfishness increased, God's willingness to heal increased all the more, ²¹ so that, just as distrust and selfishness brought deformity and death, even more importantly God's gracious Remedy, brought by Jesus Christ, results in complete healing and life eternal.

Romans 6:1 What, then, should we say about this amazing healing plan? Should we spread the infection of distrust and selfishness, cause more devastation and destruction so that the power of God's healing solution may be more fully displayed? ² Absolutely not! We have taken the antidote, and the infection of distrust and selfishness has been purged from our hearts and minds; how then, can we choose to be reinfected with distrust of God and practice selfish methods again? ³ Or don't you realize that all of us who were immersed into union with Christ Jesus were immersed into selflessness and have died to self-centeredness? ⁴ We symbolically demonstrate we have joined him in dying to self by being buried in water, in order that just as Jesus arose from the dead displaying the life giving glory of the Father, we too live a new life displaying God's glorious character in our lives.

^{6:5} If we have joined him in dying to self, we will absolutely join him in his resurrection and new life! ⁶ For we know that when our old selfish hearts and fear-ridden minds trust God and surrender to be crucified with Christ, the infection of selfishness is purged, and our hearts are no longer controlled by Satanic principles – ⁷ because anyone who dies to selfishness is free from Satan's methods, principles and control.

^{6:8} Now if we join Christ in dying to self, we are confident we will live with him forever. ⁹ Because Christ was raised from the dead and cannot die again; he has secured the Remedy and has revealed the truth, and death cannot touch him again. ¹⁰ The death he died, he died once destroying Satan's lies, the infection of fear and selfishness and restoring love and trust; therefore, the life he lives, he lives to glorify God.

^{6:11} In the same way recognize you are dead to the ways of Satan and alive to the ways of God as revealed in Christ Jesus. ¹² Therefore do not indulge the selfish desires and participate in destructive activities. ¹³ Do not use your physical body for evil, to indulge selfishness, but rather offer your entire being to God – revealing that Satan's principles of death have been replaced by God's principles of life. So offer your entire self to God doing what is right and healthy because it is right and healthy. ¹⁴ For distrust, fear and selfishness will no longer be what controls you, because you are no longer under the law's terminal diagnosis, but have partaken of God's gracious Remedy and are under his healing care.

^{6:15} What then? Shall we indulge selfish desires because God has provided a gracious cure for our terminal condition? Absolutely not! ¹⁶ Don't you realize that when you gratify the selfish desires, you are slowly transformed and become more and more selfish destroying the very faculties that recognize and respond to God's healing truth – thus over time you lose your freedom to choose and become a slave to selfishness and lust, which leads only to self-destruction and death? Conversely if you accept God's gracious Remedy and choose his methods you are transformed and become Christlike in character. ¹⁷ Thanks be to God, that even though you used to be slaves to selfishness, you wholeheartedly accepted the truth revealed by Jesus, trusted God and practice his methods of love, truth and freedom, which you were taught. ¹⁸ Therefore, you have been freed from distrust, fear and selfishness and have been bonded to love, truth and liberty, doing what is right because it is right.

MONDAY

Read last paragraph, “When Peter referred...” What covenant were the people to be reminded to live under?

What does it mean we are a royal priesthood? What is the function of a priest?

In the old system what did the priest do? What did this symbolize? So what are we to do today?

The priests assisted people fallen down in the guilt and shame of sin to find forgiveness, restoration, peace. Symbolically, they took the shed blood and ministered it around, they ate the meat of the sacrificial offering, they ate the showbread with fellow priests each Sabbath in the Holy Place, they taught the people.

What does all this symbolize?

I received this email recently:

I am writing to request a case each, if possible, of the free dvd's God and Your Brain, Healing the Mind, and Modern Medicine. I would also like any other recommended materials to saturate our library with!

They have been a wonderful blessing to me and my family and circle of friends! I had recently put out a case of your God and Your Brain dvd's at our church, and they are gone! We have about 300-400 regular attending members... I hope to bless them with your free materials that truly are sharing the Gospel Message!

Just a note- When I read your God Shaped Brain book, I was so impressed that this was the best (simplistic, logical, and well laid out) version of the good news I had ever heard! I had our late Administrative Pastor (who was diagnosed with Cancer and Parkinson's) read over just the part about Job and suffering and miracles. This 86 year old man who loved the church more than anything ...wept! It was such a blessing to me to know he REALLY got it before he passed!!! Thank you!!! My husband bought a case and we have been handing them out ever since.

I won't bore you with the stories, but they are more and more frequent. Praise God!

Thank you again for your part in HIS ministry and may God continue to bless and grow it for His Kingdom! FL

Christ's Church and the Law

SABBATH

Read memory text: "Here is the patience of the saints; here are those who keep the commandments of God and the faith of Jesus" (Rev 14:12).

What does this mean? What are the commandments of God?

Does it have anything to do with God's law? What law?

Jesus said, "A new command I give you: Love one another. As I have loved you, so you must love one another. By this all men will know that you are my disciples, if you love one another." Jn 13:34,35

Is this what our memory verse is talking about, those who love each other and trust Jesus?

This is from an old Journal article, printed in 1893, consider how our church used to look at this issue:

It is through the mighty agency of the Holy Spirit that the government of Satan is to be subdued and subjected. It is the Holy Spirit that convicts of sin, and expels it from the soul by the consent of the human agent. [what does this mean?] The mind is then brought under a new law, and that law is the royal law of liberty. [Which law is this? Is it the 10 Commandments or something more? How is the law liberating?] Jesus came to break the shackles of sin-slavery from the soul; for sin can triumph only when the liberty of the soul is extinguished. [what does this mean? How does sin take our liberty?] Jesus reached to the very depth of human woe and misery, and his love attracts man to himself. Through the agency of the Holy Spirit, he lifts the mind up from its degradation, and fastens it upon the eternal reality. Through the merits of Christ man may be able to exercise the noblest powers of his being, and expel sin from his soul... {RH, April 25, 1893 par. 2}

It is essential that we who are fallen through sin, shall put on the robe of Christ's righteousness which has been prepared for us. [what does this mean? COL 311] The Holy Spirit was to convince "of judgment, because the prince of this world is judged." [By whom? Who has judged the prince of this world? And what evidence was most persuasive? Who needed this evidence in order to judge correctly?] The unfallen worlds have watched the conflict and trial of the Son of God in behalf of humanity. They have seen the crooked working of him who was once highly exalted of God, but who was expelled from heaven with a large number of angels, who has made this world the stage of his action, the field of his controversy against God.

In heaven he complained against the law of God, declaring it unnecessary and arbitrary. [And according to this author, how did Satan describe God's law? Satan wanted anarchy without consequence. To be able to do anything without consequence, why was this not possible? Because of God's design law, but what did Satan do? He twisted the law in the minds of beings, and alleged God is the punisher. "Every sin must meet its punishment urged Satan." DA 761] He misrepresented the Lord Jehovah, and the high Commander of heaven. He claimed that he was above law, and maintained that right was upon his side; [what kind of law would it be for one to claim to be above it? Does anyone claim to be above the law of respiration, gravity etc? So again, Satan's view of God's law is a law imposed, not the protocols upon which life is built] but he has fully made manifest that the principles he advocated were evil and injurious. [Why are Satan's way injurious? Satan would have you believe because they get you in legal trouble and God must injure you with His divine power to punish you. Is this right? Then why are Satan's ways injurious? Because they deviate from the protocols God has built life to operate upon] It has been proved that "the law of the Lord is perfect, converting the soul: the testimony of the Lord is sure, making wise the simple. The statutes of the Lord are right, rejoicing the heart: the commandment of the Lord is pure, enlightening the eyes. The fear of the Lord is clean, enduring forever: the judgments of the Lord are true and righteous altogether. More to be desired are they than gold, yea, than much fine gold: sweeter also than honey and the honey-comb. Moreover by them is thy servant warned: and in keeping of them there is great reward." [How has this been proved? Has it been proved to you?] {RH, April 25, 1893 par. 4}

We are exhorted in the inspired records to "receive with meekness the ingrafted word, which is able to save your soul." [How does the ingrafted word save? Save means to heal, the word is truth, truth destroys lies, restores trust, opens the heart to love, which drives out fear] A mere casual faith in the word is not enough; it must be received into the heart, ingrafted in the very character. It is only when this is the case that we have that faith which works by love, and purifies the soul. Then open wide the door of the heart for the entrance of sacred, solemn truth. The psalmist says, "The entrance of thy words giveth light; it giveth understanding unto the simple." It is as we render obedience to the command of God that we have light and peace. [What is genuine obedience? Is it blindly following rules, or understanding cooperation?] As we make the testimonies of God our delight, we have guidance and counsel. We then eat the flesh and drink the blood of the Son of God, and find that his words are spirit and life. [What does it mean to partake the blood? Is the blood literal? Symbolic of what? Christ's life, NOT death, which is commonly taught in the penal view] {RH, April 25, 1893 par. 5}

As we walk in the commandments of God, we follow on in the way cast up for the ransomed of the Lord to walk in. The faithful of all ages have walked in this path, and they have shone as lights in the world. In this age the light transmitted from them has been shining with increased brightness upon the path of those who are walking in darkness. Some have received the truth, believed and obeyed it. The light of the third angel's message has penetrated into many a darkened mind. [what is the light of the third angel's message?] The light of the wisdom, the goodness, the mercy, and love of God has been shining forth through his holy word. [Is this the third angel's message?] We are not in the place where our fathers were. Advanced light is shining upon us in these last days. We cannot be accepted of God; we cannot honor him by rendering the same service, doing the same work that our fathers did. [Why not?] In order to be accounted guiltless before God, we must be as faithful in our time in following and obeying our light, as they were faithful in following and obeying the light that shone upon them... Every soul should place himself where the light will shine upon him. He should treasure every ray, that he may brighten and bless the souls of others with the heaven-sent radiance. {RH, April 25, 1893 par. 6}

The darkness of the world is great, and individually we shall have light just to the degree to which we improve it. [what does this mean? Why is it so? Because only by thinking it out for ourselves, understanding it, comprehending it, studying it, do we develop the neural circuitry necessary to expand our understanding and grow in the light. Just as with any other endeavor. How does one grow in musical skill? By practice, by working the songs, my trying various compositions etc and in so doing the neural circuitry expands and ability and creativity and insight and ideas expand. So too in spiritual truth, if we want to grow we must exercise the faculties in studying these themes for ourselves! This is not an arbitrary edict on God. God doesn't choose to make one smart in spiritual things and another ignorant, God's truth is shining, the question is are we comprehending?] We are to keep the commandment, "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself," by disseminating the light of truth that has blessed our souls, to those who sit in darkness. [Is this the commandment represented in the Rev 14 text?] Every soul is accountable for the talents intrusted. As a church, as individuals, we are to stand upon the elevated, holy ground where the truth has placed us. We are to represent to the world in character and unity the accumulated light which shines upon us in these last days... {RH, April 25, 1893 par. 7}

What does it mean to keep the commandments of God? To love others such that we share the truth about God to them for the healing and redeeming of their souls!

What about the other major text that often goes along with the Revelation 14 text, Revelation 12:17:

Then the dragon was enraged at the woman and went off to make war against the rest of her offspring—those who obey God's commandments and hold to the testimony of Jesus.

What does Keep the commandments mean? To love God and others more than self and live seeking to save the lost, and what about hold to the testimony of Jesus?

Revelation 19:10 says:

I am a fellow servant with you and with your brothers who hold to the testimony of Jesus. Worship God! For the testimony of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy.

Some interpret the passage and to mean the gift of prophecy, i.e. someone with the prophetic gift is a member of your organization. What is the problem with this interpretation?

First, the text is not talking about a single individual with the gift of prophecy, but about a group of people who all hold to a certain viewpoint, live by that view and share that same view or testimony, and that is the testimony Jesus gave about His Father. "If you've seen me you've seen the Father." Jesus said.

Consider this quotation:

The health reform is as closely related to the third angel's message as the arm to the body; but the arm cannot take the place of the body. The proclamation of the third angel's message, the commandments of God and the testimony of Jesus, is the burden of our work. The message is to be proclaimed with a loud cry, and is to go to the whole world. The presentation of health principles must be united with this message, but must not in any case be independent of it, or in any way take the place of it. . . . There must be a well-balanced, symmetrical development of the work in all its parts. . . {CM 138.1}

Thoughts? What does this mean? Why is the health message to be the right arm of the third angel's message, which is taken by people who hold to the commandments of God and the testimony of Jesus?

Because the health message operates on what kind of law? And when we give commandments of health, thou shall not smoke, it is understood to mean what?

Also, the health care team is never represented as being against the patient, even the patient who refuses treatment. And the cause of death for the patient who refuses treatment is from the unremedied disease not the doctor.

Likewise, the plan of salvation is the plan of healing. God's law is the law of life, the principles upon which life is constructed to operate. God is seeking to heal and never works to destroy his patients, even the unruly ones. But unremedied sin in the sinner will destroy them.

Has Christianity at large, and the SDA church in particular, given this message or has the message of the three angels, which our founders over and again said, "is the burden of our work" been corrupted by severing the gospel message from the health message and replacing natural/design law with an imperial imposed law construct which distorts God's character and actually promotes Satan's lies about God?

The sad thing in our churches today, is that Jesus is misrepresented in the character of those who profess to be his followers. Many claim to believe in and love Jesus, while they do neither. They advocate the law of God, but are transgressors of its precepts. The first four commandments require supreme love to God. Parents, children, wife, husband, houses, lands, or any other earthly treasure, whether of friends or property, are not to be loved selfishly, and thus become an idol to divert the mind, the time, the service, from God. He that loves and serves mammon, cannot love and serve God supremely... "Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him." "Know ye not that the friendship of the world is enmity with God? whosoever therefore will be a friend of the world is the enemy of God." Here idolatry is plainly revealed, as existing in those who claim to worship God. The pure, refined, ennobling love is buried up by the love of carnal things. This the True Witness represents as a fearful loss in experience and character-building -- the loss of the first love... Mercy and the love of God are the attributes of his throne. While claiming to be the subjects of the kingdom of God, and yet refusing to be converted from their selfish love, their stern, iron will, their own perverse ways, many are constantly bearing a false testimony of Jesus Christ. {The Home Missionary, December 1, 1894 par. 13}

What does it mean to be part of God's last day people, to keep the commandments of God and hold to the testimony of Jesus?

Read second and third paragraph, "God's church is..." thoughts?

The problem is that the church today is carrying the wrong baton, ever since Constantine, the church has been carrying the false view of God's law. It has been representing God's law as imposed, and God as the supreme judge and imposer of penalties. Thus, the church has failed to prepare the world for Christ's return because the true gospel of the kingdom of love has not gone to the world.

SUNDAY

The lesson asks us to read the account in Genesis where God instructs Adam not to eat of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil and warns if he does he will die, and then the temptation and fall.

The lesson then asks, "What test was given to Adam and Even? Why would such a test be needed for perfect beings?"

It was a test of trust, of willingness to think, reason and choose. And why was it necessary?

- Was it necessary for God to know something?
- Was it necessary so God could know whether they would be loyal or not?
- No, God knows the future and God knew what they would do before they did it.
- Then why provide the test?

- What did God want for them?
- Did God want His children to suffer and die?
- Or did God want them to be eternally healthy, happy, and secure?
- What would be necessary for Adam and Eve to be eternally secure, beyond any possibility of choosing to deviate from God's design?

- To think through the issues for themselves and choose the truth and reject the lies. This could only be accomplished by their actually having an opportunity to make such a choice.

Thus the tree was in the garden for their development, their advancement, their solidification into holiness and perfection of character.

Here is a quote from one of the founders of our church, how she saw it:

Our first parents, though created innocent and holy, were not placed beyond the possibility of wrongdoing. . . . They were to enjoy communion with God and with holy angels; but before they could be rendered eternally secure, their loyalty must be tested. At the very beginning of man's existence a check was placed upon the desire for self-indulgence, the fatal passion that lay at the foundation of Satan's fall. The tree of knowledge, which stood near the tree of life in the midst of the garden, was to be a test of the obedience, faith, and love of our first parents. While permitted to eat freely of every other tree, they were forbidden to taste of this, on pain of death. They were also to be exposed to the temptations of Satan; but if they endured the trial, they would finally be placed beyond his power, to enjoy perpetual favor with God. . . . {CC 13.2}

God might have created man without the power to transgress His law; He might have withheld the hand of Adam from touching the forbidden fruit; but in that case man would have been, not a free moral agent, but a mere automation. Without freedom of choice, his obedience would not have been voluntary, but forced. There could have been no development of character. . . . It would have been unworthy of man as an intelligent being, and would have sustained Satan's charge of God's arbitrary rule. {CC 13.3}

What is Satan's power? Lies, then what places one beyond Satan's power? Being so settled into the truth nothing can move one from it.

What was the law in Eden which Adam and Eve violated? Is there any inspired evidence that the 10 Commandments were in existence in Eden?

Did they break the law of love and trust? Yes, why? What caused the breach? Believing a lie:

Eve believed the words of Satan, and the belief of that falsehood in regard to God's character, changed the condition and character of both herself and husband. They were changed from good and obedient children into transgressors... {RH, January 5, 1886 par. 8}

- Lies believed break the circle of love and trust
- Broken love and trust result in fear and selfishness
- Fear and selfishness result in acts of sin
- This is a terminal condition

MONDAY

The lesson reviews the condition of the world from Noah to Abraham, how wicked the people were before the flood and how quickly after the flood they degenerated back into wickedness.

In Genesis 6 the Bible says that the sons of God married the daughters of men, which means that converted people, those with the law of God written on their hearts, married people who were selfish and were not converted. What is the problem with this?

What would you say of these ideas, which were written more than 100 years ago:

What the parents are, that to a great extent the children will be.

The physical conditions of the parents, their dispositions and appetites, their mental and moral tendencies, are to a greater or less degree reproduced in their children.--MH 371 (1905). {1MCP 138.5}

The nobler the aims, the higher the mental and spiritual endowments, and the better developed the physical powers of the parents, the better will be the life equipment they give their children. In cultivating that which is best in themselves, parents are exerting an influence to mold society and to uplift future generations.... {1MCP 139.1}

Through the indulgence of appetite and passion their energies are wasted, and millions are ruined for this world and for the world to come. Parents should remember that their children must encounter these temptations. Even before the birth of the child, the preparation should begin that will enable it to fight successfully the battle against evil. {1MCP 139.2}

Especially does responsibility rest upon the mother. She, by whose lifeblood the child is nourished and its physical frame built up, imparts to it also mental and spiritual influences that tend to the shaping of mind and character.--MH 371, 372 (1905). {1MCP 139.3}

In past generations, if mothers had informed themselves in regard to the laws of their being, they would have understood that their constitutional strength, as well as the tone of their morals and their mental faculties, would in a great measure be represented in their offspring. Their ignorance upon this subject, where so much is involved, is criminal.--HL (Part 2) 37, 1865. (2SM 431.) {1MCP 142.4}

- Maternal stress during pregnancy alters the developing brain such that the child will be less capable of calming self and suffer with greater anxiety than they otherwise would have Medina, J. Psychiatric Times, April 2010, p. 16
- Experiences in adolescence can alter brain DNA expression which can pass down to the offspring. Study done on mice with gene defect for bad memory revealed those mice with healthier adolescence altered the defective gene expression passing along better memory to their offspring. Junko A. Arai, Shaomin Li, Dean M. Hartley, and Larry A. Feig Transgenerational Rescue of a Genetic Defect in Long-Term Potentiation and Memory Formation by Juvenile Enrichment J. Neurosci., Feb 2009; 29: 1496 - 1502 ; doi:10.1523/JNEUROSCI.5057-08.2009
- A recent study of over 4000 mothers and their children, followed for over 18 years found that if the mother had negative, pessimistic, depressive thinking patterns when pregnant, then her child was much more likely to have such thinking patterns 18 years later. This association remained after accounting for maternal and offspring depression. The thought patterns of the mother accounted for 21% of the association between maternal and child depression. (Am Journal of Psychiatry 2013; 170:434-441).
- Recent research in PTSD individuals found that Cognitive Behavioral Therapy CBT resulted in positive gene expression changes in the hippocampus of the brain, turning on genes associated with neuroplasticity. PTSD individuals experience loss of volume in the hippocampus and orbital frontal cortex. They also have loss of gene expression of the gene FKBP5, which modulates the glucocorticoid receptor, i.e. stress hormones. Thus, they lose the feedback to reduce the stress hormones, which results in the brain tissue volume loss. CBT resulted in increased expression of this gene, with increased number of receptors, and thus reduction of stress hormones, with increased volume in hippocampus and orbital frontal cortex. CBT is a form of therapy which focuses on the truth, teaching people how to understand, deal with and apply the truth. Thus, the truth is healing and restorative. Biological Psychiatry Volume 74, Issue 11 , Pages 793-800, 1 December 2013

Thoughts? So, if a person has been traumatized, this will likely negatively affect their gene expression, and they will pass along such changes to their children. However, if they deal with the trauma appropriately, CBT for instance, positive gene expression occurs, and we have every reason to believe these positive changes will be passed along to their children.

Science is confirming what Scripture and other Bible writers have said.

TUESDAY

Read first paragraph, “After the Flood...” Why the Flood? Was it punishment inflicted by God for sin? Was it punishment that sin itself brings? Was it an act of mercy on God’s part? Was it an act of vengeance on God’s part? Or something else?

Two explanations given are reasonable for the Flood:

- The hearts of human beings closed completely to God and the HS was slowly withdrawn from the earth and Satan gained more and more access to the laws of nature and things ran amuck and the Flood came. When the wicked died and only Noah and his family were left, the majority of people were again open to the Holy Spirit, who stabilized the laws of nature and things improved. God foresaw and thus forewarned and provided a way of escape for all who would take it.
- God acted in love to keep open the channel for the Messiah. Satan was working to prevent Jesus from coming to earth by destroying every righteous person and getting everyone to permanently close their hearts to God. At this time in earth's history only one righteous man and his family remained, thus God's action at the flood was a mercy to save, to keep open the channel for Messiah to come.
- Why can we be certain the flood was not God using His power to inflict pain, suffering and death?
 - The people died the first not the second eternal death and all will rise again
 - God wants love and love cannot be achieved through the exercise of force
 - Coercive pressure is used only under Satan's government
 - God's law is the design law upon which life is constructed and God doesn't need to inflict punishment for deviations, the deviations bring their own punishment. However, God in love will often provide therapeutic interventions designed to heal and restore

What happened when God used power, therapeutically, in an attempt to redirect, excise, save, restore...

- Flood – Babel
- Carmel – Rebellion back into idolatry
- 10 Plagues of Egypt – Golden Calf
- 185,000 Assyrians – back to rebellion and eventual captivity

Thus Zech 4:6 “not by might nor by power but by the way the Spirit works” and as we read in the earlier commentary, it is only through the power of the Holy Spirit we can defeat Satan. And the Spirit is the Spirit of love and truth. These are the weapons to be used. God cannot win with power and might, because it is not a battle over power and might. It is a battle over love and trust!

Read second and last paragraphs, “God called Abraham...” “Abraham was not...” thoughts? Then what was the purpose of Israel?

WEDNESDAY

Read first paragraph? “Though ancient law...” Was Israel's primary purpose to be stewards of God's true law? Or was their primary purpose something else, for which God's true law was necessary for them to have, understand, and apply?

I would suggest their primary purpose was to prepare a people for the advent of Jesus, and thus the law, diagnosing us as terminal, was important to let people know only through the coming Messiah would our condition be cured.

The second paragraph points out Israel was to be a kingdom of priests – what does this mean? What were they to do?

Are we a royal priesthood? What does it mean? What are we to do?

THURSDAY

Read third paragraph, “Unfortunately...” No question the Reformation was the beginning of returning to the truth about God, but what remnants of the infection remain?

The distortion of God’s law as imposed and the resultant distortion of God’s character and theology that it brings.

FRIDAY

Read second paragraph, “The theme of greatest...” thoughts?

This is an email I received recently:

I'd like to report that I've used the DVDs you sent with great effect in the Jail Ministries and Earliteen. Many of the inmates are quite vocal about how it helps them understand their current situation, and after viewing the DVD one of the more "resistant" teens in my [class] ended up having an hour and a half conversation with me about some of the topics in the video.

Thanks, - CA

Christ's Kingdom and the Law

SABBATH

Read memory verse: "But this is the covenant I will make with the house of Israel after those days, says the Lord: I will put My law in their minds, and write it on their hearts; and I will be their God, and they shall be my people." Jeremiah 21:33, NKJV

What does this mean? What is the heart where the law gets written? What law? How is God's law written on our hearts? Do we have any role in having it written there? What?

Read last paragraph, “Indeed, we have been...” What does it mean?

How do you understand it? What are the options?

- God destroys those which reject Him
- Sin is deviation from God’s design and automatically results in destruction. God has been using His power to hold destruction at bay and in the end He lets go those persons who insist on being separate from Him and thus they are destroyed by sin, not by God.

Here is a quote from Oswald Chambers that Dean sent me recently:

“When we speak of the wrath of God we must not picture Him as an angry sultan on the throne of heaven, bringing a lash about people when they do what He does not want. There is no element of personal vindictiveness in God. It is rather that God’s constitution of things is such that when a man becomes severed from God his life tumbles into turmoil and confusion, into agony and distress; it is hell at once, and he will never get out of it unless he turns to God; immediately he turns, chaos is turned into cosmos, wrath into love, distress into peace. “Knowing therefore the terror of the Lord” we persuade men to keep in touch with Him.”
Conformed to His Image, pg 363

Someone emailed me asking about the 7 last plagues, what about those? What do you think? Let’s see if we can reason it out.

What is happening in the world when the seven last plagues occur? Is the majority of the world becoming more Godly, or are they closing their hearts to God?

And where is the dwelling place of the Holy Spirit on earth? The hearts/minds of humans, so if people are closing their hearts permanently to the Holy Spirit what happens? The Spirit is slowly withdrawn from the earth. Then who gets more and more control? Satan and his forces.

What would this mean for nature? What will happen to the world when Satan is given freedom to rule on earth and affect the laws of nature?

Here is what our church used to teach about this:

"I was shown that the judgments of God would not come directly out from the Lord upon them, but in this way;

"They place themselves beyond His protection. He warns, corrects, reprovcs, and points out the only path of safety; then if those who have been the objects of His special care will follow their own course, independent of the Spirit of God, after repeated warnings, if they choose their own way, then He does not commission His angels to prevent Satan's decided attacks upon them.

"It is Satan's power that is at work at sea and on land, bringing calamity and distress, and sweeping off multitudes to make sure of his prey, and storm and tempest both by sea and land will be, for Satan has come down in great wrath. He is at work. He knows his time is short and, he is not restrained; we shall see more terrible manifestations of his great power than we have ever dreamed of." Manuscript Release vol. 14, p. 3

This is the exact same principle Oswald Chambers was describing.

There are others throughout Christianity who have understood it this way. It all goes back to how you understand God's law. If you know the truth, that God's law is design law, then you understand as Oswald Chambers and EGW did. If you accept the lie that God's law is like human law, rules put upon us, then you misunderstand and believe God is the cosmic executioner.

Consider this quote:

Jesus Christ is the Restorer. Satan, the apostate, is the destroyer. Here is the conflict between the Prince of life and the prince of this world, the power of darkness. . . . The world's Redeemer did not design that His purchased inheritance should live and die in their sins. What, then, is the matter? Why are so few reached and saved? It is because so many of those who profess to be Christians are working in the same lines as the great apostate. They let Satan devise and plan for them. He makes them apostates, disloyal to God, rebels against His precepts and laws. This brings severe, taxing labor upon the true Christian. He must convince the transgressor that he is a sinner, because "sin is the transgression of the law." {Christ Triumphant 247.2}

What does this mean? Sin is deviation from God's design, thus it injures, damages, taxes, burdens, exhausts, wears down and ultimately destroys. Satan tricks Christians into accepting the human views of God's law, as rules, and thus engage in religious and other rituals and legal processes for legal pardon and solutions, rather than actually participating with God for healing and transformation.

SUNDAY

Read first paragraph, "When God..."

Any concerns about this paragraph? One minor concern, just a typographical issue, which no one would misunderstand, but we should clarify. God gave Adam dominion over all things on earth, not all things. But the bigger concern in this paragraph is the false conclusion that "ownership" of earth went to Satan.

This idea has led to all types of false conclusions about God and the plan of salvation. This is a false idea which fuels certain legal models of the atonement. The idea that Satan, after Adam's fall, had some legal claim, some "title" to earth, some actual legitimacy as ruler of earth that Jesus had to confront and get back, i.e. earn the legal right to own earth again.

Not so. The earth was never Adam's property. Adam was steward, viceroy, governor, but Christ was owner. Satan "claimed" ownership but Satan is the "father of lies." It is a lie that Satan is the owner. Thus, when he presented himself in heaven, in the book of Job, claiming to represent earth, God rejected the claim – Not so fast, consider Job, he does not recognize you as the representative of earth. He recognizes my ownership and true Sovereignty.

Let's think about it and see if we can figure it out, understanding God's law and the parameters upon which the universe operates.

- Could Adam create from nothing? Could Satan?
- Could Adam keep the sun, moon and stars in the sky? Could Satan?
- Could Adam control and balance all the forces of nature constantly? Could Satan?
- Then, all Adam's rule was subordinate to, under, at the behest of the One who actually uses His power to uphold and sustain all things. So too, what Satan stole from Adam was the subordinate governorship, now ownership.
- What would happen to nature if God let's go His sustaining presence? The disintegration of life.

Here is a quote from one of our founders:

When Satan declared to Christ, The kingdom and glory of the world are delivered unto me, and to whomsoever I will I give it, he stated what was true only in part, and he declared it to serve his own purpose of deception. Satan's dominion was that wrested from Adam, but Adam was the vicegerent of the Creator. His was not an independent rule. The earth is God's, and He has committed all things to His Son. Adam was to reign subject to Christ. When Adam betrayed his sovereignty into Satan's hands, Christ still remained the rightful King. Thus the Lord had said to King Nebuchadnezzar, "The Most High ruleth in the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomsoever He will." Daniel 4:17. Satan can exercise his usurped authority only as God permits. {DA 129.4}

When the tempter offered to Christ the kingdom and glory of the world, he was proposing that Christ should yield up the real kingship of the world, and hold dominion subject to Satan. This was the same dominion upon which the hopes of the Jews were set. They desired the kingdom of this world. If Christ had consented to offer them such a kingdom, they would gladly have received Him. But the curse of sin, with all its woe, rested upon it. Christ declared to the tempter, "Get thee behind Me, Satan: for it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and Him only shalt thou serve." {DA 130.1}

Thoughts? Sadly, the lesson, having accepted the false view of God's law, inadvertently present Satan's dream, to be the owner of earth and Christ be subordinate to him.

The idea that Christ had to achieve some “legal” victory is fiction, falsehood, lies based on accepting Satan’s lies:

- Every sin must meet its punishment urged Satan
- God must punish sin if God is to be just
- The earth is now owned by Satan
- Satan has legal claim to earth

Reality is that God is and always has been the owner of earth. Satan’s lies have impact in the minds of intelligent beings. Thus Christ didn’t have to do some legal accomplishment in His battle with Satan. He had to defeat the lies of Satan in order to set intelligent minds free and He had to overcome the infection of selfishness in the human being in order to destroy death and restore God’s design of love back into humanity.

Then, why does the Scripture, including Christ refer to Satan as either prince of this world or ruler of this world?

Because the primary operating principle of the world today is Satan’s principle of selfishness, thus he is credited with being the leader or owner of:

- Lies
- Selfishness
- Coercion
- Disease
- Pain
- Suffering
- Exploitation
- Abuse
- Domination
- Death

This is Satan’s kingdom and this is what God wants you to realize.

But in Christ we have a different kingdom, “my kingdom is not of this world” meaning the principles of how this world operates. Christ’s kingdom is the kingdom of:

- Truth
- Love
- Freedom
- Healing
- Relief
- Restoration
- Self-sacrifice
- Protection
- Deliverance
- Life

Note the contrast.

KINGDOM OF CHRIST

- Truth
- Love
- Freedom
- Healing
- Relief
- Restoration
- Self-sacrifice
- Protection
- Deliverance
- Life

KINGDOM OF SATAN

- Lies
- Selfishness
- Coercion
- Disease
- Pain
- Suffering
- Exploitation
- Abuse
- Domination
- Death

We must stop attributing to God the very attributes of Satan and Satan's kingdom!

Read second paragraph, "What happened..." thoughts? Given what we have just discussed how to you analyze this paragraph?

Is it true Christ could only win earth by His perfect life and sacrificial death? Why? Why was His death necessary? Who needed it?

What did Christ come to take back? He came to reclaim the love, devotion, loyalty, trust of human beings, while securing unfallen beings in their loyalty. Can Christ get this love and loyalty by force or coercion? No, love awakens love, the only way to achieve His goals was to expose the lies with truth and demonstrate God's perfect character and design of love, while simultaneously eradicating the infection of fear and selfishness from the humanity He assumed upon Himself.

Thus as the Scripture says His death was necessary to:

- Destroy him who holds the power of death Heb 2:14
- Destroy death 2Tim 1:9,10
- Destroy the devil's work. 1Jn 3:8 And the devil's work which was to efface the image of God in man and put Satan's image where God's should be.

MONDAY

The lesson talks about how in human governments sometimes one can hold dual citizenship, then states in paragraph two, "There's no..." What does it look like to be true to God's kingdom?

- "A new command I give you: Love one another. As I have loved you, so you must love one another. By this everyone will know that you are my disciples, if you love one another." Jn

13:34,35

- Greater love has no one than this: to lay down one's life for one's friends. Jn 15:13

Chakomboka Chama – April 14, 2012 – 16 y/o Collegedale Academy student was at Harrison Bay State Park swimming with friends when several tried to swim across the lake. When one boy got tired and called for help, Chama swam out to help him, and is reported to have pushed his friend into the shallows, but then went under himself. I was told by one person he died of heart failure, as he had no water in his lungs. He had a known heart condition, but didn't let concern for himself stop him from helping another.

Is this what God's kingdom looks like?

Notice the stark contrast from what happened in Rwanda in 1994, where over 1 million people were killed in four months, predominantly by Christians, and with many Christian leaders and churches involved. In fact, many churches were used as killing fields, pastors, priests and nuns would lead people to their churches for sanctuary and then call in militia to kill them, or trap them inside and burn them alive.

The international war crimes tribunal of Rwanda convicted Elizaphan Ntakirutimana a SDA pastor for encouraging Tutsi to assemble in his church in Kibuye Prefecture, then leading a convoy of soldiers and civilian militia to his church where they slaughtered 8000 refugees. In 1998 a Rwandan court condemned two Catholic priests, Jean-Francis Kayiranga and Eduoard Nkurikiye for luring people to their parish where soldiers and militia massacred them.

“Believing that their actions were consistent with the teachings of their churches, the death squads in some communities held mass before going out to kill... People came to mass each day to pray, then they went out to kill. In some cases militia members apparently paused in the frenzy of killing to kneel and pray at the altar.” Longman, Timothy, Christianity and Genocide in Rwanda, p. 6,7.

In Longman's book he documents that those who identified with authoritarian God concept took part in the genocide, while others who identified with a God of love helped protect the refugees.

Catholic or Protestant did not matter. Church members killed their pastors and priests and pastors and priests killed their own members. The churches were the primary killing zones throughout the country

By beholding we are changed. If you want evidence that the doctrines of the SDA church will not stop Adventists from participating with the beast of revelation to unite with state militia to abuse and kill, Rwanda is that evidence. Over 11% of the population in Rwanda is SDA. Yet our church has buried its head in the ground and continues its evangelism along the lines of unique doctrine rather than taking up and promoting the message which is to be our mission, the truth about God's character of love in the setting of the Great Controversy.

Rwanda also revealed regardless of denomination, those who worshipped a God of love helped to protect. This is what will happen worldwide when the four winds are let go.

Read third paragraph, “Once people...” Notice what the lesson did – being part of the “commonwealth” of Jesus means we obey His rules, His laws and His commandments.

What does this lend itself toward? Toward division, toward what happened in Rwanda. This is an authoritarian God construct, which has rules we must keep and violators must be punished, either by us or God.

But in reality, Jesus said, “my kingdom is not of the world if it were my follower would fight.” We don’t use violence, coercion or the methods of Satan. In Christ there is no Jew or Greek, no male or female, no Protestant or Catholic, no Adventist or Baptist... We are all united in our love for God and each other. We see the universe as it is, there are only two sides, the side of love truth and freedom, or the side of lies, selfishness and coercion.

We do follow the law of God and His law is the law of love. We seek to heal, save, redeem, not kill those who disagree with us.

We present truth in love and leave others free.

Jesus said, They will know we are His by our love for one another, not by our Sabbath keeping, not by our diet, not by our dress, not by our reading or TV watching, but by our love for one another. But we have lost sight of this and make demarcations based on the trivial and lose sight of what really matters.

And we wonder why the Lord hasn’t returned, we wonder why the non Christian world mocks us. Because we have a form of godliness but deny the power, which is the power of love!

TUESDAY

Read first paragraph, “The dominant...” How do you understand the language of “His love is revealed in the price that He Himself paid at the Cross.”

Can this language be misunderstood? How? How is it rightly understood?

Read second paragraph, “God’s love is...” How is God’s love related to His justice?

What is justice? Doing what is right – what is right? How do we know? What determines right and wrong?

God's law – which is what? An imposed list of rules, or the protocols upon which life is built, which is an expression of love?

Thus it is right to do that which harmonizes with God's character of love, that which is healing, restorative, freeing, truthful, kind, patient, beneficent etc.

Love will not force them into the kingdom of God – so true – why?

What happens to love when one tries to force it?

Is this ever NOT true? Is there ever a time, a place, a situation where one can threaten, use violence, force, coercion, intimidation and generate love upon people thus threatened? Could we generate love by acting as those murderers in Rwanda?

Then, why do so many say God does this very thing? They say, "God says, 'I love you! I only want your love, but if you refuse I will torture and kill you.'"

It is a lie and many don't see it all. Thus they don't think, their reason is damaged, the mind and ability to discern truth injured. Why? Because they hold beliefs that are opposed to each other and don't make sense. How do they resolve it? By more distortions – "I take that on faith" or "God's ways aren't mine, it must be love." Etc.

Read bottom pink section – "It is no arbitrary..." notice natural law, it is their actual condition that results in their exclusion, not a judicial proceeding.

WEDNESDAY

Read first paragraph, "God created..." This is so true – so that perfection might be restored – what did Christ have to accomplish to restore perfection?

- Was the problem one of power?
- Was the obstacle to God restoring perfection that Satan has some power, might, force that physically obstructs or impairs God's ability to restore the universe to perfection?
- Was it a legal obstacle? Is there some heavenly tribunal, constitution, that must be met in order to be able to restore the universe?
- What was the obstacle? Was it the condition of God's intelligent beings?
- Angels needed what?
- Humans needed what?
- What is the remaining obstacle?

The next paragraph asks, "Could evil arise again?" Why or why not?

Read next paragraph – "When God created..." What were the conditions? What does the lesson suggest? God's express commands, which makes it sound like what?

What might be their suggestion on why sin won't rise again? Is it that God is now in charge and any questions He doesn't like He commands not be asked? And anyone who persists He, now, in the aftermath of Christ's death, wipes out?

What is your answer as to why sin will never rise again?

Because all questions have been answered, all evidence is in, all intelligent minds will have been settled and have chosen God's methods for themselves, everyone will remember everything that transpired on earth and thus no lie, trick, deceit will in any way tempt the intelligences to ever again distrust God or deviate from His design.

THURSDAY

Read second paragraph, "With the power..." How does one kill death? What is it that kills death? Life! Where does Revelation say death and Hades are thrown? Into the lake of fire

Then death and Hades were thrown into the lake of fire. The lake of fire is the second death.
Rev 20:14

How does that connect with destroying death? What fire is this? The fire of God's life giving glory, thus the universe in which God's presence is fully revealed and we live forever in the fire of His presence, death will never enter because no one will ever be severed from their connection with God again.

The next paragraph states, "There is no question, death is related to sin, which means it's related to God's law, as well; because sin is violation of God's law."

How is death related to sin? What is sin? Why does sin relate to death i.e. result in death?

James 1 sin when full grown brings forth death – death is the fruit of sin – why? Natural law – for the same reason your car engine will die if you put water in the tank – no manufacturer will punish you or your car, but it will be damaged and stop working. This is what sin does to the sinner.

Here are two emails I received recently:

I hope all is well with you. I continue to enjoy and share resources from C&M whenever I can, either by giving away the books to friends, or creating my own presentations for Sabbath School, here where I now live, in North Carolina, and also for my previous church's teen VBS program in Florida. I've only received positive responses to all the presentations. This message is so liberating and transformational! I truly pray that it will span the globe. This is the true gospel and the 3rd angel's message! What's even more awesome, the more I study the Bible and the testimonies, the more evidence I find to reinforce what you are teaching. Not to mention in nature, and in my own experience. I'm truly thankful that I see clearly now, without the traditional distortions. May God continue to bless you and the C&M family! I love you all.

I have been introducing your DVDs at church and using your Bible Study outlines- Shared them with other instructors and now out of our Lesson Study three out of four instructors are using your outline. We initially got resistance, but with this inductive approach members are beginning to see a picture of GOD that is a friendly. Would it be possible to have additional DVDs as I now have given out my last one to one of my patient. I would prefer all the three seminars- A case would be nice. Thank- you so much for your ministry- So freeing... CA

Our Loving Heavenly Father

How many read their lesson for this week? I was very encouraged. Russell mentioned last week he thought he noticed a trend in the study guides of moving more toward the true picture of God's character of love. In this week's lesson I noticed much to be commended in what is said about God.

SUNDAY

Read first paragraph, "Father was not..." I loved how they emphasized Christ's mission was to complete the revelation of God that was initiated in the OT.

Who was the member of the Godhead who interacted with humans in the OT? Was it the Father or was it the Son? Any evidence for your answer?

For I do not want you to be ignorant of the fact, brothers, that our forefathers were all under the cloud and that they all passed through the sea. ² They were all baptized into Moses in the cloud and in the sea. ³ They all ate the same spiritual food ⁴ and drank the same spiritual drink; for they drank from the spiritual rock that accompanied them, and that rock was Christ. 1Cor 10:1-4

"I tell you the truth," Jesus answered, "before Abraham was born, I am!" At this, they picked up stones to stone him, but Jesus hid himself, slipping away from the temple grounds. Jn 8:58, 59

Now Moses was tending the flock of Jethro his father-in-law, the priest of Midian, and he led the flock to the far side of the desert and came to Horeb, the mountain of God. ² There the angel of the Lord appeared to him in flames of fire from within a bush. Moses saw that though the bush was on fire it did not burn up. ³ So Moses thought, "I will go over and see this strange sight—why the bush does not burn up." ⁴ When the Lord saw that he had gone over to look, God called to him from within the bush, "Moses! Moses!" Exodus 3:1-4

For the Lord himself will come down from heaven, with a loud command, with the voice of the archangel and with the trumpet call of God, and the dead in Christ will rise first. 1Thes 4:16

Don't be afraid! I am the First and the Last. I am the living one. I died, but look—I am alive forever and ever! And I hold the keys of death and the grave. Rev 1:17,18

Do you see the same picture of God in the OT as in the New? Have you considered that it was Jesus in the OT as well as the New?

Why is there such difficulty for some in seeing the God of the OT as the same as Jesus revealed when on earth?

Several reasons:

- In the New Testament you have people recording Jesus' own testimony about God, and recording Jesus' actions. Thus a clearer manifestation occurred in the life of Jesus.
- The condition of the people was different in OT times than when Jesus came in person. Thus what they needed was different. In OT times they were constantly thinking other gods were better, more desirable, generally more powerful than the Creator God. Thus, God had to repeatedly demonstrate to them the impotence of the false gods, so we see:
 - The plagues of Egypt
 - The 3.5 years of drought followed by Mt. Carmel confrontation
 - The confrontation with Dagon
 - The prophets repeatedly threatening God's abandonment and the reaping of destruction
 - The 70 years captivity
 - The shriveling of the king's hand
 - The she bears
- Additionally, because they were constantly thinking other gods were real and more powerful or desirable than God, God spoke to them as causing things which He permitted.
 - The message from Micaiah to Ahab about lying spirits in the mouth of his false prophets
 - The threats of sending various punishments if they rebelled, yet always tempered with His leaving them to the consequences of their own choices
- But when Jesus came they had given up believing the gods of the various nations were better than Yahweh and they were finally following the script, yet with a distortion of God's character as a cruel being of legal exaction. Thus Jesus came to throw off the lies about God infecting their system. Jesus didn't spend His time trying to turn them away from Baal, or Dagon or Molech etc. He spent His time trying to enlighten them to the truth that God is their loving Father, their forgiving Creator, their compassionate friend. He wanted them to see they were sin-sick and needed healing and God had sent Him to be their Remedy.

Read second paragraph, "Jesus made..."

We absolutely believe in a loving Father God who is personally concerned with the needs, problems, concerns of His earthbound children. While we also believe that God's law is the design protocol upon which life is constructed, we do NOT promote naturalism, which is the philosophy or religion of a distant unconcerned god, who created natural laws and now lets everything run on its own. No way. We believe in a God who personally intervenes in human history for the purpose of saving, healing and restoring His creation back to perfection. Yet, He always works in harmony with His own character of love i.e. His design (laws) not in violation of them.

Why do millions of angels worship God? It is absolutely true that God is sovereign and all powerful – but are these the primary reason God is to be worshipped?

This is from Could It Be This Simple?

Many people conceive of God’s glory as great displays of might, power, and fire, but the Bible teaches that His greatest glory reveals itself in His character. Because we are finite beings, many humans frequently react in fear to our all-powerful God. Unfortunately, this fear often leads to rebellion. Once Satan had made his allegations, God could not win His case through the display of power, which would inevitably result in sub- mission based on terror.

God will never utilize coercive tactics, because they are contrary to His benevolent character. The use of might and power to pressure conformity violates the law of liberty and would result in further rebellion. Such methods belong to Satan. If God employed them, He would ultimately lose His case. Although He has immense power, it is not the source of His glory, because power alone would intimidate, leading us to fear Him and subsequently to destroy our love for Him.

Nineteenth-century theologian George MacDonald made this same point: “What is the deepest in God? His power? No, for power could not make him what we mean when we say God. . . . A being whose essence was only power would be such a negation of the divine that no righteous worship could be offered him: his service must be fear, and fear only.” “The Creation in Christ,” Unspoken Sermons, Third Series (London: Longmans, Green and Co., 1889).

The power isn’t what is most important. Instead, it is the trustworthiness of the One who possesses all the power. It is the demonstration of His character—the character of the One who holds the power—that is the real source of divine glory. For example, although God is all-powerful, He can never be provoked—even in the most abusive and horrendous circumstance—to use His power for self-interest. When humanity fully recognizes this, it will restore trust and regenerate love, and we will then open our hearts and minds to Him for healing and restoration.

The Bible is clear on this issue. The book of Haggai declares that the glory of the second Jewish Temple would be greater than that of Solomon’s Temple (Haggai 2:7-9). The prophecy refers to the structure the Jews rebuilt after returning from Babylonian captivity. But in the book of Ezra we read that the older Levites and family heads who saw the second Temple mourned because it was so small when compared to Solomon’s (Ezra 3:12). If the second Temple was smaller than the first, how could it be more glorious? Most Bible students immediately explain that because Jesus walked in the courts of the second Temple His presence made it more glorious.

But in 2 Chronicles we read that when Solomon's Temple was dedicated, the priests could not enter because the brightness of God's glory was too great (2 Chron. 5:13, 14). In other words, God came to both Temples—one in His unveiled splendor; the other in human form—yet Haggai states that the second was the more glorious. Why? Because it was at the second Temple that Christ revealed the character of God. Because it was at the second Temple that Christ showed that He preferred to permit His creatures to abuse Him rather than use His power in selfish ways. At the second Temple Christ demonstrated that we can trust the One who has the power. (p. 126-7)

Why do we worship God? Because of who He is in character, not merely because of His abilities – but we are so thankful for His abilities, for if He were the same in character but had no power it wouldn't really be good for us. But if He were all-powerful but like Satan in character, worse for us.

What of the idea “The fact that He is our Father invites us to approach Him with the confidence of a child”?

What ideas come to you with this description?

Doesn't it depend on how the child conceives of or views the father? If a child views the father as a judge, a dictator, an enforcer of the rules will they go to their father with confidence? Especially after doing wrong?

What enables us to go confidently before God?

Therefore, since we have a great high priest who has gone through the heavens, Jesus the Son of God, let us hold firmly to the faith we profess. ¹⁵ For we do not have a high priest who is unable to sympathize with our weaknesses, but we have one who has been tempted in every way, just as we are—yet was without sin. ¹⁶ Let us then approach the throne of grace with confidence, so that we may receive mercy and find grace to help us in our time of need. Heb 4:14-16

What gives us confidence? Knowing Jesus is in heaven and that God knows our needs and sympathizes with us. Why does this give us confidence? What was undermining confidence that this addresses?

Here is a description taught over 100 years ago:

In Christ dwelt all the fulness of the God-head. But the only way in which He could reach men was to veil His glory by a garb of humanity. The angels beheld the hiding of His glory, that divinity might touch humanity. Christ ever retained the utmost hatred for sin, but He loved the purchase of His blood. He suffered in the place of sinful men, taking them into union with Himself. This is the mystery into which angels desire to look. They desire to know how Christ could live and work in a fallen world, how He could mingle with sinful humanity. It was a mystery to them that He who hated sin with intense hatred felt the most tender, compassionate sympathy for the beings that committed sin. {ST, January 20, 1898 par. 3}

Satan had worked long to efface the true impression of God, and to represent Him as a God having no love. This is Satan's character. He is destitute of mercy and compassion. Overbearing and revengeful, he delights in the misery that he brings on the human family. With these attributes he attempted to clothe the God of heaven. {ST, January 20, 1898 par. 4}

Christ came to remove these unjust impressions. He came to assure men that they need not fear to approach God because of His greatness and majesty. He constantly sought to carry the attention of His hearers to God. He presented the greatness of the Father's love, declaring that He had so great a care for His children that even the hairs of their head are numbered. Not a sparrow falls to the ground without the notice of the heavenly Father. He sympathizes with all the creatures He has made, and if the heart is given into His hands, and attuned by His power, it will respond by strains of melody and thanksgiving. {ST, January 20, 1898 par. 5}

In His wisdom the Saviour teaches us to approach God with the confidence of a child. He instructs us to call Jehovah by the endearing name of "Father," that we may not separate from Him in awe and coldness. Constantly He points us to the emblems of fatherly love, seeking to encourage faith and confidence in God. He pleads with us to have a correct idea of the Father. He throws back the accusation of the enemy, declaring, "Like as a father pitieth his children, so the Lord pitieth them that fear Him." He would have the memorials of redeeming grace arrest our attention, that we may know that all the goodness, mercy, patience, forbearance, seen in Him, belong to God. {ST, January 20, 1898 par. 6}

What does it mean to come to God as a child? Does it mean with childish thinking? Paul said, we are to put away childish thinking? Jesus said He wants us to understand His business, what He is doing and why. He wants us to be friends.

So, how are we to be like children coming to our Father? In love, in trust, in confidence, but not in childish, magical, unintelligent thinking.

Read last two paragraphs, "Not everyone..." The lesson points out that for some children, if they have abusive fathers it might be hard for them to appreciate God as our heavenly Father.

Do you think the type of father a person is, is impacted by the view of God they hold? What happens when fathers have dictator views of God? Could this be a source of mistreatment of their children?

Studies show that those with authoritarian views of God abuse their children more than those with a loving God concept.

MAY 27, 2014: A woman was stoned to death by her own family in front of a Pakistani high court on Tuesday for marrying the man she loved, police and a defense lawyer said.

Nearly 20 members of the woman's family, including her father and brothers, attacked her and her husband with batons and bricks in broad daylight before a crowd of onlookers in front of the high court of Lahore, said police official Naseem Butt. He said Farzana Parveen, 25, had married Mohammad Iqbal, with whom she had been engaged for years in opposition to her family.

Arranged marriages are the norm among conservative Pakistanis, who view marriage for love as a transgression.

Butt, the police official, said Parveen's father surrendered after the incident and called the murder an "honor killing."

The Human Rights Commission of Pakistan, a private organization, said in a report last month that some 869 women were murdered in so-called honor killings in 2013. <http://www.nydailynews.com/news/world/pakistani-woman-stoned-death-family-article-1.1806700>

What type of heavenly father do you think this family believes in?

I think it is unlikely they did this thinking they were sinning against God, what do you think?

MONDAY

Read second paragraph, "In the great controversy..." This is well said, yes Jesus came to refute the false views of God Satan has infected humanity with.

Any other attack? He attacks God's creation perhaps for dual purposes – to have God misrepresented and blamed, and to hurt God by hurting His creation.

What is the importance to us in understanding the devil's attack is against God's character?

2Cor 10:3-5 – we war against everything that sets itself up against the knowledge of God. It goes to help clarify so much theology.

Christ's mission was never one of legal battles, rights, ownership, physical power, etc. The battle was always about revealing truth, exposing lies and fixing the human condition.

Thus God battles to free minds, not territories, not win court cases, but to win hearts!

The last paragraph points out that even the disciples, who spent 3.5 years with Jesus failed to fully comprehend that Jesus reveals perfectly who God is.

Satan's power is lies – as he gets us to believe lies he gains power over us. Think of the ugliness done in God's name because people believe lies about God, that their actions are actually what God would want?

TUESDAY

Read paragraphs 3-5, "Christ was not..." This is well said! So glad to see this truth being taught in the study guide, but what does "propitiation" mean? Jesus is our "propitiation" what is that?

Here is the KJV of Romans 3:21-26, which uses propitiation:

²¹ But now the righteousness of God without the law is manifested, being witnessed by the law and the prophets; ²² Even the righteousness of God which is by faith of Jesus Christ unto all and upon all them that believe: for there is no difference: ²³ For all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God; ²⁴ Being justified freely by his grace through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus: ²⁵ Whom God hath set forth to be a propitiation through faith in his blood, to declare his righteousness for the remission of sins that are past, through the forbearance of God; ²⁶ To declare, I say, at this time his righteousness: that he might be just, and the justifier of him which believeth in Jesus.

Here is my paraphrase:

^{3:21} But now God has revealed, a healthy state of being – a character that is right and perfect in every way, that did not come from the written code, but is exactly what the Scriptures and the 10 Commandments were pointing your minds toward. ²² This perfect state of being comes from Christ and is created within us by God when we trust him. Our trust in him is established by the evidence given through Jesus Christ of his supreme trustworthiness. There is no difference amongst any ethnic group, ²³ for all humanity is infected with the same disease of distrust, fear and selfishness, and are deformed in character and fall far short of God's glorious ideal for mankind. ²⁴ Yet all, who are willing, are healed freely by God's gracious Remedy that has been provided by Jesus Christ. ²⁵ God presented Jesus as the way and means of restoration. Now, through trust established by the evidence of God's character revealed when Christ died, we may partake of the Remedy procured by Christ. God did this to demonstrate he is right and good, because in his forbearance he suspended, for a time, the ultimate consequence of being out of harmony with how he designed life to exist and has been falsely accused of being unfair. ²⁶ So, he did it to demonstrate how right and good he is at the present time, so he would be seen as being right when he heals those who trust in Jesus.

Propitiation in this passage is hilasterion which is the word for the lid to the Ark of the Covenant – which is the place of reconciliation. So, Jesus is the means and place of reconciliation or restoration to unity with God.

What does mediation entail? How do we understand mediation?

Mediation is the process of being a “go-between” between two parties at odds, in opposition, at war even, for the purpose of bringing reconciliation.

Once humanity sinned, humankind was opposed to God in motive, heart attitude, method, principle, belief about God, etc.

Mediation involves the mediator trying to bridge the gap between the two parties to bring them to agreement and even reconciliation. Typically, this means both parties are called upon to “meet in the middle.” Is this true in regard to Jesus mediation? NO!

God doesn’t change; all change in the mediation is in sinful humans – why? Because it is the only way for us to live – we must be brought back into harmony with God’s design for life.

WEDNESDAY

Read second paragraph, “There is no chapter...” How have you known God’s presence and love in the midst of suffering?

What is suffering?

- To experience pain, illness, injury
- To experience something unpleasant

What are the sources of suffering?

- Deviation from God’s design (sin)
- Our own choices
- Evil people
- Satan and his fallen angels
- Randomness of events in a sinful world
- Degeneration of nature that is not fully connected to God

- What about healing therapies, discipline, exercise needed for growth, do they cause suffering?
- What about crucifixion of the carnal nature? Does this cause suffering? Is this bad? Is such suffering from God?

Consider what Peter said:

Therefore, since Christ suffered in his body, arm yourselves also with the same attitude, because he who has suffered in his body is done with sin. ² As a result, he does not live the rest of his earthly life for evil human desires, but rather for the will of God. 1Pet 4:1,2

What is this suffering? Must persons suffer in this way if they want to experience healing from sin? Why?

- If an addict has cravings but chooses to say no, do they suffer in their flesh?
- If an arrogant person chooses not to take the seat of preeminence, do they suffer?
- If a greedy person chooses to give, genuinely, do they suffer?
- If a controlling person chooses to surrender control do they suffer?
- If a perfectionist chooses to allow visitors to their home to ruffle the pillows, leave dirty dishes on the counter, do they suffer?

Is such suffering harmful to us? Such suffering is a result of sin, of being infected with it and partaking the cure. This type of suffering results in freedom from sin and ultimate peace and healing. This is in contrast to the suffering that comes from participating in sin, from deviating from God's design. Suffering from sin only damages, cripples, weakens, injures and causes further suffering and if not remedied, eventual death.

Here is 1Peter 4:1,2 from my paraphrase:

1 Peter 4:1 Therefore model yourself after Christ, who when tempted to save himself chose instead to sacrifice himself thus suffering in his human nature. So be like Jesus, love other first and say no to temptations to act selfishly. Your selfish nature will suffer but you will be done with sin. ² As a result, right now on earth, such a person no longer lives his life with feelings, passions and desires controlling him, but rather lives intelligently choosing to follow God's will living in harmony with the law of love.

As we view suffering in this way, can we see God's love never changes? He is always seeking to heal and restore, and even for those who choose to destroy themselves, God's love never stops!

What is the danger of suffering? Misunderstanding it and classifying it wrongly, i.e. sin as from God, or discipline as sin so one stops to avoid the suffering.

THURSDAY

Read first paragraph, “In different ways...” Why is it important to recognize God the Father, God the Son and God the Holy Spirit?

What do we jeopardize if we attempt to deny one or more members of the Godhead? First and foremost we undermine God’s character of love.

Love, as we understand it, being other-centered, outward moving etc. requires an object to sacrifice self for, to love more than self. Eliminating the Trinity means at some point in time God was a singularity not a plurality, which means God was something other than love, something different than “other-centered” because there was no “other” to center upon – i.e. it means that at the core God would not be love. This is Satan’s position against God all along, that God is not love.

This is out of the book Education and I think it says it so powerfully:

Unselfishness, the principle of God's kingdom, is the principle that Satan hates; its very existence he denies. From the beginning of the great controversy he has endeavored to prove God's principles of action to be selfish, and he deals in the same way with all who serve God. To disprove Satan's claim is the work of Christ and of all who bear His name. {Ed 154.3}

When one understands love, how it functions, then one realizes to argue against the Trinity is to sustain Satan’s charge that God is not love.

Some, then attempt to argue against the Holy Spirit and suggest the Father and the Son are God, but not the Spirit – again it undermines God’s character of love, because three is the minimum number one can have to be able to genuinely have selfless love. Why?

Because two narcissistic people can spend all their time being the center of the attention of the object of their love, without ever having to deny self. But when a third is involved it presents the opportunity to step back and allow another to be the center of your loved one’s attention.

I have seen it in my patients, when a couple get together, date, marry, and get along great, happy, love each other and no apparent problems for years until... the first child – and then the wife/mother must spend time with the child and she is less available to the husband/father. Sometimes a selfish man will be jealous, will be angry, hurt, frustrated and even accuse the wife of not loving him. Why? Because he is unwilling to sacrifice himself for his own child. He wants the attention of the wife for himself. Thus, three exposes the true character of love, or not.

Issue number one when we deny the Trinity we obscure the truth of God’s character of love.

What other problems arise?

- If we deny the full divinity of Christ then His life and sacrificial death don't tell us about God they tell us about a lesser being. The answers needed to refute the Satan's lies about God remain unanswered if Jesus is not fully God.
- The argument against the Trinity diminishes Christ, which is another of Satan's goals, to diminish Christ to someone not equal with God, thus not deserving of our worship. Lucifer alleged equality with Christ, not with the Father, thus it would be essential that Lucifer make the case that Jesus is not fully equal to the Father. Those who argue against the full divinity of Christ are supporting Satan's allegations against Christ.
- John wrote:
 - But you have an anointing from the Holy One, and all of you know the truth. ²¹ I do not write to you because you do not know the truth, but because you do know it and because no lie comes from the truth. ²² Who is the liar? It is the man who denies that Jesus is the Christ. Such a man is the antichrist—he denies the Father and the Son. ²³ No one who denies the Son has the Father; whoever acknowledges the Son has the Father also. 1JN 2:20-23
 - And notice what John says about the Son: “In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. He was with God in the beginning. Through him all things were made; without him nothing was made that has been made. In him was life, and that life was the light of men... The Word became flesh and made his dwelling among us. We have seen his glory, the glory of the One and Only, who came from the Father, full of grace and truth. John 1:1-4, 14
- It undermines the creatorship of Jesus to do away with the Trinity.
- It undermines the need for Christ as our Savior
- It undermines our ability to participate in Christ's victory because it is through the effectual work of the Holy Spirit that we experience what Christ achieved. If the Holy Spirit isn't fully God then the Holy Spirit doesn't possess creative power to renew and transform us.

FRIDAY

Read second paragraph, “God regards...” Do you believe you are part of the royal family of heaven? How does this impact how you view yourself, how you feel about yourself, how you live and act?

If you found out you were part of the royal family of some earthly country, a prince or princess, and suddenly had some title, would it change how you felt about yourself? Do you have that same experience when you think about being a child of God, a member of the royal family of heaven? If not, why not?

Read and discuss questions 1, 2, 4

3rd Quarter, 2014 “The Teachings of Jesus”

Lesson 2: The Son

SABBATH

“ ‘For even the Son of Man did not come to be served, but to serve, and to give His life a ransom for many’ ” (Mark 10:45, NKJV).

Why didn't Christ say “to give His life to appease His angry Father”? or “to use His blood to blot out entries in the Heavenly record books”?

What is implied by “to give His life as a ransom for many”?

The lesson, beautifully states, “Sooner or later everyone has to answer this same question [‘Who do you think I am?']. Each has to decide, individually, who Jesus is. It doesn't help to repeat what other people say or believe; the answer must be genuinely our own personal belief. And, of course, on that answer the destiny of every human being hangs.”

It needs to be personal, doesn't it? We must find, examine, & reconcile the evidence God has given us. We must think for ourselves. God wants us to come and reason with Him the things we don't understand. We must be teachable, without being gullible. He leaves us free to “experiment” with His laws, so we can be convinced in our own minds that He is, indeed, Love, and therefore, trustworthy.

SUNDAY

The lesson does a great job of compiling Scriptural support for Christ's “Son of Man” designation and the evidence of Him being “fully human.” In the bottom section it asks the question, “Why is it so important for us to know that Jesus was fully human?” Any thoughts??

Yes, it's important to know that He was “... in all points tempted as we are, yet without sin.” Heb. 4:15. It's important to know He is interceding with us and for us ALONG WITH His Father. It's important to know that He got tired, hungry, lonely, sad, etc. In our class, however, we have examined something far more important than these, though. Any thoughts??

How important is it to know that Christ suffered the torment of Calvary in his humanity, and though He had the power to stop the abuse[John 13:2-4], He used that power to wash dirty feet and not to save Himself?? This tells us everything about the character of Christ AND His Father [see the entire gospel of John].

MONDAY

The lesson, again, does a great job of compiling Scriptural evidence of Christ's Divinity.

Is it important that we recognize Christ as the "Son of God"? Is it important that we acknowledge that the Father and Son were in "unity" of character, mission, Love, methods, Law, and even "wrath"?

How many people did Christ condemn to Hell? How many did He compel to listen to His teaching, or to obey Him? How many did he put to death? How many laws did He impose while here on Earth?

As we understand the "great controversy", did Satan allege equality with God or with "Michael"?

Since Satan's attack on Creation, the universe witnessed mankind out of harmony with God's government. They saw the image of God virtually obliterated in man's mind, and the image of Satan written there. Might there have been angels or other intelligent beings thinking that, even though Christ displayed incredible power in the Creation, His government was actually represented here on Earth via mankind? Might they have wondered if God and/or His Son were provoked to "anger" they might be wiped out?? Considering these questions then, why is it important we recognize Christ as the "Son of God"?

TUESDAY

Jesus Forgives and Heals a Paralyzed Man Luke 5:17-26.

17 One day Jesus was teaching, and Pharisees and teachers of the law were sitting there. They had come from every village of Galilee and from Judea and Jerusalem. And the power of the Lord was with Jesus to heal the sick. 18 Some men came carrying a paralyzed man on a mat and tried to take him into the house to lay him before Jesus. 19 When they could not find a way to do this because of the crowd, they went up on the roof and lowered him on his mat through the tiles into the middle of the crowd, right in front of Jesus. 20 When Jesus saw their faith, he said, "Friend, your sins are forgiven." 21 The Pharisees and the teachers of the law began thinking to themselves, "Who is this fellow who speaks blasphemy? Who can forgive sins but God alone?" 22 Jesus knew what they were thinking and asked, "Why are you thinking these things in your hearts? 23 Which is easier: to say, 'Your sins are forgiven,' or to say, 'Get up and walk'? 24 But I want you to know that the Son of Man has authority on earth to forgive sins." So he said to the paralyzed man, "I tell you, get up, take your mat and go home." 25 Immediately he stood up in front of them, took what he had been lying on and went home praising God. 26 Everyone was amazed and gave praise to God. They were filled with awe and said, "We have seen remarkable things today."

What does the above passage tell us about Christ's understanding of His divine nature?? The Jews understood that only God could forgive sin[s], so without blaspheming, Christ has basically told them, "I am Immanuel [God with us]".

I often neglect to consider how smart Christ was on Earth. He was continually drawing lessons from history, nature, Scripture, science, and his listeners experiences, in order to bring them better revelations of the natural Law of God. He was subtle, crafty, mysterious, overt, confrontational, kind, sympathetic, direct; all when He needed to be and He was NEVER wrong about which teaching methods to use.

I've learned, over the years, to use different techniques to motivate patients to comply with the laws of tissue healing and regeneration, but my education has come at the expense of being wrong more times than I would like to admit, and I still have much to learn. Christ did it right the first time, every time, and never lost patience, even with the stubborn church leadership.

From the lesson: "Jesus claimed the divine prerogative to forgive sins. He also said that He Himself " 'will sit on the throne of His glory' " (Matt. 25:31, NKJV) and judge all the nations, deciding the eternal destiny of each one, something that rests on God's authority alone. How much more could He have done here to reveal who He really was?"

Will Christ actually "judge all the nations, deciding the eternal destiny of each one..."? Might there be a better way to phrase this??

WEDNESDAY

The lesson references John 8:58 [58 "Very truly I tell you," Jesus answered, "before Abraham was born, I am!"] as a conclusive statement about Christ's divinity, and it is. I find his statement in verse 51 even more interesting. 51 Very truly I tell you, whoever obeys my word will never see death. Any thoughts on either of these passages??

The lesson also, correctly, points out that Jesus accepted worship from believers as a tacit admission that He was God on Earth. Why is this important? Compare two different Law constructs.

When I was young, I didn't understand the implications of Christ being fully human and fully God. Anyone care to talk about what this means to them??

THURSDAY

The first two paragraphs in Thursday's lesson are right on point. Read them.

Christ, best defined his mission in Matt 20:28, stating: "28 just as the Son of Man did not come to be served, but to serve, and to give his life as a ransom for many."

How else has it been defined in Scripture [see Heb 2:14, 2 Tim 1:10, 1 John 3:8] ?? How can we define it now??

The wheels come off [? editors] in the 3rd paragraph of the lesson. “Why did Jesus have to die? It was because He voluntarily took our place and bore the punishment of our sin. We are all sinners (Rom. 3:10–12) and, as such, deserve eternal death (Rom. 6:23). The price for our salvation was so high that only the life of the Son of God was enough to pay for it.”

Rightly understood, the ideas in this passage are mostly correct. I take exception to the idea that all sinners deserve death. We are, certainly, all terminal in our condition, and if un-remedied, will die, but does that mean we deserve it? We didn't voluntarily become sinners.

What does this passage imply from its author? We need to be able to reason through difficult pieces like this one and the one below.

“The broken law of God demanded the life of the sinner. In all the universe there was but one who could, in behalf of man, satisfy its claims. Since the divine law is as sacred as God Himself, only one equal with God could make atonement for its transgression. None but Christ could redeem fallen man from the curse of the law and bring him again into harmony with Heaven.”—Ellen G. White, Patriarchs and Prophets, p. 63.

"I just wanted to let Dr. Jennings and the class know how the Come and Reason Ministries has blessed us here in Japan. I'm an elder at my church and have the opportunity to preach on the Healing-Substitution view point which has been very well received. Unbeknownst to me, tapes and CDs of the sermons go out to people and churches in our area. I was just asked today to speak at another church about this view point. My first invitation to speak outside my home church. Praise God! It takes me way out of my comfort zone, but I'm claiming God's promise that He will always be with me and give me words to speak. Although my Japanese isn't that great, God always gets His message across to the people who need it the most. May His second coming be soon! I ask for your continued prayers for His message here in Japan. Japan is one of the areas in the world where the preaching and teaching of the eternal gospel is creeping a long at a snails pace. Love and Peace to all!"

An email:

When I ordered some of your DVDs in Febuary you sent some other materials as well and I want to thank you so very much. I have read and looked at all the materials and have shared them with many people but still have more people to share with so I'm requesting another box of what ever you can send me. I also bought Brad Cole's book "Servant God" and have read it and given about 12 away. We have listened to most of your [Bible Study] classes from the past 3 yrs.(some 2-3 times) as well as all the "Good News tours" and have been so blessed. We are sharing with everyone we can.

I gave a friend in College Place, WA the "God and Your Brain" DVD while we were visiting up there and she has already ordered more from you and is giving them out. She is in her 80s and loves the Lord and is very active in ministry. I'm praising God how this message is spreading.

We have found some people who are very excited about this material and some haven't taken time to listen yet. We just keep asking the Lord to not let the DVDs be forgotten but be used for His glory. So far we have not had any negative feedback.

Thank you again for the materials and may God continue to bless each one of you and your ministry.

One other email:

I have just had the privilege of hearing Dr. Tim Jennings at Lakeport CA. and it has changed the way I view God. I would like to order the DVDs to give to my friends.

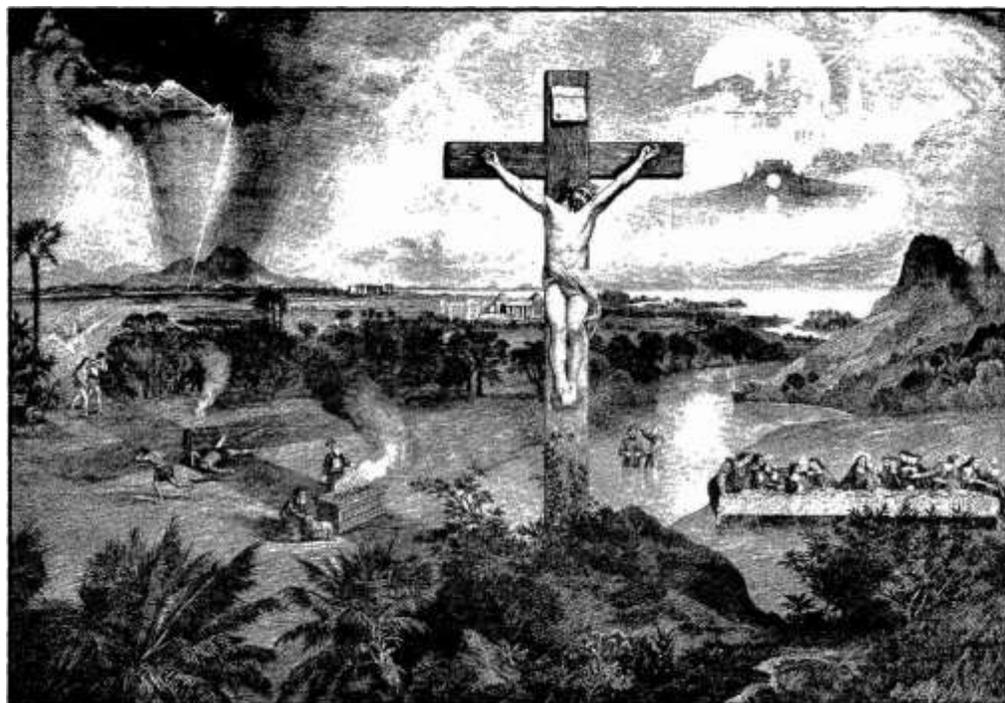

I received an email from Livius Chebeleu who took particular note of the picture in lesson 13 of last quarter, titled Christ's Kingdom and the Law:

If you have your lesson from last quarter, note the picture, the 10 Commandments stand out prominently. Livius recalled a similar picture and its correction.

The first picture below was created by James White, one of the three co-founders of the Adventist Church, and shows the plan of salvation from the Garden of Eden to the New Jerusalem. The picture is dominated by the law tree with ten branches, one for each of the Ten Commandments. In this picture Jesus on the cross comes under the tree. This represents early Adventism. Its burden was to tell other Christians how important the law was, especially the fourth commandment. Jesus was there but he was not central. This was published in 1876.

After a while, Ellen White, James' wife, and one of the other cofounders of the Adventist Church (Joseph Bates was the third), came to realize that our preaching of the law and the Sabbath was turning us into legalists. She tried to get her husband to change the emphasis of the church. In 1880 and into early 1881 James worked on a new and improved version (below left). He died in 1881, but in 1883 Ellen White published the revised picture.

Thank you Livius for point this out to us!

The Holy Spirit

SABBATH

Read memory text: “And I will pray the Father, and He will give you another Helper, that He may abide with you forever.” John 14:16

What does the word “another” mean? In addition? Different than myself and the Father? Would this language be used if the Holy Spirit were not a separate and distinct Person of the Godhead?

If the Father were going to extend His own individuality and be present with us, wouldn't Jesus have said, “I am going to pray the Father and He will come to you in Spirit and help you”?

Why do you think there is such an attack against the Trinity and the Holy Spirit?

What is the function of the Holy Spirit?

Turn to Friday's lesson, read second paragraph, I have included a couple of sentence past what the lesson quoted:

- The Holy Spirit was the highest of all gifts that He could solicit from His Father for the exaltation of His people. The Spirit was to be given as a regenerating agent, and without this the sacrifice of Christ would have been of no avail. [why? If the legal model is right, then the legal penalty was paid by Jesus, why would the sacrifice be of no avail? Because the legal model is a lie. We are not, nor have we ever been in legal trouble. We are sick, deviant from God's design and in need of rebirth, regeneration, recreation, renewal, thus without the Spirit what Christ procured, i.e. the Remedy to our condition, would not have been accessible to us.] The power of evil had been strengthening for centuries, and the submission of men to this satanic captivity was amazing. Sin could be resisted and overcome only through the mighty agency of the Third Person of the Godhead, who would come with no modified energy, but in the fullness of divine power. It is the Spirit that makes effectual what has been wrought out by the world's Redeemer. It is by the Spirit that the heart is made pure. Through the Spirit the believer becomes a partaker of the divine nature. Christ has given His Spirit as a divine power to overcome all hereditary and cultivated tendencies to evil, and to impress His own character upon His church. {DA 671.2}

Do you agree with this position? Do you notice this is not a legal problem but an actual condition of being that needs remedy? Then, if you were Satan would you want people to acknowledge and receive the Holy Spirit? No! The attack against the Holy Spirit is an attack designed to prevent the healing and transformation of people, to keep people enslaved in the bondage of fear and selfishness.

Further, the infection of thought within Christianity that has taught a legal religion, with penal substitutionary plan also obstructs God's plan because people are not seeking the indwelling Spirit for renewal and recreation, instead they are seeking to have legal pardon, their debt paid, their sins covered, to be hidden from the Father by the robe of Christ's righteousness etc. All of which if thought about functions to keep the sinner in their sin.

Read third paragraph Sabbath's lesson, "Another reason..."

No doubt the Spirit is constantly working to focus our attention on Christ and all that Christ has revealed and done. But, what do you think about the word choice of "subordinate"? The lesson describes this as serving the Father and the Son, is that subordinate?

I think it reveals the mindset of an authoritarian viewpoint. To serve in an authoritarian structure means to subordinate. But...

Jesus said, that He did not come to be served but to serve. (Mk 10:45) Does that mean He is subordinate to us?

In God's kingdom the first shall be last and the last first, and amongst the Trinity is there any first or last or all equal? So notice this progression:

- Christ Jesus, who, being in very nature God, did not consider equality with God something to be grasped, but made himself nothing, taking the very nature of a servant, being made in human likeness. And being found in appearance as a man, he humbled himself and became obedient to death—even death on a cross! Therefore God exalted him to the highest place and gave him the name that is above every name...Philippians 2:6-9

I prefer avoiding hierarchical designations amongst the Trinity and instead think of it as different roles, by choice, not by rank. Authoritarian distortions of God like to organize things by rank – not so with God. Why Christ is elevated above all others, because of rank? Because of title? Because of inheritance? Or because of the truth of His character of selfless love demonstrated by His life and death as a human on earth?

Christ gave the most – not that the Father or the Spirit wouldn't have done likewise – they would have – but Christ actually went through the agony of humility, lost ability, confrontation of the devil with human equipment and total surrender to death. He carried out love in the greatest degree, revealing perfectly the character of the Father, thus He is exalted above all in the kingdom of love.

As I understand their chosen roles, the Father acts as the source of all that is good. The Son is the medium, mediator, advocate, conduit, agent through which the Father reveals Himself or acts and the Holy Spirit is the actualizer or applier of what the Father and Son have achieved. Thus God was in the Son reconciling the world to Himself (2Cor 5:19), and the Spirit came upon Jesus to enable Him to do so. Jesus' work on earth was the acting out of the Father's heart. His completed mission and victory over sin are applied to the lives of believers by the work of the Holy Spirit. In creation we have the Father as the source, the Son as the architect, designer, and builder and the Spirit as the actualizer or implementer of Their design.

- Then I was the craftsman at his side. I was filled with delight day after day, rejoicing always in his presence, rejoicing in his whole world and delighting in mankind. Proverbs 8:30 NIV
 - I was beside him like an architect, I was his daily source of joy, always happy in his presence- Proverbs 8:30 GNT
 - Then I was beside Him, as a master workman; And I was daily His delight, Rejoicing always before Him, NASB95

So, with this understanding we realize what Christ meant when He said, "I do nothing of myself." Christ takes from the Father to fulfill all the Father's purposes for His universe. In this sense we can see Christ turning to the Father, not to persuade the Father to be kind, but to receive the fullness of the Father's purpose of love for His creation and carry that purpose out in meaningful action!

The Godhead does not operate like a human corporation or military. Jesus said, "My kingdom is not of this world." God's kingdom of love is not represented by human nations or corporations which are constantly seeking to promote themselves at the expense of others. God sacrifices Himself for others!

Here is a quote that gives a historical view of the Trinity from one of the founders of the SDA church:

- There are three living persons of the heavenly trio; in the name of these three great powers--the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit--those who receive Christ by living faith are baptized, and these powers will co-operate with the obedient subjects of heaven in their efforts to live the new life in Christ.-- Evangelism, p. 615. {7ABC 441.9}

SUNDAY

Read first paragraph, "With fear..." Why was it a good thing for the disciples and us that Jesus left physically? How is the work of the Holy Spirit different than that of Jesus?

Jesus actually did God's will perfectly, lived love perfectly, taught God's kingdom perfectly all by the exercise of His human brain. The Holy Spirit takes all that Christ achieved, worked out, accomplished, and reproduces it in us, via a willing cooperation with the believer.

The Holy Spirit enlightens the mind with truth, convicts of duty and sin, and empowers when we choose the right. Thus the Holy Spirit leads us to choose the right, empowers us to succeed when we choose the right and thus works to transform us into the image of Christ. By so doing He produces the fruits of righteousness, which included discernment, ability to think and act rightly and self-control.

Thus the Holy Spirit works in cooperation with us for us to think, reason, weigh, conclude, decide and CHOOSE and Exercise our God-designed powers of mind in harmony with the Spirit for our growth and development.

If Jesus would have stayed physically on earth, there was the risk that people would have run to Him for all the answers. They wouldn't seek the wisdom of the Holy Spirit, exercise their own brains, expand their own thinking, develop by practice the ability to discern the right from the wrong (Heb 5:14), but instead simply believe because Jesus made a ruling and thus "God said it, I believe it, that's all there is to it."

Jesus does not want such infantile Christians. He wants us to grow up to the full stature of Jesus Christ,

- to be conformed to the image of Christ,
- to have the mind of Christ,
- to have the character of Christ,
- to have the heart that loves like Christ,
- to be friends who understand the master, like Christ.

Thus, Christ went to heaven and sent the Spirit to lead us into all truth,

- to lead us to comprehend,
- to lead us to think, reason,
- to be fully persuaded in our own minds,
- to grow up and partake the Spiritual meat and
- to know for ourselves God, His character, methods, principles and choose the right because it is right!

Read second paragraph, "Helper, Counselor, and Comforter..." With what is the Spirit to help us? What does it mean walk beside? What does God want from us and for us?

Notice the lesson mentions the idea of legal advocate – certainly if one were in legal trouble a legal advocate would be a helper and counselor – but we are not in legal trouble, so this idea of the Holy Spirit being a legal advocate is false – and is based on Satan's view of God's government.

With what do we need the Spirit to walk beside us to help us? With discernment, comprehension, understanding truth, new motives, right principles, strength, power, purpose, duty, clean and renewed conscience. In other words for our healing and transformation – NOT for a legal defense.

We earlier read the quotation from Friday's lesson in DA 761 regarding the Holy Spirit as a regenerating agent. What weapon or means does the Spirit use to accomplish this work?

This is the paragraph that precedes the one in Friday's lesson, do you agree with this?

- The Comforter is called "the Spirit of truth." His work is to define and maintain the truth. He first dwells in the heart as the Spirit of truth, and thus He becomes the Comforter. There is comfort and peace in the truth, but no real peace or comfort can be found in falsehood. It is through false theories and traditions that Satan gains his power over the mind. By directing men to false standards, he misshapes the character. Through the Scriptures the Holy Spirit speaks to the mind, and impresses truth upon the heart. Thus He exposes error, and expels it from the soul. It is by the Spirit of truth, working through the word of God, that Christ subdues His chosen people to Himself. {DA 671.1}

Any examples of how believing a falsehood misshapes the character?

What about believing God must punish sin – what does the dark ages show about the characters of people who worship an authoritarian god?

How does truth heal? How does truth set free? How does truth comfort? How does truth conform people to the image of God?

What is the central truth that the Holy Spirit wants to bring the world to understand? Would it be God's character of love?

Listen to this historic quote:

We have need of divine illumination... [God's] transforming grace upon human hearts will lead to unity that has not yet been realized; for all who are assimilated to Christ will be in harmony with one another. The Holy Spirit will create unity. {1888 1017.2}

"He shall glorify me." "This is life eternal, that they might know thee, the only true God, and Jesus Christ whom thou hast sent." [How does the Holy Spirit glorify God? Consider this answer] The Holy Spirit glorifies God by so revealing his character to his people that he becomes the object of their supreme affections, and by making manifest his character in them. They see clearly that there was never any righteousness in the world but his, no excellence in the world but that derived from him. When the Spirit was poured out from on high, the church was flooded with light, but Christ was the source of that light; his name was on every tongue, his love filled every heart. So it will be when the angel that comes down from heaven having great power, shall lighten the whole earth with his glory. May the Lord help his people to see and understand what is truth. {1888 1017.3}

How does the Holy Spirit glorify Christ? By revealing His character and reproducing it in us. What angel is referred to here? The angel of Revelation 18 – the fourth angel which comes to give the message of the three angels again with greater power than the first time.

What is the message of the first of the three angels?

Then I saw another angel flying in midair, and he had the eternal gospel to proclaim to those who live on the earth—to every nation, tribe, language and people. ⁷ He said in a loud voice, “Fear God and give him glory, because the hour of his judgment has come. Worship him who made the heavens, the earth, the sea and the springs of water.” Rev 14:6,7

The everlasting good news is about God and we are to be in awe of Him and reveal His character, give Him glory, for the time in history has come

- for God to be judged rightly to be seen in His true beauty,
- for the lies of Satan to be rejected,
- for the people of earth to come back into unity with God.

And this only happens when we worship the Designer and reject the dictator that has infected all of Christianity, including our own church.

What does this mean in regard to how the Spirit works? The Spirit works to lead us to UNDERSTAND the truth, and then it is up to us to CHOOSE the truth and the Spirit empowers us to follow through with the choice.

What of the latter rain – will the Holy Spirit be poured out in power for people to misrepresent God? No! God is waiting for a people to come back to the truth about Him, His character and methods of love. To reject the dictator, the authoritarian view of God and the authoritarian methods used to lead the people of God and instead to put Jesus again as the head of the church.

But, this requires we think, we reason, we study, we exercise those abilities God has given us to search for and follow the truth wherever it leads.

Many have a religion that obstructs the truth in favor of mystical or emotional experiences and claim the Spirit is leading, or a religion of rules and regulations and legal requirements, but any activity that undermines truth is not of the Holy Spirit.

TUESDAY

Read fourth paragraph, “While on this earth...” What is the significance that Jesus performed miracles via the power of the Holy Spirit? Why did Jesus not use His own power?

Was Jesus tempted to use His own power? Where?

- Rocks to bread
- Escape death

Why did Jesus not use His own power to perform miracles? Because He overcame with His human brain and had no advantages over us. What does this mean regarding Satan’s allegations against God?

Read last paragraph, "The comparison..." First it is a good point that blasphemy is when something is spoken against God and thus if the Holy Spirit were not fully God it would not be blasphemy.

But what is blasphemy of the Holy Spirit? Is it primarily in words or in heart attitude?

How does one grieve the Holy Spirit?

Consider this description that our church used to teach a warning to teachers:

The Holy Spirit has been given us as an aid in the study of the Bible. Jesus promised... When the Bible is made the study book, with earnest supplication for the Spirit's guidance, and with a full surrender of the heart to be sanctified through the truth, all that Christ has promised will be accomplished. The result of such Bible study will be well-balanced minds. The understanding will be quickened, the sensibilities aroused. The conscience will become sensitive; the sympathies and sentiments will be purified; a better moral atmosphere will be created; and new power to resist temptation will be imparted. Teachers and students will become active and earnest in the work of God. {CT 357.1}

There is a disposition on the part of many teachers not to be thorough in giving religious instruction. They are satisfied with a halfhearted service themselves, serving the Lord only to escape the punishment of sin. Their halfheartedness affects their teaching. The experience that they do not desire for themselves they are not anxious to see their pupils gain. That which has been given them in blessing has been cast aside as a dangerous element. The offered visits of the Holy Spirit are met with the words of Felix to Paul, "Go thy way for this time; when I have a convenient season, I will call for thee." Acts 24:25. Other blessings they desire; but that which God is more willing to give than a father is to give good gifts to his children; that which is offered abundantly, according to the infinite fullness of God, and which, if received, would bring all other blessings in its train--what words shall I use sufficiently to express what has been done with reference to it? The heavenly Messenger has been repulsed by the determined will. Teachers have virtually said, "Thus far shalt Thou go with my students, but no farther. We need no enthusiasm in our school, no excitement. We are much better satisfied to work with the students ourselves." Thus despite has been done to God's gracious Messenger. {CT 357.2}

Are not the teachers in our schools in danger of blasphemy, of charging the Holy Spirit with being a deceiving power and leading into fanaticism? {CT 358.1}

What is described? Service designed to escape punishment. This is false service, this is rejecting of the Holy Spirit. Because it creates a false view of God as a punisher and creates fear in the heart and mind. Thus church becomes a place with no joy, no excitement or enthusiasm, all must be quiet, somber, morose and call it reverence.

Is rejecting as fanaticism the true presence of the Holy Spirit blasphemy? Why? What does it do to the mind to teach people that any excitement or enthusiasm is not from the Holy Spirit?

How damaging to young people to stifle such positive energy. What happens in the mind when people believe the Holy Spirit is devoid of excitement and enthusiasm?

How can one tell the difference between the truth Spirit and a false spirit of fanaticism?

Does enthusiasm and excitement mean loss of self-control, disinhibition, acting out, flopping around like a fish, losing reasoning powers? No!

The Bible tells us the fruits of the Spirit include self-control, but self-control does not mean lifeless robotic emotionless behavior. John the Baptist was enthusiastic and passionate, and filled with the Holy Spirit, yet he never lost self control.

We must be balanced.

Here is a quotation I find quite eloquent and powerful on the sin of blasphemy against the Spirit:

Conscience is the voice of God, heard amid the conflict of human passions; when it is resisted, the Spirit of God is grieved. {FLB 58.2}

Men have the power to quench the Spirit of God; the power of choosing is left with them. They are allowed freedom of action. They may be obedient through the name and grace of our Redeemer, or they may be disobedient, and realize the consequences. {FLB 58.3}

The sin of blasphemy against the Holy Spirit does not lie in any sudden word or deed; it is the firm, determined resistance of truth and evidence. {FLB 58.4} [Did you hear that? The determined resistance of truth and evidence is blasphemy of the Holy Spirit – WOW]

It is not that God sends out a decree that man shall not be saved. He does not throw a darkness before the eyes which cannot be penetrated. But man at first resists a motion of the Spirit of God, and, having once resisted, it is less difficult to do so the second time, less the third, and far less the fourth. Then comes the harvest to be reaped from the seed of unbelief and resistance. Oh what a harvest of sinful indulgences is preparing for the sickle! . . . {FLB 58.5}

On the other hand, every ray of light cherished will yield a harvest of light. Temptation once resisted will give power to more firmly resist the second time; every new victory gained over self will smooth the way for higher and nobler triumphs. Every victory is a seed sown to eternal life. {FLB 58.6}

God destroys no one. The sinner destroys himself by his own impenitence. {FLB 58.7}
[How this contradicts the standard teaching of most Christians as they falsely teach God as cosmic executioner and justice require He punish]

No one need look upon the sin against the Holy Ghost as something mysterious and indefinable. The sin against the Holy Ghost is the sin of persistent refusal to respond to the invitation to repent. {FLB 58.8}

Is repent confined to repentance of bad deeds? Or does it include a turning away from false ideas, false organization, false methods, power over, dictator like leadership styles, turning away from stubbornness to learn and examine new evidence?

WEDNESDAY

Read second paragraph, “Who takes...” Thoughts? Do you like this way of saying it? It starts out quite nicely, but takes a turn, again revealing an imposed law construct infecting the thinking.

What is a more accurate way of saying it, that puts both our condition and God’s character in the right light?

The Holy Spirit convinces us we are sick, deviant from God’s design and in a terminal condition which God diagnoses accurately.

The problem with how they word it is it lends itself to misunderstanding our problem as a legal problem with God. If we are under God’s condemnation then we need to get God’s pardon, rather than our healing and transformation. Thus, we falsely think we need an advocate with God to get Him to be gracious and forgiving, rather than realizing we need an intercessor in our own minds and hearts to transform us to be Godly.

The fifth paragraph says it well, “Those who have tried...” notice that what is described here is healing, transformation, renewal, regeneration of the heart/mind of the sinner, not a legal adjustment with God in heaven.

THURSDAY

Read first paragraph, “No doubt...” Does the Holy Spirit override your individuality? Does a false spirit, a satanic spirit, override your individuality?

Holy Spirit loves you and wants you to blossom, grow, develop into the highest possible levels of development, with freedom to think, choose, love, express yourself creatively and be free.

The false spirit loves itself and wants to control and impose itself upon you to make you do and be like itself, to prevent any real growth or development.

This false spirit frequently inspires people in their human relationships as they seek to dominate and control others, imposing their will upon others, damaging and destroying the minds of those they control.

What does baptism of the Spirit mean?

Read last paragraph, “In Acts 1:8...” thoughts?

FRIDAY

Read and discuss questions 1-4

MONDAY

Read first two paragraphs, “Ellen G. White...” What is the impact in our understand of God’s character to attack the Trinity, or teach there is no Trinity?

It destroys the functionality of God’s character of love. It would mean a time in eternity past there was a time when God was a singularity, i.e. no other for God to serve, thus God would not functionally be love. This is Satan’s allegation all along, that God is not truly love.

The Teachings of Jesus 3rd Q 2014

Lesson 4: Salvation.

Salvation -- Roots

Latin salvus means whole, safe, healthy and uninjured; the alleged Indo-European “root” is sol (whole). שלוה SHaLVaH is peace, quiet and ease; its SLV roommate at Psalms122:7 is שלום SHaLOAM (peace – hear Shin-Lamed-Mem SILENCE at SOLEMN). Her twin sister is שלם SHaLaiM (whole, healthy, uninjured). Shi-Lamed/ SH-L or SL is the two-letter root – see SLAM. The Shin-Lamed/ SL family of loosened tensions is seen at LOOSE.

The Shin-Lamed theme is set by שלה Shin-Lamed-Hey (to be secure – Jeremiah 12:1), שלו SHaLahV (to be at rest – Job 3:26), שלו SHaLaiV (tranquil – Jeremiah של י SHiLeeY 49:31) and is rest, quiet – II Samuel 3:27. For the Shin-Lamed subroot at work, see SHIELD.

Branches

Listed cognates at IE “root” sol include CONSOLIDATE, SAFE, SAGE, SALUBRIOUS, SALUTE, SALUTORY, SALVAGE (to save), SALVO, SAVE, SOLEMN and SOLID. See EXULT and SOLEMN for alternative etymons. SALVE is not listed here, but שלו SHeLeV (ease -- Psalms 30:7) is a better etymon for soothing ointment, SALVE, than the invented Indo-European “root” seip (fat, butter) which has no convincing cognates.

SALVE is also a verb of soothing and easing.

In Modern Greek “safe” is asfalis. This is an M132 metathesis of SHaLVaH. Shin-Lamed-Mem and Shin-Lamed-Vav are often together in the Bible, so El SALVADOR and JERUSALEM are linked to SALVATION. SHaBHaH is to take capture during war (Deuteronomy21:10), but a typical built-in opposite is SHaBH (to return home ... to SAFETY). As Abraham does for Lot, returning a captive is to SAVE or to SALVAGE that person. If hoarding or SAVING loot does not evoke a spiritual SAVIOR, SHaBH also means to repent, to return, to restore and to redeem. SAFE might also be influenced by ספן SaF a N (covered, secured - Deuteronomy33:21), a variant of צפון TSaPH OON (hidden, closeted away – Exodus 2:2). In Chinese pien so is a closet or privy; read the syllables backwards to find the hidden TSaPHOON. So, SAFE and SAFETY may not be cognates of SALVATION.

In Spanish there is salvacion (salvation), salvador (savior), salvar (rescue) and salvo (safe). EDK links SALUTE, (Italian salute and Spanish salud, health), and SALUTATION to Latin salvus – which takes us back to SHaLVaH.

From the Teacher's Lesson

- How do feelings of guilt and shame prepare us to seek the salvation that God freely offers? [Read Could It Be This Simple Chapter 10. – added]
- How do theologies that emphasize freedom from sin's punishment, but not freedom from its power, shortchange their adherents' experiences?

Any thoughts, comments, questions, suggestions, or brilliant glimpses of the obvious??

SABBATH

For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, that whoever believes in Him should not perish but have everlasting life, (John 3:16, NKJV).

This is probably the most referenced text in all of Scripture. What does it mean?? How has Christianity missed the meaning of this verse?? How has it been misinterpreted to mean that God was so bloodthirsty that He demanded the life of His Son, or worse, executed Him, Himself??

We have often heard "Death is just a part of life" as the lesson states. What should we respond to this?

Bottom paragraph of the lesson:

"The Bible is clear. We have only two choices regarding our sins: either we pay for our sins in the lake of fire, or we accept Christ's payment for them on the cross. As we review the generous gift of God's grace through Christ, let us once again humbly renew our faith in Jesus as our personal Savior."

I hope this is an editorial addition.

I don't believe Scripture says, anywhere, that Christ paid anyone for my sins, or anyone else's. As for the lake of fire ... that's a topic for another day [Read Daniel 7, & Rev 15 for starters].

SUNDAY

The first three paragraphs in Sunday's lesson are so eloquent, and on point, I have to wonder if they were written by the same author as the last paragraph in Sabbath's lesson.

"The English verb to love, especially the casual way it is often used today, is totally inadequate to express the depth of solicitous interest expressed by the Greek verb agapao-, "to love." In the New Testament, this term and its related noun agape-, "love," reveal God's deep and constant love toward His creatures, who are completely unworthy of this love. Love is the preeminent attribute of God's character. He not only loves us, but also He is love (1 John 4:8).

God's love is not an impulse based on His feelings or preferences. His love is not selective, nor does it depend on what we do. God loves the world, that is, all human beings, including those who do not love Him.

True love is known by the actions it generates. Sometimes as human beings we may say we love someone, while our actions demonstrate the opposite (1 John 3:17, 18). The same does not occur with God. His love is reflected in His actions. Out of love, He gave His only begotten Son for our salvation. In so doing, God gave us all He had, which is Himself." [emphasis added].

If true love is known by it's actions, how in the name of everything holy, could God have demanded His Son's life or taken it Himself?? How could He kill his children by cooking them forever or as "long as they deserve"?

Please do NOT misunderstand me. There will be a "lake of fire", and great distress, wailing and gnashing of teeth. The wicked will suffer in proportion to their illness, and eventually "die" eternally. Since "true love is known by it's actions", however, we should be able to reconcile the end time events in harmony with "God is Love". Any ideas or thoughts?

From the bottom section: "If God gave you what you deserved, what would it be, and why?"

What's implied? THAT GOD'S LAW IS IMPOSED!

If you opened the door of your child's room just in time to see them step off of a chair with a rope around their neck in an attempt to hang themselves, what does the child deserve for violating the law of respiration?? What would Love do?

What may be urban legend tells of Jacques Lefevre, a man intent on ending his life. He drove a stake in to the ground on a cliff top, overlooking the sea. He tied one end of a rope to the stake and the other around his neck. Being thorough, Lefevre then drank a bottle of poison, set his clothing on fire, leapt off of the cliff, and attempted to shoot himself in the head on the way down. The bullet missed his head and cut the rope in two, dropping Mr. Lefevre in to the sea, where the salt water extinguished the flames and caused him to vomit up the poison. A passing fisherman picked Lefevre up and delivered him to a nearby hospital, where at last, the weary Frenchman got his wish, and died from hypothermia. Did he deserve death for so many violations of natural law??

While it's true that humanity has nothing inherent to merit God's favor, God loves so much that He offers healing as a gift. Humanity still has to cooperate with the process, because God is Love, and therefore, will not force healing on anyone who doesn't want it.

MONDAY

Since humanity has nothing inherent to remedy its illness, God had to take the initiative, if humanity was going to survive. Consider that God, the Father, was willing to come to Earth, reveal His character of Love, and allow His creation to kill Him, but Christ said the controversy is with me – I will go and reveal your character, my character, and Satan's character. How difficult for a father to restrain himself and let his son be treated with disdain, physical/emotional torture, and to taste death.

In the 2nd paragraph:

“In spite of the fact that we were sinners and did not love God, He loved us and provided the means for our sins to be forgiven through His Son (1 John 4:10). This wondrous love is what draws us toward Him.”

Were sins not forgiven before Jesus came to Earth??

5 Then the Lord came down in the cloud and stood there with him and proclaimed his name, the Lord. 6 And he passed in front of Moses, proclaiming, “The Lord, the Lord, the compassionate and gracious God, slow to anger, abounding in love and faithfulness, 7 maintaining love to thousands, and forgiving wickedness, rebellion and sin. Yet he does not leave the guilty unpunished; he punishes the children and their children for the sin of the parents to the third and fourth generation.”. Ex 34: 5-7

If sins were not forgiven before Christ came, then how did Enoch & Elijah get admitted to Heaven?? Perhaps the healing remedy was unavailable until Jesus produced it in the human mind?

Consider what it reveals about the Godhead that they planned the “salvation” before the creation. See Eph. 1:4, 1 Peter 1:20, Rev. 13:8.

TUESDAY

Let's get this out of the way now. Christ's life, death, and resurrection was absolutely required for our restoration back to harmony with the Law of Love/Life.

Why was Christ's death “required”? Because character needed to be revealed. God's, Christ's, Satan's, and human character. God loved so much that He demonstrated he would allow His creation to kill Him. Satan revealed he would kill his Creator in an effort to save himself. Humanity revealed it was following a usurper and needed to be healed. Christ revealed that He was, indeed, God's Son, and that there was NO design flaw in the original human form. He also secured the remedy to heal humanity and reconcile [not to be confused with “forgive”] humanity back to God, and its original state, in harmony with the design laws. [This, for those who accuse us of teaching moral influence theory.]

It's important to remember that if at any point along the pathway to “death”, Christ used his divine power to stop the process, Satan would have won the war. He [Christ] had “all power” in Heaven & Earth [John 13:3], but didn't use it for His own benefit. Consider what would have been the results if Satan had “all power” in Heaven & Earth ...

There are many more facets to this that I don't have time to include, and more importantly, that I don't yet understand. We are told this will be our science and our song for eternity.

From the lesson:

“It is important to notice that Jesus died voluntarily. As the Father gave His one and only Son, so the Son gave His own life to redeem the human race. Nobody forced Him to do so. “ ‘No one takes it [my life] from Me, but I lay it down of Myself,’ ” declared Jesus (John 10:18, NKJV).”

First of all, well said.

Consider this: If Christ’s death was voluntary, and it was, then any doctrine stating that God killed His Son or “punished” Him on the cross must be a doctrine of devils.

WEDNESDAY

From the 1st paragraph in the lesson:

“Without Christ, we were slaves of sin, slaves to the evil impulses of our fallen human nature. We lived in a self-centered way, pleasing ourselves instead of living to the glory of God. The unavoidable result of this spiritual slavery was death, because the wages of sin is death.”

Again, well said.

To review: Sin = Lawlessness [1 John 3:4]. God’s Law = Design protocols upon which life is built to operate. Therefore, sin is being out of harmony with the design for life, and sin pays its own wage [death]. Death is not God’s punishment; it is His letting go so we bear the consequences of our choices.

Were Adam & Eve free in the garden? Didn’t Satan question their freedom [see Gen 3:1-3]? Were they free out of the garden? Is the alcoholic free?? The heroin addict? The obese diabetic? The gossip? The proud vegan?

Consider what it will mean to be “free from sin”. Why will Heaven be “free from sin”?

THURSDAY

From the 1st paragraph:

“Because of our sins, we deserve to die. But Christ took our place on the cross and paid the death penalty that, otherwise, rested on us. He, being innocent, took on our guilt and received our punishment so that we, being sinful, could be declared innocent. Through Him, instead of perishing we receive eternal life. John 3:15 makes this amazing promise to us. It says that “ ‘whoever believes in Him should not perish but have eternal life’ ” (NKJV), a promise repeated at the end of John 3:16.”

Enough with this “deserve to die” theme. Certainly sinners are in a terminal condition at birth, and if remedied, they will die eternally, but do they “deserve” death or “choose” death?

Does the smoker deserve lung cancer? Did New Orleans deserve hurricane Katrina? Does the homosexual deserve AIDS, the IV heroin user, hepatitis C? Does Satan [“The Accuser”] use the mantra of “deserving of death” and “unworthiness” to depress or demotivate humanity from seeking a remedy for our sickness?

The lesson does a great job of presenting the concept of eternal life in the present tense. I wish it made it more clear just what “eternal life” is [see John 17:3]. Since a knowledge of the True God is Life Eternal, then a lack of this knowledge must be death and destruction [see Hosea 4:6, Hab. 2:14, 2 Cor. 10:5]

Update: Last week I was at the Rethinking Hell Conference The Legacy of Edward Fudge and the Future of Conditionalism, in Houston, TX. There were people from all over the world, Australia, New Zealand, England, France, Lithuania and around the US. Members of a wide variety of Christian groups. I didn't find out all the various groups, but Church of Christ, Baptist, Anglican and many were theologians, pastors, priests etc. I presented our view and gave away our materials. An incredibly positive response. Many individuals came up to me and commented that our view was the most reasonable view they had ever heard and fit with the evidence most consistently.

Edward Fudge and his wife were there and were so nice. They had one portion when people shared their appreciation and thanks to him for his research etc. For those not familiar with Edward Fudge I recommend the movie Hell and Mr. Fudge, produced by an SDA producer. Mr. Fudge is a member of the Church of Christ and was a son of a Church of Christ pastor, himself a graduate from theological training and was hired by Robert Brinsmead to research the question of hell. Mr. Fudge, after long research, concluded the Bible does not teach eternal torment but annihilation of the wicked. He was ostracized, fired from his job as pastor, had falsehoods told and printed about him, had public tribunals to oppose him and generally treated horribly by his church and evangelical Christianity. Yet, the truth is the truth and his conclusions about hell continue to grow in evangelical circles.

What impressed me about the conference was the focus on God's character. So many of the presenters hold to the view that God is love and that the traditional views must be opposed because they distort God's character.

I received the following email this week:

I've received the cases of books and have already begun to give them to friends. I can't begin to express how much this message has helped me. There's one word that keeps coming to mind when I think of it. Liberation. And then my mind goes to Jesus' mission as stated in Isaiah 61:1-3.

I've been reading the book Education for devotion. It eloquently illustrates that the message being presented by C&R. Here's a quote from it that I'm sure you've read before but I just had to share it. It's basically a summary of this message. It talks about how men came to have false conceptions of God--His character, and the nature of His law; why Jesus came, and how the principles of His kingdom are to be established through the integrative, evidence-based approach!!!:-) This made my morning. Hope it brightens yours as well!

"As the evil passions and purposes of men banished God from their thoughts, so forgetfulness of Him inclined them more strongly to evil. The heart in love with sin clothed Him with its own attributes, and this conception strengthened the power of sin. Bent on self-pleasing, men came to regard God as such a one as themselves—a Being whose aim was self-glory, whose requirements were suited to His own pleasure; a Being by whom men were lifted up or cast down according as they helped or hindered His selfish purpose. The lower classes regarded the Supreme Being as one scarcely differing from their oppressors, save by exceeding them in power. By these ideas every form of religion was molded. Each was a system of exaction. By gifts and ceremonies, the worshipers sought to propitiate the Deity in order to secure His favor for their own ends. Such religion, having no power upon the heart or the conscience, could be but a round of forms, of which men wearied, and from which, except for such gain as it might offer, they longed to be free. So evil, unrestrained, grew stronger, while the appreciation and desire for good diminished. Men lost the image of God and received the impress of the demoniacal power by which they were controlled. The whole world was becoming a sink of corruption. – {Ed 75.2}

There was but one hope for the human race—that into this mass of discordant and corrupting elements might be cast a new leaven; that there might be brought to mankind the power of a new life; that the knowledge of God might be restored to the world. – {Ed 76.1}

Christ came to restore this knowledge. He came to set aside the false teaching by which those who claimed to know God had misrepresented Him. He came to manifest the nature of His law, to reveal in His own character the beauty of holiness. – {Ed 76.2}

Christ came to the world with the accumulated love of eternity. Sweeping away the exactions which had encumbered the law of God, He showed that the law is a law of love, an expression of the Divine Goodness. He showed that in obedience to its principles is involved the happiness of mankind, and with it the stability, the very foundation and framework, of human society. – {Ed 76.3} [why? Because happiness is a by-product of healthiness, and health results from living in harmony with the way life is designed to work]

So far from making arbitrary requirements, God's law is given to men as a hedge, a shield. Whoever accepts its principles is preserved from evil. Fidelity to God involves fidelity to man. Thus the law guards the rights, the individuality, of every human being. It restrains the superior from oppression, and the subordinate from disobedience. [notice the focus – the law of love, written in the heart, restrains the superior from oppression and the subordinate from disobedience – because they will be damaged by such action] It ensures man’s well-being, both for this world and for the world to come. To the obedient it is the pledge of eternal life, for it expresses the principles that endure forever. – {Ed 76.4}

Christ came to demonstrate the value of the divine principles by revealing their power for the regeneration of humanity. [wait – haven’t we been taught that the regenerating is in the blood? That we accept a legal payment and then at the second coming a magic of sorts happens and we are regenerated? What is this about divine principles having power to regenerate?] He came to teach how these principles are to be developed and applied. – {Ed 77.1}

With the people of that age the value of all things was determined by outward show. As religion had declined in power, it had increased in pomp. The educators of the time sought to command respect by display and ostentation. To all this the life of Jesus presented a marked contrast. His life demonstrated the worthlessness of those things that men regarded as life’s great essentials. Born amidst surroundings the rudest, sharing a peasant’s home, a peasant’s fare, a craftsman’s occupation, living a life of obscurity, identifying Himself with the world’s unknown toilers,—amidst these conditions and surroundings,—Jesus followed the divine plan of education. The schools of His time, with their magnifying of things small and their belittling of things great, He did not seek. His education was gained directly from the Heaven-appointed sources; from useful work, from the study of the Scriptures and of nature, and from the experiences of life—God’s lesson books, full of instruction to all who bring to them the willing hand, the seeing eye, and the understanding heart. – {Ed 77.2}

May God bless you each day and may this message go to all the world!
Thank you so much for bringing this message to my life. NC

Isn’t that quote from Education fantastic? This is the perspective on God and His law that we are to take to the world. Instead Christianity, including our church, has been infected with a distortion of God’s character that resembles humanity’s sinful, selfish character. And such presentations have no power to heal the mind or bring peace to the soul.

First – what does it mean to be saved? It simply and only means to be healed, or restored, or renewed, or recreated. It means to be taken from this defective state in which we currently exist and be rebuilt, regenerated back into God’s original ideal for humanity in every aspect – physical, mental, moral, spiritual, relational, intellectual – restored to perfection.

If you were bitten by a rattlesnake and went to the ER and said to the doctor, “Please save me.” What are you asking for? Forgiveness? Legal pardon? Of course not! You are asking to be cured, to be healed. That is EXACTLY what it means in Scripture.

Every metaphor of Scripture points to this reality. Some of our critics have taken the position that regarding the atonement, which is God's plan to put us back into harmony with Him, i.e. heal us to His original design, that there are many metaphors in Scripture and that we only emphasize one thus they claim we are restrictive of the Scripture and their view is a larger view. However, what they fail to realize is that behind all metaphor is a reality, and without that reality the metaphor has no meaning. And the reality, to which all metaphor of atonement point, is healing. So if you are dealing with people stuck in a legal metaphor and they try to suggest that our healing view is a metaphor, challenge them with the idea that healing and restoration is not metaphor. Ask them if they believe when the Bible speaks of a new heaven and earth if it is real or just metaphor? Then ask them, what words describe the process of taking something that is defective, diseased and broken and restoring it to perfection? Healing – it is not metaphor we teach, but reality.

SABBATH

Memory text: “And as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so must the Son of Man be lifted up, that whoever believes in Him should not perish but have eternal life.” (John 3:14,15)

What does it mean to believe?

We have power over what we believe but what we believe holds power over us.

We are changed to become like that we admire and worship? Our beliefs change us.

What changed Adam and Eve in the garden? Was it taking the fruit or believing a lie, which resulted in taking the fruit?

It was believing a lie that changed them and thus their behavior changed.

What is the difference in believing in Christ as our Savior and believing what the demons said when they confronted Christ – “we know who you are the holy one of God?”

They believed WHO Jesus was, but did they believe in Jesus? What is the difference?

To believe in Jesus is not merely to believe He exists, or to believe He has power, but to actually believe He is trustworthy in every way and thereby surrender yourself in trust to Him and intelligently appreciate and agree with His design and methods. The devils believe in His existence, in His power, but not in His goodness. This is the thing that frankly many Christians also doubt about God.

Many Christians believe in God's existence and power but also believe He isn't good – He needs to be persuaded, just as the book Education said, they conceive of God as being like themselves. Thus they really don't believe because true belief is believing He is good, trustworthy and believing in His methods and principles.

This is why the Jewish nation was often called an unbelieving nation, or a faithless people – not because they were agnostics or atheists, but because they didn't believe in the goodness of God. They saw God as a being, who was in character like Satan, and that is baal worship. This, sadly is the state of many Christians.

And this is why the church is so powerless to change lives and prepare the world for Christ's return. There is no power in false god concepts. They only damage. Thus, in every denominational church, including our own, the rates of pornography, spouse abuse, child abuse is no different than in the world at large. Why? Because as Paul said, they have a form of godliness but deny its power and the power is the truth about God!

Read second paragraph, "The Lord wanted..." What do you think of the idea that Christ became the bearer of our sins? In what way is this true and how is can this be misconstrued?

What did Jesus bear?

First he bore up under our sinful abuse of Him. Listen to this commentary from the book Desire of Ages:

Jesus did not contend for His rights. Often His work was made unnecessarily severe because He was willing and uncomplaining. Yet He did not fail nor become discouraged. He lived above these difficulties, as if in the light of God's countenance. He did not retaliate when roughly used, but bore insult patiently. {DA 89.4}

The angels of heaven witnessed every movement made against their loved Commander. They longed to deliver Christ. Under God the angels are all-powerful. On one occasion, in obedience to the command of Christ, they slew of the Assyrian army in one night one hundred and eighty-five thousand men. How easily could the angels, beholding the shameful scene of the trial of Christ, have testified their indignation by consuming the adversaries of God! But they were not commanded to do this. He who could have doomed His enemies to death bore with their cruelty. His love for His Father, and His pledge, made from the foundation of the world, to become the Sin Bearer, led Him to endure uncomplainingly the coarse treatment of those He came to save. It was a part of His mission to bear, in His humanity, all the taunts and abuse that men could heap upon Him. The only hope of humanity was in this submission of Christ to all that He could endure from the hands and hearts of men. {DA 700.5}

What did Jesus bear according to this commentary? He bore our sin in the form our sinful abuse of Him, our taunts, our violence, our cruelty. He bore it in His humanity! Why? To develop a perfect human character and eradicate fear and selfishness from the humanity He assumed.

Secondly, He bore our infirmities our sickness the defects that sin brings and carried them away:

Isa 53:4 Surely our griefs He himself bore, and our sorrows He carried; yet we ourselves esteemed Him stricken, smitten of God, and afflicted.(NAS)

Notice how the New Testament writers apply the prophecy:

Matt 8:16-17: And when evening had come, they brought to Him many who were demon-possessed; and He cast out the spirits with a word, and healed all who were ill in order that what was spoken through Isaiah the prophet might be fulfilled, saying, "He Himself took our infirmities, and carried away our diseases." (NAS)

Bearing our griefs and carrying our sorrows does not mean that Christ “paid the penalty” for our sins, but instead means that he took away from us our griefs and sorrows (ie took away our sicknesses). Yet, we would misunderstand and think that God was killing or punishing Him.

Third – He took our sinful condition and destroyed it, healing humanity back to God’s design:

Isa 53:5 But He was pierced through for our transgressions, He was crushed for our iniquities; the chastening for our well-being {fell} upon Him, and by His scourging we are healed. (NAS)

1 Pet 2:24-25 and He Himself bore our sins [sinfulness] in His body on the cross, that we might die to sin and live to righteousness; for by His wounds you were healed. For you were continually straying like sheep, but now you have returned to the Shepherd and Guardian of your souls. (NAS)

By His scourging we are healed does not represent a “legal” transaction in heaven where God’s attitude toward us is “healed”, but instead represents Christ’s victory over the infection of selfishness and fear and restoring the human condition back to God’s ideal, and through faith or trust in Him we can participate in His victory and be changed in our heart, where we die to sin and live to righteousness, returning to God instead of straying from Him.

How can the idea of Christ bearing our sin be misconstrued to teach false ideas?

- Every behavior, misdeed, act of sin is placed upon Jesus and He experiences the pain and guilt of each and every act of sin
- Every behavior, misdeed, act of sin is legally credited to His account and He is punished by the Father for every act of sin, past present and future
- God killed Jesus at the cross as an act of divine justice

SUNDAY

The lesson rightly points out that the first step to experience salvation is to recognize our need. What is our actual need and how has the devil replaced it with a false need?

Actual need: we are in need of new hearts and right spirit.

- The law of God exposes our true condition, it diagnoses us as being in a terminal condition, as being out of harmony with how God constructed life to operate and thus we need a remedy, a rebirth, a renewal of heart, the law written on the heart and mind etc.

False need: a legal payment.

- Satan as duped many to believe our need is a legal solution, that our problem is a legal one, that we have broken rules, are in legal trouble with God, and thus need to have a penalty paid, the wrath of God appeased, records erased, etc. Thus many, misdiagnose the problem and seek a false solution.

You see this distortion in last weeks lesson, Thursday first paragraph, “Because of our sins, we deserve to die. But Christ took our place on the cross and paid the death penalty that, otherwise, rested on us. He, being innocent, took our guilt and received our punishment so that we, being sinful, could be declared innocent.”

This is false in so many ways.

- It misdiagnoses the problem as a legal problem rather than a condition we are in, a state of being that is out of harmony with God and His design
- It makes our behavior and our shortcomings the problem rather than the condition with which we were born and had no choice in
- It makes Christ mission one of paying legal penalties to God
- It represents God as the source of inflicted pain and death
- It suggest God lies by declaring innocent those who are not

When in universal history will it be true that Adam and Eve are innocent? Or for that matter us? God will not declare any of us innocent – He will however, declare all those who trust Him and partake of Jesus – righteous, healed, renewed, at-one with Him. (Consider the Bible character – Job was not declared innocent. He was declared righteous. David didn’t get a new history, a new record, he got a new heart and right spirit. Paul himself declared himself to be the worst of sinners – not innocent, yet saved, because Paul was healed, reborn, renewed in righteousness).

What is so offensive about this penal substitutionary thinking is that it obstructs people from actually experiencing victory in Christ. It is a false theology based on Satan’s view of God’s law namely that God’s law is imposed and sin must be punished.

People who believe this lie then seek to appease God, gets sins paid, record books erased, coverings for themselves either robes or blood, or something to hide them from God so He won’t see their sinfulness. They long to be declared innocent, and then they languish in false security of eternal life, while living in fear and selfishness with no real victory over sin in their lives.

God wants so much more for us. He wants our actual transformation of character to be like Jesus, here and now!

Oswald Chambers understood this:

The Bible does not say that God punished the human race for one man's sin, but that the nature of sin, namely, my claim to my right to myself, entered into the human race through one man. But it also says that another Man took upon Himself the sin of the human race and put it away — an infinitely more profound revelation... Sin is something I am born with and cannot touch— only God touches sin through redemption. It is through the Cross of Christ that God redeemed the entire human race. from the possibility of damnation through the heredity of sin. God nowhere holds a person responsible for having the heredity of sin, and does not condemn anyone because of it. Condemnation comes when I realize that Jesus Christ came to deliver me from this heredity of sin, and yet I refuse to let Him do so. From that moment I begin to get the seal of damnation. “This is the condemnation [and the critical moment], that the light has come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than light . . . ” (John 3:19) Oswald Chambers, My Utmost for His Highest, <http://utmost.org>

This is quite right. We are born in sin conceived in iniquity, born with a condition we didn't choose. Thus God doesn't declare us legally innocent, because we are not in legal trouble. He cures us and declares us whole, healed, well!

MONDAY

Read first paragraph, “Recognizing our sins...” thoughts?

The lesson focuses on “sins” rather than sinfulness which results in sins. True repentance is not merely taking responsibility for bad acts, it is a sorrow for the condition of heart which led to the bad acts and experiencing a change in heart motive.

Judas:

- Acknowledged his sin
- Expressed sorry for his sin
- Didn't want to do that act again

But, Judas wasn't sorry for the selfishness in his character which led him to do it. He was sorry his plans did not work out. He didn't want Christ to die; he wanted Christ to use His power to take the throne.

When we focus on legal problems and sinful acts merely, we lead people to be like Judas and acknowledge the sinful act, express sorry for the sinful act, and change in desire to never do that specific act again. But the heart isn't changed because we mislead people into believing sin is behavioral rather than the truth it is characterological. Then they seek to do the same sin, but slightly modified, so it isn't the exact same act they did before. Thus they can falsely believe they are in a state of repentance, when they are not.

Read second paragraph, "We can see the importance..." From what was it they were to repent?

John the Baptist was to be the forerunner of Christ – to do what? Was it not to prepare the minds of the people to accept Jesus? Was it merely to turn the people from sinful behavior, or primarily from false concepts of God?

What about today? Do we have a work to do as John did 2000 years ago to prepare the way for the Lord's second advent? And is not our work to lead the people to repentance? Not the mere repentance from bad deeds but repentance from the false ideas about God with which so many live in fear?

We must turn away from the lies about God that infect our thinking and contaminate our evangelism. We can only fulfill the purpose God has for us in proclaiming a message to prepare the world for the Lord's return when we tell the truth about God. This requires we expel:

- the false law concept with which Rome infected the church, and
- the false atonement models based on the false law concept, and
- the false judgment models and
- the false imposed punishment and torture models.

Until we do this we present a lie that has no power to heal and restore but instead, we like the Jews 2000 years ago, we search the world for a convert and make him twice the son of hell. How and why? Because before we converted him he just didn't know God but now we have filled his mind with a false god, so now he still must learn the truth about God, but he also must UNLEARN all the distortions we have taught him.

These people are describe by Paul to Timothy as those who have a form of godliness but deny the power because they deny the truth about God.

Here is what our church used to think about this:

John was called to do a special work; he was to prepare the way of the Lord, to make straight His paths. The Lord did not send him to the school of the prophets and rabbis. He took him away from the assemblies of men to the desert, that he might learn of nature and nature's God. God did not desire him to have the mold of the priests and rulers. [Why? Why didn't he go to the schools which were established by God? Why not to Bible school, "Christian education"? Because it had been corrupted with lies about God. What about our schools today?] He was called to do a special work. The Lord gave him his message. Did he go to the priests and rulers and ask if he might proclaim this message?--No, [Should John have asked for endorsement from church authority? What about today? Should we seek church authority to proclaim the truth about God? Do you know the church authorities of John's day came and asked him on what authority he was preaching, as he didn't seek theirs. What about today?] God put him away from them that he might not be influenced by their spirit and teaching. He was the voice of one crying in the wilderness, "Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make straight in the desert a highway for our God. Every valley shall be exalted, and every mountain and hill shall be made low: and the crooked shall be made straight, and the rough places plain; and the glory of the Lord shall be revealed, and all flesh shall see it together: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it" (Isaiah 40:3-5). This is the very message that must be given to our people; we are near the end of time, and the message is, Clear the King's highway; gather out the stones; raise up a standard for the people. The people must be awakened. It is no time now to cry peace and safety. We are exhorted to "cry aloud, spare not, lift up thy voice like a trumpet, and shew my people their transgression, and the house of Jacob their sins" (Isaiah 5:1). {1SM 410.1}

What is the message we are to take?

- The eternal good news about God and His character and methods of love
- The law of love as the design template for life
- Our natural, from birth, condition of being out of harmony with this design
- Christ is our Savior and Remedy to cure the defects of fear and selfishness in us
- To embrace God's methods of love and give Him glory by revealing His character in us
- To call people to see God for who He truly is as Designer not Dictator so people may make a right judgment about God and choose to trust Him
- That the religious systems of the world are infected with imposed law constructs and are a confused mess
- That those who embrace this false legal system of imposed penalties with a god who will inflict torture and torment will, by worshipping such a god, be conformed to the image of that god and thus suffer the very torment they desperately want to avoid. They become marked in character to be beastly just like the beastly god they worship.

I believe when the call to repentance is to repent of the lies we believe AND tell about God and begin telling the truth about Him and living in harmony with His methods of love, then the latter rain power of the Holy Spirit will fall and we will be enabled to lighten the world and Christ will return.

TUESDAY

Read second paragraph, "According to Jesus..." There is much to be commended in this paragraph, such as faith being more than a feeling, or mental exercise, and that it is faith or trust in the person Jesus Christ. But what of this idea that faith is "trusting in Jesus and His death for us."

What does that mean? Why do they say it this way?

Why not say, “trusting in Jesus and His victorious life for us” or “trusting in Jesus and His victory over death for us”?

It is because of accepting Satan’s lie about God’s law being imposed, and that sin must be punished, thus the death represents the paid penalty and we must trust that our penalty is paid by that death.

This again obstructs God’s true plan of salvation. Jesus died to cure the condition, to restore in us His character not pay a legal penalty. Thus the Bible says, “God made him who had no sin to be sin for us, so that in him we might become the righteousness of God.” (2Cor 5:21)

Notice the purpose, not to pay a penalty but to make us righteous, to cure us.

Or in the text from Peter we read earlier:

He himself bore our sins in his body on the tree, so that we might die to sins and live for righteousness; by his wounds you have been healed. 1Pet 2:24

Again notice the reason – to heal us, NOT to pay a legal penalty.

Or other Scripture:

but it has now been revealed through the appearing of our Savior, Christ Jesus, who has destroyed death and has brought life and immortality to light through the gospel. 2tim 1:10

“For God so loved the world that he gave his one and only Son, that whoever believes in him shall not perish but have eternal life. ¹⁷ For God did not send his Son into the world to condemn the world, but to save the world through him. John 3:16,17

The mission of Christ was for the healing and regeneration of this world, the destruction of sin and death.

Read third paragraph, “God so loved...” What does it mean to be covered by His righteousness?

I agree with this description in a book called Christ’s Object Lessons:

When we submit ourselves to Christ, the heart is united with His heart, the will is merged in His will, the mind becomes one with His mind, the thoughts are brought into captivity to Him; we live His life. This is what it means to be clothed with the garment of His righteousness. Then as the Lord looks upon us He sees, not the fig-leaf garment, not the nakedness and deformity of sin, but His own robe of righteousness, which is perfect obedience to the law of Jehovah. {COL 311.4}

So how does believing in Jesus result in us having righteousness? Because when we believe, or trust, we open the heart and the Holy Spirit comes in and we actually are change. We actually desire holiness, truth, love, freedom, purity, we establish new pathways in our brain and the old fades away. We actually, literally, come to love God and others more than self and the fear and selfishness which dominates us loses its power over us.

This happens by daily partaking of Jesus, spending time with Him, meditating upon Him, considering and contemplating His methods, His ways, His designs. And as we appreciate it and long to be like Him and choose His ways we are changed.

But this is why our conception of God is so critical, if we have distorted concepts then we are not changed to be like God, but will be changed to be like the false god we worship.

Read bottom green section, “Why must...”

- Do we allow for outcomes beyond our understanding?
- Could God know that we are so settled into the truth about Him that we won't be shaken, so healing isn't necessary for our eternal salvation. But a nurse at a hospital hasn't seen God's love and God knows that our witness to them will be able to break through and reach them, so He doesn't heal us. Do we trust Him enough to trust Him with outcomes we don't like because we know He has a vision of reality that is greater than our own.

WEDNESDAY

The lesson speaks of the wedding garment, the parable Jesus taught about the wedding feast and guests being inspected to see if they were wearing the garment given by the king.

It then asks, “Why did the king want to be sure that every guest had a wedding garment for the feast?”

What would happen without the garment?

Why does NASA want to ensure every astronaut has a space suit and a sun shield visor before they go out into space?

We cannot exist in the presence of God without a character like His. It would be torment to us to be there. And thus God wants us to have the wedding garment, the mind, heart, character renewed to be in harmony with Him so we will love His presence and not flee from Him in pain.

Examples:

- Moses coming down from the mountain reflecting God's glory causes suffering in the people.
- The priests unable to enter Solomon's temple on the day of dedication – why? Was God unhappy with them? Why couldn't they enter? Because they were not fully restored to harmony with God and couldn't tolerate the presence of God.

- The wicked destroyed by His brightness because they were not transformed to be like Him.

THURSDAY

First sentence says, "When in faith we recognize our need, repent, confess our sins, and claim Christ's righteousness for ourselves, we become His disciples."

Could a person do all of this, have faith, repent, confess, claim the righteousness of Christ, but have such a wrong concept of God that their faith is misplaced and they trust in Satan's version of God and trust in legal payments, trust that their god will punish and destroy, trust that their enemies will pay for what has been done to them etc. etc. etc. and still not be saved?

Listen to this commentary:

When we speak of unbelief, we do not mean that a person believes nothing. The mind must rest upon something; and when it does not grasp truth, it lays hold of error. All men in one sense believe, and the effect produced upon the heart and character is according to the things believed. Eve believed the words of Satan, and the belief of that falsehood in regard to God's character, changed the condition and character of both herself and husband. They were changed from good and obedient children into transgressors, and it was only by repentance toward God and faith in the promised Messiah that they could hope ever to regain the lost image of God. Paul had faith before his conversion; but it was not a correct faith. His self-righteousness strengthened his faith that he was doing God's service in rejecting Christ, and he enjoyed a restful satisfaction. False faith as well as true faith will give peacefulness for a time. Paul verily thought that he was doing God service when he was persecuting the followers of Christ and putting them to death. He was sincere in his belief; but sincerity will not make error truth, nor truth error. "When the commandment came," says Paul, "sin revived, and I died." He then received the truth as it is in Jesus, and experienced its transforming power upon his soul. The truth was so firmly planted in his heart that he could say, "Neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor powers, nor things present, nor things to come, nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature shall be able to separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus our Lord." {RH, January 5, 1886 par. 8}

A genuine faith in the true God as Jesus revealed results in transformation of the believer to be like Jesus in character. Those who have a false faith will:

- have religion but will not love,
- they will have creeds but will not sacrifice self,
- they will have worship services but will not have the transforming power of worshipping the true character of God,
- they will have rituals but no unity with God,
- they will have their legal claim but they will not have a renewed heart,

- And when Satan appears, arguing that sin must be punished they will say, “This is our god we have waited for him.”

FRIDAY

Read and discuss question 1, “Many try to drown...” Why do these methods not work? Because they treat symptoms not problems. They act to alter the mood, the feeling, the emotions, but don’t resolve the dysfunction which causes the dysphoria. It would be like taking pain meds for a cavity, but not filling the cavity. Eastern Meditation does the same thing, alters the feeling without actually changing the character.

How do you help people like this? By the truth, the truth of their condition, the truth of how their interventions only injure, the truth that real healing is possible, but many refuse because they are not willing to endure the pain of transformation.

Read and discuss question 3.

I received this email:

Just wanted to let you know that while we were in British Columbia a few weeks ago we shared the "God and your Brain" DVDs with some family there and a neighbor who broke her leg while we were there. Just heard today that she and her husband looked at them with a sister who was visiting and another friend. They were very excited about them and the sister said she had to have one to take back to New Brunswick to share with her family there. We had left several DVDs with our family living there, so she was given one to take home. We are sending more DVDs and books up with another family member going to visit for the pastor and some other people. We praise God that we have a way to get these to people there. Thank you for the box of materials you sent we are getting them out to people.

Our friends in Australia created a Facebook group called, Friends of the Designer, and on that site one of the proponents of this message in Australia posted this:

Hi fellow designer friends, Isn't it amazing how this message is moving around the world? Praise God!!!!

My younger brother in NZ has been relieved of his Sabbath school class because he's always talking about the true character of God unfortunately they prefer a God who punishes sinners. I like to ask our group to remember him in your prayers... I told him they can stop him from taking the class but they can't stop him from talking from the pews and it actually makes it easier for him to expose their wrong ideas about our God. Thanks guys

SABBATH

Read memory text: “Jesus answered and said to him, ‘Most assuredly, I say to you, unless one is born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God.’” (Jn 3:3 NKJV)

What is the context – in other words what is the subject this being “born again” regarding? Seeing God’s kingdom, being part of God’s kingdom, Salvation – then note what Christ did NOT say – Christ did not say, “No one can see the kingdom of God unless he has the penalty for his sins paid.” Or, He Didn’t say “No one can see the kingdom of God unless God’s wrath has been propitiated.”

Notice where Jesus puts the focus of change that is necessary for sinners to see God’s kingdom – it is a change in the sinner, NOT God!

And, why must we be born again? Because there is something wrong with our first birth, which means Christ is focusing on what type of problem and its resolution?

Christ is focusing on the problem of our actual state of being, our condition, which is deviant from His design and needs healing.

So what is wrong with our first birth? We are born fearful and selfish rather than trusting and loving.

Parents have the responsibility of creating an atmosphere to counter fear and selfishness, to infuse love and trust into their children. One of the critical actions parents can take to instill trust is – never set boundaries you are unwilling to enforce. If you set boundaries, but because the child cries, begs, pleads, is hurt, disappointed etc. you allow your compassion to alter your enforcement, you undermine your child’s ability to trust. How?

- If you tell your child that if they study hard and get an A on their next exam you would give them $20 and they do, but then you don’t give them $20 what do you teach them?
- If you tell your child if they don’t pick up their room they can’t have dessert, and the room isn’t picked up and when dessert is passed out they begin to cry when they don’t get one, you then say, “okay, you can have one this time but next time pick up your room.” What do you teach them?
- It is okay to change a boundary when you believe it is in the best interest, and you have a reason. Just explain the reason and educate on the new placement of the boundary.

The lesson points out that the concept of being born again was difficult for Nicodemus to grasp because he was descended from Abraham and thought that gave him special favor with God. What about today? Are there any beliefs similar that lead people to believe they have special favor with God?

Some still believe genetic Jews have special favor with God, but what about in Christianity? Do some believe that belonging to a particular denomination engenders special favor, or status, or position in God's kingdom? Does it? Or participating in certain rituals, or worshipping on a certain day?

Read third paragraph, "Patiently, Jesus explained..." thoughts?

No doubt the transformation of our characters, the healing of our minds requires the supernatural work of the Holy Spirit. But, does that mean we are absent of the process? Or do we have a work to do in our own salvation?

Therefore, my dear friends, as you have always obeyed—not only in my presence, but now much more in my absence—continue to work out your salvation with fear and trembling, ¹³ for it is God who works in you to will and to act according to his good purpose. Phlp 2:12,13

What is the balance between our working out our salvation and God working in you?

This is another point upon which the legal model fails, but it is quite simple when we understand reality and that reality our condition is deviant from God's design, we cannot fix what is broken in us but God has a plan to do just – heal and restore us.

Who procured the Remedy to our sinful state? Jesus – did he receive any help from any other human? No – He did this singly and alone.

Who applies the Remedy into the lives of believers? The Holy Spirit – and when the Holy Spirit comes into the heart is there a process, an activity that occurs which a person CANNOT do for themselves?

Consider a person with an infection who needs an antibiotic, did the person develop and produce the antibiotic? No, does the antibiotic do something inside them they can't do for themselves? It brings a new element which is not already there. But, does the person still have a work to do? What? To partake of the antibiotic.

Is there a work to do in our salvation? What? To partake of Jesus, to surrender to the work of the Holy Spirit, to choose to do that which we understand and know is right and healthy.

Here is how one of the founders of our church put it:

- The Spirit was to be given as a regenerating agent, and without this the sacrifice of Christ would have been of no avail. The power of evil had been strengthening for centuries, and the submission of men to this satanic captivity was amazing. Sin could be resisted and overcome only through the mighty agency of the Third Person of the Godhead, who would come with no modified energy, but in the fullness of divine power. It is the Spirit that makes effectual what has been wrought out by the world's Redeemer. It is by the Spirit that the heart is made pure. Through the Spirit the believer becomes a partaker of the divine nature. Christ has given His Spirit as a divine power to overcome all hereditary and cultivated tendencies to evil, and to impress His own character upon His church. {DA 671.2}

- We are laborers together with God. This is the Lord's own wise arrangement. The cooperation of the human will and endeavor with divine energy is the link that binds men up with one another and with God. The apostle says, "We are laborers together with God: ye are God's husbandry, ye are God's building" (1 Corinthians 3:9). Man is to work with the facilities God has given him. "Work out your own salvation with fear and trembling," He says. "For it is God which worketh in you both to will and to do of His good pleasure" (Philippians 2:12, 13).--MS 113, 1898. {2MCP 694.3}
- There are two grand forces at work in the salvation of the human soul. It requires the cooperation of man with the divine agencies-- divine influences, and a strong, living, working faith. It is in this way only that the human agent can become a laborer together with God. The Lord does not sanction in any one of us a blind, stupid credulity. [credulity - readiness/willingness to believe with little evidence] He does not dishonor the human understanding, but, far from this, He calls for the human will to be brought into connection with the divine will. He calls for the ingenuity of the human mind, the tact, the skill, to be strenuously exercised in searching out the truth as it is in Jesus. . . . Ye are labourers together with God. {OHC 310.5}

SUNDAY

Read fifth paragraph, "The fact that it is..." Of what is water baptism symbolic? Dying to the life of selfishness and rising to a life of love and unity with God.

Does the ritual change a person? Which is supposed to come first, the work of the Holy Spirit upon the heart/mind, or baptism by water? It is baptism by the Spirit that is transformational.

Listen to this quote:

This new birth looks mysterious to Nicodemus. He asks, "How can these things be?" Jesus, bidding him marvel not, uses the wind as an illustration of his meaning. It is heard among the branches of the trees, and rustling the leaves and flowers, yet it is invisible to the eye, and from whence it comes and whither it goeth, no man knoweth. So is the experience of every one who is born of the Spirit. The mind is an invisible agent of God to produce tangible results. Its influence is powerful, and governs the actions of men. If purified from all evil, it is the motive power of good. The regenerating Spirit of God, taking possession of the mind, transforms the life; wicked thoughts are put away, evil deeds are renounced, love, peace, and humility take the place of anger, envy, and strife. That power which no human eye can see, has created a new being in the image of God. . . . {ST, November 15, 1883 par. 9}

Our minds are not our brains; our minds operate upon the substrate of our brains like Windows operates on the substrate of a hard drive.

But our minds actually change the brain based on how and what we think.

There has been a great debate and some have argued that it is the brain that determines the mind – not so – the mind is much more than the mere results of chemical reactions in the brain.

There are different theories about the mind/brain relationship:

- Mind-brain identity theory asserts that mental events are created by and are identical to brain events. Thus we can have internal subjective experience “I feel great” but also external measures of that experience, increase activation of the nucleus accumbens, with increase dopamine release.
- Eliminativism, denies mental functions and claims there are only physical brain states. This view holds the mental world is an illusion.
- Emergent mentalism proposed by Nobel prize winner Roger Sperry, states that mental events are not possible independent of the brain, but the mental processes such as beliefs, values, feelings, etc. are activities beyond mere physical, chemical reactions.

One of the founders of our church saw it saw it much like the Nobel prize winner:

The brain nerves which communicate to the entire system are the only medium through which Heaven can communicate to man, and affect his inmost life. Whatever disturbs the circulation of the electric currents in the nervous system, lessens the strength of the vital powers, and the result is a deadening of the sensibilities of the mind.—2T, p. 347.

My view is that the mind is analogous to software, yet capably or rewriting and changing itself, and the brain analogous to hardware – can software operate without hardware? Does the hardware determine the quality of the software? But can a faulty hardware impact the functioning of the software?

Brain illness can impair the functioning of the mind, but doesn't determine the mind. So a person with a brain illness – MS, Sz d/o, brain tumor, schizophrenia, bipolar – may have altered hardware, but can still be kind, honest, faithful, loyal, noble, be repulsed by evil and love the good. In other words, their mind, their character, is not determined by the hardware – brain. However, their ability to carry out life's activities may be impacted by the hardware.

But, what we choose to believe, what we think, the methods we practice, the values we cherish will actually alter the brain:

Neurofeedback is a form of biofeedback – biofeedback is using some device such as heart monitor, skin galvanic meter, to give feedback about yourself, such as heart rate, or circulation to the skin which change with anxiety and stress levels. With this feedback people can learn to calm themselves.

Neurofeedback uses the brainwaves themselves, and gives the person conscious feedback regarding what brainwave state they are currently in.

A meta-analysis of 87 studies examining the effectiveness of neurofeedback on seizure frequency showed reduction in sz frequency in 80% of epileptics undergoing a certain form of neurofeedback, even when anti-seizure meds did not work. (Sterman et al, “Biofeedback in the Treatment of Epilepsy”; Cleveland Clinic Journal of Medicine 77(2010): S60-S67.)

In other words, based on a change in thinking, using one’s mind, the brain changed.

ADHD children tend to have high amount of theta waves in their frontal lobes. These are the waves we get when we daydream and our mind wanders. Studies using neurofeedback with children with ADHD demonstrate children receiving neurofeedback, when compared to ADHD controls, not only had improved performance on attention, focus and hyperactivity, but showed enhanced brain activity in areas involved in attention and focus. The controls did not show any of these changes. Further investigation documented improved white matter connections in the brains of the ADHD children who did neurofeedback, but not in the brains of the controls. (Levesque et al, Effects of Neurofeedback Training on the Neural Substrates of Selective Attention in Children with Attention Deficit/Hyperactivity Disorder, from Beauregard, M, Brain Wars, Harper One, New York, 2012, p 52,53)

The point of these studies and others like it is that we can, by focusing our thinking, change our brainwaves and thereby change our brain structure. Our minds are what make us who we are. And it is our minds that God takes to heaven when we die and which he brings back to earth at the second coming to put into new bodies.

Our personal identity is preserved in the resurrection, though not the same particles of matter or material substance as went into the grave. The wondrous works of God are a mystery to man. The spirit, the character of man, is returned to God, there to be preserved. In the resurrection every man will have his own character. God in His own time will call forth the dead, giving again the breath of life, and bidding the dry bones live. The same form will come forth, but it will be free from disease and every defect. It lives again bearing the same individuality of features, so that friend will recognize friend. There is no law of God in nature which shows that God gives back the same identical particles of matter which composed the body before death. God shall give the righteous dead a body that will please Him. {6BC 1093.2}

And Paul says the following:

Brothers, we do not want you to be ignorant about those who fall asleep, or to grieve like the rest of men, who have no hope. ¹⁴ We believe that Jesus died and rose again and so we believe that God will bring with Jesus those who have fallen asleep in him. ¹⁵ According to the Lord's own word, we tell you that we who are still alive, who are left till the coming of the Lord, will certainly not precede those who have fallen asleep. ¹⁶ For the Lord himself will come down from heaven, with a loud command, with the voice of the archangel and with the trumpet call of God, and the dead in Christ will rise first. ¹⁷ After that, we who are still alive and are left will be caught up together with them in the clouds to meet the Lord in the air. And so we will be with the Lord forever. ¹⁸ Therefore encourage each other with these words.
1Thes 4:13-18

How do we put together the mind goes to Christ at death, Christ brings with him those who have fallen asleep, that we alive will not precede those who have died into heaven, and the dead are being resurrected from the earth?

By understanding that the mind is like software, our identity, our individuality goes to Christ at death and is safe and secure with Him in heaven, perfectly stored in the Lamb's book of life. A great heavenly "server". When He returns He brings with Him the heavenly server and downloads all the saints into new heavenly bodies He creates from the dust. It is then they live again, until then they are, as the Bible states asleep, or as any software on a disc, in storage.

What can you do to develop your mind? Here is an idea from book called Christian Education:

It is a law of the mind that it gradually adapts itself to the subjects upon which it is trained to dwell. If occupied with commonplace matters only, it will become dwarfed and enfeebled. If never required to grapple with difficult problems, it will after a time almost lose the power of growth. As an educating power, the Bible is without a rival. In the word of God the mind finds subject for the deepest thought, the loftiest aspiration. The Bible is the most instructive history that men possess. It came fresh from the fountain of eternal truth, and a divine hand has preserved its purity through all the ages. It lights up the far-distant past, where human research seeks vainly to penetrate. In God's word we behold the power that laid the foundation of the earth and that stretched out the heavens. Here only can we find a history of our race, unsullied by human prejudice or human pride. Here are recorded the struggles, the defeats, and the victories of the greatest men this world has ever known. Here the great problems of duty and destiny are unfolded. The curtain that separates the visible from the invisible world is lifted, and we behold the conflict of the opposing forces of good and evil, from the first entrance of sin, to the final triumph of righteousness and truth; and all is but a revelation of the character of God. In the reverent contemplation of the truths presented in his word, the mind of the student is brought into communion with the infinite mind. Such a study will not only refine and ennoble the character, but it cannot fail to expand and invigorate the mental powers. {CE 65.1

MONDAY

Read second paragraph, “Likewise, the Holy Spirit...” thoughts?

Do you agree? Does the Holy Spirit work on the heart of every person? What about those who have never had the Bible? What about those raised in pagan cultures?

Do we have any examples from Scripture of people, not part of Israel, that God’s Spirit worked with?

- Patriarchs
- Mechezedek
- Jethro priest of Midian
- Naaman
- Nebuchadnezzar
- The wise men from the East who came to visit Jesus
- The Roman centurion

What about since the time of Christ, does the Holy Spirit strive with people who have not heard about Christ and can they be saved?

This is what Paul said to the Romans:

since what may be known about God is plain to them, because God has made it plain to them.²⁰ For since the creation of the world God’s invisible qualities—his eternal power and divine nature—have been clearly seen, being understood from what has been made, so that men are without excuse...

All who sin apart from the law will also perish apart from the law, and all who sin under the law will be judged by the law.¹³ For it is not those who hear the law who are righteous in God’s sight, but it is those who obey the law who will be declared righteous.¹⁴ (Indeed, when Gentiles, who do not have the law, do by nature things required by the law, they are a law for themselves, even though they do not have the law,¹⁵ since they show that the requirements of the law are written on their hearts, their consciences also bearing witness, and their thoughts now accusing, now even defending them.)¹⁶ This will take place on the day when God will judge men’s secrets through Jesus Christ, as my gospel declares. (Romans 1:19, 20; 2:12-16)

Have you ever heard that people can’t be saved unless they accept Jesus, or unless they are baptized in the name of the Father, Son and Holy Spirit, or unless they perform some ritual etc.?

Why? Where do these ideas come from? Are there any truths behind such ideas?

These two texts are probably the most frequently used for such ideas:

Jesus answered, “I am the way and the truth and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me. Jn 14:6

Salvation is found in no one else, for there is no other name under heaven given to men by which we must be saved.” Acts 4:12

And they are both true – the problem arises when we understand these texts through the Roman imposed law construct. When we do that then we falsely believe it is a legal issue, rather than a condition of being, and if a person hasn’t had legal solution they can’t be saved. Thus it is taken very concretely, a person must hear the name Jesus, must accept the historic Jesus and must receive legal pardon.

But, the legal model is a lie, therefore these ideas about the meaning of the text is a lie. Paul’s description in Romans 2 reveals that.

What is the truth?

In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. ² He was with God in the beginning.

³ Through him all things were made; without him nothing was made that has been made. Jn 1:1-3

For since the creation of the world God’s invisible qualities—his eternal power and divine nature—have been clearly seen, being understood from what has been made, so that men are without excuse. Rom 1:20

According to Scripture who is the one through which all of nature is created? Jesus, and whose divine nature is seen in nature? God’s. So if a person learns about God in nature, who put that lesson there? Jesus. So they are coming to God through Jesus.

And if they come to surrender to the God of love, as seen in nature, and trusts Him, the Holy Spirit comes in and recreates them into the likeness of Jesus. From where is the Holy Spirit getting this Remedy? Jesus, it is no longer “I that lives but Christ lives in me.”

Thus, everyone who is healed is healed (saved) only because Jesus presented the truth to win us to trust and provides the Remedy which restores us to righteousness.

Thus Peter’s statement, there is no other “name” whereby men can be saved. What does “name” mean in that culture? Character. Peter is saying you can possess no other character other than that of Jesus in order to be saved, or healed. Or, it is only by possessing Jesus' character you are healed. Or, it is the character of Jesus, partaken of by the believer that heals and transforms.

TUESDAY

Read first paragraph, "A flourishing spiritual..." What does it mean to be part of the vine? This is a metaphor – Jesus is not a vine, but every metaphor has some reality to which it refers. What is a more reality to which the vine metaphor is referring?

Does this text suggest anything?

As I looked, "thrones were set in place, and the Ancient of Days took his seat. His clothing was as white as snow; the hair of his head was white like wool. His throne was flaming with fire, and its wheels were all ablaze.

¹⁰ A river of fire was flowing, coming out from before him. Thousands upon thousands attended him; ten thousand times ten thousand stood before him. Dan 7:9,10

Or what about this text:

He is the image of the invisible God, the firstborn over all creation. ¹⁶ For by him all things were created: things in heaven and on earth, visible and invisible, whether thrones or powers or rulers or authorities; all things were created by him and for him. ¹⁷ He is before all things, and in him all things hold together. Col 1:15-17

This is the last paragraph in the five book series The Conflict of the Ages from the book The Great Controversy:

The great controversy is ended. Sin and sinners are no more. The entire universe is clean. One pulse of harmony and gladness beats through the vast creation. From Him who created all, flow life and light and gladness, throughout the realms of illimitable space. From the minutest atom to the greatest world, all things, animate and inanimate, in their unshadowed beauty and perfect joy, declare that God is love. {GC 678.3}

Is this suggesting that God is the source of life and that from Him flows the very energy that sustains the universe, keeps the heart beating, etc. and only in actual connection with Him there is life? While He is not a vine, He is the source of everything and sustains it all.

Here is a paragraph from the book Education:

The same power that upholds nature, is working also in man. The same great laws that guide alike the star and the atom control human life. The laws that govern the heart's action, regulating the flow of the current of life to the body, are the laws of the mighty Intelligence that has the jurisdiction of the soul. From Him all life proceeds. Only in harmony with Him can be found its true sphere of action. For all the objects of His creation the condition is the same--a life sustained by receiving the life of God, a life exercised in harmony with the Creator's will. To transgress His law, physical, mental, or moral, is to place one's self out of harmony with the universe, to introduce discord, anarchy, ruin. {Ed 99.2}

Wow – what kind of law is described here? And what then do we understand the vine to be? God Himself as the Creator and Sustainer of all. Only in unity with Him is their life.

Now search your databases and see if you can identify any stories in the inspired record that would be related to this phenomenon, of God being the source of life, energy, sustenance etc. and separation results in death, but reuniting results in life and transformation?

When Moses came down from Mount Sinai with the two tablets of the Testimony in his hands, he was not aware that his face was radiant because he had spoken with the Lord.³⁰ When Aaron and all the Israelites saw Moses, his face was radiant, and they were afraid to come near him.³¹ But Moses called to them; so Aaron and all the leaders of the community came back to him, and he spoke to them.³² Afterward all the Israelites came near him, and he gave them all the commands the Lord had given him on Mount Sinai.³³ When Moses finished speaking to them, he put a veil over his face.³⁴ But whenever he entered the Lord's presence to speak with him, he removed the veil until he came out. And when he came out and told the Israelites what he had been commanded,³⁵ they saw that his face was radiant. Then Moses would put the veil back over his face until he went in to speak with the Lord. Exodus 34:29-34

All who were sitting in the Sanhedrin looked intently at Stephen, and they saw that his face was like the face of an angel. Acts 6:15

Then the eyes of both of them were opened, and they realized they were naked; so they sewed fig leaves together and made coverings for themselves... The Lord God made garments of skin for Adam and his wife and clothed them. Gen 3:7,21

Our God is a consuming fire Heb 12:29

I came across this in an old journal from 1898:

Before the fall, not a cloud rested upon the minds of our first parents to obscure their clear perception of the character of God. [notice the emphasis here – on clarity in knowing God's character] They were perfectly conformed to the will of God. For a covering, a beautiful light, the light of God, surrounded them. The Lord visited the holy pair, and instructed them through the works of his hands. Nature was their lesson-book. In the garden of Eden the existence of God was demonstrated in the objects of nature that surrounded them. Every tree of the garden spoke to them. The invisible things of God were clearly seen, being understood by the things which were made, even his eternal power and Godhead. {RH, November 8, 1898 par. 2}

But while it is true that God could thus be discerned in nature, this does not favor the assertion that after the fall a perfect knowledge of God was revealed in the natural world to Adam and his posterity. Nature could convey her lessons to man in his innocence; but transgression brought a blight upon nature, and intervened between nature and nature's God. Had Adam and Eve never disobeyed their Creator, had they remained in the path of perfect rectitude, they could have known and understood God. But when they listened to the voice of the tempter, and sinned against God, the light of the garments of heavenly innocence departed from them; and in parting with the garments of innocence, they drew about them the dark robes of ignorance of God. The clear and perfect light that had hitherto surrounded them had lightened everything they approached; but deprived of that heavenly light, the posterity of Adam could no longer trace the character of God in his created works. {RH, November 8, 1898 par. 3}

This commentary connects the knowledge of God's character with the robes of heavenly light. Jesus said in John 17 that life eternal is that we might know God – eternal death is not knowing God. Coming into a knowledge of God changes us.

This change is necessary in order to live in God's presence. God wants us to be shining lights, not just metaphorically, light of truth, but as we are conformed more and more in mind, thought, brain patterns to be like Him, then we experience closer connection with Him and more and more of His presence abides in us and shines through us, culminating in one day having faces like Moses and Stephen but even more.

Do you think we can experience this before the second coming – as Moses and Stephen did?

One of our founders did:

The service rendered in sincerity of heart has great recompense. "Thy Father which seeth in secret Himself shall reward thee openly." By the life we live through the grace of Christ, the character is formed. The original loveliness begins to be restored to the soul. The attributes of the character of Christ are imparted, and the image of the Divine begins to shine forth. The faces of men and women who walk and work with God express the peace of heaven. They are surrounded with the atmosphere of heaven. For these souls the kingdom of God has begun. They have Christ's joy, the joy of being a blessing to humanity. They have the honor of being accepted for the Master's use; they are trusted to do His work in His name. {DA 312}

And this from the book The Great Controversy describing the time just before Jesus returns:

The voice of God is heard from heaven, declaring the day and hour of Jesus' coming, and delivering the everlasting covenant to His people. Like peals of loudest thunder His words roll through the earth. The Israel of God stand listening, with their eyes fixed upward. Their countenances are lighted up with His glory, and shine as did the face of Moses when he came down from Sinai. The wicked cannot look upon them... {GC 640.2}

Soon there appears in the east a small black cloud, about half the size of a man's hand. It is the cloud which surrounds the Saviour and which seems in the distance to be shrouded in darkness. The people of God know this to be the sign of the Son of man. In solemn silence they gaze upon it as it draws nearer the earth, becoming lighter and more glorious, until it is a great white cloud, its base a glory like consuming fire, and above it the rainbow of the covenant. GC 640

This seem to be what John was saying:

Dear friends, now we are children of God, and what we will be has not yet been made known. But we know that when he appears, we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is.³
Everyone who has this hope in him purifies himself, just as he is pure. 1Jn 3:2,3

Do you realize that unity with the Vine, with God, is more than just unity of attitude, it is being reunited with the very fountain, wellspring, of life, the source of energy in the entire universe. As we come back into a right knowledge of Him, then our minds are transformed to be able to experience greater and greater connectedness with Him until we literally, one day, begin shining, radiating the heavenly light as Adam and Eve did in Eden, and Moses and Stephen did on earth.

Read last paragraph, "By reading the Word..." thoughts?

Where do Christ's words have their impact or effect? In our minds, changing our beliefs, our thoughts, our understanding, our trust, our reality dispelling lies and distortions and returning us to harmony with Him!

WEDNESDAY

The lesson speaks of the importance of prayer – no doubt, but what would you say is the most important aspect of prayer?

To whom you are praying!

- The 450 prophets of baal prayed at Mt. Carmel
- Manasseh prayed and offered his own son to Molech
- Many people pray God will take vengeance on their enemies

The most critical thing it seems is to know the one to whom you are praying.

Then next most critical thing is being real – being honest, if you have hatred in your heart and want someone to die – tell God, but don't stop with that, ask Him if there is a better way to lead you to it and change you to be like Him.

Read last paragraph, “Jesus is our Mediator...” thoughts? What does this mean? What does it mean to pray in Jesus’ name?

But to pray in Christ's name means much. It means that we are to accept His character, manifest His spirit, and work His works. The Saviour's promise is given on condition. "If ye love Me," He says, "keep My commandments." He saves men, not in sin, but from sin; and those who love Him will show their love by obedience. {DA 668.2}

Do you agree? Praying in Jesus’ name is not putting a tag line at the end of your prayer, but praying with the same character, motives and desire as Him, thus you will receive that which you pray for.

What does it mean Jesus is our Mediator in heaven?

Under imposed law models how is mediation described?

- Jesus representing us to the Father to plead mercy and forgiveness from the Father in exchange for the blood payment He has made
- Also, Jesus, in addition to Mary and the Saints pleading for mercy from God because God, in such views must be plead with
- Or, Jesus working to assuage or propitiate God’s wrath, to shield us from God etc.

All this is based on lies about God and lies about God’s design for life, His law.

What does mediation look like under Design Law?

In his efforts to reach God's ideal for him, the Christian is to despair of nothing. Moral and spiritual perfection, through the grace and power of Christ, is promised to all. Jesus is the source of power, the fountain of life. He brings us to His word, and from the tree of life presents to us leaves for the healing of sin-sick souls. He leads us to the throne of God, and puts into our mouth a prayer through which we are brought into close contact with Himself. In our behalf He sets in operation the all-powerful agencies of heaven. At every step we touch His living power. {AA 478.2}

God's people, rescued from the fire by Jesus Christ, have a sense of their sin, feel humbled and ashamed. God sees and recognizes their repentance, and notes their sorrow for sin, which they cannot remove or cancel themselves. But as they pray their prayers are heard, and this is the reason that Satan stands by to resist Christ; because He hears their prayers, He maketh intercession for the saints according to the will of God. He regenerates the sinner, and pardon is written off against his name. This stirs Satan up to resistance. He steps in between the repenting, believing soul and Christ. He seeks to cast his hellish shadow before that soul, to dampen faith, and to make of none effect the words of God. . . . {UL 20.3}

If Satan stands between the soul and Jesus Christ, then the love and acceptance and pardon of Christ are eclipsed--man will be constantly striving to prepare a robe of righteousness to cover his deformity and sin, when Christ wants him to come to Him just as he is, and believe in Him as his personal Saviour. In His tender love, a forgiving Father brings forth His best robe in which to array His returning child. . . . {UL 20.4}

How is Jesus our mediator? He is working in His Spirit Temple, the true temple set up by God and not by human hands, to restore His image in us. In the OT service, twice per day the High Priest would trim the wick on the lamps. This symbolizes working in our hearts to cut away unhealthy and selfish attributes and cause us to shine more brightly for Him every day.

THURSDAY

Read first paragraph, “Paradoxically...” Because we remain vulnerable to temptation from selfish impulses, many believe the old “self” is still alive – but in reality, the self has been renewed, and old habits, conditioned responses, and residual defects remain to tempt us.

The old nature, or fallen humanity that tempts us is not the same as our individuality, and thus we can, via union with Christ and the indwelling Spirit, live free of the control of fear and selfishness, but not the temptations until the second coming.

My paraphrase of a portion of Romans 7:

^{7:14} We know that the law is consistent, reliable and reasonable; but I am inconsistent, unreliable and unreasonable, because the infection of distrust, fear and selfishness has warped my mind and damaged my thinking. ¹⁵ I am frustrated with what I do. For having been restored to trust, I want to do what is in harmony with God and his methods and principles; but I find that even though I trust God, old habits, conditioned responses, preconceived ideas and other remnants of the devastation caused by distrust and selfishness are not yet fully removed. ¹⁶ And if I find an old habit causing me to behave in ways that I now find detestable, I affirm that the law is a very helpful tool revealing residual damage in need of healing. ¹⁷ What is happening is this: I have come to trust God and desire to do his will, but old habits and conditioned responses, which present almost reflexively in certain situations, have not yet been totally eliminated and thus cause me to do things I do not want to do. ¹⁸ I know that my mind was completely infected with distrust, fear and selfishness which totally perverted all my desires and faculties, so that even when distrust has been eradicated and trust has been restored, the damage caused by years of distrustful and selfish behavior has not yet been fully healed. So I find, at times, I have the desire to do what is right, but do not yet have the ability to carry out the desire. ¹⁹ For the old habits and conditioned responses are not the good I want to do; no, they are remnants of my selfish unconverted mind. ²⁰ So, if I find myself doing what I no longer desire to do, it is not I, but vestiges of old habits and conditioned responses that have yet to be removed, and through God's grace will soon be removed.

^{7:21} So, I find this reality at work: When I want to do good, old selfish habits and residual feelings of fear are right there with me. ²² For in my mind I rejoice in God's methods and principles; ²³ but I recognize I remain damaged from years of being infected with distrust and practicing Satan's methods, so that even though the infection of distrust has been removed, the old habits of fear and self-promotion tempt me from within. ²⁴ What a damaged and corrupt man I am! Who will deliver and heal me from a brain and body so diseased and deformed? ²⁵ Praise be to God – for he has provided the healing solution through Jesus Christ our Lord!

So then, I find that in my mind I am now renewed with trust for God and love of his methods, but my brain and body remain damaged by years of self-indulgent behavior.

Read fourth paragraph, "It is not easy..." This is why Eastern Meditation fail as a way to experience spiritual renewal, because it is self trying to empty self of self.

When we choose to say no to the desires of the selfish nature, we suffer in our flesh, but we are done with sin, or deviations from God's design, which occur when we act selfishly.

Last week we talked about the yoke, and how we are to be yoked together with Christ and how a yoke is not a harness but an instrument that shares the load between two animals allowing them to work as a team to pull the load.

Kent Johnson, one of our online listeners, sent this quote from the book The Desire of Ages page 329:

Take My yoke upon you," Jesus says. The yoke is an instrument of service. Cattle are yoked for labor, and the yoke is essential that they may labor effectually. By this illustration Christ teaches us that we are called to service as long as life shall last. We are to take upon us His yoke, that we may be co-workers with Him.

The yoke that binds to service is the law of God. The great law of love revealed in Eden, proclaimed upon Sinai, and in the new covenant written in the heart, is that which binds the human worker to the will of God... {DA 329.3} (notice she didn't say written on stone)

SABBATH

Memory text: "A new commandment I give to you, that you love one another; as I have loved you, that you also love one another." John 13:34 NKJV

What does such love look like? Jesus is the revelation of God's love, then what about today, what does such love look like today?

Is there a checklist for love? Why or why not?

No checklist because love does what is best, and what is best differs depending on the need, depending on the situation.

Therefore, love may, in one place turn the other cheek – but in another place not turn the other cheek – any examples?

If a parent has an unruly 6 year old who, when he doesn't get his way, hits his mother, should the mother allow this to go on and simply turn the other cheek?

Our natural hearts do not want to love, we want to be loved, to be admired, to be adored, to be the center, to be the one praised, to be the one comforted, held, caressed, watched over, protected, delivered, hugged, kissed – but we don't naturally want to put ourselves out for another – especially one who has done us wrong.

It is only as we experience God's love, which takes away our fear and insecurity that we can stop seeking to get our selves filled and start loving others. This what Jesus meant to the woman at the well – the water from Him would overflow from her to others, because it is the water of love.

Read second paragraph, "Why, then did Jesus say..."

Why did humans not have a good understanding of God's love before the incarnation of Christ?

- Traditions
- Lies of Satan
- False theologies and theories of God as punishing
- Self-centeredness
- Unwillingness to be healed

What about after the incarnation of Christ? While it is absolutely true Jesus perfectly revealed God's character of love, do you think the predominate view of God taught around the world today is consistent with what Jesus revealed?

When we think of the remnant people of Revelation, they are described as having the testimony of Jesus – which is what? Is it not the same message about the Father that Jesus gave?

Are we giving the same testimony that Jesus gave about His Father, or do we misrepresent God when we present Him as a dictator who imposes rules and must inflict punishment on the wicked?

And if we are not giving the same message, the same testimony, about God that Jesus gave are we the remnant of Revelation?

Will God inflict punishment or forgive?

When Jesus was being murdered He forgave – do we see God revealed there? Is God two-faced? When He returns will He have a different character than Jesus revealed at the cross?

Louis Farrakhan thinks so, in March 2006 he said:

We are living at a time that was described by Jesus in these words: “If those days were not shortened for his elect sake, no flesh would be saved.” We know that we have now entered that period when we witnessed a tsunami killing over 200,000 people in Asia; an earthquake in Pakistan; storms raging throughout America, fire on one side, water on the other, snow, cold, ice in between...

At the townhall meeting in New Orleans, I pointed out the high Black-on-Black crime rates, rebellion against the will and law of God, and the love of partying and acting foolishness that prevails in the city. I asked them if they did not think that Allah (God) would handle the city as He did two ancient cities that lived in rebellion. I told them Allah (God) brought a punishment to America, but He also brought a punishment to Black people, and that punishment is going to spread. There will be many more disasters that we are not prepared for in this country.

This country glories in its cities and skyscrapers, but Allah (God) is going to bring them down. We are going to know that He is God. ..

The Bible says that in His Second Coming, He will have a sword dripping with blood in His hand. He is not coming back to teach. He is coming back to kill the enemies of His teaching and set up a new government.

Is this the god you worship? Many Christians teach God is like this. Would you treat your unruly children like this?

Note how Louis Farrakhan presents the troubles at the end of time coming from God to punish sin. Contrast that with how Ellen White, one of the founders of our church, presents the troubles at the end of time:

I was shown that the judgments of God would not come directly out from the Lord upon them, but in this way;

They place themselves beyond His protection. He warns, corrects, reproveth, and points out the only path of safety; then if those who have been the objects of His special care will follow their own course, independent of the Spirit of God, after repeated warnings, if they choose their own way, then He does not commission His angels to prevent Satan's decided attacks upon them.

It is Satan's power that is at work at sea and on land, bringing calamity and distress, and sweeping off multitudes to make sure of his prey, and storm and tempest both by sea and land will be, for Satan has come down in great wrath. He is at work. He knows his time is short and, he is not restrained; we shall see more terrible manifestations of his great power than we have ever dreamed of. Manuscript Release vol. 14, p. 3

Any Bible text to support this?

Rev 7:1-3:

After this I saw four angels standing at the four corners of the earth, holding back the four winds of the earth to prevent any wind from blowing on the land or on the sea or on any tree.² Then I saw another angel coming up from the east, having the seal of the living God. He called out in a loud voice to the four angels who had been given power to harm the land and the sea:³ “Do not harm the land or the sea or the trees until we put a seal on the foreheads of the servants of our God.”

What are the four angels actively doing? Holding back, in order to prevent harm. Yet they are described as having power to harm – how? By letting go, of what? Satan and his forces of evil.

And why do they let go? What is the causation of their letting go? The persistent insistence of humans on earth to be out of God's care. Our freewill choices drive God's protective agencies away.

Back to our view of God – is He the source of inflicted punishment or does He forgive? Does God's forgiveness prevent the consequences of persistent rebellion?

In 2007 I was at a speaker's conference in Nashville and for part of the conference we were broken into small groups. One of the members of my small group was Kent Whitaker. In December 2003 he, his wife and two sons Kevin and Bart went out to dinner to celebrate Bart's upcoming graduation from College. They gave Bart a $4000 Rolex as a graduation gift. Kevin, the younger brother drove home and as they approached the house Bart turned back to the car to get his cell phone. (see addendum at end of notes for full story).¹

As they entered the house a masked gunman shot and killed Kevin, Kent's wife and then as Kent stepped into the doorway, he was shot in the chest but survived. As it turned out Bart had arranged with a long time friend to have his family shot and killed so he could inherit the family money. Bart was arrested and put on trial for murder with the prosecutor seeking the death penalty.

If you were Kent, how would you respond?

Kent publicly forgave his son and publicly asked the prosecutor not to seek the death penalty. But the prosecutor sought the death penalty and Bart was found guilty and sentenced to death. He is still on death row today, where Kent visits him every week.

Does God love us less than Kent loves his son? Is God less forgiving than a human father?

Does this mean all will be saved in the end? Why or why not?

When Christ forgave those who crucified Him, were they now His friends? Why not? Were they then saved? Why not?

Salvation is actually healing, renewal, transformation of the character of the one being saved, not simple forgiveness. Salvation is not about getting God to forgive, as God comes to the situation already having forgiven. It is about getting sinners to trust God and allow Him to heal them.

And our trust is undermined by Satanic views of God taught from most religions of the world, including Christianity, when we present God as a severe judge who is the source of inflicted pain and death to the unrepentant. When we present the sin problem and a legal problem, which ends up in a heavenly court for God to judge we misrepresent God as a dictator, His law like human law, and undermine trust.

Last night Christie and I were going through our hymn book and came across a song entitled, The Judgment Has Set page 416. Here are the words:

The judgment has set, the books have been opened;
How shall we stand in that great day,
When every thought, and word, and action,
God, the righteous Judge, shall weigh?

Refrain

*How shall we stand in that great day?
How shall we stand in that great day?
Shall we be found before Him wanting?
Or with our sins all washed away?*

The work is begun with those who are sleeping,
Soon will the living here be tried,
Out of the books of God's remembrance,
His decision to abide.

Refrain

O, how shall we stand that moment of searching,
When all our sins those books reveal?
When from that court, each case decided,
Shall be granted no appeal?

Refrain

On the radio this week I heard a Christian preacher, preaching about the future judgment and how all will stand before the judgment seat of God and have their cases decided. This entire way of thinking is based on a false understanding of God's law and government and thus the character of God is misrepresented. We are not part of the remnant church if we present God like a heavenly dictator.

Tuesday on my way to work I was listening to Christian radio when the host said that sinners cannot stand in the presence of a holy God, but we should be so thankful because when God looks at us he doesn't see our sinfulness but sees the perfect life of His Son, thus He loves us as much as His Son because Jesus died to pay our penalty.

Do you hear the error in this thinking? It could be so beautiful if they simply taught reality – that the Father doesn't see our sinfulness, because we have been renewed by the Spirit to be partakers of the divine nature and it is “no longer I that live but Christ lives in me” and thus God sees Christ when He looks at us because we ARE like Christ in heart, mind and character.

It is unhealed, unrenewed sinners that can't stand, i.e. can't stand to be, in God's presence. But healed sinners will live there forever.

SUNDAY

Read first paragraph, “In spite of...” Why did Christ come to serve and not be served? Because it is the design for life. It was the only course for Him if He wanted to reveal God and cure our condition. It would be like asking, why do you put gasoline and not water in the gas tank of your car? Because it is designed to run on gasoline and if you want it to run then you put gas in it. Likewise, life is designed to run on love, and thus Christ came to be the conduit of God's infinite love flowing back into the species human.

Jesus left the crowds and took time away to recover, rest and rejuvenate, was this an act of selfishness? No, it was living in harmony with the laws upon which life is built to operate. Consider a farmer who gives all his food away and never takes one meal for himself, how many does he feed in the end?

Does a good steward do regular maintenance on their car, home and anything they want to function efficiently? Is it selfish to do so? What about routine maintenance of your body and mind?

Does living God's law of love mean we should always give to those who are hungry?

What about “For even when we were with you, we gave you this rule: “If a man will not work, he shall not eat.”? 2Thes 3:10

Love focuses not merely on the physical, temporal, here and now, but on the eternal, on the character. The physical is a great way to reach people, but if it stops there it is meaningless. The healthcare ministries are pointless if they never lead people to understand God’s design, character, methods and ultimately bring people back to unity with Him.

What does it profit a person to gain the world but lose eternal life. What good does it do to live an extra 10 years as a vegetarian but lose eternal life. But what loss do you have if you die young but have eternal life?

Read last paragraph, “Every act of mercy...” well said!

This love is more than simply emotion, it is full of emotion, but it is also full of understanding, wisdom, comprehension, concern, realism, desire to heal and restore, intent for good, and willingness to suffer to do right.

Read bottom green section – thoughts?

When we think of this we often think of things like:

- running in front of a car to save someone
- or perhaps going to mission field and being stoned or executed
- Or the time of trouble when the righteous will be persecuted
- But what about purposely committing adultery to save someone? Is that an act of love? A Jewish mother in Nazi Germany purposely choosing to commit adultery to get her child on a train out of Germany? Is she sinning or sacrificing self in love? How about if she believes she will be eternally lost for this sin, but willingly sacrifices herself, is willing to never live again to save another. Is this fulfilling what Jesus said, “greater love has no one than to give their life for a friend”?
- what about a soldier who kills others? This was Sgt York, a very religious man who didn’t want to carry arms and didn’t want to kill anyone in WWI, but came to the conclusion he would use arms only to protect and save lives. He ended up the most decorated hero of WWI. Was his willingness to sacrifice self in this way an act of love?

MONDAY

Love you neighbor and the question is “who is my neighbor” Jesus answered that by the story of the Good Samaritan – thoughts? Who is our neighbor?

The lesson answers that basically everyone who needs our help is our neighbor – thoughts?

If you are in a restaurant and see a couple arguing, should you offer to help – they clearly need help, should you offer?

If you see a parent at the grocery store having problems with a child who wants candy and is throwing a fit, should you step up and offer to help?

What about a family member with sickness or injury who needs help – what then?

Where do you draw the line in helping? What does it mean to help? How do you define help?

Does helping mean we do what they ask? Does it mean we do what they want? What does it mean?

When dealing with someone recovering from injury what is more helpful: to do as much as you can for them or as little? Why?

The goal is to help the person recovering recover as much of their autonomy and independence and strength as possible. Therefore, you give as little help as possible, or another way to say it is you require the person to do as much for themselves as they are reasonably able, lest you delay their recovery and even foster their decline.

I had a patient I was consulted to see on the nephrology ward, who had chronic renal failure and was receiving dialysis. She was severely depressed and regressed to the point of not being able to feed herself. Her family was extremely supportive and attentive to her every need. So I transferred her to the psych unit where her family could not stay with her. Within the first 30 minutes on the ward the nurse call light went off and the pt asked the nurse “will you put my glasses on my face” in the most pitiful voice. What would you have done for this terribly sick lady?

Would you have noticed that she had to actually reach over her glasses in order to reach the call light. Noticing this, we, of course, did not do put her glasses on her face for her nor anything else she could do for herself. By the end of the week she was not only up doing all her own dressing, bathing, feeding, but was helping clean up the dining area, putting away dishes etc.

How many saw the movie or read the story The Miracle Worker? About Helen Keller – remember the state she was in with Annie Sullivan came? How did Ms. Sullivan treat Helen? Was she helping?

Helping does not mean doing what the other wants, but what is actually helpful, within the boundaries or lines of authority and responsibility one has to another.

TUESDAY

The lesson asks us to read MT 25:31-46, here it is from my paraphrase:

MT 25:31 “When the Son of Man comes again in his unveiled fiery glory, all his angels will be with him and he will sit upon his throne in heavenly splendor. 32 All humanity will come before him and he will separate the healed, those who have partaken the Remedy, from the unhealed, as easily as a shepherd separates sheep from goats. 33 He will put the healed on his right and the unhealed on his left.

MT 25:34 “Then the King will gladly say to those on his right, ‘Come home, you who have been healed by my Father; receive your inheritance, the kingdom of love, designed for you at the creation of the world. 35 For you lived in harmony with my kingdom of love. I was hungry and you fed me. I was thirsty and you gave me drink. I was a stranger and you invited me home. 36 I didn’t have clothing and you gave me clothes. I was sick and you took care of me. I was in prison and you visited me.’

MT 25:37 “Then the healed, whose hearts are right with God’s kingdom of love, will answer the King and say, ‘Lord, what are you talking about? When did we see you hungry and feed you, or thirsty and give you drink? 38 When were you a stranger to us or without clothes that we needed to clothe you? 39 When did we ever nurse you when sick or visit you in prison?’

MT 25:40 “The King will smile and say, ‘The truth of my kingdom of love is this, whatever love you gave to the least of my family on earth, you gave to me.’

MT 25:41 “Then the King will say to the unhealed, those on his left, whose hearts remain embittered with fear and selfishness, ‘Depart from me you who are terminal, doomed by your condition, go into eternal fire prepared to consume the devil and his angels. 42 For I was hungry and you let me starve. I was thirsty and you let me thirst. 43 I was a stranger and you left me on the street. I needed clothes and you gave me none. I was sick and you let me suffer. I was in prison and you let me be abused.’

MT 24:44 “They will be shocked and protest, ‘Lord, it isn’t so. We never mistreated you. When did we fail to feed you, or give you drink, or invite you home, or provide you clothing, or nurse you when sick or help you in prison?’

MT 25:45 “The King will reply, ‘The truth of my kingdom of love is this, whatever you did not do for one of the least of my earthly family, you did not do for me.’

MT 25:46 “Then they will pass away for all eternity, but the healed, those whose hearts are right, will receive eternal life.”

Why is it that when we love any human we love Jesus? How does Jesus’ kingdom work? How is it constructed? What is the design protocol?

Here is a description from the book Desire of Ages:

But turning from all lesser representations, we behold God in Jesus. Looking unto Jesus we see that it is the glory of our God to give. "I do nothing of Myself," said Christ; "the living Father hath sent Me, and I live by the Father." "I seek not Mine own glory," but the glory of Him that sent Me. John 8:28; 6:57; 8:50; 7:18. In these words is set forth the great principle which is the law of life for the universe. All things Christ received from God, but He took to give. So in the heavenly courts, in His ministry for all created beings: through the beloved Son, the Father's life flows out to all; through the Son it returns, in praise and joyous service, a tide of love, to the great Source of all. And thus through Christ the circuit of beneficence is complete, representing the character of the great Giver, the law of life. {DA 21.2}

Functionally, how does God's kingdom operate? So when we love others, we reconnect the circuit of beneficence and increase the love flowing from God, through Christ, through us, back to Christ and the Father again.

God's kingdom operates on the principle of giving, the more you give the more you receive – consider the garden hose of your home, connected to a municipal source and the fire hydrant on the street. You open the garden hose up full and the fire hydrant up full, which gives away more water? Which receives more to it? And all water eventually runs back to the sea – so the more love we give to others the more love we actually give to God as not only our love goes to God, but so does the people who love in response to our love.

WEDNESDAY

What does it mean to love your enemies? Do you find this hard? What helps?

The more I understand reality, God's design, know God, understand what sin actually does to the sinner, the easier it is to love those who are against me.

Why do we forgive those who mistreat us?

- It is important to understand how sin is transmitted, the pathology and virulence of evil
- When someone does you wrong it plants a seed in your heart/mind, that if it takes root grows into resentment, bitterness, hatred, vengefulness, anger etc. and if not rooted out will harden your heart and ultimately make you like them, going around hurting others and infecting others with evil
- The tool God has given us to root out these seeds when transmitted to us, is the tool of forgiveness
- When we forgive who gets changed by that? We do, we root out the anger, bitterness, resentment, hostility and actually develop an attitude of wanting to see the other person enlightened, delivered, healed, transformed into a trustworthy person who loves others more than self. We develop compassion for them rather than hatred toward them.

- Does that mean we can trust them? No, because trust is only safely extended to the trustworthy. To trust the untrustworthy is to live a lie and injury comes from lies.

Read last paragraph, “In order...” How does God reward us for loving our enemies?

Remember the parable of the workers – the landowner went out in the morning and recruited people to work in the field and told them they would receive a full day’s wage, then more at noon, and then more with one hour left in the day. Then paid them last to hire first, and gave everyone the same full day’s pay, but those who worked all day were angry and upset. What do you think of this parable?

Why were they upset? Because they thought their pay was arbitrary, in other words simply determined by the landowner – but the metaphor points to reality and the reality is our reward is eternal life. Whether we come to God early and live our entire lives for Him, or late like the thief on the cross, all get the same reward, eternal life with God.

But what those who worked all day failed to realize is that they had the blessing of industry, accomplishment, purpose, meaning to their lives; they lived with hope, while those not working had none of these and lived in fear and uncertainty. Those who come to God early have peace with God, the joy of His presence in their life, meaning, purpose, industry, advancement in maturity, hope – while those not in active relationship with God have none of these, but live in anxiety, uncertainty, and franticness so even if they come to God before they die and experience eternal life, they cheated themselves of a blessed life on earth.

THURSDAY

Read first paragraph, “Jesus’ teachings...” thoughts? It is impossible if we think it is our work to do. It is impossible when we teach a legal religion in which salvation is getting sins paid and pardon stamped by our names. However, when we come back to the truth about God, His kingdom and methods we actually experience change in us, we expect, desire, pursue and choose to move toward a new life in Christ – this is transformational.

When we see others, not as criminals, who justly deserve punishment, but as children of God, dying in a terminal condition, our hearts are aroused with compassion to reach them with God’s Remedy.

Read bottom two paragraphs, “Our daily need...” thoughts?

FRIDAY

Read and discuss questions.

1 During Son's Trial, Father Describes Scene Of 2003 Family Murders
by Bob Dunn, Feb 26, 2007, 11 55 PM

In opening testimony in the murder trial of Bart Whitaker, the defendant's father, Kent Whitaker, described how he lay on his front porch with a gunshot wound to his chest, knowing other family members had been shot and wondering if any were still alive.

Bart Whitaker, 26, is on trial for his life in the 2003 shooting deaths of his mother, Patricia Whitaker, and younger brother, Kevin Whitaker. Like his wife and younger son, Kent Whitaker also was shot once in the chest as he entered his Sugar Land home that night, but he survived.

Bart Whitaker is accused of plotting with Chris Brashear, 23, Bart's former roommate, and Steven Champagne, 24, to kill Whitaker family members for the inheritance Bart Whitaker stood to gain. Fort Bend County District Attorney John Healey is seeking the death penalty in the case, against Kent Whitaker's wishes.

Testifying under questioning by Assistant Fort Bend County District Attorney Fred Felcman in the opening day of the trial, in 400th District Judge Clifford Vacek's court, Kent Whitaker, a long-time accountant in a family construction business, said he felt for months there was "an equal chance" that Bart was innocent in the shootings. But shortly after his son's arrest in September 2005 "I realized he was guilty."

Also during his testimony, Kent Whitaker described events that led up to the shooting. During that testimony, and throughout opening arguments in the trial, Bart Whitaker, wearing a gray suit, close-cropped hair, and a mustache and goatee, sat completely still, staring at the table in front of him.

It was Dec. 10, 2003, and Kent Whitaker's family was just returning from a Pappadeaux's restaurant where they'd been celebrating what they thought was elder son Bart Whitaker's pending graduation from Sam Houston State University. Patricia Whitaker had picked out a $4,000 Rolex watch as Bart's present.

Kevin Whitaker was driving the family back to his parents' home on Heron Way. Since Kevin had his keys with him, he was the first to the front door, followed by Patricia and Kent, who testified that Bart told the others he had to go back to the car to retrieve his cell phone.

Killer In The House

"I heard a loud noise" as Kevin opened the front door and entered the house," Kent Whitaker testified. "I didn't recognize it as a gunshot."

He said he saw his wife walk through the doorway. "She said 'Oh, no,' and I heard another loud noise."

Kent Whitaker said he then "stepped forward into the doorway, and that was where I saw the gunman. If I remember correctly, he had on a dark sweater and a ski mask. He did not say anything."

But he fired again, hitting Kent Whitaker in the chest, the bullet traveling into his shoulder, where it broke his humerus – the upper arm bone.

"When I was shot it knocked me backwards, out of view of the front door, on the front porch," Kent Whitaker said. "When I rolled over, I realized my arm was broken...I realized there was a gunman inside."

Incapacitated and without a weapon, he said he called out, trying to get a response from his sons and wife. Instead, "I did hear a fourth shot," Kent Whitaker said. "And I thought to myself, 'my God, he shot all of us.'"

Bart Whitaker, the last family member to enter the home that night, was shot in the arm but, like his father, recovered. Prosecutors believe Brashear was the gunman, and shot Bart Whitaker as part of a ruse designed to make it appear to police that the family had surprised a burglary in progress.

Kent Whitaker testified that he was lying on the ground for perhaps only 20 or 30 seconds when his neighbor, Cliff Stanley, approached. "He said 'hang on, buddy, help's on the way. We called 911.'"

"By that time I had looked down at my chest, and noticed the red stain was spreading," Kent Whitaker said. He recalled Stanley taking off his T-shirt, balling it up and pressing it gently into Whitaker's chest.

Continuum Of Right And Wrong

Later, paramedics and police seemed to “come swarming out.” Kent Whitaker kept asking what had happened to his family, but paramedics wouldn’t tell him. Then, he said, he overheard one police officer asking another “what do you want to do with the DOA?”

“So I did know one of them was dead, but I didn’t know who,” Kent Whitaker testified. Then he heard a paramedic say his wife was going to be flown by helicopter to a hospital “and that made my heart jump with joy.” But then he realized one of his sons had to be dead. And shortly thereafter, his wife died, too.

Kent Whitaker testified that for some time he believed Bart Whitaker was innocent in the shootings. “The police had been telling me for some time that he was a suspect...but he was telling me he was not involved,” Kent Whitaker said of his son, Bart.

“I told him I didn’t know where he was on this continuum of right and wrong, but that I was going to stand with him, and he needed to stand up, too.”

Kent Whitaker hired an attorney and a private investigator on his son’s behalf.

But six months after the murders, aware that Sugar Land Police detectives had been talking regularly to some of his acquaintances, Bart Whitaker disappeared.

Felcman said in opening arguments that police learned Bart had paid a man $2,500 to smuggle him into Mexico on June 28, 2004. Noting that police weren’t informed of Bart Whitaker’s disappearance until nine days later, Felcman asked Kent Whitaker why.

“We wanted to find him before the authorities did. He had not been told he had to stay in Fort Bend County. He had not been told he was a suspect. As far as I knew, he had every right” to leave the area, Kent Whitaker said, adding that at the time, he still “thought there was an equal chance he was innocent.”

Asked by Felcman if he now believes Bart Whitaker induced Chris Brashear to shoot the family members, Kent Whitaker replied that “the shortage of evidence I have seen” leads him to that conclusion.

Bart Whitaker was arrested at the Mexico-U.S. border in September 2005, transported to Fort Bend County and incarcerated in the county jail in Richmond.

Kent Whitaker described a visit with him there, with bullet-proof glass separating them.

“He said ‘dad, I’m so sorry. I’m sorry for everything.’ I realized he was guilty, and willing to confess,” Kent Whitaker testified.

Christmas Card For The Prosecutor

Kent Whitaker later said “Bart was trying to confess,” but added that Felcman and Bart Whitaker’s former attorney Dan Cogdell “did not seem to realize” it.

Cogdell was later replaced in the case by current defense attorney Randy McDonald.

Under further questioning by Felcman, Kent Whitaker revealed that in December 2006, while Bart Whitaker was in the Fort Bend County Jail, Bart purchased a Christmas card at the commissary, wrote several sentences on it, and sent it to Felcman.

As he entered the card into evidence, Felcman indicated language in the card had been upsetting to him. He asked Kent Whitaker, “Did the defendant ever tell you why I should concentrate on my family?”

“I see where you are going with this,” Kent Whitaker replied. “He told me he missed his family so much...he just didn’t want anyone to lose sight of that... I can’t see any reason it should have been interpreted any way other than the way it was intended.”

Kent Whitaker also said “a lot of time has passed since these things have happened,” adding that Bart “has confessed his sins to Christ, and accepted him as is lord and savior.”

During the trial Felcman played a recording of a telephone conversation during a call Bart Whitaker placed from the county jail to his father, on Dec. 10, 2005, the second anniversary of the murders.

Bart Whitaker referred to an apparent meeting between his attorneys and Felcman.

“Felcman said there were only two options – death or life without parole,” Bart Whitaker said in the taped conversation.

“When I left Felcman’s office, I felt like there was a very positive mood there,” Kent Whitaker replied. “The other possibility, Bart, is that Healey, the head DA, may be looking to just burn you... He may be listening to the police department.”

Bart was found guilty and sentenced to death.

Below are comments from readers regarding the case

Jonanna Zeagler - Feb 27, 07:44 PM

I think they should question the father further as a suspect as well. Also I think Bart deserves the death penalty.

Cheryl Cox - Feb 27, 10:02 PM

Oh my goodness, you must not know this case or this family to even suggest Kent would have anything to do with this. Bart might deserve the death penalty but I think they should give some weight to the father’s wishes. He lost more here than anyone.

JM - Feb 27, 10:26 PM

He absolutely does NOT deserve the death penalty. Hasn’t his wonderful family suffered enough? Just to lose another child? too much!

concerned.citizen - Feb 28, 12:10 AM

The pain and anguish Bart has caused his family is horrendous. I live in their neighbor and was home the night it happened. The whole neighborhood was terrified for weeks/months. Bart’s evil actions effected many many people....all for money...and the lies and betrayal to his family.....he is a socio-path and must pay for what he did.....

Shannon C. - Feb 28, 02:36 AM

To those who think he doesn’t deserve the death penalty: He was willing to murder his own family for money. What do you think he would do to yours if he thought he could get something out of you?? People like that don’t deserve to breathe the same air that my family does. Or yours for that matter.

someone else - Feb 28, 05:56 AM

Kent Whitaker has already lost his entire family. Giving the defendant life in prison won’t change that.

Sign of the Times - Feb 28, 07:58 AM

If there was ever a crime that warranted the death penalty...this is it. To kill your own mother and brother for money! That is the worst.

Elizabeth - Feb 28, 10:42 AM

I have already said something like this on another article, but I think it’s relevant to this topic: We don’t put to death EVERY murderer. We are only supposed to apply the death penalty under certain circumstances, and this case does NOT meet those specifications. Also, it is inappropriate to traumatize and re-victimize Kent Whitaker by killing his last living child. We are too blood-thirsty in Texas. It needs to stop.

someone else - Feb 28, 05:17 PM

you are wrong.

TexasRose - Feb 28, 05:41 PM

Bart is NOT a child...

John Zeagler - Feb 28, 07:05 PM

It takes a cold hearted, greedy son to sit and eat a meal with his family knowing he had hired someone to kill them in a matter of minutes. If you need someone to throw the switch on this boy, call me, it will make us all safer. We can and should take his life and let God decide about his soul. It’s funny how people like this animal only ask for forgiveness when they get caught. I too, think the father should be investigated further; it’s hard to believe this boy did the things he did prior to this and went completely undetected, or unchecked. Let’s not forget Jim Bakker’s misguided deeds for money.

SABBATH

What is the church? Who makes up the church?

My brothers, some from Chloe’s household have informed me that there are quarrels among you. ¹² What I mean is this: One of you says, “I follow Paul”; another, “I follow Apollos”; another, “I follow Cephas”; still another, “I follow Christ.”

¹³ Is Christ divided? Was Paul crucified for you? Were you baptized into the name of Paul? 1Cor 1:12, 13

What is Paul saying? If he was speaking today what might he say, “One of you says ‘I follow Calvin,’ another ‘Wesley,’ another ‘Ellen White,’ still another ‘I follow Christ.’ Is Christ divided...?”

What is the church? Is it a denomination? Do we show we are growing up into maturity by divisions? Listen to Paul in Chapter 3 of 1Cor:

Brothers, I could not address you as spiritual but as worldly—mere infants in Christ. ² I gave you milk, not solid food, for you were not yet ready for it. Indeed, you are still not ready. ³ You are still worldly. For since there is jealousy and quarreling among you, are you not worldly? Are you not acting like mere men? ⁴ For when one says, “I follow Paul,” and another, “I follow Apollos,” are you not mere men?

⁵ What, after all, is Apollos? And what is Paul? Only servants, through whom you came to believe—as the Lord has assigned to each his task. ⁶ I planted the seed, Apollos watered it, but God made it grow. ⁷ So neither he who plants nor he who waters is anything, but only God, who makes things grow. ⁸ The man who plants and the man who waters have one purpose, and each will be rewarded according to his own labor. ⁹ For we are God’s fellow workers; you are God’s field, God’s building. 1Cor 3:1-9

Heb 5-6 says those who are on milk “are not acquainted with righteousness” – in other words they are not righteous. Those described as being on milk are still worldly – and what is his description of this? Divisions within the church arguing over who follows who, would this include denominational divisions?

My paraphrase of 1Cor 3:1-9:

1 Corinthians 3:1 My dear brothers, I was not able to address you as grown-ups who have been enlightened by the truth about God’s character of love, whose minds have actually been regenerated to be like Christ’s. No, I had to speak to you as those still infected with the principles of the world, the survival of the fittest methods, people who are just starting God’s treatment plan, newborn babes in Christ. 2 Therefore, I gave you baby food, the a,b,c’s of God’s treatment plan. And instead of growing up beyond the basics many of you have preferred the elementary teachings and are still not ready to grow up in Christ Jesus. 3 In fact, the infection of selfishness, which the world loves, still dominates your lives. Is this not demonstrated by your persistent jealousy, arguing, bickering and infighting? Are you not acting just like the rest of the world looking out for yourselves and promoting your own agenda rather than surrendering all you have for the cause of Christ? 4 You even promote the spirit of division and competition, just like the world, and turn the mind away from Christ when you say, “I’m a follower of Paul,” and another says, “Yeah, but I follow Apollos.”

1 CO 3:5 What, after all, is Paul? Or what is Apollos? We are merely aides of God, conduits of his who have brought you the same healing Remedy – each doing the part in the healing process the Lord has assigned. 6 I planted the truth about God and Apollos watered this truth with the wisdom God has given him, but it is God who causes the truth to grow and bring forth fruit of a Christlike character. It is God who heals; it is God who restores. 7 So neither he who plants the truth about God nor he who waters this truth is of any significance – the only important thing is God, who is the only source of life, the only source of healing. 8 So you see, the man who plants the truth and the man who waters it have the very same purpose – to see God’s image fully restored in man, and such labor brings its own reward. 9 For we are co-workers with God; and you are the field in which we labor. You are God’s building upon which we work.

Any thoughts on how we should view denominations?

John Wesley's Dream:

John Wesley had a dream which affected his life's work tremendously. He dreamed that he died and came to the gate of heaven. He was anxious to know who had been admitted, so he questioned the keeper:

"Are there any Presbyterians here?"
"None", replied the keeper of the gate.

Wesley was surprised. "Have you any Anglicans?" he asked.
"No one!" was the reply

"Surely, there must be many Baptists in Heaven?"
"No, none", replied the keeper.

Wesley grew pale. He was afraid to ask his next question:
"How many Methodists are there in heaven?"
"Not one," answered the keeper quickly.

Wesley's heart was filled with wonder. The angel at the gate then told Wesley that there were no earthly distinctions in heaven. "All of us here in heaven are one in Christ. We are just an assembly who love the Lord".

Wesley was then taken downward, downward to the entrance of Hell. He met the keeper of the gate there.

"Have you any Presbyterians here?" asked Wesley.
"Oh, yes, many," answered the keeper.

Wesley stood still, "Have you any Anglicans?" he asked.
"Yes, yes, many", answered the keeper.

"Are there Baptists in there"? Wesley continued to ask.
"Of course, many," replied the keeper.

"Wesley was afraid to ask the next question. "Are there any Methodists in Hell?"
The keeper of the gate grinned. "Oh Yes, there are many Methodists here."

Wesley could hardly speak. "Tell me, have you any there who love the Lord?"
"No, no, not one, not one" he answered. "No one in Hell loves the Lord"!

What about SDAs, will there be SDAs in heaven? What about in hell?

What do you take as the truth of this dream? It affected Wesley profoundly and his theology was shaped by it.

John Wesley's words:

"What then is the mark? Who is a Methodist, according to your own account?" I answer: A Methodist is one who has "the love of God shed abroad in his heart by the Holy Ghost given unto him;" one who "loves the Lord his God with all his heart, and with all his soul, and with all his mind, and with all his strength. God is the joy of his heart, and the desire of his soul; which is constantly crying out, "Whom have I in heaven but thee? and there is none upon earth that I desire beside thee! My God and my all! Thou art the strength of my heart, and my portion for ever!"

If any man say, "Why, these are only the common fundamental principles of Christianity!" thou hast said; so I mean; this is the very truth; I know they are no other; and I would to God both thou and all men knew, that I, and all who follow my judgment, do vehemently refuse to be distinguished from other men, by any but the common principles of Christianity, -- the plain, old Christianity that I teach, renouncing and detesting all other marks of distinction. And whosoever is what I preach, (let him be called what he will, for names change not the nature of things,) he is a Christian, not in name only, but in heart and in life. He is inwardly and outwardly conformed to the will of God, as revealed in the written word. He thinks, speaks, and lives, according to the method laid down in the revelation of Jesus Christ. His soul is renewed after the image of God, in righteousness and in all true holiness. And having the mind that was in Christ, he so walks as Christ also walked.

Did Wesley leave out anything essential from this statement?

How many groups does the Bible describe when Christ returns? Two:

- Sheep and goats
- Virtuous woman and harlot
- Fruitful vine and withered vine
- Wheat and tares
- Saved and lost

Do we equate our denomination with the God's church on earth? Is it?

This is what EGW said:

There is a strife between the forces of good and evil, between the loyal and the disloyal angels. Christ and Satan are not at an agreement, and they never will be. In every age the true church of God has engaged in decided warfare against satanic agencies. Until the controversy is ended, the struggle will go on between wicked angels and wicked people on the one side, and holy angels and true believers on the other. {Christ Triumphant 28.2}

Satan is trying to lead men and women away from right principles. The enemy of all good, he desires to see human beings so trained that they will exert their influence on the side of error, instead of using their talents to bless their fellow men. And multitudes who profess to belong to God's true church are falling under his deceptions. They are being led to turn away from their allegiance to the King of heaven. {Counsels to Parents, Teachers and Students 494.1}

What might it look like to be led away from God's true principles? What is a principle? A design protocol – and how do people get led away from principles? By replacing them with imposed rules, arbitrary commands – this is how Rome infected the church with the idea that God's law is a list of imposed rules.

The life of Christ was a life charged with a divine message of the love of God, and he longed intensely to impart this love to others in rich measure. Compassion beamed from his countenance, and his conduct was characterized by grace, humility, truth, and love. Every member of his church militant must manifest the same qualities, if he would join the church triumphant. The love of Christ is so broad, so full of glory, that in comparison to it, everything that men esteem as great, dwindles into insignificance. When we obtain a view of it, we exclaim, O the depth of the riches of the love that God bestowed upon men in the gift of his only begotten Son! {Christian Education 76.3}

What is the church militant? It is a church at war – whereas the church triumphant is the church when the war is ended.

So, what kind of war is this and with what weapons do we fight?

For though we live in the world, we do not wage war as the world does. ⁴ The weapons we fight with are not the weapons of the world. On the contrary, they have divine power to demolish strongholds. ⁵ We demolish arguments and every pretension that sets itself up against the knowledge of God, and we take captive every thought to make it obedient to Christ. 2Cor 10:3-5

What kind of war is this? Where is it fought? What weapons do we use?

From the quote above “Compassion beamed from his countenance, and his conduct was characterized by grace, humility, truth, and love. Every member of his church militant must manifest the same qualities, if he would join the church triumphant.”

Why are these the weapons we use? Because they are the methods of God's kingdom, the opposite of the world, weapons designed to restore God's image in humanity:

- truth destroys lies and wins to trust
- compassion disarms guardedness
- grace overcomes prejudice
- humility defeats pride and arrogance
- love destroys selfishness and transforms the soul

How do we obtain and utilize these weapons?

We must choose them, we must develop an attitude of heart that loves and longs for the truth – and therefor spends time studying, searching, meditating, contemplating, considering, examining, praying, under the direction of the Holy Spirit. As we do so, studying and meditating on God's character and methods we are awed and want to be more like him and consciously and unconsciously begin incorporating His methods into our own lives.

But if we hold false view of God, then we study the Bible and come away with false conclusions and become more like the false god we worship.

When we consider the church do we find only those who are part of God's true church as members in the church? This is what our church founders thought of that idea:

Has God no living church? He has a church, but it is the church militant, not the church triumphant. [meaning what? the church is at war, and the war is for the hearts and minds of people, a war over two methods, principles of living, a war over love versus selfishness] We are sorry that there are defective members. . . .While the Lord brings into the church those who are truly converted, Satan at the same time brings persons who are not converted into its fellowship. While Christ is sowing the good seed, Satan is sowing the tares. There are two opposing influences continually exerted on the members of the church. One influence is working for the purification of the church, and the other for the corrupting of the people of God. . . . {FLB 305.2} [do you believe this? there are influences WITHIN the church that are working for the corruption of God's people? What would those influences look like? Would it not be those influences which are antagonistic to the truth about God? Those influences which represent God as severe, arbitrary, imposing laws, punishing, the source of inflicted torment and death?]

Although there are evils existing in the church, and will be until the end of the world, the church in these last days is to be the light of the world that is polluted and demoralized by sin... {FLB 305.3}

Then I found this perspective very interesting:

The church militant is not in this world the church triumphant. From generation to generation, the enemy has been marshaling his forces against God. His enmity against the law of God has increased as time has passed. And his followers are at enmity with any one who has moral courage to depart from evil, and bear witness to the truth. They pay no respect to the divine law, but they are strict in enforcing human laws. [How do you hear that statement? Do you hear it as, “They pay no respect to the design protocols of love upon which God constructed life to operate, but they strictly enforce imposed rules...”? And could those human rules be constituted around the commandments?] They are not in harmony with God. They are not attracted by his righteousness. In their human judgment they will condemn men who conscientiously keep the commandments of God. But God's children will not be frightened from their purpose by the proud, presumptuous opposition of evildoers. By faith they see a crown of life awaiting those who are victorious, and they press forward toward the mark for the prize of their high calling in Christ Jesus. {RH, July 26, 1898 par. 8}

Does conscientious commandment keeping mean conformity to a checklist of rules? Or is it about a heart loyal to God?

Does conscientious commandment keeping mean we are being led by a clear conscious to live in harmony with God's design for life, which is to love God and others more than self?

Would this mean we would be willing to heal a person on Sabbath? Or would we instead, refuse to heal a person, in order to keep the Sabbath rule?

Is keeping God's law about focusing on self and what we must do or not do, or is it about focusing on God, understanding His kingdom, seeking to magnify His methods, revealing His character in how we conduct ourselves and thus how we treat others? Thus on Sabbath we are eager to do anything which would be a blessing to God and our fellow humanity? Or do we refrain if it violates a rule of the institution?

Why did Christ heal the paralytic on Sabbath – the man had been paralyzed for decades – could Christ not have waited a day, or gotten there a day earlier? Why did Christ instruct the man to pick up his mat and carry it on Sabbath? Could He not have healed the man without instructing him to carry his mat? Why did He do it?

Because Christ was demonstrating the difference between God's law, God's principles, God's design for life and Satan's infection of imposed rules.

Which law is predominant in what you have seen in Christianity today?

Jesus had come to "magnify the law, and make it honorable." He was not to lessen its dignity, but to exalt it. The scripture says, "He shall not fail nor be discouraged, till He have set judgment in the earth." Isaiah 42:21, 4. He had come to free the Sabbath from those burdensome requirements that had made it a curse instead of a blessing. {DA 206.1}

For this reason He had chosen the Sabbath upon which to perform the act of healing at Bethesda. He could have healed the sick man as well on any other day of the week; or He might simply have cured him, without bidding him bear away his bed. But this would not have given Him the opportunity He desired. A wise purpose underlay every act of Christ's life on earth. Everything He did was important in itself and in its teaching. Among the afflicted ones at the pool He selected the worst case upon whom to exercise His healing power, and bade the man carry his bed through the city in order to publish the great work that had been wrought upon him. This would raise the question of what it was lawful to do on the Sabbath, and would open the way for Him to denounce the restrictions of the Jews in regard to the Lord's day, and to declare their traditions void. {DA 206.2}

Jesus stated to them that the work of relieving the afflicted was in harmony with the Sabbath law. It was in harmony with the work of God's angels, who are ever descending and ascending between heaven and earth to minister to suffering humanity. Jesus declared, "My Father worketh hitherto, and I work." All days are God's, in which to carry out His plans for the human race. If the Jews' interpretation of the law was correct, then Jehovah was at fault, whose work has quickened and upheld every living thing since first He laid the foundations of the earth; then He who pronounced His work good, and instituted the Sabbath to commemorate its completion, must put a period to His labor, and stop the never-ending routine of the universe. {DA 206.3}

Should God forbid the sun to perform its office upon the Sabbath, cut off its genial rays from warming the earth and nourishing vegetation? Must the system of worlds stand still through that holy day? Should He command the brooks to stay from watering the fields and forests, and bid the waves of the sea still their ceaseless ebbing and flowing? Must the wheat and corn stop growing, and the ripening cluster defer its purple bloom? Must the trees and flowers put forth no bud nor blossom on the Sabbath? {DA 206.4}

In such a case, men would miss the fruits of the earth, and the blessings that make life desirable. Nature must continue her unvarying course. God could not for a moment stay His hand, or man would faint and die. And man also has a work to perform on this day. The necessities of life must be attended to, the sick must be cared for, the wants of the needy must be supplied. He will not be held guiltless who neglects to relieve suffering on the Sabbath. God's holy rest day was made for man, and acts of mercy are in perfect harmony with its intent. God does not desire His creatures to suffer an hour's pain that may be relieved upon the Sabbath or any other day. {DA 207.1}

Read Memory text: “ ‘ I do not pray for those alone, but also for those who will believe in Me through their word; that they all may be one, as You, Father, are in Me, and I in You; that they also may be one in Us, that the world may believe that You sent Me.’ ” John 17:20,21 NKJV thoughts? What is Jesus describing? This is at-one-ment. This is the true Biblical meaning of atonement. This is restoring God's creation back into harmony, unity, oneness of heart and mind and motive and principle with God.

Biblical atonement is about regeneration, not about legal adjustment.

The atonement of Christ is not a mere skillful way to have our sins pardoned; it is a divine remedy for the cure of transgression and the restoration of spiritual health. It is the heaven-ordained means by which the righteousness of Christ may be not only upon us, but in our hearts and characters.--Letter 406, 1906. {7BC 464.2}

The Father loves us, not because of the great propitiation, but He provided the propitiation because He loves us. Christ was the medium through which He could pour out His infinite love upon a fallen world. "God was in Christ, reconciling the world unto himself." God suffered with His Son, in the agony of Gethsemane, the death of Calvary; the heart of Infinite Love paid the price of our redemption--The Home Missionary, April, 1893. {7ABC 472.5}

What does it mean "Infinite Love paid the price of our redemption"? What is the price? What was necessary for our salvation – which is the perfect life and death of Jesus – why is this the price?

Well it depends on your developmental level as to which answer you give. If one is still an infant, as we talked about in the beginning of the lesson, a person on milk, not acquainted with righteousness then the answer one gives as to the price is different.

1. Reward and punishment – most basic level of understanding whether something is right is if we receive reward and wrong if we are punished. This is a slave mentality. Nazi soldiers who put people in the gas chamber, why did they do it?
 - a. Why did Christ have to die? Because God said don't do something, they did, God got offended and responded with angry vengeance taking the life of Jesus. Jesus had to pay the price of our punishment to God.
2. Marketplace exchange – quid pro quo, you do something for me in exchange for something of equal value in return.
 - a. Why did Christ have to die? Because Satan now had rights to this earth; to the sons of Adam and daughters of Eve, and Christ had to pay the death penalty to Satan. Or Aslan had to give his life to the white witch to free the son of Adam.
3. Social conformity – at this stage right and wrong is determined by community consensus. This is the child who says, "Everyone else is doing it." Right is deemed right by the approval of peers.
 - a. Why did Christ have to die? To win the approval of His Father for the human race.

4. Law and order – right and wrong at this stage is determined by a codified system of rules, external judges and imposed punishments. Respect for properly elected or otherwise constituted authority.
 - a. Why did Christ have to die? To pay the legal penalty the law demanded and the heavenly judge imposed.
5. Love for others – right is seeking the best interest of others, realizing people have value in who they are irrespective of the rules. Right is determined, not by a checklist of rules, but by doing what actually is helpful for another.
 - a. Why did Jesus have to die? Because He loved us too much to let us go and His death was the means to reach us with His love.
6. Principle based living – realizing the design protocols, principles upon which life is designed to operate and living in harmony with them.
 - a. Why did Christ have to die? It was the only means to fix what sin had done to God’s creation – “he who knew no sin became sin for us so that we might become the righteousness of God.” 2Cor 5:21 As the early church fathers taught, Justin Martyr, Ireneus, Jesus died to destroy sin, death, the devil and take man broken off in Adam and restore humanity back to God’s original design. Why? Because only in harmony with how God constructed life to operate is life possible.
7. Enlightened Friend of God – Realizing the truth about God, His character, nature, God’s design for life, the origin of evil, the nature of sin, the weapons of Satan, the original purpose for the creation of humanity, the fall, God’s working through human history, the purpose of the Cross, and the ultimate cleansing of the universe from sin.
 - a. Atonement becomes at-one-ment with God, being restored to God’s full ideal, having the law written on the heart, and operating with the mind of Christ. Doing right because it is right and right doing is pleasing to God.
 - b. Why did Christ have to die? It was the only means whereby God could expose the lies of Satan, reveal the truth about Himself, destroy the infection of selfishness, restore the human species back to His original design, destroy death, and ultimately destroy Satan and sin.

During moral development a person is only capable of comprehending one level beyond their current level of operation. The majority of people operate at level four or below and level four people persecute those operating at level six. Worse, they don’t comprehend level six and claim what they teach doesn’t make any sense. This was what hap

How do we experience the unity Christ prayed for?

Turn to MONDAY and read fourth paragraph, “This kind of unity...” This is well said – we can only have unity, as we have God’s character reproduced within us.

As I tell patients in relationships, that healthy relationships require healthy people – consider Christ and Judas – how healthy was that relationship? Did Christ need to be kinder, more patient, more understanding, more gentle? No, Christ was perfect, but the relationship was still unhealthy.

We cannot have healthy relationships with unhealthy people – likewise people cannot have healthy relationships with us if we are unhealthy.

Thus, the number one action a person can take to have healthy relationships is to focus on becoming, through God's grace, the healthiest person they can be.

So, as we think about unity in the church, our responsibility is to grow ever more Christlike in our character, that is our responsibility. It is not our responsibility to ensure others grow like Christ.

And we can only have God's character reproduced in us as we come back to the truth about God's character. If we hold to lies about God, the lies obstruct the healing of our minds and characters.

TUESDAY

Read second paragraph, "If we have Jesus..." Is the lesson suggesting unity requires we have the same doctrinal beliefs? Like a creed?

I suggest that creeds, fundamental beliefs, cause division, not unity. It provides fodder for argument, disagreement, and taking our focus off of Jesus.

For instance – how many groups fight over:

- the right way to baptize
- the right foods to eat
- the right way to hold communion
- the right form of music
- the right understanding of the Trinity
- the right day to worship upon etc.

But in doing so have either taken their focus off of God and His character and methods, or both groups hold to the same false view of God and His methods.

In the professedly Christian world many turn away from the plain teachings of the Bible and build up a creed from human speculations and pleasing fables, and they point to their tower as a way to climb up to heaven. {CTr 70.4}

The question is, "What is truth?" It is not how many years have I believed that makes it the truth. You must bring your creed to the Bible and let the light of the Bible define your creed and show where it comes short and where the difficulty is. The Bible is to be your standard, the living oracles of Jehovah are to be your guide. You are to dig for the truth as for hidden treasures. You are to find where the treasure is, and then you are to plow every inch of that field to get the jewels. You are to work the mines of truth for new gems, for new diamonds, and you will find them. {FW 77.1}

Do not carry your creed to the Bible, and read the Scriptures in the light of that creed. If you find that your opinions are opposed to a plain "Thus saith the Lord," or to any command or prohibition He has given, give heed to the Word of God rather than to the sayings of men. Let every controversy or dispute be settled by "It is written." ... {OHC 207.3}

When God's Word is studied, comprehended, and obeyed, a bright light will be reflected to the world; new truths, received and acted upon, will bind us in strong bonds to Jesus. The Bible, and the Bible alone, is to be our creed, the sole bond of union; all who bow to this Holy Word will be in harmony. Our own views and ideas must not control our efforts. Man is fallible, but God's Word is infallible. Instead of wrangling with one another, let men exalt the Lord. Let us meet all opposition as did our Master, saying, "It is written." Let us lift up the banner on which is inscribed, The Bible our rule of faith and discipline.-- The Review and Herald, Dec. 15, 1885. {ISM 416.2}

We have made a creed in our church, but we call it a set of Fundamental Beliefs, so people will not realize we have a creed. The definition of a creed, is a set of fundamental beliefs.

And we do injury to people with this, cause division, make it a test of fellowship and burden people making obstructions in salvation. We are divided as a body of believers over doctrines such as, state of the dead, which day to worship upon, how to baptize, how to perform communion etc. When we should be putting the truth about God at the center.

When we evangelize we do not baptize people when they surrender their heart to Christ – instead we require them to first, give up their Sabbath job, cigarettes, alcohol, drugs, porn, or whatever other identifiable sin we can perceive, and then study and then affirm the 28 beliefs before we baptize. Thus we:

- Require them to overcome sin before baptism into Jesus Christ – can we overcome sin in our won strength?
- Merge baptism into Christ with membership into an institutional/denominational church, not the church universal. Thus, if a person becomes hurt by something in the institution and leaves the institution, often they feel as if they have left God. This is not so.

Doctrines are only truly important as they inform us about God and reconnect us to Him. When we separate them from God and make them stand alone tenants, with proof texts, and tests of fellowship we place barriers between people and God and obstruct the healing and transformation God would have us experience.

WEDNESDAY

The lesson points out that gossip is a great barrier to unity.

Why do people gossip? Primarily it is driven by fear and insecurity and not love.

Fear is part of the infection of sin – people gossip because they feel insecure and want to be valued, be important, be special, be recognized as worthwhile, so they bring tales to ingratiate themselves with others.

Such action is not motivated by love – gossip injures – it injures:

- the one gossiped about by hurting their reputation, undermining trust, closing doors and opportunities
- the one gossiping by damaging their character, searing their conscience and destroying love
- the one who hears the gossip because they are now faced with temptation; they must wrestle with the tale, do they allow the gossip to alter their attitudes, thinking, beliefs, associations, do they spread the tale
- the group, who will often be divided into factions and subgroups

What is the best way to handle gossip?

- reflect back at the gossiper –
 - Why did you tell me this?
 - What is your motive?
 - Have you gone to the person to discuss your concerns with them?
 - Do you love the person you are talking about?
 - How is this protective of them?
 - Do you realize you are telling me I can't trust you, that you will share private information in ways that can hurt and destroy?

What do you think would happen if you responded to someone gossiping like this? Do you think they would come back and share more very eagerly?

Maybe that is why we often don't respond this way because some part of us likes hearing the latest tidbits?

THURSDAY

Read first paragraph, "There were..." Were the animal sacrifices necessary, in reality, to experience reconciliation with God, or only necessary within the drama to act out reconciliation with God?

What is the limitation on making things right with others before being reconciled to God? It is one of heart, not action.

If, in your heart, you retain bitterness, hatred, resentment a desire for vengeance toward others, then your heart has a barrier to God operating within it. However, if, in your heart, you have a desire for the good of the other, for their healing, their restoration to righteousness, then you have no barrier with God.

Whether to actually interact with another person however, is determined by wisdom and circumstance. If your action would actually cause harm, or introduce temptation, or incite hostility then one refrains.

When did Christ seek those who were His enemies to initiate a conversation to bring them to reconciliation with Him?

If you committed adultery 20 years ago with your best friend's wife, but you both realized your sin and repented 20 years ago before God, but never told your spouses. Should you go today and tell your spouse or your best friend?

Why or why not?

What is the mission of the church?

The Mission Statement of the United Methodist Church (from their website):

<http://www.umc.org/what-we-believe/section-1-the-churches>

The mission of the Church is to make disciples of Jesus Christ for the transformation of the world by proclaiming the good news of God's grace and by exemplifying Jesus' command to love God and neighbor, thus seeking the fulfillment of God's reign and realm in the world.

Mission statement of the Southern Baptist Convention (from their website):

<http://www.sbc.net/aboutus/missionvision.asp>

As a convention of churches, our missional vision is to present the Gospel of Jesus Christ to every person in the world and to make disciples of all the nations.

Mission Statement of the Roman Catholic Church, (from askcatholic.com) citing the Roman Catholic Catechism:

http://askcatholic.com/_WebPostings/Answers/2000_08AUG/2000AugMissionOfTheChurch.cfm

849 This missionary mandate. "Having been divinely sent to the nations that she might be 'the universal sacrament of salvation,' the Church in obedience to the command of her Founder and because it is demanded by her own essential universality, strives to preach the Gospel to all men.

850 The origin and purpose of the mission. The Lord's missionary mandate is ultimately grounded in the eternal love of the Most Holy Trinity: "The Church on earth is by her nature missionary since, according to the plan of the Father, she has her origin the mission of the Son and the Holy Spirit." The ultimate purpose of mission is none other than to make men share in the communion between the Father and the Son in their Spirit of love.

The Official Mission Statement of the SDA church (from the official church website):

<http://www.adventist.org/information/official-statements/statements/article/go/0/mission-statement-of-the-seventh-day-adventist-church/spirituality/>

The mission of the Seventh-day Adventist Church is to make disciples of all people, communicating the everlasting gospel in the context of the three angels' messages of Revelation 14:6-12, leading them to accept Jesus as personal Savior and unite with His remnant Church, discipling them to serve Him as Lord and preparing them for His soon return.

Which one did you like best and why?

Did you hear any problems with any of them, anything you were uncomfortable with?

The Methodist and Baptist mission statements were quite closely tied to the Bible mandate and thus kept the statements very general.

The Roman Catholic, did have two elements that concerned me – the first being “sent to the nations that she might be 'the universal sacrament of salvation,’” which sounds to me that one must be a member of this organization in order to experience salvation. In other words, salvation is through this particular institutional church. And of course it has been taught that way for years, as a way to coerce kings and people with threats of eternal damnation if one doesn't do what the Pope says. And, the history of burning people at the stake, in order to give last rights and the church “save” them.

The second concern for me is the subtle change in the wording “make disciples” which in Scripture and in the Methodist and Baptist and SDA usage is used to mean to teach people. However, the Catholic version sounds slightly different to me: “The ultimate purpose of mission is none other than to make men share in the communion between the Father and the Son in their Spirit of love.” Does it to you? Perhaps I am reading this in the context of the history of inquisition, burning at the stake, crusades etc., but “make men share in...” sounds coercive here rather than educational. Thoughts?

Then what about the SDA mission statement, any concerns?

Many good things in this statement, “make disciples” is used as in Scripture to teach people, emphasis on the gospel in the setting of the 3 angels, which means in the setting of the Great Controversy over God’s character. This is excellent, presenting the gospel with its universal importance, using the whole of Scripture, all 66 books, not just 62 books that Luther used. I also liked the “leading men” aspect, which implies we leave people free, the importance of service and the expectation of His return. Many great elements – the only phrase that I wonder about is, as part of the mission, what does it mean, “to accept Jesus as personal Savior unite with His remnant Church”?

Are these two separate things, or are they seen as one and the same?

Have we fulfilled our mission if we lead people to Jesus, they are reborn, begin living to serve God and tell people the truth of God’s character in the setting of the Great Controversy and the imminent return of Christ, but not join the SDA organization?

Why am I an SDA?

- Because I don’t believe one has to belong to a particular organization to be saved – one does not have to join the Roman Catholic church and have that organization be the sacrament of my salvation.
- I believe the organizations we have in the world are the progressive steps in advancing truth. God is infinite and we are finite, there is always more truth to understand as we grow in our relationship with Him.
- After the New Testament church, Paul warned a counterattack of Satan would occur – the man of sin would set himself up in God’s temple proclaiming himself to be God. This is the infection of Imperial Roman dictator law and god construct infecting Christianity after Constantine converted. And the world fell in to an age of darkness.
- The Bible predicted however, a reformation and a cleansing of this temple would take place, culminating with a final group to take a clear picture of God’s character to the world for the preparation of His return.
- This groundwork for this cleansing began with John Huss in the early 1400’s, in the Czech republic. He rejected indulgences and taught salvation by grace through faith alone. He was summoned by the Catholic Church to attend the Counsel of Constance where he was found a heretic and burned at the stake in 1415. But from his teachings was founded the Hussites, later to become the Moravian church – the first Protestant church. As this group organized they received ordination through the Waldensians in 1467.
- The groundwork for the cleansing expanded with Luther (1517), but Luther, who rejected the sacraments, indulgences, relics, and also proclaimed salvation by grace through faith along. But he could only take the gospel cleansing so far. Luther rejected four books of the Bible, Revelation – which taught the war in heaven, Hebrews which also taught about the work going on in heaven and the work of our High Priest in heaven, Jude which taught about angels in heaven, and James. Having rejected these four books, Luther didn’t understand the fullness of Christ’s accomplishments, focusing only on one the aspect of the plan of salvation.

- After Luther other reformers carried the truth forward:
 - Calvin (1540's)– defended the reformation in Switzerland
 - John Smyth (1609) – brought in Biblical baptism by immersion to Christianity
 - John Wesley – who argued against Calvinism and predestination, and instead personal choice in relationship with God, which leads to actual heart transformation, living a life of love for God and others.
 - In 1735 Wesley traveled to Savannah, GA. During the trip a storm came up and broke the main mast of the ship. While the majority of the ship panicked, a group of Moravian Christians calmly sang hymns. This deeply moved Wesley. After returning to England he studied with the Moravians, and eventually had his famous dream we shared last week. In 1739 Wesley founded the Methodist Society.
 - William Miller a Baptist preacher began preaching in 1831 the fulfillment of Bible prophecy of the cleansing of the sanctuary, erroneously interpreting the sanctuary to be earth and thus predicted the return of Christ in 1844, which led to the Great Disappointment of 1844
 - Ellen G. White and others – from the seventh-day Baptist discovered the seventh-day Sabbath, also embraced the reformation teachings of Luther, Wesley. In the aftermath of the Great Disappointment discovered the sanctuary to be cleansed was not the earth, nor the physical building built by men, but the heavenly sanctuary, constructed out of intelligent beings. Thus the cleansing of the sanctuary is the cleansing of people from lies about God and selfishness in the heart in preparation for meeting God face to face when Christ returns.
 - This message puts the truth about God at the center of the conflict, we war, as Paul says, against everything that sets itself up against the knowledge of God. We understand the war between good and evil is a universal, not just earthly, war. EGW was raised Methodist, and came to value this larger perspective, which led to a realization of a controversy over God's character and trustworthiness. And led to insights like this, regarding our understanding of religion and our purpose:

The Bible is its own expositor. Scripture is to be compared with scripture. The student should learn to view the word as a whole, and to see the relation of its parts. He should gain a knowledge of its grand central theme, of God's original purpose for the world, of the rise of the great controversy, and of the work of redemption. He should understand the nature of the two principles that are contending for supremacy, and should learn to trace their working through the records of history and prophecy, to the great consummation. He should see how this controversy enters into every phase of human experience; how in every act of life he himself reveals the one or the other of the two antagonistic motives; and how, whether he will or not, he is even now deciding upon which side of the controversy he will be found. {Ed 190.2}

The reason I am a SDA is not because I believe one must be a member of this organization in order to find salvation, but because I see this organization having within it:

- the broadest, deepest, widest, clearest, most reasonable understanding of reality, and God,
- His design for life,
- the war which began in heaven,
- the understanding of sin,
- the purpose for the creation of humankind,
- what actually went wrong in humanity when Adam and Eve sinned,
- God's actions and purposes through human history,
- the purpose of the incarnation, to dispel the lies, to destroy sin, death, the devil, and restore mankind back to perfection,
- understanding of the two antagonistic forces at work in the hearts of men,
- the culmination of events on earth,
- the purpose of God's people on earth and
- the ultimate elimination of sin and restoration of creation to perfection.

No other organization, that I am currently aware of, has such a complete, harmonious understanding of the entire issue.

Yet, this organization, is also infected with false ideas, for which we, in love, work to address and see removed.

So, what is our mission?

Here is what EGW, one of the co-founders of the SDA church, wrote about the mission of the church:

The mission of the church of Christ is to save perishing sinners. It is to make known the love of God to men and to win them to Christ by the efficacy of that love. The truth for this time must be carried into the dark corners of the earth, and this work may begin at home. The followers of Christ should not live selfish lives; but, imbued with the Spirit of Christ, they should work in harmony with Him. {3T 381.1}

There are causes for the present coldness and unbelief. The love of the world and the cares of life separate the soul from God. The water of life must be in us, and flowing out from us, springing up into everlasting life. We must work out what God works in. If the Christian would enjoy the light of life, he must increase his efforts to bring others to the knowledge of the truth. His life must be characterized by exertion and sacrifices to do others good; and then there will be no complaints of lack of enjoyment. {3T 381.2} [why? Because it is a law that strength come by exertion. If you want to be strong physically you must exercise, if you want to strong musically you must practice, in any endeavor. Second, because it is the law of love, that only by giving are you able to receive more. The more you love the more love you receive and more capable of you become.]

Angels are ever engaged in working for the happiness of others. This is their joy. That which selfish hearts would consider humiliating service, ministering to those who are wretched and in every way inferior in character and rank, is the work of the pure, sinless angels in the royal courts of heaven. The spirit of Christ's self-sacrificing love is the spirit which pervades heaven and is the very essence of its bliss. {3T 381.3}

Those who feel no special pleasure in seeking to be a blessing to others, in working, even at a sacrifice, to do them good, cannot have the spirit of Christ or of heaven; for they have no union with the work of heavenly angels and cannot participate in the bliss that imparts elevated joy to them. Christ has said: "Joy shall be in heaven over one sinner that repenteth, more than over ninety and nine just persons, which need no repentance." If the joy of angels is to see sinners repent, will it not be the joy of sinners, saved by the blood of Christ, to see others repent and turn to Christ through their instrumentality? In working in harmony with Christ and the holy angels we shall experience a joy that cannot be realized aside from this work. {3T 381.4}

Any thoughts on how we can do a better job of sharing this with the world?

What are obstacles to sharing this?

SUNDAY

We are to be the light of the world – what does this mean?

By the Babylonish captivity the Israelites were effectually cured of the worship of graven images. During the centuries that followed, they suffered from the oppression of heathen foes, until the conviction became fixed that their prosperity depended upon their obedience to the law of God. But with too many of the people obedience was not prompted by love. The motive was selfish. They rendered outward service to God as the means of attaining to national greatness. They did not become the light of the world, but shut themselves away from the world in order to escape temptation to idolatry. {DA 28.5} thoughts? What was lacking? A desire to obey the law? No, a misunderstanding of God and His law. Thinking it rules to be kept, rather than understanding it as the law of love, the design principle upon which a person actually lives, which transforms the entire being.

"Ye are the light of the world." The Jews thought to confine the benefits of salvation to their own nation; but Christ showed them that salvation is like the sunshine. It belongs to the whole world. The religion of the Bible is not to be confined between the covers of a book, nor within the walls of a church. It is not to be brought out occasionally for our own benefit, and then to be carefully laid aside again. It is to sanctify the daily life, to manifest itself in every business transaction and in all our social relations. {DA 306.5}

True character is not shaped from without, and put on; it radiates from within. If we wish to direct others in the path of righteousness, the principles of righteousness must be enshrined in our own hearts. Our profession of faith may proclaim the theory of religion, but it is our practical piety that holds forth the word of truth. The consistent life, the holy conversation, the unswerving integrity, the active, benevolent spirit, the godly example,-- these are the mediums through which light is conveyed to the world. {DA 307.1}

You mean the religion of the Bible isn't in:

- getting people baptized in the right way?
- worshipping on the right day?
- getting people to know who the beast of Revelation is?
- getting people to believe the right doctrines?

The indwelling of the Spirit will be shown by the outflowing of heavenly love. The divine fullness will flow through the consecrated human agent, to be given forth to others... {COL 419.4}

The religion of Christ means more than the forgiveness of sin; it means taking away our sins, and filling the vacuum with the graces of the Holy Spirit. It means divine illumination, rejoicing in God. It means a heart emptied of self, and blessed with the abiding presence of Christ. When Christ reigns in the soul, there is purity, freedom from sin. The glory, the fullness, the completeness of the gospel plan is fulfilled in the life. The acceptance of the Saviour brings a glow of perfect peace, perfect love, perfect assurance. The beauty and fragrance of the character of Christ revealed in the life testifies that God has indeed sent His Son into the world to be its Saviour. {COL 419.6}

Christ does not bid His followers strive to shine. He says, Let your light shine. If you have received the grace of God, the light is in you. Remove the obstructions, and the Lord's glory will be revealed. The light will shine forth to penetrate and dispel the darkness. You cannot help shining within the range of your influence. {COL 420.1}

The revelation of His own glory in the form of humanity will bring heaven so near to men that the beauty adorning the inner temple will be seen in every soul in whom the Saviour dwells. Men will be captivated by the glory of an abiding Christ. And in currents of praise and thanksgiving from the many souls thus won to God, glory will flow back to the great Giver. {COL 420.2}

This is very much what John Wesley taught, the transformation of the inner person to live a life of Christ, a life of love for God and others. Real transformation and victory over fear and selfishness.

What are the obstructions that we must remove from ourselves in order for this light to shine through us?

The acceptance of the Saviour brings a glow of perfect peace, perfect love, perfect assurance

Is this Christian perfection – being at perfect peace, perfect love and perfect assurance? Notice it is a state of inner being, not one of outward performance?

MONDAY

To Be Witnesses – witnesses about what and to whom?

Any methods you have found effective?

Why is a message about health effective and even essential to sharing the gospel?

What is the gospel? The Good News about God and His methods!

- What laws do the health message operate upon?
 - Does this mirror God's moral law?
- So those who practice the healing arts – what is their attitude toward the sick?
 - Does this mirror God's attitude toward sinners?
- What do doctors/nurses do to their non-compliant patients?
 - Does this mirror God's actions toward unrepentant sinners?
- What is the cause of pain and suffering in the sick?
 - Does this give insight into the cause of pain and suffering of sinners?
- What causes the death of the sick?
 - Does this give insight into the death of the wicked?
- How do doctors and nurses respond when the sick one who dies is their own child?
 - Does this give insight into how God will respond to the eternal death of His children?
- Can the laws of health be changed to meet the sick patient in their sickness?
 - Does this give insight into why God's law cannot be changed to meet sinners in their sin?
- If a patient is sick and dying what needs to change in order for the patient to live – the laws of health, the attitude of the doctor or the condition of the patient?
 - Does this given insight into what needs to change in order for sinners to be saved –and the purpose of Christ's mission?

Does such a perspective help in witnessing the gospel message?

What does it mean to be a Christian?

The question you need to put to yourselves is, "Am I a Christian?" To be a Christian is to be far more than many understand. It means more than simply having your name upon the church records. It means to be joined to Christ. It means to have simple faith, unwavering reliance upon God. It means to have childlike confidence in your heavenly Father through the name and merit of His dear Son. Do you love to keep the commandments of God, because the commandments of God are God's precepts, the transcript of His character, and can no more be altered than can the character of God? Do you respect and love the law of Jehovah? {FLB 130.4}

Is there a connection between being a Christian and:

- being joined with Christ?
- having complete confidence, trust or faith in God?
- Relying on God for outcomes?
- Obeying God's law?
- Loving to obey God's law?

Why can the commandments not be altered? For the same reason the laws of health cannot be altered – they are the principles upon which life is constructed to operate.

And what is true obedience? To love to do it – thus Isaiah says we must call the Sabbath a delight- if it isn't a delight to us, a joy, something we are glad to do we are not obedient. Why not?

Because what God wants is love, not behavioral conformity – when the heart loves then living in harmony with the Designer is a joy.

TUESDAY

So Send I You – what has Jesus sent us to do?

As the Father sent Jesus, Jesus has sent us – so the question – what did the Father send Jesus to do?

To reveal Him, to dispel the lies about God, to win people back to trust in God, and to provide the Remedy to sin!

"As my Father hath sent me, even so send I you." We are to bear as definite a testimony to the truth as it is in Jesus, as did Christ and his apostles. Trusting in the efficiency of the Holy Spirit, we are to testify of the mercy, goodness, and love of a crucified and risen Saviour, and thus be agents through whom the darkness will be dispelled from many minds, and cause thanksgiving and praise to ascend from many hearts to God... {RH, June 25, 1895 par. 1}

It is [Satan's] purpose to cast his hellish shadow, like the pall of death, between God and man, in order that he may hide Jesus from our view, so that he may cause us to forget the ministry of love and mercy, cut us off from further knowledge of God's great love and power to usward, and intercept every ray of light from heaven. {RH, June 25, 1895 par. 2}

Christ alone was able to represent the Deity. He who had been in the presence of the Father from the beginning, he who was the express image of the invisible God, was alone sufficient to accomplish this work. No verbal description could reveal God to the world. Through a life of purity, a life of perfect trust and submission to the will of God, a life of humiliation such as even the highest seraph in heaven would have shrunk from, God himself must be revealed to humanity. In order to do this, our Saviour clothed his divinity with humanity. He employed the human faculties, for only adopting these could he be comprehended by humanity. Only humanity could reach humanity. He lived out the character of God through the human body which God had prepared for him. He blessed the world by living out in human flesh the life of God, thus showing that he had the power to unite humanity to divinity. {RH, June 25, 1895 par. 3}

Christ was the divine and human united, what about us – because of Jesus, because of His victory, can we be a unity of divinity and humanity?

- We have the mind of Christ 1Cor 2:16
- Whereby are given unto us exceeding great and precious promises: that by these ye might be partakers of the divine nature, 2Pet 1:4
- I have been crucified with Christ and I no longer live, but Christ lives in me. Gal 2:20
- Do you not know that your body is a temple of the Holy Spirit, who is in you, whom you have received from God? 1Cor 6:19

Are we to be a unity of humanity and divinity? Can we experience victory over sin in our lives? What does that look like? Love!

WEDNESDAY

Read third paragraph, “Jesus’ mandate indicates...” What is the purpose of baptism? When is baptism to be administered?

Do we administer baptism as they did in New Testament times?

What gets in the way of doing that?

Do creeds help bring unity, or are they sources of division?

I suggest that creeds, fundamental beliefs, cause division, not unity. It provides fodder for argument, disagreement, and takes our focus off of Jesus.

For instance – how many groups fight over:

- the right way to baptize
- the right foods to eat
- the right way to hold communion
- the right form of music
- the right understanding of the Trinity
- the right day to worship upon etc.

But in doing so have either taken their focus off of God and His character and methods, or another way to say it is, fighting over doctrines, without love results in both groups holding to the same false view of God and His methods.

People are no longer baptized into Christ they are baptized into sects, into divided groups based on their creeds.

We make our creeds, our fundamental beliefs, a test of fellowship and burden people with these systems thus making obstructions in salvation. We are divided as a body of believers over doctrines such as, state of the dead, which day to worship upon, how to baptize, how to perform communion etc. when we should be putting the truth about God at the center.

When we evangelize we do not baptize people when they surrender their heart to Christ – instead we require them to first, give up their Sabbath job, cigarettes, alcohol, drugs, porn, or whatever other identifiable sin we can perceive, and then study and then affirm the 28 beliefs before we baptize. Thus we:

- Require them to overcome sin before baptism into Jesus Christ – can we overcome sin in our own strength?
- And worse – we have merged baptism into Christ with membership into an institutional/denominational church, not the church universal. Thus, if a person becomes hurt by something in the institution and leaves the institution, often they feel as if they have left God, but this is not necessarily so.

Doctrines are only truly important as they inform us about God and reconnect us to Him. When we separate them from God and make them stand alone tenants, with proof texts, and tests of fellowship we place barriers between people and God and obstruct the healing and transformation God would have us experience. This is what the Jews did 2000 years ago, with their many doctrines – but disconnected from God they rejected and crucified their Creator when He stood among them.

Our challenge is to put every doctrine in its right setting, how it reveals the truth about God’s character of love. This is what the pamphlet, Fundamental Focus, does, demonstrates every doctrine is actually a revelation of God’s character of love, thus our only true Fundamental Belief is – God is love!

The lesson focuses us on the three angel’s messages of Revelation 14 – and asks “How do these verses encompass the worldwide mission of the church?”

SABBATH

When you hear the word "law" what comes to mind? Try asking people and see what answer you get? I have asked thousands and the predominant answer is: "Rules, regulations, ordinances." Then ask them what is God's law, and you will often hear, "God's rules, regulations and ordinances."

But is it really so? What do you understand God's law to be? What do you understand to be the main thrust of this week's lesson?

That Jesus did not come to change God's law – why is this a point that needs to be made at all?

Would they make the point that Jesus didn't come to change the law of gravity? Then why do they emphasize Jesus didn't come to change God's law? Because they view God's law as some list of rules, similar to manmade laws. Its evidence of the infection from Rome. I think it would be so much more effective to teach the truth about God's law – the law of love, then no one would consider it could be changed.

Ellen White, one of the founders of the SDA church, understood this. Her very first words in the Conflict of the Ages Series are, “‘God is love.’ 1 John 4:16. His nature, His law, is love. It ever has been; it ever will be.” (PP 33)

The Bible writers also understood God's law to be love:

- Love does no harm to its neighbor. Therefore love is the fulfillment of the law. (Rom 13:10)
- The entire law is summed up in a single command: “Love your neighbor as yourself.” (Gal 5:14)

As Jesus said, the entire law is summed up in love for God our fellow man. (Mt 12:37-40)

This love is not sentiment, or emotionalism, it is the very element, code, or principle that life is fabricated upon. Ellen White explicitly wrote that God's law of love is the principle of life:

- In living for self he has rejected that divine love which would have flowed out in mercy to his fellow men. Thus he has rejected life. For God is love, and love is life. COL 258 (emphasis mine)
- But turning from all lesser representations, we behold God in Jesus. Looking unto Jesus we see that it is the glory of our God to give. "I do nothing of Myself," said Christ; "the living Father hath sent Me, and I live by the Father." "I seek not Mine own glory," but the glory of Him that sent Me. John 8:28; 6:57; 8:50; 7:18. In these words is set forth the great principle which is the law of life for the universe. All things Christ received from God, but He took to give. So in the heavenly courts, in His ministry for all created beings: through the beloved Son, the Father's life flows out to all; through the Son it returns, in praise and joyous service, a tide of love, to the great Source of all. And thus through Christ the circuit of beneficence is complete, representing the character of the great Giver, the law of life. DA 21 (emphasis mine)

Satan began a war in heaven – and one of the main focal points in his attack against God was against God's law.

Can Satan change God's law? So how can he attack it? By teaching that God's law is something that it is not and infecting the minds of intelligent beings with false ideas about it.

The evil one taught that God's laws are the kind of laws created beings make – rules, regulations, ordinances – thus diverting loyal minds away from God's true law of love. And lowering God from that of Creator, He who constructs the fabric of reality, to a being no better than us, one who can only make rules and then use power to enforce those rules.

When one understands God's law as the design protocols upon which life is constructed to operate, one realizes that deviations from it are incompatible with life, and such deviations require the Designer to heal and restore the deviant (sinners) to harmony with it, lest death ensue.

But deviations from imposed rules are not incompatible with life and require the ruling authority to inflict death lest unpunished rebellion ensue. This is Satan's view of God – that God is no different than us and makes rules, like we do, and then inflicts punishment to enforce those rules. Ellen White describes her understanding of how the war in heaven began:

In the opening of the great controversy, Satan had declared that the law of God could not be obeyed, that justice was inconsistent with mercy, and that, should the law be broken, it would be impossible for the sinner to be pardoned. Every sin must meet its punishment, urged Satan; and if God should remit the punishment of sin, He would not be a God of truth and justice. (DA 761.4 emphasis mine)

When mankind deviated from God's law, God's law did not change, God did not change, but humankind was changed. Thus Christ came to earth to fix what Adam and Eve did to God's creation. Christ did not come to fix God or God's law, but to actually heal and restore His creation back into harmony with God's design for life (God's law).

And Christ spent the majority of His time healing. Why? Because the laws of health are design laws. A doctor cannot get a patient well in violation of the laws of health, but must do something in the patient to restore him back into harmony with the laws of health. No appeasement, no payment, no legal pardon is of any value without actually restoring the patient to harmony with the laws of health. This was Christ's mission to restore humanity to harmony with God's law of love, the law upon which life is constructed to operate.

This is the covenant I will make with the house of Israel after that time, declares the Lord. I will put my laws in their minds and write them on their hearts. (Heb 8:10 emphasis mine)

But Satan counterattacked all Christ accomplished. The man of sin arose and infected the church with Satan's view of God's law. (2Thes 2:3) Constantine converted and the truth of God's law of love was replaced with Imperial Rome's concept of law and government. Rather than understanding God's law as the design protocols upon which our Creator constructed life to operate, Christianity embraced the lie that God's law is like Rome's, an imposed set of rules, with no inherent consequence, thus requiring the lawgiver to police breeches in the law and inflict punishment for disobedience.

Eusebius (263-339 CE), the first church historian, documents how Christianity exchanged God's law of love for an imposed Roman construct: "With the Roman Empire monarchy had come on earth as the image of the monarchy in heaven."¹

Christians lost sight of God's law of love and accepted an imposed legal system modeled after human governments.

This idea of an imposed law altered the view of God held by Christians and changed how Christianity functioned. Christians went from a body of believers who lived communally, shared their possessions to help each other and died as martyrs, to an organization of Crusades, Inquisition, burning dissenters at the stake, and active participants in genocide (Nazis in Germany and Christians in Rwanda). Every doctrine of the church has been impacted by accepting the dictator view of God and His law.

Today we stand at the very precipice of eternity and “The last great conflict between truth and error is but the final struggle of the long-standing controversy concerning the law of God. Upon this battle we are now entering--a battle between the laws of men and the precepts of Jehovah, between the religion of the Bible and the religion of fable and tradition.” (GC 582 emphasis mine)

How do you see God’s law?

But evidently many people think Jesus did come to change God’s law. Where would such an idea come from?

- Jesus definitely didn’t abide by the Jewish understanding of law when He was here
- Jesus changed many of their legal practices
 - He cleansed the temple from buying and selling
 - He healed on Sabbath
 - His disciples pulled heads of grain on Sabbath
 - He changed Passover to Lord’s Supper
 - He spoke to women and Samaritan women
 - He associated with tax collectors and prostitutes – and consider even today – what might we think if our conference evangelist, when traveling, stayed in the home of a prostitute? Didn’t Jesus do this?

What was Jesus doing? He was operating upon design law and overthrowing imposed rules. But the Jews couldn’t see it and accused Him of being lawless.

If one holds the idea that God’s law is imposed, rules, regulations, like humans make, then one doesn’t see any reason it can’t be changed – it is just that God is the only one authorized to change it.

Thus, I have heard arguments that God made the Sabbath holy, and no where do we find where God changed the sanctity from Sabbath to Sunday, thus Sabbath is still holy. Or, we honor the day God commanded us to honor – if God changed the day of worship we would worship on the day He tells us, but God hasn’t so we stick with the Bible Sabbath.

What is the basic problem with these arguments? They argue from a human level of understanding, that God’s law is nothing more than a list of rules imposed by the ruler of the universe, and as sovereign God has a right and we are obliged to obey. But since the law is nothing more than rules, God is free at any time to change His law.

What is the problem?

God's ways are not are ways – His ways are higher than our ways. The Bible says God never changes, He is the same yesterday, today and tomorrow – thus God's law can never be changed, for if it were to be changed the universe would cease to exist. Matter would destabilize, galaxies would unravel, the integrity of molecular bonds would disintegrate. Everything we know would be destroyed.

Read third paragraph, “It is important...” Did Jesus argue for the “perpetuity of the Decalogue”?

Or, was Jesus talking to an audience that was completely incapable of hearing that the 10 Commandments were a temporary measure, added because of sin and are only need for a very short time in the history of the universe?

If Jesus had said such a thing, what would have happened? They wanted to stone Him for challenging their traditions, how much more if He actually suggested the 10 Commandments were added?

Were the 10 Commandments added or were they always in existence?

What evidence for either side of the argument?

- Did angels need a law that if they sinned the results of their sin would pass down three and four generations?
- Was there a Sabbath before the creation of this earth and sun?
- Did angels need a law to honor their mother's and father?
- The 10 Commandments are an adaptation of the law of love, especially codified for fallen human beings. Adam and Eve in Eden didn't need a law to honor their mother and father. The 10 were not written for Adam and Eve in Eden, they were written for sinful humans why?
- The law was added so that the trespass might increase. Rom 5:20
 - What law reveals sin? The 10 Commandments and Paul says it was added.
 - Why was this necessary? Because sin dulls the mind and people need the law to help diagnose what is wrong, like and MRI for the soul.
- What, then, was the purpose of the law? It was added because of transgressions until the Seed to whom the promise referred had come. Gal 3:19
 - What was the purpose of the law? To act as schoolmaster, to diagnose and protect until the Remedy came
- We know that the law is good if one uses it properly. ⁹ We also know that the law is made not for the righteous but for lawbreakers and rebels, the ungodly and sinful, the unholy and irreligious; for those who kill their fathers or mothers, for murderers, ¹⁰ for adulterers and perverts, for slave traders and liars and perjurers—and for whatever else is contrary to the sound doctrine ¹¹ that conforms to the glorious gospel of the blessed God, which he entrusted to me. 1Tim 1:8-11

The idea that the 10 Commandment law was added is what the founders of our church taught. Here are three quotes:

- If man had kept the law of God, as given to Adam after his fall, preserved by Noah, and observed by Abraham, there would have been no necessity for the ordinance of circumcision. And if the descendants of Abraham had kept the covenant, of which circumcision was a sign, they would never have been seduced into idolatry, nor would it have been necessary for them to suffer a life of bondage in Egypt; they would have kept God's law in mind, and there would have been no necessity for it to be proclaimed from Sinai or engraved upon the tables of stone. And had the people practiced the principles of the Ten Commandments, there would have been no need of the additional directions given to Moses. {PP 364.2}
 - Was there a law prior to Sinai – yes
 - Was it written in 10 Commandment form? No!
 - What was the law prior to Sinai? The law of love.
- I am asked concerning the law in Galatians. What law is the schoolmaster to bring us to Christ? I answer: Both the ceremonial and the moral code of ten commandments... “The law was our schoolmaster to bring us unto Christ, that we might be justified by faith” (Gal. 3:24). In this scripture, the Holy Spirit through the apostle is speaking especially of the moral law. {ISM 233, 234}

Which law then was added? The 10 Commandments and the ceremonial system.

What was God’s law like in heaven before sin?

- But in heaven, service is not rendered in the spirit of legality. When Satan rebelled against the law of Jehovah, the thought that there was a law came to the angels almost as an awakening to something unthought of. In their ministry the angels are not as servants, but as sons. There is perfect unity between them and their Creator. Obedience is to them no drudgery. {MB 109.2}

Why was the idea that God had a law something the angels never even considered? Because it is the protocols upon which life is built, and it never occurs to do it otherwise. If someone said – it is a law that you shall not jab thy eye with a pencil – wouldn’t you say? I never considered that a law. Why not? Because it makes such perfect sense. Yes, I am free to jab myself in the eye with a pencil – but the only result is pain and suffering. This is how it is with every violation of God’s law because God’s laws are not rules they are the protocols of life and health. Thus the angels never considered there was a law.

This battle over God’s law is still raging today. What has prevented God from clearing this issue up here on earth?

Human beings continue to think through our own way of doing things and ascribing to God our methods, our ideas, our concepts, rather than seeing God as God – as Creator, Builder, Designer of the universe.

SUNDAY

Read third paragraph, “The fact that Christ...” Do you find this paragraph helpful? What is the message of this paragraph?

What do you understand “binding” to mean?

I looked it up in the dictionary and it means:

- imposing an obligation
 - The contract is legally binding.
 - The parties agreed to settle the dispute through binding arbitration.

Is this how God’s law works? Some binding rules put upon us?

What problems arise when we present God’s law this way?

- We misrepresent God, so people don’t actually know Him
- Thus trust in God is undermined
- Obedience under such a construct stems from fear, not love, thus it actually causes one to become more of a rebel
- It leads to legalism in our behavior and our theology
- We make rules for behavior and have loopholes to those rules
 - The Jews in Christ’s day had a Sabbath rule you couldn’t walk more than ½ mile from your home. But if you have a second home within a half mile of the first you can walk to it, and then go on another ½ mile. What constitutes a home? Anywhere you have lunch the day before. So, if on Sabbath you want to walk somewhere more than a mile away all you need to do is drop a lunch every half mile and you can walk to where you want to go.
 - There was another rule they had; if you were traveling on Friday with your donkey, and the Sabbath arrives before you take the burden off your donkey, you are not allowed to remove the burden on Sabbath, but you can loosen the straps and whatever falls off is allowed. If a Gentile comes by the Gentile can remove the burden from the donkey, but you are not allowed to ask or indicate in any way that you need him to do so.
 - When I was in medical school there was a Jewish friend in my class. We did our surgical rotation together. One Friday evening we were in surgery and came out after Sabbath began. In the doctors lounge the TV was on. He loved to watch Memphis State basketball and a game was on, but the TV was on the wrong channel. He couldn’t change the channel because it would “spark” meaning it would start a fire on the Sabbath, so he asked me to change the channel for him. It was okay to fill the mind with worldly things from TV on the Sabbath, as long as one didn’t change the channel and make as spark.

- All of this leads to conceiving of God as a dictator, and the plan of salvation as a system of legal requirements.

There are many destructive results to presenting God's law as "binding" in this way.

But, if we present it as binding, in the same way the law of gravity is binding, the laws of physics and health are binding, then all of these problems evaporate. You see, no loophole gets one around the results of jumping off a bridge, or shooting IV heroine, or cheating on your spouse, or stealing from your employer. All violations of design law result in damage to the one in violation. The only option is healing, recreation, restoration to God's ideal, which is God's plan of salvation.

When we present God's law like this, then people realize it is for our actual good, health, wellness to live in harmony with the design.

MONDAY

Read first paragraph, "After establishing..." did Jesus establish the perpetuity of the 10 Commandments or the perpetuity of God's law of love?

Will the 10 Commandments ever be "wrong"? No – they will always be "right" but will they always be needed?

Why or why not?

The 10 Commandments won't be needed when the law is again written on the heart, when we operate in harmony with it. Thus the MRI is not needed where no sickness exists.

What was Christ doing in the Sermon on the Mount? He was demonstrating that the rules, which point out behavior, are exposing a sickness of character, a condition of being that is out of harmony with God's design for love. Thus, while they said, adultery is sin, Jesus said lust in the heart is the real problem.

Read last paragraph, "What's fascinating..." What about the meaning of the last sentence, "Law-keeping, in and of itself, as an end in itself, leads to nothing but death if the law is not understood as an expression of what it means to be saved by grace."

What kind of law are they talking about? Is that sentence consistent with these Scriptures:

- In the way of righteousness there is life; along that path is immortality. Pr 12:28
- He who pursues righteousness and love finds life, prosperity and honor. Pr 21:21
- The law of the Lord is perfect, reviving the soul. Ps 19:7

What do these passages mean? Just as we read from EGW earlier, that God's law is the law of life, life is actually built upon it.

Can one live outside of God's law, or in violation of God's law? What are they talking about then?

They are thinking within a system of imposed rules, and they know that keeping rules can't save us, but in their model they have a solution, the rules also require a perfect sacrifice to pay the legal penalty, and thus we must have God's grace send Jesus to die to pay our penalty. Then we can have our records adjusted to say we are pardoned, or righteous, or innocent and thus we are legally saved. All legalism, all false, all manmade and based on Rome's infection to Christian thought.

Imagine a metaphor of the entire world being infected with tuberculosis. Everyone is sick and dying, coughing, fevers, fatigue, spitting up blood. There is a religious group who realizes this is not how God designed it. And they teach God will one day destroy all disease. Therefore, God keeps careful records, recording every slight defect, and when He returns He will investigate every case and if you don't have a clean record He will destroy you, because this disease must be destroyed. So, this group teaches that God sent His Son, who was TB free, and His record is free of any defects or symptoms or sickness. And if we accept Him as our personal Savior, He will photocopy Jesus' medical record and put it in our chart and when God investigates our record He will only find a record of perfect health, no recorded evidence of any sickness, symptoms or defects.

But, all the people who rely on this are not actually taking their TB meds, thus they continue to have coughing, fever, spitting up blood, just like all those people who don't belong to this religious group and don't claim to have Jesus' record applied to their record.

What is the application? In Christianity today, there is just as much addiction, pornography, domestic violence, child abuse, teen pregnancy as in non-Christian homes. Why? Because God's plan is to heal the heart/mind/character, to restore His design law into the person. But that plan has been replaced with a false legal lie, that our problem is in our legal standing before God and in what is written in our heavenly records and the solution is to have the blood of Jesus applied to our record to erase the record of sin. Thus, we claim the blood to get legal pardon, but don't partake the remedy to actually get well.

Is it any wonder Christ hasn't yet returned? He doesn't want any to be lost. He wants all to be healed, restored, saved, so He waits for the truth to go forward so people will actually be healed in heart/mind/character.

TUESDAY

Read first paragraph, "In this passage..." thoughts? What about today? How do Christians understand adultery today?

What does it sound the like the lesson is teaching? Does it sound like the lesson is teaching that adultery is more than “overt physical sexual act”?

Then in the last paragraph it states, “Christ corrected the misuse of this passage by uplifting the sanctity and permanence of marriage: the only cause for divorce, before God, is “sexual immorality” or “fornication” (in Greek porneia literally “unchastity”).”

Would this include in the heart and mind or only the behavior?

What is adultery?

- Does the victim who gets raped commit adultery?
- Does a married soldier injured in combat and has his genitalia destroyed, who leaves his wife to move in with his nurse, loving her sleeping with her, giving his heart to her, but not committing physical fornication, commit adultery?
- Why were the children of Israel called an adulterous nation? Was it only if they worshipped a fertility god? Or if they worshipped any god other than Yahweh?
- Does a person whose spouse committed adultery, also commit adultery by dating someone else before the divorce is final?
- When is a marriage over, when the state says it is, or when the individuals involved end it in their hearts?
- When does God recognize a marriage is over, when the state says it is or some other criteria?
- Does God recognize the marriage certificates for homosexual couples? If God doesn't recognize these state issued certificates, then does he recognize state issued divorce certificates, or see someone as still married where the state hasn't issued a divorce certificate?
- I have a patient who filed for divorce from her husband 18 years ago. He is an attorney and has played legal games to prevent the divorce from ever being finalized. She can't get a state divorce certificate, should the church recognize her as divorced and give her a church wedding to someone else?
- Why does the church give authority to the state's divorce certificates and thus won't allow the woman above to remarry, but does not give authority to homosexual marriage certificates?
- What about in countries where polygamy is legal, and a man has marriage certificates from the state for more than one wife? Should the church recognize this? Why or why not?

What does the Bible mean when it says if we violate the law in one point we violate in all points?

If a person tries to murder their spouse have they committed adultery?

WEDNESDAY

The lesson points to the interaction of Christ with the Pharisees over Corban, a tradition of dedicating one's wealth to the Temple, but you could keep it until you died. This meant that one couldn't use it for one's parents.

Read 3rd and 4th paragraph, “It seems as if the Pharisees...” What is the motivation for Corban – love for God or selfishness? There is no problem with dedicating resources to God’s service, the problem is when it is done for selfish purposes. Any examples of how this can be done today?

- Musicians performing for fame not to praise God
- Speakers speaking for money, fame, position, recognition, not to teach others
- Pastors pastoring for a paycheck, not as a calling
- People giving tithes and offerings because they believe if they do God will bless them and they will get more for themselves
- Going to church to get votes to get elected to office
- Say a certain prayer every day for 30 days believing one will have their influence expanded

What do you think of Christ’s comment that they should have honored their parents without leaving the tithe of mint and herbs unpaid?

My wife has a basil plant in a pot on our porch that she gets fresh leaves from to use in cooking. Should she pull every 10th leaf and bring to church and put in the offering plate?

Why would Christ say this? Several points:

- It was more of an agrarian culture, some of the individuals may have made their entire livelihood from producing and selling herbs
- But more likely, the people already believed it was required to do so. In that setting, what would have happened with His audience if Christ had said there is no need to pay tithe on your herbs? He would have lost His audience.

Is God concerned with mint leaves? No, God is concerned with hearts that love, hearts that are honest, integrity, devotion, loyalty.

What does it mean to honor one’s parents? Does it mean doing what they say?

If you are an adult, and your parent is an alcoholic and wants you to pick them up beer on your way home from work and drop it off at their house – do you dishonor them if you refuse? Why or why not?

- How about if a parent wants to talk to you on the phone every day of the week?
- I had a patient who was married for 40 years when she came to see me. Her husband, every Sunday of their marriage, picked up his mother, went to church with his mother, sat with his mother, went home and had lunch and spent Sunday afternoon with his mother. He stopped after work on his way home every day to have dinner with his mother. My patient was finally fed up with it and wanted her husband to go to church with her, have dinner with her, go on vacations with her. Was this man honoring his mother? Would he dishonor his mother if he stopped doing these things?

Where do you draw the line?

The Bible teaches that when a person marries they are to leave their parents and cleave or unite with their spouse. This means the spouse becomes the number one human in their affections and loyalty, even over the parents.

I have seen many families damaged when this doesn't actually happen. If you are considering marriage be sure you are marrying someone who is capable of loving you more than themselves, and they have the ability to put you number one in their human relationships. If not, do not marry them.

THURSDAY

Read first paragraph, "The rich young ruler..." Can one be saved in violation of the law? Then is the rich young ruler correct salvation comes from following the law?

It all goes back to how you understand law – imposed rules – you are lost, lost in fear, insecurity, short-comings, legal religious systems that don't save.

Design law, then we realize Christ lived the law perfectly, revealed truth to restore trust, and when we trust Him the Spirit comes and transforms us, we have greater insight, comprehension and intelligent choose to cooperate freely with God because it makes so much sense. We desire to live in harmony with how God constructed life to operate, which is obedience to His law.

FRIDAY

Read third paragraph, "Jesus, the express..." this is so well stated, what does it mean?

Discuss questions 1 & 3

Lesson 11: The Sabbath

I received this letter this week:

Your ministry has been a great blessing to our family. We discovered Come and Reason Ministries during a web search and have watched all of the material which is available through streaming.

We are SDAs living in Michigan's Upper Peninsula. Our church is small and shares a pastor with two other churches. We have three daughters in college. We have watched your lectures and Sabbath School lessons on Sabbath afternoons and during the week. We have experienced several "ah ha" moments as your presentations of the Gospel has brought into focus God's love and true character.

Our church has agreed to begin to show your lectures as vesper programs extending over several weeks. We believe that both the church members and community will be blessed. Thank you for your ministry.

Yesterday evening a friend on The Designer's Friends Down Under Facebook page posted this quote from Christ's Object Lessons:

The great storehouse of truth is the word of God—the written word, the book of nature, and the book of experience in God's dealing with human life. Here are the treasures from which Christ's workers are to draw. In the search after truth they are to depend upon God, not upon human intelligences, the great men whose wisdom is foolishness with God. Through His own appointed channels the Lord will impart a knowledge of Himself to every seeker. — {COL 125.2}

Amazing, finding quotes that support the method we are using is exciting.

SABBATH

Read memory text: "And He said to them, 'The Sabbath was made for man, and not man for the Sabbath. Therefore the Son of Man is also Lord of the Sabbath'" (Mk 2:27,28 NKJV)

What does this text mean?

From my paraphrase:

MK 2:27 After a moment to let them think he said, "The Sabbath was created as a gift for humanity, to be a blessing for human beings. Human beings were not created as a gift for the Sabbath. 28 Understand this clearly, the Son of Man doesn't serve the Sabbath, it serves him.

Does the Sabbath serve Jesus? How? What is the purpose and function of the Sabbath?

Jesus was speaking to the Jews when He said the Sabbath was made for man, was the Sabbath, the earth even, made only for the benefit of man?

For it seems to me that God has put us apostles on display at the end of the procession, like those condemned to die in the arena. We have been made a spectacle to the whole universe, to angels as well as to human beings. 1Cor 4:9

Is this earth a theater to the entire universe? Then does what happens here benefit intelligences beyond earth?

For God was pleased to have all his fullness dwell in him,²⁰ and through him to reconcile to himself all things, whether things on earth or things in heaven, by making peace through his blood, shed on the cross. Col 1:19,20

His intent was that now, through the church, the manifold wisdom of God should be made known to the rulers and authorities in the heavenly realms,¹¹ according to his eternal purpose which he accomplished in Christ Jesus our Lord. Eph 3:10,11

Here is an historical SDA perspective:

By coming to dwell with us, Jesus was to reveal God both to men and to angels. He was the Word of God,--God's thought made audible. In His prayer for His disciples He says, "I have declared unto them Thy name,"--"merciful and gracious, long-suffering, and abundant in goodness and truth,"--"that the love wherewith Thou hast loved Me may be in them, and I in them." But not alone for His earthborn children was this revelation given. Our little world is the lesson book of the universe. God's wonderful purpose of grace, the mystery of redeeming love, is the theme into which "angels desire to look," and it will be their study throughout endless ages. Both the redeemed and the unfallen beings will find in the cross of Christ their science and their song. It will be seen that the glory shining in the face of Jesus is the glory of self-sacrificing love. In the light from Calvary it will be seen that the law of self-renouncing love is the law of life for earth and heaven; that the love which "seeketh not her own" has its source in the heart of God; and that in the meek and lowly One is manifested the character of Him who dwelleth in the light which no man can approach unto. DA 19, 20

Was earth, and what has happened on earth only for humans? Or is there a larger reality being impacted by what is transpiring on earth?

What about the Sabbath? It was made for humankind to be sure – why? Why was it necessary? What benefit is there in the Sabbath? What is its purpose? How does the Sabbath serve God?

The Sabbath is a sign – a sign of what? Exodus tells us a sign that God makes us holy, but what does this mean?

If one holds to reformation theology, the ideas from some great men, but men who were burdened my millennia of tradition, then one struggles. Luther, a great man of God, who broke from tradition and gave the Bible to the people, but he only gave 62 books. He didn't find value in Revelation, Jude, Hebrews and James, and thus Luther didn't know about a controversy over God's character. Therefore, reformation theology tends to be legal, narrow, and misses the larger view of the war which began in heaven over God's trustworthiness. Some people operate in this narrow setting and present the Sabbath as an arbitrary test of obedience, and in so doing misrepresent God, misrepresent the Sabbath and support Satan's allegations against God.

But in the setting of the war between God and Satan, over God's character, government of love and methods of love, what does the Sabbath reveal?

It reveals God's character – that He doesn't use power to coerce, that He leaves us free. Thus, Sabbath observance is about the free exercise of our power of choice to acknowledge God and live in harmony with Him.

Remember the Sabbath because God created – what does this direct our minds toward?

What kind of law does the Creator use to create? It points us to design law, protocols upon which life is built, and away from imposed rules that created beings make. Thus the Sabbath is evidence that God doesn't make rules, He creates reality.

Why, in the end of time, does Sabbath and Sunday stand as signs of two opposing methodologies?

How did Sabbath come into existence? It was created as a day of rest. Thus, its purpose is to stop work, rest, reflect, relate, rejoice, celebrate, worship, adore, and value the Creator who built His universe to operate upon the law of love. Thus the Sabbath, the day God rested His case, and gave the universe freedom to consider for themselves, represents how the Creator rules – by truth, love, freedom and His laws are the design laws upon which life is built.

Sunday as a day of rest and worship, however, – was declared to be holy by an act of arbitrary power of human beings – thus Sunday represents how created beings rule, by imposed rules. A completely different type of rulership.

The Designer rules by love, and those who transgress His law are transgressing the protocols life is constructed to operate upon and thus are destroying themselves. Our God of love has been using every agency in His power to heal the deviant, in order to save, lest death ensue.

But the imposed law method teaches that God must inflict death upon the wicked, thus those who teach this idea about God – that justice require God to torture, punish and kill, regardless of which day they worship upon, are actually represented by Sunday the day of arbitrary power, not by Sabbath.

Conversely, for those who teach the truth about God, the Sabbath is a sign for them regardless of which day they currently worship upon. When governments begin enforcing worship upon pain of punishment, those who are like Jesus in character will not go along with such enforcement and will leave that style of worship and join with all those who honor God and His methods of truth, love and freedom

In C.S. Lewis' last book of the Narnia series Lewis describes a Calormene soldier named Emeth and his encounter with Aslan the lion. Emeth was a worshipper of Tash, and as a result was terrified when he came face to face with Aslan. This is that encounter from the book:

I fell at his feet and thought surely this is the hour of death, for the Lion will know that I have served Tash all my days and not him.

But Aslan's response?

Son thou art welcome. But I said, alas Lord I am no son of thine but the servant of Tash. He answered, Child all the service thou hast done to Tash I account as service done to me.

I questioned the Glorious One: Lord, is it then true that thou and Tash are one? The Lion growled and said, It is false. Not because he and I are one, but because we are opposites, I take to me the services which thou hast done to him. For I and he are of such different kinds that no service which is vile can be done to me, and none which is not vile can be done to him. Therefore if any man swear by Tash and keep his oath for the oath's sake, it is by me that he has truly sworn, though he know it not, and it is I who reward him. And if any man do a cruelty in my name, then, though he says the name Aslan, it is Tash whom he serves and by Tash his deed is accepted".

Emeth questions once more:

Lord, I have been seeking Tash all my days.

Beloved, said the Glorious One, unless thy desire had been for me thou shouldst not have sought so long and so truly. For all find what they truly seek.

Will this be true regarding the day of worship? Are those who worship on Sabbath, but represent God as Satan alleges servants of Satan, while those who worship on Sunday, but represent God rightly servants of Jesus Christ?

Is it ultimately about the Sabbath, or the Lord of the Sabbath?

Then how does the Sabbath serve Jesus?

Then the Lord said to Moses, "Say to the Israelites, 'You must observe my Sabbaths. This will be a sign between me and you for the generations to come, so you may know that I am the LORD, who makes you holy. Exodus 31:12,13

How does the Lord make us holy? Is there any part we have to play in that process? Do we have choices to make? Do our choices have any impact in our development?

Can God make someone holy while they choose to rebel against Him? Can a person make themselves holy by the power of their own choice separate from God?

- We are laborers together with God. This is the Lord's own wise arrangement. The cooperation of the human will and endeavor with divine energy is the link that binds men up with one another and with God. The apostle says, "We are laborers together with God: ye are God's husbandry, ye are God's building" (1 Corinthians 3:9). Man is to work with the facilities God has given him. "Work out your own salvation with fear and trembling," He says. "For it is God which worketh in you both to will and to do of His good pleasure" (Philippians 2:12, 13).--MS 113, 1898. {2MCP 694.3}
- There are two grand forces at work in the salvation of the human soul. It requires the cooperation of man with the divine agencies-- divine influences, and a strong, living, working faith. It is in this way only that the human agent can become a laborer together with God. The Lord does not sanction in any one of us a blind, stupid credulity. [credulity - readiness/willingness to believe with little evidence] He does not dishonor the human understanding, but, far from this, He calls for the human will to be brought into connection with the divine will. He calls for the ingenuity of the human mind, the tact, the skill, to be strenuously exercised in searching out the truth as it is in Jesus. . . . Ye are labourers together with God. {OHC 310.5}

Then, is there something, some type of choosing that is involved in our transformation? What?

It is in choosing to trust God, choosing to value what He values, choosing to say yes to what He reveals to us, choosing to apply to our lives what He convicts us of, choosing to spend time with Him, choosing to believe the evidence Jesus gave, choosing to study His word, choosing to say no to the lies of Satan. Why is this necessary?

Because God doesn't want robots programmed by Him, He wants free intelligent beings operating in harmony with Him, and the only way to heal us and retain our individuality is with our freewill cooperation.

This is what God wanted Adam and Eve to do in the beginning. In Eden, sinless as they were, they were capable of making choices in harmony with God in their own strength and developing perfect character. But, in our fallen state, we are not. Thus Jesus came to do this for us, and in a united relationship with Him, (we don't make choices alone, we don't fight battles alone), we yoke up with Christ, and with the yoke of love, we experience not only wisdom but divine power to strengthen us to make those healthy choices.

But, back to Eden, this is why the Tree of Knowledge was placed there, to give Adam and Eve an opportunity to exercise their own freewill and develop character in harmony with God. This is from one of the founders of our church:

Our first parents, though created innocent and holy, were not placed beyond the possibility of wrongdoing. . . . They were to enjoy communion with God and with holy angels; but before they could be rendered eternally secure, their loyalty must be tested. At the very beginning of man's existence a check was placed upon the desire for self-indulgence, the fatal passion that lay at the foundation of Satan's fall. The tree of knowledge, which stood near the tree of life in the midst of the garden, was to be a test of the obedience, faith, and love of our first parents. While permitted to eat freely of every other tree, they were forbidden to taste of this, on pain of death. They were also to be exposed to the temptations of Satan; but if they endured the trial, they would finally be placed beyond his power, to enjoy perpetual favor with God. . . . {CC 13.2}

God might have created man without the power to transgress His law; He might have withheld the hand of Adam from touching the forbidden fruit; but in that case man would have been, not a free moral agent, but a mere automation. Without freedom of choice, his obedience would not have been voluntary, but forced. There could have been no development of character. . . . It would have been unworthy of man as an intelligent being, and would have sustained Satan's charge of God's arbitrary rule. {CC 13.3}

What was the purpose of the Tree of Knowledge? Was it to trip them up, or provide a way for them to solidify their characters upon the law of love and loyalty to God?

What about the Sabbath – in the setting of the Great Controversy, with the Sabbath as evidence of God's methods, pointing us to His law of love, and being a sign that God makes us holy, is there a similar purpose that God knew we would need?

Does the Sabbath provide evidence of God's character of love, freedom, truth?

Does the Sabbath also provide us opportunity to choose to stop promoting self, to rest from all aspects of self-indulgence, whether seeking wealth (work for gain), whether pleasure seeking, or trying to save self by working hard to keep the rules, including the Sabbath? That we rest in trust in God and choose to set self aside in pursuit of God?

How does Satan corrupt the Sabbath and cheat us of this opportunity to experience genuine transformation and development of character in a love-yoked relationship with Jesus Christ?

By infecting our minds with imposed law constructs – regardless of which day.

If we worship on any day, including the Sabbath, but we worship a god who imposes rules to test us, and if we fail the test, then that god uses his power to punish and destroy, such obedience is coerced and is based on fear. This breeds the character of a rebel and we become people who would murder the Creator of the Sabbath and want Him off by sunset to keep the day. We become a people who make rules for behavior on Sabbath and then begin enforcing our rules on others, and then bring pressure to bear on those who don't follow our way of Sabbath keeping, we become judges and spies watching for breaks in the Sabbath rules and then gossip and malign those who are not behaving like us.

The effort to earn salvation by one's own works inevitably leads men to pile up human exactions as a barrier against sin. For, seeing that they fail to keep the law, they will devise rules and regulations of their own to force themselves to obey. All this turns the mind away from God to self. His love dies out of the heart, and with it perishes love for his fellow men. A system of human invention, with its multitudinous exactions, will lead its advocates to judge all who come short of the prescribed human standard. The atmosphere of selfish and narrow criticism stifles the noble and generous emotions, and causes men to become self-centered judges and petty spies. {MB 123.1}

Read second paragraph, “Today we are confronted...” What is the problem with resting on Sunday? Is there any problem? Do you find any instruction from God that says, “thou shall not rest on Sunday?” “Sunday shall not be used as a day to think about me, or meditate upon my creation, or sing hymns to me, or adore me or worship me.” Do we find this anywhere?

So what is the problem with worshipping God on Sunday? There is nothing wrong with worshipping on Sunday, or Wednesday night prayer meeting, or Thursday or Tuesday, the problem is failure to choose God and His methods of truth, love, freedom as represented by the Sabbath. The problem is in forgetting the Sabbath – Remember the Sabbath to keep it holy...

How do we do that? Is it really the Sabbath that is kept holy by our choices or is it ourselves that is kept holy?

What percentage of the world's population do you think observes the Bible Sabbath each week? 7 billion people, do you think 70 million people? That would be 1%, let's be generous and say 70 million people, that means 99% of the world is not observing the 7th day Sabbath – so does that mean the Sabbath is no longer holy? If these people are not “keeping” it holy is it no longer holy?

Of course not, the Sabbath is holy, it was created holy and we can do nothing to change that. Thus in keeping the Sabbath holy, we are not keeping the Sabbath holy, we are keeping ourselves holy.

We keep the day set apart, separate, distinct, and thus keep our minds set apart, separate distinct from the world of selfishness, separate from the lies of Satan. Rightly understood, the Sabbath safeguards us from the imperial dictator view of God, and we keep our minds focused on our God of love and His methods. Thus, when one comprehends the meaning and purpose of the Sabbath, why it was created, one wants to participate in it, choosing to align oneself with the Creator God who uses such methods.

Here is the problem regarding days of worship, of which Sunday is a sign:

But when the decree shall go forth enforcing the counterfeit sabbath, and the loud cry of the third angel shall warn men against the worship of the beast and his image, the line will be clearly drawn between the false and the true. Then those who still continue in transgression will receive the mark of the beast.--Ev 234, 235 (1899). {LDE 225.4}

Notice it is not about Sunday, but the “enforcing” about the use of arbitrary power to coerce, in a setting in which God’s true character is made known, that one rejects the principles of God for the methods of coercion – this is beastly. This is Satan’s way.

Here is a historic view:

"Whereunto," asked Christ, "shall we liken the kingdom of God? or with what comparison shall we compare it?" Mark 4:30. He could not employ the kingdoms of the world as a similitude. In society He found nothing with which to compare it. Earthly kingdoms rule by the ascendancy of physical power; but from Christ's kingdom every carnal weapon, every instrument of coercion, is banished. {AA 12.2}

God could have destroyed Satan and his sympathizers as easily as one can cast a pebble to the earth; but He did not do this. Rebellion was not to be overcome by force. Compelling power is found only under Satan's government. The Lord's principles are not of this order. His authority rests upon goodness, mercy, and love; and the presentation of these principles is the means to be used. God's government is moral, and truth and love are to be the prevailing power. {DA 759.1}

What is the mark of the beast – not going to church on Sunday – but Sunday ENFORCEMENT or the enforcement of any other religious practice. Right now in the Middle East as Taliban and others gain political power they are enforcing religious practices on pain of death – this is beastly. This is the mark of the beast, even if they are enforcing Friday.

The quotation said, “But when the decree shall go forth enforcing the counterfeit sabbath, and the loud cry of the third angel shall warn men against the worship of the beast and his image, the line will be clearly drawn between the false and the true.” When the line will be clearly seen between the false and the true what? Days of worship or what the days of worship are a sign or symbol of?

One of Satan’s strategies is to take God given signs, symbols, metaphors and have people focus on the symbols and lose sight of what the signs or symbols represent, thus darkening the mind.

Classic examples:

- cleansed by the blood – where the blood is seen as literal shed blood, rather than understood as a symbol of the perfect life of Christ, which the righteous internalize
- robe of righteousness – where it is thought to be an actual element that obscures the Father's ability to see us, instead of realizing it is the character of Christ reproduced in us
- And now Sabbath – a sign – Sunday a mark – of two methods, two laws. The law of God, which is the law of love, truth, liberty, the principles the Creator constructed life to operate upon – of which the Sabbath is a sign - is contrasted, at war with, arbitrary power, imposed rules by an enforcing authority of which Sunday is a sign in certain circles, but others Friday enforcement is a sign.

Consider these statements:

Why are men not interested to know what constitutes the mark of the beast? Exodus 31:12-17. The Sabbath question will be the issue in the great conflict in which all the world will act a part. [How does the entire world act a part? Will Muslims give up Friday and start worshipping on Sunday? What about agnostics and atheists? Or, is it these two days stand as signs of something more, and everyone will choose one or the other of two methods, of which these days stand as symbols?] Revelation 13:4-17. {RH, April 27, 1911 par. 3}

"Christ died to save sinners, not in their sins, but from their sins. [Imposed law constructs all teach that we are saved in our sins, from the legal penalty, but not saved from our sins, that we continue live sinfully until Christ returns. The truth is that God actually transforms us here and now and we stop living for self, and live loving God and others more than self] The warning given in Revelation shows us the terrible consequence of transgression. By lips that will not lie, God's law is declared to be holy, just, and good. Our duty to obey this law is to be the burden of the last message of mercy to the world.¹ God's law is not a new thing. It is not holiness created, but holiness made known. It is a code of principles expressing mercy, goodness, and love. It presents to fallen humanity the character of God, and states plainly the whole duty of man. {RH, April 27, 1911 par. 4}

"'Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength.' This command contains the principles of the first four precepts. And 'thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself.' Upon these two great principles, the Word of God declares, hang all the law and the prophets. {RH, April 27, 1911 par. 5}

"These principles are made known by the third angel's message, which declares that the Creator has always required and always will require obedience to his royal law. [Why does the Creator require obedience? Why does the Creator require we breathe? Because that is how life is built to operate. Remember the law is not holiness created but holiness made known. The commandments did not impose a law, but made the law known] But this law has been disregarded and transgressed, and is now being ignored by the churches. Human enactments are placed where God's law should be. Sunday, a child of the Papacy, has taken the place of God's holy Sabbath. As Nebuchadnezzar made a golden image, and set it up to be worshiped by all, so Sunday is placed before the people to be regarded as sacred. This day bears not a vestige of sanctity, yet it is held up to be honored by all. {RH, April 27, 1911 par. 6}

¹ It is the darkness of misapprehension of God that is enshrouding the world. Men are losing their knowledge of His character. It has been misunderstood and misinterpreted. At this time a message from God is to be proclaimed, a message illuminating in its influence and saving in its power. His character is to be made known. Into the darkness of the world is to be shed the light of His glory, the light of His goodness, mercy, and truth... The last rays of merciful light, the last message of mercy to be given to the world, is a revelation of His character of love. The children of God are to manifest His glory. In their own life and character they are to reveal what the grace of God has done for them. {COL 415}

So what is the problem in which day of worship? The laws that they symbolize – this means a person worshipping on the seventh-day Sabbath of the Bible, but teaching that it is an imposed law by God to test our obedience and that God uses coercive pressure and will inflict punishment upon the wicked in the end, is receiving the mark of the beast, even though they have the right day. This is evidenced by the Jews in Christ's day.

Here is a quote from more than 100 years ago, how one of the founders of our church thought of it:

The time has come for the true light to shine amid moral darkness. The third angel's message has been sent forth to the world, warning men against receiving the mark of the beast or of his image in their foreheads or in their hands. To receive this mark means to come to the same decision as the beast has done, and to advocate the same ideas, in direct opposition to the word of God. {RH, July 13, 1897 par. 5}

FRIDAY

"Wherefore the Son of man is Lord also of the Sabbath." These words are full of instruction and comfort. Because the Sabbath was made for man, it is the Lord's day. It belongs to Christ. For "all things were made by Him; and without Him was not anything made that was made." John 1:3. Since He made all things, He made the Sabbath. By Him it was set apart as a memorial of the work of creation. It points to Him as both the Creator and the Sanctifier. It declares that He who created all things in heaven and in earth, and by whom all things hold together, is the head of the church, and that by His power we are reconciled to God. For, speaking of Israel, He said, "I gave them My Sabbaths, to be a sign between Me and them, that they might know that I am the Lord that sanctify them,"--make them holy. Ezekiel 20:12. Then the Sabbath is a sign of Christ's power to make us holy. And it is given to all whom Christ makes holy. As a sign of His sanctifying power, the Sabbath is given to all who through Christ become a part of the Israel of God. {DA 288.2}

It is a sign of those who choose to participate in God's methods of truth, love and freedom, because it is evidence of God's methods, created by God for this very purpose, and by choosing to rest in God, by choosing to stop self-indulgence, trusting God, we yoke up with Him to experience transformation of character to be like Him.

Can a person do this on Sunday – yes until the time that “enforcement” of Sunday takes place, then one can no longer, because such methods are contrary to God’s character of love and those who are like Jesus will say no to arbitrary enforcement of manmade rules.

SUNDAY

Read third paragraph, “The same God...” Did Adam and Eve before sin have a need for physical rest?

Well if it was anything like the new earth, perhaps not:

No longer will there be any curse. The throne of God and of the Lamb will be in the city, and his servants will serve him. ⁴ They will see his face, and his name will be on their foreheads. ⁵ There will be no more night. They will not need the light of a lamp or the light of the sun, for the Lord God will give them light. And they will reign for ever and ever. Rev 22:3-5

Doesn’t sound like we will have the same biorhythms in a world bathed totally in God’s life giving glory.

Now God did cause a deep sleep to come upon Adam, but it wasn't on Sabbath, it was on Friday and Eve came of that experience.

Was there a different rest that the Sabbath was created to provide for humans, as a protection, that the angels had not needed?

What abilities did Adam and Eve possess that angels did not? Procreation and authority to rule other living beings – the animals and the planet earth. Could this lead one to believe they were more than created beings? Thus the Sabbath, ever week, entering into rest with God, acknowledging Him as Creator, and self as a created being, and all one’s abilities as stemming from God would be a protection against pride, arrogance, self-exaltation. What a blessing the Sabbath provides.

MONDAY

Read first paragraph, “Deuteronomy...” Why were such specific instructions written at all? Because the law of love was not written in the heart.

Imagine you had a field, and your son lived nearby and had his own fields. When your son came to visit would you be concerned at all if he pulled some heads of grain from your field to eat – or would you be glad to let him, because you love him and want to share what you have with him. And your son, who loves you, would he come with a sickle to steal your harvest? Of course not.

These types of instructions were written for selfish people who would begrudge someone picking some heads of grain as they walked by, and others who would not plant their own fields, but come in and steal someone else's harvest.

But the Pharisees in Christ's day also operated with selfish hearts and didn't love, thus they viewed the rules as something to be enforced and missed the entire purpose of the need God had in giving the rules in the first place.

So Christ takes them to Scripture and recounts how David at the showbread, which was only for the priests –why? Because preserving his life was more important than a symbolic act.

Read last paragraph, "After citing..." What about the last sentence, "Therefore, He alone had the authority to free the Sabbath from these man-made laws."

That doesn't make sense to me – if they are man-made laws, then doesn't any man, who loves God and embraces the truth have the authority to free the Sabbath from these rules?

TUESDAY

First paragraph states, "The word Luke uses in verse 16, custom, comes from a Greek word related to habits constant in time and practice. In other words, Jesus regularly attended the synagogue every Sabbath that he could."

I agree – and my personal view is it was because Jesus was the creator of the Sabbath, understood its purpose and meaning and enjoyed all the methods and principles of God for which the Sabbath was created to reveal and loved this day of the week which says so many good things about God.

But be prepared for the critics to say – of course He did, He was trying to reach the Jews and where were they on Sabbath, and what kind of influence would He have had had He not gone to synagogue on Sabbath?

So, while it is true that it was His habit, and my belief is because of the highest motives, this particular argument isn't necessarily persuasive regarding the value and validity of the Sabbath.

WEDNESDAY

Miracles on the Sabbath – why did Jesus heal chronic conditions on the Sabbath?

What laws are in operation in healing? Design law, laws of health, and the principle of giving, as "virtue" goes out from God and flows into the sick to heal and transform, the law of love in action. This is exactly what the Sabbath was created to reveal.

But, the Jews had burdened the Sabbath with manmade regulations and rules and made it appear as an arbitrary day of imposed behavioral conformity. Thus the Sabbath, created as the greatest evidence and experience of freedom, the devil turned to the day of greatest restriction and enslavement.

Do we struggle with this today? What is the root problem? Accepting the lie about God's law being imposed.

THURSDAY

Read first paragraph, "Many Christians..." In my experience most Christians don't go to church on Sunday for any theological reason – they do so primarily out of habit, routine, consensus of family and friends and lifestyle is built around that.

When pressed they will recite a number of theological reasons, but in my experience those are not the motivating reason – the motivating reason is comfort, convenience, routine, habit.

One of our online viewers, Mark Cox, a Navy Chaplain in HI, found this quote from one of the founders of our church, in support of what we said last week about the Sabbath and true Sabbath observance:

Satan is ever seeking to bring about a state of things in which righteousness may be termed unrighteousness, and unrighteousness righteousness. [Design law is seen as unimportant and obeying imposed rules is righteous, where reasoning for truth is seen as lack of faith and believing without evidence is seen as righteous, where leaving people free is seen as promoting wickedness and making laws to coerce conscience is seen as righteous] What are we to do?--We are to keep in living connection with the God of heaven, ranking in his army and under his banner, and we cannot afford to be in such gross blindness that we cannot discern truth from error. We want to know what is truth... God is going to bring around a condition of things where the good men and the men in authority will have an opportunity to know what is truth indeed... there will be oppression, and an attempt to compel the conscience; but those who have known the truth will be afraid to yield to the powers of darkness... Christ says of his people, "Ye are the light of the world. A city that is set on a hill cannot be hid." We are to stand the trial and test of persecution because of allegiance to the truth. Not a move has been made in exalting the idol sabbath, in bringing around Sunday observance through legislation, but Satan has been behind it, and has been the chief worker; but the conscience should not be compelled even for the observance of the genuine Sabbath, for God will accept only willing service. {RH, April 15, 1890 par. 13}

And then Dann Wyatt, one of our online listeners, and a friend who gave me the plane ride on a recent visit to CA, sent this quote from Mount of Blessings p 50:

"Those principles that were made known to man in Paradise as the great law of life will exist unchanged in Paradise restored. When Eden shall bloom on earth again, God's law of love will be obeyed by all beneath the sun."

SABBATH

Read memory text: "Jesus said to her, 'I am the resurrection and the life. He who believes in Me, thought he may die, shall live.'" (John 11:25, NKJV)

Questions about life and death and resurrection – then we will explore the answers:

- What is death?
- If one dies are they still alive?
- When the Bible says, the wages of sin is death, does that mean continued life or cessation of life?
- When God said in the day you eat you will die, does that mean cessation of life or continued living in an altered state?
- When Jesus said the God so loved the world... does perish mean die or continued living for an eternity of suffering?
- When Jesus said those who believe in him will never die, what does that mean?
- Do human beings possess immortality? Or were human beings created as immortal beings?

- What about the Bible passages that say the dead are sleeping? Are they dead or are they sleeping?
- What about the places where it says God killed people, did He kill them or did He put them to sleep? What difference does it make?
- What causes death?
- Does death come from God or from sin?
- Is there a difference between first death and second death?
- Which death is the wages of sin death?
- If first death is the wages of sin, and Christ died to pay the wages of sin for the righteous, then why do the righteous die the first death?
- Why is there a first death?
- Is first death a punishment from God?
- Is second death a punishment from God?
- Why does second death happen?
- What makes up a person – the constituent components?
- What happens to the person, the individual, at first death?
- What happens to the person, the individual, at second death?
- What is the purpose of raising the wicked at the end of the 1000 years if they are only to die again?
- Who causes the death of the wicked at the end of the 1000 years?
- What about Jesus' death – what death did He die? Some say the “second” death – did Jesus die the same death the wicked die in the end? Or, was His death, just like His life, unique?

Answers:

- What is death?
 - In the Bible the word death is used to refer to three states:
 - The state of being out of relationship with God “Dead in trespass and sin” (Eph 2:1, Col 2:13)
 - The state when our physical body ceases to function, but for which a resurrection occurs, what some call first death (Jn 11:25)
 - The state of eternal non-existence in which body and every other aspect of a person no longer exists, what some call the second death (Rev 20)
- If one dies are they still alive?
 - It depends on which of the deaths one is referring to – those dead in trespass and sin – are still capable of accepting Jesus and entering into life, their bodies still function, their individualities still exist, but, having not accepted the Remedy, they remain terminal.
 - All those who have died the first death are going to rise again – thus they are not eternally dead
 - No one has yet died eternally, but those in the future who do will truly be dead

- When the Bible says, the wages of sin is death, does that mean continued life or cessation of life?
 - This means cessation of all life, all individuality, all existence
- When God said in the day you eat you will die, does that mean cessation of life or continued living in an altered state?
 - Eternal non-existence
 - What God was saying in Eden was basically, “in the day you choose to eat of the fruit of the Tree of Knowledge you will deviate from the way I have designed life to operate, you will sever your connection with me and the only result is non-existence, or death” unless of course, God intervenes, through Christ to alter that outcome
- When Jesus said the God so loved the world... does perish mean die or continued living?
 - Eternal non-existence
- When Jesus said those who believe in him will never die, what does that mean?
 - That they would exist forever, their existence, individuality, would not be destroyed, but their bodies may cease functioning and they may enter an intermediary state, a state of suspended animation in which their individualities exist, but are not actively operating, thus are suspended in time.
 - The individualities of people in this state are safe and secure with Christ in heaven
 - Our personal identity is preserved in the resurrection, though not the same particles of matter or material substance as went into the grave. The wondrous works of God are a mystery to man. The spirit, the character of man, is returned to God, there to be preserved. In the resurrection every man will have his own character. God in His own time will call forth the dead, giving again the breath of life, and bidding the dry bones live. The same form will come forth, but it will be free from disease and every defect. It lives again bearing the same individuality of features, so that friend will recognize friend. There is no law of God in nature which shows that God gives back the same identical particles of matter which composed the body before death. God shall give the righteous dead a body that will please Him. {6BC 1093.2}
- Do human beings possess immortality?
 - no, God alone is immortal 1Tim 6:16
 - the wages of sin is death the gift of God is eternal life Rom 6:23
- What about the Bible passages that say the dead are sleeping? Are they dead or are they sleeping?
 - When Jesus entered the ruler’s house and saw the flute players and the noisy crowd, ²⁴ he said, “Go away. The girl is not dead but asleep.” But they laughed at him. ²⁵ After the crowd had been put outside, he went in and took the girl by the hand, and she got up. ²⁶ News of this spread through all that region. MT9:23-26
 - When he arrived at the house of Jairus, he did not let anyone go in with him except Peter, John and James, and the child’s father and mother. ⁵² Meanwhile, all the people were wailing and mourning for her. “Stop wailing,” Jesus said. “She is not dead but asleep.” ⁵³ They laughed at him, knowing that she was dead. ⁵⁴ But he took her by the

- hand and said, “My child, get up!”⁵⁵ Her spirit returned, and at once she stood up. Then Jesus told them to give her something to eat.⁵⁶ Her parents were astonished, but he ordered them not to tell anyone what had happened. LK 8:51-56
- Why did they laugh at Him?
 - Was Jesus lying to them? Was Jesus trying to deceive them?
 - Was Jesus being the light of the world and trying to enlighten them?
 - What was Jesus trying to help them see?
 - That what we call death is not what God calls death.
 - What are the implications? What does it mean in the OT if this is not death?
 - It means God has killed/murdered no one – God has put the body in the grave, suspended the activity of the mind, but each one is not dead, they are merely in a state of suspended animation and will come forth again to life, in either one of two resurrections.
- After he had said this, he went on to tell them, “Our friend Lazarus has fallen asleep; but I am going there to wake him up.”¹² His disciples replied, “Lord, if he sleeps, he will get better.”¹³ Jesus had been speaking of his death, but his disciples thought he meant natural sleep.¹⁴ So then he told them plainly, “Lazarus is dead,¹⁵ and for your sake I am glad I was not there, so that you may believe. But let us go to him.” JN 11:11-15
 - Again was Jesus lying or trying to deceive?
 - Or was Jesus being the light?
 - Then what we call death is something different than what God calls death
 - But Christ has indeed been raised from the dead, the firstfruits of those who have fallen asleep. 1Cor 15:20
- What about the places where it says God killed people, did He kill them or did He put them to sleep?
 - Some have gone to extremes to make a case that all the places in the OT where the Bible says God killed was actually something else happening. This happens because the Bible will describe God doing things that He permits. Let’s examine the possibilities:
 - A person kills themselves, but it is attributed to God – King Saul: 1Chron 10:4,14
 - Satan and his angels kill but it is attributed to God – Job and fire from the sky: Job 1:16
 - Evil people kill but it is attributed to God – the Sabeans in Job 1:14
 - But, then there are also times when God puts people to sleep and it is God doing it, yet some will try to make it out to be Satan and deny God is doing it because of the examples cited above. The reason some do this is because they want to put God in a good light, they rightly don’t want to teach God is a killer or source of death. They make the argument because in Exodus it uses terms like “the destroyer” and point out that Satan is the destroyer.

- The first born of Egypt – what is the problem we get into when we say it was Satan who slew the firstborn?
 - It undermines God and validates Satan why does this happen?
- The problem occurs because of several errors in thinking –
 - first those who do this are generally operating at level six thinking of moral development and understand God’s principles and realize that life emanates from God, and thus based on this principle conclude that it is either God letting go and death ensues, or Satan attacking when God moves back.
 - But several errors of facts contribute to this perspective. First, believing that first death is death, rather than realizing that first death is not death at all, but a state of mercy, an artificial state that exists because of God’s grace to hold at bay the actual destruction of individuality, soul, character of the people, which won’t occur until after the 1000 years.
 - Additionally, it occurs because they don’t understand the purpose of God’s actions in the setting of the Great Controversy. This is level seven thinking. In this setting one realizes God is exposing the gods of Egypt as frauds and powerless. Therefore, if God were to do as these good-hearted people allege, allow Satan to kill the firstborn, then the false gods of Egypt would be shown to actually have power over life and death and would be proven true. Further, in the case they set up, it would mean God would have to rely on Satan to make God look good, once God said, the first born would die.
 - If God is not killing in the OT, then what is He doing?
 - He is working to keep open the channel for the Messiah, to preserve life, to protect, to heal, not to punish.
- What causes death, the actual eternal destruction of the entire being?
 - Unremedied sin, which is deviation from God’s design and incompatible with life when God let’s go and stops hold back the results of our condition.
 - It is also a voluntary choice on part of the wicked
- Does death come from God or from sin?
 - If you have an imposed law construct, then one teaches that God is the source of death. In that Roman model, based on God’s laws being no different than human laws, one believes that God must use power to inflict punishment, death, like human beings do.
 - If one understands God’s law to be the construction protocols upon which life is built, one understands unremedied sin is incompatible with life and results in death. Thus EGW wrote:

- We are not to regard God as waiting to punish the sinner for his sin. The sinner brings the punishment upon himself. His own actions start a train of circumstances that bring the sure result. Every act of transgression reacts upon the sinner, works in him a change of character, and makes it more easy for him to transgress again. By choosing to sin, men separate themselves from God, cut themselves off from the channel of blessing, and the sure result is ruin and death. {1SM 235.2}

From Hard Questions of the Bible, published by IVP:

In some sense, God's wrath is built into the very structure of created reality. In rejecting God's structure and establishing our own, in violating God's intention for the creation and substituting our own intentions, we cause or own disintegration. P 542

Since the created order has its origin in God, Paul can say that the wrath of God is now (constantly) being revealed "from heaven." It is revealed in the fact that the rejection of God's truth (Rom 1:18-20), that is, the truth about God's nature and will, leads to futile thinking (Rom 1:21-22), idolatry (Rom 1:23), perversion of God-intended sexuality (Rom 1:24-27) and relational-moral brokenness (Rom 1:28-32). P 543

The expression "God gave them over" (or "handed them over"), which appears three times in this passage (Rom 1:24,26,28), supports the idea that the sinful perversion of human existence, though resulting from human decisions, is to be understood ultimately as God's punishment which we, in freedom, bring upon ourselves. P 543

In light of these reflections, the common notion that God punishes or blesses in direct proportion to our sinful or good deeds cannot be maintained... God loves us with an everlasting love. But the rejection of that love separates us from its life-giving power. The result is disintegration and death. P 543 Kaiser, W., et al., Hard Saying of the Bible, Intervarsity Press, 1996,

Is there a difference between first death and second death?

- Yes, first death is an artificial states of being permitted by God's grace to reduce pain and suffering for both the righteous and wicked, while God's plan of healing is being worked out
- The natural result of deviation from God's law is eternal non-existence, but God holds this at bay allowing time for salvation and securing of His universe.
 - "God presented him as a sacrifice of atonement, through faith in his blood. He did this to demonstrate his justice, because in his forbearance he had left the sins committed beforehand unpunished." Rom 3:25 NIV
 - "From my paraphrase: "God presented Jesus as the way and means of restoration. Now, through trust established by the evidence of God's character revealed when Christ died, we may partake of the Remedy procured by Christ. God did this to demonstrate he is right and good, because in his forbearance he suspended, for a time, the ultimate consequence of being out of harmony with how he designed life to exist and has been falsely accused of being unfair.”

- Which death is the wages of sin death?
 - Eternal non existence
 - If first death is the wages of sin, and Christ died to pay the wages of sin for the righteous, then the righteous would not die that death, but they do. The death the righteous do not die is the second death. We confuse people and misrepresent reality by teaching first death is the wages of sin.
- Is first death a punishment from God?
- Is second death a punishment from God?
 - No it is the unavoidable result of choosing to separate oneself from the source of life, it is the wage or payment from sin, not from God.
- Why does second death happen?
 - Because life cannot exist separate from God and in violation of His design
- What makes up a person?
 - Body, soul, spirit – which is what?
 - Body – hardware, soul (psyche) software, identity, individuality, character, unique personhood, spirit – breath of life, energy
 - but sometimes spirit is also used to describe the unique individual person, identity
- What happens to the person, the individual, at first death?
 - body – disintegrates and returns to dust
 - energy – returns to God
 - individuality – stored in heaven, secure with Christ
- What happens to the person, the individual, at second death?
 - body – disintegrates and returns to base elements
 - energy – returns to God
 - individuality – gone for ever no stored consciousness anywhere
- What happens at the first resurrection?
 - ¹³ Brothers, we do not want you to be ignorant about those who fall asleep, or to grieve like the rest of men, who have no hope. ¹⁴ We believe that Jesus died and rose again and so we believe that God will bring with Jesus those who have fallen asleep in him. ¹⁵ According to the Lord’s own word, we tell you that we who are still alive, who are left till the coming of the Lord, will certainly not precede those who have fallen asleep. ¹⁶ For the Lord himself will come down from heaven, with a loud command, with the voice of the archangel and with the trumpet call of God, and the dead in Christ will rise first. ¹⁷ After that, we who are still alive and are left will be caught up together with them in the clouds to meet the Lord in the air. And so we will be with the Lord forever. ¹⁸ Therefore encourage each other with these words. 1Thes 4:14-18
 - What does it mean “will bring with Jesus”?
 - At the resurrection Jesus brings with Him the individualities, identities of the dead, and downloads them into new bodies and then they live again.

- What is the purpose of raising the wicked after the end of the 1000 years if they are only to die again?
 - To reveal that when God, put some persons to sleep in human history, His action in doing so in no way determined their ultimate destiny and each person will demonstrate persistent refusal of God and His methods of love and will voluntarily choose to surrender their lives
- The wicked will be resurrected at the end of the 1000 years at the resurrection of damnation into imperfect bodies. (Rev 20:5) At that time they have their individualities downloaded from God's record books (heavenly servers) and the heavenly server is "erased." No individuality is backed up or stored any longer. The New Jerusalem is on earth and a period of time goes by as the wicked gather together to attack the city. (Rev 20:7-9) During this time the righteous are in the city and the gates of the city are open. (Rev 21:25) When the wicked march upon the city, in mass, to attack it, then God unveils his full glory and the fire of his presence, the fire of truth and love, consumes all sin.
- What is the point of this resurrection? To reveal that God, when he put people to sleep in OT times, in no way determined the ultimate outcome of their lives. The wicked are raised to finish their lives by the exercise of their own choices. But, even with the New Jerusalem on earth, the minds of the wicked are so settled into the lies about God that they still won't surrender to him and come into the city. Thus it is proved beyond all doubt that it is unremedied sin that destroys, and God is truly the God of love and life. God stands exonerated of all charges in the minds of his intelligent creatures. The last lie, that God is the source of death, is fully disproved.
- Then, when the wicked are destroyed, because their individualities are no longer stored in heaven, they are eternally annihilated, or gone. This is the death of sin, the wages of sin, eternal non-existence. While both righteous and wicked "sleep" until resurrection, only the unhealed wicked are eternally destroyed (or die). Why? Because life was built to exist only in harmony with God's character of love, the wicked having never been restored to God's design for life cannot survive. God, in harmony with his law of love and liberty, sets them free to experience what they have chosen, eternal separation from him, the source of life, and thus they pass permanently from existence.

From the Book The Great Controversy:

At the close of the thousand years, Christ again returns to the earth. He is accompanied by the host of the redeemed and attended by a retinue of angels. As He descends in terrific majesty He bids the wicked dead arise to receive their doom. They come forth, a mighty host, numberless as the sands of the sea. What a contrast to those who were raised at the first resurrection! The righteous were clothed with immortal youth and beauty. The wicked bear the traces of disease and death... {GC 662.1}

As the New Jerusalem, in its dazzling splendor, comes down out of heaven, it rests upon the place purified and made ready to receive it, and Christ, with His people and the angels, enters the Holy City. {GC 662.3}

Now Satan prepares for a last mighty struggle for the supremacy. While deprived of his power and cut off from his work of deception, the prince of evil was miserable and dejected; but as the wicked dead are raised and he sees the vast multitudes upon his side, his hopes revive, and he determines not to yield the great controversy. He will marshal all the armies of the lost under his banner and through them endeavor to execute his plans. The wicked are Satan's captives. In rejecting Christ they have accepted the rule of the rebel leader. They are ready to receive his suggestions and to do his bidding. Yet, true to his early cunning, he does not acknowledge himself to be Satan. He claims to be the prince who is the rightful owner of the world and whose inheritance has been unlawfully [unlawfully – why? Because he promotes imposed rules, and he claims that Adam gave it to him so its his and it isn't far. Can't you hear him whining? But we realize that nature is sustained by connection to its Creator and operates on natural law and thus Satan has no claim and it is not unlawfully taken from him as it was never his to begin with] wrested from him. He represents himself to his deluded subjects as a redeemer, assuring them that his power has brought them forth from their graves and that he is about to rescue them from the most cruel tyranny. The presence of Christ having been removed, Satan works wonders to support his claims. He makes the weak strong and inspires all with his own spirit and energy. He proposes to lead them against the camp of the saints and to take possession of the City of God. With fiendish exultation he points to the unnumbered millions who have been raised from the dead and declares that as their leader he is well able to overthrow the city and regain his throne and his kingdom. {GC 663.1} [notice what methods Satan is proposing, violence, coercion, force – and the wicked believe this is right. Think about it, those who teach that God uses these methods and worships a God like this will find themselves in this group using methods of violence to attack the city]

In that vast throng are multitudes of the long-lived race that existed before the Flood; men of lofty stature and giant intellect, who, yielding to the control of fallen angels, devoted all their skill and knowledge to the exaltation of themselves; men whose wonderful works of art led the world to idolize their genius, but whose cruelty and evil inventions, defiling the earth and defacing the image of God, caused Him to blot them from the face of His creation. [God took action to take them off the face of the earth, yet, here they are alive again, and watch what happens, demonstrating God's actions did not determine their eternal destiny] There are kings and generals who conquered nations, valiant men who never lost a battle, proud, ambitious warriors whose approach made kingdoms tremble. In death these experienced no change. As they come up from the grave, they resume the current of their thoughts just where it ceased. They are actuated by the same desire to conquer that ruled them when they fell. {GC 664.1} [They pick their lives up right where they left off, God merely suspended them in time, but the trajectory of their lives was not altered by God. They are the same people, operating on the same principles, and reject truth and prefer lies in the same way they always have.]

Satan consults with his angels, and then with these kings and conquerors and mighty men. They look upon the strength and numbers on their side, and declare that the army within the city is small in comparison with theirs, and that it can be overcome. They lay their plans to take possession of the riches and glory of the New Jerusalem. All immediately begin to prepare for battle. Skillful artisans construct implements of war. Military leaders, famed for their success, marshal the throngs of warlike men into companies and divisions. {GC 664.2} [Notice, a period of time is going by while these preparations for war is taking place – and the New Jerusalem is on earth during this time]

At last the order to advance is given, and the countless host moves on--an army such as was never summoned by earthly conquerors, such as the combined forces of all ages since war began on earth could never equal. Satan, the mightiest of warriors, leads the van, and his angels unite their forces for this final struggle. Kings and warriors are in his train, and the multitudes follow in vast companies, each under its appointed leader. With military precision the serried ranks advance over the earth's broken and uneven surface to the City of God. By command of Jesus, the gates of the New Jerusalem are closed, and the armies of Satan surround the city and make ready for the onset. {GC 664.3} [Note, the gates are closed when they attack, which means they were open before the attack, which implies what? People were not locked out. So what kept the wicked from coming into the city? Their own freewill choices. They don't want to be there. What does this reveal? That there is nothing God can do for them, no about of truth or love has any impact. They are beyond healing. They have destroyed themselves.]

Why are the wicked raised again? To finish their lives, in the full light of all intelligences and all the saved, to reveal once and for all, God is not the source of death.

What happens next?

Now Christ again appears to the view of His enemies. Far above the city, upon a foundation of burnished gold, is a throne, high and lifted up. Upon this throne sits the Son of God, and around Him are the subjects of His kingdom. The power and majesty of Christ no language can describe, no pen portray. The glory of the Eternal Father is enshrouding His Son. The brightness of His presence fills the City of God, and flows out beyond the gates, flooding the whole earth with its radiance. {GC 665.1}

What does this mean?

Fire comes out from God – His life giving glory, the fires of truth and love, in which the righteous live, flow over the earth – and what happens?

God does not force the will or judgment of any. He takes no pleasure in a slavish obedience. He desires that the creatures of His hands shall love Him because He is worthy of love. He would have them obey Him because they have an intelligent appreciation of His wisdom, justice, and benevolence. And all who have a just conception of these qualities will love Him because they are drawn toward Him in admiration of His attributes. {GC 541.3}

The principles of kindness, mercy, and love, taught and exemplified by our Saviour, are a transcript of the will and character of God. Christ declared that He taught nothing except that which He had received from His Father. The principles of the divine government are in perfect harmony with the Saviour's precept, "Love your enemies." God executes justice upon the wicked, for the good of the universe, and even for the good of those upon whom His judgments are visited. He would make them happy if He could do so in accordance with the laws of His government and the justice of His character. He surrounds them with the tokens of His love, He grants them a knowledge of His law, and follows them with the offers of His mercy; but they despise His love, make void His law, and reject His mercy. While constantly receiving His gifts, they dishonor the Giver; they hate God because they know that He abhors their sins. The Lord bears long with their perversity; but the decisive hour will come at last, when their destiny is to be decided. Will He then chain these rebels to His side? Will He force them to do His will? {GC 541.4}

Those who have chosen Satan as their leader and have been controlled by his power are not prepared to enter the presence of God. Pride, deception, licentiousness, cruelty, have become fixed in their characters. Can they enter heaven to dwell forever with those whom they despised and hated on earth? Truth will never be agreeable to a liar; meekness will not satisfy self-esteem and pride; purity is not acceptable to the corrupt; disinterested love does not appear attractive to the selfish. What source of enjoyment could heaven offer to those who are wholly absorbed in earthly and selfish interests? {GC 542.1}

Could those whose lives have been spent in rebellion against God be suddenly transported to heaven and witness the high, the holy state of perfection that ever exists there,-- every soul filled with love, every countenance beaming with joy, enrapturing music in melodious strains rising in honor of God and the Lamb, and ceaseless streams of light flowing upon the redeemed from the face of Him who sitteth upon the throne,--could those whose hearts are filled with hatred of God, of truth and holiness, mingle with the heavenly throng and join their songs of praise? Could they endure the glory of God and the Lamb? No, no; years of probation were granted them, that they might form characters for heaven; but they have never trained the mind to love purity; they have never learned the language of heaven, and now it is too late. A life of rebellion against God has unfitted them for heaven. Its purity, holiness, and peace would be torture to them; the glory of God would be a consuming fire. They would long to flee from that holy place. They would welcome destruction, that they might be hidden from the face of Him who died to redeem them. The destiny of the wicked is fixed by their own choice. Their exclusion from heaven is voluntary with themselves, and just and merciful on the part of God. {GC 542.2}

Like the waters of the Flood the fires of the great day declare God's verdict that the wicked are incurable.

Why do the wicked die?

Why do some live longer in these flames?

- Some live longer, because the more selfish, the more they struggle to live. But their characters are out of harmony with nature, with God, with the way life operates and to exist in their state in God's universe torments them. Thus in the end they choose not to live. Sin, which is being out of harmony from the way God created life to operate, and results as a voluntary choice on the part of the person to give up their life.

What about Jesus' death – what death did He die? Some say the “second” death – did Jesus die the same death the wicked die in the end? Or, was His death, just like His life, unique?

- Jesus was a unique being, a blend of human and divine, He didn't have sinful mother and father, but only a sinful mother. He had a humanity capable of being tempted like us in everyway, but He also had a mind/character capable of resisting and overcoming those temptations, in His own strength – we don't.
- The death of the wicked in the end is different from the death Jesus suffered at the cross, but also similar – how?
- God's actions toward both are the same – so when we examine God's role in the death of Christ we can learn something about His role in the death of the wicked. What did God do to His Son? He let Him go to reap what Christ had chosen, which was to go through the Cross. Likewise, God will let go of the wicked and let them experience what they have chosen, which is life separated from Him, eternal death.
- But, note the distinct differences:
 - Christ died trusting the Father – Luke 23:46
 - The wicked die distrusting the Father – Revelation 6:16

 - Christ died longing to see the Father – Mark 15:34
 - The wicked die hiding from the Father – Revelation 6:16

 - Christ died when the Father's presence was hidden – Mark 15:34
 - The wicked die when the Father is fully revealed – 2 Thes 2:8

 - Christ died with the power to stop death from taking Him – John 10:18
 - The wicked die without the power to stop death

 - Christ died less than 72 hours – Luke 24:1-8
 - The wicked die eternally – Malachi 4:1-3, Romans 6:23, James 1:15, 2Pet 3:10-12

 - Christ died when love overcame selfishness – John 3:16, 10:17,18, 1John 3:16
 - The wicked die overcome by selfishness – Revelation 21:8

 - Christ died yet arose with His individuality intact, in other words, death did not destroy His individuality, identity – Acts 1:11
 - The wicked die and their individuality is eternally destroyed

The last paragraph rightly states that Jesus conquered death – first what does that mean? If He conquered death, was He conquered by death? What about the wicked in the end? So, did Christ die the second death or destroy the second death? 1Tim 2:10 by his death he destroyed death and brought life and immortality to light.

Second, how did He destroy death?

What is the basis of life? Life originates in God who alone is immortal (1Tim 6:16). But, when God created life is there some basis for its continuation?

Yes – His design – harmony with Him the source, staying connected to Him, which means living in harmony with the law of love.

Sin – is deviation from this design, and severs our connection with the source of life and thus the result is ruin and death.

Then how did Christ defeat death? By destroying the infection of lies, fear and selfishness which sever our connection with God, and developing a perfect human character in harmony with God's design for life.

Christ was tempted by human emotions to act in self-interest and use His power to save self. But, Christ voluntarily chose, in love, to surrender self, thus crucifying the infection of self-interest, the survival of the fittest instinct, while simultaneously living in perfect love, establishing a perfect humanity. Thus He rose on the third day in a perfected humanity, perfected by His own choices, with the law of love, the protocols for life perfectly restored in the species human.

SUNDAY

In the first paragraph you will notice some confusion regarding the description of death. “sleep stands out as a fitting symbol to reflect the biblical understanding of the condition of the dead. Death is the total end of life. Death is a state of unconsciousness in which there are no thoughts, emotions, works, or relationships of any kind.”

Anything contradictory or confusing about this?

It seems to me they are mixing first and second death experiences. Is first death “the total end of life?” Or a suspension of being alive, but not yet being dead, like the sleep state the Bible describes it as? Will those who die the first death rise again? Did Moses die the first death and live again? Then was his death experience the total end of life?

Whereas, second death is the total end of life from which life does not occur again for those who experience it.

This confusion leads to many false ideas about God and His actions toward people in the Bible and false conclusions about how the wicked die in the end.

TUESDAY

read second paragraph, “The universality...” Any concerns about this paragraph?

It is viewed under the imposed law construct, as if God has rules like a Roman dictator and must have a court hearing and make judgments to determine the guilt or innocence of the accused. This is all false –

Notice the distortions – God is the judge – who determines the fate or final destiny of each person and then God executes the wicked – thus God is the source of death, pain and suffering.

This view teaches eternal dualism, the eternal existence of good and evil in the character of God. It creates a universe in which freedom from fear and selfishness, known as sin, can never occur. This is an infection, from accepting Satan’s view of God’s law and thus falsely concluding these ideas.

It also ignores what the Bible teaches:

- Moreover, the Father judges no one, but has entrusted all judgment to the Son Jn 5:22
- For God did not send his Son into the world to be its judge, but to be its saviour. Those who believe in the Son are not judged; but those who do not believe have already been judged, because they have not believed in God’s only Son. ¹⁹This is how the judgement works: the light has come into the world, but people love the darkness rather than the light, because their deeds are evil. ²⁰All those who do evil things hate the light and will not come to the light, because they do not want their evil deeds to be shown up. ²¹But those who do what is true come to the light in order that the light may show that what they did was in obedience to God. JN 3:17-21

How does judgment work – God presents light and truth, and we make a judgment to accept or reject it, and as we reject truth we pass judgment on ourselves.

They thought themselves passing judgment on Christ; but in rejecting Him they were pronouncing sentence upon themselves. "He that is of God," said Jesus, "heareth God's words: ye therefore hear them not, because ye are not of God." {DA 468.1}

The lesson is true for all time. Many a man who delights to quibble, to criticize, seeking for something to question in the word of God, thinks that he is thereby giving evidence of independence of thought, and mental acuteness. He supposes that he is sitting in judgment on the Bible, when in truth he is judging himself. He makes it manifest that he is incapable of appreciating truths that originate in heaven, and that compass eternity. DA 468.2

The people who beheld the Saviour at His advent were favored with a fuller manifestation of the divine presence than the world had ever enjoyed before. The knowledge of God was revealed more perfectly. But in this very revelation, judgment was passing upon men. Their character was tested, their destiny determined. {DA 475.2}

What is the judgment of God?

You see under the imposed law construct, when we view God's law like Rome's then we teach a God who sits in judgment to determine guilt or innocence.

But, when we understand God is Creator and His laws are the protocols life is actually built upon, then we understand that judgment is actually diagnosis, diagnosing what actually exists. Each person determines, whether they have partaken the Remedy procured by Christ and been reborn, renewed, recreated in the inner man, and thus restored into rightness with God – i.e. healed, or whether they have rejected the Remedy and remained in their terminal condition.

When we understand this then the Bible makes so much more sense.

The last paragraph states, “Jesus indicated that our destiny will be decided on the basis of the moral quality of our deeds (good or bad).”

“Make a tree good and its fruit will be good, or make a tree bad and its fruit will be bad, for a tree is recognized by its fruit. ³⁴ You brood of vipers, how can you who are evil say anything good? For out of the overflow of the heart the mouth speaks. ³⁵ The good man brings good things out of the good stored up in him, and the evil man brings evil things out of the evil stored up in him. ³⁶ But I tell you that men will have to give account on the day of judgment for every careless word they have spoken. ³⁷ For by your words you will be acquitted, and by your words you will be condemned.” MT 12:33-37

Consider these two cases:

- The Pharisee who makes a big donation, prays regularly, fasts, pays tithe, and is very glad he is not an evil person. LK 18:10
- Rahab – who was a prostitute and lied

Who did good deeds? Who did bad deeds? Who will be in heaven and who will not?

The LORD does not look at the things man looks at. Man looks at the outward appearance, but the LORD looks at the heart.” 1Sam 16:7

WEDNESDAY

Read last paragraph, “In many Bible...” thoughts?

THURSDAY

Read second paragraph, “Still, far more...” Why was it important that Jesus had the power to resist death? What does it reveal in the setting of the Great Controversy?

There was a television show called Stargate, and a couple of seasons had evil entities known as the Ori and these beings demanded worship and would kill all intelligent beings who refused to worship them. They had prophets that were given superhuman abilities and would go out to preach the message of the Ori to convert worlds to worship them. If worlds refused they were annihilated. The message over and over again from the prophets was “do you deny the power of the Ori?”

In one episode one of the heroes was talking to an Ori convert when asked, “do you deny the power of the Ori?” Answered, it isn’t their power that I question, but their use of power. To kill people for not worshipping them means they are not gods worthy of worship.

This is the issue in the Great Controversy – and Christianity has been infected with a false god concept in which many teach that God is powerful and will use His power to kill those who refuse to worship Him.

This is Satan’s view of God. Christ revealed just the opposite, when with the power to stop death, with the power to wipe out His enemies, He refused to use His power to protect Himself and thus proved our God is not like Satan, is not like the Ori. Our God would rather let us kill Him than use His power to stop us. This all powerful God is trustworthy and worthy of our worship.

The Teachings of Jesus 3rd Q 2014 The Second Coming

SABBATH

“Let not your heart be troubled; you believe in God, believe also in Me. In My Father’s house are many mansions; if it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you. And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again and receive you to Myself; that where I am, there you may be also.” (John 14:1–3, NKJV).

Is the 2nd coming of Jesus the “capstone of our teachings”, as the lesson suggests? Should it be?

How does our “Law” understanding affect our understanding of the 2nd coming?

What is so important about Jesus’ return?

Is there a risk of falling in to the trap of hoping for a reward vs. fearing a punishment at the 2nd coming?

How does His 2nd Advent relate to the 1st? Any similarities / differences?

SUNDAY

The Promise

In what context was “the promise” of John 14: 1-3 made? See verses 5-11.

5 Thomas said, “Master, we have no idea where you’re going. How do you expect us to know the road?” 6-7 Jesus said, “I am the Road, also the Truth, also the Life. No one gets to the Father apart from me. If you really knew me, you would know my Father as well. From now on, you do know him. You’ve even seen him!” 8 Philip said, “Master, show us the Father; then we’ll be content.” 9-10 “You’ve been with me all this time, Philip, and you still don’t understand? To see me is to see the Father. So how can you ask, ‘Where is the Father?’ Don’t you believe that I am in the Father and the Father is in me? The words that I speak to you aren’t mere words. I don’t just make them up on my own. The Father who resides in me crafts each word into a divine act. 11-14 “Believe me: I am in my Father and my Father is in me. If you can’t believe that, believe what you see—these works. MSG.

The disciples still didn’t understand that Jesus was God in the flesh [Immanuel – God with Us]. Hasn’t that been the misunderstanding from the Beginning of the Controversy? Lucifer didn’t believe or accept that the being, we know as Christ, was ONE with God in Spirit, Love, Truth, Freedom, Law, & Mission.

MONDAY

The Purpose of Jesus' Second Coming

What has been the purpose of EVERYTHING God has done since sin originated in Heaven? To fully reveal His character of Love to the Universe.

Might the 2nd coming play a role in that purpose? What about the 3rd coming?

The lesson states "The great plan of Redemption will find its culmination in the Second Coming. Without Christ's return to this earth, His incarnation, death, and resurrection would have no effect for our salvation."

I believe that the "plan of Redemption" will not find its culmination until after the return of the Holy City to Earth and the final destruction of the unrighteous in the "fire" of God's presence [see Rev Ch. 20-22]. Consider why it may take this long. Any other thoughts?

The lesson seems to be making the point that "justice" is the purpose of Christ's 2nd coming – "What's important about the promise in Matthew 16:27 is that justice will be done. We just have to wait for it."

Whose "justice"? God's or ours?

TUESDAY

How will Jesus Come?

Is it so important to know "how" Christ will come as to know the Character of the one who comes? The lesson emphasizes the display of Christ's coming – "Lightning cannot be hidden or faked. It flashes and shines throughout the sky in such a way that everyone can see it. So will be Jesus' second coming. No advertisement will be needed to call people's attention toward it. Every human being, good and evil, saved and lost, even "they who pierced Him" (Rev. 1:7, NKJV), will see Him coming (Matt. 26:64, NKJV)."

What does scripture have to say about lightening / fire from heaven? [see Job 1:16 & Rev 13:13-17]

So, lightening can be produced by a false god or even a man [see Nicola Tesla's Magnifying Transmitter or any Frankenstein movie].

The lesson, also, speaks, eloquently, on the resurrection of the dead "in Christ". Why is this important to keep in mind? How do we reconcile the text that the lesson gives us to consider [specifically v. 14]?

"13 But I do not want you to be ignorant, brethren, concerning those who have fallen asleep, lest you sorrow as others who have no hope. 14 For if we believe that Jesus died and rose again, even so God will bring with Him those who sleep in Jesus. 15 For this we say to you by the word of the Lord, that we who are alive and remain until the coming of the Lord will by no means precede those who are asleep. 16 For the Lord Himself will descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of an archangel, and with the trumpet of God. And the dead in Christ will rise first. 17 Then we who are alive and remain shall be caught up together with them in the clouds to meet the Lord in the air. And thus we shall always be with the Lord. 18 Therefore comfort one another with these words. NKJV.

“God will bring with Him those who sleep in Jesus” What does THAT mean?

WEDNESDAY

When Will Jesus Come?

Let's see what the founder of our church has to say.

Q: When will Jesus come? A: “And this gospel of the kingdom will be preached in all the world as a witness to all the nations, and then the end will come. Matt. 24:14 [see, also Mark 13:10].

I think that's pretty clear. So, by using our higher deductive powers, we may conclude that “the gospel of the kingdom [of Heaven]” has yet to be preached to all of the world.

Has a false gospel yet been preached to all of the world?

Does it matter when Jesus comes? Should it matter?

“I was shown the company present at the Conference. Said the angel: ‘Some food for worms, some subjects of the seven last plagues, some will be alive and remain upon the earth to be translated at the coming of Jesus.’” – 1T 131,132. [1856].

“It is really not wise to have children now. Time is short, the perils of the last days are upon us, and the little children will be largely swept off before this.” Letter 48 [1876].

What are we to make of these statements from one of the founders of Adventism?

“The long night of gloom is trying, but the morning is deferred in mercy, because if the Master should come so many would be found unready. –2T 194 [1868].

“Had the church of Christ done her appointed work as the Lord ordained, the whole world would before this have been warned and the Lord Jesus would have come to our earth in power and great glory. –DA 633,4 [1898].

“Christ is waiting with longing desire for the manifestation of Himself in His church. When the character of Christ shall be perfectly reproduced in His people, then He will come to claim them as His own. It is the privilege of every Christian, not only to look for, but to hasten the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ. Were all who profess His name bearing fruit to His glory, how quickly the whole world would be sown with the seed of the gospel. Quickly the last great harvest would be ripened, and Christ would come to gather the precious grain. – COL 69 [1900] emphasis added.

Have you ever considered that you & I have the capability to hasten the 2nd coming?

THURSDAY

Watch and Be Ready

“Why is it crucial for us to watch and always be ready for Jesus’ coming?” Good question. The lesson gives us Matt 24: 42, 44 to consider.

42 Watch therefore, for you do not know what hour your Lord is coming. 43 But know this, that if the master of the house had known what hour the thief would come, he would have watched and not allowed his house to be broken into. 44 Therefore you also be ready, for the Son of Man is coming at an hour you do not expect.

It sounds like our Savior was speaking to those with a moral development in the stage 1 [reward vs punishment] or 2 [marketplace exchange] levels. Thankfully, He doesn’t leave it there. He gives another illustration in the next few verses.

45 “Who then is a faithful and wise servant, whom his master made ruler over his household, to give them food in due season? 46 Blessed is that servant whom his master, when he comes, will find so doing. 47 Assuredly, I say to you that he will make him ruler over all his goods.

Note the character of the “wise servant”. He is charged with “feeding” the “household”. Who does the household represent, and what are they to be fed?

INTRODUCTION

The introduction to the lesson points out in the third paragraph, that Martin Luther considered the book of James to be an "epistle of straw." Luther relegated James, Jude, Revelation and Hebrews to the back of the Bible and stated he couldn't find Christ in these books and didn't consider them part of Scripture.

The lesson rightly points out in the fourth paragraph of the introduction, "Luther's emphasis on Paul's epistles, especially Romans and Galatians, and his rejection of James for anything more than devotional value, has influenced a large segment of Christian thinking through the centuries."

First I want to point out Luther was a hero of the reformation, a man of God used by God, but not a perfect person, a human being with limited understanding who didn't come to resolve all the distortions that had infected Christianity over the centuries.

How has Christianity been influenced by the rejection of James and the three other books by Luther?

- The loss of the larger view of a controversy involving the entire universe over God's trustworthiness
- The focus on a self-centered read of Scripture, it is all about me and my salvation
- In reaction to the infection of imposed law with all its arbitrariness, a legal religious emphasis, frequently referred to as penal substitution which focuses on legal pardon, legal solutions, legal adjustments and devalues or ignores actual transformation and regeneration of people
- Division and factions as Christians focus on the right legal and proper interpretation of a verse, doctrine, prophecy, rather than identifying God's design protocols and principles for living

Any other examples or thoughts?

SABBATH

Read memory text, "You are my friends if you do whatever I command you." Jn 15:14

Do you find that interesting way of making friends? Go up to a group and say, you are my friends if you do whatever I command you?

How is this true when Jesus says it and how can this be misunderstood?

If viewed through a dictator lens, a lens of authority being based on position or rank, then the king has the right to command and we show our friendship by obeying his commands without question. To question is seen as rebellious and unfriendly.

In the Designer view, we understand that authority rests on truth, and God is the source of all truth, and also has a character of love, with the best interest of all His creatures at heart. Thus, if we are His friends, we know Him, we know His character of love, we know that His methods work and are best, thus with intelligent understanding, appreciation for who He is, we do what He commands, even if we don't understand the purpose of the specific command, we do understand the one who gave the command and know it is for good, thus we do what He says and are thankful He cares enough to give us His directions.

- Which way have you viewed His commands throughout your life?
- Has your view of His commands changed over the years?
- What has impacted you to change your view, and how has your changed view impacted your desire to carry out His commands?

What is the consequence for viewing his commands like a dictator? That it increases fear and rebellion, that we might do the behavior but we are not being transformed to godliness. People who obey because the rule says so, because God must punish if we don't, and who refuse to grow beyond this point even when opportunity to grow presents itself, generally don't become trustworthy people because they require oversight and supervision or else they will rebel.

This is why many young people leave the church. They are raised in homes with dictator god concepts, given a list of rules, many of which don't make sense. They try to grow to a better understanding, but when they ask why, are told things like:

- The Bible says so
- God says so
- The pastor says so
- EGW says so
- Because "I" said so
- Because if you don't you will be lost
- Because if you don't it will be sin and you will have to face that sin in the judgment
- Because if you do go there your angel won't go with you

And when no better reason is given they end up leaving the church as soon as they are out from under the ruling authority.

Imagine something as simple as brushing teeth – the very young child is given the rule, and told to do so, and perhaps a punishment is threatened if they don't. But what happens if when they start thinking, they ask questions, “Mommy why do I have to brush my teeth?” And the answer is:

- The Bible says so
- God says so
- The pastor says so
- EGW says so
- Because “I” said so
- Because if you don't you will be lost
- Because if you don't it will be sin and you will have to face that sin in the judgment

If the child never had any reason other than these, what would the child likely do when they left home? And we wonder why so many of our children leave the church? We must bring them back to the truth of God's law of love, the design upon which life is built, and show them that life is built to operate upon this design, and to deviate from it decays more than teeth, it decays the mind, the heart, the soul, relationships and true happiness, peace and joy.

SUNDAY/MONDAY

The lesson points out that James started out doubting Jesus' mission and fitness, but later became a convert and devoted follower of Jesus. James became so devout that he was eventually called James the Just and was the first leader of the church in Jerusalem.

The lesson states, “Thus, despite starting out in great doubt about Jesus, James ended up being a spiritual giant in the early church.”

What does this tell us about us determining who is fit for God's work? How often do we limit people from working in the church because of some problem we have identified in their history?

Consider the list of people who have been God's agents recorded in Scripture, what do we learn about God from these people:

- Noah
 - The world is dying, bent on self-destruction, what do we learn about God through Noah?
 - Did God want the world to die? Or did He warn and try to save?
 - And after the flood Noah ends up drunk – should we throw Noah out of the church?
- Abraham
 - What about Abraham's idols? How did God treat Abraham?
 - What about Abraham's lies? How did God treat him?

- What about when Abraham argued over Sodom? Shouldn't Abraham have just gone along? Was Abraham referred to as a friend of God? Yet he didn't blindly obey, he objected, what does this mean?
 - What about when Abraham took other wives?
 - What does Abraham's life witness about God?
- Lot (and his daughters) – what do we learn about God?
- Jacob/Israel
 - What do we learn about God?
 - Jacob was a conniver and deceiver and polygamist
 - How did God treat him?
- Moses
 - Moses was a murderer – How did God treat Moses?
 - Would we allow Moses to be leader in the church?
 - When God called Moses, how did Moses respond?
 - When God said He was going to wipe out Israel what did Moses say?
 - What is Moses' witness about God?
- Samson
 - What does Samson's life witness about God?
 - God gives gifts but doesn't control
 - Patiently waits for us to be willing to be healed
 - Was Samson gifted by God?
 - Would we allow Samson to lead in our church?
- David
 - Murderer, adulterer, violent man – How does God treat David?
 - And what do we see in David's life?
 - Does it witness something about God?
- Solomon
 - What witness does he give about God?
 - God married 700 wives, and had 300 mistresses
 - He killed his own son to false gods
 - Who wrote Ecclesiastes?
 - What do we learn about God in His treatment of Solomon?
- Manasseh
 - Manasseh brought prostitutes into the temple
 - Sacrificed his own son to Moloch
 - Was taken captive, but repented and God had him restored to his throne
 - What witness does Manasseh give about God?
- Your life and mine – what do we learn about God from your life and mine?
 - If we have messed up, done awful things, can we still be witnesses for God if we surrender to Him and allow Him to work in our lives?
 - What do we witness about God?

- Do we witness about Him by what we tell others, how we describe Him? What about how we treat others?
- But what if we, in our human weakness, have moments in which we don't act graciously – what then?
- How will God treat us?
- Will He cast us off?
- How should we respond after a mistake?
- Can we still be used of God if we have made mistakes?
- How should we treat someone who has made mistakes?
- How would God treat them?
- Can we love people who make mistakes, someone who has a drug or alcohol problem, what about someone with a porn addiction, what about someone who has committed adultery, what about someone who embezzled, or lied, or murdered, or some other act of selfishness which hurt another?
- How should we treat people? How does God treat them? Does God see vengeance upon them? Or does God seek to heal them, to remove selfishness and fear, to remove guilt and shame, to restore them to love and trust? Should we do any less?
- How do we help people trapped in fear, guilt and shame? By loving them, in the same way a doctor or parent loves a child sick with fever, vomiting, diarrhea, cough, sores, rash, scars – as you look at your sick child do you ever want to punish them for being sick? What do you want to do? Heal them – this is how, we must come back to seeing sin for what it is – deviation from the way life is designed to operate, a sickness, which needs healing. We must stop presenting sin as breaking rules and God as a judge waiting to punish.

God takes the worst cases and heals, restores, cleanses, recreates. The weak things of the world to confound the wise!

TUESDAY

The lesson rightly points out in the first paragraph, “ ‘the Reformation did not...end with Luther. It is to be continued to the close of this world's history,’ because ‘grave errors’ were perpetrated by the Reformers and many ‘important truths’ were still to be revealed.”

What important truths were still to be revealed?

- The truth about God's character of love
- The truth about God's law of love being the design protocols upon which life is created
- The truth about God's plan to heal and restore, not merely pardon
- The truth about the false legal view that infected the church
- The truth about the nature of man, being mortal, awaiting the gift of immortality
- The truth about the final end of sin and sinners

- The truth about the purpose of the Sabbath and how it is a sign of the Designer who presents truth in love and leaves free, contrasted with any day of arbitrarily imposed worship enforced with coercive power.
- The truth about the purpose of Christ's mission to earth – which includes:
 - Revealing the truth about God and Himself
 - Exposing Satan as liar and fraud
 - Securing the universe unfallen in its innocence
 - Procuring the Remedy to our sinful condition
 - Revealing why death occurs and the Father's role in it
 - Destroying death
 - Destroying Satan and Satan's power
 - Developing a perfect human character
- others?

The lesson points out that the SDA church was raised up to proclaim the “third angel's message.”

Can someone tell me what that is?

It is the message of:

- the truth about God and His character of love (everlasting good news)
- being restored in character to be like Christ through trust in God, which results from coming back to the truth of God as Christ revealed (giving God glory)
- the time in earth's history for God to be seen for who He really is so people can make a right judgment about Him and accept His healing Remedy (the hour of his judgment has come)
- It is a message which exposes the legal system coming from the Dark Ages as an infection which misrepresents God as a dictator like Rome and keeps people in fear and thus separated from Him, a system of confusion based on arbitrary law and thus thousands of interpretations of Scripture. (Babylon is confused and fallen)
- It is a message calling people from that system and warning of the dire results of refusing to be restored in character to live in harmony with God's design for life. (all who receive the mark of loyalty to a beastly system of coercive power which enforces arbitrary rules, worshipping a god who must punish, will suffer terrible torment when the truth is revealed and they will be destroyed for all eternity)

What role does the law play in the third angel's message? Here are some thoughts of how are church used to teach it:

- But the law requires that the soul itself be pure and the mind holy, that the thoughts and feelings may be in accordance with the standard of love and righteousness.--RH, Apr 5, 1898. (2SM 211.) {2MCP 564.1} Why? Because this is how life is designed to operate. It is the same reason the laws of health require one to breathe.

- The divine law requires us to love God supremely and our neighbor as ourselves. {A New Life NL 32.1} why?
- His law requires your heart's supreme affection for your Maker. It requires you to do unto others as you would have them do to you. {BEcho, February 15, 1889 par. 8}
- This is the voice of God to you, my brethren and sisters who profess to keep the law of God. That law requires that you love your neighbor as yourself. Are you doing it? {RH, March 11, 1884 par. 10}
- The Lord will give ample light to all who will be true and loyal to him, but he will show no more favor to Phariseism and self-righteousness today than when he walked in his humanity in our world. [what is Phariseism? a legal religion, a religion focused on rule keeping with a god who must punish, a religion which requires payments be made to pay for our sins. In other words, penal substitution theology] The soul that encourages an atmosphere of doubt, God cannot favor with constantly increasing grace. [what encourages doubt? presenting a god who will be angry and inflict punishment upon you if you sin, thus we cannot grow in grace because w don't trust Him enough to open up to Him. We instead try to make ourselves better.] His mercy and the gracious influences of his Spirit remain the same for all who will receive them. His offer of salvation does not change. It is man who changes his relationship to God. Many place themselves where they cannot recognize his grace and his salvation. They are under a delusion as to what constitutes Christianity. And while man refuses to become pure, holy, and undefiled, as God's law requires him to do, he is walking away from Christ. {RH, February 15, 1898 par. 10} [Why would someone refuse to be healed, to be cleansed, pure, holy and undefiled? Because they have accepted a false version of reality which tells them they are legally guilty and they don't need healing, they need legal pardon.]
- ...his law requires us to love God supremely, and our neighbor as ourselves. {ST, November 23, 1891 par. 5}
- God's law requires that justice and right be exercised between man and his fellow man; it requires that we shall not injure our neighbor in his property, his feelings, his health, or his good name. It requires compassion for the afflicted, even if he be our enemy, that in all our associations with our fellow beings we shall show the same love and care that we would wish to have exercised toward ourselves. {ST, January 7, 1897 par. 3}

So if the law requires us to love our enemies, wouldn't that be true of God? Then do you see the fallacy of teaching that God hates, or inflicts torture upon His enemies!

- Christ came to this world to live the law and represent the character of God, that the delusions which Satan had brought upon the world might be dispelled. [What is a delusion? – a fixed false belief and the world is fixed in a false belief about God] In the sermon on the mount, He who gave the law became an expositor of the law. That sermon, so full of what it means to love and obey God, is the unfolding of His character. The law is shown to be a representation of God's character, that man may see that he must render obedience to the law if he would become a member of the royal family, a child of the heavenly King. This law requires nothing short of perfect spiritual obedience. {ST, February 24, 1898 par. 5}

How can experience what the law does require?

- While the law is holy, the Jews could not attain righteousness by their own efforts to keep the law. The disciples of Christ must obtain righteousness of a different character from that of the Pharisees, if they would enter the kingdom of heaven. God offered them, in His Son, the perfect righteousness of the law. If they would open their hearts fully to receive Christ, then the very life of God, His love, would dwell in them, transforming them into His own likeness; and thus through God's free gift they would possess the righteousness which the law requires. {MB 54.2} thoughts? Does this sound like legal pardon? Getting signs paid, a declaration of us being righteous, covering us with some magic robe so the Father can't see us? No, it is the reality of what God wants and is doing, the actual, real, literal transformation of our hearts and minds to be back in harmony with Him and His design for life – the law of love written again on our hearts!

WEDNESDAY

The lesson suggests that when James is referring to the Twelve tribes scattered abroad he is referring to those who have accepted Christ and thus became part of those who benefit from the promise made to Abraham.

What was the promise made to Abraham?

That God would send a Savior, who would overcome the sin problem and provide a Remedy to heal and restore all who are restored to trust in God, as Abraham was.

Thus, those who are heirs to the promise to Abraham are those who trust God as Abraham did, therefore James is referring to all humans who trust God like Abraham.

There is neither Jew nor Greek, slave nor free, male nor female, for you are all one in Christ Jesus. ²⁹ If you belong to Christ, then you are Abraham's seed, and heirs according to the promise. Gal 3:28,29

Do not lie to each other, since you have taken off your old self with its practices ¹⁰ and have put on the new self, which is being renewed in knowledge in the image of its Creator. ¹¹ Here there is no Greek or Jew, circumcised or uncircumcised, barbarian, Scythian, slave or free, but Christ is all, and is in all. ¹² Therefore, as God's chosen people, holy and dearly loved, clothe yourselves with compassion, kindness, humility, gentleness and patience. Col 3:9-12

Did you notice how we are to clothe ourselves with the character traits of Christ and it is by partaking of Christ this happens. This is what it means to be clothed in the robe of His righteousness.

Read the bottom pink section, "A church scattered..." What is it that is to unite God's people on earth for translation?

They overcame him by the blood of the Lamb and by the word of their testimony; they did not love their lives so much as to shrink from death. Rev 12:11

What does this mean?

The blood of the lamb?

Jesus said to them, "I tell you the truth, unless you eat the flesh of the Son of Man and drink his blood, you have no life in you. ⁵⁴ Whoever eats my flesh and drinks my blood has eternal life, and I will raise him up at the last day. ⁵⁵ For my flesh is real food and my blood is real drink. ⁵⁶ Whoever eats my flesh and drinks my blood remains in me, and I in him. ⁵⁷ Just as the living Father sent me and I live because of the Father, so the one who feeds on me will live because of me. JN 6:53-57

What is the blood of the lamb?

- blood is symbolic of both the perfect character/life of Christ and the truth, the words of truth spoken by Christ
 - "In the study of the Bible the converted soul eats the flesh and drinks the blood of the Son of God, which He himself interprets as the receiving and doing of His words, that are spirit and life." Fundamentals of Christian Education 378.1
 - "The leaven of truth works a change in the whole man, making the coarse refined, the rough gentle, the selfish generous. By it [the truth] the impure are cleansed, washed in the blood of the Lamb." Christ's Object Lessons 102
- We partake of the truth, which destroys lies and wins to trust and then open the heart and partake in a living relationship with Christ, and the outpouring of the Spirit the character of Christ reproduced within as we choose to love and align ourselves with Him

Thus, by coming back to the truth about God, and partaking of the character of Christ we are changed and our selfishness is replaced with love and we are willing to give our lives rather than work to save self.

So what unites us? The truth about God and having the law of God written in the heart so that we have a character like Christ's, thus we live in harmony with His principles of truth (having a love for truth and a willingness to be open, learn and follow the truth), love for God and others, and freedom.

THURSDAY

Read first paragraph, "James had the..."

Why do you think he chose to use the word servant or bondservant? Perhaps to emphasize that the kingdom of God is not of this world, and there are no genetic benefits to salvation or being part of God's kingdom. One cannot by biological relationship be part of the kingdom of God, but must have the character of God reproduced within.

This, would significantly alter the way many people consider the Jews – many consider genetic relationship with Abraham to be of some value – but it adds nothing to salvation – what matters is restored unity with God through Christ.

Read last paragraph, "As we study..." What is weak faith? Superstition –

- Belief without evidence
- Belief in position
- Belief in symbols
- Belief in rituals

Examples:

- The Bible said it I believe it that settles it
- EGW said it, who are we to question?
- Believing without thinking, thus believing lies

When we speak of unbelief, we do not mean that a person believes nothing. The mind must rest upon something; and when it does not grasp truth, it lays hold of error. All men in one sense believe, and the effect produced upon the heart and character is according to the things believed. Eve believed the words of Satan, and the belief of that falsehood in regard to God's character, changed the condition and character of both herself and husband. They were changed from good and obedient children into transgressors, and it was only by repentance toward God and faith in the promised Messiah that they could hope ever to regain the lost image of God. Paul had faith before his conversion; but it was not a correct faith. His self-righteousness strengthened his faith that he was doing God's service in rejecting Christ, and he enjoyed a restful satisfaction. False faith as well as true faith will give peacefulness for a time. Paul verily thought that he was doing God service when he was persecuting the followers of Christ and putting them to death. He was sincere in his belief; but sincerity will not make error truth, nor truth error. "When the commandment came," says Paul, "sin revived, and I died." He then received the truth as it is in Jesus, and experienced its transforming power upon his soul. The truth was so firmly planted in his heart that he could say, "Neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor powers, nor things present, nor things to come, nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature shall be able to separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus our Lord." {RH, January 5, 1886 par. 8}

We have power over what we believe, but what we believe holds power over us!

While people are free to believe or have faith in anything, not all beliefs are equally healthy.

What is mature faith? – Evidence based understanding and confidence in reality and the God of reality.

The faith that works by love and purifies the soul is the only true faith. The faith that does not produce fruit, that does not reveal the Christlikeness, is a false faith. {ST, February 1, 1899 par. 8}

In regard to religious faith being sacred to one's self and not to be interfered with, I cannot harmonize this with the life mission and work of Christ upon the earth. Idolaters have a religion; they may make this same plea: My religion is sacred to myself. Hands off; do not interfere with my honest belief and worship. It is the work of God's servants to feel a deep solicitude for the souls for whom Christ died. And if they see them in error or in danger, through a false faith, it is their duty to do all in their power to convert them to the truth and not leave them in darkness and deception. {4MR 229.2}

What does this mean? How are we to do this? What lines do we not cross?

FRIDAY

Read question 1 – “The letter of James...” Is it actually about the day, or the God of the day and His methods and principles, of which each day is symbolic?

So who is the one that is part of God's kingdom:

- a person who honors Sunday, but does so with a mind filled with God's character of love, and promotes the principles of truth, love and freedom and would give their lives for another, or,
- A person who honors the Bible Sabbath as a test of obedience, and teaches that God as Creator has the right to test us and if we fail to pass the test, and don't keep the Bible Sabbath God will torture and kill us?

Why do you give your answer? What evidence to support it?

SABBATH

Read memory text, "Let us fix our eyes on Jesus, the author and perfecter of our faith, who for the joy set before him endured the cross, scorning it shame, and sat down at the right hand of the throne of God." (Heb 12:2 NIV)

The context – from the book of Hebrews, Paul (thought by most to be the author) has just recounted the lives of all the people who were healed through trust in God.

- What is faith?
- How is it that Christ authors and then perfects our faith?
- What methods does God use?

Faith is established upon evidence, not proclamations. I had a patient, whose friends were Christian and they kept telling her she needed to have faith in Jesus, but she said "I can't." To which I said, "Of course you can't." Which surprised her. So I asked her if she were at the mall and a stranger came up and asked for the keys to her car and house and said, “Its okay you can trust me.” would she give the keys? She said no way. Well, “If you cant give the keys of your car and home to a stranger how can you give the keys of your life to a stranger.”

Trust or faith is established by experience, by evidence of trustworthiness. Jesus is the member of the Godhead who left infinity and entered linear time to interact with His creation.

Jesus is the member of the Godhead through whom all the evidence has been provided:

- all things were made by him
- he is the one who interacted with people through history
- he is the pillar of fire and cloud and rock that Israel saw
- he became a human and revealed God in human flesh
- he voluntarily surrendered His life to heal us
- he demonstrated he would rather let us kill Him than use His power to control us

Jesus authors our faith by creating us, revealing the truth about Himself the Father and God’s methods, and leaves us free to choose.

Then how does he perfect our faith?

This is my paraphrase of our memory text, but I am starting in 11:32 and going through 12:13, because I want to give you a feel for what is being described. How God perfects our faith.

Heb 11:32 And how much more do I have to say? How many more lives do I have to recount? I don’t need to remind you about Gideon, Barak, Samson, Jephthah, David, Samuel and the prophets³³ who through their trust in God conquered kingdoms, administered God’s healing methods, received the promised blessings, shut the lions’ mouths,³⁴ cooled the heat of the flames, escaped being killed by the sword, had their weakness turned into strength and became unstoppable in battle, annihilating God’s enemies.³⁵ Women had their dead loved ones resurrected and brought back to them. Others were tortured and refused to compromise the truth to gain their freedom, so they will gain the resurrection of life.³⁶ Some were mocked, others beaten, while still others were put in shackles or imprisoned.³⁷ Some were stoned, others sawed in two and still others put to death by the sword. They lived in poverty wearing animal skins and were constantly ridiculed and mistreated—³⁸ this selfish, sick world was not worthy of them. They lived in desolate places wandering in desert and mountains and hiding in caves.

Heb 11:39 All of these were commended for their trust in God, yet none of them received the fulfillment of all that was promised.⁴⁰ But don’t get discouraged, God has planned something much better for us, that they and we together will be perfectly healed and rejoice together in the earth made new.

Hebrews 12:1 Therefore, since we are surrounded with so much evidence of God's goodness and so many people who have experienced God's healing power that comes through trust, let us rid ourselves of everything that obscures our view of God, and selfishness with its desires that so easily distract and damage, and let us diligently finish the treatment course laid out for us.² Let us fix our minds on Jesus, the perfect revelation of God who establishes and fully matures our trust in God. Jesus, for the joy of healing and restoring God's creation, endured the cross, nullifying its shame, and sat down at the right hand of the throne of God.³ Consider the significance of all Christ has done – the all-powerful Creator permitted his creatures to torture and kill him rather than use his power against them. So don't get tired or give up or lose heart.

Heb 12:4 In your struggle against selfishness, you have not yet had to lay down your life so that others might live.⁵ And you have forgotten that God loves you as his children, for the scripture says:

“My child, don't make fun of the Lord's treatment, and don't get discouraged when he sets you straight,

Heb 12:6 because the Lord disciplines those he loves, and he works to heal everyone who becomes his child.”

Heb 12:7 Endure difficulties as opportunities for growth; God is treating you as his children. For what father doesn't want his children to be healthy and grow and mature and what child is not disciplined by his father?⁸ If you do not experience God working to heal, mature and improve you (and God works to heal everyone), then you are illegitimate children and not his true sons and daughters – you have rejected his offer of kinship.⁹ Think about it, we have all had human fathers who instructed and corrected us and we love and respect them for it. How much more should we willingly participate in the healing plan with the Father of all intelligent beings and live!¹⁰ Our fathers worked with us and taught us for just a few years, the best they could; but God works to heal us for eternity, that we may partake of his perfect goodness and love.¹¹ No discipline or therapy is enjoyable at the time, but painful. But if intelligently cooperated with, it results in healing of mind, development of Christlike character and peace of heart.

Heb 12:12 Therefore, stiffen your upper lip and straighten your spine and redouble your determination to stay the healing course.¹³ “Remove the obstacles to your recovery,” so that the infection of selfishness may not permanently deform your character, but rather you will be healed.

So how does God perfect our faith? What methods?

The law of exertion – strength comes from exercise – if you want something to be stronger you must exercise it. So what enables us to exercise our faith? Problems and situations that we ourselves cannot fix.

Another word for faith is trust – we must have experience in trusting another for trust to grow strong.

One of the human experiences that bonds trust like no other is war, combat, soldiers who literally trust their lives to their friends, experience a bond of trust that is stronger than most bonds in life.

When we find ourselves in situations beyond our own ability to handle and fix, and choose to do what we know is our responsibility in governance of ourselves, and then trust God with the outcome, we experience a strengthening of our trust or faith in God.

Problems are like weights, consider a person going to physical therapy and working with one pounds weights, and then as they master the one pound weight what does the therapist do? Increase the weight – for what purpose? But what does the devil do as the weight goes to four, 8, 10, 20, 50 pounds? The devil tempts, “Look, he keeps burdening you. Every time you succeed with one he puts more and more and more on you. He’s trying to crush you, not help you. You can never get ahead or win with this guy.”

How many of us, in life, when we have problems or stressors, hear this evil voice tempting us to doubt God?

Understand, what is happening – why does the physical therapist keep increasing the weights? For what purpose? For our recovery, for our restoration and complete independence and autonomy. The only way to be ourselves, to be healed is to cooperate with God and go through it, God cannot overwrite our characters by divine power or else it would destroy us as individuals. We must be active, willing, choosing participants and in so doing we experience transformation, through His love, presence, and power in our lives.

Specific steps we can take to increase our faith or trust:

- Spend time getting to know God, come to an understanding of His design, methods, principles – thus know His actions are always to heal and restore
- Realize what is happening in the Great Controversy
- Remember what God has done for us in the past, for others, the stories in the Bible – fill your mind with these examples, and then our own experiences. We have nothing to fear for the future, expect we forget how the Lord has led in the past.
- Faith is strengthened by works – how? When we are given an instruction, a duty, a direction from God, and then carry it out, in the outworking of God’s providence we see and experience His wisdom, presence, knowledge, love, and our faith grows stronger.
 - In human relationships it is the same thing. Have you ever taught someone something, how to do something, and they didn’t understand, they questioned why, and you said “trust me, do it, and see” and they trusted you enough, and did it, and having done it their trust in you increased.

- If we never actually put into practice what God says, we don't get the benefit, the healing, the blessing, the growth, the maturation, and therefore, don't get increasing faith, trust and confidence in God.

Here is an historic view from Counsels to the Church:

We all desire immediate and direct answers to our prayers, and are tempted to become discouraged when the answer is delayed or comes in an unlooked-for form. But God is too wise and good to answer our prayers always at just the time and in just the manner we desire. He will do more and better for us than to accomplish all our wishes. And because we can trust His wisdom and love, we should not ask Him to concede to our will, but should seek to enter into and accomplish His purpose. Our desires and interests should be lost in His will. These experiences that test faith are for our benefit. By them it is made manifest whether our faith is true and sincere, resting on the word of God alone, or whether depending on circumstances, it is uncertain and changeable. [what does this mean? True faith means we know God and have faith in Him, regardless of events around us. Faith based on circumstances is just that, we have faith in God when events are going according to what we believe is right for us] Faith is strengthened by exercise. We must let patience have its perfect work, remembering that there are precious promises in the Scriptures for those who wait upon the Lord. {CCh 305.5}

Anyone want to share how their faith has been strengthened by exercise?

SUNDAY

Read third paragraph, "In short, we..." No doubt, trials are used to strengthen our faith, does this mean all trials are from God?

Just like weights, they can be used to strengthen our muscles, or they can be used to tie around a person's feet to drown them.

Trials can likewise be used to try and drown people, if they are brought by an enemy.

Job is a good example – the trials in Job's case were not needed to strengthen his faith. He was already mature in his faith, so settled into the truth nothing could move him. The trials were not therapeutic, but designed by Satan to try and destroy or overwhelm him, and perhaps his wife as well.

As the end of time approaches, the righteous will be "sealed" so settled into the truth both intellectually and spiritually they cannot be moved, and trials will come. Those trials will not be for the strengthening of our faith. But, we, like Job, could not handle such trials, if we hadn't previously handled smaller trials and had our faith strengthened.

What prepares us for the larger trials are the smaller ones we successfully handle. An Olympic power lifter doesn't start out with 500 pounds, and those who are able to stand in the end will be enabled by prior experiences with God.

Is there inherent benefit in a trial? Have you ever heard things like:

- no pain no gain
- whatever doesn't kill you makes you stronger
- pain is fertilizer for the soul

These witticisms are expressing the law of exertion, that there is a positive benefit of going through difficulties. Thus, can people rejoice in difficulties, because they realize the trial is strengthening them?

Why do we rejoice more if we know God, than those who do not know God?

Because we are not alone, we know there is a higher purpose than just our personal strength and growth, because we know that the trial will never be greater than we can handle, and that God will provide the means to overcome.

MONDAY

Read first paragraph, "Read James 1:2-4..." First question – what is faith founded upon? Evidence!

In this conflict between God and Satan, where is the battle ground? Our minds, 2Cor 10:3-5. And how much truth is on Satan's side? None – he is the father of lies.

How much truth is on God's side? 100%, Jesus said, the truth will set us free (JN 8:32)

So, if you have no truth on your side, do you want people looking for evidence, facts truth or believing without evidence facts and truth?

Thus, ideas that teach:

- we have faith we don't need evidence
- to question is a lack of faith
- God said, we don't question, we just believe
- Reason must submit to the word of Scripture

Or any such idea are from Satan and designed to obstruct the mind from seeing the truth.

God says, "Come let us reason together..." "You will know the truth..." "Every person should be fully persuaded in his own mind." etc.

Here is another historical view:

- "God never asks us to believe, without giving sufficient evidence upon which to base our faith. His existence, His character, the truthfulness of His Word, are all established by testimony that appeals to our reason; and this testimony is abundant. Yet God has never removed the possibility of doubt. Our faith must rest upon evidence, not demonstration. Those who wish to doubt will have opportunity; while those who really desire to know the truth, will find plenty of evidence on which to rest their faith." Steps to Christ 105 (1892); 9MR 202; compare Education 169
- "God gives sufficient evidence for the candid mind to believe." Testimonies, vol. 4, p. 232 (1876); 5T 675; 2MCP 672; 9MR 204; 11MR 288; RH Feb. 13, 1900
- "Here is a test which all may apply if they will. None need be left in uncertainty and doubt. There is always sufficient evidence upon which to base an intelligent faith. But God will never remove from any man all occasion for doubts. Those who love to dwell in the atmosphere of doubt and questioning unbelief can have the unenviable privilege. He who turns from the weight of evidence because there are a few things that he cannot make plain to his finite understanding, will be left to the cold, chilling atmosphere of unbelief and skepticism, and will make shipwreck of faith." Signs of the Times, December 30, 1886 (2ST 83:2:2); 4T 232

The lesson suggests that James says we need trials to test the genuineness of our faith, is that what you understand he is saying? Or is he saying we need trials to strengthen and develop our faith?

In the pink section at the bottom it asks, "If you died right now, would you be good enough to be saved? Or if you had died two weeks after you had accepted Jesus, would you have been good enough to be saved? Do you think in six months you will be good enough? What does your answer tell you about your need for the perfect robe of Christ's righteousness..."

What is the problem with these questions?

It would be like saying, "If you took your antibiotics would you be good enough to be healed, or if two weeks after taking your medicine are you good enough to be healed..."

The problem is that the questions arise from that false legal view of God and focus the question on us, like a human court does. Are we good enough? This incites fear of not being good enough, when that isn't even the question. Rather the question is what Jesus said, that He did not come for those who are well, but for the sick. So a better question is: Do you recognize you are sick and need God's Remedy provided through Jesus? For Christ came for the sick not the well. This is why the prostitutes and tax collectors were entering the kingdom of God before the Pharisees.

TUESDAY

How is wisdom different than knowledge?

- Knowledge is knowing facts or data; wisdom is knowing what the facts mean and what to do with them.
- Knowledge is knowing that a tomato is fruit, wisdom is knowing it doesn't go in a fruit salad.
- Knowledge is knowing smoking is damaging, wisdom is not smoking.
- Knowledge is knowing Jesus is God, wisdom is knowing to trust Him – the devils have knowledge but not wisdom
- Knowledge is knowing God is love and His law is love, wisdom is knowing how to put love in to effective action, when to give and when the most loving action is to withhold because to give would injure or enfeeble another.

James tells us that if we lack wisdom, we should ask, but not to doubt when we ask. Read bottom pink section “We must ask...” thoughts?

Why must we not doubt? Here is James 1:2-8 from my New Testament Paraphrase, entitled The Remedy:

James 1:2 My brothers and sisters in God's family, I want you to rejoice and keep a positive attitude whenever you face troubles of various kinds, 3 because every trial exercises your trust in God, which overcomes fear and selfishness and builds a confident steadfast application of the Remedy. 4 And this steadfast engagement in God's treatment must be completed so that you may be fully healed, mature and like Christ in character, not lacking anything. 5 If any of you don't understand God's methods, are confused in your thinking, or lack wisdom, ask God because he, without pointing out defects, enthusiastically gives to all who ask and it will be given you. 6 But when you ask, ask with the certain knowledge that he longs to give, not wavering back and forth in fear and uncertainty like a fishing bobber tossed about on ocean waves, for your fear will obstruct your ability to receive what he longs to give. 7 Those consumed by fear will not think they can receive anything from the Lord; 8 they are unstable, controlled by emotions, and can't make up their minds about anything.

So why do those who doubt not receive wisdom? Because God refuses to bestow, or because their doubt prevents them from receiving?

WEDNESDAY

What contributes to doubt?

- Lack of information – ignorance
- Lies
- Immaturity
- Lack of experience

- Lack of relationship with God
- Patterns of not thinking – history of believing things without evidence, and believing things that don't make sense
- History of having a previously held belief proved false in a system of absolutism
- Problems we cannot explain
- Feelings of fear and insecurity

What is the solution to doubt?

- Evidence
- Truth
- Experience
- Relationship
- Practicing thinking for self, weighing evidences
- Identifying testable laws
- Understanding principles
- Accepting one's limitation and finiteness, allowing for answers beyond current understanding
- Not trusting feelings to be accurate
- Remembering how God has led in the past

Read third paragraph, “When the disciples...” This is an excellent point, is our faith alive and growing? Only by exercise does it grow. If we don't use it... we...

The bottom pink section asks, “What are all the reasons you have for trusting in God and His promises and living by faith?” What reasons to you have for trusting in God?

- He is love – and has revealed Himself to us
- His methods of love, freedom, truth
- How He has risked being misunderstood to do what is right
- How He has let His enemies abuse Him, without using His power to put them down
- How He is able to know the future
- How He overrules evil and brings good out of it

Specific examples in my life:

- Putting into practice His methods and seeing the freedom, peace and healing in my life and the lives of my patients
- This ministry – teaching this class, having books published, seeing the transformed lives – this is an evidence of God's working. You all know how this ministry has grown despite opposition.
- The thousands of letters and emails from people whose lives have been transformed through embracing the truth about God's character of love
- When I was in undergraduate school pre-med, I was working full time as nurse to pay my way through, I was giving Bible studies to some students at UTC, and taking a full load. I lost track of time and realized the day before that I had a major physics exam at 8 a.m. the next day, and I was on my way to work 3-11 at the ICU. I prayed that I would have a quiet evening, so I could get a couple of hours to study. When I got to work there was only one person in the ICU, and he was in for chest pain, r/o MI, which means he was in for observation and was to have a quiet evening. I immediately said “thank you Lord!” and was so happy. But then I went over to do my initial assessment, and as I was taking the history I discovered this man was a physicist who worked for TVA. When I told him I had a physics exam the next day, he told me to bring my book over and I got a tutorial and the next day got an A on my exam.

What does it mean to live by faith? To do what is right in the choices one makes in governance of self, and trust God with how things turn out.

Consider the three worthies on the plain of Dura. Their choice, bow or don't bow – that was their choice, how it turned out was not up to them. Likewise, in our lives, our responsibility is to choose to do what is right, healthy and reasonable in governance of ourselves and trust God with the outcomes. This is what it means to live by faith.

THURSDAY

The lesson examines the struggle of the rich to enter into heaven. Jesus said it is easier for a camel to go through the eye of the needle than for a rich man to enter heaven. Why?

Let's move away from riches and instead consider physical strength – when do people seem to have a maturing faith, when they are in the prime of life, or when they are aging? Why?

As we age, we lose vitality, we lose strength, and this causes us to look outside of self for strength, thus we are led to trust God more. Consider Samson, when strong he thought he could handle anything, and he did things his way. When blind and weak, he finally trusted God, his faith grew strong.

When we are financially well off, we are tempted to have confidence in ourselves, our portfolios, our stocks, savings etc. and thus the exercise of our faith is decreased. But when we struggle, we turn to God daily, and exercise faith and thereby grow in faith. Consider David, why was it wrong for him to number Israel? Because after numbering his army he would be tempted to put his faith in his chariots, bowmen, spearmen, and not in God.

There is nothing wrong with having wealth, there is something wrong with not trusting God. Whenever we become extremely competent, capable, expert in any endeavor, we are tempted to rely on ourselves and think we can do it without God. Every day I remind myself how little I know. This is one of the beauties of medicine – that every day new discoveries come along which help remind us what we know is so small to all there is to know.

I think this is a danger for theologians as well, as they are recognized as experts and come to write and lecture on a certain viewpoint, they might become locked in and incapable of growing into unfolding truth. The Pharisees and Sadducees in Christ day certainly had this problem. That is why we never want to arrive at truth, but always when advance in the truth.

Understanding design law helps, because we accept an unfolding of truth, not a system of rigid rules.

3Q 2014 The Book of James Lesson 3 – Enduring Temptation.

SABBATH

“Blessed is the man that endureth temptation: for when he is tried, he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that love him” (James 1:12).

What does it mean to “endure temptation”? How does this relate to loving the Lord??

Consider Christ’s temptations vs our own.

From the lesson: “Sometimes it seems that the more we focus on not sinning, the more powerless against temptation we feel, and the more hopeless our condition appears. We wonder if indeed we are saved at all. It’s hard to imagine any serious Christian who hasn’t wondered about his or her own salvation, especially after having just fallen into sin.”

Where is the focus in this passage??

SUNDAY

The Root of Temptation.

13 Let no one say when he is tempted, “I am tempted by God”; for God cannot be tempted by evil, nor does He Himself tempt anyone. 14 But each one is tempted when he is drawn away by his own desires and enticed. 15 Then, when desire has conceived, it gives birth to sin; and sin, when it is full-grown, brings forth death. James 1:13-15.

This should be a familiar passage for our class. Why is it so important for us to conclude that God cannot be tempted or does He tempt?? Also, consider the metaphor used – conception, birth, growth, death. Any insights??

From the lesson: “Thus, the battle against sin begins in the mind. As much as many might not want to hear it, the truth is that we choose to sin. No one can force us (Rom. 6:16–18). Sinful desires, inclinations, and propensities do constantly capture our attention. By using common hunting and fishing terms, James 1:14 describes these inward promptings. Our own desires lure and entice us, and when we give in to them, they finally hook and entrap us.”

No question, the battle against sin [for humanity] begins in the mind. Where else is the battle against sin being fought? Do we actually choose to sin?? What should our choice focus on?? Did we choose to be born infected with a sinful human nature?? Without the Holy Spirit, and a healthy conscience do we have any power to choose not to sin?? Does the TB patient have a choice of symptoms??

Again, from the Lesson: “Dwell on the idea that sin is always our own choice. (After all, if it weren’t our own choice, how could we be condemned for doing it?)”

How, indeed, “could we be condemned for doing it” [sinning]??

See Matt 12:37 [“For by your words you will be justified, and by your words you will be condemned.”]

John 3:17-19 [17 For God did not send His Son into the world to condemn the world, but that the world through Him might be saved. 18 “He who believes in Him is not condemned; but he who does not believe is condemned already, because he has not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God. 19 And this is the condemnation, that the light has come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than light, because their deeds were evil.]

John 8:9-11 [9 Then those who heard it, being convicted by their conscience, went out one by one, beginning with the oldest even to the last. And Jesus was left alone, and the woman standing in the midst. 10 When Jesus had raised Himself up and saw no one but the woman, He said to her, “Woman, where are those accusers of yours? Has no one condemned you?” 11 She said, “No one, Lord.” And Jesus said to her, “Neither do I condemn you; go and sin no more.”],

Rom 8:1 [There is therefore now no condemnation to those who are in Christ Jesus, who do not walk according to the flesh, but according to the Spirit.]

Rom 8:33-35 [33 Who shall bring a charge against God’s elect? It is God who justifies. 34 Who is he who condemns? It is Christ who died, and furthermore is also risen, who is even at the right hand of God, who also makes intercession for us. 35 Who shall separate us from the love of Christ? Shall tribulation, or distress, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or peril, or sword?]

Titus 3: 10-12 [10 Reject a divisive man after the first and second admonition, 11 knowing that such a person is warped and sinning, being self-condemned.] Interesting, this concept of “self” condemnation. Any thoughts??

MONDAY

When Lust Conceive.

From the lesson: Several Greek words are used in this passage to describe how sin begins, and all of them are connected with giving birth. When a wrong desire is nurtured, sin is “conceived,” like a baby in the womb. “Sin, when it is completely grown, gives birth to death” (James 1:15, author’s literal translation).

The picture is paradoxical. The process that is supposed to give life results only in death (compare Rom. 7:10–13). Sin, like cancer, takes over and consumes its host. We all know this, for we have all been ruined by sin. Our hearts are evil, and we cannot change them [emphasis provided].

I think this is very well said. Sin, not God's anger or justice, is the problem, and un-remedied, will cause permanent death. Also correct, is the statement that our hearts are inherently evil [through NO fault or choice of our own], and we [alone] cannot change them.

The lesson invites us to consider the fall of mankind in Gen. 3. What went wrong??

- Eve corrected the “serpent”, missing the subtle questioning of God's trustworthiness. This should have been a major “red flag” that she was being approached by “the enemy” she had been warned about. The seeds of distrust had been planted, and were about to be fertilized.
- Eve believed the lie that the forbidden fruit would not cause death, was pleasing to the eye, and “was useful for obtaining knowledge”. This is at the heart of modern “spiritualism” – the quest for knowledge, above/beyond, what God has given us for our benefit.
- Satan, then, used Eve to tempt Adam. It's highly likely that some coercive pressure was used, given that Eve had already fallen, though Scripture is silent on this.
- Adam suspended his reason and judgment, and followed emotion/desire, and also consumed the fruit. Also noteworthy, men have been selling their souls for the approval of women ever since.
- They ran & hid “because they were afraid.”
- Note the blaming of God. “It was that woman you gave me ...” “That serpent [You created] deceived me ...”

God placed man under law, as an indispensable condition of his very existence. He was a subject of the divine government, and there can be no government without law. God might have created man without the power to transgress His law; He might have withheld the hand of Adam from touching the forbidden fruit; but in that case man would have been, not a free moral agent, but a mere automaton. Without freedom of choice, his obedience would not have been voluntary, but forced. There could have been no development of character. Such a course would have been contrary to God's plan in dealing with the inhabitants of other worlds. It would have been unworthy of man as an intelligent being, and would have sustained Satan's charge of God's arbitrary rule. PP 49

Again, from the lesson: At its root, sin begins with distrusting God. Satan, using the same successful method by which he deceived a third of the angels (Rev. 12:4,7–9), raised doubts in Eve's mind about God's character (Gen. 3:1–5). Approaching the forbidden tree was not sin, but taking and eating the fruit was. Even so, wrong thoughts seem to have preceded her sinful act (Gen. 3:6). She adopted Satan's suggestions as her own.

Sin always begins in the mind. Like Eve, we may think about the supposed “benefits” of wrongdoing. Then our imagination and feelings begin to take over. Soon we seize the bait and fall into sin.

Again, well said.

TUESDAY

Every Good and Perfect Gift

“Do not err, my beloved brethren. Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning” James 1:16, 17.

Any thoughts on the above passage?? Why does this begin with, “Do not err, my beloved brethren”?? Why does James mention the Godly attribute of “no variableness, neither shadow of turning”??

At the end of the 2nd paragraph in the lesson it beautifully states “... God wants us to be saved. It was His will, from even before we existed, that we should have salvation and a new life in Him now and for all eternity.” Why does God want us ALL to be saved?? Is this consistent with any Scripture [Eze. 33:11, Isa. 6:10, Jer. 51:8, 9]?? What is it that prevents us from salvation/healing??

In the bottom section, the lesson asks us “What are the gifts you have been given “from above”?? Anyone want to mention a few?

WEDNESDAY

Slow to Speak.

“Better to remain silent and be thought a fool, than to speak out and remove all doubt.” Abraham Lincoln

Even a fool, when he holdeth his peace, is counted wise: and he that shutteth his lips is esteemed a man of understanding. Prov. 17:28.

So then, my beloved brethren, let every man be swift to hear, slow to speak, slow to wrath; for the wrath of man does not produce the righteousness of God. James 1: 19, 20.

What do you think James meant by “the wrath of man does not produce the righteousness of God”?? Compare and contrast “the wrath of man” and the “wrath of God or The Lamb.” Any similarities? Differences??

When Mother Teresa was interviewed by Dan Rather for a “60 Minutes” piece, he asked her what she said during her prayers. Her response was, “I just listen.” Rather then asked what God said to her. Her response was, “He just listens.”

How many here prefer to be with someone who listens, instead of talks incessantly?? What is it about listening instead of talking??

THURSDAY

Saved by Receiving.

The lesson does a great job of comparing James 1:21 with Zech. 3:3, 4 [the illustration of Joshua, the High Priest, plucked from the fire and given a new, clean robe]. It also goes to great lengths to differentiate between just covering our filth, and actually cleansing us.

The first question in this lesson asks, “What role does the ‘word’ have in what James is saying?” Clearly he’s speaking of the Word of God. What is that??

The entirety of Your word is truth, And every one of Your righteous judgments endures forever. Ps. 119:160.

Sanctify them by Your truth. Your word is truth. John 17: 17 [From Christ’s prayer to His Father just before the Crucifixion].

“Do not think that I came to bring peace on earth. I did not come to bring peace but a sword. Matt. 10:34.

For the word of God is living and powerful, and sharper than any two-edged sword, piercing even to the division of soul and spirit, and of joints and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart. Heb. 4:12.

He had in His right hand seven stars, out of His mouth went a sharp two-edged sword, and His countenance was like the sun shining in its strength. Rev 1:16. [Description of Christ in Heaven].

And the rest were killed with the sword which proceeded from the mouth of Him who sat on the horse. And all the birds were filled with their flesh. Rev. 19:21. [Description of Christ after the Holy City has been established on Earth]. Note in verse 13 that Christ’s name is literally “The Word of God.”

Using Scripture, the Word of God has the capability to heal [Sanctify in John 17: 17], and to cause death [Rev 19: 21]. What determines the outcome, healing vs death??

What does James mean in verse 25 by “the perfect law of liberty”?

2014 Q4 “The Book of James” Lesson 4 – Being and Doing

Memory Text: “But be ye doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving your own selves”

What does it mean...what comes to mind when you think about being a “doer of the word?”

- Doing all the right things? Making sure you eat the right things, pay the right tithe, wear the right clothes, play only “Bible” games on Sabbath (Bible football, Bible Frisbee, etc.)?
- Participating in all the required sacraments and rights necessary for salvation...or at least to lessen the degree of judgment?
- Checking off a list of behaviors or obligations designed to improve our standing or curry favor with God?
- OR does it mean not just “talking the talk” but “walking the walk”?
 - Sabbath’s lesson recounts a story of “The Great Blondin”, a famous performer who walked across Niagara Falls on a tightrope in 1860...and actually carried an assistant on his back. The Prince of Wales witnessed this feat, and Blondin then offered to carry the prince across the falls too.
- Tim has used the example in class to contrast someone knowing the mechanics of swimming, the different types of strokes/kicks, the physics of buoyancy...but if that person were thrown into the deep end of the pool, could they actually swim?
- Is watching/witnessing, knowing about something or someone...the same as actually experiencing it for yourself?
- Experience is so important, this class has made it 1 of our 3-prongs in the Integrative, Evidence-Based model
 - Psalms 34:8 – Taste and see that the Lord is good.
 - John 20:27 – Put your finger here; see my hands. Reach out your hand and put it in my side. Stop doubting and believe.
 - Isaiah 1:18 – Come let us reason together, though your sins are like scarlet, they shall be white as snow...
- Natural laws at work in being “doers of the word”:
 - Law of worship – by beholding we become changed
 - Law of exertion – we talked about this just a few weeks ago, and how we cannot develop/grow/increase a muscle or a skill or a habit or acumen without exerting it...stretching it...practicing it – ongoing and repeatedly. This repeated experience of actually doing and applying and putting into practice God’s words, God’s methods, God’s principles increases our confidence and builds our faith.
 - Others?

SUNDAY

Knowing Your Enemy

I'm not sure if others got the same overall impression I did when reading this week's lesson...that it seemed to be very commandment/behavior driven when referring to God's law...but do make some excellent points in several areas. It is just so almost automatic now to ask myself...what law lens is the author looking through? What law is being presented – natural or imposed?

Read James 1:23, 24...what do we think James is talking about here?

Don't fool yourself into thinking that you are a listener when you are anything but, letting the Word go in one ear and out the other. Act on what you hear! Those who hear and don't act are like those who glance in the mirror, walk away, and two minutes later have no idea who they are, what they look like. (MSG)

For if anyone only listens to the Word without obeying it and being a doer of it, he is like a man who looks carefully at his [own] natural face in a mirror; For he thoughtfully observes himself, and then goes off and promptly forgets what he was like. (AMP)

A quote by Richard James says, "Whenever two people meet there are really six people present. There is each person as they see themselves, each person as the other person sees them, and each person as they really are. Thoughts?"

Has anyone other than me experienced this? Are there times when we are our own worst enemies? Aren't we so good at the art of denial and delusion...and even if we have moments of honest character revelation in the mirror, aren't we quick to forget as soon as we walk away? I find this to be one of the most remarkable and inspiring things about David's prayer after being confronted by Nathan in Psalm 51. He realized where not being truthful about his true nature and spiritual state had gotten him – to commit adultery and murder. He confessed his desire to embrace the truth about who he really was...with no desire to hide any of the bad or ugly...in fact he begged for God to search him and find even the smallest defect, because he knew once it was uncovered and acknowledged, then God could heal it and replace it with a new heart and a right spirit.

The lesson lists 2 examples from Matthew of men who had rather distorted self-images – the rich young ruler and Peter who were both self-deceived about their true spiritual states. The rich young ruler really thought he had it made...he had check off all the obligatory boxes he thought were required to be saved. Did anyone other than me grow up in an environment where behaviors and "doing the right thing"...or maybe "not doing the wrong thing" were given more emphasis than a heart transformation?

The Bible gives several examples of folks who seem to get caught up in the rituals and the symbols and the works, and completely miss the healing message about God's character of love they were originally designed to reveal. Can you name any?

- Israelites – Isaiah 1 ¹¹ “The multitude of your sacrifices — what are they to me?” says the LORD. “I have more than enough of burnt offerings, of rams and the fat of fattened animals; I have no pleasure in the blood of bulls and lambs and goats.
- ¹² When you come to appear before me, who has asked this of you, this trampling of my courts? ¹³ Stop bringing meaningless offerings! Your incense is detestable to me. New Moons, Sabbaths and convocations — I cannot bear your worthless assemblies. ¹⁴ Your New Moon feasts and your appointed festivals I hate with all my being. They have become a burden to me; I am weary of bearing them. (NIV) ¹³⁻¹⁷ “Quit your worship charades. I can't stand your trivial religious games: Monthly conferences, weekly Sabbaths, special meetings meetings, meetings, meetings I can't stand one more! Meetings for this, meetings for that. I hate them! You've worn me out! I'm sick of your religion, religion, religion, while you go right on sinning. (MSG)
- Hosea 6:6 I'm after love that lasts, not more religion. I want you to know GOD, not go to more prayer meetings. (MSG) ⁶ For I desire mercy and not sacrifice, And the knowledge of God more than burnt offerings. (NKJV)

So what was the problem here? If anyone had a direct word from God, it was these folks...and they were doing exactly what he said...why were they not considered “doers of the word”?

Because there was no heart transformation happening. They continued to hold on to their celebrity worship, their television, their facebook, their iDevices... oh wait... that's something totally different. I mean they continued to be idol worshipers and hold onto their other gods.

Pharisees – Matthew 23 (the famous “woe unto the teachers of the law” chapter) ²³ Then Jesus said to the crowds and to his disciples: ² “The teachers of the law and the Pharisees sit in Moses' seat. ³ So you must be careful to do everything they tell you. But do not do what they do, for they do not practice what they preach. ⁴ They tie up heavy, cumbersome loads and put them on other people's shoulders, but they themselves are not willing to lift a finger to move them.

⁵ “Everything they do is done for people to see: They make their phylacteries[a] wide and the tassels on their garments long; ⁶ they love the place of honor at banquets and the most important seats in the synagogues; ⁷ they love to be greeted with respect in the marketplaces and to be called ‘Rabbi’ by others.

⁸ “But you are not to be called ‘Rabbi,’ for you have one Teacher, and you are all brothers. ⁹ And do not call anyone on earth ‘father,’ for you have one Father, and he is in heaven. ¹⁰ Nor are you to be called instructors, for you have one Instructor, the Messiah. 11 The greatest among you will be your servant. 12 For those who exalt themselves will be humbled, and those who humble themselves will be exalted.

Seven Woes on the Teachers of the Law and the Pharisees

13 “Woe to you, teachers of the law and Pharisees, you hypocrites! You shut the door of the kingdom of heaven in people’s faces. You yourselves do not enter, nor will you let those enter who are trying to. [14] [b]

15 “Woe to you, teachers of the law and Pharisees, you hypocrites! You travel over land and sea to win a single convert, and when you have succeeded, you make them twice as much a child of hell as you are.

16 “Woe to you, blind guides! You say, ‘If anyone swears by the temple, it means nothing; but anyone who swears by the gold of the temple is bound by that oath.’ 17 You blind fools! Which is greater: the gold, or the temple that makes the gold sacred? 18 You also say, ‘If anyone swears by the altar, it means nothing; but anyone who swears by the gift on the altar is bound by that oath.’ 19 You blind men! Which is greater: the gift, or the altar that makes the gift sacred? 20 Therefore, anyone who swears by the altar swears by it and by everything on it.

21 And anyone who swears by the temple swears by it and by the one who dwells in it. 22 And anyone who swears by heaven swears by God’s throne and by the one who sits on it.

23 “Woe to you, teachers of the law and Pharisees, you hypocrites! You give a tenth of your spices—mint, dill and cumin. But you have neglected the more important matters of the law—justice, mercy and faithfulness. You should have practiced the latter, without neglecting the former. 24 You blind guides! You strain out a gnat but swallow a camel.

25 “Woe to you, teachers of the law and Pharisees, you hypocrites! You clean the outside of the cup and dish, but inside they are full of greed and self-indulgence. 26 Blind Pharisee! First clean the inside of the cup and dish, and then the outside also will be clean.

27 “Woe to you, teachers of the law and Pharisees, you hypocrites! You are like whitewashed tombs, which look beautiful on the outside but on the inside are full of the bones of the dead and everything unclean. 28 In the same way, on the outside you appear to people as righteous but on the inside you are full of hypocrisy and wickedness.

29 “Woe to you, teachers of the law and Pharisees, you hypocrites! You build tombs for the prophets and decorate the graves of the righteous. 30 And you say, ‘If we had lived in the days of our ancestors, we would not have taken part with them in shedding the blood of the prophets.’ 31 So you testify against yourselves that you are the descendants of those who murdered the prophets. 32 Go ahead, then, and complete what your ancestors started!

33 “You snakes! You brood of vipers! How will you escape being condemned to hell? 34 Therefore I am sending you prophets and sages and teachers. Some of them you will kill and crucify; others you will flog in your synagogues and pursue from town to town. 35 And so upon you will come all the righteous blood that has been shed on earth, from the blood of righteous Abel to the blood of Zechariah son of Berekiah, whom you murdered between the temple and the altar. 36 Truly I tell you, all this will come on this generation.

37 “Jerusalem, Jerusalem, you who kill the prophets and stone those sent to you, how often I have longed to gather your children together, as a hen gathers her chicks under her wings, and you were not willing. 38 Look, your house is left to you desolate. 39 For I tell you, you will not see me again until you say, ‘Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Lord.’

As Sunday’s lesson states in the 4th paragraph, “The rich young man thought he had been keeping the commandments. Suddenly he was challenged to adhere to a different kind of obedience, one that he had never anticipated, one that went much deeper than mere outward compliance to rules and regulations.” So...where do we think the rich young ruler falls in Lawrence Kohlberg’s stages of moral development? (3-4)

Really quickly, those stages of moral development are:

1. Obedience and punishment orientation (Avoiding punishment)
2. Self-interest orientation (What's in it for me? Payment for benefit)
3. Interpersonal accord and conformity (Social norms/good boy/girl)
4. Authority/Maintain social-order (Law & order morality)
5. Social contract orientation
6. Universal ethical principles (Principled conscience)

So, does the Law of Love require unselfish service in action (not just hearing or talking...but doing)? Yes! And when we understand natural law constructs, we realize what we are being “commanded” to do and what the law “requires” are not rules or regulations or obligations at all...they are merely the principles upon which life was created to operate and are intended only to restore us to our original design. Just as the law of respiration requires breathing...and the law of my Volvo engine requires regular gas.

MONDAY

Being a Doer

The 1st paragraph rightly points out that James’ reference to “being” and “doing” are inseparable – in fact, the tense of the Greek word James uses for “be” does not refer to individual acts, but to an ongoing lifestyle of obedience. In this class, Tim has used the analogy of breathing. Just as obeying the law of respiration requires us to breathe, and we never even think about it – it’s just an involuntary response. Well, when we are won back to trust...open our hearts to the Holy Spirit and allow the law of love to be re-written back on our hearts and minds...then unselfish behavior and loving others will be as natural to any of as breathing is! One of the founders of our church put it this way:

- “By His perfect obedience, He has made it possible for every human being to obey God’s commandments. When we submit ourselves to Christ, the heart is united with his heart, the will is merged in His will, the mind becomes one with His mind, the thoughts are brought into captivity to Him; we live His life! COL 3:11

But please notice the timing and the sequencing of events...are you noticing what comes first? Trust, opening the heart, submitting ourselves to Christ, having the law recreated in our hearts and minds MUST come first...then we become LIKE CHRIST – in mind, heart, and behavior. We already talked about some folks who got it backwards and allowed an oppressively long list of rules to come first. In fact, they were so focused on the behaviors, that the very God they were trying to impress when He came and dwelt among them. I like the way Paul puts it Galatians 2:16:

- We know very well that we are not set right with God by rule-keeping but only through personal faith in Jesus Christ. How do we know? We tried it – and we had the best system of rules the world has ever seen! Convinced that no human being can please God by self-improvement, we believed in Jesus as the Messiah so that we might be set right before God by trusting in the Messiah, not by trying to be good. (MSG)
- If you need more evidence that it is about a heart transformation first, consider Matthew 7:21-23:

21 "Not everyone who says to me, 'Lord, Lord,' will enter the kingdom of heaven, but only he who does the will of my Father who is in heaven. 22 Many will say to me on that day, 'Lord, Lord, did we not prophesy in your name, and in your name drive out demons and perform many miracles?' 23 Then I will tell them plainly, 'I never knew you. Away from me, you evildoers!' 24 "Therefore everyone who hears these words of mine and puts them into practice is like a wise man who built his house on the rock. 25 The rain came down, the streams rose, and the winds blew and beat against that house; yet it did not fall, because it had its foundation on the rock. 26 But everyone who hears these words of mine and does not put them into practice is like a foolish man who built his house on sand.

- How does being a “doer” justify or set us right with God?

So...if we are busy being “doers of the Word”...exactly what is it we should be doing? Let’s take that instruction straight from the Word...can someone look up and read aloud Luke 6:27-36?

- Has anyone here really had the opportunity to do this? I say “opportunity” not sarcastically and not because it is easy...quite the opposite, but can be life changing – for both parties. Is anyone willing to share the outcome?

I have a strong belief that maybe what we DON'T do is just as important in being a doer of the Word, so someone please finish that passage in Luke 6 by reading verses 37-38. Thoughts?

TUESDAY

The Law of Freedom

Teachers portion of the quarterly states: “Seventh-day Adventists have sometimes been characterized as hopeless legalists in bondage to the law. Nowadays, some SDAs go to the opposite extreme and seem afraid to even mention the law for fear of being misunderstood. After all, can God’s law really have anything to do with freedom?”

What kind of understanding of God’s law is required for it to be liberating or a source of freedom? Is obeying the law in order to avoid punishment freeing? Does that view differ dramatically from what you learned about God’s law growing up? When we understand design law principles and the constructs on which the universe and life itself were built to operate on, it helps us “understand our masters business”.

The 2nd paragraph is very well said, quoting Romans 2:13, and stating that we can become doers only through the work of the spirit writing the law on our hearts.

WEDNESDAY

Useful or Useless?

The lesson asks...how would you define true Christianity? Using James 1:26-27 and Matthew 25:35-36,40

2nd paragraph quote from Ministry of Healing 470:

- “The strongest argument in favor of the gospel is a loving and lovable Christian...To live such a life, to exert such an influence, costs at every step effort, self-sacrifice, discipline.”
- Do we have any issues today with unlovable Christians?

Repeatedly emphasized are orphans, widows, the sick, the poor, those most easily overlooked. Last paragraph: “From a worldly standpoint, it does not make sense to focus our resources on those who can give nothing back to society. But in God’s not-of-this-world kingdom, it is precisely how we love those who have been cast off and rejected by the world that reveals whether hearts have been truly transformed – by lending money to those who cannot pay us back; inviting to dinner those who cannot reciprocate; or blessing and praying for those who mistreat us. A quote from someone who really seemed to understand and spent her life as a doer of the word:

- "I pray that you will understand the words of Jesus, 'Love one another as I have loved you.' Ask yourself 'How has he loved me? Do I really love others in the same way?' Unless this love is among us, we can kill ourselves with work and it will only be work, not love. Work without love is slavery." - Mother Teresa

Ephesians 2:10 – For we are God’s handiwork, created in Christ Jesus to do good works, which God prepared in advance for us to do. (NIV)

THURSDAY

Unlike the World

1st paragraph is right on the mark: “Some people seem to think that if only they could move far enough away from the world they could avoid most of its temptations, however it seems our problems and weaknesses tend to follow us wherever we go. The problem with sin isn’t so much about what is out there, though that certainly plays a role, as much as what is in us, and in our hearts. That’s where the true battle is, and we have to overcome that battle no matter where we physically live. Christ spent adequate time alone with His heavenly Father in order to know his will; however, he never shut himself off from people...He went to where they were. His “food” was reaching out to the needy, breaking down barriers of prejudice, and sharing the good news of who God is and has always been.

The Book of James Lesson 5 4th Q 2014

Love and the Law

What do you think about the title? What law do you think the lesson is suggesting with the term “the law”?

Does the picture give us any clues? We see the image of the 10 Commandments with a heart cut out of it and a person standing in the heart.

Last week I was in Glendale, CA and spoke at the Vallejo Dr. SDA church. During the Q&A session a gentleman asked, when I refer to the law of love am I referring to the law that was in heaven or the 10 Commandments – thoughts?

I answered, the law I am referring to is the protocols upon which life is constructed to operate, which is the law of love built into the fabric of the cosmos and has its origin in the character of God.

Then he asked, which law is eternal the 10 Commandments or the law of love?

I asked, what does eternal mean? Always in existence in eternity future and past, and then asked the audience has the 10 Commandments always been in existence in eternity past?

The audience answer was mixed, some said yes some said no. The answer is, No – Paul says the law was added, the 10 Commandments are a codification of the law of love, specifically designed for fallen humans to reveal our sickness of character and lead us to Christ. Angels didn’t need a law about sin passing down through the generations, or to honor mother and father. Thus Paul tells Timothy:

We know that the law is good if one uses it properly. ⁹ We also know that law is made not for the righteous but for lawbreakers and rebels, the ungodly and sinful, the unholy and irreligious; for those who kill their fathers or mothers, for murderers, ¹⁰ for adulterers and perverts, for slave traders and liars and perjurers—and for whatever else is contrary to the sound doctrine ¹¹ that conforms to the glorious gospel of the blessed God, which he entrusted to me. 1Tim 1:8-11

And of course the Sabbath didn’t exist until this planet was created. But the law of love did exist as the protocol for life in all eternity. So the Eternal Law is the law of love, which the Bible writers point our minds to.

SABBATH

Read memory text: “For judgment will be merciless to one who has shown no mercy; mercy triumphs over judgment” (James 2:13, NASB).

Tell me what this passage means through the two law lenses, design law and imposed law?

Under imposed law this would mean if you are not merciful your unmerciful deeds will be recorded in the record books, there will be a judicial proceeding in which God will pass judgment, and He will show no mercy when He finds you guilty and executes the sentence of torment and death upon you.

Under design law this means that one who shows no mercy hardens their heart, sears their conscience, warps their character and on the day of “judgment” the absolute truth, the accurate diagnosis, of that person’s condition will be revealed and that person will not escape their condition but will experience what their unhealed condition causes.

Here is James 2:12-13 from my paraphrase:

Live like people who understand how God built life to operate. Act like those who are going to be diagnosed by the standard that health and freedom are founded upon, because one’s true condition will be diagnosed accurately without any covering over the actual terminal state of those who have not been restored to selfless love. But selfless love heals our terminal condition!

SUNDAY

James 2:1-4 from my paraphrase:

James 2:1 My family of God, as people who have taken the Remedy of our Lord Jesus Christ and seek to emulate him in all you do, don’t discriminate. 2 Imagine a famous person, decked out in expensive attire, comes to your meeting, and a poor stranger dressed in dirty torn clothes also comes in. 3 If you fawn all over the important person, paying them special attention and giving them the best seat, but ignore the poor person, leaving them to stand in the back or to sit on the floor, 4 haven’t you failed to love all people equally? Haven’t you selfishly sought to ingratiate yourself with the person you judged to be more desirable?

Imagine working in a hospital ER and a healthy Olympic athlete comes by and a chronic smoker with COPD in respiratory distress comes in – what if we ignored the person in respiratory distress in order to fawn over the athlete?

God wants us to see through the lens of His design of love and seek to love all people and bring all people back to unity with Him where they experience His love and therefore love others.

Read the third paragraph, “In the Greco-Roman...” Is it only in that ancient culture that the rich and famous expect special treatment? We don’t do such things today do we? No one expects a building named after them if they donate? No institution would seek to promote such desires by soliciting donations as naming opportunities?

If one donates to have a building named after them – would that be like the rich publican who gave his money so everyone could see? Didn't Christ say something about that was his reward? In other words, giving to get something for self is not giving and doesn't result in transformation of Christlike character.

Giving in order to give, with no expectation of return, results in transformation of character. But, how often do we appeal to selfish motives in people and thus cheat them of the opportunity to grow in their giving?

Do we treat all people equally in church – pastor, conference president, GC president, Medal of Honor winners, politicians, doctors, television personalities?

How do we insulate ourselves from allowing the expectations of a me-first worldview from infecting the way we treat each other at church?

It all comes back to love – when we love well we experience joy in doing for others, and celebrate in the successes of others, but when we don't love we experience irritation and feel put out when doing for others and jealousy when others succeed.

Read last paragraph, "It is not a sin..." thoughts?

Do we treat all people with equal value and worth? In our church what are some of the differences that make us vulnerable to prejudice, discrimination, bias?

- socioeconomic status
- education
- intelligence
- race
- religion
- sex
- health
- personal hygiene?
- tattoos, body piercing, jewelry, dress?
- what about sexual orientation?
- what about our view of the way to obey? i.e. to keep Sabbath etc?
- what about our view of church authority?

What do all of these focus on? They focus on externals – the outward appearance, such that we use these to compare ourselves to others – why? Because we are filled with fear and selfishness, we are insecure, and we look for ways to comfort ourselves, to make ourselves feel better – thus we find something in others that, in our mind is worse than ourselves, and we attack the other, criticize, etc.

This is what the Pharisees did in their prejudice toward non Jews, women, tax collectors, prostitutes etc.

What does God focus on? Character – can a person have the character of Christ, where they love others more than self and would give their life for others, and be:

- rich or poor?
- healthy or sick?
- well groomed or disheveled?
- intelligent or intellectually challenged?
- educated or ignorant?
- black or white or Hispanic or any race?
- Tattooed or not?
- Sabbath or Sunday church goer?
- SDA, Catholic, Jewish, Evangelical, Islamic, Buddhist, Atheist?
- Male or female or intersex?
- Heterosexual or homosexual?
- What about if they believe God to be a dictator?
- What if they surrender their thinking to church authority?

The things that matter are those things that interfere with having the law of love written in the heart and having our character restored to be like Christ's. The biggest of those are lies about God, and then any lifestyle issue that damages our ability to think, reason, understand and comprehend truth, or activities that incite guilt, shame, or the retention of bitterness and resentment, as all of these incite fear and selfishness and impair our ability to love.

TUESDAY

Loving our Neighbors – what does this mean? The principle of love is doing what is in the best interest of the other person – we know this definition – but what does this look like in various situations and what are the obstacles to loving others in this way?

First what are the obstacles

- Obstacles in our hearts/minds
 - fear
 - selfishness
 - distrust
 - prejudice
 - fatigue
 - apathy
 - ignorance (unaware of the need)
 - lies – beliefs that the other deserves something other than love

- lies – beliefs your action is love, being duped or tricked
- Obstacles in the heart/mind of the other person
 - fear
 - selfishness
 - distrust
 - see acts of love as manipulation
 - prejudice
 - lies
 - love looks like being beaten
 - love is having sex
 - love is being liked or popular
 - false beliefs
 - I don't deserve your love
 - I'm too sinful to be loved
 - I'm too dirty, too ugly, to worthless
- Situational obstacles
 - separated by time/space
 - not having the ability to help (whether it be knowledge, helping a child with calculus, repairing a car, or physical ability helping move furniture but you have an injured back, finances and you don't have the money) – but what can you provide in these situation – your understanding, encouragement, love for them despite the situation
 - being obstructed by some other force – whether it be physically restrained, or by sickness, or obligations

Read last paragraph, “Sin is the greatest...” Did you notice the idea that our responsibility is to pity and help the sinner – not to judge and punish the sinner? Why? What law is this operating through? This is design law – it is the same as saying ours is to pity and help the sick patient. That is what sin is, deviation from God's design law which always results in pain and suffering to the one deviant.

What is sin?

From the book, Servant God, chapter two, (the chapter I wrote):

Recently I had the opportunity to speak with over 350 Christian high school students. I passed out cards and asked them to write down their answers to the question, “What is sin?” Here are a few of their responses:

- An act against what God stands for
- It is something that separates us from God
- To do something that is morally wrong

- Anything evil or unjust
- Something that brings us down
- The absence of anything good/anything not of God
- Doing anything you know in your gut is wrong
- Bad stuff
- A bad thing that Satan discovered and brought upon us
- The cause of all pain and suffering
- When you do something you feel guilty about
- Anything that makes God unhappy
- Something to be forgiven
- Whatever you do wrong and you don't even care what you did

And the following two answers were submitted by more than ten percent of the students:

- Sin is not following the Ten Commandments
- Sin is going against the will of God

As I contemplated these answers, I realized they seemed to break down into two general categories: (1) sin is bad behavior, an act of disobedience, something we do wrong; or, (2) sin is some evil commodity, entity, element, some “thing” or some “stuff” that separates us from God or makes us unhappy. It almost sounded like if we could just get rid of this sin stuff, things would be a lot better. Is sin a substance we can transfer to someone else? Is sin simply doing bad acts? Or is it more?

Three students saw sin differently. Their answers pierced a deeper level of truth. To them sin was something more than bad behavior and was certainly not a commodity that could be passed from one person to the next. These three saw sin as:

- The absence of love
- The opposite of God's character – sin is being selfish
- Focusing on self. It all started with Satan and how he wanted to be greater than God. This is the root of all evil.

They saw sin as a state of being, a defect in character, a deviation from God's heart of love. How do you answer the question, “What is sin?”

Does it make a difference how we define sin? What difference? If we make the wrong diagnosis – then what follows? The wrong solution.

When we diagnose sin as behavioral what kinds of solutions are promoted? When we diagnose sin as legal what kinds of solutions are promoted?

But when we diagnose sin as a condition of being deviant from God's design, with which we were all born, then what solution is needed?

The Bible does not say that God punished the human race for one man's sin, but that the nature of sin, namely, my claim to my right to myself, entered into the human race through one man. But it also says that another Man took upon Himself the sin of the human race and put it away — an infinitely more profound revelation...

Sin is something I am born with and cannot touch— only God touches sin through redemption. It is through the Cross of Christ that God redeemed the entire human race from the possibility of damnation through the heredity of sin. God nowhere holds a person responsible for having the heredity of sin, and does not condemn anyone because of it. Condemnation comes when I realize that Jesus Christ came to deliver me from this heredity of sin, and yet I refuse to let Him do so. From that moment I begin to get the seal of damnation. “This is the condemnation [and the critical moment], that the light has come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than light . . . ” (John 3:19) Oswald Chambers, My Utmost for His Highest, <http://utmost.org>

So what is the Bible definition of sin?

“Everyone who sins breaks the law; in fact, sin is lawlessness.” (1John 3:4)

Sin is being lawless or without the law, or being outside the law.

But that brings us to the next critical question – what is the law?

What are the options?

- Design law, protocols upon which reality is constructed to operate
- a list of rules imposed by a dictator

What does the Bible say?

- Love does no harm to its neighbor. Therefore love is the fulfillment of the law. (Romans 13:10)
- The entire law is summed up in a single command: “Love your neighbor as yourself.” (Galatians 5:14)
- If you really keep the royal law found in Scripture, “Love your neighbor as yourself,” you are doing right. (James 2:8)
- Jesus replied: “‘Love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind.’ This is the first and greatest commandment. And the second is like it: ‘Love your neighbor as yourself.’ All the Law and the Prophets hang on these two commandments.” (Matthew 22:37-40, Leviticus 19:18, Deuteronomy 6:5)
- He who pursues righteousness and love finds life, prosperity and honor. Prov 21:21

When the God of love created, He created all life in harmony with His own character of love. Life is constructed to exist only when operating in perfect other-centered love. All life, health, and happiness are dependent upon harmony with this law... (Romans 1:20, 13:8).

Sin is stepping outside the law of love, breaking its circle of life's normal operation, severing the outflow of selfless giving, violating the construction protocols for life. In other words, sin is "lawlessness" or being outside the design template of life, outside of love.

But the Bible describes sin in another way:

- "Everything that does not come from faith is sin." (Romans 14:23)

What does this mean? Another way to phrase this idea is "Failure to trust God is sin." But why would failure to trust be the same as sin or "lawlessness"? Because God is love, and failure to trust God is failure to value love. And broken trust breaks down love.

Remember the falling dominoes of destructions:

- Lies believed break the circle of love and trust
- Broken love and trust results in fear and selfishness
- Fear and selfishness results in acts of sin
- Acts of sin damage to mind, body, character, relationships this is a terminal condition

Believing lies breaks love and trust, incites fear and selfishness and destructive acts – but what does it do to the mind? It damages our ability to think clearly, to reason, to comprehend truth, we end up lying to self and thus we become lost in darkness and inability to find our way out or even know how sick we are.

Thus human mind is deceitful above all things and utterly wicked...

When we violate God's law of love and do wrong, our orbital frontal cortex OFC becomes active and convicts us, causing a sense of anxiety, guilt and shame and trying to redirect us away from the inappropriate action. Simultaneously when the OFC is active it impairs activity of the dorsolateral prefrontal cortex DLPFC, where we reason and think. Thus our ability to comprehend, think, reason is impaired.

Further, when people do wrong, they feel guilt, guilt is an unpleasant emotion and people want it to go away. There are two ways to resolve guilt (appropriate guilt, which is guilt that result from violating God's design law of love. Inappropriate guilt is the guilt we experience when we have done no wrong and it is always based on believing a lie. Therefore, inappropriate guilt is resolved by the truth.) But appropriate guilt can be resolved in two ways – one healthy – repentance and restoration, and one unhealthy – denial and distortion. Adam said, "It wasn't me it was the woman..."

Thus, when human beings sinned, their minds became damaged, they became less capable of understanding truth, and actively sought to distort truth in order to avoid guilt and shame.

God intervenes with diagnostic and therapeutic tools design enlighten humans to their true condition and lead them back to Him for healing and restoration. These included:

- The animal sacrifices instituted to Adam and his descendants
 - What was the diagnostic and therapeutic intent of the animal sacrifices given to Adam?
 - To demonstrate that deviation from the design (cutting the circulation) destroys life, and that destroyed life comes at our hand, not God's. Confessing sin, then cutting the throat of the animal was designed to teach this vital truth, and show that a substitute would come and take this condition upon Himself in order to cure the condition and restore life to us.
 - Further, it was designed to make us sick, to make a gut revulsion to ever deviating from God's design.
- Circumcision
 - To symbolically demonstrate a cutting away of worldliness and purification of heart to God
 - The reproductive organs are specially designed by God to endow humans with Godlike abilities and to share in Godlike privileges of the voluntary union of love with another being in which jointly one gives of self to create new life.
 - Sin corrupted the heart with selfishness and God's design for reproduction, relationships, intimacy, love was also corrupted in so many ways:
 - Men dominating and subjugating women, instead of sacrificing themselves for their wives
 - Fertility worship
 - pornography
 - polygamy
 - prostitution
 - fornication in all its forms
 - paraphilias
 - And all the genetic and medical issues, which in themselves are not sin but are a result of sin damaging God's design like:
 - infertility
 - hermaphroditism
 - Androgen insensitivity syndrome
 - Swyer syndrome
 - Sexual identity confusion
 - Circumcision was designed to symbolically demonstrate a purification of the most intimate parts of ourselves to God to be renewed in heart, mind, character and relationships to love like God loves.
 - Additionally, it was an intervention for a people at a point in history when they would be especially attacked on this issue by the fertility cults around them.

- The 10 Commandments
 - Were given to diagnose and expose selfishness and lead us to Christ
 - Romans 7:7-12 from my paraphrase:
 - ^{7:7} What shall we say then? Is the law evil and selfish because it increases the amount of evil and selfishness we see? Absolutely not! For I would not have known what evil and selfishness looks like if it wasn't for the diagnostic efficacy of the law. I would not have realized that coveting was evil and selfish if the law didn't say, "Don't covet."⁸ But selfishness, taking advantage of the fact that the law is only a diagnostic instrument and not a Remedy, magnified every covetous desire within me. For apart from the diagnostic ability of the law, sin is unrecognizable.⁹ Once I thought I was healthy and free from the infection of distrust, fear and selfishness, but then the commandment examined me, exposed how utterly infected I was and diagnosed me as terminal.¹⁰ I discovered that the very commandment given only to diagnose my condition, I had unwittingly attempted to use as a cure and thus my condition only worsened.¹¹ For selfishness, taking advantage of the fact that the commandment could only diagnose and not cure, deceived me into thinking I could be cured by working to keep the commandments, but instead my terminal state only worsened.¹² So understand this, the law diagnoses perfectly, and the commandment is the standard of what is right and good, set apart by God, to reveal what is evil and destructive.
 - the Commandments were given to diagnose, not as treatment
- The Sanctuary service with its rules and regulation and holidays
 - A little theater to act out God's plan for restoring us back into full at-one-ment with Him
 - However, this system became corrupted through the lens of imposed law and came to be understood as an appeasement system, rather than a plan whereby God leaves heaven, comes to earth, takes up humanity and cures us.

This quote was sent last week by George Graves from the devotional compilation Our Father Cares:

[He] was in all points tempted like as we are, yet without sin. Hebrews 4:15. – {OFC 259.1}

Christ, at an infinite cost, by a painful process, mysterious to angels as well as to men, assumed humanity. Hiding His divinity, laying aside His glory, He was born a babe in Bethlehem. In human flesh He lived the law of God, that He might condemn sin in the flesh, and bear witness to heavenly intelligences that the law was ordained to life and to ensure the happiness, peace, and eternal good of all who obey.... – {OFC 259.2}

THURSDAY

Read first two paragraphs, “Nothing is clearer than...” What kind of reaction does this perspective incite? Peace, love and trust or fear and doubt?

This is all based on accepting the lie that God’s law is imposed – and the lesson authors acknowledge that their view is problematic and leads to mental health problems, note what they say in the fourth paragraph and their solution:

“If we thought about it long enough, we could become so paranoid about the judgment that we would give up in despair. But that is not what it means to ‘fear God... for the hour of His judgment has come’ (Rev 14:7 NKJV)! Instead, we must always trust in the righteousness of Jesus, whose merits alone are our only hope in the judgment.”

If they would only come to the truth about God’s law they would bring people so much peace.

Consider the heroin addict, using dirty needles – sick with endocarditis – does he want to go before the magistrate to have his deeds read and sentence pronounced.

Now, lets consider the lesson’s view – heroin addict sick, infected, goes before the judge and is found guilty, but Jesus stands up and offers Himself as a substitute and the judge examines Jesus and finds him innocent and therefore pronounces the heroin addicted not guilty on the basis of Jesus’ merits – how does that help, the addict is still dying from a heart infection?

There view and this teaching of penal substitution is a lie that keeps people trapped in false security with unrenewed hearts, consumed with fear and doubt.

We must come back to the truth that God’s law is the law of love, the design protocols of life and that when we understand that we realize the covering is a healing of the inmost being to be like Jesus. Here is an historic view of how our church used to teach this:

Only the covering which Christ Himself has provided can make us meet to appear in God's presence. This covering, the robe of His own righteousness, Christ will put upon every repenting, believing soul...

This robe, woven in the loom of heaven, has in it not one thread of human devising. Christ in His humanity wrought out a perfect character, and this character He offers to impart to us... By His perfect obedience He has made it possible for every human being to obey God's commandments. When we submit ourselves to Christ, the heart is united with His heart, the will is merged in His will, the mind becomes one with His mind, the thoughts are brought into captivity to Him; we live His life. This is what it means to be clothed with the garment of His righteousness. Then as the Lord looks upon us He sees, not the fig-leaf garment, not the nakedness and deformity of sin, but His own robe of righteousness, which is perfect obedience to the law of Jehovah. {COL 311.4}

So, the right understand of us humans being judged is “diagnosis” God diagnosis accurately the true condition of each person, either restored to trust and renewed to be like Him, for “when he appears, we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is.” 1Jn 3:2 or so solidified in the lie that no amount of truth can impact us. Here are examples of God’s judgment or diagnosis:

- Ephraim is joined to idols; leave him alone! Hos 4:17
- Let him who does wrong continue to do wrong; let him who is vile continue to be vile; let him who does right continue to do right; and let him who is holy continue to be holy. Rev 22:11

But the lesson cites Revelation 14:7 – and this passage is not about God sitting in judgment of us, it is about the conclusion of the war over God’s character here on earth. It is about calling people out of the lies and false religions being taught and calling people to the everlasting good news of who God is, of giving God glory by living His character for the time in history has come for God to be judged. As Paul said, “God may you win your case when you take it into court” Rom 3:4.

We are called back to judge God rightly, as the Creator, the Maker, the Designer of all and His law as the protocols of love. Then, when we see this correctly we are able to leave Babylon, the confused system of imposed religious rules and legal requirements to be healed so we avoid the pain and suffering that comes from unremedied sin in our lives.

MONDAY

Read first paragraph, “As every...” Any explanations for why this might be? Could it be that in our struggles we became more acutely aware of our limitations and our need for something more, thus we are more open to look outside of ourselves for divine aide, wisdom, insight, help?

Whereas the rich are more likely to find themselves either complacent or distracted by all the entertainments that their wealth can afford?

The lesson asks us to read James 2:5,6 – this is from my paraphrase:

James 2:5 Listen carefully my brothers and sisters: God has chosen to take the people the world scorns - those poor in the eyes of the world, but rich in spiritual health and restore them to his original design, making them heirs of the kingdom of love, which he promised to those who love him. 6 Yet you look down on and belittle the poor. But is it not the wealthy and politically connected who manipulate, exploit and harass you? Aren’t they the ones who sue you and bring allegations against you in the courts?

Read last paragraph, “Their bad behavior...” Any examples of misrepresenting Christ by doing evil in His name?

- Christians who protest homosexuals with signs “God hates fags...”
- Shooting abortion doctors and blowing up abortion clinics in the name of Christ?
- What about Rwanda and the mass murders that occurred in churches?
- What about attributing to God natural disasters as punishments for sin?
- What about threatening people with God’s wrath?
- What about teaching God will torture and kill?
- What about the White Americans who held slaves but went to church and then later the southern white Christians who violently fought for segregation?
- What about passing laws that force people to observe your religious practices?
 - Sunday observance?
 - Baptism?
 - What about marriage law or laws about abortion? Where does the Christian draw the line?

WEDNESDAY

In the fourth paragraph the lesson states, “any transgression of God’s law damages to some extent our relationship to God and to others.” This is true, but is it all that is damaged?

Why does sin result in death? Because sin actually damages the sinner.

- In rejecting God’s structure and establishing our own, in violating God’s intention for the creation and substituting our own intentions, we cause or own disintegration. Kaiser, W., et al., Hard Sayings of the Bible, Intersity Press, 1996, p. 542
- “We are not to regard God as waiting to punish the sinner for his sin. The sinner brings the punishment upon himself. His own actions start a train of circumstances that bring the sure result. Every act of transgression reacts upon the sinner, works in him a change of character, and makes it more easy for him to transgress again. By choosing to sin, men separate themselves from God, cut themselves off from the channel of blessing, and the sure result is ruin and death.” 1SM 235
- The one who sows to please his sinful nature, from that nature will reap destruction. (Galatians 6:8)

This is design law – but when people believe God’s law is like ours then rather than realizing we destroy ourselves, they falsely teach God is the source of inflicted death.

2014 Q4 “The Book of James” Lesson 6 Faith That Works

Intro:

Imagine my delight when I saw the subject matter for this week’s lesson! For those of you who were here two weeks ago, I taught on being a “Doer of the Word”...and this week is just a continuation of that concept as we study how true, transforming, saving faith manifests itself in our works. In fact, I get to use some of the material from a couple of weeks ago that we didn’t get to cover because we ran out of time...so that made me happy.

Memory Text: “For as the body without spirit is dead, so faith without works is dead also.” James 2:26

I want to read this verse in context starting earlier in the chapter with verse 14 from the Message:

4-17 Dear friends, do you think you’ll get anywhere in this if you learn all the right words but never do anything? Does merely talking about faith indicate that a person really has it? For instance, you come upon an old friend dressed in rags and half-starved and say, “Good morning, friend! Be clothed in Christ! Be filled with the Holy Spirit!” and walk off without providing so much as a coat or a cup of soup—where does that get you? Isn’t it obvious that God-talk without God-acts is outrageous nonsense?

18 I can already hear one of you agreeing by saying, “Sounds good. You take care of the faith department, I’ll handle the works department.” Not so fast. You can no more show me your works apart from your faith than I can show you my faith apart from my works. Faith and works, works and faith, fit together hand in glove.

So...what is faith? What do you think of when you hear the word “faith”? We have discussed the meaning of faith in this class before...that it means trust or belief in something. When I looked up the word in the dictionary, one of the definitions said “belief that is not based on proof”. Is that the kind of faith God asks us to have?

There are two grand forces at work in the salvation of the human soul. It requires the cooperation of man with the divine agencies – divine influences, and a strong, living, working faith. It is in this way only that the human agent can become a laborer together with God. The Lord does not sanction in any one of us a blind, stupid credulity. He does not dishonor the human understanding, but, far from this, He calls for the human will to be brought into connection with the divine will. He calls for the ingenuity of the human mind, the tact, the skill, to be strenuously exercised in searching out the truth as it is in Jesus...Ye are laborers together with God. {OHC 310}.

Hear any reference to the natural law of exertion referenced here?

God never asks us to believe, without giving sufficient evidence upon which to base our faith. His existence, His character, the truthfulness of His word, are all established by testimony that appeals to our reason; and this testimony is abundant. Yet God has never removed the possibility of doubt. Our faith must rest upon evidence, not demonstration. Those who wish to doubt will have opportunity; while those who really desire to know the truth will find plenty of evidence on which to rest their faith. {SC 105.2}

So faith is critical...trust is critical...but what are we putting our faith in? In what or whom do we trust? “Faith in a lie will not have a sanctifying influence upon the life or character. No error is truth, or can be made truth by repetition, or by faith in it. Sincerity will never save a soul from the consequences of believing an error... The Lord does not want us to have a blind credulity, and call that the faith that sanctifies. The truth is the principle that sanctifies, and therefore it becomes us to know what is truth. We must compare spiritual things with spiritual. We must prove all things, but hold fast only that which is good, that which bears the divine credentials, which lays before us the true motives and principles which should prompt us to action.” – 2SM 56.1

Saturday’s lesson tells the story of a respected doctor and elder in a high-profile church. He prayed eloquently, filled in preaching when the pastor was gone, gave generously – and even encouraged and inspired others to give. But everything was obviously not as it seemed...and it almost never is!

Quote: We don’t see things as they are...we see things as we are. – Anais Nin

The end of the story says “Though we must leave all judgment in God’s hands, the doctor’s actions certainly call into question the reality of his faith.” Any thoughts about that statement? Any other examples in the Bible of folks whose actions might call the reality of their faith into question?

- Rahab
- Samson
- David
- Peter

So...should we use a person’s works to determine if a person’s faith is “real”? Do a person’s works have to be perfect...for their faith to be “real”? Or can God use our imperfect works to still be a blessing to someone...to meet someone else’s need...to be an answer to someone’s prayer. A true, living, saving faith manifests itself with Christ-like behaviors and the fruits of the Spirit...however, don’t mistakenly believe that anything less than perfect works indicate a lack of or absence of faith.

SUNDAY

Dead Faith

Contrast the concept of salvation by faith alone versus the text in James that says “if someone has faith but does not have works...can faith save him?”

I think we have to go back here and really focus on the order of events...and the motivating factors that must initiate and compel our “good works”.

As we’ve discussed, faith is trust...evidence-based, reasonable, rational belief. In this class we have studied that only when we discover the truth about who God is and what God’s character is like...can we dispel the lies and distortions about his character and be won back to trust. Only when this happens, are we able to open our hearts to him...to his Spirit...Then His perfect love casts out all fear and selfishness, and the Holy Spirit pours out the healing remedy Jesus achieved for us through his life, death, and resurrection – His ways, His methods, His principles...He writes His law of love on our hearts and minds. This faith/trust cascade then manifests itself in unselfish, loving, other-centered acts and behaviors we call “good works”...the exact opposite of the sinful acts cascade.

The quarterly asks: “How can we learn to better express our faith through works while protecting ourselves from the deception that our works can help save us?” Can we ever “protect ourselves”...from ourselves?

MONDAY

Saving Faith

James 2:18 is the text used here...it says “But someone will say, “One person has faith, another has actions.” My answer is, “Show me how anyone can have faith without actions. I will show you my faith by my actions.” (GNT) Works are only good works if they spring from faith. Faith and works are inseparable...they are two sides of the same coin, and one cannot exist without the other. And just like a coin with two sides, 1 is the head and the other the tail. The faith comes first...then the good works – motivated by and originating from the heart transformation we just discussed.

One of the founders of our church thought this concept was so critical that she wrote an entire book called “Faith and Works”. This is the quote at the bottom of Monday’s lesson:

“If man cannot, by any of his good works, merit salvation, then it must be wholly of grace, received by man as a sinner because he receives and believes in Jesus. It is wholly a free gift. Justification by faith is placed beyond controversy. And all this controversy is ended, as soon as the matter is settled that the merits of fallen man in his good works can never procure eternal life for him.” {FW 20}

Paul’s attitude toward good works? He was not against good works per se...but he was against using works as a means to salvation. I used this text 2 weeks ago...and I still like the way Paul puts it Galatians 2:16:

We know very well that we are not set right with God by rule-keeping but only through personal faith in Jesus Christ. How do we know? We tried it – and we had the best system of rules the world has ever seen! Convinced that no human being can please God by self-improvement, we believed in Jesus as the Messiah so that we might be set right before God by trusting in the Messiah, not by trying to be good. (MSG)

He also says in Ephesians 2:7-10:

Now God has us where he wants us, with all the time in this world and the next to shower grace and kindness upon us in Christ Jesus. Saving is all his idea, and all his work. All we do is trust him enough to let him do it. It's God's gift from start to finish! We don't play the major role. If we did, we'd probably go around bragging that we'd done the whole thing! No, we neither make nor save ourselves. God does both the making and saving. He creates each of us by Christ Jesus to join him in the work he does, the good work he has gotten ready for us to do, work we had better be doing. (MSG)

TUESDAY

The "Faith" of Demons

Third paragraph says, "The most fundamental statement of faith in the Old Testament is Deuteronomy 6:4: 'Hear, O Israel! The Lord is our God, the Lord is one!'" This verse summarizes belief in one God. "Every other Biblical teaching flows from this cardinal truth." Any thoughts about those assertions of absolutes?

Next paragraph – An intellectual faith that has no effect on how we act is useless, even demons have that type of faith. 1 Timothy 4:1 states:

"Now the Spirit speaketh expressly, that in the latter times some shall depart from the faith, giving heed to seducing spirits, and doctrines of devils." (NIV)

The Message puts it this way: "The Spirit makes it clear that as time goes on, some are going to give up on the faith and chase after demonic illusions put forth by professional liars. These liars have lied so well and for so long that they've lost their capacity for truth."

My perception of what this means has changed dramatically in the past several years. At one point, I thought this referred to an increasing interest in magic...the supernatural, the growing popularity of things related to the occult, spiritualism, even Satan worship...and all these things have become wildly popular. But, could Paul also be referencing those who adopt Satan's methods and practices of fear and coercion...or those who preach about an angry, arbitrary, vengeful, imperial God who must punish sinners in order to be "just" and enforce his laws? One of our favorite Desire of Ages quotes in this class, "Every sin must meet its punishment...urged Satan." This is a Satanic picture of God being presented. What are your thoughts? Am I off base here? Is the language too harsh? Are not Satan's beliefs/distortions/ lies about God's character...by their very definition...the "doctrines of devils" and "demonic illusions".

The time spent and concepts learned in this class... I have to be honest with you...have made me uncomfortable sitting in quite a few pews and squirming...because I hear this picture of God being preached in many pulpits all around here...and it makes me really sad. Is it just me...or have the natural law model we are learning...the designer versus dictator concepts...made you hyper-sensitive to having an imposed-law, imperial, dictator view of God presented?

Well, last week at Connect, Pastor Litchfield shocked me a bit by using material from a book called "Finding the Father" by Herb Montgomery. It shocked me because the ideas and picture of God presented were incredibly consistent with what we teach here...and I got afraid for him for a minute. The book's premise is that we have been lied to about God and have long accepted an incorrect picture of him. Even the few passages Litch quoted were so consistent with what we teach in this class, I immediately downloaded the book and have been reading it all week. Here is a little bit from Finding the Father:

Today, loving relationships are many times the weakest perceived quality of those who claim to be God's people. We have become more concerned with being correct than with being Godly, right rather than righteous. Intellectually and behaviorally correct, we have allowed love – both in our understanding of God and as the principle by which we relate to those around us – to wither by the wayside. I believe this is largely because we have failed to understand, not in our treatment of others, but in our own perception – our own heart-level understanding – what it truly means that God. Is. Love. The root of both our misplaced spiritual zeal and our religious malaise is that deep within our hearts we have embraced, silently and subtly, even unknowingly, a wrong picture of God.

Could it be that we don't have a clue what God is really like? I contend that we have been told things about God that are not true. He is not what we think. If we are not encountering the fulfillment of every one of our desires by our experience with God, we still don't see Him for who He really is. He is beautiful – if we could just see Him. If our minds, hearts, and eyes could be opened for just a moment, there would be a strange resonance inside each of our aching hearts, saying, "This is it. This is what I have always been seeking. This is the reason I was made." We need to ask ourselves, "How can my internal picture of God be corrected?" The answer, although quite simple, is profound. There is a doorway through which we will find ourselves surrounded by amazing love, extravagant grace, and intimate friendship. This doorway is the greatest revelation ever to grace our planet. It is the revelation of God's character, made not by someone else, but by God himself through the transparent veil of humanity. (A reference to Jesus' words in John 10:9). See why I am loving this book?

WEDNESDAY

Abraham's Faith?

The quarterly asks us to compare some passages from James and Paul...and although they both quote the story of Abraham and Isaac in Genesis 15:6, they seem to arrive at opposite conclusions regarding being justified by faith or works. We have discussed the basis of Abraham's being declared "righteous" in this class several times before. The key order of events is that 1) Abraham believed (trusted), then 2) it was credited to him as righteousness.

Romans 4:20-25: That's why it is said, "Abraham was declared fit before God by trusting God to set him right." But it's not just Abraham; it's also us! The same thing gets said about us when we embrace and believe the One who brought Jesus to life when the conditions were equally hopeless. The sacrificed Jesus set us right with God. (MSG)

Gal 3:5-6: Answer this question: Does the God who lavishly provides you with his own presence, his Holy Spirit, working things in your lives you could never do for yourselves, does he do these things because of your strenuous moral striving or because you trust him to do them in you? Don't these things happen among you just as they happened with Abraham? He believed God, and that act of belief was turned into a life that was right with God.

James 2:21-24: Wasn't our ancestor Abraham "made right with God by works" when he placed his son Isaac on the sacrificial altar? Isn't it obvious that faith and works are yoked partners, that faith expresses itself in works? That the works are "works of faith"? The full meaning of "believe" in the Scripture sentence, "Abraham believed God and was set right with God," includes his action. It's that mesh of believing and acting that got Abraham named "God's friend." Is it not evident that a person is made right with God not by a barren faith but by faith fruitful in works?

Last paragraph says, "Good works are not just the outward sign of faith; they are an outworking of faith." Are good works necessarily an outward sign of faith? We talked a couple of weeks ago about some Biblical examples of folks who were consistently performing "good works", but not experiencing any sort of heart transformation or saving faith.

The man who attempts to keep the commandments of God from a sense of obligation merely--because he is required to do so--will never enter into the joy of obedience. He does not obey. When the requirements of God are accounted a burden because they cut across human inclination, we may know that the life is not a Christian life. True obedience is the outworking of a principle within. It springs from the love of righteousness, the love of the law of God. The essence of all righteousness is loyalty to our Redeemer. This will lead us to do right because it is right--because right doing is pleasing to God. {COL 97.3}

A sullen submission to the will of the Father will develop the character of a rebel. By such a one service is looked upon as drudgery. It is not rendered cheerfully, and in the love of God. It is a mere mechanical performance. If he dared, such a one would disobey. His rebellion is smothered, ready to break out at any time in bitter murmurings and complaints. Such service brings no peace or quietude to the soul. {ST, July 22, 1897}

And...lest you think that we are the only folks or the only denomination who understand this concept, I offer this quote from someone who spent her entire life in unselfish, sacrificial service to others...and who obviously understood the concept that it is not all about your works:

"I pray that you will understand the words of Jesus, 'Love one another as I have loved you.' Ask yourself 'How has he loved me? Do I really love others in the same way?' Unless this love is among us, we can kill ourselves with work and it will only be work, not love. Work without love is slavery." – Mother Teresa

Similarities between circumcision flaunted as a “badge of righteousness” in Paul’s day...and distinguishing SDA behaviors (Sabbath keeping, no drugs, no alcohol, no smoking, vegetarian diet, etc.). Do we risk these behaviors becoming merely “badges of righteousness”, and how do we avoid that trap? Is there a place for taking pride in the good things we do?

THURSDAY

The Faith of Rahab

Why is Rahab – a lying prostitute – listed in the “hall of faith?” Rahab was not saved because of her dishonesty, but in spite of it. Her heart was for God...she trusted Him, even though she was not spiritually mature or well-versed in his methods. She believed, obeyed, and trusted God with the outcome. Perfect works were not required to perfect her faith.

The Book of James Lesson 7 4th Q 2014 Taming the Tongue

SABBATH

Memory text: “For by your words you will be justified, and by your words you will be condemned.”
(Matt 12:37, NKJV)

What do you think this text means?

- Is it a matter of finding the right incantation to speak and if we say the right magic words then we are saved, but if not we are lost?
- Is it a matter of having our words recorded in a heavenly deposition and if we have a record of good words we get judged positively but bad words we get condemned?

Here is my paraphrase of this passage:

The words you speak reveal the true condition of your heart, either healed or terminal.

The lesson states that words hold tremendous power, either for good or evil, whether spoken or written. Remember the adage, the pen is mightier than the sword?

Why is this so? What do words do? They communicate ideas and ideas become part of our mind. They can become like code, changing our beliefs, our views, our way of seeing the world, ourselves, some of these ideas get uploaded even before we know it and alter our functioning.

Consider how we learn language – how do we learn to speak? And how deeply wired into us is our language? Do you ever get up and think, “I am going to think in English today?” But English language is not in our DNA, it is uploaded after birth. How many other ideas, thoughts, beliefs, ways of thinking were uploaded in a similar fashion?

A child whose parent tells them critical words will internalize those words in such a way that they form a view of themselves that is altered from reality, but then begin acting on that view of themselves.

It is not only the words spoken but how they are spoken – the tone, the voice inflection, the look, the body language all communicate ideas, which impact how we hear the words.

In the movie My Cousin Vinny... So it is not the specific words, but the ideas that are conveyed by the words that are powerful.

What about Bible inspiration – is it the words of the Bible, or the ideas the words communicate?

This is from the book Christ's Object Lessons:

The leaven hidden in the flour works invisibly to bring the whole mass under its leavening process; so the leaven of truth works secretly, silently, steadily, to transform the soul. The natural inclinations are softened and subdued. New thoughts, new feelings, new motives, are implanted. A new standard of character is set up—the life of Christ. The mind is changed; the faculties are roused to action in new lines. Man is not endowed with new faculties, but the faculties he has are sanctified. The conscience is awakened. We are endowed with traits of character that enable us to do service for God. p. 99

- What is the leaven? – truth
- truth about what?
- The first truth is the truth about God – “this is life eternal that they might know...”
- Why is the truth about God the most important truth?
 - because this truth is necessary to win us to trust so we will invite God into our heart
- What happens when truth comes into the heart? Lies are displaced, and new desires are set up.
 - Lies believed break the circle of love and trust
 - Truth believed destroys lies and restores trust
 - Broken love and trust result in fear and selfishness
 - Restored trust results in opening the heart and experiencing God’s love which casts our fear and selfishness
 - Fear and selfishness result in acts of sin
 - Love and trust result in acts of righteousness
 - Acts of sin are damaging to mind, body and relationships a terminal condition
 - Acts of righteousness, stemming from a renewed heart of love, result in growing in Godliness and spreading the kingdom of God
- But also the truth about ourselves, our condition, and the solution through Christ

A few pages later in the same book we read:

The leaven of truth works a change in the whole man, making the coarse refined, the rough gentle, the selfish generous. By it [the truth] the impure are cleansed, washed in the blood of the Lamb. p. 102

What piece of information is added here and why is it important?

The blood of the Lamb, often spoken of in the Bible, is metaphor for the truth.

When we partake the truth and are restored to trust, we reconnect with God in a love relationship and thus love, the lifeblood of the universe, flows from God into our hearts again.

Why is it important to move past the symbols to reality? I have patients who have dreams and will often be disturbed by their dreams – but dreams are merely symbolic representations of emotional content. The problem is that people often misconstrue their dreams. A classic dream, you have a performance coming up – it could be pitching for your varsity team, or starting in your first basketball game, or presenting a scientific paper, or sermon, or playing special music, or any other performance. And you have a dream of standing on the church platform in your underwear.

The dream is not about being in church in your underwear, it is about the fear of embarrassment, of exposing yourself, about insecurity and what others will think of you. But, if one takes the dream concretely, one might become afraid of going to church.

Likewise, the Bible is full of symbols, many people fail to understand the symbols and take them concretely.

Consider again the metaphor of blood – how is the “blood” typically used when describing the plan of salvation?

- Jesus is in heaven pleading His blood to the Father?
 - But if we translate the symbol, the blood representing truth or life, the perfect character of Jesus, then does Jesus need to plead to the Father for the Father to recognize and accept the truth or to partake of the perfect character He developed? Isn't the Father the source of all truth? Isn't the Father the one with perfect character upon which all life is designed to operate? Then this idea of Jesus pleading His blood to the Father for the Father's need is wrong.
 - Why might someone, say, one of God's apologists, present the idea that Jesus is pleading to the Father, if it isn't for the Father's need? Who might need this idea? Someone who, in their current understanding, believes lies about the Father, and believes that Jesus needs to do something to protect them from the Father. To calm that person enough to feel safe enough with God, to get to know them for themselves.
 - But Jesus is pleading His blood before the Father – but to whom is He pleading? The plan of salvation is the Father's plan – Jesus came to fulfill the Father's will, “not my will be done but thy will be done,” Jesus said. He said His words and works were that of the Father. So, the plan of salvation is being carried out before the Father. Then to whom is Jesus pleading?
 - Jesus said, it was good for us that He leave, for then the Comforter would come. The Comforter would not speak on His own, but speak only what He hears. To whom will the Comforter be listening? To Jesus, thus the pleadings of Jesus, the pleadings of truth are from Jesus, being communicated to your heart and mine by the Holy Spirit!
 - From one of the founders of our church:
 - ST, January 20, 1898 par. 6 “...Constantly He points us to the emblems of fatherly love, seeking to encourage faith and confidence in God. He pleads with us to have a correct idea of the Father..”

- The blood of Jesus is taken into the sanctuary in heaven in order to remove a record of sins from the heavenly ledgers?
 - Does truth need to be taken into the building in heaven and engraved on stones, or written in ledgers, then filed away to gather dust?
 - No! The sanctuary is also symbolic of the dwelling place of God, via His Spirit, which is the sanctuary of the human soul. It is our minds which are cleansed by the application of truth and the partaking of Jesus – it is no longer I that live but Christ lives in me...
 - “For we are God's fellow workers; you are God's field, God's building [Temple]...Don't you know that you yourselves [the church] are God's temple and that God's Spirit lives in you? If anyone destroys God's temple, God will destroy him; for God's temple is sacred, and you [you all] are that temple.” 1 Cor 3:9,16,17.
 - “As you come to him, the living Stone--rejected by men but chosen by God and precious to him-- YOU also, like LIVING STONES [building blocks of the Temple], are being built into a SPIRITUAL HOUSE [Temple] to be a holy priesthood, offering spiritual sacrifices acceptable to God through Jesus Christ.” 1 Pet 2:4,5.
 - “Consequently, you are no longer foreigners and aliens, but fellow citizens with God's people and members of God's HOUSE [sanctuary/temple], built on the foundation of the apostles and prophets, with Christ Jesus himself as the chief cornerstone. In him the whole building [sanctuary/temple] is joined together and rises to become a HOLY TEMPLE in the Lord. And in him YOU too [you all] are being built together to become a dwelling in which God lives by his Spirit. Ephesians 2:19-22.
 - From one of the founders of the SDA church, how we are supposed to understand the sanctuary:
 - Your faculties are separate and distinct, yet each is dependent for its success upon the other. So each day God works with His building, stroke upon stroke, to perfect the structure, which thus grows into a holy temple for the Lord. One stone mislaid affects the whole building. This figure represents human character, which is to be wrought upon, point by point. There is not to be a flaw in it, for it is the Lord's building. Every stone must be perfectly laid, that it may endure the pressure placed upon it. God warns you and every worker to take heed how you build, so that your building may bear the test of storm and tempest because it is riveted to the eternal Rock. Take heed how you build. Every hour may be spent in placing the stone on the sure foundation, ready for the day of test and revelation, when we shall be seen just as we are. This warning God presents to me as essential in your case. He loves you with a love that is immeasurable. He loves your brethren in the faith, and He works with them to the same end that He works with you. His church upon the earth is to assume divine proportions before the world, as a temple composed of living stones, every stone emitting light. This building is to be the light of the world, a city set on a hill, which cannot be hid. It is composed of stones laid close together, stone fitting to stone, making a solid building. All the stones are not of the same form or shape. Some are large, some are small, but each has its own crevice to fill. And the value of each stone is determined by the light it reflects to the world. This is God's plan, and He would have all who profess to believe His word fill their respective places in the great, grand work for this time.

We are, dear and much-beloved brother, living amid the perils of the last days. Every mental and physical power is to be cultivated, for all the powers are essential to make the church a building which will represent the wisdom and character of the great Designer. We are to cultivate the talents given us by God. They are His gifts, and are to be used in their right relation to each other, so as to make a perfect whole. God gives the talents, the powers of the mind; man makes the character. The mind is the Lord's garden, and man must cultivate it earnestly in order to form a character after the divine similitude. The Lord has wrought with you, my much-respected brother, enabling you to act your part as His workman; but there are other workmen who must act their part as God's agents, His members, who help to compose the whole body. Bear in mind, all are to be united as parts of a great machine. The Lord's church is composed of His living, working agencies who derive their power to act from the Author and Finisher of their faith. The great work resting upon God's individual workers is to be carried forward in symmetrical harmony. Manuscript Releases, Volume 2 [Nos. 97-161, 1958-1964]. 1993; 2002 (339). Ellen G. White Estate.

- The first tabernacle, built according to God's directions, was indeed blessed of Him. The people thus were preparing themselves to worship in the temple not made with hands--a temple in the heavens. The stones of the Temple built by Solomon were all prepared at the quarry and then brought to the Temple site. They came together without the sound of ax or hammer. The timbers were also fitted in the forest. The furniture was likewise brought to this house all prepared for use. {3MR 231.3}

Even so, the mighty cleaver of truth has taken out a people from the quarry of the world and is fitting this people, who profess to be the children of God, for a place in His heavenly temple. We want the cleaver of truth to do its work for us. We are taken from the quarry of the world. The material must not be a dead substance but living souls, and these souls must be brought out of the quarry of the world, where the hand of God can fit them for the temple in heaven. We are here as probationers, and we must pass under the hand of God. All rough edges and rough surfaces must be removed and we must be stones fitted for the building. We are brought into church capacity with defects of character, but we must not retain them. We must be fitted and squared for the building. We must be "laborers together with God," for we are "God's husbandry," we are "God's building." In view of this we must see that our temple is not defiled with sin. We should be lively stones, not dead ones, but live ones that will reflect the image of Christ. We must be worshipers in spirit and in truth. {3MR 231.4}

- The blood of Jesus is used as a payment to legally pay my debt?
 - How does the truth make a legal payment? It doesn't, the truth destroys lies, and where are lies operational – in the mind and heart of God? No! In the minds and hearts of sinners. Thus the blood, the truth must be taken into the sinner. This is why Jesus said, "Unless you eat my flesh and drink my blood you have no part with me."

THURSDAY

Read second paragraph, "James uses the image of a..." The paragraph states, "Pure religion is rooted in faith, which is self-authenticating, just as a pure spring needs no proof other than the water that flows naturally from it."

What does this mean?

That if one has faith then one has a pure life and the pure life is what authenticates the faith? This is true, yet not that helpful, why?

What then does a pure life look like?

The Pharisees in Christ's day believed a pure life meant washing your hands before eating, and criticized the disciples for not doing so.

What about people who believe a pure faith is praying five times per day, or going to church on Sabbath, or avoiding alcohol, or any other such behavior?

These people have faith and it leads to what they define as purity, does their faith and their subsequent lives confirm their faith?

Or, does it actually matter upon what our faith is based and in whom we have faith?

The Pharisees had faith in their belief system, and followed it, and thought they were pure. Faith in falsehood may lead one to observe certain rituals, and falsely believe one is pure, because one has claimed the blood as a legal payment etc.

So, faith is not enough, the critical question is, in what or whom is your faith placed?

Why do some attack evidence when God has gone to such lengths to reveal Himself to us and provide us the evidence of His trustworthiness?

The reason the attack on evidence, thinking, reasoning, is that some have faith in a god that is irrational, or a system that is corrupt and they are terrified that thinking people will expose the fallacy of their system. But God Himself invites us to come to Him and reason and in doing so we will be purified!

Read last paragraph, “God’s will, of course...” What does this mean? What does forgiveness mean in God’s system?

Consider the two law lenses – under the imposed law lens the idea of forgiveness is legal, it means pardon, yet even in this theology there are lies upon woven lies – for those who teach that God forgives claim He only does after He has received the legal payment of His Son’s blood. Think about it, if someone owes you $10,000 and can’t pay it, and their brother comes and pays their debt for them, can you turn the former debtor and say, “Now that I have been paid, I forgive your debt”? No, this penal view of God is false and needs to be rejected as part of the infection that has corrupted Christianity and obstructs Christ’s return.

Under design law – forgiveness is constantly extended from God and it was because of His love and forgiveness that Christ came, “For God so loved the world...” However, forgiveness means more than God’s personal pardon, it means restoration of Godliness in the believer.

God's forgiveness is not merely a judicial act by which He sets us free from condemnation. It is not only forgiveness for sin, but reclaiming from sin. It is the outflow of redeeming love that transforms the heart. David had the true conception of forgiveness when he prayed, "Create in me a clean heart, O God; and renew a right spirit within me." Psalm 51:10. And again he says, "As far as the east is from the west, so far hath He removed our transgressions from us." Psalm 103:12. {MB 114.1

As the Saviour is lifted up before the people, they will see his humiliation, his self-denial, his self-sacrifice, his goodness, his tender compassion, his sufferings to save fallen man, and will realize that the atonement of Christ was not the cause of God's love, but the result of that love. Jesus died because God loved the world. The channel had to be made whereby the love of God should be recognized by man, and flow into the sinner's heart in perfect harmony with truth and justice. {RH, September 2, 1890 par. 7}

What was the purpose of Christ’s life and death? To reveal God and create the avenue whereby God’s love, God’s character could flow again into the human species, into your heart and mine!

Why does sin bring sadness to God’s heart? For the same reason any destructive behavior brings sadness to a parents’ heart. Sin damages and destroys us!

SUNDAY

Read second paragraph, “At the entrance to...” Prov 9:10 “The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom.” This is a good text to examine the meaning not merely the words.

What does it mean “the fear of the Lord?”

Does the Bible teach that we are to love God? With how much of our being? With all our heart, mind, soul and strength. And does perfect love cast out all fear? Then how is it that we are to fear God?

Several meanings are possible with this passage, two which are true, one which is false:

- Fear is awe, admiration – the more love we have and the more of God we come to know the more we admire Him
- If we are in wild living worshipping a golden calf and God thunders and it frightens us, but we stop the orgy and start listening to God, wisdom has begun – the beginning of wisdom, and as we spend time to get to know God we love Him and the fear goes away.
- It means we become wise by being afraid of God and we should live in terror of our terrible and powerful God. – this is a false interpretation

What do they mean by, “Some teachers of theology, in striving for credibility, also may utilize methods that leave little or no room for faith”?

It was unclear to me, what were your thoughts on the meaning of this passage?

Are they suggesting that the more understanding we have, the more knowledge, the more comprehension of how things work, evidence for things that faith is undermined?

If that is the case then they don’t understand Biblical faith. Biblical faith is not believing in something strongly, hoping, wishing and convincing oneself that something is true despite the evidence. Biblical faith is based upon the evidence, and the more God reveals Himself, the more knowledge we comprehend about Him, His design, methods principles, including in science and nature, the more faith we have.

Read third paragraph, “Paul understood...” What does it mean, “always learning and never able to come to the knowledge of the truth.” (2Tim 3:7 NKJV)

Well the context is speaking of women who are vulnerable to the manipulation of exploiting religious teachers.

Here is my paraphrase starting in verse 6:

Such people scam their way into homes of weak willed women where they manipulate them with guilt from past mistakes. These women are vulnerable because they are emotionally unstable, swayed by all kinds of selfish desires. 7 They constantly seek help, but reject the Remedy and all truth that would actually heal them.

What this means is that they seek to know things, but don't seek to be changed, transformed, renewed, which means they don't have a knowledge, or experience with God.

What does it mean to seek God's wisdom?

- To come to know reality
- To know God personally, His character of love
- To know His design for life, the protocols upon which reality is built
- To know God's methods for healing and restoration
- To know how you fit in and how you can cooperate with God

MONDAY

Read second paragraph, "If anyone..." The lesson points out a very important reality, that our thoughts lead to words, but spoken words reinforce the thoughts. Thus it is important to guard our words, often people will say things they are only speculating about, but once said, it reinforces in their mind and they come to believe something they themselves created in their imagination.

TUESDAY

The middle of the first paragraph quotes Prov 15:1 "A soft answer turneth away wrath: but grievous words stir up anger."

What does this mean? Is it wisdom that is generally true or a promise?

When Jesus gave no answer did it turn away wrath?

Does this mean we are to roll over and become a doormat to the demands of others?

Does talking softly work best if one carries a big stick?

What about the words of not casting pearls before swine lest they turn and rend you asunder? Are pearls grievous words? So is there something more to it than just what we speak, than just avoiding grievous words?

What about Christ, "I have much to say but you cannot bear it?"

Read last paragraph, "As drops of water..."

WEDNESDAY

Read first paragraph, “We’ve all experienced...” The lesson points out how sin spread in heaven and on earth, through words inciting doubt and creating desire, confusion, uncertainty leading to choosing selfishness.

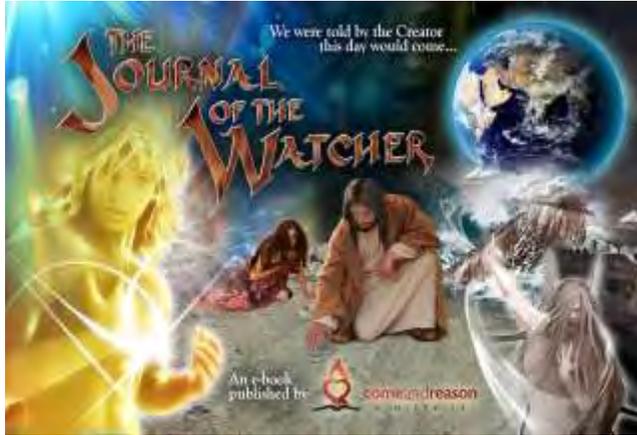

FRIDAY

Read and discuss question 3

From the abundance of the heart the mouth speaks – so many of my patients don't know this and thus when ugly things are said to them or about them, they react with hurt feelings rather than reacting with compassion and sadness for the one who is so selfish and hard hearted to say such mean things.

The Book of James Lesson 8 4th Q 2014 The Humility of Heavenly Wisdom

SABBATH

Read first paragraph, “In many...” What is it that drives people to be entitled? Is it not fear and a failure to love, or another way to say it, fear and selfishness?

People have fear of not being recognized, fear of not getting one’s own and an inability to celebrate and rejoice in the successes of another?

This is the “survival of the fittest” drive or motive, which is an infection to God’s creation. This motive contaminates and destroys relationships, peace, joy, happiness and ultimately life.

Do we see this mentality in society in general?

- Entitled to benefits not earned, position not qualified for, respect not deserved?
- Not taking responsibility for one’s own shortcomings, it’s someone else’s fault?
- And if it is someone else’s fault, then where does one look for the solution? To someone else – so people don’t look to see how they can learn, better themselves, overcome, but instead seek to punish the other or get compensation from another.
- How does this play over into theology?
 - It isn’t fair not to punish sin
 - We can’t do anything to overcome sin, so we claim the legal payment of Jesus for sins past present and future, and keep on sinning until Jesus comes.
 - While it isn’t our fault that we are born in the condition with which we were born, it is our fault if we refuse to partake the Remedy provided freely to us.

But is humility the same as passiveness, as failing to stand up for oneself? Does humility mean one allows other to abuse, control, dominate them? Does humility mean being intimidated, backing down, giving in, surrendering to the more aggressive?

Was Christ humble? Did He give in to the demands of others? Did He do what others wanted Him to do? Did He change His methods, purposes, goals, agenda, or ministry?

- Did He stop teaching the truth about God?
- Did He stop healing on Sabbath?
- Did He stop associating with publicans and prostitutes?
- Did He stop speaking with women and Samaritans?

But did He go out seeking to antagonize His opposition? No, He sought to heal, restore, reveal truth, dispel lies, reconcile, build bridges, disentangle confusion, restore love, destroy selfishness.

Can our actions, be misunderstood and misinterpreted by others?

Were Christ's actions misunderstood or misrepresented?

Christ was not trained as a theologian. He didn't have a seminary degree and what was the result? Some of those with a degree were unable to consider what He taught objectively, but discounted it because He had no degree.

It was the pride, the arrogance, the inability of the theologians to humble themselves and consider they could be taught something by a carpenter that prevented them from accepting the truth Jesus revealed and taught.

Did the twelve Apostles have seminary training? And what was the result? Did the religious leaders, those with professional theological degrees have difficulty accepting what they taught?

Can this be a problem for us today?

How should we deal with this? By being humble, meaning we present the truth in love and leave people free. But we don't back down and give in on points of truth just because someone who disagrees is in a position of church leadership or has a seminary degree. We leave them free to hold to their belief. We love them, but we continue presenting the truth, praying for better enlightenment for ourselves as well as others.

The same type of pride contributes to the factions in Christianity. How many people won't learn from someone not of their own denomination?

The truth stands on its own; if it is true, it is true, does it matter who says it. For instance, the devils at one point acknowledged Jesus as the Son of the most high God – were they wrong? Should we reject Jesus because a demon said He was God's Son? No – but should we believe it because a demon said it? No, we believe it because it is true!

Why should we believe Jesus is the Son of God?

- Because of the evidence revealed in Scripture, in the life of Christ, in our own personal experience with Him, and how the law of love in nature harmonizes perfectly with the life Christ lived.

Where do we draw the line between believing because someone said it and believing because we have thought it through for ourselves and examined the evidence for ourselves?

SUNDAY

Read first paragraph, "Some commentators..." What do you understand Bible wisdom to be?

Is it not understanding and living in harmony with God's methods, design and purpose?

Whoever tries to keep their life will lose it, and whoever loses their life will preserve it. Lk 17:33

Does this sound wise? Does it make sense from the world's point of view? Why is this unwise in the world, but ultimately wise?

From the world's point of view there is no God, there is no afterlife, there is only here and now. Further, from the world's point of view no one watches out for you except you. This is your life and you better do all you can to protect it. Once it's gone its gone. So, to lose your life you lose, but saving your life, at any cost, is winning – you are the fittest because you have survived.

But such thinking is based on falsehood, based on the lie that there is no God, and on the lie that survival of the fittest is adaptive.

When one realizes God's design for life, one realizes that life only exists in giving, in surrender to unity with our Creator, in loving God and others more than self. Jesus said:

Very truly I tell you, unless a kernel of wheat falls to the ground and dies, it remains only a single seed. But if it dies, it produces many seeds. Jn 12:24

This is designed right into nature. Thus Jesus surrenders His life in order to give life to us.

Any other examples in nature?

Read second paragraph, "Interestingly, the only place..." Do we look at the nation that lived 2000 years ago, and who rigidly kept the rules given by Moses as wise and understanding?

- Was it wise and understanding to reject Jesus?
- What about today? Are there people who keep the rules, eat only the right foods, worship on the right day, etc. who are not wise?
- What about those who today in the Middle East keep these rules of Moses, and especially want to keep the eye for an eye rule, do we find them wise?
- Or was Nelson Mandela wiser when he set up forgiveness tribunals, in which everyone who admitted their crimes during that period were legally pardoned? Which is wiser?
- Now am I suggesting the wisdom of God is not wise? Absolutely not! I am pointing out how one can read the Scripture, and misunderstand it such that they carry out God's directives foolishly, thus losing the wisdom intended.

What is the basic problem with the law as kept by Israel ancient and modern and many Christians today? They have accepted the lie that God's law is imposed rules we must to which we must adhere.

The wisdom comes when we recognize God's law as design law, protocols for life, the law of love in function.

Here is a description of foolish law keeping contrasted with wise law keeping:

- A sullen submission to the will of the Father will develop the character of a rebel. By such a one service is looked upon as drudgery. It is not rendered cheerfully, and in the love of God. It is a mere mechanical performance. If he dared, such a one would disobey. His rebellion is smothered, ready to break out at any time in bitter murmurings and complaints. Such service brings no peace or quietude to the soul. {ST, July 22, 1897}
- The man who attempts to keep the commandments of God from a sense of obligation merely--because he is required to do so--will never enter into the joy of obedience. He does not obey. When the requirements of God are accounted a burden because they cut across human inclination, we may know that the life is not a Christian life. True obedience is the outworking of a principle within. It springs from the love of righteousness, the love of the law of God. The essence of all righteousness is loyalty to our Redeemer. This will lead us to do right because it is right--because right doing is pleasing to God. {COL 97.3}

What makes law keeping foolish? When it is viewed as a system of rules, imposed that we must keep.

What makes law keeping wise? When it is understood as a principle, as a design protocol upon which life is built and then becomes internalized as a principle of action that motivates are choices and behavior.

What motivates people to be one of those who work hard to keep the law?

- It is rooted in believing lies about God – which results in inability to trust Him
- Without trust one will not surrender self, will not open their heart to God and thus one works to prove themselves, to earn their keep
- This results in intolerance, judgmentalism, desire to force others to ones way – a failure to love
- This results in destruction

Here is a quote from a book Thoughts from the Mount of Blessings:

The effort to earn salvation by one's own works inevitably leads men to pile up human exactions as a barrier against sin. For, seeing that they fail to keep the law, they will devise rules and regulations of their own to force themselves to obey. All this turns the mind away from God to self. His love dies out of the heart, and with it perishes love for his fellow men. A system of human invention, with its multitudinous exactions, will lead its advocates to judge all who come short of the prescribed human standard. The atmosphere of selfish and narrow criticism stifles the noble and generous emotions, and causes men to become self-centered judges and petty spies. {MB 123.1}

MONDAY

The top of the lesson states, “Read James 3:15,16. What is his description of worldly wisdom? What are the common ways we see this ‘wisdom’ manifested in the world, or even the church?”

James 3:13-16 my paraphrase:

James 3:13 Who of you is wise enough to understand God’s methods and principles? Then show it by living in harmony with God’s design for life, a life of love in action, giving in humility to bless and uplift others. 14 But to cherish self-centered, arrogant, mean-spirited, jealous motives in the heart misrepresents God and defames the truth. 15 Such principles do not originate in God nor come from heaven, but are profane and destructive, and originate in Satan. 16 For selfishness, envy and all violations of God’s law of love, break his design for life and cause chaos, disease, suffering and everything evil.

So what are ways the wisdom of the world is commonly manifested in the world and in the church?

In the world:

- Vengeance – hunting down to kill those who do us wrong
- Coercion – sanctions to force people to do what we want
- Violence designed to injure, hurt, exploit, dominate or take advantage of another
- Pleasure seeking for pleasure seeking – live for today for tomorrow we die
- Racism, sexism, bigotry, prejudice – valuing some humans less than other humans
- Exploitation of God’s creation for selfishness
- Killing for pleasure and sport (hunting)
- Sexual perversity marketed as sexual diversity
- Idolatry
- Seeking to get ahead, highest office, most recognition, biggest paycheck...
- Other examples?

In the church:

- Sexism, bigotry, prejudice
 - Restriction of leadership in the church to men
 - Restriction of leadership in the church to seminary trained individuals (Jesus chose His Apostles from a wide background, most of whom were not trained theologians)
 - Denominationalism – arrogance that we are the saved because we belong to a certain denomination and others are lost because they don’t belong to our denomination
- Coercion
 - Sanctions in the church – coercion to conform rather than leaving free to think and explore new ideas honestly and humbly

- Teaching that certain rituals are required for salvation or exaltation and then holding those rites hostage to paying tithe, which one must demonstrate by providing income tax records
- Teaching that the church holds the keys to your salvation and one must participate in church rituals in order to be saved, or belong to a certain organization etc.
- Teaching God's kingdom runs like human governments, legal models of atonement
- Idolatry
 - Thousands have a false conception of God and His attributes. They are as verily serving a false god as were the servants of Baal. Are we worshiping the true God as He is revealed in His Word, in Christ, in nature, or are we adoring some philosophical idol enshrined in His place? God is a God of truth. Justice and mercy are the attributes of His throne. He is a God of love, of pity and tender compassion. Thus He is represented in His Son, our Saviour. He is a God of patience and long-suffering. If such is the being whom we adore and to whose character we are seeking to assimilate, we are worshiping the true God. {FLB 59.8}
- Seeking the biggest church, paycheck, highest office
- Others?

Read last paragraph, "While James..." What enables a person to do this? What enables a person to not fight to get ahead?

A personal experience and trust in God, such that our focus is on fulfilling God's purpose in our lives and trusting God with outcomes.

We don't have to "make it turn out" a certain way, we have to choose in governance of self to do what we know is right for us to do in harmony with God's design, purposes and will.

TUESDAY

Read James 4:1-3 my paraphrase:

James 4:1 Why is there so much hostility, fighting, and arguments among you? Because the survival-of-the-fittest instinct controls you; 2 if you want something, but don't get it, you are willing to kill. You are selfish, coveting what you cannot have, constantly fighting, trying to get for yourselves. You do not obtain, because you do not seek God. 3 And when you finally do ask God, because your motives are selfish, because you focus only on self-gratification, you don't get what your asking because God doesn't use his power to supply you with means to further damage yourselves.

Our minds are out of balance from God's original design. We have two antagonistic motives – our higher cortex, in connection with God desires to live in peace, love, truth, harmony. Our limbic system is dominated by fear and selfishness and seeks to protect self even at the expense of others.

Which is most healthy?

An interesting study was done recently examining Hedonistic vs. Eudaimonic State of Wellbeing

- 80 individuals were assessed
 - Hedonistic: Material or bodily pleasure (food sex)
 - Eudaimonic: deeper meaning, purpose, altruism
- Both scored same on measures of affect (in other words both groups would have reported they were equally happy and had equally good moods)
- But WBC gene expression markedly different
 - Eudaimonic: Downregulated inflammatory genes, upregulated infection fighting genes
 - Hedonistic: Upregulated inflammatory genes, down regulated infection fighting genes.
PNAS · vol. 110 no. 33; Barbara L. Fredrickson, 13684 –13689, doi:10.1073/pnas.1305419110

Only in harmony with God’s design is there life, health and true happiness!

This is design law, it is not an imposed rule. God doesn’t send angels from heaven to change the gene expression in our bodies based on our choices. But God did create life to operate in harmony with His design and only in unity and harmony with Him is there life:

Whoever pursues righteousness and love finds life, prosperity and honor. Pr 21:21

Why?

WEDNESDAY

Read second paragraph, “The next verse, James 4:5...” What is the message of James 4:4-6?

Here is my paraphrase:

James 4:4 You disloyal and unfaithful people, don’t you realize that embracing the me-first, survival-of-the-fittest principle of this world is warring against God? Anyone who allies him or herself with this selfish world chooses to be an enemy of our God of love. 5 Don’t you get it? The Scripture is clear, God longs intensely for you and gives his Spirit to live in you 6 to graciously heal you. That is why the Scripture says: “God opposes selfishness, arrogance and pride, but heals the selfless.”

When we understand God’s law is the law of love upon which life is built, and that sin is deviation from that design based on fear and selfishness, then we can read passages like this and understand what the author is trying to say. However, when we have a false view of God’s law, thinking God’s law is like human law, rules imposed and requires God to enforce, then passages like this become hard to understand.

The bottom pink section asks, “Look at yourself. What in you makes you worthy of salvation?” I don’t like the word selection here or this question – it suggests, based on the word “worthy” that we don’t have worth. But we do have worth – we are God’s workmanship, created by God in Adam to reveal Him and recreated/healed in Christ to reveal Him.

I have many patients who struggle with low self worth, thinking they are unworthy of salvation, too sinful, too dirty, too defiled, too ugly for God to save, and questions like this only reinforce a false idea.

Each of us has worth as God’s creation and this is demonstrated in Christ’s sacrifice for us.

So what in me makes me worthy of salvation?

- The handiwork of God – the life given me by God
- The purpose of God in the creation of humanity
- God’s purpose for me now as a redeemed child of His
- God’s love for me!

Perhaps this question would have been better worded, “What can I do or bring that originates with me that earns the right for me to be saved?” Then the answer is nothing.

THURSDAY

Read first paragraph, “Submit yourselves....” My paraphrase of James 4:7-10:

James 4:7 Surrender yourselves to God and his treatment. Tell the devil NO, and you will escape him. 8 Move close to God and God will come close to you. You selfish people stop choosing to indulge your desires. Stop going back and forth between love and selfishness, purify your hearts with love. 9 Stop playing around and get real. Let your hearts break, cry over your terminal condition; admit you are sick, stop pretending all is well. 10 Then go humbly to the Lord and he will heal and restore you.

What obstacles prevent us from surrendering ourselves to God?

- Misunderstanding God, or not truly knowing Him
- Distrusting God
- Misunderstanding the problem of sin, the plan of salvation, God’s solution
- Believing in a false remedy, that doing the right ritual, going to church on the right day, eating the right foods will result in our salvation

FRIDAY

Read first paragraph, “There are many...” Read and discuss questions 2, 3

The Book of James Lesson 9 4th Q 2014 One Lawgiver and Judge

Thoughts about the Title?

What comes to mind? What mental images? Doesn't the title lend itself toward presenting God as a dictator rather than Designer? Is it important what view of God's law we hold?

Here is a quotation from the book The Great Controversy:

In seeking to cast contempt upon the divine statutes, Satan has perverted the doctrines of the Bible, and errors have thus become incorporated into the faith of thousands who profess to believe the Scriptures. The last great conflict between truth and error is but the final struggle of the long-standing controversy concerning the law of God. Upon this battle we are now entering--a battle between the laws of men and the precepts of Jehovah, between the religion of the Bible and the religion of fable and tradition. {GC 582.2}

What do you hear?

Before we can understand what the Bible means regarding God as Lawgiver and Judge, we must first understand the controversy over God's law.

According to the passage above it is between the law of God and the laws of humans. What is the difference between those two laws?

Listen to this:

“From the opening of the great controversy it has been Satan's purpose to misrepresent God's character and to excite rebellion against His law, and this work appears to be crowned with success.” PP 338

“God was represented as severe, exacting, revengeful, and arbitrary. He was pictured as one who could take pleasure in the sufferings of his creatures. The very attributes that belonged to the character of Satan, the evil one represented as belonging to the character of God.” ST Jan 20, 1890

What does arbitrary mean? On a whim, without reason, because a person in power says so, what kind of law operates this way? Imposed law!

God is Creator – His laws are the laws the fabric of the cosmos is built upon – created beings, including Lucifer, cannot create reality, we can only make up rules. Thus, the character of Satan is severe, exacting, revengeful, arbitrary – this is the characteristics of imposed rules – this is the attack on God's character and law by Satan in the beginning, suggesting God's law is no different than ours, rules made up, but God, being more powerful, is able to enforce His rules.

God's law is design law, the law of love, the protocols for life. Here is what Scripture says:

- Love does no harm to its neighbor. Therefore love is the fulfillment of the law. Romans 13:10
- The entire law is summed up in a single command: "Love your neighbor as yourself." Galatians 5:14
- If you really keep the royal law found in Scripture, "Love your neighbor as yourself," you are doing right. James 2:8
- Jesus replied: "'Love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind.' This is the first and greatest commandment. And the second is like it: 'Love your neighbor as yourself.' All the Law and the Prophets hang on these two commandments." Matt 22:37-40
- In the way of righteousness there is life; along that path is immortality. Pr 12:28
- He who pursues righteousness and love finds life, prosperity and honor. Pr 21:21
- The law of the Lord is perfect, reviving the soul. Ps 19:7

Commentary from one of the founders of our church:

- In living for self he has rejected that divine love which would have flowed out in mercy to his fellow men. Thus he has rejected life. For God is love, and love is life. COL 258
- Our only definition of sin is that given in the word of God; it is "the transgression of the law;" it is the outworking of a principle at war with the great law of love which is the foundation of the divine government. GC 493
- The law of love being the foundation of the government of God, the happiness of all created beings depended upon their perfect accord with its great principles of righteousness. GC 493
- The law of God, from its very nature, is unchangeable. It is a revelation of the will and the character of its Author. God is love, and His law is love. Its two great principles are love to God and love to man. "Love is the fulfilling of the law" (Rom. 13:10). The character of God is righteousness and truth; such is the nature of His law. Says the psalmist: "Thy law is the truth"; "all thy commandments are righteousness" (Ps. 119:142, 172). And the apostle Paul declares: "The law is holy, and the commandment holy, and just, and good" (Rom. 7:12). Such a law, being an expression of the mind and will of God, must be as enduring as its Author. {RC 46.5}
- But turning from all lesser representations, we behold God in Jesus. Looking unto Jesus we see that it is the glory of our God to give. "I do nothing of Myself," said Christ; "the living Father hath sent Me, and I live by the Father." "I seek not Mine own glory," but the glory of Him that sent Me. John 8:28; 6:57; 8:50; 7:18. In these words is set forth the great principle which is the law of life for the universe. All things Christ received from God, but He took to give. So in the heavenly courts, in His ministry for all created beings: through the beloved Son, the Father's life flows out to all; through the Son it returns, in praise and joyous service, a tide of love, to the great Source of all. And thus through Christ the circuit of beneficence is complete, representing the character of the great Giver, the law of life.

DA 21

- As the Supreme Ruler of the universe, God has ordained laws for the government not only of all living beings, but of all the operations of nature. Everything, whether great or small, animate or inanimate, is under fixed laws which cannot be disregarded. There are no exceptions to this rule; for nothing that the divine hand has made has been forgotten by the divine mind. But while everything in nature is governed by natural law, man alone, as an intelligent being, capable of understanding its requirements, is amenable to moral law. To man alone, the crowning work of his creation, God has given a conscience to realize the sacred claims of the divine law, and a heart capable of loving it as holy, just, and good; and of man prompt and perfect obedience is required. Yet God does not compel him to obey; he is left a free moral agent. {ST, April 15, 1886 par. 2}

What is Satan's attack on God's law?

That it is an imposed set of rules in which there is no inherent consequence for breaking, thus requiring God to sit as punisher of the sinner:

“In the opening of the great controversy, Satan had declared that the law of God could not be obeyed, that justice was inconsistent with mercy, and that, should the law be broken, it would be impossible for the sinner to be pardoned. Every sin must meet its punishment, urged Satan; and if God should remit the punishment of sin, He would not be a God of truth and justice. When men broke the law of God, and defied His will, Satan exulted. It was proved, he declared, that the law could not be obeyed; man could not be forgiven. Because he, after his rebellion, had been banished from heaven, Satan claimed that the human race must be forever shut out from God's favor. God could not be just, he urged, and yet show mercy to the sinner. DA 761.4

Notice Satan's argument and what kind of law is it Satan presents?

If God's law is design law and not rules imposed, then why the 10 Commandments, and the ceremonial laws?

What, then, was the purpose of the law? It was added because of transgressions until the Seed to whom the promise referred had come. The law was put into effect through angels by a mediator.²⁰ A mediator, however, does not represent just one party; but God is one.

²¹ Is the law, therefore, opposed to the promises of God? Absolutely not! For if a law had been given that could impart life, then righteousness would certainly have come by the law.

²² But the Scripture declares that the whole world is a prisoner of sin, so that what was promised, being given through faith in Jesus Christ, might be given to those who believe.

²³ Before this faith came, we were held prisoners by the law, locked up until faith should be revealed. ²⁴ So the law was put in charge to lead us to Christ that we might be justified by faith. ²⁵ Now that faith has come, we are no longer under the supervision of the law. Gal 3:19-25

What does this mean?

From my paraphrase:

Gal 3:19 If God promised to heal us, then what was the purpose of the law? It was added because of our sin-sick state, our darkened minds and the rapid rate at which we were destroying ourselves in order to diagnose our condition and teach us a healthier way to live until the only true cure, Jesus—the promised one—had come. God communicated this law through angels and then through Moses as an intermediary to the people. ²⁰ But an intermediary is not needed when there is only one party involved; and God and his Son Jesus are one.

Gal 3:21 Is the written law, then, somehow in opposition to the promises of God? Of course not! The written law was simply a tool to diagnose our sickness and lead us to God for healing. If the written law could somehow cure the infection of selfishness and promote life, then healing would certainly have followed the giving of the law. ²² But Scripture is clear: All humanity is infected with selfishness and is imprisoned by this terminal condition. It is by trust that we experience the only cure, the one promised—Jesus Christ, who was given to humankind as the Remedy to this terminal condition.

Gal 3:23 Before Christ came we were quarantined by the written law, restrained from continual self-destruction until Christ procured the only true cure. ²⁴ So, then, the written law was provided as a safeguard to protect us and lead us to Christ—the Great Physician, so that we might be restored to unity with God by trust in and partaking of Christ. ²⁵ Now that trust in God has been restored and we are set right in heart, mind, and character and again practice God's methods, we no longer need the law to diagnose our condition or lead us back to God.

This issue of the law in Galatians, the law that was added, was debated in our church and this is the conclusion:

I am asked concerning the law in Galatians. What law is the schoolmaster to bring us to Christ? I answer: Both the ceremonial and the moral code of ten commandments...In this scripture, the Holy Spirit through the apostle is speaking especially of the moral law. {1SM 233, 234}

With this clarity in mind – God's law is design law, Satan's lie is God's law is imposed rules, we can examine the lesson.

SABBATH

But the lesson gets the title from the Bible, from our memory verse, James 4:12 is cited, lets read James 4:11, 12:

NIV:

Brothers, do not slander one another. Anyone who speaks against his brother or judges him speaks against the law and judges it. When you judge the law, you are not keeping it, but sitting in judgment on it. ¹² There is only one Lawgiver and Judge, the one who is able to save and destroy. But you—who are you to judge your neighbor?

What do you hear? What does it mean?

My Paraphrase:

James 4:11 Brothers and sisters, don't bad-mouth each other. When you demean one another you distort God's law of love and make God's methods appear questionable. When you misrepresent God's law of love you are no longer living in harmony with it, but acting as if you have a better design for life than God. ¹² There is only one Designer of life and one Diagnostician who is able to heal our terminal condition. So who do you think you are to diagnose your neighbor as beyond healing?

Does seeing God's law as design law weaken the law? Why or why not?

There are no loopholes in Design law – it is unbiased, it makes no difference regarding race, gender, creed.

- If a rich man and poor man both jump off a building will gravity treat them different?
- If a black woman and white woman both tie a plastic bag over their head will the law of respiration treat them differently?
- If a Christian and a Jew cheat on their spouse will the law of love treat them differently?
- If a Christian or non-Christian harbor resentment, selfishness in their heart, will the result on the character, hearts, minds be different? What if the Christian does rituals, goes to confession, footwashing, communion, but harbors hatred, selfishness, and pride in the heart?

However, if the law is a set of arbitrary rules, then one can make loopholes and exceptions for various groups or persons. Our view makes God's law much stronger and uncompromising. Thus, God, through Christ had to actually fix what was wrong in humanity in order to save humanity. This is profoundly more difficult than merely paying a legal penalty.

This is from the Review and Herald Sept. 21, 1886:

The gospel of the New Testament is not the Old Testament standard lowered to meet the sinner and save him in his sins. God requires of all His subjects obedience, entire obedience to all His commandments. He demands now as ever perfect righteousness as the only title to heaven. Christ is our hope and our refuge. His righteousness is imputed only to the obedient. Let us accept it through faith, that the Father shall find in us no sin. (RH Sept. 21, 1886)! {6BC 1072.8}

How do you hear this? What would this passage mean through the imposed law lens?

- Interpreted through the imposed law lens this offers false guilt, fear and false security. How?
- By suggesting that
 - Perfect performance in behavior is required
 - We are incapable
 - We need a substitute to provide a legal solution
 - Imputed righteousness is taught to be a legal application to our records in heaven
 - We go on living in sin, feeling inadequate, being taught God declares us righteous even though we are not

Imputed righteousness is often synonymous with justification by faith. Those with a legal view think this is when God declares us righteous even though we are not. They say it is an application of Christ's merits to our legal record in heaven. This is all fiction, it is all based on the false view of God's law. The truth is that the believer, the one who trusts in God receives a new heart and right spirit and are set right, or put right, or are justified with God, in there heart, mind, character here and now. Here are some quotes from one of the founders of our church:

Abundant grace has been provided that the believing soul may be kept free from sin; for all heaven, with its limitless resources, has been placed at our command. We are to draw from the well of salvation. . . . In ourselves we are sinners; but in Christ we are righteous. Having made us righteous through the imputed righteousness of Christ, God pronounces us just, and treats us as just. He looks upon us as His dear children. Christ works against the power of sin, and where sin abounded, grace much more abounds. {God's Amazing Grace 181.4}

- note – “having made us righteous” NOT having “declared us righteous”

But we all, with open face beholding as in a glass the glory of the Lord, are changed into the same image from glory to glory even as by the Spirit of the Lord" (2 Cor. 3:18). Beholding Christ means studying His life as given in His Word. We are to dig for truth as for hidden treasure. We are to fix our eyes upon Christ. When we take Him as our personal Saviour, this gives us boldness to approach the throne of grace. By beholding we become changed, morally assimilated to the One who is perfect in character. By receiving His imputed righteousness, through the transforming power of the Holy Spirit, we become like Him. The image of Christ is cherished, and it captivates the whole being. {God's Amazing Grace 96.4}

- Again – we are actually transformed to be righteous, not merely declared legally righteous

We aim too low. The mark is much higher. Our minds need expansion, that we may comprehend the significance of the provision of God. We are to reflect the highest attributes of the character of God. . . . The law of God is the exalted standard to which we are to attain through the imputed righteousness of Christ. {OHC 364.2}

- Do you see how the idea that we are legally declared righteous obstructs people from attaining righteousness?

He would have us comprehend something of His love in giving His Son to die that He might counteract evil, remove the defiling stains of sin from the workmanship of God, and reinstate the lost, elevating and ennobling the soul to its original purity through Christ's imputed righteousness. TMK 206

- What is the workmanship of God?
- What does it mean to removing the defiling stains from that workmanship?
- The soul is cleansed through the imputed righteousness – it is literal, real, actual, in the mind, heart, character of the believer.

Notice each of these quotes is applying the imputed righteousness of Christ into the believer to bring healing and restoration of the person.

Why? Because this is how reality works.

- The only way a doctor can heal a patient is by putting the patient in harmony with the laws of health, not by doing something to appease the laws of health, or doctoring the medical record to say the patient his healthy, even though he is not.
- Likewise, the only way God can save sinners is by putting sinners in harmony with His design for life, His law of love.

Here is another quote:

When we look to the cross, and there behold the suffering Son of the infinite God, our hearts are moved to repentance. Jesus volunteered to meet the highest claims of the law,[what does the law claim? What does it require? we will read some other quotes and come back to this one]

The law requires righteousness,--a righteous life, a perfect character; and this man has not to give. He cannot meet the claims of God's holy law. But Christ, coming to the earth as man, lived a holy life, and developed a perfect character. These He offers as a free gift to all who will receive them. His life stands for the life of men. Thus they have remission of sins that are past, through the forbearance of God. More than this, Christ imbues men with the attributes of God. He builds up the human character after the similitude of the divine character, a goodly fabric of spiritual strength and beauty. Thus the very righteousness of the law is fulfilled in the believer in Christ. God can "be just, and the justifier of him which believeth in Jesus." Rom. 3:26. {DA 762.2} Notice Christ developed a perfect character and this free gift is not offered to God to pay a legal penalty. This gift is offered to you and me to heal and transform us!

But the law requires that the soul itself be pure and the mind holy, that the thoughts and feelings may be in accordance with the standard of love and righteousness.--RH, Apr 5, 1898. (2SM 211.) {2MCP 564.1} [why? Because this is the protocol upon which life is built. It would be like saying the laws of health require you eat]

While the law is holy, the Jews could not attain righteousness by their own efforts to keep the law. The disciples of Christ must obtain righteousness of a different character from that of the Pharisees, if they would enter the kingdom of heaven. God offered them, in His Son, the perfect righteousness of the law. If they would open their hearts fully to receive Christ, then the very life of God, His love, would dwell in them, transforming them into His own likeness; and thus through God's free gift they would possess the righteousness which the law requires. {MB 54.2}

Christ came to this world to live the law and represent the character of God, that the delusions which Satan had brought upon the world might be dispelled. In the sermon on the mount, He who gave the law became an expositor of the law. That sermon, so full of what it means to love and obey God, is the unfolding of His character. The law is shown to be a representation of God's character, that man may see that he must render obedience to the law if he would become a member of the royal family, a child of the heavenly King. This law requires nothing short of perfect spiritual obedience. {ST, February 24, 1898 par. 5}

What delusion has Satan brought upon the world? That God is a dictator and His law is an imposed set of rules!

Do we know what the law requires and why? So back to the quote we started with:

When we look to the cross, and there behold the suffering Son of the infinite God, our hearts are moved to repentance. Jesus volunteered to meet the highest claims of the law, [what does the law claim? What does it require?] that he might be the justifier [what does justifier mean? It means the one who sets us right. So Christ came, to develop a perfect character, in harmony with the law upon which life is built, in order to put us back in harmony with that law] of all who believe on him. We look to the cross, and see in Jesus a fully satisfied and reconciled God. [Fully satisfied and reconciled what does this mean? What satisfies a parent whose child is dying of cancer? The cancer going into remission. God is satisfied because in Christ the infection of sin is remitted and a humanity exists again as God originally designed it to be. Thus God is satisfied in a healed humanity and that humanity is reconciled to Him or back in unity with Him] Jesus is righteousness. What fullness is expressed in these words! And when we can say individually, "The Lord is my righteousness," then we may indeed rejoice; for the atoning sacrifice seen through faith brings peace and comfort and hope to the trembling soul weighed down beneath the sense of guilt. The law of God is the detector of sin, [which means what? The 10 commandments are a diagnostic tool to expose where we are out of harmony with God's design. Just as Paul taught] and as the sinner is drawn to the dying Christ, he sees the grievous character of sin, and repents and lays hold on the remedy, the Lamb of God, who taketh away the sin of the world.[The Remedy – Jesus who developed a perfect character and destroyed the lies which break trust and destroyed the infection of fear and selfishness purifying the human species in His own humanity at the Cross] {RH, September 2, 1890 par. 6}

We feel deeply thankful that some of our brethren are making an application of the truth to their own souls, through which new hopes and joys are sure to find place within the heart. A deeper Christian experience is greatly needed. The promises are sure; they stand fast forever; we must individually take them to ourselves. Christ is speaking to us in his word. May the Sun of Righteousness send his bright beams into the chambers of the mind and into the soul temple, that the mist of doubt and uncertainty may be dispelled. Then may the soul, all warm with the love of God, in earnestness and power preach Christ and him crucified. Such preaching will not be in vain, but as it was when Christ, the great teacher, was upon the earth, many will be astonished and charmed, and hearts will be melted and subdued as they contemplate his matchless love. As the Saviour is lifted up before the people, they will see his humiliation, his self-denial, his self-sacrifice, his goodness, his tender compassion, his sufferings to save fallen man, and will realize that the atonement of Christ was not the cause of God's love, but the result of that love. Jesus died because God loved the world. [note the death of Christ was in no way to do something to the Father, it was an expression of the Father's love and for purpose not the next sentence] The channel had to be made whereby the love of God should be recognized by man, and flow into the sinner's heart in perfect harmony with truth and justice. {RH, September 2, 1890 par. 7}

This is healing, this is restoration, this is recreation, this is God's plan of salvation, to regenerate us back into harmony with how He built life to operate, this is the gospel, this is the message to go to the world to prepare the world for Christ's return. This is design law!

MONDAY

Read second paragraph, "Only someone who knows..." Do you see that those who wrote this lesson are viewing the law of God through the imposed law lens? We cannot complete our mission to prepare the world for Christ's return until we come back to worshipping him "who made the heaven, earth, seas and all that in them is." We must come back to worship the Designer.

It would be much better to say, “Only the Creator, the Designer, the One who actually constructed life is capable of identifying and fixing deviations from that design.”

Read last paragraph, “God designed that...” Is Christ capable of judging? Of course – but does He need to act in the role of judge to determine who is saved and lost?

You judge by human standards; I pass judgment on no one. ¹⁶ But if I do judge, my decisions are right, because I am not alone. I stand with the Father, who sent me. Jn 8:15,16

You brood of vipers, how can you who are evil say anything good? For out of the overflow of the heart the mouth speaks. ³⁵ The good man brings good things out of the good stored up in him, and the evil man brings evil things out of the evil stored up in him. ³⁶ But I tell you that men will have to give account on the day of judgment for every careless word they have spoken. ³⁷ For by your words you will be acquitted, and by your words you will be condemned.” MT 12:34-37

What is being described? Natural law – the condition of the being determines the outcome, not the decision of the judge. So, from scripture, some examples of God’s judgments:

- Ephraim is joined to idols; leave him alone! Hos 4:17
- He that is unjust, let him be unjust still: and he which is filthy, let him be filthy still: and he that is righteous, let him be righteous still: and he that is holy, let him be holy still. Rev 22:11

What is being described? God’s judgments are the diagnosis of the actual condition of the people. His judgments do not determine our destiny. It is not a court scene like we have, where evidence is presented and arguments are made, and the judge makes a determination. No, it is the diagnosing and stating of what the actual condition of each heart is. And what determines that?

Our judgment of God – Rev 14 – Fear God and give glory to him for the hour of his judgment has come.

Be in awe of God, and reveal His character rightly in your life, because the time has come in history for God to be judged. And how one judges God determines whether they trust Him or not, and that determines their eternal destiny.

WEDNESDAY

Read last paragraph, “We see so much...” What do you say to those who see unfairness in the world? How do you respond to those who question the existence of God because He allows evil to occur?

THURSDAY

Read second paragraph, “Read verse 17...” Is sin primarily behavioral? Those who operate under the false law lens, see sin as deeds, as behaviors, but when we understand God’s design law we realize that the behaviors are a manifestation, or a symptom, of a defect of heart.

As Paul says in Romans 14:23: “everything that does not come from faith is sin.”

What does this mean?

Lies believed break the circle of love and trust....

Thus when we realize God’s law is design law, the protocols upon which life is built, which is the law of love, then we realize, as Jesus taught that the behaviors are manifestations of a heart out of harmony with God’s design:

see Mt 5, adultery and murder.

“The Book of James” 4th Q 2014 Lesson 10 –Weep & Howl!

Lots of exclamation points in this week’s lesson...did anyone else notice that? This week’s lesson from the book of James focuses in on the issues of greed, excess, overindulgence, ill-gotten gains, and gluttony...and at first glance may seem kind of like an indictment of all “rich”, but I honestly do not think that’s the intent. I mean...how many here have been on a mission trip? How many have been to a third-world country. I hate to tell you this, but relatively speaking we are all “rich”. I believe this lesson is more about the difference between being blessed and prospering versus stealing/extortion/embezzlement as a means of acquiring wealth...and about the damage that can be done by holding tightly to the things of this world, and about the difference between storing up earthly treasure versus investing in heavenly/eternal things. Saturday’s very familiar memory text sets the tone:

Don’t hoard treasure down here where it gets eaten by moths and corroded by rust or—worse!—stolen by burglars. Stockpile treasure in heaven, where it’s safe from moth and rust and burglars. It’s obvious, isn’t it? The place where your treasure is, that is the place you will most want to be, and will end up being.” (MSG) Or, in the more familiar translation “For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.” Matthew 2:26

The quarterly starts off talking about “rags-to-riches” fantasies, mentioning “Who Wants to be a Millionaire” specifically...but these fantasies are the basic underlying premise of almost all game shows, multi-level marketing pyramids, reality television, the lottery, and any number of other “next big things”. And while there are some real Shark Tank success stories out there, the odds of hitting the jackpot so to speak are really slim.

And how much is enough? Is more always better? The lesson points out how research suggests that ever-increasing income follows the law of diminishing returns.

Just as an aside, what sort of law do you suppose the law of diminishing returns is? Was it legislated by a governing body? Voted in by an electorate? So...how did it become a law? Does anyone else find it interesting that so many natural laws seem to be accepted or embraced without much resistance or argument...while trying to change minds or shift folk’s deeply entrenched paradigms of God’s law from imperial, imposed, dictatorial, arbitrary rules...to one of natural laws and design protocols upon which life was created to operate...seems to be a bit more difficult? Am I the only one who has been met with some resistance on that front? I think last week’s lesson on one “Lawgiver and Judge” provided several examples of this concept.

Anyway, sorry for veering off on that tangent. Has everyone here heard of the law of diminishing returns...understand what it means? It basically disproves the theory that more is always better...or that your rate of return on investment or effort will continually climb at a steady or ever increasing rate. Those of you with children or grandchildren probably saw a perfect illustration of this law recently as it relates to Halloween candy. The first piece tastes sooo good...the second and third pieces might each taste even better. But...there will come a point at which the incremental gain or pleasure derived from each additional piece of candy will start to decrease...and will eventually even decline.

The lesson details how this law also applies to income, wealth, material possessions...after a certain point, more money more possessions do not buy more happiness. When measuring what contributes most to happiness and quality of life, meaningful relationships, family, job satisfaction, finding ones purpose all generally measure higher than wealth or income. Has anyone other than me discovered this to be absolutely true? How many were told that this was true, but maybe didn't really believe it and had to experience it for themselves before they could look back & say...wow, they were right about that. I mean, when you are young and first starting out – from scratch, with nothing. Or maybe even have some student loan debt...so starting out with less than nothing, it's pretty easy to buy into the "more is better" concept. And, it might be for awhile...until you look up and years have gone by...and maybe you have made some $$, saved some $$, gotten promoted, paid down some debt...but your family relationships have suffered, you barely see your spouse, your kids are strangers. Am I the only one? Like most of you, I acquired this wisdom the hard way.

Pretty much anything that has to do with this world...whatever is rooted in selfishness and survival of the fittest methods is subject to this law of diminishing returns. So then, logically, what do you imagine is not subject to this law? Anything based on God's methods of beneficent giving, unselfishness, and love. Such as? The quarterly lists:

- Loving/encouraging words
- A smile
- Acts of kindness
- A listening ear
- Respect
- Genuine friendship
- A hug
- Uncovering more and more transforming truth
- Ever-expanding revelations of God's character and the nature of his law of love

I mean, think about the fruits of the spirit – love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness, and self-control. Against such things there is no law – certainly no law of diminishing returns! Boy does that mean something different to me based on what I have learned in this class. This is the good stuff...no limits or diminishing returns on getting or giving these free gifts. This is the stuff where more is always better!

Does anyone remember Gordon Gecko's famous line from the movie "Wall Street"? He said "Greed is good", and I think it can be...but for sure whether greed is good or not...depends entirely on just what you are greedy for.

SUNDAY

Justice Will Be Done!

Another exclamation point there for those who are counting. The lesson title comes from James 5:1 – a call for audible grief and lament...and warnings about impending misery that will cause weeping and wailing and howling for the rich. But are these warnings and admonitions aimed at simply "the rich" or is there more to it? The chapter subtitle in the NIV reads "Warning to Rich Oppressors" and in the MSG "Destroying Your Life From Within", which hints even a little more toward natural law constructs and consequences. Reading the passage in context makes it even clearer. It reads this way from The Message:

And a final word to you arrogant rich: Take some lessons in lament. You'll need buckets for the tears when the crash comes upon you. Your money is corrupt and your fine clothes stink. Your greedy luxuries are a cancer in your gut, destroying your life from within. You thought you were piling up wealth. What you've piled up is judgment. All the workers you've exploited and cheated cry out for judgment. The groans of the workers you used and abused are a roar in the ears of the Master Avenger. You've looted the earth and lived it up. But all you'll have to show for it is a fatter than usual corpse.

What do you think...is simply being rich problematic? In what way? Do we tend to be more dependent on God when we are rich or when we're poor? Is it more typical to step out in faith and really trust when we are rich or poor? Is it easier to pay your tithe when you don't even have enough money for rent...or when it's not even a sacrifice? (Luxury/comforts, self-sufficiency, control) We will get to some scriptural support and advice for those who think they are "rich and in need of nothing". But were there some Godly folks in the Bible who were wealthy? What about Abraham? Solomon and kings? Job? Bottom line is that your earthly net worth does not have to determine the condition of your heart.

The story of the rich young ruler in Luke 18/Matthew 19 describes a wealthy young man who was just sure he was doing all the right things and keeping all the right rules...until he was asked to really sacrifice and let go of the "treasures" of this world. Jesus' response is enlightening: "Do you have any idea how difficult it is for people who have it all to enter God's kingdom? I'd say it's easier to thread a camel through a needle's eye than get a rich person into God's kingdom...Then who has any chance at all?" the others asked. No chance at all," Jesus said, "if you think you can pull it off by yourself. Every chance in the world if you trust God to do it.

One of the founders of our church, Ellen White, had some things to say on this subject as well.

And while working for the poor, we should give attention also to the rich, whose souls are equally precious in the sight of God. Christ worked for all who would hear His word. He sought not only the publican and the outcast, but the rich and cultured Pharisee, the Jewish nobleman, and the Roman ruler. The wealthy man needs to be labored for in the love and fear of God. Too often he trusts in his riches, and feels not his danger. The worldly possessions which the Lord has entrusted to men are often a source of great temptation. Thousands are thus led into sinful indulgences that confirm them in habits of intemperance and vice. – {AA 15.1}

There is another danger to which the wealthy classes are especially exposed, and here also is a field for the work of the medical missionary. Multitudes who are prosperous in the world and who never stoop to the common forms of vice are yet brought to destruction through the love of riches. Absorbed in their worldly treasures, they are insensible to the claims of God and the needs of their fellow men. Instead of regarding their wealth as a talent to be used for the glory of God and the uplifting of humanity, they look upon it as a means of indulging and glorifying themselves. They add house to house and land to land, they fill their homes with luxuries, while want stalks in the streets and all about them are human beings in misery and crime, in disease and death. Those who thus give their lives to self-serving are developing in themselves, not the attributes of God, but the attributes of Satan. These men are in need of the gospel. They need to have their eyes turned from the vanity of material things to behold the preciousness of the enduring riches. They need to learn the joy of giving, the blessedness of being co-workers with God. – {AA 16.2}

The Scriptures teach that wealth is a dangerous possession only when placed in competition with the immortal treasure. It is when the earthly and temporal absorbs the thoughts, the affections, the devotion which God claims, that it becomes a snare. Those who are bartering the eternal weight of glory for a little of the glitter and tinsel of earth, the everlasting habitations for a home which can be theirs but a few years at best, are making an unwise choice...It is the love of money that the word of God denounces as the root of all evil. Money itself is the gift of God to men, to be used with fidelity in His service. God blessed Abraham, and made him rich in cattle, in silver, and in gold. And the Bible states, as an evidence of divine favor, that God gave David, Solomon, Jehoshaphat, Hezekiah, very much riches and honor. Like other gifts of God, the possession of wealth brings its increase of responsibility, and its peculiar temptations. How many who have in adversity remained true to God, have fallen under the glittering allurements of prosperity. With the possession of wealth, the ruling passion of a selfish nature is revealed. The world is cursed today by the miserly greed and the self-indulgent vices of the worshipers of mammon.”—The Review and Herald, May 16, 1882.

God brings death and God brings life, brings down to the grave and raises up. God brings poverty and God brings wealth; he lowers, he also lifts up.” 1 Sam 2:6 MSG

Tell those rich in this world's wealth to quit being so full of themselves and so obsessed with money, which is here today and gone tomorrow. Tell them to go after God, who piles on all the riches we could ever manage—to do good, to be rich in helping others, to be extravagantly generous. If they do that, they'll build a treasury that will last, gaining life that is truly life.

Money deceives. The arrogant rich don't last. They are more hungry for wealth than the grave is for cadavers. Like death, they always want more, but the 'more' they get is dead bodies.”
Hab 2:5 MSG

Middle bold section of Sunday's lesson: “There is so much injustice in the world, especially economic injustice. Sometimes it is so hard to understand why some people get rich exploiting the pore, and, worse, why they seem to get away with it! (Exclamation point) Do you agree or disagree with this premise? Jesus consistently advocated for the poor and disadvantaged during his earthly ministry...and promised we would always have the poor with us. I also found this in Ms. White's writings, and I think it is profound regarding perhaps the conventional views of economic inequality:

It was not the purpose of God that poverty should ever leave the world. The ranks of society were never to be equalized; for the diversity of conditions which characterizes our race is one of the means by which God has designed to prove and develop character. Many have urged with great enthusiasm that all men should have an equal share in the temporal blessings of God; but this was not the purpose of the Creator. Christ has said that we shall have the poor always with us. The poor, as well as the rich, are the purchase of His blood; and among His professed followers, in most cases, the former serve Him with singleness of purpose, while the latter are constantly fastening their affections on their earthly treasures, and Christ is forgotten. The cares of this life and the greed for riches eclipse the glory of the eternal world. It would be the greatest misfortune that has ever befallen mankind if all were to be placed upon an equality in worldly possessions. – {AA 230.1}

What about the mention of how the exploiters seem to “get away with it”? What kind of law lens must you be looking through if you are worried about folks “getting away” with wrongdoing...or about injustices that seemingly go unpunished? What have we learned about design law and the natural consequences of being out of harmony that can explain how none of us actually gets away with anything?

One of my favorite quotes in this class from {1 SM 235}. We are not to regard God as waiting to punish the sinner for his sin. The sinner brings the punishment upon himself. His own actions start a train of circumstances that bring the sure result. Every act of transgression reacts upon the sinner, works in him a change of character, and makes it more easy for him to transgress again. By choosing to sin, men separate themselves from God, cut themselves off from the channel of blessing, and the sure result is ruin and death.

MONDAY

When Wealth Becomes Worthless

Describe the effect wealth (or the lack of it) had on these Biblical characters:

- Nabal (1 Sam 25:2-11)
 - Abigail's former husband, wealthy, arrogant, suspicious, stingy, selfish
 - Nabal answered David's servants, "Who is this David? Who is this son of Jesse? Many servants are breaking away from their masters these days. Why should I take my bread and water, and the meat I have slaughtered for my shearers, and give it to men coming from who knows where?"
- Hezekiah (2 Kings 20:12-19)
 - Wealthy king who fell ill and when warned he was about to die, he humbled himself, wept, and begged God to be healed. But even when the prophet told him he would be healed, he questioned whether he would know if God healed him or if he just had a super-effective plaster of figs...and he requested that the sundial turn back an hour as a sign from God. After he was healed he got even a little smug...invited the prince of Babylon into his palace and showed him "silver, gold, spices, aromatic oils, his stockpile of weapons—a guided tour of all his prized possessions. There wasn't a thing in his palace or kingdom that Hezekiah didn't show them." Then, when he was warned about Israel's impending Babylonian exile, he believed what Isaiah said was true, but kind of thought to himself "Who cares? It won't happen during my lifetime—I'll enjoy peace and security as long as I live."
- Peter (Acts 3:1-10)
 - Peter and John on their way to temple services were stopped by a beggar who had been crippled from birth. Peter told him "I don't have a nickel to my name, but what I do have, I give you: In the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, walk!"

The quarterly states "Sooner or later, worldly wealth loses its luster for all of us. We learn its limitations and maybe even its dark side. Money has its place; the problem is when people put it in the wrong place." This passage in Luke 12 mirrors our memory text from Matthew:

What I'm trying to do here is get you to relax, not be so preoccupied with getting so you can respond to God's giving. People who don't know God and the way he works fuss over these things, but you know both God and how he works. Steep yourself in God-reality, God-initiative, God-provisions. You'll find all your everyday human concerns will be met. Don't be afraid of missing out. You're my dearest friends! The Father wants to give you the very kingdom itself. Be generous. Give to the poor. Get yourselves a bank that can't go bankrupt, a bank in heaven far from bankrobbers, safe from embezzlers, a bank you can bank on. It's obvious, isn't it? The place where your treasure is, is the place you will most want to be, and end up being." Luke 12:28-34 MSG

So...what is this treasure? In my mind's eye, I immediately see a wooden chest...perhaps retrieved from a shipwreck at the bottom of the ocean...and full of shiny coins and glittery jewels...but I think the treasure Christ refers to is different than that. We have studied the natural laws of worship and exertion in this class – by beholding we become changed, and that this is how we were created and designed to operate. What we focus on, what we pay attention to, what we invest time and effort in we become like, we strengthen, and entrench...and because we are God's highest created beings on this planet, He is the only One we can worship and not devolve. He is the only One we can worship and still grow, develop, and progress. Louis Giglio wrote a little pocket book about this concept called The Air I Breathe: Worship as a Way of Life, 2006. He starts his book this way:

You, my friend, are a worshipper! Every day, all day long, everywhere you go, you worship. It's what you do. It's who you are. I don't know whether or not you consider yourself a "worshipping" kind of person, but you cannot help but worship – something. It's what you were made to do. Should you for some reason choose not to give God the worship He desires, you'll still worship something – exchanging the Creator for something He has created. Worship is simply about value...Worship is our response to what we value most. This person, this thing, this experience, this whatever is what matters most to me...it's the thing I put first in my life. And we are not just talking about the religious crowd, churchgoers, Christians...we are talking about everybody on planet Earth...a multitude of souls proclaiming with every breath what is worthy of their affection, their attention, their allegiance...proclaiming with every step what it is they worship. So how do you know where and what you worship? It's easy. You simply follow the trail of your time, your affection, your energy, your loyalty. At the end of that trail you'll find a throne...and whatever or whoever is on that throne is what's of highest value to you – on that throne is what you worship. Sure, not too many of us walk around saying, "I worship my stuff. I worship by Xbox. I worship my job. I worship this pleasure. I worship her. I worship my body. I worship me!" But the trail never lies. We may say we value this thing or that thing more than any other, but the volume of our actions speaks louder than our words – our worship is more about what we DO than what we SAY. To me, this is the treasure referred to in our memory text...taking an honest inventory of how and where your time, energies, talents, and resources are being used can be a sobering indicator of the sorts of "treasures" we are building and heaping up for eternity.

"The image of flesh-consuming fire is meant to wake us up to the seriousness of the choices we are making with our money." Is it really?

"In God's plan there is no place for selfish rivalry. Those who measure themselves by themselves, and compare themselves among themselves, are not wise." {CG 294.1}

TUESDAY

Cries of the Poor

The lesson lists several different categories of wealthy people singled out by James – rich merchants who will be cut down in the midst of their pursuits (James 1:11), business people who sue to protect their investments (James 2:6), and agricultural landholders who have withheld wages from their laborers (James 5:4) “These verses describe the rich negatively based on their past behavior, present attitude, and future punishment...for “heaping up treasure” at the expense of the poor. An especially heinous behavior is mentioned of withholding wages from laborers, and several other Old Testament verses are listed cautioning against the same practice. This was a particularly oppressive to the poor laborers who likely needed that day’s wages to buy that day’s food.

Don’t abuse a laborer who is destitute and needy, whether he is a fellow Israelite living in your land and in your city. Pay him at the end of each workday; he’s living from hand to mouth and needs it now. If you hold back his pay, he’ll protest to God and you’ll have sin on your books. Deut. 24:14-15 (MSG)

Is there anything about our current financial climate that leads you to believe things have changed drastically since Israel in Bible times? Google says that in 2012, the average American household with at least one credit card has nearly $15,950 in credit-card debt. I have people who work for me who most certainly live paycheck to paycheck and who would be seriously impacted if their pay was held back even for a day.

“Riches bring with them great responsibilities. To obtain wealth by unjust dealing, by overreaching in trade, by oppressing the widow and the fatherless, or by hoarding up riches and neglecting the wants of the needy, will eventually bring the just retribution described by the inspired apostle: ‘Go to now, ye rich men, weep and howl for your miseries that shall come upon you.’” {2T 682}

Fat and Happy (For Now)?

Today’s lesson talks about those who live earthly lives of luxury and self-indulgence. I think every generation must think they are the most self-indulgent and that things can’t get any worse...but the contrast between James’ luxurious reality and ours still strikes me as fairly significant. This description is also given to the Laodicean church in Revelation 3:17:

“I know you inside and out, and find little to my liking. You’re not cold, you’re not hot—far better to be either cold or hot! You’re stale. You’re stagnant. You make me want to vomit. You brag, ‘I’m rich, I’ve got it made, I need nothing from anyone,’ oblivious that in fact you’re a pitiful, blind beggar, threadbare and homeless. Here’s what I want you to do: Buy your gold from me, gold that's been through the refiner's fire. Then you'll be rich. Buy your clothes from me, clothes designed in Heaven. You've gone around half-naked long enough. And buy medicine for your eyes from me so you can see, really see."

Thoughts on what gold, clothes, and eye ointment we are buying here? This eye salve is the spiritual discernment given by the Holy Spirit – the spirit of truth and love – so that the spiritually bankrupt can see God for who He really is...and see themselves for how needy they really are.

Then the lesson mentions the famous parable Jesus told about the rich man and Lazarus in Luke 16. Does someone want to read this story starting in verse 16 of that chapter?

"There once was a rich man, expensively dressed in the latest fashions, wasting his days in conspicuous consumption. A poor man named Lazarus, covered with sores, had been dumped on his doorstep. All he lived for was to get a meal from scraps off the rich man's table. His best friends were the dogs who came and licked his sores. Then he died, this poor man, and was taken up by the angels to the lap of Abraham. The rich man also died and was buried. In hell and in torment, he looked up and saw Abraham in the distance and Lazarus in his lap. He called out, 'Father Abraham, mercy! Have mercy! Send Lazarus to dip his finger in water to cool my tongue. I'm in agony in this fire.' But Abraham said, 'Child, remember that in your lifetime you got the good things and Lazarus the bad things. It's not like that here. Here he's consoled and you're tormented. Besides, in all these matters there is a huge chasm set between us so that no one can go from us to you even if he wanted to, nor can anyone cross over from you to us.' The rich man said, 'Then let me ask you, Father: Send him to the house of my father where I have five brothers, so he can tell them the score and warn them so they won't end up here in this place of torment.' Abraham answered, 'They have Moses and the Prophets to tell them the score. Let them listen to them.' 'I know, Father Abraham,' he said, 'but they're not listening. If someone came back to them from the dead, they would change their ways.' Abraham replied, 'If they won't listen to Moses and the Prophets, they're not going to be convinced by someone who rises from the dead.'"

Ms. White has this to say about the parable:

"In the parable of the rich man and Lazarus, Christ shows that in this life men decide their eternal destiny. During probationary time the grace of God is offered to every soul. But if men waste their opportunities in self-pleasing, they cut themselves off from everlasting life. No afterprobation will be granted them. By their own choice they have fixed an impassable gulf between them and their God. This parable draws a contrast between the rich who have not made God their dependence, and the poor who have made God their dependence. Christ shows that the time is coming when the position of the two classes will be reversed (he who is first shall be last, and the last shall be first?). Those who are poor in this world's goods, yet who trust in God and are patient in suffering will one day be exalted above those who now hold the highest positions the world can give but who have not surrendered their life to God.” {COL 260}

This is really the antithesis of earthly math and the worldly measure of status or wealth or success.

The quarterly does a good job of pointing out that the real focus of this parable is this life, and not the afterlife...with both men depicted as being in the same place – the grave (hades). Some folks seem to get wrapped around the axle on that one.

The first paragraph talks about the antiquated idea that wealth and success are a zero-sum game...that someone can only grow their wealth or get richer if someone else correspondingly gets poorer. The quarterly says, “Actually creating new wealth without adversely affecting the wealth of other, however, seems to be a relatively modern idea.” It is a relatively new idea that has accompanied freedom, personal liberty and responsibility, free markets, and capitalism.

THURSDAY

Blame the Victim

The blame game...our natural tendency when we have done something wrong is to try to blame others, shift responsibility, rationalize and excuse the behavior...starting with Adam and Eve’s first sin until today. What motivates those actions? Fear. Jesus warned the disciples that “the time is coming that whoever kills you will think that he offers God service.” The quarterly asks, “How many times have you condemned others only to realize later that you were really the one who was wrong?” Which leads me to ask...is it okay to condemn others as long as you are right?” Or does the practice of speaking the truth in love and leaving people free...leave no room for condemnation?

What does Jesus mean by “turning the other cheek” in Matthew 5:39? How are we supposed to do this on a practical level without letting people walk all over us?

I think the quarterly concludes Thursday’s lesson nicely by saying, “James never condemns the rich simply because they are rich. It is their attitudes and actions that matter to God (i.e., their hearts and minds). Similarly, the bare fact of being economically poor does not in itself endear a person to God. It is the poor in spirit and rich in faith who will be heirs of the kingdom...and these inner qualities have no inherent relationship to ones economic circumstances...except that those who are “rich and increased with goods” may be more needy spiritually than they think.”

The Book of James Lesson 11 4th Q 2014 Getting Ready for the Harvest

SABBATH

What do you think of the title? What is necessary to get ready for the harvest?

- Mature
- Ripen
- Grow up
- Develop

But what does this mean in practical terms?

What is Christ waiting for? Is He waiting for the harvest to ripen, for people to mature, for the bride to get ready, for His children to grow up? What does this look like?

¹¹We have much to say about this, but it is hard to explain because you are slow to learn. ¹²In fact, though by this time you ought to be teachers, you need someone to teach you the elementary truths of God's word all over again. You need milk, not solid food! ¹³Anyone who lives on milk, being still an infant, is not acquainted with the teaching about righteousness. ¹⁴But solid food is for the mature, who by constant use have trained themselves to distinguish good from evil.

^{6:1}Therefore let us leave the elementary teachings about Christ and go on to maturity, not laying again the foundation of repentance from acts that lead to death... Heb 5:11-6:1

Does growing up, maturing, have anything to do with the seal of God?

Just as soon as the people of God are sealed in their foreheads--it is not any seal or mark that can be seen, but a settling into the truth, both intellectually and spiritually, so they cannot be moved--just as soon as God's people are sealed and prepared for the shaking, it will come. {FLB 287.7}

The seal of the living God will be placed upon those only who bear a likeness to Christ in character.--7BC 970 (1895). {LDE 221.1}

Love is expressed in obedience, and perfect love casteth out all fear. Those who love God, have the seal of God in their foreheads, and work the works of God.--SD 51 (1894). {LDE 221.4}

Why is this important? What is the functional difference between the mature and the immature Christian? Because only those who mature, grow up, settle into the truth, are healed etc. are actually trustworthy, and are in a condition to be brought into God's kingdom.

Remember the 7 levels of moral development?

1. Reward and punishment – what determines whether something is right at this level is if we receive reward it is right or if we are punished it is wrong. This is a slave mentality. This is Israel in Egypt – slaves doing what the masters says to avoid punishment.
 - a. At stage one a ruler establishes his right to rule by displays of power and vengeance upon his enemies. He rules by threat of punishment and hope of reward.
 - i. Mercy, or failure to punish, is seen as evidence of weakness, not morality by stage one standards.
 - ii. People at this level see a God of mercy as a marshmallow God and insist God use His power to torture and kill in the end.
 - b. God meets people where they are and with Israel in Egypt He first established His credentials to rule Israel by acts of punishment upon the Egyptian gods, and by mighty, spectacular miracles. "I did this so that you might know that I am the Lord your God." (Deut. 29:6 NIV)
2. Marketplace exchange – quid pro quo, you do something for me in exchange for something of equal value in return. This is Israel at Sinai, "an eye for an eye and tooth for tooth". Sadly, many in the Middle East still practice this level.
 - a. At this level, vengeance is a moral duty – people who do evil must be paid back with an equal amount of pain and suffering. This is Israel saying, when the law was first read, "All the Lord has said, we will do."
 - b. This is the health wellness gospel, if you say this prayer every day for thirty days God will expand your territory. If you do right, you are blessed by God, if you don't do right you are not blessed by God.
3. Social conformity – at this stage right and wrong is determined by community consensus. This is the child who says, "Everyone else is doing it." Right is deemed right by the approval of peers. Individual vengeance not allowed, forgiveness is preferred, but group punishment is deemed just. If group punishment doesn't happen, "If he can get away with it why can't I?"
 - a. This was Israel when they wanted kings, all the other nations had kings, so it must be right.
 - b. Israel collectively punishing those who don't conform to the agreed norm
4. Law and order – right and wrong at this stage is determined by a codified system of rules, impartial judges and imposed proscribed punishments. Respect for properly elected or otherwise constituted authority. Right is getting a proper pay or reward for good work, and proscribed and inflicted punishment for breaking the rules. Authority figures are rarely questions, "He must be right he is the President, the Judge, the Pope, God" This was Israel at the time of Christ – "we have a law!"
5. Love for others – right is seeking the best interest of others, realizing people have value in who they are irrespective of the rules. Right is determined, not by a checklist of rules, but by

- doing what is actually helpful for another. Individuals have inalienable rights as free moral agents and are valued for who they are. Circumstances dictate what is right and wrong.
- a. This was Jesus healing on Sabbath and the Pharisees wanting to stone Him for breaking the rule.
 - b. The story of the good Samaritan
6. Principle based living – realizing the design protocols, principles, upon which life is designed to operate and living in harmony with them. It is not doing something because a rule says to do so, but because it is understood to actually work this way.
- a. This was Jesus and the Apostles after Pentecost
 - b. It is understood, at this level that God says what is right because it is right, because it is the way things actually are. It isn't right simply because God said it.
 - c. Dealing with people at level four and below explains why the detailed instruction in the books of Moses. Just like our laws in the US, must make a rule for almost every situation. At level six, however, the Law may be summed up in two statements: "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart and with all thy soul and with all thy mind, and thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." (Luke 10:27), when we live on principle the rules are no longer needed.
7. Enlightened Friend of God –not only loving others, not only understanding God's design, living on principle, but intelligently fulfilling God's purpose for humankind. Jn 15:15 "I no longer call you servants, because a servant does not know his master's business. Instead, I have called you friends, for everything that I learned from my Father I have made known to you."
- a. Realizing the truth about God, His character, nature, God's design for life, the origin of evil, the nature of sin, the weapons of Satan, the original purpose for the creation of humanity, the fall, God's working through human history, the purpose of the Cross, and the ultimate cleansing of the universe from sin.
 - b. This is Jesus and those who are ready for translation when Jesus comes, those who the Scriptures describe as being sealed in their foreheads with the seal of God, those who do not love their lives so much as to shrink from death. They live in the world with purpose to advance God's kingdom and fulfill God's purposes utilizing God's methods, but are not of the world.

During moral development a person is only capable of comprehending one level beyond their current level of operation. The majority of people operate at level four or below and level four people persecute those operating at level six and seven. Worse, they don't comprehend level six and seven and claim what they teach doesn't make any sense. This was what happened to Jesus and the religious leaders of His day.

Consider a child brushing their teeth:

1. Level 1 punishment/reward- Don't Brush your teeth mommy will be mad child will be punished but do brush teeth get praised
2. Level 2 market place exchange – brush teeth for a bedtime story – let's make a deal
3. Level 3 social conformity – don't brush teeth get teased at school, do get accepted

4. Level 4 law and order – don't brush teeth get a proscribed punishment – no dessert, if do get reward – dessert
5. Level 5 love for other– because realize it would inconvenience to parents to take you to dentist, pay dental bills and you want to reduce burdens on them
6. Level 6 – principle base living – realize that if you don't then the teeth will decay and don't want teeth to decay
7. Level 7 – Enlightened friend of God – realize man was made in God's image, the body is the Spirit temple, understand the 2nd law of thermodynamics, if no energy in things decay and choose to brush teeth as it is sensible, good steward, maintains one's health so can be of greatest benefit in God's cause, good witness to others, shows love for God and fellow man.

Notice – people at all levels are brushing their teeth – but the reason they brush their teeth changes over time. And only those at the highest levels of moral decision make can be trusted – those at level four and below require oversight, supervision, threat, enforcement to continue on. With no higher reason they would stop the behavior if not for the authoritarian enforcement. For such individuals the law is not yet written in the heart, it is not assimilated into the character. This is what Paul describes Hebrews that we just read, those who are still babes, not acquainted with righteousness.

This is from one of the founders of our church:

A sullen submission to the will of the Father will develop the character of a rebel. By such a one service is looked upon as drudgery. It is not rendered cheerfully, and in the love of God. It is a mere mechanical performance. If he dared, such a one would disobey. His rebellion is smothered, ready to break out at any time in bitter murmurings and complaints. Such service brings no peace or quietude to the soul. {ST, July 22, 1897}

Level 1-4 development – doing what is right for fear of punishment. Such people are immature, not ready for the harvest. But notice this next quote:

The man who attempts to keep the commandments of God from a sense of obligation merely--because he is required to do so--will never enter into the joy of obedience. He does not obey. When the requirements of God are accounted a burden because they cut across human inclination, we may know that the life is not a Christian life. True obedience is the outworking of a principle within. It springs from the love of righteousness, the love of the law of God. The essence of all righteousness is loyalty to our Redeemer. This will lead us to do right because it is right--because right doing is pleasing to God. {COL 97.3}

Notice, true obedience is principle based living – doing what is right because it is right – this is level 6,7 living. These people can be trusted.

God wants us to grow up into full maturity, so what is the functional difference?

This failure to mature beyond levels 1-4 is why many young people, when they reach adulthood, leave the church, because they have only been taught level four and below. Imagine if your child only knew to brush their teeth because of mother's rule and threat of punishment, no other reason ever entered their mind – when they leave home and the threat is no longer there, they quit brushing.

We must help our children grow up to the highest levels of moral development, to understand God, His methods, design for life and then they will never choose to leave

We must move past the penal legal views of God that are enshrouding the world and come back to the truth about Him as revealed in Christ and how He has constructed reality to operate.

Now with this in mind, consider this historic view:

Men will surely set up their laws to counterwork the laws of God. They will seek to compel the consciences of others, and in their zeal to enforce these laws they will oppress their fellow men. {DA 763.2} What kind of law is being described? Arbitrary, imposed, rules without inherent consequence.

The warfare against God's law, which was begun in heaven, will be continued until the end of time. Every man will be tested. Obedience or disobedience is the question to be decided by the whole world. All will be called to choose between the law of God and the laws of men. Here the dividing line will be drawn. There will be but two classes. Every character will be fully developed; and all will show whether they have chosen the side of loyalty or that of rebellion. {DA 763.3} What do you understand this war over God's law to be about? It is over Design law versus imposed rules. Satan alleged in heaven that God's law is arbitrary, rules imposed, and that God must punish sin, thus putting God in the role of punisher, executioner and source of death. Satan's lies take God down from His role as Creator and put Him on the same plane as created beings.

Then the end will come. God will vindicate His law and deliver His people. Satan and all who have joined him in rebellion will be cut off. ... {DA 763.4} What does cut off mean? Let go, abandoned, set free to reap what they have chosen, disconnected from God the source of life. This is not an infliction, this is a granting of freewill choice, with built in inherent consequence. This is natural/design law, not arbitrary imposed rules. Notice the very next words:

This is not an act of arbitrary power on the part of God. The rejecters of His mercy reap that which they have sown. God is the fountain of life; and when one chooses the service of sin, he separates from God, and thus cuts himself off from life. He is "alienated from the life of God." Christ says, "All they that hate Me love death." Ephesians 4:18; Proverbs 8:36. God gives them existence for a time that they may develop their character and reveal their principles. This accomplished, they receive the results of their own choice. By a life of rebellion, Satan and all who unite with him place themselves so out of harmony with God that His very presence is to them a consuming fire. The glory of Him who is love will destroy them. {DA 764.1} What kind of law? Design law – and why has it taken so long for this to be realized?

At the beginning of the great controversy, the angels did not understand this. Had Satan and his host then been left to reap the full result of their sin, they would have perished; but it would not have been apparent to heavenly beings that this was the inevitable result of sin. A doubt of God's goodness would have remained in their minds as evil seed, to produce its deadly fruit of sin and woe. {DA 764.2}

So why hasn't Christ returned? Because the children of God are stunted in their growth – they are being fed a pabulum of lies and distortions about God that prevents maturing. Listen to this:

The coming of the bridegroom was at midnight--the darkest hour. So the coming of Christ will take place in the darkest period of this earth's history. The days of Noah and Lot pictured the condition of the world just before the coming of the Son of man. The Scriptures pointing forward to this time declare that Satan will work with all power and "with all deceivableness of unrighteousness." 2 Thessalonians 2:9, 10. His working is plainly revealed by the rapidly increasing darkness, the multitudinous errors, heresies, and delusions of these last days. Not only is Satan leading the world captive, but his deceptions are leavening the professed churches of our Lord Jesus Christ. The great apostasy will develop into darkness deep as midnight, impenetrable as sackcloth of hair. To God's people it will be a night of trial, a night of weeping, a night of persecution for the truth's sake. But out of that night of darkness God's light will shine... {COL 414.3}

"Behold," says the Scripture, "the darkness shall cover the earth, and gross darkness the people; but the Lord shall arise upon thee, and His glory shall be seen upon thee." Isaiah 60:2. {COL 415.2} Which means what? Remember Revelation 14 Fear God and give him glory... this is the same thing – we re to give him glory, how? By revealing His character in our lives, why? Because the hour in which the truth light of His character is to shine forth into the world so that people may judge God correctly and trust Him. Notice the next words:

It is the darkness of misapprehension of God that is enshrouding the world. Men are losing their knowledge of His character. It has been misunderstood and misinterpreted. At this time a message from God is to be proclaimed, a message illuminating in its influence and saving in its power. His character is to be made known. Into the darkness of the world is to be shed the light of His glory, the light of His goodness, mercy, and truth... {COL 415.3}

Those who wait for the Bridegroom's coming are to say to the people, "Behold your God." The last rays of merciful light, the last message of mercy to be given to the world, is a revelation of His character of love. The children of God are to manifest His glory. In their own life and character they are to reveal what the grace of God has done for them. {COL 415.5}

Why hasn't Christ returned? Because His bride is not ready! Is the Bridegroom returning for a child bride? No – He wants a mature bride!

What preparations are we making for the Lord's return?

- Are we presenting the truth about Him and His design of love?
 - Any thoughts on how we can do this more effectively?
 - What we are doing:
 - giving away free DVDs
 - giving away free Bible study guides and pamphlets
 - webcasting, podcasting and making recordings of this class available
 - Making Could It Be This Simple? & The God-Shaped Brain available at essentially cost (if purchased by the case)
 - networking with others who are sharing this picture of God
 - conducting seminars around the world
 - Other suggestions?
- Are we requiring our understanding of Bible doctrines to harmonize with the character of God as revealed in Christ?
- Are we moving past symbolism and metaphor to reality?
 - Any symbols we are stuck on, that keep us from growing up?
 - Perhaps in the SDA church the biggest symbolic system that obstructs growth is the sanctuary, but others?
 - Washed in the blood? (which means what?) I like this description:
 - The leaven of truth works a change in the whole man, making the coarse refined, the rough gentle, the selfish generous. By it [the truth] the impure are cleansed, washed in the blood of the Lamb. Through its [the truths] life-giving power it brings all there is of mind and soul and strength into harmony with the divine life. Man with his human nature becomes a partaker of divinity. Christ is honored in excellence and perfection of character. As these changes are effected, angels break forth in rapturous song, and God and Christ rejoice over souls fashioned after the divine similitude. {COL 102.3}
 - What does it mean to be washed in the blood? To partake the truth and life of Jesus which transforms the inner person.
 - We are to mature, to grow up, to understand reality, to move past symbols!
 - Covered by the robe which means what? I agree with this description
 - Only the covering which Christ Himself has provided can make us meet to appear in God's presence. This covering, the robe of His own righteousness, Christ will put upon every repenting, believing soul... This robe, woven in the loom of heaven, has in it not one thread of human devising. Christ in His humanity wrought out a perfect character, and this character He offers to impart to us... When we submit ourselves to Christ, the heart is united with His heart, the will is merged in His will, the mind becomes one with His mind, the thoughts are brought into captivity to Him; we live His life. This is what it means to be clothed with the garment of His righteousness. Then as the Lord looks upon us He sees, not the fig-leaf garment, not the nakedness and deformity of sin, but His own robe of righteousness, which is perfect obedience to the law of Jehovah. {COL 3:11.4}

- What is being described? This is not a legal solution, it is not a covering over, it is a transforming, healing, regenerating, recreating, restoring within the believer in Christ the perfection of love which is the character of God. We are partaking of Christ and thus becoming conformed to His likeness.
- Are we partaking of the truth about God, thus being transformed, maturing, growing up? Or are we ingesting into our minds, our souls, distortions about God that continue to keep us stunted and immature?

Do we know what the “final message of mercy” to the world is?

Do we understand the cleansing of the sanctuary is the cleansing of the minds and hearts of God’s people from lies and selfishness and restoring Christlike character within?

Do we understand that Rev 14 is about God being judged to be completely trustworthy and our role is to reveal His character, i.e. give Him glory so others can see God’s true character and choose to trust Him?

Do we understand Babylon is a system of confusion – confusion over God and His character, confused because lies have replaced truth, and this has occurred by several factors:

- Accepting the lie about God’s law – that it is no different that created beings make – rules.
- Accepting the lie that the Bible is the only source of truth and that it should be used in isolation disconnected from the other threads of truth provided by God. This is why we have 34,000 different Christian groups all claiming the Bible – talk about confusion.
- Accepting the lie that good and evil exist forever in a dualistic universe either in eternal place of torment, or in the character of a god who is presented as the source of pain, suffering and death

Do we understand the Elijah message – which is God is not like Baal – God does not require appeasement – “For God so loved the world...”

SUNDAY

What is the latter rain? What is its purpose? Is there anything necessary for the latter rain to come? Will God pour His Spirit upon those who would tell lies about Him?

The Bible uses the metaphor of the wheat and tares and it is stated that only at harvest time can the wheat and tares be distinguished from each other. What are the lessons about this?

- We are not to try and uproot the tares from the church lest we uproot wheat with it – it is only separated at the harvest
- But that means that not everyone in the church are God’s people, which means what?
- It means we must all think for ourselves, come to our own conclusions, be sure we are maturing as God would have us mature and not simply believe because someone in the church tells us something. We must not trust our view of God to the authority of another person, regardless of what role they hold in church.
 - We must not think, "Well, we have all the truth, we understand the main pillars of our faith, and we may rest on this knowledge." The truth is an advancing truth, and we must walk in the increasing light. {Counsels to Writers and Editors 33.2}
 - A spirit of pharisaism has been coming in upon the people who claim to believe the truth for these last days. They are self-satisfied. They have said, "We have the truth. There is no more light for the people of God." But we are not safe when we take a position that we will not accept anything else than that upon which we have settled as truth. We should take the Bible, and investigate it closely for ourselves. We should dig in the mine of God's word for truth. "Light is sown for the righteous, and gladness for the upright in heart." Some have asked me if I thought there was any more light for the people of God. Our minds have become so narrow that we do not seem to understand that the Lord has a mighty work to do for us. Increasing light is to shine upon us; for "the path of the just is as the shining light, that shineth more and more unto the perfect day."--Review and Herald, June 18, 1889.
 - Are we growing, advancing in our understanding of truth, or are we stagnant, resting satisfied on ideas that are decades, centuries or millennia old?
- In the end, when the wheat and tares are separated, what is the basis of their separation? Is it the opinion of the harvester that determines it, or the actual condition of what is being harvested?
- Likewise in the “judgment” God’s judgment does not determine the destiny of anyone – God’s judgment is merely the final diagnosis of the actual condition of each person’s character. Those who have been won to trust in God have been healed and restored to Christlikeness, while those who have retained the lies about God have solidified themselves in the Satanic character. Our eternal destiny is determined by who we trust and thus whom we become like.

MONDAY

Read third paragraph, “The word establish...” What does this mean? Does it mean we have the right doctrines? That we understand the interpretation of Bible prophecy in the correct way?

What does it mean to be settled into the truth?

For though we live in the world, we do not wage war as the world does. ⁴ The weapons we fight with are not the weapons of the world. On the contrary, they have divine power to demolish strongholds. ⁵ We demolish arguments and every pretension that sets itself up against the knowledge of God, and we take captive every thought to make it obedient to Christ. 2Cor 10:3-5

It is the truth about God, His character, methods, principles that we must be settled into – the darkness that covers the world is about God. And thus the truth that heals and sets free is about God.

Doctrines become unhelpful if they become stand alone ideas that we promote and argue with Bible texts disconnected from the truth about God. Doctrines become beneficial as we connect each one to the truth about God.

The last paragraph states, “believers, redeemed by the precious blood of the Lamb...” What does this mean?

After our earlier discussion, what does it mean to be redeemed by the precious blood of the Lamb?

TUESDAY

The lesson asks the question, why are we still here and then points out that the greatest threat to the church is not from outside the church, but from within the church itself.

How do you understand that to be true? Here is a description from more than 100 years ago:

The goodness, mercy, and love of God was proclaimed by Christ to Moses. This was God's character. When men who profess to serve God ignore his parental character, and depart from honor and righteousness in dealing with their fellow-men, Satan exults, for he has inspired them with his attributes. They are following in the track of Romanism. Those who are enjoined to represent the attributes of the Lord's character, step from the simple platform, and in their own human judgment devise rules and resolutions to force the will of others. The devisings for forcing men to follow the prescriptions of other men are instituting an order of things that overrides sympathy and tender compassion, that blinds the eyes to mercy, justice, and the love of God. Moral influence and personal responsibility are trodden under foot. {1888 1435.2}

The righteousness of Christ by faith has been ignored by some for it is contrary to their spirit, and their whole life experience. Rule, rule, has been their course of action. Satan has had an opportunity of representing himself. When one who professes to be a representative of Christ engages in sharp dealing, and pressing men into hard places, those who are thus oppressed will either break every fetter of restraint, or they will be led to regard God as a hard master. They cherish hard feelings against God, and the soul is alienated from him, just as Satan planned it should be. This hard-heartedness on the part of men who claim to believe the truth, Satan charges to the influence of the truth itself, and thus men become disgusted, and turn from the truth. For this reason no man should have a responsible connection with our institutions who thinks it no important matter whether he has a heart of flesh or a heart of steel. Men think they are representing the justice of God, and they do not represent his tenderness and the great love wherewith he has loved us. Their human inventions, originating with the specious devices of Satan, appears fair enough to the blinded eyes of men, because it is inherent in their nature. A lie, believed, practiced, becomes as truth to them. Thus the purpose of the Satanic agencies is accomplished, that men should reach these conclusions through the working of their own inventive minds.

Ty Gibson posted a blog on his website recently entitled, The Old Covenant Brood which is about the conflict in the SDA church post 1888 and how the legal model has infected the church and our church has still not recovered. He describes this process and history in our church in great detail. The link is:

<http://www.lightbearers.org/the-old-covenant-brood/>

Read last paragraph, "Ultimately..." After our discussion – how do you understand this? How do you understand judgment through the two law lenses? What is Satan's view of God's law and judgment? What is the Bible view?

WEDNESDAY

Patience and endurance – how is patience and endurance related to getting ready for the harvest?

"The husbandman waiteth for the precious fruit of the earth, and hath long patience for it, until he receive the early and latter rain." James 5:7. So the Christian is to wait with patience for the fruition in his life of the word of God. Often when we pray for the graces of the Spirit, God works to answer our prayers by placing us in circumstances to develop these fruits; but we do not understand His purpose, and wonder, and are dismayed. Yet none can develop these graces except through the process of growth and fruit bearing. Our part is to receive God's word and to hold it fast, yielding ourselves fully to its control, and its purpose in us will be accomplished. {COL 61.2}

Prayer, Healing, and Restoration

Any questions about this?

SABBATH

Read memory text: "Therefore, confess your sins to one another, and pray for one another so that you may be healed: The effective prayer of a righteous man can accomplish much." James 5:16

What is the connection between confessing sins to one another and healing?

When we sin, by definition, this is deviation from God's design. It is violation of the law of love, and within our brain it results in disruption of the salience network. This activate fear circuitry, disrupt healthy thinking, activate guilt and rumination cycles. We begin having fear, guilt and shame based thinking. This causes to take self protective actions like:

- avoidance
- lying
- covering up
- rationalization
- blaming
- denying
- appeasements
- penances
- disengagement
- anger
- resentment
- attempts to sooth self with alcohol, drugs, work, games, relationships, shopping, gambling, adventure, movies, fantasy books
- escapism
- false theologies to avoid the guilt and shame of a selfish character through penal substationary constructs

All of this contributes to inflammatory cascades that increase illness of various kinds. Diseases associated with alteration in immune system and inflammation include (but are not limited to)

- Alzheimer's dementia
- Depression
- Schizophrenia
- bipolar d/o
- cancer
- obesity
- DM I and II
- arthrosclerosis
- Heart attacks
- Strokes
- fibromyalgia
- chronic fatigue syndrome
- inflammatory bowel diseases
- sjogren's diseas
- rheumatoid arthritis

Where does confession come into the healing process?

Confessing to others, others who are mature in Christian love, grace, character and who understand the struggles of the heart and mind and God's plan to heal – results in experiencing love and acceptance, which drives out the fear and shame. We experience we are still loved, but not the destructive behavior.

Consider an addict at a 12 step meeting, who says “Hello I'm John and I'm an addict” he is met with acceptance and support, there is no condemnation of him, which works to reduce his fear and shame, prevent isolation and draw him back to community where he can find the support to overcome. But, in the 12 step meeting there is never a message that it is okay to continue in the addiction cycle.

The first two steps read:

1. We admitted we were powerless over alcohol—that our lives had become unmanageable.
2. We came to believe that a power greater than could restore us to sanity.

Why does it read “We admit...” Rather than “I admit?” Because we cannot overcome in isolation. We cannot gain victory alone. One of Satan's traps is to get people to sin, in sin experience fear and shame, and then as a result of fear and shame isolate, hide, disconnect from those who love them and would be there to help them.

This leads them to find others who are also living in fear and shame and who rather than longing to see them overcome instead feed the destructive cycles of behavior.

Christianity is to be like the 12 step program, sending messages to others that we are all loved and accepted, but never that destructive lifestyle patterns are health and acceptable.

Thus, when we confess and experience love, we connect with God and others and we can more easily stop the dysfunctional coping of lying, escapism etc. We reconnect the salience network; we “get real” meaning we begin to be truthful; we calm the fear circuitry; we reduce inflammatory cascades; we sleep better, eat better, have healthier immune systems and many illnesses improve.

Listen to this commentary about Joseph’s brothers:

After the burial of Jacob fear again filled the hearts of Joseph's brothers. Notwithstanding his kindness toward them, conscious guilt made them distrustful and suspicious. It might be that he had but delayed his revenge, out of regard to their father, and that he would now visit upon them the long-deferred punishment for their crime. They dared not appear before him in person, but sent a message: "Thy father did command before he died, saying, So shall ye say unto Joseph, Forgive, I pray thee now, the trespass of thy brethren, and their sin; for they did unto thee evil: and now, we pray thee, forgive the trespass of the servants of the God of thy father." This message affected Joseph to tears, and, encouraged by this, his brothers came and fell down before him, with the words, "Behold, we be thy servants." Joseph's love for his brothers was deep and unselfish, and he was pained at the thought that they could regard him as cherishing a spirit of revenge toward them. "Fear not," he said; "for am I in the place of God? But as for you, ye thought evil against me; but God meant it unto good, to bring to pass, as it is this day, to save much people alive. Now therefore fear ye not: I will nourish you, and your little ones." {PP 239.1}

When we live in guilt, what does it do to our ability to relate to others?

- Unresolved guilt makes us fearful, suspicious, distrustful
- We, rather than looking inward and being truthful, and seeking healing for our souls, instead project outward and find fault in others
- This causes further alienation, our own fear and self condemnation, causing us to believe no one could love us if they really knew, and then projecting our own defect onto others and seeing them as untrustworthy

This gives us some insight into why the unrepentant, the unhealed, are not in heaven – they can’t tolerate it, they hate being there. Listen to this commentary about the children of Israel:

During that long time spent in communion with God, the face of Moses had reflected the glory of the divine Presence; unknown to himself his face shonen with a dazzling light when he descended from the mountain... Aaron as well as the people shrank away from Moses, and "they were afraid to come nigh him." Seeing their confusion and terror, but ignorant of the cause, he urged them to come near. He held out to them the pledge of God's reconciliation, and assured them of His restored favor. They perceived in his voice nothing but love and entreaty, and at last one ventured to approach him. Too awed to speak, he silently pointed to the countenance of Moses, and then toward heaven. The great leader understood his meaning. In their conscious guilt, feeling themselves still under the divine displeasure, they could not endure the heavenly light, which, had they been obedient to God, would have filled them with joy. There is fear in guilt. The soul that is free from sin will not wish to hide from the light of heaven. {PP 329.5}

One of the reasons we are to confess our sins to each other, is to free us from the fear of condemnation, which happens internal to us when we are out of harmony with God's design.

Read first paragraph, "People are fascinated..." Thoughts about miracles? Is it wise and reasonable to trust when miracles happen? Do miracles prove the working of God?

When the serpent spoke in Eden, was that a miracle? Did it make what the serpent said true?

Deuteronomy 13:1-3. "If a prophet arises among you, or a dreamer of dreams, and gives you a sign or a wonder, and the sign or wonder which he tells you comes to pass, and if he says, 'Let us go after other gods,' which you have not known, 'and let us serve them,' you shall not listen to the word of that prophet or to that dreamer of dreams." (RSV)

How did Christ use miracles? When they asked Him to perform a miracle to prove who He was, whether it was the devil in the wilderness, or the religious leaders, what did He do?

When miracles happen, who are they generally for – the strong in faith or the weak in faith?

- 10 plagues of Egypt who were the miracles for?
- Gideon – why did he need the miracle of fleeces?
- 3.5 years of no rain and Mt. Carmel – who was it for?
- When Jesus and the Apostles healed people who was the miracle for?
- When Peter and Paul were miraculously delivered from prison and death (viper, shipwreck), who were the miracles for? In the end were they miraculously delivered?
- All those who Christ healed of sickness – what happened to them?
- Thus the lesson points out God has a desire for a more substantial healing – what is that healing?

Listen to this from the book Desire of Ages:

When the message of truth is presented in our day, there are many who, like the Jews, cry, Show us a sign. Work us a miracle. Christ wrought no miracle at the demand of the Pharisees. He wrought no miracle in the wilderness in answer to Satan's insinuations. He does not impart to us power to vindicate ourselves or to satisfy the demands of unbelief and pride. But the gospel is not without a sign of its divine origin. Is it not a miracle that we can break from the bondage of Satan? Enmity against Satan is not natural to the human heart; it is implanted by the grace of God. When one who has been controlled by a stubborn, wayward will is set free, and yields himself wholeheartedly to the drawing of God's heavenly agencies, a miracle is wrought; so also when a man who has been under strong delusion comes to understand moral truth. Every time a soul is converted, and learns to love God and keep His commandments, the promise of God is fulfilled, "A new heart also will I give you, and a new spirit will I put within you." Ezekiel 36:26. The change in human hearts, the transformation of human characters, is a miracle that reveals an ever-living Saviour, working to rescue souls. A consistent life in Christ is a great miracle. In the preaching of the word of God, the sign that should be manifest now and always is the presence of the Holy Spirit, to make the word a regenerating power to those that hear. This is God's witness before the world to the divine mission of His Son. {DA 407.1}

What is the miracle we are to look for? Hearts and minds being set free from lies about God and character changing to love God and others – people becoming mature, kinder, gentler, more patient, honest, trustworthy. Such a change is evidence of God's regenerating power!

This miracle, of people who love God and stay that way in the face of adversity is of greater value and reveals more clearly God's truth power to regenerate the inner man, than healing of physical sickness.

Think about it – for God to heal a physical malady is as easy as snapping His fingers – but what about healing someone's heart/character? It is much more difficult – why? Because it requires the cooperation of the person and the working out of patterns of thinking, feeling, relating, believing, while maintaining the autonomy of the individual.

SUNDAY

Read first paragraph, "Though dealing..." Why is it joy to fall into trials? What is your goal for yourself and your children?

- Graduate college?
- Financial security?
- Happy marriage?
- Children or grandchildren?
- Win Olympic medals or some other awards?

What about character development? What about overcoming fear and selfishness in the heart? What about becoming like Christ? Which is most important – success of what the world says or being like Christ in character?

- What helps us overcome our weaknesses of character?
- Trials and struggles
- Thus we rejoice because each trial is an opportunity to either overcome or to grow in godliness
- Why do we rejoice in going to PT? I know when I had to go I was very happy and eager to go and did rejoice in it – why?

- In the same way, when we participate with Christ in His plan there will be difficulties but these can be useful in helping strengthen us.

That doesn't mean every difficulty or trial is brought upon us by God – as Joseph's experience demonstrates, the brothers brought the trial on Joseph because of evil in their hearts. The trial did not come from God – but God permitted it and overruled the evil bringing about greater good. But God was only able to overrule because Joseph trusted God with his life and how it would eventually turn out.

One of Satan's tools to defeat us is to get us to take responsibility upon ourselves for how things turn out. Thus we try to force events, or worry about events or outcomes we have no control over. Or, we get discouraged, feel abandoned by God and walk away from Him and don't allow Him opportunity to overrule for good.

Consider Joseph – sold at 17 into slavery and it wasn't until 13 years later that he was finally set free. For 13 years he lived as a slave, God did bless him within the confines of being a slave, yet he still had further trials of false allegation, being sent to prison etc. But God was working through it all for a larger and greater good. Do we allow for this in our trials.

In our own experience as a ministry we went through a trial, in which things were said falsely about us, (and still are) in which we were misrepresented, and mistreated. And yet, out of this what has happened? We now have a worldwide ministry that is producing enduring materials and reaching tens of thousands if not hundreds of thousands and more. None of which would have happened had we not gone through the difficulties.

MONDAY

Read James 5:14,15:

Is any one of you sick? He should call the elders of the church to pray over him and anoint him with oil in the name of the Lord. ¹⁵ And the prayer offered in faith will make the sick person well; the Lord will raise him up. If he has sinned, he will be forgiven. NIV

Here is my paraphrase:

If anyone is sick, be sure to call the spiritual leaders to both ask God to intervene and treat you with appropriate medicinals such as applying soothing oil, working in harmony with God's design, methods and principles. ¹⁵ Ask God to intervene, then trust him enough to follow his methods and principles. This will heal the character, and if it is in harmony with the Lord's plan, result in making the sick physically well; and the Lord will raise them up. If illness is due to willful deviation from God's design, it won't matter once trust in God is restored and the ill are well again.

Read first paragraph, “The fact that the sick...” Why is it we can’t get well if we refuse to repent from sin? What is sin? It is deviation from God’s design – and thus one cannot heal outside the design.

We are tripartite beings – body (soma), mind (soul/psyche), and energy (spirit/pneuma).

Health requires all aspects be healthy – if we are out of harmony with God’s design physically, it alters brain function and thus our mind doesn’t work as well.

If we are out of harmony with God’s design spiritually, i.e. living in sin, exploiting others, stealing, lying, cheating, etc. we cause disruption in our minds, which increase guilt, refusing to repent caused disrupted salience network, increased activation of inflammatory cascades, rumination, distorted thinking. To avoid the guilt we deny, distort, deflect, create false thinking patterns, which cause further negative changes in our brains and bodies.

Only, by returning to God’s design for mind and body is there peace and health.

TUESDAY

Read first paragraph, “More important...” What is the soul? It is the character, the individuality, the personhood.

What do you think of the connection between sickness and sin?

If there were no sin would there be any sickness? Why not?

How is it sin is the cause of sickness?

Is every sickness a direct result of a specific act of sin in the life of the sick person?

What does the story of Job tell us about this?

Read second paragraph, “Faith in Jesus...” What do you think of the sentence, “In a sense, every healing Jesus performed was a parable meant to draw people’s attention to their deeper need of salvation.” ?

This is absolutely true – and what does salvation mean? It means healing!

The plan of salvation is the plan of healing, the healing of the entire being, not just the body!

Read last paragraph, “Healing includes...” This paragraph needs discussion – should one confess to the wrong party in all occasion? Thoughts? Should one?

The twelve steps of AA are the steps in spiritual conversion and renewal:

1. We admitted we were powerless over alcohol—that our lives had become unmanageable.
2. Came to believe that a power greater than could restore us to sanity.
3. Made a decision to turn our will and our lives over to the care of God as we understood Him.
4. Made a searching and fearless moral inventory of ourselves.
5. Admitted to God, to ourselves, and to another human being the exact nature of our wrongs.
6. Were entirely ready to have God remove all these defects of character.
7. Humbly asked Him to remove our shortcomings.
8. Made a list of all persons we had harmed, and became willing to make amends to them all.
9. Made direct amends to such people wherever possible, except when to do so would injure them or others.
10. Continued to take personal inventory, and when we were wrong, promptly admitted it.
11. Sought through prayer and meditation to improve our conscious contact with God as we understood Him, praying only for knowledge of His will for us and the power to carry that out.
12. Having had a spiritual awakening as the result of these steps, we tried to carry this message to alcoholics, and to practice these principles in all our affairs.

Notice in the 12 steps the confession is to one other person, the amends are only if doing so won't cause further harm. I have had patients, who early in their marriage, had a one night stand. It occurred more than 20 years ago, but recently were told by a counselor, pastor, marriage seminar that old wrongs need to be confessed to the spouse – thoughts?

Should this be confessed to the innocent spouse who has no knowledge of it, and it is not an ongoing problem? Why or why not?

WEDNESDAY

The first paragraph talks about Elijah's prayer that it would not rain – why did Elijah pray for this intervention?

Baal was worshipped as the god who brought the rain, so praying it would not rain was not designed to punish the people, but to demonstrate to them that Baal is not God.

Are there any types of prayers like this we could be praying today?

The lesson points out that the work of Elijah was a type of the work of John the Baptist being the forerunner of Christ and a revival movement on earth before the second coming to prepare the world to meet Christ.

What is the essence of this final message, this final Elijah message?

What was it that made Baal worship wrong? It was the idea that Baal was a god who needed appeasement, propitiation, payment. It was the legal aspects of atonement of an offended god that made Baal worship pagan.

Thus, today, Baal worship has infected Christianity in the guise of legal/penal models of atonement that teach Jesus died to appease or propitiate God's wrath.

The Elijah message is to call people back to worship the truth about God as revealed in Jesus, that:

- God so loved the world...
- God was in Christ reconciling the world...
- If God is for us...
- That God is Designer not dictator – choose who will you worship!

The final message of mercy is the truth about God's character of love!

THURSDAY

Read first paragraph, "God's Spirit..." Certainly God's Spirit wanted to restore the relationship between God and Israel – but did that actually happen after Carmel?

Were the people after Carmel more loving, kind, gentle, faithful, loyal and Christlike? Or did they persist in idol worship until they eventually went off into captivity?

Read James 5:19, 20:

My brothers and sisters, if one of you should wander from the truth and someone should bring that person back, ²⁰ remember this: Whoever turns a sinner from the error of their way will save them from death and cover over a multitude of sins.

What does this mean?

my paraphrase:

JAM 5:19 My brothers and sisters, if a person walks away from God's treatment plan, you should do all you can to bring them back. ²⁰ For whoever turns a selfish person from the terminal path of self-indulgence will deliver them from death and make irrelevant a multitude of self-destructive acts.

Last paragraph states, “Saving souls from death is possible only through the ‘covering’ of sins, by apply the gospel to our lives, and become instruments of mercy.”

What does this mean?

This quote is one of the clearest in addressing the metaphor of “covering” sin:

Only the covering which Christ Himself has provided can make us meet to appear in God's presence. This covering, the robe of His own righteousness, Christ will put upon every repenting, believing soul... This robe, woven in the loom of heaven, has in it not one thread of human devising. Christ in His humanity wrought out a perfect character, and this character He offers to impart to us... When we submit ourselves to Christ, the heart is united with His heart, the will is merged in His will, the mind becomes one with His mind, the thoughts are brought into captivity to Him; we live His life. This is what it means to be clothed with the garment of His righteousness. Then as the Lord looks upon us He sees, not the fig-leaf garment, not the nakedness and deformity of sin, but His own robe of righteousness, which is perfect obedience to the law of Jehovah. {COL 3:11.4}

Note the covering isn't a covering over, but more along the lines of a computer hard drive, a writing over the old code, operating system and writing a new one in its place?

Thank you again for your generosity and Ministry sharing the truth about God!

What is the Everlasting Gospel?

I went online and these are some of the definitions I found:

- The word Gospel literally means “good news.” It is the plan that God has designed to save sinful humans from eternal separation from Him. www.allaboutgod.com
- The word gospel means “good news,” so the gospel of Christ is the good news of His coming to provide forgiveness of sins for all who will believe www.gotquestions.org
- The gospel is the message that God will give us pardon from our sins and eternal life with Him in heaven... www.harvest.org

There are many definitions of the gospel on the net, but these are fairly representative of the most common ideas. Do you notice how these descriptions of the gospel focus on us and our legal status?

But the gospel is the everlasting or eternal good news; we find the everlasting gospel in Revelation 14 as the message that is to go to the world to prepare the world for Christ's return.

Now, is it eternally true – meaning in eternity past as well as eternity future, that Jesus died, or even that humans needed Him to die for their sins?

It is true Jesus died to save us and was willing in eternity past to do so, but it wasn't evidenced or needed in eternity past. It is true that this is part of the good news, but is this part, the part about us being saved, eternal, or is this part a more recent expression, revelation and unfolding of the good news that has always been true?

As we reason this through, what light does this passage add?

Christ Jesus, who has destroyed death and has brought life and immortality to light through the gospel. 2Tim 2:10

What do you hear this saying? That the gospel is the destruction of death and bringing forth of life, or that the gospel is the means by which Christ destroys death and brings immortality to light? In other words, is the good news that death has been destroyed – or is the good news what had destroyed death?

This was written by one of the founders of our church over 100 years ago:

The gospel and the medical missionary work are to advance together. The gospel is to be bound up with the principles of true health reform. Christianity is to be brought into the practical life. Earnest, thorough reformatory work is to be done. True Bible religion is an outflowing of the love of God for fallen man...We are to present the principles of health reform before the people, doing all in our power to lead men and women to see the necessity of these principles and to practice them.--Testimonies, Vol. 6, p. 379. {CME 41.5}

Do you see any connection between the gospel and health reform? This author says the gospel is to be bound up with the “principles” of true health reform. What does this mean?

What is a principle? Is it a rule, an arbitrary law, or is it design protocol?

So, what is the basis of true health reform? Understanding God's design, how He actually constructed life to operate and intelligently live in harmony with it.

And what is the basis upon which life is constructed to operate?

Love – the principle of giving. We cannot get well outside this design.

- In living for self he has rejected that divine love which would have flowed out in mercy to his fellow men. Thus he has rejected life. For God is love, and love is life. {COL 258.3}

Why is love life?

Because God is love, and God created, constructed, built all life to operate in harmony with Himself.

The same power that upholds nature, is working also in man. The same great laws that guide alike the star and the atom control human life. The laws that govern the heart's action, regulating the flow of the current of life to the body, are the laws of the mighty Intelligence that has the jurisdiction of the soul. From Him all life proceeds. Only in harmony with Him can be found its true sphere of action. For all the objects of His creation the condition is the same--a life sustained by receiving the life of God, a life exercised in harmony with the Creator's will. To transgress His law, physical, mental, or moral, is to place one's self out of harmony with the universe, to introduce discord, anarchy, ruin. {Ed 99.2}

How does this work? It is design law, not imposed rules.

We must receive nutrition from the plants (and yes it all comes from the plants, if you eat animal products you are only getting nutrition second hand, hand-me-down nutrition) and then we give back the products of digestion to fertilize the plants. If something goes wrong with our system and we don't give back, we will eventually die.

How is this principle related to the gospel?

Here is another quote from the book Christ's Object Lessons

No man can rightly present the law of God without the gospel, or the gospel without the law. The law is the gospel embodied, and the gospel is the law unfolded. The law is the root, the gospel is the fragrant blossom and fruit which it bears. {COL 128.2}

What does this mean? How do you understand the law and the gospel to be related? What does the root and blossom metaphor suggest is happening? A natural outgrowth.

So, while in eternity past Christ had not died for sinners— What was true in eternity past?

- What is true in eternity past and eternity future that Christ brought to earth resulting in death being destroyed and immortality being brought to light?
- What is true through all time, past, present and future, that is bound up with true health reform?
- What is the relationship between the law and the gospel?

Here is another quotation from more than 100 years ago, things that used to be taught in our church:

When the gospel is received in its purity and power, it is a cure for the maladies that originated in sin. The Sun of Righteousness arises, "with healing in His wings." Malachi 4:2. Not all this world bestows can heal a broken heart, or impart peace of mind, or remove care, or banish disease. Fame, genius, talent—all are powerless to gladden the sorrowful heart or to restore the wasted life. The life of God in the soul is man's only hope. {Counsels for the Church 216.5}

The love which Christ diffuses through the whole being is a vitalizing power. Every vital part—the brain, the heart, the nerves—it touches with healing. By it [love] the highest energies of the being are roused to activity. It [love] frees the soul from the guilt and sorrow, the anxiety and care, that crush the life forces. With it [love] come serenity and composure. It [love] implants in the soul, joy that nothing earthly can destroy—joy in the Holy Spirit—health-giving, life-giving joy. {CCh 216.6}

Our Saviour's words, "Come unto Me, . . . and I will give you rest" Matthew 11:28, are a prescription for the healing of physical, mental, and spiritual ills. Though men have brought suffering upon themselves by their own wrongdoing, He regards them with pity. In Him they may find help. He will do great things for those who trust in Him. 367 {CCh 217.1}

What do you hear? Do you hear healing, restoration, recreation, and somehow it is connected to the gospel – how?

And one more quote from history, from Counsels on Health:

The very essence of the gospel is restoration, and the Saviour would have us bid the sick, the hopeless, and the afflicted take hold upon His strength. {Counsels on Health 31.2}

The power of love was in all Christ's healing, and only by partaking of that love, through faith, can we be instruments for His work. If we neglect to link ourselves in divine connection with Christ, the current of life-giving energy cannot flow in rich streams from us to the people. There were places where the Saviour Himself could not do many mighty works because of their unbelief. So now unbelief separates the church from her divine Helper. Her hold upon eternal realities is weak. By her lack of faith, God is disappointed and robbed of His glory. (32) {CH 31.3}

Why does death come? Through the gospel Christ destroys death – so why does death come?

If one believes the lie of Satan, then death comes from God as a punishment for breaking His law.

If this were true multiple problems:

- God is the source of death – so Eastern religions which teach eternal dualism, the eternal existence of good and evil, would be true, because both life and death originate in such a god. But it is not true.
 - The Bible says Satan is a murderer from the beginning – or murder began with Satan, i.e. death originated with Satan not God. God is the source of life. Here is what our church used to teach:

- “Christ never planted the seeds of death in the system. Satan planted these seeds when he tempted Adam to eat of the tree of knowledge which meant disobedience to God. {2SM 288.2}
- If one believes the lie, it would mean that there really isn't anything wrong with sin, there is something wrong with God who can't get a grip on His anger and wrath. If He could just control Himself we could live forever in sin, but alas, we can't because God lashes out to kill...
- Believing the lie would also result in creating false remedies or solutions, namely penal substitution ideas in which Jesus took our legal penalty and God had to use His power to inflict punishment upon His Son. Or God had to be propitiated so He wouldn't kill us. Thus, it results in a distorted god who resembles Satan in character.
- This results in a “form of godliness but denies the power” because it denies the gospel, or the good news, because the good news is NOT we have a legal solution. The good news is that God is not like Satan alleged, that God is love and love is life – and that harmony with God is life.

So why does death come?

- The wages of sin is death Rom 6:23
- Sin when full grown brings forth death James 1:15
- whoever sows to please their flesh, from the flesh will reap destruction; Gal 6:8

So why does death come? Because sin is deviation from the way God has built life to operate and it, unremedied results in death.

And what caused that deviation?

- Lies believed break the circle of love and trust
- broken love and trust result in fear and selfishness
- fear and selfishness result in destructive acts (sins)
- destructive acts are damaging to mind, body, character a terminal condition

So what is the good news the eternal good news? That God is love and His design for life is love – it has always been so and will always be so. And that good news was brought to earth by Jesus, both in truth to reveal God's character and action to restore God's character into the species human while destroying the infection of fear and selfishness with which we are born.

So the Bible says:

Jesus said. “The kingdom of God has come near. Repent and believe the good news!” MK 1:14,15

The good news is about God, His character and methods of love, perfectly revealed in Christ and through Christ perfectly restored into the species human, thus returning life to this species and destroying death! Can we believe it?

Many struggle to believe the good news about God and instead of repenting of the lies about God and believing God is really this good, present God like a dictator who runs the universe like we run our governments.

SUNDAY

The gospel in the Old Testament – what is the gospel in the Old Testament?

Jesus said, regarding the Old Testament:

You study the Scriptures diligently because you think that in them you have eternal life. These are the very Scriptures that testify about me, yet you refuse to come to me to have life. John 5:39

Do you find the good news about God and Jesus in the Old Testament? Where?

"The Lord God, merciful and gracious, long-suffering and abundant in goodness and truth, keeping mercy for thousands, forgiving iniquity and transgression and sin, and that will by no means clear the guilty." Exodus 34:6, 7.

What does it mean? Why will God by no means clear the guilty? What law lens do you view the statement through?

Here is a statement from a journal written in 1886, what do you hear?

"Sin is the transgression of the law," and "the wages of sin is death." [why? because God must inflict death or because God's law is how life is built and deviations are incompatible with life?] It was sin that brought death into the world. [Does death come from God? No! It comes from sin, which is deviation from God and His design] Had there been no sin, there would have been no death. Christ died as the sinner's substitute, to save him from the penalty of his disobedience. [What is the penalty of disobedience? Is it inflicted by God or the result of deviating from God's design? If a child drinks poison in disobedience to their parent's rules to stay out of the medicine cabinet, is there a penalty for that disobedience? What is that penalty? Why?] Could the law of God have been changed or abolished, Christ need not have died; for death was not necessary in order to abolish the law. [If death was not necessary to abolish the law what did get abolished by Christ's death? Satan's power (Heb 2:14), death (2Tim 1:10), the devil's work (1Jn 3:8), which are the lies about God and the carnal nature). The fact that God spared not his own sinless, beloved Son from the penalty he pledged himself to bear as the sinner's substitute, is the most telling argument that could be produced to show that the claims of his law will not be released, even in the slightest degree, to save the transgressor. [What does the law claim? Perfect accord with it, why? Because that is how life is built. It is uncompromising. If you jump overboard in the ocean with 100 pounds of lead tied to your legs, the law of respiration is uncompromising. It cannot be changed to meet you in that condition. So you must be delivered from that condition if you are to be saved. Likewise, Christ came to deliver humanity from the condition deviant from God's design] So in the death of Christ we have evidence, not only of God's love for sinful man, but of the changeless character of his law. The law could not be abolished; one precept could not be altered to save the sinner and meet man in his fallen condition; [why?] but God so loved the world that he gave his Son to suffer the penalty of its transgression in the sinner's stead. {ST, July 29, 1886 par. 2}

The gospel made flesh – what is the gospel? The good news about God, and that good news, the Word was made flesh and dwelt among us.

Read last paragraph, “Both stories...” What does it mean paid the full price? What was the full price? To whom was it paid?

If your child was dying of renal failure and you donated your kidney to save them, could we say, “you paid the full price necessary to save your child?” Would it mean it was a legal price?

Why was donating your kidney the full price you had to pay to save your child? To whom was the price of your donated kidney paid? Why?

So, in the plan of salvation – when Adam sinned did God get changed? Did God's law get changed? Did humanity in Adam get changed?

Then if restoration and unity with God and God's law is to be achieved where must Christ's work be effectual? In humanity. Thus, Christ's activity was not to do something to God, or God's law, but was to actually provide to humanity what humanity needed in order to restore it back to rightness, or righteousness with God.

What was needed? Well, what separates us from God? Lies we believe and our carnal natures – then what reconciles us?

The truth will set you free and a new nature, we become partakers of the divine nature, so it is no longer I that live but Christ lives in me.

This price, the price of bringing the truth and providing a new nature was the price our condition required, because it was the only way to restore the species human back to God's design for life. Thus the price was paid to us!

TUESDAY

Read last paragraph, "The gospel..." How do you hear this? What is the correct understanding of these metaphorical terms and what is a distorted understanding?

Which law lens do you hear them through?

WEDNESDAY

Read first paragraph – "The book of..." Did God establish the Old Covenant? What was the Old Covenant?

The Old Covenant, which was faulty, was when Israel said "All the Lord said WE will do." It was when Israel took the responsibility to save themselves and of course failed.

The covenant of grace was revealed to the patriarchs. The covenant made with Abraham four hundred and thirty years before the law was spoken on Sinai was a covenant confirmed by God in Christ, the very same gospel which is preached to us. "The Scripture, foreseeing that God would justify the heathen through faith preached before the gospel unto Abraham, saying, In thee shall all nations be blessed. So then they which be of faith are blessed with faithful Abraham." The covenant of grace is not a new truth, for it existed in the mind of God from all eternity. This is why it is called the everlasting covenant. The plan of redemption was not conceived after the fall of man to cure the dreadful evil; the apostle Paul speaks of the gospel, the preaching of Jesus Christ, as "the revelation of the mystery, which hath been kept in silence through times eternal, but now is manifested, and by the Scriptures of the prophets, according to the commandment of the eternal God, is made known unto all the nations unto obedience of faith." (Revised Version.) {ST, August 24, 1891 par. 10}

There has only and always been one eternal or true covenant, and it is the covenant of God's character of love, revealed in Christ and restored in humanity through Christ.

THURSDAY

The climax of the gospel – the end time gospel presentation – how would you describe it? What is the final message of mercy that is to enlighten the world?

It is the truth of God's character of love, as Creator who designed His universe to operate upon design law, not imposed law. It is a message to free minds from the infection from Imperial Rome which distorts in the minds of men the character of God, making Him out to be like us.

Thus the three angels messages:

- Be in awe of God and reveal His true character of love in your life for the time in earth's history has come for everyone to make a right judgment about God and His character and methods – call them back to worship and adore Him who made the heavens, earth, sea – call them back to His Design Law of Love
- Because Babylon, that confused system of imposed law, in which God's law is misrepresented as imposed, has resulted in a contradictory system in which Christianity has fractured into 34,000 different groups all with different interpretations and regulations, because they have accepted the lie that God's law is like Rome's, imposed rules and God must punish like a dictator must punish.
- And everyone who accepts this lie about God and marks themselves in their forehead by truly believing God is like a dictator and His law is imposed and God is the source of imposed punishment and death, and those who mark themselves in their hands by going along with such a perverse system of coercion, based on human law, will be tormented in mind, heart and character when they come into the presence of the holy angels and the Lamb, for having rejected the truth about God, there is no healing for their terminal condition in a legal solution of appeasement.

We must come back to worship our Creator and Designer and present the truth about His character and law of love!
