Read last paragraph, "Unfortunately, by failing to renew..." Do you agree? Is victory over sinful living possible in a trust relationship with Jesus?

What is sad is that the lesson is correct in this paragraph, that victory over sin in our lives is possible in a trust relationship with Jesus with the indwelling power of the Spirit. However, they fail to realize that their legal approach to the sin problem introduces multiple concepts and ideas that keep people from genuinely trusting God and thus from experiencing victory. So, the legal system sets them up for perpetual insecurity, fear, and discouragement, leading many to give up and leave the church altogether.

We must rid our minds of the legal salvation models that cause so much devastation and imprison so many good people in religion without power to live victoriously.

THURSDAY

Read Romans 7:21-25 from The Remedy:

So I find this reality at work: When I want to do good, my old selfish habits and residual feelings of fear are right there with me.²²In my mind, I rejoice in God's methods and principles,²³but I recognize that I remain damaged from years of being infected with distrust and practicing Satan's methods, so that even though the infection of distrust has been removed, the old habits of fear and self-promotion tempt me from within. What a damaged and corrupt man I am! Who will deliver and heal me from a brain and body so diseased and deformed?²⁵Praise be to God—for he has provided the healing solution through Jesus Christ our Lord! So then, I find that in my mind I am now renewed with trust in God and love of his methods, but my brain and body remain damaged by years of self-indulgent behavior.

Read first two paragraphs, “In this passage...” What do you understand is happening?

FRIDAY

Read second paragraph, “After Christ died on the cross...” What force did the ceremonial law have before Christ died on the cross?

Could salvation be found in keeping the ceremonial law?

- This is an illustration for the present time, indicating that the gifts and sacrifices being offered were not able to clear the conscience of the worshiper.¹⁰ They are only a matter of food and drink and various ceremonial washings—external regulations applying until the time of the new order. Heb 9:9,10
- I want your constant love, not your animal sacrifices. I would rather have my people know me than burn offerings to me. Hosea 6:6

What is life eternal?

So what force did the ceremonial law have prior to Christ's death?

2017 Q4 The Book of Romans - Lesson 9

No Condemnation — by Dr. Wendell Moses

SABBATH

Memory Text: There is therefore now no condemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus, who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit. Romans 8:1

- There is therefore now no condemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus, who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit. (KJV)
- Therefore there is now no condemnation for those who are in Christ Jesus. (NASB)
- So now there is no condemnation for those who belong to Christ Jesus. (NLT)
- There is no condemnation now for those who live in union with Christ Jesus. (GNT)

Premise #1: The Bible is about God, not us.

Read the entire passage for this week's lesson from Phillips translation or Today's English Translation.

- What is the theme of these passages?
- The word "spirit" is present 18 times in these 17 verses
- TEV: 18x, NLT: 15x, KJV: 16x, NASB: 17x
- The emphasis is our "life in the Spirit" not guilt

Lesson Theme: (What the lesson should really be about) God gave and is continuing to give of Himself in both Father, Son and Spirit that we may be like Him. That is the way He designed it in the beginning and that is still His ultimate goal.

Read the entire page: In the third paragraph:

- It was the only way "He could relate to us,"
- Why is that?
- Did God not know how we felt?
- Isn't the pathos of the Old Testament an indication that indeed God does know what it is to be human?
- He speaks in such human terms.
- He expresses emotion of father, mother, child
- He shows the heart of yearning after His children who are wandering away from Him.
- Christ did call himself "the human"
- (son of man) depiction
- That is for our benefit, not His.
- The deficits of understanding and relationship are human in origin, not God derived.

- God was not damaged when sin entered the universe and subsequently to this earth. His children were the ones who were damaged.
- God's interventions have been for our restoration and healing, not to correct any deficiency in God.

At the bottom of the paragraph: "Obedience to law had not been, nor ever can be, a means of salvation."

- Why?
- We are to be a "new creature"
- External versus internal sources of behavior
- When we are born again in Christ we become new creatures.
 - "Unless you are born again, you cannot see the kingdom of God"
 - You cannot perceive or understand it
 - 2 Corinthians 5:17 & John 3:3
 - It is not a deficiency on God's part
 - It is our deficiencies that God came to repair
 - It wasn't God that was broken, it is me / us.

SUNDAY

In Jesus Christ

What is the emphasis of Romans 8:1

- What do you see?
- If your emphasis is on your record, you concentrate on "condemnation"
- If your emphasis is on your relationship, you concentrate on the contrast in how you walk (relationship with Christ)
- TEV "There is no condemnation now for those who live in union with Christ Jesus."
- Verses 8:1 - 11 are all about our life in union with Christ and the contrast with our human nature.

Read the first paragraph. (As I noted in the margin - excellent)

The next two paragraphs paint a different picture.

- It is little to do with our union with Christ.
- Consumed with the images of fault, perfection of records, and condemnation.

Romans 8:2

- What is the law of the Spirit of life?
- Is this not the law of life?
- Is this not what righteousness truly means?
- This is not imposed, arbitrary rule, but God's eternal design from the foundation of the world.
- This is how life should be.

Read the quote from the “The Desire of Ages” at the bottom of the page?

The last sentence of the pink section says: “Are a slave, or are you free in Christ? How can you know for sure?”

- Is that not the purpose of the law?
- The Law of God is a diagnostic instrument to see where are treasure, emphasis and heart truly is. It will be the standard of our devotion.
- The moral law is descriptive, not proscriptive.

MONDAY

What the Law Could Not Do

Read the first paragraph... Why do we need Jesus/God?

- We need to return to our original design.
- Christ Jesus is not a patch.
- The Trinity is our center / our Core.

Read Romans 8:3,4

- “What the Law could not do, because human nature was weak, God did. He condemned sin in human nature by sending his own Son, who came with a nature like our sinful nature, to do away with sin. God did this so that the righteous demands of the Law might be fully satisfied in us who live according to the Spirit, and not according to human nature.”
- Read second paragraph and onward. (Especially the 2nd and 6th)

TUESDAY

The Flesh or the Spirit

Read the bold print at the top. Read the text and then the question. “Dwell on these texts.. .What do they say to you about the way in which you are living?”

Should you concentrate on deeds / behavior?

- On to what should you concentrate your life’s energies?
- Matthew 22:37 “‘Love the Lord your God with all your heart, with all your soul, and with all your mind.’”
- Proverbs 23:7 (Thoughts are source of behavior)
- “For as he thinks in his heart, so is he.”
- 1 Corinthians 13:4-7 (Law of Love)
- “Love is patient and kind; it is not jealous or conceited or proud; love is not ill-mannered or selfish or irritable; love does not keep a record of wrongs; love is not happy with evil, but is happy with the truth. Love never gives up; and its faith, hope, and patience never fail.”
- Matthew 5:22, 28 (Sermon on the Mount)
- “But now I tell you: if you are angry with your brother you will be brought to trial, if you call your brother ‘You good-for-nothing!’ you will be brought before the Council, and if you call your brother a worthless fool you will be in danger of going to the fire of hell....But now I tell you: anyone who looks at a woman and wants to possess her is guilty of committing adultery with her in his heart.”

Read first paragraph

- This is the real meaning of this week’s lesson:
- The source of your inner being: is it God via His Spirit, or is it our broken humanity.
- This gives new meaning to what is natural
 - What currently is “natural” is actually a perversion of what life is suppose to be like.
 - How we were created to be in the beginning, before sin, is what is to be Natural.

Paul contrasts Life of Christ with Life apart from Christ.

- Paul’s purpose?
- Read first sentence of the 5th paragraph:
- “This was Paul’s answer . . .”
- It wasn’t “enough” for salvation before. Only by rebirth of the inner person that healing could occur.
- Psalms 51:10 (GNT) “Create a pure heart in me, O God, and put a new and loyal spirit in me.”

WEDNESDAY

Christ In You

Read the first paragraph “Paul continues his theme. . .”

- Life according to the Holy Spirit of God
- Life according to my sinful and carnal nature
- Romans 8:13 (GNT) “For if you live according to your human nature, you are going to die; but if by the Spirit you put to death your sinful actions, you will live.”
- One leads to eternal life, the other to eternal death.
- This is not an imposed punishment.
- This is how the universe is designed.

Read the central portion of the 3rd paragraph: “But as in baptism, there is not only a burial but also a resurrection. . .”

- Even after the old man of sin is destroyed, it still is possible to sin. God does not destroy our freedom.

The highlighted are at bottom of page: The power of God that was able to resurrect Jesus from death is able to recreate His character in us.

Colossians 1:27 “God’s plan is to make known his secret to his people, this rich and glorious secret which he has for all peoples. And the secret is that Christ is in you, which means that you will share in the glory of God.”

THURSDAY

The Spirit of Adoption

The Spirit of Adoption

We can be God's restored children.

Read EGW comments in middle of page.

Middle of Page Question: "What give us the assurance that God has indeed accepted us as children?"

- Romans 8:16: "God's Spirit joins himself to our spirits to declare that we are God's children."
- How do you know?
- Is this a mystical feeling?
- "I know that I know that I know that I know ..."
- Do you believe God's word even when it doesn't feel like it.
- What is a healthy conscience?
- How about the written law?
- It says volumes about who God is and what He is like!

FRIDAY

Any of the provided passages can be useful in our walk

Teacher's Comments: Read the bottom section of "The Lesson in Brief"

- Do: Build a friendship with God
- What are willing to do?
- What are some of the ways?
- What are the key moments?
- What has thinking about who Christ is accomplished in you personally?
 - 2 Corinthians 3:18 NLT "So all of us who have had that veil removed can see and reflect the glory of the Lord. And the Lord—who is the Spirit—makes us more and more like him as we are changed into his glorious image."

Hold to Affirmative Truth

"Often, as you seek to present the truth, opposition will be aroused; but if you seek to meet the opposition with argument, you will only multiply it, and that you cannot afford to do. Hold to the affirmative. Angels of God are watching you, and they understand how to impress those whose opposition you refuse to meet with argument. Dwell not on the negative points of questions that arise, but gather to your minds affirmative truths, and fasten them there by much earnest prayer and heart-consecration."—Testimonies for the Church 9:147, 148. ChS 126.2

“If the canvasser walks with God, if he prays for heavenly wisdom that he may do good and only good in his labor, he will be quick to discern the needs of those with whom he comes in contact. He will make the most of his opportunities to draw souls to Christ, not dwelling upon doctrinal subjects, but upon the love of God, upon His mercy and goodness in the plan of salvation. In the spirit of Christ he will be ready to speak a word in season to him that is weary. CM 102.2

The great need of the soul is to know God and Jesus Christ, whom He has sent. The Bible abounds in practical lessons, which the canvasser may safely present. If he can by this means impart a knowledge of practical religion, he will be feeding the people, who need just such precious food.” —Manual for Canvassers, 35, 36 (1902). CM 103.1

The religion of Christ is not to be placed in the background and its holy principles laid down to meet the approval of any class, however popular. If the standard of truth and holiness is lowered, the design of God will not then be carried out in this institution. CH 245.1

But our peculiar faith should not be discussed with patients. Their minds should not be unnecessarily excited upon subjects wherein we differ, unless they themselves desire it; and then great caution should be observed not to agitate the mind by urging upon them our peculiar faith. The Health Institute [The name of the battle creek sanitarium in its early days.] is not the place to be forward to enter into discussion upon points of our faith wherein we differ with the religious world generally. Prayer meetings are held at the Institute, in which all may take part if they choose; but there is an abundance to dwell upon in regard to Bible religion without touching objectionable points of difference. Silent influence will do more than open controversy. CH 245.2

In exhortation in the prayer meetings, some Sabbathkeepers have felt that they must bring in the Sabbath and the third angel's message, or they could not have freedom. This is characteristic of narrow minds. Patients not acquainted with our faith do not know what is meant by the third angel's message. The introduction of these terms without a clear explanation of them does only harm. We must meet the people where they are, and yet we need not sacrifice one principle of the truth. The prayer meeting will prove a blessing to patients, helpers, and physicians. Brief and interesting seasons of prayer and social worship will increase the confidence of patients in their physicians and helpers. The helpers should not be deprived of these meetings by work, unless it is positively necessary. They need them and should enjoy them. CH 245.3

The consciousness of rightdoing is the best medicine for diseased bodies and minds. The special blessing of God resting upon the receiver is health and strength. One whose mind is quiet and satisfied in God is on the highway to health. To have the consciousness that the eye of the Lord is upon us, and that His ear is open to our prayers, is a satisfaction indeed. To know that we have a never-failing Friend to whom we can confide all the secrets of the soul, is a happiness which words can never express. Those whose moral faculties are clouded by disease are not the ones to rightly represent the Christian life or the beauties of holiness. They are too often in the fire of fanaticism or the water of cold indifference or stolid gloom. CH 628.2

Those who do not feel that it is a religious duty to discipline the mind to dwell upon cheerful subjects, will usually be found at one of two extremes: they will be elated by a continual round of exciting amusements, indulging in frivolous conversation, laughing and joking, or they will be depressed, having great trials and mental conflicts, which they think but few have ever experienced or can understand. These persons may profess Christianity, but they deceive their own souls.... CH 628.3

It is essential that all shall know what atmosphere surrounds their own souls, whether they are in co-partnership with the enemy of righteousness, and unconsciously doing his work, or whether they are yoked up with Christ, doing His work.... Mar 63.2

Satan would be pleased to have anyone and everyone become his allies in the work of weakening the confidence of brother in brother, and sowing discord among those who profess to believe the truth. Satan can accomplish his purpose most successfully through professed friends of Christ who are not walking and working in Christ's lines.... Mar 63.3

This is the day of the Lord's preparation. We have no time now to talk unbelief or ... to do the devil's work. Let everyone beware of unsettling the faith of others by sowing seeds of envy, jealousy, disunion; for God hears the words, and He judges, not by assertions which are yea and nay, but by the fruit of one's course of action.... Mar 63.4

As yet the four winds are held until the servants of God shall be sealed in their foreheads. Then the powers of earth will marshal their forces for the last great battle. How carefully we should improve the little remaining period of our probation! How earnestly we should examine ourselves! ... Mar 63.5

It is discipline of spirit, cleanness of heart and thought that is needed. This is of more value than brilliant talent, tact, or knowledge. An ordinary mind, trained to obey a "Thus saith the Lord," is better qualified for God's work than are those who have capabilities, but do not employ them rightly.... Men may take pride of their knowledge of worldly things; but if they have not a knowledge of the true God, of Christ, the Way, the Truth, and the Life, they are deplorably ignorant, and their knowledge will perish with them. Secular knowledge is power; but the knowledge of the Word, which has a transforming influence upon the human mind, is imperishable. Mar 63.6

Speak not evil one of another, brethren. He that speaketh evil of his brother, and judgeth his brother, speaketh evil of the law, and judgeth the law: but if thou judge the law, thou art not a doer of the law, but a judge. James 4:11. TMK 184.1

If Satan can employ professed believers to act as accusers of the brethren, he is greatly pleased, for those who do this are just as truly serving him as was Judas when he betrayed Christ, although they may be doing it ignorantly.... TMK 184.2

Floating rumors are frequently the destroyers of unity among brethren. There are some who watch with open mind and ears to catch flying scandal. They gather up little incidents which may be trifling in themselves, but which are repeated and exaggerated until a man is made an offender for a word. Their motto seems to be, "Report, and we will report it." TMK 184.3

These talebearers are doing the devil's work with surprising fidelity, little knowing how offensive their course is to God. If they would spend half the energy and zeal that is given to this unholy work in examining their own hearts, they would find so much to do to cleanse their souls from impurity that they would have no time or disposition to criticize their brethren, and they would not fall under the power of this temptation. TMK 184.4

The door of the mind should be closed against, "they say" or "I have heard." Why should we not, instead of allowing jealousy or evil surmising to come into our hearts, go to our brethren, and, after frankly but kindly setting before them the things we have heard detrimental to their character and influence, pray with and for them? ... TMK 184.5

Let us diligently cultivate the pure principles of the gospel of Christ, the religion, not of self-esteem, but of love, meekness, and lowliness of heart. Then we shall love our brethren and esteem them better than ourselves. Our minds will not dwell on the dark side of their character; we shall not feast on scandal and flying reports. But "whatsoever things are ...of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise," we shall "think on these things" (Philippians 4:8). The Review and Herald, June 3, 1884. TMK 184.6

We see one going astray. What are we going to do? Cut him off from us and leave him in the hands of Satan? Or are we going to bring him into the hands of Christ, where we can pray for him and lead and guide him? What are we going to do? Build up the barriers between God and the soul? No, that is the devil's work, and we don't want to do his work; we want to do Christ's work, the work of the Spirit.... 9MR 59.3

"Even so it is not the will of your Father which is in heaven, that one of these little ones should perish" (Matthew 18:14). I know something of what I am talking. The objectionable characters are the very ones who are sick. They need your help, and for these very ones you should put forth extra effort. Do not cut the knot of difficulty by sending them where the devil wants them, but bind them with the cords of love—just where Christ did. Christ said in regard to Zacchaeus, that He came to save that which was lost—that which was hopeless in the eyes of others. The Pharisees found fault with Him, because He was so tender and merciful toward others, but here Christ has shown what He would do. What we want is to melt our hard hearts in pieces before God. 9MR 59.4

All this harshness—because I am in position of a teacher, I must rule, and you must come right to my ideas and under my control—that is not the way at all. It is not the way to present [yourself] before them. The right way is to do as God exhorts parents—bring them [children] up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord. How is that? We sit down and read to them from the Bible—I don't want to Speak to you my words, but let God speak to you. Let God speak to them out of His Word. Read to them with such tenderness that tears are in your voice. That is what you want to do. 9MR 60.1

TEV: There is no condemnation now for those who live in union with Christ Jesus. For the law of the Spirit, which brings us life in union with Christ Jesus, has set me free from the law of sin and death. What the Law could not do, because human nature was weak, God did. He condemned sin in human nature by sending his own Son, who came with a nature like our sinful nature, to do away with sin. God did this so that the righteous demands of the Law might be fully satisfied in us who live according to the Spirit, and not according to human nature. Those who live as their human nature tells them to, have their minds controlled by what human nature wants. Those who live as the Spirit tells them to, have their minds controlled by what the Spirit wants. To be controlled by human nature results in death; to be controlled by the Spirit results in life and peace. And so people become enemies of God when they are controlled by their human nature; for they do not obey God's law, and in fact they cannot obey it. Those who obey their human nature cannot please God.

But you do not live as your human nature tells you to; instead, you live as the Spirit tells you to—if, in fact, God's Spirit lives in you. Whoever does not have the Spirit of Christ does not belong to him. But if Christ lives in you, the Spirit is life for you because you have been put right with God, even though your bodies are going to die because of sin. If the Spirit of God, who raised Jesus from death, lives in you, then he who raised Christ from death will also give life to your mortal bodies by the presence of his Spirit in you.

So then, my friends, we have an obligation, but it is not to live as our human nature wants us to. For if you live according to your human nature, you are going to die; but if by the Spirit you put to death your sinful actions, you will live. Those who are led by God's Spirit are God's children. For the Spirit that God has given you does not make you slaves and cause you to be afraid; instead, the Spirit makes you God's children, and by the Spirit's power we cry out to God, "Father! my Father!" God's Spirit joins himself to our spirits to declare that we are God's children. Since we are his children, we will possess the blessings he keeps for his people, and we will also possess with Christ what God has kept for him; for if we share Christ's suffering, we will also share his glory.

How many times the word Spirit is present in Romans 8:1 - 17

TEV: 18x
NLT: 15x
KJV: 16x
NASB: 17x

Romans 8:1 - 17 (Phillips) "No condemnation now hangs over the head of those who are "in" Jesus Christ. For the new spiritual principle of life "in" Christ lifts me out of the old vicious circle of sin and death.

The Law never succeeded in producing righteousness—the failure was always the weakness of human nature. But God has met this by sending his own Son Jesus Christ to live in that human nature which causes the trouble. And, while Christ was actually taking upon himself the sins of men, God condemned that sinful nature. So that we are able to meet the Law's requirements, so long as we are living no longer by the dictates of our sinful nature, but in obedience to the promptings of the Spirit.

The carnal attitude sees no further than natural things. But the spiritual attitude reaches out after the things of the spirit. The former attitude means, bluntly, death: the latter means life and inward peace. And this is only to be expected, for the carnal attitude is inevitably opposed to the purpose of God, and neither can nor will follow his laws for living. Men who hold this attitude cannot possibly please God.

But you are not carnal but spiritual if the Spirit of God finds a home within you. You cannot, indeed, be a Christian at all unless you have something of his Spirit in you. Now if Christ does live within you his presence means that your sinful nature is dead, but your spirit becomes alive because of the righteousness he brings with him. I said that our nature is "dead" in the presence of Christ, and so it is, because of its sin. Nevertheless once the Spirit of him who raised Jesus from the dead lives within you he will, by that same Spirit, bring to your whole being new strength and vitality.

So then, my brothers, you can see that we have no particular reason to feel grateful to our sensual nature, or to live life on the level of the instincts. Indeed that way of living leads to certain spiritual death. But if on the other hand you cut the nerve of your instinctive actions by obeying the Spirit, you are on the way to real living.

All who follow the leading of God's Spirit are God's own sons. Nor are you meant to relapse into the old slavish attitude of fear—you have been adopted into the very family circle of God and you can say with a full heart, "Father, my Father". The Spirit himself endorses our inward conviction that we really are the children of God. Think what that means. If we are his children we share his treasures, and all that Christ claims as his will belong to all of us as well! Yes, if we share in his suffering we shall certainly share in his glory." SABBATH

What do you think of when you hear the title? Who are the children of the promise?

What promise?

Was it this?

And I will put enmity between you and the woman, and between your offspring and hers; he will crush your head, and you will strike his heel.” Gen 3:15 NIV84

If this was the promise then to whom was it promised? –a promise to Satan that he would not win and to all humanity that a Savior would win!

Was it this?

In your seed all the nations of the earth shall be blessed, because you have obeyed My voice.” Gen 22:18 NKJV

If this was the promise then to whom is the blessing promised? –to all humanity! So who are the children of the promise? All those who accept and participate in the promise!

Read Memory Text: “Therefore He has mercy on whom He wills, and whom He wills He hardens.”
Rom 9:18

What does this mean?

Is it similar to what many Muslims believe—fatalism—oh well it is God’s will, some He saves, some He kills, who are we to question?

Is it like Calvin—God predetermines some for salvation and some for destruction and who are we to question?

No, it is just the opposite in fact! Paul is arguing to racists and bigots who don’t want non-Jews to be saved, who believe only biological descendants of Abraham have been blessed by God that God wants to save everyone. So Paul is saying, who are you to argue with God—He can save any He chooses. Read Romans 9:6-8:

It is not as though God’s word had failed. For not all who are descended from Israel are Israel.
⁷ Nor because they are his descendants are they all Abraham’s children. On the contrary, “It is through Isaac that your offspring will be reckoned.” ⁸ In other words, it is not the natural children who are God’s children, but it is the children of the promise who are regarded as Abraham’s offspring.

God, after Adam and Eve sinned, immediately began His plan to save the human race and eliminate sin from His universe. The promise of the Messiah, of God’s healing grace, was for all the children of Adam and Eve. God never made the promise of salvation exclusive to a certain ethnic group.

In Romans 9:13 Paul quotes Malachi “Jacob I loved, but Esau I hated”, what does this mean?

Does God from His heart not love everyone? Did God not actually love Esau?

Is it talking about the feelings and attitude of God, or the function of love?

Can you love someone in your heart, but have that person close themselves off to you so that you are obstructed from showing them love, hindered in your ability to let your love flow into them, to actively love them?

Love is functional—thus Jacob received God’s love and was changed by God’s love and God was able to love Jacob, but while God had love in His heart for Esau, Esau did not trust God, open his heart to God and thus did not receive and experience God’s love. Thus God was not able to love Esau functionally—and I am sure God hated that. How many parents would hate it if your child would not allow you to love them?

SUNDAY

Read first paragraph, “God needed a missionary...” What was to be taught by Israel? The truth about God’s character of love, His methods, principles and design for life.

What happened that Israel failed to teach this and what did they teach instead?

They worshipped pagan gods—and what core features separate pagan gods from the true God? Would it be any of the following—as taught (not in actuality because we know in actuality pagan gods are not real so none of these would be true, so we are talking about what is taught about them versus the true God)?

- Power—are both the true God & pagan gods presented to have power?
- Creatorship—are both the true God and pagan gods said to be able to create?
- Life—are both said to have the ability to bring life?
- Just—are both said to bring justice?
- Protect—are both said to protect their followers?
- Bless—are both said to bless their followers?
- Heal—are both said to have the power to heal sickness?
- Punish sin—are both said to punish the disobedient?
- Fight evil—are both said to fight against evil?
- Die for followers—are both said to die while fighting evil?

Do you remember who Baal was? The son of El, creator god, who controlled weather, brought harvest, fought the great serpent Leviathan, fought Mot the god of death and died to rise again to bring us life.

What then is the core identifying feature that pagan gods hold that the true God does not—the point that separates them?

Pagan gods have imposed laws, rules, that require the pagan god to punish those who disobey and thus pagan gods require sacrifice and offerings be offered TO them in order to propitiate their wrath and secure their blessing!

When Jesus was born in Bethlehem were the Jews actively practicing open idolatry like that had in the past—Baal, Moloch, Ashtoreth and Dagon?

No! From all external appearances what were the Jews doing? Were they not keeping the script? But where they worshipping the true God or still practicing paganism?

Here is a historic quote from one of the founders of the SDA church, do you agree?

While God has desired to teach men that from His own love comes the Gift which reconciles them to Himself, the archenemy of mankind has endeavored to represent God as one who delights in their destruction. Thus the sacrifices and the ordinances designed of Heaven to reveal divine love have been perverted to serve as means whereby sinners have vainly hoped to propitiate, with gifts and good works, the wrath of an offended God. {PK 685.2}

Was this the problem that prevented the Jews from evangelizing the world?

Were the Jews, who carried out the Levitical law from the viewpoint of propitiating God worshipping the true God or were they practicing paganism?

What did Jesus tell the religious leaders to their face?

“You belong to your father, the devil, and you want to carry out your father’s desire.” John 8:44

What about Christianity today? Could Christianity be caught up in a similar form of idolatry—externally observing the proper rituals and behaviors, but holding to the imposed law construct with such a distorted view of God they are actually practicing paganism?

What is the essence of paganism? Worshipping wrathful, punishing God, who must be propitiated or appeased by an offering—including a human sacrifice.

How many Christians believe that God requires the blood of a sinless human sacrifice to propitiate His wrath so that He won't kill us for our sins?

Quotations from various sources cited in The God-Shaped Heart:

Roman Catholic theology:

What did Christ's suffering and death actually accomplish that allowed the Father to provide the human race with salvation? . . . Scripture teaches only that Christ became a “propitiation,” a “sin offering,” or a “sacrifice” for sins. . . . Essentially, this means that Christ, because he was guiltless, sin-free and in favor with God, could offer himself up as a means of persuading God to relent of his angry wrath against the sins of mankind. . . . Anger against sin shows the personal side of God, for sin is a personal offense against him. God is personally offended by sin and thus he needs to be personally appeased in order to offer a personal forgiveness. In keeping with his divine principles, his personal nature, and the magnitude of the sins of man, the only thing that God would allow to appease him was the suffering and death of the sinless representative of mankind, namely, Christ.¹

Evangelical theology:

We affirm that the atonement of Christ by which, in his obedience, he offered a perfect sacrifice, propitiating the Father by paying for our sins and satisfying divine justice on our behalf according to God's eternal plan, is an essential element of the Gospel.²

Pentecostal theology:

The word "propitiation" properly signifies the turning away of wrath by a sacrifice. Thus it signifies appeasement. . . . According to Leon Morris: "The consistent Bible view is that the sin of man has incurred the wrath of God. That wrath is averted only by Christ's atoning offering. From this standpoint his saving work is properly called propitiation."³

Seventh-day Adventist theology:

Leon Morris writes that if God's 'wrath is regarded as a very real factor so that the sinner is exposed to its severity, then the removal of the wrath will be an important part of our understanding of salvation.' Of course, 'if we diminish the part played by divine wrath we shall not find it necessary to think seriously of propitiation.' Thus Morris comments in another connection, 'if people are to be forgiven, then the fact of that wrath must be taken into consideration. It does not fade away by being given some other name or regarded as an impersonal process.' In other words, Gods' wrath must be propitiated or turned away from the sinner. That was one aim of Christ's self-sacrifice on the cross.⁴

This is paganism—modern day Baal worship, for which God prophesied through Malachi that before the great and terrible day of the Lord, the prophet Elijah must come again...

Here is another historic quote from one of the founders of the SDA church:

Thousands have a false conception of God and His attributes. They are as verily serving a false god as were the servants of Baal. Are we worshiping the true God as He is revealed in His Word, in Christ, in nature, [design law] or are we adoring some philosophical idol enshrined in His place? God is a God of truth. Justice and mercy are the attributes of His throne. He is a God of love, of pity and tender compassion. Thus He is represented in His Son, our Saviour. He is a God of patience and long-suffering. If such is the being whom we adore and to whose character we are seeking to assimilate, we are worshiping the true God. {FLB 59.8}

How is it that religious people come to worship a punishing god who requires sacrifice like this?

The root is they first believe the lie about God's law—that it functions like human law, imposed rules requiring imposed punishment. Once they believe that lie, then they cannot avoid drawing the pagan conclusions about God.

That is why we must come back to worship our Creator whose laws are design laws upon which reality is built to operate! This is the final message to the world—God is not like Satan has made Him out to be, but is our loving Father, Creator, and Healer!

And the Christian church, including the SDA church, is in many ways in the same position as the Jews 2000 years ago—believing in the Creator God, actively seeking to do His will, praying for the Advent of the Messiah—yet having the lie about God’s law so deeply imbedded few ever question it that instead of evangelizing the world with God’s true character of love, all the world wonders after the beastly view of God that comes from believing His law functions like human law—imposed rules that make God out to be the punisher.

MONDAY

Elected—what does the idea of election in the context of Bible salvation mean to you?

Here is one commentator’s take, from the book Conflict and Courage:

Esau and Jacob had alike been instructed in the knowledge of God, and both were free to walk in His commandments and to receive His favor; but they had not both chosen to do this. The two brothers had walked in different ways, and their paths would continue to diverge more and more widely. {CC 71.3}

There was no arbitrary choice on the part of God by which Esau was shut out from the blessings of salvation. The gifts of His grace through Christ are free to all. There is no election but one’s own by which any may perish. . . . Every soul is elected who will work out his own salvation with fear and trembling. He is elected who will put on the armor and fight the good fight of faith. He is elected who will watch unto prayer, who will search the Scriptures, and flee from temptation. He is elected who will have faith continually, and who will be obedient to every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God. The provisions of redemption are free to all; the results of redemption will be enjoyed by those who have complied with the conditions. {CC 71.4}

Do you agree or disagree? Do you see the design law components in this? God provides remedy, the solution, the cure; we must choose to partake, to participate. Why? It is the only way for our hearts, minds, characters to be changed while still retaining our unique individuality.

Read third paragraph, “In the end...” Salvation is absolutely freely available and offered to all—is that the same as our election? The lesson seems to suggest it—that all have been elected—I don’t quite see it this way. It seems to me salvation is offered to all but only those who elect to partake of it are elected. In other words, not all are elected, just those who exercise their power of choice and elect to accept and partake. Thus the elector of our salvation is ourselves, only possible because God has chosen to provide what is necessary for our salvation. Thoughts?

From the book Christian Education I read the following, what do you think about election from this passage—does it add to how we make our election sure?

He is a Christian who aims to reach the highest attainments for the purpose of doing others good. Knowledge harmoniously blended with a Christlike character will make a person truly a light to the world. God works with human efforts. All those who give all diligence to make their calling and election sure, will feel that a superficial knowledge will not fit them for positions of usefulness. Education balanced by a solid religious experience, fits the child of God to do his appointed work steadily, firmly, understandingly. If one is learning of Jesus, the greatest educator the world ever knew, he will not only have a symmetrical Christian character, but a mind trained to effectual labor. Minds that are quick to discern will go deep beneath the surface. {CE 51.1}

Has your Christian experience been to strengthen your mind, to improve your ability to think discern, understand God and His methods, to be what Jesus said to His disciples, not a slave, but an understanding friend? Jn 15:15

Read memory text, ““For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways,” declares the Lord. ⁹ “As the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways and my thoughts than your thoughts.”

Can you give example of how God’s ways are higher than our ways?

“You have heard that it was said, ‘Love your neighbor and hate your enemy.’ ⁴⁴ But I tell you: Love your enemies and pray for those who persecute you, ⁴⁵ that you may be sons of your Father in heaven. He causes his sun to rise on the evil and the good, and sends rain on the righteous and the unrighteous. Mt 5:43-45

What do you hear? Do you hear God’s design law, the principles of love? Notice what example Jesus gave after He said to love our enemies—sun and rain, which are physical examples of giving without discrimination—the law of love in action.

What kinds of laws to humans make? Imposed—but God’s laws are higher; they are the protocols reality is built upon.

Yet, many Christians teach God’s law functions no different than ours—which is the infection of thought contaminating the world.

What about justice—what is God’s justice? Based on design law, healing, delivering, restoring!

What is human justice—based on imposed law? Inflicting punishment.

Which version of justice is the common view taught in Christianity? Again, we see how the lie has infected the church.

Other examples?

How do we understand the passage about hardening Pharaoh's heart?

Bible Description #1 - God hardening Pharaoh's heart

- But I will harden Pharaoh's heart, and though I multiply my miraculous signs and wonders in Egypt, he will not listen to you. Then I will lay my hand on Egypt and with mighty acts of judgment I will bring out my divisions, my people the Israelites. Ex 7:3,4
- But the Lord hardened Pharaoh's heart and he would not listen to Moses and Aaron, just as the Lord had said to Moses. Ex 9:12

Bible Description #2 – Pharaoh's heart became hard

- Yet Pharaoh's heart became hard and he would not listen to them, just as the Lord had said. Ex 7:13
- Then the Lord said to Moses, "Pharaoh's heart is unyielding; he refuses to let the people go. Ex 7:14
- But the Egyptian magicians did the same things by their secret arts, and Pharaoh's heart became hard; he would not listen to Moses and Aaron, just as the Lord had said. Ex 7:22

Bible Description #3 – Pharaoh hardened his own heart

- But when Pharaoh saw that there was relief, he hardened his heart and would not listen to Moses and Aaron, just as the Lord had said. Exodus 8:15
- But this time also Pharaoh hardened his heart and would not let the people go. Ex 8:32
- When Pharaoh saw that the rain and hail and thunder had stopped, he sinned again: He and his officials hardened their hearts. So Pharaoh's heart was hard and he would not let the Israelites go, just as the Lord had said through Moses. Ex 9:34,35

We gain insight from another story in Scripture, what transpired after the Philistines captured the Ark of the Covenant in battle. They took the ark into the temple of their god Dagon.

Initially, Dagon was found on his face in front of the ark – and what did the Philistines do? They ignored the evidence and put Dagon back on his pedestal in front of the ark.

The next day Dagon is found on his face in front of the ark but this time his hands and head were broken off. What did the people do? They again ignored the evidence and made the spot where the broken hands and head of Dagon were found a holy place.

Then the people developed tumors which they could not ignore so they called a counsel to try and decide what to do, notice the discussion:

- The Philistines asked, “What guilt offering should we send to him?” They replied, “Five gold tumors and five gold rats, according to the number of the Philistine rulers, because the same plague has struck both you and your rulers. Make models of the tumors and of the rats that are destroying the country, and pay honor to Israel’s god. Perhaps he will lift his hand from you and your gods and your land. Why do you harden your hearts as the Egyptians and Pharaoh did? When he treated them harshly, did they not send the Israelites out so they could go on their way? 1Sam 6:4-6

The wise men asked, “Why do you harden your hearts as the Egyptians and Pharaoh did?” What were the Philistines doing? What did God do? How did this result in hardening of hearts? What is similar to what happened in Egypt?

God provided evidence exposing the impotence of the Egyptian and Philistine gods. Each of the 10 plagues that fell on Egypt demonstrated the powerlessness of the gods of Egypt. Dagon prostrated in front of the ark and then having his hands and head broken off demonstrated his powerlessness.

God was acting in both these countries to demonstrate He is the only true God, that the gods they worshiped were not God. God was responsible for presenting the evidence, but then God left Pharaoh and the Philistines free to decide how they would respond to the evidence. Would they repent and humble themselves before the Lord or would they reject the truth and thereby harden their heart?

God’s role in Egypt was to present the truth to which Pharaoh had to decide how he would respond. If no truth had been presented to Pharaoh his heart would not have hardened against God as it did, but when truth is presented and we reject it the rejection of truth results in hardening of the heart.

So why did God present truth to Pharaoh when He, in His foreknowledge, knew Pharaoh would reject it and experience a hardened heart? Even though Pharaoh was going to reject the truth, God knew it is only by the presentation of truth that sinners can be set free (John 8:32). God would not deny Pharaoh the opportunity to be freed from sin. God would not deny Pharaoh the opportunity to be saved. Therefore God presented truth to Pharaoh in order to reach his heart and save him—but Pharaoh rejected it and hardened himself.

Do we see the beautiful harmony to all the Scripture that we get when we apply design law instead of imposed law?

read last paragraph, “The crucial point...” This is well said, and why we advocate never arriving at the truth, but being a lover of truth who is willing to grow, advance and move forward in understanding as more truth is revealed.

The lesson talks about becoming people of God—who are the people of God today?

Would this describe them? “Then the dragon was enraged at the woman and went off to make war against the rest of her offspring—those who obey God’s commandments and hold to the testimony of Jesus.” Rev 12:17

So who is this group that Satan hates? What does it mean to obey God’s commandments?

Did the Jews 2000 years ago, who crucified Christ, want Him off by sunset to keep the Sabbath?

So is keeping the commandments the same as keeping the Sabbath?

No! This refers to those who have the law written on their hearts, such that they love God and others more than self. They live in harmony with God’s law of love, they live truth, love and practice freedom. This is true Sabbath keeping.

What about the testimony of Jesus?

This group not only has had their hearts renewed so they live in harmony with God’s design laws of truth, love and freedom but they also give the same testimony about God that Jesus gave. Jesus said: “If you seen me you’ve seen the Father” If we are not presenting God in the exact same light as Jesus presented Him, then we are not giving the testimony of Jesus!

Those who teach the Sabbath as an arbitrary test, or that God will punish if not given the blood offering of a sinless being—are not members of this group end time people of God.

THURSDAY

Read top dark section, “What shall we say then...” What was the mistake of Israel? They refused to believe the truth about God and actually trust Him!

- Did the Jews become atheists?
- Did the Jews reject Scripture?
- Did the Jews reject the Sabbath?
- Did the Jews reject church attendance?

What about today? Are we making the same mistake? Is it not the same as them, that we have rejected the truth about God and His character and designs of love?

From The Remedy Hebrews 4:1-8:

¹ Therefore, since the Remedy is still available, and the promise of complete healing and perfect rest still stands, let us be careful that none of us be found to have rejected it.² For we also have had the good news of God's healing truth presented to us just as they did; but the message of truth had no value to them because they did not believe it nor did they trust the one who gave it.³ But we, who have trusted God on the basis of the truth Christ provided, experience healing and enter that rest, and our minds are at peace. As God has said, "So I granted them their persistent choice and said, 'Since they refuse the truth—the Remedy I freely offer—they will never be able to enter my rest and get well.'" It was not because God's perfect rest was not available—for it had been ready since his work of creation was complete—⁴ as the Scriptures say elsewhere regarding the seventh day: "And on the seventh day, God rested his case. He had finished all his work of providing the evidence needed to refute the lies of Satan."⁵ And yet in another passage he says, "If they refuse the truth, if they reject the evidence I have provided, their minds will never find rest and they will not get well."

⁶ The opportunity to find God's healing and rest still remains, even though those who formerly had the good news of God's healing truth presented to them did not get well or find rest because they refused to believe the truth and trust God.⁷ Therefore God again and again presents his healing Remedy, and he set a certain day which he called "today," when much later he spoke through David in the same Scripture as before: "Today, if you hear his voice offering healing and restoration, do not reject the true Remedy and darken your minds."

⁸ For if Joshua had already given them healing of character and rest for their minds, God would not have spoken later about another day of rest still to come.⁹ There remains then a Sabbath-rest—a rest in the evidence and truth of the character of God—which heals and transforms the people of God;¹⁰ for anyone who rests in the achievements of Christ rests from working to save themselves, just as God rested from his work.¹¹ Let us therefore make every effort to rest in the truth about God as revealed by Christ, so that no one will fall by following the example of distrust and refusal to accept the truth.

SABBATH

Read memory text: “I say then, Hath God cast away his people? God forbid. For I also am an Israelite, of the seed of Abraham, of the tribe of Benjamin.” Rom 11:1

What does this mean?

Read first two paragraphs: “This week’s lesson...” I think this is a very good summary—excellent!

Is anyone excluded from heaven because of nationality, race, and ethnic group?

Is anyone included in salvation because of nationality, race, and ethnic group?

Do you agree that God has not rejected any group of people from salvation?

Does that mean that there is a group of people are included in salvation just because of some ethnic or genetic factor?

If God has not rejected any persons from salvation because of race or genetics, does that mean He has not been rejected them for some mission?

Can God call a person or a group to a mission, and then, based on their refusal to fulfill His calling, reject them for that mission and call another?

Did God call King Saul to be the first king of Israel? Did God not only reject King Saul but his entire family for that mission and choose another?

Does that mean that Saul's children were rejected from salvation?

What about the Jews as a people?

Were they called, by God, for mission? What mission? To evangelize the world with the truth about God to prepare the world to accept Jesus as their Savior.

Did they fulfill that mission?

Are they rejected from salvation? No!

Are they rejected, as a nation, as a exclusive group from being God's agency on earth to reveal the truth about God's kingdom? Yes!

According to the Bible, does the ethnic group, biological descendants of Israel, as a nation, have an end-time corporate role to play in God's plan?

Most Christian denominations say yes—the SDA church says no!

What is the underlying difference between these two views and which do you believe is most consistent with Scripture and God's character and design laws.

First, what is the basis of salvation? Jesus Christ!

Is salvation different for Jews than non-Jews?

Do Jews have a different avenue for salvation than the rest of the world?

What about mission, does God force people to fulfill mission against their will?

So why do so many Christians think that biological Jews have some special role in God's end time plan?

Because they have accepted two false premises: 1) that being a Jew today is determined by genetics and 2) that the promises of God in the Old Testament times to genetic Israel were without any conditions on their part.

Consider salvation—Did God promise to Adam and Eve and all their descendants to provide a Savior? Does that mean all people will be saved? Why not? Because while God promised a Savior to provide salvation freely to all, the promise of salvation is upon the condition of willing acceptance, trust, and participation in God's plan. Therefore, not everyone will be saved, despite God's promise to provide a Savior.

Likewise, for Israel, God made promises that were conditional on their participation and cooperation. And just like with salvation, Israel when it refused to participate and rejected Jesus, for them as a nation, the promises are not realized.

So, the first premise, that a Jew today is determined by genetics—the Bible proves this false:

Rom 2:28 A man is not a Jew if he is only one outwardly, nor is circumcision merely outward and physical. ²⁹ No, a man is a Jew if he is one inwardly; and circumcision is circumcision of the heart, by the Spirit, not by the written code. Such a man's praise is not from men, but from God...

^{3:9} What shall we conclude then? Are we [biological Jews] any better? Not at all! We have already made the charge that Jews and Gentiles alike are all under sin. ¹⁰ As it is written: "There is no one righteous, not even one; ¹¹ there is no one who understands, no one who seeks God..."

There is no difference, ²³ for all have sinned and fall short of the glory of God, ²⁴ and are justified freely by his grace through the redemption that came by Christ Jesus...

²⁸ For we maintain that a man is justified by faith apart from observing the law. ²⁹ Is God the God of Jews only? Is he not the God of Gentiles too? Yes, of Gentiles too, ³⁰ since there is only one God, who will justify the circumcised by faith and the uncircumcised through that same faith. ³¹ Do we, then, nullify the law by this faith? Not at all! Rather, we uphold the law.

As the Scripture says, "Anyone who trusts in him will never be put to shame." ¹² For there is no difference between Jew and Gentile—the same Lord is Lord of all and richly blesses all who call on him... Rom 10:11,12

"Abraham believed God, and because of his faith God accepted him as righteous." ¹⁰ When did this take place? Was it before or after Abraham was circumcised? It was before, not after. He was circumcised later, and his circumcision was a sign to show that because of his faith God had accepted him as righteous before he had been circumcised. And so Abraham is the spiritual father of all who believe in God and are accepted as righteous by him, even though they are not circumcised. ¹²He is also the father of those who are circumcised, that is, of those who, in addition to being circumcised, also live the same life of faith that our father Abraham lived before he was circumcised. Rom 4:9-12

Who, according to Scripture, are considered descendants of Abraham—Jews or Israel? Those who have faith like Abraham and whose hearts have been changed—in other words, born again Christians!

So the first premise that those who believe genetic descendants of Israel have some special access, role, place in salvation is proved false.

The second premise is that the promises God made in OT times to Israel will be fulfilled to genetic Israel regardless of their response, in other words, the promises were without any conditions.

Several problems with that premise—first it would suggest God didn't see the future and didn't know that the Israelites would reject Him.

Second, it would preclude God from replacing biological children with spiritual children, those who are like Abraham in character to fulfill His promises through them.

Third, it denies Scripture:

If at any time I announce that a nation or kingdom is to be uprooted, torn down and destroyed, ⁸and if that nation I warned repents of its evil, then I will relent and not inflict on it the disaster I had planned. ⁹And if at another time I announce that a nation or kingdom is to be built up and planted, ¹⁰and if it does evil in my sight and does not obey me, then I will reconsider the good I had intended to do for it. Jer 18:7-10

"O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, you who kill the prophets and stone those sent to you, how often I have longed to gather your children together, as a hen gathers her chicks under her wings, but you were not willing. ³⁸Look, your house is left to you desolate. Mt 23:37,38

From one of the founders of the SDA church in the book Prophets and Kings:

In proclaiming the truths of the everlasting gospel to every nation, kindred, tongue, and people, God's church on earth today is fulfilling the ancient prophecy, "Israel shall blossom and bud, and fill the face of the world with fruit." Isaiah 27:6. The followers of Jesus, in co-operation with heavenly intelligences, are rapidly occupying the waste places of the earth; and, as the result of their labors, an abundant fruitage of precious souls is developing. Today, as never before, the dissemination of Bible truth by means of a consecrated church is bringing to the sons of men the benefits foreshadowed centuries ago in the promise to Abraham and to all Israel,--to God's church on earth in every age,--"I will bless thee, . . . and thou shalt be a blessing." Genesis 12:2. {PK 703.1}

This promise of blessing should have met fulfillment in large measure during the centuries following the return of the Israelites from the lands of their captivity. It was God's design that the whole earth be prepared for the first advent of Christ, even as today the way is preparing for His second coming. At the end of the years of humiliating exile, God graciously gave to His people Israel, through Zechariah, the assurance: "I am returned unto Zion, and will dwell in the midst of Jerusalem: and Jerusalem shall be called a city of truth; and the mountain of the Lord of hosts the holy mountain." And of His people He said, "Behold, . . . I will be their God, in truth and in righteousness." Zechariah 8:3, 7, 8. {PK 703.2}

These promises were conditional on obedience. The sins that had characterized the Israelites prior to the captivity, were not to be repeated. "Execute true judgment," the Lord exhorted those who were engaged in rebuilding; "and show mercy and compassions every man to his brother: and oppress not the widow, nor the fatherless, the stranger, nor the poor; and let none of you imagine evil against his brother." "Speak ye every man the truth to his neighbor; execute the judgment of truth and peace in your gates." Zechariah 7:9, 10; 8:16. {PK 704.1}

Once we replace the false premises with the truth we realize that the Jews are in the same boat as the Gentiles—sinners saved by grace through faith in Jesus. And thus we want to reach every human being on the planet with the same message of truth, love, freedom found in Jesus Christ.

There is no place in the Christian world for discrimination based on race, nationality, ethnic group and I will throw in—gender.

Do you agree?

Then why in the SDA church, do we have one division of the world church, and only one division, the NAD, with conferences segregated by race?

Can you make a Bible case for segregation of Christians by race? No! Absolutely not! Then why has the SDA church done this?

Because the SDA church was founded in North America in 1863 and wanted to evangelize all people regardless of race, and the US was in the middle of the Civil War, which had slavery as a core issue. There was huge prejudice in the hearts and minds of whites in America—particularly the southern states. What would have happened if the church had tried to integrate the churches then? What would have happened if a black preacher tried to preach in a white church? Would such practices, in that environment, have advanced the gospel? No! So the church, due to the hard hearts of people in the culture, made segregated conferences NOT to separate people, but because people were already separated by race and the church needed two avenues one for the whites and one for the blacks, in order to reach ALL people with the gospel.

Does this make sense?

Now you understand exactly what the Apostles were doing in the New Testament times in regard to women's roles in the church—they were meeting people where they were. Humans in that culture had bias and bigotry in their hearts, women were not viewed as equal in moral worth, mental ability or strength of character and the Apostles were setting guidelines to enhance the advancement of the gospel, not articulating God's ideal for women in the church.

Today, should we continue to promote separate conferences based on race? Should we continue to discriminate against women in church leadership?

It is all determined by the condition of hearts: The more Christlike, the more love, the more restoration to righteousness the more equality and unity

You are all sons of God through faith in Christ Jesus,²⁷ for all of you who were baptized into Christ have clothed yourselves with Christ.²⁸ There is neither Jew nor Greek, slave nor free, male nor female, for you are all one in Christ Jesus.²⁹ If you belong to Christ, then you are Abraham's seed, and heirs according to the promise. Gal 3:26-29

But the harder the heart, the more selfish, fearful and controlling, then the more bias, prejudice, and bigotry and thus the need for the segregation and discrimination based on race and gender.

SUNDAY

Read first paragraph, "Legalism can come in many forms..." The lesson is right when it says "Legalism can come in many forms."

The most common form of legalism is the penal/legal theology, that God was legally required to send Jesus to pay our legal debt, that we then claim as our legal payment and we get legal adjustment in our heavenly record book, so when our names come up in the judgment we get legal pardon.

This is legalism—it is not the plan of salvation—the plan of salvation is the plan to restore you to God's original design for human beings—to restore God's image in you!

Read Romans 10:1-4:

Brothers, my heart's desire and prayer to God for the Israelites is that they may be saved.² For I can testify about them that they are zealous for God, but their zeal is not based on knowledge.³ Since they did not know the righteousness that comes from God and sought to establish their own, they did not submit to God's righteousness.⁴ Christ is the end of the law so that there may be righteousness for everyone who believes. NIV84

Read third paragraph, “Even if one includes in the definition...” What does it mean Christ is the end of the law?

It simply means that Christ completely restored God’s design back into the human species, restored the law of love as the perfect operating system.

Here is Romans 10:1-4 from The Remedy:

Brothers and sisters, my heart's great desire and constant request to God is that the Israelites—the genetic descendants of Abraham—will accept the truth and be healed.²I can assure you from my own experience that they are zealous to serve God, but their zeal is based on the wrong concept of God, as they don't really know him.³And because they do not know him—his goodness, mercy, forgiveness, kindness, love, and his free gift of healing and restoration—they have sought to please him by working to create their own cure, and thus have refused God's free Remedy.⁴In Christ, God’s design (law) is complete, so that there may be perfection of character and healing of mind and heart for all who trust him.

MONDAY

Read Romans 11:1-7, and the lesson asks “What common teaching does this passage deny clearly and irrevocably?” From The Remedy:

I ask then: Did God reject the people whom he chose as his helpers in revealing his plan of saving the world? Absolutely not! I am an Israelite myself—a genetic descendant of Abraham, from the tribe of Benjamin.²God did not reject the people he chose as his helpers in revealing his plan, but he foreknew that only some would trust him. Don't you realize what the Scripture says about Elijah—that he thought he was the only one left in all Israel loyal to God? He said to the Lord:³"Lord, they have killed all your prophets and representatives, and torn down all your altars; I am the only one left loyal to you, and they are trying to kill me!"⁴And what did God tell him? "There are seven thousand who remain loyal to me and have not bowed the knee to Baal."⁵So too, at the present time—even though the officials of Israel have rejected God's healing plan, even though the majority of the people he chose as his helpers to reveal his healing plan have rejected it—there remains a remnant of Abraham's descendants who have accepted the truth about God and his gracious Remedy, and who have been restored to trust.⁶And if they have been restored to trust through God’s grace, then it is no longer by some work or effort to earn favor with God; if it were, then God’s graciousness would not be gracious at all.

⁷What, then, does this mean? That Israel as a nation did not achieve the reunification with God they sought, except for a few individuals. What Israel sought to earn by working to induce God to be gracious, actually caused them to misunderstand God, become self-sufficient and arrogant, and fail in obtaining restoration with God. But those who trusted God, based on the truth as revealed in Jesus, obtained God's gracious gift of healing and restoration. The others, instead of being healed and restored, were hardened,"

What is the message? Did God reject Jewish people from being saved? No! Did the Jewish nation reject the calling and purpose God had for them? Yes! Did many reject God's method of salvation and substitute their own? And what is the result of that? Hardening of heart—why? If you reject the only true remedy of a terminal condition and take a false remedy what happens?

What about Christianity today—are Christians vulnerable to the same problem, claiming to accept salvation as provided by Jesus, but instead substituting their own? Yes!

The lesson asks us to read Romans 11:7-10, from the NIV84:

What then? What Israel sought so earnestly it did not obtain, but the elect did. The others were hardened, ⁸ as it is written:

“God gave them a spirit of stupor, eyes so that they could not see and ears so that they could not hear, to this very day.”

⁹ And David says:

“May their table become a snare and a trap,
a stumbling block and a retribution for them.
¹⁰ May their eyes be darkened so they cannot see,
and their backs be bent forever.”

The lesson asks: “Does God blind people's eyes to prevent them from seeing light that would lead them to salvation?”

What do these passages mean?

Do you understand them through imposed law, i.e. God making it happen, or through design law, God's laws are the parameters upon which reality operate and thus if you make certain choices then predictable outcomes occur?

From The Remedy:

⁷What, then, does this mean? That Israel as a nation did not achieve the reunification with God they sought, except for a few individuals. What Israel sought to earn by working to induce God to be gracious, actually caused them to misunderstand God, become self-sufficient and arrogant, and fail in obtaining restoration with God. But those who trusted God, based on the truth as revealed in Jesus, obtained God's gracious gift of healing and restoration. The others, instead of being healed and restored, were hardened,⁸ as it is written: "When they rejected truth, God gave them over to a dull mind: eyes trained to no longer recognize truth and ears tuned to no longer hear truth; and this goes on to this very day."

⁹And David says: "May what they rely on for strength and sustenance be revealed as a snare and a trap, the actual cause of their stumbling and the source of their pain."

¹⁰"May the result of their rejection of truth damage their minds so they can no longer comprehend; may their characters be so twisted by persistent rebellion that they will not reform."

So why is so much of Scripture worded like God is doing it?

When your child is small do you set rules for them to brush their teeth, or not play in the street? Why?

- And what do you tell small children will happen if they fail to obey, i.e. don't brush their teeth or go out into the street?
- Do you threaten some consequence, time out, spanking, something that you will bring to bear upon them?
- Is your punishment the real problem with their disobedience? No!
- The real problem is breaking design laws that result in injury and even destruction to them.
- But, in their immaturity they cannot comprehend the real reason for brushing or not playing in the street, so you as a parent, stand in as the source of inflicted pain and suffering. You take onto you and your reputation the burden of being seen as an inflictor of punishment, as the source of the pain—you risk your children being afraid of you. Why do you do this?
- This is exactly what God did in OT times when the OT describes over and over again God threatening or taking responsibility for punishing them for their sins, and that is also what is happening in this passage.
- When we grow up to see God's law in its true light, we are like children who have realized the real reason to brush and not play in the street and we have a new perspective of love and appreciation for our parents who stood in the gap of our ignorance to protect us. This is how it is rendered in The Remedy.

TUESDAY

The lesson asks us to read Romans 11:11-15, from the NIV84:

¹¹ Again I ask: Did they stumble so as to fall beyond recovery? Not at all! Rather, because of their transgression, salvation has come to the Gentiles to make Israel envious. ¹² But if their transgression means riches for the world, and their loss means riches for the Gentiles, how much greater riches will their fullness bring!

¹³ I am talking to you Gentiles. Inasmuch as I am the apostle to the Gentiles, I make much of my ministry ¹⁴ in the hope that I may somehow arouse my own people to envy and save some of them.

¹⁵ For if their rejection is the reconciliation of the world, what will their acceptance be but life from the dead?

Then the lesson asks, “What great hope does Paul present in this passage?” How do you understand this? What is the meaning?

What was God’s plan? What was God trying to accomplish? So what is Paul saying?

From The Remedy:

¹¹ So, again I ask: Did they stumble and fall so low that they are beyond recovery? Absolutely not! Rather, because of their transgression, the privilege of joining God’s spiritual health-care team has come to the Gentiles—in order to inspire the descendants of Abraham to accept God’s healing and rejoin his team. ¹² But if their failure to fulfill the mission God assigned them means riches and opportunity for the rest of the world, and their lost position means that their mission was given to the Gentiles, how much greater will the richness of love and grace be if they accept the truth and fulfill their mission!

¹³ I am talking to you, Gentiles: I am the apostle to the Gentiles, and I take my responsibility to you seriously. ¹⁴ I hope that by leading you to trust God—and thus to experience the healing, love, peace and joy that reconciliation with God brings—I may somehow arouse my own people with a desire for this same experience, and maybe some of them will respond and be saved. ¹⁵ For even though they rejected the truth that brings trust, reconciliation and life eternal, this healing truth was still revealed to the world. What would have happened if they had accepted the truth? -An unbelievably powerful revelation of God's character, methods and principles seen in action would have transformed the entire world!

The lesson asks us to read Romans 11:16-24, from The Remedy:

If the ingredients used to make the loaf are untainted and pure, then the entire loaf will be perfect and healthy. If the roots of the tree are pure and unpolluted, then every branch and all the fruit will be perfect and healthy.

¹⁷ If some of the branches have broken off from the vine, and you—though not natural to the vine—have been grafted in and now share the nourishment from the root, ¹⁸ don't feel that you are somehow superior to the branches that have broken off. If you do, remember this: The root does not draw sustenance from you, but you are nourished by the root. ¹⁹ You might try to argue, "But we must be something special, because the natural branches were broken off to make room for us." ²⁰ Don't be ridiculous. They broke away because they did not trust, and you were grafted in because you did trust. Don't be conceited, but be afraid of conceit or pride, or anything that will undermine your abiding trust in God. ²¹ For if God did not stop the natural branches from distrusting and breaking away, he will not restrict your freedom to break away

²²Consider how kind and gracious, and how true and consistent God is. He is true and consistent to the principles of love and freedom, and forces no one to remain connected to him, but allows those who choose to break away to do so if they insist. He is kind and gracious to you, allowing you to abide in his goodness. But if you choose to break away, you too will be permitted to sever your connection with him.²³ And if those who have broken away have a change of heart and again trust God, they will be reconnected to him, for God is able to heal them if they let him.²⁴ After all, if you—who were not originally attached to the vine—were successfully grafted in, isn't it a lot easier to reattach branches that were once part of the parent plant?

What is the message Paul is trying to share? What do you hear? Is this a legal process, or is it design law, how life is built, being connected to the source of life, having that original source of life flow into you and heal and transform you?

Read Romans 11:25-27, from NIV84:

I do not want you to be ignorant of this mystery, brothers, so that you may not be conceited: Israel has experienced a hardening in part until the full number of the Gentiles has come in. ²⁶ And so all Israel will be saved, as it is written:

“The deliverer will come from Zion; he will turn godlessness away from Jacob. ²⁷ And this is my covenant with them when I take away their sins.”

What does this mean?

Read first paragraph, “Christians have been discussing...” Is Paul referring to saving genetic Jews or to something else?

From the SDA Bible commentary on this verse:

mustērion, in classical Greek meaning “a hidden thing,” “a secret,”... Among the pagans mustērion, usually in the plural mustēria, was used for secrets or secret doctrines, to be made known only to those who had been specially initiated. It was the technical term for their secret rites and celebrations, and also for the mystic implements and ornaments they used in their ceremonies...

In the NT, mustērion refers to something that God wills to make known to those who are willing to receive His revelation, rather than to something that He desires to keep secret. Throughout Paul's writings the word carries the meaning of something which, though incapable of being fully understood by unassisted human reason, has now been made known by divine revelation (see ch. 16:25, 26; etc.)...

Paul regarded it as his mission to make known the mystery “which was kept secret since the world began” (Rom. 16:25; cf. 1 Cor. 2:7; Eph. 3:3, 4). God’s eternal purpose to redeem man in Christ has now been declared in Christianity. Thus Paul describes the whole Christian revelation as a mystery (Rom. 16:25; 1 Cor. 2:7–10; Eph. 1:9; 6:19; Col. 1:26; 2:2; 1 Tim. 3:9). He applies the term to the incarnation of Christ (1 Tim. 3:16), to the union of Christ and His church as typified by marriage (Eph. 5:32), to the transformation of the saints at the second coming (1 Cor. 15:51), to the opposition of Antichrist (2 Thess. 2:7), and especially to the admission of the Gentiles to the kingdom of Christ (Rom. 16:25, 26; Eph. 3:1–6; Col. 1:26, 27).

The mystery that Paul is now declaring is the purpose of God to save both Jews and Gentiles in His kingdom...¹

Read last paragraph, “There is a mighty...” Is this describing national identity or individual salvation?

THURSDAY

Read first paragraph, “Paul’s love...” Many of us have experienced this pain, from all over the world we get stories of people who have tried to share this picture of God’s character of love being told by their church family that they are not welcome.

How do we respond? What is a healthy way to understand such rejection?

From the abundance of the heart the mouth speaks....

Read third paragraph, “No doubt...” What do you say if while witnesses about Jesus to a Jew the Jewish person says, “I have one question for you...Is Martin Luther your brother?” I was listening to Christian radio when a man said this was the exact question a Jewish professor asked him when he tried to share Jesus as Savior with him.

What would you say to that professor?

Before you answer, from "Luther, Martin", JewishEncyclopedia.com; cf. Luther's Works, American Edition, 55 vols., (St. Louis and Philadelphia: Concordia Publishing House and Fortress Press, 1955–86) 47:267.

"What shall we Christians do with this rejected and condemned people, the Jews"

¹ Nichol, F. D. (Ed.). (1980). The Seventh-day Adventist Bible Commentary (Vol. 6, pp. 610–611). Review and Herald Publishing Association.

- "First, to set fire to their synagogues or schools ... This is to be done in honor of our Lord and of Christendom, so that God might see that we are Christians ..."
- "Second, I advise that their houses also be razed and destroyed."
- "Third, I advise that all their prayer books and Talmudic writings, in which such idolatry, lies, cursing, and blasphemy are taught, be taken from them."
- "Fourth, I advise that their rabbis be forbidden to teach henceforth on pain of loss of life and limb ..."
- "Fifth, I advise that safe-conduct on the highways be abolished completely for the Jews. For they have no business in the countryside ..."
- "Sixth, I advise that usury be prohibited to them, and that all cash and treasure of silver and gold be taken from them ..."
- "Seventh, I recommend putting a flail, an ax, a hoe, a spade, a distaff, or a spindle into the hands of young, strong Jews and Jewesses and letting them earn their bread in the sweat of their brow ... But if we are afraid that they might harm us or our wives, children, servants, cattle, etc., ... then let us emulate the common sense of other nations such as France, Spain, Bohemia, etc., ... then eject them forever from the country ..."

So, what do you say if a Jew asks you as a Christian if Martin Luther was your brother?

Do you say, "A very sick and twisted brother in need of much healing and transformation?"

Do you say, "Martin Luther is not my Savior, the Jewish teacher Jesus Christ is!"?

Do you say, "Martin Luther failed to represent Jesus, Jesus is the standard, Martin Luther was a sinner in need of much heart change before he could rightly represent Jesus."

Do you realize, that the person who wrote these things is also the one who came up with Penal Substitution Theology? Can you hear in Luther's words regarding the Jews an authoritarian, imperial mindset that uses coercion and rejects the law of liberty? Can you see why such a mind would create a penal/legal salvation model? Yet, it is all infected with the lie that God's law functions like our laws and ultimately promotes a false picture of God, who would celebrate the horrors Luther encouraged Christians to perpetrate upon the Jews.

When we substitute the law of love for imposed human law we exchange worshipping the Creator God for an imperial dictator and then we become like that beastly god? Just look at what Christians have done who believe in that type of a god.

SABBATH

What is evil? How do you describe or define it?

Common definitions include:

- depravity
- immorality
- the opposite of that which is good
- malevolence

I have heard it reported that in every society of the world, ever culture, evil is defined as exploiting or hurting others.

Do you agree?

If exploiting or hurting another person is evil—then from where does this idea that exploiting another is evil come? If there is no higher power, if we evolved from lower life forms, if it is a virtue and desirable to survive by killing those who would compete with us for food, water, shelter, reproductive outlets—then why does every culture in the world recognize that to exploit or harm others is evil?

Because the evolutionary origin of life theory is a lie—and survival of the fittest is an infection to God’s design which is driven by fear and selfishness—which is the root of evil.

So, how do we overcome evil with good?

Where must the warfare with evil start? In our own hearts and minds.

Do you agree that every human, including you and me, are infected with desires and drives that are evil—fear and selfishness.

How do we overcome evil with good in our own lives?

Read memory text: “Do not conform any longer to the pattern of this world, but be transformed by the renewing of your mind. Then you will be able to test and approve what God’s will is—his good, pleasing and perfect will.” (Rom 12:2 NIV84)

Let’s break the memory verse down:

- Do not conform any longer to the pattern of this world
 - What is the pattern of this world?
 - Survival of the fittest? Me first?
 - Power, greed, exploitation?
 - What law system is the pattern of this world?
 - Would this admonition, to not be like the world, include for us to not teach that God’s law and government function like the governments of the world—imposed law with imposed punishments?
 - What happens if we continue to pattern ourselves like the world?
 - Can our minds be renewed if we teach that God’s methods are like the methods of the world? Why or why not?
 - Romans 1—exchanging the truth of God for a lie causes the mind to become depraved, futile and darkened—this is what has happened wherever the truth about God has been replaced by a lie—including the penal substitution lie!
- Be transformed by the renewing of your mind
 - How is our mind renewed?
 - By beholding we are changed (law of worship—design law)
 - Fix our eyes on Christ the author and finisher of our faith
 - Can our minds be renewed by our own strength, ability, knowledge and effort separate from Jesus and the Holy Spirit?
 - Can we be renewed if we claim we trust Jesus but then don’t apply his directions to our lives?
 - Can our minds be renewed if we believe God functions like a human dictator?
- Then able to test and approve of God’s will

- Are we to test and approve of God's will?
- Is it not blasphemous to question God? No! Abraham, Moses—God wants us to question and understand so we can differentiate the true God from the false gods
- What does it mean to approve of God's will?
- It mean "to be fully persuaded in our own minds" Rom 14:5 of the rightness, goodness, reliability, worthiness of God and His designs and principles for running His universe—so that we can differentiate where God is working from where the counterfeit is working
- What happens to us when we approve? We are changed in that process.
- The mature are those who have developed by practice the ability to discern the right from the wrong (Heb 5:14)
- Why must we have a mind capable of approving of God's will?
- Rom 3:4 "God must be true, even though every human being is a liar. As the scripture says, "You must be shown to be right when you speak; you must win your case when you are being tried." GNT
- One of Satan's traps for Christians is to get them to pursue a righteous goal—but by using Satan's methods. We must approve of God's will—i.e. approve that truth, love, freedom are God's methods and it is His will to leave people free to choose so that we never coerce.

Can you have your mind renewed if you refuse to reason and think? Can you have your mind renewed if you accept what others have told you without understanding for yourself?

So, with renewed minds that know and trust God, how do we overcome evil with good?

Here is a quote from one of the founders of the SDA church, what do you think of this?

All sin is selfishness. Satan's first sin was a manifestation of selfishness. He sought to grasp power, to exalt self. A species of insanity led him to seek to supersede God. And the temptation that led Adam to sin was Satan's declaration that it was possible for man to attain to something more than he already enjoyed, possible for him to be as God Himself. The sowing of seeds of selfishness in the human heart was the first result of the entrance of sin into the world. God desires every one to understand the evil of selfishness, and to co operate with Him in guarding the human family against its terrible, deceptive powers. The design of the gospel is to confront this evil by means of remedial missionary work, and to destroy its destructive power by establishing enterprises of benevolence. {WB, September 9, 1902 par. 3}

How is evil—selfishness, the fear drive to protect self at the expense of others overcome? By love! Why does love overcome selfishness?

Do people want to destroy that which they experience as doing them good? Or, do people want to protect it and promote its health and wellbeing?

How is this different from selfishness if it is for our own good?

Because when we love, when required, we will sacrifice ourselves for the good of another, but when we simply value the benefits of the other, then we will sacrifice them for ourselves.

In romantic relationships this can often be difficult to discern—a person can value their partner for all the partner does for them, not for the sake of the individual partner themselves—thus a person can do many things for the good of the partner, always designed to keep the partner serving them well. These relationships can look like love, but they are not.

The analogy I use with my patients to expose this is a cowboy and his horse:

- The cowboy values his horse
- He provides it the best food
- Buys the best saddle and shoes
- After a long ride gets the horse a rub down
- Will violently protect his horse if someone tries to take it from him
- He does all this because he loves the horse, or loves all the benefits the horse provides?
- Does the cowboy really care where the horse wants to go?
- Will the cowboy sacrifice himself for the horse?
- Or, when the horse gets sick, broken leg, will put it down and get another?
- Many relationships function like this—this is not love

This type of functioning will not eradicate evil, but will perpetuate it. Why? Because the motive in the heart of the cowboy is serving self! Many people do this in how they relate to others.

So, truth overcomes lies, love overcomes selfishness.

SUNDAY

Read second paragraph, “For starters, faith is not a substitute for obedience..” What does this mean?

Why is faith not a substitute for obedience?

What does it mean the moral precepts are still in force?

What law lens do you hear this through? If through a human law construct—the lie—it means God’s rules have not been changed and God will still enforce His rules and breaking them will result in criminal guilt punishable by God, unless you take legal action and get the penalty paid by Jesus.

This is all pagan—it is not Christian.

The true view is what Jesus was trying to teach in Matthew 5, when He said not one jot or tittle will pass from the law—from The Remedy:

"And don't think that I have come to destroy what the Old Testament—Torah and Prophets—taught about God and his methods; I have not come to destroy but to fulfill them.¹⁸ Here is the simple truth: Heaven and earth would disappear if even the slightest change were made to God's design protocol for life—what you call his Law. I am not here to destroy the Law, but to accomplish everything it requires.

God's law cannot be changed and have life, as God built it, continue to exist. All life in God's universe is built to operate on certain design laws—changing those design laws would destroy God's creation!

The fundamental physical constants of the universe are exquisitely balanced, as though on a knife's edge, to sustain life. Things like the force of gravity, the strong nuclear force, the weak nuclear force, the electromagnetic force, the ratio of the mass of the proton and the electron, and many other factors have just the right value needed to make life possible. If any of these critical numbers were changed even slightly, the universe could not sustain any form of life. For example, if the strength of gravity were smaller or larger than its current value by only one part in 10^{60} (1 followed by 60 zeroes), the universe would be uninhabitable. (Pearcy, N., Finding Truth, p 25)

God's moral laws are also design laws, protocols upon which life is designed to function, deviation from them also destroy life:

- Both the redeemed and the unfallen beings will find in the cross of Christ their science and their song. It will be seen that the glory shining in the face of Jesus is the glory of self-sacrificing love. In the light from Calvary it will be seen that the law of self-renouncing love is the law of life for earth and heaven; that the love which "seeketh not her own" has its source in the heart of God; and that in the meek and lowly One is manifested the character of Him who dwelleth in the light which no man can approach unto. {DA 19.2}
- But turning from all lesser representations, we behold God in Jesus. Looking unto Jesus we see that it is the glory of our God to give. "I do nothing of Myself," said Christ; "the living Father hath sent Me, and I live by the Father." "I seek not Mine own glory," but the glory of Him that sent Me. John 8:28; 6:57; 8:50; 7:18. In these words is set forth the great principle which is the law of life for the universe. All things Christ received from God, but He took to give. So in the heavenly courts, in His ministry for all created beings: through the beloved Son, the Father's life flows out to all; through the Son it returns, in praise and joyous service, a tide of love, to the great Source of all. And thus through Christ the circuit of beneficence is complete, representing the character of the great Giver, the law of life. {DA 21.2}

- The same power that upholds nature, is working also in man. The same great laws that guide alike the star and the atom control human life. The laws that govern the heart's action, regulating the flow of the current of life to the body, are the laws of the mighty Intelligence that has the jurisdiction of the soul. From Him all life proceeds. Only in harmony with Him can be found its true sphere of action. For all the objects of His creation the condition is the same--a life sustained by receiving the life of God, a life exercised in harmony with the Creator's will. To transgress His law, physical, mental, or moral, is to place one's self out of harmony with the universe, to introduce discord, anarchy, ruin. {Ed 99.2}

How do you understand law? Can we free our minds, our hearts, our institutions, our churches, our Bible Study Guides from the infection—the lie, that God’s law functions like human law?

Can we overcome evil if we continue to promote the lie of the evil one as godly?

How do we overcome evil? By coming back to the truth about God, which dispels lies and wins to trust, in trust we open the heart and receive the indwelling Spirit who provides new desires, motives, longings, then we choose to apply to our lives the truths of God’s designs, His laws, His methods. We choose to say no to selfishness, fear-based decision making and instead start thinking: What is the loving choice, what is the righteous action, what is in harmony with God’s design and methods. We get rid of things that reinforce the world’s methods in our hearts and minds and fill our hearts and minds with Godly resources.

So, why is faith not a substitute for obedience? It would be like being sick with a serious illness and having faith in your doctor and in the medicine he prescribes—you trust he only wants to help and you believe the medicine will work, but you don’t follow his instructions and don’t take the medicine. Will your faith get you well? If you follow the instructions and take the medicine, have you produced the remedy, have you saved yourself by your works?

At the end of the paragraph the lesson states, “we are not cast away but have a High Priest who intercedes in our behalf.”

What does this mean?

With whom is our High Priest interceding?

What law lens do you hear these words through?

If we have the human law lens, then what does intercession mean? That Jesus is our legal advocate pleading His legal payment to the Father to protect us from the heavenly judge—this is paganism in Christian garb.

It is not Biblical and it is a lie.

Design law—God intercedes in three places:

- Gen 3, intercedes in our hearts to break up the unity sinful humans would have with Satan and fallen angels. “I will put enmity between thee and the woman...”
- He intercedes with the principalities and powers of darkness, protective hedge (Elisha, Job etc.)
- He interceded in the natural course of what sin would do to humanity, “God made him who had no sin to be sin for us, so that in him we might become the righteousness of God.” 2Cor 5:21

Then what do we do with statements like this one, because those who prefer the human imposed law view and falsely believe Jesus must plead to his Father for us, will throw statements like this at you:

In the sacrificial offering on every altar was seen a Redeemer. With the cloud of incense arose from every contrite heart the prayer that God would accept their offerings as showing faith in the coming Saviour. Our Saviour has come and shed his blood as a sacrifice, and now he pleads that blood before his Father in the sanctuary in heaven. It is now, as anciently, only through the merits of that blood that the transgressor of God's law can find pardon. It is by exercising repentance toward God and faith in our Lord Jesus Christ. {RH, March 2, 1886 par. 11}

How would you answer those who would use a statement like this to advocate that Jesus does plead to the Father for us—that without Jesus presenting His blood to the Father the Father would strike out and kill us? That Jesus’ blood is the legal payment which enables the Father to pardon us?

First, if the Holy Spirit leads a person to promote a message, will that message disagree with Jesus and what Jesus taught?

So, what did Jesus teach?

In that day you will ask in my name. I am not saying that I will ask the Father on your behalf.
²⁷No, the Father himself loves you... John 16:26,27

Do we believe Jesus? Are there more texts to support what Jesus said here?

- Anyone who has seen me has seen the Father. Jn 14:9
- I and the Father are one.” John 10:30
- For God so loved the world...John 3:16

Does Jesus need to plead with the Father? Does the Father need some convincing in order to save us?

Who needs to be convinced? We do!

Jesus said:

“I have much more to say to you, more than you can now bear. ¹³ But when he, the Spirit of truth, comes, he will guide you into all truth. He will not speak on his own; he will speak only what he hears, and he will tell you what is yet to come. ¹⁴ He will bring glory to me by taking from what is mine and making it known to you. Jn 16:12-14

What is being described?

To whom is the Holy Spirit listening? If the Holy Spirit is not speaking on His own, then for whom is He speaking? Jesus!

Then, if Jesus is in heaven before God pleading—to whom is He pleading? To you and me! The Holy Spirit takes the pleas of Christ and brings them to your heart and mind—Jesus, via the Holy Spirit, knocks on the door to your heart, pleading to you for you to let Him in to heal and restore you to righteousness.

Biblical evidence?

Then he showed me Joshua the high priest standing before the angel of the Lord, and Satan standing at his right side to accuse him. 2 The Lord said to Satan, “The Lord rebuke you, Satan! The Lord, who has chosen Jerusalem, rebuke you! Is not this man a burning stick snatched from the fire?”

3 Now Joshua was dressed in filthy clothes as he stood before the angel. 4 The angel said to those who were standing before him, “Take off his filthy clothes.”

Then he said to Joshua, “See, I have taken away your sin, and I will put rich garments on you.”

5 Then I said, “Put a clean turban on his head.” So they put a clean turban on his head and clothed him, while the angel of the Lord stood by. Zech 3:1-5

What does this mean? Notice, Satan accuses—to whom is Satan accusing?

Does God listen to what Satan says? Does God get confused by Satan’s arguments and need Jesus there to present the truth in order to get it right? Does God say to Jesus, “Wow thank you Son, I almost believed what Satan was saying, if you hadn’t been here to present the truth I wouldn’t have been able to know it?”

Who does get confused by Satan’s arguments, allegations, lies? Who listens to the devil and gets discouraged, guilt ridden, overcome with shame such that they think they are beyond salvation, beyond healing, too sinful, too awful for God to love and for God to save? Human beings! We are the ones to whom Satan makes allegations—then to whom is Christ pleading the power of His blood, the power of His grace, the power of His goodness, the power of the gospel? To you and to me!

So, one of the founders of the SDA church:

Through the plan of salvation, Jesus is breaking Satan's hold upon the human family and rescuing souls from his power. All the hatred and malignity of the archrebel is stirred as he beholds the evidence of Christ's supremacy, and with fiendish power and cunning he works to wrest from Him the remnant of the children of men who have accepted His salvation. {LHU 234.2}

He leads men into skepticism, causing them to lose confidence in God and to separate from His love; he tempts them to break His law, and then he claims them as his captives and contests the right of Christ to take them from him. He knows that those who seek God earnestly for pardon and grace will obtain it; therefore he presents their sins before them to discourage them. He is constantly seeking occasion against those who are trying to obey God. Even their best and most acceptable services he seeks to make appear corrupt. By countless devices, the most subtle and the most cruel, he endeavors to secure their condemnation. [by whom? Whom does Satan seek to get us condemned? Is it not in our own minds, that we conclude we are beyond salvation, too sinful to be loved?] Man cannot meet these charges himself. In his sin-stained garments, confessing his guilt, he stands before God. But Jesus our Advocate presents an effectual plea in behalf of all who by repentance and faith have committed the keeping of their souls to Him. He pleads their cause and vanquishes their accuser by the mighty arguments of Calvary. [To whom is Jesus pleading? Who needs to have the allegations of Satan refuted? Who needs to believe that God loves them and Jesus' righteousness is sufficient for them? Does God need to be persuaded that Jesus' righteousness is sufficient to save a sinner? Who doubts? It is you and me that need to hear Jesus' plea!] His perfect obedience to God's law, even unto the death of the cross, has given Him all power in heaven and in earth, and He claims of His Father mercy and reconciliation for guilty man. [notice now to whom Jesus speaks] To the accuser of His people He declares: "'The Lord rebuke thee, O Satan.' These are the purchase of My blood, brands plucked from the burning." Those who rely upon Him in faith receive the comforting assurance: "Behold, I have caused thine iniquity to pass from thee, and I will clothe thee with change of raiment." [to whom is Jesus pleading? He rebukes the accuser and pleads for us not to listen to his lies and to trust in Him!] All that have put on the robe of Christ's righteousness will stand before Him as chosen and faithful and true. Satan has no power to pluck them out of the hand of Christ. . . . We cannot answer the charges of Satan against us. Christ alone can make an effectual plea in our behalf. He is able to silence the accuser with arguments founded not upon our merits, but on His own (Testimonies, vol. 5, pp. 470-472). [To whom does Christ's plea need to effect? you and me!]

While Jesus, our Intercessor, pleads for us in heaven, the Holy Spirit works in us, to will and to do of His good pleasure... {2MR 37.1}

Jesus pleads before the Father, carrying out the Father's purpose to save sinners, the Holy Spirit listens to Christ and works in you and me communicating the love, grace and pleas of Christ to you and me to win us back to trust, so we will open the door to our hearts and let Him save us from fear and selfishness!

MONDAY

Read second paragraph, "Yet it's easy..." What is the difference between the letter of the law and actually living in harmony with the law? Any examples of keeping the letter of the law in such a way that violates the actual law of God?

- Refusing to help someone in need on Sabbath because one is keeping the Sabbath law not to work
- Disfellowshipping a woman from church membership for divorcing a physically abusive husband because he did not commit sexual adultery
- A letter was in the Review recently in which a reader took issue with a recent article describing various health benefits of drinking milk in the diet—failing to realize that in many places of the world people do not have access to a well balanced vegetarian diet and thus milk is the best option for many. Yet the person who wrote the letter condemned the consumption of milk and promoted a worse physical health just to keep a rule.
- A visitor comes to church wearing jeans and jewelry and is criticized by a church member for coming to God's house in inappropriate dress other examples?

How about examples of love overcoming rules?

- Pulled over for speeding and given a warning rather than a ticket?
- Forgiving someone who has done you wrong—despite the rule or law requiring punishment
- David taking the showbread to feed his men
- Jesus healing on Sabbath
- Les Miserable Jean Valjean, convict who spent 19 years in prison, five for stealing bread for starving family, and 14 more for escape attempts, can't find any place to stay so a Bishop gives him shelter. Jean steals his silverware. The police catch him with it, but the Bishop purports the silverware was given to Jean and presses two silver candlesticks into his hands in addition.

TUESDAY

What is a healthy attitude for Christians to have in relationship to the State?

The lesson describes how in Paul's day the Roman government was in many ways corrupt, abusive, intolerant, and pagan—and then writes; "Yet despite all this, Paul was advocating that Christians be good citizens. Even under a government like that?"

Read second paragraph, "Yes. And that's because..." While the principle of government is God ordained, does that mean the method of human government is God ordained?

No! In fact, Jesus said, "My kingdom is not of this world." Jesus stated that God's government does not operate like human governments. God's government is different. Human governments are coercive, use imposed rules with imposed punishments. God's government is design law, with life and health only for those who live in harmony with God and His designs.

I read the following from the book Maranatha what do you think?

But in heaven, service is not rendered in the spirit of legality. When Satan rebelled against the law of Jehovah, the thought that there was a law came to the angels almost as an awakening to something unthought of. In their ministry the angels are not as servants, but as sons.... Obedience is to them no drudgery. Love for God makes their service a joy. So in every soul wherein Christ, the hope of glory, dwells, His words are re-echoed, "I delight to do thy will, O my God: yea, thy law is within my heart." {Mar 79.7}

What do you think of this idea that in heaven the idea that God had laws was something unthought of? Why and what would it mean?

What do you think of Isaac Newton writing down the law of gravity and then telling people in his day: There is a law of gravity—do you think the people might have said, "Really, I never thought of that—a law of gravity—really, wow, never occurred to me. We just live like we do because its so healthy and reasonable."

This only way a statement that the law was unthought of can be true is if the law is design law. Such a statement cannot be true if it is imposed rules—why?

It would be like people playing baseball and saying, "there are rules to baseball—like three strikes and your out instead of two, or four, wow something like that never occurred to us."

If God's law were imposed rules, then it would require that all intelligent beings be informed of the rules, lest they have no idea how to live—what is the speed limit? If it isn't posted we don't know? What is your property tax, if it isn't posted, you don't know.

If we accept, that in heaven the angels never consider God had laws, that is further proof that God's laws are design laws and that the entire penal substitution view is a lie.

WEDNESDAY

Read top dark section, “Owe no man...” What does the second question reveal? “Does it mean that if we love, we have no obligation, then, to obey the law of God?”

What did James mean when he wrote: “For whoever keeps the whole law and yet stumbles at just one point is guilty of breaking all of it.” James 2:10

Why?

God’s design for life, as we discussed above, is the law of love. One cannot break God’s law in any point without breaking the law of love. Or, saying it another way, all breaks to God’s law are breaks to love.

Therefore, it is not possible to love and break God’s law.

Second paragraph states, “Yet, Paul is not substituting some vague standard of love for the precisely detailed precepts of the law, as some Christians claim. The moral law is still binding, because, again, it is what points out sin—and who is going to deny the reality of sin? However, the law truly can be kept only in the context of love. Remember, some of those who brought Christ to the cross then ran home to keep the law.”

THURSDAY

The lesson in the first paragraph states, “The issue was salvation and how a sinner is deemed righteous and holy before the Lord.”

What is your answer to this question—how is one deemed righteous and holy before the Lord?

As a species the race human was made righteous in the person of Jesus Christ.

As individuals, we are made righteous by trust in Jesus and in that trust the Spirit takes the perfection of Christ and renews our hearts, minds and characters to be like His. We actively choose to surrender to Christ, to identify with Christ, to love and long to be one with Christ, to follow and apply as we comprehend the principles of Christ and in such a relationship the Spirit enlightens, empowers and renews so that we become like Christ.

Then, as Paul wrote, “I have been crucified with Christ and I no longer live, but Christ lives in me. The life I live in the body, I live by faith in the Son of God, who loved me and gave himself for me.” Gal 2:20

SABBATH

What do you think when you hear—Christian Living?

Do you think primarily of health reform?

Do you think of all the things you can't do, which may vary depending on your denominational affiliation—no smoking, no movies, no jewelry, no dresses, no alcohol, no meat, no cheese, no TV?

Do you think of relationship restrictions—Christian living means no women preachers, men run the home and wives submit?

What is Christian living?

Let's look at Ephesians 4:17-32:

¹⁷ So I tell you this plainly, and I insist on it in the Lord: If you are to grow and mature, you must think for yourselves and not live like the Gentiles, who believe all kinds of things that don't make sense.¹⁸ Their minds are darkened and their thinking is confused because they have rejected the truth of God and his methods, and have preferred lies that harden their hearts and separate them from God.¹⁹ [So, would this mean that non-Christian living is to believe superstitions, non-sense, things that don't make sense, to reject the truth about God's character of love and believe things that harden hearts and separate us from God? Even if those doing such things are members of a Christian church?] They have lost all compassion, morality and tenderness, and have immersed themselves in sensuality (practicing every kind of impurity) and are constantly lusting for more. [Do we see this in the Christian homes? Do we see hardness of heart, a desire to use coercion, punishment, violence even by some who call themselves Christians? The rates of pornography use, child molestation, spouse abuse are the same in Christian homes as non-Christian homes—why? Because Christianity has been infected with lies about God, superstitious non-sense promoted as truth that keeps people from actually knowing God and therefore they have a form of godliness but no power. We cannot live Christian lives by knowing Church rules but not knowing God!]

²⁰ You, however, did not come to know Christ by practicing such impure behavior.²¹ Instead, you heard of him and studied the truth of God's methods and character as revealed by Jesus.²² You were taught that the former ways of life—the survival-of-the-fittest ways, the selfish me-first ways—only lead to self-destruction and death, and that health and life consist of putting off such motives and desires.²³ You were taught the importance of being recreated in heart and mind and displacing the principles of selfishness with those of love,²⁴ and experiencing a complete transformation of character such that you are an entirely new being recreated in heart-attitude to be like God—truly righteous and holy. [Does Christian living mean a change of behavior merely or does it require a change of heart? Can a change of heart happen through legal accounting? The penal legal accounting theology is a lie and obstructs genuine heart transformation]

²⁵ Therefore each of you must choose to stop being deceitful in every way, and instead be truthful and honest in all your conduct, for we are members of one body, and such behavior injures both you and the body.²⁶ [Why do people deceive? Fear, it takes trust in God, to stand up and be truthful when you are afraid of what others might think or do to you if you are. It takes a relationship with God, knowing He is love and wants your best interest to be truthful when you have made mistakes, or done wrong.] "In your anger do not sin"—do not let your anger or any strong emotion take control of your minds and determine your choices; don't retain anger in your hearts.²⁷ The devil tempts us through our emotions, so don't give him any opportunity to confuse you or lead you astray.²⁸ The person who has been stealing has been practicing the methods of selfishness, and if they desire to get well, they must have selfishness replaced by love. When selfishness is replaced with love, they will stop stealing, and instead get a job in order to be able to give to others in need. [What is the basis of Christian living? Love for others and how does it function? Where is the source of such love?]

²⁹ Don't speak unwholesome words, for your words react on the mind, and unwholesome words damage and destroy. Instead, speak what is helpful and uplifting, encouraging others and benefiting those who listen.³⁰ [Did you know that when you speak it not only reveals what is in your heart, but it reinforces what you have said so that you can strengthen the idea and come to believe the idea if repeated and said enough? So does Christian living mean to be careful in what we say?] And do not close your minds to seeking more truth and thus grieve the Spirit of truth who set your minds free from Satan's lies and settled you into the truth of God's character and methods for the day of our deliverance.³¹ [Does Christian living mean to be lovers of truth, be open to move forward with new truths, insights, ideas, to change old beliefs if they are not supported by truth?] Purge your hearts from all bitterness, rage and anger, desire for vengeance, conflict and rumor-mongering, along with every other form of malice and ill will.³² [Why must we do this if we are to live like Christ? What happens in our hearts, to our characters if we don't forgive? Can we live like Christ and hold to such negative emotions and attitudes?] Be kind, gentle, compassionate and forgiving with each other as God is forgiving to you; remember that all humanity suffers with the same infection of selfishness, and God provides the same Remedy for all.

What is Christian living? Having hearts changed from fear and selfishness to love, which results in truthfulness, respecting the individuality and freewill of others, seeking to give rather than to get, forgiving others and seeking to bring God's remedy to all.

- Can a person live like this and be homeless?
- Can one live like this and wear jewelry, or wear pants, or go to church on a different day than you?
- Can a person live like this and be a woman—a woman preacher? Yes!
- Can a person live like this and have a glass of wine for dinner periodically? Does this mean we promote drinking alcohol? No! It means you can't live like Christ merely by avoiding alcohol.

Read first paragraph, "We are now in the last..." Is the principle of sola scriptura Biblical? I guess it depends on what people mean—so let me define a couple of possible definitions:

1. That Scripture (the Bible) is the only source of information God uses to reveal heavenly truth and the only one we can use? No! This is false.
 - The Bible itself teaches that God uses other avenues of divine revelation besides the Bible:
 - Direct conversation—God spoke to Moses at the bush on Sinai—should Moses have said—well I don't have a Bible to check this with....
 - Angelic revelation—Gabriel spoke to Mary, should she have said, "I'm sorry, please show me a Bible verse?"
 - Prophetic speakers—Jonah went to Nineveh with a message from God, did he quote Scripture? Should they have rejected the message as not being from God because Jonah didn't quote a Bible verse?

- Romans 1:20 says that God's divine nature is seen in what he has made so that men are without excuse—so science and nature reveal things about God
 - The Bible says "Taste and see that the Lord is good" our own life experiences testify to the goodness of God and His methods and the pain and badness of sin.
 - What do all of these methods have in common? Truth! God is the source of all truth, and if it is heavenly truth then it can be relied upon—so the first premise, that Scripture is the only source of heavenly truth is false.
2. The Scripture is the only written source of divine revelation and godly truth. —No, this is also false.
- Have you ever read any other material than Scripture in which you found God's truth?
 - The Bible states God gives spiritual gifts, of discernment, wisdom, speaking, teaching, preaching...some of the people whom God has given such gifts have written books which contain truths from God's kingdom—so Scripture is not the only source of godly truth.
3. That the Bible is superior to other written sources of information and must supersede other Christian books, church manuals, church traditions, church rules, church laws, creeds, consensus statements. In other words, the Scripture is the ultimate authority from which all other written materials and ideas must harmonize? Yes—this is true.

Why do some try to make the sola scriptura idea mean that our doctrines can only come from Scripture and must exclude other sources of information?

Because when Scripture is isolated from its anchors in science/nature and experience—in other words, torn away from how life actually works, then people can make up superstitious, non-sense ideas and claim they are supported by Scripture. But, if you require our understanding of Scripture to harmonize with the laws of nature and real life experiences, then certain interpretations are not possible—particularly all the imposed legal penal ideas of the world that have infected Christianity are expelled and we come back to worship our Creator God.

But, many within the church prefer the ways of the world and thus reject the other threads God uses to reveal Himself and insist that only the Bible can be used to inform us about God and His plan of salvation.

Which view of sola scriptura are you most comfortable with? Is anyone uncomfortable harmonizing our understanding of the Bible with nature and experience?

This is what we here at Come and Reason Ministries call the Integrative Evidenced-Based Approach! It was after we studied out the Scripture and began promoting this view that we came across these quotations from one of the founders of the SDA church, demonstrating no truth is truly new truth, just rediscovered truth.

The great storehouse of truth is the word of God—the written word, the book of nature, and the book of experience in God's dealing with human life. Here are the treasures from which Christ's workers are to draw. In the search after truth they are to depend upon God, not upon human intelligences, the great men whose wisdom is foolishness with God. Through His own appointed channels the Lord will impart a knowledge of Himself to every seeker. – {COL 125.2}

Rightly understood, both the revelations of science and the experiences of life are in harmony with the testimony of Scripture to the constant working of God in nature. {Ed 130.3}

Jesus followed the divine plan of education. The schools of His time, with their magnifying of things small and their belittling of things great, He did not seek. His education was gained directly from the Heaven-appointed sources; from useful work, from the study of the Scriptures and of nature, and from the experiences of life--God's lesson books, full of instruction to all who bring to them the willing hand, the seeing eye, and the understanding heart.

Science

"Many are the ways in which God is seeking to make Himself known to us and bring us into communion with Him. Nature speaks to our senses without ceasing. The open heart will be impressed with the love and glory of God as revealed through the works of His hands. The listening ear can hear and understand the communications of God through the things of nature....." {SC 85.1}

Experience

"God speaks to us through His providential workings and through the influence of His Spirit upon the heart. In our circumstances and surroundings, in the changes daily taking place around us, we may find precious lessons if our hearts are but open to discern them....." {SC 87.2}

Scripture

"God speaks to us in His word. Here we have in clearer lines the revelation of His character, of His dealings with men, and the great work of redemption....." {SC 87.3}

So, does Christian living mean that we hold to beliefs we were taught by an organization or person in authority and reject evidence—or that we have minds that think, reason, examine evidence and follow the truth where it leads, despite what the organized system says?

Do we as Christians form beliefs based on experiments, or on the word of Scripture?

Hmmm...are we to form our beliefs on statements from the Bible, or our feelings? How are we to balance our experiences with the Bible and nature? Do we form experiments to test the truth and determine the meaning?

Here is what one of the founders of the SDA church wrote, see if you agree or disagree? Does this guidance lead a person toward superstition and unhealthy beliefs, or away from superstition and unhealthy beliefs? This is from a letter written in 1871 to a specific person struggling with health problems:

As I have before stated, you, my sister, rely upon experience. Your experience decides you to pursue a certain course. But that which many term experience is not experience at all; it is simply habit, or mere indulgence, blindly and frequently ignorantly followed, with a firm, set determination, and without intelligent thought or inquiry relative to the laws at work in the accomplishment of the result. {3T 68.3}

Real experience is a variety of careful experiments made with the mind freed from prejudice and uncontrolled by previously established opinions and habits. The results are marked with careful solicitude and an anxious desire to learn, to improve, and to reform on every habit that is not in harmony with physical and moral laws. The idea of others' gainsaying what you have learned by experience seems to you to be folly and even cruelty itself. But there are more errors received and firmly retained from false ideas of experience than from any other cause, for the reason that what is generally termed experience is not experience at all; because there has never been a fair trial by actual experiment and thorough investigation, with a knowledge of the principle involved in the action. {3T 69.1}

Your experience was shown to me as not reliable, because [it is] opposed to natural law. It is in conflict with the unchangeable principles of nature. Superstition, my dear sister, arising from a diseased imagination, arrays you in conflict with science and principle. Which shall be yielded? Your strong prejudices and very set ideas in regard to what course is best to be pursued relative to yourself have long held you from good. I have understood your case for years, but have felt incompetent to present the matter in so clear a manner that you could see and comprehend it, and put to a practical use the light given you. {3T 69.2}

There are many invalids today who will ever remain so because they cannot be convinced that their experience is not reliable. The brain is the capital of the body, the seat of all the nervous forces and of mental action. The nerves proceeding from the brain control the body. By the brain nerves, mental impressions are conveyed to all the nerves of the body as by telegraph wires; and they control the vital action of every part of the system. All the organs of motion are governed by the communications they receive from the brain. {3T 69.3}

What did you hear? What is being described? Do you hear the scientific method being described? How many of theology professors are willing to do this?

This is the only path of safety because it is the path of truth, assimilating all the evidences God has given, training the mind to think, reason, comprehend and apply truth, which transforms the being. As Jesus said, “You will know the truth and the truth will set you free.” John 8:32

The legal view interprets this to mean, you will know the truth that a legal payment has been made and you will be set free from God’s inflicted punishment for your sin. But this is a lie and cheats people out of the real freedom—freedom from lies, freedom from fear, insecurity, misunderstanding, freedom from the enslavement of sin itself and the chains of incapacity that violations of God’s design laws bring.

A person who violates the laws of health will suffer health problems, which reduce autonomy, limit ability, i.e. enslave them. I have had patients who through years of smoking developed COPD and required oxygen, they are less free, enslaved to their condition.

People who lie, cheat, steal—live in fear, fear of being found out, fear of punishment, fear of rejection, they are slaves to their fears and these lead to worry, hypervigilance, and distrust—such people have less freedom and their relationships suffer.

The truth sets us free from sin and all the damaging consequences and enslavement that sin brings!

SUNDAY

Read first paragraph, “In Romans 14:1-3...” Did the New Testament church give rules—or did they rule, i.e. determine and define, for the new converts, what design laws they needed to understand and harmonize with in their religious practice?

From The God-Shaped Heart (p 152,153):

The New Testament church understood the distinction between imposed law and design law. When the immature were struggling with whether to require Gentile converts to adhere to the imposed rules of a symbolic system, the church leaders said, “Instead we should write to them, telling them to abstain from food polluted by idols, from sexual immorality, from the meat of strangled animals and from blood” (Acts 15:20). These instructions are not imposed rules but are the wisdom of design law.

Food polluted by idols:

- An idol cannot change the nutritional quality of the food. Therefore, eating foods offered to idols does not pollute the body. Paul makes this clear in Romans 14.
- The issue they were addressing is the design law of worship—by beholding we become changed. As we discussed in chapter 7, this is called modeling. What we believe has power over us: truth heals and sets free, lies damage and enslave. Don’t allow your minds to become contaminated by giving any credence to idols. Thus, don’t eat food polluted by the idea that it is a bounty given you by a false god.

Sexual immorality:

- God designed relationships to operate on love and trust. When sexual intimacy occurs between husband and wife, as God designed, healthy bonding occurs. The brain actually rewires, and reward circuits are heightened for one's spouse. This is design law—how our biology is actually built to work. Deviating from this design is damaging to the mind, body, and relationships.
- It is a violation of design law, altering brain circuitry, inflaming selfish and fear circuits, thus obstructing healing of mind and character.

Meat from strangled animals or blood:

- It also violates design law—the laws of health.
- Humans were not designed to eat meat, and the blood carries waste products, stress hormones, and various inflammatory factors. Eating raw meat and drinking blood increases disease risk, and when the body is unhealthy the mind is compromised.

The New Testament church rejected the imposed-law rules and focused instead on living in harmony with God's design law for life. When we have accepted the lie that God's law is simply a list of rules, we believe they are subject to change with time and place. Good Christian people fall into the trap of arguing back and forth over trivial points, oblivious to the fact they are all worshiping the same dictator god. We then teach our children ideas of God that drive a wedge between them and God.

Read second paragraph, “Meanwhile...” Have this been your experience? Has this been your practice?

Why do you think some people, instead of leaving others free to have a different opinion, instead try to silence or stop others from sharing their opinion?

Read bottom pink section, “Although we need to keep in mind...” First question, are we to judge and if so what are we to judge?

- Are we to judge the facts, truths, realities—i.e. if something is actually the way it is being presented or not?
 - What standard do we use to make that judgment? How do we tell if something is true or not?
 - “And when they say to you, “Seek those who are mediums and wizards, who whisper and mutter,” should not a people seek their God? Should they seek the dead on behalf of the living? ²⁰ To the law and to the testimony! If they do not speak according to this word, it is because there is no light in them.” Isa 8:19,20 NKJV
 - What does this mean?
 - What law? the Torah is the word here, does it mean merely the written word? Or does the written word reveal the living word?
 - And what is the single argument the Torah makes over and over again that separates the true God from all the false gods? The true God is the Creator—and upon what law does God's creation operate? Design law!

- So, if preachers preach a god who imposes laws which lead to non-sense, legal theologies, and deny the design laws of God, these people have no light in them
- Are we to judge whether something is healthy or not? What standard or parameters do we use?
 - Design laws, laws of health, and outcomes, i.e. experience
- Are we to judge someone's motives? Are we to make a judgment whether someone is acting to promote self or to help others? Are we to make a judgment if someone is a friend or an enemy? What is necessary to accomplish this?
 - Heb 5:14, the mature are those who have developed by practice the ability to discern the right from the wrong—we must practice examining and thinking for ourselves
 - Consider this wisdom, do you agree?
 - If we mistake the wisdom of man for the wisdom of God we are led astray by the foolishness of man's wisdom. Here is the great danger of many in -----. They have not an experience for themselves. They have not been in the habit of prayerfully considering for themselves, with unprejudiced, unbiased judgment, questions and subjects that are new and that are ever liable to arise. [They have not developed by practice...] They wait to see what others will think. If these dissent, that is all that is needed to convince them that the subject under consideration is of no account whatever. Although this class is large, it does not change the fact that they are inexperienced and weak-minded through long yielding to the enemy, and will always be as sickly as babes, walking by others' light, living on others' experience, feeling as others feel, and acting as others act. They act as though they had not an individuality. Their identity is submerged in others; they are merely shadows of those whom they think about right. Unless these become sensible of their wavering character and correct it, they will all fail of everlasting life; they will be unable to cope with the perils of the last days. They will possess no stamina to resist the devil, for they do not know that it is he. Someone must be at their side to inform them whether a foe or a friend is approaching. They are not spiritual, therefore spiritual things are not discerned. They are not wise in those things which relate to the kingdom of God. Neither young nor old are excusable in trusting to another to have an experience for them. Said the angel: "Cursed be the man that trusteth in man, and maketh flesh his arm." A noble self-reliance is needed in the Christian experience and warfare. {2T 129.2}
 - Does your church teach you to think for yourself, to understand for yourself, to develop the ability to discern right from wrong by evidence and experience, or do they indoctrinate you to a creed, a system of beliefs and incite fear that if you change those beliefs you are sinning and will be lost?
- Are we to make judgments about God?
 - Then I saw another angel flying in midair, and he had the eternal gospel to proclaim to those who live on the earth—to every nation, tribe, language and people. ⁷ He said in a loud voice, “Fear God and give him glory, because the hour of his judgment has come. Worship him who made the heavens, the earth, the sea and the springs of water.” Rev 14:6.7

- God must be true, even though every human being is a liar. As the scripture says, “You must be shown to be right when you speak; you must win your case when you are being tried.” Rom 3:4 GNT

When do we speak and when do we keep silent?

When did Jesus speak and when did Jesus keep silent?

Jesus kept silent in two places:

- When the audience was not open or willing to hear, i.e. their hearts were closed.
- When the audience was not mature enough or ready to hear what he had to say Jn 16:12

MONDAY

The day’s title is Before the Judgment Seat, what do you think of with this title?

Read first paragraph, “We tend to judge...” Why will we be judged by the standard we used to judge others?

If we interpret this through human imposed law lenses then: it is because God knows the secrets of our hearts; we have disobeyed and presumed to take God’s authority to judge; this is sinful and God therefore as the supreme judge imposes our own judgment back on us to punish us for our crime.

If we use the design law reality—we realize what Jesus said:

You brood of vipers, how can you who are evil say anything good? For out of the overflow of the heart the mouth speaks. ³⁵ The good man brings good things out of the good stored up in him, and the evil man brings evil things out of the evil stored up in him. ³⁶ But I tell you that men will have to give account on the day of judgment for every careless word they have spoken. ³⁷ For by your words you will be acquitted, and by your words you will be condemned.” Mt 12:34-37

How we judge other reveals the actual condition of our own hearts/minds/characters and thus God’s judgment is simply the accurate diagnosis of our own heart condition.

This is design law, we are diagnosed, or judged, to be either healed and like Christ in character, which is evidenced by our grace toward others, or we are diagnosed/judged to be like Satan in character and this is evidenced by our judgmentalism toward others.

Read second paragraph, “The citation from Isaiah...” What law lens do you hear this through? Those who already have accepted the lie that God’s law functions no differently than human law hear this as a judicial proceeding. Is there another way to hear this?

Romans 14:10-12 From The Remedy:

Who are you then to judge your brother or sister? Do you think you are somehow better? Why do you belittle and look at others with disdain? Don't you realize that we are all infected with the same sickness and one day all of us will stand before God to see if we have been healed?¹¹ It is written: "'As surely as I live,' says the Lord, 'everyone will kneel before me and be examined; every mouth will reveal what is the condition of the heart.'"

¹²So then, each of us will stand before God, and the true condition of our hearts will be revealed.

Which way is more consistent with the Bible and our Creator God, the judicial imposed law, imposed punishment view of judgment, or the accurate diagnosis view?

Any Biblical evidence that God’s judgment is His accurate diagnosis?

- Ephraim is joined to idols; leave him alone! Hos 4:17
- They followed worthless idols and became worthless themselves. Jer 2:5
- He who is unjust, let him be unjust still; he who is filthy, let him be filthy still; he who is righteous, let him be righteous still; he who is holy, let him be holy still.” Rev 22:11 NKJV

God’s judgment in the end is simply the accurate diagnosis of every character, every heart—have we trusted God, opened our hearts and been restored to righteousness by the indwelling Spirit, or have we clung to lies, preferred selfishness and hardened our hearts in evil and sin?

TUESDAY

Read first paragraph, “In Romans...” Is the wisdom of this chapter restricted to foods offered to idols and various ceremonial holidays?

The lesson on WEDNESDAY speaks strongly that the weekly Sabbath cannot be included in this passage, read the last paragraph, “To bring the weekly Sabbath...” thoughts?

Can you imagine Paul bringing the weekly Sabbath into this? Yes! Absolutely, why?

Because Paul is speaking about the real issue in salvation—the healing of the heart and mind, the restoration of Christlikeness in the inner man. Can a person be transformed in the inner workings of their hearts against their will?

So, must a person be fully persuaded in their own mind in order to be saved?

Would this mean that a person who accepts Jesus as their Savior, only genuinely does this when they are fully persuaded in their own mind?

Yes! If we include in this passage that a person to accept Jesus must be fully persuaded in their own mind, are we minimizing the importance of accepting Jesus?

So, if we say that every person must be fully persuaded in their own mind about the Sabbath, are we minimizing the importance of the Sabbath? No!

Why, then, does the lesson argue it does?

Because of accepting the false imposed law view of God's law, in that view the Sabbath is just an imposed rule that must be enforced, and if you break God's imposed rules you are legally guilty and God will punish.

They have taken this beautiful chapter, in which Paul elevates the principles of God, truth, love, freedom which must be utilized in order to transform hearts, and pushed them aside and suggest that these principles don't apply to the Sabbath, that the Sabbath is still legally binding, that one cannot include the fourth commandment in Paul's discourse. And thus, instead of transforming hearts with God's healing methods, this approach inflames fear and damages hearts.

Back to TUESDAY, read last paragraph, "Have you ever heard someone..." What is the balance here?

Do you agree that if your example leads someone astray then you are culpable?

If I wear a wedding ring, and a person believes that a wedding ring is jewelry and jewelry is sinful and therefore, they conclude if Jennings wears a wedding ring, then Christ is not real and they leave the church and they reject Jesus, am I culpable for their loss?

If you observe the Sabbath and someone believes that your Sabbath observance is legalistic and denies God's grace, therefore they leave the church or won't listen to what you have to say about God, are you culpable?

Where is the balance between living up to the light that God has revealed to you and conforming your behavior to the level where others are?

Would it not be about living in harmony with God's design law? That we can conform our choices to be appealing to local customs and culture, to not offend, alienate, or cause obstacles to the gospel—as long as we do not violate God's design laws, but we don't conform if we are going against God's methods and designs?

THURSDAY

Read Romans 15:1-3:

We, who have had our minds set free from distrust and fear and are therefore strong in our confidence in God and in understanding his methods, have a responsibility to help those still weakened by the infection of distrust and selfishness—and to not simply live to please ourselves.² Each of us should do all in our power to help our neighbor recover from the devastation caused by distrust in God, fear, and selfishness. We should strive to help heal and restore our neighbor.³ Christ himself has shown how to live, for he did not live to please himself, but, as the Scriptures state, "I have accepted the abuse meant for you, in order to protect and heal you." The Remedy

Any thoughts on what we could do to accomplish this?

2020 4Q Education: Lesson 7

Worship in Education

by Tim Jennings (announcements last page)

SABBATH

Read memory text:

Give to the LORD the glory due His name; bring an offering, and come before Him. Oh, worship the LORD in the beauty of holiness! (1 Ch 16:29 NKJV).

What does it mean to give the Lord glory?

What do we mean when we refer to His “name”?

When we pray, “in the name of Jesus” what does this mean? Does it mean:

- using the actual word “Jesus”?
- Must we use Joshua or rather Yeshua?
- Or does the name in the Bible mean character?

Jacob, the deceiver, when he was converted and experienced a heart change had his name changed to Israel—one who with God overcomes.

Do we understand name means character?

Here is one historic quote from the book The Desire of Ages:

But to pray in Christ's name means much. It means that we are to accept His character, manifest His spirit, and work His works. The Saviour's promise is given on condition. "If ye love Me," He says, "keep My commandments." He saves men, not in sin, but from sin; and those who love Him will show their love by obedience. {DA 668.2}

So, the name of God means what? His character and what is your understanding of the character of God? Let's list character traits of God and contrast them with abilities—I will throw out some and you let me know whether this is a character trait or an ability:

- God is omniscient—all knowing
- God is love
- God is truth/truthful
- God is omnipotent—all powerful
- God is Creator (perhaps both as creating is a manifestation of both His ability and character)
- God is patient

- God exists outside time and thus has foreknowledge
- God is forgiving
- God is omnipresent
- God is just
- God is constant—never changing
- God is omnipresent—able to be everywhere at once

What has the conflict between Satan and God been about? What has Satan done to incite rebellion? Has Satan ever truly questioned God's abilities? Or has Satan's attacks always been on God's trustworthiness—God's character, the way God uses His abilities?

From the beginning it has been Satan's studied plan to cause men to forget God, that he might secure them to himself. Hence he has sought to misrepresent the character of God, to lead men to cherish a false conception of Him. The Creator has been presented to their minds as clothed with the attributes of the prince of evil himself,--as arbitrary, severe, and unforgiving,--that He might be feared, shunned, and even hated by men. Satan hoped to so confuse the minds of those whom he had deceived that they would put God out of their knowledge. Then he would obliterate the divine image in man and impress his own likeness upon the soul; he would imbue men with his own spirit and make them captives according to his will. {5T 738.1}

Do we see this in the world today? Can people who reject God and embrace godlessness be growing in godliness, accurately represent Jesus, be empowered by the Spirit to practice God's methods? Or will they grow more like selfish, more fearful, more controlling?

Can people who believe in God but accept a false view of God and thus worship a god who is like Satan in character become more like Jesus, or will they become more like the enemy? The law of worship—by beholding we are changed!

Should we expect that if we jump off buildings we will float? Should we expect that if we reject God that we will become more like Jesus?

Then, what can you expect people who reject Jesus to do when it comes to the methods and principles they practice in how they run their business, in how they deal with conflict, in how they would administer a school, in how they would run a government?

I want you to discern, to be able to differentiate God's methods from Satan's. Now, what is the most effective conman—the one who comes to you and says: "I am here to steal from you, to molest your children, and get you addicted to drugs." Or the one who says, "I am here to make you wealthy, to care for your children, to give you better health—and then steal from you, molest your children and addict you to drugs?"

And then when you find yourself impoverished and unhealthy the person who did this blames the ones with real solutions and remedies—this is true evil.

This is what Satan does—he infects us with sin, steals our joy, happiness, health, injures our families and then blames God or godly people or God’s methods as being the problem.

Do you see this happening with various leaders or groups in society today—claiming they are here to help us while they or their followers are actually injuring and inciting the problems they claim they are there to fix?

What do we learn about God’s character when we look to Jesus?

So, we are to bring an offering and come before the Lord—what does this mean, bring an offering? An offering of what?

- Therefore, I urge you, brothers, in view of God’s mercy, to offer your bodies as living sacrifices, holy and pleasing to God—this is your spiritual act of worship. Do not conform any longer to the pattern of this world, but be transformed by the renewing of your mind. Then you will be able to test and approve what God’s will is—his good, pleasing and perfect will. Romans 12:1,2 NIV84
- I want your constant love, not your animal sacrifices. I would rather have my people know me than burn offerings to me. Hosea 6:6 GNT

What are we to bring to God as an offering? Ourselves, for renewal, for healing, to be restored to love and trust and then when we do this we do what the rest of the text says, we worship Him in the beauty of holiness.

Does this remind you of any other Bible text that has a call to glorify God by magnifying His name and to worship Him?

The 3 Angels’ messages—At this time in human history a message is to go forward to be in awe of God and give Him glory—meaning reveal His true character of love—because the time in human history has come for people to make a right judgment about God, to worship Him who made the heavens, earth, sea and fountains of water, to worship the Designer and reject this pagan imperial dictator who imposes law and inflicts punishment for sin.

And we are to do this in the beauty of holiness?

WEDNESDAY:

The lesson asks in the middle highlighted section, “The beauty of holiness? What might that mean?”

Read third and fourth paragraphs, “For starters, think about how ugly...” I think the lesson is pointing us in the right direction, sin damages, distorts, corrupts, injures, infects, perverts, abuses, exploits, harms, destroys and kills. Sin is ugly—in fact ALL ugliness is a result of sin, not all ugliness is sin, but all ugliness is a result of sin.

For instance, any disease, defect, illness, deformity such as blindness, paralysis, deafness, lesions, mental impairments are a result of sin but these things are not sin. Jesus instructed his disciples that the man born blind wasn't born blind because he or his parents sinned. But blindness wouldn't exist in the world if the world wasn't infected by sin.

Paul tells us in Romans 8 that all nature groans under the weight of sin. So, sinfulness or the condition of sin is a state of being out of harmony with God, God's design and that injures and harms and the greater the distance from God, from His perfection—His holiness—the greater the deformity, injury, damage. In other words, the greater we separate ourselves from God the greater the ugliness—and such ugliness is both physical and characterological.

This is from the book The Desire of Ages describing the scene in which Jesus confronts the satanic legion controlling the demoniacs:

From some hiding place among the tombs, two madmen rushed upon them as if to tear them in pieces. Hanging about these men were parts of chains which they had broken in escaping from confinement. Their flesh was torn and bleeding where they had cut themselves with sharp stones. Their eyes glared out from their long and matted hair, the very likeness of humanity seemed to have been blotted out by the demons that possessed them, and they looked more like wild beasts than like men. DA 337.1

The disciples and their companions fled in terror; but presently they noticed that Jesus was not with them, and they turned to look for Him. He was standing where they had left Him. He who had stilled the tempest, who had before met Satan and conquered him, did not flee before these demons. When the men, gnashing their teeth, and foaming at the mouth, approached Him, Jesus raised that hand which had beckoned the waves to rest, and the men could come no nearer. They stood raging but helpless before Him. DA 337.2

With authority He bade the unclean spirits come out of them.... a marvelous change had come over the demoniacs. Light had shone into their minds. Their eyes beamed with intelligence. The countenances, so long deformed into the image of Satan, became suddenly mild, the bloodstained hands were quiet, and with glad voices the men praised God for their deliverance. DA 338.2

The encounter with the demoniacs of Gergesa had a lesson for the disciples. It showed the depths of degradation to which Satan is seeking to drag the whole human race, and the mission of Christ to set men free from his power. Those wretched beings, dwelling in the place of graves, possessed by demons, in bondage to uncontrolled passions and loathsome lusts, represent what humanity would become if given up to satanic jurisdiction. Satan's influence is constantly exerted upon men to distract the senses, control the mind for evil, and incite to violence and crime. [Do we see this happening in society today? When you see rioters looting stores, assaulting people on the street, dragging people out of their cars, yelling, shouting down voices of that disagree with them, when you see liberty attacked, when you see freedom of speech oppressed, when you see big tech censoring and promoting falsehoods do you see the enemy of God at work destroying the image of God in people and inciting more division and conflict?] He weakens the body, darkens the intellect, and debases the soul.

Whenever men reject the Saviour's invitation, they are yielding themselves to Satan.

Multitudes in every department in life, in the home, in business, and even in the church, are doing this today. It is because of this that violence and crime have overspread the earth, and moral darkness, like the pall of death, enshrouds the habitations of men. Through his specious temptations Satan leads men to worse and worse evils, till utter depravity and ruin are the result. The only safeguard against his power is found in the presence of Jesus. [Do you believe this to be true? Are there groups today who are actively seeking to eliminate Jesus from our society? Do you find Jesus freely preached in communist countries? Why do communist leaders always seek to get rid of Christianity? Because the principles of God are freedom, liberty, truth, openness and Satan's principles are coercion, deceit, domination, control and communism cannot exist where people love God and promote the methods of Jesus. Do you see forces at work in America today that are seeking to lead people down a path that eliminate Jesus and the gospel from our nation?] Before men and angels Satan has been revealed as man's enemy and destroyer; Christ, as man's friend and deliverer. His Spirit will develop in man all that will ennoble the character and dignify the nature. It will build man up for the glory of God in body and soul and spirit. "For God hath not given us the spirit of fear; but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind." 2 Timothy 1:7. He has called us "to the obtaining of the glory"—character—"of our Lord Jesus Christ;" has called us to be "conformed to the image of His Son." 2 Thessalonians 2:14; Romans 8:29. DA 341.1

Do we recognize that true beauty is found only in holiness and holiness is restoration to God's design, living in harmony with God's design laws, which is healthiness.

Ancient Israel was supposed to be separated from the evil and sinfulness of the world—but that didn't happen, they became just as evil and corrupt as the world; yet while doing so they came to believe they were being separate from the world what happened?

They accepted the lie about God's law as imposed rules and this lie led them to act, as all worldly systems function and focus which is upon behavior, deeds rather than character. Thus, Israel separated themselves from the world by:

- Dress
- Religious rituals
- Diet
- Day of worship
- List of doctrines

But because they did not separate from the world in understanding of God's law, or God's character or God's methods, they did not experience difference from the world in character—they remained filled with fear and selfishness and this led them to take all their differences in dress, ritual, diet, worship and doctrines and become:

- bigoted
- prejudicial
- arrogant, narcissistic and prideful
- hard-hearted and conceited
- to exploit those around them and to ignore the plight of the less fortunate even among Israel
- and kill the Creator when He stood among them

Accepting the lie that God's law functions like human law resulted in the Jews becoming just as evil as the pagans around them.

Are we at risk for doing this today?

Read second paragraph, "The place of worship was the tabernacle..." Don't we agree that central to worship is Jesus and the plan of salvation?

Yet, what do we do with the following text?

Not everyone who says to me, 'Lord, Lord,' will enter the kingdom of heaven, but only the one who does the will of my Father in heaven. On that day many will say to me, 'Lord, Lord, did we not prophesy in your name, and cast out demons in your name, and do many deeds of power in your name?' Then I will declare to them, 'I never knew you; go away from me, you evildoers.' Matthew 7:21-23

If we were to find people who fall into this group, the ones Jesus identifies here as evildoers, and we went to them today and asked them if they believed that Jesus and the plan of salvation was central to worship, what would they say?

So is there something more to it than just saying Jesus is central to salvation? Is there something more than saying "I accept Jesus is my Savior"? Is there something more than saying Jesus is our substitute? In other words, can a person claim all of this and still be an enemy of Jesus? How is that possible?

By accepting a false view of the character of Jesus and the Father—if one accepts a false view of them, then one values false character and by beholding we are changed. If one accepts God is arbitrary, severe, exacting, revengeful, that justice requires God to use power to torture and kill then one becomes like that false god and may claim that false god is Jesus and may claim to be a follower of Jesus but in reality is a follower of Satan.

In C.S. Lewis' last book of the Narnia series Lewis describes a Calormene soldier named Emeth and his encounter with Aslan the lion. Emeth was a worshipper of Tash, and as a result was terrified when he came face to face with Aslan. This is that encounter from the book:

I fell at his feet and thought surely this is the hour of death, for the Lion will know that I have served Tash all my days and not him.

But Aslan's response?

Son thou art welcome. But I said, alas Lord I am no son of thine but the servant of Tash. He answered, Child all the service thou hast done to Tash I account as service done to me.

I questioned the Glorious One: Lord, is it then true that thou and Tash are one? The Lion growled and said, It is false. Not because he and I are one, but because we are opposites, I take to me the services which thou hast done to him. For I and he are of such different kinds that no service which is vile can be done to me, and none which is not vile can be done to him. Therefore if any man swear by Tash and keep his oath for the oath's sake, it is by me that he has truly sworn, though he know it not, and it is I who reward him. And if any man do a cruelty in my name, then, though he says the name Aslan, it is Tash whom he serves and by Tash his deed is accepted".

Emeth questions once more:

Lord, I have been seeking Tash all my days.

Beloved, said the Glorious One, unless thy desire had been for me thou shouldst not have sought so long and so truly. For all find what they truly seek.

And what is the root that would cause believers in Jesus to actually become enemies of Jesus? It is believing lies about God's law—if one believes God's law is imposed then one necessarily concludes that justice is inflicting punishment upon rule breakers and this leads to all the penal legal distortions and lies and the hardening of hearts of people. It obstructs people from actually being reconciled to God in their hearts and minds and gives them a false hope in a legal adjustment while they remain controlled by fear and selfishness.

Consider this historic quote:

Any measure that is of such a nature as to oppress the poor and afflicted, bring neglect upon the widow and the orphan, is leading us away from the example given us in the life of Christ, and misrepresenting the principles of God's law. [What law is this? Is it a list of rules or the principle of love? And is love just an emotion or God's design for life? And what happens if we don't exercise love? What happens if we do? This is the law of exertion so not only are we helping others we are either growing in love or selfishness depending on how we treat others.] Representative men connected with the work and cause of God will bring a heavy retribution upon themselves if they mislead the people by their spirit and action, and misrepresent the principles of the law of Jehovah. [What does this mean? What law? The law of love, what kind of heavy retribution? An infliction, or the hardening of heart and the inevitable guilt and shame they will experience when they face infinite truth?] If they weave into the work that which springs from their own natural temperament, and mar the cause by disorders of their own natural disposition, they will cause to appear in the work of God the attributes of the fallen foe and his confederate angels, rather than the attributes of Jesus Christ. [What are the attributes of Satan versus the attributes of Christ? Which is a greater act of love to give a fish to a hungry person to teach a person to fish? The idea being to give handouts to those capable of become independent and thereby, through disuse causing them to become less capable, not developing their abilities, losing confidence in themselves, and thus becoming more dependent on whomever is giving them the fish—is this love or is this a great deception of destruction hidden under the mantle of compassion?] The fashion of the work coming forth from every soul that is born of God has been clearly pictured before us. He who is truly a child of God will experience the transforming power of grace upon mind and heart, and his character will develop after the divine similitude. [What does this mean? Does this have anything to do with the law of God? Remember God's law is the law of love and is the design protocol for life, notice what comes next] The description of the work of Christ will be the description of the work of every one who is born of God, who walks not after the flesh, but after the Spirit. The apostle says of such, "Ye are laborers together with God," representing the holy law of God to heaven, to worlds unfallen, and to the fallen world. Representing the law of God in its true character arouses the enmity of Satan. [What does it mean to represent the law of God? Would it mean to love like Jesus loves?] Those who love God with all the heart, will love the law of his kingdom. They will not only profess to be guided by its principles, but they will actually live them out, even in a world that is no more favorable to the development of Christian principles than were the inhabitants of the world before the flood, of whom it is written that the thoughts and imaginations of their hearts were evil, and only evil continually. A similar condition of society exists in our world today, and if those who claim to be God's commandment-keeping people do not put in practice the principles of the law which Christ came to our world to vindicate, pronouncing it holy, just, and good, they misrepresent the character and mission of their professed Master. They mislead men in regard to the requirements of the law, and will be stumbling-blocks in the way of sinners. The Lord of hosts has warned us that we shall take heed not to misrepresent the law of his government by any unmerciful action on our part toward our fellow-men. Neither are we to rob God in tithes and in offerings; for the remnant people of God are to be representatives to the world of the character of Christ. Not a thread of selfishness is to be woven into their practices. The law of God is to be lived out. Thus in the character of God's people a living testimony will be borne that will contradict the fallacy of Satan, who has declared that the law of Jehovah is arbitrary, and holds its subjects under a cruel bondage. RH August 13, 1895, par. 6

Wow—does this have application for us today? Do we see groups in our society today that either want us to deny God and His methods altogether, or they claim to believe in God but are willing to use human governments to advance their agenda and practice the same methods of the world?

SUNDAY

This takes us right back to Sunday, everyone worships something. This is the looking outside of oneself for a frame of orientation that gives life meaning, direction and purpose, whether the person realizes it or not.

Everyone does it, some may not worship God, but they worship—power, money, other people, idols, concepts, philosophies, nature.

Why does God say we are to have no other gods but Him?

They followed worthless idols and became worthless themselves. Jeremiah 2:5

Romans 1 Paul describes how they didn't think it worthwhile to retain the knowledge of God, they exchanged the truth of God for a lie and preferred images made with their own hands and their minds became, depraved, darkened and futile!

It is a law that by beholding we are changed—this is the law of worship, we change biologically and characterologically based on what we admire and worship. As the highest created beings on planet earth there is nothing we can worship that advances us, anything on earth we worship degrades us. Thus, God wanting our highest development tells us to worship Him the infinite One! It is for our good, our development, not His need that God says to worship Him!

But can we do the same pagan false worship without images or idols? Here is one historic quote, do you agree?

Thousands have a false conception of God and His attributes. They are as verily serving a false god as were the servants of Baal. Are we worshipping the true God as He is revealed in His Word, in Christ, in nature, or are we adoring some philosophical idol enshrined in His place? God is a God of truth. Justice and mercy are the attributes of His throne. He is a God of love, of pity and tender compassion. Thus He is represented in His Son, our Saviour. He is a God of patience and long-suffering. If such is the being whom we adore and to whose character we are seeking to assimilate, we are worshipping the true God. {FLB 59.8}

The lesson focuses on our responsibility to teach truth to our children, to teach of God's actions in the past, to teach our children to love, trust and praise God based on reality, on His attributes of character and the manifestations of His goodness in history and reality and then to repeat these lessons over and over in song and other forms of praise.

Why is this important?

- repetitio est mater studiorum—repetition is the mother of study/learning

It is the manifestation of the law of exertion, if you want something to get stronger you must exercise it. Thus, the more you do something the better you get at it. Your brain wires in neural pathways and things go from a piece of data one remembers to beliefs, filters, presets upon which one filters new information.

If we accept lies then those form false schemas, beliefs, perspectives that cause us to interpret the world around us in distorted ways.

Truth displaces lies and reshapes our minds and characters.

Why is it necessary to repeat?

- Because in this fallen world we are slow to learn
- Because there is a difference between learning facts and having them become part of our character
- Because there is a difference between learning facts and loving the person those facts inform us about
- Because there are many lies and distortions that seek to infect our minds
- Because we naturally bring up doubts, fears, selfishness and distortions and the seed of truth must be planted and constantly tended in order to bring forth fruit—analogy of a garden

TUESDAY

The lesson focuses our attention on Jesus encounter with the woman at the well and when the question of worship comes up Jesus tells her:

Believe me, woman, a time is coming when you will worship the Father neither on this mountain nor in Jerusalem. You Samaritans worship what you do not know; we worship what we do know, for salvation is from the Jews. Yet a time is coming and has now come when the true worshipers will worship the Father in spirit and truth, for they are the kind of worshipers the Father seeks. God is spirit, and his worshipers must worship in spirit and in truth. John 4:21-24

What does this mean?

The Greek word for spirit is pneuma and was translated to Latin as spiritus which literally means breath and was translated to English as spirit.

But the word actually has multiple meanings:

1. wind/air
2. breath/life energy/vital element/life spark
3. intelligent being/character/personality/attitude/attributes/emotions
4. mythical/superstitious entity that lives without physical body

And sometimes these different meanings occur in the very same passage:

John 3:8 "The wind (pneuma) blows wherever it pleases. You hear its sound, but you cannot tell where it comes from or where it is going. So it is with everyone born of the Spirit (pneuma)."

Sometimes this one Greek word means more than one thing in the same use:

Luke 8:55 "Her spirit (breath of life and her unique individuality) returned, and at once she stood up. Then Jesus told them to give her something to eat." Meaning it wasn't just life that animated her body, but that HER spirit, i.e. her unique self returned when the breath of life returned.

Luke 23:46: Jesus called out with a loud voice, "Father, into your hands I commit my spirit." When he had said this, he breathed his last.

What did Jesus commit to the Father, just the breath of life, or His unique self?

Here is an historic view of what this means in this context:

"Our personal identity is preserved in the resurrection, though not the same particles of matter or material substance as went into the grave. The wondrous works of God are a mystery to man. The spirit, the character of man, is returned to God, there to be preserved. In the resurrection every man will have his own character. God in His own time will call forth the dead, giving again the breath of life, and bidding the dry bones live. The same form will come forth, but it will be free from disease and every defect. It lives again bearing the same individuality of features, so that friend will recognize friend. There is no law of God in nature which shows that God gives back the same identical particles of matter which composed the body before death. God shall give the righteous dead a body that will please Him." {6BC 1093.2}

HEB 1:14 Are not all angels ministering spirits sent to serve those who will inherit salvation?

LK 1:46,47 And Mary said: "My soul glorifies the Lord and my spirit rejoices in God my Savior..."

Then sometimes pneuma is mythological:

Luke 24:39 “Look at my hands and my feet. It is I myself! Touch me and see; a ghost (pneuma) does not have flesh and bones, as you see I have.”

So, what does it mean that “God is spirit, and his worshipers must worship in spirit and in truth.”

Wind? Breath of life? Ghostly vapor? Or intelligent, sentient being with individuality?

Let’s consider how we use the word spirit in English:

- When we say that team really has school spirit – what do we mean?
- When we say, a prisoner was tortured until his spirit was broken what do we mean?
- When we say someone is mean spirited what do we mean?
- When we say someone is a free spirit what do we mean?
- When we say someone is high spirited what do we mean?
- Though unable to join us today he is with us in spirit what do we mean?
- Though enemies they settled their differences with a kind spirit, what do we mean?
- The spirit of 1776 is not dead, what do we mean?
- He has the spirit of a rebel, what do we mean?
- How about he has an evil spirit?

Do any of these usages mean a demon or other intelligent entity is involved?

What is a spirit being? Any being that has intelligence, willfulness, personality, character, individuality.

Evil spirits are intelligent beings who are evil, who practice Satan’s methods and reject God’s.

What type of beings can be an evil spirit? Angels, who when fallen are demons.

What about humans, can they be evil spirits? Can a human being have their own evil spirit separate and distinct from a demon? If Satan and all demons were wiped out right now, could humans still have evil spirits—evil minds, hearts, attitudes and characters, selves?

Consider this quote from The Desire of Ages:

Judas had naturally a strong love for money; but he had not always been corrupt enough to do such a deed as this. He had fostered the evil spirit of avarice until it had become the ruling motive of his life. DA 716

So we have as synonyms demons and fallen angels which can also be referred to as evil spirits. But a rebellious human who is warring against God could also be called an evil spirit or it could be said he has an evil spirit.

So, what does it mean God is spirit and wants worshippers who worship Him in spirit and truth?

God is intelligent, with individuality (not a force of nature), who is rational, reasonable, purposeful and who operates upon love and is the source of all truth.

God wants worshippers who are intelligent, who exercise their individuality to love truth and grow in truth, thus they operate in harmony with God's design law and are purposeful in pursuing God and God's kingdom. They actually know and appreciate Him for who He is—these are the worshippers God seeks. Not the superstitious dark-minded worshippers who worship a false version of God that keeps them from growing and developing.

How can you tell whether your worship is of the true God, versus a false god or false spirit?

Here is the contrast:

- The Spirit of God is love; evil spirits are selfish
- The Spirit of God is truth; evil spirits lie
- The Spirit of God gives freedom; evil spirits coerce and enslave
- The Spirit of God is heals; evil spirits destroy
- The Spirit of God is giving; evil spirits take
- The Spirit of God removes fear; evil spirits incite fear
- The Spirit of God brings stability; evil spirits cause instability
- The Spirit of God is patient; evil spirits are impulsive
- The Spirit of God is kind; evil spirits are cruel
- The Spirit of God forgives; evil spirits are resentful, keep score, and require appeasement
- The Spirit of God sacrifices self for others; evil spirits sacrifices others for self

The lesson asks, "What are some of the current popular beliefs that clash with Scripture...?"

- Godless origins
- We can save the earth through environmental initiatives
- Survival of the fittest is adaptive and helpful to advance the species
- Humans are less valuable than animals or the planet
- Equality means everyone deserves equal everything—but some aspect of outcomes, or equality is not about equal moral worth, but equal ability thus we demand all people be given equal roles

Correction/Clarification:

From an online listener we received the following email:

In the discussion of lesson 11 [4th Q 2017] it was stated that the reason for the existence of Black Conferences in the North American Division dates back to 1863 when the Church was organized in a social environment that prohibited Blacks and Whites worshipping together or a Black pastor preaching to Whites. However it was not until 1945 (82 years later) that Black Conferences were organized. The reason was not racial prejudice and segregation in society, but in the SDA Church itself. The first Black pastor ordained in the Church was Charles M. Kinny in 1889. At the ceremony many Whites left the auditorium in disgust to protest the ordination of a Black man.

First thank you for this clarification—I didn't do my research on history and made the assumption the conference setup happened at the time of the church organization. I am very appreciative of this information because I always want to update my understanding with the most accurate evidence.

So, it wasn't until 1945 that the separate conferences, based on race, were founded—why? Even though we had the dates of when this happened wrong, are we wrong about the reasons?

What were race relations like in America in the 1940's? Would it have advanced the gospel or caused more tension to try and integrate the churches in the southern states during the 40's, 50's and 60's?

So, we still conclude this was an adaptation by the church, based on the heart attitudes of people in society, not because the Bible promotes segregation by race.

SABBATH

What do you think of the Study Guide title and subtitle?

Very insightful—do you usually think of Stewardship as a heart issue?

It is really about integrity, honesty, fidelity, reliability, trustworthiness—isn't that what stewardship is about?

If you were looking for a steward for your properties, or perhaps your children, what would be the qualities or qualifications you would look for?

What do you think God is looking for in His stewards?

What prevents people from being good stewards?

- Could it be failure to recognize they are stewards?
- Do you think differently if you are managing your car, money, resources, than when you are managing your employers? What is the difference?
- Are there things you will spend your money on that you won't spend your employers on?
- Are there things you will spend your employers money on that you won't spend your money on?
- What does this reveal? That you are aware of different values, goals, plans between you and your employer.
- Should we have mindsets that think about God—His values, plans and goals?
- What should we think of as being ours and being God's?
- To what are we to be a steward of in God's cause?
 - Money?
 - Property?
 - Talents?

- Time?
- Energy?
- Ourselves?

Can you think of any parables of Jesus that relate to Stewardship? The parable of the talents—why do you think the one who invested their talents received more while the one who buried his talent had it taken away?

Was this imposed rules or design law at work?

What happens if you have a natural talent for art, or music, or math, or languages, or whatever, and you apply yourself, practicing, educating, challenging and using your ability—what happens? Do you expand and strengthen your ability? Do new abilities you previously didn't have occur?

What if you don't use it? You lose it—what kind of law is this? Design law, the law of exertion.

If we are to be good stewards must we apply ourselves to develop the abilities, talents, and gifts God has given us?

And for what purpose, why do we develop these abilities, to do what with them?

To fulfill God's purposes, which is what? Love for God and others, which is also healing, restoring, saving, benefiting, to not only those who we are loving, but to those who are doing living in love.

Here is an historic quote from a work called The Southern Worker:

The World's Redeemer clearly defines what our duty is. To the lawyer who asked Him how he should obtain eternal life, He said: "What is written in the law? how readest thou? And he answering said, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; and thy neighbour as thyself. And he said unto him, Thou hast answered right: this do, and thou shalt live. But he, willing to justify himself, said unto Jesus, And who is my neighbour?" Then Jesus related the parable of the good Samaritan, and clearly showed that he is our neighbor who most needs our charity and help. We are to practice the commandments of God, and stand true to the relation which God has designed shall exist between man and his fellow man. It was never God's purpose that society should be separated into classes, that there should be an alienation between the rich and the poor, the high and the low, the learned and the unlearned. But the practice of separating society into distinct circles is becoming more and more decided. God designed that those to whom He entrusted talents of means, ability, and gifts of grace, should be good stewards of His beneficence, and not seek to reap all the advantages for themselves. God does not estimate man by the amount of wealth, talent, or education that he may have. He values man in proportion as he becomes a good steward of His mercy and love. {SW 37.1}

Have you considered mercy and love a commodity over which you are to be a steward?

1John 4:19: “We love because he first loved us.” It is His love that we first receive, are renewed by and it is this love we share.

Why is it important to share the love of God we receive?

The law of love, or giving, the more you give the more you will receive. Why?

Consider the garden hose on your house and the fire hydrant on the street, if you turn both on full, which gives away more water? Which receives more water to it?

What if you turn off the taps in your home and don’t let any water run for a year, would you drink the water in the taps when you first turn them on? Why not? It is likely stagnant!

We are not the source of pure love—God is. We are to receive that love and let it flow through us to other, in so doing our capacity for love increases and we become more and more like Christ. However, if we try to hoard love, if we refuse to open our hearts to love others, then no matter how pure the love we received into our hearts was, our hearts will stagnate with selfishness.

This is design law—we must love others in order to grow in love.

So as we explore this quarter’s lessons let’s keep in mind that as God’s stewards we are to develop our abilities for the purpose of love, of being God’s agents, witnesses, hands on earth.

But we can only fulfill God’s purposes effectively and successfully if 1) we actually know God and 2) we daily surrender to Him and are empowered by His Spirit.

The title for this week’s lesson is Materialism—the lesson states in the first paragraph, “but the lure of materialism, the inordinate desire for wealth and for what we think wealth can bring, is powerful.”

So let’s start with this definition of Materialism—which is basically greed, the love of stuff, money, property, houses, cars, and the pursuit of what money can provide.

Is money evil?

Is the love of money evil? Why? What is the root to the love of money? Fear and selfishness—if one loves money they love it because of what they perceive it does for them—makes them feel valuable, worthwhile, powerful, secure, fulfilled, achieved, enabled. In other words, the love of money is all about promoting the survival and protection of self.

Does this mean then, that one has to be penniless to be saved?

Does one have to be, not penniless, but not wealthy to be saved? No! Abraham, Job, Joseph of Arimathea, Solomon, David, wealthy—and saved.

Why did Jesus tell the rich young ruler that in order for him to be saved he had to sell all he had and give it to the poor?

From where did the rich young ruler derive his spiritual security, his sense of being righteous, his spiritual strength? From his wealth, which made him feel like he, in himself, was good as he was. Is there a problem in deriving spiritual security from wealth? What?

If you need wealth to ensure you are right with God, what will that motive cause you to do with your wealth? Increase the likelihood of sharing and giving, or hoarding? So, love of wealth, including the love of wealth because you believe that means you are right with God, doesn't result in an actual change of heart. He leads to the same place the rich young ruler lived, wealthy, but still not at peace—because he was still dominated by fear and selfishness as his heart had not been changed.

Is there an OT story that sheds light on this?

Have you ever wondered why David was instructed not to take a census of Israel?

If you were the ruler of a nation that had a military, wouldn't it be sensible to know the size of your nation, for many reasons, to know:

- the number of people to call upon in times of war
- how many boots and uniforms to order
- how much food to prepare
- how much money to budget for salaries
- how many horses to house for the chariots
- how many spears and swords and sheaths to order

Wouldn't a good steward need to know these things in order to use the resources of the nation wisely and not waste resources?

Then why was David instructed not to take a census?

From where did Israel's strength come? Was it from self, from their own might, their own power? What would counting up the military do? 50,000 bowman, 100,000 spearmen, 40,000 chariots, etc.?

Would it tempt David, and the people, to rely on self and not on God, to be filled with pride?

We don't have personal armies today we have savings accounts, stock portfolios, mutual funds, properties—could we be tempted to put our futures and our securities into wealth instead of God?

Why did 70,000 die?

Who was their strength? Who held back the waters at the Red Sea? Why did the Egyptians die in the Red Sea? Because God let go what He restrained.

Why did many in Israel die of serpent bites in the desert? Where did the snakes come from? Where were they before that? So God was holding back the serpents that naturally live in the environment, like He did the waters of the Red Sea. Then what happened that God stopped holding back? They rebelled and chose to go their own way.

From where did Israel's success and strength come? From God, but what was the pursuit of the census about motivationally? About self-reliance and pride. So, God gave David a choice:

- 3 years of famine—the Lord turns the weather over to them—they can't bring rain
- 3 months of being destroyed by enemies—the Lord turns their safety over to them—they can't stop their enemies
- 3 days of the sword of the Lord, pestilence in the land—the Lord turns their health over to them, they can't stop diseases

This was not the infliction of some judicial punishment, but a powerful therapeutic intervention, to remind them that disconnected from God and breaking His designs there is only death.

Did this intervention work? Did they, after that, stop relying on self and afterward only rely on God? What does this reveal? Can God get what He wants, trust and love, by using power and force?

Then why did He do it?

Why do parents discipline children who are unruly? But does there come a time when the parent has to let the child go their own way?

What would have happened to the entire nation if God didn't intervene in this way? Even with the interventions from God, here, at Sinai, at Carmel, with Elisha, the 70 year captivity—even with all these interventions to teach them their strength came only in reliance upon, trust in, and obedience to God—what happened? 10 tribes were gone by the time Jesus came—only two tribes remained. Do you think God intervened and disciplined too much?

The last paragraph states, "But money is one mask that Satan hides behind in order to secure our allegiance."

Does Satan hide behind other masks? What?

- power
- false science
- people

- religion
- proclamations of seeking to do good
- the dead/departed
- miraculous signs and wonders

How good are you at recognizing where Satan is moving versus where God is moving? Are you confident you can discern, see, identify Satan's activities and not get caught up in them?

In preparation for today's lesson, I came across this in a book entitled Christian Education:

There are two classes of educators in the world. One class are those whom God makes channels of light, and the other class are those whom Satan uses as his agents, who are wise to do evil. One class contemplates the character of God, and increases in the knowledge of Jesus, whom God hath sent into the world. This class becomes wholly given up to those things which bring heavenly enlightenment, heavenly wisdom, to the uplifting of the soul. Every capability of their nature is submitted to God, and their thoughts are brought into captivity to Christ. [This is the type of teacher I desire to be] The other class is in league with the prince of darkness, who is ever on the alert that he may find an opportunity to teach others the knowledge of evil. If place is made for him, he will not be slow to press his way into heart and mind... {CE 70.2}

It is true that in the writings of pagans and infidels there are found thoughts of an elevated character, which are attractive to the mind. But there is a reason for this. Was not Satan the light-bearer, the sharer of God's glory in heaven, and next to Jesus in power and majesty?... {CE 72.1}

Everything in nature comes from God; yet Satan can inspire his agents with thoughts that appear elevating and noble. Did he not come to Christ with quotations of Scripture when he designed to overthrow him with his specious temptations? This is the way in which he comes to man, as an angel of light disguising his temptations under an appearance of goodness, and making men believe him to be the friend rather than the enemy of humanity. It is in this way that he has deceived and seduced the race,—beguiling them with subtle temptations, bewildering them with specious deceptions. [What do you think this author describes as the subtle temptation, the specious deceptions of Satan?] {CE 73.1}

Satan has ascribed to God all the evils to which flesh is heir. He has represented him as a God who delights in the sufferings of his creatures, who is revengeful and implacable. [Which in Christian doctrine would be what? The evils of human flesh—how sinners operate, imposed rules, with imposed punishments, to inflict suffering, to pay for sins and without mercy—in other words the penal substitutionary theory of atonement] It was Satan who originated the doctrine of eternal torment as a punishment for sin, because in this way he could lead men into infidelity and rebellion, distract souls, and dethrone the human reason. {CE 73.2} [How does the doctrine of eternal torment dethrone human reason? –God is love, love can only exist in an atmosphere of freedom, it cannot be coerced—yet God will torment people in hell for all eternity. Further, how is it fair, for a person to be born in sin, who never had the opportunity to know Christ, maybe died violently at 15 from a warring tribe, to be sent to torment for all eternity? Such a teaching causes people to say things like, “Well God’s ways are not may ways, I just take that on faith.” Which means they don’t think about it, i.e. have shut down reason. When we believe things that are contradictory and refuse to pursue truth we damage the faculty of reason!—the doctrine of eternal torment does this.]

Heaven, looking down, and seeing the delusions into which men were led, knew that a divine Instructor must come to earth. Men in ignorance and moral darkness must have light, spiritual light; for the world knew not God, and he must be revealed to their understanding. Truth looked down from heaven and saw not the reflection of her image; for dense clouds of moral darkness and gloom enveloped the world, and the Lord Jesus alone was able to roll back the clouds; for he was the light of the world. By his presence he could dissipate the gloomy shadow that Satan had cast between man and God. Darkness covered the earth, and gross darkness the people. Through the accumulated misrepresentations of the enemy, many were so deceived that they worshiped a false god, clothed with the attributes of the satanic character. {CE 73.3} [Do we find this same problem today? Yes, and what is the final message to go to the world to prepare the world for Christ’s return? The truth about God’s character of love. What obstructs that message? The subtle lies of Satan in regard to God’s law, such that people teach God functions like Satan, imposes rules and then punishes people for breaking those rules. We are called to take a message to the world to worship the Designer, Him who made the heavens, earth, sea and come back into harmony with Him!]

The Teacher from heaven, no less a personage than the Son of God, came to earth to reveal the character of the Father to men, that they might worship him in spirit and in truth. Christ revealed to men the fact that the strictest adherence to ceremony and form would not save them; for the kingdom of God was spiritual in its nature. Christ came to the world to sow it with truth... [Where is the field into which truth is sewn? So what did Christ come to do? Change the hearts, minds, characters of humans, displace the lies and methods of Satan and restore the truth and methods of God into the hearts/minds of human beings] He presented to men that which was exactly contrary to the representations of the enemy in regard to the character of God, and sought to impress upon men the paternal love of the Father, who "so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life." [John 3:16.] {CE 74.1}

Christ declares the mission he had in coming to the earth. He says in his last public prayer, "O righteous Father, the world hath not known thee: but I have known thee, and these have known that thou hast sent me. And I have declared unto them thy name, and will declare it; that the love wherewith thou hast loved me may be in them, and I in them." [John 17:25, 26.] When Moses asked the Lord to show him his glory, the Lord said, "I will make all my goodness pass before thee." [Exodus 33:19.] "And the Lord passed by before him, and proclaimed, The Lord, The Lord God, merciful and gracious, long suffering, and abundant in goodness and truth, keeping mercy for thousands, forgiving iniquity and transgression and sin, and that will by no means clear the guilty. . . . And Moses made haste, and bowed his head toward the earth, and worshiped." [Exodus 34:6-8.] When we are able to comprehend the character of God as did Moses, we too shall make haste to bow in adoration and praise. Jesus contemplated nothing less than "that the love wherewith Thou hast love me" [John 17:26.] should be in the hearts of his children, that they might impart the knowledge of God to others. {CE 75.1}

O what an assurance is this, that the love of God may abide in the hearts of all who believe in him! O what salvation is provided; for he is able to save unto the uttermost all that come unto God by him. In wonder we exclaim, How can these things be? But Jesus will be satisfied with nothing less than this. Those who are partakers of his sufferings here, of his humiliation, enduring for his name's sake, are to have the love of God bestowed upon them as it was upon the Son. One who knows, has said, "The Father himself loveth you." [John 16:27.] One who has had an experimental knowledge of the length, and breadth, and height, and depth of that love, has declared unto us this amazing fact. This love is ours through faith in the Son of God, therefore a connection with Christ means everything to us. We are to be one with him as he is one with the Father, and then we are beloved by the infinite God as members of the body of Christ, as branches of the living Vine. We are to be attached to the parent stock, and to receive nourishment from the Vine. Christ is our glorified Head, and the divine love flowing from the heart of God, rests in Christ, and is communicated to those who have been united to him. This divine love entering the soul inspires it with gratitude, frees it from its spiritual feebleness, from pride, vanity, and selfishness, and from all that would deform the Christian character. {CE 75.2} Review and Herald, Nov. 17, 1891.

Do you agree with this?

Are we being good stewards of the truth and love God has bestowed upon us?

SUNDAY

The lesson asks us to read 1John 2:16,17:

For all that is in the world—the lust of the flesh, the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life—is not of the Father but is of the world. ¹⁷ And the world is passing away, and the lust of it; but he who does the will of God abides forever. NKJV

What does this mean?

What is the root motive or principle in the world? Selfishness, which is motivated primarily by what? Fear...where did this fear and selfishness come from?

How did fear and selfishness get into humanity?

Have you struggled with fear and selfishness? Did you choose to have these motivations and feelings?

Adam and Eve were created in God's image with the ability to have children in their image. They were created with the ability to choose and change themselves based on their choices, thus when they chose to break trust they changed themselves and infected themselves with fear and selfishness, and all of us are born with biology infected in this way.

1 John is telling us that this infection has three primary avenues, sensualism, materialism and egotism. This means some people are born genetically more vulnerable to temptations of the senses, addictions, sexual temptations, others more toward arrogance, pride, ego, and others more toward greed, wealth, accumulation of stuff—but all three have at their root, selfishness.

Why will the methods of the world pass away?

Because they are out of harmony with how life is built to operate and cannot continue to exist—it would be like saying the grass that is not watered will wither and die.

Do not fret because of evil men or be envious of those who do wrong;
² for like the grass they will soon wither, like green plants they will soon die away. Ps 37:1,2

Read last paragraph, “When Christ came to the...” Why were systems of religion losing their hold on people's minds?

Because they taught fable and falsehood—what about today? Are religions losing hold on people's minds? Why? Because they teach fable and falsehoods—any examples?

- God's kingdom is like human kingdoms
- God's justice looks like human justice
- God's law functions like human law
- Salvation is a legal process
- Jesus died to pay a legal penalty
- God will use His power to inflict suffering and death upon the unrepentant
- God will torture people in hell for eternity
- Sin doesn't harm people God does for sin
- The Bible must be read literally
- One must be baptized in certain water, in certain places, with certain words, by certain people with certain certificates of authority, in a certain way in order to be saved
- others?

What do such beliefs result in? In the belief in a god who cannot be trusted, a theology of arbitrariness that contradicts laws of nature and real life experiences, and thus causes people to reject religion and God.

MONDAY

The lesson asks us to read DT 8:10-14:

When you have eaten and are satisfied, praise the Lord your God for the good land he has given you. ¹¹ Be careful that you do not forget the Lord your God, failing to observe his commands, his laws and his decrees that I am giving you this day. ¹² Otherwise, when you eat and are satisfied, when you build fine houses and settle down, ¹³ and when your herds and flocks grow large and your silver and gold increase and all you have is multiplied, ¹⁴ then your heart will become proud and you will forget the Lord your God, who brought you out of Egypt, out of the land of slavery. NIV

What is the message?

Is there any application to us today? What is the application to us today?

Israel was composed of real people, who had real histories, but they also acted out the plan of salvation.

- They were slaves in Egypt
 - We are slaves to sin
- Moses was born amongst them and the sinful ruler sought to kill him as a child
 - Jesus was born amongst us and the sinful ruler sought to kill him as a child
- Moses conversed with God directly and then went forth to confront the sinful power that enslaved the people
 - Jesus conversed with God directly and then went forth to confront the sinful power that enslaves humanity in sin
- Moses led the people through the waters of the red sea to a new life of freedom from the powers that enslaved
 - Jesus leads us through the waters of baptism to a new life of freedom from fear and selfishness which enslaves us
- The people were blessed with material possessions, houses, wealth as they followed God's instructions
 - We are blessed with spiritual possessions the wealth of wisdom, peace, joy, love, maturity, discernment, self-control as we trust God and apply His methods to our lives.
- They were warned if they forgot God's instructions they would lose their blessings and even be enslaved again—Babylonian captivity
 - We are warned if we forget to trust God and stop living in harmony with His design protocols for life then we will lose our blessings and become enslaved to fear and selfishness all over again

So, if we move away from trusting God, to trusting in stuff, money, possessions, what happens to our hearts and characters? Do we have less fear or more?

TUESDAY

The lesson asks us to read Mt 6:22-24:

²³ But if your eyes are bad, your whole body will be full of darkness. If then the light within you is darkness, how great is that darkness! NIV

What does this mean?

Is it talking about the physical eyes? No, it is talking about the spiritual eye, the conscience, the honest heart seeking to be enlightened by the truth, even if the truth is unpleasant at first.

What would it mean if the eyes are bad? It would mean a seared conscience and a heart that doesn't want to see the truth, so will warp the evidence to avoid what it truly means.

When we do wrong our consciences convict of guilt, guilt is unpleasant so people want it to go away. There are only two ways to resolve guilt—God's way, which is repentances (real heart motive change) and restoration when possible.

But one can also avoid guilt by denial and distortion, self-deception.

Have you heard “he's bending or twisting the truth?” Truth cannot be bent or twisted, people can only bend their minds around the truth, but when they do they damage their ability to understand and perceive truth, thus their minds become darkened.

So, this passage from The Remedy:

²² "Your eyes are windows into your mind. If your eyes are open wide and you are honest with the evidence, your mind will be filled with light and truth.²³ But if you view things through jaded eyes, tainted with selfishness, then you will distort the evidence and your mind will be darkened; then, even the light that enters will be warped into greater self-deception, and the darkness will be great!

The lesson also talks about the methods of modern marketing to use sensualism, sexuality to promote materialism. Any thoughts about this practice?

WEDNESDAY

Read first paragraph, “God said....” What does it tell you that Lucifer said “I will be like the Most High” and then did what He did?

That he deceived himself in regard to God’s true character—if he really wanted to be like God what would he have done? He would have humbled himself for the benefit of others, not sought to promote himself—remember Philippians 2.

Read last paragraph, “Paul instructs Timothy...” Lovers of money is one manifestation of selfishness—are there others that are less noticeable?

What about those who love to be most modestly dressed—never wear make up, never use products on their hair—because they pride themselves in their modesty, would never wear jewelry and look down upon those who do.

What about those who are like this:

The Pharisee stood up and prayed about himself: ‘God, I thank you that I am not like other men—robbers, evildoers, adulterers—or even like this tax collector. ¹² I fast twice a week and give a tenth of all I get.’ Luke 18:11,12

He’s giving his tithe, he’s not in love with money—is this guy righteous?

Why not?

Can self be the center in ways that are Christian accepted?

What is the most destructive forms of evil—the Satanist cult worshipper, or the Christian who professes Christ, but remains selfish in heart?

The book People of the Lie by M. Scott Peck, examines the question of human evil and exposes the evil that masquerades as righteousness among us.

THURSDAY

Read last paragraph, “Materialism is a form...” This is insightful—many people don’t realize how their self, their sense of self, gets caught up in what they possess.

The Bible states to guard the heart, why?

What is circumcision of the heart?

What are the affections?

Are material things the only thing that people tie their sense of self to in unhealthy ways?

What else?

- people—codependency
- jobs/careers/position
- nationality
- membership in groups like church organization
- lifestyle—vegetarian
- sickness—“I’m bipolar” rather than “I have bipolar disorder”

SUNDAY

Read first and fourth paragraphs, "A popular television..." What level moral development is this? This is level two, the marketplace exchange; let's make a deal with God. If we do this, then God does that.

Why is this not the right way to think? What is the problem with this type of thinking?

First—what is the motive? It is self-centered, all about what self can get for their good deed.

Second—what happens in the heart and mind when people give, but don't get back what they were expecting? Doubt, anger, further distortions about God.

But, in light of Bible promises isn't this the right way to think? Aren't we supposed to believe the Bible when it says:

Bring the whole tithe into the storehouse, that there may be food in my house. Test me in this,” says the Lord Almighty, “and see if I will not throw open the floodgates of heaven and pour out so much blessing that you will not have room enough for it. ¹¹ I will prevent pests from devouring your crops, and the vines in your fields will not cast their fruit,” says the Lord Almighty. ¹² “Then all the nations will call you blessed, for yours will be a delightful land,” says the Lord Almighty. Mal 3:10-12

Doesn't this say explicitly that if we pay our tithe God will give us more blessings? So what is wrong with believing the prosperity gospel?

The bottom green section asks “What examples can you find of those who are faithful to God but are not rich in the worldly possessions, and those who are not faithful to God but who are rich in worldly possessions?”

- Jesus—was He rich in worldly possessions?
- The Apostles?
- Job was rich but lost it all and then got more back, was job right with God only when wealthy and healthy?
- King Herod—wealthy, but unrighteous
- Caesar—wealthy but unrighteous

Is there a contradiction in the Bible between the passage in Malachi and the examples of some righteous people being poor and some unrighteous people being rich?

How do you harmonize these two ideas?

- What kind of law does God's kingdom operate upon? Design law,
- What is the primary principle or design protocol in God's government? Love
- How does love function—by giving
- And the more you give the more you will receive—why?
- Because it is how life is built to operate in God's design

Thus Malachi is describing God's design, God's intention, when we operate upon love. So, is it true that if you give in love you receive a great blessing of love in return, from God always, but from others often? Sometimes we might also get material returns on giving, but the promise isn't primarily material blessing.

But how does sin operate in the world? It is selfish—it seeks to take. And what do the selfish (unrighteous) generally do to the unselfish (righteous)? Abuse and mistreat them.

Is the world currently operating only upon God's principles, or is there an antagonistic principle fighting against God's design?

So, do we see righteous suffer in this world? Is it because God or God's law fails, or because an enemy is at work?

What is it the enemy wants to achieve? Does he not want to undermine trust in God and get people to accept his evil methods instead of God's?

How do we conceive of the Malachi passage if we think through imposed law lenses? We think of level two, rules, deals, we do something and then God uses His power to make the reward happen.

What happens in the minds of people if they think this way when they see the righteous suffer? Do they have more trust in God or less?

So, again we see how Satan attacks God and His character by infecting our minds with imposed law constructs.

What about the sovereignty of God? Isn't He sovereign? This leads to the classic questions:

- If God is all-powerful and all good then why is there suffering and evil?
- A God that allows suffering to continue is either:
 - a) not all-powerful and is thus unable to prevent the suffering;
 - b) not loving because this God has the power to prevent suffering but is unwilling to do so; and/or
 - c) not all-knowing and only becomes aware of the suffering after it has already occurred and it's too late to prevent it.

What answers do you give to such questions?

Is God sovereign? Is God good or a mixture of good and evil? Is God all-powerful and all knowing? Then why does suffering happen?

Because of how God's law, design protocols, actually functions.

The difficulty most have had in answering these questions is that they almost always answer from the perspective that God's law functions like human law, imposed rules. Thus, it is a simple matter that if God is good then God should use His power to impose His will to make all things good. When God doesn't, then for many they conclude either there isn't a God, or He isn't good.

Others go the direction of shutting down thinking and believing and practicing the methods of the beast—God's ways aren't my ways I just accept that God was loving by....

The problem is the false premise regarding God's law. When we realize how love actually functions—love cannot be coerced, commanded, programmed like a computer; that love requires genuine freedom of the sentient being; that love must be freely given. Then we understand God is always sovereign, but administers His sovereignty through, and in harmony with, His character of love and His design laws of love and freedom.

One other point on the idea that the more you give the more you receive. Only within the operational context of God's design laws. And one of those laws is the law of rest-oration.

This law states that for finite beings after expending a resource the individual must rest in harmony with God and God's design in order to receive more of the resource to expend.

If you give energy in helping others, you must rest and rejuvenate lest you burn out. Even Jesus, when living on earth, took time away from the needy masses to rest and recover.

One of Satan's tricks if he can't get people to simply rebel against God and live selfishly, is to get the good hearted people to never say no, never take time for healthy rest, recreation, recovery and thus burn themselves out into exhaustion.

Finite beings must first receive life, love, truth, energy, from God before it can be shared, and then as one shares one becomes fatigued and needs to rest in their relationship with God and recover and in so doing gradually becomes stronger with greater capacity and endurance, but always still with finite limits.

MONDAY

Read first paragraph, "We don't need..." What is "not seen" that you look upon?

- God—how and where do you look to see God?
 - Nature Rom 1:20—what do you see in nature? What law at work? Do you see God's design? Do you see an antagonistic force?
 - The Bible
 - Do some read the very same Bible but find a different god than you find?
 - People—can we see God in people? How? In the change that comes when someone accepts Jesus—they go from untrustworthy, fear-based, to other-centered reliable people who are kind, patient, merciful, compassionate, forgiving, honest. When we see such change do we see God?
- Jesus—how and where to you look upon Jesus?
 - The Bible?
 - What about in acts of selflessness in the world today—do we see Jesus there?
 - Can a person accomplish genuine acts of selfless love without Jesus? Or, are all acts of genuine selfless love evidence of Jesus working through the Holy Spirit in the person—even if the person doesn't claim to be a follower of Jesus?
 - Other Christian writings, talks?
 - Music—can we see God and Jesus in music?
 - Art—can we see God and music in art?

- The promised future without sin—where do you look to see this?
 - The Bible?
 - What does the promised future look like?
 - Does it inspire us toward better living now?

What do you think of Helen Keller's statement: "The most pathetic person in the world is someone who has sight, but has no vision."

What does it mean?

Jesus said in Mt 13:13-17:

"The knowledge of the secrets of the kingdom of heaven has been given to you, but not to them. ¹² Whoever has will be given more, and he will have an abundance. Whoever does not have, even what he has will be taken from him. ¹³ [Was Jesus making an arbitrary decision, I have decided that I will give more to those who have the most and take away from those the little they do have? Or is Jesus stating a design law—the law of both worship and exertion?] This is why I speak to them in parables:

"Though seeing, they do not see;
though hearing, they do not hear or understand.

¹⁴ In them is fulfilled the prophecy of Isaiah:

" 'You will be ever hearing but never understanding;
you will be ever seeing but never perceiving.
¹⁵ For this people's heart has become calloused;
they hardly hear with their ears,
and they have closed their eyes.
Otherwise they might see with their eyes, hear with their ears, understand with their hearts and turn, and I would heal them.'

¹⁶ But blessed are your eyes because they see, and your ears because they hear. ¹⁷ For I tell you the truth, many prophets and righteous men longed to see what you see but did not see it, and to hear what you hear but did not hear it.

What does this mean?

What type of law is Jesus describing here?

Is God restrictive with whom He shares truth? In other words, does God select some to receive truth and others not?

What was the parable associated with Jesus words above? The parable of the sower—and

- What does the soil represent? The hearts of people
- What does the seed represent—the truth
- Was the sower restrictive with where the seeds of truth were cast?
- Why did the seed grow in some hearts but not others?
- What made the difference? The quality of the soil, which means? The nature of hearts and minds. Some people don't want the truth, resisted it, reject it, didn't value it, didn't want to understand it and thus though seeing they do not see.

My wife gave me a T-shirt once that read:

“I can explain it to you: I can't understand it for you.”

People have to actually want truth in order for the truth to be understood, embraced, and applied.

Why would people not want truth? Because it would:

- Overturn some cherished idea or belief they currently value, which would result in something initially experienced as unpleasant:
 - loss of pride or ego if they were on public record and had to recant or retract a position
 - loss of relationship if they had to break off an engagement
 - loss of income if they had to quit a job
 - loss of power if they had to resign a position
 - loss of perceived security if they had to surrender a false belief
 - change in diet or lifestyle (quit smoking, give up marijuana, stop drinking sodas, start exercising, change sleep patterns)

The lesson states, “Blurred spiritual eyesight puts eternal salvation in jeopardy.” Any texts come to mind?

Christ speaking to the church at Laodicea states:

I know your deeds, that you are neither cold nor hot. I wish you were either one or the other! ¹⁶ So, because you are lukewarm—neither hot nor cold—I am about to spit you out of my mouth. ¹⁷ You say, ‘I am rich; I have acquired wealth and do not need a thing.’ But you do not realize that you are wretched, pitiful, poor, blind and naked. ¹⁸ I counsel you to buy from me gold refined in the fire, so you can become rich; and white clothes to wear, so you can cover your shameful nakedness; and salve to put on your eyes, so you can see. Rev 3:15-18

What does this mean?

What does it mean to be lukewarm?

What causes lukewarmness? Is it not a mixture of hot and cold?

So, these people appear or proclaim to be on fire for the Lord, yet their hearts have not been renewed and remain cold with selfishness. They think they are pure and righteous and need nothing, but they are pitiful. This sounds a lot like the penal legal theologies to me, and by their own words they claim that justification is when we are declared to be righteous, even though we are not.

But the Bible says we are to buy from Christ the gold refined in the fire, the white clothes and the eye salve. Does it say we are to buy a declaration?

How do we buy from Christ? Isn't salvation and the righteousness of Christ a free gift?

Yes it is; then how do we buy it? Not by money, not by work, but by barter, by trade. We trade our sinfulness for His righteousness, our terminal condition for His perfection, our death for His life, our blindness for His discernment.

- We cannot receive the righteousness of Christ as long as we hold to our selfishness.
- We cannot receive spiritual eyesight as long as we stay focused on self and refuse truth
- We cannot experience life as long as we cling to the law of sin and death—i.e. the survival of the fittest, me first, way of living.

We buy these things from Christ by surrendering in trust to Him acknowledging that we have no righteousness and we exchange our corruption for His purity. thoughts?

TUESDAY

The title of the lesson for Tuesday is The Steps of Covetousness. Is coveting bad?

1Corinthians 12:31 in multiple versions reads: "But covet earnestly the best gifts: and yet shew I unto you a more excellent way."

Is coveting a bad thing, or does it depend on what one covets and the motive for the coveting—in other words if the motive is selfish, coveting what another has it is sinful. But if the motive is godly, coveting gifts from God in order to fulfill God's purpose of revealing Him and helping others then righteous?

Covet means to have a strong desire for something—so the commandment is stating that when you have a strong desire to possess something that is not yours, or not within God's design to be yours, this is diagnostic of selfishness in the heart.

Thus it is healthy to covet, or desire, anything that you don't currently possess that God has designed to be yours—like a new heart and right spirit, a spirit of confidence and peace, a mind of wisdom and discernment, a deeper love relationship with Jesus, eternal life etc. But it is sinful (because it reveals selfishness in the heart) to covet or desire anything that is not within God's design to be yours—like anyone else's position, abilities, possessions—like the fruit of the tree of knowledge of good and evil.

Frist paragraph at the top states, "Like all sins, covetousness begins in the heart."

Now, I believe the authors were rightly trying to point out that all sin starts in the heart and then results in actions. Quite correct and very important to realize this, because realizing this we understand that sin is not a legal problem, and therefore legal solutions won't work. Sin is a heart condition problem and only God's plan to heal the hearts of people can resolve the sin problem.

So I really appreciate the authors pointing this out. But, I would have worded it differently because to me "Like all sins, covetousness begins in the heart" sounded silly because covetousness doesn't merely begin in the heart, it begins, lives and ends in the heart. In other words, covetousness is only a heart issue—which if unchecked leads to other sinful/selfish actions or behaviors.

This is the commandment that really helped the Apostle Paul, who wrote: "I would not have known what sin was except through the law. For I would not have known what coveting really was if the law had not said, "Do not covet." Rom 7:7

Why?

Because all the other 9 commandments have behavioral aspects to them. But the 10th, is the one which happens only in the heart, not just begins in the heart.

The lesson asks what did Satan do to lure Eve into sin?

Read third paragraph, "If one didn't know better..." Why did Eve take the fruit, was it primarily covetousness or something else?

"Eve believed the words of Satan, and the belief of that falsehood in regard to God's character, changed the condition and character of both herself and husband. They were changed from good and obedient children into transgressors..." E.G. White, Review & Herald 1/9/1886

According to this author, what was the issue? Did the temptation start with the fruit? Or did the temptation start with an attack on God's trustworthiness? And broken love and trust resulted in what? Covetousness, or insecurity and fear, which results in selfishness, seeking to protect or advance oneself.

And in this context, having believed the lies of the serpent, having lost trust in God, having experienced fear, and having the fruit available which she now believed would make her like God, what would be the action? She took the fruit. Was this primarily covetousness? I don't think so. I think this was believing lies, which broke trust and incited fear and this was an act of self-protection, survival, self-advancement.

The taking of the fruit was merely the acting out of broken love and trust because Eve believed lies about God.

So, I would not state this as “I see, I want, I take.” I would state this as, “I fear, I need, I take.”

What is the difference between wanting something and needing something?

When we want something, but don’t need it, we retain discernment and the ability to walk away and say no. When we move from want to need, “I need it to feel whole, to be happy, to feel okay, to be liked etc. etc.” then we can’t let go, can’t walk away and seek to take at all costs. We begin to covet and become jealous.

The problem is the distrust in God to provide all anyone needs to be healthy, happy, and whole. And because there is not trust in God then the fear and insecurity take over in the heart and we allow ourselves to feel and believe that something other than Jesus will make us whole. Thus people think they “must have” some thing and will begin to fantasize about it, imagine it and covet it, ultimately plotting to exploit others to get it. They will even come to see other people who have what they think they must have as an enemy who is preventing them from realizing their full potential. An example is given in the lesson of King Ahab and Naboth’s field.

WEDNESDAY

First two sentences say, “For us as fallen beings, greed can be as easy as breathing. And just as natural.”

I think I know what they mean, that our carnal natures are selfish and that without the regenerating power of the Spirit we automatically seek for self and become greedy.

This is very true, selfishness, greed, is natural to the sinful heart. However, how is it NOT like breathing?

Breathing requires, with every breath, the giving back of CO2 to the plants in order to receive oxygen in return. Breathing is, in fact, the physical acting out of the law of love which brings life. Greed is just the opposite, it is taking for self without giving in return, which breaks the law of love and results in death. It would be like tying a plastic bag over your head and hoarding all your CO2 for yourself. This is what greed does.

Read third paragraph, “Notice Judas’ words...” Was this a simple case of greed, i.e. Judas merely wanted 30 silver coins? Or was Judas’ greed more complex? Was Judas seeking a larger payout and the 30 coins were simply another reward he could get along the way?

Do you think Judas believed Jesus was a fraud, a conman and by turning Him over to authorities he was doing a righteous act?

Do you think Judas, having seen all the miracles, including the raising of Lazarus from the dead, believed Jesus was the Son of God, the Messiah?

Yes, Judas did, then why did Judas betray Jesus?

Because Judas, while believing Jesus was the Son of God, did not understand the nature of God's character, His methods, nor His law. In other words, Judas didn't understand God's kingdom. Judas viewed God's government as operating like the earthly governments and thought that Jesus needed a little help to finally wield all His power to take the throne. Judas, having accepted the imposed law construct and thinking that the use of force to overthrow evil and punish wrongdoing was correct, thought that by betraying Jesus He would force Jesus to stop the unrighteous action of killing Him. Then Judas could step up to Jesus and say—"your welcome—I had faith in you all along, I knew you only needed a little nudge in the right direction."

Yes, what Judas did was for greed, his own personal self-advancement, but it wasn't simply for 30 silver coins—that's why he threw them back. He didn't want the money; he wanted Jesus to take the throne and rule the world with a rod of iron punishing the evil Herod, Jewish leaders, Roman powers and set up a kingdom that operates no differently that Rome was operating.

How many Christians today are in the very same mindset of Judas?

The message of the gospel from the lips of Jesus Himself is "“My kingdom is not of this world. If it were, my servants would fight to prevent my arrest by the Jews. But now my kingdom is from another place.” Jn 18:36NIV

Any version of God that has God and Jesus running their universe like human governments, imposed rules, legal actions, infliction of punishment—is a lie and obstructs God from healing hearts and minds. Sadly, many will be just like Judas in the end, ““Lord, Lord, did we not prophesy in your name, and in your name drive out demons and perform many miracles?”” But Jesus says to them, ““I never knew you. Away from me, you evildoers!”” MT 7:22,23

They will do just as Judas did, cry for the mountains to fall on them. They don't want to live in the presence of Jesus.

THURSDAY

Read Galatians 5:22-25: “But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, ²³ gentleness and self-control. Against such things there is no law. ²⁴ Those who belong to Christ Jesus have crucified the sinful nature with its passions and desires.²⁵ Since we live by the Spirit, let us keep in step with the Spirit.”

Read second paragraph, “These texts...”

- From where does self-control come?
- If it is a fruit of the Spirit why is it not called Spirit control?
- How does surrendering to the Spirit of God result in self-control?
- What does the Spirit do in us?
 - Reveals truth
 - Convicts of deviations from design which destroy (sin)
 - Instills new desires and longings
 - Brings us to decision points
 - Leaves us free to decide to choose the truth or reject
 - When we choose the truth the Spirit provides the power to succeed in the choice
 - In so doing we are changed and transformed by the working of the Spirit while retaining our individuality and thus we develop self-control, just like the mature develop by practice the ability to discern right from wrong Heb 5:14
- Why is self-control a requirement for God’s kingdom?
- Can love exist without freedom?
- If the Spirit were actually in control of your choices would you be free or a puppet?
- Will the Spirit ever take control of your choices?

Here is a quote from one of the founders of the SDA church, what do you think?

The Comforter is called "the Spirit of truth." His work is to define and maintain the truth. He first dwells in the heart as the Spirit of truth, and thus He becomes the Comforter. There is comfort and peace in the truth, but no real peace or comfort can be found in falsehood. It is through false theories and traditions that Satan gains his power over the mind. By directing men to false standards, he misshapes the character. Through the Scriptures the Holy Spirit speaks to the mind, and impresses truth upon the heart. Thus He exposes error, and expels it from the soul. It is by the Spirit of truth, working through the word of God, that Christ subdues His chosen people to Himself. {DA 671.1}

FRIDAY

First sentence states, “The ultimate human goal is to be happy and satisfied.” From where does happiness come?

Happiness is a by-product of something else. Like sawdust is a by-product of woodworking. This means it cannot get happiness by pursuing it directly.

Happiness is a by-product of healthiness in all domains:

- If you are physically unwell are you happy?
- If you are relationally unwell, conflicts with spouse or children, are you happy?
- If you are psychologically unwell, “I’m no good, “I can’t do anything right...” are you happy?
- If you are spiritually unwell weighed down with guilt and shame, are you happy?

While you cannot achieve happiness by seeking happiness, you can make choices to be healthy. You can take an inventory of your life and ask where am I engaged in activities that are unhealthy and start choosing to move toward health. The results will be increasing happiness and satisfaction.

The devil tricks people to substitute pleasure for happiness and thus many people who are longing for happiness instead destroy themselves in pleasure seeking:

- Alcohol and drugs
- Thrill seeking
- Entertainments
- Sex and porn
- Shopping
- Gambling

Behaviors that stimulate the pleasure circuits, but in ways that violate God’s design and thus rather than bringing health with more happiness, such actions bring damage with more misery and typically more engagement in pleasure seeking, a spiral down.

The way out is to recognize the truth and follow the truth where it leads, always back to God and harmony with His designs.

SABBATH

Read first paragraph, “God does not waste words...” Is this description how you understand God, He doesn’t waste words with explaining things—just do what God says?

What about the purpose of the entire Bible?

What about:

- God talking with Moses
- God talking with Abraham
- Jesus and His disciples – John 15:15

Is this really the idea we should draw from the parable, that God doesn’t take time to explain things?

Have you ever struggled with why the Bible seems difficult to understand? Some people, because of certain stories in Scripture think that God doesn’t explain, He just commands. I have had people ask me, “Why does the Bible read like it does?”

What is God’s method for our understanding? Is it:

- No explanation “just do what I say?”
- Detailed explanation that give all the answers, “Here is why I did this?”
- Primarily principles followed by evidence leaving people free to think, with some explanation, enough that there is no excuse for not comprehending?

What can you achieve with the last method you cannot achieve with the first two?

Individual growth, maturity, love and trust, i.e. understanding friendship!

The reason the Bible reads like it does is because it is designed for the healing and restoration of Godliness in people—when correctly used. And how does one use the Bible correctly?

As a source of information, evidence, revelation for which we must think, reason, and compare not only Scripture with Scripture, but with a heart submitted to God, inviting in the Holy Spirit and harmonizing Scripture with science and experience. In this way we mature, grow, develop as we voluntarily participate and freely assimilate its truths.

What do you think the lesson means by “Should put the fear of God in us all.”

Are they saying that we should be frightened and full of fear and terror of God?

Are they suggesting the problem with disobeying God is what God will do to us and that should really terrify us into doing what is right? What level of moral development is this? Level 1—is this what God wants? NO!

What results when people obey out of fear of punishment? Destruction of love, rebellion and destruction of individuality. This idea that we should live in fear of God and see Him as the source of punishment is central to Satan’s lies.

The Bible teaches that perfect love casts out ALL fear—when we draw close to God, have His law written on our hearts, know Him as He wants to be known, we will love Him and have no fear of Him!

In the parable is God inflicting something on this person, or is it being revealed where a person’s hardness of heart leads? Can accumulating material possessions result in healing hearts and minds?

I read this in the book The Desire of Ages this morning:

Riches, worldly honor, and human greatness can never save a soul from death; Jesus purposed that no attraction of an earthly nature should call men to His side. Only the beauty of heavenly truth must draw those who would follow Him. The character of the Messiah had long been foretold in prophecy, and He desired men to accept Him upon the testimony of the word of God. {DA 43.1}

Isn’t this the point of the parable?

SUNDAY

Read first paragraph, “It was Christ...” Wasn’t this beautifully stated? What did Christ write into nature? The message of the Father’s love, which is the principle of giving that life is built upon. However, today there is an antagonistic principle in nature that undermines and perverts God’s design. Romans 8 “all nature groans under the weigh of sin.”

In Eden, before sin, do you think there were:

- Raptors (Eagles, Falcons, Hawks) that had beaks and claws for tearing flesh?
- Predators like wolves, lions and bears with claws and fangs designed for tearing flesh?
- Poisonous biting insects and arachnids?
- Poisonous plants?
- Thorns?
- Viruses and harmful microorganisms?

If God didn’t create them, then where did these organisms originate? Jesus said an enemy has sewn weeds into the field of God. Satan, after Adam’s sin, began messing with the God’s design perverting it, and also sinful humans, and natural decay and random mutation.

So, in nature we see two antagonistic principles at war, love and survival of the fittest.

The lesson goes on to differentiate Christianity with its solid belief in a real God who creates a real physical universe with the belief that physical matter is not evil, from philosophies that suggest physical matter is evil and spirituality is found only in the non-physical.

Question: Do we value material things differently than God? If so, why?

Is it not because of fear and selfishness—fear of what will happen without the physical things, whether water, food, clothes, shelter, money, land, cars...we derive security from the physical things. And we value the physical thing and often derive more security from the physical thing than from God—the source of all physical things.

Examples of people trusting in God instead of the physical things and then allowing God providing for their good?

- David and Goliath
- Elisha and the armies
- Elijah and the widow and the flour and oil
- Gideon and the Amalekites
- Jehoshaphat
- Daniel and the three worthies
- Jesus feeding the masses
- The Apostles—imprisoned when delivered and when martyred

Do we see in every physical blessing a direct link to God?

Is this what Jesus was trying to get people to consider when He said, “And he took bread, gave thanks and broke it, and gave it to them, saying, “This is my body given for you; do this in remembrance of me.” (Lk 22:19)?

Was Jesus merely setting up a ritual, or was He trying to get people to remember all our physical blessings are directly from Him? And every time we break bread, with every meal, we are to remember from where the bread really comes and the ultimate bread of heaven—Jesus?

MONDAY

Read third paragraph, “One reason...” This is well said in several respects:

- Jesus did come into the world to reveal the truth about God and His character of love to us and the onlooking universe
- But this aspect of His mission, the revelation of truth about God, is only ONE reason amongst several that He came—in other words, Jesus had a mission that included more than revelation—it included achievement
- What other things did Christ come to achieve in addition to revealing the truth about God?
 - By revealing the truth about God it would simultaneously prove Satan lied, thus exposing Satan as a liar and thereby disarm Satan Heb 2:14
 - Destroy death (2Tim 1:9,10)
 - Destroy the devil’s work (1John 3:8) which is to efface the image of God in man and put Satan’s image in humanity and Christ destroyed the devil’s work by...
 - Developing a perfect, sinless human character, Heb 5:9,10, and thus became the Remedy, the source of salvation for all who trust Him
 - All of this not only validates God, exposes Satan, fixes the human species by restoring God’s design protocols within the species, but also demonstrates there was no manufacturer’s defect in the creation of humankind as Jesus, in a weaker humanity than Adam, was able to live in perfect harmony with God’s law/design.

Read last paragraph, “Imagine Jesus...” Was it merely his great wealth, or was it a deeply imbedded belief system he had been taught since childhood about what that wealth represented in regard to salvation and how someone is saved?

The rich man had the uneasiness which occurs when a person is not reconciled to God, the emptiness of soul, which drove him to search for peace, for internal healing. He searched throughout his life and was raised from childhood to believe that ritual observance, attendance at feast, washing appropriately, etc. would mean one was right with God and he would know that he was right with God because the Bible says,

“The Lord commanded us to obey all these decrees and to fear the Lord our God, so that we might always prosper and be kept alive, as is the case today.” Dt 6:24

If you pay attention to these laws and are careful to follow them, then the Lord your God will keep his covenant of love with you, as he swore to your forefathers. ¹³ He will love you and bless you and increase your numbers. He will bless the fruit of your womb, the crops of your land—your grain, new wine and oil—the calves of your herds and the lambs of your flocks in the land that he swore to your forefathers to give you. ¹⁴ You will be blessed more than any other people; none of your men or women will be childless, nor any of your livestock without young. Dt 7:12-14

So, was it merely that he loved material possessions, or had he been taught a theology that caused him to believe his wealth was proof that he was right with God?

TUESDAY

Read first paragraph, “Debt is not a principle...” If debt is not a principle of heaven, then why create a system that leads to debt?

Are we debtors to divine justice? What does this mean?

Read second paragraph, “God’s love...” According to this, God set up a transaction between whom? To whom is the payment of a human sacrifice being made?

In this setting, if the payment isn’t made what is the result or what would happen?

What is the payment achieving in this viewpoint?

Where, then, in this theology, is the problem that the payment is fixing?

This is all a lie based on the false law construct.

The truth is seen when we come back to design law.

What was the problem that sin caused that the plan of salvation was designed to fix?

When Adam sinned did:

- God get changed?
- God’s law get changed?
- Humankind change?

Then does something need to be done to God or God’s law? If something is done to God or God’s law, i.e. pay some legal debt, does that actually change the condition of humankind? No! And this is Satan's grand plan, to get people to accept a solution for their problem that doesn't actually fix the problem.

That is what penal legal theologies do—they have a form of godliness but no power.

Read fourth paragraph, "The Greek word..." Does the statement "it is finished" mean "our debt is paid?"

Is this what Jesus' words meant? Or, is it not only a misrepresentation of what Jesus' words meant, but an obstruction to the truth, an obstacle to the gospel, a barrier to accessing what Christ did for us?

First, what is the penalty for sin? Death—sleep death or eternal death; death from which we are resurrected or death from which there is no resurrection?

If the penalty is death without resurrection—an eternal death—then did Christ pay that penalty?

So, the penal view is fraudulent on its face—and believing such things teaches people to accept falsehoods as truths and this corrupts the mind and character and prevents the Spirit of Truth from doing His work of healing us.

In the book, The Desire of Ages, which Billy Graham is reported to have said is the best book on the life of Christ he has ever read, there is a chapter entitled It Is Finished. I want to read some sections from this chapter, let's consider what this author thought was finished by Christ's death and see if we agree:

To the angels and the unfallen worlds the cry, "It is finished," had a deep significance. It was for them as well as for us that the great work of redemption had been accomplished. They with us share the fruits of Christ's victory. [Did angels in heaven have a debt that Christ had to pay for them? Do we agree the cross was also for sinless angels? "all things in heaven..." Col 1:20 "angels long to look into..." 1Pet 1:12] {DA 758.2}

Not until the death of Christ was the character of Satan clearly revealed to the angels or to the unfallen worlds. The archapostate had so clothed himself with deception that even holy beings had not understood his principles. They had not clearly seen the nature of his rebellion... [What was the nature of his rebellion? What didn't they understand? The nature of love, truth, liberty; how life functions, and that disobedience cannot be cured by infliction of punishment. They didn't realize such actions are not just, but manifestations of Satan's methods and would only perpetuate evil and sin] {DA 758.3}

God could have destroyed Satan and his sympathizers as easily as one can cast a pebble to the earth; but He did not do this. Rebellion was not to be overcome by force. Compelling power is found only under Satan's government. The Lord's principles are not of this order. His authority rests upon goodness, mercy, and love; and the presentation of these principles is the means to be used. [used for what? For the winning of the war? What kind of war? How do these principles win the war? If we teach God is the source of inflicted pain and suffering and requires a legal payment in the form of His Son's life, does that promote the principles of goodness, mercy and love, or teach compelling power?] God's government is moral, and truth and love are to be the prevailing power. [How do truth and love prevail? 2Cor 10:3-5]{DA 759.1}

It was God's purpose to place things on an eternal basis of security, and in the councils of heaven it was decided that time must be given for Satan to develop the principles which were the foundation of his system of government. He had claimed that these were superior to God's principles. Time was given for the working of Satan's principles, that they might be seen by the heavenly universe... {DA 759.2} [How would this place things on eternal security? What would cause security to be eternal? Would it answer all questions, would God's methods be proven to be the only method of life? Would people remember what happens when beings deviate from God's design? So can we have eternal security if memory of sin and salvation are erased?]

All heaven and the unfallen worlds had been witnesses to the controversy. With what intense interest did they follow the closing scenes of the conflict. They beheld the Saviour enter the garden of Gethsemane, His soul bowed down with the horror of a great darkness. They heard His bitter cry, "Father, if it be possible, let this cup pass from Me." Matthew 26:39. As the Father's presence was withdrawn, they saw Him sorrowful with a bitterness of sorrow exceeding that of the last great struggle with death. [Was the Father inflicting punishment? Was the Father using power to kill, to torment, to torture? Was the Father withdrawing? Why? Was The Father withdrawing because the Father was angry at Jesus? Was the Father withdrawing because some horrible substance called sin was being placed on Jesus and the Father just couldn't stand it any more? What was Jesus' mission? Was Jesus going to need to die to complete His mission? Could He die if the source of life didn't let go? Why did Jesus stay away from Lazarus when Lazarus was sick? The Father's withdrawal was not punishment, but the purposeful cooperation of the Godhead in Their plan to complete the mission to fix what sin had done to this creation!] The bloody sweat was forced from His pores, and fell in drops upon the ground. Thrice the prayer for deliverance was wrung from His lips. Heaven could no longer endure the sight, and a messenger of comfort was sent to the Son of God... {DA 759.5}

Satanic agencies confederated with evil men in leading the people to believe Christ the chief of sinners, and to make Him the object of detestation. Those who mocked Christ as He hung upon the cross were imbued with the spirit of the first great rebel. He filled them with vile and loathsome speeches. He inspired their taunts. But by all this he gained nothing. {DA 760.4}

Could one sin have been found in Christ, had He in one particular yielded to Satan to escape the terrible torture, the enemy of God and man would have triumphed. [Why?

What was Christ fighting to achieve? What was the root to Christ's struggle? Did Christ experience human emotions that tempted Him? To do what? To save self—and selfishness is the infection driven by fear caused by distrust, which occurs because of believing lies. Christ overcame by first knowing the truth about God, His character, methods, principles, and trusting the Father fully and loving the Father and us more than Himself and thus when the temptation to act to save self came, Christ instead loved and love casts out all fear. In Christ the perfection of God was restored into the species human!] Christ bowed His head and died, but He held fast His faith and His submission to God. "And I heard a loud voice saying in heaven, Now is come salvation, and strength, and the kingdom of our God, and the power of His Christ: for the accuser of our brethren is cast down, which accused them before our God day and night." Revelation 12:10. {DA 761.1}

Satan saw that his disguise was torn away. His administration was laid open before the unfallen angels and before the heavenly universe. He had revealed himself as a murderer. By shedding the blood of the Son of God, he had uprooted himself from the sympathies of the heavenly beings. [Who killed Jesus on the Cross? Was it, as those in the penal substitutionary camp teach, God killing Jesus for justice sake? No! It was Satan and evil men. But the Penal theologies teach it was God who killed Jesus at the cross.] Henceforth his work was restricted. Whatever attitude he might assume, he could no longer await the angels as they came from the heavenly courts, and before them accuse Christ's brethren of being clothed with the garments of blackness and the defilement of sin. The last link of sympathy between Satan and the heavenly world was broken. {DA 761.2} [What broke that link of sympathy? What restricted Satan's movements? Was it the use of might and power by God? No! It was the truth revealed which settled the intelligences in heaven into the truth about God's goodness and therefore Satan's lies had no more power. None in heaven would listen to Satan any more. Only here on earth do intelligent beings still listen to, accept and promote Satan's lies about God.]

In the opening of the great controversy, Satan had declared that the law of God could not be obeyed, that justice was inconsistent with mercy, and that, should the law be broken, it would be impossible for the sinner to be pardoned. Every sin must meet its punishment, urged Satan; and if God should remit the punishment of sin, He would not be a God of truth and justice. [Who originated the idea that sin must be punished by God? This is Satan's view of God and God's law and government. The penal substitution group teach the same lie and we as Christians cannot complete the work of leading people back to God as long as we teach that God is like Satan in character and method.] When men broke the law of God, and defied His will, Satan exulted. It was proved, he declared, that the law could not be obeyed; man could not be forgiven. Because he, after his rebellion, had been banished from heaven, Satan claimed that the human race must be forever shut out from God's favor. God could not be just, he urged, and yet show mercy to the sinner. {DA 761.4}

But even as a sinner, man was in a different position from that of Satan. Lucifer in heaven had sinned in the light of God's glory. To him as to no other created being was given a revelation of God's love.

Understanding the character of God, knowing His goodness, Satan chose to follow his own selfish, independent will. This choice was final. There was no more that God could do to save him. But man was deceived; his mind was darkened by Satan's sophistry. The height and depth of the love of God he did not know. For him there was hope in a knowledge of God's love. By beholding His character he might be drawn back to God. {DA 761.5} [What could impact humanity and result in drawing us back to God for salvation? The truth of God's character of love! Does it give insight into why Christ didn't die for Satan and the fallen angels? Not because Jesus and the Father didn't love them enough to die for them, but because it would have had no impact. They were not deceived as man was in regard to the nature of God's character of love. Thus revealing that love to beings who already knew it, considered it and rejected it would have been of no value.]

Through Jesus, God's mercy was manifested to men; but mercy does not set aside justice. [Ah, the penal group will say, despite all that has been read thus far, they will jump on this sentence and insert their coercive, imposed, punishing god and claim it is justice. But, how do you understand justice? Through what law lens? What did this author describe as justice?] The law reveals the attributes of God's character, and not a jot or tittle of it could be changed to meet man in his fallen condition. [What does this mean? What is God's character? Love! And how does love work? By giving, love cannot be coerced. No change could be made in the law why? Because it is the parameters upon which life is built. It would be like saying, "no change in the law of respiration could be made to meet a drowning man who refuses to get his head above water."] God did not change His law, but He sacrificed Himself, in Christ, for man's redemption. "God was in Christ, reconciling the world unto Himself." 2 Corinthians 5:19. {DA 762.1} [Which means what? What was the purpose? If the law could not be changed and God does not change, what needed to be changed? the condition of humankind. Would this require a human to make that change? What change? Would it mean changing humans to live in perfect harmony with God's law/design?]

The law requires righteousness,--a righteous life, a perfect character; and this man has not to give. He cannot meet the claims of God's holy law. But Christ, coming to the earth as man, lived a holy life, and developed a perfect character. [Why was this necessary? For the same reason the law of respiration requires we breathe] These He offers as a free gift to all who will receive them. His life stands for the life of men. Thus they have remission of sins that are past, through the forbearance of God. [Notice, not through a legal payment. The issue was not legal, but design law] More than this, Christ imbues men with the attributes of God. He builds up the human character after the similitude of the divine character, a goodly fabric of spiritual strength and beauty. Thus the very righteousness of the law is fulfilled in the believer in Christ. God can "be just, and the justifier of him which believeth in Jesus." Romans 3:26. {DA 762.2} [Notice justice is fixing what is broken, setting human beings right with God, making them righteous through the achievement of Jesus!]

Another deception was now to be brought forward. Satan declared that mercy destroyed justice, that the death of Christ abrogated the Father's law. Had it been possible for the law to be changed or abrogated, then Christ need not have died. But to abrogate the law would be to immortalize transgression, and place the world under Satan's control. It was because the law was changeless, because man could be saved only through obedience to its precepts, that Jesus was lifted up on the cross. Yet the very means by which Christ established the law Satan represented as destroying it. Here will come the last conflict of the great controversy between Christ and Satan. {DA 762.5} [How is Christ's death, which is the means of establishing the law, used by Satan to teach the destruction of God's law? By teaching that the law is imposed and God is the one who killed Jesus at the Cross. Thus the Cross, instead of demonstrating the fulfillment of perfect love and the restoration of God's design into the species human while eradicating the infection of selfishness, instead is now used to teach the very lie about God's law that the Cross refutes. Notice the next words of this author, who understood it perfectly.]

By substituting human law for God's law, Satan will seek to control the world. This work is foretold in prophecy. Of the great apostate power which is the representative of Satan, it is declared, "He shall speak great words against the Most High, and shall wear out the saints of the Most High, and think to change times and laws: and they shall be given into his hand." Daniel 7:25. {DA 763.1}

Men will surely set up their laws to counterwork the laws of God. They will seek to compel the consciences of others, and in their zeal to enforce these laws they will oppress their fellow men. {DA 763.2} [Use of coercive power—just what God would not use. But the penal view teaches this very thing God eventually uses. And we become like the God we admire and worship. Thus throughout history Christians, when accepting the imposed law view, repeatedly coerce in the name of God—crusades, inquisition, Protestant/Catholic wars.]

The warfare against God's law, which was begun in heaven, will be continued until the end of time. Every man will be tested. Obedience or disobedience is the question to be decided by the whole world. All will be called to choose between the law of God and the laws of men. Here the dividing line will be drawn. There will be but two classes. Every character will be fully developed; and all will show whether they have chosen the side of loyalty or that of rebellion. {DA 763.3} [What is the dividing line? Character—do we have a character like Christ, which is love, truth, freedom, built on a trust relationship with God and living in harmony with design law. Or do we have a character like Satan, based in fear, and imposed punishments for disobedience.]

Then the end will come. God will vindicate His law and deliver His people. Satan and all who have joined him in rebellion will be cut off. Sin and sinners will perish, root and branch... {DA 763.4} [How do they perish? Is it by infliction of death on those who would otherwise live eternally in sin, or is it be "cutting them off" i.e. setting them free, leaving them separate from God, who is the source of life, and what happens? They die, why? Because they refused to be reconciled to the only source of life.]

This is not an act of arbitrary power on the part of God. The rejecters of His mercy reap that which they have sown. God is the fountain of life; and when one chooses the service of sin, he separates from God, and thus cuts himself off from life. He is "alienated from the life of God." Christ says, "All they that hate Me love death." Ephesians 4:18; Proverbs 8:36. God gives them existence for a time that they may develop their character and reveal their principles. This accomplished, they receive the results of their own choice. By a life of rebellion, Satan and all who unite with him place themselves so out of harmony with God that His very presence is to them a consuming fire. The glory of Him who is love will destroy them. {DA 764.1} [Is there a punishment for sin? Yes, from where does the punishment come? From unremedied sin, not an infliction from God!]

At the beginning of the great controversy, the angels did not understand this. Had Satan and his host then been left to reap the full result of their sin, they would have perished; but it would not have been apparent to heavenly beings that this was the inevitable result of sin. A doubt of God's goodness would have remained in their minds as evil seed, to produce its deadly fruit of sin and woe. {DA 764.2} [And what would have been the result? Could the universe be placed on an eternal basis of security if this had happened?]

But not so when the great controversy shall be ended. Then, the plan of redemption having been completed, the character of God is revealed to all created intelligences. The precepts of His law are seen to be perfect and immutable. Then sin has made manifest its nature, Satan his character. Then the extermination of sin will vindicate God's love and establish His honor before a universe of beings who delight to do His will, and in whose heart is His law. {DA 764.3}

Well, then, might the angels rejoice as they looked upon the Saviour's cross; for though they did not then understand all, they knew that the destruction of sin and Satan was forever made certain, that the redemption of man was assured, and that the universe was made eternally secure. Christ Himself fully comprehended the results of the sacrifice made upon Calvary. To all these He looked forward when upon the cross He cried out, "It is finished." {DA 764.4}

Do we find something much more significant and profound in Christ's words It is finished, than "he paid my debt?" In fact, do we misrepresent what Christ accomplished and promote the lie that Christ came to refute when we present the Cross as paying a legal debt?

Then, how do we deal with quotations like this one from the same author who wrote the passage above:

This record teaches an important lesson. "The love of money is the root of all evil" (1 Timothy 6:10). In this generation the desire for gain is the absorbing passion. . . . We were all debtors to divine justice, but we had nothing with which to pay the debt. Then the Son of God, who pitied us, paid the price of our redemption. He became poor that through His poverty we might be rich. By deeds of liberality toward His poor we may prove the sincerity of our gratitude for the mercy extended to us. {CC 267.5}

What was the price? The cost of exposing Satan as liar, revealing truth to win us to trust, destroying the infection of fear and selfishness and developing a perfect character to be given to those who trust in Jesus. Thus, a price was paid, but not a legal price, it was the price our condition required in order to fix what sin did to us!

From another article:

...The value of the law of Jehovah is to be estimated by the immense price that was paid in the death of the Son of God to maintain its sacredness. {ST, December 30, 1889 par. 1}

The law of God is a transcript of his character; it portrays the nature of God. As in Christ we behold the brightness of his glory, the express image of his person, so also in the law the attributes of the Father are unfolded... {ST, December 30, 1889 par. 2}

God grants men a probation in this world, that their principles may become firmly established in the right, thus precluding the possibility of sin in the future life, and so assuring the happiness and security of all. Through the atonement of the Son of God alone could power be given to man to establish him in righteousness, and make him a fit subject for heaven. The blood of Christ is the eternal antidote for sin. The offensive character of sin is seen in what it cost the Son of God in humiliation, in suffering and death. All the worlds behold in him a living testimony to the malignity of sin, for in his divine form he bears the marks of the curse. He is in the midst of the throne as a Lamb that hath been slain. The redeemed will ever be vividly impressed with the hateful character of sin, as they behold Him who died for their transgressions. The preciousness of the Offering will be more fully realized as the blood-washed throng more fully comprehend how God has made a new and living way for the salvation of men, through the union of the human and the divine in Christ. {ST, December 30, 1889 par. 3}

... the atonement will never need to be repeated; and there will be no danger of another rebellion in the universe of God. That which alone can effectually restrain from sin in this world of darkness, will prevent sin in heaven. The significance of the death of Christ will be seen by saints and angels. Fallen men could not have a home in the paradise of God without the Lamb slain from the foundation of the world. Shall we not then exalt the cross of Christ? The angels ascribe honor and glory to Christ, for even they are not secure except by looking to the sufferings of the Son of God. It is through the efficacy of the cross that the angels of heaven are guarded from apostasy. Without the cross they would be no more secure against evil than were the angels before the fall of Satan. Angelic perfection failed in heaven. Human perfection failed in Eden, the paradise of bliss. All who wish for security in earth or heaven must look to the Lamb of God. The plan of salvation, making manifest the justice and love of God, provides an eternal safeguard against defection in unfallen worlds, as well as among those who shall be redeemed by the blood of the Lamb. Our only hope is perfect trust in the blood of Him who can save to the uttermost all that come unto God by Him. The death of Christ on the cross of Calvary is our only hope in this world, and it will be our theme in the world to come. Oh, we do not comprehend the value of the atonement! If we did, we would talk more about it. The gift of God in his beloved Son was the expression of an incomprehensible love. It was the utmost that God could do to preserve the honor of his law, and still save the transgressor. Why should man not study the theme of redemption? It is the greatest subject that can engage the human mind. If men would contemplate the love of Christ, displayed in the cross, their faith would be strengthened to appropriate the merits of his shed blood, and they would be cleansed and saved from sin. There are many who will be lost, because they depend on legal religion, or mere repentance for sin. But repentance for sin alone cannot work the salvation of any soul.... {ST, December 30, 1889 par. 4}

God saves man through the blood of Christ alone, and man's belief in, and allegiance to, Christ is salvation... If the unspeakable gift of God does not lead man to repentance, there is nothing that ever will move his heart. There is no power held in reserve to act upon his mind, and arouse his sensibilities. The whole character of God was revealed in his Son, the whole range of the possibilities of heaven is displayed for the acceptance of man in the Son of the Infinite One. The way for man's return to God and heaven has no barriers. The matchless depths of the Saviour's love have been demonstrated; and if this manifestation of God's love for the children of men does not prevail to draw men to himself, there is nothing that ever will. {ST, December 30, 1889 par. 6}

Read second paragraph, "It is impossible for the finite minds to fully comprehend..." What does this mean? Does this mean we cannot comprehend God, or that we cannot FULLY comprehend God?

Is there a difference?

Does God want us to comprehend Him? John 15:15...

Can we comprehend God's character and methods of love? How love works, that God is trustworthy?

The next paragraph states, "God has no equal. He thinks, remembers, and acts in ways we do not comprehend."

If we cannot comprehend God, then how can we tell the difference between God and Satan?

THURSDAY

Read first paragraph, “We belong to God, both by creation and by redemption.”

What does this mean? Belong, like we are property and owned by God? Like slaves? Then why did Jesus say in John 15:15 He would not call us slaves, but friends?

Could it mean, rather than belongs to as in property, we belong to God in the same way:

- The meow belongs to the cat
- The branch belongs to the vine

We belong to God because only in union with God do we exist, as it says in Acts: ‘For in him we live and move and have our being.’ 17:28

Would all things belong to God because all things have their origin, substance, existence and life only as they are connected to Him?

Stewardship Motives of the Heart Lesson 4 1Q 2018

Escape From the World's Ways — presented by Dr. Tim Jennings

ANNOUNCEMENTS (at end of document):

SABBATH

Read memory text: “Riches do not profit in the day of wrath, but righteousness delivers from death... He who trusts in his riches will fall, but the righteous will flourish like foliage.” Prov 11:4,18 NKJV

What is the day of wrath? What is God's wrath?

“The wrath of God is being revealed from heaven against all the godlessness and wickedness of men who suppress the truth by their wickedness...” Romans 1:18:

And what did God do? In verses 24, 26, 28: “therefore God gave them...”

This is God's wrath. It is not God acting to inflict harm, but God ceasing His gracious interventions to protect those who refuse His healing and protection.

Are there evidences that this is so?

- Israel when the serpents and scorpions came in to sting
- Israel when they were taken into captivity
- Israel when they rejected Christ
- Jesus on the Cross (Romans 4:25) experienced God's wrath and what did God do? Let Him go!

Why won't riches profit in the day when God let's go His protective hand? Can riches protect against a corrupt character? Can riches protect against agony of heart, misery of soul, conviction of guilt, the pain of shame and regret? Can riches protect against being out of harmony with how life is constructed to operate?

How does righteousness deliver from death?

What is the cause of death? Sin, which is what? Deviation from God's design and at its root is selfishness. How does righteousness deliver from death then?

What is righteousness? Is righteousness something we get legally or something we experience internally?

- Noah was a righteous man, blameless among the people of his time, and he walked with God. Gen 6:9 [note he wasn't declared to be a righteous man—he was a righteous man]
- Because Joseph her husband was a righteous man and did not want to expose her to public

- disgrace, he had in mind to divorce her quietly. Mt 1:19 [Again Joseph was a righteous man]
- Blessed are those who hunger and thirst for righteousness, for they will be filled. Mt 5:6 [They will be filled, not their record will be adjusted]

Are we naturally righteous?

- All of us have become like one who is unclean, and all our righteous acts are like filthy rags; Isa 64:6

From where does our righteousness come?

God made him who had no sin to be sin for us, so that in him we might become the righteousness of God. 2Cor 5:21

How do we get this righteousness?

“See, he is puffed up; his desires are not upright— but the righteous will live by his faith... Hab 2:4

What does it mean to live by faith?

“They will be mine,” says the Lord Almighty, “in the day when I make up my treasured possession. I will spare them, just as in compassion a man spares his son who serves him.”¹⁸ And you will again see the distinction between the righteous and the wicked, between those who serve God and those who do not. Mal 3:17,18

Thus we read about Abraham:

“Abraham believed God, and it was credited to him as righteousness.” Rom 4:3

Sadly, this is a fairly poor translation, which is one of the places that those who already have a legal belief system translate the Bible to promote the false legal view. A better translation than credited, would be recognized to be, or acknowledged as righteous—why? Because Abraham’s natural heart, which distrusts God, had been set right, back to trust in God, as evidenced by Abraham’s actions.

Thus, in the lexicon the worded translated as credited we read:

to reckon inward, count up or weigh the reasons, to deliberate. 3 by reckoning up all the reasons, to gather or infer. 3a to consider, take into account, weigh, meditate on. 3b to suppose, deem, judge. 3c to determine, purpose, decide. Additional Information: This word deals with reality. If I “logizomai” or reckon that my bank book has $25 in it, it has $25 in it. Otherwise I am deceiving myself. This word refers to facts not suppositions.¹

Those who hold the penal/legal view deceive themselves because they make the Bible teach something that it doesn't teach, that God declares us to be righteous, even though we are not. This is a lie. We are changed, set right, put right, in our heart attitude with God and God recognizes this real resetting in us as being right, i.e. righteous.

Summary—righteousness is simply being right, i.e. being in harmony with God and God's design for life, which is a character of love that practices truth and liberty. We are born infected with fear and selfishness and thus are not in our selves spiritually healthy, i.e. righteous or the way God designed for us to be. Jesus came and overcame the infection of fear and selfishness while revealing truth to win us to trust. When we trust God, we open our hearts to him, we experience a change in internal motivation and desire, and more than this, we freely choose to do that which He has led us to understand He wants us to do. Why do we do it? Because we love Him and trust Him and know without question that He wants what is best for us.

So why does righteousness deliver from death? Because righteousness is the restoration to God's design for life and literally moves a person from living outside God's laws for life into harmony with God and His laws for life.

Thus the Bible says:

“He who pursues righteousness and love finds life...” Prov 21:21

Read first paragraph, “Although Satan failed with Jesus...” What do they mean “he has succeeded with everyone else?”

Have the rest of humanity started life out, i.e. born into the world, in the same condition Jesus was born into the world?

Was Jesus born a sinner or sinless?

Are we born sinless or sinners?

Is being a sinner about the deeds we do or about the condition of heart that leads to the deeds?

Are we born selfish or selfless? What about Jesus?

So Satan succeeded with Adam and Eve, but the rest of us are born “in sin conceived in iniquity” (Ps 51:5) as a result of Adam and Eve's choice, not as a result of our own choice. We never had the option of not being a sinner.

Jesus, however, was born unique, with a fallen mother, but with the HS as His Father, thus He was able to experience temptation like all of us, but without the internal propensity and natural desire for selfishness like all of us have. Thus, He was in a different position than either Adam in Eden or you and I.

In other words, Satan did have to succeed with Adam and Eve, and he failed with Jesus because in order to win with Jesus he would have to get Jesus to choose to sin.

But Satan doesn't have to get us to choose to sin, Satan has to trick us into not choosing to trust Jesus and allowing God to heal us.

Thus, because many in Christianity have this wrong, they focus the attention on salvation on the do's and don'ts the sins, behavior, and not instead on focusing the attention on Jesus, the truth, choosing God, choosing God's methods, choosing to trust, to love, to engage that which is good.

This is a subtle distinction—because when we choose to think about “whatever is true, whatever is noble, whatever is right, whatever is pure, whatever is lovely, whatever is admirable—if anything is excellent or praiseworthy—think about such things” (Philippians 4:8) we are simultaneously choosing to not think about evil.

But this focus, out of love, out of a desire for good to think about the good, generates a completely different experience than out of fear of punishment vigilantly scanning your world to identify and avoid anything that might be sinful or evil.

By beholding we are changed—thus if we spend time searching for evil, albeit to avoid it, thinking about it, watching for it, we are changed to become more fearful, insecure, negative. But, when we spend time focusing upon, growing in, searching for the good we not only are avoiding the evil we are becoming more like God!

Thus, the legal theologies have in them another subtle trick, focusing on the sins, the bad deeds, and trying to focus on what we do or don't do so we won't break a rule, ultimately cheats people out of the peace, love and transforming experience they could otherwise have in and with Jesus!

Example—“Don't think about a pink elephant, try to avoiding thinking about a pink elephant” Versus, Actually study and think about anything else and what are you not thinking about?

What is the armor and power of God?

Ephesians 6:10-18 from The Remedy:

Finally, stay strong in your connection and devotion to the Lord and his mighty power.¹¹ Arm your minds with God's complete set of armor so that you can join the ranks of Christ's soldiers and stand successfully in the face of the devil's schemes.¹² For our struggle is not against flesh and blood, with man-made weapons, but against all individuals, entities and powers that misrepresent God and darken minds, and against Satan—the originator of lies about God—and his cohorts who also misrepresent God in the heavenly realms. [does this bring to mind 2Cor 10:3-5? our weapons have divine power to demolish strongholds...]13 Therefore arm your minds with God's full set of armor so that when Satan's grand deception comes and it seems the heavens are about to fall, you are able to stand; [Do you typically think of the armor of God as mental armor, arming your mind to not be infected, degraded, discouraged, corrupted?] and when you have done everything to present the truth and expose Satan's lies—don't falter; stand!14 Stand firm, with the truth of God wrapped around you like a belt; [what truth is the truth that we need? Is it primarily the truth about which day is the Sabbath? If we have that truth but we believe God imposed the day arbitrarily and will punish people for not observing it, then are we worshipping the true God or the false version Satan alleges? So the primary truth is always about God and His character and methods] with a righteous, Christlike character developed within—like a breastplate; [How do we experience a righteous character? Is it passive, only through trust and God does it all? Or is it cooperative, we trust God who provides new desires, motives, insights, wisdom, truths, but we must choose to accept, apply, internalize and identify with God and His truths and do what is right, healthy, and reasonable in governance of ourselves?]15 and the peace that comes from accepting the good news about God—like track shoes providing good traction and a solid foundation. [Have you found increased peace as you have come to experience God as Designer and Creator and rejected the dictator views?] 16 Also, hold fast the shield of trust, which extinguishes all the burning fear and insecurity brought by the devil's temptations. [How does trust in God overcome temptation? Are not most temptations related to some fear or insecurity? Does trust reduce fear and insecurity? But can you trust a being whom you believe will hurt you if you don't trust them?] 17 Take with you the helmet of a healed mind—a mind protected from the assaults of Satan; [What heals the mind and also protects against the assaults of Satan? A mind that has developed by practice the ability to tell the right from the wrong (Heb 5:14), a mind that loves and discerns truth] and attack the lies about God with the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God—the truth. 18 And talk with God with an enlightened mind, intelligently, on all occasions, about all of your concerns, requests, plans, and issues. With all of this in mind, be alert and always keep praying for God's people.

In the second paragraph the lesson states, “True happiness and right living come from turning our eyes from the possessions we own and looking to the living Christ, who owns us.”

What does this mean—owns us? Are we property to Jesus? Are we slaves?

What did Jesus say to His disciples?

I no longer call you servants, because a servant does not know his master's business. Instead, I have called you friends, for everything that I learned from my Father I have made known to you.

The Greek here is the word for slaves, which were owned, but Jesus says He doesn't want such a relationship with us. Why?

What happens when we experience ourselves being owned, as property, like a slave? Does such a mindset in us result in our growth into what God wants for us?

Last Thursday's lesson said, "We belong to God, both by creation and by redemption."

Could this be a more helpful way to say it? Could the true idea of the Bible, rather than connoting that we are property owned by a Sovereign, that instead we belong to God in the same way:

- The meow belongs to the cat
- The branch belongs to the vine
- A child belongs to a parent

We belong to God because only in union with God do we exist, as it says in Acts: 'For in him we live and move and have our being.' 17:28

Would all things belong to God because all things have their origin, substance, existence and life only as they are connected to Him?

Does this give a different understanding that is consistent with reality, God's character, and the principles of love and liberty?

SUNDAY

Read third paragraph, "The only cure fore worldliness..." Devotion to Christ is absolutely essential—no doubt about that. But...does it matter to which Christ one is devoted?

Moses was devoted to God so he would not allow himself to be corrupted by the wealth of Egypt. What about those people today who are so devoted to their God that they not only don't care about the wealth of America, but will die in order to kill those they believe are enemies of God?

Does their devotion to their God matter if they have the wrong concept of God?

What about someone who is devoted to God, and they also have:

- The seventh-day Sabbath
- The writings of God's inspired prophets
- The health message
- Pay a faithful tithe and also offerings
- Study their Bibles regularly
- Are on either a church board or conference committee
- And are devoted in their zeal to keep all 10 commandments

What about such devotion? Consider Saul of Tarsus, did he meet all these criteria, yet he still procured authority from church leaders to kill those who believed differently than he.

Was Saul's devotion enough?

Was Saul's devotion with all those correct doctrines cited above enough?

What was the one thing Saul didn't know? The truth about God's character and methods of love; Saul still worshipped a dictator god, who made up rules and then enforced those rules with punishment. After Damascus road Saul changed and as Paul he wrote that he would gladly give his life so his fellow Jews could be saved.

Paul became righteous, became renewed, experienced a change of internal motive such that selfishness was replaced with other-centered love and he was restored to rightness with God!

So the lesson is quite right, we must be devoted to Christ because of "who He is" that is the key, knowing Christ and the Father for who they are.

Sadly, far too many people still don't know them, still think God functions like a dictator...

MONDAY

Read first paragraph, "More than six billion..." What does it mean that the Bible is "the Word of the living God?"

Does it mean when we read the Bible:

- We are reading a dictation from God?
- We are reading material personally written by God?
- We are reading pure heavenly language?
- We are to take it as directives just as it reads?
- That every sentence is truth from God?

How do we understand the Bible? Do we believe that it is inspired by God? Yes! But how does inspiration work?

God inspires sinful human beings with ideas, truths, concepts, visions, dreams, facts, historic events for them to record. God oversees the development, retention and inclusion of these records. God enlightens humble minds to comprehend the truths within.

Does this mean the Bible is 100% accurate in every factual detail?

- 2Samuel 6:23 "Therefore Michal the daughter of Saul had no child unto the day of her death."
- 2Samuel 21:8 "But the king took the two sons of Rizpah . . . and the five sons of Michal the daughter of Saul." (Two Hebrew manuscripts, some Septuagint and Syriac manuscripts say "Merab" but most Hebrew and Septuagint manuscripts say Michal.)

- 1 Kings 4:26 "And Solomon had forty thousand stalls of horses for his chariots, and twelve thousand horsemen."
- 2 Chronicles 9:25 "And Solomon had four thousand stalls for horses and chariots, and twelve thousand horsemen."
- 2Kings 24:8 "Jehoiachin was eighteen years old when he became king, and he reigned in Jerusalem three months."
- 2Chron 36:9 "Jehoiachin was eight years old when he became king, and he reigned in Jerusalem three months and ten days."

Are there differences from different authors in various accounts of the same events?

Yes, does this suggest unreliability or reliability?

Reliability—why? Because the portions with differences are the exact types of differences different people give when providing honest recall of events. And these differences are irrelevant to the message and purpose of the Bible.

What is the purpose of the Bible? To provide the truth necessary for people to know God, reject Satan and experience salvation.

The Bible is not a book on algebra, computer programming, astrophysics, neurobiology, and while it has proven to be historically reliable, it is not primarily a history book. It is the revelation of God to man of Himself, the origin of humanity, the origin of sin, what sin actually is, the controversy between good and evil, providing evidence to the two methods, the plan of salvation and ultimately the eradication of all pain, suffering, death and restoration to perfection in a universe governed by a God of love.

So, we can have reliability in the Bible? Absolutely!

But does that mean then, if someone reads the Bible regularly they will be saved?

Could someone read the Bible regularly and actually be God's enemy?

I was reading in the book The Desire of Ages this week about Jesus' birth, and how the Magi came to find Jesus and the religious leaders were not aware. And how, after the Magi left Herod sent in the soldiers to kill the male children age 2 and below. Then I read this:

This calamity the Jews had brought upon themselves. If they had been walking in faithfulness and humility before God, He would in a signal manner have made the wrath of the king harmless to them. But they had separated themselves from God by their sins, and had rejected the Holy Spirit, which was their only shield. They had not studied the Scriptures with a desire to conform to the will of God. They had searched for prophecies which could be interpreted to exalt themselves, and to show how God despised all other nations. It was their proud boast that the Messiah was to come as a king, conquering His enemies, and treading down the heathen in His wrath. Thus they had excited the hatred of their rulers. Through their misrepresentation of Christ's mission, Satan had purposed to compass the destruction of the Saviour; but instead of this, it returned upon their own heads. {DA 65.5}

What do you hear being their problem?

- They didn't humble themselves before God
- They retained personal and national pride
- Their selfish pride separated them from God by refusing to follow and align with Him and instead doing their own thing
- They studied Scripture, but not do know God's truth or will; they studied prophecy to prove themselves special and others despised by God
- This attitude excited the hatred of the rulers, misrepresented God, obstructing God's purpose and resulted in their own destruction

Question: Do we as Christians risk doing the very same thing today?

- Proudly interpret Bible prophecy to exalt us and show how God despises others?
- Misrepresent God as arbitrary and coming to rule the nations with a rod of iron?
- Will it result in stirring up hatred to Christianity?

So when we read the Bible what mindset should we have?

Humble willingness to learn, but also a mind that questions things that don't make sense, filtering everything through the truth about God that Jesus revealed.

Read last paragraph, "Love of worldly..." This is well said.

What does it mean "love your neighbor as yourself"?

Is love only an emotion or does love cause action? And what type of action? Beneficent, other-centered, can you love (in action) if you are incapacitated? So, in order to love others you have to maintain self-care, wellness, health. Thus before one can love others one must first:

- Have something worth sharing or giving to others
 - Cannot teach people to read if you yourself cannot read
 - Cannot teach people the truth about God if you don't know God
 - Cannot genuinely love others if you don't have love in your heart

- So, must first be converted in your heart to a genuine love/trust relationship with Jesus Christ—really knowing Him before one can be most effective in God’s cause (notice I said most effective. God in His wisdom can use many things—including speaking through a donkey.)
- Be in a state of health where one is capable of providing to others

TUESDAY

First paragraph states, “We saw yesterday that God communicates to us through His divine Word.” We, in turn, commune with Him through prayer.”

Is the Bible the only avenue through which God communicates to us?

What other avenues?

- Nature, science Rom 1:20
- Life experiences
- Other people
- Dreams
- Visions
- Sometimes the still small voice
- Angels

But, if God communicates to us in a method other than the Bible what is the danger and what is our protection?

The danger is that Satan can come as an angel of light, and thus messages purported to be from God may not be. Therefore, we must harmonize all messages from God with the Scripture.

What is the danger in taking messages from Scripture alone? If we fail to harmonize Scripture with design law (nature) and experience, then we can get all kinds of erroneous beliefs that contradict reality and misrepresent God.

What is prayer?

Our life is to be bound up with the life of Christ; we are to draw constantly from Him, partaking of Him, the living Bread that came down from heaven, drawing from a fountain ever fresh, ever giving forth its abundant treasures. If we keep the Lord ever before us, allowing our hearts to go out in thanksgiving and praise to Him, we shall have a continual freshness in our religious life. Our prayers will take the form of a conversation with God as we would talk with a friend. He will speak His mysteries to us personally. Often there will come to us a sweet joyful sense of the presence of Jesus. Often our hearts will burn within us as He draws nigh to commune with us as He did with Enoch. When this is in truth the experience of the Christian, there is seen in his life a simplicity, a humility, meekness, and lowliness of heart, that show to all with whom he associates that he has been with Jesus and learned of Him. {COL 129.3}

This description of prayer is activates brain regions of higher cortex, real interaction with another being. And that is what neuroscience states happens with spontaneous prayer:

- Spontaneous prayer resulted in activation of same brain regions as when talking to another person (theory of mind)
 - Regions associated with anticipation, consideration of another's response, attitudes, feelings, reaction (right & left cortex)
- When reciting memorized prayers or repetitive mantras the same brain regions lit up as when reciting nursery rhymes –
 - regions of recall, rote learning and repetition – but not higher cortical function – no prefrontal cortex
- When making a list for Santa the Prefrontal cortex didn't activate as in spontaneous prayer
- Brain doesn't activate in the same way when interacting with computer or inanimate objects
 - Brain doesn't expect reciprocity or think about the wants/desires/need of the computer, no empathy, connection, relational interaction

Social Cognitive and Affective Neuroscience, DOI: 10.1093/scan/nsn050

Read second paragraph, "If, as we have seen..." No doubt prayer is important—but what are the secrets to effective prayer?

- First and foremost, to whom is one praying—not just the name a person uses when calling to their God, but who they believe their God to be, what attributes and characteristics they understand him to possess
 - Can a person pray to beings other than the true God?
 - Can people pray to beings other than the truth God but believe they are praying to the true God?
- Second, our heart attitudes when we pray "The prayer of a righteous man is powerful and effective." James 5:16

What makes a person righteous? Having a heart transformed to be like Christ!

Jesus said, "And I will do whatever you ask in my name, so that the Son may bring glory to the Father. You may ask me for anything in my name, and I will do it." Jn 14:13,14

What does it mean to ask in the name of Jesus?

Does it mean to end your prayer with "In Jesus name?"

In the Bible what does the name signify? Character, Jacob the deceiver became Israel, one who overcomes with God.

So, to pray in the name of Jesus means to pray with the character of Jesus, and what would that be?

To pray to reveal the truth, to glorify the Father, to uplift God's principles, to fulfill God's purposes in harmony with God's methods. This is the same as the prayer of a righteous person!

From the book The Desire of Ages:

But to pray in Christ's name means much. It means that we are to accept His character, manifest His spirit, and work His works. The Saviour's promise is given on condition. "If ye love Me," He says, "keep My commandments." He saves men, not in sin, but from sin; and those who love Him will show their love by obedience. {DA 668.2}

Do you agree that to pray in the name of Jesus means that we pray in an attitude of accepting His character, seeking to manifest His spirit and work His works?

Do you agree God wants to save us from sin, not in sin?

What is the difference?

Is this different than saving us from the punishment of sin?

Read last paragraph, "If there is no faith..."

What is faith attached to prayer? Isn't it simply we pray to a God that we genuinely trust to know better than us, to provide more than we can conceive and we genuinely want His intervention and will to overrule our own desires to effect the outcome that He knows is best? We trust Him with the outcome!

Presumption is the attitude of praying for such and such while calling on the name "Jesus" believing because we used the right formula God will do it.

Do you see the difference?

WEDNESDAY

Read second and third paragraphs, "Solomon had great..." What is obedience in the Biblical sense? Is it blindly, thoughtlessly doing what one is told?

Can a person be obedient to God if they question what God says?

Is it about questioning or is it about the attitude of the heart for the questions?

Does God like it when our questions are from a desire to truly comprehend, understand, to be able to intelligently cooperate?

Further, if we have obstacles in our character, beliefs, experiences, say fears or insecurities, could they be worked out of our hearts by questioning, evening arguing with God?

Remember Moses when God first called him to go back to Egypt? Didn't he argue against God's plan? Why? Because Moses had fears, insecurities, doubts that were worked through in the discourse with God. If we instruct people not to have such dialogue with God, we may obstruct them from working through elements in their hearts that need resolving.

THURSDAY

Read first paragraph, "The great controversy..." Can you easily differentiate activities, programs, practices, statements, doctrines, teachings that are on either side of the controversy?

What method do you use to differentiate what is on which side of the controversy?

Could we make a list that might help people determine whether something is in harmony with God and His kingdom or in harmony with Satan's kingdom?

Anything that violates God's design laws and puts God in the light of an arbitrary dictator, a being from whom we need protection is a lie.

If we use this standard, do we see how much of accepted doctrine is distorted and needs revising?

The middle section says, "When we let the Holy Spirit take possession of us, what things will God do to ensure we have spiritual victory?"

How does the Spirit of God work? What tools or methods does the Holy Spirit use?

Truth presented in love leaving others free, read fourth paragraph, "It is through..." When we surrender to the Holy Spirit, what is the ultimate outcome? Self-control—how does this happen? We are healed to be beings who have the capacity to exercise authority in governance of self to live in harmony with God and His design laws.

2018 Q1 Lesson 5- Stewards After Eden

Presented by Russell Atkins

SABBATH

On the contrary, we speak as those approved by God to be entrusted with the gospel. We are not trying to please people but God, who tests our hearts” (1 Thessalonians 2:4, NIV).

What was Adam’s command for stewardship before the fall? What was his task or job? What were he and Eve entrusted with? Why was man[kind] created, in the first place? Was God bored with the company of Angels, and need some other friends? What was the state of the rest of Creation at the time of Earth’s formation?

²⁶ Then God said, “Let Us make man in Our image, according to Our likeness; let them have dominion over the fish of the sea, over the birds of the air, and over the cattle, over all the earth and over every creeping thing that creeps on the earth.” ²⁷ So God created man in His own image; in the image of God He created him; male and female He created them. ²⁸ Then God blessed them, and God said to them, “Be fruitful and multiply; fill the earth and subdue it; have dominion over the fish of the sea, over the birds of the air, and over every living thing that moves on the earth.” Gen. 1: 26-28.

What needed subduing? Wasn’t the Earth created perfect?

¹⁵ Then the LORD God took the man and put him in the garden of Eden to tend and keep it.

¹⁶ And the LORD God commanded the man, saying, “Of every tree of the garden you may freely eat; ¹⁷ but of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil you shall not eat, for in the day that you eat of it you shall surely die.” Gen. 2:15-17.

“Every good thing of earth was placed here by the bountiful hand of God as an expression of His love to man. The poor are His, and the cause of religion is His. The gold and the silver are the Lord’s; and He could rain them from heaven if He chose. But instead of this He has made man His steward, entrusting him with means, not to be hoarded, but to be used in benefiting others. He thus makes man the medium through which to distribute His blessings on earth. God planned the system of beneficence, in order that man might become like his Creator, benevolent and unselfish in character, and finally be a partaker with Christ of the eternal, glorious reward.” {CS 15.2} Emphasis mine.

What law is she describing?

From the Lesson:

“What is stewardship? Certain Bible characters reveal what a steward is by how they lived. Other scriptures define it more clearly. When we become God’s stewards, our focus on the world and its materialistic values changes to a focus on the Creator and His mission. As with Adam and Eve, God entrusts to us responsibilities of divine origin. Since the Fall in Eden, however, the task of stewardship has changed; along with the responsibilities of caring for the material world, we are also entrusted to be good stewards of spiritual truths.” Emphasis mine.

SUNDAY

Stewards in the Old Testament

Qualities of a steward: Trustworthiness, Self governance, patience, hospitality, sensibility, temperance, teachable, any others?

Who comes to mind when you hear “stewards in the Old Testament”? Adam, Seth, Noah, Mechizedek, Abraham, Joseph, Moses, Elijah, Isaiah, Jeremiah, every OT prophet, any others?

What were they stewards of? Was this any different than Adam & Eve?

From the lesson:

“Some characteristics of a steward are made clear in the Old Testament. First, the position of a steward was one of great responsibility (Gen. 39:4). Stewards were chosen because of their abilities, and they received respect and trust from their owners for getting the job done. Second, stewards knew that what had been entrusted to them belonged to their owner (Gen. 24:34–38). This is the supreme difference between a steward and an owner. Stewards understand their position. Third, when stewards took for their own use what had been entrusted to them, the relationship of trust between them and the owner was broken, and the stewards were dismissed” (Gen. 3:23, Hos. 6:7).

MONDAY

Stewards in the New Testament

Based on the definition of a steward in yesterday’s lesson, name the stewards that come to mind in the New Testament. Jesus of Nazareth, Judas, Steven, Saul/Paul, Peter, John, -- any others?

What was Jesus a steward of? Everything that’s been made was made by and through Him. [see John 1: 3]

How could he be a steward of His own? Does this give us any hints as to the true meaning of the term “steward”? He told some parables about stewards [some faithful, some not so much] – Any insights we can gather from those?

TUESDAY

Stewards of the Mysteries of God

According to Paul [in Colossians 2 & 1 Timothy 3], Jesus of Nazareth is the “mystery of God”. According to Jesus of Nazareth, God is exactly like Jesus [Entire gospel of John].

Is there some circular reasoning here, or something else? How could God being JUST like Jesus be considered a mystery?

Consider some of the “gods” Israel sought after during the “Kings” era. What were their primary attributes?

From the lesson:

“The mysteries of God have been recorded in Scripture, even though understanding them fully is still beyond our comprehension. That’s why they are mysteries.”

Did God have Scripture recorded simply as a “mystery”? Unable to be comprehended? Or did He inspire men to record Scripture precisely to be comprehended? While an Infinite God will never be fully comprehended by finite beings, does this mean we should suspend our reason/judgement and never try?

WEDNESDAY

Stewards of Spiritual Truth

Nearly 34,000 different sects of Christianity consider themselves “Stewards of Spiritual Truth”. Are they? Can they?

Ephesians 6: 13-17 is a familiar passage referring to girding loins with Truth, Breastplates of Righteousness, Shoes of the Gospel of Peace, Shields of Faith, and Helmets of Salvation. We don’t read the preceding verses very well, and thus we often forget the nature of the warfare.

¹¹ Put on the full armor of God, so that you will be able to stand firm against the schemes of the devil. ¹² For our struggle is not against flesh and blood, but against the rulers, against the powers, against the world forces of this darkness, against the spiritual forces of wickedness in the heavenly places. ¹³ Therefore, take up the full armor of God, so that you will be able to resist in the evil day, and having done everything, to stand firm. Eph. 6: 11-16.

The lesson suggests we are to be stewards of “redemption”. I couldn’t agree more. How are we to be stewards of redemption?

From the lesson:

“Only in the light that shines from Calvary can nature’s teaching be read aright. Through the story of Bethlehem and the cross let it be shown how good is to conquer evil, and how every blessing that comes to us is a gift of redemption.”—Ellen G. White, Education, p. 101.

Redemption is ours only because Jesus paid the ultimate price. Paul clearly states, “In Him we have redemption through His blood, the forgiveness of sins, according to the riches of His grace” (Eph. 1:7, NKJV). Emphasis mine.

I’m not sure how the author/editor gets “Jesus paid the ultimate price” from Paul’s text in Ephesians.

THURSDAY

Our Responsibility as Stewards

This part of the lesson stresses personal responsibilities, the relationship between cause and effect, and [“the difficult question of”] freewill.

If one believes God’s law to be imperial / imposed in nature, then these concepts get very murky, however, if one understands God’s Law to be design law – the protocols upon which all life is built, then they become more clear.

Any thoughts as to how Adam & Eve bore their personal responsibilities before the fall?

Scripture is quite clear on how they behaved afterward –“It was that serpent you made...” It’s God’s fault. “It was that woman that you gave me...” It’s God’s fault.

Stewardship Motives of the Heart Lesson 6 1Q 2018

The Marks of a Steward presented by Tim Jennings

announcements at end of document

SABBATH

Read the memory verse:

Let a man so consider us, as servants of Christ and stewards of the mysteries of God. ²
Moreover it is required in stewards that one be found faithful. 1Cor 4:1,2 NKJV

What is a steward?

A person who manages another person's property or is in charge of his business, or household, a caretaker to fulfill the desires of the owner.

Any qualities that a good steward must possess?

Read second paragraph, "A Christian steward..." In the lesson they recount some important traits, which we will explore further, which are:

- Faithfulness
- Loyalty
- A Clear Conscience
- Obedience
- Trustworthiness

Did you notice the glaring omission? UNDERSTANDING!!!! Understanding of God, His character, methods, principles and plans:

I'm no longer calling you servants because servants don't understand what their master is thinking and planning. No, I've named you friends because I've let you in on everything I've heard from the Father. The Message

Can a person be faithful, loyal, have a clear conscience, obedient and trustworthy and still not understand what the Master wants, or what the Master is doing? And if that is the case could such a steward actually end up working against the Master out of ignorance, but with total devotion?

So, I want to add as an attribute for all truly successful stewards that they know their Master, and understand Him, His methods, designs, and plans in order to intelligently cooperate in fulfilling one's duties.

Now, according to our memory verse, to what are we to be stewards of?

The mysteries of God—can we be loyal, faithful, obedient to the mysteries of God if we don't know what they are and don't understand them?

What are the mysteries of God?

Are my mysteries of God something God wants to keep hidden?

Why are these things mysteries? What has caused the mystery?

Are the mysteries of God the truths about God that God has wanted all intelligences to know but because of sin, because of Satan's lies, because of the limitations of finite minds are truths we don't naturally comprehend?

According to the SDA Bible Commentary:

In the NT, mustērion [which is translated mystery] refers to something that God wills to make known to those who are willing to receive His revelation, rather than to something that He desires to keep secret. Throughout Paul's writings the word carries the meaning of something which, though incapable of being fully understood by unassisted human reason, has now been made known by divine revelation (see ch. 16:25, 26; etc.) In Rev. 1:20; 17:5, 7 it has reference to a symbol that requires interpretation for its understanding.

Paul regarded it as his mission to make known the mystery "which was kept secret since the world began" (Rom. 16:25; cf. 1 Cor. 2:7; Eph. 3:3, 4). God's eternal purpose to redeem man in Christ has now been declared in Christianity. Thus Paul describes the whole Christian revelation as a mystery (Rom. 16:25; 1 Cor. 2:7–10; Eph. 1:9; 6:19; Col. 1:26; 2:2; 1 Tim. 3:9). He applies the term to the incarnation of Christ (1 Tim. 3:16), to the union of Christ and His church as typified by marriage (Eph. 5:32), to the transformation of the saints at the second coming (1 Cor. 15:51), to the opposition of Antichrist (2 Thess. 2:7), and especially to the admission of the Gentiles to the kingdom of Christ (Rom. 16:25, 26; Eph. 3:1–6; Col. 1:26, 27).¹

So, when you read in the Bible "the mystery of God," are you hearing the truths that God wants you to know?

Revelation states:

But in the days when the seventh angel is about to sound his trumpet, the mystery of God will be accomplished, just as he announced to his servants the prophets." (10:7)

¹ Nichol, F. D. (Ed.). (1980). The Seventh-day Adventist Bible Commentary (Vol. 6, p. 610). Review and Herald Publishing Association.

When happens when the seventh angel does sound his trumpet?

The seventh angel sounded his trumpet, and there were loud voices in heaven, which said: “The kingdom of the world has become the kingdom of our Lord and of his Christ, and he will reign for ever and ever.” Rev 11:15

So if the sounding of the seventh trumpet is the second coming of Christ—what is the mystery of God that is accomplished just before that final trumpet sounds?

What is this mystery—this truth that God wants you to know? Could it be?

To them God has chosen to make known among the Gentiles the glorious riches of this mystery, which is Christ in you, the hope of glory. Col 1:27

Does God want a people to be filled with His presence, to be restored to genuine Christlikeness before Christ returns?

Can that happen if we hold to lies about God, specifically that God is the source of inflicted pain and suffering?

SUNDAY

Semper Fi which is short for Semper Fidelis, which is Latin and means Always Faithful and is the motto of the US Marine Corps

What does is mean to be faithful?

The lesson states, “Being faithful means staying true to what we know is right, especially in the heat of spiritual battles.”

What are spiritual battles?

Read second paragraph, “Spiritual conflicts...” Being faithful to what one knows is true, and choosing that regardless of pressure, but that begs the question—how do you know what is true?

Can one be faithful to something that they believe is true but isn’t?

Many will say to me on that day, ‘Lord, Lord, did we not prophesy in your name, and in your name drive out demons and perform many miracles?’ ²³ Then I will tell them plainly, ‘I never knew you. Away from me, you evildoers!’ Mt 7:22,23

Does it sound like the ones described here had rejected believing in God? Had they decided to become agnostic? Is the text describing non-Christians? Were they being faithful to what they thought was true? Were they faithful to Christ?

So, the question really is two-fold—are we faithful—do we make choices to do that which we currently believe is right—and do we have a solid basis for determining what is right, healthy and true? Do we continually seek to grow in our knowledge of truth and improve both our understanding and practices of life?

And how do we know what is true or right? This is the 7 levels of moral decision-making—people come to different conclusions based on their level of maturity and what assumptions they have when they approach the situation and what standard they use for authority.

If a person has the assumption that God's law is imposed, that God dictates and we obey, then after Adam sinned one reads Genesis 3 as God ordering the subordination of Eve under the authority of Adam. With that assumption in place, based on accepting the lie about God's law, one then reads the rest of Scripture to conclude women should not be in leadership in the church, should remain under the headship of men.

Situation doesn't matter, ability doesn't matter, Christlike character doesn't matter, equipping by the Holy Spirit doesn't matter...no the only thing that matters is gender. For those with such mindsets, a woman called by God, filled with the Holy Spirit, gifted with Spiritual gifts, would still be expected to be subordinate to a man—regardless of the spiritual maturity of the man.

The mature realize in Genesis 3 that God was not dictating a new design for human relationships, but merely diagnosing accurately what would result of Adam and Eve breaking God's design—what happens when love is replaced by selfishness in the heart: The strong dominate the weak and the weak seek the protection of the strong. Thus God's pronouncement—here is how sin has marred my beautiful design for relationships.

Sadly, men continue, in their insecurity to promote dominance over women.

So, let's examine faithful stewards through the seven levels and see who is the truly faithful steward:

1. Reward and punishment
 - a. obeys to avoid punishment and be rewarded
2. Marketplace exchange
 - a. obeys because of the agreed compensation
3. Social conformity
 - a. obeys to be recognized as the best steward by peers
4. Law and order
 - a. obeys not to be prosecuted for a crime
5. Love for other people

- a. obeys because he loves his master
6. Principled based living
 - a. obeys because he loves his master and understands the laws upon which life is based
7. Understanding friend of God
 - a. obeys because he loves his master, understands the laws upon which life is based and what the master is trying to accomplish

Which is the truly faithful steward?

So, with this in mind lets examine some scenarios:

You get a message, purported to come from God telling you to kill another human being—what do you do?

1. Reward and punishment—you kill the other human being without thought in order to avoid punishment
2. Marketplace exchange—you kill the other person to avoid losing your benefits package
3. Social conformity—if your culture accepts that God, in certain situations would have someone killed, then you kill the other person
4. Law and order—you would cite the 10 Commandments, thou shall not murder and you would claim the message is false, not from God and reject it and no longer trust the source of the message
5. Love for others—you would seek a way to avoid killing the other person while still being loyal to God, would likely decide God is love and God wouldn't kill so you would reject the message
6. Principled based living—you understand that killing violates God's design and thus you would reject the message and not kill
7. Understanding friend of God—you know God personally, you understand God is love and His designs, but you also understand that because God is the one asking you to do this, there must be some purpose beyond your understanding. Your heart resists the instruction and you argue with God, but in the end you take your son Isaac to the mount to sacrifice him as God requested. You are relieved in the end to discover God never intended for you to kill your son, but did have another purpose—for you to surrender your heart completely to Him and stop trying to go your own way.

Other examples you could go through on your own:

- David and the showbread
- The story of the old and young prophet in 1Kings 13

Bottom green section asks us to read Rev 2:10, “Do not be afraid of what you are about to suffer. I tell you, the devil will put some of you in prison to test you, and you will suffer persecution for ten days. Be faithful, even to the point of death, and I will give you the crown of life.”

What does it mean to be faithful unto death?

- Were those who drank the Kool-Aid in Jonestown faithful unto death?
- Did anyone see the ABC documentary recently on Waco and David Koresh and the Branch Davidians? Were those who burned to death in Waco faithful unto death? They showed video of the members of the compound, who spoke to the FBI during the siege and they all stated they were there freely, because they believed they were doing God's will.
- What about those who flew the planes into the Trade Towers on 9/11, were they faithful to their god unto death?

Is faithfulness unto death enough to ensure one receives the crown of life?

Does it matter to whom one is faithful?

Interestingly, if you examine the theology of David Koresh it is almost exactly like the theology of ISIS:

- God is supreme and all powerful
- We must resist evil and sin
- Jesus instructed His disciples to carry swords
- Jesus will come back to destroy the enemies of God and punish sin
- When people resist the will of God we must take up arms and fight back
- God will use power to punish His enemies

This is basically the same theology taught by all who hold to penal substitution theology. It was manifested in large scale in Rwanda when Christians murdered each other by the millions in a four-month period.

The people who follow these lies couldn't tell the difference between right and wrong—why? Because they read the Bible literally, allowed someone else to do their thinking for them, and didn't understand design law—God's methods.

It is not possible for God to get love and trust by threatening to kill those who don't love and trust Him—when we understand this reality then we recognize any theology which has God using His power to kill His enemies is false.

MONDAY

Read top dark section, "No one can..." What brings about unwavering loyalty to God?

Can God get loyalty with displays of might and power?

Paul talks about the gospel being the power of God unto salvation—what types of power are there and what impact will the use of these types of power have upon people?

In other words, let's examine the use of different types of power in the recruitment of followers and which type results in the greatest unshakable loyalty?

Coercive Power

Coercive power is the use of force, might, strength to threaten, intimidate, or punish in order to pressure someone, who is otherwise unwilling, to comply with your will.

Can one get loyalty by the use of threats? In other words, if you get people following you with coercive power do your followers stay true and loyal against all opposition? What will break coercive power and cause such followers to collapse, to give in, to betray you?

- A bigger threat
- A desired inducement
- Believing a lie
- Genuine love for someone or something else
- Hope for freedom

Inducing Power

The power of bribes, payoffs, promotions, money and advancement, praise and adoration. Does this type of power result in reliable, stable, trustworthy, and unshakable followers? What will cause them to collapse and betray you?

- A serious threat
- A better payoff
- A lie
- Genuine love for someone or something else

Deceiving Power

The power of lies—deceit and deception. The power of lies is stronger and more potent than coercion or inducement. Adherents who follow based on lies—if they truly believe those lies—will not be swayed by threats, will not be bought by bribes; consider members of cults, or various terrorist groups.

But, while lies are more powerful and reliable in achieving converts than threats or inducements, will such followers be faithful beyond betrayal? Will those who follow based on lies remain true in the face of all opposition? What will cause the deceived follower to collapse and betray you?

- Another lie that they believe
- The truth—as the truth exposes the lies, if they accept the truth they will be set free! And the truth may be revealed by either facts or experiences of life
- Love for someone or something other than self—some of the mothers in Waco got their children out

The Power of Love

Does this power result in reliable, stable, trustworthy, unshakable outcomes? Will those who follow based on love be loyal against all opposition?

The power of love is stronger than bribes and threats. But there is one power that can, and did, break the power of love—lies. Just remember Eden and the fall of our first parents.

The Power of Love and Truth

But there is one power that cannot be broken and that is the power of love combined with truth. Truth and love combined result in something impenetrable! This is why the Holy Spirit is known as the Spirit of truth and love.

Restraining Power

I would be remiss if I didn't mention one other use of power—restraining power. Restraining power is that force exercised to restrain, restrict, reduce, impede, slow, and/or obstruct injury, pain, suffering, destruction and evil.

Examples of restraining power include a parent restraining a child running toward the street; Center for Disease Control officials implementing quarantine; mental health professionals forcibly hospitalizing and medicating a psychotic patient; and benevolent societies incarcerating those bent on exploiting others.

Restraining power is the power of love at work, and can, when rightly understood, result in loyalty.

So, our loyalty to God must be based on truth and love—and this is the same as saying being so settled into the truth both intellectually (truth) and spiritually (love) that one cannot be moved—which is also known as...the sealing, being sealed by God!

Read first paragraph, “Knowing that God’s name means “jealous”....” Do not worship any other god, for the Lord, whose name is Jealous, is a jealous God. Exodus 34:14

What does jealous mean? Dictionary has these definitions:

adjective

1. feeling resentment against someone because of that person's rivalry, success, or advantages (often followed by of):

He was jealous of his rich brother.

Does this apply to God? –No!

2. feeling resentment because of another's success, advantage, etc. (often followed by of):

He was jealous of his brother's wealth.

Does this apply to God? –No!

3. characterized by or proceeding from suspicious fears or envious resentment:

a jealous rage; jealous intrigues.

Does this apply to God? –No!

4. inclined to or troubled by suspicions or fears of rivalry, unfaithfulness, etc., as in love or aims:

a jealous husband.

Does this apply to God? –No! because this is self-focused, the husband jealous for his privileges from the wife, it is selfish.

5. Bible. intolerant of unfaithfulness or rivalry:

The Lord is a jealous God.

Does this apply to God? –No! God gives us genuine freedom and the entire conflict between good and evil is evidence that He does not use His power to stop people from rejecting Him and going after other God.

6. solicitous or vigilant in maintaining or guarding something:

The American people are jealous of their freedom.

Does this apply to God? –Yes! God is jealous for His creation, for His children, for their health, their welfare, their good, which means He is protective of His designs—laws because only in harmony with them is their life, health, happiness. God is jealous to protect life, love, truth, freedom, righteousness—His creation—and He can only do so by operating in harmony with His own character, i.e. His own designs. God will not break His own design laws, in other words He won't violate liberty by using power to punish sinners—to do so would destroy that which He jealously protects.

When you hear God is a jealous God what do you hear—the resentment, anger, envy elements, or do you hear the vigilant to guard and protect that which He loves?

One way for you to protect yourself in the future from drawing the wrong conclusion from texts that say God is a jealous God, is to replace the “j” with a “z” God is a zealous God. According to Strong's Hebrew Lexicon:

נָאֵר [qana' /kaw·naw/] v. A primitive root; TWOT 2038; GK 7861; 33 occurrences; AV translates as “jealous” 10 times, “envy” nine times, “jealousy” five times, “envious” four times,

“zealous” twice, “very” twice, and “zeal” once.²

Thus, zealous is a legitimate translation and guards against attributing selfish and sinful attributes to God.

Read second paragraph, “Our loyalty is important...” This is well said, bravo! You cannot genuinely be loyal to God by adhering to a checklist of rules!

Read third paragraph, “Where there is loyalty...” Again another well stated paragraph. They recognize exactly that loyalty is what God wants, and it cannot be achieved by threatening to kill those who are not loyal.

Yet, that is exactly what much of Christianity teaches—why? Because the false law has been accepted and it appears to be right and just to teach that God will use His power to punish the wicked. Yet, this teaching results in undermining loyalty to God, damaging human reason, creating mindless thoughtless Christians who will hurt others in the name of their god.

TUESDAY

Read first paragraph, “There are many...” This is so true, when our conscience is not clear it activates stress circuits, we are anxious, fearful, keyed up, not at ease. We seek peace, but if we don’t repent how do we lessen the pressure from our conscience? By denial and distortion, projection and externalization. We begin to lie to ourselves and others, which only causes more fear of being found out, more vigilance to keep track of every lie so we won’t be found out, which continually activates the stress circuits of our brain. Thus we slowly damage the faculties God has given us that are sensitive to the movements of the Spirit of God. We sear our consciences, damage our reason, inflame our bodies, ruin our health, destroy our relationships and in the end die isolated and alone.

Read second paragraph, “Our consciences function...” Gentiles show that the law is written on their hearts, how? What causes this?

For it is not those who hear the law who are righteous in God’s sight, but it is those who obey the law who will be declared righteous.¹⁴ (Indeed, when Gentiles, who do not have the law, do by nature things required by the law, they are a law for themselves, even though they do not have the law,¹⁵ since they show that the requirements of the law are written on their hearts, their consciences also bearing witness, and their thoughts now accusing, now even defending them.) Rom 2:13-15

Notice the Gentiles, “do my nature” what the law requires—what does this mean? What kind of law can people do by nature? What kind of law can people do without actually being informed about the law?

Do people naturally perform circumcisions? Were the Gentiles circumcising their children? So, circumcision is not part of God's design law—it was something that was added later for another purpose.

Do people naturally pay taxes? So, the Temple tax was an added law and something the Gentiles didn't do.

Do people natural pay tithe? So the tithe is an imposed law—why do you think God imposed a 10% tithe? Did God need the money? Could the 10% tithe have been a way to prevent corrupt religious leaders from imposing higher levies in the name of their god?

Do you remember how when God gave the instructions on animal sacrifice some people sacrificed hundreds or thousands thinking more blood would please God. Could it be that God instituted a 10% tithe to prevent people from thinking they could receive greater blessings if they gave greater tithe? Notice, God never put a percentage on the love offering—just the obligatory tithe.

So, if imposed laws are not kept by nature, what type of law were these Gentiles keeping? Design law, the laws of love, truth, liberty, worship, exertion etc.

I love this quotation from the book The Desire of Ages what do you think?

Those whom Christ commends in the judgment may have known little of theology, but they have cherished His principles. Through the influence of the divine Spirit they have been a blessing to those about them. Even among the heathen are those who have cherished the spirit of kindness; before the words of life had fallen upon their ears, they have befriended the missionaries, even ministering to them at the peril of their own lives. Among the heathen are those who worship God ignorantly, those to whom the light is never brought by human instrumentality, yet they will not perish. Though ignorant of the written law of God, they have heard His voice speaking to them in nature, and have done the things that the law required. Their works are evidence that the Holy Spirit has touched their hearts, and they are recognized as the children of God. {DA 638.2}

This is only possible if we understand God's law as design law. The moment we insert human law constructs this cannot be, because then there is some imposed rule, ritual, action, that a person is required to take before they can be saved. They must legally accept the blood of Jesus as their sin payment, they must be baptized by immersion, they must keep the Sabbath etc. But Paul in Romans denies this.

And so do we—we stand firmly on the truth that God is love and is the Creator of reality and His laws are the laws that life is built upon—including His moral laws!

WEDNESDAY

Read third paragraph, “Obedience starts in the mind...” What does it mean “higher authority”?

From where does genuine authority arise?

- Might and power—the most powerful are the authority we should follow?
- Position—pastor, priest, pope, president, God? Does authority arise from position?
- Degree/education—physician, theologian?
- Title—King, Queen, Prophet?
- Species—human, angel, deity?

What about from truth itself? Is the truth authoritative, and because God is the source of all truth then God is authoritative, but not merely because He is powerful, but because He is true?

The King of glory stooped low to take humanity. Rude and forbidding were His earthly surroundings. His glory was veiled, that the majesty of His outward form might not become an object of attraction. He shunned all outward display. Riches, worldly honor, and human greatness can never save a soul from death; Jesus purposed that no attraction of an earthly nature should call men to His side. Only the beauty of heavenly truth must draw those who would follow Him. DA 43

Honesty With God presented by Tim Jennings (Announcements at end)

SABBATH

Read memory text: “But that on the good ground are they, which in an honest and good heart, having heard the word, keep it, and bring forth fruit with patience.” Luke 8:15

What does it mean?

In this text, with what are we honest to be about? The word, which is both the truth and Jesus, who is the Word made flesh.

What does it mean to be honest with the word?

Does it mean:

- We must have the correct definitions for Bible imagery, metaphor, and prophecy?
- We must have the correct doctrines?

Doesn't it simply mean that we genuinely seek to comprehend the true meaning and embrace it, choose it and apply it to our lives as soon as we are capable of doing so?

In other words, it isn't about what we actually know, but what attitude we have when approaching the word.

Why is this important?

Is there a connection between truth and cleansing from sin?

Jesus said “You will know the truth and the truth will set you free.” (Jn 8:32)

What does this mean? From what does the truth free us?

Do the things we believe have any bearing on our salvation?

How and why?

What is salvation? It is healing or restoration into Godlikeness—can we do this in our own strength? No! We receive healing, i.e. restoration, renewal, writing of the law on the heart and mind, via the work of God through the achievements of Christ and the actions of the Holy Spirit.

But, what is the method or gateway God utilizes to bring about this healing in each of us individually? What is the avenue into your heart and my heart?

It is your good judgment, which is the combined faculties of reason and conscience. This avenue is how truth gains entry into our thoughts and we then think through and choose to form our beliefs or not. And our beliefs shape our values, our perspectives, attitudes, brain circuits, and ultimately how we process and understand new facts and truths.

This is why the Bible says “Come let us reason together...” Isa 1:18

Jesus is the Word made flesh, as we partake of the truth Jesus revealed it becomes our thoughts, which form our beliefs, which become filters we use to understand and make sense of our lives, what is happening, from where we find meaning, purpose—all of this shapes who we are and are becoming.

The brain responds and changes based on the thoughts we think, the beliefs we hold, the God we worship. The brain does not form our thoughts, or beliefs. The brain will rewire its circuitry to form patterns of thinking, or constructs of information processing based on our choices through life. These pathways become like filters or lenses that are automated and we will initially see information through the historic methods of processing.

These pathways can and do change as we change our understanding, beliefs, perspectives.

What makes you uniquely you is a combination of your physical self and your habituated methods and patterns of thinking, the beliefs you choose to hold and form, and your memories. The most important elements are the habituated methods of thinking, your beliefs and memories, the physical self is the least important and this is why we can get a new physical self at the second coming, but we don't get a new character at the second coming. The character must be formed here and now.

This is part of the salvation process, taking individuals who are habituated in selfishness, in fear, in exploitation of others, who have beliefs that increase fear and undermine love, who have memories of either being mistreated that cause resentment, anger, desire for retaliation, or memories that cause shame, guilt, loss of value of self, feelings of worthlessness, and through the application of truth and love changing the firing patterns, replacing false beliefs with truths, and reprocessing memories to form healthier and more truthful conclusions and meanings about self and the world around.

In this way we become renewed, healed, transformed to have character like Christ. This is not a work we can do on our own, because

- the truth only originates in God
- the ability to understand that truth is from the enlightenment of the Holy Spirit
- the restless desire for something more is the work of the Holy Spirit
- the pure motives, peace, love, kindness, forgiveness, etc. are gifts of pure character wrought out by Jesus and given to us via the Spirit as the truth wins us to trust in Him and we invite

Him into our lives. The Spirit takes perfection of Christ and we bond with Him, we unite with Him in our inmost being and we become One just as Jesus prayed:

My prayer is not for them alone. I pray also for those who will believe in me through their message, ²¹ that all of them may be one, Father, just as you are in me and I am in you. May they also be in us so that the world may believe that you have sent me. ²² I have given them the glory that you gave me, that they may be one as we are one: ²³ I in them and you in me. May they be brought to complete unity to let the world know that you sent me and have loved them even as you have loved me. Jn 17:20-23

With this in mind, let's examine a little more what honesty is.

Read first paragraph, "What is an honest..." Do you think circumstances matter, or are we supposed to be 100% honest at all times?

Have you ever misled someone, not just withheld information, but misled them in order to give them a surprise party? Is this sin?

I remember as a child reading The Hiding Place, the famous story of Corrie Ten Boom and hiding the Jews. When the Nazi's came in and asked if they were hiding any Jews—do you remember how it was presenting as not lying because they said the Jews were under the table, when the Jews were hiding in a cellar beneath the floor, under a rug, under the table?

- Were they lying?
- Was the answer given intended to be truthful, to give accurate information in answer to the Nazi soldiers, to actually give them the knowledge they were seeking or was it intended to obfuscate and mislead?

This was a classic level four method of lying by telling a partial truth and as a child I learned that it was okay to deceive as long as one does it with some truthful statement.

Rahab—you know the story, if you were one of those spies hiding in her place and the city guard comes and questions her are praying, "Dear Lord, please be with Rahab right now. We know she doesn't know you as we do, but please lead her to speak truthfully at this moment?"

Hmmm....

What if a person, in a situation like Corrie Ten Boom or Rahab, believes that their lying is wrong, but would rather sacrifice their own life and be eternally lost than assist in killing another person...are they out of harmony with God or in harmony?

Well, if you value the Bible and read Hebrews, one would have to conclude that they are in harmony—that God isn't concerned primarily with the behavior, but with the heart motive for the behavior.

Now, nowhere do we find God commending Rahab for lying; she is commended for acting in trust, faith, and for putting self in harms way to protect others.

Regarding whether misleading with truthful statements is lying, here is one person's perspective—do you agree?

"Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor." {PP 309.2}

False speaking in any matter, every attempt or purpose to deceive our neighbor, is here included. An intention to deceive is what constitutes falsehood. By a glance of the eye, a motion of the hand, an expression of the countenance, a falsehood may be told as effectually as by words. All intentional overstatement, every hint or insinuation calculated to convey an erroneous or exaggerated impression, even the statement of facts in such a manner as to mislead, is falsehood. This precept forbids every effort to injure our neighbor's reputation by misrepresentation or evil surmising, by slander or tale bearing. Even the intentional suppression of truth, by which injury may result to others, is a violation of the ninth commandment. {PP 309.3}

What does the commandment actually say, "Thou shall not bear false witness against thy neighbor."

And the author above uses the same caveat, the precept forbids every effort to injure our neighbor. Thus, again is it primarily about the factual accuracy of the statement or the intention of the statement? Can one make truthful and factual statements that are intended to mislead and injure others? Would such truthful statements be right or wrong?

SUNDAY

Read first paragraph, "One thing most..." When you hear "dishonesty" what do you think? What does this mean to you?

What is your concern about people when you think of dishonesty? Is it merely they were not honest, or do you hear within the concept of dishonesty, exploitation, someone seeking to harm, to take advantage?

So if you had a surprise party thrown for you, and you thought you were going to one event but instead you find yourself at a party for you; do you, once the party is sprung, believe you have been sinned against? Do you experience yourself as wronged, exploited or injured? Why or why not? If not, do you realize that you were deceived, but no sin happened—why? Because no harm was intended nor perpetrated against you.

Did God's prophets ever use methods of deception, i.e. told falsehoods, made up stories, lied?

By the word of the Lord one of the sons of the prophets said to his companion, "Strike me with your weapon"... Then the prophet went and stood by the road waiting for the king. He disguised himself with his headband down over his eyes. [Note, how was the prophet wounded? By self directing another person to wound him.]³⁹ As the king passed by, the prophet called out to him, "Your servant went into the thick of the battle, and someone came to me with a captive and said, 'Guard this man. If he is missing, it will be your life for his life, or you must pay a talent of silver.'⁴⁰ While your servant was busy here and there, the man disappeared." "That is your sentence," the king of Israel said. "You have pronounced it yourself."

⁴¹ Then the prophet quickly removed the headband from his eyes, and the king of Israel recognized him as one of the prophets. ⁴² He said to the king, "This is what the Lord says: 'You have set free a man I had determined should die. Therefore it is your life for his life, your people for his people.' "⁴³ Sullen and angry, the king of Israel went to his palace in Samaria. 1Kings 20:35-43

Was the prophet honest with the king about what had happened to him? Was this a violation of the Commandment?

The Lord sent Nathan to David. When he came to him, he said, "There were two men in a certain town, one rich and the other poor. ² The rich man had a very large number of sheep and cattle, ³ but the poor man had nothing except one little ewe lamb he had bought. He raised it, and it grew up with him and his children. It shared his food, drank from his cup and even slept in his arms. It was like a daughter to him.

⁴ "Now a traveler came to the rich man, but the rich man refrained from taking one of his own sheep or cattle to prepare a meal for the traveler who had come to him. Instead, he took the ewe lamb that belonged to the poor man and prepared it for the one who had come to him."

⁵ David burned with anger against the man and said to Nathan, "As surely as the Lord lives, the man who did this deserves to die! ⁶ He must pay for that lamb four times over, because he did such a thing and had no pity."

⁷ Then Nathan said to David, "You are the man! 2Sam 12:1-7

Who sent Nathan to David? Was Nathan truthful about the situation he was bringing before David and why he was bringing it? Was this a violation of the Commandment?

Why is neither of these examples of misleading a violation of the Commandment? Because the commandment is about dishonesty that injures another—in these cases the deception was designed to remove the self-deception and bring truth to bear in the hearts of the two kings!

Level four and below people operate upon rules and cannot process on this level. They will argue that what I am saying is subtle deception, for them life is easier with black and white rules. They prefer to be able to simply speak truths regardless of the injury to others resting safe in “What I said was true.”

Now, what about honesty or dishonesty to children?

How about this situation:

A 12-year-old child is asked to either do special music or read a Scripture for church. They do a very poor job, either many wrong notes, or misreads words, slowly sounds them out, getting words wrong. But when they finish the church applauds and the adults on stage say “Good job. Well done.”

- Are they being honest with the child?
- Is there any danger labeling poor performance as good performance?
- Do children of a certain age know whether they played or read well or not?
- What happens in the child’s mind when in their judgment, because the notes were off, because they stumbled and didn’t know some of the words, they conclude that they didn’t do well, but the adults they look up to say “Good job! Well done”?
- Are we being honest?

What about in school when everyone gets a participation award?

Are we being honest in society when we tell people that if you get upset about something it is because someone else was not sensitive enough to your needs and they didn’t create a safe space for you to flourish?

What did Jesus say we should expect from others?

“Then you will be handed over to be persecuted and put to death, and you will be hated by all nations because of me.” Mt 24:9

Are we honest with young people if we tell them they have a right that people conform their behavior to not upset them?

Where is the line between our responsibility to be kind, honest, caring people never seeking to injure, offend, harm another, and being held hostage to the way someone else may interpret our actions?

Do we help people to mature, or do we create a falsehood, a false understanding of reality when we lead people to believe that their hurt feelings are not their own responsibility, but the fault of an insensitive society?

What did Jesus teach?

But I tell you: Love your enemies and pray for those who persecute you,⁴⁵ that you may be sons of your Father in heaven. He causes his sun to rise on the evil and the good, and sends rain on the righteous and the unrighteous. Mt 5:44,45

If we want to follow Jesus we want to deal honestly with the word, to lead people to the truth of how reality actually works. And notice what example Jesus gives about being like the Father, God causes the sun to rise and the rain to fall on the evil and the good—this is design law, the laws of God are constants and never change.

- We are to understand reality, God's kingdom and realize that when people mistreat us, they are showing sickness in their own heart and mind (from abundance of heart mouth speaks)
- if we love them we don't take it personally, we pray as Jesus did "Father forgive them...."
- We choose, in governance of self to stay in harmony with God, with life, with the only method that heals and restores.
- But, when we go down the "my rights" approach and demand others conform to meet our needs, we move out of harmony with God, and promote the principles of selfishness which always results in division.

Are we being honest in our society today?

The lesson really wants us to focus on the Tithe, so let's turn to that subject, read last paragraph, "No appeal is made..." What is the purpose of tithe?

Isn't the tithe purposed for the gospel ministry?

To whom is tithe to be paid?

Is the tithe only to be paid to institutional churches, or is it to be used wherever God impresses you to place it for the spreading of the gospel?

Well here is one person's view, see if you agree with her view of the tithe and how it is to be used and where it is to go?

"There are ministers' wives... who have been devoted, earnest, whole-souled workers, giving Bible readings and praying with families, helping along by personal efforts just as successfully as their husbands. These women give their whole time, and are told that they receive nothing for their labors because their husbands receive wages. I tell them to go forward and all such decisions will be revised. The Word says, "The labourer is worthy of his hire." Luke 10:7. When any such decision as this is made, I will, in the name of the Lord, protest. I will feel it my duty to create a fund from my tithe money to pay these women who are accomplishing just as essential work as the ministers are doing, and this tithe I will reserve for work in the same line as that of the ministers, hunting for souls, fishing for

souls. {DG 106.1}

It has been presented to me for years [by whom?] that my tithe was to be appropriated by myself to aid the white and colored ministers who were neglected and did not receive sufficient [income to] properly to support their families... {2MR 99.3}

I have myself appropriated my tithe to the most needy cases brought to my notice. I have been instructed to do this, and as the money is not withheld from the Lord's treasury, [wait, it wasn't being given to the organized church, yet was not withheld from the Lord's treasury, why?] it is not a matter that should be commented upon, for it will necessitate my making known these matters, which I do not desire to do, because it is not best. {2MR 99.5}

Some cases have been kept before me for years, and I have supplied their needs from the tithe, as God has instructed me to do. And if any person shall say to me, Sister White, will you appropriate my tithe where you know it is most needed, I shall say, Yes, I will; and I have done so... {2MR 100.1}

What is the purpose of the tithe? To whom is it to be paid?

MONDAY

The Life of Faith—what is that? What is faith?

Trust, and upon what is trust based?

What in your life increases your trust, confidence and faith in another person?

Would it be experience with them? What kind of experiences increase your trust in them?

I propose there are four elements necessary for one to experience healthy trust or faith:

1. The other person genuinely loves you more than self, and would sacrifice self for you.
2. The other person has demonstrated mature self-governance, the ability to be reliable and consistent in carrying out what they have said they will do.
3. The other person possesses genuine wisdom or understanding of how reality actually works and operates in harmony with design law

(First three together constitute someone who is genuinely trustworthy—so trustworthiness is the requirement)

4. You come to actually know that other person for yourself and thus experience 1,2 and 3 for yourself. You have been in situations in which you have experienced the other person coming through for you.

Are there elements that I might have missed?

Consider the problems when only a part of these elements are involved:

- A person who loves you more than self and would sacrifice self for you, but they are 5 or 10 years old? While their motives are trustworthy, they haven't yet matured to self-mastery and cannot be trusted
- A person who loves you more than self, and who does have self-governance, but believes in an imperial god, with imposed rules and rigidly applies those rules. Can you trust them to do what is right in every situation, even though they have right motives?

Do these three elements bear upon our trust or faith in God?

So what do we make of Heb 12:2:

Let us fix our eyes on Jesus, the author and perfecter of our faith, who for the joy set before him endured the cross, scorning its shame, and sat down at the right hand of the throne of God.

What does this mean?

TUESDAY

Read second paragraph, "After all, anyone..." Tithe paying can absolutely be an expression of faith, but does that mean tithe pay is always an expression of faith?

Saying it another way, can people pay tithe without faith?

Are there spiritual blessings from paying tithe? What?

- Actively reminds us of the source of all blessings
- Puts us in active partnership with God
- Keeps us humble
- Practices honesty and integrity by returning an honest 10%
- Exercises faith in God by trusting Him when finances are tight
- others?

WEDNESDAY

Read second paragraph, "We do not make tithe holy..." What is the purpose of the tithe? For what task?

The promotion of the gospel?

Revelation 14 says that at the end of time the eternal gospel is to go to the world—what is that gospel message?

What do you think of this description?

The message proclaimed by the angel flying in the midst of heaven is the everlasting gospel, the same gospel that was declared in Eden when God said to the serpent, "I will put enmity between thee and the woman, and between thy seed and her seed; it shall bruise thy head, and thou shalt bruise His heel." Here was the first promise of a Saviour that would stand on the field of battle to contest the power of Satan and prevail against him. Christ came to our world to represent the character of God as it is represented in His holy law; for His law is a transcript of His character. Christ was both the law and the gospel. The angel that proclaims the everlasting gospel proclaims the law of God; for the gospel of salvation brings man to obedience of the law, whereby their characters are formed after the divine similitude... {1MR 44.2} [What law? Design or imposed? Do we form different characters if we adhere to different laws? Why?]

Satan has been persevering and untiring in his efforts to prosecute the work he began in heaven, to change the law of God. [Can God's law be changed? Why not? It is design law, so what does Satan do? He is the Father of lies and changes how we conceive or understand God's law from design law to imposed law] He has succeeded in making the world believe the theory he presented in heaven before his fall, that the law of God was faulty, and needed revising. [What kind of law can be revised?] A large part of the professed Christian church, by their attitude, if not by their words, show that they have accepted the same error. [Meaning? That they have accepted the lie that God's law functions like human law] But if in one jot or tittle the law of God has been changed, Satan has gained on earth that which he could not gain in heaven. He has prepared his delusive snare, hoping to take captive the church and the world. But not all will be taken in the snare. A line of distinction is being drawn between the children of obedience and the children of disobedience, the loyal and true and the disloyal and untrue. Two great parties are developed, the worshipers of the beast and his image, and the worshipers of the true and living God. {1MR 45.3}

What if we are giving our tithe to organizations that are not taking the gospel to the world?

With that question in mind turn to...

THURSDAY

Read second paragraph, "Revival and reformation...." What do we want to accomplish in light of the 3 Angels, revival or to reshape, rebuild, reform the church?

Do you believe the church needs reformation?

What need to happen to complete the reformation started in the 15th Century?

The next paragraph states, “Revival and reformation demand a commitment, and tithing is part of that commitment. If we hold back from God what He asks of us, we cannot expect Him to respond to what we ask of Him.”

What might this inadvertently suggest? Could it suggest the idea that tithing is a deal with God? If we pay our tithe then God will respond to what we ask of Him?

Is tithe paying a prerequisite to praying to God?

Is God unwilling to listen to those who don't pay tithe?

Is God unwilling to respond to those who don't pay tithe?

If we don't pay tithe could it undermine the response we would otherwise receive from God? How?

If we take any action that causes us to live in fear, guilt, insecurity, shame; if we sear our consciences, then are we as receptive to God? Are we as capable of hearing or seeing God's answers? Are we as likely to appreciate and accept God's answers?

Stewardship Motives of the Heart Lesson 8 1Q 2018

The Impact of Tithing presented by Tim Jennings

Announcements at end

I can't remember a lesson that I did not want to teach, but this lesson I did not enjoy—in fact, it grieved me. It brought me much sadness, and moved me nearly to tears as I read what was contained in this lesson. I would prefer to skip this lesson, but I won't and I pray we can explore it in love and find truth, even if the lesson is as upsetting to some of you as it was to me.

Before we get into the lesson I want to state my position on tithing so that no one will misunderstand our discussion below:

My position on tithing:

- I have paid tithe since childhood
- I believe the tithe is God's money not my money and is to be returned to God
- When I return the tithe I am not giving offering, I am being honest with God, which in turn blesses me by strengthening in my character the trait of honest decision-making
- I believe the tithe is to be used exclusively for the spreading of the gospel

SABBATH

The second paragraph states, "Today, the tithe is for the support of the gospel. When rightly understood it serves as a spiritual measurement of our relationship with God."

The first sentence I absolutely agree with—The Tithe is for the support of the gospel. But I don't get the second sentence. I am not sure I understanding what they mean—a spiritual measure of our relationship with God?

Do we increase the amount of tithe we give as our relationship with God grows?

I have been giving the same percentage of my income in tithe my entire life, but my relationship with God has changed, grown, deepened, developed, expanded over the years, is the 10% an accurate measure when it never changes?

Did Jesus use tithe as a measure of our relationship with Him?

What did Jesus use?

"A new command I give you: Love one another. As I have loved you, so you must love one another. ³⁵ By this all men will know that you are my disciples, if you love one another." Jn 13:34,35

What did the Apostle John write?

Dear friends, let us love one another, for love comes from God. Everyone who loves has been born of God and knows God. ⁸ Whoever does not love does not know God, because God is love. 1John 4:7-8

Does Jesus ever, anywhere, use tithe as a measure of our relationship with Him?

In fact, Jesus said the following:

“Woe to you Pharisees, because you give God a tenth of your mint, rue and all other kinds of garden herbs, but you neglect justice and the love of God. You should have practiced the latter without leaving the former undone. Lk 11:42

Here is a group of people paying tithe, should we then conclude then, that they must have a very good spiritual relationship with God because they pay tithe? So, is tithe an accurate measure of our relationship with God?

I want to point out that Jesus, in the passage above, did not eliminate or do away with tithe paying, nor did He suggest it should not be done. What He did do however, is demonstrate the act of tithe paying has no direct bearing on one's relationship with God and cannot be used as a measure of that relationship.

What is the problem of using tithe paying as a measure of our spiritual relationship with God? I could set up the idea that our relationship with God is financial—or a quid pro quo, if we don't pay we don't get to have a relationship, or don't get blessings, or God doesn't give us His special attention. Many subtle distortions can enter when we suggest tithe paying is a measure of our relationship with God.

In fact, the lesson by attempting to link tithe paying as a measure of our relationship with God risks inciting fear into our relationship with God. If a person has not paid a tithe, then, according to the lesson, their relationship with God is poor. Thus, the more tithe we pay the better our relationship. This leads to fear base, and coercive type religion which destroys individuality.

A person can have a relationship with God who has never paid tithe—why? Because they never heard of such a thing, but when they do have a relationship with God, and do know about the tithe, then they eagerly give to God what is God's. Finally, persons can pay tithe faithfully without having a relationship with God.

SUNDAY

Read first paragraph, “Jesus commands us...” There is much in this paragraph that is to be commended, we are to be involved in spreading the gospel, which is taking a message to people with a terminal condition that will result in their not dying, i.e. being saved for all eternity. This is the most important mission for any of us. And we are in a war against evil powers that seek to keep people in ignorance and darkness and even get people to partake of false treatments that rather than healing cause further damage.

Is the tithe to be used to fund any group, any program, any church, any mission, or only those that are taking the genuine healing Remedy from God to the world—the real gospel?

The sentence “We must pray for unity to be faithful in funding the mission...” Is this a subtle suggestion that we must pray that all of us give our tithe to the same organization, or merely that people return tithe to entities that are spreading the true gospel?

There are several sentences I am going to read from the lesson, which I think brings together the central message the lesson is directing us toward:

- SABBATH: “rightly understood [the tithe] serves as a spiritual measurement of our relationship with God.”
- SUNDAY second paragraph: “Tithe is part of the a system that funds God’s church. It is the greatest source of funding and the most equitable method for carrying out His mission.”
- SUNDAY fourth paragraph: “WE cannot afford to be disorganized, careless, or haphazard about funding the mission.”
- TUESDAY from first and second paragraph, “The laborer is worthy of his wages...Supporting such laborers with tithe, then, is foundational and fundamental to God’s work.”
- WEDNESDAY first paragraph, “God has a storehouse...The storehouse represented the location where religious services took place and from where the Levites were supported.”
- WEDNESDAY second paragraph, “In every dispensation, God has had a central storehouse to manage the tithe. Seventh-day Adventists make up a worldwide religion/church in which the storehouse principle is accepted and practiced.
- WEDNESDAY bottom green section, “Think what would happen if people were to send their tithe to wherever they wanted. If they did that what would happen to God’s work?

What is the message the authors are trying to say in this lesson?

- You relationship with God is measured by your tithe paying
- Tithe is used to fund the spreading of the gospel
- People are not to think for themselves and consider for themselves where God would have the tithe sent
- The tithe is to be sent only to the Seventh-day Adventist church

Is this the message the authors are sending or am I misstating it? If so, please do correct me on this, but this is how the lesson comes across to me.

Do we believe as Christians that throughout human history various church organizations stopped promoting a clear gospel message and those who continued to promote the true gospel eventually created new organizations (known as the Reformation)? Do we believe that the Reformation has been progressive, in other words, truth slowly advancing?

If you could go back in time to Christians over the last 1000 years, would you recommend to those Christians that they take the time to evaluate whether the “gospel” being presented by their organization is the true gospel? And if they find their organization is not presenting the true gospel, what would recommend those Christians do with their tithe?

Should we do anything less today? Should we today actually stop and evaluate what is the gospel message that is to be going to the world, and then inquire, is the organization that is receiving my tithe spreading that gospel message? And if it is not, is it right to direct the tithe to an organization which you believe is spreading the true gospel?

The lesson would suggest we do not have the right nor responsibility to do this. That we are required to pay our tithe to an institution regardless of whether that institution is spreading the true gospel or not.

What would have happened in history if Christians had taken the time to stop, evaluate and then only send tithe to organizations that were spreading the true message about God and His character of love? Perhaps might some of institutions that have spread a false gospel have failed?

Could it be that good-hearted Christians, by blindly sending their tithe to institutions of their childhood loyalty, are funding programs that obstruct the gospel?

Could it be that blind thoughtless returning of the tithe without considering if the true gospel is being preached or not is actually delaying the final work and delaying the second coming of Christ?

If we do give tithe to individuals, or other programs than an institutional church, but that we are convinced are spreading the true gospel are we sinning, or are we doing exactly as God wants us to do?

One of the founders of the SDA church wrote this:

“There are ministers' wives... who have been devoted, earnest, whole-souled workers, giving Bible readings and praying with families, helping along by personal efforts just as successfully as their husbands. These women give their whole time, and are told that they receive nothing for their labors because their husbands receive wages. I tell them to go forward and all such decisions will be revised. The Word says, "The labourer is worthy of his hire." Luke 10:7. When any such decision as this is made, I will, in the name of the Lord, protest. I will feel it my duty to create a fund from my tithe money to pay these women who are accomplishing just as essential work as the ministers are doing, and this tithe I will reserve for work in the same line as that of the ministers, hunting for souls, fishing for souls.{DG 106.1}

It has been presented to me for years [by whom?] that my tithe was to be appropriated by myself to aid the white and colored ministers who were neglected and did not receive sufficient [income to] properly to support their families... {2MR 99.3}

I have myself appropriated my tithe to the most needy cases brought to my notice. I have been instructed to do this, and as the money is not withheld from the Lord's treasury, [wait, it wasn't being given to the organized church, yet was not withheld from the Lord's treasury, why?] it is not a matter that should be commented upon, for it will necessitate my making known these matters, which I do not desire to do, because it is not best. {2MR 99.5}

Some cases have been kept before me for years, and I have supplied their needs from the tithe, as God has instructed me to do. And if any person shall say to me, Sister White, will you appropriate my tithe where you know it is most needed, I shall say, Yes, I will; and I have done so... {2MR 100.1}

Did you notice that this person believed that her tithe was to go directly to people who were not funded by the institution, but who were promoting the true gospel message, she was 1) acting at God's direction and 2) the money was going into God's treasury, i.e. storehouse. The lesson authors would argue this is not the case because only the official institution is God's storehouse.

What do you think?

Do we all agree that the tithe should fund the gospel?

In Rev 14 it is entitled the "eternal gospel" the good news that is eternally true; true in eternity past as well as eternity future. This good news existed before humankind, before sin, and before the sacrifice of Christ. This is the good news about God Himself.

What do you believe is the final message of mercy, the final gospel message to lighten the world for Christ's return?

This is what the SDA church was founded to take to the world:

"It is the darkness of misapprehension of God that is enshrouding the world. Men are losing their knowledge of His character. It has been misunderstood and misinterpreted. At this time a message from God is to be proclaimed, a message illuminating in its influence and saving in its power. His character is to be made known. Into the darkness of the world is to be shed the light of His glory, the light of His goodness, mercy and truth... The last rays of merciful light, the last message of mercy to be given to the world, is the revelation of His character of love." Christ's Object Lessons, p.415

Do we believe this is the gospel?

Has God always been merciful, always been love? Then if this has always been true how is it called the good news, as if it wasn't known?

Because Satan has lied about God and misrepresented God as something other than love, but how?

Historic Adventism taught the following:

The last great conflict between truth and error is but the final struggle of the long-standing controversy concerning the law of God. Upon this battle we are now entering,—a battle between the laws of men and the precepts of Jehovah, between the religion of the Bible and the religion of fable and tradition. {GC88 582.2}

What do you understand this to mean? What are the laws of men? What are the precepts of God?

The Revelation 14 text about the eternal gospel calls us to worship Him who made the heavens....
What kind of law does creation operate upon?

Could it be that Satan's lies about God, which corrupt our understanding of God's character and make God out to be something other than love, are that God's law is imposed that function like human law, and thus God becomes the inflictor of pain, suffering and punishment?

Again, historic Adventism thought so:

In the opening of the great controversy, Satan had declared that the law of God could not be obeyed, that justice was inconsistent with mercy, and that, should the law be broken, it would be impossible for the sinner to be pardoned. Every sin must meet its punishment, urged Satan; and if God should remit the punishment of sin, He would not be a God of truth and justice. {DA 761.4}

Notice, Satan's argument about God's law—that God's law is the type of law that requires the ruling authority to inflict punishment. If people are teaching theologies that argue that justice requires God to inflict punishment for sin are they preaching the true gospel, or are they are continuing Satan's argument from the beginning? Are organizations that present such a false gospel to the world to receive the tithe?

I was listening to Christian radio in my car yesterday and a man called in and asked how he can witness to Muslims about Jesus. He said he has tried to tell them that they don't have to do all their works to get into heaven, that Jesus paid the price and they only need to accept His payment by faith for their sins and they will be saved. The theologian expert on the radio answered by saying that he believes we need to focus on sin, that all our righteousness is filthy rags, that all our best is so filled with sin it is offensive to God. And that God is personally offended at our sin and cannot tolerate to look at our sin. Therefore, our good works offend God because sin offends God and the only thing that will satisfy the offense our sin has caused God is the perfect blood sacrifice of His Son.

Is this the gospel? No! This is the false gospel, this message is not the truth, it is all based on the lie that God's law functions like our law and that God is the one who is the problem who needs changing by the death of Jesus. The true gospel is:

- God was in the Son reconciling the world to Himself...
- For God so loved the world...
- If God is for us who can be against us...
- If you have seen Jesus you have seen the Father
- God is love, the source of all good, life, and health—God is not the source of pain, suffering and death.
- God's law is design law—the laws upon which life is built thus we worship Him who made the heavens...

Paul in Romans 2:13-15 states:

“For it is not those who hear the law who are righteous in God's sight, but it is those who obey the law who will be declared righteous.”¹⁴ (Indeed, when Gentiles, who do not have the law, do by nature things required by the law, they are a law for themselves, even though they do not have the law,¹⁵ since they show that the requirements of the law are written on their hearts...

What kind of law can people do by nature? Do people by nature get circumcised? Do people by nature get baptized in water? Do people by nature pay tithe? What kind of law do people do by nature? Design law, which is God's law, which are the principles of love, truth and freedom.

So what is the gospel, the eternal gospel? The good news about God Himself, which requires we come back to understand God's law as design law and reject the dictator views of God.

Thus, programs and institutions that teach God as the source of inflicted pain, suffering, torment, torture, death, are not presenting the gospel and the tithe rightly should not fund such distorted views about God.

Let me put it another way, if we keep funding and promoting false views about God, will we ever finish the work of taking the final message of mercy to the world?

MONDAY

Read second paragraph, “The blessing in Malachi...” I think the lesson did a good job of pointing out that the blessings of tithing are more than financial, but spiritual as well, that tithing impacts our character development, strengthens our confidence and trust in God, humbles us and reminds us of where all blessings originate. This is a great point.

What do you think about this point in the paragraph, “Also, when we are blessed by God, we are obligated to share those blessings with the less fortunate.”?

How is this true?
How could this be misunderstood?

Read third paragraph, “From tithing a double blessing comes...” Why is it that the more you give the more you receive?

How can you get more by giving away what you have?
Is this the wisdom of the world, or is this foolishness to the world?

The last paragraph states, “Our heavenly Father did not originate the plan of systematic benevolence to enrich Himself, but to be a great blessing to man. He saw that this system of beneficence was just what man needed.”

Do you agree?
Why did humankind need this?
How is it a blessing to humans?

THURSDAY

Read second paragraph, “Thus, salvation is a gift...” Let’s affirm the truth in this section:

- Salvation is a gift from God and it is not something we created, earned, or worked to merit!
- The tithe is God’s and we earn nothing by returning it to Him

However, there are several problems in this paragraph, what problems do you see?

Undeserving—if we mean by this word that we did not create the remedy, did not work to earn the cure to our sin condition then this is correct. However, if we mean we are so worthless, and of such little value that we don’t deserve God’s love and intervention to save us—then this is false. “For God so loved the world...” “While we were yet sinners Christ died for us.” It is true we don’t deserve salvation as something we earned, but we do deserve salvation as the object of God’s love.

For instance, if your child disobeyed you and drank some poison—what would your child deserve from you? Would they deserve you to punish and kill them, or would they deserve you to intervene and save them? Why would they deserve your intervention, not based on their behavior being so good they earned your saving interventions, but because of who they are to you and your love for them.

So this idea of undeserving is understood either level 1-4, which is behavior-based and through the imposed law lens, or 5-7 through the lens of love and God’s design for life.

What do you think of this sentence “Salvation comes because the merits of Christ’s own perfect sacrifice are credited to our account.”?

- In this view what would be the problem if one didn't accept the credit to their account?
 - Sin would still be recorded in their legal record in heaven
 - In the Judgment God would find sin still in their heavenly ledger
 - God would then weigh up the list of sins and tally up an amount of pain and suffering and then inflict it upon the sinner before killing him or her

Is such a view the true gospel?

Should we use the tithe to fund this type of gospel?

Why is this gospel false?

First, they reference Ephesians 2:8,9, let's read the Scripture and see if what they say is what the Scripture says:

For it is by grace you have been saved, through faith—and this not from yourselves, it is the gift of God—⁹ not by works, so that no one can boast.

What does the Scripture say about salvation?

- It comes from God's grace
- We partake of it through our trust in God
- We do not create the saving remedy ourselves nor earn it
- It is a free gift from God
- So we cannot brag that we are better than others

Did you hear anything legal in this? Did you hear anything about accounts and credits?

So why is this view a false gospel?

- It is founded on the false law construct
- It misrepresents God's character and methods
- It incites fear and undermines truth in God
- It creates mental and spiritual barriers to reconciliation with God (doctrines designed to hide and protect us from God)
- It prevents people from opening their hearts to God for actual healing and restoration to godliness

I submit, it is this type of theological construct which has actually delayed the second coming of Christ and prevented the eternal gospel from going to the world and if Christians would begin examining the evidence for themselves and begin using the tithe to fund the true gospel then the world would be lighted and Christ would come.

What is the true gospel?

God is love—God runs His universe upon love, which requires genuine freedom, therefore God never coerces, never uses power to inflict punishment for sin. Why? Because such methods destroy love and incite rebellion. God’s laws are not rules like sinners make, but are design protocols upon which reality is built.

We are all born in sin, conceived in iniquity, born with a condition we did not choose, but which if unremedied will result in death. Thus, we are born with a terminal condition and have no ability to create a cure. Jesus came, “he who knew no sin became sin for us so that we might become the righteousness of God.” Jesus came to procure the remedy we could not procure. We now, through God’s grace and the victory of Christ, have the option of trusting God and partaking of the cure He provides at no cost to us. When we do this, we are transformed in the inner being, sinfulness—fear and selfishness, deceit, greed, pride etc. are blotted out of our characters and we develop the fruits of the Spirit. The records in heaven, in which our names “characters” are registered record the transformation and renewal that actually happens within us when we partake of Jesus. This is salvation, healing, renewing, regenerating the person within.

This only happens for those who trust God, and trust requires that we know God, thus the eternal gospel is always about God. This is the message we are to be taking to the world. This is what our tithes are to fund!

FRIDAY

Read question two—could it be that if Christians held back their funds from organizations that have misrepresented God that Christ would have come sooner?

2018 Q1 Stewardship Lesson 9

Offerings of Gratitude

presented by Lori Atkins

We are studying Lesson 9 in our quarterly about Stewardship and Motives of the Heart, and the title of this week's lesson is "Offerings of Gratitude", and I found a lot to like and be positive about in this lesson! You can see why by looking at the first two paragraphs in Saturday's lesson. Our God is a giving God; this great truth is seen most powerfully in the sacrifice of Jesus. " 'For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, that whoever believes in Him should not perish but have everlasting life' " (John 3:16, NKJV). Or in this verse: " 'If you then, being evil, know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more will your heavenly Father give the Holy Spirit to those who ask Him!' " (Luke 11:13, NKJV). God gives and gives; it's His character. Thus, we who seek to reflect that character need to give, as well. It's hard to imagine more of a contradiction in terms than that of "a selfish Christian."

So what is an offering? Is it the same as tithe? Is it only money or financial?

What else can we give as an offering? Just as the blessings that come from the open windows of heaven are not strictly financial, neither are our offerings! We may have means, we may have special talents or skills, we all have different spiritual gifts, we are to offer our bodies as living sacrifices. I believe the blessings we are designed to receive by cheerful giving...as well as the blessings we can be to others... should involve more than just putting a check in the plate each week, then watching a mission spotlight video, and simply hoping the money went to good use.

That same idea is what made me pause when reading the last sentence in the 3rd paragraph:

"On the day that Jesus welcomes the redeemed into heaven, we will see those who accepted His grace, and realize that those acceptances were made possible by our sacrificial offerings."

Presumptuous? a bit selfish? not convinced that will be our first thought?

SUNDAY

Where Your Treasure Is

Matthew 6:19-21 is a familiar text associating the devotion and attachment of our hearts with where and what we store up as treasure. Today, maybe more than at any other time in my lifetime, there is so much focus on piling up earthly treasures. And look at the words used to describe these earthly treasure chests: thieves can steal, moths and vermin can destroy – anyone had a sweater or clothes packed away and a moth literally destroyed it?

Or, what about inflation? If you stuff your money in a mattress or keep it in an account that earns no interest or return, what happens to it...what does inflation do to the value of your money?

Even if you do invest your treasure in securities or instruments that do provide a return, there are folks here old enough to remember the .com crash, the real estate bubble, the most recent recession.

So, what is this pull...this powerful hold that the quest for earthly treasure can have on us?

Obviously, the roots are found in fear, insecurity, maybe a lack of trust or desire to control our outcomes.

Does anyone else wrestle with this or is it just me?

This tension between trust, treasure-hoarding-avoidance, and a desire to hold on loosely – juxtaposed with the need to provide for family, send kids to college, keep up with Jones', fund your retirement, etc.? It is a real dichotomy for me, and part of that comes from seeing it play out up close and personal in my own family.

My father was a dedicated provider, he worked incredibly hard and sacrificed so we had everything we needed and even some of our wants...we experienced a modest, conscientious, tithing, debt-free upbringing. But don't forget, everything is relative...my dad was born in the early 1920's and grew up in the great depression, so today's modest and middle-class I'm sure looked like excess and abundance to him. Now my dad was convinced that Jesus was going to come back in his lifetime, so he had no retirement to speak of, no pension, no life insurance...and no urging or advice from the rest of us could shake his belief that God would take care of them no matter what. Well, in their later retirement years, mom and dad sold the only thing they owned of value - their house - and those proceeds were going to have to last them the rest of their lives, and fund all their living expenses and care for what turned out to be another 10+ years...but they continued to operate on a "you can't outgive God" philosophy, even on a fixed income. I took care of their finances, so I witnessed the details of this phenomenon, and what I saw was – despite living many months at a deficit, where more money went out than came in – over 10 years later, my mom passed away with the same amount of money in the bank as the day they sold their house...akin to the woman in Elijah's day whose jug of oil would not run dry. The results were so striking that it caught our financial advisor's attention and gave me the opportunity to tell him their story as a witness.

Of course, we were brought up in an entirely different era...and told to save, contribute as much to my 401k as I could as early as possible, etc. So, there is definitely tension between these two approaches for me – how much is enough, how much is too much...or does the actual amount not matter, and it's more about the heart motive, and the ability to hold on loosely, and the degree to which we trust God with how things turn out. I mean, we have read the end of the book...spoiler alert...we know what is going to happen in this country and on this planet that will make all our earthly treasures worthless.

I think the third paragraph in Sunday's lesson maybe sums it up. Matthew 6:19-21 contains one of the most important concepts on stewardship. Your treasure pulls, tugs, coerces, draws, demands, allures, and desires to control your heart. In the material world your heart follows your treasure; so where your treasure is remains vitally important. The more we focus on earthly gains, the harder it is to think on heavenly matters.

MONDAY

Stewards of the Grace of God

Several times in this quarterly we have talked about our responsibility of being good stewards and what we are stewards of - we are to be “stewards of the gospel” and now “stewards of the grace of God”

Is anyone else struck by the enormity and weightiness of that responsibility?

The lesson points us to a familiar text in Ephesians 2:8

“For it is by grace you have been saved, through faith—and this is not from yourselves, it is the gift of God—not by works, so that no one can boast”, then goes down the path that this is a gift we do not deserve...which kind of made me bristle this week just as much as it did when it was mentioned in last week’s lesson. Dr. Jennings talked a bit about this concept of what we “deserve” last week, and I think it is worth re-visiting here.

Undeserving—if we mean by this word that we did not create the remedy that saves us, did not work to earn the cure to our sin condition then this is correct. However, if we mean we are so worthless, and of such little value that we don’t deserve God’s love and intervention to save us—then this is false. “For God so loved the world...” “While we were yet sinners Christ died for us.”

It is true we don’t deserve salvation as something we earned, but we do deserve salvation as the object of God’s love. For instance, if your child disobeyed you and drank some poison—what would your child deserve from you? Would they deserve you to punish and kill them, or would they deserve you to intervene and save them? Why would they deserve your intervention, not based on their behavior being so good that they earned your saving interventions, but because of who they are to you and because of your love for them!

Take a look at the 2nd paragraph in Monday’s lesson:

“Without grace, we would be without hope. Sin’s doleful impact on humanity is too great for humans ever to free themselves from it (or cure themselves). Even obedience to God’s law couldn’t bring life to us...after all, if any law could save us, it would be God’s law.”

Which law do you think is being referenced here and at what moral development level do you think the author is operating?

The Bible says, “The law of the Lord is perfect, reviving the soul.” (Psalm 19:7) It also says, “He who finds me (love) finds life.”

Ms. White says,

“the law of self-renouncing love is the law of life for earth and heaven...” (DOA 19.2)

“I seek not Mine own glory,’ but the glory of Him that sent Me. In these words is set forth the great principle which is the law of life for the universe. All things Christ received from God, but He took to give. So in the heavenly courts, in His ministry for all created beings: through the beloved Son, the Father’s life flows out to all; through the Son it returns, in praise and joyous service, a tide of love, to the great Source of all. And thus through Christ the circuit of beneficence is complete, representing the character of the great Giver, the law of life.” (DOA 21.2)

“Jesus was “the Word of God”—God’s thought made audible. Not alone for His earthborn children was this revelation given. Our little world is the lesson book of the universe. Both redeemed and unfallen beings will find in the cross of Christ their science and their song. They will see that the glory shining in the face of Jesus is the glory of self-sacrificing love. They will see that the law of life for earth and heaven is the law of self-renouncing love. That love which “seeketh not her own” has its source in the heart of God and is manifested in Jesus, the meek and lowly One.” (HLv 11.2)

TUESDAY

Our Best Offering

This lesson points us to another familiar story from Luke 7:37 about the woman with the alabaster box of expensive perfume who anointed Jesus’ feet just before his crucifixion.

Here is that story from the Remedy NT Paraphrase:

“One of the Pharisees invited Jesus to his home for dinner, so he went to the Pharisee's house and reclined at the table. A local woman who had been living an immoral life learned that Jesus was at the Pharisee's home and she brought an alabaster jar of perfume. She stood by Jesus' feet weeping, and began washing his feet with tears. Then she dried his feet with her hair, kissed them, and poured the perfume on them. When the Pharisee in whose home they were dining saw this, he thought to himself, "If this man was really from God, he would know what a vile and sinful woman was touching him." Jesus, knowing his thoughts, turned to him and said, "Simon, I want to tell you something." "Please, Doctor, tell me," he replied. "There were two people, and both owed a banker money. One owed him five thousand dollars, the other only fifty; but neither had any money to pay him back, so the banker canceled both debts and absorbed the loss. Which of the two do you think will love him more?" Hesitantly, Simon replied, "I would think the one who had the larger debt canceled." "You are absolutely right," Jesus confirmed. Then Jesus looked toward the woman, but spoke to Simon: "Do you see this woman? Even though I am in your house, you did not provide water to wash my feet; but she has washed my feet with her tears and dried them with her hair. You did not welcome me with a kiss, but this woman, from the moment I arrived, hasn't stopped kissing my feet. You did not anoint my head with inexpensive olive oil, but she has anointed my feet with the most expensive ointment. Understand how reality works: She has been forgiven much, and having received this forgiveness, she loves much. But he who accepts only a little forgiveness, loves only a little." Then Jesus reassured her, "You are forgiven; your sinfulness has been removed."

What made this gift her best offering?

Ellen White writes about this event in the Desire of Ages:

"She had sought to avoid observation, and her movements might have passed unnoticed, but the ointment filled the room with its fragrance, and published her act to all present...Mary heard the words of criticism. Her heart trembled within her. She feared that her sister would reproach her for extravagance. The Master, too, might think her improvident. Without apology or excuse she was about to shrink away, when the voice of her Lord was heard, 'Let her alone; why trouble ye her?' He saw that she was embarrassed and distressed. He knew that in this act of service she had expressed her gratitude for the forgiveness of her sins, and He brought relief to her mind...The fragrant gift which Mary had thought to lavish upon the dead body of the Saviour she poured upon His living form...Mary knew not the full significance of her deed of love. She could not answer her accusers. She could not explain why she had chosen that occasion for anointing Jesus. The Holy Spirit had planned for her, and she had obeyed His promptings. Inspiration stoops to give no reason. An unseen presence, it speaks to mind and soul, and moves the heart to action. It is its own justification. "Christ told Mary the meaning of her act, and in this He gave her more than He had received. . . . As the alabaster box was broken, and filled the whole house with its fragrance, so Christ was to die, His body was to be broken; but He was to rise from the tomb, and the fragrance of His life was to fill the earth."—Ellen G. White, The Desire of Ages, pp. 558–563.

The 4th paragraph in Tuesday's lesson says, "Giving God the best shows that we put Him first in our lives."

Does it really? Is this similar to the concept in last week's lesson that when rightly understood, our tithing "serves as a spiritual measurement of our relationship with God."

What actually shows that we put God first in our lives...what actually IS a spiritual measurement of our relationship with God?

"A new command I give you: Love one another. As I have loved you, so you must love one another. By this all men will know that you are my disciples, if you love one another." Jn 13:34,35

"Dear friends, let us love one another, for love comes from God. Everyone who loves has been born of God and knows God. Whoever does not love does not know God, because God is love. 1 John 4:7-8

"Entire devotion and benevolence, prompted by grateful love, will impart to the smallest offering, the willing sacrifice, a divine fragrance, making the gift of priceless value. But, after willingly yielding to our Redeemer all that we can bestow, be it ever so valuable to us, if we view our debt of gratitude to God as it really is, all that we may have offered will seem to us very insufficient and meager. But angels take these offerings, which to us seem poor, and present them as a fragrant offering before the throne, and they are accepted.”—Ellen G. White, Testimonies for the Church, vol. 3, p. 397.

WEDNESDAY

The Motives of the Heart

We talked about the story of the poor widow’s offering in a previous lesson, this is the story from Luke 21:1-4. So, compared to others’ donations, the amount of her offering was miniscule - two small copper coins, which thanks to Google appears to amount to somewhere between a couple of pennies and a couple of dollars...but Christ said her offering was more than all the others...why? Her offering was the most generous because it showed the true sacrificial nature of her character and her heart...she gave “all she had to live on”. This is another story that sort of stuns me and gives me pause. Have you ever given all you had to live on? I haven’t...rarely have I given what I couldn’t afford, and I am astonished and humbled by that level of generosity and trust.

Here’s a quote from one of the founders of our church that references this event:

“The act of the widow who cast two mites—all that she had—into the treasury, is placed on record for the encouragement of those who, struggling with poverty, still desire by their gifts to aid the cause of God. Christ called the attention of the disciples to this woman, who had given “all her living.” Mark 12:44. He esteemed her gift of more value than the large offerings of those whose alms did not call for self-denial. From their abundance they had given a small portion. To make her offering, the widow had deprived herself of even the necessities of life, trusting God to supply her needs for the morrow. Of her the Saviour declared, “Verily I say unto you, That this poor widow hath cast more in, than all they which have cast into the treasury.” Verse 43. Thus He taught that the value of the gift is estimated not by the amount, but by the proportion that is given and the motive that actuates the giver.” – {AA 342.1}

“However lowly, any work done for God with a full surrender of self is as acceptable to Him as the highest service. No offering is small that is given with true-heartedness and gladness of soul.” – {COL 359.3}

“In the balances of the sanctuary the gifts of the poor, made from love to Christ, are not estimated according to the amount given, but according to the love which prompts the sacrifice. The promises of Jesus will as surely be realized by the liberal poor man, who has but little to offer, but who gives that little freely, as by the wealthy man who gives of his abundance. The poor man makes a sacrifice of his little, which he really feels. He really denies himself of some things that he needs for his own comfort, while the wealthy man gives of his abundance, and feels no want, denies himself nothing that he really needs. Therefore there is a sacredness in the poor man’s offering that is not found in the rich man’s gift, for the rich give of their abundance. God’s providence has arranged the entire plan of systematic benevolence for the benefit of man. His providence never stands still. If God’s servants follow His opening providence, all will be active workers.” – {CCh 277.2}

The 2nd paragraph says, “God alone knows our true motives. Is it possible to have the right actions with the wrong motives?”

What about the wrong actions with the right motives?

To give out of abundance does not require much faith (is that absolutely true?), but to give sacrificially for the good of others can indeed say something very powerful about our hearts.”

How important are our motives in giving?

2 Corinthians 8:8-15 lays out some principles we can apply regarding giving and stewardship. Here are those verses from the Remedy:

“This is not a command, for love cannot be commanded. I want to stretch and expand your love in response to the witness of the Macedonians, for you know the absolute generosity of our Lord Jesus Christ: Even though he was rich in all things, yet for your need he gave up everything and became empty—nothing!—so that you, through what he achieved when he emptied himself, may be restored to eternal riches. Last year you were not only the first to give, but the first to have hearts transformed from selfishness to love, so my advice is simple: Continue applying to your lives God's method of selfless giving, and finish what you started last year—giving what you are able. God knows your hearts, and it is the willingness of heart that matters. Every gift from a willing heart is pleasing to God, no matter the size; so don't be discouraged if you don't have more to give than you do. We are not trying to enrich others while impoverishing you, but trying to put God's design law of love into action and thus bring equilibrium and healthiness to all. Presently you have plenty and can relieve the suffering of those who are in need, but later, when you are in need, their abundance will provide for you. Then none will suffer. As it is written, "Those who had the most did not hoard it, and those who had the least did not go without."

What principles do you hear being described?

The rest of Wednesday's lesson is really positive and well-stated.

“Whatever your motive for giving may be, it is on a continuum that ranges from ego to altruism. The fight on this continuum between selfishness and giving is fought more frequently than any other spiritual fight. Selfishness will chill a heart that was once on fire for God. The problem comes when we let selfishness into our Christian experience. That is, we find ways to justify our selfishness and do it in the name of Christ. The bottom line comes down to one word: love. And love cannot be manifested without self-denial, a willingness to give of oneself, even sacrificially, for the good of others. Unless God's love is reflected in our lives, our giving will not reflect God's love. A selfish heart tends to love only itself. We must ask the Lord to “circumcise our hearts” (Deut. 10:16, NKJV) so that we can learn to love as we have been loved. Love, the basis of all true beneficence, captures the sum of all Christian benevolence.

God's love directed toward us inspires us to love in return, and it is truly the supreme motive for giving.

From the Teacher's Quarterly:

"While it is abundantly clear that God loves cheerful givers, it is equally apparent that cheerful givers love (delight in) God. That loving relationship activates their cheerful generosity. Non-givers and grudging givers somehow have missed that loving relationship; therefore, for them giving has become financially laborious rather than spiritually adventurous. We cannot overestimate the importance of this "love factor," because the gratitude that love engenders forms the boundary between grudging attitudes and exuberant munificence."

The Greek word translated as "cheerful" appears only once in the New Testament in 2 Cor 9:7 - "So let each one give as he purposes in his heart, not grudgingly or of necessity; for God loves a cheerful giver" (why does he love them? does he not love grudging givers?) - and this is the same word from which we get the English word "hilarious"...what should that tell us about what our attitude should be in giving? What is the problem with giving freewill offerings out of a sense of obligation rather than out of gratitude and love?

THURSDAY

The Experience of Giving

Is there an experience of giving...does something happen to us when we give?

The 1st paragraph states,

"If Christ came to reveal to us the character of God, one thing should be clear by now: God loves us, and He wants only the best for us. He asks us to do only what would be for our own benefit, never to our detriment. This would include, too, His call for us to be generous and cheerful givers of what we have been given. The freewill and generous offerings we give are as much a benefit to ourselves, the giver, as they can be to those who receive them. Only those who give this way can know for themselves just how much more blessed it is to give than to receive."

This is excellent!

Ms. White says this about the experience of giving:

"Even the very poor should bring their offerings to God. They are to be sharers of the grace of Christ by denying self to help those whose need is more pressing than their own. The poor man's gift, the fruit of self-denial, comes up before God as fragrant incense. And every act of self-sacrifice strengthens the spirit of beneficence in the giver's heart, allying him more closely to the One who was rich, yet for our sakes became poor, that we through His poverty might be rich." – {AA 341.3}

"The reward of whole-souled liberality is the leading of mind and heart to a closer fellowship with the Spirit." – {CCh 277.4}

This sounds like a real change in us happens through the experience of giving!

“The Lord does not need our offerings. We cannot enrich Him by our gifts. Says the psalmist: “All things come of Thee, and of Thine own have we given Thee.” Yet God permits us to show our appreciation of His mercies by self-sacrificing efforts to extend the same to others. This is the only way in which it is possible for us to manifest our gratitude and love to God. He has provided no other.”—The Review and Herald, December 6, 1887

Giving a generous offering can and should be a very personal, spiritual act. It is a work of faith, an expression of gratitude for what we have been given in Christ. As we give, freely and generously, we are reflecting in our own way the character of Christ. We are learning more about what God is like by experiencing Him in our own acts. Thus, giving like this only builds trust in God and the opportunity to “taste and see that the Lord is good; blessed is the man who trusts in Him!” (Ps. 34:8, NKJV).

This is one of the key threads of harmonized truth in our integrative evidence based approach! In what ways have you experienced the reality of how faith grows through giving freely and generously out of what you have been given?

I love this quote from Friday’s lesson.

“The spirit of liberality is the spirit of Heaven. The spirit of selfishness is the spirit of Satan. Christ’s self-sacrificing love is revealed upon the cross. He gave all that he had, and then gave himself, that man might be saved. The cross of Christ appeals to the benevolence of every follower of the blessed Saviour. The principle illustrated there is to give, give. This carried out in actual benevolence and good works is the true fruit of the Christian life. The principle of worldlings is to get, get, and thus they expect to secure happiness; but carried out in all its bearings, the fruit is misery and death.”—Ellen G. White, in Advent Review and Sabbath Herald, Oct. 17, 1882.

Stewardship Motives of the Heart Lesson 10 1Q 2018

The Role of Stewardship presented by Tim Jennings (announcements at end)

SUNDAY

This week my 5 y/o granddaughter, Lennox, contracted influenza A—and was terribly sick, crying, hurting all over, feverish... and, all you parents and grandparents know exactly what I mean when I say—I hate the flu—with a real passionate hatred and wish I could destroy that virus—but I have no hatred for Lennox, only love for her.

Viruses are good metaphors for sin—the HIV virus is so difficult to eradicate because it hides inside the immune cells and the body doesn't even see it to kill it.

There are other viruses than physical viruses, the viruses a computer can get, a virus in code, in processing that hijacks the system and alters the normal function and outcome.

Sin is like the second, a virus of thought—and just as there are multiple physical viruses: influenza, HIV, Zika, Hepatitis, Ebola, and there are many different viruses that can infect your computer, so too there are many different types of false ideas, distorted beliefs that can infect our minds.

But just like HIV virus, which hides inside the immune cells and thus avoids detection, the most destructive lies are those that hide inside our churches, our theology, and thus avoid detection.

Recently, I received an email from an online listener who genuinely appreciates our ministry, testified how much our ministry has been a blessing to her, but was concerned because sometimes I sound like I am attacking and being negative and this could offend some and she feels that some of our material cannot be shared for that reason.

She raises a very good point: how do we point out the infection of thought, deeply imbedded within Christianity itself without sounding like we are attacking the church?

She suggested just focusing on the positive—there is much benefit in focusing on the positive—but we are to focus on the truth, and in this world the truth isn't always positive. The Spirit of truth is to convict the world of sin—which means to diagnose accurately the condition of each heart.

We would do patients a disservice if we focused only on their positives—when Lennox went to the doctor her parents would have been quite upset if the doctor would have ignored the fever, crying, vomiting and said, “well let's see, she has beautiful blonde hair, lovely blue eyes, is on the proper height weight scales for her age, has had all her vaccines appropriately...”

When the doctor diagnosed influenza A he was not being negative, likewise when I point out the infection of thought deeply imbedded within Christianity, and therefore frequently appears in the Study Guide, I am not being negative. I am simply trying to present the truth in the most gracious way I possibly can to bring healing to people and the church.

Read first paragraph, “Jesus is the central...” thoughts?

The lesson sites Mark 10:45, which reads: “For even the Son of Man did not come to be served, but to serve, and to give his life as a ransom for many.”

From what do we need to be ransomed?

- Do we need to be ransomed from Satan?
- Do we need to be ransomed from God?
- Do we need to be ransomed from what God will do to us if we are not ransomed?

To whom is the ransom paid? From the Tyndale Bible Dictionary:

To whom was the ransom paid?

This question has perplexed scholars for hundreds of years. Origen (c. 185–254), a theologian of Alexandria, maintained that the ransom was paid to the devil. Origen’s form of the theory was that Christ cheated the devil by escaping through his resurrection.

Although Jesus Christ defeated Satan and liberates believers from Satan’s bondage, Scripture does not indicate that the ransom was paid to him. God was wronged by human sin, yet he showed his great love in providing redemption (Jn 3:16). God declared humans guilty for their sin and imposed the death penalty for human transgression. [Do you hear the infection? Imposed the death penalty] Thus Scripture indicated that the ransom was really directed by Christ to the Father. The biblical references to Jesus’ life as a ransom are echoed in the satisfaction views of the atonement.

Anselm of Canterbury in 1098 developed the satisfaction view of the atonement, emphasizing that the honor of God required satisfaction for sin. Later views emphasized the justice of God in requiring payment (ransom) for the just demands of the law and for the removal of the curse of the law, which is death (see Eph 1:7, 14; Col 1:14). Paul emphasized the justice of God, which was met so that he would be just in justifying sinners who believe (Rom 3:23–26). Reformed theology emphasizes the ransom as being paid by Christ’s death to meet the satisfaction of God’s justice in Christ’s atonement. Without using the term “ransom,” the same implications are carried in such condensed expressions as “Christ died for our sins” (1 Cor 15:3).¹

Thoughts? Do any of these views actually present the truth? In my view, they do not. They all come up short and in fact, most add false ideas that confuse and obstruct the truth.

What is the function of a ransom? A price to free someone from bondage—question: What holds us in bondage?

- Lies—Satan is the father of lies and the lies about God he tells holds us in bondage
- Our sinful condition—carnal nature

What is the price necessary to free us from these?

- Truth that destroys lies and restores trust
 - Hebrews 2:14,15 “Since the children have flesh and blood, he too shared in their humanity so that by his death he might destroy him who holds the power of death—that is, the devil—¹⁵ and free those who all their lives were held in slavery by their fear of death.”
 - If we are being freed from something that holds us would that be a ransom price to free us? We are held in the fear of death, by the power of Satan—what is Satan’s power, what is the cause of death?
 - “Now this is eternal life: that they may know you, the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom you have sent.” John 17:3
 - So if eternal life is knowing God, what is the result of not knowing God? Death, so what is Satan’s power of death? The lies he tells about God, that we believe that keep us from knowing God!
 - So, first ransom price was truth to destroy lies and restore trust
- A new nature—“ Although he was a son, he learned obedience from what he suffered ⁹ and, once made perfect, he became the source of eternal salvation for all who obey him...” Heb 5:8,9
 - Once made perfect? Wasn’t Jesus always perfect?
 - Jesus was always sinless, but Bible perfection is about perfect character—and this cannot be created, it must be developed by the freewill choices of the sentient being. Christ, AS A HUMAN, chose to develop a perfect character and destroy the infection of fear and selfishness, thus establishing a new humanity:
 - From The Remedy Ephesians 2:14-16: “For Christ himself is the Remedy that heals the species and brings peace. He has removed fear and selfishness that cause division, mistrust, prejudice, and hostility.¹⁵ He did this by partaking of our human condition, and—via the exercise of his human brain—he loved perfectly, thereby destroying in his flesh (in the humanity he partook) the selfish survival-of-the-fittest drive along with the lies of Satan. In this way, he destroyed the need for the law (with all its regulations) to expose Satan’s lies and methods. His purpose was to be the template of a new humanity born out of the unification of the two—our selfish, infected condition merged with his sinless state—thereby purging selfishness from the human heart, and transforming, healing, renewing, regenerating and recreating humanity back to God’s original ideal;¹⁶ and in this new being, to reconcile the human race—regardless of ethnic background—into loving unity with God and each other through the revelation of truth at the cross, by which he destroyed the lies of Satan, reestablished trust, and removed fear, selfishness, and hostility.”

- From one of the founders of the SDA church: “The law requires righteousness,—a righteous life, a perfect character; and this man has not to give. He cannot meet the claims of God's holy law. But Christ, coming to the earth as man, lived a holy life, and developed a perfect character. These He offers as a free gift to all who will receive them. His life stands for the life of men. Thus they have remission of sins that are past, through the forbearance of God. More than this, Christ imbues men with the attributes of God. He builds up the human character after the similitude of the divine character, a goodly fabric of spiritual strength and beauty. Thus the very righteousness of the law is fulfilled in the believer in Christ. God can "be just, and the justifier of him which believeth in Jesus." Romans 3:26. {DA 762.2}

So the Ransom price to free us is the truth to destroy lies and win us to trust and a new perfect nature/character, developed singly by Christ. To whom, then is the Ransom paid? To every sinner who accepts it!

What happens when we replace this beautiful reality with the other views, like the penalty was paid to God or to God's law to satisfy divine justice?

In that view who is being changed by the death of Christ? And what do such concepts do to our ability to trust God? The false legal view leads to doctrines that function to hide us and protect us from God, which implicitly perpetuates the distrust of God. Thus people have a form of godliness with no power!

MONDAY

Read first paragraph, “One usually doesn’t think....” If one restricts themselves to only inspired sources, no scholarly commentaries, or pastor’s sermons, what is the Heavenly Sanctuary constructed out of? What is the building material of the Heavenly Sanctuary?

We cannot have a correct understanding of the sanctuary message if we don’t even understand what the sanctuary is.

- “Consequently, you are no longer foreigners and aliens, but fellow citizens with God's people and members of God's HOUSE [sanctuary/temple], built on the foundation of the apostles and prophets, with Christ Jesus himself as the chief cornerstone. In him the whole building [sanctuary/temple] is joined together and rises to become a HOLY TEMPLE in the Lord. And in him YOU too [you all] are being built together to become a dwelling in which God lives by his Spirit. Ephesians 2:19-22.
- “As you come to him, the living Stone--rejected by men but chosen by God and precious to him-- YOU also, like LIVING STONES [building blocks of the Temple], are being built into a SPIRITUAL HOUSE [Temple] to be a holy priesthood, offering spiritual sacrifices acceptable to God through Jesus Christ.” 1 Pet 2:4,5.

An historic view of the SDA teachings on this from EG White, whom they just quoted to emphasize we need a right understanding of this teaching. Here is what she said was a right understanding:

We are God's great building. Every stroke, every stone put into the building is only a part of the whole. Every worker is himself to become just what God designs he should be in building his own life with pure, noble, upright deeds, that at the end he may be a symmetrical structure, a fair temple, honored by God and man. God must be in this work. "Ye are God's husbandry, ye are God's building." Through you He has worked, and will work to do honor to His name by trusting to you these great responsibilities... The Lord would have you stand forth as Daniel, every phase of your character under His own ministration, that day by day you may grow into a structure that will stand forth, not as a perfect whole in itself, but connected with the work of other chosen workmen, as a beautiful temple for the Lord, a living witness to the value, stability, and nobility of the man who keeps his eye single to the glory of God.

The first tabernacle, built according to God's directions, was indeed blessed of Him. The people thus were preparing themselves to worship in the temple not made with hands--a temple in the heavens. The stones of the Temple built by Solomon were all prepared at the quarry and then brought to the Temple site. They came together without the sound of ax or hammer. The timbers were also fitted in the forest. The furniture was likewise brought to this house all prepared for use. {3MR 231.3}

Even so, the mighty cleaver of truth has taken out a people from the quarry of the world and is fitting this people, who profess to be the children of God, for a place in His heavenly temple. We want the cleaver of truth to do its work for us. We are taken from the quarry of the world. The material must not be a dead substance but living souls, and these souls must be brought out of the quarry of the world, where the hand of God can fit them for the temple in heaven. We are here as probationers, and we must pass under the hand of God. All rough edges and rough surfaces must be removed and we must be stones fitted for the building. We are brought into church capacity with defects of character, but we must not retain them. We must be fitted and squared for the building. We must be "laborers together with God," for we are "God's husbandry," we are "God's building." In view of this we must see that our temple is not defiled with sin. We should be lively stones, not dead ones, but live ones that will reflect the image of Christ. We must be worshipers in spirit and in truth. {3MR 231.4}

This world is God's workshop, and every stone that can be used in the heavenly temple must be hewed and polished until it is a tried and precious stone, fitted for its place in the Lord's building. But if we refuse to be trained and disciplined, we shall be as stones that will not be hewed and polished, and that are cast aside at last as useless. — {ML 268.3}

It may be that much work needs to be done ... , that you are a rough stone, which must be squared and polished before it can fill a place in God's temple. You need not be surprised if with hammer and chisel God cuts away the sharp corners of your character until you are prepared to fill the place He has for you. No human being can accomplish this work. Only by God can it be done. And be assured that He will not strike one useless blow. His every blow is struck in love, for your eternal happiness. He knows your infirmities and works to restore, not to destroy. – {ML 268.4}

A character polished after the similitude of a palace ... may shine in the courts of the Lord forever. – {ML 268.5}

Thus, we read in Scripture:

- Him who overcomes I will make a pillar in the temple of my God. Never again will he leave it. I will write on him the name of my God and the name of the city of my God, the new Jerusalem, which is coming down out of heaven from my God; and I will also write on him my new name. [because he has a new character] Revelation 3:12
- Surely goodness and love will follow me all the days of my life, and I will dwell in the house of the LORD forever. Ps 23:6

Will we be imprisoned in a building in heaven for all eternity? No! We never leave it because we are the building blocks of the temple and no matter where we are we are a part of it!

So, with this in mind then, what do we make of Daniel 8:14

And he said to me, “For two thousand three hundred days; then the sanctuary shall be cleansed.”

Historic View:

The coming of Christ as our high priest to the most holy place, for the cleansing of the sanctuary, brought to view in Daniel 8:14; the coming of the Son of man to the Ancient of days, as presented in Daniel 7:13; and the coming of the Lord to His temple, foretold by Malachi, are descriptions of the same event; and this is also represented by the coming of the bridegroom to the marriage, described by Christ in the parable of the ten virgins, of Matthew 25. {FLB 207.4}

Malachi 3:1-3:

And the Lord, whom you seek, Will suddenly come to His temple,
Even the Messenger of the covenant, In whom you delight.
Behold, He is coming,” Says the Lord of hosts.

“But who can endure the day of His coming? And who can stand when He appears? For He is like a refiner’s fire And like launderers’ soap.

He will sit as a refiner and a purifier of silver; He will purify the sons of Levi,

And purge them as gold and silver...

So, if Daniel 8:14 and Malachi 3:1-3 describe the same event, what is being cleansed?

God gives Daniel a vision of the future, 2300 years, first 490 are for the Jewish people to finish their mission—prepare for the Messiah's first advent, and then the theatrical enactment in the building on earth would be swept away and replaced by reality.

But, during the remaining years a little horn power would arise and make war against God's people.

Until the Ancient of days came, and judgment was given to the saints of the most High; and the time came that the saints possessed the kingdom. Daniel 7:22 KJV

Why do the saints of God need judgment (another word for discernment) imparted to them? The Daniel text tells us the horn warred against the saints and was defeating them. What kind of warfare was going on?

For though we live in the world, we do not wage war as the world does. The weapons we fight with are not the weapons of the world. On the contrary, they have divine power to demolish strongholds. We demolish arguments and every pretension that sets itself up against the knowledge of God, and we take captive every thought to make it obedient to Christ. 2 Cor 10:3-5

What kind of war? Where is it being fought? This is a war between truth and lies, centering on God's character, and being fought in our minds! Amazingly, Paul makes the connection to the cleansing of the Temple even closer and shows how the Temple is connected to this war going on in our minds:

Concerning the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ and our being gathered to him, we ask you, brothers, not to become easily unsettled or alarmed by some prophecy, report or letter supposed to have come from us, saying that the day of the Lord has already come. Don't let anyone deceive you in any way, for that day will not come until the rebellion occurs and the man of lawlessness is revealed, the man doomed to destruction. He will oppose and will exalt himself over everything that is called God or is worshiped, so that he sets himself up in God's temple, proclaiming himself to be God. 2Thes 2:1-4

Paul is describing the exact same events as Daniel 7 in which evil powers war against the saints and oppose God. In the aftermath of Christ's death, resurrection, and ascension into heaven, did this man of lawlessness ride into heaven overthrow God, set himself up in God's temple in heaven, and proclaim himself to be God? No, where did this happen? In the Spirit Temple! In our minds! Therefore, the cleansing of the temple, as described in the Bible, is the cleansing of our minds from the lies about God, which wins us back to trust and results in our cleansing from sin.

Daniel is told in vision that an evil power would arise that would lie, distort, misrepresent God, and defile the Spirit Temple by getting humans to accept, worship, and teach a false picture of God.

According to our understanding of interpreting prophetic time, it would take 2,300 years before enough truth would be recovered for Christ to empower His people on earth with judgment (discernment) to break free from the lies and be cleansed in their minds and characters.

All of this is confirmed for us by the other text describing the same event as Daniel 8:14, Malachi 3:1-3.

So, what happened in 1844? A movement began which opened the way for Christ to enter the Most Holy Place and cleanse His people. And what is the Most Holy Place?

Jesus is our Saviour today. He is pleading for us in the most holy place of the heavenly sanctuary, and He will forgive our sins. It makes all the difference in the world with us spiritually whether we rely upon God without doubt, as upon a sure foundation, or whether we are seeking to find some righteousness in ourselves before we come to Him. . . {3SM 149.5}

He fulfilled one phase of His priesthood by dying on the cross for the fallen race. He is now fulfilling another phase by pleading before the Father the case of the repenting, believing sinner, presenting to God the offerings of His people. -- Manuscript 42, 1901. {7ABC 482.3}

Can we agree that whatever any Christian author writes if the position presented is to be valued, it will not contradict the Bible? Another way to say this is, whatever the author means by the statement cited it must be understood in light of the Bible, interpreted through the Bible and, in order to be valuable, will be in harmony with the Bible. Would you agree?

So let's look at some Biblical texts:

John 16:25,26 Jesus is speaking: "Though I have been speaking figuratively, a time is coming when I will no longer use this kind of language but will tell you plainly about my Father. In that day you will ask in my name. I am not saying that I will ask the Father on your behalf. No, the Father himself loves you..."

Notice that Jesus says He will not pray to the Father for us because the Father Himself loves us. Therefore, there is no need for Christ to do this.

Romans 8:31-34 "What, then, shall we say in response to this? If God is for us, who can be against us? He who did not spare his own Son, but gave him up for us all -- how will he not also, along with him, graciously give us all things? Who will bring any charge against those whom God has chosen? It is God who justifies. Who is he that condemns? Christ Jesus, who died -- more than that, who was raised to life -- is at the right hand of God and is also interceding for us."

2 Cor 5:19 "God was in the Son reconciling the world unto himself."

Notice again it was God doing the work through His Son. The idea that one member of the Godhead needs to plead to another member of the Godhead is not stated in the Bible.

Then what about pleading before the Father?

This is Jesus speaking to His disciples. Read carefully what He is telling them:

“I have much more to say to you, more than you can now bear. ¹³ But when he, the Spirit of truth, comes, he will guide you into all truth. He will not speak on his own; he will speak only what he hears, and he will tell you what is yet to come. ¹⁴ He will bring glory to me by taking from what is mine and making it known to you. Jn 16:12-14

Notice that Christ had much He wanted to tell His followers, but they couldn't understand, so He was going to heaven and sending the Holy Spirit to them. Notice also, the Holy Spirit would not speak on His own, but only what He hears and He takes what is Christ's and makes it known to us.

Biblical evidence?

Then he showed me Joshua the high priest standing before the angel of the Lord, and Satan standing at his right side to accuse him. 2 The Lord said to Satan, “The Lord rebuke you, Satan! The Lord, who has chosen Jerusalem, rebuke you! Is not this man a burning stick snatched from the fire?”

3 Now Joshua was dressed in filthy clothes as he stood before the angel. 4 The angel said to those who were standing before him, “Take off his filthy clothes.”

Then he said to Joshua, “See, I have taken away your sin, and I will put rich garments on you.”

5 Then I said, “Put a clean turban on his head.” So they put a clean turban on his head and clothed him, while the angel of the Lord stood by. Zech 3:1-5

What does this mean? Notice, Satan accuses—to whom is Satan accusing?

Does God listen to what Satan says? Does God get confused by Satan's arguments and need Jesus there to present the truth in order to get it right? Does God say to Jesus, “Wow thank you Son, I almost believed what Satan was saying, if you hadn't been here to present the truth I wouldn't have been able to know it?”

Who does get confused by Satan's arguments, allegations, lies? Who listens to the devil and gets discouraged, guilt ridden, overcome with shame such that they think they are beyond salvation, beyond healing, too sinful, too awful for God to love and for God to save? Human beings! We are the ones to whom Satan makes allegations—then to whom is Christ pleading the power of His blood, the power of His grace, the power of His goodness, the power of the gospel? To you and to me!

So, one of the founders of the SDA church:

Through the plan of salvation, Jesus is breaking Satan's hold upon the human family and rescuing souls from his power. All the hatred and malignity of the archrebel is stirred as he beholds the evidence of Christ's supremacy, and with fiendish power and cunning he works to wrest from Him the remnant of the children of men who have accepted His salvation. {LHU 234.2}

He leads men into skepticism, causing them to lose confidence in God and to separate from His love; he tempts them to break His law, and then he claims them as his captives and contests the right of Christ to take them from him. He knows that those who seek God earnestly for pardon and grace will obtain it; therefore he presents their sins before them to discourage them. He is constantly seeking occasion against those who are trying to obey God. Even their best and most acceptable services he seeks to make appear corrupt. By countless devices, the most subtle and the most cruel, he endeavors to secure their condemnation. [by whom? Whom does Satan seek to get us condemned? Is it not in our own minds, that we conclude we are beyond salvation, too sinful to be loved?] Man cannot meet these charges himself. In his sin-stained garments, confessing his guilt, he stands before God. But Jesus our Advocate presents an effectual plea in behalf of all who by repentance and faith have committed the keeping of their souls to Him. He pleads their cause and vanquishes their accuser by the mighty arguments of Calvary. [To whom is Jesus pleading? Who needs to have the allegations of Satan refuted? Who needs to believe that God loves them and Jesus' righteousness is sufficient for them? Does God need to be persuaded that Jesus' righteousness is sufficient to save a sinner? Who doubts? It is you and me that need to hear Jesus' plea!] His perfect obedience to God's law, even unto the death of the cross, has given Him all power in heaven and in earth, and He claims of His Father mercy and reconciliation for guilty man. [notice now to whom Jesus speaks] To the accuser of His people He declares: "'The Lord rebuke thee, O Satan.' These are the purchase of My blood, brands plucked from the burning." Those who rely upon Him in faith receive the comforting assurance: "Behold, I have caused thine iniquity to pass from thee, and I will clothe thee with change of raiment." [to whom is Jesus pleading? He rebukes the accuser and pleads for us not to listen to his lies and to trust in Him!] All that have put on the robe of Christ's righteousness will stand before Him as chosen and faithful and true. Satan has no power to pluck them out of the hand of Christ. . . . We cannot answer the charges of Satan against us. Christ alone can make an effectual plea in our behalf. He is able to silence the accuser with arguments founded not upon our merits, but on His own (Testimonies, vol. 5, pp. 470-472). [To whom does Christ's plea need to effect? you and me!]

While Jesus, our Intercessor, pleads for us in heaven, the Holy Spirit works in us, to will and to do of His good pleasure... {2MR 37.1}

Jesus pleads before the Father, carrying out the Father's will to plead to you. He does this in the Most Holy Place of the sanctuary built of living beings.

From The Remedy

Therefore, brothers and sisters, since Jesus died to bring us the truth about God and to eradicate selfishness from humanity, we no longer need to be afraid but can confidently enter the Most Holy Place—God's very presence—²⁰ because Christ's death revealed the truth about God and ripped open the veil of lies told by Satan that blinded our minds, and destroyed the infection of selfishness that separated us from him.²¹ And since we have this great ministering priest who ministers the truth to all,²² let the truth permeate us, cleansing, transforming and changing us as we draw near to God in heart, mind, purpose, method, principle and character,²³ so that we may have ultimate confidence and trust in him who has revealed himself to be completely trustworthy. Heb 10:19-23

TUESDAY

Read first paragraph, “The sanctuary...” what does this mean?

Read third paragraph, “Our doctrinal... What do you think about this? Our identity as SDAs rooted in our doctrines more than anything else?”

Hmmm...Did the Pharisees who crucified Christ do so because they disagreed on the list of doctrines?

Can a person hold to all these doctrines and still be an enemy of God?

Then, is our identity really determined by which doctrines we adhere to?

Or am I mixing issues here—are the authors speaking of the institution, and I am speaking of the people who constitute the institution?

Are institutions saved? What happens if leaders focus on institutional integrity rather than saving of souls?

Could certain things be covered up and members be eliminated from membership in order to protect the reputation of the institution? Consider the cases of child molestation in various denominations and how it was handled.

Consider this quote from one of the founders of the SDA church:

From the light that has been given me, [light from whom?] we should fear that these men and rulers will take their position against the work and then they will act like the devil; but every advantage should be taken to get acquainted with these men; not in a way to produce anything like prejudice. We must appear to them as trying to help others, working on the line of the Christian help work. As they see the good work we do on these lines, their prejudice will be removed in a large measure, and their hearts will be open for more. Then we should not present the Sabbath, but let us present Christ. What if they should begin to oppose you and say, Oh, that's a Seventh-day Adventist?--Lift Christ up higher and still higher. It means a great deal to be wise as serpents and harmless as doves. {5MR 67.5}

Hmmm... did she suggest we go forward to present unique doctrines and identify SDAs by unique doctrines, or by being like Christ?

What did Jesus say?

“A new command I give you: Love one another. As I have loved you, so you must love one another. ³⁵ By this all men will know that you are my disciples, if you love one another.” Jn 13:34,35

Consider this quote from the same founder:

There was kept before them that His people must be a combined, united power in love and efficiency, to become a light amid the moral darkness. By these combined forces [He] specified that they all may be one. Hear it, every one who is a Seventh-day Adventist; hear it: "As Thou, Father, art in Me, and I in Thee, that they also may be one in us: that the world may believe that Thou hast sent Me. . . . I in them, and Thou in Me, that they may be made perfect in one; and that the world may know that Thou hast sent Me, and hast loved them, as Thou hast loved Me" [John 17:21, 23]. {16MR 204.3}

The Lord Jesus described the difficulties they should meet. Having called their minds to rise to an eminence, He bids them behold the vast confederacy of evil arrayed against God, against Christ, against all who unite with these holy powers. Christ tells them they were to fight in fellowship with all the children of light; [are all the children of light found only in the SDA institution?] that satanic agencies would combine their forces to extinguish the light of the life of Christ out of their ranks. But they were not left to fight the battles in their own human strength. The angelic host coming as ministers of God would be in that battle. Also there would be the eternal heavenly dignitaries--God, and Christ, and the Holy Spirit--arming them with more than mortal energy, and would advance with them to the work, and convince the world of sin. {16MR 204.4}

The great missionary spirit of the church is to be aroused. But the Lord Jesus comes forth yet once again to speak to John, and present the missionary work to be done in our world. He sees that the message, the last message of warning, is not thoroughly understood. [what is the last message of warning? The truth about God's character of love] The angel with the everlasting gospel did not awaken the people to move them to action. He came personally to John and announced to him the missionary work to be done. [Revelation 22:10-17, quoted.]--Ms 130, 1901.

When we focus on unique doctrines, and make them a requirement to unite together and work together does this result in unity, or does it result in fragmentation? And who benefits from fragmenting us into different camps?

So what is the point of doctrines? All doctrines are only valuable as they enlighten us to God, His character, methods, designs, protocols, and help us move into a reality-based living arrangement with God.

If doctrines are stood up on their own, with their own proof texts to prove the academic accuracy of the teaching, disconnected from what it says about God, and disconnected from real experience and design laws, then we end up with 34,000 different Christian groups all arguing their doctrines back and forth.

This is a false approach. We need to require all our doctrines to be tied to the truth about God and His design laws and then objections will fade away.

WEDNESDAY

Read first paragraph, “Only twice...” What is justification by faith? Two views, a legal declaration of something that is not actually true—this is the penal view; or an actual setting right of the heart of the believer with God.

How is the third angels’ message the message of justification by faith?

Thus the three angels messages:

Then I saw another angel flying in midair, and he had the eternal gospel to proclaim to those who live on the earth—to every nation, tribe, language and people.⁷ He said in a loud voice, “Fear God and give him glory, because the hour of his judgment has come. Worship him who made the heavens, the earth, the sea and the springs of water.”

⁸ A second angel followed and said, “Fallen! Fallen is Babylon the Great, which made all the nations drink the maddening wine of her adulteries.”

⁹ A third angel followed them and said in a loud voice: “If anyone worships the beast and his image and receives his mark on the forehead or on the hand,¹⁰ he, too, will drink of the wine of God’s fury, which has been poured full strength into the cup of his wrath. He will be tormented with burning sulfur in the presence of the holy angels and of the Lamb.¹¹ And the smoke of their torment rises for ever and ever. There is no rest day or night for those who worship the beast and his image, or for anyone who receives the mark of his name.”¹² This calls for patient endurance on the part of the saints who obey God’s commandments and remain faithful to Jesus.²

² The Holy Bible: New International Version. (1984). (Re 14:6–12). Grand Rapids, MI: Zondervan.

What do these three messages mean? What law lens to you read them through?

Imposed law:

- Be afraid and sing praises because the time has come for God's heavenly tribunal to sit and only those who worship in the right way, on the right day, will be saved.
- The Christians churches that worship in the wrong way, on the wrong day, are all confused and we need to leave their company.
- Those who worship on the wrong day will be marked as being God's enemy and God will use His power to torment them either for eternity or for as long as they deserve before He kills them.

Do you like this view? What kind of god does this view promote? This presentation of the 3 Angels' messages is Satan's view of things. It is NOT the truth!

Design law:

- Be in awe of God and reveal His true character of love in your life for the time in earth's history has come for everyone to make a right judgment about God and His character and methods – call them back to worship and adore Him who made the heavens, earth, sea – call them back to His Design Law of Love
- Because Babylon, that confused system of imposed law, with all its various rituals, rules, and lists of do's and don'ts is a system of confusion in which God's law is misrepresented as imposed, and has resulted in a contradictory system in which Christianity has fractured into 34,000 different groups all with different interpretations and regulations, because they have accepted the lie that God's law is like Rome's, imposed rules and God must punish like a dictator must punish.
- And everyone who accepts this lie about God marks themselves in their forehead by truly believing God is like a dictator and His law is imposed and God is the source of imposed punishment and death, and those who go along with such a perverse system of coercion, based on human law mark themselves in their hands and both groups will be tormented in mind, heart and character when they come into the presence of the holy angels and the Lamb, for having rejected the truth about God, there is no healing for their terminal condition.

Stewardship Motives of the Heart Lesson 11 1Q 2018

Debt - A Daily Decision

presented by Tim Jennings (announcements at end)

SABBATH

Read memory text: “Give everyone what you owe him: If you owe taxes, pay taxes; if revenue, then revenue; if respect, then respect; if honor, then honor.”⁸ Let no debt remain outstanding, except the continuing debt to love one another, for he who loves his fellowman has fulfilled the law.” Rom 13:7,8

What do you think about the idea of the debt to pay people respect?

What does it mean to show respect?

- Does showing respect mean we surrender our judgment to someone else?
- Does it mean, as adults, we do what some other person tells us, without thought, without agreement?
- Does it mean we show value for the person, admiration, or honor, giving reasonable consideration to them, their views, ideas, perspectives?

What is the problem if we don’t show respect?

What happens when students don’t respect their teachers?

What happens when children don’t respect their parents?

What happens when people don’t respect their government?

What happens when husbands and wives don’t respect each other?

What happened in OT times when people didn’t respect God?

So, what happens when respect is not given?

Can you disagree with someone, even reject their ideas, but still show respect?

Can you think of any examples in the Bible of young people failing to show respect?

How about the youth who mocked Elisha after Elijah’s translation to heaven?

Have you ever wondered why they were mauled by the bears?

This week I was reading in the book Prophets and Kings about Elisha and read this in relation to the story of the youth and the bears:

Even kindness should have its limits. Authority must be maintained by a firm severity, or it will be received by many with mockery and contempt. The so-called tenderness, the coaxing and indulgence, used toward youth by parents and guardians, is one of the worst evils which can come upon them. In every family, firmness, decision, positive requirements, are essential. {PK 236.2}

Reverence, in which the youth who mocked Elisha were so lacking, is a grace that should be carefully cherished. Every child should be taught to show true reverence for God. Never should His name be spoken lightly or thoughtlessly. Angels, as they speak it, veil their faces. With what reverence should we, who are fallen and sinful, take it upon our lips! {PK 236.3}

Reverence should be shown for God's representatives--for ministers, teachers, and parents, who are called to speak and act in His stead. In the respect shown them, God is honored. {PK 237.1}

Do we see the damaging effects in our society by failing to teach young people to respect their parents, teachers, and other leaders?

Does showing reverence to God mean we become thoughtless, mindless beings who respond with "God said it, I believe it, that's all there is to it?" Why or why not?

Do we find examples in Scripture of people who were reverent toward God but who argued with God? Abraham, Moses, Job...

I remember as a child believing reverence meant to be afraid to ask anything, to be afraid to speak, to be afraid to laugh, smile, make noise...Is this the right idea to teach children?

What is? How about how amazing and incredible God is, in power, in majesty by showing children works of creation which put us in our finite space, but then demonstrating this amazing powerful, creator God loves you, each and every one of you and gave His life to save you! Thus, we connect His power with His love—thoughts?

What about the idea that the only debt we should allow to remain is the debt to love one another?

Where does our debt to love come from?

Have you heard of stories where a person saves another person's life, and the person who was saved responds with "I am in your debt"?

From where does our debt of love come?

John 3:16: “For God so loved the world that he gave...”

Do we have a debt of thankfulness, love, of appreciation to God for what He has done for us?

From the book Amazing Grace:

We are under a debt of gratitude to God for the revelation of His love in Christ Jesus; and as intelligent human agents, we are to reveal to the world the manner of character that will result from obedience to every specification of the law of God's government. In perfect obedience to His holy will, we are to manifest adoration, love, cheerfulness, and praise, and thus honor and glorify God. It is in this way alone that man may reveal the character of God in Christ to the world, and make manifest to men that happiness, peace, assurance, and grace come from obedience to the law of God. {Amazing Grace 58.5}

From where does our debt of love come? From God's love and what He has done to save us. And what does it mean to give God glory?

- How is giving God glory related to living in harmony with His law?
 - It is by living in harmony with God's design law of love, liberty, truth, having hearts that live upon the protocols God built reality to operate upon
- How can this be misunderstood and therefore instead of giving God glory people can seek to keep God's law but actually give Satan glory and misrepresent God?
 - By substituting imposed law for design law and then keeping lists of rules and teaching people that breaking rules results in legal trouble with God who will use His power to punish you unless something be done to pay the legal debt. This is the beastly view of God and His government and misrepresents God and delays the second coming of Christ!

How to we pay the debt of love? In what places do we make such debt payments?

“Then the King will say to those on his right, ‘Come, you who are blessed by my Father; take your inheritance, the kingdom prepared for you since the creation of the world.’³⁵ For I was hungry and you gave me something to eat, I was thirsty and you gave me something to drink, I was a stranger and you invited me in,³⁶ I needed clothes and you clothed me, I was sick and you looked after me, I was in prison and you came to visit me.’

³⁷ “Then the righteous will answer him, ‘Lord, when did we see you hungry and feed you, or thirsty and give you something to drink?’³⁸ When did we see you a stranger and invite you in, or needing clothes and clothe you?’³⁹ When did we see you sick or in prison and go to visit you?’

⁴⁰ “The King will reply, ‘I tell you the truth, whatever you did for one of the least of these brothers of mine, you did for me.' Mt 25:34-40

Do you agree?

From Testimonies to the Church vol 3:

I saw that it is in the providence of God that widows and orphans, the blind, the deaf, the lame, and persons afflicted in a variety of ways, have been placed in close Christian relationship to His church; it is to prove His people and develop their true character. Angels of God are watching to see how we treat these persons who need our sympathy, love, and disinterested benevolence. This is God's test of our character. If we have the true religion of the Bible, we shall feel that a debt of love, kindness, and interest is due to Christ in behalf of His brethren; and we can do no less than to show our gratitude for His immeasurable love to us while we were sinners unworthy of His grace, by having a deep interest and unselfish love for those who are our brethren, and who are less fortunate than ourselves.-- Testimonies, vol. 3, p. 511

What does this mean? Does this mean that every Christian should run a soup kitchen, or homeless shelter, or Goodwill? Why or why not?

God has given different abilities, talents, gifts to different people because the body of Christ needs different abilities. If all of us did the exact same thing the work would be crippled. Not everyone is suited for teaching, not everyone is suited for counseling, preaching, some are gifted with wealth for the purpose of funding ministries, hospitals, orphanages, other programs.

Does this mean that we should find people in need and hand out money? Why or why not?

Does it mean that we always deliver people from difficulty? Why or why not?

Does it mean that every Christian should have a heart to love others and spread God's love and principles where they are able?

The point is that all those who are genuine Christians are looking to use their abilities to spread God's kingdom, which means His methods and principles of love, truth, freedom. This means to help others grow, and sometimes a person needs to be left in their circumstance to figure it out, to struggle through, to overcome on their own less they never grow. So sometimes instead of delivering we encourage, we share wisdom, pray and cheer, but we don't do the work for them. Just consider a person who is recovering from an injury and needs to do physical therapy, or after a trauma and needs psychotherapy—you cannot do the therapy for them. Likewise, we cannot overcome for another person, thus love seeks to provide resources, opportunities, support to allow people to develop, grow, overcome and ultimately be reconciled to Christ.

So, what does it mean that those who love others have fulfilled the law?

How about if someone loves God, and therefore loves others, is other-centered working for the uplifting of human beings, for promoting God's kingdom of love—but they go to church on a different day than you—are they still fulfilling the law or are they a law-breaker?

Do you remember the story of the Good Samaritan—who in the story was the one right with God, which would mean in harmony with God's law?

- Was it the priest?
- Was it the Levite?
- Was it the Samaritan?

Which of the three kept the Sabbath, paid tithe, ate the right foods, went to Temple, offered sacrifices at the Temple? Did observing these laws make the priest and Levite right with God? In fact, were they law keepers or law-breakers?

What about the Samaritan—law keeper or breaker?

How does this apply to us today?

Read second paragraph, "We should do all that we can to avoid debt..." What do you think about the debts they listed, buying house, car, building a church, getting an education?

Which of these is the most reasonable debt to incur? My view is getting an education is the most reasonable debt—why?

What can happen to your house, car or church if for some reason you cannot repay the debt? They can be taken from you!

But, what happens to your education if you cannot repay the debt? It cannot be taken from you, so in my mind the most reasonable debt to incur is debt to obtain an education, if that is the only means available to get an education.

SUNDAY

The lesson states, "The only reason we borrow money is to spend it." Read third paragraph, "We may borrow..." What are some of the problems we can experience because of financial debt?

- Stress and anxiety?
- Loss of freedom?
- Over work and loss of health?
- Strained living conditions because paying the debt rather than improving one's situation?
- Relationship problems, arguments over money
- Guilt, inability to provide what you believe your family needs because you are paying debt instead

The lesson asks us to consider what Ps 37:21 says about debt:

The wicked borrow and do not repay, but the righteous give generously;

Does this mean everyone who finds themselves in debt and cannot repay are wicked?

No! It means that there are people who borrow money with no intention of paying it back, fraudulently, which is the same as stealing.

But this is not speaking of those who cannot pay the debt because of misfortune, illness, tragedy, storm destroying crops etc.

In fact, in the Bible, God provided for the release of debts every so many years because He knew sometimes people got into debt, not from negligence, not from greed, but from misfortune and difficult circumstances.

What about today, how should we treat people who have debts they cannot pay?

This is from the book The Adventist Home:

If some are found to be in debt and really unable to meet their obligations, they should not be pressed to do that which is beyond their power. They should be given a favorable chance to discharge their indebtedness, and not be placed in a position where they are utterly unable to free themselves from debt. Though such a course might be considered justice, it is not mercy and the love of God. {AH 394.1}

MONDAY

The lesson talks about Esau selling his birthright for a bowl of food. It says, “Controlled by his emotions and feelings, he allowed the pressure of the moment to overpower reasoning, and he traded his birthright for some instant gratification.”

This sentence points out a fundamental problem in decision-making, specifically: feelings or emotions overruling our good judgment in the action of choosing, and we choose what feels good now regardless of its actual healthiness.

James tells us that our feelings or desires lead us into temptation.

If you think back on the 3 decisions you regret the most in life, the three choices you made that if you could go back and redo them you would choose differently—how many of those bad choices came from careful consideration and choosing to following what reason said was best and how many came from following strong emotions?

Many patients who come to see me struggle with decision-making, and there are two major ditches people fall into:

- pleasure seeking, making a choice that seeks to feel good right now regardless of consequence
- pain avoidance, making a choice that will hurt least right now, regardless of consequence

Are either of these methods healthy?

What is the problem with making decisions like this?

Does this mean we can never make purposeful decisions that are intended to be pleasurable or avoid pain?

No, it doesn't mean that, it means that we don't let the pleasure/pain motivation overrule judgment. That we choose what is healthiest, regardless of the pleasure or pain involved. But when it is healthy, reasonable, appropriate to make choices that are pleasurable, or avoids pain then it is right to do so, not simply because of how it feels, but because it is actually healthy.

Why is it hard sometimes to delay gratification, to say no to a desire?

Does fear ever play a role? Do we get afraid that if don't act now we might miss out on a deal, on getting that which we desire?

How do we combat this fear?

With love and trust—do you trust God with your future, with knowing what is best, with how things will turn out, with protecting you from unforeseen consequences? Do you trust God that if what is desired is not received He has something even better in store?

TUESDAY

The first paragraph states, “Foolish people make no plans to live within their means. They greedily spend wealth at their disposal, even borrowed wealth, feeling that financial wisdom or frugal living is a hardship.”

Is it helpful to give money to people who are capable of earning a living, not on an emergency basis, but on a chronic basis? Why or why not?

According to the National Endowment for Financial Education, 70% of lottery winners end up filing bankruptcy. How is that?

Does it have to do with the amount of money they have or the decision-making habits of those who have won the money?

In other words, if a person has not learned self-discipline, has not learned delayed gratification, has not learned to say no to impulse and choose what is healthy even when it is difficult, would they suddenly change their method of decision-making with a windfall of money?

Could it be that allowing a person to work through their problems is a greater blessing than simply relieving their problems? How?

Where is the balance between providing relief for those who need it, but not enabling unhealthy practices in those who refuse to mature and grow up?

So, some charitable organizations have, instead of just given money away, required applicants to apply for small loans at very low or no interest, but with a business plan on how they will use the money to become financially self-sustaining. In other words, they don't just give to people based on their poverty, but based on their internal motivation to actually overcome their situation.

WEDNESDAY

Read first paragraph, "It's just common sense..." What about cosigning for another person?

The lesson points to Proverbs 17:18:

A man lacking in judgment strikes hands in pledge and puts up security for his neighbor.

Is it a good idea to cosign for another person's debt? Why or why not?

Read last paragraph, "Debt is a weak..." How can debt undermine our spiritual experience? Can it lead to doubt, to fear, to worry, to anxiety?

THURSDAY

What about savings and investments?

Should we invest in companies that sell tobacco or alcohol?

Should we invest in companies that are open on Sabbath?

Any wisdom on how to invest one's resources?

Stewardship Motives of the Heart Lesson 12 1Q 2018

The Habits of a Steward

SABBATH

Read memory text: “How can a young man cleanse his way? By taking heed according to Your word. With my whole heart I have sought You; Oh, let me not wander from Your commandments! Your word I have hidden in my heart, That I might not sin against You.” Ps119:9-11 NKJV

How can a person change their ways?

Can we get people to change their ways by passing laws requiring them to conform to our ways?

- Will passing laws against drug use stop drug use?
- Will passing laws against murder stop murder?

Why will passing laws not stop criminal behavior?

Because passing laws does not change the hearts of people and criminal behavior is a problem with selfishness in hearts.

So, how can people change their ways? What is described in the memory text? By heeding God’s word—which means what? What does it mean to heed something? To listen, comprehend, pay attention, consider, think about, and ultimately agree and choose to do. And in the text the choice is with the whole heart seeking to apply God’s design law.

Now, what happens in a person when they choose to do this? It is an internal transformation of being—the formation of new methods of thinking, processing, understanding—new habits.

How are habits formed?

Read first paragraph, “Your habits reveal...” Are habits only behavioral, like prayer, attending church, what foods we eat?

Or, do we have habits of how we think, habits of how we interpret information, habits of how we emotionally react in various situations?

How do such habits form? What makes a habit? Which determines habit formation—the brain or the mind?

What is the difference between the brain and the mind?

The Brain:

- 100 billion nerve cells
- Over 1 trillion supporting cells
- Each brain cell with up to 10,000 connections to other cells
 - 40,000,000,000,000,000
 - Forty Quadrillion

How much is 40 Quadrillion?

- 1 million seconds ago was 11.5 days ago
- 1 billion is 1000 million and 1 billion seconds ago was 32 years ago
- 1 trillion is 1000 billion and 1 trillion seconds ago was 31,688 years ago
- 1 Quadrillion is 1000 trillion and 1 quadrillion seconds ago was 24 million BC
- So, 40 quadrillion seconds ago would be 1 billion BC

Now these 40 quadrillion interconnections are made up of billions of axons and dendrites.

- Within each of the quadrillions of dendrites are 10 million microtubules
- Each microtubule is made up of billions of tubulin molecules
- Each tubulin molecule is made up of 445 amino acids
- Each amino acid is made up of individual molecules like carbon, oxygen, hydrogen, nitrogen
- Microtubules do many things:
 - They provide structure, like scaffolding,
 - They are transport pathways for various chemicals,
 - They are the most likely place where your memories are storied through a series of chemical modifications on the tubulin molecules that make up the microtubules.
- The microtubules are the most likely site of quantum processing in which over 100 trillion point operations happen per second in your brain
- The quantum processing allows ideas to be considered by your mind
- Within the microtubules there are electron clouds that exist and it is within these clouds that ideas are considered.
- As you make choices your actual choice determines the ultimate position of the electrons within the molecular structure and collapses the electron cloud forming a belief or memory
- Repeated choosing will cause the neurons to form networks that will automatically process information based on the beliefs, memories, ideas that you have chosen
- This not only changes your perspectives, beliefs, but your brain as well
- This is why every person must be fully persuaded in their own mind
- This is why a person convinced against his will is of the same opinion still
- This is why Satan's power is the power of lies
- This is why the truth sets free
- This is why the legal theories of salvation are lies that trap people into belief systems with no power to transform or heal

So, what makes choices your brain or your mind?

The brain is the platform, the substrate, upon which the mind exists and operates. The brain will process sensory information and provide it to the mind, but the mind interprets the meaning, and thus the mind makes choices.

Hear a loud bang and experience a startle reaction, the startle reaction is not a choice, it is a reflex, reflexes are wired into the brain. After the reflex, the mind evaluates the meaning—was it a car backfiring or a report of a gun?

When your mind makes choices those choices immediately determine which brain pathways will fire, the recurrent and repeated firing of pathways form networks that become automated, i.e. habits.

Many networks, i.e. habits are formed before the age of accountability, formed in childhood from the experiences the child is put through. As adults we can evaluate those automated processes and change them, but it takes effort.

So, people can form networks/habits in which they automatically, without a purposeful choice to consider in real time, interpret events consistent with previous beliefs, whether those beliefs are true or not.

So a person who has been abused, if the experience is not processed accurately can form false beliefs—"I'm gross, I'm ugly, I'm worthless, I'm no good" and then when other events happen they automatically interpret life through these automated belief systems. These are thought habits.

We are to bring all our thoughts into captivity to Jesus Christ and Jesus is the source of all truth. This means we are to evaluate our automated thinking processes and replace false beliefs, assumptions, biases, prejudices, ideas, with more accurate and truthful ones.

The more "certain" we are of an idea, a belief, the more difficult it is to experience change, because the more solidified that belief is in our microtubules. It is our choice, our certainty, that causes the conformation change. Thus, to change a belief requires an experience which will cause us to question what we have previously held to be true. In that state of uncertainty, of questioning, we can alter the microtubule conformation by new decisions, the formation of new beliefs.

SUNDAY

Read third paragraph, "God said..." Why does God say this we are to have no other God's before Him?

This is because of the design law of worship, also known as modeling, or by beholding we become changed.

We actually become like what we admire, worship, spend time doing.

As we just discussed, habitual choosing to engage in activities, behaviors, watching, reading etc. will form beliefs, ideas, which will shape our individuality and alter our character as well as our brains.

Only by worshipping the infinite one who is love and goodness do we advance. Worship any other thing and we degrade ourselves.

Thus the instruction to have no other gods before the true God is not for God's need, but for our need, for our good.

MONDAY

The lesson title: "Habit: Look for the Return of Jesus" and the lesson points out that "Abraham looked for an eternal city (Heb. 11:10), and Paul looked for Christ's return (Heb. 10:25).

Why is it important to look for the return of Jesus?

What impact does it have on your life to look for Jesus to return?

Does it make a difference in your choices?

And will your choices change you?

Why does Come and Reason Ministries exist?

Because we want Jesus to come; we want an end to pain, suffering, death, heartache, sin; we believe that if the gospel will be preached to the entire world then Jesus will come; and we believe that Christianity has been infected with a false legal gospel that prevents the true gospel from going to the world thus obstructing God's plan. So Come and Reason Ministries' goal is to present the most clear gospel message we can to inspire more and more people to come to this beautiful picture of God in order to prepare the world so Jesus will come.

TUESDAY

The lesson is about Time, and using it wisely

What is time? It is a dimension of reality in which life events happen in sequence—a before and after.

Newton thought that time and space were completely separate and fixed entities and moving through time was different than moving through space and they had nothing to do with each other.

Einstein overturned this idea and discovered that time and space are not separate but intimately connected.

Imagine driving 60 mph north, in that direction all your speed is directed northward. If you change your heading to northeast and continue at 60 mph you will no longer be heading north at 60mph, some of your speed is now directed eastward.

Einstein discovered space and time work similarly.

- Imagine standing next to a parked car. You and the car are not moving at all and thus all your movement is through time. You and the car are both moving through time at the same rate.
- However, if the car takes off and you watch it drive away, now some of the car's movement is directed through space and less movement is directed through time. Thus, the progress of car, and the driver in the car, through time slows down; they are moving more slowly through time than you who are standing still.
- The law of relativity states that the combined speed of an object's movement through space added to its movement through time always equals the speed of light
- This means the faster you travel through space the slower you travel through time
- So if one could actually travel through space at the speed of light then all their movement would be directed toward going through space and no movement would be left to move through time, thus for such a person time doesn't move. Another way to say this is that as one approaches the speed of light time slows down. If you are traveling due east then no movement is happening north.
- Light has all its movement through space thus light doesn't age—hmmm God lives in unapproachable light 1Tim 6:16
- 1971 Joseph Hafele and Richard Keating flew cesium atomic clocks around the world on a jet. When they compared the clocks on the jet to identical and synchronized clocks left stationary on the ground they found that less time had elapsed on the moving clocks.

Time is extremely interesting—have you considered how much of your views, decisions, perspectives, choices are influenced by time?

Imagine for a minute, that you will live as long as humans did before the flood, say 950 years. In other words everyone in this room would have around 900 more years on this earth to live—now consider the choices you have made in your life thus far—would you make different choices if you knew you had 900 more years to live?

Would you:

- Have more children?
- Have built your house of different material—to last longer?
- Stay in your same career or go learn something new?

- Would you have a schedule to change careers every 40 years?
- Would your retirement plan look different?
- Would you think more seriously about the impact your choices have on the environment and the next generations?
- Would you get lazy, self-indulgent, think, “I don’t need to get serious about God now, I can have fun, party, experience all the pleasures of the world for centuries and repent seven or eight hundred years from now?” Do you think that happened before the flood?

After Jesus comes and we live eternally, not 950 years, but billions and billions of years, will that impact how we think, how we make decisions?

Should we today think like we only have 80 years or less, or should we think like eternal beings; should we think that those who believe in Jesus will never die—we may sleep, but we will never die?

What is the most precious commodity, i.e. most valuable—gold, money, land—or time? If the richest person in the world were dying and they could exchange their wealth for health and another 100 years of life, what do you think they would do?

What did Jesus say about gaining the entire world but losing one’s soul?

Do we think about our use of time? Do we consider how we move through time?

Not all people pass through time equally—meaning our choices affect how we move through time.

Until Jesus comes, every human being on earth is aging, not just chronologically getting older, but experiencing a slow decline in vitality and ability. Not all of us age at the same rate—why?

Genetics, environment, and choices: Our choices play a huge role in the rate of aging, our slow loss of vitality and ability—the foods we eat, the activities in which we engage, the God we worship, our relationships and more all impact us and will either accelerate or slow the aging process.

In June, my new book The Aging Brain: Proven Steps to Prevent Dementia and Sharpen Your Mind comes out and it contains many evidenced-based actions we can take to slow the functional decline and maintain our abilities. But we cannot, on this earth today stop the decline. Time marches on.

So while we cannot stop the passage of time, we can make choices that alters how we move through time, either healthier or more damaging.

Another thought about time, since speed alters the passage of time, is it possible time passes differently in heaven than here?

In Ezekiel's vision he saw heavenly creatures, how fast did they move?

- The creatures sped back and forth like flashes of lightning. Eze 1:14

Could time pass differently in heaven than here?

- Psalms 90:4 "For a thousand years in your sight are like a day that has just gone by, or like a watch in the night."
- 2Pet 3:8,9: "But do not forget this one thing, dear friends: With the Lord a day is like a thousand years, and a thousand years are like a day. ⁹ The Lord is not slow in keeping his promise, as some understand slowness. He is patient with you, not wanting anyone to perish, but everyone to come to repentance."

Could it be that in heaven, since Adam's fall, it has only been six days?

The lesson asks, "How important, then, that we develop the habit of making the most of every moment we have been given."

Does this mean we are supposed to be working every moment other than the hours of sleep and the hours of the Sabbath?

No! We are to make healthy choices and healthy choices mean we live in harmony with design law and design law includes the law of restoration.

What is the law of restoration? When a finite being expends a resource that finite being must rest and recover in order to expend more, without proper rest and recovery the finite being will burn out.

This is true not only on a physical level—even with the top athletes in the world, but also on an emotional and relational level. When you expend energy helping others, it is important that you not only sleep, but you get mental rest, time away to decompress and rejuvenate in healthy activities.

Jesus took time away from the masses to meditate and rejuvenate—it is a design law—and Jesus' humanity was like ours. His humanity didn't have infinite resources—it required rest and rejuvenation.

Mothers with small children cannot "turn off" their minds and rest. They must stay on alert, be aware all the time and this is exhausting; thus mothers with young children need time without their children, time where they can be awake, but not "on alert" where they can unwind, relax, and rejuvenate.

Thus, a healthy use of time is to consider, what are the requirements that I need to build into my HABITS that are necessary to maintain my wellness. These would include:

- clean air
- clean and proper amounts of water
- proper nutrition
- daily sleep at night of 7-8 hours for adults

- weekly Sabbath rest—rest from the burdens of the world
- time for recreation, rejuvenation
- exercise both physical and mental
- meditation and contemplation of God
- time with family
- time to minister to others
- work
- others?

WEDNESDAY

The lesson is about keeping a healthy mind, body and soul, read second paragraph, “Christ worked tirelessly...”

What kinds of work did Christ do when here on earth?

- Healing
- Various other miracles
- Teaching
- Carpentry
- Confrontation with Satan
- Cooking fish
- Helping with the boats when they traveled?
- Bible study?
- Meditation and time with Father?
- Attending weddings?
- Attending feasts?
- Resisting temptation and saying no to selfishness?

What makes it easier to resist temptation?

- Is it merely saying no behaviorally?
- Is it saying no in heart?
- What is the difference?
- Consider addicts who says no behaviorally because they fear the legal or health consequences, but in heart they think or feel, “Yeah, but I wish I could, it would feel so good, that was so fun.” Does this make it easy to resist temptation? What needs to change for this person?
- How do such changes come about?
- How does this apply to the non-addict?

What about changing dietary habits, what helps?

- Understanding the need
- Believing the purpose
- Choosing to apply and sticking with it for 3 months, then neural wiring and taste change

THURSDAY

Read second paragraph, “The world is given to self-indulgence....” What are some errors and fables that abound in the world, and what impact do they have?

- Godless evolution
- What is the impact?
- Magic and witchcraft

Are there any errors or fables commonly held in Christianity and what is the impact?

- God’s law is imposed
- God is the source of inflicted punishment
- Jesus died to assuage the Father
- Jesus pleads to the Father to protect us
- The ritual of baptism is necessary to be saved
- The blood of Jesus cleanses us from sin
- The Bible is to be taken literally

What is the consequence to believing these distortions? Is there a relationship between these distortions in Christianity and the teaching of godless evolution?

Could it be that godless evolution came about as a reaction to the illogical legal and punitive views of God taught by the church through the Dark Ages?

Stewardship Motives of the Heart Lesson 13 1Q 2018

The Results of Stewardship presented by: Dr. Jennings (announcements at end)

SABBATH

Read first paragraph, “As stewards, we should live as...” The next paragraph states “Our story, then, is not to be isolated from the world around us.”

Does our story change based on the version of the God we worship?

What god do the people at the Westboro Baptist Church of Kansas reveal?

What about the person who shoots an abortion doctor in the name of Jesus?

What about people who, in the name of Jesus, refuse to get their children medical care?

What about people who, in the name of Jesus, claim that God punishes cities with hurricanes for electing a lesbian mayor?

What about Christians who seek to get certain senators, governors, presidents, judges elected or appointed in order to legislate their moral view onto others?

A study done a few years ago found no difference in the ethical behavior of Christian believers and nonbelievers. Further, the study found that participants who saw God as compassionate were more likely to cheat than those who believed in an angry, punitive God.

The secularists use studies like this to warn against the fallacy of religion, but what is actually revealed in this study?

That Christianity is infected with the false law concept. When you believe sin is a legal problem, that it doesn't actually harm you it just gets you in legal trouble. First, such theories have no power to change lives and thus people will live no differently than the non-believing world, which is exactly what is demonstrated. But secondly, having accepted the false imposed legal view, if you believe God is harsh, you fear getting punished so you are more likely to conform your behavior. But, in that setting if you believe God is benevolent and won't inflict punishment, then there isn't anything wrong with sin, because God will pardon you for it and thus people are more likely to cheat.

This all changes when people realize God's law is design law and breaking it injures and damages them.

I have seen this in adolescents who believed the only problem with doing drugs was that they are illegal and as long as they don't get caught then doing drugs is okay. But when I show them brain images documenting the damaging impact on their brain, regardless of whether they are caught or not, suddenly many didn't want to do them any more.

We must bring people back to worship our Creator God and rid people of this false legal view that dominates Christianity.

Finish reading second paragraph, "Our story, then..." How are we to live differently than the world?

- No pants or cosmetics or jewelry for women?
- Perhaps no bright colors in our clothing?
- Maybe wearing a special hat or full body covering?
- Perhaps a uniform that declares us a Christian?

How are we to live differently than the world?

- Love our enemies?
- Forgive those who wrong us?
- Live to give in order to bless others?

Is the difference between the follower of Christ and the non-follower primarily external—is that the difference, or is it internal?

Are Christians to have a different internal value, priorities, and focus? Are Christians to practice different methods to achieve their goals?

What are the methods of the world?

- Force, coercion, intimidation
- manipulation
- lies, deceit
- criticism, abuse
- behind the scenes attacks
- politics, making deal, compromise
- using the power of the state to accomplish goals

What are the methods of God?

- truth
- love
- freedom
- kindness
- giving
- patience
- healthy boundaries

If a person calls themselves a Christian but uses the methods of the world are they really a Christian?

In other words, can you be Christlike while practicing Satan's methods—even if it is for a good goal?

If you believe homosexual marriage is wrong—can you be Christ-like by seeking to get laws passed to oppose it? Or, do such methods put into practice Satan's characteristics—coercion and force and thus such actions are not like Jesus—not Christian?

SUNDAY

Read first paragraph, "Godliness is a vast topic..." What does godliness look like?

Does godliness require one to believe in God?

The Chernobyl explosion is one of the most harrowing examples in history of the danger nuclear power can pose if it isn't kept in check. But the disaster itself could have been much, much worse if it wasn't for the actions of three men.

The situation was as follows: a chamber housing a huge piece of radioactive carbon was in danger of melting right through the floor into a pool of water. If that had happened, it would have caused a massive steam explosion which in turn would have forced thousands of tons of radioactive material into the air.

It was quickly decided that someone needed to drain the pool, in order to save the lives of potentially millions of human beings. Three men volunteered for the task. Alexei Ananenko, Valeri Bezpalo and Boris Baranov all selflessly opted to leap into the water to open the valve. They later succumbed to the massive doses of radiation they had received while saving the lives of their countrymen. <https://listverse.com/2013/04/04/10-more-inspiring-tales-of-self-sacrifice/>

Do you see godlikeness in their behavior? "Greater love has no man than he lay his life down for a friend."

Is it natural to the sinful human heart to sacrifice self for others? Can a sinner, separated from the Spirit of God, act in other-centered love?

If we see someone act in love then, isn't it evidence of the Spirit of God working in them?

I read the following from the book Prophets and Kings this morning:

Among all nations, kindreds, and tongues, He [God] sees men and women who are praying for light and knowledge. Their souls are unsatisfied; long have they fed on ashes. See Isaiah

44:20. The enemy of all righteousness has turned them aside, and they grope as blind men. But they are honest in heart and desire to learn a better way. Although in the depths of heathenism, with no knowledge of the written law of God nor of His Son Jesus, they have revealed in manifold ways the working of a divine power on mind and character. {PK 376.2}

At times those who have no knowledge of God aside from that which they have received under the operations of divine grace have been kind to His servants, protecting them at the risk of their own lives. The Holy Spirit is implanting the grace of Christ in the heart of many a noble seeker after truth, quickening his sympathies contrary to his nature, contrary to his former education. The "Light, which lighteth every man that cometh into the world" (John 1:9), is shining in his soul; and this Light, if heeded, will guide his feet to the kingdom of God. The prophet Micah said: "When I sit in darkness, the Lord shall be a light unto me. . . . He will bring me forth to the light, and I shall behold His righteousness." Micah 7:8, 9. {PK 376.3}

What is more godly, the agnostic who jumps into radiation poisoned waters to save others, or the professed Christian who seeks the power of the state to pass laws to punish people who don't live as they do?

What do you think of the position that "No philosophy offers such a promise"?

What do you think is better religion or philosophy?

What is religion? Dictionary definition:

- a set of beliefs concerning the cause, nature, and purpose of the universe, especially when considered as the creation of a superhuman agency or agencies, usually involving devotional and ritual observances, and often containing a moral code governing the conduct of human affairs.

What is philosophy? Dictionary definition:

- the rational investigation of the truths and principles of being, knowledge, or conduct.
- a system of principles for guidance in practical affairs.

What is the difference between religion and philosophy?

- Religion in addition to seeking to provide answers to the cause and nature of the universe includes rituals and rules for behavior
- Philosophy seeks to provide answers to the cause and nature of the universe, by identifying principles that guide choices, rather than rules and rituals

Hmmm...which do you think will lead us to God, a system of religious rituals and codified rules, or the investigation of truths and principles that life are built to operate upon that lead us to live in harmony with God's design?

Here is an interesting quote from the book Christian Education:

The study of the Bible will give strength to the intellect. [Is the study of the Bible a religious or philosophical endeavor?] Says the psalmist, "The entrance of thy words giveth light; it giveth understanding unto the simple." [Psalm 119:130.] The question has often been asked me, "Should the Bible become the important book in our schools?" It is a precious book, a wonderful book. It is a treasury containing jewels of precious value. It is a history that opens to us the past centuries. Without the Bible we should have been left to conjectures and fables in regard to the occurrences of past ages. Of all the books that have flooded the world, be they ever so valuable, the Bible is the Book of books, and is most deserving of the closest study and attention. It gives not only the history of the creation of this world, but a description of the world to come. It contains instruction concerning the wonders of the universe, and it reveals to our understanding the Author of the heavens and the earth. It unfolds a simple and complete system of theology and philosophy. [Notice this author didn't say religion and philosophy, but theology which is the study and understanding of God, not a system of rules and rituals] Those who are close students of the word of God, and who obey its instructions, and love its plain truths, will improve in mind and manners. It is an endowment of God that should awaken in every heart the most sincere gratitude; for it is the revelation of God to man. {CE 105.2}

What did you hear described—a system of religious ritual and fundamental beliefs, or a philosophy of understanding and thinking which leads us back to God and living in harmony with Him and His designs?

So our religion must be one that includes a philosophy of truth, design law, freedom, openness, follow and apply truth—understanding the principles upon which God constructed life to operate and then seeking to share those truth with others for their healing and restoration.

The lesson talks about Job and in the third paragraph states, "His fear of God was manifested in an entire life of godliness, even amid horrific trials."

What do you think is meant by "His fear of God"?

Did Job simply bow his head and say, "God said it, I believe it, that's all there is to it?"

Did Job ask God many hard questions, even arguing with God?

Was Job afraid of God, or did Job have deep respect, admiration and love for God but was not terrified or afraid to question?

MONDAY

Contentment—what is it and from where does it come?

Dictionary definition means a state of being satisfied.

What has undermined your contentment?

From John 21, Jesus has just asked Peter if he loves Him for the third time and Peter says you know all things. Now listen to the dialogue:

Jesus said, “Feed my sheep.”¹⁸ I tell you the truth, when you were younger you dressed yourself and went where you wanted; but when you are old you will stretch out your hands, and someone else will dress you and lead you where you do not want to go.”¹⁹ Jesus said this to indicate the kind of death by which Peter would glorify God. Then he said to him, “Follow me!”

²⁰ Peter turned and saw that the disciple whom Jesus loved was following them. (This was the one who had leaned back against Jesus at the supper and had said, “Lord, who is going to betray you?”)²¹ When Peter saw him, he asked, “Lord, what about him?” [Is Peter content? Is Peter being tempted to not be content? How did Jesus respond?]

²² Jesus answered, “If I want him to remain alive until I return, what is that to you? You must follow me.”

Do we ever lose contentment because we compare ourselves to others? Do we ever lose contentment because we lose focus on our responsibilities and what God has called us to do?

What other things can undermine our contentment?

- Loss of perspective
 - What do you think of this quote:
 - God never leads His children otherwise than they would choose to be led, if they could see the end from the beginning, and discern the glory of the purpose which they are fulfilling as co-workers with Him. {DA 224.5}
- Pain and suffering
- Not understanding what is happening

What helps you experience contentment?

- Understanding
- Change in perspective
- Focusing on one’s own responsibilities

- Knowing God and trusting Him
- Knowing this life is transient
- Meditation, prayer, Bible study
- Others?

Is there a danger that contentment can cause complacency and undermine our effectiveness as agents of change?

What is the balance?

Contentment with self, peace with one's identity, position, calling, purpose, responsibilities—is different than contentment with pain, suffering, distress in our family and world.

Thus, we are to be content in our identity as children of God, in our purpose, position, calling, but not content with sinfulness in the world and be actively engaged in opposing it.

TUESDAY

Read Proverbs 3:5 “Trust in the Lord with all your heart and lean not on your own understanding;”

The lesson asks, “What crucial message is there for us, especially in the last part, about not ‘leaning’ on our own understanding?”

If we have surrendered to God, been reborn, had the law written on our hearts, been fully persuaded in our own mind, experience the mind of Christ, have our thoughts brought into captivity to Jesus—does there ever come a time when God's understanding of things IS our understanding also?

In other words, does Proverbs 3:5 mean we will always come to a different understanding from God, so that whatever we think we should do it must be wrong, or, could we actually be changed that our thoughts come into harmony with God so that we actually understand things the way He wants us to?

When a person chooses in any aspect of their life to do that which is in harmony with God and His kingdom whose understanding are they following?

Could a person follow God's understanding without themselves understanding it?

Could a person follow God's understanding because they have come to also understand it that way and agree?

Which do you think God prefers for each of us to achieve?

So, could this passage more accurately mean; Don't lean to your selfish, carnal understanding, but do lean to your Christlike, godly understanding?

Here are some quotes I found recently from a Christian author, what do you think?

If we abide in Christ, if the love of God dwells in the heart, our feelings, our thoughts, our actions, will be in harmony with the will of God. The sanctified heart is in harmony with the precepts of God's law. {Acts of the Apostles 563.1}

The Lord wants us to come into harmony with Him. If we will do this, His Spirit can rule our minds. If we have a true understanding of what constitutes the essential education, and endeavor to teach its principles, Christ will help us. He promised His followers that when they should stand before councils and judges, they were to take no thought what they should speak. I will instruct you, He said. I will guide you. Knowing what it is to be taught of God, when words of heavenly wisdom are brought to our mind, we shall distinguish them from our own thoughts. We shall understand them as the words of God, and we shall see in the words of God wisdom and life and power. . . . {FE 538.1}

By His perfect obedience He has made it possible for every human being to obey God's commandments. When we submit ourselves to Christ, the heart is united with His heart, the will is merged in His will, the mind becomes one with His mind, the thoughts are brought into captivity to Him; we live His life. This is what it means to be clothed with the garment of His righteousness. Then as the Lord looks upon us He sees, not the fig-leaf garment, not the nakedness and deformity of sin, but His own robe of righteousness, which is perfect obedience to the law of Jehovah. {COL 311.4}

So what does all this mean?

- In our own strength—separated from God, without the help of Jesus or the Holy Spirit—can we have right thinking or trust our own understanding? No!
- When we surrender our hearts and minds to God, to be ruled by the Holy Spirit, do we become robots, computers, puppets, who no longer have thoughts and we only parrot what God tells us? No!
- When we surrender to God then the Spirit enters our minds/hearts and begins to transform by two powers—
 - the power of love and the power of truth.
 - These powers bring us new insights, understandings, ideas, upon which we choose to agree, accept, embrace, and apply thus our thoughts, and our minds, our characters are being transformed as we partake of the Word—truth.
 - The thoughts remain our thoughts, but now they are thoughts that have been renewed and cleansed by the Spirit of God. Our desires, attitudes, emotional reactions change.
 - Prejudices are replaced with compassion
 - Judgmentalism replaced with mercy
 - Harshness replaced with kindness

- Resentment replaced with forgiveness
- Dishonesty replaced with honesty
- Selfishness replaced with love
- All the goodness, all the rightness, all the truth, love, and holiness come from God not from us—but as we surrender, our understanding of reality changes and over time we experience the mind of Christ thus we live His life.

Read second paragraph, “Of course, that’s often easier...” When is having anxiety or stressful emotions appropriate, and when does it become harmful?

When Jesus was in Gethsemane, and even a little prior, did He experience anxious or stressful emotions?

Why was Jesus experiencing those emotions? Because of real events from external influences that He was going through; was it wrong for Jesus to experience stressful emotions?

And how did Jesus cope with those emotions?

Did Jesus experience worry and stress about Himself? No! Jesus wasn’t stressed with thoughts like, “Why is this happening to me? Did I do something I shouldn’t have? Is God mad at me? Am I not good enough for people to love and trust?”

Jesus was at peace with Himself, but faced a situation that was objectively painful, stressful, difficult and His humanity felt those emotions, which tempted Him to choose to act to protect self, to avoid fulfilling His mission. Those emotions were not coming from a character defect in Jesus.

If you were getting a tooth drilled with no numbing medicine, would pain be normal or abnormal? Would your desire, your intense stressful emotional desire, to avoid the pain be normal or abnormal?

Is the desire to avoid the pain the same thing as worrying about whether the dentist will like you, or whether the person who sat in the chair before you had lice, or if the dentist sterilized their instruments before using them on you, or whether God will count it a sin if you think a curse word when you feel the pain?

What kinds of things do people worry about?

Most people in my practice worry about things that are not their responsibility, rarely do I have patients that are worrying about things that are their responsibility.

For instance people worry about:

- Will I get hired for that job? Is that their responsibility? What is their responsibility?
- Will that person like me?

- What will they think about me?
- Will they agree to the price I offer on the car or house?
- Will my airplane land safely?
- Will our school get enough students registered this year?
- Will my children be saved?

Are any of these worries under the control of the person worrying?

Why do people worry about such things?

Security, wanting to feel safe, fear of some loss or threat and thus trying to address possible outcomes that would be against their current idea of what is best for them.

What is the problem with this type of worry?

- Fails to be truthful about one's own responsibilities—being the healthiest person, who makes the healthiest decisions in governance of self—not in how things turn out
- Often fails to trust God
- Typically fails to allow for possibilities beyond the one desired, so narrow view

Read the next paragraph, “How, then, do we as stewards...” thoughts?

It asks, how do we trust God, and answers, “By stepping out in faith.”

This is a nonsense answer because in the Bible the Greek word for trust is the same word translated faith. So in reality, the lesson is asking and then saying this: “How do we trust God? By trusting God.”

Upon what is trust based? Trustworthiness of the one whom we place our trust and our ability to actually trust.

I remember a patient who told me all her friends kept telling her that her anxiety would get better if she just trusted Jesus. She said to me, “But Dr. Jennings I just cant do it.”

I responded by saying, “Of course you CANT” which shocked her.

So, I asked her, “If a stranger came up to you in the mall and asked for the keys to your car and house and said, ‘Its okay you can trust me.’ Would you give them to him?”

She of course said, no way. And then I asked, “If you can’t give the keys of your car and house to a stranger, how do you expect to give the keys of your life to a stranger?”

The Bible says life eternal is that we know God and Jesus Christ. When we know them then we will trust them because they are trustworthy, but this requires we know them for ourselves.

I propose there are four elements necessary for one to experience healthy trust or faith:

1. The other person genuinely loves you more than self, and would sacrifice self for you. Thus they will not betray you or turn on you or become your enemy. Does God meet this criteria? Yes! (How much trust in God is undermined because legal theologies put God in the role of the one from whom we must be protected?)
2. The other person has demonstrated mature self-governance, the ability to be reliable and consistent in carrying out what they have said they will do. Does God meet this criteria? Yes!
3. The other person possesses genuine wisdom or understanding of how reality actually works and operates in harmony with design law. Does God possess this criteria? Yes!

(First three together constitute someone who is genuinely trustworthy—so trustworthiness is the requirement)

4. You come to actually know that other person for yourself and thus experience 1,2 and 3 for yourself.

Read fifth paragraph, “It’s easier to trust...” This was a difficult paragraph for me to understand what they were trying to say.

For instance:

- Are we supposed to trust God with the things we can control, or are we supposed to actually do that which is on our control?
- Are we supposed to trust God to:
 - Brush our teeth for us?
 - Dress us?
 - Choose to go to work on time?

It reminds me of the story of the hurricane warning:

- The governor ordered an evacuation, but the man said, “I trust in God He will take care of me.”
- When the water was coming in his front door rescuers came by in a boat and told him to get in, but he said, “I trust in God He will protect me.”
- When the water rose so high he had to get on his roof a helicopter came by and told him to get in, but he said, “I trust God, He will take care of me.”
- Then he drowned—in heaven he questioned God, “God, I trusted you. Why didn’t you save me?” God replied, “I sent you warnings, I sent a boat and a helicopter and you ignored them all”

Where is the line between trusting God being responsible to control that which is ours?

Most my patients worry about the things they cannot control, as we discussed above.

WEDNESDAY

The lesson is about influence—what is the difference between influence and responsibility for the outcome of someone else's life?

Do we always know who we have influenced?

Do you remember the story of Hezekiah?

He was a good king who was told he would die, and he prayed and God healed him and gave him 15 more years of life. The sign that this would be true is the sundial turned back 10 degrees.

The wise men in Babylon watched the stars and saw the sundial turn back 10 degrees and when they heard this occurred in answer to Hezekiah's prayer a delegation went to Judah to hear from the king about the God who could do such a thing.

What did Hezekiah do?

Hezekiah, rather than extolling the beauty and power of God, showed off the wealth of Israel. This planted seeds that eventually resulted in the Babylonians coming back to take the wealth.

Did Hezekiah have influence on others?

In the book Prophets and Kings regarding this event I read:

The story of Hezekiah's failure to prove true to his trust at the time of the visit of the ambassadors is fraught with an important lesson for all. Far more than we do, we need to speak of the precious chapters in our experience, of the mercy and loving-kindness of God, of the matchless depths of the Saviour's love. When mind and heart are filled with the love of God, it will not be difficult to impart that which enters into the spiritual life. Great thoughts, noble aspirations, clear perceptions of truth, unselfish purposes, yearnings for piety and holiness, will find expression in words that reveal the character of the heart treasure. {PK 347.3}

Those with whom we associate day by day need our help, our guidance. They may be in such a condition of mind that a word spoken in season will be as a nail in a sure place. Tomorrow some of these souls may be where we can never reach them again. What is our influence over these fellow travelers? {PK 348.1}

Every day of life is freighted with responsibilities which we must bear. Every day, our words and acts are making impressions upon those with whom we associate. How great the need that we set a watch upon our lips and guard carefully our steps! One reckless movement, one imprudent step, and the surging waves of some strong temptation may sweep a soul into the downward path. We cannot gather up the thoughts we have planted in human minds. If they have been evil, we may have set in motion a train of circumstances, a tide of evil, which we are powerless to stay. {PK 348.2}

On the other hand, if by our example we aid others in the development of good principles, we give them power to do good. In their turn they exert the same beneficial influence over others. Thus hundreds and thousands are helped by our unconscious influence. The true follower of Christ strengthens the good purposes of all with whom he comes in contact. Before an unbelieving, sin-loving world he reveals the power of God's grace and the perfection of His character. {PK 348.3}

Are we responsible then for the souls of others? No! We are responsible for our conduct, not for the souls of others. Was Jesus responsible for the loss of Judas?

THURSDAY

Middle of the lesson reads, “At some point after Christ returns, those who claimed to follow Him will hear one of two phrases. What are those phrases, and what does each one mean?”

- ‘Well done, good and faithful servant! You have been faithful with a few things; I will put you in charge of many things. Come and share your master’s happiness!’ MT 25:21
- Then I will tell them plainly, ‘I never knew you. Away from me, you evildoers!’ Mt 7:23

What determines which statement each person hears? Does God determine which statement is given, or is it the actual condition of each person that determines which is spoken to them?

Who determines the condition of each person?

So are these statements judicial pronouncement, or a diagnosis?

Second paragraph states, “our salvation is rooted, not in our works for Christ but in His works for us.”

Does this mean we have no work in our salvation?

What does Paul mean in Philippians 2:12,13?

Therefore, my dear friends, as you have always obeyed—not only in my presence, but now much more in my absence—continue to work out your salvation with fear and trembling, ¹³ for it is God who works in you to will and to act according to his good purpose.

In the salvation process do we have no work to do? Are we just passive, its all up to God; He will save some and others He won't? Our choices, efforts and works have no bearing on it?

This is the problem that arises when people hold to the false legal religion, the lie that God's law functions like human law, that it is a legal work.

Not so, Jesus as a human being, in His own person, saved the species from the sin condition curing the condition. Thus the species human was saved singly and alone by Jesus with no effort or work from any other human person. This not only saved the species but simultaneously procured a remedy for all who will partake.

Our individual salvation, however, is a joint effort between us and God. We must work and God works. Without our purposeful involvement to choose to spend time with God, trust God, to surrender to Him, to resist temptation, to access divine agencies, we cannot be saved.

A patient will be healed "saved" when they choose to take the remedy the doctor provides. The work of the patient is to partake, to follow the directions of the doctor. The patient does not create the remedy; the patient does not cure or save themselves, but the patient is not saved by the doctor or the doctor's remedy if the patient refuses to partake.

We cannot save ourselves without God and God cannot save a person without that person's cooperation.

Here are some interesting quotes:

- We are laborers together with God. This is the Lord's own wise arrangement. The cooperation of the human will and endeavor with divine energy is the link that binds men up with one another and with God. The apostle says, "We are laborers together with God: ye are God's husbandry, ye are God's building" (1 Corinthians 3:9). Man is to work with the facilities God has given him. "Work out your own salvation with fear and trembling," He says. "For it is God which worketh in you both to will and to do of His good pleasure" (Philippians 2:12, 13).--MS 113, 1898. {2MCP 694.3}
- There are two grand forces at work in the salvation of the human soul. It requires the cooperation of man with the divine agencies-- divine influences, and a strong, living, working faith. It is in this way only that the human agent can become a laborer together with God. The Lord does not sanction in any one of us a blind, stupid credulity. He does not dishonor the human understanding, but, far from this, He calls for the human will to be brought into connection with the divine will. He calls for the ingenuity of the human mind, the tact, the skill, to be strenuously exercised in searching out the truth as it is in Jesus. . . . Ye are labourers together with God. {OHC 310.5}
- And he who seeks to give light to others will himself be blessed. "There shall be showers of blessing." "He that watereth shall be watered also himself." Proverbs 11:25. God could have reached His object in saving sinners without our aid; but in order for us to develop a character like Christ's, we must share in His work. In order to enter into His joy,--the joy of seeing souls redeemed by His sacrifice,--we must participate in His labors for their redemption.

PP 443.4 "kingdom, escorted Balaam to "the high places of Baal," from which he could survey the Hebrew host. Behold the prophet as he stands upon the lofty height, looking down over the encampment of God's chosen people. How little do the Israelites know of what is taking place so near them! How little do they know of the care of God, extended over them by day and by night! How dull are the perceptions of God's people! How slow are they, in every age, to comprehend His great love and mercy! If they could discern the wonderful power of God constantly exerted in their behalf, would not their hearts be filled with gratitude for His love, and with awe at the thought of His majesty and

Numbers 23:19 "God is not a man, that He should lie;
Neither the son of man, that He should repent:
Hath He said, and shall He not do it?
Or hath He spoken, and shall He not make it good?
Behold, I have received commandment to bless:
And He hath blessed; and I cannot reverse it.
He hath not beheld iniquity in Jacob,
Neither hath He seen perverseness in Israel:
The Lord his God is with him,
And the shout of a king is among them."

Awed by these revelations, Balaam exclaimed, "Surely there is no enchantment against Jacob, neither is there any divination against Israel." The great magician had tried his power of enchantment, in accordance with the desire of the Moabites; but concerning this very occasion it should be said of Israel, "What hath God wrought!" While they were under the divine protection, no people or nation, though aided by all the power of Satan, should be able to prevail against them. All the world should wonder at the marvelous work of God in behalf of His people-- that a man determined to pursue a sinful course should be so controlled by divine power as to utter, instead of imprecations, the richest and most precious promises, in the language of sublime and impassioned poetry. And the favor of God at this time manifested toward Israel was to be an assurance of His protecting care for His obedient, faithful children in all ages. When Satan should inspire evil men to misrepresent, harass, and destroy God's people, this very occurrence would be brought to their remembrance, and would strengthen their courage and their faith in God. PP 449.1

2. Psalms 34:7 "The angel of the Lord encamps around those who fear Him, And rescues them."
3. "we must be prepared. How? Perhaps the best answer is found in this text: "As you therefore have received Christ Jesus the Lord, so walk in Him" (Col. 2:6, NKJV). In other words, with so many world events, so many headlines, and so many theories about end times, it's easy to get diverted, focusing too much on the things that we think are leading to Christ's coming instead of on Christ Himself, who alone is the key to our preparation."
4. "This quarter the focus is on the end time, but not totally. The real focus is on Jesus, but in the context of the last days and how to be prepared for them."
5. "The more that we focus on Him, the more we become like Him, the more we obey Him, and the more prepared we will be for all that awaits us, both in the immediate future and in the end, the day when we do enter "the place" that Jesus has prepared for those who love Him."

Memory Text: "And the dragon was enraged with the woman, and he went to make war with the rest of her offspring, who keep the commandments of God and have the testimony of Jesus Christ." (Revelation 12:17 NKJV)

SABBATH

- a. Read the first paragraph. “The cosmic controversy, sometimes called “the great controversy,” is the biblical worldview. .”
- b. What is the question in the controversy?
 - i. If this is a war, what are the combatants fighting over?
 - ii. Why can’t God just leave Satan alone?
 - (1) (Hint: One day He will, and the end result is death. James 1:13 - 15)
- c. In light of the great conflict, what is the “good news”?
 - i. What is the gospel?
 - ii. Many times the Gospel is depicted as “Christ has died for your sins and now you can be saved.”
 - iii. The last paragraph (in speaking of the great controversy) says: “the good news is that one day it will not only end, but it will end with the total victory of Christ over Satan. The even better news is that, because of the completeness of what Jesus did on the cross, all of us can share in that victory. . .”
 - iv. Is that truly the good news?
 - (1) What did Christ accomplish on the cross?
 - (2) What is the war over?
 - (3) How can God or Satan declare victory?

 - (5) If God were truly like the person Satan made Him out to be, would you want to live eternally with Him?
 - (6) If God won a physical victory with out answering the question of his character, would there be peace in the universe?
 - (7) So what is the ultimate good news?
 - (8) The lesson says in the last paragraph: “The even better good news is that, because of the completeness of what Jesus did on the cross, all of us can share in that victory.”
 - (a) Compare the Great Controversy with a sporting event. Christ’s

The Fall of a Perfect Being

- d. Covers the fall of Lucifer
- e. Texts: Ezekiel 28:1, 2, 11-17; Isaiah 14:12-14
- f. Unexplained
- g. Reported
- h. Read the two central paragraphs: Outside the reality of the free will that God has given all His intelligent creatures, no reason exists for the fall of Lucifer. As Ellen G. White so profoundly stated it: “It is impossible to explain the origin of sin so as to give a reason for its existence. . . . Sin is an intruder, for whose presence no reason can be given. It is mysterious, unaccountable; to excuse it is to defend it. Could excuse for it be found, or cause be shown for its existence, it would cease to be sin.”—The Great Controversy, pp. 492, 493.

Replace the word sin with evil, and the statement works just as well: “It is impossible to explain the origin of [evil] so as to give a reason for its existence. . . . [Evil] is an intruder, for whose presence no reason can be given. It is mysterious, unaccountable; to excuse it is to defend it. Could excuse for it be found, or cause be shown for its existence, it would cease to be [evil].”

 - i. A 2002 study published in the British Medical Journal examined 26 programmes that included school based programmes, multi-faceted programmes, family planning and clinic based programmes, as well as abstinence programmes in the US and Canada. The results: “The interventions did not delay initiation of sexual intercourse in young women or young men, did not improve the use of birth control at every intercourse, or at last intercourse for either men or women, did not reduce pregnancy rates in young women.”[2]
 - ii. Another study of a very well-designed and well-delivered sex-ed programme in Scotland was also published in the BMJ. The result: “When the intervention group was compared with the conventional sex education group, there were no differences in sexual activity or sexual risk taking by the age of 16 years.”[3]

- iii. Then there is Douglas Kirby's 2001 survey of over 300 programmes of all sorts. "Most studies of school-based and school-linked health centers revealed no effect on student sexual behavior or contraceptive use." [4]

 - (1) The studies in the Cochrane review were all randomised controlled trials from Europe, Latin America and sub-Saharan Africa. Most were of high quality and had follow-ups at between 18 months and seven years. The sex education programmes they investigated included peer and teacher-led education and "innovative uses" of drama and group work.
 - (2) What did the Cochrane Review find?
 - (3) One finding of the review was that providing a small cash payment, or giving away a free school uniform, can encourage students to remain at school, especially in places where there are financial barriers to attending. Such incentives to stay at school reduced pregnancy rates by around a quarter and also reduced sexually transmitted infections (STIs) in both girls and boys.
 - (4) However, the more surprising, and no doubt controversial, finding (to many) will be the admission that the mainstay of the current approach to sex education is not working.
 - (5) School-based sexual and reproductive health programmes are widely accepted and implemented as an approach to reducing high-risk sexual behaviour among adolescents. But the Cochrane review found that sex education programmes do not reduce pregnancy and STIs among the young. In fact, they have no effect on adolescent pregnancy and STI rates.
 - (6) "As they are currently designed, sex education programmes alone probably have no effect on the number of young people infected with HIV, other STIs or the number of pregnancies," said lead author of the review, Dr Mason-Jones.
- p. The original sin for Adam and Eve was not the eating of the fruit, it was the loss of trust of God.

Preparation for the End Time Lesson 2 Q2 2018

Daniel and the End Time

presenter: Tim Jennings (announcements at end)

SABBATH

Read first paragraph, “The Lord had great plans...” What about today? Does any of this have application to us today?

They were to be a kingdom of priests—what about Christians today?

As you come to him, the living Stone—rejected by men but chosen by God and precious to him—⁵ you also, like living stones, are being built into a spiritual house to be a holy priesthood, offering spiritual sacrifices acceptable to God through Jesus Christ. 1Pet 2:4,5

This is very symbolic language—let’s decode it:

- Who is the living Stone, which in the next verse is identified as the cornerstone upon which the temple is built? Jesus
- Who then are the living stones that accept or come to the chief cornerstone? Christians!
- What is a spiritual house called? A temple
- Who are this holy priesthood? Those who are like Jesus in character
- What are spiritual sacrifices? Sacrificing self-righteousness, selfishness, pride, greed, lust, all of the defects of character, our very selves to God to be purified and healed. These sacrifices can take on specific actions, like going without in order to help another, but it is primarily internal character transformation.

Ancient Israel was to be a nation of priests to witness to the world for what purpose? To bring people the knowledge of Yahweh, for what purpose? For all the people of the world to experience healing of their hearts and minds.

What about Christians today, what is our purpose as priests? To be witnesses of God to the world to reveal the truth about His kingdom in order to win people—by love and truth—to God for the healing of hearts and minds.

How did Ancient Israel do? And what happened to ancient Israel? They went into Babylonian captivity.

Does ancient Israel’s Babylonian captivity have any correlation and application to what has happened to Christianity? Has Christianity gone into Babylonian captivity?

Remember the message from Jesus to God’s people at the end of time?

What is the first message from the 3 angels in Revelation 14?

"Be in awe of God, and glorify him by living his methods of love, because the hour has come for everyone to make a judgment about God, and worship the Designer, Creator and Builder who made the heavens, the earth, the sea and springs of water– all of which operate upon his law of love." vs. 7 The Remedy

Then the second message:

A second angel followed and said, "Fallen! Fallen is Babylon the Great, which made all the nations drink the maddening wine of her adulteries." Rev 14:8 NIV

And then in Revelation 18 we read:

"Fallen! Fallen is Babylon the Great! She has become a home for demons and a haunt for every evil spirit, a haunt for every unclean and detestable bird. For all the nations have drunk the maddening wine of her adulteries. The kings of the earth committed adultery with her, and the merchants of the earth grew rich from her excessive luxuries."

Then I heard another voice from heaven say: "Come out of her, my people, so that you will not share in her sins... vss. 2-4.

So, the church is called to leave Babylon... The Jews went into captivity to Babylon, why? Because they worshipped false gods continually. And the priesthood of believers at the end of time, the Christians are called to leave Babylon, would this imply the church has also become a captive of Babylon?

How has Christianity become a captive of Babylon?

Well, the chief god of ancient Babylon was Marduk. This description of Marduk is from the Encyclopedia Britannica:

Originally, he seems to have been a god of thunderstorms. A poem, known as Enuma elish and dating from the reign of Nebuchadrezzar I (1119–1098 BCE), relates Marduk's rise to such preeminence that he was the god of 50 names, each one that of a deity or of a divine attribute. After conquering the monster of primeval chaos, Tiamat, he became Lord of the Gods of Heaven and Earth. All nature, including humanity, owed its existence to him; the destiny of kingdoms and subjects was in his hands...

Marduk's star was Jupiter, and his sacred animals were horses, dogs, and especially the so-called dragon with forked tongue, representations of which adorn his city's walls. On the oldest monuments Marduk is represented holding a triangular spade or hoe, interpreted as an emblem of fertility and vegetation. He is also pictured walking or in his war chariot. Typically, his tunic is adorned with stars; in his hand is a sceptre, and he carries a bow, spear, net, or thunderbolt. Kings of Assyria and Persia also honoured Marduk... in inscriptions and rebuilt many of their temples.

Marduk was later known as Bel, a name derived from the Semitic word baal, or “lord.” Bel had all the attributes of Marduk, and his status and cult were much the same....

<https://www.britannica.com/topic/Marduk>

What were the attributes of Marduk:

- Creator and supreme god
- He was the god of weather
- He was dragon-like and had a forked tongue—symbolic of a liar?
- He was the god of fertility

And, Marduk became known as Baal, and who was Baal?

Baal was the son of El (i.e. El-ohim or El-Shaddai). He was the god of weather. Often called, ‘Almighty’ and “Lord of the Earth.” Baal was the god who brought rain, thunder, lightning, who fertilized the earth, controlled the sun and brought the harvest.

Baal fought the great serpent leviathan as well as battled against Mot, the god of death. And most amazing of all, it was taught that Baal died in his battle with Mot and rose from the dead to bring life to earth.

So what was the problem with worshipping a god who was the “husband and protector of Israel,” the son of El, who controlled the weather, who brought rain, sunshine, and fertility, who blessed with full harvest, who warred against the great serpent and death, who died and was resurrected to bring us life? What was wrong with this god?

Baal required appeasement—Baal required something be offered him in order to appease wrath, prevent punishment and engender blessings.

Baal became:

- Zeus to the Greeks
- Jupiter to the Romans—remember Marduk’s star was Jupiter
- Thor to the Norse people
- Jesus Christ to all those who worship a god that like Baal requires appeasement, payment, propitiation of a human sacrifice in order not to kill

This is why God prophesied through Malachi that before the second coming of Christ the prophet Elijah must come again. Why? Just like Elijah confronted Baal worship millennia ago, so too the people of God today, must confront Baal worship and call people to choose between two versions of God.

Just like Israel went into captivity to Babylon—so too Christianity is today in the captivity of Babylon. Minds are held captive by Marduk, by Baal, by Satan himself when the lie is taught that God's law functions like human law and thus God is the source of inflicted pain and suffering unless He is paid the blood of a human sacrifice.

Today, we are to be like Elijah, calling people out of Baal worship, calling people out of Babylon, out of this false legal theological system of worship and back to worship "Him who made the heavens, earth, sea and fountains of water."

So, the second angel's message from The Remedy:

"Don't trust Babylon the Great—a symbolic description of religions that misrepresent God—as it is fallen into the lies about God and intoxicates the world with its pagan views of God, maddening the people with its adulterous idea that God coerces and must inflict punishment if not properly appeased." Rev 14:8

SUNDAY

Read memory text at top then first paragraph, "He who is faithful..." What does this mean and how do we apply it?

Does it mean:

- If you compromise with a little makeup you will eventually become an adulteress?
- If you are a woman and you wear pants you will eventually become a lesbian?
- If you are a Christian and you drink a glass of wine or have a sip of champagne at New Year's you are going to become an alcoholic?
- If you drink coffee or eat meat or cheese that you are going to betray Jesus?

What does the text mean about being faithful in little things?

What about:

- If you are given 50 cents more than is correct in change and you knowingly keep it?
- You spread rumors about people?
- You flirt with people not your spouse?
- You teach that God is required to use His power to inflict punishment upon unrepentant sinners?

What is the difference between the second list and the first?

- The first list are all external behaviors, the things legalists and rule keeper like to focus on
- The second list are internal, motives, attitudes and beliefs of the heart

Read third paragraph, which is about Daniel and his three friends refusing to eat the king's meats and drinks the king's wines: "Although the text directly..."

Is the link clearly there? Was this issue primarily about dietary health issues? No, this was about worship, about giving honor to the God of Israel and ensuring that no honor was given to Marduk, the Babylonian god.

The foods given them to eat were first blessed by Marduk, thus if Daniel and friends ate that food, then any wisdom, health, or benefit that Daniel and his friends experienced would have been attributed to Marduk. Daniel wanted to make sure that Yahweh was honored, the only way to do this was to not partake of anything that was offered to Marduk.

So, this had very little to do with the laws of health and a lot to do with worship, loyalty, honor, and intention to be a good representative for God.

Do you think Daniel and friends were vegetarians before they became captives in Babylon? No! They would have faithfully participated in Passover and ate the lamb. This wasn't about vegetarianism, but about worship.

Does that mean a vegetarian diet is not beneficial? No, it is, but this text is not primarily about that, nor a very good text to support vegetarianism.

What is the most important reason God was able to work with Daniel and friends—as the lesson says because of their faithfulness, which resulted in what in them?

Faithfulness in them resulted in a clear conscience! They didn't have guilt, fear, doubt, shame plaguing their minds. Thus, they remained sensitive to the movements of God's Spirit and could hear the still small voice leading them.

The bottom pink section asks if we have been faithful to what we have been given?

Can we be faithful to God's kingdom if we are promoting the Babylonian view of God? No!

I would suggest what undermines faithfulness to God are any lies we believe that prevent us from knowing Him, that causes us to be afraid of Him, that causes us to seek to be protected from Him, that causes us to create theologies to hide us from Him.

Thus, the entire penal legal theological construct is pagan—it is part of the lie, it is part of Babylon, it is what Christians who are promoting the end-time message are to be refuting, rejecting and leading people out of.

The legal message makes God's law out to be imposed rules which require imposed punishments. Not only do we create theologies to hide us and protect us from God, which keeps barriers between us and our Savior, but the legal view increases fear, increases doubt, increases insecurity, and causes much spiritual harm and injury—how?

Because the legal view ultimately puts rules over principles and thus constantly causes internal conflicts. It focuses on deeds, rather than motives of the heart, it focuses on legal accounting rather than restoration of hearts and minds into righteousness. Examples:

- Keeping Sabbath in such a way to destroy love and trust—wanting to crucify Jesus for healing on Sabbath
- Telling an adolescent girl who came to vespers that because she was wearing pants she could not stay for the worship service
- Calling a university student out for wearing jewelry
- Refusing to allow students who value this picture of God from receiving worship credits
- Telling high school students that a teen who committed suicide will go to hell and cannot be saved

Yes, the Christian church has been captive to Babylon—intoxicated with the view that God is like Marduk and Baal. We stand at the verge of eternity and have the privilege of standing up like Elijah and giving the true message about God, of calling people to reject the dictator views and come back to worship our Designer, Creator, Redeemer, and Healer!

MONDAY

Read first paragraph, “All over the world...” Does God have real foreknowledge? Can God know the specific choices of people before they make them, or only the possible choices?

This has become a big divide in some theological circles.

There are those who teach God cannot know our choices because if He actually knows them, then, as they conceive of reality, we are no longer free, but programmed by God.

The various views on this that I have examined state that God can know what He will do before He does it, but that God cannot know what other intelligent beings will do. Thus, they don't have a problem with Christ choosing to die on the Cross and God predicting it because it was a choice Christ made. They don't even have a problem with the grand landscape of nations rising and falling because they conclude God took charge of His actions or choices behind the scenes to set up or overthrow nations. But they would state God doesn't know the specific choices of individuals until they make those choices.

I understand the concern of those who take the position that God doesn't know our choices before we make them. They want to protect the character of God—as a God of love. They want to promote the principles of God's kingdom—love and they recognize love can only exist in an atmosphere of freedom. And thus, they have concluded that to know our choices before we make those choices, in some way undermines our freedom and thus destroys love, thereby undermining God's character of love.

I empathize with their desire and understand their motive. The problem is that they have two errors in their position: first they have equated foreknowledge with causality—this is primarily because they don't understand what actually is causal in the choice, they think knowledge or awareness is causal, but it is not. Second, they have ignored evidence that explicitly demonstrates God does have specific knowledge of individual human choices before those choices are made.

Examples of God knowing specific individual choices before those choices were made are genuine and God didn't know who would choose what, why didn't Noah build a fleet of arks?

- Joseph's dream about his brother's bowing down to him—how did God know that they would choose to bow to Joseph?
- The dreams of Pharaoh's cup bearer and baker, how did God know what Pharaoh would choose to do with each of them? These were Pharaoh's choices, yet God foreknew it.
- Isa 45:13: "I will raise up Cyrus in my righteousness: I will make all his ways straight. He will rebuild my city and set my exiles free, but not for a price or reward, says the Lord Almighty." How did God know, 150 years before Cyrus was born, what Cyrus would choose to do?
- Ps 22:18: "They divide my garments among them and cast lots for my clothing." How did God know what the soldiers would do with Jesus' garment? This was a specific choice made by those men at that time, yet God foreknew it.
- How did Jesus know Judas was going to betray Him and accurately predicted it before Judas did it?
- How did Jesus know that Peter would deny Him, not once, but three times before Peter did it?

No, the evidence is clear, God does know our choices before we make them—but the amazing, awesome, beautiful thing is—we are still free to make those choices and God doesn't treat us differently. Look at Judas, did Jesus treat Him differently than the other 11? No, Judas chose differently than the other 11, but Jesus was the same kind, gracious, loving, forgiving Savior to Judas as to Peter and the rest.

So Isaiah says:

(Isa 46:9,10) "I am God, and there is no other; I am God, and there is none like me, declaring the end from the beginning and from ancient times things not yet done, saying, My counsel shall stand, and I will do all my pleasure:

Here is an historic quote from the book Patriarchs and Prophets that I like:

He that ruleth in the heavens is the one who sees the end from the beginning--the one before whom the mysteries of the past and the future are alike outspread, and who, beyond the woe and darkness and ruin that sin has wrought, beholds the accomplishment of His own purposes of love and blessing... {PP 43.1}

If you believe God has the past and the future spread out before him in the same way, doesn't that mean He knows the details of the future choices of people as accurately as we know the choices of people recorded in the past?

TUESDAY

The lesson compares issue of the golden image to the beast of Revelation 13.

What are the similarities and lessons?

In both circumstances coercive pressure from the state is brought to bear to force people to worship.

Is coercive pressure a sign, an evidence, a mark, that we can utilize to identify Satan's false religious systems when and where they present?

Then what would that mean for Christian theologies that teach Jesus will one day return with a rod of iron to punish the nations, to inflict pain and suffering upon all the enemies of God?

Would such a teaching be in harmony with God and God's kingdom, or if we see such teachings do we recognize the mark of the beast?

Greg Boyd, writes in the book Servant God, the following:

The unique way Jesus was a social-spiritual revolutionary, we see, was rooted in his preserving the contrast between the Kingdom he came to establish and the reigning kingdoms of the world. To appreciate fully the importance of Jesus' unique way of revolting, we have to fully appreciate how absolute is the contrast.

This contrast was put on center stage when Jesus was on trial. Pilate asked him if he was the king of the Jews (John 18:33), to which he replied: "My kingdom is not of this world. If it were, my servants would fight to prevent my arrest by the Jewish leaders" (John 18:36, NIV). Jesus informed Pilate that the domain over which he was a king was nothing like the power-over governments of the world—it was on a completely different plane and from "another place" (John 18:36). And then, most significantly, he substantiated his claim by drawing Pilate's attention to the fact that his servants were not fighting in his defense.

The most fundamental feature of earthly governments is that they are willing to use whatever force is necessary to protect and advance their self-interests. As Jacques Ellul insightfully argued, violence is intrinsic to all power-over systems. Governments, states, and nations cannot exist in this fallen world without the use of violence. Any government that tried to love, bless, and serve threatening enemies rather than retaliate against them would not survive long. This is precisely why Jesus appealed to the absence of violence among those who were citizens of his Kingdom as proof that his Kingdom was completely different from the kingdoms of the world. Rather than using a sword against enemies to defend and advance its cause, the Kingdom “that is not of this world” relies on self-sacrificial love to advance its cause. p. 376,377

The author of the book The Desire of Ages understood this. Consider this quote and see if you agree or disagree?

God could have destroyed Satan and his sympathizers as easily as one can cast a pebble to the earth; but He did not do this. Rebellion was not to be overcome by force. Compelling power is found only under Satan's government. The Lord's principles are not of this order. His authority rests upon goodness, mercy, and love; and the presentation of these principles is the means to be used. God's government is moral, and truth and love are to be the prevailing power. {DA 759.1}

It was God's purpose to place things on an eternal basis of security, and in the councils of heaven it was decided that time must be given for Satan to develop the principles which were the foundation of his system of government. He had claimed that these were superior to God's principles. Time was given for the working of Satan's principles, that they might be seen by the heavenly universe. {DA 759.2}

What does this mean?

What is the prevailing power in God's government?

Truth and love—how are truth and love prevailing powers?

Where do truth and love have their impact? In hearts and minds.

What kind of war are we in? 2Cor 10:3-5 a war for the hearts and minds of intelligent beings.

What does God want? Love, trust, agreement, loyalty, understanding and friendship.

Can you get love, trust, agreement, loyalty, understanding and friendship by coercion, threats, infliction of punishment? No! What is the only way? To present truth in love and leave people free to decide for themselves!

Do you see again the deep lie, the enslavement of Christians into a false system, the system of Babylon and Marduk, the idea taught that God must inflict punishment in order to be just. This is Satan's view of God, this is Babylon, this is Baal worship—and it is to be rejected by the remnant, those who are preparing to meet Jesus!

This story of the three men not bowing to the idol, helps us understand what it means that the just, or righteous, shall live by faith.

The just, are those who choose, in governance of themselves to do the just or right thing, and then trust God with the outcome, i.e. live by faith or trust in God.

These three men had to choose, bow or don't bow, that was their choice, but how it turned out was not. What Nebuchadnezzar would do was his choice, and what God would do was God's choice.

WEDNESDAY

If the three men didn't trust God, if they didn't choose to do what was right and refuse to bow, would God have had the same powerful opportunity to reach Nebuchadnezzar with the truth?

Their faithfulness allowed God to intervene and reach Nebuchadnezzar—how about us today? Do we ever go through fiery trials or tribulations?

If we stay faithful, trusting God while we choose to do what is right in governance of self—can God use those circumstances to reach others?

If we have this perspective, does it help us in the midst of trials?

In the third paragraph it states, “The once proud monarch had become a humble child of God...”

Did Nebuchadnezzar keep Passover? Worship on Sabbath? Get circumcised? Sacrifice at the Temple in Jerusalem?

What does it mean that he was a child of God, but in OT times, didn't do any of these things?

Does it inform us that being a child of God is about circumcision of the heart, not the body, about renewing the mind, healing the inner man, not ritual?

That the entire Levitical system was not necessary for salvation—it was only theater to act out the reality of God's plan of salvation. Thus God says through Hosea:

I want your constant love, not your animal sacrifices. I would rather have my people know me than burn offerings to me. Hosea 6:6

THURSDAY

The lesson is about Daniel's faithful and upright character and the fact that his enemies could find nothing against him, unless it involved the law of God. Thus the trap they set for him.

The lesson asks us to compare Daniel's loyalty to God and how his enemies sought to trap him by that loyalty, and the righteous at the end of time.

Can you see any parallels? What?

Talk 1: The OT Sanctuary: Decoding the Secret Meaning

Have you ever studied the Old Testament sanctuary and found yourself confused? Have you struggled to understand the meaning of all the various symbols and rituals? The OT sanctuary was a play, an acted out theatrical production directed by God for the purpose of revealing His plan to save humanity from sin. In this presentation we will decode the symbols of the sanctuary to reveal the reality of God's amazing plan to save humanity from sin.

Talk 2: The Day of Atonement and the Feast Days: God's Hidden Plan for Human History

Ancient Israel was instructed by God to celebrate annual feasts or festivals (holy-days, i.e. holidays) to which all the people were to participate. These festivals occurred in a certain order and were to be celebrated every year. Ancient Israel, in addition to being real historic people who did real events, were also God's people to reveal God, His kingdom, methods and plan for saving humanity from sin. In this presentation we will discover, God's plan for human history, hidden in the symbols of the ancient feasts.

Preparation for the End Time Lesson 3 Q2 2018

Jesus and the Book of Revelation presented by: Russell Atkins

SABBATH

“To the one who is victorious, I will give the right to sit with me on my throne, just as I was victorious and sat down with my Father on his throne.” Revelation 3:21.

- How many of you were raised as SDA??
- How many of you were raised in an atmosphere of fear regarding the “time of trouble”??
- How many of you went to “Revelation seminars” when you were young?? Did you leave with a clearer picture of Jesus??

How do we readily see “Jesus” in the book of Revelation and others completely miss Him?? Consider the following.

“Finally, let everyone think of it as his own spirit leads him. My spirit cannot accommodate itself to this book. For me this is reason enough not to think highly of it: Christ is neither taught nor known in it. But to teach Christ, this is the thing which an apostle is bound above all else to do; as Christ says in Acts 1[:8], “You shall be my witnesses.” Therefore I stick to the books which present Christ to me clearly and purely.” -- The 1522 “Preface to the Revelation of St. John” in Luther’s translation of the New Testament. Pages 398-399 in Luther’s Works Volume 35: Word and Sacrament I (ed. E. Theodore Bachmann; Philadelphia: Fortress, 1960).

From the lesson:

“A crucial aspect of those Old Testament references in Revelation is that, taken together with the rest of the book, they reveal Jesus. Revelation is all about Jesus, about who He is, about what He has done for His people, and about what He will do for us at the end of time. Any focus on last-day events must keep Jesus front and center out of necessity, which is exactly what the book of Revelation does. This week’s lesson looks at Jesus in the book of Revelation.” Emphasis mine.

Is it only the “last day events” that must keep Jesus “front and center”?

Why must any focus on “last-day events” keep Jesus “front and center”?

SUNDAY

The Structure of Revelation

From the Remedy Preface to Revelation:

“Some rules of interpretation used in the book of Revelation:

- a. If one part of a passage is symbolic or metaphor, then the rest is symbolic or metaphor unless clear reasons to be literal are expressed in the text.
- b. The Bible will be used to interpret itself (i.e. symbol interpretations will use Bible definitions before other definitions).
- c. The general theme is that of the conflict between Christ and Satan.
- d. God's character of love never changes, therefore interpretations will never result in God being represented in a character other than love.
- e. God's law of love never changes, therefore interpretations will always be in harmony with God's law of love.

What does the book of Revelation [in its entirety] tell us? In some versions of Scripture it's titled “Revelation of Jesus Christ.” What is he trying to tell us?

The lesson suggests that the first 10 chapters are historical and the remainder of chapters are “eschatological” or dealing with last day events, with chapter 12 a mixture of the two.

Can historical events and future events be separated without peril?

Can [should] we learn anything from our history? If so, what?

MONDAY

Images of Jesus

The lesson gives us several texts that name/describe Jesus

Rev. 1: 5 – Faithful witness, the firstborn from the dead, ruler of the kings of the Earth.

Rev. 1: 8 – Alpha and the Omega. “who is, and who was, and who is to come, the Almighty.”

Rev. 5: 8 – “The Lamb.”

Rev. 19: 11-15 – Rider “Faithful and True”. “Word of God” [see sword coming out of His mouth v.15 and Heb. 4:12.]

Rev. 21:6 – Alpha and Omega [again], The Beginning and the End.

From the bottom section: “How can we learn to make the life, death, resurrection, and the return of Jesus the central focus of our own existence and the foundation for the moral choices we make?”

How indeed? Are only the “moral choices” to be considered?

By a functional understanding and application of His Law.

OK.

What does that mean?

1. Understanding that His Law does NOT function like earthly governmental laws. His Law is Design Law. Natural Law. NOT imperial law.
2. Application of His Law of Love and the many branches within the Law of Love to our lives results in transformation of character to that like Christ.

TUESDAY

The Sanctuary Motif in Revelation

Two quotes from the lesson:

“In the earthly sanctuary one begins in the courtyard, at the altar of burnt offering, where the animals were slain. After the death of the animal, symbolic of the Cross, the priest would enter into the first apartment of the sanctuary, which was a model of what Jesus did in the heavenly sanctuary after His ascension. This is represented by Jesus’ walking among the lampstands (Rev 1:13).”

Soon after His ascension, Christ was inaugurated in the Holy Place of the heavenly temple, through this first open door. When Christ first appears in the book of Revelation, He is standing before the lampstands of the first apartment in the heavenly sanctuary (see Rev. 1:10–18).

Is there a literal sanctuary building in Heaven or is the entire scene symbolic of a bigger reality?

The lesson asks “What is the significance of the fact that as the heavenly temple was opened, John could see the ark of His covenant, which sat in the second apartment of the earthly sanctuary?”

Good question. Any thoughts?

WEDNESDAY

Christ in Revelation: Part One.

“Everything in Revelation, from the structure to the content, has one purpose: to reveal Jesus Christ.”

AMEN – kind of. Does Revelation reveal someone else, as well? Whom?

Only one, someone else, or more?

From the lesson:

“In Revelation, Christ is introduced as “the ruler of the kings of the earth” (Rev. 1:5, NIV), and near the end of the book He is described as “King Of Kings” (Rev. 19:16). The great news here is that amid all the chaos and confusion on earth, we can have the assurance that our loving Lord and Savior has ultimate control.”

Control of what?

THURSDAY

Christ in Revelation: Part Two

What does Christ mean when he says, “... and I hold the keys of death and Hades.”?

Hades – The Greek god of the underworld.

Hades – The “underworld” itself [inhabited by departed souls], aka “hell”.

“hell” aka Sheol [Hebrew]

Sheol aka the grave.

When Jesus describes Himself as the “firstborn from the dead” [Rev.1:5] did He forget about Lazarus, Jarius’ daughter, or the widow of Nain’s son, or the widow of Zarephath’s son, or the Shunammite woman’s son, or unnamed man raised from the dead when he came in contact with Elisha’s bones [2Kings 13]?

What are we to understand from this?

Preparation for the End Time Lesson 4 1Q 2018

Salvation and the End Time presented by Tim Jennings (announcements at end)

SABBATH

Read memory text: “This is love: not that we loved God, but that he loved us and sent his Son as an atoning sacrifice for our sins” (1John 4:10, NIV)

What does this text mean?

Who loves us?

What does “atoning sacrifice for our sins” mean?

Does it mean legal payment?

Does it mean to assuage wrath?

What does atone mean? To bring into oneness or unity, so we could rephrase: “to sacrifice himself to bring us into unity with God because we are sinful.”

What about “for our sins”? the preposition “for” in our imposed law mindset leads us to think as a payment.

But the same word is translated: as “of” 148 times, “for” 61 times, “concerning” 40 times, “about” 31 times, “as touching” eight times, “touching” three times, “whereof + 3739” three times, not translated four times, and translated miscellaneously 33 times. ¹ about, concerning, on account of, because of, around, near.

See how it reads if we use these other translations instead of for:

- sacrifice of our sins
- sacrifice concerning our sins
- sacrifice about our sins
- sacrifice as touching our sins
- sacrifice touching our sins
- sacrifice on account of our sins
- sacrifice because of our sins
- sacrifice around our sins
- sacrifice near our sins

Do you get a different connotation, a different reference, a different meaning with a change in preposition?

Which of all the possible meanings is the one most likely to lead people to think of a legal interpretation? “for” why then was it chosen? Because by the time the Bible was translated the lie that God’s law is like human law, imposed, and therefore salvation is a legal process had taken root in Christianity.

So more accurately that “for” is because of our sinfulness, here is from The Remedy:

This is what real love is: It is not that we have loved God, or that we have done something to get him to love us, but that he loved us so much that he sent his Son to become the Remedy and cure for the infection of sin and selfishness so that through him we might be restored into perfect unity with God.

Read first paragraph, “One fascinating but crucial...” Save them from what?

In pagan religions what is the character, nature, attitude of most of the gods? In order for the worshipper to be blessed in most pagan systems what is required? The god must be paid in some way in order to bless.

In most pagan systems what is the problem if the worshipper fails to meet the requirements of the gods?

So in pagan systems from what are the worshippers ultimately being saved? From the anger and wrath of their god.

What about in Christianity? The lesson is trying to make a point that Christianity is superior to other religions because God does something for us—and I would agree—God does do something for us that we can never do for ourselves. However, despite the fact that Christians get right the idea that God does something for us—Christianity is still infected with the idea that God is the one that needs something done to Him.

So many Christians have paganism as religions in which the worshipper offers the god a sacrifice to pay or propitiate the god, but in Christianity God provides the sacrifice to pay or propitiate Himself. They are blind to the fact that character of the god in both is flawed and is the one from whom the worshipper needs to be saved.

I put in a search engine “From what does Jesus save us?” and the first non-paid hit, from The Christian Apologetics and Research Institute reads as:

On the Day of Judgment God will judge all people for their sins against Him. He will judge all who have lied, stolen, cheated, lusted, dishonored their parents, etc. He will do this because He is holy and righteous. God must punish the sinner. God cannot and will not ignore the person who has broken His righteous law. The Law is a reflection of the character of God. Therefore, to break God's law is to offend God and deny the holiness of His character. He will be vindicated. He will judge.

The Bible says that all have sinned and fallen short of the glory of God (Rom. 3:23). That means that your sins have caused a separation between you and God (Isaiah 59:2) and the result is death (Rom. 6:23) and wrath (Eph. 2:3). The only way to be saved from the wrath of God, is to be saved from it by faith in Christ (Eph. 2:8-9; Rom. 5:1). You must trust in what Jesus did on the cross to forgive you of your sins and not trust anything else, not even your own sincerity or works. It is Jesus and only Jesus who can turn away the righteous judgment of God upon the sinner. <https://carm.org/christianity/answers-seekers/what-does-jesus-save-us>

This is paganism—the problem articulated here is that of an angry, wrathful, offended god, who is the source of inflicted punishment and therefore needs something done to him in order for him to forgive and not kill. In other words, people in this view are beings saved from this false god.

19th Century Congregationalist Theologian George MacDonald wrote:

“The Lord never came to deliver men from the consequences of their sins while those sins yet remained ... Yet, feeling nothing of the dread hatefulness of their sin, men have constantly taken this word that the Lord came to deliver us from our sins to mean that he came to save them from the punishment of their sins.

“This idea has terribly corrupted the preaching of the Gospel. The message of the Good News has not been truly communicated. Unable to believe in the forgiveness of the Father in heaven, imagining him not at liberty to forgive, or incapable of forgiving forthright; not really believing him God who is fully our Savior, but a God bound—either in his own nature or by a law above him and compulsory upon him—to exact some recompense or satisfaction for sin, a multitude of religious teachers have taught their fellow men that Jesus came to bear our punishment and save us from hell. But in that they have misrepresented his true mission.” George MacDonald, Discovering the Character of God (Minneapolis: Bethany House, 1989), p. 39.

I want everyone to see this clearly—this idea that God is the source of inflicted punishment comes from the lie that God’s law functions like human law and requires imposed penalties. This is the lie of Satan from the beginning of the controversy in heaven and it is the lie that the remnant people are to oppose and eliminate as we prepare for the second coming of Christ!

Read second paragraph, “In contrast, Christians...” Let us affirm that salvation is only because of Jesus and His accomplishments and work in our behalf. We agree completely that it is because of Jesus’ incarnation, death, resurrection and ongoing work in heaven that we can be saved—that is NOT in dispute.

The dispute, the question, the controversy is: saved from what—are we saved from sin—or—are we saved from what God will do to us because of sin?

The lie of Satan is that we need to be saved from God—this comes from accepting the lie that sin is legal and therefore God as the supreme magistrate must punish. Seeking legal solutions, despite claiming the reality that only through Christ can we be saved, misapplies what Christ has done and for many fails to actually save. Why?

Because misunderstanding the problem, misdiagnosing the condition, they apply Christ's achievements where they are not needed and thus have no benefit.

It would be like having pneumonia and a physician develops an antibiotic that will cure you, and provides it to you for free. You acknowledge the physician developed it, that you have done nothing to create it, that you haven't earned it, that it was provided at no cost to you and is necessary to save you. But then you take the antibiotic and pour it on the medical records seeking to erase the record of your pneumonia. What happens?

When the doctor comes in to examine you does he find you well or getting worse, dying? But what happens if you point him to your record where you have attempted to erase the record of your pneumonia and claim the cure has been applied to your record?

This is the lie of the legal solution

Or how about this, when the doctor comes in to examine you, you offer the doctor the antibiotic to propitiate his wrath and prevent the doctor from killing you?

What would the doctor do? Might the doctor be sad, might he be angry because you could have been saved/healed if you would only have applied what he freely provided and not wasted it?

If the doctor is angry what kind of anger is it? Is it the anger of him being personally offended and wanting to strike out, or the anger of knowing he needlessly is losing someone he loves?

This is what Christianity has done. It has accurately taught that salvation is found only in Jesus, His incarnation, death, resurrection and work in heaven—but Christianity, has also accepted the lie about God's law and thus misapplies what Christ has done to God, to the heavenly records, to the law and thereby keeps people trapped in sin rather than healed and freed from sin.

So, understanding God's law as design law, what is the problem sin caused that the plan of salvation is designed to fix?

When Adam sinned did God get changed? Did God's law change? Did the condition of humankind change?

Then what did Christ accomplish to save us?

Why did Jesus have to die? What was revealed at the cross?

TRUTHS revealed to win to trust:

- God's character of selfless love
- The character of Satan and the nature of sin (must know two things to be eternally secure the nature/character of God and the nature of sin and then choose God)
- That Christ is safe with the power
- That serving God for the wrong reasons leads to rebellion/enemies
- That Christ didn't even in thought think about harming others
- That salvation isn't simply about being forgiven
- That God does NOT kill the wicked/sinner
- That we have real freedom with God, God would rather die than force us to do things His way
- That God is not unforgiving
- That God is not arbitrary or severe
- That there is no eternally burning hell
- That the Sabbath is the embodiment of the law of liberty – it is evidence of the freedom we have to review the evidence and come to our own conclusion
- That the justice of God is delivering the oppressed not punishing the oppressor
- That the law cannot be changed
- God told the truth that sin destroys – leads to death
- Love cannot be commanded it can only be won
- The wrath of God—He let's go to receive one's own choice
- That there was no manufacturer's defect in the creation of human beings

ACCOMPLISHMENTS to save and heal:

- Destroyed death (the infection of fear and selfishness) 1Tim 1:9,10
- Restored God's law back into the species human developing a perfect human character (Heb 5:9, 1John 3:8)

MINISTRY to apply His achievements:

- Directs all agencies of God to reach and heal us
- Angels to watch, protect, lead
- Holy Spirit to convict, enlighten, transform, empower, apply (Jn 16:15)

SUNDAY

Read first paragraph and questions in black, "Not too long..." John 14:9 reads:

"Jesus answered: "Don't you know me, Philip, even after I have been among you such a long time? Anyone who has seen me has seen the Father. How can you say, 'Show us the Father'?"

Do we believe God is exactly like Jesus?

Do we teach God and Jesus are the same in character?

Read third paragraph, “One reason...” this is well said.

Have all the lies about God been eliminated from the minds of men?

What lies about God do you find most common and most harmful?

What about the truth that Jesus is the way, the truth and the life and no one comes to the Father except through Him? Does this mean only people who have heard about Jesus and accepted Jesus and have been baptized into Jesus will be saved?

Romans 2:13-15 states:

For it is not those who hear the law who are righteous in God’s sight, but it is those who obey the law who will be declared righteous. ¹⁴ (Indeed, when Gentiles, who do not have the law, do by nature things required by the law, they are a law for themselves, even though they do not have the law, ¹⁵ since they show that the requirements of the law are written on their hearts, their consciences also bearing witness, and their thoughts now accusing, now even defending them.)

Or speaking of the earth made new Zechariah writes:

If someone asks him, ‘What are these wounds on your body?’ he will answer, ‘The wounds I was given at the house of my friends.’ 13:6

How can people be saved who have never heard the Scripture, who don’t know the story of Jesus be saved if people can only come to the Father through Jesus?

Do we have a contradiction in the Bible? No!

Romans 1:20 “For since the creation of the world God’s invisible qualities—his eternal power and divine nature—have been clearly seen, being understood from what has been made, so that men are without excuse.”

Why are men without excuse according to this passage? Because the truth about God necessary for salvation is revealed in nature.

Which member of the Godhead created nature?

Speaking of Jesus, the Bible says:

For by him all things were created: things in heaven and on earth, visible and invisible, whether thrones or powers or rulers or authorities; all things were created by him and for him.

Col 1:16

So if a person comes to God through the truth revealed in nature, who is the one who put that truth there? Jesus, and if they find the God of nature trustworthy and open their heart to the movement of the Holy Spirit, and the Holy Spirit works in them to heal them, from where does the Holy Spirit get the healing remedy—the perfected human character to impart? Jesus! So everyone who is saved is only saved because of Jesus and all come to the Father through Jesus—it is just that some know this and some don't yet know it.

MONDAY

Read first paragraph, “Sin separated the human...” What does it mean Christ offered Himself as a sacrifice for our sins?

- Does it mean to pay penalty?
- Is it for our bad deeds?
- Is it because of our condition of sinfulness?

Does it make a difference if we say “sins” versus “sin”, what difference?

Why do people fall into the trap of saying “sins” instead of “sin”? Because they are blinded by the false law construct and see sin as behavioral rather than a condition of heart.

Read second and third paragraphs, “Christ was eternal...” Was Christ our substitute? Yes! For what purpose?

What law lens are you using?

God made him who had no sin to be sin for us, so that in him we might become the righteousness of God. 2Cor 5:21

This is substitution so that we might BECOME righteous, what does it mean to BE righteous? Righteous means to be right, what does right mean? It means as God designed, restored to the way God built humanity, in harmony with God's character, protocols, principles—rebuilt into Christlikeness of character, a being who genuinely trusts God and loves God and others, someone who would rather die—eternally die, than hurt another.

Have any sinners ever achieved this level of healing?

- Moses
- Paul
- Stephen
- Martyrs through history
- Miriam and Barbie Fischer

This restoration to righteousness is a reality, a healing, a recreation, a renewal, a rewriting into the inmost being the design parameters of God, i.e. writing the law upon the heart. There is nothing legal about this—the legal view cheats people from this and gives them not only a false legal diagnosis, but a false worthless prescription that tells them they will be legally declared to be righteous even though they are not righteous.

In this healing view, do we make ourselves righteous? Do we heal ourselves? Absolutely NOT! It is only because of the remedy procured by Christ and applied via the Holy Spirit.

However, does God make us righteous without our involvement, choice, effort, and work?

Can God save anyone without their involvement, choice, participation?

Here is a historical quote, what do you think?

The law of God is a transcript of his character; it portrays the nature of God. As in Christ we behold the brightness of his glory, the express image of his person, so also in the law the attributes of the Father are unfolded. Although the law is unchangeable, his having provided a means of salvation for the law-breaker does not in the least detract from the dignity of the character of God, since the penalty of man's transgression was borne by a divine Substitute. [Since the laws of health are unchangeable, does providing a remedy for those out of harmony with the laws of health in any way detract from the dignity of the (law) character of God? Is there a penalty for breaking the laws of health? Is that penalty a legal penalty inflicted by a magistrate? If a substitute bears the disease and suffers the full weight of the penalty the disease causes in order to provide a remedy would that be a legal process?] The Father himself suffered with the Son; for "God was in Christ, reconciling the world unto himself...." {ST, December 30, 1889 par. 2}

God grants men a probation in this world, that their principles may become firmly established in the right, thus precluding the possibility of sin in the future life, and so assuring the happiness and security of all. Through the atonement of the Son of God alone could power be given to man to establish him in righteousness, and make him a fit subject for heaven. The blood of Christ is the eternal antidote for sin. ... [Is this legal or healing, recreative, restorative? Can character be legally declared into a person? Do you see the lie of the penal substitutionary view?] {ST, December 30, 1889 par. 3}

The death of Christ upon the cross made sure the destruction of him who has the power of death, who was the originator of sin. When Satan is destroyed, there will be none to tempt to evil; the atonement will never need to be repeated; and there will be no danger of another rebellion in the universe of God. That which alone can effectually restrain from sin in this world of darkness, will prevent sin in heaven. [what do you think that is?] The significance of the death of Christ will be seen by saints and angels. [What prevents sin from recurring again? The understanding of what Christ achieved and revealed] Fallen men could not have a home in the paradise of God without the Lamb slain from the foundation of the world. [Why? Because God is unwilling without a blood payment, or human beings would be unfit, terminal, unable to live there?] Shall we not then exalt the cross of Christ? The angels ascribe honor and glory to Christ, for even they are not secure except by looking to the sufferings of the Son of God. It is through the efficacy of the cross that the angels of heaven are guarded from apostasy. Without the cross they would be no more secure against evil than were the angels before the fall of Satan. Angelic perfection failed in heaven. Human perfection failed in Eden, the paradise of bliss. All who wish for security in earth or heaven must look to the Lamb of God. [can you think of a Bible verse that says this more succinctly? "all things in heaven..."] The plan of salvation, making manifest the justice and love of God, provides an eternal safeguard against defection in unfallen worlds, as well as among those who shall be redeemed by the blood of the Lamb... [What provides an eternal safeguard? What is the justice of God? Is it punishing sin, or is it healing and delivering the sinner by upholding, establishing, and restoring His law in humanity?] There are many who will be lost, because they depend on legal religion, or mere repentance for sin. But repentance for sin alone cannot work the salvation of any soul... [The penal legal view obstructs people from salvation!] {ST, December 30, 1889 par. 4}

The greatest gift that God could bestow upon men was bestowed in the gift of his beloved Son. The apostle says, "He that spared not his own Son, but delivered him up for us all, how shall he not with him also freely give us all things?" There was nothing held in reserve. No second probation will ever be provided. If the unspeakable gift of God does not lead man to repentance, there is nothing that ever will move his heart. There is no power held in reserve to act upon his mind, and arouse his sensibilities. The whole character of God was revealed in his Son, the whole range of the possibilities of heaven is displayed for the acceptance of man in the Son of the Infinite One. The way for man's return to God and heaven has no barriers. The matchless depths of the Saviour's love have been demonstrated; and if this manifestation of God's love for the children of men does not prevail to draw men to himself, there is nothing that ever will. {ST, December 30, 1889 par. 6} [Do you see Satan's strategy is to misrepresent God as something other than love, thus failing to see God's true character men remain separated from Him. It is the penal substationary view that contributes to the barrier between God and man! We must come back to see God as He truly is and remove the barrier!]

TUESDAY

Do we believe the Holy Spirit is an individual being, with distinct identity separate from that of the Father and the Son? Yes—why?

The most important reason, beyond the fact that the Scripture tells us, is that it directly impacts on God's character.

The smallest number one can have and have genuine other-centered love is three. Love cannot exist in a singularity, in a solitary, isolated individual because love is outward moving and functional love requires an object. But, two can instead achieve reinforcing narcissism, it is when there are three that sacrifice of one is often necessary for the benefit of the others.

Thus, if we believe God is truly love, then the Trinity is a reality.

The Old Testament teaches God is a plurality, not a singularity:

- Then God said, “Let us make man in our image, in our likeness... Genesis 1:26
- Even the text quoted by Jews and Muslims that “God is one” teaches a plurality, not a singularity:
- Hear, O Israel: The LORD our God is one LORD: DT 6:4
- Notice the passage in English uses “Lord” and “God”. The reading of this passage with the Hebrew names for “Lord” and “God” would go like this: “Hear, O Israel: Yahweh our Elohim, Yahweh is One.”
- What is interesting is that the word Elohim in Hebrew is plural and is the same word used for God in Genesis 1:26. Thus an accurate English reading might go like this: “The One is more than One yet is One”
- In Hebrew there are two words for one, Yacheed and Echad. The first indicates singular unity as in one and only, the second indicates compound unity, as the oneness of two or more. In this text Echad is used along with the plural name of God Elohim indicating the oneness of the Father, Son and Holy Spirit.
- The Old Testament also provides texts in which all members of the Godhead are referenced:
- And now the Sovereign Lord [Father] has sent me [Son], with his Spirit [Holy Spirit]. This is what the Lord says— your Redeemer, the Holy One of Israel: Isaiah 48:16,17
- “Here is my [Father] servant [Son], whom I [Father] uphold, my [Father] chosen one [Son] in whom I [Father] delight; I [Father] will put my Spirit [Holy Spirit] on him [Son] and he [Son] will bring justice to the nations. Isaiah 42:1

What is the assurance of salvation? Why do people seek it?

Since the children have flesh and blood, he too shared in their humanity so that by his death he might destroy him who holds the power of death—that is, the devil—¹⁵ and free those who all their lives were held in slavery by their fear of death. Heb 2:14,15

The entire world is held captive by fear of death, and thus all humans long for freedom from this fear—which is the assurance of salvation, i.e. we won’t die.

How do we experience this assurance?

Those who have a legal definition get assurance from believing in legal solutions—the penalty has been paid, from some legal transaction—which moves the assurance away from trusting a person with your life, to trusting in a system of rules. Why? Because they really don't trust God—they need theological constructs to protect them from God:

- Covered by robe of righteousness
- Washed in blood
- Jesus, Mary, saints to plead in our behalf etc.

But genuine assurance comes from a personal relationship with someone who you trust—in this case God, who you are sure will heal and save you when you trust Him!

With this in mind let's examine some of the Bible verses the lesson points us to:

- He will call upon me, and I will answer him; I will be with him in trouble, I will deliver him and honor him. With long life will I satisfy him and show him my salvation." Ps 91:15,16
 - Where is the assurance—in a relationship with God!
- The sun will be turned to darkness and the moon to blood before the coming of the great and dreadful day of the LORD. ³² And everyone who calls on the name of the LORD will be saved; for on Mount Zion and in Jerusalem there will be deliverance, as the LORD has said, among the survivors whom the LORD calls. Joel 2:31,32
 - Where is the assurance—in calling upon God, in trusting Him—to do what? Deliver, from what?
- I give them eternal life, and they shall never perish; no one can snatch them out of my hand. John 10:28
 - Where is the assurance? In a relationship!
- If you accept the truth that Jesus is God, then confess with your mouth that he represents the Father perfectly, trust God in your heart—realizing that he raised Jesus from the dead—and you will be completely healed and restored to God's original ideal. ¹⁰ For it is with the deep places of the soul that one trusts, and when distrust is removed, unity with God is restored; and it is with the mouth that we reveal that the inner person has been healed. ¹¹ As the Scripture says, "Anyone who trusts God will never be destroyed by guilt." ¹² For there is no difference between the Jew and Gentile: All humanity is infected and dying, and the same Lord is Lord of all and provides the rich blessing of his perfect Remedy to all who accept it. ¹³ For "Everyone who opens their heart and trusts in God will be completely healed." Rom 10:9-13 The Remedy
 - Where is the assurance?
- And this is the testimony: God has given us eternal life, and this life is in his Son. ¹² He who has the Son has life; he who does not have the Son of God does not have life. 1John 5:11-13
 - Where is the assurance?

Did you notice, no assurance comes from a legal process—all assurance comes from knowing and trusting God!

THURSDAY

The lesson asks us to read Rev 14:6,7:

Then I saw another angel flying in midair, and he had the eternal gospel to proclaim to those who live on the earth—to every nation, tribe, language and people. ⁷ He said in a loud voice, “Fear God and give him glory, because the hour of his judgment has come. Worship him who made the heavens, the earth, the sea and the springs of water.”

What is the eternal gospel?

How would you describe it?

As the lesson says, “an unchanging God has an unchanging gospel,” what would that be?

The truth about God’s character of love and God’s design laws of love. These are the eternal good news—the good news about God Himself!

Talk 1: The OT Sanctuary: Decoding the Secret Meaning

Have you ever studied the Old Testament sanctuary and found yourself confused? Have you struggled to understand the meaning of all the various symbols and rituals? The OT sanctuary was a play, an acted out theatrical production directed by God for the purpose of revealing His plan to save humanity from sin. In this presentation we will decode the symbols of the sanctuary to reveal the reality of God's amazing plan to save humanity from sin.

Talk 2: The Day of Atonement and the Feast Days: God's Hidden Plan for Human History

Ancient Israel was instructed by God to celebrate annual feasts or festivals (holy-days, i.e. holidays) to which all the people were to participate. Ancient Israel, in addition to being real historic people who did real events, were also God's people to reveal God, His kingdom, methods and plan for saving humanity from sin. In this presentation we will discover, God's plan for human history, hidden in the symbols of the ancient feasts.

Preparation for the End Time Lesson 5 Q2 2018

Christ in the Heavenly Sanctuary

presented by Tim Jennings (announcements at end)

FRIDAY

Read quote in question 1:

As anciently the sins of the people were by faith placed upon the sin offering and through its blood transferred, in figure, to the earthly sanctuary, so in the new covenant the sins of the repentant are by faith placed upon Christ and transferred, in fact, to the heavenly sanctuary. And as the typical cleansing of the earthly was accomplished by the removal of the sins by which it had been polluted, so the actual cleansing of the heavenly is to be accomplished by the removal, or blotting out, of the sins which are there recorded. But before this can be accomplished, there must be an examination of the books of record to determine who, through repentance of sin and faith in Christ, are entitled to the benefits of His atonement. The cleansing of the sanctuary therefore involves a work of investigation--a work of judgment. This work must be performed prior to the coming of Christ to redeem His people; for when He comes, His reward is with Him to give to every man according to his works. Revelation 22:12. {GC 421.3}

What does it mean?

Do we take this literally, as if this this description is exactly what is happening in heaven, or do we realize this was written to communicate an idea but does not represent the exact way things happen?

What do I mean? Do we believe the Bible is inspired by God? Yes, then, do we take descriptions of things in heaven exactly as the Bible reads or not? Consider the story in 1Kings 22. The setting is Ahab meeting with Jehoshaphat trying to get Jehoshaphat to join him in attacking Ramoth Gilead. The prophet Micaiah is called and this is what the prophet told them:

Micaiah continued, "Therefore hear the word of the LORD: I saw the LORD sitting on his throne with all the host of heaven standing around him on his right and on his left. ²⁰ And the LORD said, 'Who will entice Ahab into attacking Ramoth Gilead and going to his death there?'

"One suggested this, and another that. ²¹ Finally, a spirit came forward, stood before the LORD and said, 'I will entice him.'

²² " 'By what means?' the LORD asked.

" 'I will go out and be a lying spirit in the mouths of all his prophets,' he said.

" 'You will succeed in enticing him,' said the LORD. 'Go and do it.'

²³ "So now the LORD has put a lying spirit in the mouths of all these prophets of yours. The LORD has decreed disaster for you."

Do we take this literally, just as it reads? Why not? Isn't this the Bible record of an inspired prophet of God describing things occurring in heaven? Shouldn't we just accept it as it reads? No, we should understand it through the lens of the rest of divine revelation. We should ask questions like: Does God actually lie? No, then this must mean something else—and what does it mean? That God is sending a message to Ahab, a man who worships Baal and believes all things happen by God who makes them happen. So, in grace, God steps down and assumes the role of causing the lies to be told in order to inform Ahab that going to war will result in his death. This was not about how things truly happen in heaven, but a message of mercy communicated in the only way the listener could comprehend that he had been lied to, all in order to save the sinner.

Could the description of what is written in Friday's lesson be similar, written in a certain way because of the mindset of the audience?

So, what questions do we need to ask about the quotation from Friday?

- Do we take this literally as it reads, by itself, isolated and disconnected from any other resource, or do we require our understanding of what is written there to harmonize with the Bible and the author's other writings?
- If Hebrews emphasizes that Christ is a High Priest in the order of Melchizedek, then why do we insist on ascribing to Him all the rituals of the Levitical priesthood?
 - If perfection could have been attained through the Levitical priesthood (for on the basis of it the law was given to the people), why was there still need for another priest to come—one in the order of Melchizedek, not in the order of Aaron? ¹² For when there is a change of the priesthood, there must also be a change of the law. Heb 7:11-12
 - Could it be the law that changed was imposed to design?
 - What kind of law is ceremonial law? Imposed law—but what kind of law does God build reality to operate upon?
 - Then, when the priesthood changed from Levitical to Melchizedek, the followers were to leave behind all imposed law, not just ceremonial, but the idea of imposed law as applied to the moral law, and come back to seeing God's law as design law.
- Do we believe Jesus is dropping red corpuscles in a building in heaven to cleanse it from sin?
- Why do we say that the blood of Jesus must be taken into the Most Holy Place of the heavenly sanctuary on the day of atonement to remove the sins of the people, which were symbolically transferred to the sanctuary during the year by the blood of the various sacrifices when the blood from those sacrifices was never taken into the Most Holy Place?
 - Where did Jesus say His blood was to be applied? Inside the believer! John 6
- Why do we say the blood of the daily sacrifices that were applied to the altar defiles the sanctuary when, according to Scripture, everything that came into contact with the sacrificed lamb was made holy? Do we believe that when Jesus became sin, even though He knew no sin, that Jesus became contaminated, that sin won? Or did Jesus win and sin was overcome by Jesus? So, is the blood of Jesus contaminated with sin or is it a cleansing agent?
- LEV 6:24 The LORD said to Moses, ²⁵ "Say to Aaron and his sons: 'These are the regulations for the sin offering: The sin offering is to be slaughtered before the LORD in the place the burnt offering is slaughtered; it is most holy. ²⁶ The priest who offers it shall eat it; it is to be eaten in a holy place, in the courtyard of the Tent of Meeting. ²⁷ Whatever touches any of the flesh will become holy, and if any of the blood is spattered on a garment, you must wash it in a holy place. ²⁸ The clay pot the meat is cooked in must be broken; but if it is cooked in a bronze pot, the pot is to be scoured and rinsed with water. ²⁹ Any male in a priest's family may eat it; it is most holy.

- Why do we say that sins are transferred to the sanctuary in heaven?
 - Can inanimate objects be sinful? Isn't this contrary to the entire point of Romans 14 that things offered to idols are not affected by the idols, inanimate objects cannot sin.
 - Sin is lawlessness, rebellion, living in opposition to God's law of love and liberty, how can a building in heaven do this? And how can rebelliousness be transferred to a building?
- It is argued that Daniel 8:14 refers to the heavenly sanctuary because in 1844 there was no sanctuary on earth and the Bible speaks of no other sanctuary "This is the only sanctuary that ever existed on the earth, of which the Bible gives any information. This was declared by Paul to be the sanctuary of the first covenant. But has the new covenant no sanctuary?" {GC 412.4} – but what about:
 - 1Cor 6:19,20 "Do you not know that your body is a temple of the Holy Spirit, who is in you, whom you have received from God? You are not your own; you were bought at a price. Therefore honor God with your body."

Isn't this a Bible defined temple/sanctuary on earth in 1844?

- We say that the sanctuary of the new covenant must be in heaven because Hebrews says it was pitched by God and not man, it was not made with human hands;
 - But who made human beings?
 - Consider 2Cor 5:1
 - Now we know that if the earthly tent we live in is destroyed, we have a building from God, an eternal house in heaven, not built by human hands. 2Cor 5:1
 - What is this tent that was not built by human hands? Could this be the sanctuary that needs cleansing?
 - Jesus answered them, "Destroy this temple, and I will raise it again in three days." In 2:19 To what was Jesus referring?
- The same author who wrote the quote in Friday's lesson, from the same book five pages later writes:
 - "The coming of Christ as our high priest to the most holy place, for the cleansing of the sanctuary, brought to view in Daniel 8:14; the coming of the Son of man to the Ancient of Days, as presented in Daniel 7:13; and the coming of the Lord to His temple, foretold by Malachi, are descriptions of the same event; and this is also represented by the coming of the bridegroom to the marriage, described by Christ in the parable of the ten virgins, of Matthew 25." {GC 426.1}
- And what does Malachi say Christ cleanses when He comes to His temple?
 - "See, I will send my messenger, who will prepare the way before me. Then suddenly the Lord you are seeking will come to his temple; the messenger of the covenant, whom you desire, will come," says the LORD Almighty. But who can endure the day of his coming? Who can stand when he appears? For he will be like a refiner's fire or a launderer's soap. He will sit as a refiner and purifier of silver; he will purify the Levites and refine them like gold and silver." Mal 3:1-3.

- If you look in the SDA Bible commentary you will discover that the Hebrew word translated cleansed in Daniel 8:14 is more accurately translated justified. Unto 2300 days and then shall the sanctuary be justified.
 - But what does justified mean? To set right, to put in order, to put what is out of line back in line. For those of you who have a word processor on your computer there is a command at the top which allows you to justify your margins. If you justify the margins what happens? Everything that is out of line is put in line, everything that is out of order is put in order, everything that is out of harmony is put in harmony, everything that is wrong is set right.
 - Now the question is: what needs justifying? What is wrong that needs to be set right? What is out of line that needs to be put in line? What is out of order that needs reordering? What is out of harmony that needs to be brought back into harmony? The mind, heart and character of mankind!
- Another quote from the same author as the quote in Friday's lesson:
"Since the whole ritual economy was symbolical of Christ, it has no value apart from Him. When the Jews sealed their rejection of Christ by delivering Him to death, they rejected all that gave significance to the temple and its services" Desire of Ages 165:

Could this mean that when we confess our sinfulness then our sin is symbolically placed upon Christ, which means that He becomes our substitute in that He takes upon Himself our sinfulness, our sin, our sin-condition in order to cleanse humanity from sinfulness—is this the simple lesson that the sanctuary is to teach?

Surely he took up our infirmities and carried our sorrows, yet we considered him stricken by God,
smitten by him, and afflicted.
5 But he was pierced for our transgressions, he was crushed for our iniquities;
the punishment that brought us peace was upon him, and by his wounds we are healed. Isa 53:4-6

God made him who had no sin to be sin for us, so that in him we might become the righteousness of God. 2Cor 5:21

- The Bible describes the Sanctuary, the Temple in another way, as the dwelling place of God:
 - And rejoice before the LORD your God at the place he will choose as a dwelling for his Name. Dt16:11
 - What does this mean? What is signified by God's name? His character, and what is to be the dwelling place of God's character? Adam and Eve, but they defiled themselves, their sanctuaries were defiled by fear and selfishness. So, a second Adam came, Jesus to do what? To build and cleanse God's dwelling place, i.e. God's sanctuary.

- Notice what God says through Zacheriah:
- Tell him this is what the Lord Almighty says: 'Here is the man whose name is the Branch, and he will branch out from his place and build the temple of the Lord.¹³ It is he who will build the temple of the Lord, and he will be clothed with majesty and will sit and rule on his throne. And he will be a priest on his throne. And there will be harmony between the two.' Zech 6:12,13

If there was already a building in heaven that was the sanctuary, why would Jesus need to leave heaven in order to build the sanctuary?

- And where is our dwelling place?
 - "Lord, you have been our dwelling place throughout all generations." Ps 90:1
 - I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever Ps 23:6
 - Him who overcomes I will make a pillar in the temple of my God. Never again will he leave it. I will write on him the name of my God and the name of the city of my God, the new Jerusalem, which is coming down out of heaven from my God; and I will also write on him my new name.¹³ He who has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches. Rev 3:12,13
 - So is the temple a construct of unity which centers on God and is built out of living beings?
 - Then what needs cleansing to cleanse the temple? Sinners!

So what does all of this mean?

- Heaven itself was contaminated with lies about God and rebellion from His methods by Satan before the creation of humankind.
- God created humankind to be a temple, a holy place where God would dwell by His Spirit—where His name/character would dwell
- Satan's lies infected the human temple and the human temple became defiled
 - “Eve believed the words of Satan, and the belief of that falsehood in regard to God's character, changed the condition and character of both herself and husband. They were changed from good and obedient children into transgressors...” (RH, January 5, 1886 par. 8).
- Christ branched out, left heaven, and became the second Adam and restored God's character in the species human, defeated the lies, rewrote the law of love into humanity and thus cleansed the Temple from lies, fear and selfishness—restoring God's name/character into the living temple built by God
- Now Christ works to restore the damage done to heaven itself by preparing each of us for that place, cleansing each of us.

Two more quotes from the same author as the quote in Friday's lesson:

"In the building of the sanctuary as a dwelling place for God, Moses was directed to make all things according to the pattern of things in the heavens. God called him into the mount, and revealed to him the heavenly things, and in their similitude the tabernacle, with all that pertained to it, was fashioned.

"So to Israel, whom He desired to make His dwelling place, He revealed His glorious ideal of character. The pattern was shown them in the mount when the law was given from Sinai and when God passed by before Moses and proclaimed, "The Lord, The Lord God, merciful and gracious, long-suffering, and abundant in goodness and truth." Exodus 34:6. ..

"Through Christ was to be fulfilled the purpose of which the tabernacle was a symbol--that glorious building, its walls of glistening gold reflecting in rainbow hues the curtains inwrought with cherubim, the fragrance of ever-burning incense pervading all, the priests robed in spotless white, and in the deep mystery of the inner place, above the mercy seat, between the figures of the bowed, worshipping angels, the glory of the Holiest. In all, God desired His people to read His purpose for the human soul. It was the same purpose long afterward set forth by the apostle Paul, speaking by the Holy Spirit:

"Know ye not that ye are the temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you? If any man defile the temple of God, him shall God destroy; for the temple of God is holy, which temple ye are." 1 Corinthians 3:16, 17. (Education 34-36).

"In the cleansing of the temple, Jesus was announcing His mission as the Messiah, and entering upon His work. That temple, erected for the abode of the divine Presence, was designed to be an object lesson for Israel and for the world. From eternal ages it was God's purpose that every created being, from the bright and holy seraph to man, should be a temple for the indwelling of the Creator. Because of sin, humanity ceased to be a temple for God. Darkened and defiled by evil, the heart of man no longer revealed the glory of the Divine One. But by the incarnation of the Son of God, the purpose of Heaven is fulfilled. God dwells in humanity, and through saving grace the heart of man becomes again His temple. God designed that the temple at Jerusalem should be a continual witness to the high destiny open to every soul. But the Jews had not understood the significance of the building they regarded with so much pride. They did not yield themselves as holy temples for the Divine Spirit. The courts of the temple at Jerusalem, filled with the tumult of unholy traffic, represented all too truly the temple of the heart, defiled by the presence of sensual passion and unholy thoughts. In cleansing the temple from the world's buyers and sellers, Jesus announced His mission to cleanse the heart from the defilement of sin,--from the earthly desires, the selfish lusts, the evil habits, that corrupt the soul. "The Lord, whom ye seek, shall suddenly come to His temple, even the Messenger of the covenant, whom ye delight in: behold, He shall come, saith the Lord of hosts. But who may abide the day of His coming? and who shall stand when He appeareth? for He is like a refiner's fire, and like fullers' soap: and He shall sit as a refiner and purifier of silver: and

He shall purify the sons of Levi, and purge them as gold and silver." Mal. 3:1-3. (DA 161).

So what cleanses the sanctuary? Jesus, first in His own personal work, but then in each human who trusts Him.

- In fact, the law requires that nearly everything be cleansed with blood, and without the shedding of blood there is no forgiveness. Heb 9:22

What does this mean? Is it red corpuscles or is it symbolic? Of what is the blood symbolic? Here again from the same author as the quote from Friday:

- “In the study of the Bible the converted soul eats the flesh and drinks the blood of the Son of God, which He himself interprets as the receiving and doing of His words, that are spirit and life.” (Fundamentals of Christian Education 378).
- “The leaven of truth works a change in the whole man, making the coarse refined, the rough gentle, the selfish generous. By it [the truth] the impure are cleansed, washed in the blood of the Lamb.” (Christ’s Object Lessons 102).

But more questions remain to be answered?

- Why investigate records?
- Who needs to investigate?
- Is there anything God doesn’t know?
- Who was the one lied about?
- Who needs the truth to cleanse them from lies?
- Then who needs to investigate and what?

There was another text referring to the same event, the Daniel 7 text. “The Ancient of Days took his seat...The court was seated, and the books were opened.” (Daniel 7:9,10).

Whose books were opened? In the investigative judgment, when the books are opened and the investigation is going on, whose books are opened? Churches are tax-deductible organizations. They receive donations, which means they keep books: who donated, how the money is spent etc. If the church opens the books for outside examination, who is being examined the contributors or the church?

In heaven, when God opens the books, who is being examined, God or us? Why would God need to open His books and why would God need to open His books about us?

Imagine I present myself to your community and claim I have a cure for cancer and have cured 50 people of cancer. I tell you they are all cancer free. I even present 50 people and ask your medical experts to examine them to see if they can find any cancer and sure enough, not one has cancer. Would you now believe I have a cure for cancer if all were cancer free? How would you know if they ever had cancer to start with?

Conversely, if instead I bring out some medical records that document the presence of cancer, and then, as you review the records you see where a treatment was given and the record indicates the cancer is cured. But, I won't let you examine any patients, would you believe I have a cure for cancer?

Why is this analogy relevant? Because after Satan's original lies about God, which led others into sin, he had some new lies that needed to be dealt with as well. Again another quote from the same author from Friday:

“Many [angels] were disposed to heed this counsel, to repent of their disaffection, and seek to be again received into favor with the Father and His Son. But Lucifer had another deception ready. The mighty revolter now declared that the angels who had united with him had gone too far to return; that he was acquainted with the divine law, and knew that God would not forgive... PP 41

“So far as Satan himself was concerned, it was true that he had now gone too far to return. But not so with those who had been blinded by his deceptions. To them the counsel and entreaties of the loyal angels opened a door of hope; and had they heeded the warning, they might have broken away from the snare of Satan.” PP 41

So, not only were there the original lies about God, but when some of the angels who sided with Satan were warned and were considering returning to loyalty to God, Satan hit them with a new set of lies. Satan says, “Oh, no! God won't forgive. You can't return once you've chosen to rebel against God.”

Do you see how this second lie continues to infect Christianity today? God won't forgive—someone has to pay the penalty for sin. So, God is on trial, do you trust God, or not?

And thus, in Revelation Chapter 5 we have heavenly books that were sealed with seven seals and only Jesus the Lamb of God is worthy to open the book. And He opens the book for all to see its contents—and what is in the book? Who is examining the book sealed with 7 seals? Who wrote what is contained in the book? What time in human history did the book with seven seals begin to be opened?

Could this be the books that are opened to which Daniel 7 is referring, the Ancient of Days takes His seat and the court was seated and books were opened? This is the same event as Daniel 8:14, and Malachi 3—the investigating of the records—by whom? By those who believed lies and need their minds cleansed. Thus, the royal court of heaven sat and Jesus the worthy, opened the books.

The Bible doesn't say the books opened in Daniel 7 are legal records of sin, but the heavenly books. Revelation tells us of a sealed book that is opened in heaven at the end of time...could this be it?

And what is described in the book sealed before time began? The Great Controversy and God's solution for it along with the names of all the saved, the great multitude! Why? To reveal that God knows everything and yet His foreknowledge doesn't take our freedom, the book of God's foreknowledge matches exactly with the book of records recorded by the recording angels and God is exonerated as being Holy, Righteous, True and Trustworthy!

I encourage you to get The Remedy (it is free in the app store) and read Revelation chapters 5-11 with this idea in mind.

What about the idea that the records of our cases are there, our characters our names?

Imagine you have a child who has metastatic cancer, cancer all over their body. The doctors have told you the case is terminal; there is nothing that can be done. But you have heard of a doctor that no matter what disease the person has they always leave with a clean bill of health. So, you pack up your child. You gather all the medical records, the bone scans, biopsy reports, CT scans, MRI's, everything that documents the extent of the disease and you go to this doctor. Finally, you get your day with the doctor. You hand him the medical records documenting in great detail the extent of the cancer which is ravaging your child's body. Then the doctor takes the records and begins to remove all the pages documenting any record of disease and inserts clean blank sheets of paper. And when he has replaced the entire record with blank paper he hands it back and says, "There, no more record of disease. You go on home." Are you satisfied? If you have a doctrine that teaches Christ is in heaven cleansing record books without doing something in you, you are in trouble!

But what if you go to this doctor and he looks at the records documenting the cancer in your child, and then he goes and examines your child and begins to intervene in your child, what do you want to happen? You want the cancer to go into remission! "Without the shedding of blood there is no remission" (Hebrews 9:22). When cancer goes into remission the cancerous cells remit to their original, normal, healthy non-cancerous state. The cancer is gone. Without the shedding of blood we could not be remitted to our original sin-free state, to our original Christlikeness of character! Without the shedding of blood, without the truth being internalized, without the victorious life and self-sacrificing death of Christ we cannot be restored, we cannot be healed!

And so, the doctor treats your child and the medical records shows the disease, shows the damage caused by the disease, but also shows the treatment applied and the record now shows your child is cancer free! God has records in heaven showing our sickness of heart and mind and the damage sin has caused in us. And hopefully, His records are also showing that we are partaking of His remedy, His treatment, and the records are showing that the sickness of sin is being removed, the rich garments are being put on, the cancer of sin is going into remission, the character of Christ is being reproduced within, the law of God is being written on the heart!

Again from the same author as the quote from Friday:

"The cases of all are pending in the heavenly sanctuary. Day by day angels of God are watching the development of character... All defects must be remedied. The character must be assimilated to the character of Christ... At an infinite cost a fountain has been prepared for our cleansing. In the blood of the Son of God we may wash our garments of character, and make them white." (ST, April 17, 1901).

Do you see the incredible importance of the Sanctuary message? And how totally corrupted the message becomes when we replace God's design law with human imposed law!

SABBATH

Read memory verse: "Therefore God exalted him to the highest place and gave him the name that is above every name, that at the name of Jesus every knee should bow, in heaven and on earth and under the earth" Philippians 2:9,10

What name? Why is the name above every other name?

Rev 19:12 says: "His eyes are like blazing fire, and on his head are many crowns. He has a name written on him that no one knows but he himself."

Why?

Because He is infinite and name is about character and individuality and no other being can fully know the infinite Savior God.

SUNDAY

Read second paragraph, "God sent Christ..." What does it mean to condemn sin in the flesh?

Why was the death of Christ necessary?

Would the death of a sinless angel have been any help? Why or why not?

If a divine being could die, would the death of a divine being be of any benefit to our sin condition? No! why? Because the problem of sin is not a legal one and thus no being could die to pay a legal debt; such a payment would NOT resolve the sin problem, because the sin problem is a condition of being, not a legal one. The death of a divine being would have been truth to win us to trust, but would have still left us in a terminal condition.

A sinless human had to die while facing the infection of fear and selfishness in order for a human being to be freed from the infection of fear and selfishness. In other words, it was the only means to cure the human species from the infection of sin, while simultaneously revealing the truth to solidify loyal angels in their loyalty. No natural descendant of Adam could do this, so Christ joined His divinity with our humanity in order to remedy the sin problem.

MONDAY

John 1:29 reads: "Look, the Lamb of God, who takes away the sin of the world!"

Is there a difference in taking away the sin versus sins of the world?

Why did the lesson authors pluralize it to sins? Because they have the wrong law concept and don't see the sin problem as a condition of being that needs curing, but a behavior problem that needs punishing.

While God has desired to teach men that from His own love comes the Gift which reconciles them to Himself, the archenemy of mankind has endeavored to represent God as one who delights in their destruction. Thus the sacrifices and the ordinances designed of Heaven to reveal divine love have been perverted to serve as means whereby sinners have vainly hoped to propitiate, with gifts and good works, the wrath of an offended God. {PK 685.2}

Read first paragraph, "Christ is able..." What does it mean a permanent priesthood?

Does this mean we will need Christ to intercede for us for all eternity?

The lesson talks about Christ's intercessory role—with whom is Christ interceding?

Does Christ ever stop His intercessory role and remove His priestly garments? If so, why? And what does that mean for us?

The lesson says that God has the authority to forgive sins—when did God get that authority? Did God have that authority before Jesus died?

Third paragraph states, "After all, considering who it was who died on the cross, how could such an offering not be sufficient for every human being?"

What is implied here? What is being suggested? Why is it sufficient for every human being? Are they suggesting because of who died, meaning, because the divine Son of God died?

But in Sunday's lesson it states, "As an immortal Being, Christ could not die. Therefore, the Lord became a human, taking our mortality upon Himself so that He could die as our substitute...In a way known only to God, the divinity of Christ did not die when Jesus died on the cross."

Hmmm... so on the one hand they suggest because it was a divine being who died how could it not be sufficient for everyone. But on the other hand they say His divine self did not die.... Does anyone see any contradictions?

This is another example of the problem one gets into with the false imposed legal penal view. When one returns to design law one realizes that divinity never needed to die to save us, but divinity needed to be united with humanity in order to eradicate selfishness and heal us!

So what did He accomplish, according to Heb 5:8,9: “Although he was a son, he learned obedience from what he suffered⁹ and, once made perfect, he became the source of eternal salvation for all who obey him...”

Notice, He, as a human learned, and made Himself perfect by His choice to develop a perfect sinless character!

The law requires righteousness,—a righteous life, a perfect character; and this man has not to give. He cannot meet the claims of God's holy law. But Christ, coming to the earth as man, lived a holy life, and developed a perfect character. These He offers as a free gift to all who will receive them. His life stands for the life of men. Thus they have remission of sins that are past, through the forbearance of God. More than this, Christ imbues men with the attributes of God. He builds up the human character after the similitude of the divine character, a goodly fabric of spiritual strength and beauty. Thus the very righteousness of the law is fulfilled in the believer in Christ. God can "be just, and the justifier of him which believeth in Jesus." Romans 3:26. {DA 762.2}

WEDNESDAY

Read second paragraph, “Jesus is the forerunner...” What do you hear in this paragraph? What is the problem as it is presented?

The problem is an angry, punishing, sometimes called holy and just, God that is the source of legal infliction of pain, suffering and death, except Christ presents, in the Catholic view His sacrifice to pay for our sins so the Father will forgive us; and in the Protestant view present His merits to the Father to remind the Father that our sins were already paid for at the Cross and now we are legally applying them to our account so the Father pronounces us pardoned.

Both views fail to realize they have a pagan god who requires a payment be made to him in order not to punish and both views are part of Satan's lie.

Christ is not presenting His merits to the Father, but is before the Father carrying out the Father's purpose in reaching each of us with the healing remedy He has procured!

We are the ones who need to be pled with, not God; we are the ones who need convincing, who need truth, who need the righteousness of Jesus—God doesn't need these things—we do!

The Sanctuary & Feast Days: A Hidden End-Time Message

Talk 1: The OT Sanctuary: Decoding the Secret Meaning

Have you ever studied the Old Testament sanctuary and found yourself confused? Have you struggled to understand the meaning of all the various symbols and rituals? The OT sanctuary was a play, an acted out theatrical production directed by God for the purpose of revealing His plan to save humanity from sin. In this presentation we will decode the symbols of the sanctuary to reveal the reality of God's amazing plan to save humanity from sin.

Talk 2: The Day of Atonement and the Feast Days: God's Hidden Plan for Human History

Ancient Israel was instructed by God to celebrate annual feasts or festivals (holy-days, i.e. holidays) to which all the people were to participate. These festivals occurred in a certain order and were to be celebrated every year. Ancient Israel, in addition to being real historic people who did real events, were also God's people to reveal God, His kingdom, methods and plan for saving humanity from sin. In this presentation we will discover, God's plan for human history, hidden in the symbols of the ancient feasts.

Preparation for the End Time Lesson 6 1Q 2018

The “Change” of the Law

presenter: Tim Jennings (announcements at end)

SABBATH

Read memory text: “He will speak against the Most High and oppress His holy people and try to change the set times and the laws. The holy people will be delivered into his hands for a time, times and half a time” (Daniel 7:25 NIV)

What does this text mean?

Read the first paragraph, “Central to our understanding...” Do you agree or disagree? What do you hear?

Consider this quotation from the book The Great Controversy:

The last great conflict between truth and error is but the final struggle of the long-standing controversy concerning the law of God. Upon this battle we are now entering,—a battle between the laws of men and the precepts of Jehovah, between the religion of the Bible and the religion of fable and tradition. {GC88 582.2}

What kinds of laws do humans make? What kind of law does God make?

The conflict has always been over whether God is trustworthy, which goes directly to the type of law He wields. If God’s law is like human law—imposed rules, then God is a dictator, source of inflicted punishment, coercive and ultimately untrustworthy.

If God is love and His laws are design laws, then they are the protocols for life, health, happiness and only in harmony with them is life possible. In this view God is seeking to heal and restore sinners, not punish sin.

In heaven Satan began his war by alleging God’s law is merely imposed rules and that God is required to punish sin. This is the lie that has infected humanity, this is the change in the law that has occurred and to which Daniel 7:25 is referring. This is the lie that most Christians, including many in our own church, still embrace. This is the lie we are to reject.

Many of you remember this quotation from a book entitled The Desire of Ages:

In the opening of the great controversy, Satan had declared that the law of God could not be obeyed, that justice was inconsistent with mercy, and that, should the law be broken, it would be impossible for the sinner to be pardoned. Every sin must meet its punishment, urged Satan; and if God should remit the punishment of sin, He would not be a God of truth and justice. {DA 761.4}

What kind of law is Satan alleging God uses? The kind that requires God to inflict punishment—which is imposed, not design, law.

Notice this same problem throughout human history:

In Isaiah's day the spiritual understanding of mankind was dark through misapprehension of God. Long had Satan sought to lead men to look upon their Creator as the author of sin and suffering and death. [How could Satan get people to think God is the source of sin, suffering and death? If God's law is imposed, then from where does punishment and death come? From the judge who punishes.] Those whom he had thus deceived, imagined that God was hard and exacting. They regarded Him as watching to denounce and condemn, unwilling to receive the sinner so long as there was a legal excuse for not helping him. The law of love by which heaven is ruled had been misrepresented by the archdeceiver as a restriction upon men's happiness, a burdensome yoke from which they should be glad to escape. He declared that its precepts could not be obeyed and that the penalties of transgression were bestowed arbitrarily. PK 311

Two heroin addicts overdose on heroin, but before they lose consciousness they realize the dose they took was too much. They both have in their possession the antidote—naltrexone, which was given to them at no cost at the methadone clinic. One of the addicts injects himself with the antidote and lives, the other doesn't and dies. Was it an arbitrary punishment that one died and one did not? Do you see the lesson in the punishment sin brings?

In his restless youth the prodigal looked upon his father as stern and severe. How different his conception of him now! So those who are deceived by Satan look upon God as hard and exacting. They regard Him as watching to denounce and condemn, as unwilling to receive the sinner so long as there is a legal excuse for not helping him. His law they regard as a restriction upon men's happiness, a burdensome yoke from which they are glad to escape. But he whose eyes have been opened by the love of Christ will behold God as full of compassion. He does not appear as a tyrannical, relentless being, but as a father longing to embrace his repenting son. The sinner will exclaim with the Psalmist, "Like as a father pitieth his children, so the Lord pitieth them that fear Him." Psalm 103:13. COL 204

Both these quotes are stating that Satan's lie which keeps men in darkness is when we see God through imposed law, as the policeman in the sky who must watch for rule breaking and who must inflict punishment. We are to come back and see Him as Creator, and His laws as design laws upon which life is built!

Consider this quote:

It will be seen that the glory shining in the face of Jesus is the glory of self-sacrificing love. In the light from Calvary it will be seen that the law of self-renouncing love is the law of life for earth and heaven... {DA 19.2}

Why is the law of love the law of life? Because it is the protocol upon which life exists, and the proclamation, the education, the revelation of this reality is to be the message that lightens the world. Consider this quote:

I tell you, God is testing us now, just now. The whole earth is to be lightened with the glory of God. That light is shining now, and how hard it has been for proud hearts to accept of Jesus as their personal Saviour; how hard to get out of the rut of a legal religion; how hard for them to grasp the rich, free gift of Christ. Those who have not accepted this offering will not understand anything in regard to that light which fills the whole earth with its glory. Let every heart now seek the Lord. Let self be crucified, for rich and glorious blessings are awaiting all who shall maintain contrition of soul. With them Jesus can abide; they will let nothing interpose between their souls and God. Lt10-1892.25

This is quotation from theologian George Fiffield's book God is Love published in 1897:

God created all things by Jesus Christ, and therefore Christ is the "mighty God," the "everlasting Father" of all intelligent beings in all worlds. God the Father is the Father of Christ, and therefore through him of all these beings created by Christ...

Now the All-Father gave to his children certain rules or laws to regulate their conduct. These laws were not arbitrary, not designed to show his right or power to boss, or domineer, over his children, but, like the rules of well-regulated families, they were designed to promote the happiness of all the children, and the unity of the family life.

Although many might hesitate to express it thus, the thought that lingers in their minds is about like this: "God is arbitrary and obstinate, and will not permit the slightest variation from his laws without plunging us into eternal death." This is what Satan has ever said of God and of his government. I desire to show the contrary so that all may see. I desire to show that it is the variation itself that plunges us into eternal death, and not the arbitrary decree of God. It is the love of God that will not in any way countenance that variation, because it leads to such terrible results.

The law of God is not simply his fiat; it rests upon eternal principles of pleasure and pain, -- principles as unchangeable in their very nature as the laws that govern the seasons or control the motions of the planets. The law is not so simply because God said so, but he said so because it was so, and because it must eternally and universally be so.

On the correct understanding of these principles of the nature of God's law depends our power to comprehend God's love in all his dealings with his creatures. On this rests the whole philosophy of the purpose of creation and of the plan of redemption. The existence of misery and suffering, the need for an atonement, and how that atonement is accomplished by Christ, can be understood in the light of God's love only as the nature of his law stands revealed. It is for this reason that we purpose to dwell at some length in these pages on the nature of God's law.

We have always thought of the ten commandments as requiring our love to God and to all his creatures; have we ever thought of them as an expression of his love to us? It would be absolutely foolish to demand our love by arbitrary fiat; love cannot be given in that way; love is born only of love. The state might as well legislate that the sun should not shine or the water should not flow downhill, as for the Lord to make such arbitrary demands for love. In either case the law could not affect in the slightest the things legislated about.

Yet it remains true that all the law of God requires is love, and that, as the apostle says, love is the fulfilling of the law, -- of the whole law. How is this? -- Simply that the law itself, when we understand it, is the revelation of such infinite love as to beget within us a returning, responsive love that can and will fulfill the law.

"God is love." Every word, every jot and tittle, of that law, coming from love, require only such service as love dictates. When the same love which that law expresses to us is begotten by it in our hearts, and flows out toward God and all his creatures in loving action, then the law is fulfilled. (Fifield, God is Love, p53-55, Theodore Reese, 155 LaSalle Street, Chicago, in 1897)

Do you see again the contrast between imposed law and design law?

So the question in the conflict is over God's law: is it imposed rules like sinners make, or is it design law like only the Creator can make.

Once Christians became infected with the lie that God's law functions like human law, then the Roman church changed the commandments of God, deleting the commandment about images, splitting the 10th in two, and changing the Sabbath commandment to refer to Sunday instead of Saturday.

Sadly, many Christians have failed to see the real change, and instead focused on the evidence of the change only. The real change is not merely the two commandments, but the entire idea of God's law.

Thus, many people who have reclaimed the seventh-day Sabbath, are still infected with the lie that God's law functions like human law, imposed rules, and thus they worship a God like Satan alleges, only on the right Bible day. They are just like the Jews who crucified Christ—wanting Him off the Cross so they can observe the right day!

With this in mind, we can turn to the lesson and ask, where does the weekly Sabbath fit into this conflict over two types of law, and thus over two types of gods?

One of our online friends Dann Wyatt sent me a link to an online debate held March 30, 2018 between Doug Batchelor and Steve Gregg. The link is <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=S8fQtsV5Y4Y>

First, it is important to note that no argument was made over which day of the week is the Bible Sabbath—both Doug Batchelor and Steve Gregg acknowledged that Saturday is the Sabbath of the Bible. And all educated persons agree that the Sabbath of the Bible is Saturday. That is not the question people have. The question is what, if any, role does the Bible Sabbath have for people after the resurrection of Jesus?

I found it quite sad that Doug Batchelor was only able to articulate a level four reason for the Sabbath—the law, the rules. Steve Gregg on several occasions was reaching toward principles, God's love, God's concern with the quality of the character, the heart, not legal behavioral performance. Sadly, Mr. Batchelor was never able to articulate a design law reason, a principle basis, for the Sabbath.

What would you have said? What evidence would you put forth of the value and importance of the weekly Sabbath today?

Is the Sabbath important at this time in earth's history? Why? What difference does it make?

I am going to read a quotation, used by some to make themselves feel good about their behavior, and too often used to accuse or condemn people who worship on Sunday. But let's consider this quote carefully:

- The sign, or seal, of God is revealed in the observance of the seventh-day Sabbath, the Lord's memorial of creation. . . . The mark of the beast is the opposite of this--the observance of the first day of the week.--8T 117 (1904). {LDE 224.3}

What do you understand this statement to mean? What law lens to you read it through?

- Is the issue in our salvation, in our preparation to meet Jesus, in our being ready to translate into heaven without seeing death as simple as which day of the week a person worships upon?
- If a person absolutely insists on worshipping on the Bible Sabbath does that guarantee they won't get the mark of the beast?
- Those who crucified Christ 2000 years ago wanted Him off the Cross by sunset why? So they could keep the Sabbath – does that mean they had the seal of God?
- Does Satan care if a group of people worships on Sabbath as long as they worship him?

Here is another quote from the same person as the previous quote, consider it in light of what we have presented:

Be sure the Sabbath is a test question and how you treat this question places you either on God's side or Satan's side. The mark of the beast is to be presented in some shape to every institution and every individual.--Ms 6 1889, p. 6. (Written Nov. 4, 1889.) {3MR 189.2}

If God's law is not imposed rules but design protocols, then how is the Sabbath a test question? How is the mark of the beast to be presented in some shape to every institution...Is it which day merely, or is it what the day symbolizes, what the day signifies in regard to God, his character and method of governing?

What is a mark or sign?

A symbol that stands for or signifies something else:

- The sign of the cross stands for what?
- The goat's head symbolizes what?
- What is a flag? Is the US flag a sign or symbol of the USA? Is the flag the same as the United States of America?
- Could someone wear the US Flag and be working for another government?
- If someone wears a cross are they saved because it is the sign of our crucified Savior?
- If someone has a goat ornament hanging on their Xmas tree, does that mean they are condemned because a goat's head symbolizes Satan?
- If someone worships on Sabbath are they saved because it is a sign of God?
- If someone worships on Sunday does that mean they are lost?

So, the passages we read state that the Bible Sabbath, and its observance, is a sign or seal of God, whereas Sunday and its observance is a mark symbolizing the beast.

Even if we accept that the day upon which one worships can be a mark of loyalty to one side or the other, does that actually inform us of whom is on which side?

Question, are these days themselves the reality, or are they symbols, signs, marks of some deeper reality, just as a cross, goat's head or flag?

Is it possible the days mentioned are signs because they symbolize something that demarcates God's government from Satan's? Could they stand as signals, signets, of the mode of governing each side uses? Could these days, in their origin as days of worship, contain the very elements of the two types of governing – God's vs Satan's?

Here are some more quotes:

"Christ died to save sinners, not in their sins, but from their sins. [Imposed law constructs all teach that we are saved in our sins, from the legal penalty, but not saved from our sins, that we continue live sinfully until Christ returns. The truth is that God actually transforms us here and now and we stop living for self, and live loving God and others more than self] The warning given in Revelation shows us the terrible consequence of transgression. By lips that will not lie, God's law is declared to be holy, just, and good. Our duty to obey this law is to be the burden of the last message of mercy to the world.¹ God's law is not a new thing. It is not holiness created, but holiness made known. [Think about rules a parent has for handwashing, or exercise, or sleep etc. Those rules are not healthiness created, but healthiness made known.] It is a code of principles expressing mercy, goodness, and love. It presents to fallen humanity the character of God, and states plainly the whole duty of man. {RH, April 27, 1911 par. 4}

"Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength.' This command contains the principles of the first four precepts. And 'thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself.' Upon these two great principles, the Word of God declares, hang all the law and the prophets. {RH, April 27, 1911 par. 5}

"These principles are made known by the third angel's message, which declares that the Creator has always required and always will require obedience to his royal law. [Why does the Creator require obedience? Why does the Creator require we breathe? Because that is how life is built to operate. Remember the law is not holiness created but holiness made known. The commandments did not impose a law, but made the law known] But this law has been disregarded and transgressed, and is now being ignored by the churches. Human enactments are placed where God's law should be. [Imposed rules take the place of designed reality] Sunday, a child of the Papacy, has taken the place of God's holy Sabbath. As Nebuchadnezzar made a golden image, and set it up to be worshiped by all, so Sunday is placed before the people to be regarded as sacred. This day bears not a vestige of sanctity, yet it is held up to be honored by all. {RH, April 27, 1911 par. 6}

Understand it is not about worshipping on Sunday—get that clear, just like there is no wrong in worshipping on Wednesday night, or Tuesday or Thursday. It is what the Sunday, within the religious system represents!

And what is the implication of changing the Bible Sabbath to Sunday? What does this act mean in regard to how God and his government are understood? How can a church vote to change the day of worship? What must first happen concerning God's law?

¹ It is the darkness of misapprehension of God that is enshrouding the world. Men are losing their knowledge of His character. It has been misunderstood and misinterpreted. At this time a message from God is to be proclaimed, a message illuminating in its influence and saving in its power. His character is to be made known. Into the darkness of the world is to be shed the light of His glory, the light of His goodness, mercy, and truth... The last rays of merciful light, the last message of mercy to be given to the world, is a revelation of His character of love. The children of God are to manifest His glory. In their own life and character they are to reveal what the grace of God has done for them. {COL 415}

So what does it mean if an ecclesiastical board votes to change the Sabbath? That they believe God's law is imposed, and therefore believe God is like a Roman emperor or a cosmic dictator. And accepting this change in the law is the root to the beast system.

And this lie comes out in the rest of Christian doctrines, like God is required to punish; penal substitution theology; eternal burning hell; Jesus died to pay or legal debt; etc. etc.

So let's review – what makes the Sabbath holy?

- What significance is it that the Sabbath was “made” or created?
 - It is not “legislated” any more than any other aspect of God's creation. The earth was made, the animals were made, angels were made, mankind was made, and the Sabbath was made for man, not man for the Sabbath.
- What significance is it that the Sabbath was “made”?
 - When was the Sabbath made?
 - What was happening in the universe?
- What did God do? He RESTED – what does that mean?
 - If He RESTED what was God not doing? He was no longer prosecuting His war, His case. He wasn't pressing his agenda. He wasn't intimidating. He wasn't using his power to force his way!
- It is God's Sabbath – the day He rested, the day He revealed by action how He handles opposition, how He treats enemies, how He deals with allegations and rebellion. He gives us freedom!
- What does it reveal that God created the Sabbath in the context of an assault on his right to rule?
- The Sabbath was “made” as further evidence of God's character of love; truth presented in love leaving us free. The first six days of creation week we learn God has power, but the Sabbath reveals God does not coerce or pressure or threaten with His power, but leaves us free. The Sabbath is evidence of God's character of love, established upon the principles of truth, love and freedom.
- The Sabbath is evidence that Satan's allegations about God, that God imposes rules, that God imposes punishments, that God abuses power are all lies. This is why Satan hates the Sabbath, because rightly seen and understood it reveals Satan as a liar.
 - Satan hates the Sabbath in the same way Richard Nixon hated the Watergate tapes or Clinton hated Monica's dress. Nixon would have loved to destroy the tapes, and in fact tried. Clinton would have loved to destroy the dress. And Satan tries to destroy the Sabbath, to distort and twist the evidence into something it isn't. How? By replacing it or twisting it into an imposed law test.

Therefore, the Sabbath stands symbolic, as a sign, of those who value God's law of love, and practice his methods of presenting the truth in love and leaving others free.

Then what is the mark of the beast?

The time has come for the true light to shine amid moral darkness. The third angel's message has been sent forth to the world, warning men against receiving the mark of the beast or of his image in their foreheads or in their hands. To receive this mark means to come to the same decision as the beast has done, and to advocate the same ideas, in direct opposition to the word of God. {RH, July 13, 1897 par. 5}

What decisions did the beast make and what ideas did it advocate that are in direct opposition to the word of God?

That God's law is imposed, and as an imposed law it can be changed, amended, abrogated, altered, thus, under the imposed law construct Sabbath can be changed to Sunday. And, imposed laws require judicial proceedings, investigation, records, judgments, imposed punishments. Therefore, coercive pressure is used to punish law breakers and ensure obedience.

Thus the issue in the end, of which the two days stand as signs, is the issue of God's law of love, versus Satan's imposed law construct; God's rule of love versus Satan's rule of fear and selfishness; God's natural law versus worldly imposed laws. It comes down to the methods one practices and the two days are symbolic of two systems.

Here is another quote from the same founder who wrote the others we have read:

In striking contrast to the wrong and oppression so universally practised were the mission and work of Christ. Earthly kingdoms are established and upheld by physical force, but this was not to be the foundation of the Messiah's kingdom. In the establishment of his government no carnal weapons were to be used, no coercion practised; no attempt would be made to force the consciences of men. These are the principles used by the prince of darkness for the government of his kingdom. His agents are actively at work, seeking in their human independence to enact laws which are in direct contrast to Christ's mercy and loving-kindness. {RH, August 18, 1896 par. 2}

Prophecy has plainly stated the nature of Christ's kingdom. He planned a government which would use no force; his subjects would know no oppression. [no arrests, no detainments, no imposed punishments, no force] The symbols of earthly governments are wild beasts, but in the kingdom of Christ, men are called upon to behold, not a ferocious beast, but the Lamb of God. Not as a fierce tyrant did he come, but as the Son of man; not to conquer the nations by his iron power, but "to preach good tidings unto the meek;" "to bind up the broken-hearted, to proclaim liberty to the captives, and the opening of the prison to them that are bound;" "to comfort all that mourn." He came as the divine Restorer, bringing to oppressed and downtrodden humanity the rich and abundant grace of Heaven, that by the power of his righteousness, man, fallen and degraded though he was, might be a partaker of divinity. [which is healing and restorative, an expression of the law of love, the law life is built to operate upon] {RH, August 18, 1896 par. 3}

Those who promote a god who acts like a Roman emperor, who imposes law, who inflicts punishment, are actively promoting the system of the beast—even if they worship on the Bible Sabbath!

Here is the problem regarding days of worship, of which Sunday is a sign:

But when the decree shall go forth enforcing the counterfeit sabbath, and the loud cry of the third angel shall warn men against the worship of the beast and his image, the line will be clearly drawn between the false and the true. Then those who still continue in transgression will receive the mark of the beast.--Ev 234, 235 (1899). {LDE 225.4}

Notice it is not about Sunday, but the “enforcing” worship, about the use of arbitrary power to coerce, this is beastly. This is Satan’s way.

What is the mark of the beast? Imposed law ENFORCEMENT of worship!

SUNDAY

Read first paragraph, One of the greatest promises...” What does Romans 8:1 mean, “There is therefore now no condemnation to those....”

What law lens do you hear it through? Is this legal, God doesn’t legally condemn or does it mean something entirely different?

From The Remedy:

Therefore, those who trust in Christ Jesus are no longer destined to die,² because through Christ Jesus the law of love has cleansed and healed them from the law of selfishness and death.

Which is more accurate to God’s truth, there is no legal condemnation for those who accept the legal penalty of Jesus’ blood, or those who accept Jesus are healed and therefore are no longer condemned by a terminal condition?

Consider this quotation from a book entitled Conflict and Courage:

After the transgression of Adam, God might have destroyed every opening bud and blooming flower, or He might have taken away their fragrance, so grateful to the senses. In the earth seared and marred by the curse, in the briars, the thistles, the thorns, the tares, we may read the law of condemnation; but in the delicate color and perfume of the flowers, we may learn that God still loves us, that His mercy is not wholly withdrawn from the earth. {CC 19.6}

Just in case someone is tempted to think that this author is suggesting that God put the thorns there to condemn or punish, the same author wrote:

Christ never planted the seeds of death in the system. Satan planted these seeds when he tempted Adam to eat of the tree of knowledge which meant disobedience to God. Not one noxious plant was placed in the Lord's great garden, but after Adam and Eve sinned, poisonous herbs sprang up. In the parable of the sower the question was asked the master, "Didst not thou sow good seed in thy field? from whence then hath it tares?" The master answered, "An enemy hath done this" (Matthew 13:27, 28). All tares are sown by the evil one. Every noxious herb is of his sowing, and by his ingenious methods of amalgamation he has corrupted the earth with tares. {2SM 288.2}

So putting these ideas together, what is the condemnation? It is not legal, it is the condemnation that sin does by damaging the creation. Thus, those in Christ Jesus are not condemned because they have had the stony heart removed and a heart of flesh put in, they have had selfishness removed and love put in. This is design law!

Read Romans 7:15-25 from The Remedy:

I am frustrated with what I do! For having been restored to trust, I want to do what is in harmony with God and his methods and principles; but I find that even though I trust God, my old habits, conditioned responses, preconceived ideas and other remnants of the devastation caused by distrust and selfishness are not yet fully removed.¹⁶ And if I find an old habit causing me to behave in ways that I now find detestable, I affirm that the law is a very helpful tool revealing residual damage in need of healing.¹⁷ What is happening is this: I have come to trust God, and I desire to do his will, but old habits and conditioned responses—which present almost reflexively in certain situations—have not yet been totally eliminated and thus cause me to do things I do not want to do.¹⁸ I know that my mind was completely infected with distrust, fear and selfishness, which totally perverted all my desires and faculties, so that even when distrust has been eradicated and trust has been restored, the damage caused by years of distrustful and selfish behavior has not yet been fully healed. So, I find that at times, I have the desire to do what is right, but do not yet have the ability to carry out the desire.¹⁹ For the old habits and conditioned responses are not the good I want to do: No! They are remnants of my selfish, unconverted mind.²⁰ So, if I find myself doing what I no longer desire to do, it is not myself that acts, but the vestiges of old habits and conditioned responses that have yet to be removed. And through God's grace, they will soon be removed.

²¹So I find this reality at work: When I want to do good, my old selfish habits and residual feelings of fear are right there with me.²² In my mind, I rejoice in God's methods and principles,²³ but I recognize that I remain damaged from years of being infected with distrust and practicing Satan's methods, so that even though the infection of distrust has been removed, the old habits of fear and self-promotion tempt me from within.²⁴ What a damaged and corrupt man I am! Who will deliver and heal me from a brain and body so diseased and deformed?²⁵ Praise be to God—for he has provided the healing solution through Jesus Christ our Lord! So then, I find that in my mind I am now renewed with trust in God and love of his methods, but my brain and body remain damaged by years of self-indulgent behavior.

Do you see a legal battle? No, this is the process of healing and transformation.

MONDAY

The second paragraph states, “Two crucial points come from what Paul teaches here. First, he shows that the law is not the problem. The law is ‘holy, and just, and good.’ The problem is sin, which leads to death.”

This is well said—the question—why does sin lead to death? Two answers, based on two laws—in the imposed law, because God is required by justice to execute the wicked. This is the lie.

The truth—because sin is deviation from God’s design for life and results in death and the lesson indicates this in the last paragraph when it states, “The law does not produce death; sin does.”

That is correct, the law of respiration does not cause death, breaking the law by filling your lungs with water does.

WEDNESDAY

The lesson points out that after the death and resurrection of Christ the Sabbath was still observed by Christians. Any questions about this?

THURSDAY

The first paragraph states, “God’s law, the Ten Commandments, is still binding and that law includes the seventh-day Sabbath.”

What does it mean “Still binding?” Was the Sabbath in existence before the creation of earth? Did Lucifer in heaven lead the angels in breaking the Sabbath?

What does this mean?

The law of God existed before the creation of man or else Adam could not have sinned. After the transgression of Adam the principles of the law were not changed, but were definitely arranged and expressed to meet man in his fallen condition. Christ, in counsel with His Father, instituted the system of sacrificial offerings; that death, instead of being immediately visited upon the transgressor, should be transferred to a victim which should prefigure the great and perfect offering of the Son of God. {1SM 230.1}

Do we present God in His true light by emphasizing a legal understanding of the Sabbath?

Preparation for the End Time 2018 Q2 Lesson 7

Matthew 24 and 25

presenter: Dr. Wendell Moses

“Moses said to them, “This is the food that the Lord has given you to eat. The Lord has commanded that each of you is to gather as much of it as he needs, two quarts for each member of his household.”

“The Israelites did this, some gathering more, others less. When they measured it, those who gathered much did not have too much, and those who gathered less did not have too little. Each had gathered just what he needed.” Exodus 16:15-18 (GNT)

Memory Text: “For false messiahs and false prophets will appear and perform great signs and wonders to deceive, if possible, even the elect” Matthew 24:24 NIV

SABBATH

Christ tells what is going to happen in the future

- He answered the question

He gave additional parables of the end times and His second coming.

- If heeded, the parables would prepare his followers for whatever they were to face: The destruction of Jerusalem and the temple for his first century followers and for His coming for his end of the age believers.

SUNDAY

A Powerful Confirmation of Prophecy

Text of the day: Matthew 24:1 - 25

“Christ is concerned with deceptions that will confuse His people through the ages and into the end time.”

Why? Because he is concerned for His children, both for those who believe and trust in Him and for those who are confused and diverted by sin.

Third paragraph: We have seen . . .

- Have you seen a false Christ?
- Have you been tempted to believe a false Christ?
- What is a false Christ?

Christ - anointed one

Christ was the “anointed one”

Who else is anointed?

Anointed by whom?
Anointed for what purpose?
what will help us determine if the anointed one is “false”?
the type of ceremony?
the one who anoints?
the qualifications of the one anointed?
The qualifications of the one doing the anointing?
Does it help if there are “manifestations” that verify the anointing?
what would qualify the process as being genuine?
If you had Christ do the anointing?

Judas, Simon Magus

What are the dangers that I/we face when we think we have not seen such?

What are the characteristics of a false Christ that will tip you off to the lie/deception/etc?

Is the location of the person’s feet have anything to do with your confidence?

If Lucifer is the smartest created being in the universe, do you think his trick / temptation / false ideas will have much to do with where his feet are when you see him?

Christ said (Matthew 24:24 GNT “For false Messiahs and false prophets will appear; they will perform great miracles and wonders in order to deceive even God's chosen people, if possible.”

What are the characteristics you are looking for to make a decision?

- Bible based
- If they are quoting scripture, are they to be trusted?
- No coercion
- Other centered love
- manner of coming
- goals
- Any others? (Galatians 1:8, 9)

How are these above counterfeited?

How can you prepare for determining the counterfeit?

- concentrate on the original
- practice discerning the originals attributes

It does not help to concentrate on a phony if that is not the phony we are going to be given to examine

- the Maginot line
- Evan’s mustache clip
- my father’s whistle: then and now

Devil diversions

- Red devil with a forked tail
- Christ temptations in the wilderness
- Devil as an angel of light and assistance

It is by spending time with our heavenly Father that we will recognize His voice, His ways, His character

At the bottom of the page read Matthew 24:25 “What can we take away from this that should help us in our faith?”

- “Listen! I have told you this ahead of time.” Matthew 24:25
- Why did Christ tell us this as He did?
- To some it sounds like “I told you so!”
- Others: “Now you are responsible since you have been told.”
- Christ’s last discussion with His disciples before He left the upper room and last supper:
 - John 14:15 - 31 He speaks of the coming of the Holy Spirit and the help that we would receive from His presence.
 - In this discourse Christ speaks a lot about obedience and love. He also speaks about the Holy Spirit’s functions.

“I have told you this now before it all happens, so that when it does happen, you will believe.”
John 14:29

- What are we to believe?
- The Greek word means believe or to entrust in someone.
- Amplified Bible “And now I have told you [this] before it occurs, so that when it does take place you may believe and have faith in and rely on Me.

MONDAY

Enduring to the End

"Then you will be arrested and handed over to be punished and be put to death. Everyone will hate you because of me. Matthew 24:9 (GNT with Deuterocanon)

The second beast was allowed to breathe life into the image of the first beast, so that the image could talk and put to death all those who would not worship it. Revelation 13:15 (GNT with Deuterocanon)

Read the first paragraph: “Christ’s concern . . .”

- Is Christ really concerned for a global deception?
- Isn’t really Christ concerned for His children in whatever state of comprehension they are in?

- God's children in the end times will not face anything that His children haven't faced before.
- Christ is concerned that I am ready for what may happen to me. How am I ready?

By placing my trust in Him

"Trust in the Lord with all your heart. Never rely on what you think you know. Remember the Lord in everything you do, and he will show you the right way." Proverbs 3:5 (GNT)

He doesn't tell us the bad things about the future to make us worry or fret.

- He knows the future and we are to put our trust in Him.
- This will take endurance.

How do you increase your endurance?

- Running
- Swimming
- Reading
- Praying
- Walking with Him

Texts for endurance

Revelation 1:9 (GNT) "I am John, your brother, and as a follower of Jesus I am your partner in patiently enduring the suffering that comes to those who belong to his Kingdom. I was put on the island of Patmos because I had proclaimed God's word and the truth that Jesus revealed."

Revelation 13:10 (GNT) "Whoever is meant to be captured will surely be captured; whoever is meant to be killed by the sword will surely be killed by the sword. This calls for endurance and faith on the part of God's people."

Revelation 14:12 - one of the church's favorite passages is about the terrible things that the wicked will be experiencing around the righteous. The witnessing of this wickedness is what is prompting the need for endurance on the part of God's children.

Matthew 7:24 - 27 the builder of the house upon the rock. Read the last paragraph: "As important as it is to be grounded. . ." Then read the colored section at the bottom.

If this is true, why is it true? This is natural law

Like learning a foreign language; you have to use it to make it part of your brain pathways. It is only by practice that your life skills in righteousness will become automatic.

TUESDAY

The “Abomination of Desolation”

The “terrible horror” The “horror that destroys”

If the “dreadful desecration” set up in the Holy Place was in Christ’s time.

- What is it to be now?
- How does our current understanding match with our understanding of the temple?

WEDNESDAY

The Ten Virgins

Matthew 25:1 – 13 Thoughts about the parable

- It is about Christians
- All of the Christians slept
- They thought there was a delay in the Lord’s (bridegroom) coming
- The difference between the wise and the foolish: the amount of oil they had prepared in advance
- Oil is referred to the Holy Spirit

Do we buy it? How? Do we store it? How?

- The bridegroom’s coming was a surprise (in timing) to both groups

Both groups were wanting Him to come. Both groups “went out to meet Him”

Read the seventh paragraph (quote from Christ’s Object Lessons pg 411) “The spirit works . . .”

Does this sound like an arbitrary condition or a result of natural processes?

THURSDAY

Using Your Talents

Matthew 25:13 – 30 Parable of the talents

Thoughts regarding the parable

- All the servants received a responsibility
- The difference is in what each servant did with the given responsibility

Questions:

- Was the character of the “master” different toward each servant?
- Was the perception of the master different between each servant?
- Who was accurate about the master’s character?

- Did the “lazy” servant ever agree in principle the dealings of the master to him?

Will the wicked ever see the Lord as being righteous?

Every knee will bow, but will it be an acknowledgement of righteousness or power?

Is it the use of power that will be their ultimate destruction?

The single talent servant:

- Didn't use / utilize to the benefit of the landowner his goods
- Did he waste the resource?

Can we give to others our talent/responsibility?

- What does it mean that he could have taken the talent to the bank?
- Could the servant have taken the talent to the bank? (What is the alternative to what he did with the talent / resource?)

FRIDAY

Further Thoughts

Read the final paragraph from Christ's Object Lessons pp 355, 356 at top of page. "He that is faithful in that which is least"

Salvation and Preparation for the End Time Lesson 8 2Q 2018

Worship the Creator

presented by Tim Jennings (announcements at end)

Kent Johnson, an online listener, sent in the following email this week:

It's amazing how much I come across the non legal way of looking at salvation now that I've learned to see God's law with new lenses. Thank you again for providing this understanding. Such a neat quote below.

"Whoso is wise, and will observe these things, even they shall understand the loving - kindness of the Lord." God's healing power runs all through nature. If a tree is cut, if a human being is wounded or breaks a bone, nature begins at once to repair the injury. Even before the need exists, the healing agencies are in readiness; and as soon as a part is wounded, every energy is bent to the work of restoration. So it is in the spiritual realm. Before sin created the need, God had provided the remedy. Every soul that yields to temptation is wounded, bruised, by the adversary; but whenever there is sin, there is the Saviour. It is Christ's work "to heal the brokenhearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, ... to set at liberty them that are bruised." Luke 4:18. Ed 113.1

In this work we are to co - operate. "If a man be overtaken in a fault, ... restore such an one." Galatians 6:1. The word here translated "restore" means to put in joint, as a dislocated bone. How suggestive the figure! He who falls into error or sin is thrown out of relation to everything about him. He may realize his error, and be filled with remorse; but he cannot recover himself. He is in confusion and perplexity, worsted and helpless. He is to be reclaimed, healed, re - established. "Ye which are spiritual, restore such an one." Only the love that flows from the heart of Christ can heal. Only he in whom that love flows, even as the sap in the tree or the blood in the body, can restore the wounded soul. Ed 113.2

Love's agencies have wonderful power, for they are divine. The soft answer that "turneth away wrath," the love that "suffereth long, and is kind," the charity that "covereth a multitude of sins" (Proverbs 15:1; 1 Corinthians 13:4, R.V.; 1 Peter 4:8, R.V.) - would we learn the lesson, with what power for healing would our lives be gifted! How life would be transformed, and the earth become a very likeness and foretaste of heaven!" Ed 114.1

Wow—wasn't that a powerful quote? This is the truth about God's law, it is design law, and we as a Christian people will never fulfill God's plan until we reject the imposed law lie and return to worship our Creator God!

SABBATH

Read first paragraph, “As Seventh-day Adventist Christians...” Are SDAs the only ones who believe in the concept of present truth, that truth unfolds over time?

And if Christians of any group believe this, how would it manifest? Would it manifest by doggedly defending ideas that are centuries old when better insights and understandings present, or leaving old ideas behind when truth presents?

Let’s give an example of truth for a time that is no longer truth today and in fact if clung to today obstructs the truth for this time:

- Historically, the Roman Church had come to a point in history where they held people hostage to the authority of the church institution. Salvation was dependent not upon a trust relationship with Jesus Christ alone, but a combination of faith in Jesus and works controlled by the church to include penance, baptism, mass, and indulgences. Further, salvation could be obtained through purging of the wickedness after death in a place called purgatory. A living person could help a loved one out of purgatory by purchasing a pass from the church to accomplish this.
- Martin Luther wanted to remove the power of the church to hold people hostage with the false teaching about purgatory, so in his theology he developed the idea of penal substitution—the idea that all sins were placed upon Christ and punished in Christ thus when a person accepts Christ there is nothing left to punish or purge as it was already done in Christ. The sinner needs only the legal application of Christ to their heavenly record.

This was a powerful idea which helped millions break free from the falsehood of purgatory and the power of the institutional church to send souls to heaven or hell. The truth that Luther presented was that Salvation is found in Jesus not in a church institution, but is his theory of how it mechanically worked, the penal view truth for today? No! Why?

Because penal substitution theology is based upon the lie that God’s law functions like human law—imposed rules requiring imposed penalties. Martin Luther, coming from such deeply seated distortions, falsehood, darkness was not capable of comprehending and correcting all the errors. He corrected many, but left man uncorrected—the biggest the imposed law construct.

As the lesson says in the second paragraph, the message for this time is the 3 angel’s messages which is the message to worship the Creator—which requires we reject the imposed law, embrace design law and reject the false theologies based on imposed law, including penal substitution theology.

This week I was reading in the book Prophets and Kings and came across this:

There is no such thing as weakening or strengthening the law of Jehovah. As it has been, so it is. It always has been, and always will be, holy, just, and good, complete in itself. It cannot be repealed or changed. [what kind of law is this? It is design law] To "honor" or "dishonor" it is but the speech of men. {PK 625.1}

Between the laws of men and the precepts of Jehovah will come the last great conflict of the controversy between truth and error. [What kind of laws do men enact? Imposed law, but God's law is design law. The final conflict will be over this issue, and upon what type of law does penal substitution theology rest? Imposed law! It is a lie that has infected Christianity and God is waiting for a people to cast it off] Upon this battle we are now entering--a battle not between rival churches contending for the supremacy, but between the religion of the Bible and the religions of fable and tradition...[We are not in a battle between rival churches? How much of SDA eschatology has pitted the SDA church against the Roman and other Sunday keeping churches? Such a construct is a lie, we are not battling against other churches, but against the pagan god constructs that operate upon imposed law, inflict imposed punishments and require propitiation with a human sacrifice. We are to come back and worship Him who made the heavens...Why does it seem the SDA church battles against other churches? Because the SDA church, which I love, has been infected with the same imposed lie as all the other churches, and having accepted that lie about the law many in leadership in the SDA church don't see the true gospel and therefore focus on the doctrinal differences between church groups.] {PK 625.2}

What is fable? A story not founded in fact—the idea that God's law functions like human law then is a fable—a story not founded in fact; humanity has accepted that fable and we are called to present to truth to set people free!

SUNDAY

The title The Universality of the Gospel: What is the gospel? How would you define the good news?

Why is the idea that Jesus died for our sins NOT the universal gospel?

- Is the gospel only for humans or for all beings in the universe?
 - “But I, when I am lifted up from the earth, will draw all to myself.” John 12:32
 - The gospel is for all beings in the universe, not just humans. Did Angels in heaven need Jesus to die for their sins?
 - “For God was pleased to have all his fullness dwell in him, and through him to reconcile to himself all things, whether things on earth or things in heaven, by making peace through his blood, shed on the cross.” Col 1:19,20
 - Was something about what Christ accomplished at the cross necessary for the angels in heaven? Yes—was it that they needed Him to die for their sins? No! So, the idea that the universal gospel is Jesus dying for our sins is incorrect. A correct way to say it would be: Jesus dying for our sins is an expression or outworking or manifestation or revelation or consequence or evidence of the gospel.

- Did Jesus' death on the cross pay for the sins of Satan?
- If the gospel is universal—for all beings, but the death of Christ on the cross was not to save Satan then the death of Christ on the cross for our sin problem is not the universal gospel, but an acting out of, or result of, or expression of the universal gospel.
- Another way to say it is: was there no gospel before sin? Or is the good news an eternal gospel, true in eternity past?

Consider this commentator's view on what was Satan's opportunity for salvation, what do you think? And what are the implications?

God in His great mercy bore long with Lucifer. He was not immediately degraded from his exalted station when he first indulged the spirit of discontent, nor even when he began to present his false claims before the loyal angels. [What are false claims? Would it be bearing false witness about God and Jesus to the angels? Attempts to incite rebellion? Is this sin?] Long was he retained in heaven. Again and again he was offered pardon on condition of repentance and submission. [If he was offered pardon on condition of repentance wouldn't that mean he had sinned and needed both pardon and repentance? But in this account where is the blood payment of a sinless sacrifice?] Such efforts as only infinite love and wisdom could devise were made to convince him of his error. The spirit of discontent had never before been known in heaven. Lucifer himself did not at first see whither he was drifting; he did not understand the real nature of his feelings. But as his dissatisfaction was proved to be without cause, Lucifer was convinced that he was in the wrong, that the divine claims were just, and that he ought to acknowledge them as such before all heaven. Had he done this, he might have saved himself and many angels. He had not at this time fully cast off his allegiance to God. Though he had forsaken his position as covering cherub, yet if he had been willing to return to God, acknowledging the Creator's wisdom, and satisfied to fill the place appointed him in God's great plan, he would have been reinstated in his office. But pride forbade him to submit. He persistently defended his own course, maintained that he had no need of repentance, and fully committed himself, in the great controversy, against his Maker. {GC 495.3}

Was there good news, a gospel, in that description? What was the gospel or good news described? Was it not the same eternal good news as is manifested in the Cross—the good news about God's character of love?

According to this view, was the death of Christ necessary for the reinstatement of Satan? Why not—he had already borne false witness, which is breaking God's law, why was a death penalty not necessary for his sin?

Because sin has never been a legal issue, sin does not need to be punished, that is Satan's lie, sin is deviation from design law, which results in a terminal condition that needs to be cured, healed—the sinfulness needs to be removed.

So, how was it Satan could have been restored without the death of Christ but humanity could not, if you believe this view?

The same author has a rational:

But even as a sinner, man was in a different position from that of Satan. Lucifer in heaven had sinned in the light of God's glory. To him as to no other created being was given a revelation of God's love. Understanding the character of God, knowing His goodness, Satan chose to follow his own selfish, independent will. This choice was final. There was no more that God could do to save him. But man was deceived; his mind was darkened by Satan's sophistry. The height and depth of the love of God he did not know. For him there was hope in a knowledge of God's love. By beholding His character he might be drawn back to God. {DA 761.5}

What was the difference? What then was necessary for human beings to be saved?

Why did Christ have to die for human beings? Two reasons—to reveal the truth and to cure the condition.

Why could Lucifer have returned without that? Because, Lucifer was not born with a corrupted or fallen nature and at the point that he was offered pardon he had not fully hardened himself beyond restoration and if he would have humbled himself, rejected the lies, embraced the truth it would have been healing to him. But no human being after Adam sinned had the ability to discern the truth nor choose it, nor overcome the internal corruption with which we are born, thus Christ had to do it for us.

So, with this in mind, what is the gospel—the eternal gospel, the gospel that has always been true in eternity past and eternity future?

The truth about God, His character and methods of love!

And the imposed law with its penal substitution theology opposes the good news, presents a false gospel and puts barriers between people and God.

The first paragraph states, “In a sense, one can say that the first angel’s message is the Great Commission (Matt. 28:19) given now in the context of the last days.

Let’s compare the Great Commission and the First Angel’s Message:

Therefore go and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, ²⁰ and teaching them to obey everything I have commanded you. And surely I am with you always, to the very end of the age.” Mt 28:19,20

Revelation 14:7:

“Fear God and give him glory, because the hour of his judgment has come. Worship him who made the heavens, the earth, the sea and the springs of water.”

How is the message of the first angel the gospel commission? It again goes back to whether we are presenting the truth of God or fables and tradition. If we present the fable that God’s law is like human law then we are not presenting the gospel—the first angel’s message is instead a message of bad news—that God the ruling authority is examining records and if you don’t have both the legal payment of Jesus to pay for your past sins AND observe the right religious observances then God, when Jesus ceases His intercessions will see all your remaining sins and inflict just pain, suffering, torture and ultimate death upon you.

But, when we come to the truth about God’s law as design law, we reject the pagan fables that have corrupted the gospel and realize that we are to give God glory by revealing His character and methods in how we live because the time has finally come in human history for people to make a right judgment about God and stop worshipping the dictator and instead worship Him who made the heavens, earth, sea...

Mt 28:19,20 from The Remedy:

So go and spread the Remedy to the entire world: Teach the people of every nation, immersing their hearts and minds into the character and methods of the Father and of the Son and the Holy Spirit,²⁰ and teach them to live in harmony with the law of love-the design protocols upon which life is built-exactly as I have instructed you. And you can be sure that I am always with you—all the way, right through to the very end of time."

Read third paragraph, “The universality...” What is the emphasis? “have done wrong”...which implies or reveals what?

Does all have sinned mean all are in legal trouble?

Does “all have sinned and are fallen short of the glory of God?” mean they are short of the glory of God because they have sinned, or that they have sinned because they are short of the glory of God?

Is it the sins, the bad deeds that causes one to be short of the glory of God, or is it the character, the condition of the heart?

David wrote in Psalms 51:5: “I have been evil from the day I was born; from the time I was conceived, I have been sinful.” GNT

Was he short of the glory of God at birth? Had the baby David done a sin to cause him to be short of the glory of God?

Are humans and the nations short of the glory of God because we have done wrong, or do we do wrong because we are short of the glory of God?

The sins, the bad deeds, the wrongs are symptoms of a condition with which we were born because of Adam and Eve. This condition is a terminal condition and results in death, but BEFORE we die of this condition we suffer with symptoms, those symptoms are both internal and external. Internal symptoms include fear, guilt, shame, lust, selfishness. External symptoms include the bad behaviors, what we call sins.

The problem with the false legal view is that sin is considered to be the bad deeds and the bad deeds need punishing, which obstructs the internal condition being cleansed and healed. People claim legal salvation for their sins but don't experience renewal of heart in order to actual live in God's presence.

The last paragraph has it right, Jesus is our remedy to the sin problem!

MONDAY

The lesson asks us to review the account of the thief on the cross who put his trust in Jesus and asks "How does this story reveal the great hope of the 'everlasting gospel' for all sinners?"

What was the gospel the thief had presented to him?

Did the thief have someone say to him, "If you accept Jesus as your personal Savior all your sins will be placed on Him and right now He will be punished by God for your sins and God will accept that payment and then God won't torture you in hell for all eternity—because God loves you?"

No! This was not what the thief saw—what gospel did the thief see?

He saw the crowd mocking Jesus. He saw the religious leaders reject Him, taunt Him, crucify Him. And he saw Jesus, love His enemies, forgive His abusers, be kind, think about others, and was any of this the gospel, the good news that won the thief?

I like the question the lesson asks, "Did Jesus, in any way, bring up the thief's past mistakes?"

Did Jesus say, "Have you repented of every sin you ever committed?" Or "Did you ask for the payment of my blood to be applied your account in heaven so my Father can legally pardon you?"

Read last two paragraphs, "No. Instead, Jesus..." What are they saying the gospel is?

Is the gospel that we can be forgiven of our sins, or does the gospel result in our being forgiven of our sins?

What leads us to repentance according to Scripture?

do you show contempt for the riches of his kindness, tolerance and patience, not realizing that God's kindness leads you toward repentance? Rom 2:4 NIV84

If the kindness of God leads us to repentance, if knowing God is eternal life (Jn17:3), then what would Satan want to do? Would Satan want us to see God as kind? So what ideas might Satan want taught in Christianity? How about that God, in order to be just, must punish sin? That God is the source of inflicted torture and death upon those who won't repent? Does this show God to be kind? And if we don't know God, if we don't experience God's kindness then the method God uses to lead us to repentance is obstructed!

TUESDAY

The lesson is about the first angel's message and fearing God and giving Him glory, read third paragraph, "In the verses above..." thoughts?

The lesson states: "Who hasn't at moments faced the startling realization of the evil of their deeds and what they would deserve at the hands of a just and righteous God for those deeds? This is the fear of God."

Is this the gospel or is this the lie, the false gospel, the distortion of Satan that infects Christianity and prevents the true gospel from lighting the world?

Where is the emphasis—is it that we should be afraid of sin, or afraid of God who will do terrible things to you because of sin?

The Bible says that perfect love casts out all fear, how is it that if we have perfect love we will fear cast out, yet the lesson tells us that we are to be afraid of God?

What kind of fear does perfect love cast out?

Does love cast out awe, admiration, respect? No! Does love cast out terror, dread, fearfulness? Yes!

Thus, the lie of Satan is that we should be afraid of God because God gives rules and then is the source of uncompromising punishment—so be terrified of Him. This lie undermines trust!

Consider these quotations—something the SDA church taught in its inception, but which seems to contradict what we just read in the lesson:

From the beginning it has been Satan's studied plan to cause men to forget God, that he might secure them to himself. Hence he has sought to misrepresent the character of God, to lead men to cherish a false conception of Him. The Creator has been presented to their minds as clothed with the attributes of the prince of evil himself,—as arbitrary, severe, and unforgiving,—that He might be feared, shunned, and even hated by men. Satan hoped to so confuse the minds of those whom he had deceived that they would put God out of their knowledge. Then he would obliterate the divine image in man and impress his own likeness upon the soul; he would imbue men with his own spirit and make them captives according to his will. {5T 738.1}

According to this view it is Satan's goal to instill in our minds ideas that would cause of to be afraid of God—did we hear something similar in the lesson? And what is that evidence of? The infection of imposed law operating in the minds of people!

How can Satan get people to teach lies about God yet have them believe they are on God's side? By getting them to accept the lie about the law, once that happens, then in their worldview it is only right and just for God to enforce His law and thus God becomes the one from whom we need protection.

Consider this quote:

The law of Jehovah was burdened with needless exactions and traditions, and God was represented as severe, exacting, revengeful, and arbitrary. [Consider the meaning, the law was burdened with needless exactions, what kind of law can we do that to? Imposed law!] He was pictured as one who could take pleasure in the sufferings of his creatures. The very attributes that belonged to the character of Satan, the evil one represented as belonging to the character of God. Jesus came to teach men of the Father, to correctly represent him before the fallen children of earth. Angels could not fully portray the character of God, but Christ, who was a living impersonation of God, could not fail to accomplish the work. The only way in which he could set and keep men right was to make himself visible and familiar to their eyes. [What is setting men right called in theological jargon? Justification, what is keeping men right? Sanctification—and according to this author what is the only way to do that? By a legal payment? No! By a revelation of the truth about God, why? Because what sets us wrong? Believing lies about God! {ST, January 20, 1890}

The truth is that sin kills, not God. God is the source of life and only and always seeks to heal and restore those who will let Him. We have nothing to fear from God, we should fear unremedied sin in our lives!

Does it make a difference in obeying God as to what level of development we are?

Could a person at one level of development, think they are obeying God, and in the very act that they believe is obeying God they are actually misrepresenting God?

- Why was David not permitted to build the Temple? Because he had killed so many people—Did David's killing of enemies represent God in the best light? But who empowered him to succeed in his many acts of violence?
- Why did Saul of Tarsus seek to persecute those who accepted Jesus? Was Saul doing this because Saul was seeking to obey or disobey God? Did Saul's actions in doing this bring glory to God?

So, is it sufficient to suggest that we give God glory by obeying Him and then tie various behaviors to our obedience things like:

- A dress code?
- A dietary code?
- Some ritual observance, baptism in a certain way, foot washing?
- Worship in a certain way—pray so many times per day facing a certain direction or going to church on a certain day?

Is this what it means to glorify God?

Did Rahab bring glory to God? When, by doing what? She is in the hall of faith...what did she do? Behaviorally, she lied, she deceived, but characterologically she sacrificed self, she put self in harm's way to protect others. Did her actions glorify God?

What does it mean to give God glory to observe certain codes or rituals, or to have the character of Christ reproduced within such that we love God and others more than self and thus live in harmony with God's design laws?

Could living in harmony with God's design laws mean that we might break some religious codes or rules, like David did when he ate the show bread, or Jesus did when He healed on Sabbath and instructed people do things that, in that culture, were considered working on Sabbath?

WEDNESDAY

What is being referred to by the hour of His judgment has come? What law lens do you view the three angel's messages through?

Read first paragraph, "In the first angel's..." Notice again the lesson is putting ideas in the minds of people that the problem is not sinfulness, not the condition which injures us, damages us, and separates us from God—no, that isn't the problem. The problem is God and what He will do to you for the sin.

The lesson states, "No wonder people need to fear God." How horrible! This is a lie—we do NOT need to fear God. God is our friend. God is our Creator. God is our comforter. God is our counselor. God is our Savior. God is our tender Father. "If God is for us who can be against us."

But the lesson posits that God is against us. That God is the enemy from whom we need to fear and be protected. This is Satan's goal to infect our minds with ideas that God will hurt us if something isn't done to God.

Don't think this is a problem only in the SDA church—it is Christianity wide. I was listening to Christian radio last week and heard a preacher from a local non-SDA church saying all these same types of things.

Read second paragraph, “And that’s why the...” What are they saying? Why won’t we face the penalty and punishment that we deserve for our sin and lawbreaking?

What law lens?

The imposed law posits that it is because all the sins were placed on Jesus and God punished Jesus for those sins and the saved have accepted the legal payment for their sins and thus the record has been erased from the books.

The design law view realizes that in accepting Jesus we open our hearts in trust and He writes His law, (design law) into our inmost being and we are healed, renewed, reborn, transformed, recreated with new character and thus sin is purged from us and we don’t suffer the penalty and punishment from sin because we are cured from it.

Read third paragraph, “The God who knows...” What does this mean? Through what law lens to you understand it?

Does God’s judgment of the world mean judicial or diagnostic?

Ephraim is tied to his idols, let him go...is this a judgment?

How does Christ’s righteousness get us through the judgment?

There are two theories—one which covers, hides, obscures truth and the other which reveals truth.

The legal view is a view of lies, deceit, and distortion. It states that the righteousness of Christ covers our wickedness, we are still unrighteous but the Father can no longer see our unrighteousness because Jesus righteousness covers us. Notice the deception, the lie, the obscuring of truth.

This is Satan’s methods being applied to God. God is truth and His methods always bring truth to light. Thus, we never find methods of distortion or deceit in God’s plan.

Here is one view of the covering of Christ’s robe of righteousness, notice in this view there is no deceit, no covering over, no obscuring of reality:

This robe, woven in the loom of heaven, has in it not one thread of human devising. Christ in His humanity wrought out a perfect character, and this character He offers to impart to us.... By His perfect obedience He has made it possible for every human being to obey God's commandments. When we submit ourselves to Christ, the heart is united with His heart, the will is merged in His will, the mind becomes one with His mind, the thoughts are brought into captivity to Him; we live His life. This is what it means to be clothed with the garment of His righteousness. Then as the Lord looks upon us He sees, not the fig-

leaf garment, not the nakedness and deformity of sin, but His own robe of righteousness, which is perfect obedience to the law of Jehovah. {COL 311.4}

This is the reality—the healing of the inner person, the partaking of the divine nature, the design law of God being restored within the believer.

The legal lie, the penal view, distorts God's character, insights fear of God, leads people to distrust God and creates theologies designed to hide us from Him which ultimately uses Satan's methods of distortion, deceit, coercion, and punishment.

Read last paragraph, "Man cannot meet these charges..." What does this mean? What law lens are you reading this through?

Who is the accuser? Who listens to Satan's allegations? All heaven says, "The Lord rebuke you Satan" no one in heaven listens to Satan.

When Satan alleges our sins are too great for God to forgive, that we are too corrupt for God to love, that if God saw our sins He would be overcome with wrath, anger, and lash out in fury to punish, who listens to such lies? Only sinful humans are susceptible to such lies—then to whom is Jesus pleading?

Jesus is pleading to you and to me to realize God's love for us, God's true character, God's patience, grace, goodness and accept the truth that God never needed persuasion to save us—WE NEEDED persuasion to be saved!

So, one of the founders of the SDA church wrote:

Through the plan of salvation, Jesus is breaking Satan's hold upon the human family and rescuing souls from his power. All the hatred and malignity of the archrebel is stirred as he beholds the evidence of Christ's supremacy, and with fiendish power and cunning he works to wrest from Him the remnant of the children of men who have accepted His salvation. {LHU 234.2}

He leads men into skepticism, causing them to lose confidence in God and to separate from His love; he tempts them to break His law, and then he claims them as his captives and contests the right of Christ to take them from him. He knows that those who seek God earnestly for pardon and grace will obtain it; therefore he presents their sins before them to discourage them. He is constantly seeking occasion against those who are trying to obey God. Even their best and most acceptable services he seeks to make appear corrupt. By countless devices, the most subtle and the most cruel, he endeavors to secure their condemnation. [by whom? Whom does Satan seek to get us condemned? Is it not in our own minds, that we conclude we are beyond salvation, too sinful to be loved?] Man cannot meet these charges himself. In his sin-stained garments, confessing his guilt, he stands before God. But Jesus our Advocate presents an effectual plea in behalf of all who by repentance and faith have committed the keeping of their souls to Him. He pleads their cause and vanquishes their accuser by the mighty arguments of Calvary. [To whom is Jesus pleading? Who needs to have the allegations of Satan refuted? Who needs to believe that God loves them and Jesus' righteousness is sufficient for them? Does God need to be persuaded that Jesus righteousness is sufficient to save a sinner? Who doubts? It is you and me that need to hear Jesus' plea!] His perfect obedience to God's law, even unto the death of the cross, has given Him all power in heaven and in earth, and He claims of His Father mercy and reconciliation for guilty man. [notice now to whom Jesus speaks] To the accuser of His people He declares: "'The Lord rebuke thee, O Satan.' These are the purchase of My blood, brands plucked from the burning." Those who rely upon Him in faith receive the comforting assurance: "Behold, I have caused thine iniquity to pass from thee, and I will clothe thee with change of raiment." [to whom is Jesus pleading? He rebukes the accuser and pleads for us not to listen to his lies and to trust in Him!] All that have put on the robe of Christ's righteousness will stand before Him as chosen and faithful and true. Satan has no power to pluck them out of the hand of Christ. . . . We cannot answer the charges of Satan against us. Christ alone can make an effectual plea in our behalf. He is able to silence the accuser with arguments founded not upon our merits, but on His own (Testimonies, vol. 5, pp. 470-472). [To whom does Christ's plea need to effect? you and me!]

THURSDAY

How do we worship Him who made the heaven's earth and fountains of water?

The lesson suggests it is by going to church on Sabbath—is this what the message of Revelation is saying?

Or, is it by returning to worshipping the designer and promoting the truth of His character and methods of love, by rejecting the legal, penal, dictator lies about God and presenting the truth in love while leaving others free?

What about the law of worship, by beholding we are changed—what if we worship on the seventh-day Sabbath but worship a God who is the source of inflicted pain and suffering for sin?

Salvation and Preparation for the End Time Lesson 9 2Q 2018

End-Time Deception

by Tim Jennings (announcements at end)

SABBATH

What are the most effective deceptions—the ones easy to see or the ones hard to spot?

A little boy with chocolate on his face, when mommy asks “Have you been eating chocolate?” answers “no.” Such deception is easy to spot.

But what was the problem with the Galatians that Paul was dealing with? Many will suggest it was one of works, they were working for salvation—however, Paul elsewhere says that we are to “work out our salvation with fear and trembling.” Can a person be saved without their own participation?

We have a role to play in our own salvation—the species was saved in the person of Jesus without our individual work, but every individual saved has to cooperate with God and make choices—to work out their salvation, not work to earn their salvation, but work to apply and experience what Christ has achieved.

So, what was the deception of the Galatians? Circumcision being a requirement to salvation—and what kind of work would that be? What was the basis of the bodily circumcision? Is it found in design law or imposed instructions?

Thus, the root deception to the Galatians wasn’t circumcision, but the underlying foundation upon which it was based—the lie that God’s law is imposed and not doing the right rules requires arbitrary infliction of punishment.

We will see this is the root lie from the beginning of the conflict in heaven and is the lie we are still fighting today—the deception hidden from obvious view because it presents itself as accepted orthodoxy—I will give you a sad evidence in Fox News yesterday in a few minutes.

Read first paragraph, “Even in heaven...” What was the core lie, the root lie, which undermined trust in God? If Satan’s goal wasn’t reverence for God, what was his real purpose?

What is implied by this description? Could someone be in church leadership, could someone be purporting to be promoting reverence for God today and actually be working against God?

How can we tell if someone is promoting God’s truth, or Satan’s lie—when both are purporting to be interested in reverence for God?

In the book The Desire of Ages is a chapter entitled It Is Finished the author does an incredible job of giving insights into Satan’s deceptions in heaven and on earth. Let’s go through part of that chapter and see if you agree:

Picking up the chapter after the death of Christ on the Cross, from the perspective of the angels in heaven watching:

Satan saw that his disguise was torn away. His administration was laid open before the unfallen angels and before the heavenly universe. He had revealed himself as a murderer. By shedding the blood of the Son of God, he had uprooted himself from the sympathies of the heavenly beings. [Who do you believe killed Christ on the Cross, God or Satan and sinful humans? So, the FIRST test point in uncovering Satan's lies is to ask who killed Jesus. If someone teaches it was God who killed Jesus, then that would be evidence of the lie. The Penal Substitution view teaches that God, in order to satisfy divine justice, killed Jesus. This is the first test point you can use to expose the end-time deception, of which Penal Substitution is part. If you want references documenting that Penal Substitution theology teaches this lie see either The God-Shaped Heart book or the Designer Dictator session of Come And Reason's From Fear to Friends: God And Your Church seminar video] Henceforth his work was restricted. Whatever attitude he might assume, he could no longer await the angels as they came from the heavenly courts, and before them accuse Christ's brethren of being clothed with the garments of blackness and the defilement of sin. [What was the cause of the restriction of Satan's work? Why was Satan's work restricted? Because the truth had been revealed to heavenly intelligences and no lies of Satan would work on them any more. Satan was not restricted by God using might and power; God doesn't work that way. Satan was restricted by truth, revealed in love, leaving intelligences free—God's methods! So, the SECOND test point to differentiate end-time deception is to watch the methods being employed. God never coerces, but leaves free!] The last link of sympathy between Satan and the heavenly world was broken. {DA 761.2}

Yet Satan was not then destroyed. The angels did not even then understand all that was involved in the great controversy. [What did angels not yet understand? They understood Satan had lied and could not be trusted. They understood God and Jesus told the truth and could be trusted—so what did they NOT understand yet?] The principles at stake were to be more fully revealed. [What are principles? Design laws! They didn't fully understand God's principles, methods, design laws!] And for the sake of man, Satan's existence must be continued. [How is it for our sake that Satan's existence is continued? What benefit could there be for us? Is there a difference in someone telling you your son is a thief, and you catching your son in the act of stealing? Is there any need for Satan to reveal his own nature? And is there any design law involved in our response to this truth?] Man as well as angels must see the contrast between the Prince of light and the prince of darkness. He must choose whom he will serve. [Why must we choose? Because God can only change a heart, heal a mind, transform a character with the free-will choice of that intelligent being involved. If God were to use His power to over-write the choice of the intelligent being God would destroy that being and create a robot. Thus, it is for our good to see the contrast between the two systems and choose. When we choose we are transformed by either opening the heart in trust to God and experiencing His healing presence within, or closing the heart and hardening ourselves. And between what are we choosing, merely to believe in God or not to believe in God? Or, what kind of God we believe in, what methods and laws does God use? But what was the lie that Satan told to start the rebellion?] {DA 761.3}

In the opening of the great controversy, Satan had declared that the law of God could not be obeyed, that justice was inconsistent with mercy, and that, should the law be broken, it would be impossible for the sinner to be pardoned. Every sin must meet its punishment, urged Satan; and if God should remit the punishment of sin, He would not be a God of truth and justice.[What is Satan's lie? What kind of law does Satan attribute to God? Imposed, and what role does Satan describe God as fulfilling? Inflictor of punishment for justice sake. So, here is another test point. If you hear theologies that present God as the source of inflicted punishment for sin, this is evidence of Satan's view at work. Such ideas are based on the lie that God's law functions like human law, and God is then presented in character as one no different than a human dictator. God then becomes the one we must fear and from whom we need to be protected. This is a THIRD test point to discern the end-time deception: Does a system teach God's law is imposed and God must punish sin? Again, we find Penal Substitution Theology to be promoting the end-time deception.] When men broke the law of God, and defied His will, Satan exulted. It was proved, he declared, that the law could not be obeyed; man could not be forgiven. Because he, after his rebellion, had been banished from heaven, Satan claimed that the human race must be forever shut out from God's favor. God could not be just, he urged, and yet show mercy to the sinner. {DA 761.4} [Have you heard this line of reasoning from those who hold the penal view? Again, part of the lie. When you hear such things recognize such ideas as diagnostic evidence of Satan's lies at work]

But even as a sinner, man was in a different position from that of Satan. [We read this paragraph last week—what was different about man's situation?] Lucifer in heaven had sinned in the light of God's glory. To him as to no other created being was given a revelation of God's love. Understanding the character of God, knowing His goodness, Satan chose to follow his own selfish, independent will. This choice was final. There was no more that God could do to save him. But man was deceived; his mind was darkened by Satan's sophistry. The height and depth of the love of God he did not know. For him there was hope in [In what? A legal payment?] a knowledge of God's love. By beholding His character he might be drawn back to God. {DA 761.5} [What kind of law is involved in this process? Design law, the laws of truth, worship, sewing/reaping, exertion, love and freedom]

Through Jesus, God's mercy was manifested to men; but mercy does not set aside justice. [What is justice? What law lens do you use? If one uses impose law, justice is infliction of punishment—this is Satan's lie. What is justice under design law—doing what is right, which is what? Restoring people to harmony with God's law—saving and healing, while destroying the death causing infection of sin! For Bible references see either the God and Your Brain series lecture 2 Designer or Dictator] The law reveals the attributes of God's character, [What attributes? Love!] and not a jot or tittle of it could be changed to meet man in his fallen condition. [Why? For the same reason the law of respiration cannot be changed to meet a drowning person under water. So, if the law of respiration cannot change to meet the drowning person, and if the person is to be saved what is needed, what has to change? Does a legal payment need to be made to the God who made the sea in order to save the drowning person, or does the drowning person need to have his or her position changed in relation to the law of respiration? Thus, Christ came to change the nature of humanity, to put the species back into harmony with God's law of life!] God did not change His law, but He sacrificed Himself, in Christ, for man's redemption. "God was in Christ, reconciling the world unto Himself." 2 Corinthians 5:19. {DA 762.1} [What is the just thing to do? To sacrifice Christ in order to reconcile the world back to God, what does this mean? What was the problem that was separating the world from God? In Satan's view—the penal view—it is God's anger and wrath resulting from breaking rules that require God to inflict punishment. But in God's reality it is our sinful condition—so notice the next paragraph of what God's justice achieved in order to reconcile us]

The law requires righteousness,—a righteous life, a perfect character; and this man has not to give. [According to this commentary, the law does not require legal payment, but a healed and righteous life, just like the law of respiration require we breathe] He cannot meet the claims of God's holy law. But Christ, coming to the earth as man, lived a holy life, and developed a perfect character. These He offers as a free gift to all who will receive them. His life stands for the life of men. Thus they have remission of sins that are past, through the forbearance of God. [Why do we have remission of past sins—through a legal payment? NO! that is the legal lie of Satan that every sin must be punished. It is through God's forbearance, however God's forbearance is not the same as a cure, a remedy. Thus Jesus came and developed a perfect character as a remedy. It would be like a parent whose child has a sickness and vomits, has diarrhea, makes a mess, but the parent provides a remedy that cures the child, there is no need to make up, pay, or do something to the parent to have them forgive the previous mess; it is forgotten, remitted when the remedy is applied. But if no remedy is taken, they only get worse and die.] More than this, Christ imbues men with the attributes of God. He builds up the human character after the similitude of the divine character, a goodly fabric of spiritual strength and beauty. Thus the very righteousness of the law is fulfilled in the believer in Christ. God can "be just, and the justifier of him which believeth in Jesus." Romans 3:26. {DA 762.2} [Notice the justice of God is healing, recreating, and restoring sinners to perfect righteousness—nothing legal!]

God's love has been expressed in His justice no less than in His mercy. Justice is the foundation of His throne, and the fruit of His love. [What is justice in the design law understanding? Doing what is right, and what is the right or just thing for a parent to do if their child disobeys and drinks poison? To seek to heal and save. Thus God's justice is all about providing remedy, salvation, healing, as described in the previous paragraph, which requires restoring sinners to harmony with His design law. But notice Satan's strategy--] It had been Satan's purpose to divorce mercy from truth and justice. [How? By getting us to believe justice is not healing, not saving, not restoring to righteousness, but the infliction of punishment for breaking the law. Do you see the incredible perversion, the horrible, disgusting distortion? People, claiming reverence for God, are actually promoting Satan's lie when they teach God's justice is the punishing of sin. This is divorcing God's mercy from truth and justice. The FOURTH test point to discern the end-time deception: Is mercy divorced from truth and justice? The Penal Substitution view again is demonstrated to be on Satan's side of the spiritual war] He sought to prove that the righteousness of God's law is an enemy to peace. But Christ shows that in God's plan they are indissolubly joined together; the one cannot exist without the other. "Mercy and truth are met together; righteousness and peace have kissed each other." Psalm 85:10. {DA 762.3}

By His life and His death, Christ proved that God's justice did not destroy His mercy, but that sin could be forgiven, and that the law is righteous, and can be perfectly obeyed. [Remember Satan's lie is that God cannot forgive sin. Sin must be punished. Thus, the Penal Substitution view says every sin was placed on Jesus and God punished every sin when God executed Jesus on the cross. This divorces mercy from justice, as it turns the truth of God's justice (which is healing and restoring sinners to perfection) into the lie that justice is inflicting punishment for sin. Again, the Penal View is a lie. When will God's end-time people stand up and free themselves from this Penal Substitution end-time lie? Parents need to ask that Christian schools and churches stop teaching their children this gross distortion and begin presenting the end-time truth of the 3 angels, worship Him who made the heavens...] Satan's charges were refuted. God had given man unmistakable evidence of His love. {DA 762.4}

Another deception was now to be brought forward. Satan declared that mercy destroyed justice, that the death of Christ abrogated the Father's law. [What kind of law can be abrogated? So, this lie is again founded on imposed law. What would happen to the universe, as we know it, if the law of gravity were changed? Understanding design law makes clear why nothing about God's law can change because the universe as we know it would cease to exist. But, if we accept the lie that God's law is imposed, then the death of Christ, paying the penalty sets aside the need for God to inflict any more penalties, thus the law and our need to live in harmony (obey) is set aside. It would be like having diplomatic immunity, the law is there, but has no power because you are immune to it thus you don't have to obey. This is what has happened to much of Christianity.] Had it been possible for the law to be changed or abrogated, then Christ need not have died. But to abrogate the law would be to immortalize transgression, and place the world under Satan's control. It was because the law was changeless, because man could be saved only through obedience to its precepts, that Jesus was lifted up on the cross. Yet the very means by which Christ established the law Satan represented as destroying it. Here will come the last conflict of the great controversy between Christ and Satan. {DA 762.5} [Are you hearing again the tension between design law and imposed law?]

That the law which was spoken by God's own voice is faulty, that some specification has been set aside, is the claim which Satan now puts forward. [And in so doing promotes the idea that the law is changeable, or imposed, which is the true deception. But, Satan hides that true deception beneath the fight over whether one or two specific precepts have been changed] It is the last great deception that he will bring upon the world. He needs not to assail the whole law; if he can lead men to disregard one precept, his purpose is gained. [What is his purpose? To get people to operate upon imperial rules of imposition, coercion, force, threat, and legal accounting, thus undermining trust in God and hardening the heart, all the while claiming reverence for God!] For "whosoever shall keep the whole law, and yet offend in one point, he is guilty of all." James 2:10. By consenting to break one precept, men are brought under Satan's power. By substituting human law for God's law, Satan will seek to control the world. [Which is what? Accepting the idea that God's law functions like human law!] This work is foretold in prophecy. Of the great apostate power which is the representative of Satan, it is declared, "He shall speak great words against the Most High, and shall wear out the saints of the Most High, and think to change times and laws: and they shall be given into his hand." Daniel 7:25. {DA 763.1}

So with all that in mind consider these two quotes:

The last great conflict between truth and error is but the final struggle of the long-standing controversy concerning the law of God. Upon this battle we are now entering,—a battle between the laws of men and the precepts of Jehovah, between the religion of the Bible and the religion of fable and tradition. {GC88 582.2}

There is no such thing as weakening or strengthening the law of Jehovah. As it has been, so it is. It always has been, and always will be, holy, just, and good, complete in itself. It cannot be repealed or changed. [what kind of law is this? It is design law] To "honor" or "dishonor" it is but the speech of men. {PK 625.1}

Between the laws of men and the precepts of Jehovah will come the last great conflict of the controversy between truth and error. Upon this battle we are now entering—a battle not between rival churches contending for the supremacy, but between the religion of the Bible and the religions of fable and tradition... {PK 625.2}

With all that in mind, after another tragic school shooting in Texas yesterday, Fox News posted on their website an article by Max Lucado. Before I read the article I want you to remember the reference points, the litmus tests, to discern the end-time deception. If any of the following are taught it is evidence of Satan's lies:

- God killed Jesus on the Cross
- Methods that violate God's law of love, truth, liberty such as coercion, threat, force, deception
- That justice requires God to use power to inflict punishment
- By separating justice from mercy, by teaching that justice is infliction of punishment and not the healing and restoration of sinners, or the surrendering of sinners to their free-will choice of non-existence, both of which is also merciful

An online class member, Ben Welebir, sent me the this Fox news article. Evaluate it using the test points above:

Max Lucado: Texas high school shooting -- This evil will not last forever

I'm not sure how many more of these we can take. When I saw the words: students shot in Sante Fe school, my reaction was, "Not again." We seem to lurch from tragedy to tragedy, shooting to shooting, bombing to bombing. The kids didn't deserve such a death. Their parents don't deserve such grief. And we received an all too common reminder: life isn't fair.

When did you learn those words? It's not fair. What deed exposed you to the imbalanced scales of life? Did a car wreck leave you fatherless? Did friends forget you, a teacher ignore you, an adult abuse you? Have you ever prayed the psalmist's prayer? "O Lord, how long will you look on?" (Ps. 35:17). When did you first ask the question of the prophet, "Why does the way of the wicked prosper?" (Jer. 12:1)?

Why indeed? Why do drug peddlers get rich? Sex offenders get off? Charlatans get elected? Murderers get out? Cheaters get by? Scoundrels get in? Hypocrites get chosen?

How long will injustice flourish? God's answer is direct: Not as long as we might think. Scripture reveals a somber promise: "For [God] has set a day when he will judge the world" (Acts 17:31).

He is not sitting idly by. He is not twiddling his thumbs. Every flip of the calendar brings us closer to the day in which God will judge all evil. A Judgment Day has been chosen. The hour is marked and moment reserved. Judgment is not a possibility, but a stark reality.

"Judgment Day" is an unpopular term. We dislike the image of a great hour of reckoning. Which is ironic. We disdain judgment but we value justice, yet the second is impossible without the first. One can't have justice without judgment. For that reason, "we must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ, so that each of us may receive what is due us for the things done while in the body, whether good or bad" (2 Cor. 5:10).

Followers of Christ hold to this promise: Jesus will forever balance the scales of fairness. A day is coming, sooner than we might expect, in which we will see the devil pay for all the evil he has inflicted upon the world. Satan, and all who follow him, will hear the sentence: "Depart from me, you who are cursed, into the eternal fire prepared for the devil and his angels" (Mt. 25:41).

Justice will prevail.

This promise may not matter to you. For some people, life feels fair and just. If that describes you, count your blessings. There are others, however, who fight a daily battle with anger. They've been robbed; evil people have pilfered days they would have had with their loved ones, disease has sapped health from their body. They believe that justice must be served.

I'm one of these people. My brother was robbed. Alcoholism heisted the joy out of his life. For two-thirds of his fifty-seven years, he battled the bottle. It cost him his family, finances, and friends. He was not innocent, I get that. He bought the liquor and made the choices. Yet, I am convinced that Satan assigned a special goon squad to tempt him. When they found his weakness, they refused to let up. They took him to the mat and pounded the self-control out of him.

I'm ready to see Satan pay for his crimes against my brother. I am looking forward to that moment when I stand next to Dee, our bodies redeemed and souls secure. Together we will see the devil bound and chained and cast into a lake of fire. At that point we will begin to reclaim what the devil took.

"For [God] has set a day when he will judge the world" (Acts 17:31).

Let this covenant abate the anger you feel at the hurting world. Devastations have wounded every home. Just last week I met with a family whose six-year-old twins were sexually abused by a grandparent. Two nights ago, our neighbors were assaulted and robbed in their own home. One of our church members spent two years in prison for a crime he did not commit. The guilty party went free. He went to jail. It's not right, it's not just, it's not fair that evil prospers. When you wonder if wickedness will go unpunished or injustices will go unaddressed, let this promise gratify your desire for justice. God will have the final word. "God is a just judge, and God is angry with the wicked every day" (Ps. 7:11).

Did you hear the gospel of Jesus Christ or Satan's end-time deception?

Sadly, this article presents the lie—why? Because it is all based on a fundamental failure to understand reality—it views God's law functioning no differently than the laws sinful humans make. Thus, God is viewed as governing no differently, holding tribunals and inflicting punishment.

This view fails to understand the nature of sin—sin damages and destroys those who are not delivered from it. He presented the idea that those who commit crimes and are not caught and punished by human governments get away with their crime—this is a lie. No one gets away with it, why? Because of God's design law—you cannot violate it without damaging yourself.

His view would be like saying the teen who smokes cigarettes but doesn't get caught by his parents gets away with it. No they don't!

Sin warps the character, sears the conscience, hardens the heart and ultimately results in death. No one ever gets away with it!

Can you see in this article Satan's end-time deception? How many people in your church will agree with Max Lucado?

SUNDAY

Read second paragraph, "Revelation shows us just..." What is Satan's power?

- Lies Heb 2:14, John 17:3
- Fear
- Selfishness
- Coercion

How does Satan wield his power?

The lesson suggests Satan gets people to doubt in his existence. Certainly, if we have no awareness of an enemy we are more vulnerable—but is it possible he gets people to doubt his existence by getting them to reject the belief in God?

And how has Satan gotten millions, if not billions, to reject the belief in God?

By presenting an arbitrary dictator who is the source of inflicted pain and suffer, a being of cruelty and unreasonableness. And if there is no God, why would there be a Satan?

MONDAY

Read the last paragraph, "Through the two great errors..." Before we unpack the impact of these two errors, we should confirm the assertion that they are in fact errors.

Bible Text Evidence that immortality of the soul is an error:

- "The soul who sins is the one who will die." Ez 18:4
- "The man has now become like one of us, knowing good and evil. He must not be allowed to reach out his hand and take also from the tree of life and eat, and live forever." So the LORD God banished him from the Garden of Eden to work the ground from which he had been taken. After he drove the man out, he placed on the east side of the Garden of Eden cherubim and a flaming sword flashing back and forth to guard the way to the tree of life. Gen 3:22-24
- "God, the blessed and only Ruler, the King of kings and Lord of lords, 16 who alone is immortal and who lives in unapproachable light..." 1Tim 6:15,16
- "For the wages of sin is death, but the gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord." Rom

6:23

- “Do not be afraid of those who kill the body but cannot kill the soul. Rather, be afraid of the One who can destroy both soul and body in hell.” Mt 10:28

And there are many more texts that say the same thing. So, the evidence of Scripture is that there is only one immortal being—God. Humans are mortal and can receive the gift of immortality from God, but we do not in our own selves possess immortality.

Second evidence that the idea of immortality of the soul is an error are the implications and what it would mean if immortality of soul were true:

- Does God have foreknowledge?
- If yes, then God foreknew humans would sin and God still created them with immortality foreknowing some would only live less a few years but then spend all eternity suffering in the flames of hell. What kind of a god would that be? Sadistic, cruel?
- If no, then what kind of a god is he—limited, finite—not truly God. But more than that, such a being is either unwise because such a god couldn’t even anticipate the possibility of an immortal being rebelling, or cruel as he did anticipate and created beings to suffer eternally anyway?
- So, if God is love, and God has foreknowledge, would God make beings with inherent immortality knowing when they rebelled they would experience unending eternal suffering? How many of you would do that to your children? And this is the real goal of the doctrine of immortality of the soul—to undermine trust in God by teaching horrible things, like God would torture His own children for all eternity.

We dealt with the question of Sunday sacredness a couple of weeks back. All Bible scholars from every denomination acknowledge that the Sabbath of the Bible is Friday sunset to Saturday sunset, and that Sunday as a day of worship came about slowly over a couple of centuries as more and more pagans converted to Christianity while at the same time the Jews became greater enemies of Rome. The combined impact caused a gradual move away from the Bible Sabbath to Sunday worship, which eventually caused the church to legislate Sunday as a day of worship.

And that is the problem—note what the problem actually is. It is not a problem to go to church on Sunday, or to worship God on Sunday—the problem is to treat God’s law like imposed law and suggest one can legislate such changes. So, Sunday as a church VOTED holy day is the problem, not going to church or worshipping on Sunday.

One of our online listeners, Dr. George Graves, sent me this quote from one of the founders of the SDA church, demonstrating worshipping God and studying the Bible on Sunday is not a problem:

To defy the Sunday laws will but strengthen in their persecution the religious zealots who are seeking to enforce them. Give them no occasion to call you lawbreakers. If they are left to rein up men who fear neither God nor man, the reining up will soon lose its novelty for them, and they will see that it is not consistent nor convenient for them to be strict in regard to the observance of Sunday. Keep right on with your missionary work, with your Bibles in your hands, and the enemy will see that he has worsted his own cause. One does not receive the mark of the beast because he shows that he realizes the wisdom of keeping the peace by refraining from work that gives offense, doing at the same time a work of the highest importance.

When we devote Sunday to missionary work, the whip will be taken out of the hands of the arbitrary zealots who would be well pleased to humiliate Seventh-day Adventists. When they see that we employ ourselves on Sunday in visiting the people and opening the Scriptures to them, they will know that it is useless for them to try to hinder our work by making Sunday laws. {9T 232}

There is nothing wrong with church attendance, Bible study, missionary work on Sunday—the problem is coercion, treating God’s law like imposed law and getting people to think that one can change God’s law.

So the two lies, immortality of the soul leading to spiritualism i.e. the belief that souls are suffering in hell and souls might come back and haunt us leads to fear and distrust of God. And imposed law constructs lead to fear and distrust of God.

This is what Satan wants, for us to be motivated by fear and distrust in God so that we seek to save ourselves.

TUESDAY

Read all three paragraphs, “In recent decades...” Are such stories evidence of immortality of the soul? Why or why not?

Reports of NDE experiences go back almost 2000 years and are reported by approximately 20% of people who suffer a heart attack and are revived.

Interestingly, however, a person does not have to be near death to experience a NDE. A 1990 study at the University of Virginia Health Sciences Center in Charlottesville of 58 people who had experienced NDEs found that half would have survived without medical care—in other words, they were not near death. Something as innocuous as fainting can produce an NDE.

There are many theories about the cause of NDEs to include hypoxia (lack of oxygen to the brain), which could trigger seizures in the temporal lobes and cause the symptoms of NDE, hypotension (loss of blood pressure to the brain), release of endorphin and enkephalin (brain produced mood elevators and pain killers) in the brain, drugs injected during resuscitation, low blood sugar, and other metabolic processes.

Recently, Kevin Nelson, a neuropsychologist at the University of Kentucky, has done research into NDEs and offered a most reasonable explanation. NDEs are actually a form of sleep disorder called REM intrusion in which dreams occur in a non-sleep state. During this time a person is awake but paralyzed, may experience the sensation of floating, will have vivid dreams that would be experienced more like a hallucination, and have out-of-body experiences. All of this will be remembered quite vividly after the event is over with a sense of conviction to the veracity of the experience.

A study published in 1994 by Thomas Lempert, then at the Rudolph Virchow Clinic in Berlin, Germany, documented how volunteers made themselves faint through a combination of hyperventilating while seated, then standing and holding their breath. Many of them experienced euphoric NDE-like sensations such as floating out of their body, entering another world, or encountering supernatural beings. This is thought to be due to activating the vagus nerve which stimulates the brainstem to cause these NDEs. This would explain the high occurrence of NDE in people being resuscitated from a heart attack as vagal nerve stimulation occurs during this process.

Did you notice the reason the lesson gave about why NDEs are not reliable? “nothing about sin, and nothing about judgment to come—the most basic biblical views.”

Hmmm... last week the lesson pointed out that when the thief on the cross was dying, near death experience, and put his faith in Christ that Jesus did not bring up his sin, or mention the judgment, only that he would be with Jesus in paradise. Should we say, “Well Jesus didn’t mention his sin or judgment the most basic biblical views, this can’t be a reliable experience?”

This is a bad argument and we should reject this argument and base our rejection of NDEs as evidence of an immortal soul on other more reliable evidence.

WEDNESDAY

The lesson speaks about the theory of evolution as an end-time deception. I agree that it is a deception, why do you think it has arisen, and why do you think so many people hold to it?

My view is that evolutionism arose in response to the imposed law concept. The false dictator view of god caused thinking people to recognize that nature did not operate the way religion suggested so they sought an explanation on their own. Unfortunately, they instead of finding the truth found the law of sin and death in nature—which is the survival of the fittest principle.

Naturalists did not make up this law, it is there, but it is an infection to God’s design and causes suffering and death. The law of love is God’s design, the principle of giving. In nature these two forces are at war. But without Scripture many fail to comprehend accurately what they see.

Had the church not so grossly misrepresented God as arbitrary and severe, I believe the break between science and Christianity would not have occurred.

Which is more scientific creation or the Big Bang? We have a new 5 minute video blog out this week which goes through the evidence.

2018 Q2 Preparation for the End Time - Lesson 10

America and Babylon

presented by Lori Atkins

SABBATH

Much of this week's lesson is centered on Revelation Chapter 13, so I want to start by reading it from The Remedy paraphrase:

"The dragon stood beside the massive sea of his followers, and while I watched, out of that sea of people arose a beastly power: It had ten horns and seven heads, with ten crowns on its horns (symbolizing political powers), and a blasphemous name on each head (symbolizing religious powers). It represented a conglomerate religio-political world power comprised of multiple governments and false religions of the world. 2 This beastly power arose from the vestiges of Greece, Persia and Babylon — symbolized by a leopard with the feet of a bear and the mouth of a lion — and it received its power and authority from the dragon, which means it will use Satan's methods of deceit, coercion and imposition of law to distort God's character with pagan concepts. 3 One of the seven heads received what appeared to be a fatal wound, but then the wound was healed—which symbolized a blow to its power, and then recovery and a resurgence in power. The entire world was in awe and followed the methods, principles and teachings of this beastly power. 4 By accepting the pagan imposed law constructs as representative of God's kingdom, people actually worshiped the dragon, as these distortions about God originated from him; and since the beast used the dragon's lies as the basis for its authority, they also worshiped the beast. They marveled, "Who can compare to the beast? (Some versions say Who is like the beast?) Who can fight against it?" 5 The beast had a mouth that boasted and blasphemed—and it exerted its power for forty-two months—which symbolizes the manner in which this beastly system would misrepresent God's character and methods while claiming to have God's authority to speak for him on earth. 6 It blasphemes God and misrepresents his character, and distorts the reality of God's dwelling place and those who live in heaven. 7 It wars against the saints with lies and distortions about God's methods and principles, teaching that God uses power—like an earthly emperor—to impose law, lord over the people, and inflict punishment for disobedience. It conquers the saints and infects the world—every tribe, nation, language, and people—with its lies about God. 8 All the inhabitants of the earth accept its distortions about God and thus give homage to the beast—all except those whose names have been recorded in the book of life that belongs to Jesus the Lamb who committed himself to be the Remedy to sin before the world was created. 9 Those whose minds are open to truth will understand. 10 Anyone determined to be captive to sin will into bondage go. And anyone whose character develops upon the kill-or-be-killed principle will in the end be killed.

Overcoming the selfish drive to survive requires patient endurance and trust by those who are healed. 11 Next I saw a different beast arising out of the earth. It had two horns like lamb's horns but spoke like a dragon—which symbolized a new power, arising in a different part of the earth, that initially promotes lamblike principles of freedom but eventually practices dragon-like methods of coercion. 12 As the first beast watched, the second beast exercised all the tactics of the first beast and led the world to practice its methods, thus giving honor to the first beast whose fatal wound was healed. 13 The beast required everyone to choose whom they would worship—symbolized by the miracle of calling fire down from heaven. 14 Because of the astonishing act of restricting religious freedoms and the economic coercion that it was given power to wield, it duped the entire world. It commanded them to form a coalition of religious and political power to enforce its way, which was modeled after the first beast's ways. 15 It had the resources and ability to bring this coalition into a living reality—a fitting model honoring the first beast. It even imposed a death penalty for all who refused to practice its methods. 16 It forced everyone—weak or powerful, rich or poor, free or slave—to make a choice. Some chose to believe that the methods of the beast were godly, and these were marked in their minds (or foreheads...and what's behind your forehead?) to be like the beast. Others chose to go along with the beast for convenience and gain, and they were marked by the work of their hands. 17 No one could buy or sell except for those who chose the methods of the beast and thus marked themselves as "loyal" by embracing its character and being numbered as its followers. 18 This calls for wisdom. Anyone with spiritual discernment—let him count the number of the beast: it is a human's number. The number is 666.

As we look at this week's memory text from Daniel 12:1

“ ‘At that time Michael shall stand up, the great prince who stands watch over the sons of your people; and there shall be a time of trouble, such as never was since there was a nation, even to that time. And at that time your people shall be delivered, every one who is found written in the book’ ”

I am reminded that I share some of Dr. Wendell's discomfort with this topic of end time events and the time of trouble. I share his experience of having two parents who are now deceased, but who were firmly convinced that these events would happen in their lifetime. I also grew up with basements that contained enough super-preserved canned faux meat products to feed a small army.

I also remember while growing up in this community and in this denomination, being very uncomfortable with some of the language used to describe other Christian faiths...and I was very reluctant to bring a non-Adventist neighbor or friend to church with me...for fear of what they might hear from the pulpit that would disparage their own religious practices, or their family, or their church.

Anyone else? In Sunday's lesson, the quarterly asks, "how can we proclaim present truth in a way that causes as little offense as possible?" I never cared for the at best pitting or comparing or competing of one denomination against another, and at worst the belittling, criticism, and ridicule of other denominations...so please know that is so not my intention in studying this week's lesson. I do not believe anyone is saved or lost based on their denominational membership, and I believe the Holy Spirit's application of the healing remedy can save and transform folks to have Christ-like character in any and in every and in no denomination. but I also believe scripture points to specific institutions in specific time periods, and describes the specific roles they will play in last-day events...and the proper identification of these powers can help us properly position and prepare for the prophetic period we are living in.

SUNDAY

Deadly Wound Healed

This lesson refers to the passage we just read in Revelation 13 and specifically verse 3, where one of the seven heads on the Sea Beast received a "deadly wound"...what was that wound?

The Roman church had been both the central religion AND the political center of the Western world - for centuries. But, toward the end of the 18th century, with the reformation, the enlightenment, and the French Revolution - specifically Napoleon's blow against the church when he captured and imprisoned the pope in 1798. But then wound is said to have healed, referring to the recovery and resurgence of the church in terms of political power and influence, which is continuing even today.

What are the typical results of uniting political and religious powers?

MONDAY

The United States in Prophecy

Now around the same time as the deadly wound or near the end of the 42 months, another creature appears...commonly referred to as the land beast.

There seems to be quite a bit of consensus from Biblical scholars on who this land beast in Revelation refers to:

- Time in history - late 1700's
- Arising out of the earth (sparsely populated) versus the sea (densely populated)
- Lamb-like horns representing two governing principles of civil and religious liberty
- No crown - also labeled a representative republic or republicanism (little "r"), which means a government without a king
- Protestantism - a church without a pope

One of the founders of our church wrote:

“And he had two horns like a lamb.” The lamb-like horns indicate youth, innocence, and gentleness, fitly representing the character of the United States when presented to the prophet as “coming up” in 1798. Among the Christian exiles who first fled to America and sought an asylum from royal oppression and priestly intolerance were many who determined to establish a government upon the broad foundation of civil and religious liberty.

Their views found place in the Declaration of Independence, which sets forth the great truth that “all men are created equal” and endowed with the inalienable right to “life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.” And the Constitution guarantees to the people the right of self-government, providing that representatives elected by the popular vote shall enact and administer the laws.

Freedom of religious faith was also granted, every man being permitted to worship God according to the dictates of his conscience. Republicanism and Protestantism became the fundamental principles of the nation. These principles are the secret of its power and prosperity. The oppressed and downtrodden throughout Christendom have turned to this land with interest and hope. Millions have sought its shores, and the United States has risen to a place among the most powerful nations of the earth. – {GC 441.1}

I want to present you with a comparison...show you some parallels and some evidence that this first beast in Rev 13, the Sea Beast, is actually a parody or perversion of Jesus Christ. I got some of this information from a presentation by Dr. Jon Pauline, a professor at Loma Linda University - the reference is in the notes, but I found these parallels fascinating and persuasive.

First, we probably need to review the false or counterfeit trinity represented by the three beasts in Rev 13. This was covered in Thursday of last week’s lesson, but as often happens in this class...I don’t think we ever made it to Thursday. But the information is available in last week’s notes, and the common interpretation is that the Dragon counterfeits God the Father, the Sea Beast counterfeits God the Son, and the Land Beast counterfeits God the Holy Spirit. I want you to keep those details and relationships in mind as we go over these parallels between the Sea Beast and Jesus.

1. The Sea Beast looks just like the Dragon (which is described in Rev 12) - both had 7 heads, 10 horns, and crowns...Jesus looks just like the Father - in John 14:9 He says, “if you have seen me, you’ve seen the Father...the Father and I are one.”

2. The Sea Beast does not have its own authority, it gets its authority from the Dragon...Jesus said, “All authority in heaven and earth has been given to me.” (Matt 28:18) By whom? The Father!
3. This beast has a ministry of 42 months - how long is 42 months? 3.5 years, which correlates with the period of Christ’s earthly ministry.
4. In Rev 13:4, it is said of him, “Who is like the beast?” in a boastful way. This is also a parody of Jesus’ name Michael. Did you know that the name Michael is a hebrew term that means “who is like El?” Remember the Israelites proclaiming who is like our God?
5. The Sea Beast also has a death and a resurrection. Remember the deadly wound? If you go to the original language, it’s a “wound unto death”, and its deadly wound was healed. Now if someone dies and then gets healed, what would we call it? A resurrection! In verse 8 (which references “the Lamb slain from the foundation of the world”), you have the same word for death as is used in verse 3. There are 4-5 different Greek words for death and killing, but John uses the same word in both verses...and in both cases the word is translated “slaughtered”. His head was as it were slaughtered to death (v3), and the lamb slaughtered from the foundation of the world (v8). The cross of Christ and the death of this beast are equated. He is a counterfeit of Jesus.

So a worldwide alliance will act like and dominate the world like the medieval church did - and the contrast in methods will be Deception and Coercion versus Truth and Freedom. The enemies of God’s people at the end of time are the very same entities once thought of as God’s allies - one of those being our country, the United States. In case you thought I forgot where I was, but I didn’t...we’re back to the US in Prophecy!

How will this country transition from lamb-like to “speaking like a dragon”, and what does that mean anyway? See Rev. 13:11 - “Next I saw a different beast arising out of the earth. It had two horns like lamb’s horns but spoke like a dragon—which symbolized a new power, arising in a different part of the earth, that initially promotes lamblike principles of freedom but eventually practices dragon-like methods of coercion.”

Ellen White says,

“Such action would be directly contrary to the principles of this government, to the genius of its free institutions, to the direct and solemn avowals of the Declaration of Independence, and to the Constitution. The founders of the nation wisely sought to guard against the employment of secular power on the part of the church, with its inevitable result—intolerance and persecution. The Constitution provides that “Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof,” and that “no religious test shall ever be required as a qualification to any office or public trust under the United States.”

Only in flagrant violation of these safeguards to the nation's liberty, can any religious observance be enforced by civil authority. But the inconsistency of such action is no greater than is represented in the symbol. It is the beast with lamblike horns—in profession pure, gentle, and harmless—that speaks as a dragon.” – {GC 442.2}

Is there a drift in this country toward a more gentle foreign policy or a more aggressive one? We have been called the “Reluctant Empire” by some...to which you say, we are not an empire, we don't control other countries, but...we don't really have to, do we? Every action of the United States affects pretty much every other country on earth...most all of them want or need to know, what is the US going to do. Is there a trend in this country toward greater freedoms and liberties or fewer? From what I see there has been an ongoing and increasing tension between liberty versus security, and it really ramped up after 9/11. If you are old enough to really remember the tragic events of September 11th and the aftermath, then you know what I'm talking about, and you can no longer doubt how how eminently feasible this seemingly unfeasible armageddon scenario can be - on a worldwide scale. The Battle of Armageddon envisions a worldwide unity against a small group of people hiding in the rocks and the mountains and caves. September 11 showed us just how quickly this revelation scenario could happen. Overnight, the entire political realm...the entire religious realm, were united against a group of people that we hadn't even heard about the week before. That's how fast it happened...basically we watched a big chunk of the Revelation scenario play out in just a matter of days. We're going to talk more about Armageddon here in Tuesday's lesson.

Then what happens? Does this mean that the whole world converts to catholicism?

TUESDAY

An Issue of Worship

The first paragraph states,

“All through sacred history, the Lord constantly had to deal with those who fell into idolatry and other forms of false worship. In the final crisis, as depicted in Revelation 13, the issue of worship will again arise. Here, too, God's people will have to make a choice about whom they will worship and serve.”

But, hasn't it always been about worship? Why is that? Because it's a law - the law of worship! We become like that which we admire - we become like the kind of God we worship. so, how will this issue of worship manifest itself in the final crisis - or the battle of Armageddon?

Do you know what Armageddon means? It means mountain of Megiddo from the Old Testament. Now there is no mountain with that name, but if you go to the city of Megiddo, the ancient ruins, there is a mountain right next to it. You know what it is called? Mount Carmel. Mount Carmel is the place where there was a showdown between two gods - two types of gods - the true God and the false god Baal. What was to be the compelling sign of which one was the true God...how would the people know which god won? Fire would come down from heaven and consume the offering on the altar.

What was the problem with worshipping Baal? What made Baal a false god? Was it simply a matter of using the wrong word "Baal" when worshipping God? Was it because they were not saying "Yhwh" (Yahweh)? Or was it something else?

"The Hebrew noun ba'al means 'master', 'possessor' or 'husband'. Used with suffixes, e.g. Baal-peor or Baal-berith, the word may have retained something of its original sense; but in general Baal is a proper name in the OT, and refers to a specific deity, Hadad, the W Semitic storm-god, the most important deity in the Canaanite pantheon. "Yahweh was 'master' and 'husband' to Israel, and therefore they called him 'Baal', in all innocence; but naturally this practice led to confusion of the worship of Yahweh with the Baal rituals, and it became essential to call him by some different title; Hosea (2:16) proposed 'îš, another word meaning 'husband.'" Wood, D. R. W., & Marshall, I. H. (1996). New Bible dictionary (3rd ed.) (108).

The problem was not the syllables used, as ba'al was one name used for the true God. Therefore, the problem must have been something else. There must have been some distortion presented in the character of Baal that is not in the character of God. So, what was Baal like? Baal was the son of El (i.e. El-ohim or El-Shaddai). He was the god of weather. Often called, 'Almighty' and "Lord of the Earth." Baal was the god who brought rain, thunder, lightning, who fertilized the earth, controlled the sun and brought the harvest. Baal fought the great serpent leviathan, as well as battled against Mot, the god of death. And most amazing of all, it was taught that Baal died in his battle with Mot and was resurrected from the dead to bring life to earth. So what was the problem with worshipping a god who was the "husband and protector of Israel," the son of El, who controlled the weather, who brought rain, sunshine, and fertility, who blessed with full harvest, who warred against the great serpent and death, who died and was resurrected to bring life to the earth?

What was wrong with this god? What was Elijah opposing? What made Baal worship false?

"Determined to keep the people in deception, the priests of Baal continue to offer sacrifices to their gods and to call upon them night and day to refresh the earth. With costly offerings the priests attempt to appease the anger of their gods;" White, E.G., Prophets and Kings, p. 124.2.

And the Bible confirms this: "So the prophets prayed louder and cut themselves with knives and daggers, according to their custom, until blood flowed." (1 Kings 18:28)

Could it be that Baal represented the characteristics of Satan's version of God, the idea that he (as god) must have bloody sacrifices in order to be appeased, have his wrath assuaged, or have his anger propitiated? And is God waiting for His church on earth to complete the reformation by eliminating this pagan god concept and restoring the true picture of God as revealed in Jesus? So again, notice the issue is about worship, who do you trust, how do you understand God?

- So, we know that there will be a great end-time deception. In Revelation 13, who brings fire down from heaven in the final crisis? The land beast! In the final crisis of earth's history, there will be a Mount Carmel showdown, and the fire will fall on the wrong altar - testing the faith of everyone who is not grounded in scripture and in God's character and methods.
- So, in the light of a severe deception like that, what's our takeaway from this lesson? Number one, we should be studying God's word and assimilating truth like we've never studied it before; number two, we need to pray like we've never prayed before; and number three, we need to exercise some serious self-distrust...because the more confident we are that we've got it all figured out, the less open we are to God's leading when the time comes.
- What if the scenario doesn't play out exactly as portrayed in the Great Controversy? Biblical prophecies are often open-ended, leaving God the freedom to shift with circumstances and with how people respond...we see a God who is deeply engaged with history and He responds to human choices. In that context, prophecy becomes more open-ended. We should not over-specify the end-time details before they happen. Jesus said, "I tell you these things ahead of time so that when it happens, you will know that I spoke the truth." Prophecy is best understood when it is fulfilled. Final principle: prophecy was not given to satisfy our curiosity about the future...it was given to teach us how to live today.

The last paragraph in Tuesday's lesson says, "An outward appearance of truth can deceive us by disguising the deadly "wine of Babylon." What is the wine of Babylon? That God's law is imposed, that sin must be punished, and thus we view Satan's behavior as God's behavior.

When it comes to prophecy, we try not to manage the details too early. Do you remember one time in history when that happened? There was a group of people who had massive charts regarding the end-time, and particularly the role of the Messiah...they're called Pharisees, and when the Messiah came they rejected him and murdered him because He didn't fit the details they expected. Just want to throw out a scenario: One of the deep and strong convictions of most Seventh-day Adventists is that before Jesus comes there's going to be an international Sunday law. Just a couple of facts...there were seven versions of great controversy (did you know that?), but only three of them have a Sunday law - the last three, and the first one introduces it after there was a bill in the US Senate for a national Sunday law...and that's when Ellen White starts talking about it, so evidently Sunday law is not absolutely essential to the end time because she has four versions where it's not there. In the 1880s, the colonial powers dominated the world, so the idea of an international Sunday law is easy to imagine - it made sense.

Today, $\frac{2}{3}$ of the world is ruled by non-christians. According to Dr. Jon Paulien, the vast majority of legislators in California no longer believe that faith-based institutions have a place in the state, and they fight almost daily to keep them from passing laws that would essentially put us (Loma Linda) out of business. So, the Sunday law scenario in Ellen White was definitely a piece of the environment in which she lived...and if the end had come during her lifetime, it likely would have included a Sunday law. Is it absolutely certain then that there will always be a Sunday law from now on? Perhaps so...just raising the point, what if Adventists are stuck on the Sunday law and it doesn't happen? What if there is some other opposition to the Sabbath?

2018 Q2 Preparation for the End Time - Lesson 11

God's Seal or the Beast's Mark?

Presented by Linda Ojala

SABBATH

Memory Text – Revelation 15:3, “Great and Marvelous are thy works, Lord God Almighty, just and true are they way, thou King of saints.” This begins the song of Moses and the Lamb, sung by those who had gotten the victory of the beast and over his image, and over his mark and over the number of his name.

This week, we will study the mark of the beast and the seal of God, with the aim of understanding how to receive the seal of God and salvation....to overcome, because the end of all things is at hand!

The Bible is like a giant jigsaw puzzle, with the pieces of each issue scattered throughout to encourage us to keep reading and studying it. Take any one verse and run with it and you'll have only a partial piece of the picture, or maybe get the wrong idea altogether.

SUNDAY

God's Sign Identifying His People

In Old Testament times there were two outward identifiers of God's true people. One of them was circumcision (visible to those you are intimate with – including non-Jews, cult prostitutes, etc.), the other was Sabbath Worship (visible to all).

Regarding Circumcision, which began at Abraham:

- Genesis 17 it is sign of the covenant between God and Abraham and his descendants that He would be their God and give them an everlasting possession of the land He was giving to them.

Paul explained the New Testament perspective:

- Romans 2:28,29, “A man is not a Jew if he is only one outwardly, nor is circumcision merely outward and physical. No, a man is a Jew if he is one inwardly; and circumcision is circumcision of the heart, by the Spirit, not by the written code.”
- Circumcision of males on the 8th day of life, was a sign of the covenant of salvation. It was meant to symbolize the need for renewal of the heart.

- 1 Corinthians 7:19, “Circumcision is nothing and uncircumcision is nothing. Keeping God's commands is what counts.
- Galatians 5:6, “For in Christ Jesus neither circumcision nor uncircumcision has any value. The only thing that counts is faith expressing itself through love.”
- Galatians 6:15, “Neither circumcision nor uncircumcision means anything, what counts is a new creation.”
- Does circumcision mean, be more sensitive to God, cut off anything that decreases sensitivity to God?

Regarding the Sabbath, which began at Creation:

- Genesis 2:1-3, “This the heavens and the earth were completed in all their vast array. By the seventh day God had finished the work he had been doing, so on the Seventh day he rested from his work. And God blessed the seventh day and made it holy, because on it he rested from all the work of creating that he had done.”
- Isaiah 58:13,14. “If you keep your feet from breaking the Sabbath and from doing as you please on my holy day, if you call the Sabbath a delight and the Lord's holy day honorable, and if you honor it by not going your own way and not doing as you please or speaking idle words, then you will find your joy in the Lord and I will cause you to ride on the heights of the land and to feast on the inheritance of your father Jacob.” The mouth of the Lords has spoken.”
- Hebrews 4:9, “There remains, then, a Sabbath-rest for the people of God; for anyone who enters God's rest also rests from his own work, just as God did from his. Let us, therefor, make every effort to enter that rest, so that no one will fall by following their example of disobedience.”

Isaiah is told by God that in the new earth, we will continue to worship on his Sabbath:

- Isaiah 66:22-23, “As the new heavens and the new eath that I make will endure before me,' Declares the Lord, 'so will your name and descendants endure. From one New Moon to another and from one Sabbath to another, all mankind will come and bow down before me, 'says the Lord.”
- The only reason we have a 7 day week is because of God's command. There is nothing in nature that calls for a 7 day week. We have the earth's rotation that defines 24 hour days. We have the earth's rotation around the sun that defines a year, we have the moon that marks off months.

MONDAY

The Beast and False Worship

Worship means loyalty, emulation, relationship:

- The three angels' messages of Revelation 14 separates all of humanity into two groups: those who worship the Creator by keeping all of His commandments, including the seventh-day Sabbath command, and those who worship the creator.
- Revelation 14: 9-11, “A third angel followed them and said in a loud voice: If anyone worships the beast and his image and receives his mark on the forehead or on the hand, he, too, will drink of the wine of God's fury, which has been poured full strength into the cup of his wrath. He will be tormented with burning sulfur in the presence of the holy angels and of the lamb. And the smoke of their torment rises forever and ever. There is no rest day or night for those who worship the beast and his image, or for anyone who receives the mark of his name. This calls for patient endurance on the part of the saints who obey God's commandments and remain faithful to Jesus.”
- Genesis 2:1-3, “This the heavens and the earth were completed in all their vast array. By the seventh day God had finished the work he had been doing, so on the Seventh day he rested from his work. And God blessed the seventh day and made it holy, because on it he rested from all the work of creating that he had done.”
- Exodus 20:8-11, “REMEMBER THE SABBATH DAY by keeping it holy. Six days you shall labor and do all your work, but the seventh day is a Sabbath to the Lord your God. On it you shall not do any work, neither you, nor your son or daughter, nor your manservant or maidservant, nor your animals, nor the alien within your gates. For in six days the Lord made the heavens and the earth, the sea and all that is in them, but he rested on the seventh day. Therefore the Lord blessed the Sabbath day and made it holy.”

Note that the one commandment that says “Remember” is the only one we choose to forget.

TUESDAY

The Seal of God

Part of Prince Harry and Megan Markle's wedding scripture:

- Song of Solomon 8:6.7: “Place me as a seal over your heart, like a seal on your arm; for love is as strong as death, it's jealousy unyielding as the grave. It burns like blazing fire, like a mighty flame. Many waters cannot wash it away. If one were to give all the wealth of his house for love, it would be utterly scorned.
- Function of a seal: To insure correct authorship and protection, to ensure no changes have been made, to indicate completion.

- Ellen White, one of the church founders wrote, "By keeping His Sabbath holy, we are to show that we are His people. His word declares the Sabbath to be a sign by which to distinguish the commandment keeping people. This God's people are to preserve among them a knowledge of Him as their creation. Those who keep the law of God will be one with Him in the Great Controversy." Manuscript 14, 1901
- Lesson Paragraph 4: The seal is given to true worshipers of God while the mark is given to worshipers of the beast. The seal is given only in the forehead, indicating a definite choice of the mind to worship God in the way the He has commanded. The mark, on the other hand, is given either in the forehead or in the hand. This means that people may worship the beast for one of two reasons. Either in their minds they agree with it, thinking that they are truly worshiping God, or they don't agree with it but they go along with it because they are afraid of the serious consequences of not conforming; being unable to buy or sell and eventually being killed. Revelation 13:15,17
- Lesson paragraph 3, " The book of Revelation describes another sealing, just prior to the Second Advent. This final seal is given to the 144,000 at the time of the outpouring of the Holy Spirit in the latter rain. They have God's name (or signature) written in their foreheads. Through the Holy Spirit's work in their lives, they come to reflect God's character."
- Ellen White wrote, "Those who are uniting with the world are receiving the worldly mold and preparing for the mark of the beast. Those who are distrustful of self, who are humbling themselves before God and purifying their soul by obeying the truth, these are receiving the heavenly mold and preparing for the seal of God in their foreheads." Testimonies for the church, vol.5, p 216

The Mark of the Beast

- Rev 13:11-18: "The Beast out of the Earth – Than I saw another beast coming out of the earth. He had two horns like a lamb, but he spoke like a dragon. He exercised all the authority of the first beast on his behalf, and made the earth and its inhabitants worship the first beast, whose fatal wound had been healed. And he performed great and miraculous signs, even causing fire to come down from heaven to earth in full view of men. Because of the signs he was given power to do on behalf of the first beast, he deceived the inhabitants of the earth. He ordered them to set up an image in honor of the beast who was wounded by the sword and yet lived. He was give power to give breath to the image of the first beast, so that it could speak and cause all who refused to worship the image to be killed. He also forced everyone, small and great, rich and poor, free and slave, to receive a mark on his right hand or on his forehead, so that no one could buy or sell unless he had the mark, which is the name of the beat or the number of his name. This calls for wisdom. If anyone has insight, let him calculate the number of the beat, for it is man's number. His number is 666."

- Revelation 19:20, “But the beast was captured, and with him the false prophet who had performed the miraculous signs on his behalf. With these signs he had deluded those who had received the mark of the beast and worshiped his image.”
- Revelation 14:9-11, “A third angel followed them and said in a loud voice: 'If anyone worships the beast and his image and receives his mark on the forehead or on the hand, he, too, will drink of the wine of God's fury, which has been poured full strength into the cup of his wrath. He will be tormented with burning sulfur in the presence of the holy angels and of the lamb. And the smoke of their torment rises forever and ever. There is no rest day or night for those who worship the beast and his image, or for anyone who receives the mark of his name. This calls for patient endurance on the part of the saints who obey God's commandments and remain faithful to Jesus.”
- Revelation 20:4, “I saw thrones on which were seated those who had been given authority to judge. And I saw the souls of those who had been beheaded because of their testimony for Jesus and because of the word of God. They had not worshiped the beast or his image, and had not received his mark on their foreheads or their hands. They came to life and reigned with Christ a thousand years.”

Other marks in the Bible:

- Genesis 4:8-16, Mark of Cain – A visible mark so that no one would kill him, after he murdered his brother, lied about it and was unrepentant..
- Leviticus 19: 28 – Do not put tattoo marks on yourself. I am the Lord.
- The last sentence just before the pink section, “”the mark of the beast will not be given until this final test does come. Therefore, no one has yet received the mark of the beast.” Question – what about the people who died before the end of time?
- Sunday worship came about when Constantine changed the seventh-day Sabbath to coincide with the pagan “Day of the Sun”, what we know as Sunday, to get everyone he ruled over on the same page.

THURSDAY

The Sabbath as the Seal

Why did God create the Sabbath?

- For 6 days, He had used tremendous power to create the earth.
- We can take a very small amount of matter and create an atom bomb. Can you imagine how much energy it would take to create matter from energy?

- He could have said, “I am all powerful! Worship, love and trust me!” But instead after witnessing his powerful creation, he created the seventh day to allow us to think about HOW he uses his power.
- God cannot make us love or trust him. Love and trust must be won.
- John 1:1-4, 14, 34, “In the beginning was the Word and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. He was with God in the beginning. Through him all things were made; without him nothing was made that has been made. In him was life, and that life was the light of men....The Word became flesh and made his dwelling among us. We have seen his glory, the glory of the One and Only, who came from the Father, full of grace and truth....I (John the Baptist) have seen and I testify that this (Jesus) is the Son of God.
- John 13:1-6, “It was just before the Passover Feast. Jesus knew that the time had come for him to leave this world and go to the Father. Having loved his own who were in the world, he now showed them the full extend of his love. The evening meal was being served and the devil had already prompted Judas Iscariot, son of Simon, to betray Jesus. Jesus knew that the Father had put all things under his power and that he had come from God and was returning to God; so he got up from the meal, took off his outer clothing, and wrapped a towel around his waist. After that he poured water into a basin and began to wash his disciples' feet, drying them with the towel that was wrapped around him.”
- That same night, not just Judas, but every single disciple was either going to betray him, deny him, or abandon him. But he washed All of their feet.
- This Jesus is the same one who created the world, who has all power. But look how He uses it, THIS is what God does with His power:
- Luke 22:27, at the Last Supper, Jesus tells his disciples, “For who is greater, the one who is at the table or the one who serves? Is it not the one who is at the table? But I am among you as one who serves.” Think about what this means!
- Revelation 4:9-11, “....You are worthy, our Lord and God to receive glory and honor and power, for you created all things, and by your will they were created and have their being.”
- Even in death, Jesus rested on the Sabbath, and during his ministry on earth, he went to the synagog on the Seventh-day Sabbath. Are we followers of this God?
- A wedding ring shows that I am married to the man who gave it to me. We promised to love and be faithful to each other, to serve and be intimate only with each other, but what if I ran around on him, was unfaithful? Would I not be taking his name in vain? It is a sign of our marriage, but it isn't our marriage.

- So, the Sabbath is a sign of our relationship with God. It doesn't save us. Many people kept the Sabbath, but won't be saved. Think of the church leaders in Christ's day who wanted his body removed from the cross by the Sabbath, so they could go home and worship their creator on the Sabbath.
- Only an intimate, trusting and loving relationship with Christ Jesus/God saves us. The Sabbath is a sign, not the actual relationship.

So why keep the seventh day Sabbath? Here are a few reasons among many:

- 1) It is a sign for all to see which God we worship, who has our heart, our love and trust.
- 2) It is the means of keeping our relationship with God close and intimate.
- 3) It is the perfect symbol of the fact that we cannot save ourselves, that from start to finish it is Christ's work made possible through faith.

Look at the miracles Jesus did on the Sabbath. He could have chosen to do them on any other day. He could have healed everyone in sight. He did these miracles for a reason:

- Luke 6:1-11 Man with a shriveled hand was restored – It is good to save life.
- Luke 13:10-16 A woman crippled for 18 years – compared to untying a donkey and giving it water, set free from bondage.
- Luke 14:1-6 A man suffering from dropsy in the house of a prominent pharisee – compared to pulling a trapped son or animal out of a well.
- John 5 A man paralyzed for 38 years – whoever hears my word and believes him who sent me has eternal life...he has crossed over from death to life.
- John 7:23 Healing the whole man
- John 9 Man born blind. Jesus performed a miniature version of the creation of man, spitting into the dirt, rubbed mud on the man's eyes to make him see. And those who see are not blind. He not only healed the man's eyes, but recreated the part of his brain that interprets sight, as the body would have gotten rid of those unneeded brain cells as the child developed.
- The Great Controversy by Ellen White, Page 605 says, “the keeping of the true Sabbath, in obedience to God's law, is an evidence of loyalty to the Creator. While one class, by accepting the sign of submission to earthly powers, receive the mark of the beast, the other choosing the token of allegiance to divine authority, receive the seal of God.”

FRIDAY

Further Thought

I see many surprised people at the end of time:

- Matthew 7:21-23 describes people telling God at the end of time what they did in his name, and were told to get away from God because he doesn't know them (or they don't know him). These are people doing amazing things for God, but having no intimate relationship with Him.
- Matthew 7:21-23 describes the wise and foolish builders, build on the rock, not on sand, which is the only way you will survive when the storms come.
- Matthew 25:31-46 describes that what you do or do not do for one of the least here on earth, you did or did not do for Jesus/God.
- Luke 1:67-74 – John the Baptist's father Zechariah prophesies that one of Jesus' mission to earth is to enable us to serve God without fear.

Read Psalm 107:1-32

- We are ignorant, trapped, sick, overwhelmed and imbalanced, but Jesus has showed us what God is really like. Through his life and death, he has offered us freedom to choose, power to cut us free from our addictions, has healed us through His Holy Spirit, and has calmed and balanced us in preparation for going home.
- John 17:3, “This is eternal life, that you know God.”
- He asks us to “Remember” the sign in time that shows the world we are His and His alone. It costs nothing, except our time. Nothing can separate our love for Him and His love for us. We have his seal and the impress of his insignia ring on our characters. Allow God to work through you to bring as many of your brothers and sisters as you can with you, because the end of all things is at hand!

Preparation for the End Time Lesson 12 2Q 2018

Babylon and Armageddon

SABBATH

Read memory text: “On her forehead a name was written: MYSTERY, BABYLON THE GREAT, THE MOTHER OF HARLOTS AND OF THE ABOMINATIONS OF THE EARTH” (Rev 17:5 NKJV)

What does this mean?

Is it speaking of Iraq or is Babylon symbolic of something else?

It is local to the Middle East or worldwide?

What does abomination mean? Something vile, disgusting, reprehensible, shameful, what, in Bible terms, would fit this description?

What is this power described as doing? Is it working for God or opposing God? Could we say this power wars against God?

What kind of war? Is the war a physical one?

What is Satan’s goal in the war? Is Satan’s goal to physically destroy righteous people, knowing that they will be raised to everlasting life—or is Satan’s goal to corrupt the hearts, minds and characters of righteous people?

What is more abominable to kill an innocent child in their innocence or to turn an innocent child into a perpetrator and lover of violence, evil and sin?

Now, what would be more abominable than turning God’s children into enemies of God? Doing it is such a way that the evil-doers believe they are carrying out God’s will, thus not only corrupting their own character, but grossly misrepresenting God, leading more and more to either accept this lie about God or reject God and in either case have their characters also corrupted by the principles of fear and selfishness.

Now, with this description in mind, can you specify or demarcate the attributes that make a clear distinction between the kingdom of God and the kingdom of Satan—and once we do this we will apply it and see if we can identify what is the most horrible abomination in the world today.

God's Kingdom	Satan's Kingdom
Values truth and thinking	Devalues truth and thinking
Emanates from and brings forth more Love	Emanates from and brings forth more selfishness
Based on Design law	Based on Imposed law
Worship freedom	Worship enforcement
God as source of salvation	God as source of destruction
Jesus is God's agency to heal His creation	Jesus is man's advocate to remove God's wrath
God's justice is saving and healing	God's justice is inflicting punishment
Leads to order and peace	Leads to chaos and violence
Leads to unity	Leads to fragmentation

With this in mind can you identify systems that promote God's methods versus Satan's methods and what the abomination then is? What is the harlot and her prostitute daughters?

Revelation 17:5 from The Remedy:

The title written on her forehead, descriptive of her character and methods, was:
Mysterious BABYLON THE GREAT—the confusing system of religious tradition, fable and falsehood that obscures the truth about God; THE MOTHER OF PROSTITUTES—the many diverse religious sects who sell their virtue for earthly advantage and seduce others into their bed of lies about God; THE ABOMINATION OF THE EARTH.

Do we see the religions of the world more consistently promoting the truth about God, or corrupted with the wine—false teachings—of Babylon?

What might that look like?

SUNDAY

The title for Sunday's lesson is "The Wine of Her Wrath" referring to Babylon. To what is this referring?

What does wine do? What impact does wine have on the mind, on the reasoning ability, on the ability to discern, comprehend, self-govern, make critical decisions?

So, what does Babylon distribute that has the effect of damaging the mind, undermining reasoning ability, impairing discernment, comprehension, self-governance and critical decision making?

Lies about God, false theologies, distortions in beliefs that are contradictory and incite fear and doubt.

Examples:

- God is love but will burn you in hell forever if you don't love Him—this idea violates the law of liberty and this is inconsistent with reality. The only way to believe it is to not reason, not think, thus people actively choose to say things like: “I take that on faith” or “God’s ways are a mystery but it must be love.”
 - It would be like saying: “The best health comes from drinking cyanide” or “Love grows strongest by torture.”
 - From the book Christian Education: “Satan has ascribed to God all the evils to which flesh is heir. He has represented him as a God who delights in the sufferings of his creatures, who is revengeful and implacable. It was Satan who originated the doctrine of eternal torment as a punishment for sin, because in this way he could lead men into infidelity and rebellion, distract souls, and dethrone the human reason.” {CE 73.2}
- God loved the world so much He sent Jesus and then killed Jesus because if He didn't He would have killed us for our sins.
- Relics, which are artifacts from the saints of the past, are useful in helping our prayers and requests ascend to God.
- God records your sins in a book and if you don't apply Jesus' blood to that book then God will find that record of your sin and torture and kill you
- Jesus is in a building in heaven and as we pray He lifts a censor and burns incense and presents our prayers to His Father for us.

Do you see how false beliefs lead to confusion, loss of wisdom, dethrones reason, leads to beastly behaviors in which people in the name of God will imprison and kill each other?

MONDAY

Read second paragraph, “The second angel’s message....” Revelation 17 goes on to describe this fallen religious system, and then in chapter 18 the three angels’ messages are to be given again.

In Revelation 14 the three angels’ messages were presented initially, which began in the 19th Century with the call for people to leave the fallen system of Babylon, but after that call the imposed law lies infected the group called to take this last day message to the world—so in Revelation 18 the Bible teaches that the message must be given again to a new generation, to our generation. This is the beginning of Revelation 18 from The Remedy:

After this, I saw another messenger coming down from heaven—symbolizing the Godly origin of his message. He had the great authority and power of truth, and the earth was illuminated by his splendor.² With a voice reverberating throughout the earth, he shouted: “Babylon the Great is a fallen system of religious tradition, fable, and falsehood distorting the truth about God! Every demonic distortion about God, every evil attitude toward God, and all filthy and destructive heart-motives find their home with her,³ for she intoxicates the world with her pagan views of God, maddening them with her adulterous idea that God coerces and must inflict punishment if not properly appeased. Earth's leaders corrupt themselves with her by practicing her methods, and people not anchored in God's kingdom of love, and those who wander from philosophy to philosophy, fill their minds with her smorgasbord of lies."

⁴Then I heard another voice calling from heaven, saying: "Come out of her, my people! Leave that confusing mess of evil thinking so that you will not share in her spiritual sickness and rebellion, and so that you will not receive the suffering she has chosen;⁵ for her violations of God's design for life have piled up to heaven, and God diagnoses her condition accurately.⁶ She will reap what she has sown: all that she has done will come back on her—with double intensity—from her own evil condition.

Do we find that the fallen system of Babylon, confused by its acceptance of the lie that God's law is imposed and the subsequent multiplicity of various doctrines, rules, arguments, and its punishing god has infected all the world?

- Every Christian group is infected with this view
- Agnostics and evolutionists tasted the idea of such an irrational god and rejected God altogether
- Islam and Judaism worship the same imperial god, the source of punishment upon their enemies
- All pagan religions have gods that require some payment, sacrifice, work, appeasement to induce them to bless
- Yes, the entire world is drunk on this wine—this lie about God's law and thus about God

What happens in a person who operates upon the lie that God's law is like human law, imposed rules which we must obey, and disobedience is bad deeds that get recorded, and one day unconfessed and unforgiven sins God will punish?

Does something different happen in a person who views God as their loving Savior and realizes that His law is the protocols upon which life is built and God is diligently seeking to heal them from sin?

Consider this quote from a book Steps to Christ:

There are those who profess to serve God, while they rely upon their own efforts to obey His law, to form a right character, and secure salvation. Their hearts are not moved by any deep sense of the love of Christ, but they seek to perform the duties of the Christian life as that which God requires of them in order to gain heaven. [What kind of a law construct leads to such living? This is imposed law, this is penal substitutionary theology.] Such religion is worth nothing. [Why? Because it doesn't heal, it gives a false legal security. What is necessary?] When Christ dwells in the heart, the soul will be so filled with His love, with the joy of communion with Him, that it will cleave to Him; and in the contemplation of Him, self will be forgotten. Love to Christ will be the spring of action. [Notice this is internal healing, transforming, recreating, cleansing—not a legal process. This is design law!] Those who feel the constraining love of God, do not ask how little may be given to meet the requirements of God; they do not ask for the lowest standard, but aim at perfect conformity to the will of their Redeemer. With earnest desire they yield all and manifest an interest proportionate to the value of the object which they seek. A profession of Christ without this deep love is mere talk, dry formality, and heavy drudgery. {SC 44.2}

Is there a need for a clarifying message to go forward?

What is the message that is to go forward today and in what way is it different than the way it was presented over 100 years ago?

As a people, we have preached the law until we are as dry as the hills of Gilboa that had neither dew nor rain. We must preach Christ in the law, and there will be sap and nourishment in the preaching that will be as food to the famishing flock of God. {RH, March 11, 1890 par. 13}

How did the message go forward over a 100 years ago? Through the legal law view—arguing the law itself, through an imposed view of law. God gave a law, He gave this law, not that law, you aren't keeping the right day, or baptized in the right way, and therefore God is keeping a record, and when He returns He will punish those who haven't kept the right law.

What would it mean to present Christ in the law?

- Would we present the truth by presenting Christ as our legal payment for our sins—is that what it means? No! That perpetuates the law lie
- Christ in the law is Christ as the living embodiment of the law. God's law is the law of love. The law of love is a living law, it cannot be fully understood or seen written on stone. Jesus lived the law because God's law is the protocol for life.
- Thus the message today is to be given differently, it is the message of Revelation 18—Babylon is the fallen system of imposed law, leave her and return to worship Him who made the heavens... worship the Designer, reject the dictator views of God. This means we must reject the penal substitutionary theologies which are founded on this lie and have made the lie a bedrock of our Christian institutions!

Read last two paragraphs, "Whether that perfect fulfillment..." Is this the final message, the message to call people out of Babylon, the confused system of imposed law with a punishing God from whom we need to be protected, OR is this evidence of the infection? This idea is a distortion of truth from which the message of Rev 18 is to call people out!

Let's examine what is described here:

- Babylon will face judgment—from whom? From God
- What is implied will happen as a result? That God will punish
- For what will there be punishment? According to the lesson, “everyone will have to answer for their deeds”
- Christians have a source of comfort—what is it? An intercessor in the judgment. What is the lesson suggesting the intercessor will do? Protect us from what God would do to us if the intercessor wasn't there.

If you think my conclusions about what is described is misrepresenting the lesson, the bottom pink section of this page states: “How can you take comfort in the promise that all the injustice and iniquity that seems to go unpunished now will face one day final retribution by God?”

Do you hear that? We are to be comforted in the knowledge that if we have a child who has fallen into addictions, pornography, alcoholism, stealing, or simply rejected God for the good times of the world, then one day we can rejoice to stand on the walls of the New Jerusalem and watch God torture our child with the utmost pain only an infinite being could inflict and then kill them. Are you not comforted?

Let me put this plainly:

- This is the wine of Babylon. This idea, this concept, that we must be protected from God is a lie.
- The idea that God's law requires God to inflict punishment is a lie. It is Satan's lie from the beginning in heaven and it has infected all humanity; it is the basis of paganism.
- It is the reason for the rejection of God and evolutionism.
- It is the basis of Penal Substitution Theology which is a lie, and it is this distortion about God from which the message of the Three Angels is to free people.

TUESDAY

When you hear the Battle of Armageddon, what comes to mind?

How is it most frequently taught?

What is the truth about the Battle of Armageddon, to what is it referring?

The lesson states in paragraph 3, “Scripture presents Armageddon as the ultimate climax—not between squabbling nations, but between the two sides of the cosmic controversy. It's a religious struggle, not economic or political, however much economic and political factors might come into play.”

The lesson asks us to read Revelation 16:12-16:

From the NIV1984:

The sixth angel poured out his bowl on the great river Euphrates, and its water was dried up to prepare the way for the kings from the East. ¹³ Then I saw three evil spirits that looked like frogs; they came out of the mouth of the dragon, out of the mouth of the beast and out of the mouth of the false prophet. ¹⁴ They are spirits of demons performing miraculous signs, and they go out to the kings of the whole world, to gather them for the battle on the great day of God Almighty.

¹⁵ “Behold, I come like a thief! Blessed is he who stays awake and keeps his clothes with him, so that he may not go naked and be shamefully exposed.”

¹⁶ Then they gathered the kings together to the place that in Hebrew is called Armageddon.

What does this mean? What kind of battle is being described?

From The Remedy:

¹² The sixth angel poured out his bowl on the great river Euphrates—symbolizing the withdrawing of God's forces of righteousness as a shield against the kings from the East symbolic of the corrupting powers of mysticism. ¹³ I saw three spirits whose minds had not been cleansed of the lies about God. They looked like frogs catching their prey with their lying tongues. They came telling the lies of mysticism and spiritualism from the dragon, the lies of coercion and force from the beast, and the lies of pagan appeasement theology from the false prophet. ¹⁴ They are the spiritual movements of fallen angels—demons who perform miracles and go to the rulers of the world to unite them in war against the truth about God and his methods of love, on the great day of God Almighty.

¹⁵ “Understand this: To the unhealed, my coming will be unexpected—like that of a thief. But the healed, who have guarded their hearts and kept their characters pure, will be happy at my coming and will not be shamed by the exposure of an unhealed character.”

¹⁶ Then the demonic forces united the nations together in their opposition to God and his methods of love, bringing them to what is known in Hebrew as Harmageddon, or The Mount of Assembly,—the mountain where God rules.

Do you agree?

There are four primary distortions being taught about God in this final battle for the minds and hearts of people on earth:

- Mysticism—there is no intelligent God with His own identity and individuality, but a cosmic force that requires both good and evil to exist together for all eternity to provide balance. And we have the power to access the force for either good or evil.
- Spiritualism—you cannot die and the dead continue to exist in a conscious not physical form carrying out both good and evil
- Imperialism—Justice is the use of power to coerce, force and punish those who disobey
- Penal Substitution Theologies (which manifest in most pagan religions): God is the source of inflicted punishments and will punish you unless He is offered the blood of an innocent human sacrifice to propitiate His wrath.

Do you see the infection, the lies, the war going on for your heart and mine?

Now, with this in mind let's jump back and read the third paragraph in Monday's lesson which is a quote from the book The Great Controversy:

"The Bible declares that before the coming of the Lord, Satan will work 'with all the power and signs and lying wonders, and with all deceivableness of unrighteousness;' and they that 'receive not the love of the truth, that they might be saved,' will be left to receive 'strong delusion, that they should believe a lie.' 2 Thessalonians 2:9-11. Not until this condition shall be reached, and the union of the church with the world shall be fully accomplished throughout Christendom, will the fall of Babylon be complete. The change is a progressive one, and the perfect fulfillment of Revelation 14:8 is yet future." 1888

What would the union of the church with the world look like? Would it not be the acceptance of the world's methods, the world's understanding of law i.e. imposed rules and teaching that God functions like the governments of the world? Would it not be the very ideas we have exposed as the basis of Penal Substitution Theology a god who requires a blood payment or he will use his power to torture and kill—and it is taught such behavior to exact vengeance and retribution is justice?

WEDNESDAY

Read first paragraph, "What, thought, is the great..." What was the problem at Carmel? Was it they were not religious? Or was it that they accepted a false version of God?

What of this quote?

Thousands have a false conception of God and His attributes. They are as verily serving a false god as were the servants of Baal. Are we worshiping the true God as He is revealed in His Word, in Christ, in nature, or are we adoring some philosophical idol enshrined in His place? God is a God of truth. Justice and mercy are the attributes of His throne. He is a God of love, of pity and tender compassion. Thus He is represented in His Son, our Saviour. He is a God of patience and long-suffering. If such is the being whom we adore and to whose character we are seeking to assimilate, we are worshiping the true God. {FLB 59.8}

The lesson rightly connects Armageddon with Mount Carmel, let's review the historic roots and show these connections and the problem today:

The chief god of ancient Babylon was Marduk. This description of Marduk is from the Encyclopedia Britannica:

Originally, he seems to have been a god of thunderstorms. A poem, known as Enuma elish and dating from the reign of Nebuchadrezzar I (1119–1098 BCE), relates Marduk's rise to such preeminence that he was the god of 50 names, each one that of a deity or of a divine attribute. After conquering the monster of primeval chaos, Tiamat, he became Lord of the Gods of Heaven and Earth. All nature, including humanity, owed its existence to him; the destiny of kingdoms and subjects was in his hands...

Marduk's star was Jupiter, and his sacred animals were horses, dogs, and especially the so-called dragon with forked tongue, representations of which adorn his city's walls. On the oldest monuments Marduk is represented holding a triangular spade or hoe, interpreted as an emblem of fertility and vegetation. He is also pictured walking or in his war chariot. Typically, his tunic is adorned with stars; in his hand is a sceptre, and he carries a bow, spear, net, or thunderbolt. Kings of Assyria and Persia also honoured Marduk... in inscriptions and rebuilt many of their temples.

Marduk was later known as Bel, a name derived from the Semitic word baal, or "lord." Bel had all the attributes of Marduk, and his status and cult were much the same....
<https://www.britannica.com/topic/Marduk>

What were the attributes of Marduk:

- Creator and supreme god
- He was the god of weather
- He was dragon-like and had a forked tongue—symbolic of a liar?
- He was the god of fertility

And, Marduk became known as Baal, and it was Baal who was being worshipped by Israel at the time of Elijah. Who was Baal?

Baal was the son of El (i.e. El-ohim or El-Shaddai). He was the god of weather. Often called, 'Almighty' and "Lord of the Earth." Baal was the god who brought rain, thunder, lightening, who fertilized the earth, controlled the sun and brought the harvest.

Baal fought the great serpent leviathan as well as battled against Mot, the god of death. And most amazing of all, it was taught that Baal died in his battle with Mot and rose from the dead to bring life to earth.

So what was the problem with worshipping a god who was the "husband and protector of Israel," the son of El, who controlled the weather, who brought rain, sunshine, and fertility, who blessed with full harvest, who warred against the great serpent and death, who died and was resurrected to bring us life? What was wrong with this god?

Baal required appeasement—Baal required something be offered him in order to appease wrath, prevent punishment and engender blessings.

Baal became:

- Zeus to the Greeks
- Jupiter to the Romans—remember Marduk's star was Jupiter
- Thor to the Norse people
- Jesus Christ to all those who worship a god that like Baal requires appeasement, payment, propitiation of a human sacrifice in order not to kill

This is why God prophesied through Malachi that before the second coming of Christ the prophet Elijah must come again. Why? Just like Elijah confronted Baal worship millennia ago, so too the people of God today, must confront Baal worship and call people to choose between two versions of God.

Read last paragraph, “In many ways...” What does it mean to forsake God's law today?

What does it mean to worship Him who made the heaven and earth, the sea and springs of water?

This is contrasting those who worship the god who imposes law (Baal) versus the Creator God whose law is design protocols (Yahweh).

THURSDAY

Prior to the confrontation at Carmel there had been no rain for 3.5 years, according to Revelation how long does the beastly system have power? 3.5 years, and what would no rain symbolically represent?

Could it represent that when we worship, believe, present, teach the false penal view of God that the latter rain of the Holy Spirit doesn't fall?

And in Elijah's day as soon as the people rejected the Baal version of God and accepted the true God what happened? The rain came—could it be that when we as Christians reject the Penal Substitutionary dictator view of God and accept the true view of our Designer view of God and His law that the latter rain will fall?

Preparation for the End Time Q2 2018 – Lesson 13

The Return of Our Lord, Jesus

SABBATH

“For as the lightning cometh out of the east, and shineth even unto the west; so shall also the coming of the Son of man be” (Matthew 24:27).

What does this text mean to you?

Does it conjure up scenes of God using lightening bolts to slay the wicked?

From the Lesson:

“The poet T. S. Eliot began a poem with the line: “In my beginning is my end.” However succinct, his words carry a powerful truth. In origins exist endings.” Emphasis mine.

The lesson draws some comparisons to Christ’s 2nd coming and the Creation. It, correctly, emphasizes Christ as the Creator.

Didn’t the Jews at Christ’s 1st advent believe in a Creation?

Doesn’t most of modern day Christianity [at least, Protestantism] believe in Creation?

Doesn’t it matter the character of the Creator? Is it damaging to believe Christ, as the Creator, will kill his children if He’s not loved in return?

What foundational issue is missing from the lesson’s comparisons? Design Law.

God’s Law. It was Law in eternity past [pre-Creation] and will remain Law in eternity future[forever after the 2nd Advent of Christ]. The Creation was an unfolding of God’s Law, The Crucifixion and Resurrection were deeper revelations of God’s Law, and Christ’s 2nd & 3rd comings [along with the destruction of the unrighteous] will be continued revelations of God’s Design Law.

SUNDAY

The Day of The Lord

From the Lesson:

“There is no question that the “day of the Lord” will be a day of destruction and sorrow and turmoil for the lost. But it is also a day of deliverance for all of God’s people, those who are “found written in the book” (see also Phil. 4:3, Rev. 3:5, 13:8). This theme—that of the “day of the Lord” as a time of judgment against the wicked but also a time when God’s faithful are protected and rewarded—is found first in the Old Testament. For instance, although some will face the “Lord’s fierce anger,” those who heed the call to “seek righteousness” and “seek humility” will “be hidden / In the day of the Lord’s anger” (Zeph. 2:1–3, NKJV).”

Why is Christ’s 2nd coming a “day of destruction and sorrow and turmoil for the lost”?

From his mouth comes a sharp sword with which to strike down the nations, and he will rule them with a rod of iron. He will tread the winepress of the fury of the wrath of God the Almighty. Rev. 19:15.

The sword coming from Christ’s mouth is symbolic of what?

Pure, glorious Truth. Interesting that if you remove the “S” from sword, you get “word.”

The coming of the lawless one is by the activity of Satan with all power and false signs and wonders, and with all wicked deception for those who are perishing, because they refused to love the truth and so be saved. Therefore God sends them a strong delusion, so that they may believe what is false, in order that all may be condemned who did not believe the truth but had pleasure in unrighteousness. 2 Thess. 2: 9-12.

From the bottom section in Sunday’s lesson:

“As final events unfold, the side we are on will only become more apparent. What choices can and must we make now to make sure we’re on the right side?”

Is this accurate?

Jesus told them another parable: “The kingdom of heaven is like a man who sowed good seed in his field. But while everyone was sleeping, his enemy came and sowed weeds among the wheat, and went away. When the wheat sprouted and formed heads, then the weeds also appeared.

“The owner’s servants came to him and said, ‘Sir, didn’t you sow good seed in your field? Where then did the weeds come from?’ “ ‘An enemy did this,’ he replied. “The servants asked him, ‘Do you want us to go and pull them up?’

“ ‘No,’ he answered, ‘because while you are pulling the weeds, you may uproot the wheat with them. Let both grow together until the harvest. At that time I will tell the harvesters: First collect the weeds and tie them in bundles to be burned; then gather the wheat and bring it into my barn.’ ” Matt. 13: 24-30.

“Christ has plainly taught that those who persist in open sin must be separated from the church, but He has not committed to us the work of judging character and motive. He knows our nature too well to entrust this work to us. Should we try to uproot from the church those whom we suppose to be spurious Christians, we should be sure to make mistakes. Often we regard as hopeless subjects the very ones whom Christ is drawing to Himself. Were we to deal with these souls according to our imperfect judgment, it would perhaps extinguish their last hope. Many who think themselves Christians will at last be found wanting. Many will be in heaven who their neighbors supposed would never enter there. Man judges from appearance, but God judges the heart. The tares and the wheat are to grow together until the harvest; and the harvest is the end of probationary time.

There is in the Saviour’s words another lesson, a lesson of wonderful forbearance and tender love. As the tares have their roots closely intertwined with those of the good grain, so false brethren in the church may be closely linked with true disciples. The real character of these pretended believers is not fully manifested. Were they to be separated from the church, others might be caused to stumble, who but for this would have remained steadfast.

The teaching of this parable is illustrated in God’s own dealing with men and angels. Satan is a deceiver. When he sinned in heaven, even the loyal angels did not fully discern his character. This was why God did not at once destroy Satan. Had He done so, the holy angels would not have perceived the justice and love of God. A doubt of God’s goodness would have been as evil seed that would yield the bitter fruit of sin and woe. Therefore the author of evil was spared, fully to develop his character. Through long ages God has borne the anguish of beholding the work of evil, He has given the infinite Gift of Calvary, rather than leave any to be deceived by the misrepresentations of the wicked one; for the tares could not be plucked up without danger of uprooting the precious grain. And shall we not be as forbearing toward our fellow men as the Lord of heaven and earth is toward Satan?” COL. 72. Emphasis mine.

MONDAY

Daniel and the Second Coming of Jesus

The lesson has us focus on Daniel 2 [Nebuchadnezzar’s dream of the tall idol] and, and its import regarding the eventual kingdom of God.

Who had the dream in the first place, and who was God trying to reach with the dream?

What does the dream tell us about Earthly kingdoms? About God’s Kingdom?

Did the dream tell us all we needed to know about God's Kingdom, or was there some important pieces missing?

34 You watched while a stone was cut out without hands, which struck the image on its feet of iron and clay, and broke them in pieces. 35 Then the iron, the clay, the bronze, the silver, and the gold were crushed together, and became like chaff from the summer threshing floors; the wind carried them away so that no trace of them was found. And the stone that struck the image became a great mountain and filled the whole earth.

44 And in the days of these kings the God of heaven will set up a kingdom which shall never be destroyed; and the kingdom shall not be left to other people; it shall break in pieces and consume all these kingdoms, and it shall stand forever. 45 Inasmuch as you saw that the stone was cut out of the mountain without hands, and that it broke in pieces the iron, the bronze, the clay, the silver, and the gold—the great God has made known to the king what will come to pass after this. The dream is certain, and its interpretation is sure.” Daniel 2: 34, 35 & 44, 45.

From the lesson:

“These verses leave little ambiguity about what happens when Jesus returns.”

Did Nebuchadnezzar have any ambiguity? Do we?

TUESDAY

Long Term Prospects

This lesson refers back to Sabbath's lesson in that origins are tied to endings. I think the take home lesson here is that a correct understanding of design law is critical if we are to form a useful foundation for our faith, and, if necessary, be able to present compelling evidence in support of that faith.

Simply believing in Creation is having a foundation built on sand [i.e. “God said it, I believe it, that settles it”]. Understanding how life is designed to work, and being able to harmonize multiple threads of evidence in support of our understanding is building on the Solid Rock.

WEDNESDAY

In the Clouds of Heaven.

The lesson mentions a theory about Jesus' return being the outpouring of the Holy Spirit [what we consider the “Latter Rain”]. I've personally never met anyone who subscribes to this approach. I think, and Scripture is clear on, it will be a literal return to Earth. For some, it will be deliverance. For others, it will be hell.

Consider the quote from Great Controversy the lesson chose to include.

“The firmament appears to open and shut. The glory from the throne of God seems flashing through. The mountains shake like a reed in the wind, and ragged rocks are scattered on every side. There is a roar as of a coming tempest. The sea is lashed into fury. There is heard the shriek of a hurricane like the voice of demons upon a mission of destruction. The whole earth heaves and swells like the waves of the sea. Its surface is breaking up. Its very foundations seem to be giving way. Mountain chains are sinking. Inhabited islands disappear. The seaports that have become like Sodom for wickedness are swallowed up by the angry waters. Babylon the great has come in remembrance before God, ‘to give unto her the cup of the wine of the fierceness of His wrath.’ ”—Ellen G. White, The Great Controversy, p. 637.

On some have compassion, making a distinction; but others save with fear, pulling them out of the fire, hating even the garment defiled by the flesh. Jude 22, 23.

I just came across the text from Jude earlier this past week. Which is better, saving with compassion or with fear?

THURSDAY

The Living and The Dead

Why will the “dead in Christ” be raised?

Why was Jesus, Himself, raised from the dead?

How was He able to accurately predict His own resurrection?

Can we the assurance He had about loved ones and ourselves falling asleep?

The Book of Acts Lesson 1 3Q 2018

You Will Be My Witnesses

presenter: Tim Jennings (announcements at end)

I am so humbled to realize how God works in our lives. When I was in my residency I had a patient who motivated me to research Biblical principles for healing the mind, and she is described in the opening of Could It Be This Simple? A Biblical Model for Healing the Mind. I wrote the primer paper that became the book when I was in my residency and the book was initially published in 2007. As you know our ministry has been distributing this book since our founding in 2010.

Last week I was at Folsom Women's Prison in California conducting an all-day seminar for the inmates there. Susan and Rich Kollenberg have been doing prison ministries for years using Could It Be This Simple? and with our permission they have just created a Could It Be This Simple? Prison Ministries Work Book. They, along with the prison officials, have found that those who take their course have reductions in behavior problems and recidivism.

The lectures last week were recorded and we are creating a new DVD set to go along with the new workbook, and will make these available at no cost to prisons and prison ministries around the country.

The new DVD set will include the following four lectures:

- The Mind God's Design and What Went Wrong
- Recovering from Sexual Abuse
- Healthy Love versus Love Addiction
- Guilt Resolution

A few days before the seminar at Folsom I received the following email:

I am a doctoral student at the University of the Cumberlands in Williamsburg, Kentucky and an LPCC in private practice in London, Kentucky. As a part of my practice, I have a contract to provide mental health services to the Laurel County Correctional facility that currently houses on average 576 male and female inmates. I do individual counseling and I lead small groups. Currently I have five groups going through your book Could It Be This Simple? Additionally, I have been using this book in my private practice for over six years with amazing results.

At the jail I also use the Adverse Childhood Experience Measurement and have been keeping stats on the results. Ninety-three percent of all the inmates who have taken this assessment have had a score >4. The majority of them have also had multiple incarcerations which continue to add to the national recidivism dilemma. I am finding that as I use your book in small groups with the inmates, their minds and hearts are changing. I know this because their symptoms of anxiety, depression, and suicidal thoughts are improving. I know this because their behaviors in their cell environments are improving. I know this because many are making decisions to pursue a relationship with Christ. I know this because their self-esteem and ability to forgive themselves is improving... I believe that many of these adults are suffering from childhood trauma that has gone untreated, and if left untreated will only continue to result in life long incarcerations. I am requesting your permission to use your book for this research project, as well as any guidance and leadership that you might have time to offer...

I first met you at AACC and I have always made sure to take any class you have taught at the conferences. There is rarely a day that goes by that I am not drawing on my white board the model on page 41 for a client, and just so you know, I began living the model myself a few years back and it has changed my life. I know you are busy, but I sure hope you may be able to help with this in some way. I believe with the right research, especially in the prison system, your book could become the one evidence-based treatment that could make all the difference for these inmates.

Could It Be This Simple? is now available in:

- Spanish
- Portuguese
- German

- Soon to be released in Polish
- Prison Ministries Workbook

And in the last two weeks I received this email:

I first learned about Come and Reason Ministries in 2015. It was during my year of EM fellowship in Memphis, TN. I had decided for some reason to go to the GC session that year. While there, I visited a number of booths and as I passed the CRM booth, a bag with free dvds was given to me. At the time, I wasnt terribly interested in the booth itself and dont even remember who the person was who handed me that bag. The DVDs lay unopened in my apartment for months. Finally, one day when I was bored (I was alone and far from family and had no cable tv to watch or radio to listen to), I finally picked up one of the dvds and decided to play it...I had nothing else to do that day. As I listened, I think my mouth dropped open a number of times. I learned things I had never heard before. I began to realize that there just might be something wrong with how I viewed God and a number of things in my experience. I had grown up SDA and remember frequently feeling guilty, sad, and maybe afraid as well, especially when I did something wrong, which invariably would happen. Over the past few years, I have listened to those 3 seminars a few times, found your website, and have begun listening to the Bible study every week...sometimes replaying it several times to try to understand points that I hadn't thought of before. I am SO GRATEFUL that God led me to that booth that day and for those DVDs which have set me on a course to learn and grow closer to this God, my Father, my Abba, that I am growing to love more and more now. My mother listens to these studies with me and whenever I have an opportunity, at work or at church, I try to refer people to this website to find out for themselves. At church, I at times have the opportunity to speak for the sermon and will try to bring in some of these concepts before the small church I attend in Maryland. The purpose of this email is to express my extreme gratitude for this ministry and to encourage those working in this ministry to keep spreading the truth far and wide. If there is anything I can do to help further this message, I would love to do so.

We want to thank all of you who support this ministry—it is because of your volunteering, sharing resources, prayers, encouragement, donations, that we are able to create such materials and reach people with this life-changing message.

The Book of Acts

In the introduction to the study guide it points out that the book of Acts and Luke were written by Luke, which constitutes 27% of the NT, more than any other New Testament writer—and Luke was a physician who was not Jewish and not one of the 12 Apostles.

What does this fact reveal? That the Holy Spirit is not restricted by race, or academic degree, or organizational affiliation, or theological training of the person. What is it that does restrict the Holy Spirit? The hardness of human hearts, which means what? Two aspects, selfishness and a lack of tenderness toward the truth—in other words, when there is no openness for new truth to change old ideas. As Jesus said you can't put new wine in old wineskins.

But, for people who have tender hearts, who love others and love to grow in the truth the Holy Spirit is not restricted, but poured out and those people grow, advance, are transformed and become God's witnesses or lights in the world.

SABBATH

Read memory text: "You will receive power when the Holy Spirit has come upon you; and you will be my witnesses in Jerusalem, in all Judea and Samaria, and to the ends of the earth." Acts 1:8

What power would they receive? The power:

- To heal people?
- To speak other languages?
- To resist viper bites?
- To understand and speak the truth?
- To love their enemies?
- To overcome temptations to be selfish?
- To lose self-control or to acquire self-control?

Which of these can be counterfeited by false spirits?

What type of power is the type of power that is subject to counterfeit? Is it not the power of might, of physical things, of miracles and signs? Such as:

- A serpent speaks
- Magicians turn staffs into serpents
- An angel of light appears to Christ
- Satan transports Christ to the pinnacle of the temple

Are signs, wonders, miracles the types of evidence we should rely upon to differentiate the work of God from the work of Satan?

What is necessary in order to perform a miracle? What does one need, what type of power? Some physical power over the elements, materials, or organisms involved. Has Satan, by his deception of Adam, gained access to the physical world? Is there any evidence in Scripture that Satan can manipulate nature? Book of Job...

So, miracles are based on physical power.

Is the question between good and evil who has the most physical power?

Or is it, how one wields physical power? I found this comment in the book Acts of the Apostles, which is a commentary on the book of Acts.

"Whereunto," asked Christ, "shall we liken the kingdom of God? or with what comparison shall we compare it?" Mark 4:30. He could not employ the kingdoms of the world as a similitude. In society He found nothing with which to compare it. Earthly kingdoms rule by the ascendancy of physical power; but from Christ's kingdom every carnal weapon, every instrument of coercion, is banished. This kingdom is to uplift and ennoble humanity. God's church is the court of holy life, filled with varied gifts and endowed with the Holy Spirit. The members are to find their happiness in the happiness of those whom they help and bless. {AA 12.2}

Do you agree?

Then, what is the power of the Holy Spirit that is the hallmark of God's presence and activity, that is always necessary in order for God's kingdom to move forward?

After the descent of the Holy Spirit, the disciples were so filled with love for Him and for those for whom He died, that hearts were melted by the words they spoke and the prayers they offered. They spoke in the power of the Spirit; and under the influence of that power, thousands were converted. {AA 22.2}

What was the power that filled the disciples? The power of love, which was combined with the truth that they spoke.

This is the power of the Spirit of truth and love.

Can Satan wield truth, pure, unadulterated combined with pure godly love?

What about the presentation of some truth divorced from love? Can those who are not on Christ's side present a truth, but have it divorced from love and thereby misrepresent God?

- What about the truth that Jesus is our Savior—is that true? Can it be presented without love, such that if people refuse to accept Jesus some might torture and kill those who refuse to accept Him?

While I don't know of any Christians today who would actually kill people who refuse to accept Jesus, can we find this same motive manifested in other ways?

- Christian who abuse their family members because they break some religious rule?
- Church organizations that enforce some rule to the loss of individual members?
- Enforced creeds or belief systems?

What do you think of these comments from a book called Gospel Worker?

A great and solemn truth has been intrusted to us, for which we are responsible. Too often this truth is presented in cold theory. Sermon after sermon upon doctrinal points is delivered to people who come and go, some of whom will never have another as favorable opportunity of being convicted and converted to Christ... A theory of the truth without vital godliness cannot remove the moral darkness which envelops the soul. {GW92 39.2}

Most precious gems of truth are often rendered powerless by the wisdom of words in which they are clothed, while the power of the Spirit of God is lacking. Christ presented the truth in its simplicity; and he reached not only the most elevated, but the lowliest men of earth. The minister who is God's ambassador and Christ's representative on the earth, who humbles himself that God may be exalted, will possess the genuine quality of eloquence. True piety, a close connection with God, and a daily, living experience in the knowledge of Christ, will make eloquent even the stammering tongue. {GW92 39.3}

Is it enough to have the right definitions of doctrines? Why not?

Did those who crucified Christ have the wrong Sabbath, the wrong diet, the wrong Sanctuary service, the wrong Commandments, the wrong Scriptures—what did they not have? Love!

What about the Good Samaritan? What did he have?

As we prepare for the coming of Christ, what is most important that we possess—a correct knowledge of the right doctrines, or a Christlike character?

Can a person have a Christlike character and not believe the doctrine of the Trinity, or baptism by immersion, or footwashing, or communion ceremony, or which day is the Sabbath?

Consider this quote:

The five foolish virgins had lamps (this means a knowledge of Scripture truth), but they had not the grace of Christ. Day by day they went through a round of ceremonies and external duties, but their service was lifeless, devoid of the righteousness of Christ. The Sun of Righteousness did not shine in their hearts and minds, and they had not the love of the truth which conforms to the life and character, the image and superscription, of Christ. The oil of grace was not mingled with their endeavors. Their religion was a dry husk without the true kernel. They held fast to forms of doctrines, but they were deceived in their Christian life, full of self-righteousness, and failing to learn lessons in the school of Christ, which, if practiced, would have made them wise unto salvation.-- Review and Herald, March 27, 1894.

Is it enough to have the truth?

What about love divorced from truth?

One cannot have love divorced from the love OF truth, but one can have love divorced from the awareness of truth. The person who genuinely loves, loves the truth and loves to grow in and advance in the truth yet such a one may not comprehend, know, understand, realize, appreciate or be aware of various truths, but when they do become aware of new truth they embrace and assimilate the truth and grow in it.

Thus, a loving character is a more accurate barometer of whether a person is a genuine follower of Christ than the doctrines they hold!

Evidence for this:

- “A new command I give you: Love one another. As I have loved you, so you must love one another. ³⁵ By this all men will know that you are my disciples, if you love one another.” John 13:34,35
- “Then the King will say to those on his right, ‘Come, you who are blessed by my Father; take your inheritance, the kingdom prepared for you since the creation of the world. ³⁵ For I was hungry and you gave me something to eat, I was thirsty and you gave me something to drink, I was a stranger and you invited me in, ³⁶ I needed clothes and you clothed me, I was sick and you looked after me, I was in prison and you came to visit me.’
³⁷ “Then the righteous will answer him, ‘Lord, when did we see you hungry and feed you, or thirsty and give you something to drink? ³⁸ When did we see you a stranger and invite you in, or needing clothes and clothe you? ³⁹ When did we see you sick or in prison and go to visit you?’

⁴⁰ “The King will reply, ‘I tell you the truth, whatever you did for one of the least of these brothers of mine, you did for me.’ Mt 25:34-40

Do you agree that a loving character is more important than the correct doctrines, and that one can have correct doctrines without a loving character and thus crucify the Savior?

What is the most important requirement in your church organization to hold office—is it character or correct doctrine? Does that risk anything?

Read first paragraph, “Jesus’ mission on earth...” When Jesus’ mission on earth was finished, was Jesus’ mission to save humanity and eliminate sin from the universe finished?

Was the atonement complete at the Cross?

One of the big arguments in Christianity is whether the atonement was complete at the cross or not.

The confusion is rooted in, as almost all the confusion is, the view of law one holds. If one holds the idea that God’s law functions like human law, then the sin problem is a legal one that needs legal a solution and the atonement is viewed in some legal aspect.

When one realizes God’s law is design law and that sin is a problem of the actual condition of the sinner, then one realizes atonement is providing what is necessary to remove sin from the sinner and restore the sinner to God’s perfection—i.e. back to at-one-ment with God.

In the legal model, Martin Luther, developed the idea of penal substitution because he wanted to eliminate the doctrine of purgatory. Purgatory was idea that sins can be purged after death to make people fit for heaven, which gave the church coercive power over people as it was taught the church held the keys to heaven and hell. People could pay money or do other things to get their loved ones moved from purgatory to heaven.

To eliminate this power from the church Martin Luther taught that all sins, from all people, from all time, past, present, future, were placed on Christ at the Cross and legally punished by God there, and thus no further need for punishment, or purging of sin was necessary. In this view, it was all complete at the cross.

The problem of course is that this entire construct is based on a lie, a false diagnosis, that the sin problem is legal, based on law that functions like human law and thus requires punishment. That is Satan’s view and it is pagan.

The truth is that God’s law is design law and when mankind sinned, the condition of humankind was changed to be out of harmony with God and God's design (law) for life. Thus, God, "made him who knew no sin to become sin for us so that we might become the righteousness of God." This is substitution, but notice, not for penal reasons, for restoring us to actual righteousness reasons.

Thus, in this view we understand that the perfect and complete REMEDY for sin was procured by Christ at the Cross, but that Remedy still needs to be applied into individual believers for their healing and restoration.

Thus, the species human was saved in the person (humanity) of Jesus, and the species was perfected by Jesus in His own assumed humanity, but for each individual sinner we must receive, partake, of Jesus in order to be transformed or healed. This is the application phase of the atonement, which was not complete at the Cross.

What do you think of this quote?

In describing to His disciples the office work of the Holy Spirit, Jesus sought to inspire them with the joy and hope that inspired His own heart. He rejoiced because of the abundant help He had provided for His church. The Holy Spirit was the highest of all gifts that He could solicit from His Father for the exaltation of His people. The Spirit was to be given as a regenerating agent, and without this the sacrifice of Christ would have been of no avail. The power of evil had been strengthening for centuries, and the submission of men to this satanic captivity was amazing. Sin could be resisted and overcome only through the mighty agency of the Third Person of the Godhead, who would come with no modified energy, but in the fullness of divine power. It is the Spirit that makes effectual what has been wrought out by the world's Redeemer. It is by the Spirit that the heart is made pure. Through the Spirit the believer becomes a partaker of the divine nature. Christ has given His Spirit as a divine power to overcome all hereditary and cultivated tendencies to evil, and to impress His own character upon His church. {DA 671.2}

Do you agree or disagree with this position?

Do you see how the design law view brings perfect harmony and understanding to the atonement question resolving all the apparent contradictions that persist within Christianity because of the false legal model?

It is true that the efforts of the Apostles were accompanied by many miracles, does that mean when we see miracles we can know with 100% certainty that we are seeing the work of God?

What is it that is the best evidence that God's Spirit is at work? Transformation to Christlike character, which means Christlike methods are being practiced.

So, what would a Christlike approach be to a group of Christians who wanted to come to a city and have a free medical clinic for the indigent on Saturday?

What would be revealed if a group of potential sponsors told the volunteer healthcare workers that they should not hold a free clinic for the poor on Saturday because Saturday is the Sabbath and if they won't change it to another day the sponsors will pull their funds?

Consider this description:

Jesus had come to "magnify the law, and make it honorable." He was not to lessen its dignity, but to exalt it... He had come to free the Sabbath from those burdensome requirements that had made it a curse instead of a blessing. {DA 206.1}

For this reason He had chosen the Sabbath upon which to perform the act of healing at Bethesda. He could have healed the sick man as well on any other day of the week; or He might simply have cured him, without bidding him bear away his bed. But this would not have given Him the opportunity He desired. A wise purpose underlay every act of Christ's life on earth. Everything He did was important in itself and in its teaching. Among the afflicted ones at the pool He selected the worst case upon whom to exercise His healing power, and bade the man carry his bed through the city in order to publish the great work that had been wrought upon him. This would raise the question of what it was lawful to do on the Sabbath, and would open the way for Him to denounce the restrictions of the Jews in regard to the Lord's day, and to declare their traditions void. {DA 206.2}

Jesus stated to them that the work of relieving the afflicted was in harmony with the Sabbath law. It was in harmony with the work of God's angels, who are ever descending and ascending between heaven and earth to minister to suffering humanity. Jesus declared, "My Father worketh hitherto, and I work." All days are God's, in which to carry out His plans for the human race. If the Jews' interpretation of the law was correct, then Jehovah was at fault, whose work has quickened and upheld every living thing since first He laid the foundations of the earth; then He who pronounced His work good, and instituted the Sabbath to commemorate its completion, must put a period to His labor, and stop the never-ending routine of the universe. {DA 206.3}

Should God forbid the sun to perform its office upon the Sabbath, cut off its genial rays from warming the earth and nourishing vegetation? Must the system of worlds stand still through that holy day? Should He command the brooks to stay from watering the fields and forests, and bid the waves of the sea still their ceaseless ebbing and flowing? Must the wheat and corn stop growing, and the ripening cluster defer its purple bloom? Must the trees and flowers put forth no bud nor blossom on the Sabbath? [Notice all of these are design laws, as are the laws of health, and so is the Sabbath, thus activity moving people into harmony with God's design is always lawful on the Sabbath. But the imposed law view, makes rules that undermine the design laws of God and injures and harms people] {DA 206.4}

In such a case, men would miss the fruits of the earth, and the blessings that make life desirable. Nature must continue her unvarying course. God could not for a moment stay His hand, or man would faint and die. And man also has a work to perform on this day. The necessities of life must be attended to, the sick must be cared for, the wants of the needy must be supplied. He will not be held guiltless who neglects to relieve suffering on the Sabbath. God's holy rest day was made for man, and acts of mercy are in perfect harmony with its intent. God does not desire His creatures to suffer an hour's pain that may be relieved upon the Sabbath or any other day. {DA 207.1}

But what about hiring someone to do work for you on Sabbath? Well this is an interesting note from E.G. White one of the founders of the SDA church:

Yesterday (Sabbath) morning, Willie spoke to the church in Ashfield. At 3 p.m. we hired a horse and carriage to take me to Newtown, four miles from Ashfield. We met in a small hall upstairs where a goodly number were assembled. I spoke to them on the prayer of Daniel, his contrition of soul, and his deep sorrow as he witnessed the desolation of Jerusalem. {18MR 14.2}

The legal minded, imposed law view, has difficulty with such activity. The design law view realizes there is no problem at all because it is all about spreading God's healing remedy and the Sabbath was created for man, not man for the Sabbath.

Why was it the Spirit wasn't poured out until Christ physically left the earth? Wasn't the Holy Spirit working on hearts and minds throughout human history?

How does the Holy Spirit work—truth and love. Does the Holy Spirit force His way into hearts? So for the Holy Spirit to have more power on earth, i.e. to do more in humanity, the Holy Spirit needs more access to human hearts, yes or no?

Is there a connection between Christ returning to heaven and the Holy Spirit gaining more access to human hearts?

What would have happened, in the hearts, minds of humans, if Christ stayed physically on earth? Would people be opening their minds and hearts for God to indwell, or would they be seeking a personal audience with Jesus?

SUNDAY

Read third paragraph, "At first, the disciples..." What caused the disciples bickering?

What caused their confusion and discouragement?

Do we have certain expectations that if they fail to transpire will result in our confusion and discouragement? Or do we have a perspective keeps us grounded?

For instance:

- What happens if the time of trouble comes and there is no secret rapture beforehand, will those who have expected a secret rapture be okay?
- What happens if there is a secret rapture, will those who didn't expect one be okay?
- What about those who expect Israel to become central and a physical battle to take place in Palestine and it doesn't happen?
- What about those who don't expect Israel to be central and it does?
- What about those who expect Sunday laws to be passed worldwide, but it doesn't happen?
- What about those who don't expect Sunday laws, but it does happen?

Could our expectations set us up for confusion?

Could some expectations actually set us up to side with Satan instead of Christ?

- What about those who expect Jesus to come back to punish the wicked—what is going to happen?
- Who does the Bible describe as using methods of coercion?

Do we have expectations that could make it hard for us?

How do we protect ourselves?

- By not locking into a specific sequence, but instead locking into God's design laws and principles
- God will never violate His design laws of love and liberty!

The lesson asks in the bottom green section "Why is it easy to believe what we want to believe, as opposed to what the Bible really teaches? How can we avoid this trap?"

- Because we have been indoctrinated into certain beliefs rather than learning how to think and discern reality for ourselves
- Because we have been taught to take the Bible alone, divorced from God's other books—nature and experience. When we harmonize all three then many of the distortions and false ideas are removed.
 - The great storehouse of truth is the word of God—the written word, the book of nature, and the book of experience in God's dealing with human life. Here are the treasures from which Christ's workers are to draw. In the search after truth they are to depend upon God, not upon human intelligences, the great men whose wisdom is foolishness with God. Through His own appointed channels the Lord will impart a knowledge of Himself to every seeker. – {COL 125.2}
 - Jesus followed the divine plan of education. The schools of His time, with their magnifying of things small and their belittling of things great, He did not seek. His education was gained directly from the Heaven-appointed sources; from useful work, from the study of the Scriptures and of nature, and from the experiences of life--God's lesson books, full of instruction to all who bring to them the willing hand, the seeing eye, and the understanding heart. {Ed 77.2}

- Because we have read the Bible through the wrong law lens, falsely believing God's laws works like human laws, imposed rules!
- Because we have viewed God the Father and Jesus as different in character
- Others?

How do we avoid the trap?

- Think for yourself, develop by practice the ability to discern right from wrong
- Use the Integrative Evidence-Based approach
- Reject imposed law and view through design law
- Realize Jesus and the Father are one!

MONDAY

What was the mission Jesus assigned to the Apostles?

How did they approach it? What methods did they use?

How well did they do?

What happened to their work?

Did their methods get replaced with different methods?

Don't let anyone deceive you in any way, for that day will not come until the rebellion occurs and the man of lawlessness is revealed, the man doomed to destruction. ⁴ He will oppose and will exalt himself over everything that is called God or is worshiped, so that he sets himself up in God's temple, proclaiming himself to be God. 2Thes 2:3,4

What is being described? Did the methods of God get replaced with different methods?

What methods do the majority of the Christians churches teach today?

The bottom paragraph tells that Jesus spent 40 days with his disciples after his resurrection—if you were there during those 40 days what questions would you have asked Jesus?

TUESDAY

Do you believe Jesus will come again?

Upon what do you base this belief?

Why do you think He has not come?

Is there anything we can do to hasten the day of His return?

THURSDAY

How did they pick the twelfth apostle? What do you think of this method?

Why was it not a problem? Who were the two from whom they were selecting?

What qualifications were necessary to be in the selection process?

How do we select leaders today?

What qualifications do we require in church leaders today?

Do we require leaders reach at least level five development or, do we allow level four leaders to dominate our organizations?

Read bottom green section, "If someone were..."

FRIDAY

Read second paragraph:

"The Saviour's commission to the disciples included all the believers. It includes all believers in Christ to the end of time. [Would this be only men or women too?] It is a fatal mistake to suppose that the work of saving souls depends alone on the ordained minister. All to whom the heavenly inspiration has come are put in trust with the gospel. All who receive the life of Christ are ordained to work for the salvation of their fellow men. For this work the church was established, and all who take upon themselves its sacred vows are thereby pledged to be co-workers with Christ." {DA 822.2}

Does this mean all, men AND women, who receive Christ are ordained gospel ministers?

Read and discuss questions

The Book of Acts Lesson 2 3Q 2018

Pentecost

by Tim Jennings (announcements at end)

I recently received the following email:

I am a Pastor of 34 years and have read 100s if not thousands of books through the years but none that have blessed me as your books. I have read them all, the most recent being The God-Shaped Heart and The Journal of the Watcher. I am also delighting in daily reading in the Remedy, absolutely wonderful. I have found in you one that I find deep harmony in so many biblical truths that are not a part of the acceptable evangelical legal theological outlook.

Thank you so much for your passion for God's truth and your courage to speak out against much that is counted as untouchable orthodoxy and is yet so deficient and distortive of God's actual intention and redundant revelation.

SABBATH

What is Pentecost? What happened on that day the year Christ was crucified and why did it happen?

In Christianity, Pentecost refers to the commemoration of the day when the Holy Spirit came upon the followers of Jesus with new power, enabling and equipping them to spread the healing remedy procured by Jesus.

SUNDAY

Read first paragraph, "In obedience to Jesus'..." What lessons are there for us in this?

Do we have within ourselves the ability to fulfill God's purposes?

Do we need equipping, educating, enlightening, ennobling, empowering by God's Spirit in order to be successful agents in God's plan?

Is there a strategy the devil might use to tempt good people to forgo this equipping?

- Not realizing we need it?
- Replacing the working of the true Spirit with a false spirit
 - How can you tell the work of the Holy Spirit from false spirits?
 - The Holy Spirit is the Spirit of Truth and Love thus the work of the Holy Spirit will always be in harmony with and bring forth more truth and love. Does that reality provide a tool we can use to differentiate the work of God's Spirit from false spirits?
 - False spirits will not be concerned with truth, will not want to move forward

- in truth, or will use a fact/truth in an unloving way.
- Or false spirits will use love to avoid the truth—not wanting to hurt someone’s feelings etc. or not allow natural divisions to occur because of the truth.
- The false spirits will use their so-called adherence to truth to enforce orthodoxy, rules, doctrines in such a way as to injure and divide—particularly by requiring others to conform to their viewpoint. The true Spirit presents the truth in love and leaves others free to leave if they choose. The false spirit would urge compromising principles in order to prevent someone from leaving. The true Spirit would lovingly present persuasive evidence to convert but allow someone the freedom to leave. The false spirit would punish those who leave.
- Evaluate the fruits of the Spirit described in Scripture and compare what is being observed
- Evaluate the message being taught about God and God’s methods—will God empower people to lie about Him?
- What about a person being so enthused, happy, on fire for the Lord, that they are so excited about sharing what they have experienced that they could be tempted to go out on their own without pausing to experience God’s equipping?
 - In other words, could we ever get ahead of the Lord’s timing?

I struggle with this. I have such a strong desire to see this message spread, to see hearts change, to see the world enlightened, to see Christ come that sometimes I get impatient and I want to push this or that and then I have to go to God in prayer and surrender to Him and trust His timing, His providence, His opening of doors and stay patient.

Have you ever struggled with this?

How do we balance waiting on the Lord’s equipping and timing, with simply waiting and never moving out in faith?

There was a song by a Christian group named Petra, the lyrics were based on the story of Israel and the Ark of the Covenant, and the lyrics said:

“The waters never part until your feet get wet.”

There is an aspect of God’s action in our lives to open the way that requires our action, our movement forward. How do we know where the balance is?

At Pentecost what would you say was the primary purpose of the pouring out of the Holy Spirit? In other words, what did the Holy Spirit want to accomplish?

- Excitement over miracles?
- Awed rapture to shut down minds into humble acceptance?
- Healing of hearts and minds and restoration of God's design within?
 - If this was the goal, do you see all the activities of the Spirit working toward that goal?
 - The speaking in languages is to remove barriers so truth can go forward
 - The healing of people is to bring attention to the messengers and demonstrate God's plan to heal the soul
 - The transformation of character from bickering disagreeable selfish people vying for supremacy to selfless other-centered people willing to die for others is to fulfill God's purpose of removing selfishness and sin
 - The enlightening of minds with eternal truths is to heal and restore trust in God

What about today? What is the Spirit's goal today? Same, to heal people and restore to unity with God!

What are the barriers to the work of the Spirit today?

- Lies –what lies are most devastating
 - God doesn't exist
 - The methods of God are like the methods of the world, thus using force, coercion for "righteous" causes is godly
 - God as source of pain, suffering, who needs appeasement
 - Spiritual discernment is a feeling not intelligent comprehension
 - Faith is believing without evidence, or believing what is not sensible—and ultimately makes God out to be either incompetent cruel, or a sadistic puppet-master:
 - Our loved ones who are lost will be suffering in the most horrible torments of hell for all eternity, but we will be euphorically happy in heaven
 - Our loved ones who die and are in a saved relationship with Jesus are in heaven and are conscious and aware of everything happening on earth. Mothers see their children put in foster care, molested, abused, kidnapped, murdered, sex-trafficked, and yet are happy.
- What about creeds, rules, organizational affiliation? Could membership in a church institution be an obstacle to the work of the Holy Spirit? Could a person have the idea that their salvation, their security with God depends upon membership in the organization? Could such an idea actually cause a person to resist the leading of the Holy Spirit?

Consider the story of the man born blind, recorded in John chapter 9. The church leaders investigated and didn't like what they found, so they called the blind man's parents and asked them if this was their son and what happened. Listen to what is described:

We know he is our son," the parents answered, "and we know he was born blind. ²¹ But how he can see now, or who opened his eyes, we don't know. Ask him. He is of age; he will speak for himself." ²² His parents said this because they were afraid of the Jews, for already the Jews had decided that anyone who acknowledged that Jesus was the Christ would be put out of the synagogue. ²³ That was why his parents said, “He is of age; ask him.” John 9:20-23

Was their membership in a church organization—even an organization which was established by God—interfering with the work of the Holy Spirit in their lives?

Why? Why did their concern for the organizational church and their good standing in it, undermine their willingness to allow the Holy Spirit to lead them to speak the truth?

I found this quote in the book The Desire of Ages quite interesting, commenting on the history of Christianity—what do you think?

As the light and life of men was rejected by the ecclesiastical authorities in the days of Christ, so it has been rejected in every succeeding generation. [Who are ecclesiastical authorities? Church leaders, do we have evidence that leaders of organized churches throughout history have repeatedly rejected truth? Is this a concern today?] Again and again the history of Christ's withdrawal from Judea has been repeated. When the Reformers preached the word of God, they had no thought of separating themselves from the established church; but the religious leaders would not tolerate the light, and those that bore it were forced to seek another class, who were longing for the truth. In our day few of the professed followers of the Reformers are actuated by their spirit. Few are listening for the voice of God, and ready to accept truth in whatever guise it may be presented. Often those who follow in the steps of the Reformers are forced to turn away from the churches they love, in order to declare the plain teaching of the word of God. And many times those who are seeking for light are by the same teaching obliged to leave the church of their fathers, that they may render obedience. {DA 232.2}

Where are we to place our trust in God or in the church institution? Even if we are convinced the church institution was established by God? Did God select, establish, equip and bless, in Bible times the nation of Israel? Did that mean when Jesus came it was better to stay loyal to the priests who led the nation, or to the truth as God revealed it?

What makes people vulnerable to choosing loyalty to the institution rather than following the truth?

- Fear of being wrong
- Long patterns of trusting others to think for them which results in...
- Not developing the ability for themselves of discerning truth from error
- A desire to feel secure—which results from group support and acceptance, even if it acceptance into a lie
 - This is where the church has failed the LGBT community and why the LGBT community has such power with those struggling with sexual identity issues
 - The LGBT community accepts them and loves them the church too often condemns them and hates them

Read fourth and fifth paragraph, “The Spirit always...” What do you think about this? What about this idea of intercession as described here? What does it mean?

What is intercession? It is interceding with or for someone who is in trouble, often by a plea or request.

Who is in trouble? Human beings—what kind of trouble? What is the problem that sin caused that the plan of salvation is designed to fix?

Is our problem with God? Does God have something in His character, in His attitude, in His being that needs adjusting? Does God’s law need fixing? Does the condition of humans need fixing?

Hmmm.... Then how is Christ interceding before God?

Does God need to be persuaded to give us His blessings, His Spirit, His love?

If Jesus were not to plead with the Father would that mean the Father would not bless us?

What does this mean in the context of God giving gifts to us?

- For God so loved the world He gave His only begotten Son...

What about Jesus saying:

“Though I have been speaking figuratively, a time is coming when I will no longer use this kind of language but will tell you plainly about my Father. ²⁶ In that day you will ask in my name. I am not saying that I will ask the Father on your behalf. ²⁷ No, the Father himself loves you because you have loved me and have believed that I came from God. ²⁸ I came from the Father and entered the world; now I am leaving the world and going back to the Father.”

²⁹ Then Jesus’ disciples said, “Now you are speaking clearly and without figures of speech. John 16:24-29

Hmmm—Jesus says He will not ask the Father for us, because the Father Himself loves us. Jesus said this was plain truth, no more figures of speech, and the disciples agreed this was the way reality actually works.

If this is so, then what is meant by John 14:16, when Jesus said this:

And I will ask the Father, and he will give you another Counselor to be with you forever—

From the SDA Bible Commentary on John 14:16 we read:

Comforter. Gr. paraklētos, a word used in the NT only by John (here; John 14:26; 15:26; 16:7; 1 John 2:1). It is made up of the preposition para, meaning, “beside,” and the adjective klētos, “called,” or “one called.” Hence the literal meaning is “one called to the side of.” However, in Scripture usage the word seems to reflect more of an active sense such as is found in the corresponding verb parakaleō, “to exhort,” “to comfort,” hence, “one who exhorts” (see John 16:8). The Latin Fathers translated paraklētos by advocatus, but the technical meaning, “advocate,” or “lawyer,” applies to only a few of the rare occurrences of the word in pre-Christian and non-Christian literature. The word “advocate” is not entirely appropriate to describe the work of either the Holy Spirit or Christ. The Father and Son work in the fullest cooperation for the salvation of man (ch. 10:30). It is Satan’s work to present the Father as stern and harsh and unwilling to forgive the sinner, and as willing to forgive only upon the intercession of the Son. It is true that the incarnation, death, and resurrection of Christ made forgiveness possible. But both the Father and the Son love the sinner and work in unison for his salvation. An advocate in the human sense of the term is not needed to induce the Father to have mercy on the sinner. He who desires to learn of the love and compassion of the Father need but look at the Son (see on ch. 1:18). Elsewhere in pre-Christian and non-Christian literature paraklētos retains the more general meaning of “one who stands up in behalf of another,” “a mediator,” “an intercessor,” “a helper.” See on Matt. 5:4.¹

Do we have ideas that interpret Jesus’ intercession as Jesus pleading to the Father for us?

How do we harmonize the texts about Jesus asking the Father for something and yet not interceding to the Father for us?

Let’s read Romans 8 starting in verse 26 from The Remedy:

²⁶This is exactly what the Spirit is doing: He is interceding in our minds, bringing the truth, convicting of right and wrong, and leading us to a higher plane of existence. Even when we don’t know what to pray, the Spirit is there, leading our minds and turning our thoughts in a higher and nobler direction.²⁷And he who knows how the infection of selfishness has invaded the deepest levels of our hearts, also knows the mind and desire of the Spirit, because the Spirit intercedes for us by bringing his healing power, and cleansing and restoring the saints in accordance with the will of God.

²⁸And we know that in all things, at all times, in all circumstances, God works for the good of his creation and for the good of all who love him. Those who have accepted God’s call—to work with him according to his purpose—experience the good things that God has for them.²⁹For God foreknew who would accept and value his methods of love, and who would reject him and his methods of love. And God predetermined that all who accept the truth about him and trust in him would be fully healed and transformed in character to be like his Son, so that Jesus would be the prototype of all who are fashioned in his likeness.³⁰ And he called all humanity—whom he predetermined should be healed and restored—to repentance and reconciliation. Those who accept the truth and respond to the call, he sets right with himself and trust is restored; and those whom he sets right in trust, he also transforms in character to his glorious ideal as revealed in Jesus.

³¹What, then, can we possibly say in response to this? Don't you realize that God is on our side? And if God is for us, who can be against us? God does not need convincing to be good to us; No! It is we who need convincing that God is good to us!³²If he did not withhold his own Son—but gave him up for us all—don't you realize that he will withhold nothing good from us? But along with his Son, he will give us all things that are for our good!³³Who is it, then, that brings charges against those whom God has chosen? Stop believing Satan's lies about God—it is not God who brings charges against us! It is God who sets us right with himself. It is God who heals and transforms us.³⁴Then who condemns? It is not Jesus, oh no! Christ Jesus, who died—and more importantly, who was raised from death to life—is sitting at God's right hand and is working hand in hand with his Father. Together they are interceding with the malignancy of sin in our minds and holding in check the power of the evil one, while providing the Remedy for our deliverance, healing and restoration.³⁵Who, then, shall ever separate us from the love of Christ? Shall problems, or hardships, or criticism, or persecution, or hunger, or disease, or homelessness, or nakedness, or imprisonment, or financial ruin, or terrorists, or war?³⁶As it is written: "For no matter what we face, including death, we will not doubt you; even if we are treated as sheep led to the slaughter—our confidence in you will not waver."

Who is interceding for us? God—Father, Son and Holy Spirit all three.

Then what does it mean, Christ is interceding in heaven for us? With whom is Christ interceding?

- Who needs persuading, God or you and me?
- Who needs recreating in righteousness, God or you and me?
- Who needs enlightening with the truth, God or you and me?
- Who needs the law of love restored in their hearts, God or you and me?

Then, with whom does Christ need to intercede, with God or with you and me?

Then, why ask the Father? For the same reason a surgeon sticks his hand out to a scrub nurse and asks for a scalpel, because it was time in the salvation process for Christ to wield the power of the Holy Spirit in this way and God the Father is the source of all and Christ is the agent through whom God's purposes are carried out and the Spirit is the agency to make effectual what Christ has accomplished.

So, Jesus returns to heaven and says, to the Father, “Father, I have completed the work you have given me to do. I have made you known, I have exposed Satan as a liar and fraud, I have destroyed the infection of fear and selfishness and developed a perfect sinless human character. Now, Father it’s time to wield the power of the Spirit to complete our plan; it is time to dispense the Spirit to take what I have achieved and apply it within the hearts and minds of all those who trust me.” And the Father says, “Right you are. Well done Son! Let’s free our children from Satan’s power, heal them and bring them home!”

What do you think about this quotation from a book called Amazing Grace by the same author as quoted in the lesson. I am going to read it straight through, let you consider the meaning, how do you hear it, what filters are in your mind that you process these words through. What ideas come to mind. Then I will go through it in sections and unpack what I understand it to mean and see if you agree:

God's appointments and grants in our behalf are without limit. The throne of grace is itself the highest attraction because occupied by One who permits us to call Him Father. But God did not deem the principle of salvation complete while invested only with His own love. By His appointment He has placed at His altar an Advocate clothed with our nature. As our Intercessor, His office work is to introduce us to God as His sons and daughters. Christ intercedes in behalf of those who have received Him. To them He gives power, by virtue of His own merits, to become members of the royal family, children of the heavenly King. And the Father demonstrates His infinite love for Christ, who paid our ransom with His blood, by receiving and welcoming Christ's friends as His friends. He is satisfied with the atonement made. He is glorified by the incarnation, the life, death, and mediation of His Son... {AG 68.3}

What do you hear in this description? Do you hear a beautiful healing message, or do you hear something legal?

Let’s unpack it point by point:

God's appointments and grants in our behalf are without limit. [What is a grant? Is a grant different than a loan?] The throne of grace is itself the highest attraction because occupied by One who permits us to call Him Father. But God did not deem the principle of salvation complete while invested only with His own love. [what is a principle? A design protocol, and the protocol, saving, healing, restoring to God’s design i.e. salvation is not complete with love only. Something else was needed besides love—what? What is the Spirit the Spirit of? TRUTH and love! Is truth necessary as a principle in the plan of salvation? Why? Lies believed break the circle of love and trust resulting in fear and selfishness, i.e. the carnal drive of survival of the fittest. Thus, truth is necessary to destroy lies and win back to trust so that love can do its work in the heart. See if this idea helps you understand what comes next in the quote.] By His appointment He has placed at His altar an Advocate clothed with our nature. As our Intercessor, His office work is to introduce us to God as His sons and daughters. [What is Christ interceding to do? To bring information about us to the Father that the Father doesn't already know, or to bring to us the knowledge of the Father that we don't know? Who is it that doesn't know the other? Who then needs to be introduced to whom? Thus, Jesus said, "if you have seen me you have seen the Father." God so loved the world that He gave his only begotten Son... The plan of salvation needed the truth of God poured out in love in order to accomplish God's purpose. Thus love alone was not enough, the truth about God, as Jesus reveals was required. And where then does Christ intercede, where is the focus of Christ's activity? Where is Jesus' energy being applied? Notice where the power of Christ goes.] Christ intercedes in behalf of those who have received Him. To them He gives power, by virtue of His own merits, to become members of the royal family, children of the heavenly King. [What does this mean? What are merits? Attributes, traits of character. Thus, those who respond to truth and love and choose to trust Him receive from Him a new heart and right spirit, the power of truth and love transforms them back into God's original ideal as they are indwelt with the Holy Spirit. All of this comes from Christ!] And the Father demonstrates His infinite love for Christ, who paid our ransom with His blood, by receiving and welcoming Christ's friends as His friends. [What does this mean? What is a ransom? The price necessary to set one free from bondage, what holds us in bondage, lies we believe and our own carnal nature. Then what is the ransom price, the truth to destroy lies and a new nature. How did Jesus pay this price? To whom was it paid? And why does the Father welcome us as friends? Because we have been transformed by the work of Christ into actual friends of God John 15:15) He is satisfied with the atonement made. He is glorified by the incarnation, the life, death, and mediation of His Son...[Why is God satisfied? For the same reason a parent is satisfied with a remedy that cures their child's leukemia—because it heals and saves us. Why is God glorified, because the lies have been exposed and the truth about God's character, methods, designs, principles have not only been comprehended, but have resulted in healing those who have been damaged by sin!] {Amazing Grace 68.3}

Bottom green question asks, "What evidence do you have of the Spirit's working in your life?"

- Ever increasing maturing in Christlike character
- Increasing insight and understanding of reality
- More love and compassion
- More opportunities to share what God has done

MONDAY

What do you understand the gifts of tongues to be as described in Acts on Pentecost?

It was the ability to speak in new known languages that the person didn't previously know.

What was the purpose of this gift?

I sure would like this gift—but evidently God doesn't think it is necessary for me.

TUESDAY

Let's read the beginning of Peter's sermon, Acts 2:16-21 from The Remedy:

No! This is what God's spokesperson Joel said would happen:

¹⁷" 'God says, In the last days I will pour my Spirit out on all people. Your sons and daughters will be spokespersons for me, telling the world of my Remedy; your young people will have a vision of my character of love that will motivate them to action; your elders will dream dreams of my kingdom of love.¹⁸ And in those days, I will pour out my Spirit upon my spokespersons, both men and women, and they will tell the world the truth about me in the setting of the cosmic conflict over my methods of love.¹⁹ I will grant wonders to appear in the sky, and evidences of change in the earth resulting in devastation, disaster, blood and smoke.²⁰ The sun will not give its usual light, and the moonlight will be seen as the color of blood before the day the Lord returns—that great and glorious day.²¹ And everyone who relies upon the character of the Lord, partaking the Remedy he provided, will be healed.'

Do we see people today having a vision of God's true character and methods, being motivated by love to take a message that transforms hearts to the world?

Has the gospel that has gone to the world primarily been one of healing hearts and minds, removing selfishness, restoring love, or one of getting our sins paid and avoiding punishment from God?

Is that the gospel, or does such a message actually prevent the message God wants to go to the world from going?

WEDNESDAY

Read memory text, "Therefore being by the right hand of God exalted, and having received of the Father the promise of the Holy Ghost, he hath shed forth this, which ye now see and hear." Acts 2:33

Does being at the right hand of the Father speak of a physical location or a position of authority and power?

Read second paragraph, "The right hand of God is..." Do you agree? Was this the Father's recognition—or was it every other intelligent being's in heaven recognition?

Let's read Revelation chapter 5:

Then I saw in the right hand of him who sat on the throne a scroll with writing on both sides and sealed with seven seals. ² And I saw a mighty angel proclaiming in a loud voice, "Who is worthy to break the seals and open the scroll?" ³ But no one in heaven or on earth or under the earth could open the scroll or even look inside it. ⁴ I wept and wept because no one was found who was worthy to open the scroll or look inside. ⁵ Then one of the elders said to me, “Do not weep! See, the Lion of the tribe of Judah, the Root of David, has triumphed. He is able to open the scroll and its seven seals.”

⁶ Then I saw a Lamb, looking as if it had been slain, standing in the center of the throne, encircled by the four living creatures and the elders. He had seven horns and seven eyes, which are the seven spirits of God sent out into all the earth. ⁷ He came and took the scroll from the right hand of him who sat on the throne. ⁸ And when he had taken it, the four living creatures and the twenty-four elders fell down before the Lamb. Each one had a harp and they were holding golden bowls full of incense, which are the prayers of the saints. ⁹ And they sang a new song:

“You are worthy to take the scroll
and to open its seals,
because you were slain,
and with your blood you purchased men for God
from every tribe and language and people and nation.
¹⁰ You have made them to be a kingdom and priests to serve our God,
and they will reign on the earth.”

¹¹ Then I looked and heard the voice of many angels, numbering thousands upon thousands, and ten thousand times ten thousand. They encircled the throne and the living creatures and the elders. ¹² In a loud voice they sang:

“Worthy is the Lamb, who was slain,
to receive power and wealth and wisdom and strength
and honor and glory and praise!”

¹³ Then I heard every creature in heaven and on earth and under the earth and on the sea, and all that is in them, singing:

“To him who sits on the throne and to the Lamb be praise and honor and glory and power for ever and ever!”

¹⁴ The four living creatures said, “Amen,” and the elders fell down and worshiped.
NIV84

So, was this exaltation God’s recognition or the recognition of every intelligence other than God—because God always recognized it to be so?

Why is it important that the other intelligences recognize the supremacy of Christ?

The last paragraph states, “So, when Christ’s self-sacrifice was authenticated in heaven, Satan had received a decisive blow, and the Spirit was being poured out to prepare a people for the coming of Christ.”

What does the lesson mean by the authentication of Christ’s self-sacrifice? They mean God recognizing and validating it—but is that what was needed, or is that the wrong conclusion people draw when they try to understand things through imposed law lens, thus they misconstrue the true meaning and present God as authoritarian?

Consider not only Revelation 5 above, but the following from John 12:31-32:

Now is the time for judgment on this world; now the prince of this world will be driven out.
³² But I, when I am lifted up from the earth, will draw all men to myself.”

What is being described?

From The Remedy:

Now is the time for the infection of selfishness and sin in this world to be fully diagnosed and revealed as destructive; now, Satan—the prince of this selfish world—will be driven out into the open, out of the shadows, out from behind his lies and distortions about God and God's methods, out where all can see him as the murderer he truly is, and thus out of the hearts of all who love me.³² When I am lifted up from the earth, I will draw all intelligences throughout the universe to me."

So, did Satan receive a decisive blow, yes, but what kind of blow? A blow to his power, and his power is the power of lies and selfishness, which infects other minds. Thus, the blow was the blow of truth and love which drove Satan and his lies out of the hearts and minds of all who value truth and love.

THURSDAY

When those who heard Peter’s speech and were convicted by the Holy Spirit asked what should they do, what were they told?

“Repent and be baptized, every one of you, in the name of Jesus Christ for the forgiveness of your sins. And you will receive the gift of the Holy Spirit. ³⁹ The promise is for you and your children and for all who are far off—for all whom the Lord our God will call.”²

² The Holy Bible: New International Version. (1984). (Ac 2:38–39). Grand Rapids, MI: Zondervan.

What does this mean? In practical, real life terms, what is being described? How does a person do this?

From The Remedy:

Peter answered, "Turn away from fear and selfishness and be immersed in the Remedy—in the character of Jesus Christ—in order to be healed from sin and selfishness and be restored in heart and mind to love and unity with God. And you will receive the gift of the Holy Spirit.³⁹ This promise of healing and restoration is for you and your children, and for all humanity, no matter how far off, for God invites everyone to be healed."

The Book of Acts Lesson 3 3Q 2018

Life in the Early Church

I received this email this week:

Hi Everyone, my wife and I joined the SDA church about 8 years ago from our own personal studies. Even though we felt where we we're was correct we couldn't quite put our finger on something that's wasn't quite right. Simple questions that couldn't be answered or answers that made no sense. Since discovering come and reason it's now starting to fall more in place and make sense for us. As before our idea of a God of love was at times in conflict with what was being taught and preached. We are more settled now and encouraged. Kindest regards and God's blessing—Australia

SABBATH

Have you ever heard people talk about getting back to basics, to practicing Christianity like the early church did?

Do you think we, as Christians today, in any denomination, practice church like the Early Church did?

Which do you think has had a bigger impact on how we do church today, the Bible and the Apostles of the first century or paganism?

Frank Viola and George Barna in their book Pagan Christianity write:

As Christians, we are taught by our leaders to believe certain ideas and behave in certain ways. We are also encouraged to read our Bibles. But we are conditioned to read the Bible with the lens handed to us by the Christian tradition to which we belong. We are taught to obey our denomination (or movement) and never to challenge what it teaches...

Strikingly, contemporary church thought and practice have been influenced far more by postbiblical historical events than by the New Testament imperatives and examples. Yet most Christians are not conscious of the influence. Nor are they aware that it has created a slew of cherished, calcified, humanly devised traditions—all of which are routinely passed off to us as “Christian.” p. 4,5

Do you agree?

Now, SDAs will jump immediately on one of these human traditions that is passed off as Christian and which is post-biblical and for which most Christians never question—and that is? Sunday as a day of worship.

And since that issue has been explored, written about, debated, researched, documented extensively we are not going to focus on that change. All scholars and theologians from every denomination agree that the Sabbath of the Bible is Saturday and that Sunday as a day of Christian worship began after the first century.

Let's focus on the other elements of contemporary church that also find their roots, not in the Bible, but in human and pagan traditions.

Can you think of any others?

In the lesson it points out that the early Christians sold their possessions in order to provide for each other and help spread the gospel message. If this is so, what does that suggest they did not have or do?

Did the early church build church buildings, temples, cathedrals or places of worship?

Philp Schaff, 19th Century American Church Historian writes:

That the Christians of the apostolic age erected special houses of worship is out of the question.... As the Saviour of the world was born in a stable, and ascended to heaven from a mountain, so his apostles and their successors down to the third century, preached in the streets, the markets, on mountains, in ships, sepulchers, eaves, and deserts, and in the homes of their converts. But how many thousands of costly churches and chapels have since been built and are constantly being built in all parts of the world to the honor of the crucified Redeemer, who in the days of his humiliation had no place to rest his own head! Quoted from Pagan Christianity p. 9

Do you think the work of spreading the gospel has been helped or hindered by the billions of dollars spent on erecting and maintain cathedrals, churches and chapels?

SDAs, because of our understanding of the heavenly sanctuary message, should be at the forefront of this truth. Viola and Barnes continue:

Ancient Judaism was centered on three elements: the Temple, the priesthood, and the sacrifices. When Jesus came, He ended all three, fulfilling them in Himself. He is the temple who embodies the new and living house made of living stones—"without hands." He is the priest who has established a new priesthood. And He is the perfect finished sacrifice. Consequently, the Temple, the professional priesthood, and the sacrifices of Judaism all passed away with the coming of Jesus Christ. Christ is the fulfillment and reality of it all. p. 10

Do you agree? Consider the next paragraph:

In Greco-Roman paganism, these three elements were also present: Pagans had their temples, their priests, and their sacrifices. It was only the Christians who did away with all of these elements. It can be rightly said that Christianity was the first non-temple-based religion ever to emerge. In the minds of the early Christians, the people—not the architecture—constituted a sacred space. The early Christians understood that they themselves—corporately—were the temple of God and the house of God. p. 11

Do you agree or disagree? Does this shed any light on the 2300-day prophecy that it will be 2300 years until the sanctuary will be cleansed?

Can you see how Satan would want people to forget that in Christianity the temple is made out of people and want them to think it is a building? Then even when the prophecy about cleansing the sanctuary is discovered, the people would misapply its meaning to inanimate material, bricks, mortar, gold, silver, and never really consider the cleansing of the sanctuary is the cleansing of their own hearts and minds!

I have read many times in the past a quote from one of the founders of the SDA church, EG White, about the temple in heaven must be made, not out of dead substance, but living souls, so I will not read that quote again. But here is a different quote, I don't remember reading in class before. Consider it in light of what we are talking about this morning:

Your faculties are separate and distinct, yet each is dependent for its success upon the other. So each day God works with His building, stroke upon stroke, to perfect the structure, which thus grows into a holy temple for the Lord. One stone mislaid affects the whole building. This figure represents human character, which is to be wrought upon, point by point. There is not to be a flaw in it, for it is the Lord's building. Every stone must be perfectly laid, that it may endure the pressure placed upon it. God warns you and every worker to take heed how you build, so that your building may bear the test of storm and tempest because it is riveted to the eternal Rock. Take heed how you build. Every hour may be spent in placing the stone on the sure foundation, ready for the day of test and revelation, when we shall be seen just as we are. [What do you think that is, the day of test and revelation? Isn't it when we find ourselves in a situation that our true character is revealed?] This warning God presents to me as essential in your case. He loves you with a love that is immeasurable. He loves your brethren in the faith, and He works with them to the same end that He works with you. His church upon the earth is to assume divine proportions before the world, as a temple composed of living stones, every stone emitting light. This building is to be the light of the world, a city set on a hill, which cannot be hid. It is composed of stones laid close together, stone fitting to stone, making a solid building. All the stones are not of the same form or shape. Some are large, some are small, but each has its own crevice to fill. And the value of each stone is determined by the light it reflects to the world. This is God's plan, and He would have all who profess to believe His word fill their respective places in the great, grand work for this time...

The Lord's church is composed of His living, working agencies who derive their power to act from the Author and Finisher of their faith. The great work resting upon God's individual workers is to be carried forward in symmetrical harmony.

Manuscript Releases, Volume 2 [Nos. 97-161, 1958-1964]. 1993; 2002 (339). Ellen G. White Estate.

- Do we understand that the temple of the Lord, the heavenly sanctuary, is composed of living beings, not dead substance?
- Do we understand that the cleansing of the sanctuary is not happening in books in heaven, but in the hearts and minds of people on earth?
- Do we realize that sin is not erased out of record books but out of the hearts, minds, characters of people?
- Do we realize that those people who present messages of God's temple being a building in heaven made out of non-living matter and the investigative judgment is removing sins from books and not from people are promoting paganism, they are not promoting the gospel of Jesus Christ!

Are we practicing Christianity as the early church did?

We just took a brief look at modern church buildings, versus the true temple made of living souls—and how the mission of the true church is undermined by diverting resources into extravagant structures. This is not to say that organizations shouldn't have buildings—we need buildings for meetings, health-care, publishing, community services, education centers. The point is, do we build primarily for function—or for pride and ego, for extravagance?

Are there other elements we accept as orthodoxy that are not Biblical and have their origins in paganism?

The Pastor and Clergy as having some hierarchical authority and holding appointed position over the rest of the church membership.

The role of the pastor in the New Testament was merely a member with no more authority than anyone else, who arose organically to minister and help foster spiritual growth within the community of believers.

The role of pastor today is instead that of the pagan priest—an office set apart and instilled with arbitrary authority to, all too often, rule over the members of the church.

It was early in the second century, when the Apostles and the first missionary/evangelists were dying off that the pagan ideas of the pastor's authoritative role began to infect Christianity.

Ignatius of Antioch (35-107) was instrumental in this shift. He was the first figure in church history to take a step down the slippery slope toward a single leader in the church. We can trace the origin of the contemporary pastor and church hierarchy to him. Ignatius elevated one of the elders in each church above all the others. the elevated elder was now called the bishop. All the responsibilities that belonged to the college of elders were exercised by the bishop

In AD 107, Ignatius wrote a series of letters on his way to be martyred in Rome. Six out of seven of these letters strikes the same chord. They exalt the authority and importance of the bishop's office.

According to Ignatius, the bishop had ultimate power and should be obeyed absolutely. Consider the following excerpts from his letters: "Plainly therefore we ought to regard the bishop as the Lord Himself.... All of you follow the bishop as Jesus Christ follows the Father....Wherever the bishop shall appear, there will the people be; even as where Jesus may be.... It is not lawful apart from the bishop either to baptize or to hold a love feast; but whatever he shall approve, this is well-pleasing also to God..." Pagan Christianity 110,111

Do you think we have these ideas infecting Christianity today—including the SDA church? A few years ago, when I had the opportunity to discuss some of what we teach with a group of local pastors. One of the pastors said to me, in regard to questioning what the senior pastor was teaching. "You can't question what he is teaching. He is the Lord's anointed. He's the head pastor and you are not supposed to question him."

Do we have these pagan ideas within Christianity?

Do we believe only ordained pastors can baptize, conduct weddings, lead the celebration of the Lord's Supper, be in leadership within a church group?

What about ordination? Is it Biblical?

In the Bible the method was that leadership arose organically, from the obvious gifting of the Holy Spirit as people with the gifts took upon themselves the servant leadership roles. Those with the gift of healing became healers, those with the gift of hospitality invited people to their homes, those with the gift of teaching, taught and people gathered to listen. Thus, there was no board, counsel, conference, committee that gathered to nominate and select people for these offices.

The only exception was the replacing of Judas but, that selection didn't create a procedure, a hierarchy even for Apostolic selection, as the Apostle Paul was organically selected and elevated to be an Apostle by the Holy Spirit, not by a committee.

In the Early Church, there was no such thing as ordination, as in placing someone in office by a person or committee.

Elders were acknowledged as leaders by the Apostles in Galatia (Acts 14:23), Ephesus (1Tim 3:1), and Crete (Titus 1:5). The word translated as ordain in the KJV in these passages does not mean placing in office, or giving authority, but simply one of acknowledging, affirming or agreeing with what has already been happening. It meant adding a blessing to those already in the office, but not placing a person into the office.

It was only later that ordination shifted and became an installation and granting of authority and giving special status of elevating a person above others in the church.

From where did Christians get their pattern of ordination? They patterned their ordination ceremony after the Roman custom of appointing men to civil office. The entire process, down to the very words, came straight from the Roman civic world.

By the fourth century, the terms used for appointment to Roman office and for Christian ordination became synonymous. When Constantine made Christianity the religion of choice, church leadership structures were buttressed by political sanction. The forms of the Old Testament priesthood were combined with Greek hierarchy. Sadly, the church was secure in this new form—just as it is today...

Christian ordination, then, came to be understood as that which constitutes the essential difference between clergy and laity. Pagan Christianity p. 125

Is this Biblical?

Did the Reformation change this? No, Luther held that those who preach needed to be specially trained and be ordained by the system. Sadly, Protestant Christianity continues with this pagan idea.

That brings us to the sermon—is the sermon Biblical?

Contrast today's sermon with what we find in the Bible from God's spokespersons who did give messages, like Peter on Pentecost:

Today's Sermons:

- Regularly scheduled event
- Delivered by the same person
- Delivered to a passive audience—monologue
- Cultivated form of professional speech—predetermined structure

Bible Preaching:

- Sporadic as occasion arose and opportunity presented

- Addressed special needs or situations
- Was impromptu, without a predetermined structure
- Most often included interruptions and interaction with the audience

The modern form of weekly sermonizing didn't arise in Christianity until late in the second century. So where did the modern sermon arise?

From the sophists, who were professional speakers who required payment to speak to passive audiences.

The sophists were expert debaters. They were masters at using emotional appeals, physical appearance, and clever language to “sell” their arguments. In time, the style, form, and oratorical skills of the sophists became more prized than their accuracy. This spawned a class of men who became masters of fine phrases... The truths they preached were abstract rather than truths that were practiced in their own lives...

The sophists identified themselves by the special clothing they wore. Some had fixed residence where they gave regular sermons to the same audience.

How did the Greek sermon find its way into the Christian church? Around the third century a vacuum was created when the mutual ministry faded from the body of Christ... To fill their absence, the clergy began to emerge. Open meetings began to die out, and church gatherings became more and more liturgical...

As a hierarchical structure began to take root, the idea of a “religious specialist” emerged. In the face of these changes, the functioning Christians had trouble fitting into this evolving ecclesiastical structure. There was no place for them to exercise their gifts. By the fourth century, the church had become fully institutionalized.” ibid. p. 89,91

There is a lot more—but the point is, do we read the Scripture for what it says, or do we have certain blinders on, from paganism, from tradition, so we think we are reading something that isn't even there?

The greatest infection of Christian thought by paganism, isn't the forms, styles, titles, liturgies, dress, but the way we have come to view God's law as functioning no different than human law, and therefore God's character as the enforcer of His law is presented to be no different than any human dictator. Penal legal theologies are pagan in origin.

And the mission of God's remnant people is to worship the Designer, Him who made all reality, and return to functioning in harmony with God and His designs. We must free ourselves from the multitude of ideas that keep us captive and experience genuine healing of our minds, hearts and characters to be like Jesus. This will only happen when we come back to the truth of God as our Creator and Healer—and whose laws are design laws!

SUNDAY

The lesson suggests that the Apostles did their teaching at the Temple, and fellowshipped in homes. Are they suggesting that Christianity was a system of church services, going to edifices, and that they did not teach in homes?

Is this accurate, or this again evidence of the infection of paganism, with its imposed law construct, and its authoritarian rule. In other words, the authors are invested in introducing ideas to make one loyal to the building, the center of church commerce, the business of church, rather than the actual healing of hearts and minds?

The lesson state that the apostles teachings were authoritative—what does this mean?

What made the apostles teachings authoritative?

When Peter refused to socialize with the uncircumcised fellows, were his actions authoritative? Why not, he was an apostle wasn't he?

The lesson suggests that the early Christians still attended daily temple ceremonies—is this most likely true?

I have serious reservations about this—first of all the New Testament repeatedly points out that the temple ceremonies were not necessary any longer; second, the apostles traveled and were often not near the temple. Finally, if they went to the temple was it because they were seeking to participate in the ceremony, or because that was where the people were who would be open to their gospel message?

But the lesson authors may have a different view....Read first paragraph MONDAY's lesson: "In Acts 3:1, Peter and John..."

Let's read Acts 3:1 "One day Peter and John were going up to the temple at the time of prayer—at three in the afternoon."

Does this say they went up daily? Does this say they were going up to participate in the Jewish worship? Or does this merely say they were going up at a particular time?

The lesson cites several other passages in Acts suggesting these indicate that the Apostles and the early church were committed to the Jewish religious traditions. Let's examine these texts:

Acts 20:16: "Paul had decided to sail past Ephesus to avoid spending time in the province of Asia, for he was in a hurry to reach Jerusalem, if possible, by the day of Pentecost.?"

What does this text say and what conclusions can we draw? Was this about Judaism, or was Pentecost now a Christian day? In fact, if it were Jewish wouldn't they have said the Feast of Weeks?

From the SDA Bible commentary on Acts 20:16:

Just why Paul was so eager to be at Jerusalem for Pentecost is not recorded. Perhaps the gathering of Jewish Christians who would be there at that time from all over Palestine would make possible a more efficient distribution of the relief offering he was taking to Jerusalem. Or perhaps because of the outpouring of the Spirit at a previous Pentecost, this feast held a special place in Paul's emotions.¹

Doesn't sound terribly devoted to the Jewish traditions to me—in fact Paul was quite ardent in promoting Christ and not Jewish traditions.

Acts 21:17-26 is about Paul's attempt to reach the obstinate Jews by doing a purification ceremony at the temple—NOT because Paul thought it was necessary, but because he was hoping to placate the offended non-believing Jews. And how did this work out?

So, it seems the New Testament church was distinctly severing itself from Jewish traditions, not embracing them. However, the Apostles did try and help the Jews understand the true meaning of their ceremonies and transition the people away from ceremony to the reality in Jesus.

But, just because they sought to reach those in that tradition, doesn't mean they wanted to perpetuate the symbolic and traditional—they didn't! The Apostles wanted people to enter the reality of Jesus!

TUESDAY

When the Jews asked Peter by what authority he was preaching, what were they asking?

What kind of authority are the Jewish leaders asking about?

Aren't they asking about the authority of office, of position, of title?

Is that the type of authority God wants us to recognize?

For instance, when Martin Luther raised his questions, how did the church authority respond? Did all parties agree that the weight of evidence and truth should be authoritative, or that church committee, counsel, position should be authoritative?

¹ Nichol, F. D. (Ed.). (1980). The Seventh-day Adventist Bible Commentary (Vol. 6, p. 389). Review and Herald Publishing Association.

What about today—when we raise questions do church leaders typically respond by pursuing the authority of truth or by holding to the authority of position, office, and church tradition?

When we say the Bible is authoritative, what do we mean? Is it authoritative like a the Major League Baseball rule book is authoritative over baseball?

In Baseball what makes the rulebook authoritative—the rule itself—if it is in the rulebook, it has authority. Is this how the Bible works, if a directive is in the Bible it has authority because it is in the Bible, or is it in the Bible because it has authority? Is the Bible merely a code book, or is it a book of enlightenment, a book designed to teach us how reality works, so that we develop the ability to discern the right from the wrong (Heb 5:14).

"Young men should search the Scriptures for themselves. They are not to feel that it is sufficient for those older in experience to find out the truth; that the younger ones can accept it from them as authority. . . . (MYP 258)

"We must study the truth for ourselves. No man should be relied upon to think for us. No matter who he is, or in what position he may be placed, we are not to look upon any man as a criterion for us. We are to counsel together, and to be subject one to another; but at the same time we are to exercise the ability God has given us, in order to learn what is truth. Each one of us must look to God for divine enlightenment. We must individually develop a character that will stand the test in the day of God." Testimonies to Ministers 109,110; first published in Gospel Workers, 1892 ed., pp. 128,129; cf. 2RH 311:3:1 (RH, June 18, 1889); CW 45; ST, Feb. 6, 1893

"Satan is constantly endeavoring to attract attention to man in the place of God. He leads the people to look to bishops, to pastors, to professors of theology, as their guides, instead of searching the Scriptures to learn their duty for themselves. . . . (RC 369)

"The people of God have educated themselves in such a way that they have come to look to those in positions of trust as guardians of truth, and have placed men where God should be. When perplexities have come upon them, instead of seeking God, they have gone to human sources for help, and have received only such help as man can give. . . . The president of the Conference is not to do the thinking for all the people. He has not an immortal brain, but has capabilities and powers like any other man. . . . When men place the president of the Conference in the place of God, . . . they are doing that which is exactly opposite to what Christ has told them to do." Review and Herald, Aug. 7, 1894 (3RH 173:1:1 - 3:2 and 174:1:1)

Do we believe, the SDA church the Bible is authoritative? Or, only those portions of the Bible that we can find an EGW quote to support?

Read bottom green section, "Think about the desire..." What would motivate people to use coercive power, the authority of office over another person?

Is it not fear?

- Fear that they might lose power
- Fear that they might be wrong
- Fear of what others will think
- Fear of what will happen to the institution
- Fear of being condemned by God for not upholding the standards

WEDNESDAY

What do you think of the story of Ananias and Sapphira?

Does the Bible say God killed them?

Does the Bible say God punished them?

What does the Bible say? That they lied, they were confronted on their lies by Peter citing the authority of the Holy Spirit and that they died.

What are the possibilities?

- Some suggest that it was punishment for sin—why can we be 100% positive this was not the case?
 - What is the punishment for sin? Eternal death—did they die eternally or will they arise again?
 - Does the punishment for sin occur before the Great White Throne Judgment or after? Had that judgment happened yet?
 - Then, this cannot be punishment for sin—it must be something else
- It was natural causes—why should we doubt it was simply a case of dying of old age, or body wearing out?
 - Because the circumstances are inconsistent with a natural death
- Dying from shock—why is this a possibility?
 - Because it is documented through history that people can die when confronted with a sudden shock, or a powerful shaman. The source of the shock being the confrontation by Peter and the truth. But we cannot know for certain because we are not told.
- God acting to put them to sleep, why is this also possible?
 - Because God at times has acted to put people to sleep who were obstacles to His plan to save and heal the human race.
 - What might have happened had Ananias and Sapphira not died then? Might they have entered into some leadership position and the early church had been corrupted with greed? Might God have diagnosed, or judged, that a therapeutic excision of their influence was necessary for the health of the early church? If this is so, then recognize such an action was an act of love, not anger, and was designed to heal, not destroy and was not a punishment for sin.

Here is commentary from a book entitled The Acts of the Apostles what do you think?

Ananias and Sapphira grieved the Holy Spirit by yielding to feelings of covetousness... They thought they had been too hasty, that they ought to reconsider their decision. They talked the matter over, and decided not to fulfill their pledge. They saw, however, that those who parted with their possessions to supply the needs of their poorer brethren, were held in high esteem among the believers; and ashamed to have their brethren know that their selfish souls grudged that which they had solemnly dedicated to God, they deliberately decided to sell their property and pretend to give all the proceeds into the general fund, but really to keep a large share for themselves. Thus they would secure their living from the common store and at the same time gain the high esteem of their brethren. {AA 72.1}

But God hates hypocrisy and falsehood. Ananias and Sapphira practiced fraud in their dealing with God; they lied to the Holy Spirit, and their sin was visited with swift and terrible judgment... [does this say punishment or judgment? And who judged them? Peter certainly did, and God did and was the judgment similar to a judgment you might have if you discovered your child smoking—would you make a judgment? And what would it be? Do we hear words like judgment only through the imposed law lens, or design law lens? God judged it unhealthy and judged it would hurt the early church, and judged that the most therapeutic thing to do would be nip it in the bud to protect the healing remedy!] {AA 72.2}

Infinite Wisdom saw that this signal manifestation of the wrath of God was necessary to guard the young church from becoming demoralized. [What is the wrath of God according to Scripture? God giving people up to reap what they have chosen. And what was the reason, to punish their sin or to protect the young church?] Their numbers were rapidly increasing. The church would have been endangered if, in the rapid increase of converts, men and women had been added who, while professing to serve God, were worshiping mammon. This judgment testified that men cannot deceive God, that He detects the hidden sin of the heart, and that He will not be mocked. It was designed as a warning to the church, to lead them to avoid pretense and hypocrisy, and to beware of robbing God. {AA 73.4}

God cannot be mocked, what Bible verse comes to mind and does it give a insight into why God cannot be mocked?

Do not be deceived: God cannot be mocked. A man reaps what he sows.⁸ The one who sows to please his sinful nature, from that nature will reap destruction; Gal 6:7,8

Why is it God cannot be mocked? Because of design law, you reap what you sew. Was this true for Ananias and Sapphira?

What does one reap when one chooses to separate themselves from God? Death, why is it we don't all reap it instantly? Because God graciously intervenes to suspend such consequences giving us more time to reconsider. But, in Ananias and Sapphira's case, God let them have their choice.

THURSDAY

The story talks about the second arrest and Gamaliel's advice to the Sanhedrin—what do you think of his advice?

Read bottom pink section, "What does this story tell us about..." How can you tell whether the counsel you are getting is good counsel or not?

What about the counsel Rehoboam received?

So, how can you tell whether the counsel you are getting is good or not?

- By the office of the person giving the counsel—conference president, university president, pastor, priest, pope?
- By the education—theologian, doctor, lawyer?
- By their relationship, mother, father, sibling, spouse?
- By their church affiliation—member of your denomination?
- By their political leanings?
- How about by whether their counsel is in harmony with how reality works, with God's design laws, methods and principles, harmonized with Scripture and real experience—that you prayerfully study and comprehend?

How many church leaders want us to use the last one?

The Book of Acts Lesson 4 3Q 2018

The First Church Leaders

Before we get into the material for this lesson, given the title for this lesson, and the importance of the story I wanted to follow up from Wednesday of last week about Ananias and Sapphira:

What do you think of the story of Ananias and Sapphira?

It is often presented that God punished them for their sin, but does the Bible say God punished them?

What does the Bible say? That they lied and they were confronted on their lies by Peter, citing the authority of the Holy Spirit and that they died.

What are the possibilities?

- Some suggest that it was punishment for sin—why can we be 100% positive that what happened was not punishment from God?
 - What is the punishment for sin? Eternal death—did they die eternally or will they rise again?
 - Does the punishment for sin occur before the Great White Throne Judgment or after? Had that judgment happened yet?
 - Then, this cannot be punishment for sin—it must be something else!
- It was natural causes—why should we doubt that their death was simply a case of dying of old age, or the body wearing out?
 - Because the circumstances are inconsistent with a natural death
- Dying from shock—why is this a possibility?
 - Because it is documented through history that people can die when confronted with a sudden shock, or a powerful shaman. The source of the shock being the confrontation by Peter and the truth. But we cannot know for certain because we are not told.
- God acting to put them to sleep as a therapeutic measure to protect the infant church; why is this a possibility?
 - Because God at times has acted to put people to sleep who were obstacles to His plan to save and heal the human race.
 - What might have happened had Ananias and Sapphira not died then? Might they have entered into some leadership position and the early church have been corrupted with greedy leaders? Might God have diagnosed, or judged, that a therapeutic excision of their influence was necessary for the health of the early church? If this is so, then recognize such an action was an act of love, not anger, and was designed to heal, not destroy and was not punishment for sin.

Here is commentary from a book entitled The Acts of the Apostles what do you think?

Ananias and Sapphira grieved the Holy Spirit by yielding to feelings of covetousness... They thought they had been too hasty, that they ought to reconsider their decision. They talked the matter over, and decided not to fulfill their pledge. They saw, however, that those who parted with their possessions to supply the needs of their poorer brethren, were held in high esteem among the believers; and ashamed to have their brethren know that their selfish souls grudged that which they had solemnly dedicated to God, they deliberately decided to sell their property and pretend to give all the proceeds into the general fund, but really to keep a large share for themselves. Thus they would secure their living from the common store and at the same time gain the high esteem of their brethren. {AA 72.1}

But God hates hypocrisy and falsehood. Ananias and Sapphira practiced fraud in their dealing with God; they lied to the Holy Spirit, and their sin was visited with swift and terrible judgment... [does this say punishment or judgment? Do we hear words like judgment only through the imposed law lens? Does it mean something different through design law lens? God judged it unhealthy and judged it would hurt the early church, and judged that the most therapeutic thing to do would be nip it in the bud to protect the spread of the healing remedy!] {AA 72.2}

Infinite Wisdom saw that this signal manifestation of the wrath of God was necessary to guard the young church from becoming demoralized. [What is the wrath of God according to Scripture? God giving people up to reap what they have chosen. What is the reason, given by this author, for the wrath? To punish their sin or to protect the young church?] Their numbers were rapidly increasing. The church would have been endangered if, in the rapid increase of converts, men and women had been added who, while professing to serve God, were worshipping mammon. This judgment testified that men cannot deceive God, that He detects the hidden sin of the heart, and that He will not be mocked. It was designed as a warning to the church, to lead them to avoid pretense and hypocrisy, and to beware of robbing God. {AA 73.4} [Is a warning to the living the same as punishment to the dead?]

God cannot be mocked, what Bible verse does this idea bring mind and does it give any insight into why God cannot be mocked?

Do not be deceived: God cannot be mocked. A man reaps what he sows.⁸ The one who sows to please his sinful nature, from that nature will reap destruction; Gal 6:7,8

Why is it God cannot be mocked? Because of design law, you reap what you sow. You cannot pretend to give up cigarette smoking, yet keep smoking, and still experience good health—why not? What laws determine the outcome? Who made the laws and sustains the operation of those laws?

Was this true for Ananias and Sapphira?

What does one reap when one chooses to separate themselves from God? Death, why is it we don't all reap death instantly? Because God graciously intervenes to suspend such consequences giving us more time to reconsider. But, in Ananias and Sapphira's case, God let them have their choice.

SABBATH

Read the entire day's lesson: "Many converts at Pentecost..." What lesson do you gain from this?

Could the religious traditions of Judaism have been an obstacle to spreading the gospel?

Could people have been more interested in the forms of religion, carry out the ceremony in the right way, dressing in the right clothing, washing their hands in the right way—than actually experiencing renewal of heart and mind to be like Jesus?

What about today? Could the traditions of Christianity—the forms of religion, the way we practice Christianity be obstacles to actually spreading the gospel?

Could people be more interested in dressing the right way, not wearing jewelry, eating the right foods, going to church on the right day, the right method of baptism, than actually healing the hearts of people to be like Jesus?

Now, does this mean that there was no godly purpose or benefit to the religious ceremonies of Judaism? No, there was godly purpose in their institution—then what was the problem? When the object lesson, the ritual, the teaching tool became more important than the reality to which they were designed to lead people.

And in Christianity—does this mean there is no godly purpose to many of our traditions and rituals and forms? No, there is godly purpose to many of them, but the problem becomes when any of these elements, even when given by God, like the Sabbath, become more important than saving and healing people.

Why is it that the forms of religion, the rituals, ceremonies, traditions, practices can come to supersede the actual mission of bringing people to know Jesus as their Savior?

The motivation of fear—when we are afraid, where do our motives focus? On self, on not sinning, on not getting in trouble, on not having a demerit against our name. And if this is our motive what do we tend to focus upon? The right way to behave, keeping the rules. And is there a particular theology that harmonizes with the fear-based way of reading the Bible? The penal/legal systems of theology.

But when fear has been replaced with love for God and others—then what is the primary motive? Is it not to glorify God and help other people, even if it hurts us? Thus we don't focus on what we can't do, but our focus changes to finding all the opportunities to glorify God and reach other people with the saving truth about Jesus. This is design law theology!

SUNDAY

The lesson points us to Acts 6, when the Greek speaking Jews complained that their widows were being neglected in the distribution of resources.

How would you handle this?

How did the Apostles handle this?

Why were people selected to take charge of distributing the subsistence fund? Because the Apostles needed to focus on spreading the truth about Jesus. Could this conflict have been instigated by Satan to distract the Apostles away from their primary mission?

Was the selection of people to take care of this task, the setting up of a church hierarchy?

Were these seven people given some ecclesiastical authority to rule over the other members of the church?

What were they tasked with doing?

So, was this done to not only have improved equity in distribution but to take administrative burdens off the Apostles?

This is why our ministry has administrative support—some of you have send in emails that might not have gotten answered as quickly. This is because Francesca is on maternity leave and I am focused on many other responsibilities. Please be patient with us. Francesca is due back the beginning of August.

Read last paragraph, “The candidates were...” From where did the authority for these 7 originate? Who bestowed such authority on them?

Who selected them for this role?

Was this a top-down selection or was this a recognition from the community of people who possessed qualities to fulfill the role needed?

And the Apostles role in their selection—to select or to acknowledge, agree with, and give a blessing to those selected?

MONDAY

Read Acts 6:8-15:

Stephen, a man whose character radiated the grace and beauty of God and who was filled with power from heaven, performed many miracles and incredible wonders among the people.⁹ But Jews from Cyrene, Alexandria, Cilicia and Asia, who were members of the Synagogue of Freeman, opposed him. They tried to debate with Stephen,¹⁰ but their arguments couldn't stand against his wisdom or the Spirit who empowered his words.

¹¹So they bribed some men to slander him. They said, "We heard Stephen teach lies about Moses and God."¹²By doing this, they agitated the people, church leaders, and theologians who preferred a legal theology. These people arrested Stephen and brought him before the Jewish High Court.¹³They brought in their bribed witnesses who perjured themselves by saying, "This man is always speaking against this temple and God's written law."¹⁴We even heard him say that Jesus of Nazareth would destroy this building, and do away with what Moses taught us."

¹⁵All those sitting in the courtroom turned and looked closely at Stephen, and they saw his face radiating light, like that of an angel. The Remedy

What was the basis of the allegations?

- Were they alleging Stephen was teaching things that caused people to become criminals?
- Were they alleging Stephen was teaching people that God did not exist?
- Were they alleging that Stephen was denying that Moses was called by God and a deliverer of Israel?

What were they accusing Stephen of?

Wasn't it that he was undermining their interpretation of the meaning of it all?

And how did they interpret it?

What was Stephen teaching they didn't like?

The opponents to Stephen held to an imposed law construct of legal application and Stephen was teaching that all the Old Testament ceremonies and teachings were metaphor of a larger reality found in Jesus and to applied in the hearts and minds of believers.

What about today, do we find similar conflicts in the church today?

What happens when we teach the 10 Commandments have not always existed but were added after humans sinned?

Do some people accuse us, just like Stephen was accused, of denying the law of God?

What is the truth—have the 10 Commandments always existed or were they added later?

What evidence do we have to be able to know?

- What kind of law is God's law? Is it imposed rules or design law?
 - "But in heaven, service is not rendered in the spirit of legality. When Satan rebelled against the law of Jehovah, the thought that there was a law came to the angels almost as an awakening to something unthought of." {Mar 79.7}
 - What kind of law can exist and be applied to the lives of intelligent beings without their awareness of it?
 - When Newton described and wrote down the law of gravity what do you think people might have said? "A law of gravity—wow, that never occurred to me, I never thought it was a law."
- Can design laws, like the laws of physics, be fully understood by studying them from a textbook, and seeing their formulas written out on paper?
- Can the law of love be fully comprehended or understood on stone?
- Where, according to Scripture, is God's law supposed to be written? Heb 8, in the heart—why? Because it is a living law, the law upon which life is founded!
- Why did God write it on stone? Because of sin the law was no longer on the heart.
- Did the angels in heaven, who followed Satan, sin? Does that mean they broke the law? What law? Was it the 10 Commandments?
- Did angels in heaven have a law not to commit adultery or to honor their mothers and fathers written down somewhere?
- Was there an ark in heaven made out of wood, covered in gold, containing pieces of stone with 10 rules on them for the angels to refer to?
- When was the Sabbath created? Were angels in existence before earth was created? Job 38

Are you confident, based on reasoning out the evidence, that the 10 Commandments were not always in existence, but added later?

One of the founders of the SDA church wrote:

The law of God existed before man was created. [Why might some jump on that very true statement and say, "See the 10 Commandments were always in existence? Because they don't understand the difference between design law and imposed law. And think the 10 Commandments are the eternal law of God, rather than a mere distilled down version written for sinful humans] The angels were governed by it. Satan fell because he transgressed the principles of God's government. After Adam and Eve were created, God made known to them His law. It was not then written, but was rehearsed to them by Jehovah. {SR 145.1}

The Sabbath of the fourth commandment was instituted in Eden. [What does instituted mean?] After God had made the world and created man upon the earth, He made the Sabbath for man. [What does made mean? So was the Sabbath in existence before it was made or instituted? Then could the Sabbath commandment exist before the Sabbath itself?] After Adam's sin and fall nothing was taken from the law of God. The principles of the Ten Commandments existed before the fall and were of a character suited to the condition of a holy order of beings. After the fall the principles of those precepts were not changed, but additional precepts were given to meet man in his fallen state. {SR 145.2}

I am asked concerning the law in Galatians. What law is the schoolmaster to bring us to Christ? I answer: Both the ceremonial and the moral code of ten commandments... "The law was our schoolmaster to bring us unto Christ, that we might be justified by faith" (Gal. 3:24). In this scripture, the Holy Spirit through the apostle is speaking especially of the moral law. {ISM 233, 234}

So what would it mean today, if we present the idea that God's law is design law, that humans are out of harmony with God's design and in a terminal condition and that God works through Christ to heal and restore; and in that understanding the 10 Commandments were added as a diagnostic instrument to help us realize our condition, but not as a remedy and when God has His way in our lives the purpose of the 10 Commandments becomes obsolete because we are restored to harmony with God's law; and then some stand up and accuse us of undermining the law?

Those who oppose what we teach oppose the Creator God and His design law of love and just like those who accused Stephen do so because they have accepted the lie of imposed law.

Some who oppose us may be like Saul of Tarsus, still seeking the truth, but so steeped in tradition they can't yet see it. So, we don't judge our opponents to be eternally lost, only that like Saul they are fighting against the true message of Jesus Christ!

Read the last paragraph, "Indeed, by Acts..." Do you hear Stephen acting as an attorney to legally prosecute the people?

Or is Stephen acting like a herald of truth to bring them to conviction for their healing and restoration?

It all depends on which law lens you read Scripture through.

WEDNESDAY

Read third paragraph, "While Stephen stood before..." Can someone explain to me where they get this idea?

I actually have no idea where they have come up with the idea described here?

Is anyone aware of any Scripture to support this idea? I am not. Yes, we have Scripture that Jesus ascended to the right hand of the Father—but we don't have any evidence that Jesus is in heaven acting in a judicial manner to condemn people on earth. This is the lie of imposed law. In fact, the evidence we have is just the opposite:

Hebrews 10:19-23:

Therefore, brothers and sisters, since Jesus died to bring us the truth about God and to eradicate selfishness from humanity, we no longer need to be afraid but can confidently enter the Most Holy Place—God's very presence—²⁰ because Christ's death revealed the truth about God and ripped open the veil of lies told by Satan that blinded our minds, and destroyed the infection of selfishness that separated us from him.²¹ And since we have this great ministering priest who ministers the truth to all,²² let the truth permeate us, cleansing, transforming and changing us as we draw near to God in heart, mind, purpose, method, principle and character,²³ so that we may have ultimate confidence and trust in him who has revealed himself to be completely trustworthy. The Remedy

Does the picture of God presented in the lesson, of Jesus standing in heaven to find fault in order to condemn and prosecute us make you trust God more? Does it increase your love? What impact does it have upon you? Does it make you more fearful, more distrusting, seek greater protection from God? Does it make you more self-focused, worried about what you are doing so you don't get in trouble?

Who wants your mind corrupted like this? This idea of Jesus and God as our prosecutors seeking to find fault in order to punish is Satan's lie from the beginning. Our role today as God's representatives is to present the truth to free people from such distortions—to call them back to worship the Designer who made the heavens and earth and seas.

Read fourth paragraph, "This explains why..." What do they mean by salvation being mediated through the nation of Israel?

How is this true and how is it not true?

- Salvation being through Jesus and Jesus being born to a descendant of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, then yes, as Jesus said to the Samaritan woman, "Salvation is of the Jews."
- But, if it means that one had to become a member of the nation of Israel to be saved, then no it didn't mean that.
- If they mean one had to have the Jewish religion presented to them to be saved, then no it didn't mean that.

Bottom paragraph points out that Stephen, when being stoned, prayed for those who were killing him, then the lesson states, "Only a person with a superior character and unwavering faith could do such a thing, a powerful manifestation of his faith and the reality of Christ in his life."

This is a powerful evidence of God's goal—to do what? To eradicate the survival of the fittest drive, the me-first drive, the kill or be killed drive from human heart and replace it with love for others such that we would give our lives for others. This is not natural, it is supernatural and a gift of God as we partake of the divine nature.

Do penal legal theologies in which we view God as the source of inflicted punishment reduce fear, reduce the focus on self, reduced the survival drive, or do such theologies inflame the infection of fear and selfishness?

THURSDAY

Read fourth paragraph, “The unexpected conversion...” Do you remember Peter having a difficult time accepting non-Jews and his vision of all the animals?

What does this mean that the apostles had to be convinced that non-Jews were to be accepted as full members of the body of Christ?

Doesn't it mean that the apostles didn't know everything, that they still had errors in their understanding, that even after their time with Jesus, after their conversion, after the pouring out of the Holy Spirit on Pentecost, they still had ideas in their head, in their comprehension that were not correct?

Does the fact they had errors in their understanding mean that they were not inspired by God?

So a person can be inspired by God and have errors in their understanding?

What does this mean for us today?

What about any other human being who we believe has been inspired by the Holy Spirit, do we allow that they could have had errors and had to grow and give up some previously held ideas?

Many in the SDA church believe EGW was inspired by God with prophetic insights. Any evidence that she grew in her understanding of Bible truth over time?

- First vision was 1844
- Sabbath keeping came about between 1848-1850
- It wasn't until 1855 that Sabbath keeping was understood to begin at sunset on Friday
- The Great Controversy theme didn't happen until 1858
- Health reform vision 1863
- Righteousness by faith message 1888 followed by a move away from legal understanding of salvation writing:
 - Steps to Christ 1892 (which the church did not publish)
 - Thoughts from the Mount of Blessing 1896
 - The Desire of Ages 1898
 - Christ's Object Lessons 1900
 - Education 1903
 - Ministry of Healing 1905

What does all of this mean?

Only God is infinite, all other beings, including sinless angels, are finite and do not possess all truth, all understanding, all wisdom, all knowledge, and thus every person must think for themselves and not trust others to think for them.

When we read Scripture, or any other writing we find inspired, we must compare that with other Scripture and God's laws in science and nature, and real-life experience—i.e. through design law lenses to come to the healthiest understanding.

The Book of Acts Lesson 5 3Q 2018

The Conversion of Paul

by Tim Jennings (announcements at end)

Last week I mentioned that the 10 Commandments were written on Sapphire, and I would give the basis for that idea this week:

10 Commandments Written on Sapphire:

Moses and Aaron, Nadab and Abihu, and the seventy elders of Israel went up ¹⁰ and saw the God of Israel. Under his feet was something like a pavement made of sapphire, clear as the sky itself. Exodus 24:9, 10

Note two verses later:

The Lord said to Moses, “Come up to me on the mountain and stay here, and I will give you the tablets of stone, with the law and commands I have written for their instruction.” Exodus 24:12

Literal reading, “Tablets of THE stone...”

What stone, the only stone referenced in the text, which was two verses before, the sapphire stone.

Now, note Numbers 15:37-39:

Again the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, ³⁸ “Speak to the children of Israel: Tell them to make tassels on the corners of their garments throughout their generations, and to put a blue thread in the tassels of the corners. ³⁹ And you shall have the tassel, that you may look upon it and remember all the commandments of the Lord and do them...

What was the thread to remind them of? God’s commandments! and Why blue thread? Because the 10 Commandments were written on Sapphire, blue stone!

The Harlot of Revelation:

Then one of the seven angels who had the seven bowls came and talked with me, saying to me, “Come, I will show you the judgment of the great harlot who sits on many waters, ² with whom the kings of the earth committed fornication, and the inhabitants of the earth were made drunk with the wine of her fornication.”

³ So he carried me away in the Spirit into the wilderness. And I saw a woman sitting on a scarlet beast which was full of names of blasphemy, having seven heads and ten horns. ⁴ The woman was arrayed in purple and scarlet, and adorned with gold and precious stones and pearls, having in her hand a golden cup full of abominations and the filthiness of her fornication.⁵ And on her forehead a name was written:

MYSTERY,
BABYLON THE GREAT,
THE MOTHER OF HARLOTS AND OF THE ABOMINATIONS OF THE EARTH.
Rev 17:1-5

The Harlot of Revelation is adorned in Purple, Scarlet and Gold:

The High Priest of God wore four colors:

“They shall take the gold, blue, purple, and scarlet thread, and the fine linen, and they shall make the ephod of gold, blue, purple, and scarlet thread, and fine woven linen, artistically worked. Exodus 28: 5,6

What color does the Harlot not have? Blue—which means the false church rejects the law of God, which means they reject the law of love, design law and have imposed law instead.

The High Priest wore a breast plate with 12 stones—what did that represent? The peoples of the earth tied to the High Priest’s heart—and what was used to tie this symbol of the people of the earth to the High Priest’s heart?

They shall bind the breastplate by means of its rings to the rings of the ephod, using a blue cord, so that it is above the intricately woven band of the ephod, and so that the breastplate does not come loose from the ephod. Exodus 28:28

And what does the blue cord represent? The law of love! God’s law of love is what binds us to Him, only His design does this.

From the book Desire of Ages:

The yoke that binds to service is the law of God. The great law of love revealed in Eden, proclaimed upon Sinai, and in the new covenant written in the heart, is that which binds the human worker to the will of God. If we were left to follow our own inclinations, to go just where our will would lead us, we should fall into Satan's ranks and become possessors of his attributes. Therefore God confines us to His will, which is high, and noble, and elevating. He desires that we shall patiently and wisely take up the duties of service. The yoke of service Christ Himself has borne in humanity. He said, "I delight to do Thy will, O My God: yea, Thy law is within My heart." Psalm 40:8. "I came down from heaven, not to do Mine own will, but the will of Him that sent Me." John 6:38. Love for God, zeal for His glory, and love for fallen humanity, brought Jesus to earth to suffer and to die. This was the controlling power of His life. This principle He bids us adopt. {DA 329.3}

The false religions of the world, including false Christianity deny God's design law of love; they don't deny the 10 Commandments but they replace the 10 Commandments with an imposed view of the law—rules enacted and enforced by a ruling authority. Thus, they teach religious obligations, ceremonies, rituals, at the expense of loving people. Thus, they are represented by the Harlot with no blue thread.

SABBATH

Read last paragraph, "Paul's previous actions..." If you were to pick one Apostle—and we consider there were 13—the 12, minus Judas, plus Matthias who replaced Judas, and then Paul. If you were to pick one, based on the records we have, that you would say was the most active, most persistent, most determined, most aggressive in spreading the gospel which of the 13 would you suggest?

Do you think Paul's history of persecuting Christians before he was converted contributed to his passion as an Apostle? In other words, do you think that if Paul had merely converted like James or John, without having persecuted the church first, do you think he would have been just as aggressive in sharing the gospel? Or was his own disappointment with himself a motivator, something he might have felt he needed to "undo" "disprove" "overcome" "make up for" not to in some way earn salvation, but in a way that repaired or made up for the harm he caused others?

Might Paul have thought—"I know there is nothing I can do that will in any way earn my salvation, that is only through the free remedy given to me by Jesus. But, I know my previous actions turned people away from Jesus and I want to do everything I can to bring at least as many people back to Jesus as I drove away?"

SUNDAY

Read first paragraph, "Paul was..." Measured by the standard of his day, what kind of education did Paul receive?

Would this be equivalent to going to seminary today? And did Paul go to a seminary that would have been considered pagan or orthodox?

Did Paul's seminary training prepare him to be an Apostle of Jesus, or put obstructions in his mind to becoming an Apostle of Jesus, or neither or both? Here is a commentary from the book Desire of Ages regarding the quality of the schools in Christ's day:

In the days of Christ the town or city that did not provide for the religious instruction of the young was regarded as under the curse of God. Yet the teaching had become formal. Tradition had in a great degree supplanted the Scriptures. True education would lead the youth to "seek the Lord, if haply they might feel after Him, and find Him." Acts 17:27. But the Jewish teachers gave their attention to matters of ceremony. The mind was crowded with material that was worthless to the learner, and that would not be recognized in the higher school of the courts above. The experience which is obtained through a personal acceptance of God's word had no place in the educational system. Absorbed in the round of externals, the students found no quiet hours to spend with God. They did not hear His voice speaking to the heart. In their search after knowledge, they turned away from the Source of wisdom. The great essentials of the service of God were neglected. The principles of the law were obscured. That which was regarded as superior education was the greatest hindrance to real development. Under the training of the rabbis the powers of the youth were repressed. Their minds became cramped and narrow. {DA 69.3}

And from Friday's lesson we read, quoting from a book Life Sketches of Paul:

Christ had commanded his disciples to go and teach all nations; but the previous teachings which they had received from the Jews made it difficult for them to fully comprehend the words of their Master, and therefore they were slow to act upon them. They called themselves the children of Abraham, and regarded themselves as the heirs of divine promise. It was not until several years after the Lord's ascension that their minds were sufficiently expanded to clearly understand the intent of Christ's words, that they were to labor for the conversion of the Gentiles as well as of the Jews. p. 38

Did God lead Israel to set up the schools of the prophets? What happened? Consider this quote regarding the advent of Christ:

The angels from heaven did not come to the school of the prophets and sing their anthems over the Temple or synagogues, but they went to those who were humble enough to receive the message. They sang the glad tidings of a Saviour over Bethlehem's plains while the great, the rulers, and the honorable were left in darkness because they were perfectly satisfied with their position and felt no need of a piety greater than that which they possessed. Teachers in the schools of the prophets, the scribes and priests and rulers, were the worst persecutors of Christ. Those who made the highest pretensions to spiritual light were the very ones who slighted and rejected and crucified Christ. {Christ Triumphant 78.4}

What about our Christians schools today and our seminaries, is it possible they could fall into the same trap? Could our Christian schools today be indoctrinating minds into traditions and views of God that actually make it harder for the students, the graduates to hear the voice of God, to understand God's principles? Is it possible that today the "worst persecutors of Christ" are theologians and religious leaders?

Now, let's not be all-or-nothing thinkers. In Christ's day, there was in the Sanhedrin, Joseph of Arimathea and Nicodemus—two godly men who were educated by the system. Yet, the majority of the leadership rejected Christ and instigated His crucifixion.

In Paul's case, after his conversion on the Damascus road was Paul immediately ready to be an Apostle for Jesus? What did Paul need first? He spent three years in the desert being re-educated by Jesus—why did Paul need this if he was already seminary trained? Here is one commentator's view:

Here, in the solitude of the desert, Paul had ample opportunity for quiet study and meditation. He calmly reviewed his past experience and made sure work of repentance. He sought God with all his heart, resting not until he knew for a certainty that his repentance was accepted and his sin pardoned. He longed for the assurance that Jesus would be with him in his coming ministry. He emptied his soul of the prejudices and traditions that had hitherto shaped his life, and received instruction from the Source of truth. Jesus communed with him and established him in the faith, bestowing upon him a rich measure of wisdom and grace. {Acts of the Apostles 125.3}

So, does this mean Christian education is a bad thing? NO! I am very thankful for my Christian education—however, it wasn't until I could throw off the false imposed law lens, the lie of penal substitution and see the truth of God as Creator and His laws as design laws that I was actually fit to write and teach. Then, with the new perspective, I have been able to access the database of Bible stories and facts and it all fell into place. So, my Christian education was a tremendous blessing, but at the same time the way it was taught to me hindered actually seeing the truth, just as Saul of Tarsus experienced.

Read second paragraph, "Paul says elsewhere..." Why is the gospel of Jesus a stumbling block to the Jews? What causes them to stumble? Is it a physical or metaphorical stumbling block? And what image does that bring to mind?

The lesson suggests the stumbling block was that Christ was hung on a tree, but didn't the Jewish leadership stumble before the crucifixion? What caused them to stumble, before the crucifixion and does Christ dying on a cross reinforce their obstacles to truth?

- How did they view Scripture?
- What law lens did they hold and practice?
- What was their understanding of sin? Do we have evidence that they believed sin was a condition of being that needed healing, or a legal problem of bad deeds that needed to be avoided, or otherwise punished?
 - Consider all their arguments with Christ about breaking the law, what was their focus?
 - What was the point of the discussion between Nicodemus and Jesus? Wasn't Nicodemus confused about the idea of being "reborn" which is describing what? A legal solution or a healing solution?
- So, what do we see in Jesus' life? Do we see legal solutions or healing ones?
- How did Jesus dying on a cross play into the Jews false understanding of reality and added to their inability to accept Christ?
 - They read the Bible declaratively instead of as evidence or a teaching too. They read it is a rule book, instead of a guide back to reality.
 - Thus the Scripture and take it as an absolute without thinking.

What do you think about the idea of someone hung on a tree being under the curse of God—does the Bible say this?

- for anyone hung on a tree is under God's curse. Dt 21:23

So, the Bible does say this—next question—is it true?

So, does this mean when people were lynched because of the color of their skin the ones being lynched were under God's curse?

So, was Jesus actually cursed by God?

Paul says the following:

Christ redeemed us from the curse of the law by becoming a curse for us, for it is written:
“Cursed is everyone who is hung on a tree.” Gal 3:13

So, is this the curse of God—or does Paul say it is the curse of the law?

What law and how is it a curse and what relationship does it have to hanging on a tree?

What kind of law do you understand God's law to be?

The lie is that God's law functions no differently than human law—now under this false model, what would the curse of the law be?

- It would be broken rules require the ruling authority to inflict punishment, in this case to kill
- Thus, under the imposed law view the curse would be of God, God actually becomes angry and uses His power to inflict death—God personally inflicts the penalty, the punishment, the curse.
- Thus, in this model God is against the person hanging on the tree

In the design law model we realize that God's laws are the laws upon which life is built, and any deviation from these laws result in ruin and death. Thus to break God's law results in a curse—the curse of the law of sin and death. Consider this commentary:

Oh, that men and women would consider what is to be gained by transgressing God's law!
Under any and every circumstance, transgression is a dishonor to God and a curse to man. 157 {Counsels for the Church 107.2}

Why is transgressing God's law a curse to man? Because it results in pain, suffering, damage, destruction, death:

- What is the curse for smoking?
- What is the curse for jabbing a pencil in your eye?

- What is the curse for cheating on your spouse—and your spouse never knows?
- What is the curse for stealing from your employer—yet not being caught?

The word curse has multiple definitions

1. the expression of a wish that misfortune, evil, doom, etc., befall a person, group, etc.
2. a formula or charm intended to cause such misfortune to another.
3. the act of reciting such a formula.
4. a profane oath; curse word.
5. an evil that has been invoked upon one.
6. the cause of evil, misfortune, or trouble.
7. something accursed.

Do you see how one's preconceived idea of law, either imposed or design law, will determine which definition they attach to the idea of a curse?

Under design law it is definition 6: the curse is the cause of evil, misfortune, or trouble. Those who hold the imposed law view say the cause is God who judicially inflicts it. We know however, the cause is the curse of the law, just as Paul says, which is pain, damage, destruction that naturally occurs when one breaks God's design law.

Thus, Christ, became sin though he knew no sin so that we might become the righteousness of God. 2Cor 5:21. It was in order to heal and restore, not for a legal need.

But because the Jews held to a false legal view of reality—the cross became a stumbling block to them.

MONDAY

Read first paragraph, “As Paul...” Did Jesus use coercion on Paul? Did Jesus force Paul, take away Paul's freedom, threaten Paul in some way?

No—He revealed truth to Paul that brought Paul to conviction and Paul freely chose to repent, change his heart, and accept the truth.

Do we have evidence for this?

- Did Pharaoh have miraculous evidence presented to him repeatedly, more so that Paul did? And what impact did it have on Pharaoh?
- Consider those who came to arrest Jesus, did they have the brilliance of Jesus flash before them, and also have the miracle of a restored ear? And what impact did it have on them?
- Did God use mighty power at Mt. Carmel—did the people stay loyal to God thereafter?

So, did Jesus take away Paul's freedom?

Do you see what we just did? We did not look for a declarative statement that says, “God did not take away Paul’s freedom” But we looked for evidence that after God uses such demonstrations to gain one’s attention, He still leaves people free.

This is evidence-based thinking and is much more reliable than the declarative thinking, such as “cursed is everyone who hangs on a tree” and then concluding if the Bible says it we must take it as an absolute applied in all circumstances without thought. This type of non-evidence-based thinking is foundational to the penal models of salvation.

Read third paragraph, “When speaking to Saul...” What is being described here?

Why is it hard to kick against thorns? It would be similar to saying it is hard to put your hand in fire—why?

What is the lesson? What kind of law is being taught?

How does this apply to spiritual things?

When one deviates from God’s design and experiences pain from that deviation is the pain a judicial enforcement to make someone pay for their crime or a redemptive consequence to lead to repentance?

What if someone we love makes decisions that are violations of design law and are about to experience some painful consequence and we step in to prevent them from experiencing the pain—would such actions be acts of grace and mercy, or acts of harm—perhaps even cruelty?

What about a loved one with an addiction who ends up homeless because they won’t pay their bills—do we help them by giving them money? why or why not?

What did the father of the prodigal son do when his son ended up living with pigs? Why didn’t the father send his agents to buy the boy good food and put him in a hotel?

Is there an aspect of pain that we experience in life that is a result of our own choices and that type of pain is designed to alert us and lead us back to healthier living?

Does this mean that all painful events in life are a result of bad choices on our part or some sin we are involved in? No! Absolutely not! We can experience pain from random events in a world of sin, from human and satanic enemies. Consider the life of Job and Jesus.

TUESDAY

Read first paragraph, “When he realized...” Does the fact Paul asked the question indicate contrition, an expression of unconditional willingness to let Jesus guide in his life from then on?

hmmm... After Pharaoh was confronted with some of the miraculous plague that exposed the impotence of an Egyptian god, Pharaoh said to Moses:

“This time I have sinned; the Lord is in the right, and my people and I are in the wrong. ²⁸Pray to the Lord! We have had enough of this thunder and hail! I promise to let you go; you don’t have to stay here any longer.” Ex 9:27,28

Did Pharaoh’s statement “indicate contrition, an expression of unconditional willingness to let God guide in his life from then on?”

I don’t find Paul asking the question to be evidence of his contrition and trust in Jesus, but the application of the truth and doing what he was instructed to do after he asked the question that was the evidence.

WEDNESDAY

After Paul’s conversion did Paul become quickly accepted as a leader of the new church?

Did Paul have opposition within the church community to his leadership? Why?

Paul had a reputation—was Paul’s reputation of being an enemy of the church reasonable for church members to hold?

Did it take time for Paul to develop a new reputation, for his ministry to become accepted?

Why? Are there lessons for us today?

In addition to Paul’s need to be re-educated by Christ, could the need of the church to move past Paul’s bad reputation and have a cooling off period also be a reason for Paul’s 3 years in the desert?

If we have people who oppose us in the church, what lesson can we take from Paul?

Present the truth in love, leaving people free and go where God opens doors, trusting God with the outcomes!

THURSDAY

Read third paragraph, “Such resistance...” Was faith in God ever supposed to be based upon ceremonies? Or were ceremonies designed to express faith, and to teach an object lesson of a larger reality?

What validity did the OT sacrificial system ever have?

What was it valid for?

Was the OT sacrificial system, instituted by God through angels and Moses, ever a valid means of salvation? In other words, could people be saved by the animal sacrifices?

This is an illustration for the present time, indicating that the gifts and sacrifices being offered were not able to clear the conscience of the worshiper.¹⁰ They are only a matter of food and drink and various ceremonial washings—external regulations applying until the time of the new order. Heb 9:9-10

The law is only a shadow of the good things that are coming—not the realities themselves. For this reason it can never, by the same sacrifices repeated endlessly year after year, make perfect those who draw near to worship.² If it could, would they not have stopped being offered? For the worshipers would have been cleansed once for all, and would no longer have felt guilty for their sins.³ But those sacrifices are an annual reminder of sins,⁴ because it is impossible for the blood of bulls and goats to take away sins. Heb 10:1-4

So, were the ceremonies, the sacrifices ever a valid means of salvation? Then what were they valid to do? To teach the real plan of salvation.

What made them invalid? When they were used to teach paganism—which is what? The idea that blood sacrifice is necessary to pay a legal penalty or assuage wrath, or appease a god, or in any way to do something to the deity.

Read bottom paragraph, “During the fifteen days...” What kind of god does a person worship if they will kill people who don’t believe like they do?

Do you realize that the god worshipped by those Jews who were seeking to kill Christians is the same god worshipped by:

- the Taliban who kill people who don’t believe as they do
- the Catholics of the Dark Ages who burned people at the stake
- the Puritans who burned so-called witches
- the Protestants who murdered Catholics
- the Hindus who kill Muslims

Only the true God leads people to love your enemies and who leaves people free to have a different view. Why? Because of design law—we don’t need to kill people who refuse remedy for a terminal condition.

The bottom line lie in all these false systems is a god who has imposed law and that justice requires the infliction of death upon the wrongdoer.

The Book of Acts Lesson 6 3Q 2018

The Ministry of Peter

By Tim Jennings (announcements at end)

Last we examined the evidence that the 10 Commandments were written on Sapphire (I recap that below):

10 Commandments Written on Sapphire:

Moses and Aaron, Nadab and Abihu, and the seventy elders of Israel went up ¹⁰ and saw the God of Israel. Under his feet was something like a pavement made of sapphire, clear as the sky itself. Exodus 24:9, 10

Note two verses later:

The Lord said to Moses, “Come up to me on the mountain and stay here, and I will give you the tablets of stone, with the law and commands I have written for their instruction.” Exodus 24:12

Literal reading, “Tablets of THE stone...”

What stone, the only stone referenced in the text, which was two verses before, the sapphire stone.

Now, note Numbers 15:37-39:

Again the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, ³⁸ “Speak to the children of Israel: Tell them to make tassels on the corners of their garments throughout their generations, and to put a blue thread in the tassels of the corners. ³⁹ And you shall have the tassel, that you may look upon it and remember all the commandments of the Lord and do them...

What was the thread to remind them of? God’s commandments! and Why blue thread? Because the 10 Commandments were written on Sapphire, blue stone!

The Harlot of Revelation:

Then one of the seven angels who had the seven bowls came and talked with me, saying to me, “Come, I will show you the judgment of the great harlot who sits on many waters, ² with whom the kings of the earth committed fornication, and the inhabitants of the earth were made drunk with the wine of her fornication.”

³ So he carried me away in the Spirit into the wilderness. And I saw a woman sitting on a scarlet beast which was full of names of blasphemy, having seven heads and ten horns. ⁴ The woman was arrayed in purple and scarlet, and adorned with gold and precious stones and pearls, having in her hand a golden cup full of abominations and the filthiness of her fornication.⁵ And on her forehead a name was written:

MYSTERY,
BABYLON THE GREAT,
THE MOTHER OF HARLOTS AND OF THE ABOMINATIONS OF THE EARTH.

Rev 17:1-5

The Harlot of Revelation is adorned in Purple, Scarlet and Gold:

The High Priest of God:

Wore four colors:

“They shall take the gold, blue, purple, and scarlet thread, and the fine linen, and they shall make the ephod of gold, blue, purple, and scarlet thread, and fine woven linen, artistically worked. Exodus 28: 5,6

What color does the Harlot not have? Blue—which means the false church rejects the law of God, which means they reject the law of love, design law and have imposed law instead.

The High Priest wore a breast plate with 12 stones—what did that represent? The peoples of the earth tied to the High Priest’s heart—and what was used to tie this symbol of the people of the earth to the High Priest’s heart?

They shall bind the breastplate by means of its rings to the rings of the ephod, using a blue cord, so that it is above the intricately woven band of the ephod, and so that the breastplate does not come loose from the ephod. Exodus 28:28

And what does the blue cord represent? The law of love! God’s law of love is what binds us to Him, only His design does this.

From the book Desire of Ages:

The yoke that binds to service is the law of God. The great law of love revealed in Eden, proclaimed upon Sinai, and in the new covenant written in the heart, is that which binds the human worker to the will of God. {DA 329.3}

The false religions of the world, including false Christianity deny God’s design law of love; they don’t deny the 10 Commandments but they replace the 10 Commandments with an imposed view of the law—rules enacted and enforced by a ruling authority. Thus, they teach religious obligations, ceremonies, rituals, at the expense of loving people. Thus, they are represented by the Harlot with no blue thread.

After class last week Karin Covi told me she had a conversation with someone who told her that the woman with the long-standing bleeding problem who touched the hem of Christ's garment, that what she actually touched was the tassel on the hem with the blue thread in it.

We read earlier that the Israelites were to make tassels with blue thread in them to remind them of the law of God...interestingly, in the text in Matthew 9:20 that describes the woman with the issue of blood who touched the hem of Christ's garment and was healed—the Greek word is:

κράσπεδον kraspedon; of unc. or.; a border, tassel:—fringe(4), tassels(1).¹

So, it is likely that she touched the tassel with the blue thread, symbolic of God's law of love, which is the basis of life and was healed—as she symbolically connected back to the source of that life.

And I received an email from an online listener, Eric Sugaski who said he agrees the first set of the 10 Commandments were most likely written on sapphire, but Moses broke that set and God instructed Moses to chisel out stone for the second set:

The Lord said to Moses, "Chisel out two stone tablets like the first ones, and I will write on them the words that were on the first tablets, which you broke..."⁴ So Moses chiseled out two stone tablets like the first ones and went up Mount Sinai early in the morning, as the Lord had commanded him; and he carried the two stone tablets in his hands. Ex 34:1,4

So, the second set were most likely not on sapphire. Was there anything else different about the second set of 10 commandments besides not being on sapphire?

The first set, on sapphire from God's throne, had the Sabbath as a memorial to creation—in other words, design law, worship Him who made the heavens sea and earth. Design law is the law that is the pure representation of God's government. The second set had the Sabbath as a memorial to deliverance from slavery—level one thinking, recognize I am powerful. It was written on a different stone—because power isn't the most pure representation of God's government.

God attempted to give them His law at level 7, design law thinking, thus written on sapphire. But they couldn't comprehend the truth about God and his law, so God met them where they were and allowed them to view him through their distorted human law lens and thus the law was written on stone cut by Moses, likely granite or something else similar.

Not only was the stone not the stone from God's throne, but it was cut by Moses and not by God, symbolically demonstrating how they viewed God's law: they viewed it as God's directives combined with human effort, i.e. a system of imposed rules and human compliance. Thus they said, "All the Lord as said we will do."

Today, God is waiting for a group of people to take the true message of His character, law, and government to the world calling people back to worship Him who made the heavens, earth and waters.

SABBATH

The second paragraph states, "The conversion of Gentiles was the most controversial issue in the apostolic church."

What are your thoughts about this idea?

I think this is related to the most controversial issue, a consequence of the most controversial issue—or maybe just saying it differently. But I would say the most controversial issue was that the Jews, the genetic descendants of Abraham were in the same boat as the rest of the world, suffering with the same condition and in need of the same remedy. In other words, the Jews did not have a special path to heaven distinct from the rest of the world.

This remains a controversial issue today as many Christians think the genetic descendants of Abraham somehow don't suffer the same problem and don't need the same solution—or that they have another avenue of salvation than the rest of humanity.

The Jews always thought of themselves as have some special relationship with God because of genetics. Jesus confronted the leaders on this repeatedly. John 8:34-44:

Jesus replied, "I tell you the truth, everyone who sins is a slave to sin. ³⁵ Now a slave has no permanent place in the family, but a son belongs to it forever. ³⁶ So if the Son sets you free, you will be free indeed. ³⁷ I know you are Abraham's descendants. Yet you are ready to kill me, because you have no room for my word. ³⁸ I am telling you what I have seen in the Father's presence, and you do what you have heard from your father."
³⁹ "Abraham is our father," they answered.

"If you were Abraham's children," said Jesus, "then you would do the things Abraham did. ⁴⁰ As it is, you are determined to kill me, a man who has told you the truth that I heard from God. Abraham did not do such things. ⁴¹ You are doing the things your own father does."

"We are not illegitimate children," they protested. "The only Father we have is God himself."
⁴² Jesus said to them, "If God were your Father, you would love me, for I came from God and now am here. I have not come on my own; but he sent me. ⁴³ Why is my language not clear to you? Because you are unable to hear what I say. ⁴⁴ You belong to your father, the devil, and you want to carry out your father's desire. He was a murderer from the beginning, not holding to the truth, for there is no truth in him. When he lies, he speaks his native language, for he is a liar and the father of lies.

What made someone a child of Abraham?

Paul puts this nicely in Romans 2:28,29:

A man is not a Jew if he is only one outwardly, nor is circumcision merely outward and physical. ²⁹ No, a man is a Jew if he is one inwardly; and circumcision is circumcision of the heart, by the Spirit, not by the written code. Such a man's praise is not from men, but from God.

The Apostles struggled with this bias as well.

This bias not only a genetic bias, but transcended into their belief systems, traditions and rituals causing them to form a mindset that living like a Jew was what constituting being right with God. Thus, conversion was about being physically circumcised, dressing differently, eating differently, etc. it became very behaviorally focused—still an outworking of the basic misunderstanding of God's law that they had right at Sinai.

So, the biggest controversy, in my view was to see reality as it is, that the entire human race suffers from the same condition of being out of harmony with God and His design law for life; and God, through Christ provides the remedy for all human beings. And that remedy would transform the minds and hearts of all who trust God by removing fear and selfishness and restoring love. The Jews were simply God's agents to help spread the truth about God, the sin problem and God's solution for it.

Do we struggle with similar problems today? First, do we as Christians think the genetic Jews have some different sin-problem and need a different sin-solution? Do we believe they have some different avenue for salvation?

Second, do we ever think we are special if we belong to the right denomination, perform the right rituals, avoid work on the right day? Do we ever think that our being set right with God is based on what we do?

Does this mean what we do has no bearing on being right with God?

Think about it this way—you ingested a poison that is slowly killing you, a physician gives you a free antidote that will cure you if you take it. You take the antidote, you experience a change, you feel better, the symptoms are going away...are you the one who developed and provided the antidote? Have your efforts or works healed yourself? But, having taking the antidote, does that mean your choices have no bearing on whether you re-ingest the poison or not?

SUNDAY

Read first paragraph, “Peter was visiting...” What do you understand the paragraph to be saying? What was Peter doing?

Let’s read Acts 2:42: “They devoted themselves to the apostles’ teaching and to the fellowship, to the breaking of bread and to prayer.”

Now the word doctrine can mean something that is taught, or teachings. So, in the most basic sense any teaching is doctrine. However, when you think about doctrine what kind of teaching comes to mind? Does this word, doctrine, lead us more to think of “indoctrination?”

Do you think of teaching doctrine in the following settings:

- A nutritionist is teaching a person how to make healthy meals, would you say the nutritionist is giving the person doctrinal instruction?
- A tennis instructor is teaching a student how to serve, would you say the instructor is giving the student doctrinal instructions?
- A physical therapist is teaching a patient the exercises to strengthen a muscle group would you say the therapist is giving doctrinal instructions?

The word doctrine in its purist definition, that of being any teaching, could be used this way, but is this how we typically think of doctrinal instruction?

How do we typically think of doctrinal instruction?

Don’t we typically think of teaching a system of creeds, religious rules, fundamental beliefs?

Do you think Peter was primarily teaching them a creed, a list of religious rules, or was Peter teaching them about reality and how God’s reality works?

Consider 1Peter 1:13-15:

Therefore, prepare your minds for action; be self-controlled; set your hope fully on the grace to be given you when Jesus Christ is revealed. ¹⁴ As obedient children, do not conform to the evil desires you had when you lived in ignorance. ¹⁵ But just as he who called you is holy, so be holy in all you do; ¹⁶ for it is written: “Be holy, because I am holy.”

Does this sound like memorizing the right fundamental beliefs, or instructions on how to actually live one’s life?

Why is this an important distinction to make? Because if our beliefs don’t have real world application that bring transformation to the life, there is something wrong with the belief.

I have many patients in marriages in which they struggle. Often there is marked fear and insecurity. Fear of rejection, fear of not being loved, fear of the spouse finding someone else more attractive. This fear is driven by a personal sense of inadequacy, but it often comes out in suspicion, accusation, monitoring. “You don’t think I am pretty, do you?” “You think I am fat” “You don’t really want to be married to me, do you?” “I saw you looking at that other person.”

It can even become violent, all the while the accusing attacking person claims to love the other person.

What is the root problem? Fear and selfishness in the heart have not been replaced by love and trust—which is known as what in Bible terms? Conversion!

Since we are talking about Peter today, let’s consider Peter in the upper room with Jesus. Jesus just told the disciples that they were all going to run away. What did Peter say? “Not me Lord!”

Was Peter lying? Or was Peter being 100% sincere and would have passed a lie detector at that moment?

Then, since he was not lying does that mean Jesus could trust Peter? Why not?

Did Peter love Jesus? Yes, but, and here is the critical issue—he still loved himself more! Thus, when Peter’s life was threatened he denied Jesus to protect himself. So, Jesus said to Peter:

But I have prayed for thee, that thy faith fail not: and when thou art converted, strengthen thy brethren... Lk 22:32 KJV

The problem with doctrinal instructions today is that many people are given false doctrinal instruction. They are told that sin is doing bad deeds, which gets you in legal trouble with the heavenly administration, which puts you on death row, and conversion means to accept the legal payment of Jesus to the heavenly administration so in the record books of heaven your name can be moved from the rolls of the condemned to the rolls of the legally pardoned.

Many people pray the sinner’s prayer, asking Jesus to take their sins, accepting His payment, and claiming legal pardon and then claiming they are converted to Jesus—but what they have been converted to is a false ideology that doesn’t require the death to self. Therefore, fear and selfishness still live in the heart and they treat their spouses with the same self-centered approach.

Real conversion is what Peter experienced after his denial when he wept bitterly, and died to self. Just like David after Nathan confronted him, Jacob’s night wrestling with the angel, Saul after Damascus road.

This is the valley of the shadow of death that our heavenly Shepherd leads us through for the restoring of our soul and the magnification of His character/name. The valley where we face the infection of selfishness in us and it feels as if we are going to die as we surrender completely to our Savior.

The lesson points out that the Apostles performed many miracles, yet it was God actually performing them, then asks the following in the green section at the bottom:

Some people think that if only they could see a real miracle, such as what happened here, then they would believe. And though at times miracles helped lead some people to faith, the Bible is filled with stories of those who saw miracles and still didn't believe. On what, then, should our faith be based?

What is faith and upon what should we base our faith?

Dictionary definition of faith:

1. confidence or trust in a person or thing:
2. belief that is not based on proof:
3. belief in God or in the doctrines or teachings of religion:
4. belief in anything, as a code of ethics, standards of merit, etc.: to be of the same faith with someone concerning honesty.
5. a system of religious belief: the Christian faith; the Jewish faith.
6. the obligation of loyalty or fidelity to a person, promise, engagement, etc.: Failure to appear would be breaking faith.
7. the observance of this obligation; fidelity to one's promise, oath, allegiance, etc.: He was the only one who proved his faith during our recent troubles.
8. Christian Theology. the trust in God and in His promises as made through Christ and the Scriptures by which humans are justified or saved.

When we speak of our faith in God do we mean all of these? Which apply?

Don't we mean #1 and that the one we trust is God and #8 is summing this up? The rest are not what the Bible means, #3 is just believing in God's existence, but the devils believe and tremble. This is not Biblical faith.

Do you know the most common way most people, including religious people, understand faith is number 2, belief not based on proof or evidence?

Is this Bible faith, to believe without evidence?

In the warfare between Christ and Satan how much truth is on God's side and how much truth is on Satan's side?

Satan has zero truth and all truth is on God's side. So, who in this war, wants us to believe, trust, have faith without evidence? The liar, the one with no truth.

Thus, the idea that faith in God is without evidence is a lie and leads people to believe all kinds of non-sense and does NOT lead them to an abiding love and trust relationship with God.

This is why the Bible says, “Now this is eternal life: that they may know you, the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom you have sent.” John 17:3

Notice, eternal life is knowing God, why? What is required for trust of a person? That they are trustworthy AND that you personally know them to know you can trust them.

Is trusting a trustworthy person you know with or without evidence?

So, upon what should our faith be based? The overwhelming and abundant evidence that God has given us of both His existence and His absolute trustworthiness. And where can we find this evidence?

- Scripture
- Science/Nature
- Experience

MONDAY

Read second paragraph, “It is important...” How can we know that the vision wasn’t about removing the distinction between clean and unclean meats?

Because of design law—the laws of health. We are free to eat anything we want without ceremonial uncleanness, but we are not free to eat anything we want and experience the same health consequences.

Read third paragraph, “The vision was explicitly...” Was Peter fully converted when this event took place? Had Peter been filled with the Holy Spirit on Pentecost? What does it mean then, that an inspired follower of Jesus, especially empowered by the Holy Spirit could struggle with something like this?

Does it give insight into how God and the Holy Spirit work?

Did Peter have ideas, attitudes, and beliefs that he held for many years before coming to Jesus? Did accepting Jesus mean an immediate erasure of all false beliefs? Why not?

What would happen to a person’s individuality if they had their beliefs, memories, perspectives changed without their willful choice to change them?

So, the first point to learn from this is how God’s methods of healing people work. God’s methods require the freewill participation of the one being healed; errors are only removed as we evaluate the evidence, with the enlightenment of the Holy Spirit, and choose to replace false ideas with new ones.

This is the only method to change a sentient being while retaining their unique individuality. That is why Paul wrote, “let every person be fully persuaded in their own mind.” Rom 14:5

The second point to note from this is: Even God’s Apostles and prophets can hold wrong ideas and need correcting. Thus, we are never to surrender our thinking to any other person, including a prophet of God.

Third point: A prophet of God can grow and change their position on points of doctrine, like this one, and it is NOT evidence of lack of inspiration, but evidence of the Spirit of truth leading them into greater truth!

Thus many SDAs need to reevaluate their mindset, beliefs, approach, and attitude toward how they understand the writings of EG White.

TUESDAY

The first paragraph points out that many of the Jewish converts to Christianity thought that Gentiles had to first be converted to Judaism before they could become Christian.

Do we struggle with any such concerns today about what it means to be a Christian and that people have to do certain rituals, or join certain organizations before they can be considered a Christian?

What about being a Jew today—according to the New Testament what constitutes being a Jew today—a modern day descendant of Abraham?

¹³It was not because Abraham kept a certain set of rules or practiced certain rituals that he and his descendants (those who are like Abraham in character—not in genetics) were promised to inherit the earth, but because of Christlike motives and methods that are endowed to them through trust in God.¹⁴For if it were possible to develop perfect motives, methods and principles by performing rituals or following a certain code, then there would be no need to trust God for his healing power in our lives, and his promised inheritance would be meaningless.¹⁵The written law or code simply exposes the extent of our sickness of mind and heart which, if not cured, results in death. If it weren't for the written law, we wouldn't even know how sick we are, for without some standard of health to measure by, no defect could be diagnosed.

¹⁶Therefore the restoration to a perfect state of being and the inheritance of eternal life on a renewed earth come by trusting the One who made the promise to do it. This transformation is accomplished by God's graciousness and is guaranteed to all the children of Abraham—not only his genetic descendants who were given the written diagnostic code, but also to his spiritual descendants, who—just like him—trust God. Abraham is the father of all who trust God.¹⁷As it is written: "I have made you the father of many different ethnic groups." The God in whom Abraham trusted—the Creator God who is the source of all life and who calls things into existence from nothingness—considers all of us who trust him to be descendants of Abraham.

Roman 4:13-17 The Remedy

WEDNESDAY

The lesson points out that it was at Antioch that followers of Jesus were first called Christians, and likely as a derogatory name, but they quickly adopted it.

Then the lesson asks at the bottom of the page, “What does it mean to you to be called a ‘Christian’? What about your life is truly Christian? That is, how differently do you live from non-Christians in the things that really matter?”

What do you say?

- Don’t smoke or use illegal drugs?
- No alcohol or just no drunkenness?
- Vegetarian diet or Kosher or eat anything because we are free in Christ?
- How about dress—any dress requirements to being Christian?
- What about going to church? Is church attendance what it means? And if so, does the denomination matter? How about regularly fellowship with believers in someone’s home?
- What about observing religious holidays or weekly Sabbath, is this what it means to be a Christian?
- What about partaking communion, foot washing, or other ceremonies?
- What about being honest, kind, patient, loyal, faithful, forgiving, generous, helpful, refusing to slander, refusing to gossip, ministering to less fortunate?

When John Wesley was asked what made a Methodist he answered:

"What then is the mark? Who is a Methodist, according to your own account?" I answer: A Methodist is one who has "the love of God shed abroad in his heart by the Holy Ghost given unto him;" one who "loves the Lord his God with all his heart, and with all his soul, and with all his mind, and with all his strength. God is the joy of his heart, and the desire of his soul; which is constantly crying out, "Whom have I in heaven but thee? and there is none upon earth that I desire beside thee! My God and my all! Thou art the strength of my heart, and my portion for ever!"

If any man say, "Why, these are only the common fundamental principles of Christianity!" thou hast said; so I mean; this is the very truth; I know they are no other; and I would to God both thou and all men knew, that I, and all who follow my judgment, do vehemently refuse to be distinguished from other men, by any but the common principles of Christianity, -- the plain, old Christianity that I teach, renouncing and detesting all other marks of distinction. And whosoever is what I preach, (let him be called what he will, for names change not the nature of things,) he is a Christian, not in name only, but in heart and in life. He is inwardly and outwardly conformed to the will of God, as revealed in the written word. He thinks, speaks, and lives, according to the method laid down in the revelation of Jesus Christ. His soul is renewed after the image of God, in righteousness and in all true holiness. And having the mind that was in Christ, he so walks as Christ also walked.

Wow—what do you think of what John Wesley wrote? A true Christian is one who is like Christ in heart and mind—renewed in the inner man. This is the healing remedy, design law, not imposed law legal adjustment.

Do you agree or disagree?

I have heard that many Muslims have a different view of what a Christian is—it has been reported many Muslims often think of a Christian as someone who claims the Bible, but:

- goes to church on Sunday
- eats pork
- drinks alcohol
- hates Muslims

Are these marks of a Christian? Are any of these marks that prove a person is not a Christian? Yes, hates Muslims—hating our fellow human beings is a mark of not being a Christian. The other three are not evidences either way.

But, I have heard some SDAs say that when talking with Muslims don't say you are a Christian, because they will put you in that category of not following the Bible drinking alcohol, eating pork and going to church on Sunday—instead, it is recommended that you tell them you are an Adventist who goes to church on Saturday, doesn't drink alcohol and doesn't eat pork and often they will say, "You are a follower of the book."

Even if this is true, why is it sad?

Can a person go to church on Saturday, not drink alcohol, not eat pork and still have such selfishness and evil in their hearts that they will crucify Jesus and want Him off the Cross by sunset?

Such external focus makes one vulnerable to miss what really matters and what really matters is character, being like Jesus in heart, just as Wesley said!

THURSDAY

The lesson talks about Herod's execution of James, read second paragraph, "The King Herod..." thoughts?

Why was James killed, was it merely theological or the mixture of theology and politics?

Read last paragraph, “Next, we find...” thoughts?

What do you hear? Are they saying that God used His power to kill Herod as punishment for sin?

Let’s read the Bible:

On the appointed day Herod, wearing his royal robes, sat on his throne and delivered a public address to the people. ²² They shouted, “This is the voice of a god, not of a man.” ²³ Immediately, because Herod did not give praise to God, an angel of the Lord struck him down, and he was eaten by worms and died. Acts 12:21-23

What are the problems with this view?

- What is the punishment for sin—sleep death or eternal death?
- When is the punishment for sin to be experienced, before or after the Great White Throne Judgment?

So, even if God did strike him down, was it punishment for sin, or putting him to sleep?

But the Bible said the angel of the Lord struck him down, so it must be this way right?

Saul said to his armor-bearer, “Draw your sword and run me through, or these uncircumcised fellows will come and abuse me.”

But his armor-bearer was terrified and would not do it; so Saul took his own sword and fell on it. ⁵ When the armor-bearer saw that Saul was dead, he too fell on his sword and died. ⁶ So Saul and his three sons died, and all his house died together. 1Chron 10:4-6

How did Saul die?

Notice, the same chapter a few verses later, what the Bible says:

Saul died because he was unfaithful to the Lord; he did not keep the word of the Lord and even consulted a medium for guidance, ¹⁴ and did not inquire of the Lord. So the Lord put him to death and turned the kingdom over to David son of Jesse. 1Chron 10:13,14

Could one read this and conclude, that because Saul was unfaithful to the Lord that he died because of divine judgment?

Is 1Chronicles that says “the Lord put him to death” inspired by the Holy Spirit? The same Holy Spirit that inspired the book of Acts?

Was there a certain convention of thought in the Jewish mind that if God permitted something to happen then it was considered an act of God or the will of God.

Could the writer of Acts use a similar convention?

The Book of Acts Lesson 7 3Q 2018

Paul's First Missionary Journey

By Tim Jennings (announcements at end)

Before we get into the lesson I wanted to follow up on Ananias and Sapphira.

I received several emails from people who were concerned that I made the case that their death was not one of God inflicting punishment for sin. They referenced several comments from EG White in the Acts of the Apostles later in the same chapter that I referenced that seemed to say otherwise.

A review of what I presented in lesson 3:

What are the possibilities?

- Some suggest that it was punishment for sin—why can we be 100% positive this was not the case?
 - What is the punishment for sin? Eternal death—did they die eternally or will they arise again?
 - Does the punishment for sin occur before the Great White Throne Judgment or after? Had that judgment happened yet?
 - Then, this cannot be punishment for sin—it must be something else
- It was natural causes—why should we doubt it was simply a case of dying of old age, or body wearing out?
 - Because the circumstances are inconsistent with a natural death
- Dying from shock—why is this a possibility?
 - Because it is documented through history that people can die when confronted with a sudden shock, or a powerful shaman. The source of the shock being the confrontation by Peter and the truth. But we cannot know for certain because we are not told.
- God acting to put them to sleep, why is this also possible?
 - Because God at times has acted to put people to sleep who were obstacles to His plan to save and heal the human race.
 - What might have happened had Ananias and Sapphira not died then? Might they have entered into some leadership position and the early church had been corrupted with greed? Might God have diagnosed, or judged, that a therapeutic excision of their influence was necessary for the health of the early church? If this is so, then recognize such an action was an act of love, not anger, and was designed to heal, not destroy and was not a punishment for sin.

Here is commentary from a book entitled The Acts of the Apostles what do you think?

Ananias and Sapphira grieved the Holy Spirit by yielding to feelings of covetousness... They thought they had been too hasty, that they ought to reconsider their decision. They talked the matter over, and decided not to fulfill their pledge. They saw, however, that those who parted with their possessions to supply the needs of their poorer brethren, were held in high esteem among the believers; and ashamed to have their brethren know that their selfish souls grudged that which they had solemnly dedicated to God, they deliberately decided to sell their property and pretend to give all the proceeds into the general fund, but really to keep a large share for themselves. Thus they would secure their living from the common store and at the same time gain the high esteem of their brethren. {AA 72.1}

But God hates hypocrisy and falsehood. Ananias and Sapphira practiced fraud in their dealing with God; they lied to the Holy Spirit, and their sin was visited with swift and terrible judgment... [does this say punishment or judgment? And who judged them? Peter certainly did, and God did and was the judgment similar to a judgment you might have if you discovered your child smoking—would you make a judgment? And what would it be? Do we hear words like judgment only through the imposed law lens, or design law lens? God judged it unhealthy and judged it would hurt the early church, and judged that the most therapeutic thing to do would be nip it in the bud to protect the healing remedy!] {AA 72.2}

Infinite Wisdom saw that this signal manifestation of the wrath of God was necessary to guard the young church from becoming demoralized. [What is the wrath of God according to Scripture? God giving people up to reap what they have chosen. And what was the reason, to punish their sin or to protect the young church?] Their numbers were rapidly increasing. The church would have been endangered if, in the rapid increase of converts, men and women had been added who, while professing to serve God, were worshiping mammon. This judgment testified that men cannot deceive God, that He detects the hidden sin of the heart, and that He will not be mocked. It was designed as a warning to the church, to lead them to avoid pretense and hypocrisy, and to beware of robbing God. {AA 73.4}

God cannot be mocked, what Bible verse comes to mind and does it give a insight into why God cannot be mocked?

Do not be deceived: God cannot be mocked. A man reaps what he sows. ⁸The one who sows to please his sinful nature, from that nature will reap destruction; Gal 6:7,8

Why is it God cannot be mocked? Because of design law, you reap what you sew. Was this true for Ananias and Sapphira?

I received several emails referencing the following quotes, and as we explore this I want to point out there are two issues to address. One, whether God did inflict punishment for sin upon Ananias and Sapphira, and two, how I use EGW quotes. Some suggest I pick and choose the quotes I like and ignore other quotes. So, let's examine both concerns.

It is God who blesses men with property, and He does this that they may be able to give toward the advancement of His cause. He sends the sunshine and the rain. He causes vegetation to flourish. He gives health and the ability to acquire means. All our blessings come from

His bountiful hand... [what kind of law is being described here? In other words, what method does God use to bless? Do you think the mechanism for any negative consequence would be different?] {AA 75.1}

But the hearts of men become hardened through selfishness, and, like Ananias and Sapphira, they are tempted to withhold part of the price, while pretending to fulfill God's requirements. [How do hearts become hardened? What causes the hardening? What is the problem or result of hardening the heart? Is there a punishment in that? Remember we just read those who sew to the carnal nature from that nature reap destruction—what kind of law?] Many spend money lavishly in self-gratification. Men and women consult their pleasure and gratify their taste, while they bring to God, almost unwillingly, a stinted offering. They forget that God will one day demand a strict account of how His goods have been used, and that He will no more accept the pittance they hand into the treasury than He accepted the offering of Ananias and Sapphira. {AA 75.2} [How do you think this strict accounting will be demanded? Will it be like humans, counting pennies, or will it be by examining the character?]

From the stern punishment meted out to those perjurers, God would have us learn also how deep is His hatred and contempt for all hypocrisy and deception. [What is the purpose of this sentence? To whom might this sentence be aimed? To people who are close to God and know His methods, or people not so close?] In pretending that they had given all, Ananias and Sapphira lied to the Holy Spirit, and, as a result, they lost this life and the life that is to come. The same God who punished them, today condemns all falsehood. Lying lips are an abomination to Him. He declares that into the Holy City "there shall in no wise enter . . . anything that defileth, neither whatsoever worketh abomination, or maketh a lie." Revelation 21:27. Let truth telling be held with no loose hand or uncertain grasp. Let it become a part of the life. Playing fast and loose with truth, and dissembling to suit one's own selfish plans, means shipwreck of faith. [What is the problem with lying? It shipwrecks the faith, which means what? What does it do to the person? Is this an infliction? And why does God hate it? Does a parent hate a child who does drugs? Do they hate the child doing drugs?] "Stand therefore, having your loins girt about with truth." Ephesians 6:14. He who utters untruths sells his soul in a cheap market. His falsehoods may seem to serve in emergencies; he may thus seem to make business advancement that he could not gain by fair dealing; but he finally reaches the place where he can trust no one. Himself a falsifier, he has no confidence in the word of others. [What is described here? Does something change inside the liar? How does that change happen? What kind of law is involved?] {AA 75.3}

In the case of Ananias and Sapphira, the sin of fraud against God was speedily punished. The same sin was often repeated in the after history of the church and is committed by many in our time. But though it may not be attended by the visible manifestation of God's displeasure, it is no less heinous in His sight now than in the apostles' time. The warning has been given; God has clearly manifested His abhorrence of this sin; and all who give themselves up to hypocrisy and covetousness may be sure that they are destroying their own souls. {AA

76.1} [Wait, who is destroying their souls? Then how is it a punishment from God?]

So, how do we understand this?

Is the punishment for sin the sleep death? Is it the death Samson died when he pulled down the pillars, or that Daniel died from old age?

Yet the word punishment is used, what do we understand this to mean? And why didn't I originally include this?

Human beings on earth are at different levels of moral development—does God love only the mature, or does God love the immature as well? Does God speak only to the mature or does He speak to the immature as well?

If a child is unruly and continues to put themselves in danger by playing on farm equipment or running into the street, what does a loving parent do?

Does the loving parent discipline, but in the child's mind might it be understood as punishment? Does the parent inflict interventions that are unpleasant to the child in order to motivate/teach the child not to do this anymore?

Is the real danger, the ultimate problem for the child from the parent or the damage when hit by a car? But, because the child cannot understand the larger reality the loving parent steps in and takes upon their reputation the role of inflictor of punishment. When the child finally grows up they realize the infliction of punishment was never truly coming from the parent, but from the disobedience and the parent's actions were to protect them.

During WWII a troop ship was hit by torpedo and sinking. Water was flooding in and the soldiers were in a panic. Officers on deck shouted for order, but the panic was too great and as one soldier jumped on the ladder to come up another would drag him off. Suddenly, shots rang out as an officer shot down into the hold killing several soldiers, order was restored and the rest got out.

- Did the officer who shot into the hold hate his soldiers?
- Did the officer hate his soldiers drowning?
- Did the officer hate the soldiers refusing to listen?
- Were the officer's actions cruel?
- Were those shot punished for their refusal to listen—or was the action taken to save the rest?

This is God throughout the Bible. This is what is happening to Ananias and Sapphira—for the benefit of the emerging church and throughout history. The immature look at that example and they realize the danger of lying, cheating, etc. and in their childlike understanding consider God the source of the inflicted punishment. But perhaps resist the temptation to lie and cheat. Hopefully they will grow up and understand God is not the source of inflicted punishment.

Ellen White grew up to understand this. The following quote was written by her in the 1890's, while exiled to Australia. She sent it to Uriah Smith, who at the time was editor of the Signs, and he couldn't make sense of it, most likely because he was too spiritually immature, so he filed it in the magazine's files, where it was found in the 1950's and published in the selected messages.

We are not to regard God as waiting to punish the sinner for his sin. The sinner brings the punishment upon himself. His own actions start a train of circumstances that bring the sure result. Every act of transgression reacts upon the sinner, works in him a change of character, and makes it more easy for him to transgress again. By choosing to sin, men separate themselves from God, cut themselves off from the channel of blessing, and the sure result is ruin and death. {1SM 235.2}

What does this describe? What kind of law is this?

EG White grew in her faith and understanding of reality. Yet, God's spokespersons throughout history have always written to the entire human population, thus they write to the children, the spiritually immature who need the threats of punishment.

Why didn't I include the punishment quotes in lesson three when I presented the other quotes? Because I knew what was meant. I understand design law. I knew about the quote from 1SM and other places. I know God is not the source of inflicted punishment, but takes that role for the immature. And I don't want to perpetuate the view based on imposed law that has kept the church impotent and obstructed our ability to take the final message to the world.

Those who sent in the question—thank you! I think from time to time it is important to clarify quotes like this. But to those who think I don't use the entire body of evidence, I refute that allegation. When all the inspired record is harmonized it reveals God as Creator, His law as design law, sin as deviation from His design that causes pain, suffering and death, and God as our healer and Savior working in perfect harmony with Jesus and the Holy Spirit to eradicate sin in order to save the sinner.

SABBATH

Read memory text: "Therefore, my brothers, I want you to know that through Jesus the forgiveness of sins is proclaimed to you. Through him everyone who believes is justified from everything you could not be justified from by the law of Moses." Acts 13:38,39, NIV

What does this text mean to you?

Was God able to forgive sins without the death of Jesus?

If Jesus didn't die for us, would that mean God is unforgiving toward us?

Did God become forgiving toward us only because Jesus died for us?

Was it Jesus' death and the presentation of His "blood" that influenced God to move from a position of unforgiveness to a position of forgiveness?

What of these Bible texts:

- If God is for us, who can be against us? He who did not spare his own Son, but gave him up for us all—how will he not also, along with him, graciously give us all things? Rom 8:31,32
- For God so loved the world that he gave his one and only Son, that whoever believes in him shall not perish but have eternal life. For God did not send his Son into the world to condemn the world, but to save the world through him. John 3:16,17
- And God showed his love for us by sending his only Son into the world, so that we might have life through him. 1John 4:19 GNB
- God was in Christ reconciling the world to Himself, not counting their trespasses against them...2Cor 5:19
- But God has shown us how much he loves us—it was while we were still sinners that Christ died for us! Rom 5:8 GNB

Do these text sound like God needed Christ to do something to God for God to forgive us?

Can we say that whatever Paul meant about "through Jesus the forgiveness of sins is proclaimed" that it doesn't mean that through Jesus God has changed from unforgiving to forgiving. It doesn't mean God was either unwilling or unable to forgive due to some legal hindrance upon Him.

Do we understand Paul's words through design law or through human imposed law lenses?

Through the human imposed law people have construed some idea that Jesus' death was necessary to pay some legal penalty to get a legal pardon or forgiveness. This is not so. What evidence to we have to demonstrate this?

When Jesus healed the paralytic let down through the roof, right before he healed him Jesus said:

But so that you may know that the Son of Man has authority on earth to forgive sins...." Then he said to the paralytic, "Get up, take your mat and go home." Mt 9:6 NIV

Does Jesus have the authority to forgive sins? Did Jesus need His blood presented to Himself in order to do so?

Was this man's sins forgiven Him?

In the legal model, if God—the ruler of the universe—forgives someone their sins, that mean they are saved. In other words, there is a connection between forgiving of sins and salvation in the legal model that is linked. So, in the legal model the saved have their sins forgiven but the unsaved do not have their sins forgiven, isn't that how it is taught?

What about those who crucified Christ, the ones around the cross mocking, jeering, and taunting Him, were they saved? No, but were they forgiven by God?

Jesus said: “Father, forgive them, for they do not know what they are doing.” Luke 23:34

Were they forgiven? Were they saved? Hmmm, how do we understand this?

Under the legal lie, it is a contradiction, under design law it is simple reality.

A child disobeys a parent’s instruction to avoid the house cleaners under the sink and drinks some of the substances poisoning him or her.

Now—walk through the issue of forgiveness—if a parent refused to forgive this disobedience, might it result in the parent refusing to act to save the child?

If the parent did forgive, which I think almost every parent instantly would, would the forgiveness of the parent save the child? Or would there be actions necessary by the parent beyond their “not counting their trespass against them” in order to save the child? And if the parent offers an antidote but the child somehow refuses to take it—what then? Do they die? But do they die forgiven? This is the situation with the lost in the end.

Now, in relationships if someone does another wrong, betrays a person, what is necessary for reconciliation?

- Does the person offended have to forgive?
- Does the offender need to repent?
- Are both required for reconciliation?
- And if in committing the offense the offender actually introduced some destructive element into themselves, would a remedy also be necessary?
- What if the offender believes that the one they offended is angry with them and wants to punish them for their wrong? How might they act toward the one they offended? Would their guilt and shame increase or decrease trust? And if they didn’t trust the one they offended and the one they offended actually had the cure to save them, would that be a problem?

So, putting it all together, what does Paul mean in the text?

Acts 13:38,39 from The Remedy: "So, my dear friends, I want you to understand that it is through Jesus that sinfulness in our hearts remits and we are restored to God's original ideal. Through what he achieved, every person who trusts him is healed and set right from every defect of character that the diagnostic code, given through Moses, could not fix."

This is the true message of Scripture. We are out of harmony with God and His design for life, and God is working to save us. But, when people read the Bible with the false law lens they read into it the distorted views of God that undermine trust and lead to the false legal interventions.

You know I am working on paraphrasing the Psalms, and through the design law lens they are so beautiful. In conjunction with this idea of healing from sin, the forgiveness of sins, I wanted to share my paraphrase of Psalm 31:

Psalm 31

¹ O Lord, I come to you for healing;
don't let guilt and shame destroy me;
restore me to your perfect design.

² Listen to me—listen closely, and heal me—heal me quickly;
be my unfailing remedy,
a healing sanctuary to renew me.

³ Since you are my remedy and my sanctuary, reveal your character of love by recreating me in your image.

⁴ Free me from fear and selfishness which has trapped me, for you are my remedy.

⁵ I trust you! And I place my life in your hands;
you will cure me—no matter the price, O Creator—God of reality.

⁶ I hate the persistent use of false remedies;
my confidence is in the Lord.

⁷ I will celebrate and rejoice in your love—your healing design for life, for you saw the misery of my terminal condition and knew the cause of the sickness ravaging my inner self.

⁸ You have not surrendered me to be enslaved by fear and selfishness—the enemy of your design; but have enabled me to stand free renewed in truth and love.

⁹ Pour your healing grace upon me, O Lord, lest I be crushed by guilt and shame;
my eyes are swollen from crying,
my heart is torn with sorry and regret.

¹⁰ My life is stuck, consumed with guilt—with reliving my mistakes, years wasted bemoaning the past;
I'm exhausted, worn out with guilt,
I am getting weaker every day.

¹¹ My enemies—lies, fear and selfishness—have made me ashamed, my neighbors are tired of my self-loathing;
My friends dread to hear more of my constant negativity—when they see me coming, they avoid me.

¹² They have moved on, put me out of their minds as if I were dead.
I am considered broken beyond repair.

¹³ I hear criticism in the words of others—
I am terrified around people;

- they make plots to undermine me they seek to crush my heart.
- 14 But I put my trust in you, O Lord;
You are my God!
- 15 My future is in your hands;
free me from fear and selfishness—my enemies that constantly pursue me.
- 16 Immerse your servant in your life-giving glory;
heal me with your unfailing love.
- 17 Negate my shame, O Lord,
for I call upon you;
but let the unhealed be consumed by shame,
may they lie silent in the grave.
- 18 May the promotion of all false remedies be stopped, for the self-sufficient deny reality,
they scorn God’s design for life.
- 19 Beyond counting are the benefits of your goodness, the treasures you have built into reality for all who humbly follow you.
Those who trust you and follow your methods reap your blessings for all the universe to see.
- 20 You eradicate their sin-sickness by your presence—your secret plan—freeing them from the trap of the proud and selfishness; in your sanctuary you defend them from the words of the accuser.
- 21 All praise and honor to the Lord, for the wonders of his unfailing love that rescued me when I was besieged by worldliness.
- 22 Terrified, I cried,
“I have cut myself off from God!”
But you heard my plea for mercy
when I called out to you for help.
- 23 Love the Lord, all his faithful followers!
The Lord preserves those who live in harmony with his design, but the arrogant who choose their own way, he leaves to reap their full reward.
- 24 Be strong and confident,
all you who hope in the Lord.

SUNDAY

The lesson states a very powerful point: “God can operate only when we willingly place ourselves in a position where He can use us.”

Do you agree or disagree?

Why? What are God's methods? What does He want to achieve?

God wants our trust, love, loyalty, friendship—can any of these be achieved by imposing power, by coercion, by force, without the consent of the intelligent being?

What methods must be used to achieve this outcome? Truth, presented in love and leaving people free.

So, all constructs that present God as inflicting punishment for those who refuse Him, ultimately deny God's character and law of love and incite rebellion.

This is why the penal substitution view of atonement is so corrupt, it teaches people to believe a system that simultaneously misrepresents God and undermines trust and genuine healing.

Read third paragraph, "A period of intercessory prayer..." What is the purpose of intercessory prayer?

Is the purpose to influence God to love more, to be kind, to get God to do something good that God would not want to do?

If God always wants to do good, always wants to heal and save, then why do we need to pray? What are God's methods? How does He achieve His goals?

Does God violate freewill? Does He force His way in?

Thus, one aspect of prayer is our freewill consent inviting God into a situation. But there is another aspect: Does the process of praying have an impact upon the one who prays? Is there an aspect in which our conversations with God are healing, transforming, maturing to us? Does prayer help us in our spiritual growth?

Additionally, is there an aspect of prayer that exercises our own individual mental energies focusing our beings toward the welfare of others?

Can prayer, not only bring God into the equation, but can it allow us as believers to join our energies together and focus our intentions on the healing of others.

In God's universe, can this directly exert a positive influence? Yes, if we understand quantum connection, our prayers when focused with love and good intention can have a direct positive healing physical impact on the one being prayed for, through the quantum connections that God built into His universe.

Just as a person can use their physical body through Newtonian physics to massage, put pressure on a wound, do CPR, set a bone, and our direct physical contact and intervention can be healing, so too our prayers through quantum connections can exert positive impact on others.

So, I want to thank all of you who regularly pray for me and this ministry!

Read bottom green section, “Think how...” What is present truth for today? 3 angel’s messages? And what is that message?

What makes it harder to reach those who are already churchied?

When people already believe they know the answer to a problem they are less open to a different answer.

When people are told one worldview, one way of thinking, one “present truth” they are often resistant to update unless life events don’t fit their view, or questions arise they can’t answer or people lead them to reconsider.

MONDAY

Read second paragraph, “Acts 13:13 records...” What does this mean?

Does this mean John Mark lost his salvation or turned against God?

Could it be that John Mark engaged in a ministry, a mission, that he wasn’t well suited for and got exhausted and discouraged?

Do different people tolerate life experiences differently?

For instance, do some people get overwhelmed if they have to speak in public? Does that mean if they avoid this they are not working for God?

Should we expect every person to thrive in the same ministry or same duty?

Read last paragraph, “The climax of the sermon is...” What does it mean “the law has not been abrogated?”

Abrogate means to repeal or make void—why is it necessary for the lesson to make this point?

Would they need to say, “The passage does not say the law of gravity was abrogated?”

If we insert any design law in there do we see how silly the sentence is?

So, this sentence is further evidence of the infection of imposed law, the types of laws that can be changed or repealed. And this is how most Christians think of God’s law, so the authors want to make the point God did not repeal his IMPOSED law because that is how they understand law. But when we understand reality we know His law hasn't changed and cannot change.

Read bottom green section, "What does it mean..."

- Does salvation only through Jesus mean a person has to verbally use the name of Jesus?
- Does it mean they have to be baptized in the name of Jesus?
- Does it mean they have to identify as a Christian?

Paul wrote:

For it is not those who hear the law who are righteous in God's sight, but it is those who obey the law who will be declared righteous. ¹⁴ (Indeed, when Gentiles, who do not have the law, do by nature things required by the law, they are a law for themselves, even though they do not have the law, ¹⁵ since they show that the requirements of the law are written on their hearts, their consciences also bearing witness, and their thoughts now accusing, now even defending them.) Rom 2:12-15

What is the new covenant? Having the law written on the heart—what does Paul say these people have experienced? But they haven't heard the Scripture story—how is this possible?

Paul already told us in Romans 1:20:

For since the creation of the world God's invisible qualities—his eternal power and divine nature—have been clearly seen, being understood from what has been made, so that men are without excuse.

God's design law, which reveals His character and methods are revealed in nature so that people are without excuse. So, people who recognize the principles of love, kindness, honesty etc. respond to the Holy Spirit and are renewed and have the law, God's design for life written on their hearts.

Then, how are they coming through Christ?

Which member of the Godhead was the one through whom the earth was created, and thus wrote God's law into nature?

Colossians 1:15-17:

He is the image of the invisible God, the firstborn over all creation. ¹⁶ For by him all things were created: things in heaven and on earth, visible and invisible, whether thrones or powers or rulers or authorities; all things were created by him and for him. NIV

So Jesus is the member of the Godhead who created nature, and thus this is the first reason that people who come to God through nature come through Christ. But there is another way—and that is when they find God trustworthy in nature, and open their hearts to this higher power, the Holy Spirit takes the achievements of Christ, the divine nature that Christ restored into humanity, and reproduces it in them. Thus they are still saved by the same remedy as everyone else, even if they don't know the verbal name or mechanism yet.

One of the founders of the SDA church put it this way:

Those whom Christ commends in the judgment may have known little of theology, but they have cherished His principles. [Which is what type of law? Design law, principles can be learned and appreciated from how reality works, but imposed rules cannot. Thus another strike against the penal substitution theology.] Through the influence of the divine Spirit they have been a blessing to those about them. Even among the heathen are those who have cherished the spirit of kindness; before the words of life had fallen upon their ears, they have befriended the missionaries, even ministering to them at the peril of their own lives. Among the heathen are those who worship God ignorantly, those to whom the light is never brought by human instrumentality, yet they will not perish. Though ignorant of the written law of God, they have heard His voice speaking to them in nature, and have done the things that the law required. Their works are evidence that the Holy Spirit has touched their hearts, and they are recognized as the children of God. {DA 638.2}

How surprised and gladdened will be the lowly among the nations, and among the heathen, to hear from the lips of the Saviour, "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these My brethren, ye have done it unto Me"! How glad will be the heart of Infinite Love as His followers look up with surprise and joy at His words of approval! {DA 638.3}

But not to any class is Christ's love restricted. He identifies Himself with every child of humanity. That we might become members of the heavenly family, He became a member of the earthly family. He is the Son of man, and thus a brother to every son and daughter of Adam. His followers are not to feel themselves detached from the perishing world around them. They are a part of the great web of humanity; and Heaven looks upon them as brothers to sinners as well as to saints. The fallen, the erring, and the sinful, Christ's love embraces; and every deed of kindness done to uplift a fallen soul, every act of mercy, is accepted as done to Him. {DA 638.4}

What about the second question, "How do you reconcile the necessity to keep God's moral law with the fact that the law is unable to justify?"

Simple, breaking the laws of health cause disease, but once in a terminal state, suddenly keeping the laws of health do not provide remedy. Smoking causes cancer, stop smoking doesn't cure the cancer.

TUESDAY

Read first paragraph, "Acts 13:38,39..." What is meant by "Even if the law could produce perfect obedience in us, that perfect obedience cannot atone for past sins (Rom 3:19; Gal 3:10,11).

Let's check out the referenced texts and see if they speak to the question:

- Now we know that whatever the law says, it says to those who are under the law, that every mouth may be stopped, and all the world may become guilty before God. Rom 3:19 NKJV
- All who rely on observing the law are under a curse, for it is written: "Cursed is everyone who does not continue to do everything written in the Book of the Law." ¹¹ Clearly no one is justified before God by the law, because, "The righteous will live by faith." Gal 3:19,20 NIV

Does this say anything about atoning for past sins? Or do both texts speak of the inability of the law to resolve any sin, past, present or future?

What is the lesson trying to imply by "perfect obedience cannot atone for past sins"?

They are introducing a falsehood, a lie based on the lie about God's law, that sin is behavioral, bad deeds that are legally recorded and must be accounted for in some legal way. Thus, in their view even if we suddenly started keeping the law it doesn't resolve the legal guilt from the past.

In a sinful human world, with sinful human laws and courts this make sense. If someone murdered someone 10 years ago and since then never murdered again our legal justice system doesn't say since you are now living in harmony with the law you have no legal debt for your past murder. No, our system of imposed rules says they still must pay for their crime.

But, when we return to design law we realize that past sins are symptoms of a condition of being out of harmony with God and it isn't the record of the past that needs addressing but the condition of the heart. So, when a person is renewed and at one with God in heart/mind today the past deeds are not remembered, this is how they are dealt with.

If one were sick and vomited all over mother's new furniture when a child, such actions don't matter today as long as one isn't sick today. The issue isn't how gross the symptoms were back then, but whether one is still sick today.

Thus, the Bible says:

- Love is patient, love is kind. It does not envy, it does not boast, it is not proud. ⁵ It is not rude, it is not self-seeking, it is not easily angered, it keeps no record of wrongs. 1Cor 13:4,5 NIV
- God was reconciling the world to himself in Christ, not counting men's sins against them. 2Cor 5:19

This doesn't make sense to the penal view which teaches God does count our sins against us.

But notice what Peter describes and how the past sins are dealt with:

- For this very reason, make every effort to add to your faith goodness; and to goodness, knowledge; ⁶ and to knowledge, self-control; and to self-control, perseverance; and to perseverance, godliness; ⁷ and to godliness, brotherly kindness; and to brotherly kindness, love.

⁸ For if you possess these qualities in increasing measure, they will keep you from being ineffective and unproductive in your knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ. ⁹ But if anyone does not have them, he is nearsighted and blind, and has forgotten that he has been cleansed from his past sins. 1Pet 1:5-9

Does it say such a person has forgotten his record of past sins were erased, or forgotten that the record books were cleansed? No, Peter describes the healing of the mind, the writing into the being the law of God, the development of a godly character and if this hasn't happened then the past sins are not cleansed. In other words, the cleansing is the cleansing of the heart and mind, not a legal cleansing or a historical erasure.

WEDNESDAY

Read first paragraph, "Under the instigation..." Do we still have problems with religious leaders actually inciting opposition to the work of God?

How can we protect ourselves from being caught up in a mob and being misled by religious leaders?

By thinking for ourselves and examining the evidence and practicing God's methods, truth, love freedom!

The Book of Acts Lesson 8 3Q 2018

The Jerusalem Counsel

by Tim Jennings (announcements at end)

SABBATH

The memory verse is Acts 15:11, lets read verses 10 and 11: “Now then, why do you try to test God by putting on the necks of the disciples a yoke that neither we nor our fathers have been able to bear? No! We believe it is through the grace of our Lord Jesus that we are saved, just as they are.” Acts 15:10,11 NIV

Here is the New Living Translation: “So why are you now challenging God by burdening the Gentile believers with a yoke that neither we nor our ancestors were able to bear? We believe that we are all saved the same way, by the undeserved grace of the Lord Jesus.”

What does this mean?

- We can't be saved by law keeping
- Can we be lost by law breaking?
- How do we explain that if law breaking can cause us to be lost that law keeping cannot save us?

Which law lens do we explain this through?

How is it explained through the false human law concept?

- That once the law is broken a penalty for law breaking is required in order to maintain either the integrity of the law or the authority of the sovereign. So, if a murderer committed murder 20 years ago, and hasn't committed murder since, i.e. kept the law, his law keeping still doesn't pay the penalty for his previous law breaking. Someone has to be executed to pay that penalty.
- Now think about that construct for a moment—how many of you think it is reasonable to punish an innocent person for the crimes of the guilty—even under our human law system?
- What would it say about God if He were to construct a system in which innocents were punished for the crimes of the guilty?
- Further—does anyone in the penal/legal camp teach that we can actually obey or keep the law? So, we are always piling up more crimes to be punished in that view, yet how do we ever stop?

How do we explain the reality that we cannot be saved by law keeping with the reality we can be lost by law breaking through the truth of God's design law?

- Breaking the laws of health will cause disease
- Keeping the laws of health once one has a terminal condition will not cure the condition—i.e. smoking will cause cancer—stopping smoking will not cure the cancer.
- Jesus came to provide a remedy to the cancer of sinfulness, the remedy is provided free, by God's grace

- How righteous is it for a healthy person to donate bone marrow to a terminal person with leukemia? So we see how righteous it is for an innocent to sacrifice themselves in the design law model to save those dying in sin.
- Partaking of the remedy will cure—i.e. transform us, our hearts and minds.
- However, taking of the remedy does not prevent future damage one could inflict on themselves by new breaks to God's design law. Smoking causes cancer, a remedy cures the cancer and then the person smokes again—what happens?

Do you see how perfectly and beautifully things fit when we reject the human imposed law lie and return to God's design law reality?

So, here are these verses from The Remedy:

So why are you trying to prove you know better than God by putting legal requirements and rituals on them, which will only enslave them like a yoke around their neck, and which neither we nor our ancestors have been able to bear? No way! Don't do it! We believe it is through the gracious Remedy of our Lord Jesus that we are healed, and so are they!"

SUNDAY

Read first paragraph, "From the beginning..." What happened in the Antioch church? Why did their harmony, peace, healthy group relations get shattered?

- The members of Antioch were vulnerable because they didn't think for themselves. They esteemed the group from Jerusalem in some way higher than themselves and allowed their understanding to be corrupted by the ideas and concepts of those from Jerusalem. In other words, when someone from the conference office showed up they deferred their thinking to what they perceived to be someone of a higher authority. But were they?
- The group from Jerusalem introduce a false legal and behavioral construct—i.e. they introduced religion—the do's and don'ts

Consider this quote from the book The Desire of Ages:

The ministry of Christ was in marked contrast to that of the Jewish elders. Their regard for tradition and formalism had destroyed all real freedom of thought or action. They lived in continual dread of defilement. To avoid contact with the "unclean," they kept aloof, not only from the Gentiles, but from the majority of their own people, seeking neither to benefit them nor to win their friendship. [notice the specific types of interactions they refused to do—acts of love and service. This is important to recognize when dealing with teens who want to engage in unhealthy activities with those who are not converted to Christ. They might say to a parent that the parent is being a Pharisee by not letting the child go to such and such an activity. However, while we do want to avoid engaging with people in unhealthy endeavors, we should not avoid interacting to bless others. The Pharisees had the motive of selfishness, thinking about their salvation, their legal standing, and what would happen to them. Some SDAs do the same thing thinking about their legal status if they were to talk to someone on Sabbath who doesn't talk about Bible things.] By dwelling constantly on these matters, they had dwarfed their minds and narrowed the orbit of their lives. Their example encouraged egotism and intolerance among all classes of the people. {DA 150.2} [what is another name for egotism? Selfishness, pride, arrogance, self-centeredness]

Jesus began the work of reformation by coming into close sympathy with humanity. While He showed the greatest reverence for the law of God, He rebuked the pretentious piety of the Pharisees, and tried to free the people from the senseless rules that bound them. He was seeking to break down the barriers which separated the different classes of society, that He might bring men together as children of one family... {DA 150.3}

What kind of law were the Pharisees and Judaizers focusing upon?

When Jesus is seeking to build relationships, heal people, break down barriers between groups, what kind of law is He focusing upon?

Do we have any problems like this in the world today?

Do we focus on the reality that whether someone is a Christian, Jew, Muslim, Buddhist or atheist—that the laws of God don't differentiate?

- If they all jump off a bridge together gravity treats them the same
- If they all get infected with Ebola they all need the same remedy
- All humanity is infected with fear and selfishness and distrusts God and all humanity needs to the truth about God to restore trust and a renewed heart and mind to love others
- So, if a Buddhist, has discovered the truth of other-centered love and has experienced a renewed heart—how did that happen? Did it happen by the Buddhist's law keeping? Or does it happen by the grace of God applying the achievements of Christ into the heart and mind of the Buddhist?

So today, are we sharing a message that unifies all humanity, or are we like the Judaizers from Jerusalem sharing a message that cause division because we teach people that if they don't do this or do that they can't be part of God's family?

Read second paragraph, "Traditionally called Judaizers..." What does it mean that even the Apostles struggled with this issue?

That all people, including those in a genuine saving relationship with God, those who have been reborn, whose motives are right, who have been filled with the Holy Spirit and even those empowered with Spiritual gifts, such as the gift of prophecy, are still finite, that they don't know everything. It means that they still have things to learn, which means there can be wrong on certain issues. And that means that we are not to surrender our judgment to others, including prophets of God, but to be fully persuaded in our own minds.

It also demonstrates beautifully how God works. That when we surrender ourselves to Him He does not use His power to overwrite our identity, but enlightens us with truth and love that we must assimilate by our own freewill choices.

This means that our personal transformation, growth, development, maturity AFTER we have accepted Jesus as our Savior is up to us! The rate of our growth is limited by our capacity and/or willingness to assimilate and apply the truths that God reveals to us and often times such moments of growth are real struggles.

Is it a struggle to:

- give up an addiction?
- give up a job on the day of worship?
- give up a certain food you have eaten your entire life?
- give up an belief, idea, theology you have either believed or taught your entire life?
- give up a wish, hope, longing to either punish your enemy or see God punish them?

Read fourth paragraph, “Their point was rather simple...” Were the Jews in OT times God’s agents to spread the gospel, as Christians are today?

Then, what is the difference between becoming part of the Jewish nation in OT times and becoming a Christian today?

Why was circumcision of the body necessary for someone to join the Jewish nation in OT times, but not necessary to become a Christian?

Because the Jewish nation were actors in a drama—their entire system was theatrical to act out a larger reality. There was nothing in any of their rituals that had saving ability—it was all designed to teach people of the true reality.

So, if you wanted to become part of the acting troupe, to get on stage and share the message through theatrical enactment—you could, but you had to follow the script, thus you had to wear the right costumes, bring the right sacrifices and get circumcised. If you wanted to act in the play, but didn’t want to follow the script you could not.

However, in Christianity it was not theatrical it was the reality to which the enactments were pointing. Thus, while one could not become a member of the Jewish nation without circumcision of the body, one could become a member of the bride of Christ—Christian church without bodily circumcision. But, could one become a Christian without circumcision of the heart? Why not? Because it simply is not possible, circumcision of the heart is part of what makes one a true Christian.

Circumcision of the body was merely a physical enactment or symbol of the reality, circumcision of the heart.

What causes division in Christianity today?

- form of baptism?
- day of worship?
- ordination of women?
- the meaning of communion/Eucharist
- foot washing as a ceremony or not
- foods authorized to eat
- smoking tobacco or not smoking tobacco

Why do these things cause division? Is there anything that will save a person if they get it right? Will any of these if a person does them “wrong” that automatically disqualifies for salvation?

If these can neither save, nor cause one to be lost, then why do they divide the body of Christ?

Is it because they are all understood through the legal law lie, which leads people to falsely believe it does matter in some salvation way?

What contributes to unity?

- Love—loving others more than self
- Truth—understand how reality works, the truth about God, His laws, the nature of sin, God’s solution for it
- Freedom—presenting truth in love and leaving others free to make their own choice, and only setting boundaries of division based on design law—i.e. quarantine. Why do we separate people under the laws of health? This is the principle to be used and then the mature, the health-care workers, still go into the quarantine zone to provide care. Mature Christians still go out into the diseased world to take the remedy!

MONDAY

The entire day is about the question of circumcision—any further questions about it?

Read bottom green section, “What’s the danger of thinking that salvation comes from merely being a member of the right church?”

Can we be saved by being a member of the right church?

Does your church organization/denomination do evangelism?

What is the purpose of evangelism?

Is the purpose of evangelism by your church primarily to bring people to a saving relationship with Jesus or have them join your denomination?

If we can't be saved by denomination, why do we evangelize to get them to join a specific denomination rather than convert to Jesus?

Do we sometimes link salvation with joining a particular church?

Do we link salvation with doing certain rituals or behaviors or some form of law keeping?

I received an email recently from a woman who said she likes the teachings of the SDA church, and was thinking about joining, but the pastor said that before she could that she had to stop wearing earrings and her wedding ring. She doesn't want to do this—is salvation based or lost on wearing earrings and wedding rings?

So, a private club can set rules for membership, such as no jewelry if you want to join—but we shouldn't mistake private clubs for the body of Jesus Christ. Jesus never told someone who wanted to follow him that they had to stop wearing jewelry in order to do so.

What did someone have to do in order for Jesus to accept them as His follower? Put Him first in their lives!

So, some humans come along later, and in their personal journey they realized for them, in their heart, they coveted jewelry and they realized to be a true follower of Jesus, they had to leave their jewelry behind. And after doing so, they then set up their own personal struggle and experiences as a test for others—if you really loved Jesus supreme you would give up your jewelry, to people who have never coveted jewelry and from whom jewelry is nothing more than wearing purple or red. So, when people tell them, if you really love Jesus you will stop wearing jewelry, they hear it like you would if someone told you to be a Christian you cannot wear purple or red. It would sound silly and make God out to be trivial and small.

Many things have been done like this in Christianity.

When we come back to love and practice what Paul taught in Romans 14, “let every person be fully persuaded in their own mind” then we move toward unity based on design law!

TUESDAY

Read second paragraph, “In his speech, Peter addressed....” What is the point being made?

Is Peter making the point that if God gifted the uncircumcised Gentiles with the Holy Spirit, then we have no right to overrule God and exclude them from the church?

Would that mean if God gifted a woman with the gift of prophecy, or the gift of teaching or the gift of pastoring that we, as a church, should not overrule God and exclude her from leadership in the church?

Read next paragraph, "In His divine providence..." Did the Old Covenant purify in reality? Or did it only purify in symbol?

Was there any cleansing from sin from observing the rituals of the Old Covenant?

What does it mean that some of the Jewish converts believed that there was cleansing from sin from the rituals?

Do we have any problems like this today where people think that some ritual actually cleanses from sin?

Are people cleansed from sin by water baptism, or is water baptism a public statement of the cleansing that has happened when they let Jesus into their lives?

Are people cleansed from sin by partaking communion or the Eucharist? Or are these ceremonies merely symbols of what actually cleanses?

And what actually cleanses?

What do you think of this quotation from the book The Desire of Ages:

The Comforter is called "the Spirit of truth." His work is to define and maintain the truth. He first dwells in the heart as the Spirit of truth, and thus He becomes the Comforter. There is comfort and peace in the truth, but no real peace or comfort can be found in falsehood. It is through false theories and traditions that Satan gains his power over the mind. [What does this mean? How does Satan gain power?] By directing men to false standards, he misshapes the character. [What is a standard? A unit used to measure against—and what would be a false standard, a false measure—and what is the false standard Satan uses? The imposed law construct which focuses on behavior] Through the Scriptures the Holy Spirit speaks to the mind, and impresses truth upon the heart. Thus He exposes error, and expels it from the soul. It is by the Spirit of truth, working through the word of God, that Christ subdues His chosen people to Himself. {DA 671.1} [what does the Holy Spirit use to cleanse the mind? Truth!]

In describing to His disciples the office work of the Holy Spirit, Jesus sought to inspire them with the joy and hope that inspired His own heart. He rejoiced because of the abundant help He had provided for His church. The Holy Spirit was the highest of all gifts that He could solicit from His Father for the exaltation of His people. The Spirit was to be given as a regenerating agent, and without this the sacrifice of Christ would have been of no avail.

[Why? Wasn't the problem legal? Weren't all the sins of all people of all time placed on Jesus and punished in Jesus so we can have legal pardon if we ask? So, why would the sacrifice be of no avail without the Holy Spirit? Because it wasn't ever a legal problem it was a problem of our condition of being. Jesus procured the remedy which will cure us, but it still must be applied within the heart and mind of the sinner, and this is what the Holy Spirit does.] The power of evil had been strengthening for centuries, and the submission of men to this satanic captivity was amazing. Sin could be resisted and overcome only through the mighty agency of the Third Person of the Godhead, who would come with no modified energy, but in the fullness of divine power. It is the Spirit that makes effectual what has been wrought out by the world's Redeemer. It is by the Spirit that the heart is made pure. [This is not legal, it is healing and transformational. This is the true gospel message] Through the Spirit the believer becomes a partaker of the divine nature. Christ has given His Spirit as a divine power to overcome all hereditary and cultivated tendencies to evil, and to impress His own character upon His church. {DA 671.2}

So the question, what actually cleanses, is it partaking of piece of symbolic bread or partaking of what the bread and wine represent? And what do they represent?

Jesus is the Word made flesh, thus when we partake of the bread we are symbolically saying we are partaking of the living Word, the truth that dispels lies and restores us to trust and reshapes us internally. Further, when we are restored to trust by partaking of the Word of truth, we then open the heart and the Spirit comes in and takes the wine/blood i.e. the life of Christ and reproduces it us—we become the partakers of the divine nature.

This is the reality and if we don't move past symbols to reality we stay stuck in sin, just like the Judaizers infecting Antioch.

WEDNESDAY

The lesson focuses on the conclusions of the Jerusalem counsel for Gentiles, let's read Acts 15:28,29:

The Holy Spirit and we have agreed not to put any other burden on you besides these necessary rules: eat no food that has been offered to idols; eat no blood; eat no animal that has been strangled; and keep yourselves from sexual immorality. You will do well if you take care not to do these things. With our best wishes." GNB

How would you describe their conclusions?

What is the underlying basis or reason for these particular guidelines, instructions, rules?

Is this ritual?

Is it based on imposed law?

Is it based on design law?

What design laws?

- The law of worship—by beholding we become changed, so don't give any value or credence to idols. And don't participate in activities that remind you of, or relive in you the pagan life.
- The laws of health—don't drink blood and don't eat meat from strangled animals.
- The law of love, worship and health: don't break God's design for relationships and injure your marriage, don't damage your mind, don't relive pagan practices and warp your character, and don't get diseases and damage your body by sexual immorality.

Read fourth paragraph, "In the context of Leviticus..." Why were all of these things, drinking blood, eating strangled animals, sexual fertility practices, idols and images all part of pagan practices?

Because Satan understands design law and he understands that if he can get us to participate in such practices the acts themselves don't cause us legal problems with God, but actually destroy within us the image of God. Such practices damage the mind, sear the conscience, warp the character, harden the heart. This is why these practices are included in pagan worship and why we should avoid activities that violate God's design laws!

THURSDAY

The lesson points out again how the Apostles struggled to accept and fellowship with the Gentile converts and then asks in the bottom green section: "Be honest with yourself: how difficult is it for you to have fellowship with believers from other races, cultures, and even social classes? How can you be purged of this decidedly anti-gospel attitude?"

When is it sin to not want to fellowship with others?

Is it ever not sin to not want to fellowship with other Christians?

If a person doesn't like a certain type of music, say contemporary and thus they don't want to go to a contemporary worship service is that sin?

If a person doesn't like a certain style of preaching and thus they don't want to attend a church with that style of preaching is that sin?

So, is it okay to have differences based on our personalities that are not sin?

When is it sin?

When we don't love those who have differences in their style and preference of worship and we judge them as less than us spiritually, or look down on them?

How about, if we believe some Christians are actually doing destructive practices?

In my book, The Aging Brain I recount an off-shoot group that refuses to use any medicines and they have the highest infant mortality rate in their state, several parents have been imprisoned for refusing to give their children antibiotics for meningitis and those children died.

Are we to make judgments about what is actually healthy and not healthy?

Does it go beyond laws of health?

What about a person whose child dies in a car wreck when they were on their way to a friend's house for their birthday party—but it happened on Sabbath and other church members told them that because they were going to a birthday party on Sabbath either God was punishing them or the angels were not allowed to protect the child?

Can we make judgments about this?

The Book of Acts Lesson 9 3Q 2018

The Second Missionary Journey

By Tim Jennings (announcements at end)

What was the purpose of Paul's missionary journeys? What was Paul trying to accomplish?

Was Paul trying to convert people to a denomination?

Was Paul trying to set up a new religion that would dominate the world?

Wasn't Paul trying to teach people the truth about their condition, the reality of the world, the situation we are in, the truth about God, what sin is, God's solution for it, so that people could choose to cooperate with God for their healing and ultimately so that Christ will come again and eradicate sin?

What about us as Christians today—what is our purpose?

Are we focused on eradicating sin? Preparing the world for Christ's return?

Do we understand reality or are we stuck in a fantasy—a false narrative originated by Satan that prevents us, even as Christians, from effectively taking the final message of mercy to the world?

What is that false narrative? I came across a quote in an old magazine, Signs of the Times, 1889, written by one of the founders of the SDA church.

When Christ came, it was to engage in the conflict with the enemy of God and man, on this earth, in the sight of the universe of heaven. But why was it necessary to wage the warfare in the sight of other worlds?—[Is this idea that there are other worlds and this conflict is being observed, studied even by them, Biblical or made up by EG White? What is the Biblical evidence for this idea? Job 1 “sons of God” gathered before God and then Luke 3:37 Adam “son of God” so sons of God is a reference to the leaders of each world. “Angels long to look into these things” 1Pet 1:12 “God, who at various times and in various ways spoke in time past to the fathers by the prophets, ² has in these last days spoken to us by His Son, whom He has appointed heir of all things, through whom also He made the worlds...” Heb 1:1,2 NKJV. Is it important in our understand our situation here, to understand what has happened beyond earth?] It was because Satan had been an exalted angel, and when he fell, he induced many angels to join him in his revolt against God's government. [How? What did Satan do? Where did Satan focus his efforts to have impact?] He worked in the minds of the angels as he works in the minds of men today. [What does Satan seek to get into our minds? What are the core ideas of Satan's false narrative, the lie of the father of lies? Is it not an attack on God's law—i.e. that God's law are merely imposed rules?] He made a pretension of loyalty to God, and yet he argued that angels should not be under law. [Think for a moment—what type of law would be necessary to promote for this lie to have any deceptive power? For instance, if

Satan were to tell people today, whose minds are already corrupt, that they should not be under the law of respiration, or under the law of gravity—what would sinful people say? Thus, what type of law was Satan suggesting of God's government to get sinless angels to believe his lies?] He inculcated his ideas, his rebellion and enmity, and hatred of God's law originated in the minds of the angels in heaven through his influence. He caused the fall of man through the same temptations with which he had caused the fall of angels; [Which is in what way? By changing how we view God's law from design law to arbitrary, imperial, imposed rules. Did God say you will die? No you won't, now I am not saying God won't kill you, but there isn't anything wrong with sin, God's laws are design laws that hurt you if you break them. They are just mere rules. And, you know God, He is too good to kill you, so you don't have to worry about dying if you eat the fruit.] and in the world where he proposed to work out his principles of rebellion, the battle had to be fought, that all might behold the real nature and results of disobedience to God's great moral standard. [What are the real nature and results of disobedience to God's great moral standard? The lie, Satan's view, the false narrative which keeps the world hostage to Satan, is that the results are legal, and God is required to inflict punishment for disobedience.] He represented God in a false light, clothing him with his own attributes. Christ came to represent the Father in his true character. He showed that he was not an arbitrary judge, ready to bring judgments upon men, and delighting in condemning and punishing them for their evil deeds. [Wow, did you hear that? The truth is just the opposite of what Christianity is telling the world. It is no wonder we have been ineffective in preparing the world to meet Christ. We are missionaries today as Paul 2000 years ago, to tell the world the true story, the reality of God. His kingdom of love, His design law, in order to free people from this false world view that enslaves the mind.] The Lord proclaimed his character to Moses in the mount. "And the Lord descended in the cloud, and stood with him there, and proclaimed the name of the Lord. And the Lord passed by before him, and proclaimed, The Lord, The Lord God, merciful and gracious, long-suffering, and abundant in goodness and truth, keeping mercy for thousands, forgiving iniquity and transgression and sin, and that will by no means clear the guilty." {ST, November 18, 1889 par. 6}

Some may wonder why I emphasize so much design law versus arbitrary rules that are enforced by authority. Not only is it true that we are ineffective in presenting the true gospel to the world to prepare the world for Christ's return. But the true gospel is the narrative of reality, of how God built reality to work, and thus has real life consequences. I came across this quote this week. See if any of you can relate to it and notice the impact of practicing the imposed law construct:

Parents who exercise a spirit of dominion [domination] and authority, transmitted to them from their own parents, which leads them to be exacting in their discipline and instruction, will not train their children aright. By their severity in dealing with their errors, they stir up the worst passions of the human heart and leave their children with a sense of injustice and wrong. They meet in their children the very disposition that they themselves have imparted to them. {CG 286.1}

Such parents drive their children away from God, by talking to them on religious subjects; for the Christian religion is made unattractive and even repulsive by this misrepresentation of truth. Children will say, "Well, if that is religion, I do not want anything of it." It is thus that enmity is often created in the heart against religion; and because of an arbitrary enforcement of authority, children are led to despise the law and the government of heaven. [What is being described? The practice of arbitrary laws, imposed rules in the practice of our worship of God, and this is violation of design law—the law of liberty, which always results in rebellion—which is Satan’s goal and what Satan achieves when we accept the false narrative.] Parents have fixed the eternal destiny of their children by their own misrule. {CG 286.2}

Or consider this quote—again the impact of design law on real life health here and now:

There is a divinely appointed connection between sin and disease. [What is that divinely appointed connection, that if you sin God uses His power to ruin your health? Or, if you sin you deviate from the laws of health and the result is ruined health?] No physician can practice for a month without seeing this illustrated. He may ignore the fact; his mind may be so occupied with other matters that his attention will not be called to it; but if he will be observing and honest, he cannot help acknowledging that sin and disease bear to each other the relationship of cause and effect. [What kind of law is this?] The physician should be quick to see this and to act accordingly... God loves His creatures with a love that is both tender and strong. He has established the laws of nature; but His laws are not arbitrary exactions. [If they are not arbitrary exactions, what are they?] Every "Thou shalt not," whether in physical or moral law, contains or implies a promise. [Is there a difference in the way the physical and moral laws work in our lives, i.e. is one cause and effect and the other simply legal rules that get us in trouble with the ruling authority?] If it is obeyed, blessings will attend our steps; if it is disobeyed, the result is danger and unhappiness. [Why? This is how life is built to operate!] The laws of God are designed to bring His people closer to Himself. He will save them from the evil and lead them to the good, if they will be led; but force them He never will. . . . [Wow, why won't God force them? Law of liberty, which is design law, love only exists in atmosphere of freedom. And if He won't force them, then what will He NOT do if they refuse Him? He will not inflict punishment upon them! But does that mean there is no punishment for sin? No! Then from where does the punishment come? Just as the Bible says, "sin when full grown brings forth death."] {CH 325.2}

And I had to share just one more quote:

Representing the law of God in its true character arouses the enmity of Satan. [Do we experience this when presenting design law?] Those who love God with all the heart, will love the law of his kingdom. They will not only profess to be guided by its principles, but they will actually live them out, even in a world that is no more favorable to the development of Christian principles than were the inhabitants of the world before the flood, of whom it is written that the thoughts and imaginations of their hearts were evil, and only evil continually. A similar condition of society exists in our world today, and if those who claim to be God's commandment-keeping people do not put in practice the principles of the law which Christ came to our world to vindicate, pronouncing it holy, just, and good, they misrepresent the character and mission of their professed Master. They mislead men in regard to the requirements of the law, and will be stumbling-blocks in the way of sinners. [So if we promote the Sabbath as an imposed rule that tests our loyalty to God and if we don't keep it God will punish us, what are we doing? We are misleading people and leading them away from God!] The Lord of hosts has warned us that we shall take heed not to misrepresent the law of his government by any unmerciful action on our part toward our fellow-men... Not a thread of selfishness is to be woven into their practices. The law of God is to be lived out. Thus in the character of God's people a living testimony will be borne that will contradict the fallacy of Satan, who has declared that the law of Jehovah is arbitrary, and holds its subjects under a cruel bondage. {RH, August 13, 1895 par. 6}

Where would the world be today if we as Christians were to live out the law? If we as Christians would preach and teach the message of God our Creator and His laws are design laws? We would be in an earth made new for Christ would have already returned!

SABBATH

Read first paragraph, “Back in Antioch...” What lessons for us in this? Any evidence that Paul or Barnabas were lost because they had this disagreement and didn’t work together anymore? Or just the opposite, they both stayed in good relationship with God?

Is it possible today for people who love and trust God to disagree and not work together? Does that necessarily mean that either one of them is eternally lost?

This is one of the reasons why this ministry never seeks to silence another person, or tell another person they cannot share the message that they believe God has put on their hearts to share, even if we believe they are wrong.

We take the approach of presenting truth in love and leaving others free—the idea that truth becomes self-evident over time, so there is no need to silence people from telling their view.

Sadly, many who take a view different from what we teach don’t practice this principle, some believe it is important to try and silence those who they disagree with—why?

The second paragraph points out that the separation of Paul and Barnabas turned out to be a blessing—have any of you experienced that a disagreement with a separation for some reason, later turned out to be a blessing?

SUNDAY

The lesson is about Paul and Timothy. Timothy was half Greek and half Jewish and Paul had Timothy circumcised.

The bottom green section reads, “Think about why Paul circumcised Timothy. What should this teach us about being willing to do certain things that we might not always agree with or deem necessary, but that will serve a greater cause?”

Was circumcising Timothy necessary for Timothy’s salvation?

Was it necessary for Timothy to experience the Holy Spirit?

Was it necessary for Timothy to be a pastor?

Why did Paul do it? What, perhaps, were Paul’s motives?

Didn’t Paul have a very heavy burden on his heart for the Jewish people and perhaps the Jewish leadership, of which he had been a part?

The lesson suggest what Paul did was for the greater good—but could it be in this one area—dealing with the Jews, particularly the leadership—that Paul was overly influenced by his feelings and didn’t actually follow the most helpful course?

Could it be Paul was following his own initiative, and was not be specifically directed by the Holy Spirit to do these things?

Is there another example of Paul doing something that was not necessary but to seem conciliatory to the Jews?

He went through a purification ritual—how did that turn out for Paul?

So I would ask another question—what happens when we compromise our values, our beliefs, (notice I didn’t say the truth) in order not to offend people we care about?

From the book Acts of the Apostles we read the following:

As a precautionary measure, Paul wisely advised Timothy to be circumcised—not that God required it, but in order to remove from the minds of the Jews that which might be an objection to Timothy's ministration. In his work Paul was to journey from city to city, in many lands, and often he would have opportunity to preach Christ in Jewish synagogues, as well as in other places of assembly. If it should be known that one of his companions in labor was uncircumcised, his work might be greatly hindered by the prejudice and bigotry of the Jews. Everywhere the apostle met determined opposition and severe persecution. He desired to bring to his Jewish brethren, as well as to the Gentiles, a knowledge of the gospel, and therefore he sought, so far as was consistent with the faith, to remove every pretext for opposition. Yet while he conceded this much to Jewish prejudice, he believed and taught circumcision or uncircumcision to be nothing and the gospel of Christ everything. {AA 204.1}

This author thought it was wise on Paul's part to advise Timothy to be circumcised, even though it was not required by God. And we have the history of what transpired in their lives in the aftermath of Timothy being circumcised.

We don't have the history of what would have transpired if Timothy had not been circumcised. It is possible that the circumcision of Timothy was used by the opponents of Paul to fuel more calls for circumcision of converts. It is possible that had Timothy not been circumcised it would have been a powerful object lesson that it wasn't needed. We simply don't know because that is not what happened.

I get emails from time to time from people who were raised to believe that Christians should not wear jewelry—there are a variety of rationales and reasons given from person to person, but they believe it is wrong to wear jewelry. And they will question, why do I wear a wedding ring. Some have suggested, that while it isn't wrong to wear one, it would be wise to not wear one so that I don't offend the people who believe it is wrong to wear one.

What do you think?

My approach is the opposite—while I don't seek to offend anyone, I wear the wedding ring first and foremost because I am married and want people to know it. But, secondarily, in regard to some Christians struggling with the question of jewelry, I want to be a witness that a person can have a saving relationship with Christ and communicate the gospel message while wearing a wedding ring. In other words, reality is demonstrating there is no linkage or connection with wearing a wedding ring and salvation. Hopefully, this will stimulate people to think for themselves and grow in their understanding.

But, I know some have just the opposite position and don't wear a wedding ring because they don't want to confuse others—wonderful. Rom 14:5 let every person be fully persuaded in their own mind—because we are not saved or lost by wedding rings.

MONDAY

Read second paragraph, "Whenever Paul arrived..." Do you think Paul was a scheduled speaker?

So, evidently their culture and meetings allowed for Paul to eventually speak.

Did Paul have an agenda in going to such meetings?

What was Paul's agenda?

Wasn't it to use their Scriptures, rituals, symbolism to reveal the truth about Jesus and God's real plan of salvation?

Do we have similar opportunities today to visit various Sunday schools and Sabbath schools and use the Bible and their lessons to introduce truths designed to lead minds to the larger reality of God's design law and character of love?

But, how was Paul often treated when he did this?

How might we be treated when we do this? Why?

Because if we merely present the truth of God's design law, what does that automatically do in regard to the false view? It exposes it—and if the audience is filled with people who prefer the false view, how will they respond when the truth is presented?

This is the verdict: Light has come into the world, but men loved darkness instead of light because their deeds were evil. ²⁰ Everyone who does evil hates the light, and will not come into the light for fear that his deeds will be exposed. John 3:19,20 NIV

Have any of you experienced being attacked for presenting the truth?

Jesus said that one of the reasons people opposed the light of truth is they fear their deeds will be exposed—there is one gentleman who has spent an inordinate amount of time and energy working to misrepresent me and this ministry. He has written blogs, he has spoken in various groups, he has handed out cards all attacking what we teach. And do you know what is primary objection is? He asked me, “Do you believe that when we confess our sins that God erases them from the books of heaven so that in the future there will be no record of our sins?”

Do you see it, he doesn't want the light of truth because he is afraid his deeds will be exposed.

Read third paragraph, “Paul and Silas's answer...” Jump to Friday and question #1, “In the context of the last paragraph...”

What do you think the lesson is suggesting before baptism? When you hear “proper doctrinal” instruction—what are you understanding to be communicated with those words?

Do you understand that the lesson is suggesting that when someone accepts Jesus as their Savior that they are to go through baptismal classes to be indoctrinated into the right doctrines, i.e. fundamental beliefs before they can be baptized?

Do you think the quotation from Friday's lesson is supportive of this idea?

What is the Biblical model?

What is the New Testament model for baptism?

First with John the Baptists baptism—how much preparation did the people who wanted to be baptized receive?

Then later when the Apostles baptized, how much preparation did the baptismal candidates receive?

So, what is being suggested? What is the danger of having no preparation? What is the danger of having too much preparation?

What is the balance?

Is water baptism necessary for salvation?

What baptism is necessary for salvation?

Then what preparation is necessary for the baptism by the Spirit?

Then what is the purpose of the guidance for more preparation before the ceremonial water baptism?

Read bottom green section, "Read Acts 16:31-34..."

They replied, "Believe in the Lord Jesus, and you will be saved—you and your household." ³² Then they spoke the word of the Lord to him and to all the others in his house. ³³ At that hour of the night the jailer took them and washed their wounds; then immediately he and all his family were baptized. ³⁴ The jailer brought them into his house and set a meal before them; he was filled with joy because he had come to believe in God—he and his whole family. NIV

First, does it sound like a lot of pre-baptism preparation was done?

Why not?

There was no organization with its codified system of beliefs and behavioral expectations to which the person had to be indoctrinated, educated, and habituated BEFORE they would be permitted to join the group.

So, do we have tension between the Biblical model and the quotation from the EG White in Friday's lesson? No! The authors have a view that is not consistent with Scripture, and they used a partial quote from EGW to support their view. Let's read a little larger quote and see what you think:

The preparation for baptism is a matter that needs to be carefully considered. The new converts to the truth should be faithfully instructed in the plain "Thus saith the Lord." The Word of the Lord is to be read and explained to them point by point. {Ev 308.1}

All who enter upon the new life should understand, prior to their baptism, that the Lord requires the undivided affections. . . . The practicing of the truth is essential. The bearing of fruit testifies to the character of the tree. A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit. The line of demarcation will be plain and distinct between those who love God and keep His commandments and those who love Him not and disregard His precepts. There is need of a thorough conversion to the truth.--Manuscript 56, 1900. {Ev 308.2}

There is need of a more thorough preparation on the part of candidates for baptism. They are in need of more faithful instruction than has usually been given them. The principles of the Christian life should be made plain to those who have newly come to the truth. None can depend upon their profession of faith as proof that they have a saving connection with Christ. We are not only to say, "I believe," but to practice the truth. It is by conformity to the will of God in our words, our deportment, our character, that we prove our connection with Him. Testimonies, vol. 6, pp. 91, 92. (1900) {Ev 308.4}

What do you hear? Is she suggesting doctrinal instruction to cognitively accept a certain creed or fundamental beliefs, or is she suggesting that a person must be genuinely converted in their heart such that their affections for Christ are supreme and they have experienced baptism of the Holy Spirit such that they have a new heart and right spirit, understanding that they are to live differently, in harmony with God and His design laws i.e. principles? This is exactly what Scripture teaches, that water baptism is done AFTER the heart is converted to Christ and it is not a cognitive indoctrination into a certain religious order, but an intelligent understanding of reality and the God of reality with a heart humbly submitted and willing to live in harmony with our Creator God.

But, when we live under the false law model, we misconstrue what is supposed to happen, and instead substitute a legal checklist of proper doctrines one must attest to before one can be baptized, regardless of whether one's heart is changed.

What is meant by Christ's righteousness covering us?

Here is one commentator's view:

Only the covering which Christ Himself has provided can make us meet to appear in God's presence. This covering, the robe of His own righteousness, Christ will put upon every repenting, believing soul. "I counsel thee," He says, "to buy of Me . . . white raiment, that thou mayest be clothed, and that the shame of thy nakedness do not appear." Revelation 3:18. {COL 311.3}

This robe, woven in the loom of heaven, has in it not one thread of human devising. Christ in His humanity wrought out a perfect character, and this character He offers to impart to us. "... When we submit ourselves to Christ, the heart is united with His heart, the will is merged in His will, the mind becomes one with His mind, the thoughts are brought into captivity to Him; we live His life. This is what it means to be clothed with the garment of His righteousness. Then as the Lord looks upon us He sees, not the fig-leaf garment, not the nakedness and deformity of sin, but His own robe of righteousness, which is perfect obedience to the law of Jehovah. {COL 311.4}

What does it mean to be covered by the robe of Christ's righteousness?

Is this a legal event or a transformational event?

What law system is this occurring under or through? Design law, actually restoring the heart, mind, character of the sinner back to God's design.

Do we see again why the penal/legal model is so effective at obstructing the work of the Holy Spirit and delaying the final work and the second coming of Christ?

TUESDAY

The lesson contrast two groups of listeners—those in Thessalonica and Berea—what is the highlighted difference between the two?

Those in Thessalonica didn't like what they heard and rioted in order to silence and stop what Paul was teaching. Those in Berea studied out what they heard comparing it to evidence and coming to their own conclusion.

Which method do you prefer and why?

Do you see these methods used in society today to greater or lesser degrees? For instance, it isn't always a full riot, instead some people will incite an emotional sense of outrage or fear or intolerance that shuts down thinking or inquiry and shout down those with opposing views, or get people to be afraid to hear an opposing view.

And sometimes we still see full riots in society when ideas we disagree with are presented.

What does it say about a person or group who would refuse to evaluate evidence and instead participate in hysterical or emotional protests to silence those with whom they disagree?

Which groups are more likely to get emotional and start hysterical outcries to silence those with whom they disagree?

Extreme groups whose positions do not rest on facts, truth or evidence—thus extreme left and extreme right groups do this.

Why is it that we don't need to do this?

I read the follow quote many years ago and it became a guideline in how I developed my thinking and approach to questions.

There is no excuse for any one in taking the position that there is no more truth to be revealed, and that all our expositions of Scripture are without an error. The fact that certain doctrines have been held as truth for many years by our people, is not a proof that our ideas are infallible. Age will not make error into truth, and truth can afford to be fair. No true doctrine will lose anything by close investigation. We are living in perilous times, and it does not become us to accept everything claimed to be truth without examining it thoroughly; neither can we afford to reject anything that bears the fruits of the Spirit of God; but we should be teachable, meek and lowly of heart. There are those who oppose everything that is not in accordance with their own ideas, and by so doing they endanger their eternal interest as verily as did the Jewish nation in their rejection of Christ. The Lord designs that our opinions shall be put to the test, that we may see the necessity of closely examining the living oracles to see whether or not we are in the faith. Many who claim to believe the truth have settled down at their ease, saying, "I am rich, and increased with goods, and have need of nothing." But Jesus says to these self-complacent ones, Thou "knowest not that thou art wretched, and miserable, and poor, and blind, and naked." Let us individually inquire, Do these words describe my case? If so, the True Witness counsels us, saying, "Buy of me gold tried in the fire, that thou mayest be rich; and white raiment, that thou mayest be clothed, that the shame of thy nakedness do not appear; and anoint thine eyes with eye-salve, that thou mayest see." {RH, December 20, 1892 par. 1}

What method did Paul use in Athens?

Did Paul quote the Bible to the Athenians? Why not?

What did Paul use as evidence of his position? He quoted a pagan poet and also used their own monument to an unknown god to open an opportunity to speak about the true God.

The lesson asks, "What should this teach us about how we can use different methods to reach different people?"

- What might be a way to speak to a person who says they don't believe in God?
- How might you approach a Jewish person about Jesus?
- What might you say to a Buddhist or Hindu?

THURSDAY

The lesson discusses Paul's stay in Corinth—what is noteworthy?

Did Paul have an easy time or was he opposed?

And who was against him? Why were the Jews so insistent on attacking Paul?

Lesson #10: The Third Missionary Journey

by Dr. Wendell Moses

1. Text for the week: Acts 18:24 - 28, 19, 20, 21:1-15
2. Memory Text: "I do not count my life of any value to myself, if only I may finish my course and the ministry that I received from the Lord Jesus, to testify to the good news of God's grace." (Acts 20:24, NRSV).
3. Paul: what is in it for him?

 - i. Matthew 20:25-28 (GNT with Deuterocanon) So Jesus called them all together and said, "You know that the rulers of the heathen have power over them, and the leaders have complete authority. This, however, is not the way it shall be among you. If one of you wants to be great, you must be the servant of the rest; and if one of you wants to be first, you must be the slave of the others— like the Son of Man, who did not come to be served, but to serve and to give his life to redeem many people."
4. Sabbath Afternoon

 - a. What is a journey?

 - iii. Did Paul harden their hearts?
 - iv. What is the process of hardening your heart?
 - (1) Is there other terms for this same process?
 - (2) Can this be used in a positive way?
13. When the apostle took up his work in Corinth, he realized that he must introduce most carefully the great truths he wished to teach. He knew that among his hearers would be proud believers in human theories, and exponents of false systems of worship, who were groping with blind eyes, hoping to find in the book of nature theories that would contradict the reality of the spiritual and immortal life as revealed in the Scriptures. He also knew that critics would endeavor to controvert the Christian interpretation of the revealed word, and that skeptics would treat the gospel of Christ with scoffing and derision. {AA 272.1}
14. He longed to see the light of the gospel of Christ piercing the darkness of their minds, that they might see how offensive in the sight of God were their immoral practices. Therefore the burden of his teaching among them was Christ and Him crucified. He sought to show them that their most earnest study and their greatest joy must be the wonderful truth of salvation through repentance toward God and faith in the Lord Jesus Christ. {AA 272.2}
 - a. Why are the immoral practices offensive to God?
 - b. Compare to a parent who considers drug addiction or a cancer diagnosis offensive.
 - i. God's children are not offensive, the things that are destroying them are.
15. The philosopher turns aside from the light of salvation, because it puts his proud theories to shame; the worldling refuses to receive it, because it would separate him from his earthly idols. Paul saw that the character of Christ must be understood before men could love Him or view the cross with the eye of faith. Here must begin that study which shall be the science and the song of the redeemed through all eternity. In the light of the cross alone can the true value of the human soul be estimated. {AA 273.1}

16. It is not human, but divine power, that works transformation of character. Those who plant and those who water do not cause the growth of the seed; they work under God, as His appointed agencies, co-operating with Him in His work. To the Master Worker belongs the honor and glory that comes with success. {AA 274.1}
17. Men will be converted, not to the human instrumentality, but to Christ. Self will be kept in the background; Jesus only, the Man of Calvary, will appear. {AA 278.2}
18. The Sons of Sceva
 - a. Evil spirit beat up 7 brothers trying to use the name of Christ as a talisman.

 - d. Is it appropriate to participate in mass destruction of materials found to be offensive?
 - e. Read "Mental Inebriates" section of EGW quotes in notes.
 - i. Comments:???
20. Paul and Apollos were in perfect harmony. The latter was disappointed and grieved because of the dissension in the church at Corinth; he took no advantage of the preference shown to himself, nor did he encourage it, but hastily left the field of strife. When Paul afterward urged him to revisit Corinth, he declined and did not again labor there until long afterward when the church had reached a better spiritual state. {AA 280.2}
 - a. Jesus knew that they would spare no effort to create a division between His own disciples and those of John. He knew that the storm was gathering which would sweep away one of the greatest prophets ever given to the world. Wishing to avoid all occasion for misunderstanding or dissension, He quietly ceased His labors, and withdrew to Galilee. We also, while loyal to truth, should try to avoid all that may lead to discord and misapprehension. For whenever these arise, they result in the loss of souls. Whenever circumstances occur that threaten to cause division, we should follow the example of Jesus and of John the Baptist. {DA 181.4}

21. Second paragraph
 - a. Talks about a “few miracle stories”
 - b. Handkerchiefs and aprons
 - i. Paul’s sweat rags

- ii. Spirit.
 - Our job is to “do what is just, to show constant love, and to live in humble fellowship with our God. (GNT)

Quotes

No man ever lived who was a more earnest, energetic, and self-sacrificing disciple of Christ than was Paul. He was one of the world's greatest teachers. He crossed the seas and traveled far and near, until a large portion of the world had learned from his lips the story of the cross of Christ. He possessed a burning desire to bring perishing man to a knowledge of the truth through a Saviour's love. His soul was wrapped up in the work of the ministry, and it was with feelings of pain that he withdrew from this work to toil for his own bodily necessities; but he seated himself to the drudgery of the craftsman that he might not be burdensome to the churches that were pressed with poverty. Although he had planted many churches he refused to be supported by them, fearing that his usefulness and success as a minister of the gospel might be interfered with by suspicions of his motives. He would remove all occasion for his enemies to misrepresent him and thus detract from the force of his message. {4T 409.2}

Paul appeals to his Corinthian brethren to understand that, as a laborer in the gospel, he might claim his support, instead of sustaining himself; but this right he was willing to forego, fearing that the acceptance of means for his support might possibly stand in the way of his usefulness. Although feeble in health, he labored during the day in serving the cause of Christ, and then toiled a large share of the night, and frequently all night, that he might make provision for his own and others' necessities. The apostle would also give an example to his brethren, thus dignifying and honoring industry. When our ministers feel that they are suffering hardships and privations in the cause of Christ, let them in imagination visit the workshop of the apostle Paul, bearing in mind that while this chosen man of God is fashioning the canvas, he is working for bread which he has justly earned by his labors as an apostle of Jesus Christ. At the call of duty this great apostle would lay aside his business to meet the most violent opponents and stop their proud boasting, and then he would resume his humble employment. His religious industry is a rebuke to the indolence of some of our ministers. When they have opportunity to labor to help sustain themselves they should do so with gladness. {4T 409.3}

We read of the experience of Christ that at one time when the Pharisees held a council together, how they might destroy Him, Jesus "withdrew Himself from thence: and great multitudes followed Him, and He healed them all; and charged them that they should not make Him known: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Esaias the prophet, saying, Behold My Servant, whom I have chosen; My Beloved, in whom My soul is well pleased: I will put My Spirit upon Him, and He shall show judgment to the Gentiles. He shall not strive, nor cry; neither shall any man hear His voice in the streets. A bruised reed shall He not break, and smoking flax shall He not quench, till He send forth judgment unto victory. And in His name shall the Gentiles trust.” {Lt316-1908.2}

Jesus offended the Pharisees by laying out before them the hollowness of their piety and the unscripturalness of their teachings. He often withdrew from the multitude to avoid an outbreak of hostility. On one occasion He withdrew to the borders of Tyre and Sidon. There He entered into a house and would have no man know it. But He could not be hid. A mother with a sick daughter came with an urgent appeal for aid, and He heeded her request and healed her daughter. Christ was the great Medical Missionary. His whole life was a representation of God. {Lt227-1905.10}

The voice of Christ was not heard in the street, in noisy contention with those who were opposed to his doctrine. Neither was his voice heard in the streets in prayer to his Father, to be heard of men. His voice was not heard in joyful mirth. His voice was not raised to exalt himself, and to gain the applause and flattery of men. When engaged in teaching, he withdrew his disciples away from the noise and confusion of the busy city to some retired place more in harmony with the lessons of humility, piety, and virtue, which he would impress upon their minds. He shunned human praise, and preferred solitude and peaceful retirement to the noise and confusion of mortal life. His voice was often heard in earnest, prevailing intercessions to his Father; yet for these exercises he chose the lonely mountain, and frequently spent whole nights in prayer for strength to sustain him under the temptations he should meet, and to accomplish the important work he came to do for the salvation of man. His petitions were earnest and powerful, mingled with strong cries and tears. And notwithstanding the labor of soul during the night, he ceased not his labor through the day. In the morning he would quietly resume his work of mercy and disinterested benevolence. The life of Christ was in marked contrast to that of the Jews, and for this very reason they wished to destroy him. {1Red 25.1}

The news that had been carried to John concerning the success of Jesus, was also borne to Jerusalem, and there created against him jealousy, envy, and hatred. Jesus knew the hard hearts and darkened minds of the Pharisees, and that they would spare no pains to create a division between his own disciples and those of John that would greatly injure the work, so he quietly ceased to baptize and withdrew to Galilee. He knew that the storm was gathering which was soon to sweep away the noblest prophet God had ever given to the world. He wished to avoid all division of feeling in the great work before him, and, for the time, removed from that region for the purpose of allaying all excitement detrimental to the cause of God. {2SP 139.1}

33. Mental Inebriates:

a. The mind that is occupied with exciting stories, loses all relish for solid reading that would improve the memory and strengthen the intellect. {RH October 9, 1883, par. 3} I am acquainted with many sad examples of the evil effects of this baneful practice. In youth, the persons of whom I speak had well-balanced minds. God had endowed them with mental powers of no ordinary character. But they took up the reading of romance, and the more they indulged the appetite for this food, the greater was the demand. The imagination constantly craved its accustomed stimulus, as the inebriate longs for his wine or tobacco. Their mental and moral powers were weakened and perverted. They lost their interest in the Scriptures and their relish for prayer; and they were as truly ruined, mentally and spiritually, as is the liquor-drinker or the tobacco devotee. Novel-readers are mental inebriates; and they need to sign a pledge of total abstinence as verily as does the victim of any other form of intemperance. {RH October 9, 1883, par. 4}

- i. Why?
- ii. Is it because they will be punished if they do not?
- iii. Is it possible for them to lose their hold on heaven?
- iv. What principle is being demonstrated here?
- v. 2 Corinth 3:18 “transforms us into his likeness in an ever greater degree of glory.” GNT
- vi. This is the same process described in other writings as being “sealed”
 - (1) You can be sealed into the truth or sealed away from it. (Hardened in heart)

b. Christ has promised, “Him that cometh to me I will in no wise cast out.” He will hear and answer our prayers, and faith appropriates the rich promises of God, believing they are for us. As we accept the promises of God, we grow stronger in faith, and find the word of the Lord fulfilled as he has spoken it. We may feel our weakness and unworthiness, and because of this, realize our dependence upon God. Every one of us can have a rich experience in the things of God if we will utterly forsake our sin and submit ourselves to God. O, how can we cherish impurity in the soul when Christ has died for us, that we may become partakers of the divine nature, and escape the corruption that is in the world through lust? We are to be sanctified through the truth, and this sanctification is not the work of a moment, but of a life-time. We must all learn to lean upon Jesus; for the time will come when we shall be scattered, and we cannot lean upon one another. Christ is ready to give us the help we need. The Bible is full of precious treasure, but we must dig for it as did the man who purchased the field of treasure. In this way we shall learn what it is to have living faith. Many are enfeebling the mind by the reading of stories and novels, and are losing their relish for the word of God. They are becoming mental inebriates, and will be unable to look at the solemn questions of life and destiny in the right light, unless they put away this practice. Search the Scriptures, and know what is truth. Lean upon God, and know what is living faith, and live by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God. {RH April 14, 1891, par. 13}

Arrest in Jerusalem

by Tim Jennings (announcements at end)

SABBATH

Paul was passionate to reach the Jewish people. He really longed for this to happen. As he wrote in Romans 9:3 “For I could wish that I myself were cursed and cut off from Christ for the sake of my brothers, those of my own race, the people of Israel.”

I thought a lot about Paul this week. Paul loved his Jewish people, his church—Paul was educated by his church. I was raised in the SDA church, and I was educated both in church and church schools. And like Paul, I love my church.

Paul was taught the Scripture from his church and church school education, as was I.

But could Paul hold to the interpretations of Scripture he was taught in his upbringing?

When Paul moved past the traditional interpretations of his church how did his church respond?

Now, was the problem primarily a problem that they disagreed on doctrinal points, circumcision or not circumcision—was that the real problem or merely a focal point of the problem?

They did disagree on certain doctrinal points, but why did anyone care about that?

What was the real problem between Paul and the Jewish leadership?

What method did Saul of Tarsus utilize when he was trying to turn people away from Christ back to Judaism?

What method did Paul use after his conversion?

What method did the Jewish leadership use on Paul and the other Apostles when they disagreed on points of doctrine?

We in the SDA church talk a lot about the beast of revelation—what constitutes being part of the beastly system?

Is it primarily about holding the wrong understanding of a doctrine—or about practicing the wrong methods in how one lives—in other words, character?

What methods does the beastly system utilize? –coercive pressure to force others to comply.

If one accepts the lie about God's law and believes God's law functions like human law, imperial rules requiring external enforcement, can you predict what methods will ultimately be employed?

Are there any church denominations that are free of the false law construct?

Are there any church denominations that are immune from using the methods of the beast—the methods of coercion?

It is with mixed feelings—sadness that this is true, but hope that it is being brought out into the open to discuss...

Some of you may have read the article that came out August 28, 2018 in Spectrum Magazine by George Knight, a well-respected SDA historian.

The title of the Article is Adventism's Shocking Fulfillment of Prophecy

Here's the link to the article:

<https://spectrummagazine.org/article/2018/08/28/adventism%E2%80%99s-shocking-fulfillment-prophecy>

Here's a short portion from the article for your thoughts:

For over 150 years the Seventh-day Adventist Church has faithfully preached the message of Revelation 13 that near the end of time “all the world marveled and followed the beast,” who had recovered from the deadly wound (13:3, NKJV). And at the heart of the Adventist concern was verse 7's prophecy that the beast would “make war with the saints” and “overcome them.”

What was not predicted by the Adventist evangelists was that the General Conference leadership would be joining the beast in its eschatological crusade, with the denomination's president leading the charge.

He goes on to document in quite meticulous detail the recent moves by the GC leadership to centralize power with a top-down authoritarian structure to enforce doctrinal orthodoxy on threat of punishment, firing from job, expulsion from membership, withholding funds etc.

He describes in accurate detail the same structure and method used by the Roman Catholic Church in its hierarchal design, then goes on to say:

One of the more interesting facts of history is that it took the bishops of Rome 600 years to develop an effective papacy with control over the worldwide church, while Silver Spring is on track to do so in a little more than 150.

I want to pause here and make some comments. It took the bishops of Rome 600 years because they were undermining the good fabric of God's design law of love established by Christ and the Apostles. Thus, it took 600 years to fully replace that understanding with the imperial lie. However, the SDA church has never fulfilled its purpose and fully thrown off the imperial view of God's law and stood solely on God's design law. Thus, it has only taken 150 years for the smoldering lie of imperialism to reignite and take over the church leadership.

When reading the comments from readers of Dr. Knight's article I noticed one person who has been a vocal critic of this class—and not surprisingly, he voiced his support for the central leadership to use authoritarian measures to enforce its rules. It was argued a vote was taken and the majority vote should be abided by and the GC should enforce it.

Dr. Knight observed that during the reformation the princes of Germany had to take a stand against the established church authority, he quoted from The Great Controversy:

- “‘Let us reject this decree,’ said the princes. ‘In matters of conscience the majority has no power’” (p. 201, italics supplied).
- “‘We protest...before God, our only Creator, Preserver, Redeemer, and Saviour, and who will one day be our Judge, as well as before all men and all creatures, that we...neither consent nor adhere in any manner whatsoever to the proposed decree, in anything that is contrary to God, to His holy word, to our right conscience, to the salvation of our souls’” (pp. 202-203).
- “‘A deep impression was made upon the Diet [by the protesting princes]. The majority were filled with amazement and alarm at the boldness of the protesters’” (p. 203).
- “‘The principles contained in this celebrated Protest...constitute the very essence of Protestantism. Now this Protest opposes two abuses of man in matters of faith: the first is the intrusion of the civil magistrate, and the second the arbitrary authority of the church’” (pp. 203-204, italics supplied).

Do we have a responsibility to think for ourselves in matters of conscience, to not submit to a church hierarchy, even if it is the church we love, if we are convinced they are wrong?

God's method is to present the truth in love and leave people free. This is the method God used in heaven with Lucifer started his rebellion.

The method of Satan is lies and coercion, threaten to punish if not followed.

Now, consider the functional difference in the ability to God's truth and love to spread throughout the hearts of human beings to prepare people to meet Jesus.

What method works best?

What happens to the ability of truth to spread if there is central power that coerces people if they should speak, teach or believe differently that the officially sanctioned view?

The spread of truth is undermined—look at the Dark Ages and the way the Roman church enforced their dogma.

This is why the SDA church was originally organized differently. The GC was set up to establish official positions of the organization, so that anyone who cared to know could find out what were the official positions of the church on any point the church took an official stance.

However, the SDA church was set up purposely so that the GC had no power to enforce its positions on anyone. The GC could not hire or fire pastors, it did not own church properties, it could not grant membership or disfellowship. The GC had no central authority—the authority rested with local congregations and local conferences.

Functionally, think of the beauty of this. How do new truths usually come forward in the world, in any line of study? Is it that all people throughout the world simultaneously come to the same understanding? Or is that a few individuals gain insight, share it with others in their community who study it, and when they understand and accept it share it with others and it slowly spreads?

Do you see that the top down enforcement of orthodoxy prevents this, it punishes expansion of truths that don't meet orthodoxy, and fires pastors who teach new truth, disfellowships members etc. But the local authority approach allows the organic growth and spread of truth and eventually when enough of the world church has come to the same insight the official position of the church will change in GC session.

Now recently, I received an email from someone who asked why I use the SDA study guide if I find so much fault with it. Why don't I just stop using it.

Some have thought that talking about these things is an attack, a negative, a method of undermining, injury, harming the church. I would counter, that in fact it is the opposite. When we love someone and we see them heading for a cliff we warn, we point out the danger, we contrast the healthy with the unhealthy so innocents will not be duped into following those bent on destruction.

This class is always about truth presented in love to bring people to a healing relationship with God—it is never about inciting harm or injury.

With all of this in mind, why am I not at the GC talking with them, why am I talking to you about this? Because truth expands from person to person, not from institutional top down methods.

Did Jesus try and convert the Sanhedrin? When confrontations arose between Jesus and the Jewish leadership, who initiated it?

SUNDAY

Read second paragraph, “In Acts 21:18-22, James and...” What is described here? What was Paul actually teaching?

- That circumcision of the body doesn’t save a person
- That circumcision of the body is a symbol of the true circumcision of the heart

Is teaching this the same thing as teaching that the Jews should not circumcise their children?

Why then, were the Jews alleging Paul was telling people not to circumcise their children, if Paul was not teaching this?

Because Paul was taking away a reason they falsely believed about circumcision—Paul was removing any special significance to the physical circumcision and thus, while he wasn’t telling the Jews they needed to stop, he was telling them it didn’t make any difference in salvation. They, therefore, having attributed a false meaning to circumcision, when that meaning was taken away misinterpreted what Paul was saying and falsely accused Paul.

This is exactly what we have experienced when we tell people that Jesus did not have to die in order to pay a legal penalty—those who hold the false legal view turn around and accuse us of saying that we don’t believe the death of Jesus was necessary for our salvation. This is a false allegation, but it occurs because those who make it don’t conceive of another reason for the death of Christ other than the false legal reason. Thus, when we take that reason away, they conclude we teach that the death of Christ was unnecessary.

Here is 1Corinthians 7:18-20 from The Remedy:

If a man was a circumcised Jew when he accepted the Remedy to sin and was called to be a member of God's treatment team, he should not deny who he is and try to become uncircumcised. If a man was an uncircumcised Gentile when he accepted the Remedy to sin and was called to be a member of God's treatment team, he should not deny who he is and become circumcised.¹⁹Nationality means nothing! What matters is whether one has partaken of the Remedy to selfishness and sin, has God's law of love written on the heart, and lives in harmony with God and his methods.²⁰God needs members of his treatment team in all walks of life, so minister the truth about God, and his Remedy to sin, in whatever station you are.

do you find this acceptable, reasonable, truthful, or offensive?

Do you think the Jews in Paul’s day would have found this acceptable or offensive?

What about Christians that you know who don’t currently agree with our class—do you think they would agree with this or find it offensive?

If a person found offensive what might that indicate?

Read the fourth and fifth paragraphs, “Paul was advised to be politically correct...”

Was this a good idea? Why or why not?

Was Paul’s intention to seek peace and reconciliation and to not offend others a good goal?

If his intention to not offend and seek peace was good, why was the action not good?

What about in society today—where do we draw the line between not offending others, being peacemakers, and compromising in such a way that we actually undermine truth and contribute to destruction?

In order to know what decision to make would it be important to understand what matters and what doesn’t matter?

For instance, if a person believes they must wear a certain hat or hairpiece in order to be right with God—would it be necessary for you to argue with them about any value in their headdress? No, because headdress doesn’t matter at all.

What kinds of things actually matter and what do not matter?

Any examples of taking stands that you know will offend, versus compromising so people won’t be offended?

MONDAY

Read second paragraph, “A riot ensued...” Why did a riot ensue? What was the basis of the riot?

What methods did those who incited the riot use?

What does it say about those who would use such methods, even if something they believe to be sacred is profaned?

Do you remember years ago some artist put a cross in urine?

How did the Christians respond? They responded by being disgusted with the display—but they left the person free to do so.

What would happen if someone did that with a Koran? Why?

What does it say about those who would riot when something they value is profaned?

It reveals their characters, which reveals their beliefs and the type of god they worship—it is evidence they are not worshipping the true God. Why?

Because of the law of worship—by beholding we become changed. We actually become like the God we worship and admire. If we would use violence to injure, coerce, punish, inflict harm, kill those who offend us, we are not like Jesus who turned the other cheek and told us to love our enemies.

It is evidence that such people do not understand design law and operate on the false legal lie that God's law functions like human law. In their minds, they see such actions as crimes and crimes must be punished, thus it is right and just in their minds to stone or kill those who violate their religious laws.

However, when we grow up into the reality of God's kingdom, we realize that those who reject God, who prefer profanity to holiness, who prefer selfishness to love, lies to truth, vileness to purity are changed by their preferences. Their hearts are hardened, characters warped and they take themselves out of harmony with God and life itself and their end is ruin and death—thus we don't have to inflict punishment on them any more than we do the person who smokes two packs per day. Their destruction is unavoidable.

Do we see that a person's beliefs, biases, prejudices, pre-conceived ideas of right and wrong set that person up to react in certain ways?

Can we predict the reactions of people if we know their biases and beliefs?

TUESDAY

The lesson focuses our attention on Paul's address to the crowd, let's read that address, hear what Paul said to this mob, and then answer the question—what outraged them so about what Paul said:

"My fellow Jews, let me answer the charges brought against me."

²When they heard him speaking in Aramaic, they became silent and listened. Paul said,³"I am a Jew, born in Tarsus of Cilicia, but I grew up here in Jerusalem. I was one of Gamaliel's students, and received a doctorate in theology with special emphasis on the Law of Moses, and have been just as devoted to God as anyone here today.⁴I was ruthless in my attack against those who followed this way of salvation, willing to kill if needed. I arrested anyone who I thought was associated with this movement, men or women, and threw them in prison⁵(as the high priest or anyone of the High Court can confirm). I even got written authorization to take to the Jewish authorities in Damascus, and went there intent on arresting these people and bringing them back to Jerusalem to be punished.

⁶"As I approached Damascus, around noon, a blazing light from heaven shone all around me. ⁷As I fell to the ground, I heard a voice say to me, "Saul! Saul! Why are you attacking me?"

⁸I asked, "Who are you, Lord?" "The voice replied, 'I am Jesus of Nazareth, whom you are warring against.'⁹My traveling companions saw the light, but they didn't understand what the voice said to me.

¹⁰"What do you want from me, Lord?" I asked." The Lord said, "Stand up and go on to Damascus. There, you will be told the assignment I have for you."¹¹But when I got up, I was blind, so instead of marching into Damascus, my friends led me, holding my hand.

¹²"Once there, Ananias came to see me. He is a devoted man of God, faithful in his observation of all the instructions given through Moses, and highly respected by the Jews living there. ¹³Standing next to me, he said, 'Brother Saul, see again!' And immediately I was able to see him.

¹⁴"Then he said, 'The God of our ancestors has chosen you to understand his purpose, methods and principles, and to see the Perfect One and hear him speak. ¹⁵You will be his ambassador to all people, testifying to what you have seen and heard. ¹⁶So don't just sit there; get up and begin your new life of love, and be immersed in water to symbolize the washing away of selfishness and partaking of the Remedy—his perfect character of love.'

¹⁷"After returning to Jerusalem, I was talking with God at the temple when I was taken away in a vision¹⁸ and saw the Lord speak to me. He said, 'Get up now and leave Jerusalem. Don't delay, for they will not believe your testimony about me.'

¹⁹"I said to the Lord, 'But Lord, these men will take me seriously because they know I went from synagogue to synagogue imprisoning and beating anyone who believed in you.'²⁰ And when your martyr Stephen was killed, I stood there approving, and watching over the coats of those who murdered him.'

²¹"But the Lord simply said to me, 'Leave this place. I am sending you far away to take the Remedy to the non-Jewish people of the world.' "

²²The crowd was listening up to this point, but when they heard about God sending Paul with the Remedy to non-Jews, they became enraged and began shouting, "Kill him! Wipe him from the face of the earth! He doesn't deserve to live!"

What upset the Jews so much? That he was saying that God loves the Gentiles were included in the plan of salvation—the promises to Abraham.

Why was this upsetting to them?

What is it evidence of?

How could this have happened to a group of people who had been blessed with the Bible and God's prophets?

Have such things happen in Christianity?

Are such things going on in Christianity today?

What is the underlying problem that causes such attitudes?

WEDNESDAY

The lesson focuses our attention on Paul before the Sanhedrin, which was the Jewish high court. Let's read Acts 23:1-5:

Paul, looking directly at the leaders of the Jewish High Court, said, "My fellow Israelites, all I have done I have done to honor God and have fulfilled my duties to him with a clear conscience."²Upon hearing this, the high priest Ananias ordered his aides to strike Paul on the mouth.³Paul blurted out, "I hope God strikes you down, you white-washed impediment to truth! You sit there pretending to follow the law in judgment of me, yet you command I be struck—in violation of the law!"

⁴Those standing near Paul gasped: "How dare you insult God's high priest like that!"

⁵Paul humbly said, "I'm sorry, brothers. I didn't know he was the high priest; for the Scripture says: 'Don't speak badly about the ruler of your people.'" The Remedy

What do you learn from this interaction?

What was Paul quick to point out? The lawlessness of those who claim to be law-keepers.

Do we see this in the history of Christianity—the violence and law-breaking of those who claim to be representatives of Christ?

Do we see that those who hold to the false law view always end up breaking God's design laws? Those who hold to the imposed law will always end up violating the law of love and liberty, coercing the conscience of others.

What about what came to light a couple of weeks ago in Pennsylvania—over 300 priests molesting more than 1000 children over 70 years, while the church institution worked to cover it up?

How could this happen?

I am not bringing this up to cast stones at another organization—but because it serves as an object lesson to discern the problems when we replace God’s design law with human imposed law.

So, how could this happen?

- Since Adam’s sin selfishness exists in the hearts of human beings and we are vulnerable to temptation and the exploitation of others if not for the grace of God.
- This organization rejected God’s design for human relationships and instituted its own, imposed, arbitrary rules on human relations—i.e. that priests must not be married.
- This, causes a selection bias. What is a selection bias? It is when we use some filter that eliminates some people from the potential pool of candidates and increases the concentration of others. For instance, if we say only men can be priests, we just eliminated all women and increased to 100% the concentration of men. In the case of the Catholic Church, their arbitrary rule on celibacy has reduced the likelihood of healthy heterosexual men becoming priests. Young college age men, as they consider career choices, when normal biological sexual desire is high are less likely to choose the priesthood if they cannot marry.
- However, people with sexual struggles and who also love God might be drawn to a career which purports to serve God thinking that if they dedicate their lives to God He will deliver them from their unhealthy desires. Thus, the arbitrary rule of celibacy for the priesthood, sets up a selection bias increasing the number of pedophiles likely to be found there.
- When instances of abuse do occur, does the institution examine itself and change or sacrifice innocents with coverups?

Returning to God’s design law in how we operate protects and heals and reduces the selection biases and puts the healing of people first.

THURSDAY

The Jews in Caesarea plotted to kill Paul, and the lesson asks, “What does this teach us about how passionate people can be for causes that are wrong?”

Can you think of any causes today in which people are passionately wrong?

And if we do identify people, perhaps family or friends that are passionately wrong, are they typically easy to reason with? Or does their passion shut down thinking and they become closed to truth?

- How can we tell whether a cause is right or wrong?
- Do the methods employed indicate anything about the cause, or at least the motives of those promoting the cause?
- What method did Peter use when the soldiers came to arrest Christ?
- Was Peter promoting the same cause as Jesus?
- If so, why did Jesus say to Peter shortly before, “get behind me Satan?”

- What cause was Peter promoting and what cause was Jesus promoting?
- Did it appear they were promoting the same cause?
- Why did Peter come down on the wrong side in what he was doing?
- Could Christians today be vulnerable to promoting the wrong cause under the banner of Jesus?
- What do we believe Revelation tells us will happen before Christ returns?
- Will people, who claim to believe in Jesus, actually be working against Jesus?
- How can we tell those who are for Jesus from those who are against Jesus?
- Can we tell by the day upon which they attend church? Or how they take communion, or how they are baptized?
- How can we tell?

‘I tell you the truth, whatever you did for one of the least of these brothers of mine, you did for me.’ Mt 25:40

Remember Rwanda—what differentiated those who participated in the genocide from those who protected others—it wasn’t denomination, method of baptism, day of worship—it was whether they worshipped an authoritarian or benevolent God.

Those with the legal/penal view of God who must inflict punishment participated in the genocide, those with a God of love protected others.

It always comes back to the God we worship, and our view of God is impacted by the type of law we believe His government is based upon.

Confinement in Caesarea

By Tim Jennings (announcements at end)

SABBATH

Read second paragraph, “In all the hearings...” Was Paul arrested because he did wrong?

Why was Paul arrested if he didn’t do anything wrong?

Paul was effective in promoting a message of truth that was threatening to change societal structure, which threatened certain people’s power-base.

What is your assessment of how Paul was treated?

Do you think this is likely to happen in society today?

How was Martin Luther King Jr. treated by many in our society? Why was he treated the way he was?

What would happen in the Middle East today if a person tried to convert Muslims to Christianity? Why?

What does it reveal when people respond with anger, hostility, violence to religious views that are different from their own?

If you were conference president how would you recommend handling a church member, who is not a church employee, that is teaching ideas which challenge the current orthodoxy?

Is it more important to ensure that there is no controversy, no dispute, that the membership is in a state of tranquil peace, or is it healthy to allow open debate, discussion, exploration of divergent ideas even if those ideas upset some of the members?

I found this quote in a book Counsels to Writers and Editors see if you agree or disagree with it:

Whenever the people of God are growing in grace, they will be constantly obtaining a clearer understanding of His word. They will discern new light and beauty in its sacred truths. This has been true in the history of the church in all ages, and thus it will continue to the end. But as real spiritual life declines, it has ever been the tendency to cease to advance in the knowledge of the truth. Men rest satisfied with the light already received from God's word, and discourage any further investigation of the Scriptures. They become conservative, and seek to avoid discussion. {CW 38.3}

The fact that there is no controversy or agitation among God's people, should not be regarded as conclusive evidence that they are holding fast to sound doctrine. There is reason to fear that they may not be clearly discriminating between truth and error. When no new questions are started by investigation of the Scriptures, when no difference of opinion arises which will set men to searching the Bible for themselves, to make sure that they have the truth, there will be many now, as in ancient times, who will hold to tradition, and worship they know not what. {CW 39.1}

I have been shown that many who profess to have a knowledge of present truth, know not what they believe. They do not understand the evidences of their faith. They have no just appreciation of the work for the present time. When the time of trial shall come, there are men now preaching to others, who will find, upon examining the positions they hold, that there are many things for which they can give no satisfactory reason. Until thus tested, they knew not their great ignorance. {CW 39.2}

And there are many in the church who take it for granted that they understand what they believe, but, until controversy arises, they do not know their own weakness. When separated from those of like faith, and compelled to stand singly and alone to explain their belief, they will be surprised to see how confused are their ideas of what they had accepted as truth. Certain it is that there has been among us a departure from the living God, and a turning to men, putting human wisdom in place of divine. {CW 39.3}

And what is human wisdom? Would it be the way humans consider right and wrong, justice, law—the imperial law concept and how this idea has infected our theology?

And thus, there are moves afoot in the church to silence controversy, voices which challenge the orthodox view—why? Because of human law construct, human tradition, believing falsely that it is right to use authoritarian measures to enforce compliance—such as compliance committees?

Yesterday Dr. George Graves sent me an article which was written in the aftermath of the 1888 Minneapolis GC and I want to share some of it with you and get your thoughts:

Do not any one think that..we have got all the truth we need; [that] we have got the main pillar of the faith, and if we are right there we have no need to trouble ourselves that we may understand the truth ourselves. One minister who has been in the work for years and years, says, “Now, Sister White, have we got to understand ourselves? There are reasons that are from the Bible in regard to the points of our faith; why can’t we take them, as others have prepared them, and then we need not take that time; and we proclaim it. [What is the minister asking? For someone to prepare Bible studies on point of doctrine that others can take and go out and present in a cookie-cutter like way, without themselves really understanding the reasons, just presenting what another has prepared.] We believe these to be men of God (and there was one man mentioned). Don’t you believe that he was inspired of God?” No, I do not. I do not believe any such thing. I believe that God has given him a work to do. And if there is a man or a woman who is not consecrated and devoted to God every hour, I do not care who they are, the enemy will slip in some of self—weave it right in, his peculiar traits, his peculiar ideas—and the first thing, he is molding others, he is putting his fashion upon those who are around him. It is dangerous business to exalt man, or to lean upon man, to make flesh our arm. What we want is to lean upon the arm that has been stretched out for us to lean upon, and that is the Lord God of Israel, and in Him we may trust... MS56-1890 [This is one of the reasons I always say that I am not here to tell anyone what to think, or to do your thinking for you, but to challenge you to think for yourself and understand things for yourself]

Now, here you are in this school. Brother Waggoner may present the truth before you. You may say that the matter that he presents is truth. But then what will you do? You must go to the Scriptures for yourselves. You must search them with humble hearts. If you are just full of prejudice and your own preconceived opinions, and if you entertain the idea that there is nothing for you to know, and that you know all that is worth knowing, you will not get any benefit here. But if you come like children, you want to learn all there is for you—if the God from heaven has sent anything for me, I want it. The Lord of Heaven has led the mind of man to make a speciality of studying the Scriptures, and when those Scriptures are presented, He has given me reasoning powers. I can see the evidence just as well as he can see it; I can find the evidence as he finds it. I can go out and speak the truth because I know it is the truth. And I do know that it is the truth, and therefore I can present it—not as the product of somebody else's mind, but I can present it as the woman of Samaria, as she bore testimony that she had found the Messiah. They flocked out to hear Him, and they said, We know for ourselves, we have seen Him, we have heard Him for ourselves; and we know that this is the Christ. MS56-1890

Cannot you question and investigate with one another? Indeed you can. But the great trouble is that self is so large in us all that just as soon as we begin to investigate, we will do it in such an unchristian manner. It has been done here in Battle Creek; it was done in Minneapolis; it has been done in many other places. God is not in any such work as that at all; it is the devil that is in such work as that. We want to come to the Scriptures with humble hearts. If God has a work for us we are ready for it, and we want to know that it is the truth for ourselves, and thus you [will] be driven to your Bibles. You must be driven to them... MS56-1890 [And I have thought about this, studying different views with people and I have discovered that when people study as equals they are more likely to be open, understanding, willing to give the other's view consideration. But when the study is done with a hierarchical structure (someone represents a ruling body or position, counsel of Trent, or conference president or committee or a pastor, an inherent sense of ruling authority) then the study becomes unchristian, critical, defensive, unwilling to hear openly and honestly the position of the other—thoughts?]

But I speak of these men that they may know, that they may understand, what is truth; and if they will not hear, if they will keep away, just as the ministers tell the congregations, the stay-away argument: Don't go to hear. Now, you want to hear everything. If he has got error, we want to know it, we want to understand it, those that are in prominent positions, and then we want to investigate for ourselves. We want to know that it is truth; and if it is truth, brethren, those children in the Sabbath School want it, and every soul of them need it. This is what we want. MS56-1890

Wow—do you see these same problems as we have faced the last 8 years are not new problems. They are the age-old problems that advancing truth has always faced. But the next time a member of the SDA church tells you someone in leadership told them the “stay-away argument—don't go hear” you could share this quote with them and suggest, then that is what you really need to go hear.

Does this mean then, that we set no standards, that we don't draw a line anywhere and we let any idea be presented in our churches and engage in controversial discussion over any topic?

Consider this quotation from the same author in a book called Confrontation:

We are not to attend their circles, neither are our ministers to engage in controversy with them [spiritualists]. They are of that class specified whom we should not invite into our houses or bid them Godspeed. We have to compare their teachings with the revealed will of God. We are not to engage in an investigation of spiritualism. God has investigated this for us, and told us definitely that a class would arise in the last days who would deny Christ who has purchased them with His own blood. The character of spiritualists is so plainly described that we need not be deceived by them. If we obey the divine injunction we shall have no sympathy with spiritualists, however smooth and fair may be their words. {Con 91.1}

What is the underlying principle that would be in practice here that would say, in this case it is not necessary to investigate spiritualism nor engage in discussion with the spiritualists?

If someone came along today and suggested that we can achieve better spiritual enlightenment by putting LSD in our communion wafers, would this be something we should investigate and have serious discussion about? Why or why not?

When the evidence has been sufficiently revealed that a certain course or action is destructive or harmful, then spending more time on that subject debating it or arguing for or against it only opens the door to confusion, distracts from other truths and prevents advancement in other lines of understanding.

Does this then mean we don't deal with anyone who is caught up in spiritualism? Would this mean we would have the discussion with people of Haiti or other cultures where spiritualism is practiced? Or would we need to, as missionaries, evangelists, give such potential converts evidence of the truth and evidence of the errors in which they have been steeped?

So, what then is meant on not engaging with spiritualists?

So, how do we deal with people who hold different views than us?

I really like Romans 14:5 let every person be fully persuaded in their own mind, and draw lines only where it is abundantly clear that a line of investigation is already proven to be harmful or destructive.

Haydin Piper, an online listener, sent in this quote from the book The Desire of Ages p. 509.

Today in the religious world there are multitudes who, as they believe, are working for the establishment of the kingdom of Christ as an earthly and temporal dominion. They desire to make our Lord the ruler of the kingdoms of this world, the ruler in its courts and camps, its legislative halls, its palaces and market places. They expect Him to rule through legal enactments, enforced by human authority. Since Christ is not now here in person, they themselves will undertake to act in His stead, to execute the laws of His kingdom. The establishment of such a kingdom is what the Jews desired in the days of Christ. They would have received Jesus, had He been willing to establish a temporal dominion, to enforce what they regarded as the laws of God, and to make them the expositors of His will and the agents of His authority. But He said, “My kingdom is not of this world.” John 18:36. He would not accept the earthly throne. {DA 509.2}

Do you think this is the method we should utilize? Should we seek to legislate our beliefs and enforce them?

This is what Sharia law wants to do...it is also what some Christians want to do in regard to abortion law—force everyone to abide by their view and enforce it with the courts.

How is Christ supposed to rule? In the hearts of people by the reproduction of His character and the practice of His methods, which are? Truth, presented in love, and leaving others free!

SUNDAY

Read third paragraph, which is speaking of the argument made by a lawyer against Paul: “Then, he went on...”

Were any of the charges true? It was true that Paul was a leader of those who followed Jesus.

Was Paul an agitator who was fomenting unrest among the Jews? Well from the Jewish leadership’s perspective it was true; Paul was upsetting their way of thinking and the esteem in which they were held by the people. But, Paul was NOT inciting rebellion against Rome, just the opposite.

So, what did the lawyer do? He twisted things, he took a fact, Paul was causing agitation in the minds of the Jews about their traditional understanding of Scripture, challenging them to reinterpret things, which upset the Jewish authorities. They took this fact and made it appear that such teachings were the reason the Jews were so unruly and there was so much rebellion against Rome.

What do you think of the third allegation—that Paul attempted to defile the Jewish temple?

This last charge is quite interesting—why did the Jews make this charge against Paul?

Why did it matter to them?

Was the temple important to their power base in any way? Was the temple used in any way to influence or control the people?

Who were the actual defilers of the temple? Do you remember Jesus cleansing the temple—why and from what?

Here is a quote from the book The Desire of Ages:

In the cleansing of the temple, Jesus was announcing His mission as the Messiah, and entering upon His work. That temple, erected for the abode of the divine Presence, was designed to be an object lesson for Israel and for the world. From eternal ages it was God's purpose that every created being, from the bright and holy seraph to man, should be a temple for the indwelling of the Creator. Because of sin, humanity ceased to be a temple for God. Darkened and defiled by evil, the heart of man no longer revealed the glory of the Divine One. But by the incarnation of the Son of God, the purpose of Heaven is fulfilled. God dwells in humanity, and through saving grace the heart of man becomes again His temple. God designed that the temple at Jerusalem should be a continual witness to the high destiny open to every soul. But the Jews had not understood the significance of the building they regarded with so much pride. They did not yield themselves as holy temples for the Divine Spirit. The courts of the temple at Jerusalem, filled with the tumult of unholy traffic, represented all too truly the temple of the heart, defiled by the presence of sensual passion and unholy thoughts. In cleansing the temple from the world's buyers and sellers, Jesus announced His mission to cleanse the heart from the defilement of sin,—from the earthly desires, the selfish lusts, the evil habits, that corrupt the soul. "The Lord, whom ye seek, shall suddenly come to His temple, even the Messenger of the covenant, whom ye delight in: behold, He shall come, saith the Lord of hosts. But who may abide the day of His coming? and who shall stand when He appeareth? for He is like a refiner's fire, and like fullers' soap: and He shall sit as a refiner and purifier of silver: and He shall purify the sons of Levi, and purge them as gold and silver." Malachi 3:1-3. {DA 161.1}

"Know ye not that ye are the temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you? If any man defile the temple of God, him shall God destroy; for the temple of God is holy, which temple ye are." 1 Corinthians 3:16, 17. No man can of himself cast out the evil throning that have taken possession of the heart. Only Christ can cleanse the soul temple. But He will not force an entrance. He comes not into the heart as to the temple of old; but He says,

"Behold, I stand at the door, and knock: if any man hear My voice, and open the door, I will come in to him." Revelation 3:20. He will come, not for one day merely; for He says, "I will dwell in them, and walk in them; . . . and they shall be My people." "He will subdue our iniquities; and Thou wilt cast all their sins into the depths of the sea." 2 Corinthians 6:16; Micah 7:19. His presence will cleanse and sanctify the soul, so that it may be a holy temple unto the Lord, and "an habitation of God through the Spirit." Ephesians 2:21, 22. {DA 161.2}

Why did the Jews allege that Paul was defiling the temple? What did Paul and Jesus threaten?

Jesus and Paul were trying to move people past metaphor and object lesson to the reality of God, to heal hearts and minds. But the leaders didn't want this because they preferred their selfishness, thus they obstructed the higher order thinking.

What about today, could people be threatened in leadership today when we try and teach people that the sanctuary is a metaphor to heal hearts and minds and is not to be taken literally?

What about the nation of Israel itself, could some get offended if we point out they were to be teachers to the entire world, but have no avenue of salvation different than the rest of humanity?

MONDAY

Read fifth paragraph, "In the end, Festus..." Do we ever get confused when we present truth and find it doesn't win the day?

This paragraph points out that Festus was not interested in truth, he was interested in profit and advancement for himself. Thus, arguing the merits of the facts would have little impact on Festus.

Could this happen today, that we present truths to people in church leadership and expect an outcome based on the merits of the facts and evidence, but the people who are reviewing our concerns have other agendas? Like their own profit, perhaps employment, or books they have written which oppose the new view, or position, or authority, or some other concern and thus are not primarily interested in the truth itself?

How do you handle it when people accuse you falsely?

Here are some steps in dealing with false accusations:

- first pray—ask God for wisdom, discernment, His involvement, intervention, that He will use this as opportunity to advance the kingdom. Ask for patience, ask for a heart to love others, and to act in ways that reveal God's methods and principles. So, first and foremost, pray and align the heart with God. DO NOT react reflexively, pause and talk to God.
- Consider who is making the accusation—not every accusation needs answering, some are best ignored. Some are best answered not with words, but with actions, the actions of patient waiting and kindness. Sometimes answering the allegation only brings more attention to it, and diverts from the truth. Other times answering only gives the enemies of truth more fuel to attack you. Jesus said “don’t cast your pearls before swine...”

- Asks or inquire how they came to believe this, upon what they base their accusations, from where did they hear or come to believe such a thing? Many times people come who are responding to rumor, or gossip and have never checked the facts for themselves.
- Try to discern why this is important to them, why do they want to know, why are they accusing you? Understanding their motives gives you insight into what they really want from the encounter.
- Then, ask God gives wisdom several responses are possible:
 - Silence—no answer at all, Jesus did this many times
 - Answer with questions, which Jesus did to the man who asked about the greatest commandment
 - Answer directly, which Daniel did, Jesus, Paul, Peter and others did—at times
 - But always respond with an attitude of love and interest in others.

TUESDAY, WEDNESDAY and THURSDAY

Read last paragraph, Tuesday “And now Paul...” The lesson asks what it tells us about outward appearance?

Let’s read Acts chapter 26 (from The Remedy)

¹Then Agrippa said to Paul, "You have permission to present your case." Paul motioned with his hands for silence and then began his defense:²"King Agrippa, I am thankful that you are here to hear my defense against these allegations of the Jews,³because you know Jewish tradition, custom, and theological controversies. So please be patient as I lay out my case.

⁴"The Jews know very well that I was raised in my own country, and later—in Jerusalem.⁵They have known me for years, and if they are honest, they can confirm that by the strictest standards of our people, I lived as a Pharisee and did everything according to their most severe rules.⁶I am on trial now because I believe that what God promised our ancestors has been fulfilled—⁷the promise our twelve tribes long to see fulfilled as they diligently serve God every day. O King, I am being accused because I believe that this promise has been fulfilled.⁸Why should any of you who know the history of our people find it impossible to believe that God raises the dead back to life?

⁹"Yes, at one time I too believed it was my duty to do everything in my power to oppose Jesus of Nazareth.¹⁰And I did just that in Jerusalem. With the approval and backing of the chief priests, I arrested many of his followers, and when they were executed, I voted for them to die.¹¹I went from synagogue to synagogue, punishing his followers and trying to force them to curse his name. In my vigilance, I even traveled to other cities to persecute them.

¹⁵"I asked, 'Who are you, Lord?' The voice replied, 'I am Jesus, whom you are persecuting. ¹⁶Now stand up, for I have come to you to commission you, as my ambassador, to witness what you have seen of me, and what I will yet show to you. ¹⁷Don't be afraid, for I will rescue you from your own people and from the Gentiles. I am sending you to them ¹⁸to open their minds to the light of truth, and lead them out of the darkness of lies about me—and thus free them from Satan's power and unite them with God—so they might have sin and selfishness remit from their hearts, and be among those who are recreated in righteousness through trust in me.'

¹⁹"So, King Agrippa, what was I to do? I did what I believed was right after such a vision from heaven: ²⁰First I went to those in Damascus, then to those in Jerusalem, and then—all over Judea, to Jews and non-Jews alike. I told everyone they should turn away from selfishness, love God with their whole heart, and demonstrate their love for God by their acts of service to help others. ²¹That is why the Jews seized me in the temple courts and are trying to kill me. ²²But God has been watching over me to this very day, and has brought me here to tell the truth about him to small and great alike. I am only teaching what the prophets and Moses said would happen— ²³that the Messiah would be rejected, suffer, die, and then be the first to rise from the dead to provide the Remedy to his own people and all peoples of the world."

²⁴When Festus heard this, he interrupted Paul's defense: "Are you crazy, Paul?" he shouted. "You've studied yourself insane!"

²⁵Paul calmly replied, "I am not insane, most honorable Festus. What I am saying is not only true, it is also reasonable. ²⁶The king is familiar with all of this, so I am presenting this to him freely, without the need to lay the groundwork for each point. I believe he is aware of all the events that have transpired, because it all happened very publicly. ²⁷King Agrippa, you believe what the prophets have written, don't you? Surely, you do."

²⁸Agrippa answered, "Do you think you can convert me to be a Christian in such a short time?"

²⁹Paul smiled, "No matter how long it takes, I pray to God that not only you, but everyone here listening will become what I am, except retain your freedom, of course."

³⁰At this, the king, governor, Bernice, and those sitting with them stood up ³¹and left the room. While they were talking amongst themselves, they said, "This man hasn't done anything deserving of death or imprisonment."

³² Agrippa said to Festus, "If he hadn't appealed to Caesar, he could have been set free."

What do you think of Paul's argument?

What authority did Paul cite? Both Scripture and His own experience, he recounted how his experience was consistent with what was taught in Scripture.

What do you think of Paul's appeal to Caesar was it a good choice?

From last week's lesson on FRIDAY, read the last three paragraphs: "Had the leaders in the church..."

What does this suggest about the Sovereignty of God?

Does it suggest anything about God's methods?

Does it have any bearing on what is happening in the church and the world today?

Oneness in Christ Lesson 1 4Q 2018 Creation and Fall

By Tim Jennings

Announcement:

Last weekend I had the privilege of speaking at Crossroads Community Church in Georgetown, Delaware. What a great experience.

This group of believers began about 10 years ago meeting in an old auto parts store with about 100 people. They grew so quickly that soon they were having four services each weekend. So, they bought property and built a large facility, which is still growing. Their current auditorium holds 800 and they are again holding four services each weekend, one on Saturday and three on Sunday each week to accommodate the crowds.

Their focus is on healing the hearts of people to love God and love others. In the past they have been asked by some, “what is your doctrinal statement” and their answer is “the Bible.” This has resulted in some visitors getting upset.

I immediately thought of something EG White, one of the founders of the SDA church, wrote back in 1885:

The Bible, and the Bible alone, is to be our creed, the sole bond of union; all who bow to this holy word will be in harmony. Our own views and ideas must not control our efforts. Man is fallible, but God's word is infallible. Instead of wrangling with one another, let men exalt the Lord. Let us meet all opposition as did our Master, saying, "It is written." Let us lift up the banner on which is inscribed, The Bible our rule of faith and discipline.

{RH, December 15, 1885 par. 16}

I was so impressed with how this group has put this principle into practice—and not surprisingly there was a spirit of love, unity, peace—but also critical reasoning and thinking.

A few points from their website:

Who We Are

At CCC, we believe the issue is always the heart...

What We Do

We are a church body, created to share the love of Jesus Christ. Our heart's desire is to grow, serve, and spread the Word of God...

Why We Do It

Mission Statement

Crossroad Community Church, a nonprofit corporation, is established to provide a place of worship and fellowship with our Heavenly Father and fellow Christians... It is our responsibility and privilege to propagate the gospel of Jesus Christ by all available means, both at home and in foreign lands.

What You Can Do

Visit us!

When you visit Crossroad Community Church, we are not expecting anything from you. We, as a church body, welcome all to our congregation. We understand that we have a style of how we run our church, and we understand that this style is not for everyone. We believe that Jesus Christ has enabled us to enter heaven, and we rejoice in that. When you visit Crossroad Community Church, you are welcome to sit or stand as we sing. You are welcome to clap or listen. You are welcome to wear jeans or a suit. Do what is comfortable for you. We simply ask that your actions not impede others who are worshiping.

This group of Christians genuinely love God and are seeking to make God first in their lives, in how they live and treat others.

I was reading in the book The Great Controversy about Wycliffe, and then read the following:

The great movement that Wycliffe inaugurated, which was to liberate the conscience and the intellect, and set free the nations so long bound to the triumphal car of Rome, had its spring in the Bible. Here was the source of that stream of blessing, which, like the water of life, has flowed down the ages since the fourteenth century. Wycliffe accepted the Holy Scriptures with implicit faith as the inspired revelation of God's will, a sufficient rule of faith and practice. He had been educated to regard the Church of Rome as the divine, infallible authority, and to accept with unquestioning reverence the established teachings and customs of a thousand years; but he turned away from all these to listen to God's holy word. This was the authority which he urged the people to acknowledge. Instead of the church speaking through the pope, he declared the only true authority to be the voice of God speaking through His word. And he taught not only that the Bible is a perfect revelation of God's will, but that the Holy Spirit is its only interpreter, and that every man is, by the study of its teachings, to learn his duty for himself. Thus he turned the minds of men from the pope and the Church of Rome to the word of God. {GC 93.2}

Is this principle still applicable today? Should we turn the minds of people away from church authority, church dogma, church creeds and to the Bible? Does this apply only to the Roman church or to any church?

If we take this position and promote the Bible as our rule of authority and turn people away from church councils, creeds, traditions, and back to the Bible are we uniting or dividing?

As we talk about unity this quarter, consider what unity actually means. The introduction to the study guide points out that Fundamental Belief number 14 of the SDA church states, “In Christ we are a new creation; distinctions of race, culture, learning, and nationality and differences between high and low, rich and poor, male and female, must not be divisive among us.”

What about denominational divisions — can we be united in Christ and be from different denominations?

What types of differences do not cause divisions to Christian unity and what types of differences do cause divisions in Christian unity?

Can two people hold to different understanding of various doctrines and be united in Christ?

Can two people attest to the same doctrinal statements yet be divided?

This leads us into our lesson...

INTRODUCTION to the Study Guide

The lesson states, “The church is God’s family on earth...” then asks, “But what do we mean by church? Who belongs to the church?”

The lesson mentions the local community of believers, the building in which people meet, but says, “The church is about people, not about buildings.”

And then says, “Yet, all these definitions are incomplete. The church is the people of God all over the earth. And though Christ has faithful followers in various denominations (many of whom will in the final crisis join the remnant [Rev 18:1-14]), this quarter we are going to focus on our church, the Seventh-day Adventist Church, and what unity in Christ means for us.”

Before we get into the specifics for the SDA church, what do you think of the idea that people who are Christ’s faithful followers are somehow, not yet part of the remnant? What would constitute being part of the remnant?

A.W Tozer wrote the following about the remnant:

- I am alarmed because it has been true since Pentecost that such a vast number of people who call themselves Christians—the overwhelming majority—are nominal, and only a remnant is saved.
- There has always been a small remnant, and they have been in the midst of all the rest. A million might wish with their lips and worship with their lips, but only a small fragment truly worship in their hearts in a way that honors and pleases God.
- Where is the remnant? Where can we find them? As soon as we bring this subject up, immediately all the half-saved and the one percent saved—the backsliders, the borderline, the church members, the professors, and those who have no witness of the Spirit to their redemption—begin to squirm and quote Scripture. And one Scripture they quote is “Judge not, that you be not judged.” (Matthew 7:1)

- The man who belongs to the remnant is not asking if he belongs to the remnant; he is hoping and believing and trusting and seeking and longing and comparing himself not with somebody else but with the Savior.
- So the thing to do is not to look for the remnant; the thing to do is to beware of presumption and self-righteousness and to compare yourself only to Jesus. Then, when you have done that, say, “I am an unprofitable servant.” (quoted from The Quotable Tozer compiled by James L. Snyder, Bethany House, 2018, p. 285-286)

Who are the remnant? Revelation 12:17 states about the remnant at the end:

Then the dragon was enraged at the woman and went off to make war against the rest of her offspring—those who obey God’s commandments and hold to the testimony of Jesus.

Who constitutes the remnant? What are the qualifying features?

What does it mean to obey the commandments of God?

What does it mean to hold to the testimony of Jesus?

What do you say to someone who says, that the following is what it means to obey the commandments of God:

Jesus replied: ‘Love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind.’ ³⁸ This is the first and greatest commandment. ³⁹ And the second is like it: ‘Love your neighbor as yourself.’ ⁴⁰ All the Law and the Prophets hang on these two commandments. Mt 22:37-39

Would people who fulfill Christ’s description be part of the remnant?

Have you heard some say, that to love God means to obey, which means to observe the 7th day Sabbath?

Then, were the Jews who put Christ on the Cross and wanted Him off before sunset Friday so they could keep the Sabbath, loving God?

What about the Pharisees who didn’t want Jesus to heal people on Sabbath—they said there are 6 days in the week to heal people, don’t do it on Sabbath—were they part of the remnant?

Why do you think Jesus healed chronic conditions, people who had been sick for decades, on the Sabbath?

So, are we part of the remnant if we refuse to help people on Sabbath in order to honor God by observing the Sabbath?

What is Sabbath observance in a way that makes one part of the remnant?

Can a person be part of the remnant and not observe the Bible Sabbath?

What about the second feature, of the remnant, that they hold to the testimony of Jesus.

What does this mean?

Some have suggested the remnant is the denominational organization that has the Bible Sabbath, all 10 of the 10 commandments, and also has the gift of prophecy manifested in their organization.

So, if this is true, does being part of the remnant then mean joining the right denomination?

Can one be part of the remnant by joining a denomination?

Why do some want denominational affiliation to be synonymous with being part of the remnant?

For the same reason the church of the Dark Ages wanted people to believe that you had to adhere to their rules, rituals, sacraments in order to be saved—it gives the organization power over people, keeps people afraid of organizational authority, reduces questioning and thinking, and increases the organization's power-base.

So, would the remnant be those who are like Christ in character, thus the law is written on their hearts and minds, i.e. the law of love, and they give the same testimony about God, His character, methods, design laws and principles that Jesus gave?

Then, if someone had the right day of worship, but had the wrong character, like those who crucified Christ—would they be part of the remnant?

If someone had the right day of worship, but practiced the methods of coercion and force would they be part of the remnant?

If someone has the right day of worship, but misrepresents God as authoritarian and the inflictor of pain and punishment and from whom we need to be protected, would they be part of the remnant?

If someone has, what you consider the wrong day of worship, but has a renewed heart to love God and others, and would give their lives for others, and they say of God and His character what is right, would they be part of the remnant?

If we love others, can we have unity even if we don't agree on doctrine, like the day of worship?

I can tell you that when we genuinely love God and practice God's principles we can have unity with people also genuinely love God and practice His principles even if they baptize differently, go to church on a different day, do communion differently—but when the love of God is not in the heart then there is no unity, even if all agree on the same doctrines.

We can see the principles of refusing to value truth and failure to love others causing division outside the church as well:

September 11, 2018 a Tucker Carlson Report on Fox News Tucker said the following (don't focus on the specific issue, but the methods employed and the conclusions Tucker draws):

<http://www.foxnews.com/us/2018/09/12/evergreen-state-sees-catastrophic-drop-in-enrollment-after-social-justice-meltdown.html>

“A tenured Brown professor called Lisa Littman found that teenagers who say they want to switch genders say they are often influenced, not surprisingly, by friends and social media, like all young people are. The study was solid enough to be picked up by a reputable scientific journal. In fact, Brown's PR department sounded a press release promoting the study. But then activists descended. They were offended by the conclusions of the study, not because the conclusions were wrong, no one even argued they were wrong, but because the conclusions were ideologically inconvenient and therefore unacceptable. They demanded that the data be suppressed and remarkable Brown caved to their demands. The university yanked the press release and apologized for sending it in the first place.

This is not really about Brown. This is what it looks like when reason itself dies—politics trumps science, empirical conclusions are banned, acknowledging reality itself becomes a criminal act, superstition reigns, the Dark Ages arrive. This is what they told you the Christian Right wanted to do—they were lying. As soon as they did it themselves.”

This is not about the gender issue, but about how people deal with different opinions—do we allow for evidence based, reasoned discourse, or do we allow mob rule, hysteria, emotionalism. Does what is politically correct overrule rational thought?

And this type of repression of evidence, of reality itself being criminalized, of superstition reigning happens on both sides, left and right, it happens wherever error is defended and truth is feared.

Is this evidence of what Scripture has warned will happen at the end of time? Is this evidence of a beastly system at work? Can we see it if it doesn't manifest itself on the specific issue we have been taught to look for?

SABBATH

Read memory text, “Then [God] brought [Abraham]...” Who are these descendants referred to in this verse?

According to Paul:

It is not as though God’s word had failed. For not all who are descended from Israel are Israel.⁷ Nor because they are his descendants are they all Abraham’s children. On the contrary, “It is through Isaac that your offspring will be reckoned.”⁸ In other words, it is not the natural children who are God’s children, but it is the children of the promise who are regarded as Abraham’s offspring. Rom 9:6-8

This interaction between the Jewish leadership and Jesus:

“Abraham is our father,” they answered.

“If you were Abraham’s children,” said Jesus, “then you would do the things Abraham did.”⁴⁰ As it is, you are determined to kill me, a man who has told you the truth that I heard from God. Abraham did not do such things.⁴¹ You are doing the things your own father does.”

“We are not illegitimate children,” they protested. “The only Father we have is God himself.”

⁴² Jesus said to them, “If God were your Father, you would love me, for I came from God and now am here. I have not come on my own; but he sent me.”⁴³ Why is my language not clear to you? Because you are unable to hear what I say.⁴⁴ You belong to your father, the devil, and you want to carry out your father’s desire. He was a murderer from the beginning, not holding to the truth, for there is no truth in him. When he lies, he speaks his native language, for he is a liar and the father of lies.¹

So, who are the descendants of Abraham? Those who are like Abraham in character, i.e. those who trust God and are transformed to be like Jesus!

This is hugely important today because millions have missed this reality and think that something other than character transformation matters—either being a genetic descendant of Abraham or some legal process where one is adopted into the legal family of God thus becoming a legal descendant of Abraham.

No! The only way one is a genuine, in reality, descendant of Abraham in the way the Bible means is that they have the same character and practice the same methods in relationship with God that ¹ The Holy Bible: New International Version. (1984). (Jn 8:39–44). Grand Rapids, MI: Zondervan.

Abraham did.

The lesson points out that God created humanity sinless and it was God's goal for human beings to be united in love. But because of sin division has happened.

What caused sin to enter into humanity?

Lies believed break the circle of love and trust...

What is the solution?

Truth will set you free—the truth believed destroys lies and restores trust...

What truth? The truth about God!

SUNDAY

Read first paragraph, "A clear message flowing..." This is well said! Do you hear the description of the law of love in this paragraph?

And what is revealed when things operate like God intended?

Human beings were created in the image of God—what does this mean?

In what ways did God create Adam and Eve in His image?

- Intelligence—the ability to reason and think
- The power of choice—which means the ability to love, to self-sacrifice
- The power to procreate—to create beings in their own image
- The power to create and build—art, music, etc.
- Dominion—lower life forms to govern and rule over—to work to give energy of one's self toward the welfare of others
- Co-equals to enter into genuine unity of love, bonding and fellowship so that the two become one
- The ability to experience pain and heartache as well as joy and reward

Read last paragraph, "God is love..." This is again well said and has huge functional (operational) implications.

Can love exist in isolation? Or, as the lesson states, does love require relationship?

Therefore, if God is love, God cannot be a singularity, but must be a plurality, thus the Trinity—the smallest number for genuine selfless love—three.

Can you get love by threat, demand, coercion, intimidation, punishment? Thus, understanding the operational nature of love, many false doctrines in Christianity can be quickly eliminated. God cannot be saying love me or I will kill you—all such concepts are seen to be lies of Satan.

God can be saying, love me and let me heal you, because if you don't, you are going to die from your terminal condition. But God cannot be the source of inflicted death and still be a God of love—all such ideas are lies.

So, the penal substitutionary view of God is proven to be a lie, an infection to God's church and an obstruction to the remnant's ability to finish the work of preparing the world for Christ's return. We must reject this lie and come back to God as our Creator and Savior.

MONDAY

Read first paragraph, "The consequence of the Fall...." What is the primary drive on planet earth today? Survival of the fittest, which Paul describes as....???? The law of sin and death, which is the opposite of the law of love.

And Paul describes in Romans 8 how all nature groans under the weight of sin.

Many get confused about this, because sin has been taught through the false human imperial/imposed law concept and many are taught we are born legally guilty and condemned by God and under a legal death sentence. And many get confused and ask, what about babies, what did they do wrong?

When we return to God's design law, we understand we are not born legally guilty, we are born terminal—with a condition, we as individuals, did NOT choose, but which, without remedy, will destroy us.

Thus, Oswald Chambers wrote in My Utmost for His Highest:

The Bible does not say that God punished the human race for one man's sin, but that the nature of sin, namely, my claim to my right to myself, entered into the human race through one man. But it also says that another Man took upon Himself the sin of the human race and put it away — an infinitely more profound revelation...

Sin is something I am born with and cannot touch— only God touches sin through redemption. It is through the Cross of Christ that God redeemed the entire human race from the possibility of damnation through the heredity of sin. God nowhere holds a person responsible for having the heredity of sin, and does not condemn anyone because of it. Condemnation comes when I realize that Jesus Christ came to deliver me from this heredity of sin, and yet I refuse to let Him do so. From that moment I begin to get the seal of damnation.

“This is the condemnation [and the critical moment], that the light has come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than light . . .” (John 3:19)

Thus, condemnation doesn’t come at birth, condemnation comes when we reject the Remedy of Jesus Christ, sent by God to cure our condition.

In the third paragraph the lesson points out that human wickedness led to the flood—why?

How do you explain the reason for the flood through the truth of God’s design law?

The lesson asks about what things contribute to disharmony and what actions can be taken to restore harmony with people with whom you are not currently in harmony?

What about this?

Do not be yoked together with unbelievers. For what do righteousness and wickedness have in common? Or what fellowship can light have with darkness? ¹⁵ What harmony is there between Christ and Belial? What does a believer have in common with an unbeliever? ¹⁶ What agreement is there between the temple of God and idols? For we are the temple of the living God. As God has said: “I will live with them and walk among them, and I will be their God, and they will be my people.”

¹⁷“Therefore come out from them and be separate, says the Lord. 2Cor 6:14-17

From the book Patriarchs and Prophets:

The Bible plainly teaches that there can be no harmony between the people of God and the world. "Marvel not, my brethren, if the world hate you" (1 John 3:13). Our Saviour says, "Ye know that it hated Me before it hated you" (John 15:18). Satan works through the ungodly, under cover of a pretended friendship, to allure God's people into sin that he may separate them from Him; and when their defense is removed, then he will lead his agents to turn against them and seek to accomplish their destruction.--PP 559 (1890)

Was Jesus able to have harmony with Judas, Caiaphas, Pilate? So, is it always possible to restore harmony?

Genuine harmony is only possible when operating upon God’s design law—harmony cannot be established while in violation of God’s design law. Confederacies and alliances can be established in violations of God’s design law, but not genuine harmony because selfishness still reigns in the hearts and will eventually cause disunity.

TUESDAY

Why did God confuse the languages at Babel?

Bottom pink section asks, “What are practical steps we can take to help heal the divisions of race, culture, and language that hurt us even in the church?”

When we get back to design law it all falls into place...but when we operate on imposed law divisions always occur.

Did you notice the lesson didn't include divisions based on gender and roles in the church—do we not want unity on this issue?

Is salvation, being part of God's kingdom and usefulness in God's cause, about gender or about character?

WEDNESDAY

The lesson points out that Abraham was justified by faith—what does this mean? How do you explain it?

What law lens to you explain it through?

The lesson references Romans 4:1-3, NIV:

What then shall we say that Abraham, our forefather, discovered in this matter? ² If, in fact, Abraham was justified by works, he had something to boast about—but not before God. ³ What does the Scripture say? “Abraham believed God, and it was credited to him as righteousness.”

Hmmm... does this make it clear? Or do the legal biases of the translator come in?

Does “credited to” make it sound like he got credit for something he didn't actually have in his account. Like a credit card, you get credit, but you don't actually have the money?

That is not what the Greek actually means. The Greek means accounting like an accountant does. So, other translations which read accounted as righteous are better, but still get misunderstood. The Greek means that you only account what actually exists in reality. You do not account $5.00 in your bank account unless there is actually $5.00 in the bank account. Thus, God didn't give Abraham credit, but actually filled Abraham with a gift of a new heart and right spirit, because Abraham trusted God and gave God permission to work in his heart and this is why God accounted, or reckoned, that Abraham was righteous, because Abraham had actually been changed by God from unrighteous to righteous.

The penal substitutionary view is a lie and a fraud and cheats people out of the real healing and transformation by getting them to accept a false legal replacement to genuine healing. It would be like a person dying of cancer being tricked into accepting a piece of paper with a written statement of health on it, instead of a remedy that would cure the cancer.

So, Romans 4:1-3 from The Remedy:

What about our father Abraham: what did he understand about this issue? ²If Abraham was somehow healed by his own efforts at keeping a set of rules or performing certain rituals, then he would have his own healing formula to promote, and would not need trust in God. ³But what does the Scripture say? "Abraham trusted God, and his trust was recognized as righteousness because the distrust caused through Satan's lies had been removed, and through trust he was endowed with a new heart, right motives and Christlike principles."

THURSDAY

Read first paragraph, "In calling Abraham..." For what purpose was Israel called?

The lesson rightly points out that Israel was called to be God's representatives on earth to preserve a true knowledge of God and bring all human beings back to God.

The lesson goes on to say, "God withheld from them nothing favorable to the formation of character that would make them representatives of Himself."

What was their purpose? How did they do?

What about the purpose of the Christian church today? How are we doing?

Read last paragraph, "Their obedience..." What law?

Why would they be successful?

What lessons would be taught?

How do we understand what we read in the history of ancient Israel as recorded in Scripture?

Read bottom pink section, "What parallels..."

Are there any parallels in the attacks and methods of Satan in both groups?

2018 Q4 Oneness in Christ - Lesson 2

Causes of Disunity

by Linda Ojala

The Bible describes only two groups: Good vs bad, sheep vs goats, righteous vs wicked, God's followers vs Satan's followers, the saved vs the lost, those on the right hand of God vs those on the left, those who love others so much that they care for them without a second thought vs those who make a show of doing good things without a real relationship with God.

How we differ:

- Men, women, children, tall or short, slim or heavy, coordinated or not, married or not, educated or not, cultures, languages, jobs, country or city dwellers, views on god/religion, views that there is no god, politics, “glass half full” vs “glass half empty outlook”, etc.
- We even have disunity within ourselves, the struggle between our heart and head, for example
- This is the first time in history when there are four generations in the work force at the same time, each with different views of where work should fit into your life, how work should be conducted.
- Will we ever think alike? We are told it's best not to bring up Politics or Religion over dinner or at the hair salon. People will defend their beliefs with fervor.
- How can we possibly think that we would all think alike about what we read in the Bible, what an experience with God is like, what we should believe. It is likely that everyone in this room and those watching online has some beliefs that vary at least slightly from the others.

In Adventist Home, page 427 by Ellen White, I found this insightful piece of information:

“It is in the order of God that persons of varied temperament should associate together. When this is the case, each member of the household should sacredly regard the feelings and respect the rights of the others. By this means mutual consideration and forbearance will be cultivated, prejudices will be softened, and rough points of character smoothed. Harmony may be secured, and the blending of the varied temperaments may be a benefit to each.”

When I married my husband, I was thrilled that he came home, put his arm around me, listened to my day, told me about his, watched TV with me, ate dinner with me.....however, my teenaged girls' judgment was that he was “lazy”.

- Their experience was that a man comes home, works around the house until bedtime. They were too young to realize how important it is to a relationship to spend time communicating with each other and enjoying each others company.

Differences that bring about unity:

- Fruit salad, the human body, Military

Is there a difference between differing beliefs and disunity?

- Disunity is caused by many things, such as judging each other, jealousy, anger, hate, competition, greed, pride, fear, inflexibility, error, misunderstanding, misinterpretation, misrepresentation, challenges to the status quo.
- I have a dear friend who is a real seeker after God. She doesn't eat what I do, or believe what I do, but we feel like such kindred spirits because we both LOVE GOD and are seeking after Him.
- We are able to discuss what our different outlooks are, without pressuring the other to conform to the way we see things. It is delightful! It is like we are both looking from the outside at a large, beautiful house, through different windows and describing what we see. If we are able to share and love without judgment, we are in unity in our love and desire to know God better.

Does unity smother freedom of thought, being open to new perspectives, seeking of truth or new light?

- In Christ's day, the church leaders wanted unity under what they believed, but when their cherished beliefs were threatened by Jesus, they plotted and killed the very Holy One that came to save them.
- Could this also be the spirit manifested today?
- John 16:12-15: Jesus told his disciples, "I have much more to say to you, more than you can now bear. But when he, the Spirit of truth, comes, he will guide you into all the truth. He will not speak on his own; he will speak only what he hears, and he will tell you what is yet to come. He will glorify me because it is from me that he will receive what he will make known to you. All that belongs to the Father is mine. This is why I said the Spirit will receive from me what he will make known to you."

Christ's Object Lessons, pg 130.4 by Ellen G. White says that old truths will be presented, but in a new light.

That is the way I feel about Come and Reason. We read the same Bible we always have, with the same fundamental beliefs, but we see new perspectives. A few examples, what I'd like to call my, "I could have had a V-8" moments:

- Jesus pleading with the father – Jesus pleading to us alongside the Father to help us understand, trust and love Him and love others; not Jesus the good cop pleading with the Father, the bad cop, not to destroy us. Early Writings, Pt 49.3, Ellen G White
- God the Father has left all judgment to Jesus (John 5:22). Jesus said he doesn't judge us (John 8:15), but has come to heal us and save us (John 12:47). The words Jesus has said will condemn people at the last day (John 12:48), Do not judge, or you will be judged. By the way we judge will we be judged (Matthew 7:2)
- Our God is a consuming fire (Deuteronomy 4:24, Hebrews 12:29)...who can dwell with the consuming fire, the everlasting burning? The righteous, but not the wicked..(Isaiah 33:14-17).
- The wrath of God is letting people go, who will not come to Him for life (Romans 1) and cleansing wickedness from the people who will come to Him for life (Isaiah 1:24-28). Wickedness burns like a fire...they will not spare one another (Isaiah 9:18, 19)

- The 10 commandments are like an MRI – they show where the problems are, so you will come to Jesus for healing, but they can't save you. Only Jesus can save you!
 - No one has truly died yet, all are asleep, so to God no one is dead (Matthew 22:29-32, Luke 20:34-38; Daniel 12:2, 13; John 11:1-15), as no one has yet received the final result of their choices. After the resurrection of the righteous, then the resurrection of the wicked, the final death will occur for Satan, his angels and the wicked. They will be no more. (Malachi 4:1-3; Revelation 20:6-9)
 - Other examples from the audience?
 - God's law is not at all like human law, which can be arbitrarily made up to be whatever we want, then changed whenever we want...like speed limits. God's law is woven into the very fabric of our existence and can never be changed.....like the law of worship – we become like what we worship, the law of exertion – as we use a power or a thought, it becomes stronger....like the law of unselfish love – by love given is love received, etc.

Consider Gamaliel, a teacher of the law, who was honored by all the people (Acts 5: 34-40)

- After Jesus' death and resurrection, the Apostles were spreading the news and their testimony.
 - The Sanhedrin wanted to put them to death.
 - Gamaliel advised them to consider carefully what they intended to do to these men.. He brought up two cases, Theudas and Judas the Galilean, and noted that they both came to nothing.
 - He advised to let these men alone, for if their purpose or activity is of human origin, it will fail.
 - But if it is from God, you will not be able to stop these men: you will only find yourselves fighting against God.

Consider the stoning of Stephen (Acts 7) by the top church leaders, lawyers, teachers of the law:

- He was telling the church leaders that they had betrayed and murdered the Righteous One, they had received the law but not obeyed it
 - The Sanhedrin were furious, covered their ears, yelled at the top of their voices, rushed at him, dragged him out of the city, stoned him.
 - Stephen prayed, "Receive my spirit and don't hold this thing against them, then he "Fell asleep."
 - Saul was watching, agreeing with what was being done. After his conversion, he recalled this event as one of the things that made him not worthy of being called an apostle (1 Corinthians 15: 9)

Consider Hezekiah:

- The bronze serpent made by Moses to hold up so that the people who had been bitten by poisonous snakes would be healed (Numbers 21:4-9), a symbol of Christ being lifted up to heal those who looked at Him and believed.

- It became known as Nehushtan, later people were burning incense to it, so Hezekiah dealt with this disunity by breaking it into pieces so they couldn't worship it. (2 Kings 18:1-4)
- People tend to want something concrete. Spiritual doesn't seem concrete. That is probably why there isn't anything left of the sanctuary and articles in it. We would likely revere then idolize them.

Consider Moses' sister Marian:

- She questioned the leadership of Moses and was given leprosy, perhaps to teach her the death producing results of undermining the God-ordained leadership.
 - Then the leprosy was removed following prayer.

Consider the Israelite group at the base of Mt. Sanai:

- They believed God was leading them, but while Moses was taking so long up on the mountain, they thought they needed new leadership and a more concrete, less fear-producing god
 - So they had Moses' brother Aaron create the golden calf and then worshiped it.

Consider Korah, Dathan and Abiram:

- They created a rebellion against leadership by saying that the whole congregation was holy, and Moses was just trying to control the power of leadership.
 - God had to deal decisively, as they had already convinced 250 of the leaders to join them.
 - This is the only time the Bible mentions that the ground opened up and swallowed the 3 masterminds and their families and possessions, and then fire from God came out and killed the 250 men.
 - This may sound harsh, but their accusations sound suspiciously like what Lucifer said in heaven, which lead to 1/3 of the angels joining the rebellion:
 - Darkness Before Dawn, pg 2, 3, "Little by little, Lucifer came to indulge a desire for self-exaltation. 'Thou hast set thine heart as the heart of God.' 'Thou hast said,...I will exalt my throne above the stars of God: I will sit also upon the mount of the congregation....I will ascend above the heights of the clouds; I will be like the Most High.' Isaiah 14: 13,14. Instead of seeking to make God supreme in the affections and allegiance of His affections and allegiance of His creatures, it was Lucifer's endeavor to win their service and homage to himself. And coveting the honor which the infinite Father had bestowed upon His Son, this prince of angels aspired to power which it was the prerogative of Christ alone to wield."
 - All heaven had rejoiced to reflect the Creator's glory and to show forth His praise. And while God was thus honored, all had been peace and gladness. But a note of discord now marred the celestial harmonies. The service and exaltation of self, contrary to the Creator's plan, awakened forebodings of evil in minds to whom God's glory was supreme. The heavenly councils pleaded with Lucifer. The Son of God presented before him the greatness, the goodness, and the justice of the Creator, and the sacred, unchanging nature of His law. God Himself had established the order of heaven; and in departing from it, Lucifer would dishonor his Maker, and bring ruin upon himself. But the warning, given in infinite love and mercy, only aroused a spirit of resistance. Lucifer allowed jealousy of Christ to prevail, and he became the more determined....”

- “To the very close of the controversy in heaven the great usurper continued to justify himself. When it was announced that with all his sympathizers he must be expelled from the abodes of bliss, then the rebel leader boldly avowed his contempt for the Creator's law. He reiterated his claim that angels needed no control, but should be left to follow their own will, which would ever guide them right. He denounced the divine statutes as a restriction of their liberty and declared that it was his purpose to secure the abolition of law; that, freed from this restraint, the hosts of heaven might enter upon a more exalted, more glorious state of existence.”

SABBATH

Memory Text - “The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom, and the knowledge of the Holy One is understanding”, Proverbs 9:10

First Paragraph: Old testament prophets repeatedly called upon the people of Israel to obey God's instructions. Disobedience and carelessness would lead to apostasy and disunity. Obedience to God's laws was intended as a means to preserve the people from the natural consequences of sin and to sanctify them.

First paragraph: God's intention was for His people to be holy and to be a witness to the nations around them.

Second paragraph: “...be careful to observe them; for this is your wisdom and your understanding in the sight of the peoples who will hear all these statutes, and say, 'Surely this great nation is a wise and understanding people.' Deuteronomy. 4:5, 6

Consider the shepherds of “the flock” of believers?

- Ezekiel 34 – “Woe to the shepherds of Israel who only take care of themselves!..... You have not strengthened the weak or healed the sick or bound up the injured. You have not brought back the strays or searched for the lost. You have ruled them harshly and brutally. So they were scattered because there was no shepherd, and when they were scattered they became food for all the wild animals. My sheep wandered over all the mountains and on every high hill. They were scattered over the whole earth, and no one searched or looked for them.....I am against the shepherds and will hold them accountable for my flock. I will remove them from tending the flock so that the shepherds can no longer feed themselves. I will rescue my flock from their mouths.....For this is what the Sovereign Lord says: 'I myself will search for my sheep and look after them.....I will shepherd the flock with justice....I will save my flock....' ”
- Jeremiah 3: 14, 15, “Return, faithless people,” declares the Lord, “for I am your husband....I will give you shepherds after my own heart, who will lead you with knowledge and understanding.”
- People, the sheep, don't really listen.
- It is said that people generally retain only about 10 percent of what they hear in a presentation.

- Then consider that we all see and comprehend things through our particular filters – 10 witnesses to an accident will report 10 different versions of the accident.
- I have had experiences where people will have come to this class, or part of it, or only heard from someone else that this class teaches something entirely different than what it teaches. Good people who haven't taken the time to find out the truth.
- Example of errors people have of what we are teaching:
- False: We believe that people who are resurrected in the resurrection of the wicked have a chance to change the status of their salvation.
- Truth: We believe that when the wicked are resurrected in the resurrection of the wicked, they then demonstrate why they were resurrected at that time, as a witness to the universe that it was by their own choice. They build weapons and plan to attack the Holy City, the New Jerusalem. (Revelation 20:4-9). Even with the gates of Jerusalem open, they do not come in, as Jesus orders the gates to be closed just as the wicked are about to attack the New Jerusalem. (The Great Controversy, Chapter 42 – The Controversy Ended, by Ellen G. White)
- Consider Nicodemus, a top lawyer, teacher and leader in the synagogue during Jesus' time. (John 3:1-21). He heard varying reports and decided to check it out for himself. Even when Jesus was explaining truths to him, he had a very hard time "Hearing it", understanding it. Nevertheless, he took the time, at night. Later, he stood up for Jesus with the Pharisees (John 7:50-52) he and a rich man Joseph of Arimathea, a prominent member of the Council, asked Pilate for the body of Jesus and buried Jesus in Joseph's own new tomb (John 19:38-42).

SUNDAY

Return, O Backsliding Children

First paragraph: Each time God's people consciously followed His will, they were blessed with peace and life. Each time they disobeyed and followed their own ways, their lives became miserable, filled with wars and conflicts. Deuteronomy. 28:1-14 Blessings of obedience.

Second paragraph: God constantly is inviting His people to return to Him and to repent from their wayward actions.

Third paragraph: "Return, backsliding Israel," says the Lord: "I will not cause My anger to fall on you. For I am merciful," says the Lord; "I will not remain angry forever. Only acknowledge your iniquity, that you have transgressed against the Lord your God, and have scattered your charms to alien deities under every green tree, and you have not obeyed My voice," says the Lord. Jeremiah 3:12, 13

Fourth paragraph: God had a better future in mind for them, and He longed to bring them back to prosperity, unity, and health. But this could come only if they would live by faith and all that true faith entails.

MONDAY

Right in His Own Eyes

READ: Judges 17:6 and Judges 21:25

- Basically says that they had no king and that everyone did as he saw fit,
- That doesn't mean they necessarily did bad things, but they weren't united.
- The enemy of my enemy is my friend

Second paragraph: We are all fallen beings, and if left to our own devices, if left to follow the inclinations of our hearts, we'll surely wander from the path that God calls us to walk.

What do the following passages tell us about the spiritual and social conditions of Israel during the time of the judges:

- Judges 2:11-13: They didn't remember history or what God had done, so they forsook the Lord and served Baal and Ashtoreth.
- Judges 3:5-7: They intermarried with the groups around them, which were primarily descendents of Ham – Canaanites, Hittites, Hivites, Jebusites, etc.

Third paragraph: Prophets and Kings, pages 20, 21, by Ellen G. White: “....By refusing to keep His covenant, they would cut themselves off from the life of God and His blessing could not come upon them.....Their covetousness and greed caused them to be despised even by the heathen. Thus the Gentile world was given occasion to misinterpret the character of God and the laws of His kingdom.”

TUESDAY

The Division of the Hebrew Nation

READ: the story of Solomon's son King Rehoboam in 1 Kings 12: 1-16 –

- Jeroboam, son of Nebat, one of Solomon's officials, rebelled against Solomon.
- The prophet Ahijah told him that God was going to tear the kingdom out of Solomon's son's hand and give Jeroboam 10 tribes, because of Solomon's worship of Ashtoreth, Chemosh, and Molech.
- Jeroboam ran to Egypt to escape being killed by Solomon, but came back from Egypt after Solomon died.
- The people asked for fewer demands from King Rehoboam than Solomon had required.
- Rehoboam got advice from elders, who advised him to do as the people requested.
- He got advise from young men, who advised that he should tell the people he would be even more demanding than Solomon had been. He followed the young men's advise, so 10 of the 12 tribes left to become a separate kingdom of Israel, and took Jeroboam as their king.
- But Jeroboam didn't want the people to go to Jerusalem to worship, because he was afraid they would leave him and stay with Rehoboam.
- He told the people it was too much for them to go up to Jerusalem. So, he set up two golden calves, one in Bethel and the other in Dan, for the people to use in worship, and appointed as a priest anyone who wanted to become a priest. This became sin.
- So he actually helped to lead those 10 tribes astray.

Second paragraph: Prophets and Kings, p 90, by Ellen G. White, “Had Rehoboam and his inexperienced counselors understood the divine will concerning Israel, they would have listened to the request of the people. But.....they failed to reason from cause to effect, and this forever weakened their influence over a large number of the people.....In this unwise and unfeeling attempt to exercise power, the king and his chosen counselors revealed the pride of position and authority.”

Mutiny on the Bounty:

- 1787 Royal Navy Vessel H.M.S. Bounty, sent to search for breadfruit. Captain William Bligh vs Fletcher Christian.
- Christian felt he just couldn't go on under Captain Bligh, seeing him as being cruel, so he and quite a number of the crew mutinied and set adrift Captain Bligh and 18 loyalists.
- Ultimately, most of the rebels killed each other or died
- Despite being in a small vessel, Captain Bligh was able to make it 3,500 miles back to England and brought to justice some of the remaining rebels, who were hanged.
- Leadership that is dictatorial and harsh can create a backlash of rebellion, and no one benefits.

What do the following say about the importance of wisdom in making right decisions:

- Proverbs 4:1-9: Wisdom will protect you
- Proverbs 9: 10: Fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom and knowledge of the Holy One is understanding.
- Proverbs 24:3,4: By wisdom a house is built, through understanding it is established, through knowledge its rooms are filled with rare and beautiful treasures.
- James 1:5: Ask God to give you wisdom and He will.

Third paragraph: The leadership style recommended to Rehoboam was ruthless and cruel. In the end, he showed himself to be a bully and undeserving of his people's allegiance and faithfulness. Hence, a division occurred among God's people that never should have been there, and that was never God's plan for His people.

So, what about 1 Kings 12: 15 that says, “So the king did not listen to the people, for this turn of events was from the Lord, to fulfill the word the Lord had spoken to Jeroboam son of Nebat through Ahijah...”

WEDNESDAY

Schism in Corinth

Second paragraph: the first four chapters of Paul's first epistle to the Corinthians was an appeal for unity.

Third paragraph: 1 Corinthians 1:10-17 notes that they were divided about who they followed, Apollos, Cephas or Christ. Paul urged them to have no divisions, they they were to have the same mind and judgment.

Forth paragraph: Paul reminds the Corinthians that Christians are called to follow Christ, not a human being – however talented or gifted or called that person may be.

- When people look at Come and Reason, do they say that we follow Tim Jennings, and think that we don't follow Christ?

Fifth paragraph: Christian unity finds its source in the truth as it is found in Jesus Christ and Him crucified, and in no one else, no matter how “worthy” a mentor or preacher or leader that person might be. Our baptism is into Jesus who alone can cleanse us from sin.

Sixth paragraph: As Seventh-day Adventists, we cannot take for granted our unity of faith and mission. Divisions and quarrels can undermine the unity of our church today unless the love and lordship of Christ unites us to Him.

How did Jesus handle disunity?

- Christ pointed out the inconsistency between belief and behavior of the church leaders, their lack of understanding of the temple, the Sabbath, their view of women, of the sick, of the poor, etc.
- Christ pointed out that they didn't have a correct understanding of the law.
- They thought that they had a correct understanding of all this and were obeying all the law.
- Not just obedience to the Word of God is the antidote to false teaching, but correctly understanding it.
- People can share a truth, but be hateful, merciless, cruel.
- Who is the greatest (Luke 9:46-50; Luke 22:24-27; Mark 9:33-40; Matthew 18:1-5; Matthew 20:20-28) The disciples had a real problem with this! He educated them about true greatness in God's eyes: Servant of others, childlike in belief, the difficulty of being a leader.
- It still seems to be popular to do anything to keep high level jobs in the church, and to do whatever it takes to move up in the ranks.
- Judas Iscariot: (John 6:70,71) Jesus knew from the beginning Judas would betray him, but sent him out with the other disciples to perform miracles, washed his feet the very night of His betrayal, but despite that, Judas never benefited from the example and teaching Jesus did every day.
- Matthew 10:34, Jesus said, “Do not suppose that I have come to bring peace to the earth. I did not come to bring peace, but a sword.”
- Christ stirred up dissension, cognitive dissonance, like choosing Sabbath to do many of his miracles, eating with gluttons and drunkards...sinners, telling people that they needed to eat his flesh and drink his blood.
- Luke 12:49-51 – I have come to bring fire. I have a baptism to undergo. I did not come to bring peace, but division – even to the families.
- John 8:31, 32 – Jesus said if you hold to my teaching, you are really my disciples. Then you will know the truth and the truth will set you free.

THURSDAY

Wolves Will Come

Read Acts 20:25-31: Paul warned the Ephesian elders that they should keep watch over themselves and all the flock of which the Holy Spirit made them overseers. Be shepherds of the church of the Lord, which he bought with his own blood.. He warned that wolves would come in, even from you r own number, men will arise and distort the truth in order to draw away disciples after them.

Third paragraph: In his Second Epistle to Timothy, Paul wants Timothy, who is responsible for the church at Ephesus, against error in the church and godlessness in the last days.

2 Timothy 2:14-28 and 3:12-17 Paul advises him to:

- Know his Bible, and correctly handle the word of truth.
- Watch out for those who have a form of godliness but deny the power, and those who were saying the resurrection had already taken place.
- He should gently and kindly instruct them, that they might come to their senses.
- Realize that everyone who wants to live a godly life in Christ Jesus will be persecuted.
- The scriptures are able to make you wise. They are God breathed, to teach, correct, train in righteousness, and so be thoroughly equipped for every good work.

Forth paragraph: What about these statements:

- “Truth alone leads to godliness and harmony among believers.”
- “In the end, obedience to the Word of God is the antidote to false teaching that could threaten the unity of the church.”

The Lava view of religions:

- Start hot with new idea, correcting an old idea, get a following, then get cool and stay there. Luther, etc.
- Another person comes up with another new idea, then gets a following and they cool down and stay there. Etc. to the point of having many thousands of religions based on Christ... Wesley, etc
- Could a misunderstanding of a part of the Bible or what Jesus was teaching happen today?Do we think we understand everything?

FRIDAY

Further Thought

First paragraph: Gospel Workers, page 483, by Ellen G. White, “The Lord desires His chosen servants to learn how to unite in harmonious effort. It may seem to some the the contrast between their gifts and the gifts of a fellow laborer is too great to allow them to unite in harmonious effort; but when they remember that there are varied minds to be reached, and that some will reject the truth as it is presented by one laborer, only to open their hears to god's truth as it is presented in a different manner by another laborer, they will hopefully endeavor to labor together in unity. Their talents, however diverse, may all be under the control of the same Spirit. In every word and act, kindness and love will be revealed; and as each worker fills his appointed place faithfully, the prayer of Christ for the unity of His followers will be answered, and the world will know that these are His disciples.”

Discussion Questions:

- What can church leaders and members do to help prevent strife and cliques in a local church?
- In the world church?

Second paragraph:

- 'A proper understanding of God's Word and the sanctified effort to obey it are the best protection against disunity and schism among us.'
- What about a close personal relationship with God and love for Him?

Philippians 4:8,9:

- Think about these things: Whatever is true, noble, right, pure, lovely, admirable, excellent, praiseworthy.
- Instead of digging up dirt, find the gold!
- Matthew 22:37-40: Jesus said that all the law and prophets hang on these: love God with all your heart and your neighbor as yourself.
- Think of what this looks like...who do you know that you could say actually exhibits this behavior?

Oneness in Christ Lesson 3 4Q 2018 “That They All May Be One” by Tim Jennings (announcements on last page)

SABBATH

memory verse, “I do not pray for these alone, but also for those who will believe in Me through their word; that they all may be one, as You, Father, are in Me, and I in You; that they also may be one in Us, that the world may believe that You sent Me.” John 17:20,21 NKJV

What is another word for being “one”? Atone, and the process of bringing us back into oneness is called what? Atonement.

What is the problem that keeps us from being at-one with God and each other?

- Is the problem that causes division, fragmentation, separation from God and others found in God?
- Is the problem found in God’s law?
- Where is the problem found that causes separation? In us—and what is that problem?
- Is the problem that causes separation a historical record of bad deeds or is it an actual defect in our characters, motives, and hearts?
- Then what is the function of the atonement?
- In order to bring us to oneness with God and each other would the problem that causes separation and division need to be resolved?
- So, then, where must the work of Christ in the atonement be focused, effectual, make change in order for oneness to occur? In the heart, minds and souls of sinners.
 - What do you think this quote from the book The Desire of Ages means in regard to where the atonement of Christ must be applied?
 - Sin could be resisted and overcome only through the mighty agency of the Third Person of the Godhead, who would come with no modified energy, but in the fullness of divine power. It is the Spirit that makes effectual what has been wrought out by the world's Redeemer. It is by the Spirit that the heart is made pure. Through the Spirit the believer becomes a partaker of the divine nature. {DA 671.2}
 - What does this mean? Jesus wrought out something—the Remedy to sin—but where is it applied? In the believer!
- Sin causes fear and shame in the sinner and what effect does fear and shame have on the human soul/mind, the inner person? It causes division, it causes fragmentation, it causes one to anticipate rejection to hide, to wear masks.
- God’s healing love and truth must be experienced—thus when Adam and Eve were hiding, God found them and didn’t condemn them, i.e. He knew their defects and loved them showing them grace. The woman caught in adultery—she was terrified, humiliated, ashamed, and Jesus saw her and showed her grace, she experienced God’s love and it healed her. She was brought into unity with God. But the Pharisees misdiagnosed sin as deeds, not a condition of heart, and they wanted to stone her.

- Since Satan failed to prevent Christ from completing His work while on earth 2000 years ago, what strategy does Satan employ today to obstruct the atonement? He gets people to misdiagnose the problem of sin, to misunderstand the solution, and therefore misapply the work of Christ to either God, God's law or God's record books, creating ongoing falsehoods like, God declares us to be righteous even though we are not.
- Therefore, again we see that the penal substitution theology, which teaches that atonement is a legal process in which Jesus' blood is applied to record books, or to the law, or to God is a lie. We cannot achieve what God wants for us until we reject this penal legal lie and return to Bible truth.

Read first paragraph, "The Gospel..." As soon as I read this I thought: Should this be called His high priestly prayer?

I immediately had several concerns about this. I understand why those in the penal camp call this prayer His high priestly prayer, because it is essential for them that Jesus plead to God for them because in their false view without Jesus pleading to God, God would be required by holiness and justice to torture and kill them. Just think about that, what kind of God are they serving?

Why do I have questions about labeling this prayer Jesus' high priestly prayer?

In the OT Levitical system Jesus was represented by multiple actors that represented His multiple roles.

- Jesus was represented in His pre-incarnate state by Moses who went into God's presence talked with God, then left God's presence and confronted the ruler who enslaved the people, set the people free and established the sanctuary. Jesus planned with God our salvation, then left God's presence came to earth confronted the ruler of this world who holds us in the slavery of sin, broke the bonds of sin providing us freedom and established God's true sanctuary.
- Jesus during His 33 years as a human on earth, while subject to death, was represented by the sacrificial lamb. As John the Baptist said, "the lamb of God who takes away the sin of the world."
- And AFTER His death, resurrection and ascension Jesus is represented by the high priest.

The first concern I have about calling His prayer in John 17 His high priestly prayer is that it is inconsistent with the symbolism of the OT sanctuary service as Jesus had not yet entered the role of High Priest.

The High Priest needed what the sacrificial blood represented in order to fulfill the role of High Priest. Therefore, in order for Jesus to fulfill the role of High Priest He had to first obtain what He was on earth as a human to obtain—a perfect human character while simultaneously destroying the lies of Satan and the infection of selfishness.

- For we do not have a high priest who is unable to sympathize with our weaknesses, but we have one who has been tempted in every way, just as we are—yet was without sin. Heb 4:15
- Although he was a son, he learned obedience from what he suffered and, once made perfect, he became the source of eternal salvation for all who obey him and was designated by God to be high priest in the order of Melchizedek. Heb 5:8-10

Jesus had to be tempted and overcome those temptation, and to develop a perfect character, and destroy the infection of fear and selfishness and then He could enter the role of High Priest because He would have developed/achieved what He as High Priest would need in order to accomplish His work as High Priest.

And what is the work of High Priest? Cleansing the temple and out of what material is the heavenly temple constructed? Human beings—we are living stones built together into a house for the Lord!

Thus Jesus needed to finish His work on earth in order to reveal Satan as a liar, reveal the truth of His character and develop a perfect sinless human character to reproduce in us. The Penal View, has the wrong diagnosis, and thus has the High Priest focusing and working in the wrong place, either in record books or on the Father's attitude, rather than in the hearts and minds of sinners.

Thus far the idea that Jesus was functioning as High Priest in John 17 is not consistent with the symbolism of the sanctuary, and it contradicts Hebrews description of when Jesus was designated as High Priest by His Father, and it denies the need for Jesus to actually obtain the remedy to sin which He would wield as High Priest before becoming High Priest.

And then we read this in Heb 7:25:

Therefore, he is able to save completely those who come to God through him, because he always lives to intercede for them.

Notice what the role of the High Priest is—to save us by His intercessions.

- Could Jesus save us without His victory on the Cross? Thus, could He function as High Priest without His victory?
- Where is the defect that causes separation from God found—in God, God's law, or in humankind?
- Then where is the remedy that Christ achieved to be applied—to God, God's law, or in humankind?
- Then where does Christ intercede, to His Father or in you and me?

Then the prayer of John 17 is not a high priestly prayer, but a prayer of our second Adam, the one who is struggling to, as the new head of humanity, reverse and fix what Adam did. And, as the representative head of the species human before God He prays as a loving parent for all His children asking the Father for the fulfillment of all that they had previously planned together.

SUNDAY

Read first paragraph, “The high-priestly prayer...” The fact that Jesus did pray for Himself should give some insight that He was not functioning as High Priest, but was functioning as our second Adam here to fix what Adam broke and as a human was being tempted in every way just like we are, and expressing His human longings, needs, and concerns.

Read second paragraph, “Jesus intercedes for Himself...” What do you think of this idea?

Does it sound a little odd to intercede for oneself? Does it even meet the definition of intercession?

Dictionary definition of intercede is:

1. to act or interpose in behalf of someone in difficulty or trouble, as by pleading or petition
2. to attempt to reconcile differences between two people or groups; mediate.

Did Jesus have any differences, divisions, conflicts, fractures with His Father that He needed to reconcile? Or did Jesus, in this very prayer, pray that all of us may be one with God just as Jesus and the Father are perfectly united?

If they are already one, if the Father was in the Son reconciling the world to Himself, if seeing Jesus is seeing the Father, then was there any division between the two that needed some intercession?

So, what was this prayer if not intercessory? The same type prayer He had been having with His Father His entire human life—ongoing intimate communication with His Father, the pouring out of His human heart concerns, longings, passions, feelings, and needs to strengthen His bond with His Father preparing for His final battle on earth and the completion of His mission.

Maybe it would be helpful to actually read Jesus’ prayer, so let’s pause and read the entire prayer, from The Remedy:

"Father, the time for the completion of my mission has come. Now bring the attention of the entire universe to your Son, that I may reveal your true nature, character and government, and thus bring all glory and honor to you.² For you placed the security of the entire universe in my hands, so that all who unite with me may have eternal life.³ Now, eternal life is this: having an intimate knowledge of you, and connection with you—the only true God, and me—Jesus Christ, your Son whom you have sent.⁴ I have exalted and magnified you on earth by completing the mission you gave me. I have revealed your true character, methods and principles, exposed Satan as a liar (and his methods of selfishness as the cause of death), and procured the Remedy for sinfulness.⁵ And now, Father, bring me back to you that I might occupy my rightful place at your side—the very place I had before this world was made.

⁶"I have revealed your gracious, loving and benevolent character and methods to those you chose to be my disciples, and who receive this healing truth. Their hearts were loyal to you; you gave them to me to instruct and heal, and they have listened, understood, and freely chosen to follow your ways.⁷ Now they understand that everything I did was a revelation of you.⁸ For I presented the truth about you—your love and kindness, your respect for freedom of choice and truthfulness, your graciousness and constant giving of yourself for the welfare of your creation—and they wholeheartedly embraced it. They know with certainty that I am here as your ambassador, with your full approval and authority.⁹ My heart yearns for them, Father—that the Remedy complete its work of healing their characters. I'm not asking that the Remedy heal those who have refused to take it, but I'm asking for those whom you gave me to instruct and heal, for they now love and trust you too.¹⁰ Our love is pure, as all I have are yours, and all you have are mine. And their transformed hearts and minds powerfully confirm that I have faithfully discharged my mission and brought them back to you.¹¹ My mission here is almost complete, and I will no longer stay in this selfish world, but they will remain to carry the Remedy throughout the world. I am coming home to you. Holy Father, protect them from the lies and deceptions of Satan by reinforcing in their minds the truth of your character and principles—your character of love and your principles of truth and freedom that you revealed through me—so that they may be unified in love, truth, freedom, purpose, motive, and righteousness of character, as you and I are united.¹² While I was with them, I protected them from deception by constantly revealing the truth and showing them love. None has been lost to the infection of selfishness, except—as the Scriptures foretold—Judas, who refused the Remedy, and whose death was the inevitable result of unimpeded selfishness.

¹³"I am coming home to you now, but I say these things while I am still here on the earth so that they may see the importance of daily heart-searching conversation with you, and experience the full joy that comes from constant unity with you.¹⁴ I have given them the truth about you, but the selfish world hates them because they have the antidote to fear and selfishness, and are not in harmony with the principles of the world any more than I am.¹⁵ My desire is not that you take them out of the world, but that you protect their minds from being reinfected with deceit, fear and selfishness from the evil one.¹⁶ They are not in harmony with the world, even as I am not in harmony with it.¹⁷ Settle their minds so fully and completely into the truth that nothing can ever move them from it—your word is truth.¹⁸ As you sent me into the world to be your ambassador—to reveal the truth about you—so have I sent them into the world to be our ambassadors to reveal the truth about us.¹⁹ I have committed myself completely—holding nothing back—in order to bring them the only antidote to sin through which they may be fully restored to your original ideal for mankind.

²⁰"My heart's desire is not for them alone. My heart also longs for those who will accept the Remedy they will spread—²¹that those who accept the Remedy will also be fully restored to your original ideal and will be in complete unity, Father, just as you and I are in complete unity in all things. May they also be in unity with us, so that the selfish world may see the power of the healing truth I have brought, and know that you have sent me.²² I have given them the full truth about you, your methods, principles and character that you gave me, that they may be in complete harmony and unity as we are:²³ my character reproduced in them, and your character flowing out from me. May they be restored to complete unity—practicing only your methods—so the world will know that you sent me as the healing solution, and that you have loved them even as you have loved me.

²⁴"Father, I want those you gave me (to instruct and heal) to be with me wherever I am, and to see my unveiled glory—the glory that comes from your love—the glory of being one with you before the world was created.

²⁵"Perfect and righteous Father, though the selfish world believes all sorts of lies about you—and therefore does not know you—I know you, and they know that you have sent me. They hate me because they prefer their lies about you to the truth.²⁶ But I have made you known to them in order to dispel the lies about you that Satan has spread—the lies that prevent them from knowing you. I will keep making you known, for this is the only healing solution—the truth about you which dispels the lies, restores trust, and results in the love you have for me being reproduced in them. Then the infection of selfishness will be removed, and my character of selfless love will be restored within them."

What did you hear?

Did it sound like Jesus trying to convince His Father, or Jesus communicating with a trusted friend about their joint operations in the war against evil?

WEDNESDAY

Read third paragraph, "At the same time..." What is that apostacy, how would you describe it?

Is apostacy primarily about not holding the right doctrinal understanding—or is it not being true to Jesus and not representing God correctly, not only in the doctrines we teach, but in how we function, what methods we use, how we treat others, how we wield power?

Did you read the article by William Johnson in Spectrum?

<https://spectrummagazine.org/views/2018/time-speak-out>

The article is entitled: Time to Speak Out

He opens with:

"We have come to a Luther moment for Seventh-day Adventists. I do not say "for the SDA Church," because the church at its highest levels is the problem. The speaking out must come at the level of the individual, the member who, along with others, is the church."

A little later he writes:

“But I am not alone in my distress over my beloved church. If my concerns were only mine I would be happy to dismiss them as the trepidations of aging brain cells. But they are not. I could list the names of Adventist “greats” past and present who feel as I do. All are household names, all people are respected for their integrity.

“Just over a week ago one of them e-mailed me, pouring out his heart. Titling his message ‘Dismay,’ he wrote:

We have not communicated in a long while. But madness has not stopped growing. I have to confess that I have now given up on hoping and thinking that the central leadership team at the GC can be brought to turn around and think differently and to allow the Balm in Gilead to bring the much-needed healing into our church. Instead they are tearing us apart. For _____, I think this is by design, brought on by a much-corrupted and ill-guided theology.

I pray every day for the church, but I don't know how much further God will allow this to slide.

How sad! Here is a renowned leader, one who has given his whole life to building up the Seventh-day Adventist church, now in retirement dealing with profound dismay at what is happening.”

What is apostasy? Can one be an apostate while promoting all 28 fundamental beliefs?

This week one of our longtime friends and supporters, who attends church in Kentucky, was disfellowshipped from his church for sharing this view about God. He was limited in what he was allowed to say in his defense and the majority who voted did so without examining the evidence of the issue, but instead siding with the allegations of the pastor that this person was teaching heresy.

I was reading about Martin Luther in a book The Great Controversy this morning and came across this:

Charge after charge he hurled against Luther as an enemy of the church and the state, the living and the dead, clergy and laity, councils and private Christians....{GC 148.1}

With such weapons the advocates of truth in every age have been attacked. The same arguments are still urged against all who dare to present, in opposition to established errors, the plain and direct teachings of God's word. "Who are these preachers of new doctrines?" exclaim those who desire a popular religion. "They are unlearned, few in numbers, and of the poorer class. Yet they claim to have the truth, and to be the chosen people of God. They are ignorant and deceived. How greatly superior in numbers and influence is our church! How many great and learned men are among us! How much more power is on our side!" These are the arguments that have a telling influence upon the world; but they are no more conclusive now than in the days of the Reformer. {GC 148.3}

The Reformation did not, as many suppose, end with Luther. It is to be continued to the close of this world's history. Luther had a great work to do in reflecting to others the light which God had permitted to shine upon him; yet he did not receive all the light which was to be given to the world. From that time to this, new light has been continually shining upon the Scriptures, and new truths have been constantly unfolding. {GC 148.4}

What would you say is the final message to lighten the world? What is the core final truth that is necessary to finish the Reformation and lighten the world for Christ's return?

It is the rejection of the human law construct with its penal/legal theology and return to God as Creator, worshipping Him who made the heavens, sea and fountains of water, which requires we return to design law, the laws upon which life were created to operate. Then we realize the truth—that sin is breaking God's design which destroys the sinner and God is working through Christ to fix what sin did to His creation.

MONDAY

Read first paragraph, "Jesus prays..." What would threaten the faith of the disciples? What about them and their situation that made their faith in Jesus vulnerable?

Were they struggling with multiple layers of misunderstanding about God, His methods, His design law, the mission and purpose of Jesus, and what Jesus had to actually accomplish for our salvation?

Were they vulnerable because even though Jesus had told them several times that He was going to die and rise again, they either didn't understand it, didn't believe it, or it was too upsetting for them to think about so they either ignored it or denied it?

Who, after the crucifixion and before the resurrection, showed that they heard what Jesus said about dying and rising again?

The next day, the one after Preparation Day, the chief priests and the Pharisees went to Pilate. ⁶³ "Sir," they said, "we remember that while he was still alive that deceiver said, 'After three days I will rise again.' ⁶⁴ So give the order for the tomb to be made secure until the third day. Otherwise, his disciples may come and steal the body and tell the people that he has been raised from the dead. This last deception will be worse than the first."

⁶⁵ "Take a guard," Pilate answered. "Go, make the tomb as secure as you know how." ⁶⁶ So they went and made the tomb secure by putting a seal on the stone and posting the guard. Mt 27:62-65

So, Jesus' prediction of His death and resurrection was known, even to His enemies, yet the disciples somehow drew no comfort from it.

In the last sentence of the second paragraph the lesson states, “That is why Jesus needs to intercede for them that the evil one will not defeat them. (Mt 6:13)”

This is well said!!! Hurray, excellent!!! In this description with whom is Jesus interceding? Is He interceding with His Father or is He interceding in us and in the world to obstruct and oppose Satan and sin?

Then why was Jesus praying to the Father for the disciples if His focus was to obstruct sin and Satan?

First, because Jesus was about to be removed from their presence and not be available to them during the time He was in the tomb so He was doing what all people do with those they love, He was putting them in the hands of the One He trusted the most His Father.

And the second reason He was praying for them was—they were not praying for themselves. They were not seeking God, they were not opening themselves up to God for the strength they would need, they were not engaging their hearts and minds to reason with God and to wrestle against their fears and misunderstanding, so Jesus, as a friend, prays to His Father, just as you pray for your friends and family, not to influence God to do something God doesn’t want to do, but to open avenues within the divine system for God to act.

We are reading Jesus prayer in John 17, but if we read just a few verses before this, in John 16:25-27 we get insight into this:

Though I have been speaking figuratively, a time is coming when I will no longer use this kind of language but will tell you plainly about my Father. ²⁶ In that day you will ask in my name. I am not saying that I will ask the Father on your behalf. ²⁷ No, the Father himself loves you because you have loved me and have believed that I came from God.

In other words, Jesus in John 17 prays because they were not praying, but when they pray—connect and converse with God, Jesus will not pray for them, there will be no need.

This is exactly why Jesus said just a few verses before this:

Nevertheless I tell you the truth: it is to your advantage that I go away, for if I do not go away, the Advocate will not come to you; but if I go, I will send him to you. John 16:7 NRSV

They needed to exercise their own individuality to trust in God, think for themselves, pray and develop their own trust relationship with God, enlightened and empowered by the Holy Spirit in order for them to be healed and transformed.

Read bottom pink section, “What does it mean to be ‘not of the world’?” Where does patriotism fall? If we are patriots to an earthly kingdom can our hearts be fully united to God’s kingdom?

Paul writing to the Philippians said:

But our citizenship is in heaven. And we eagerly await a Savior from there, the Lord Jesus Christ, who, by the power that enables him to bring everything under his control, will transform our lowly bodies so that they will be like his glorious body. 3:20,21

Do you ever get frustrated and discouraged as you watch the politics in your country? Could it be that such events are to help us cut our ties of loyalty to worldly systems and commit our hearts fully to God's kingdom?

TUESDAY

The second paragraph states, "As the Father and Son are one, Jesus prayed that future believers also would be one."

In what way? How are we to be one?

What is the primary way we are to be one?

Is it not in character, in methods, in principles i.e. we love God and others more than self and practice God's principles—truth, love freedom?

Can we be united in Godly character and principle and have differences in our understanding of doctrinal points?

Why then is there so much emphasis on getting the doctrines right? Because those at level four find security NOT in heart transformation, but in right behavior and rule compliance, which means attesting to the right doctrines or beliefs.

There security is in having the right facts—it is a form of Gnosticism, rather than having the right heart that comes from an intimate connection with the Creator God.

Read the second to last paragraph, "God is leading out a people to stand..." How would you define eternal truth? If we are to be united on the platform of eternal truth, shouldn't we be able to define what that is?

Would it be truth that is true for all eternity, past and future? Hmmm... then would the 10 Commandments be part of eternal truth? Or were the 10 commandments added as part of God's tools and interventions to lead us back to eternal truth?

Can we reason this out from the evidence of God's word?

- Did angels have laws about sins passing down the generations or adultery or honoring their mothers and fathers?
- Was there a Sabbath before earth was created? Jesus said the Sabbath was made for humankind

Here is a quote from the book The Story of Redemption

The law of God existed before man was created. [what law, the 10 commandments? Is that what was said, or merely the law? Would it not be the design law of God, which life is built upon including the law of love?] The angels were governed by it. Satan fell because he transgressed the principles of God's government. [what does this mean, he broke a rule or he stepped out of harmony with the protocols upon which life was built?] After Adam and Eve were created, God made known to them His law. It was not then written, but was rehearsed to them by Jehovah. {SR 145.1}

The Sabbath of the fourth commandment was instituted in Eden. After God had made the world and created man upon the earth, He made the Sabbath for man. After Adam's sin and fall nothing was taken from the law of God. The principles of the Ten Commandments existed before the fall and were of a character suited to the condition of a holy order of beings. After the fall the principles of those precepts were not changed, but additional precepts were given to meet man in his fallen state... [what does this mean?] {SR 145.2}
If the law of God had not been transgressed, there never would have been death, and there would have been no need of additional precepts to suit man's fallen condition. {SR 145.3}

So what are the eternal truths upon which we are to stand?

- The truth of God's character of love and His methods of governing which are design laws upon which life is built and are expressed as Love the Lord your God.... and neighbor as self....
- Be a lover of the truth, of how reality functions as God built it, the wicked are lost because they do not love the truth
- Freedom—present the truth in love and leave others free

Where do the 10 Commandments fit in? A diagnostic tool added to bring us back to God for healing, and a protective hedge while we are being healed.

THURSDAY

Read first paragraph, "Generally..." When Jesus said if you love me you will keep my commandments, was He primarily talking about the 10 commandments or to love God and others?

Can one genuinely love God and others and have a crucifix or other image of Jesus or saints in their home?

Can someone genuinely love God and others and not observe the seventh day Sabbath?

Can someone keep all the 10 commandments and not love God or others?

Does this mean there is no Bible Sabbath?

FRIDAY

The lesson makes the distinction between God's true church and the remnant—what do you understand this distinction to be?

As time unfolds will this distinction persist, or does the world coalesce into two camps—the saved and lost, sheep and goats etc.?

What would be the key elements that distinguish the two groups?

³¹ “When the Son of Man comes in his glory, and all the angels with him, he will sit on his throne in heavenly glory. ³² All the nations will be gathered before him, and he will separate the people one from another as a shepherd separates the sheep from the goats. ³³ He will put the sheep on his right and the goats on his left.

³⁴ “Then the King will say to those on his right, ‘Come, you who are blessed by my Father; take your inheritance, the kingdom prepared for you since the creation of the world. ³⁵ For I was hungry and you gave me something to eat, I was thirsty and you gave me something to drink, I was a stranger and you invited me in, ³⁶ I needed clothes and you clothed me, I was sick and you looked after me, I was in prison and you came to visit me.’

³⁷ “Then the righteous will answer him, ‘Lord, when did we see you hungry and feed you, or thirsty and give you something to drink? ³⁸ When did we see you a stranger and invite you in, or needing clothes and clothe you? ³⁹ When did we see you sick or in prison and go to visit you?’

⁴¹ “Then he will say to those on his left, ‘Depart from me, you who are cursed, into the eternal fire prepared for the devil and his angels. ⁴² For I was hungry and you gave me nothing to eat, I was thirsty and you gave me nothing to drink, ⁴³ I was a stranger and you did not invite me in, I needed clothes and you did not clothe me, I was sick and in prison and you did not look after me.’

⁴⁴ “They also will answer, ‘Lord, when did we see you hungry or thirsty or a stranger or needing clothes or sick or in prison, and did not help you?’

⁴⁵“He will reply, ‘I tell you the truth, whatever you did not do for one of the least of these, you did not do for me.’ Mt 25:31-45

Oneness in Christ Lesson 4 4Q 2018

The Key to Unity

by Tim Jennings (announcements last page)

SABBATH

Read memory text: “Having made known to us the mystery of His will, according to His good pleasure which He purposed in Himself, that in the dispensation of the fullness of the times He might gather together in one all things in Christ, both which are in heaven and which are on earth—in Him.” Eph 1:9,10 NKJV

What is a mystery? Something hidden? Not understood? Not known?

And what is this mystery, this thing that was not known or understood?

That the universe will be unified by Jesus—He will be the one who brings us all into unity as we unite with Him.

Are there other mysteries in the Bible?

- Daniel chapter 2 Nebuchadnezzar has a dream:
 - ²⁷ Daniel replied, “No wise man, enchanter, magician or diviner can explain to the king the mystery he has asked about, ²⁸ but there is a God in heaven who reveals mysteries. He has shown King Nebuchadnezzar what will happen in days to come. Your dream and the visions that passed through your mind as you lay on your bed are these:
 - ²⁹ “As you were lying there, O king, your mind turned to things to come, and the revealer of mysteries showed you what is going to happen. ³⁰ As for me, this mystery has been revealed to me, not because I have greater wisdom than other living men, but so that you, O king, may know the interpretation and that you may understand what went through your mind.
 - What was this mystery that was revealed to the king through Daniel?
- “In the time of those kings, the God of heaven will set up a kingdom that will never be destroyed, nor will it be left to another people. It will crush all those kingdoms and bring them to an end, but it will itself endure forever. ⁴⁵ This is the meaning of the vision of the rock cut out of a mountain, but not by human hands—a rock that broke the iron, the bronze, the clay, the silver and the gold to pieces. vs 44-45.
 - What was the mystery revealed? All the universe being brought back into unity through the Rock, and that Rock is who? Jesus Christ—this is the same mystery that Paul is talking about.
- Romans 11:25,26: “I do not want you to be ignorant of this mystery, brothers, so that you may not be conceited: Israel has experienced a hardening in part until the full number of the Gentiles has come in. ²⁶ And so all Israel will be saved...”

- What is this mystery? Bringing Jews and Gentiles together into one group of unified saved—the same mystery.
- Romans 16:25-27: “Now to him who is able to establish you by my gospel and the proclamation of Jesus Christ, according to the revelation of the mystery hidden for long ages past,²⁶ but now revealed and made known through the prophetic writings by the command of the eternal God, so that all nations might believe and obey him—
 - What is this mystery? Bringing all nations into unity—the same mystery.
- 1Cor 15:51-52: “Listen, I tell you a mystery: We will not all sleep, but we will all be changed—⁵² in a flash, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trumpet. For the trumpet will sound, the dead will be raised imperishable, and we will be changed.”
 - What is this mystery?
 - The fulfillment of restoring this creation back to perfection and thus bringing us back into unity with the rest of the universe—the same mystery—just a little more detail
- Ephesians 3:2-6: “Surely you have heard about the administration of God’s grace that was given to me for you,³ that is, the mystery made known to me by revelation, as I have already written briefly.⁴ In reading this, then, you will be able to understand my insight into the mystery of Christ,⁵ which was not made known to men in other generations as it has now been revealed by the Spirit to God’s holy apostles and prophets.⁶ This mystery is that through the gospel the Gentiles are heirs together with Israel, members together of one body, and sharers together in the promise in Christ Jesus.”
 - What mystery? The same mystery—bringing all back into unity through Christ!
- Ephesians 5:25-33: “Husbands, love your wives, just as Christ loved the church and gave himself up for her²⁶ to make her holy, cleansing her by the washing with water through the word,²⁷ and to present her to himself as a radiant church, without stain or wrinkle or any other blemish, but holy and blameless.²⁸ In this same way, husbands ought to love their wives as their own bodies. He who loves his wife loves himself.²⁹ After all, no one ever hated his own body, but he feeds and cares for it, just as Christ does the church—³⁰ for we are members of his body.³¹ “For this reason a man will leave his father and mother and be united to his wife, and the two will become one flesh.”³² This is a profound mystery—but I am talking about Christ and the church.”
 - What mystery? Bringing all people back into unity or oneness with Christ as Jesus prayed in John 17—the same mystery!
- Col 1:26-27: “the mystery that has been kept hidden for ages and generations, but is now disclosed to the saints.²⁷ To them God has chosen to make known among the Gentiles the glorious riches of this mystery, which is Christ in you, the hope of glory.”
 - What mystery? Unity in Christ and does this text give any further insight into how we all become unified? By Christ coming to dwell in our hearts as the one most loved, trusted, adored, and whom we long to be like, and of whose character we partake!

So what is the mystery of God? God’s plan and actions to remove sin, selfishness, lies, corruption, and all deviations from His perfect design of love and restore His character of love, methods of truth and freedom into the hearts and minds of all who trust Him, thus bringing us into genuine unity with him and the unfallen universe.

Do you agree? Then consider this text:

- Revelation 10:7: “But in the days when the seventh angel is about to sound his trumpet, the mystery of God will be accomplished, just as he announced to his servants the prophets.”
 - What is the mystery? God’s plan to unify us!
 - What does this text add?
 - When in human history is this time period? Now!

And what is it that is required to bring us into unity?

The truth about God that wins to trust resulting in hearts that open and invite in the Holy Spirit who comes with the power of God to recreate and restore filling us with God’s love and reproducing in us the character of Christ!

It is NOT unity of thought—it is unity of heart, affection, love, principle, motive, method.

We can be unified in Christ and still differ on:

- Our understanding of Revelation
- On what day we attend church
- On how we are ceremonially baptized
- On what Bible version we read
- On how we partake communion
- On what foods we eat
- On how we dress

But we cannot be united in Christ if we are selfish in character and driven by fear.

What incites fear and selfishness? Believing lies about God!

Thus, the theologies that cause us to mistrust God, to live in fear of God, to utilize the methods of this selfish world to punish and coerce others into conformity cause division, fragmentation, and undermine God’s plan.

We, at this time in earth’s history have a message—a message powerful, healing, ennobling, triumphant—a message to lighten the world, to dispel the darkness, to free hearts and minds, to bring people back into unity with God through Christ—it is the message of the three angels, to worship Him who made the heavens and earth, sea and fountains of waters—to worship the Designer and to come out of the worldly system of Babylon with its imposed laws and reject the imperial dictator views of God!

This means we must reject the imperial human law construct with the lie of penal substitution and the false legal interpretations that cause division and prevent the mystery of God from being realized in our lives today.

- What is another word for bringing us into unity? Atonement—
- And what time in history are we living? The antitypical day of atonement—
- And what is another symbolic way of teaching this mystery of bringing us all into unity? The sanctuary message—
- And what is the cleansing of the sanctuary, which is to happen before the Feast of Tabernacles, before we live with God in an earth made new? It is the cleansing of our hearts and minds, the mystery of God, restoring us back into His perfect design, bringing us back into oneness with Him!

SUNDAY

Read first paragraph, “The followers of Jesus...” “In Christ we have been adopted...” What does “In Christ” mean?

I think it has two meanings both of which are true, depending on how the phrase is used:

- In the person of Jesus Christ, in His own victory as the second Adam the species human was fixed, restored to perfection and now stands in God’s presence. So in Jesus we, the species human, are restored to God’s family.
- In unity with Jesus Christ, we as individuals can be in Christ by being united in heart, mind, attitude, love, desire, method, motive. We are in oneness with Him, as Jesus prayed in John 17. Thus as individuals we are restored to God’s family.

What of the idea of adoption? Is this a legal process or some other process that is actual, literal, real and not a legal declaration?

- What is the difference between legal and real?
- We can pass laws to make tobacco legal, we cannot pass laws to make it healthy
- If we passed a law in a country that said one race or people were not fully human, but were subhuman (perhaps the laws passed by the Nazi’s in Germany about the Jews, or Jim Crow laws in America) does that make it real?

What is adoption? The act of adopting—what does it mean to adopt?

Its most fundamental meaning, from which the act of adopting a child comes, is: “to choose or take as one’s own; make one’s own by selection or assent.”

i.e. John adopted the nickname JJ...

Adopt means to make something one’s own by specifically choosing to do so.

So, what then would it mean to be adopted by God?

That after Adam and Eve chose to break their unity with God and alienate themselves in heart, mind, character, God, through Christ, chose to take humanity (the species human) back as His own, to make it is own. How?

Jesus adopted humanity when He became incarnate. He didn't simply appear as a human, he became human—He adopted humanity as part of His being for all eternity! Think about it! And He fixed what Adam did to humanity thus Jesus restored the species human back into God's original design! Humanity became God's own by God's choice to adopt humanity in the person of Jesus.

Do we have an individual part to play in our personal adoption as sons and daughters of God? While God, through Christ, adopted humanity when Christ became incarnate, we must adopt (personally assent or choose to make our own) the new heart and right spirit freely offered us by God through Christ.

So, is this adoption a legal action or an actual chosen experience by both God and the saved?

Consider these quotes by one of the founders of the SDA church:

The principles of heaven are to be adopted and practiced by those who claim to walk in the Saviour's footsteps. . . . {Counsels on Health 528.1}

What is described? That we adopt, by our choice, the principles of heaven. Hmmm is this part of being adopted into the family of God?

If we wish to be adopted into the family of God, to become children of the heavenly King, we must comply with His conditions; [Does this indicate that for us as individuals it is not a legal declaration by God in heaven? What are the conditions?] we must come out from the world and stand as a peculiar people before the Lord, obeying His precepts and serving Him. {4T 109.4} [What does this mean obeying His precepts? Which law lens do you hear it through? It simply means choosing to agree and trust God and living in harmony with His design, i.e. being part of the family of beings that love God and others.]

God wants every child of tender age to be his child, to be adopted into his family. Young though they may be, the youth may be members of the household of faith, and have the most precious experience. They may have hearts that are tender, and ready to receive lasting impressions. Their hearts may be drawn out in confidence and love for Jesus, and they may live for the Saviour. Christ will make them little missionaries. The whole current of their thoughts may be changed, so that sin will not appear a thing to be enjoyed, but to be hated and shunned . . . {The Southern Review July 18, 1899 par. 5}

What is being described? A legal process or a transforming process in the intelligent being?

When we understand God as Creator and His laws as the laws upon which all life is built, then we see clearly the beauty God has for us and understand accurately the meaning of what the Bible is teaching. But when we read the Bible through the false human law lens the truth about God is obscured.

At the end of the third paragraph the lesson states, “God does not use coercion to save anyone.”

This is well said, absolutely true and without exception. With this truth in mind what ideas can we know are wrong in Christianity?

- Any idea that has God using His power to inflict punishment for sin
- Any idea that is coercive is contrary to God’s nature and character and a result of the false human law construct.
- God is required by holiness or justice to use power to inflict pain, suffering and death for sin
- Jesus died to pay a legal penalty
- God will torture people in hell
- God is the source of pain, suffering and death
- We need someone to stand between us and God to protect us from God
- Such ideas obstruct trust, incite fear, oppose love and damage minds, hearts, characters and relationships and increase fragmentation and division.

If we reject all the false legal, imperial and punishing views of God does that mean there is no punishment for sin, that all will be saved? No! Why?

- sin pays its wage and the wage is death Rom 6:23
- Is there a punishment for jumping off a tall building?
- Is there a punishment for smoking cigarettes?
- Is there a punishment for abusing drugs?
- Is there a punishment for cheating on your spouse—even if the spouse doesn’t know?
- Is there a punishment for welding without eye protection?
- From where does the punishment come?
- From breaking the laws upon which God built life to exist
- And who continues to sustain the operation of those laws? which means what?
- God will not change His universe to meet sinners in sin—we must be changed to live in harmony with God and His design. As Jesus said “Remember that as long as heaven and earth last, not the least point nor the smallest detail of the Law will be done away with...” Mt 5:18 GNB
- Does this give insight into what Paul meant in 1Cor 15:56: “The sting of death is sin, and the power of sin is the law.”

Understanding this we can understand how God punishes sin—not by actively using His power to inflict punishment, but by sustaining the operations of His universe, His laws, including the law of liberty and in the end leaving unrepentant sinners free to experience what one experiences what unremedied sin does.

The last paragraph states, “God wills that all men should be saved; for ample provision has been made, in giving His only-begotten Son to pay man's ransom."

What does this mean? How do we understand such language? What law lens to we hear it through?

What is the function of a ransom? The price to free one held in captivity or bondage.

What holds us in bondage? The lies we believe about God and our own sinful nature.

What is the price necessary to set us free? The truth to destroy lies and win us to trust and a new nature—both of which Christ provided/achieved at great cost to Himself.

To whom are these provided or given or paid? To us!

Notice, there is no legal payment involved at all!

MONDAY

Read first paragraph, "Some of the deepest divisions..." What is meant by deepest divisions?

We need to clarify because when I was in the military I was Division Psychiatrist for the 3rd Infantry Division—we have divisions in the military—which are separate units—but are the various divisions in an Army divided, or were the various US Army divisions that invaded Normandy united?

Now within our 3rd Infantry Division we had people of different races, ethnicity and religion—yet we were all part of the same Division and were united in a common mission or purpose.

Are there any lessons from this example?

Why do differences all too often cause division (and in this case I mean fragmentation and hostile opposition, not organized partitions)?

What is the underlying motive that contributes to the fragmentation and hostility when difference exist between people and groups of people? Fear and selfishness, which can be exploited with lies, such as people of different groups are less than human—devaluing in some way.

Why do people get threatened and act violently when someone believes differently about God than they do?

Have you ever known some people who get upset or angry at their spouse if the spouse has an idea, opinion, or conclusion that is different than their own?

Why? Because in the mind of the one who gets angry an idea that is different is not seen as a new possibility to be considered, examined, evaluated and if true appreciated, but instead is seen as an indictment against them—that they are either wrong or stupid or ignorant.

In other words, the one who gets angry is afraid—afraid of not being good enough, bright enough, smart enough, and fears rejection and cannot tolerate ideas that challenge their own.

Could this be a similar process with those who are intolerant of other's religious ideas?

What about scientist and liberals who are intolerant of Christian values or beliefs, what is demonstrated?

Have you ever been taught that one day the conservative Christians will take hold of government to enforce certain religious observances? And history is filled with countless examples of just that:

- The Inquisition
- Mormon's oppressed and persecuted by Christians
- Muslims oppressing Christians
- Christians persecuting and criminalizing homosexuality
- Murders and bombings of abortion doctors or clinics by so-called Christians

But what is happening in the US today is the opposite, those who reject a belief in God and embrace a humanistic godless worldview are inciting mobs seeking to take hold of government to force people to live according to their moral standards—whether it be forcing people to provide abortion treatment, forcing people to participate in gay weddings, forcing people to share bathrooms with a gender conflicted person who appears to be of the opposite sex.

I am not focusing on abortion or gender rights, we should treat all people with equality—valuing each of them—I am focusing on the methods people employ in dealing with others who don't agree. Do we present the truth (as we understand or believe it) in love and leave others free or do we seek to coerce in some way, to force others to comply with our values?

And the point is, it doesn't matter if one is politically right or left, if one doesn't stand on Godly principles of truth and love founded upon design law, one ultimately resorts to coercion of others.

We need to move away from rules and check-box thinking to principle-based methods so we can recognize beastly methods wherever they present and with whatever issue is being advanced.

In the second paragraph the lesson quotes Ephesians 2:13, which reads, “But now in Christ Jesus you who once were far off have been brought near by the blood of Christ.”

What does this mean?

Is the text referring to literal red corpuscles or is it a metaphor?

Of what is the blood symbolic? The life of Christ—how does the life of Christ bring us near? By demonstrating the truth about God and dispelling lies which leads us to trust, and by providing a template of a new character which we receive from the Holy Spirit. We get new desires, motives, longings etc.

TUESDAY

Read second paragraph, “The practical...” This is the key to unity—love, which loves others more than self, always seeking the best interest of others.

If we love others what happens to our fear and insecurity?

If we love others what happens to the desire to dominate others?

If we love others what happens to racial, ethnic and religious difference when we interact with others?

So, does love for others bring unity?

If yes, then what did Christ mean when He said in Mt 10:34-36:

“Do not suppose that I have come to bring peace to the earth. I did not come to bring peace, but a sword.”³⁵ For I have come to turn

“ ‘a man against his father, a daughter against her mother,
a daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law—

³⁶ a man’s enemies will be the members of his own household.’

From The Remedy:

"Don't think that I have come to make peace with a selfish world. I have not come to bring peace with selfishness, but a sword to cut selfishness out of the hearts of people.³⁵ I have come to cut dysfunctional family ties: to free a son from selfish loyalty to his father's ambitions and feuds, to sever a daughter from the control of an oppressive and manipulative mother, to cut through the fear and hostility a daughter-in-law has toward her mother-in-law.³⁶ A person's worst enemies are often members of their own family.

So, is the sword here to divide or to remove the cause of division in order to unite? And what is the sword? The sword of truth wielded in love!

WEDNESDAY

Read second paragraph, “All Christians...” Do you agree? Who gives the Spiritual gifts? And is it the gifts given by the Holy Spirit that equips people for various ministry?

So, if this is true then why do many church organizations ordain only women if women are already being ordained by the Holy Spirit with gifts of pastoring?

Do we truly believe in the priesthood of all believers, or do we reject the Biblical position and instead promote a human divisive structure?

Read last paragraph, “There is a strong...” What do you understand the message to be? What is being suggested? Is it suggesting submitting to the consensus of the church body?

Hmmm...what about Noah, Elijah, John the Baptist, Jesus, the Apostles, the Reformers?

Where is the balance between advancing truth, standing singly and alone and church unity?

Consider this description of Paul from Acts of the Apostles:

In his ministry, Paul was often compelled to stand alone. He was specially taught of God and dared make no concessions that would involve principle. At times the burden was heavy, but Paul stood firm for the right. He realized that the church must never be brought under the control of human power. The traditions and maxims of men must not take the place of revealed truth. {AA 199.3} [could this include the human imposed law construct?]

Should we surrender our thinking to the church group?

Adventist Pioneers believed that they would also face what Paul faced:

It does not seem possible to us now that any should have to stand alone, but if God has ever spoken by me, the time will come when we shall be brought before councils and before thousands for His name's sake, and each one will have to give the reason of his faith. Then will come the severest criticism upon every position that has been taken for the truth. We need, then, to study the Word of God, that we may know why we believe the doctrines we advocate.-
-RH Dec. 18, 1888.

THURSDAY

Read second paragraph, “Paul’s exhortation to be submitted...” What does it mean to submit to each other? In what ways is submission healthy and when do we not submit?

We do not submit our thinking to others—but we do submit others to others—meaning we submit them to their choices.

We stop fighting to get our way if people are opposed to it, we step back and let them have their way and experience the results. But that doesn't necessarily mean we participate with them or agree with them.

But we do not submit to participating in moral wrongs or living outside God's design.

We can submit to anything that is merely preferential and not moral, i.e. carpeting, which piano does the church buy, wallpaper, what property to buy, how much to spend on what project etc.

But we cannot submit to mispresenting God or refusing to fulfill what God has called us to do.

2018 Q4 Oneness in Christ - Lesson 5: The Experience of Unity in the Early Church

by Dr. Wendell Moses

1. Memory Text: “And they continued steadfastly in the apostles’ doctrine and fellowship, in the breaking of bread, and in prayers.” Acts 2:42 NKJV
2. Sabbath Afternoon

3. Read the first paragraph
4. “I am the way, the truth, and the life; no man cometh unto the Father, but by me.” John 14:6
 - a. How do you read this?
 - b. Is this a true statement?
 - c. In what way is it true?
 - d. Many read this as a declarative statement.
 - e. This statement by Christ is descriptive: He is describing reality as it is made.
 - i. He is not keeping everyone out.
 - ii. He is trying to get everyone in.
 - iii. “He that is not against us is for us.”
 - iv. “God sent his Son into the world not to judge the world, but to save the world through him.” John 3:17 NLT
5. Read the last paragraph: “I would insist that fellowship is a particularly important element in corporate worship. . .”
 - a. Is this true?
 - b. If so, why?
 - c. We are made communal beings. No one lives to himself. This is how we are designed.
 - d. True holiness is wholeness in the service of God. This is the condition of true Christian living. Christ asks for an unreserved consecration, for undivided service. He demands the heart, the mind, the soul, the strength. Self is not to be cherished. He who lives to himself is not a Christian. {COL 48.4}
 - e. Love must be the principle of action. Love is the underlying principle of God’s

- government in heaven and earth, and it must be the foundation of the Christian's character. This alone can make and keep him steadfast. This alone can enable him to withstand trial and temptation. {COL 49.1}
- f. Many who really want to live for God spend too much time thinking about their faults. In this way Satan tries to separate them from Christ and hopes to gain the victory. We should not make self the center of our thoughts, nor worry whether we shall be saved. Thinking of self turns our minds from God, who gives us strength. We should give ourselves to God and trust in Him. We should talk and think of Jesus, and forget ourselves. {STJ 70.5}
 - g. We must put away our fears and believe in God. Then we may say with the apostle Paul, "It is no longer I who live, but it is Christ who lives in me. This life that I live now, I live by faith in the Son of God, who loved me and gave his life for me." Galatians 2:20. {STJ 71.1}
 - h. God asks us to rest in Him. He is able to keep that which we have given to Him. If we leave ourselves in His hands, He will give us power through Jesus to make sure that we win the battle against Satan. {STJ 71.2}
 - i. When Christ became a human being, He tied the people of the world to Himself by a tie of love. This tie can never be broken except by our own choice. Satan is always trying to get us to choose to break this tie to Christ. We need to watch and pray that nothing will lead us to choose another master. We are always free to do this. {STJ 71.3}
 - j. Let us keep our eyes on Christ, and He will hold us. We are safe when we are looking to Jesus. Nothing can take us out of His hands. We are to look at Him all the time, for then "that same glory, coming from the Lord, ... transforms us into his likeness." 2 Corinthians 3:18. {STJ 71.4}
 - k. Time alone in nature, engulfed in heavenly music, meditation, and prayer are all gifts of God for enrichment and spiritual development.
 - i. They can not and should not take the place of community
 - ii. We are a community of believers for others
 - iii. We are nourished when we expend ourselves for others.
 - iv. We are communal beings.
 - l. Steps to Christ vs Steps to Jesus

- i. Bible versions
- ii. Translations
- iii. Comfort in hearing, language
- iv. Fear of deviation from original
- v. There is benefit of original for the original hearer

6. Sunday: Days of Preparation

- 7. Read the first paragraph.
 - a. Remember the promises given to the disciples are also for us.
 - b. In Christ's prayer (the true Lord's Prayer)
 - i. John 17:20-21 (GNT with Deuterocanon) "I pray not only for them, but also for those who believe in me because of their message. I pray that they may all be one. Father! May they be in us, just as you are in me and I am in you. May they be one, so that the world will believe that you sent me.
 - c. Notice the purpose of being in unity.
 - i. To be like the Trinity
 - ii. "So that the world will believe" that Jesus was sent by GOD.
- 8. The colored questions at the bottom of the page.
 - a. Caution of paying too much attention to self
 - b. "Lest we forget how God has led us in the past"

9. Monday: From Babel to Pentecost

- 10. Read 2nd paragraph about Pentecost
- 11. Read 6th (final) paragraph about the Tower of Babel
- 12. When mankind turned away from God - the result was selfishness and self centered ideas / plans
 - a. This called for the therapeutic maneuver of confusion (Babel) of languages.
- 13. When mankind turns back to God - there is unity of purpose and a reversal by God of confusing of the languages
- 14. Why was it a good thing for God to reverse what He had done in the beginning?
 - a. Does God change?
 - b. If not, what made His actions change?

15. Tuesday: Unity of Fellowship

16. Read the second paragraph: “It is remarkable that the first activity...”
 - a. What did this do for the disciples?
 - b. We are best when our lives are consumed with the betterment of others.
 - c. We remember things better when we are teaching others the concepts we have barely learned.
17. In the 3rd paragraph: “The mention of fellowship certainly infers that this new community spent time together,”
 - a. Time together bonds people for good or bad
 - b. We see this in relationships, marriages, intentional groups
 - c. We would do well as a church (or any organization) to foster activities together.
18. “Absence makes the heart grow fonder”
 - a. Why is this a true statement?
 - b. or is it “Absence makes the heart go wander.”
 - c. You grown fonder of the absent individual only if your thoughts dwell on that individual.
 - d. A model for Christian growth and community.
19. Wednesday: Generosity and Greed

20. Comparison between Barnabas vs Ananias and Sapphira
 - a. When did Barnabas and Ananias / Sapphira join the church?
 - b. Were they part of the Acts 2 church?
 - c. This is one narrative
 - d. Parables
 - i. Wheat and tares
 - ii. Sower: rocky soil, good soil, weeds
 - e. Just because we have sinners in our church, does not mean God is not there
 - i. There are highs and lows within each congregation, family, Christian life.
 - f. Acts 4 & 5 are part of the Acts 2 church
21. 4th Paragraph: Read the 4th paragraph. The second sentence says: “Perhaps no sin can destroy fellowship and brotherly love faster than selfishness and greed.”
 - a. Why?
 - b. It is the antithesis of unity.
 - c. Survival of the fittest vs “Not my will but thine”

- d. “Here are they that keep the commandments of God and the faith of Jesus”
 - e. John 15:13 (GNT) “The greatest love you can have for your friends is to give your life for them.”
 - i. That not only includes Christ’s literal death for us but the giving our lives, time, attention, priorities for others.
22. 5th Paragraph: “In the Ten Commandments (Exodus 20:1 - 17), the last commandment, about covetousness, is unlike the others.”
- a. Is this true? NO!
 - b. If you view the commandments as declarative statements of commands, this might be true.
 - c. The Ten Words are 10 descriptions of what truly Godly people look like.
 - d. Sermon on the Mount: Matthew 5: 21, 22 and Matthew 5:27, 28 are showing that the source of your thoughts is the issue. Christ is not making finer and finer commandments that you must obey. He is describing the converted heart.
 - i. Matthew 5:21-22 (GNT) "You have heard that people were told in the past, ‘Do not commit murder; anyone who does will be brought to trial.’ But now I tell you: if you are angry with your brother you will be brought to trial, if you call your brother ‘You good-for-nothing!’ you will be brought before the Council, and if you call your brother a worthless fool you will be in danger of going to the fire of hell.”
 - ii. Matthew 5:27-28 (GNT) "You have heard that it was said, ‘Do not commit adultery.’ But now I tell you: anyone who looks at a woman and wants to possess her is guilty of committing adultery with her in his heart.”
 - e. The man who attempts to keep the commandments of God from a sense of obligation merely—because he is required to do so—will never enter into the joy of obedience. He does not obey. When the requirements of God are accounted a burden because they cut across human inclination, we may know that the life is not a Christian life. True obedience is the outworking of a principle within. It springs from the love of righteousness, the love of the law of God. The essence of all righteousness is loyalty to our Redeemer. This will lead us to do right because it is right—because right doing is pleasing to God. {COL 97.3}
23. Colored section at bottom of page, first sentence: “What are ways in which we can seek to uproot covetousness from our own lives?”
- a. Is this our job
 - b. What is the natural result if our attention is on self

- c. By beholding we become changed.
 - i. What should be the focus of our attention?
 - ii. Where should our time be spent?
 - iii. By comparing ourselves to the Law, we get the diagnosis, but our attention shouldn't be there.
 - (1) Our attention should be on the remedy, not the problem
 - (2) 2 Corinthians 3:18 - we need to behold Him

24. Thursday: Remember the Poor

- 25. First paragraph:
 - a. Did the gift of the Asian Churches strengthen the unity of the Jerusalem believers with them?
- 26. Read second paragraph: "The experience of unity in the early church shows. . . ."

 - b. With rules?
 - c. With committees?
 - d. With personal rules?
 - e. The third paragraph as an answer

- 28. Question #3: What is the importance of the phrase found in Acts 5:5 and 5:11 about the "great fear" that came upon the church in regard to the two deaths?
 - a. Is God the source of fear?
 - b. What causes fear?
 - c. What is the result of fear?
 - d. Anything that causes us to focus on ourselves will ultimately create fear within us.
 - i. Fear is not in the creative blueprint for mankind/the species human.
 - (1) We are to be other focused.
 - (2) It is pretty hard to fear when your main concern is not for yourselves, but for others.
 - ii. The antidote for fear is an abiding trust in our heavenly father/God.
 - (1) Example of Christ in the boat during the storm.
- 29. Teachers comments:
 - a. Learning cycle: Key concept for Spiritual Growth: "As we share in worship and fellowship, the Holy Spirit works through us to transform our attitudes to that of love for one another. This transformation gives glory to God."
 - i. How and why?

- ii. Because it reveals what a master creator He is to design such a perfect, other-centered creation.

b. Bible Commentary

- i. Read the first paragraph on page 67: “Acts 2 provides a glimpse into the life . . .”
- ii. The last sentence says: “Such unity does not occur by accident.”
 - (1) No. . . . it occurs by design.
 - (2) It is not something we have to work at.
 - (3) That is how God designed us.

 - (a) 2nd Law of Thermodynamics
 - (b) God is constantly inputting energy of our recreation and sustenance.

iii. Defining Devotion: (Page 67)

- (1) This paragraph was written some months ago but is very appropriate in light of recent events in Battle Creek, Michigan.
 - (a) “The wholehearted attention that faithfulness demands means that devotion cannot happen without a significant level of commitment and discipline. Therefore, devotion cannot be ordered or imposed on others.”
 - (b) Consider This: “How would you describe devotion? What forms does devotion take in the twenty-first century? Are all these forms of devotion healthy? Why, or why not?”

iv. Devotion to God

- (1) “We should not forget that the loving interactions with others both inside and outside of their community also were acts of devotion to God. When we respond to God’s grace in tangible ways, we honor Him.”

30. Additional Thoughts:

- a. RH 8. 19. 1890 “If you have been permitted to stand in the presence of the Sun of Righteousness, it is not that you may absorb and conceal the bright beams of Christ’s righteousness, but that you may become a light to others.”

Oneness in Christ Lesson 6 4Q 2018

Images of Unity

by Dr. Tim Jennings

SABBATH

Read first paragraph, “As anyone who...” What does the phrase “in a sense” mean in this sentence? Are they suggesting there is some part of the sacrificial system that is not symbolic?

Can you think of any part of that Levitical system that is literal, or is every part symbolic of the true reality—Jesus and the plan of salvation?

So, would that mean the OT system was not necessary for salvation—even in OT times? Is there evidence of people being saved in OT without participating in the sacrificial system?

- Naaman
- Nebuchadnezzar
- The Shunamite woman
- Daniel and others during the 70-year captivity, at least didn’t do anything associated with the Temple and we have no record of them sacrificing animals.
- Ninevites

The prophet Jeremiah wrote:

“This is the covenant I will make with the house of Israel after that time,” declares the Lord.
“I will put my law in their minds and write it on their hearts.
I will be their God,
and they will be my people. 31:33

The prophet Hosea wrote:

For I desire mercy, not sacrifice, and acknowledgment of God rather than burnt offerings. 6:6

David wrote in the Psalms:

You take no delight in sacrifices or offerings.
Now that you have made me listen, I finally understand*— you don’t require burnt offerings or sin offerings. 40:6 NLT

Then if the ceremonial sacrificial system wasn’t required for salvation during Bible times—what was? A new heart and right spirit—i.e. healing of the inner person by God! Is there something different required today?

Then if the ceremonial sacrificial system wasn't required for salvation during Bible times—will it be required today?

Then why do some Christians teach that in the future the Jews will one day set up a Temple and begin sacrificing animals again as part of God's plan?

What was the purpose of the sacrificial system in Bible times?

- A teaching tool—that is all it ever was
- Is there evidence of this from Scripture?
 - The gifts and sacrifices being offered were not able to clear the conscience of the worshiper. They are only a matter of food and drink and various ceremonial washings—external regulations applying until the time of the new order... But those sacrifices are an annual reminder of sins, because it is impossible for the blood of bulls and goats to take away sins. Heb 9:9,10, 10:3,4
 - “The multitude of your sacrifices— what are they to me?” says the Lord. “I have more than enough of burnt offerings, of rams and the fat of fattened animals; I have no pleasure in the blood of bulls and lambs and goats... wash and make yourselves clean. Take your evil deeds out of my sight! Stop doing wrong, learn to do right! Seek justice, encourage the oppressed. Defend the cause of the fatherless, plead the case of the widow.” Isa 1:11,16,17
 - “I want your constant love, not your animal sacrifices. I would rather have my people know me than burn offerings to me.” Hos 6:6 GNT

The sacrificial system in the Bible was NEVER a means of salvation—only a means of education about the means of salvation.

What is the means of salvation?

Peter said in Acts 4:12: “Salvation is found in no one else, for there is no other name under heaven given to men by which we must be saved.”

What does this mean—no other name under heaven?

In Bible culture what is significant about a name? Name means character—so there is no other character whereby men can be saved, i.e. healed, restored, renewed, reborn, won to trust, recreated, rebuilt!

Salvation is the literal, actual, real recreation of God's original design into the species human, first by the individual person Jesus Christ, and then into every believer—thus writing the law on the heart and mind. This is the same as having the character of Christ. All the OT symbolism tries to teach this reality!

Note: this is not a legal process it is actual recreation, healing, restoration, fixing what is wrong!

SUNDAY

Read first paragraph, “The church is about people...” What is it that gives God’s people continuity through all history?

Did a person have to be part of the nation of Israel to be part of God’s people?

If someone was a genetic descendant of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob did that automatically make them part of God’s people?

Jesus said to those genetic descendants in His day who opposed Him:

“You belong to your father, the devil, and you want to carry out your father’s desire.” Jn 8:44

So are there people who are genetically descended from Jacob that are NOT part of God’s people?

What makes a person part of God’s people?

The lesson states that God’s people are “to be representatives of His love, mercy, and justice to the world.”

How did ancient Israel do in representing God’s love, mercy and justice?

How have Christians done thus far in human history?

What would God’s love, mercy and justice rightly look like?

How do we differentiate God’s character, methods, principles from that of a sinful world—from Satan’s counterfeit?

Here are some key elements that will always be useful to differentiate the two systems:

- Truth versus deception (lies)
- Love versus selfishness
- Freedom versus coercion
- Design law versus imperial/imposed law
- Justice defined through design law versus justice defined through imposed law

What is justice through the world's system, imperial/impose law?

- Inflicting punishment for rule-breaking/sin
- Oversight, monitoring, and inflicting consequences—compliance police

Have Christians applied the world's methods to their practices?

What was the Inquisition?

It was the Roman Catholic governing system to investigate and police heretical views within the body of Catholic believers.

The 1578 edition of the Directorium Inquisitorium (a standard Inquisitorial manual) spelled out the purpose of inquisitorial penalties: ... quoniam punitio non refertur primo & per se in correctionem & bonum eius qui punitur, sed in bonum publicum ut alij terreantur, & a malis committendis avocentur (translation: "... for punishment does not take place primarily and per se for the correction and good of the person punished, but for the public good in order that others may become terrified and weaned away from the evils they would commit"). (Wikipedia)

Punishments included various penances, wearing a cross, doing a pilgrimage, exile, banishment, imprisonment and burning at the stake.

If the punishments are mild rather than burning at the stake, does that make this way of functioning okay? Is this type of action Godly?

In 1908 the Catholic Church changed the name of the Inquisition to "Supreme Sacred Congregation of the Holy Office" and in 1965 it became the "Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith."

Is it any less problematic if we change the name?

What if we call it compliance of faith?

Here is an interesting quotation from A.W. Tozer:

The average church has so established itself organizationally and financially that God is simply not necessary to it. So entrenched is its authority and so stable are the religious habits of its members that God could withdraw himself completely from it, as He once withdrew the Shekinah from the Temple, and it could run on for years on its own momentum. (Snyder, The Quotable Tozer Bethany House, p. 13).

Wow—God withdrew His presence from His chosen people who were called to prepare the world for the first advent of the Messiah—Do you think this could happen to those God called to prepare the world for the second advent?

What caused the withdrawal of God from the Jewish nation?

What would cause God to withdraw from Christians today?

Could it be solidifying in our hearts and minds such a wrong view of God that we, like the Jews 2000 years ago, reject the truth God and prefer a god in the image of Satan—and teach that God, in order to be just, must punish sin?

God's methods are not the methods of the world. God's methods are to present the truth in love and leave people free. As soon as the institutions begin using coercive and compelling measures they stop advancing God's kingdom and instead advance the kingdom of the enemy—the beastly system.

So what would God's justice, based on God's design law look like?

- Defend the poor and fatherless; Do justice to the afflicted and needy. (Psalms 82:3)
- Wash yourselves clean. Stop all this evil that I see you doing. Yes, stop doing evil and learn to do right. See that justice is done — help those who are oppressed, give orphans their rights, and defend widows. (Isaiah 1:16-17 GNT)
- The Lord longs to be gracious to you; he rises to show you compassion. The Lord is a God of justice. (Isaiah 30:18 NIV)
- This is what the Lord says to the dynasty of David: 'Give justice each morning to the people you judge! Help those who have been robbed; rescue them from their oppressors.' (Jeremiah 21:12 NLT)

What do you think interfered with Israel's ability to rightly represent God?

They accepted the worldly view of imperial law with imposed punishments as godly and thus they rejected Jesus

What has interfered with Christianity's ability to rightly represent God?

- Christianity has been infected with the imperial/imposed human law construct which has distorted our understanding of God's character, and what His justice actually is. Thus, Christians through history have practiced Satanic methods of coercion in the name of God—crusades, inquisition, burning at the stake, and many other abuses.
- In matters of conscience every person is to be fully persuaded in their own mind. (Rom 14:5) Thus Godly interventions are to promote the truth and leave people free—Satan's methods are to establish defined ways of thinking and then use coercive measures to force those ideas and behaviors on others—REGARDLESS OF WHETHER THE IDEA IS TRUE OR NOT!!! Such as promoting Christ as Savior by threat of punishment—this is Satanic.

So, what is currently happening in our church with top down authoritarian methods to enforce certain views is the outworking of infection of the world's methods in this organization. Those at level four will make all types of excuses and deny this reality attempting to justify their actions, rather than understanding how God's system and methods actually work—which is truth, love and freedom. In God's system truth spreads from person to person and group to group over time organically, not from top down.

What brings unity?

- truth, love and freedom!

Read second paragraph, "God's people are called..." What is meant by darkness? What kind of darkness? What is the light to which we are called?

- There came a man who was sent from God; his name was John. ⁷ He came as a witness to testify concerning that light, so that through him all men might believe. ⁸ He himself was not the light; he came only as a witness to the light. ⁹ The true light that gives light to every man was coming into the world. John 1:7-9

Consider this quotation from the book My Life Today:

Every truly converted soul will be intensely desirous to bring others from the darkness of error into the marvelous light of the righteousness of Jesus Christ. The great outpouring of the Spirit of God, which lightens the whole earth with His glory, will not come until we have an enlightened people, that know by experience what it means to be laborers together with God. When we have entire, wholehearted consecration to the service of Christ, God will recognize the fact by an outpouring of His Spirit without measure; but this will not be while the largest portion of the church are not laborers together with God. God cannot pour out His Spirit when selfishness and self-indulgence are so manifest; when a spirit prevails that, if put into words, would express that answer of Cain--"Am I my brother's keeper?" . . . {ML 59.2}

When the hearts of the believers are warm with the love for God, they will do a continual work for Jesus. They will manifest the meekness of Christ and display a steadfast purpose that will not fail nor be discouraged. God will use humble men to do His work, for there is a large vineyard calling for laborers. {ML 59.3}

What is the light? It is the light of God's character of love—which is misrepresented by imperial/imposed law concepts and thus as long as we as a people hold to the dictator views of God, and teach penal substitution with God as the punishing judge we obstruct the work of the Holy Spirit and obstruct the finishing of the work. In other words, such presentations promote darkness rather than light.

The lesson asks why God chose Abraham and his descendants for the purpose of being the avenue of God's truth and ultimately Jesus?

Could it be because Abraham was willing?

Could it be we have a record of Abraham because Abraham trusted God and was willing—and we don't have a record of others because they refused God?

Has anyone ever heard of William Foy and Hazen Foss?

From Wikipedia:

William Ellis Foy (1818–1893) was an African American Freewill Baptist minister and preacher in the Millerite movement, who claimed to receive four visions from 1842 (two visions) to 1844. A tall man, he was the first of three Millerites to claim visions around the time of the 1844 "Great Disappointment".

A common theme of his visions was that the Second Coming would come later than the Millerites expected. They inspired many people through the Great Disappointment when Jesus did not return as they had expected. Ellen White supported his visions. They also concern the judgment, and rewards for the righteous.

He claimed visions in January and February 1842, told in his autobiographical The Christian Experience of William E. Foy, published 1845. They were similar to those experienced by Ellen White.

Foy was reluctant to obey his commission to share the visions, yet did eventually. He never became a Seventh-day Adventist, and his subsequent history was unknown. J. N. Loughborough's account was simply repeated by later historians until Delbert Baker's definitive 1987 biography The Unknown Prophet traced his subsequent history.

Hazen Foss (1818–1893) was another Millerite who claimed to receive several visions. However he refused to proclaim them, and God told him he was "released" from that ministry, and the message given to Ellen White instead. He was Ellen White's brother-in-law. Adventists tend to believe the prophetic gift offered to these two men was instead passed on to White.

Could we know about Abraham because Abraham accepted God's call and this is why his descendants were chosen?

Read last paragraph, "Perhaps we could ask..." What do you think of the idea that "All nations and ethnic groups are composed of people who do not deserve God's love and grace"?

What is being taught here?

Do unfallen angels in heaven deserve God's love but sinners on earth do not?

If we love only those who are obedient is that love?

Jesus said:

- Why should God reward you if you love only the people who love you? Even the tax collectors do that! MT 5:46 GNB

What does John 3:16 mean, “For God so loved the world...”?

Did God select Israel because He loved them while God did not love others?

Do we understand that the phrase “to be loved by God” has two meanings—

- to be loved in God’s heart, i.e. God loves us
- to experience God’s love in us, i.e. we respond to and are changed by the functional power of receiving God’s love

So, Abraham responded to God and opened his heart and thus God’s love could operate in Abraham and many of Abraham’s descendants, so even though from God’s heart God loves all people, not all people open their hearts and experience God’s love, so functionally not all people are loved by God.

And for what was Israel selected by God—to be the exclusive recipients of God’s truth, love, salvation—or to be agents to help God reach the entire world and to be the avenue for the Messiah?

Consider Isaiah 19:18-25:

18 When that time comes, the Hebrew language will be spoken in five Egyptian cities. The people there will take their oaths in the name of the Lord Almighty. One of the cities will be called, “City of the Sun.”

19 When that time comes, there will be an altar to the Lord in the land of Egypt and a stone pillar dedicated to him at the Egyptian border. They will be symbols of the Lord Almighty’s presence in Egypt. When the people there are oppressed and call out to the Lord for help, he will send someone to rescue them. The Lord will reveal himself to the Egyptian people, and then they will acknowledge and worship him, and bring him sacrifices and offerings. They will make solemn promises to him and do what they promise. The Lord will punish the Egyptians, but then he will heal them. They will turn to him, and he will hear their prayers and heal them.

23 When that time comes, there will be a highway between Egypt and Assyria. The people of those two countries will travel to and fro between them, and the two nations will worship together. When that time comes, Israel will rank with Egypt and Assyria, and these three nations will be a blessing to all the world. The Lord Almighty will bless them and say, “I will bless you, Egypt, my people; you, Assyria, whom I created; and you, Israel, my chosen people.” GNB

Does God love only one ethnic group or does God love all humanity?

Through Abraham all nations of the earth will be blessed, the Bible says!

All human beings suffer with the same terminal sin-condition and God loves all human beings and wants to heal every one of us!

So what does it mean to be part of the people of God? To trust God and receive His Spirit to transform us to be like Him, regardless of ethnicity, nationality, or denomination!

MONDAY

Read first paragraph, “Another image of the people of God...” And from what is this house of God constructed?

What lessons can we draw from the image of a house?

- shelter
- safety
- place of sustenance and nurture
- place for family
- place for children to grow
- place for love
- place for fellowship
- place for marriage
- others?

Do any of these apply to the church?

When you think of the church do you think of a:

- shelter
- place of safety
- place of sustenance and nurture
- place for family
- place for children to grow
- place for love
- place for fellowship
- place for marriage

Can houses become destructive places—places where people are injured rather than nurtured? Can churches become destructive places?

What causes a church to change from a place of healing to a destructive place? Would it be a change in how they understand right and wrong, God's law and justice? Would imperial thinking lead to the need to find fault and punish, rather than identify sickness of heart and bring healing?

TUESDAY

Read first paragraph, "Another building imagery..." Is there a difference between the Temple of God, the Sanctuary of God, God's house, and the heavenly sanctuary?

From what is the temple of God built?

Paul says, "Consequently, you are no longer foreigners and aliens, but fellow citizens with God's people and members of God's house [sanctuary/temple], built on the foundation of the apostles and prophets, with Christ Jesus himself as the chief cornerstone. In him the whole building [sanctuary/temple] is joined together and rises to become a holy temple in the Lord. And in him you too [you all] are being built together to become a dwelling in which God lives by his Spirit. Ephesians 2:19-22.

And Peter says, "As you come to him, the living Stone--rejected by men but chosen by God and precious to him-- you also, like living stones [building blocks of the Temple], are being built into a spiritual house [Temple] to be a holy priesthood, offering spiritual sacrifices acceptable to God through Jesus Christ." 1 Pet 2:4,5.

Does this include the temple in heaven that is not built with human hands?

What do you think of this quotation from the book Acts of the Apostles:

Through the ages that have passed since the days of the apostles, the building of God's temple has never ceased. We may look back through the centuries and see the living stones of which it is composed gleaming like jets of light through the darkness of error and superstition. Throughout eternity these precious jewels will shine with increasing luster, testifying to the power of the truth of God. The flashing light of these polished stones reveals the strong contrast between light and darkness, between the gold of truth and the dross of error.

Paul and the other apostles, and all the righteous who have lived since then, have acted their part in the building of the temple. But the structure is not yet complete. We who are living in this age have a work to do, a part to act. We are to bring to the foundation material that will stand the test of fire—gold, silver, and precious stones, "polished after the similitude of a palace" (Psalm 144:12). To those who thus build for God, Paul speaks words of encouragement... : "If any man's work abide which he hath built thereupon, he shall receive a reward." ... The Christian who faithfully presents the word of life, leading men and women into the way of holiness and peace, is bringing to the foundation material that will endure, and in the kingdom of God He will be honored as a wise builder.—The Acts of the Apostles, 598, 599.

Is this temple, built out of living beings, literal, made of real material or metaphorical, symbolic and not real?

If we teach the temple in heaven is built out of living people does that mean there is or is not a real temple in heaven?

If the temple is built out of living beings, then what would the cleansing of the temple, which occurs before the second coming, be about?

Consider this quote from The Desire of Ages:

In the cleansing of the temple, Jesus was announcing His mission as the Messiah, and entering upon His work. That temple, erected for the abode of the divine Presence, was designed to be an object lesson for Israel and for the world. From eternal ages it was God's purpose that every created being, from the bright and holy seraph to man, should be a temple for the indwelling of the Creator. Because of sin, humanity ceased to be a temple for God. Darkened and defiled by evil, the heart of man no longer revealed the glory of the Divine One. But by the incarnation of the Son of God, the purpose of Heaven is fulfilled. God dwells in humanity, and through saving grace the heart of man becomes again His temple. God designed that the temple at Jerusalem should be a continual witness to the high destiny open to every soul. [what was that building to represent—so the heavenly sanctuary is built from what?] But the Jews had not understood the significance of the building they regarded with so much pride. [Are the Jews the only ones who did not understand the significance or do many Christians today also fail to comprehend?] They did not yield themselves as holy temples for the Divine Spirit. The courts of the temple at Jerusalem, filled with the tumult of unholy traffic, represented all too truly the temple of the heart, defiled by the presence of sensual passion and unholy thoughts. In cleansing the temple from the world's buyers and sellers, Jesus announced His mission to cleanse the heart from the defilement of sin,--from the earthly desires, the selfish lusts, the evil habits, that corrupt the soul. [What is Jesus mission? What temple is being cleansed?] "The Lord, whom ye seek, shall suddenly come to His temple, even the Messenger of the covenant, whom ye delight in: behold, He shall come, saith the Lord of hosts. But who may abide the day of His coming? and who shall stand when He appeareth? for He is like a refiner's fire, and like fullers' soap: and He shall sit as a refiner and purifier of silver: and He shall purify the sons of Levi, and purge them as gold and silver." Malachi 3:1-3. {DA 161.1} [What is Malachi 3:1-3 referring to? Who is being cleansed, what prophecy describes the same event?]

The coming of Christ as our high priest to the most holy place, for the cleansing of the sanctuary, brought to view in Daniel 8:14; the coming of the Son of man to the Ancient of days, as presented in Daniel 7:13; and the coming of the Lord to His temple, foretold by Malachi, are descriptions of the same event.... {FLB 207.4} [What is the cleansing of the sanctuary? Is this a legal process or an actual healing of heart and mind of all the living stones—cleansing us from lies about God and fear and selfishness, guilt, shame, and all evil?]

Are we taking a message that cleanses the hearts and minds of the lies about God—the view that God is like Satan a being who makes up rules and then threatens to punish for breaking his rules, or are we promoting the truth of our Creator God whose laws are the laws reality are built upon—worship Him who made the heaven, earth, sea and fountains of water?

WEDNESDAY

The metaphor of a body is used to represent the unity in diversity. What lessons can we learn from this example?

What happens in a person when one's body attacks itself? Autoimmune diseases of various kinds—what happens in the church when we attack ourselves?

What contributes to autoimmune diseases? When our immune system, which is designed to protect from outside destructive elements, falsely identifies members of the body as outsider and begins attacking those parts.

And what contributes to problems in the church? When we begin attacking within ourselves differences, divergent ideas, perspectives that don't meet the orthodox view and believe we must rid the body of people with such ideas.

Do you ever see this happening?

What is the solution? Truth, love and freedom—which is presented in harmony with God's design laws—to present so-called truth through the imperial law lens does not present truth but distortion, which all too often happens in Christianity.

THURSDAY

The metaphor of the shepherd and his sheep, what lessons can we learn from this metaphor?

- How does a shepherd lead?
- What methods do shepherds use?
- Does the shepherd know his sheep and the sheep know the shepherd?
- Who fights for the sheep? Do the sheep fight for themselves? What about in the church—do we allow Jesus to defend us or do we feel the need to fight for ourselves?
- When a sheep is lost what does the shepherd do?
- Do others live in fear sheep? Do others live in fear Christians?
- What would it mean if Christians become people that incite fear in others?

- What is the difference between a lost coin a lost sheep and a lost son?
 - Some people are like the coin—lost and don't even know they are lost
 - Some people are like the sheep—lost and know they are lost but have no idea how to get home and bleat for help
 - Some are like the lost son—lost, know they are lost, and know the way home but have to decide to turn back and go home.

Lesson 7 - Q4 2018 When Conflicts Arise.

by Russell Atkins

SABBATH

“For as many of you as were baptized into Christ have put on Christ. There is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither slave nor free, there is neither male nor female; for you are all one in Christ Jesus” (Galatians 3:27, 28, NKJV).

What does this text mean? Will our ethnic differences, our genetic differences, our sex differences not exist in Heaven? Will we not recognize each other as women/men, conservative/liberal, black/white, etc.? Will there be no hierarchy in Heaven? Or will there be a different hierarchy than we are used to? Is this text even referring to our future home or our home on Earth now?

From the Lesson: “One of the most difficult tasks of any Christian community is to maintain unity when differences of opinion arise on matters pertaining to the identity and mission of the church. These differences can lead to devastating consequences.”

We are at a point in the history of our own church where we will be able to watch this occur in real time [see links below].

<https://spectrummagazine.org/article/2018/08/28/adventism%E2%80%99s-shocking-fulfillment-prophecy>

<https://spectrummagazine.org/views/2018/time-speak-out>

How are we to respond to differences of opinion? Differences of direction? Differences of mission?

Do our tactics matter, or just our goals? Do tactics matter even if we are presenting Truth?

The following is from the Teacher’s edition of the lesson:

- a. The problems were acknowledged openly. Too often conflicts are ignored in the hope that, by doing so, the conflicts would disappear on their own. Conflicts need to be acknowledged and dealt with promptly.

- b. One or more people were appointed to seek a solution for the problem. The individuals chosen were well known and trusted by the congregation.
- c. The stories and opinions of those involved on both sides of the conflict were heard.
- d. Scripture was considered. For instance, at the Jerusalem Council, the leaders considered both the law of Moses, which talked about circumcision, and the prophets, who predicted that there would be Gentile believers.
- e. Evidence of the leading of God was both presented and sought after.
- f. Finally, the decision was communicated, along with the reasons for
- g. the decision. When this could not be done directly by the leaders
- h. who had made the decision, a message was sent with an individual trusted by the church.

I think these are sound principles to follow for conflict resolution.

SUNDAY

Ethnic Differences

In the Church's infancy, some complained that Jews of Greek heritage were allegedly being discriminated against vis a vis food distribution. "This perceived favoritism" caused a distraction for the 12 apostles, and they were called upon to address petty disagreements instead of carry the gospel forward [see Numbers 11: 16-30].

I emphasize allegedly and the lesson emphasizes perceived because Scripture is silent on whether or not these charges were accurate. I personally doubt that there was any widespread food distribution inequalities, and suspect that the solution to the problem was more important to be recorded than the problem itself. One of Satan's most effective traps is to tempt an individual or group to perceive some inequality. It doesn't matter which side of the "inequality" one is on. The temptation of discontent is a strong one.

Remember that the "equality/inequality" argument originated in Heaven with Lucifer alleging equality with one member of the Godhead, and continues, unabated, here on Earth.

From the bottom section:

"What significance do you see in the fact that the leaders called many of the believers together [Acts 6:2] in order to try to work out a solution?"

Should we view this as a bottom up / grass roots solution instead of a top down / imperial one? What are some of the advantages & disadvantages to a bottom up solution?

Any lessons here for our church today?

MONDAY

The Conversion of the Gentiles.

This lesson is based on Acts 10 – Peter’s vision of the sheet being lowered from Heaven with a variety of creatures and the command to “kill and eat.”

The lesson notes that “he had never partaken of unclean or defiled foods, as the law required (see Leviticus 11, Ezek. 4:14, and Dan. 1:8)”

Which law required this?

Obviously, the vision was an object lesson for Peter [and the infant Church], and had nothing, whatsoever, to do with diet.

Did Peter learn the lesson [see Galatians 2: 11-14]?

Do we still have similar prejudices in our church today? How should these be dealt with?

TUESDAY

The Spirit is Leading.

The early Church had to rely on personal testimony and corroboration by witness testimony. How did they recognize the evidence of the Holy Spirit?

The 21st century Church has photographic, video, internet testimony in addition to the above.

Are we in a better or worse position to know if/when/how the Holy Spirit is communicating than the early Church?

In the last half of Acts 11, Scripture documents that persecution scatters and actually grows the Church. Which Design Law does this harmonize with? Can you think of any contemporary examples of this?

As a result of the spreading of the Gospel to more Gentile believers, more were converted, and the jealousy of some Jews was aroused.

WEDNESDAY

The Jerusalem Council.

What precipitated the need for the council? Was it not a group holding on to tradition, and mistaking symbolism for reality? Does contemporary Christianity make the same mistakes? List a few.

- The Sanctuary is a building in Heaven vs. made up of living beings.
- Christ's blood erases deeds from record books vs. erasing sin from humanity.
- God's fire is a fire of combustion vs. The Fire of Love.
- The Sabbath is an arbitrary test of obedience vs. A perpetual memorial that God values FREEDOM of choice and will never use His power to coerce.
- God killed His Son to assuage His wrath vs. God GAVE His Son to reveal His Character, and secure the healing Remedy for terminally ill humanity.

The council's decision to avoid food offered to idols, fornication, from eating animals that had been strangled, and from blood.

Do these requirements seem arbitrary or are there some Design Law implications from following these principles?

From the bottom section of the lesson:

“Was there ever a time you changed your mind about how you understood a deeply held belief? What did you learn from the experience that could perhaps help you when you might again have to question your understanding of a belief?”

I can speak from personal experience that I've changed my entire viewpoint on God and His government 180° from what I used to believe. It's taken decades and came with a lot of cognitive dissonance. I've had to admit that I misrepresented Him to many in my circle of friends and family in years past.

Think how much more difficult it would have been if I had made a career of teaching a mistaken God construct, if I had written articles and books promoting this erroneous gospel, and led others to believe the same.

THURSDAY

A Difficult Solution.

I would have titled today's lesson “An Elegant Solution.” The difficulty was in dealing with cultural biases and prejudice with the Jews. For James to distill the solution down to four practices [all based on Design Law] was pretty slick.

The lesson suggests that during the process, Old Testament texts were re-read and reinterpreted through a new lens. What is the likelihood that 21st century SDA's need a new lens to see both Old and New Testament passages?

FRIDAY

“The council which decided this case was composed of apostles and teachers who had been prominent in raising up the Jewish and Gentile Christian churches, with chosen delegates from various places. Elders from Jerusalem and deputies from Antioch were present, and the most influential churches were represented. The council moved in accordance with the dictates of enlightened judgment, and with the dignity of a church established by the divine will. As a result of their deliberations they all saw that God Himself had answered the question at issue by bestowing upon the Gentiles the Holy Ghost; and they realized that it was their part to follow the guidance of the Spirit.”

“The entire body of Christians was not called to vote upon the question. The ‘apostles and elders,’ men of influence and judgment, framed and issued the decree, which was thereupon generally accepted by the Christian churches. Not all, however, were pleased with the decision; there was a faction of ambitious and self-confident brethren who dis-agreed with it. These men assumed to engage in the work on their own responsibility. They indulged in much murmuring and faultfinding, proposing new plans and seeking to pull down the work of the men whom God had ordained to teach the gospel message. From the first the church has had such obstacles to meet and ever will have till the close of time.”—Ellen G. White, The Acts of the Apostles, pp. 196, 197. Emphasis mine.

Oneness in Christ Lesson 8 4Q 2018

Unity in Faith

by Tim Jennings

The lesson this week is about unity in our faith and specifically the lesson focuses on unity in doctrinal belief within the SDA church.

The lesson points out that in 1888 the SDA church went through a period of great debate over various doctrines and EG White emphasized a couple of points that the lesson highlights in last two paragraphs: “that we should NOT expect everyone in the church to agree on every point of interpretation on all Bible texts. But she also emphasized that we should seek unity of understanding when it comes to essential Adventist beliefs.”

I wanted to share EG White’s perspective on the aftermath of the 1888 GC:

In Minneapolis God gave precious gems of truth to His people in new settings. This light from heaven by some was rejected with all the stubbornness the Jews manifested in rejecting Christ, and there was much talk about standing by the old landmarks. [What is being described here? God was trying to reveal truth in new setting, a new perspective—what might that be? Design law—that was it! Righteousness by faith moving away from the legal declaration to the actual experience of heart change—being made righteous. But, many of the leaders refused to advance in truth, and they held the false legal view and shipped EGW to Australia. There she wrote her greatest works DA, COL, MB, SC, all of which teach design law. What was used to obstruct the advance in truth? A claim that they had to hold to tradition, the old landmarks of truth. We have had the same argument made to us. Note what EGW says next] But there was evidence they knew not what the old landmarks were. There was evidence and there was reasoning from the word that commended itself to the conscience; but the minds of men were fixed, sealed against the entrance of light, because they had decided it was a dangerous error removing the "old landmarks" when it was not moving a peg of the old landmarks, but they had perverted ideas of what constituted the old landmarks... {CW 30.1} {1888 518} [This false argument is still happening when we present the Sabbath, Sanctuary, Atonement, Second Coming, final end of sin and sinners all through the design law view, some accuse us of moving the old landmarks, but we are not removing the old landmarks we are elevating and refining them to be understood in their true light.]

One of the landmarks under this message was the temple of God, seen by His truth-loving people in heaven, and the ark containing the law of God. The light of the Sabbath of the fourth commandment flashed its strong rays in the pathway of the transgressors of God's law. The nonimmortality of the wicked is an old landmark. I can call to mind nothing more that can come under the head of the old landmarks. All this cry about changing the old landmarks is all imaginary. {CW 30.2} {1888 518}

Now at the present time God designs a new and fresh impetus shall be given to His work. Satan sees this, and he is determined it shall be hindered. [What do you think the new and fresh impetus to be given to the work is? What is it that Satan opposes and how? It is the light of the 3 angels, the light of God as our designer, the light of design law overthrowing imposed law. And Satan opposes it by getting people to interpret all these doctrines through the imposed law lens. Thus, while we might be right on the fact, if we present it through imposed law lens, we still misrepresent God and His kingdom.] He knows that if he can deceive the people who claim to believe present truth, [and make them believe that] the work the Lord designs to do for His people is a removing of the old landmarks, something which they should, with most determined zeal, resist, then he exults over the deception he has led them to believe. The work for this time has certainly been a surprising work of various hindrances, owing to the false setting of matters before the minds of many of our people. That which is food to the churches is regarded as dangerous, and should not be given them. And this slight difference of ideas is allowed to unsettle the faith, to cause apostasy, to break up unity, to sow discord, all because they do not know what they are striving about themselves. Brethren, is it not best to be sensible? Heaven is looking upon us all, and what can they think of recent developments? While in this condition of things, building up barriers, we not only deprive ourselves of great light and precious advantages, but just now, when we so much need it, we place ourselves where light cannot be communicated from heaven that we ought to communicate to others.--Manuscript 13, 1889. {CW 31.1} {1888 518}

The men in responsible positions have disappointed Jesus. They have refused precious blessings, and refused to be channels of light, as He wanted them to be. The knowledge they should receive of God that they might be a light and blessing to others, they refuse to accept, and thus become channels of darkness. The Spirit of God is grieved. Never can the heart be stirred up with envy, with evil-surmising, with evil reports, but the intellect becomes unbalanced, and cannot decide correctly any controverted point. The attributes of Satan which have found entrance to the soul, cannot harmonize with truth. {1888 519.1} [What men in responsible positions was she referring to? Would these be ordained ministers, conference officials? Could this be true today? Could this state of affairs have altered the course and effectiveness of the SDA church? Could this be a reason for the delay in Christ's return that many SDA's believe has occurred? Then what does it mean in regard to allowing those in leadership to determine our beliefs and thinking?]

What are essential Adventist beliefs?

The lesson highlights five essential truths for our church—the five S's:

- Salvation in Jesus
- Second coming of Christ
- Sanctuary
- Sabbath
- State of the dead

The EGW quote above stated that these doctrines were to be presented in a new light: what is the new light into which these ideas are to be presented?

The light of our Creator God who designed His universe to operate in harmony with His character of love and whose law is design law.

What happens if we have these truths presented through imposed law lenses?

Then we still misrepresent God and promote the beastly system of coercion, this is the grand deception of Satan—not on the specific doctrine but the false legal way these doctrines are presented.

We will see that when we present any doctrine through the imposed law lens that we are not presenting the final message to the world, but are still presenting the lie of Satan, the beastly system. It is only when the doctrines are presented through God's design law that the truth about God is seen and Satan is exposed.

SUNDAY

Salvation in Jesus

Read second paragraph, "The Apostle Paul told..." This is well said—atonement is at-one-ment, God working through Christ to bring us back into oneness with Him.

How can the truth that salvation through Jesus alone be presented in such a way as to obstruct salvation through Jesus?

By presenting it through the imperial law lens, and teaching that Jesus had to die to pay a legal penalty, assuage or turn aside the Father's wrath and go to heaven to plead with His Father to prevent His Father from destroying us.

This view, commonly called Penal Substitution Theology is a lie and is based on the lie that God's law functions like human law and thus justice requires God to punish sinners for sin and Jesus took our sin upon Himself and God punished Jesus in our place. We then can claim Jesus' legal payment in our behalf and be legally declared righteous in heaven, even though we remain unrighteous on earth.

This entire theology is false and the SDA church was called to reframe the truth of salvation in Jesus alone through the design law reality of the 3 angels:

- When Adam and Eve sinned God was not changed, God's law was not changed but the condition of humanity was changed from being in harmony with God and His design law, to being out of harmony with God and His design law
- This change constituted a terminal condition for human beings—we are born in sin and conceived in iniquity, and are dead in trespass and sin
- No human born of natural descent could cure this condition

- Jesus was born in a unique way, the combination of a sinful woman and God the Holy Spirit. Thus, Jesus had a humanity infected with fear and selfishness, and could be tempted in every way just like we are. But He was able to resist the temptations and develop a perfect sinless human character thereby restoring God's design for life into the species human.
- According to Hebrews "once he was made perfect he became the source of salvation for all who obey him." (5:8) Wasn't he always perfect? No, he was always sinless, Bible perfection is about perfection of character and character cannot be created it must be developed by the choices of the sentient being. Jesus, as a human, exercising only the abilities of a human, with a human brain, developed a perfect, sinless human character and simultaneously eliminated the infection of fear and selfishness that was tempting Him. He rose in a perfected and healed humanity and now offers to share His eternal life with us. We can become partakers of the divine nature.
- For you computer geeks—Jesus restored God's original source code in humanity and eliminated the corrupted code.
 - Think about it—if you have corrupt code in your computer—no amount of external actions will benefit you—no review by a board of peers who make a proclamation of non-infected code will change what actually is happening within the computer. To fix the problem someone has to get into the code and eliminate the malicious script and rewrite the original operating system.
 - When an update comes to your computer and icon appears, "do you want to accept this update—yes or no." For the update to do any good it must be accepted. This is what we just read about truth coming to our minds—the truths must be accepted and incorporated into our minds and hearts and this is how we are individually updated, changed, matured, transformed. But if we reject the truth, say no—just like the computer, the infection gets worse.

EGW put it this way:

Through Jesus, God's mercy was manifested to men; but mercy does not set aside justice. The law reveals the attributes of God's character, and not a jot or tittle of it could be changed to meet man in his fallen condition. [Why? Because God's law is the law upon which life is built to operate. The law of respiration cannot be changed to meet a drowning man under water.] God did not change His law, but He sacrificed Himself, in Christ, for man's redemption. "God was in Christ, reconciling the world unto Himself." 2 Corinthians 5:19. {DA 762.1} [God was reconciling man to himself, not having Christ die to reconcile God to humanity. Nothing was wrong with God, something was wrong with humanity that needed fixing.]

The law requires righteousness,—a righteous life, a perfect character; and this man has not to give. He cannot meet the claims of God's holy law. But Christ, coming to the earth as man, lived a holy life, and developed a perfect character. These He offers as a free gift to all who will receive them. His life stands for the life of men. Thus they have remission of sins that are past, through the forbearance of God. More than this, Christ imbues men with the attributes of God. He builds up the human character after the similitude of the divine character, a goodly fabric of spiritual strength and beauty. Thus the very righteousness of the law is fulfilled in the believer in Christ. God can "be just, and the justifier of him which believeth in Jesus." Romans 3:26. {DA 762.2} Where is the righteousness of the law fulfilled? IN THE BELIEVER!!! What is God's justice? Doing what is right, and what is the right thing to do when a loved one is dying? To save them, to heal them, to provide remedy for their terminal condition!!!!]

The legal lie of penal substitution theology cheats people from genuine healing. It teaches them that the problem is a legal one and the solution needs to happen, not in the heart, but in the courts of heaven, that God must have a payment made to Him. That in heaven you will be declared righteous but on earth you will not be made righteous, you will remain unrighteous. Thus, the penal view creates a false security, undermines trust in God, increases fear, and prevents genuine healing of heart and mind.

We must present salvation in Jesus through design law lenses if we are to fulfill our end-time mission!

MONDAY

Second Coming of Christ

The first paragraph states, "All who love Christ look forward with anticipation to the day they will be able to share face-to-face fellowship with Him."

What does the Bible say happens or occurs that enables us to share this face-to-face relationship with Jesus?

Dear friends, now we are children of God, and what we will be has not yet been made known. But we know that when he appears, we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is. Everyone who has this hope in him purifies himself, just as he is pure. 1John 3:2-3

We share face to face fellowship because we are transformed to be like Him!

The lesson points us to the parable of the 10 virgins, 5 wise, 5 foolish, all have lamps; all are looking for the coming of Christ (Bridegroom); but only 5 have oil in their lamps and are ready when Christ comes.

What is the right understanding of this parable?

What is the oil that the five wise virgins could not share with the foolish and why couldn't they share it?

Here is an historic SDA view—do you agree:

The oil of grace gives to men the courage, and supplies to them the motives, for doing every day the work that God appoints to them. The five foolish virgins had lamps (this means a knowledge of Scripture truth), but they had not the grace of Christ. Day by day they went through a round of ceremonies and external duties, but their service was lifeless, devoid of the righteousness of Christ. The Sun of Righteousness did not shine in their hearts and minds, and they had not the love of the truth which conforms to the life and character, the image and superscription, of Christ. The oil of grace was not mingled with their endeavors. Their religion was a dry husk without the true kernel. They held fast to forms of doctrines, but they were deceived in their Christian life, full of self-righteousness, and failing to learn lessons in the school of Christ, which, if practiced, would have made them wise unto salvation.-- Review and Herald, March 27, 1894. {Christian Service 263.1}

Now is the time for the careless to arouse from their slumber. Now is the time to entreat that souls shall not only hear the word of God, but without delay secure oil in their vessels with their lamps. That oil is the righteousness of Christ. It represents character, and character is not transferable. No man can secure it for another. Each must obtain for himself a character purified from every stain of sin. {Testimony to Ministers 233.2}

How can the truth of the righteousness of Christ be misrepresented through the legal lie?

By teaching that we are legally declared to be righteous in the courts of heaven but are not made righteous hear on earth.

The design law truth is that God is working through Christ via the Holy Spirit to reproduce Christlike perfection in us.

Some ask, if character is not transferable then how can we obtain the character of Christ.

By beholding we are changed—this is a design law. The Holy Spirit is the Spirit of truth and love. Christ sends His Spirit to inspire us to a better life, to enlighten us with truth and then we must decide to choose to accept or reject the truth, when we choose the truth the Holy Spirit strengthens us to live the truth, our characters change, our brains rewire, and we are able to comprehend and experience more truth, we grow and develop to be more and more like Christ.

Thus, Jesus is the pattern that we behold and via the indwelling Spirit we become like Jesus as we choose to accept, agree, surrender, and apply Jesus and His design laws to our lives.

From Our Father Cares by EGW:

But we all, with open face beholding as in a glass the glory of the Lord, are changed into the same image from glory to glory even as by the Spirit of the Lord. 2 Corinthians 3:18. {OFC 26.3}

When enlightened by the Spirit of God, the believer beholds the perfection of Jesus, and beholding this perfection, he rejoices with joy unspeakable. In self he sees sin and helplessness; in the Redeemer sinlessness and infinite power. The sacrifice that Christ made in order that He might impart to us His righteousness—this is a theme upon which we may dwell with deeper and still deeper enthusiasm. Self is nothing; Jesus is everything. . . . {OFC 26.4} [What was the purpose of the sacrifice of Christ? To impart His righteousness to us—what does this mean? To infuse us with His perfection—to actually change us back into righteousness—this is not legal it is actual.]

The transforming power of grace can make me a partaker of the divine nature. On Christ the glory of God has shone, and by looking upon Christ, contemplating His self-sacrifice, remembering that in Him dwells all the fulness of the Godhead bodily, the believer is drawn closer and closer to the Source of power. . . . {OFC 26.5}

How essential that we have the enlightenment of the Spirit of God; for thus only can we see the glory of Christ, and by beholding become changed from character to character in and through faith in Christ. . . . [How are we changed? Upon what law is this change taking place? The law of worship, we become like what we admire, love, adore, choose, partake of. And the law of liberty and love, we are left free to choose what we ingest, not just physically but mentally, what we take into our minds and hearts. This is why Jesus is called the Word, which was made flesh. We are to partake of His flesh and blood, meaning we partake of the truth (word) of who He is and accept His character of love!] He has grace and pardon for every soul. As by faith we look to Jesus, our faith pierces the shadow, and we adore God for His wondrous love in giving us Jesus the Comforter. . . . {OFC 26.6}

The sinner may become a child of God, an heir of heaven. He may rise from the dust, and stand forth arrayed in garments of light. . . . At every step of advance, he sees new beauties in Christ, and becomes more like Him in character. {OFC 26.7} [How do we become a child of God—a child who possesses the attributes of God, the qualities of God, the character, methods, principles of God and thus is recognized as being part of the family of God? By beholding, loving, and choosing Jesus!]

The love that was manifested toward him in the death of Christ, awakens a response of thankful love, and in answer to sincere prayer, the believer is brought from grace to grace, from glory to glory, until by beholding Christ, he is changed into the same image. {OFC 27.1}

TUESDAY

Jesus' Ministry in the Heavenly Sanctuary

What do you understand this doctrine to be? It is often referred to as the Investigative Judgment—the investigation before Christ returns.

This is classically presented through the imposed law lie, which has God/Jesus in the role of a Judge examining record books in heaven of the recorded deeds of the people on earth and deciding who have had the legal application of Jesus' blood paid to their account, and if there are any sins that have not been paid for and thus not removed from the record. In that case, the person is unsaved and will be punished by God accordingly at the end of the 1000 years.

But what is actually recorded in the records? Since this is a unique SDA doctrine, why not let one of the founders of the church and developers of this doctrine tell us:

Remember, your character is being daguerreotyped [photographed] by the great Master Artist in the record books of heaven, as minutely as the face is reproduced upon the polished plate of the artist. What do the books of heaven say in your case? Are you conforming your character to the Pattern, Jesus Christ? Are you washing your robes of character and making them white in the blood of the Lamb? "Behold, I come quickly; and My reward is with Me, to give every man according as his work shall be" [Revelation 22:12]. . . . {TSB 62.1}

Every passing hour of the present is shaping our future life. These moments spent in carelessness, in self-pleasing, as if of no value, are deciding our everlasting destinies. [What decides our everlasting destinies? Is it a tribunal in heaven, God's review of record books, or the choices we are making here and now?] The words we utter today will go on echoing when time shall be no more. The deeds done today are transferred to the books of heaven, just as the features are transferred by the artist onto the polished plate. [Why are the deeds transferred? Is this suggesting a list of acts, or is it describing how the acts react upon the character and get burned into the heart, mind and character and they are in this way transcribed into the heavenly records? Keep reading....] They will determine our destiny for eternity, for bliss or eternal loss and agonizing remorse. [What will determine our destiny? The choices we make which determine the character we form. Do we choose to trust Jesus, believe God is like Him, accept the truth of His design law and choose to follow Him where He leads?] Character cannot be changed when Christ comes, nor just as a man is about to die. Character building must be done in this life... {TM 429.3}

What is recorded in the records of heaven? An exact transcript, copy, of our characters!

If you have a video camera taking a live shot of you and it is broadcast on live TV and we see that on the TV you have dirt on your face—what must occur in order for you to be seen with a clean face on the TV?

- Do we wash the TV?
- Do we record the image and then go in with a digital enhancer and photoshop the picture?
- Do we wash your face?

Thus, what must happen to have sinfulness removed from our record in heaven is to have sinfulness removed from our characters on earth!

This is known as the cleansing of the sanctuary, which is described in Daniel 8:14. But notice this description by the same SDA founder:

The coming of Christ as our high priest to the most holy place, for the cleansing of the sanctuary, brought to view in Daniel 8:14; the coming of the Son of man to the Ancient of days, as presented in Daniel 7:13; and the coming of the Lord to His temple, foretold by Malachi, are descriptions of the same event; and this is also represented by the coming of the bridegroom to the marriage, described by Christ in the parable of the ten virgins, of Matthew 25. {FLB 207.4}

This is referring to the investigative judgment, the cleansing of the sanctuary, and Malachi 3:1-3 describes what occurs, what is being cleansed:

“See, I will send my messenger, who will prepare the way before me. Then suddenly the Lord you are seeking will come to his temple; the messenger of the covenant, whom you desire, will come,” says the Lord Almighty.

² But who can endure the day of his coming? Who can stand when he appears? For he will be like a refiner’s fire or a launderer’s soap. ³ He will sit as a refiner and purifier of silver; he will purify the Levites and refine them like gold and silver...

The Levites—the priesthood of believers, we are being cleansed.

What does this have to do with investigation or judgment? Daniel seven describes the same event. In Daniel 7:13 Jesus is coronated but on earth a war is ongoing between the forces of evil (little horn) and the saints, Daniel 7 reads:

I beheld, and the same horn made war with the saints, and prevailed against them; Until the Ancient of days came, and judgment was given to the saints of the most High; and the time came that the saints possessed the kingdom. Dan 7:21,22

This has been misread through the imperial law lens to mean God pronounced a legal judgment in favor of the saints and thus a legal process is going on in heaven.

But that is not what is said, and is not what is meant.

The Daniel text tells us the horn warred against the saints and was defeating them. What kind of warfare was going on?

For though we live in the world, we do not wage war as the world does. The weapons we fight with are not the weapons of the world. On the contrary, they have divine power to demolish strongholds. We demolish arguments and every pretension that sets itself up against the knowledge of God, and we take captive every thought to make it obedient to Christ. 2 Cor 10:3-5

What kind of war? Where is it being fought?

This is a war between truth and lies, centering on God's character, and being fought in our minds! Amazingly, Paul makes the connection to the cleansing of the Temple even closer and shows how the Temple is connected to this war going on in our minds:

Concerning the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ and our being gathered to him, we ask you, brothers, not to become easily unsettled or alarmed by some prophecy, report or letter supposed to have come from us, saying that the day of the Lord has already come. Don't let anyone deceive you in any way, for that day will not come until the rebellion occurs and the man of lawlessness is revealed, the man doomed to destruction. He will oppose and will exalt himself over everything that is called God or is worshiped, so that he sets himself up in God's temple, proclaiming himself to be God. 2Thes 2:1-4

Paul is describing the exact same events as Daniel 7 in which evil powers war against the saints and oppose God. In the aftermath of Christ's death, resurrection, and ascension into heaven, did this man of lawlessness ride into heaven overthrow God, set himself up in God's temple in heaven, and proclaim himself to be God? No, where did this happen? In the Spirit Temple! In our minds!

Satan sets himself up in our minds and proclaims himself as God when we teach the penal substitutionary view of God—that God's law functions like human law and God is required to use His power to inflict pain, suffering and death!

The cleansing of the temple, as described in the Bible, is the cleansing of our minds from the lies about God, which wins us back to trust and results in our cleansing from sin.

Daniel is told in vision that an evil power would arise that would lie, distort, misrepresent God, and defile the Spirit Temple by getting humans to accept, worship, and teach a false picture of God. According to our understanding of interpreting prophetic time, it would take 2,300 years before enough truth would be recovered for Christ to empower His people on earth with judgment (discernment) to break free from the lies and be cleansed in their minds and characters.

"Fear God and give him glory, because the hour of his judgment has come. Worship him who made the heavens, the earth, the sea and the springs of water." Rev 14:7

Today is the time in universal history for people of God to reject the imperial law lies about God which have infected and contaminated the Spirit temple and make a right judgment about God! This right judgment wins them to trust, they see Christ in His right light and by beholding Him they are changed, thus their Temple is being cleansed and God's character is reproduced in them. They give Him glory by revealing His character and worshiping the designer and rejecting the dictator views of God.

WEDNESDAY

The Sabbath

The commandment says, Remember the Sabbath day by keeping it holy... what does this mean?

If we built a golden calf and had an orgy of pagan worship during the Sabbath hours, have we made the Sabbath less holy?

We cannot keep the Sabbath holy for we didn't make it holy and we can't make it unholy—we can only keep ourselves holy.

And can a person keep themselves holy only one day in seven?

The Hebrew translate "it" in the Sabbath commandment is: הוא, היא [huw', beyond, Pentateuch), hiy' /hoo/] pron 3p s. A primitive word; TWOT 480; GK 2085 and 2115; 38 occurrences; AV translates as "that", "him", "same", "this", "he", "which", "who", "such", and "wherein". 1 he, she, it. 1a himself (with emphasis).¹

This allows for a completely different interpretation: "Remember the Sabbath day keeping yourself holy." Or, "Remember the Sabbath day in order to stay holy."

According to Jesus, the Sabbath was made for man—for what reason? Was it in some way to aide humankind in holiness, in keeping ourselves holy?

And what is holiness? Holiness is the state of being holy—which is what?

I would like to suggest being holy is being in harmony with God in all aspects of our being. Thus, being holy is living in harmony with God's character, protocols, methods—His design laws!

And how is the Sabbath related to this?

When was the Sabbath created (remember the Sabbath was made for man)?

At the end of creation of planet earth and this solar system.

What was happening in the rest of the universe during that week?

War—what kind of war and over what?

And there was war in heaven. Michael and his angels fought against the dragon, and the dragon and his angels fought back. But he was not strong enough, and they lost their place in heaven. The great dragon was hurled down—that ancient serpent called the devil, or Satan, who leads the whole world astray. He was hurled to the earth, and his angels with him. Revelation 12:7-9

The Greek translated “war” is πόλεμος [polemos /pol-em·os/], from which we get polemic—it is a war of words, a war of ideas. And Satan is the father of lies (John 8:44).

And what has been the focus or target of Satan’s lies and where is this war fought?

For though we live in the world, we do not wage war as the world does.⁴ The weapons we fight with are not the weapons of the world. On the contrary, they have divine power to demolish strongholds. We demolish arguments and every pretension that sets itself up against the knowledge of God, and we take captive every thought to make it obedient to Christ. 2Corinthians 10:3-5.

The war is over the truth about God—whether we can trust God, whether God is worthy of our love, devotion, loyalty.

God wants our love, trust, loyalty and devotion—can any being get love, trust, loyalty from another by threat, by coercion, or by infliction of punishment for not loving?

In fact, what happens to love, trust, loyalty and devotion when threats are used? Love and trust are broken and rebellion ensues.

So, if Satan can get intelligent beings to believe that God is coercive, threatening, the source of inflicted pain, suffering, torture and death then love and trust break down and rebellion against God ensues.

How did Satan get intelligent beings to conclude this about God?

By alleging God’s laws are not the design protocols the Creator built life to operate upon, but instead function no differently than the rules enacted by human beings—imperial laws that require the ruling authority to inflict punishment for disobedience.

Then how does the Sabbath fit in?

What does it say about God, that in the context of an assault on His right to rule, rather than using His power to force all beings to bow to Him, He instead created a day of freedom to think?

Who was watching as God created planet earth?

“Where were you
when I laid the foundation of the earth?
Tell me, if you possess understanding!
Who set its measurements—if you know—or who stretched a measuring line across it?
On what were its bases set,
or who laid its cornerstone—when the morning stars sang in chorus, and all the sons of God shouted for joy? Job 38:4-7

The heavenly beings were watching as God created earth and a war over God’s right to rule was raging.

Why would God create planet earth at this point in universal history? To demonstrate by actions (give evidence) that Satan’s allegations were wrong.

Earth was created as the pinnacle of Godliness, a world of procreative power to operate upon love. A place where angels could look to find answers to the questions raised by Satan:

“We have been made a spectacle to the whole universe, to angels as well as to men.”
1Corinthians 4:9

Adam and Eve were created in perfect love to give of themselves in love and create beings in their image and rule over the planet in other-centered love. In sinless perfection, Adam and Eve would not have had children to abuse or enslave, but to care for and nurture, thus the way they govern this world would a microcosm of the universe revealing how God lovingly rules His entire creation.

And after 6 days of creation God says to all the watching beings, “You have heard the allegations against Us, you have seen the evidence we have just given, now universe—I rest My case! Take 24 hours aside and think for yourselves, come to your own conclusions and decide who you are going to trust.”

Days 1-6 of creation week we learn God has power—day seven reveals the character of the One who wields the power: God presented evidence (truth), in love, leaving His creatures free to decide for themselves. No coercion, to intimidation, no pressure—freedom!

So then what is the Sabbath commandment about? It is about how one lives their life—in harmony with God and His design for life—do we present truth in love and leave others free or do we use imperial rules and coerce others with threats of punishment?

Do we present the Sabbath as evidence of God's character and each week we remember God as Creator and His laws as the laws upon which reality is built and do we love His character of love and choose to practice His methods in our lives? Or, do we accept the lie that God's laws are like Satan alleges, rules imposed which require inflicted punishments and thus misrepresent God and turn the Sabbath into an arbitrary test of obedience filled with restrictions and prohibitions, which incite fear of punishment and undermine our love and trust in God?

THURSDAY

Death and Resurrection

Read first paragraph, "At Creation..."

The first premise to be addressed with the question of the state of humanity is whether at Creation God created humankind immortal or were they created mortal?

What are the implications if God created Adam and Eve with immortality?

- Does God have foreknowledge?
- Did God know they would sin?
- Then what kind of god would give immortality to beings who would rebel and suffer for all eternity?
- If you say God does not have foreknowledge—He didn't know what would happen—then does He not have wisdom to know what might happen and take wise actions to prevent His children from placing themselves in a situation where some will suffer for all eternity?

Not only does the doctrine of immortality of the soul contradict Scripture it makes God out to be either a horrible being or an inept being—there is no other option. In other words, there is no possibility for God to be a perfect and good God if He created Adam and Eve with immortality.

What about the idea that at death nothing goes to heaven?

Hmmm.... what is recorded in the records of heaven?

Consider Paul's words:

¹³ Brothers, we do not want you to be ignorant about those who fall asleep, or to grieve like the rest of men, who have no hope. ¹⁴ We believe that Jesus died and rose again and so we believe that God will bring with Jesus those who have fallen asleep in him. [From where is Jesus coming? Heaven, and who is Jesus bringing with Him? The saved—then where are the saved after they fall asleep in the first death? In heaven with Jesus...but keep reading] ¹⁵ According to the Lord's own word, we tell you that we who are still alive, who are left till the coming of the Lord, will certainly not precede those who have fallen asleep. ¹⁶ For the Lord himself will come down from heaven, with a loud command, with the voice of the archangel and with the trumpet call of God, and the dead in Christ will rise first. [who are these that are arising out of the grave? These are the same dead that are coming down out of heaven. How is it they are in heaven and also in the grave? We are tripartite, body, soul, spirit/ soma/psyche/pneuma, matter/individuality/energy, like a computer to be operational need all three hardware/software/electricity At death the software/individuality is stored on the heavenly servers, Lamb's book of life, the body decays to dust and the life energy returns to God who gave it. At the resurrection God brings the servers with the individualities of the saved from heaven, creates new bodies and downloads their individualities/souls into the bodies and gives them energy and they live again] ¹⁷ After that, we who are still alive and are left will be caught up together with them in the clouds to meet the Lord in the air. And so we will be with the Lord forever. 1Thes 4:13-17

The Most Convincing Proof

SABBATH

Read first paragraph, “Last week we...” Are there any concerns with this?

Three elements were emphasized:

- Jesus as Savior
- Truth of Scripture
- The time of the end

Don't most Christians believe Jesus is Savior, Truth is found in Scripture and we are living in the time of the end?

Is there a message that is specific for human beings at this time in human history?

How would you describe the message that we, as Christians, as a church, are to take to the world in this time in human history?

What do you think of this as a suggested message for our time, from the book Christ's Object Lessons:

It is the darkness of misapprehension of God that is enshrouding the world. Men are losing their knowledge of His character. It has been misunderstood and misinterpreted. At this time a message from God is to be proclaimed, a message illuminating in its influence and saving in its power. His character is to be made known. Into the darkness of the world is to be shed the light of His glory, the light of His goodness, mercy and truth... The last rays of merciful light, the last message of mercy to be given to the world, is the revelation of His character of love.” Christ's Object Lessons, p.415

Do you agree or disagree?

Is this message different or the same as the message of the 3 angels of Revelation 14:6-12 from NRSV?

Then I saw another angel flying in midheaven, with an eternal gospel to proclaim to those who live on the earth—to every nation and tribe and language and people. 7 He said in a loud voice, “Fear God and give him glory, for the hour of his judgment has come; and worship him who made heaven and earth, the sea and the springs of water.”

8 Then another angel, a second, followed, saying, “Fallen, fallen is Babylon the great! She has made all nations drink of the wine of the wrath of her fornication.”

9 Then another angel, a third, followed them, crying with a loud voice, “Those who worship the beast and its image, and receive a mark on their foreheads or on their hands, 10 they will also drink the wine of God’s wrath, poured unmixed into the cup of his anger, and they will be tormented with fire and sulfur in the presence of the holy angels and in the presence of the Lamb. 11 And the smoke of their torment goes up forever and ever. There is no rest day or night for those who worship the beast and its image and for anyone who receives the mark of its name.”

12 Here is a call for the endurance of the saints, those who keep the commandments of God and hold fast to the faith of Jesus.

Does this sound like a message of God’s character of love?

What law lens do you hear it through? What law lens was it translated through?

From The Remedy:

⁶Then I saw another messenger flying in midair, and he had the eternal good news about God's character of love to proclaim to everyone living on earth—to every nation, tribe, language, and people—which represents a movement of people who arise to proclaim the truth about God's character of love throughout the world.⁷He said in a clear, resounding voice, "Be in awe of God, and glorify him by living his methods of love, because the hour has come for everyone to make a judgment about God, and worship the Designer, Creator and Builder who made the heavens, the earth, the sea and springs of water— all of which operate upon his law of love."

⁸A second messenger followed the first, proclaiming throughout the world: "Don't trust Babylon the Great—a symbolic description of religions that misrepresent God—as it is fallen into the lies about God and intoxicates the world with its pagan views of God, maddening the people with its adulterous idea that God coerces and must inflict punishment if not properly appeased."

⁹And a third messenger followed the first two and proclaimed in a voice that was heard throughout the world: "If anyone gives worth and honor to the beastly system of coercion by choosing the methods of the beast and thus marking themselves as 'loyal in heart' by embracing the character of the beast, or marking themselves as 'loyal in deed' by practicing his methods,¹⁰ they will reap the full fury of unremedied sin when God no longer shields them from their destructive choice. They will experience immeasurable torment of mind and burning anguish of heart when they stand in God's fiery presence and are bathed in unquenchable fire of truth and love—all in the very presence of Jesus and the holy angels.¹¹The memory of their suffering and the lesson of their self-destructive choice will never be forgotten throughout all eternity. There will be no peace of mind—day or night—for those who prefer the methods of the beast and model after him, or for any who choose to mark themselves as followers of the beast."¹² This requires patient endurance on the part of the healed, who live God's methods of love and remain true to Jesus.

Does this sound different?

Can the truth that Jesus is our Savior be presented in a way that, rather than uniting, divides?

How can that be?

When we operate at level four thinking, which is law and order, imperial law, rules oriented, then security is found in proper definitions, doctrines, right ideas, rather than right character and right methods.

It lends itself to missing the forest for the trees—in this case missing actual salvation, the restoration of Christlikeness within, for ensuring the right doctrinal definitions are taught.

The false law view leads to the ends justify the means mentality. We must ensure that we are united in the right doctrines and thus we must set up compliance committees, use coercive pressure, threaten income, for no one can buy or sell save him who has the mark of the beast. But this is considered okay because we are enforcing the right doctrines, rules, laws.

They fail to realize this is not how reality works—one cannot get love, loyalty, devotion, trust, friendship by threats and punishment.

Does this mean there is no relationship between doctrine, what is taught and salvation or is there a relationship between doctrines and salvation? Yes there is a relationship!

Is there a relationship between salvation in Jesus and the message of unity to the world? Yes!

What is that relationship?

Is there a relationship between teaching/doctrines and salvation? It is all based in reality—How reality, God's kingdom actually works:

- When doctors taught people with lung disease they would improve by smoking tobacco—was there a relationship between what was being taught and their health outcomes?
- When doctors changed their teaching to teach tobacco causes lung disease and no one should smoke—was there a relationship between what was being taught and health outcomes?
- So what is the relationship between doctrines and salvation in Jesus?
- If they teach the truth about God, His character and methods, His design for life, what is actually wrong that God is fixing through Christ then the doctrines are effective in leading people to salvation.

- But if what is taught is myth, is distorted, is false then the doctrines taught can actually make things worse—increase fear, harden hearts, incite rebellion, cause division, and incite abuse of others—all under the guise of loyalty to God. Remember those who crucified Christ, or the Dark Ages, Inquisition and what Revelation teaches about the end of time.

So, what methods unite and what methods divide?

Truth presented in love while leaving free, when these methods are accepted then unity results.

Lies believed results in fear selfishness leading to coercion and always divides.

Truth presented to a group of people who all believe the same lie and practice the same distorted methods will divide. This is what Jesus meant when He said He did not come to bring peace but a sword—the sword of truth.

Matthew 10:34-36 from The Remedy:

"Don't think that I have come to make peace with a selfish world. I have not come to bring peace with selfishness, but a sword to cut selfishness out of the hearts of people.³⁵ I have come to cut dysfunctional family ties: to free a son from selfish loyalty to his father's ambitions and feuds, to sever a daughter from the control of an oppressive and manipulative mother, to cut through the fear and hostility a daughter-in-law has toward her mother-in-law.³⁶ A person's worst enemies are often members of their own family.

What happens if we have a right doctrinal fact, say, ceremonial baptism by immersion in water and we use methods of coercion to force people to be baptized by immersion—are we promoting the truth or a lie?

How about we teach people the Bible method of baptism, but leave them free to decide for themselves and a person is not convinced of the immersion method and instead is baptized by sprinkling does that preclude them from being saved? Would baptism by sprinkling prevent someone from being part of God's church triumphant?

But, could baptism by sprinkling prevent someone from being part of various denominations until they are not immersed in water?

What does this say about denominations versus the church triumphant?

If we have a message for the end of time that is to unite people under one head, Jesus, should that message be one that unites all people, or should we present truths that are truths, but in such a way that they fracture and divide?

SUNDAY

Read first paragraph, “Like many other spiritual...” What is being taught in this paragraph?

Are they saying if we agree on the method of baptism, claim by faith the death of Jesus for our sin payment and the forgiveness of sins and believe He rose from the dead, and share common definition of what the three angels’ messages mean, then we will be united?

Hmmm...So is unity an agreement of ideas merely?

Or, is unity a unity of hearts of love who practice the same methods but yet could still disagree on definitions of things like the meaning of the 3 angels or method of baptism, or why Christ had to die?

What about the idea that unity is not a human creation by our good works or efforts?

Does that mean we can have unity, as God designed it and through God’s methods, without our good works and efforts?

What is meant by:

Therefore, my dear friends, as you have always obeyed—not only in my presence, but now much more in my absence—continue to work out your salvation with fear and trembling,¹³ for it is God who works in you to will and to act according to his good purpose. Php 2:12-13

Can a person be saved by their own efforts apart from God and Jesus? No!

Can God save a person through Jesus without the effort, cooperation, and active engagement of that person? No!

This is another place where the false imperial/imposed law lens has corrupted simple truth. Because the species human was saved by Jesus alone and no work, effort, action we sinner can take can contribute in any way to what Jesus accomplished for us it is falsely taught that we have no work in our salvation. Untrue—we have no work in developing the remedy for our sin problem—this Jesus did singly and alone. But we do have a work in partaking and cooperating with Jesus and the Holy Spirit in the application of that remedy into our individual lives.

The legal lie tells people you only need to accept the legal payment of Jesus blood to your heavenly ledger and God will declare you to be righteous, even though you remain wicked. Your only work in being saved is to accept the legal payment. Once saved, you have work to do in gratitude but that work doesn’t contribute to your being saved.

The truth is that Jesus saved the species in His own humanity and developed a perfect sinless character, destroyed the infection of fear and selfishness, revealed God as altogether trustworthy and

His methods as the only methods of life and exposed Satan as a liar. We have a work to do in thinking/studying the truth and choosing to trust God, and then in applying to our lives the methods and principles of God.

Here is what one of the founders of the SDA church wrote—is this part of the end time message we are to take to the world—do you see this as a different message than the penal substitutionary lie?

- We are laborers together with God. This is the Lord's own wise arrangement. The cooperation of the human will and endeavor with divine energy is the link that binds men up with one another and with God. The apostle says, "We are laborers together with God: ye are God's husbandry, ye are God's building" (1 Corinthians 3:9). Man is to work with the facilities God has given him. "Work out your own salvation with fear and trembling," He says. "For it is God which worketh in you both to will and to do of His good pleasure" (Philippians 2:12, 13).--MS 113, 1898. {2MCP 694.3}
- There are two grand forces at work in the salvation of the human soul. It requires the cooperation of man with the divine agencies-- divine influences, and a strong, living, working faith. It is in this way only that the human agent can become a laborer together with God. The Lord does not sanction in any one of us a blind, stupid credulity. He does not dishonor the human understanding, but, far from this, He calls for the human will to be brought into connection with the divine will. He calls for the ingenuity of the human mind, the tact, the skill, to be strenuously exercised in searching out the truth as it is in Jesus. . . . Ye are labourers together with God. {OHC 310.5}
- And he who seeks to give light to others will himself be blessed. "There shall be showers of blessing." "He that watereth shall be watered also himself." Proverbs 11:25. God could have reached His object in saving sinners without our aid; but in order for us to develop a character like Christ's, we must share in His work. In order to enter into His joy,--the joy of seeing souls redeemed by His sacrifice,--we must participate in His labors for their redemption. {DA 142.2}

What law of God is described in that last quote? The law of exertion—if you want something to get stronger you must exercise it. God wants us to grow, to develop, to become like Him, and we must also want that and choose it, not just as a concept but as a way of life. The legal model is a lie of Satan that cheats people from genuine holiness, healthiness and happiness.

Read third paragraph “Whatever else we believe...”

How is this different from every other Christian denomination? And if all Christian denominations teach salvation through Jesus’ death in our behalf, does that mean we are united with all denominations?

Why can two people both proclaim belief in Christ’s death but not be united in Christ?

“Not everyone who says to me, ‘Lord, Lord,’ will enter the kingdom of heaven, but only he who does the will of my Father who is in heaven. ²² Many will say to me on that day, ‘Lord, Lord, did we not prophesy in your name, and in your name drive out demons and perform many miracles?’ ²³ Then I will tell them plainly, ‘I never knew you. Away from me, you evildoers!’ Mt 7:21-24 NIV

These are not Buddhists or atheists, these are people proclaiming Jesus as Lord—Christians, but they are not united with Jesus why? Because they were not doing the will of the Father in heaven. And what is the will of the Father?

To love—to live in harmony with God’s character and design law of love!

MONDAY

In the second paragraph the lesson asks us to read Ephesians 2:13-16:

But now in Christ Jesus you who once were far away have been brought near through the blood of Christ.

¹⁴ For he himself is our peace, who has made the two one and has destroyed the barrier, the dividing wall of hostility, ¹⁵ by abolishing in his flesh the law with its commandments and regulations. His purpose was to create in himself one new man out of the two, thus making peace, ¹⁶ and in this one body to reconcile both of them to God through the cross, by which he put to death their hostility. NIV

What does this mean?

Who was far away and far away from what? Would it be far away from God and God’s design for life, God’s law of love?

What is meant by “the blood of Christ”? Does that mean the red corpuscles?

How does the blood of Christ bring one close to God and God’s design?

What are the two that are brought into one? What is the barrier, the wall dividing? What does it mean abolish the law in his flesh?

How does Christ create in himself a new human and how does this bring peace, peace with who or what?

From The Remedy:

But now, you—whose minds were once far away, and who were practicing the principles of selfishness and survival-of-the-fittest—have been enlightened and brought near to God, and are in unity with Christ through the truth revealed when he died.

¹⁴ For Christ himself is the Remedy that heals the species and brings peace. He has removed fear and selfishness that cause division, mistrust, prejudice, and hostility.¹⁵ He did this by partaking of our human condition, and—via the exercise of his human brain—he loved perfectly, thereby destroying in his flesh (in the humanity he partook) the selfish survival-of-the-fittest drive along with the lies of Satan. In this way, he destroyed the need for the law (with all its regulations) to expose Satan’s lies and methods. His purpose was to be the template of a new humanity born out of the unification of the two—our selfish, infected condition merged with his sinless state—thereby purging selfishness from the human heart, and transforming, healing, renewing, regenerating and recreating humanity back to God’s original ideal;¹⁶ and in this new being, to reconcile the human race—regardless of ethnic background—into loving unity with God and each other through the revelation of truth at the cross, by which he destroyed the lies of Satan, reestablished trust, and removed fear, selfishness, and hostility.

Do you see how only design law—understanding God as Creator, how God built life to operate and how sin is breaking God’s design for life which causes pain and death—can give us the right understanding? If we try to understand the Bible with the imperial/imposed law lens we will always end up with wrong conclusions and too frequently misrepresent God as beastly.

The lesson asks us to read 2Cor 5:17-21 from the NIV:

Therefore, if anyone is in Christ, he is a new creation; :[is a new creation as this verse says or do we believe the legal lie that says one is declared to be a new creation even though he is not?] the old has gone, the new has come! ¹⁸ All this is from God, who reconciled us to himself [Do we believe the Bible or the penal/legal lie that Christ had to propitiate the Father’s wrath and also reconcile the Father to us?] through Christ and gave us the ministry of reconciliation: ¹⁹ that God was reconciling the world to himself in Christ, not counting men’s sins against them. [do we believe what the Bible says or the legal lie which teaches God does keep score, does keep record of the sins, counting them and recording them in the books of heaven to one day punish for?] And he has committed to us the message of reconciliation. ²⁰ We are therefore Christ’s ambassadors, as though God were making his appeal through us. We implore you on Christ’s behalf: Be reconciled to God. ²¹ God made him who had no sin to be sin for us, so that in him we might become the righteousness of God. [Substitution—for what purpose? So that we might become the righteousness of God. The Penal Substitutionary lie is that we are declared righteous even though we are not. This is not so. God was in Christ restoring the species human back into perfection!]

Do you believe that God does not count our sins against us?

Isn't it taught that God does count our sins against us? Is this true or not?

What does 1Cor 13 say about love, "it keeps no record of wrongs." Is God love? Then does God keep record of wrongs to judge us by and punish us by?

No! This is Satan's lie to undermine our trust in God. God doesn't have to keep record of wrongs because His law is not imperial or imposed, it is design law. All deviations from God's design law injure and damage the sinner and God is working through Christ to heal and restore all who trust Him.

God's records are merely the records of reality—like medical records, documenting the actual condition of each heart and also documenting all the myriad interventions from God to heal every person and all the many times any lost person rejected God's free remedy. Thus the records are not lists of our misdeeds to punish and destroy us for, but a record of all God has done to save each person, even those who are lost and how the lost are destroyed by their own persistence in selfishness—not by God.

TUESDAY

Read first paragraph, "In 1902..." Is what is described here a legal process or actual transformation of the sinner?

What is the mind that was in Christ that is to be ours?

How did Jesus treat the woman caught in adultery?

- Did He condemn her?
- Did He condone the adultery?
- What did He do and why?
- How should we treat people who are living in "sin"?
- Why do we not need to condemn?
- What would our attitude be toward a loved one who smoked two packs per day? Why? Is this how it is for those who live in sin?
- Why is this a safe approach?
- What if we believe that a particular action/practice is sinful but it is not, what happens if we leave people free? But if it is harmful? What happens?

How did Jesus treat the woman with the bleeding problem?

- Did He let her slip away?
- Do you think she wanted everyone to know she had been bleeding in this way for years?
- Might she have been embarrassed?
- Why did Jesus call her out publicly?
- What was Jesus trying to heal?

- She struggled with not only bleeding of her body, but with shame, guilt, fear of not being accepted by God. Jesus wanted to remove her shame, to have her realize that by trusting in Him not only was her body healed, but she gets a new heart and right spirit. To set her truly free to hold her head up in society and to know that God wanted her to be well.

What mindset does Jesus reveal in Mt 5:43-48:

“You have heard that it was said, ‘Love your neighbor and hate your enemy.’ ⁴⁴ But I tell you: Love your enemies and pray for those who persecute you, ⁴⁵ that you may be sons of your Father in heaven. He causes his sun to rise on the evil and the good, and sends rain on the righteous and the unrighteous. ⁴⁶ If you love those who love you, what reward will you get? Are not even the tax collectors doing that? ⁴⁷ And if you greet only your brothers, what are you doing more than others? Do not even pagans do that? ⁴⁸ Be perfect, therefore, as your heavenly Father is perfect.

What law does Jesus cite as evidence of God’s methods?

How are we to be perfect? In what way? In love, in heart attitude toward others. Which law helps us do this? Design law!

WEDNESDAY

The lesson focuses on Romans 14 and 15, and how there were disagreements over what to eat or what days to hold as sacred and Paul made the point that every person is to be fully persuaded in their own mind and we are not to judge one another.

Thoughts about the principle?

Read second paragraph, “It is very likely...” What is the lesson trying to do here?

It is trying to make a distinction between issues that we should allow others to differ with us upon, and other issues that we should call salvation issues and not allow such divergence. Is it true that Paul’s counsel was only on issues of opinion and not to be applied to “salvation” issues?

Is accepting Jesus as our Savior a salvation issue?

Should every person be fully persuaded in their own mind about accepting Jesus as their Savior? Yes! This counsel applies to all truths why?

Because a person convinced against their will is of the same opinion still.

When we understand design law we understand that only when a person is convinced in their own mind does the truth have any benefit to them. If they disagree with the truth and conform for some other reason then, in their heart, they become a rebel, hardened, and move away from God.

This is what much of legal religion does, it pressures people to keep rules for which they do not agree and this causes either rebellion or destroys individuality, developing brute beasts of religious enforcement.

Notice this brilliant insight in Christ's Object Lessons:

A profession of faith and the possession of truth in the soul are two different things. The mere knowledge of truth is not enough. We may possess this, but the tenor of our thoughts may not be changed. The heart must be converted and sanctified. {COL 97.2}

The man who attempts to keep the commandments of God from a sense of obligation merely--because he is required to do so--will never enter into the joy of obedience. He does not obey. [this is level four, this is Penal Substitution Theology] When the requirements of God are accounted a burden because they cut across human inclination, we may know that the life is not a Christian life. True obedience is the outworking of a principle within. It springs from the love of righteousness, the love of the law of God. The essence of all righteousness is loyalty to our Redeemer. This will lead us to do right because it is right--because right doing is pleasing to God. [this is design law!] {COL 97.3}

Why is this so? Because of design law, the law of liberty, love can only be experienced in atmosphere of freedom. Pressure or coerce someone against their will and they will rebel. Thus we read:

A sullen submission to the will of the Father will develop the character of a rebel. By such a one service is looked upon as drudgery. It is not rendered cheerfully, and in the love of God. It is a mere mechanical performance. If he dared, such a one would disobey. His rebellion is smothered, ready to break out at any time in bitter murmurings and complaints. Such service brings no peace or quietude to the soul. {ST, July 22, 1897}

Notice the lesson suggests that Paul's counsel did not refer to eating pork or the weekly Sabbath—why would the lesson suggest this?

Because they are operating under the false imperial law lens and think that certain rules must be enforced.

Of course, the principle of persuading everyone in their own mind applies to eating pork or the Sabbath. However, if a person is not persuaded about the foods they eat they will not be punished by God in hell, but will suffer health problems.

What about the Sabbath—if a person is not persuaded about the benefits of the Sabbath then what? What would happen if a person doesn't believe the Sabbath is a gift to man from God, but they observe it because their spouse wants them to, or because they fear God will punish them if they don't—what happens?

What if a person doesn't believe in it and doesn't observe it at all? They miss out on all the Sabbath was designed to teach and provide, but does that mean they miss out on a love relationship with Jesus?

Read bottom pink section, "Is there anything that..." Is there a difference in being a member of God's family, being saved, fulfilling God's purpose in one's life, having God's law written in the heart and mind, living fully to the light God has given you and to what denomination one belongs?

What is the benefit of organizational groups?

THURSDAY

What is the mission of God's people at this time in human history?

Is that mission exclusive to any denominational church, or can any person be part of that mission even without joining a specific denomination?

Can a person be part of God's end time mission without having God's character reproduced within?

FRIDAY

The lesson suggests the Holy Spirit guides the church in three ways, revelation, Scripture and consensus—thoughts?

Could any of these be used by a false spirit?

Where should consensus fit in?

Can consensus occur and it be against the Holy Spirit? Did the Sanhedrin have consensus to crucify Christ?

Should consensus overrule each person being fully persuaded in their own mind?

During The Reformation the reformers decided:

"Let us reject this decree. In matters of conscience the majority has no power."--Merle d'Aubigne, History of the Reformation, b. 13, ch. 5. {AA 68.1}

Consider this EGW quote:

"I have been shown that there is one practise which those in responsible places should avoid; for it is detrimental to the work of God. Men in position should not lord it over God's heritage, and command everything around them. Too many have marked out a prescribed line which they wish others to follow in the work. Workers have tried to do this with blind faith, without exercising their own judgment upon the matter which they had in hand. If those who were placed as directors were not present, they have followed their implicit directions just the same. But in the name of Christ, I would entreat you to stop this work. Give men a chance to exercise their individual judgment. Men who follow the leading of another, and are willing that another should think for them, are unfit to be entrusted with responsibility. Our leading men are remiss in this matter. God has not given to special ones all the brain power there is in the world. Men in responsible positions should credit others with some sense, with some ability of judgment and foresight, and look upon them as capable of doing the work committed to their hands. Our leading brethren have made a great mistake in marking out all the directions that the workers should follow, and this has resulted in deficiency, in a lack of a caretaking spirit in the worker, because they have relied upon others to do all their planning, and have themselves taken no responsibility. Should the men who have taken this responsibility upon themselves step out of our ranks, or die, what a state of things would be found in our institutions! Leading men should place responsibilities upon others, and allow them to plan and devise and execute, so that they may obtain an experience. Give them a word of counsel when necessary, but do not take away the work because you think the brethren are making mistakes. May God pity the cause when one man's mind and one man's plan is followed without question. God would not be honored should such a state of things exist. All our workers must have room to exercise their own judgment and discretion. God has given men talents which he means that they should use. He has given them minds, and he means that they should become thinkers, and do their own thinking and planning, rather than depend upon others to think for them.”

Oneness in Christ Lesson 10 4Q 2018

Unity and Broken Relationships

Dr. Tim Jennings

What is the basis of healthy relationships? Love and trust

How do you define each of these?

Love—the principle of other-centered motivation—the concern, care, regard, desire for the health, welfare, beneficence of the other.

So how does love function?

Does love always give what another person wants?

Does love always avoid actions that cause pain?

Love does what is in the best interest of the other—given the context, the understood impact, the opportunity and position one holds in the other person's life.

How do you define trust?

Trust – Confidence in another without fear or doubt.

Upon what is trust based?

I propose there are four elements necessary for one to experience healthy trust or faith in another:

1. The other person genuinely loves you more than self, and would sacrifice self for you. Thus, they will not betray you or turn on you or become your enemy. Does God meet this criteria? Yes! (How deeply is trust in God undermined because legal theologies put God in the role of the one from whom we must be protected?)
 - a. why is this quality alone not enough to establish trust? Your 6 y/o child may have this love for you and if you were in danger run into harm's way without a thought for self to save you. But if you tell a 6 y/o not to take a piece of candy in the bowl, or to wait their turn do you have complete trust it will happen or does the child need supervision and oversight? So, in addition to love we need #2...
2. The other person has demonstrated mature self-governance, the ability to be reliable and consistent in carrying out what they have said they will do. Does God meet this criteria? Yes!
 - a. Why is love for you and self-governance not enough to establish trust? Could a person genuinely love you, and have good self-control, but misunderstand God's law and design for relationships and seek to control you, rule you, dominate you, discipline you

- believing, with all sincerity, that you are not supposed to be an equal in the relationship but a subordinate? So in addition to love and self-governance trust requires #3
3. The other person possesses genuine wisdom or understanding of how reality actually works and operates in harmony with design law, or at least has a mindset that is eagerly grow with new insights. Does God possess this criteria? Yes!
 - a. These first three together constitute someone who is genuinely trustworthy. Does finding a person with these three attributes result in a trust relationship or is something else required?
 4. You come to actually know that other person for yourself and thus experience 1,2 and 3 for yourself—and you choose to trust.

What undermines our ability to trust someone who is trustworthy?

- Some people are so wounded, so hurt, so fearful because of past betrayals that even when dealing with someone who has demonstrated trustworthiness they still don't trust because of fear.
- A second reason is doubting or distrusting our own judgment—having trusted someone in the past and been burned, one not only lives in fear of others, but some live in fear that they themselves can't tell who to trust.
- Being so hard-hearted, selfish, and untrustworthy that one sees everyone else like themselves and doesn't trust.
- other reasons?

So healthy relationships are designed by God to operate on love and trust. But love and trust are attributes of living beings and thus we could say, healthy relationships require healthy people—and healthy people love others more than self, have self-governance and are wise in God's design laws for life.

With this in mind let's turn to the lesson and consider the issues there:

WEDNESDAY

Read first paragraph, "What is forgiveness?" If someone has been wronged, can they experience healing of their heart and mind without forgiving the wrongdoer?

If a person who has been wronged forgives the wrongdoer, who always gets changed by the experience of forgiving the wrongdoer?

If a person who has been wronged refuses to forgive, who always gets more injury?

If forgiveness is a requirement to heal after being wronged, what prevents so many people from doing it?

Believing lies or misunderstanding what forgiveness is and what it means.

Let's examine some myths of forgiveness:

- Kate
 - Depressed, anxious, upset, distraught
 - She was being pressured, she didn't know what to do

Myth # 1 Forgiveness means restored Trust.

- Trust is restored when the offender is changed to be trustworthy AND the offended forgives
- Three types of distrust –
 - malevolent/selfish person who is out to harm/for themselves
 - child who means well but too immature to handle responsibilities
 - The adult who worries what others will think, afraid of conflict, who won't stand up for what they themselves know is right
 - The unwise person who applies the wrong principles thinking they are doing right.
- Kate's husband was the second, he, in the moment of confrontation, was sorry he hurt Kate, and meant it when he said he would never do it again, would most likely pass a lie detector, but he was not mature, was not practiced in standing up to his own feelings and thus was untrustworthy even though he sincerely wanted to be -

Myth # 2 Forgiveness comes after the offender says they are sorry

- Bob was angry, bitter, hurt, resentful – his sister had come over, brought beer, gotten him drunk and then stolen his rare coin collection he had started since childhood – She took the coins and left the state and sold them to buy drugs– Bob was angry
 - Had problems in relationships
 - Was irritable, flew off the handle and refused to forgive until his sister came back and asked his forgiveness
- God's kindness leads you to repentance Romans 2:4
- When Adam sinned what happened?
 - Adam ran and hid because he was afraid, why?
 - Was God his enemy?
 - Was God out to injure him?
 - Was there any resource other than God to help Adam after he sinned?
 - Then why did Adam run?
 - Because he didn't trust God and was therefore afraid
 - What did God do?
 - God ran after Adam – Why?
 - To heal and restore their friendship
 - God has been running after mankind ever since!
 - When God ran after Adam had God already forgiven Adam or was God unforgiving toward Adam and something needed to be done to God to get God to forgive?

- What came first God's forgiveness or man's repentance?
 - But God demonstrates his own love for us in this: While we were still sinners, Christ died for us. Romans 5:8
 - Did Christ die to get God to forgive us?
 - This is another lie of the penal substitutionary theology that Jesus had to die to pay a legal penalty or else God could not forgive us.
 - Some Bible translations actually translate this lie into Heb 9:22 as, "Without the shedding of blood there is no forgiveness of sin." It should be "without the shedding of blood there is no remission of sin."
 - What is the difference? If you have cancer do you want to be forgiven or want the cancer to go into remission?
 - Without Jesus' sacrifice sin in humanity would not remit, we could not be healed, saved, restored to God's original ideal.
- Another distortion contributing to myth #2
 - Forgiveness is a legal process that requires payment or appeasement
 - This occurs from accepting the lie about God's law
 - Consider the contradictions the false legal view creates, which damages the minds of people because they stop thinking:
 - Many people believe that Jesus came to die in order to pay our legal debt, to pay for our sins AND also that God forgives us our debts as we forgive our debtors
 - can you "forgive" the debt and also "collect" the debt?
 - If you collect it, have you forgiven it?
 - If you forgive it, do you also collect it? If you owed someone $100 and you couldn't pay and the person demands money from another so your brother steps up and pays the $100 can that person then look to you and say, "now that I have been paid and you no longer owe me I forgive your debt"?
 - Interestingly, many Christians claim God forgives our debts but also demands the payment of the innocent life of His Son to pay for our debts. It seems it is one or the other – I choose what
 - God said to Moses "The LORD, the LORD, the compassionate and gracious God, slow to anger, abounding in love and faithfulness, maintaining love to thousands, and forgiving wickedness." Exodus 34:6
 - Or what Paul says, "that God was reconciling the world to himself in Christ, not counting men's sins against them." 2 Cor 5:19
 - Love keeps no record of wrongs 1Cor 13:5

Myth # 3 Forgiveness equals salvation

- Comes from believing that the problem with sin is God rather than our condition – and thus if we get God to forgive we are okay –
- This misdiagnoses the problem as a problem with God rather than realizing the truth, the problem is with us
- Consider those who put Christ on the cross—did God the Son forgive them? Were they then saved?

- Salvation = Healing
- Salvation = Reconciliation
- Reconciliation requires forgiveness AND repentance—a change in the heart of the wrongdoer from untrustworthy to trustworthy
- Forgiveness alone is useless
- If you child disobeyed your instructions to never mess with the household cleaners under the sink and somehow disobeyed and drank some of the poison—would you forgive your child? Would your forgiveness be all that is required to save them?
- If a serial killer, a Ted Bundy or Son of Sam were alive and legally pardoned by the president and set free from prison, would you want them as your next-door neighbor? What if someone truly loved them and offered to pay their legal penalty and was executed in their place, would you want them as your neighbor? Why not?

Myth # 4 Forgiveness leads to greater vulnerability.

- Sheila came to see me with a long history of depression, mood instability, anxiety, sleep problems, inability to relax, panic, nightmares, inability to trust and fear of getting hurt.
 - She reported she had been raped in college and was filled with incredible amount of rage and anger.
 - As therapy progressed we discussed forgiving, in her heart, the man who had raped her.
 - But she said she would never forgive him because the anger made her feel strong, the rage made her feel powerful and she would be ready, like a poised lion, the next time anyone tried to hurt her.
- She believed the myth that forgiveness leads to greater vulnerability
- Sunburn analogy—if you had a bad sunburn and
 - your 3 y/o child jumped on your back to play what do you do?
 - If you loving spouse gives you a big bear hug what do you do?
 - if someone slaps your back what do you do?
 - When you are sunburned you lose the ability to tell the difference between touches of play, touches of love, and touches of aggression—everything hurts and you push everyone away
 - Is the best strategy when burned to figure out how no one ever gets close enough to touch you again, or heal the burn?
- Is the myth true? Would forgiving him mean she would take less precautions, leave doors unlocked, walk alone at night?
- Forgiveness is the means of healing ourselves and does not cause one to be less cautious in the future

Myth # 5 Forgiveness means forgetting

- Does forgiveness mean forgetting?
- "I, even I, am he who blots out your transgressions, for my own sake, and remembers your sins no more." Isa 43:25
- "For I will forgive their wickedness and will remember their sins no more." Heb 8:12
- What do these texts mean?
- Do they mean, as the legal proponents claim, that when we confess our sins they are erased out of the books of heaven and the memories of all the sinless and saved so in heaven no one will know our sinful past?
- Can our angels read our Bibles?
 - David, Bathsheba, Solomon, Uriah
 - Will they know each other? Will they know how it came to be?
 - Will it matter at that point in time?
 - Why not?
 - Imagine being nominated to serve in children's department and someone says, "before you nominate them, I think it is important the committee know that they had a bad viral infection when they were a child and vomited on their mother's couch and had diarrhea all over the carpet. What would the committee say?"
 - "Why are you telling us this?"
 - "Because it was gross, disgusting, ugly"
 - That may be historically true, but what is the only question that matters?
 - "Are they sick today?"
 - "Well, no."
 - then it doesn't matter.
 - When we get to heaven we may have a history of sin-sickness that is disgusting and gross, but the only question that matters is—are we still sin-sick or have we experienced healing of heart and mind to be like Jesus!
 - And if the answer is yes, there is no need to erase the memories or the historical records because they enhance our love and appreciation for God!
 - Mary Magdalene anoints Jesus feet
 - "those forgiven much love much"
 - If God were to wipe out memory we would lose so much of our appreciation and love for God.
- So how do we understand those texts about not remembering?
- Analogy of child who fibbed and you as the parent forgave and intervened with discipline and your child repented and there was reconciliation with hugs and kisses
 - When your child comes home from school the next day do you think "here comes that little liar..."
 - No! as far as the relationship is concerned it is forgiven—but do you have amnesia of what happened?

- One can safely “forget” ONLY when reconciliation has occurred
- Why do people hope for memory erasure?
 - Misconceptions about God

Myth # 6 Forgiveness means the offender gets away with it.

- Cherie was bitter, angry with a lifelong history of mood problems, irritability, anxiety, relationship problems, inability to relax, chronic feelings of emptiness, loneliness, worthlessness, inability to trust, always afraid of getting exploited
 - She reported she was molested from ages 5-12 by her uncle, but she never told, he was never caught, he was never punished
 - She refused to forgive because he was never caught therefore forgiving would be like he got away with it
 - Cherie was going to hold him accountable
 - Misunderstands nature of sin
 - Sin always damages the sinner

SUNDAY

Read first three paragraphs, “Paul and Barnabas...” Was the problem that Paul was unwilling to forgive John Mark? No!

What was the problem? That Paul didn’t trust John Mark—why? Was it because John Mark didn’t love others? Or was it because John Mark demonstrated a lack of maturity to handle the responsibility?

Did Paul’s lack of confidence or trust in John Mark mean Paul didn’t care for him or wasn’t his friend?

What is the old saying, “Friends don’t let friends drive drunk.” So, from Paul’s perspective could he not want to avoid putting John Mark in position to fail again?

What was different about Barnabas’s attitude toward John Mark? Could it be that both Paul and Barnabas assessed John Mark similarly, as one who wanted to fulfill God’s calling, but one who was not ready for the responsibility, i.e. an intern still in training—and Paul was wanting a fully equipped partner and Barnabas was willing to take on a trainee who needed more encouragement and supervision?

So, could we have Paul’s objections be based upon his objective assessment of John Mark’s abilities and have nothing to do with an unwillingness to forgive?

MONDAY

The lesson focuses on Onesimus and Philemon. Both believers in Jesus, Onesimus was a slave who ran away from his owner Philemon.

What action did Paul take and why?

Why did Paul send Onesimus back to his slave owner?

How did Paul do it?

Why didn't Paul start an underground railroad for runaway slaves?

Why didn't Paul speak out more against slavery?

Read third paragraph, "At first glance..." If a slave owner comes to love his slave as much as his own son, what will happen?

Did anyone see the movie Ben Hur? Remember Charlton Heston played Ben Hur who was a slave to a proconsul of Rome and the proconsul came to love him like a son and set him free and adopted him as a son making him his heir.

Which approach would have the best impact in resolving, not only slavery, but all divisions between people, working politically to overthrow the system of government that sponsored slavery (the Spartacus approach) or working to bring the love of God into the hearts of all people—the Pauline approach?

Because the Bible writers didn't act politically, didn't seek to change the laws of Rome, does that mean they endorsed, supported, condoned, or in any way approved of slavery? Absolutely not!

If there are Christians today who don't act politically, don't want to use the church's energy to get politicians elected, or judges appointed, does that mean they endorse the way the government functions?

TUESDAY

The lesson points out that God gives different people different abilities and spiritual gifts for the benefit of the entire body of believers.

How does Satan exploit our differences to incite division?

- Comparing ourselves to others and inciting jealousy and envy
- Inciting fear of those that are different—fear they will dethrone us from the position in which we believe we deserve to be:

- Why race distinctions cause division—we don't see the other as equal
- Why men dominate women and don't want them to occupy positions of leadership and authority—fear
- Fear causes people to make decisions, not based on ability, competencies, character, but on color of skin or gender and whenever we do this we undermine the health, vibrancy, wellbeing of the organization. Thus, the church suffers when we make ordination gender based, rather than based on the gifting of the Holy Spirit.
- Did anyone see the movie The Imitation Game? It was a true story about Alan Turing who, during WWII built the first computer that was able to decode the German Enigma machine and it is estimated shortened the war by 2 years and saved 14 million lives. He went on to work on further computer developments after the war, but in 1952 was prosecuted for homosexual acts and accepted chemical castration instead of imprisonment. He died in 1954 from cyanide poisoning deemed suicide.
 - Why could people not recognize Turing for his gifts, abilities. how he treated others, his honesty, integrity?
 - What has humanity missed out on because his genius was lost?

What about the church—what does the church miss out on because we have bigotry, biases, and fears that cause us to reject others with mature character with gifts that could benefit the church?

THURSDAY

The lesson focuses us on resolving conflict in the church and points us to Jesus's counsel in Matthew 18:15-17:

“If your brother sins against you, go and show him his fault, just between the two of you. If he listens to you, you have won your brother over. ¹⁶ But if he will not listen, take one or two others along, so that ‘every matter may be established by the testimony of two or three witnesses.’ ¹⁷ If he refuses to listen to them, tell it to the church; and if he refuses to listen even to the church, treat him as you would a pagan or a tax collector. NIV

What do you hear? How is this to be applied? To whom is it to be applied?

Is it to be applied to people that are members of the same organization, i.e. church, but with whom we have no personal relationship?

- You hear a rumor that a person in the church has done a certain sin; you have only seen this person on an occasion, and you have no relationship with this person. Should you go to this person and talk to them about the rumor?
 - Does Jesus' counsel apply to this? Why or why not?
 - Have you been sinned against, even if this is true?
 - Do you have a standing that your approach will likely be beneficial?
 - Should you go to church leadership with the rumor?

I have had experiences like this people who belong to the same organization but who have no relationship with me, hear a rumor. They don't know me; they haven't spent time with me; they haven't sat down to talk with me, but they have felt it their responsibility to either tell me how they thought I was wrong, or write letters, or put out public statements, or go to church authorities seeking some action against me.

Some have reached out, had a brief conversation, in order to tick off the first requirement of Jesus's instruction and be able to say that they went to me, and then went on to go throughout the church spreading their concerns about me.

Is that what Jesus meant?

One of the founders of the SDA church gave this counsel, do you agree?

I have seen the great sacrifice which Jesus made to redeem man. He did not consider His own life too dear to sacrifice. Said Jesus: "Love one another, as I have loved you." Do you feel, when a brother errs, that you could give your life to save him? If you feel thus, you can approach him and affect his heart; you are just the one to visit that brother. But it is a lamentable fact that many who profess to be brethren, are not willing to sacrifice any of their opinions or their judgment to save a brother. There is but little love for one another. A selfish spirit is manifested. {1T 166.2}

Has this been your experience?

Do you see again how the two law lenses change how we understand and apply Scripture? If we read through the imperial/imposed law lens then we see rules that must be followed, a checklist that keeps us out of legal trouble as we seek to eradicate sin in others.

But when we see through design law we realize God's instructions are all designed to heal hearts and minds and bring us back into the unity of love and trust with Him and each other. Therefore, if we apply God's methods we don't take actions that would injure or harm another.

Are we willing to put things in the best light or do we misconstrue them?

If a brother differ with you on some points of truth, do not stoop to ridicule, do not place him in a false light, or misconstrue his words, making sport of them; do not misinterpret his words and wrest them of their true meaning. This is not conscientious argument. Do not present him before others as a heretic, when you have not with him investigated his positions, taking the Scriptures text by text in the spirit of Christ to show him what is truth. You do not yourself really know the evidence he has for his faith, and you cannot really clearly define your own position. Take your Bible, and in a kindly spirit weigh every argument that he presents and show him by the Scriptures if he is in error. When you do this without unkind feelings, you will do only that which is your duty and the duty of every minister of Jesus Christ.-- Letter 21, 1888. {CW 50.2}

This week I received an email from an online listener who found on another website a rebuttal of my presentation on homosexuality.

The rebuttal said:

Dr Jennings calls out the Christian community for “a lot of ignorance and a lot of misinformation.” He believes that “We have to start with facts, we have to start with truth.” He asks, “Are you willing to look at evidence and facts or do you want to hold beliefs that are refuted by evidence, facts, and truth?”

But when he goes into these ‘facts’, we find that they don’t prove what he thinks they prove. Most of his arguments involve very rare abnormalities.

First, he brings out Androgen Insensitivity Syndrome, where a person is genetically male (XY), but has no testosterone receptors, so the child develops to look outwardly female (but lacks a uterus and ovaries). Dr Jennings makes the first of many errors in his video when he says that all babies begin as females, and hormones, particularly testosterone, cause the baby to masculinize. At fertilization, every individual is either genetically female (XX) or male (XY) (yes—there are a handful of intersex chromosomal conditions, most commonly Klinefelter’s—but these are rare), and the baby develops as a female or a male according to the genetics. Dr Jennings inadvertently acknowledges this when he says that the male baby has testes even with AIS.

This is an example of not reaching out to understand and not being honest with what was presented, but misconstruing what was said and putting it in a false light.

Any honest person would realize that I was speaking of the physical, what is called phenotypical, with female external genitalia and the tissue that internally that would become uterus and fallopian tubes. Yet, they distort what I have said, attempting to suggest I am in error, because they don’t like the conclusions. Whoever wrote this didn’t contact me to clarify what I meant.

FRIDAY

Read question 3, “If we look at our church...” What is the greatest thing holding the church back?

I would suggest it is doctrinal, one specific doctrine, clinging to the false law lens, the lie that God’s law functions like human law, the infection of penal substitution theology with all its corruption.

Why? Because of the design law—by beholding we are changed. So, when we cling to the false law lens, and believe God functions like a dictator, who imposes rules and punishes rule breakers, we become like that God.

This leads to rules based religion, needing to police the system to ensure all members are keeping the right rules and teaching in the right way.

From the book, Thoughts from the Mount of Blessings:

The effort to earn salvation by one's own works inevitably leads men to pile up human exactions as a barrier against sin. For, seeing that they fail to keep the law, they will devise rules and regulations of their own to force themselves to obey. All this turns the mind away from God to self. His love dies out of the heart, and with it perishes love for his fellow men. A system of human invention, with its multitudinous exactions, will lead its advocates to judge all who come short of the prescribed human standard. The atmosphere of selfish and narrow criticism stifles the noble and generous emotions, and causes men to become self-centered judges and petty spies. {MB 123.1}

It all stems from what type of law do you believe God's government operates upon—design law, or laws like humans make, imposed rules.

- The last great conflict between truth and error is but the final struggle of the long-standing controversy concerning the law of God. Upon this battle we are now entering,—a battle between the laws of men and the precepts of Jehovah, between the religion of the Bible and the religion of fable and tradition. {GC88 582.2}
- There is no such thing as weakening or strengthening the law of Jehovah. As it has been, so it is. It always has been, and always will be, holy, just, and good, complete in itself. It cannot be repealed or changed. [what kind of law is this? It is design law] To "honor" or "dishonor" it is but the speech of men. {PK 625.1}

Between the laws of men and the precepts of Jehovah will come the last great conflict of the controversy between truth and error. [What kind of laws do men enact? Imposed law, but God's law is design law. The final conflict will be over this issue, and upon what type of law does penal substitution theology rest? Imposed law! It is a lie that has infected Christianity and God is waiting for a people to cast it off] Upon this battle we are now entering--a battle not between rival churches contending for the supremacy, but between the religion of the Bible and the religions of fable and tradition...[We are not in a battle between rival churches? How much of SDA eschatology has pitted the SDA church against the Roman and other Sunday keeping churches? Such a construct is a lie, we are not battling against other churches, but against the pagan god constructs that operate upon imposed law, inflict imposed punishments and require propitiation with a human sacrifice. This is most prominently manifested in Penal Substitution Theology. We must reject this legal fraud and come back and worship Him who made the heavens...] {PK 625.2}

Unity In Worship

Lori Atkins

So when we talk about this idea of “worship”, are we talking about the devotional practices in your home? We used to call that “family worship”. Are we talking about the tenor of the church service...whether we sing hymns or praise songs...whether we play the pipe organ or a guitar, or heaven-forbid, drums (/gasp)? Is that what we mean when we talk about the incredible importance of who and what we worship?

In the commentary of the teacher’s quarterly, we are asked to review Revelation 4:8-11...which I will read from The Remedy:

“These beings could act unbelievably fast—both physically and mentally—which was symbolized by each having six wings, and eyes all over, even under their wings. And they lived constantly—day and night—in a continual state of appreciation and love for God, saying: “God is holy, holy, holy—Lord Almighty, who has always been, who is, and who is to come.” Whenever these four living beings honor God’s character of love and thank him who governs the universe from the throne—the one who is the source of life and lives forever—the twenty-four elders are filled with awe and humbled in hearts, and demonstrate their devotion by falling down in love before him who sits on the throne, and they worship him who is the source of life and who lives forever. They cast their gold crowns before him—demonstrating that their lives, their perfect characters and their healed minds come from him—and proclaim: “You are worthy, our Lord God Almighty, to receive all honor, praise, glory, and power because you created all things, and all things have their origin in you and are sustained by you.”

The Nature of Worship - The Bible uses multiple words in Greek and Hebrew to describe different aspects of worship. The Hebrew words for worship emphasize honor, respect, and reverence by focusing on the actions of bowing down, prostrating, or otherwise humbling oneself before another person. However, worship in the Old Testament is not confined to bodily actions. It also includes the concepts of obedience and service that demonstrate the reality of our worship. Isaiah clearly indicates that simply going through the motions of worship activities [without obedience] is not worship at all (Isa. 1:10–17, Isaiah 58).

In New Testament Greek, we find a similar variety of words that can mean to bow down, revere, show honor and devotion, or to serve. The most common word for worship in the New Testament is proskyneō, which literally means “to kiss toward.” It likely reflects the custom of showing honor to a king or official by bowing before them and kissing their feet, an action understood as an admission of dependence or submission to the person in authority. In using this word to describe the worship of God, we can therefore deduce that more than the physical action of kissing or bowing down is intended. To worship God is to recognize the greatness and majesty of God, to understand that He is the Creator and we are created - He is infinite, we are finite, to admit one's own helplessness and absolute dependence upon Him. Such admission also carries with it the implication of willingness to accept God's lordship over our lives. True worship has several important features.

First and foremost, it is directed at God and Him alone (we will talk more about the important aspect of which God in just a bit).

Second, it is never forced...it is a spontaneous response to the character of God and His redemptive, healing actions on our behalf. It begins from the heart and not from the expectations of others (like a compliance committee?).

Third, worship is not simply a Sabbath morning activity or a part of a worship service. It is a lifestyle. We are to live and breathe our responses to what God has done for us.

The living creatures in the throne room, pictured in Revelation 4, worshiped continually day and night. This imagery underscores the idea that each word and action of ours should bring honor to the name of God.

I have read this to you before, several years ago...but it made such an impact on me when I first read it decades ago, before I even knew anything about the law of worship, that I think it bears repeating in the context of this week's lesson. Noted speaker and author, Louis Giglio, wrote a little pocket book about this concept called The Air I Breathe: Worship as a Way of Life (2006). He starts his book this way:

"You, my friend, are a worshipper! Every day, all day long, everywhere you go, you worship. It's what you do. It's who you are. I don't know whether or not you consider yourself a 'worshipping' kind of person, but you cannot help but worship – something. It's what you were made to do. Should you for some reason choose not to give God the worship He desires, you'll still worship something – exchanging the Creator for something He has created. Worship is simply about value...Worship is our response to what we value most. This person, this thing, this experience, this...whatever...is what matters most to me - it's the thing I put first in my life. And we are not just talking about the religious crowd, churchgoers, Christians...we are talking about everybody on planet Earth...a multitude of souls proclaiming with every breath what is worthy of their affection, their attention, their allegiance...proclaiming with every step what it is they worship. So how do you know where and what you worship? It's easy. You simply follow the trail of your time, your affection, your energy, your loyalty. At the end of that trail you'll find a throne...and whatever or whoever is on that throne is what's of highest value to you – on that throne is what you worship. Sure, not too many of us walk around saying, “I worship my stuff. I worship by Xbox. I worship my job. I worship this pleasure. I worship her. I worship my body. I worship me!” But the trail never lies. We may say we value this thing or that thing more than any other, but the volume of our actions speaks louder than our words – our worship is more about what we DO than what we SAY.”

To me, taking this honest inventory of how and where my time, energies, talents, and resources are being used can be a sobering, humbling, convicting process full of revelations and...opportunities for character growth.

Why is this idea of worship so important?

Why does who and what we worship really matter so much?

SABBATH

Saturday’s lesson states,

“Gratitude to God expressed in community worship transforms people’s hearts and minds into the likeness of the character of God and prepares them for service.”

This is absolutely true - regardless of which God and which character of God is being worshipped!

The apostles worshipped the God revealed in the life, death, and resurrection of Jesus...their hearts and minds were transformed, and they lived in community of other-centered love and spread the gospel far and wide. But what about some other examples?

Some church folks in the Dark Ages worshipped God...their hearts and minds were transformed, and what did they do? They burned people at the stake in order to “save” them and send their souls to heaven.

In 1994, Christians in Rwanda worshipped God...their hearts and minds were transformed, and what did they do? They actually used churches as killing fields as pastors, priests and nuns would lead people to their churches for sanctuary and then call in militia to kill them, or trap them inside and burn them alive!

Are we beginning to see how very important our worship is - not just that we are worshipping God, but which God we are worshipping! Why?

Because as the quarterly rightly states, it transforms our hearts, minds, and characters...we become like that which we worship, esteems, and admire - it’s a LAW and no one is exempt - this outcome is 100% predictable. Just like you can predict with 100% certainty what will happen if I drop my glasses - how is that? How can you so accurately predict the future? Are you clairvoyant? Do you have a prophetic gift?

No...but you do have a firm understanding of the natural law of gravity...and I'm telling you, once you start to understand the natural laws we discuss in this class, impacts of living in harmony with and deviating from these natural laws...the world starts becoming a whole lot more predictable - people (behaviors and reactions) become more predictable, relationships become more predictable, outcomes become more predictable - it's almost like you have some secret, insider information...a decoder ring...or a crystal ball.

You know, this class has a potluck and bible study every month just to get to know each other better, and dig deeper into the past month's lessons...see me after class or go to our web site if you want to be added to that email list so you get reminded about those. But several months ago, Linda was leading and had us go back and identify and discuss the specific natural laws we have defined...and I thought it was such a good idea. We had folks at that study who had never been to our class and didn't really know what we were talking about, we have new folks joining this class or discovering these class videos every single week...so we try to be really cognizant of that and just keep reviewing some of these concepts so we don't end up speaking our own secret, non-inclusive language that only members of the club understand. Is it okay if we review and define some of these natural laws to maybe refresh our own knowledge and maybe bring some others up to speed?

What do we mean when we use the term "natural laws" and what makes them so?

God runs his universe on certain principles, certain fundamental laws, certain constants that life and our reality are designed to operate upon. These laws are not enacted, legislated, or imposed...rather they are an inherent aspect of God's original design, and emanate from the very nature and character of God Himself. These are the principles that life is designed to operate upon and our health and happiness is dependent upon being in harmony with them.

You may know about or recognize some like the laws of health, the laws of physics - the law of gravity for example. So help me out here and throw out some of the more specific design laws we have defined in this class.

Law of Liberty - Love cannot exist in an atmosphere without freedom...again this law emanates from the very nature and character of God for God. Is. Love.

What happens when liberty is violated?

There are a couple of very predictable, testable outcomes you can count on happening when someone's liberty is violated:

- 1) Love is always damaged and eventually destroyed,
- 2) A desire to rebel is instilled, and
- 3) If freedom isn't restored, then individuality is eroded.

Does a person have to know about the Law of Liberty in order to experience these outcomes?

Does a person's liberties have to actually be violated...or can even the possibility or threat of liberty bring them about?

Once you are convinced that this law is real, that it works, that it is a constant that never changes, then you have a standard against which to test theories, doctrines, and beliefs about God. We are going to connect these dots on why and how important this concept is when considering the type of God we choose to worship.

Law of Worship - By beholding we become changed (modeling) - we become like the God we worship. This law is the foundation of this week's lesson...and, by the way, it is the reason why God's church triumphant, the remnant, the priesthood of believers can be wholly united – in heart, in mind, in purpose, and in character, but differ, sometimes dramatically, in doctrine, in beliefs, in practices, etc.

Law of Respiration - Requires that you breathe in order to live.

Why is this a requirement? It seems so unreasonable!

Does the law of respiration condemn those who tie plastic bags over their heads?

What are the "wages" of doing that?

Can the law be changed to meet the person with a bag over his head in that state so they can remain healthy and alive?

Can God's law be changed to meet the sinner in his sin?

What if a person was suffocating with a plastic bag over their head and they had a loving brother who tied a bag over his head in order to pay the legal penalty of the broken law of respiration which cannot be changed?

Would that action result in saving the other brother?

What is the only option for salvation? The sinner must be transformed back into harmony with the law - the plastic bag must be removed.

Law of Exertion - if you want something to get stronger you must exert or exercise it, because if you don't use it you lose it.

What does God want for us?

He wants us to grow in ability and develop a Christlike character by trusting in Him, which requires what?

That we exercise our trust in him, exercise our will by choosing to accept His truth updates, cooperate in agreement with him, practice his methods! This was the reason for the tree in Garden of Eden.

“All who put to use the ability that God has given them, will have increased ability to devote to his service. Those who do nothing in the cause of God will fail to grow in grace and in the knowledge of the truth. If a man should lie down and refuse to exercise his limbs, he would soon lose all power to use them. Thus the Christian who will not use his God-given powers, not only fails to grow up into Christ, but loses the strength which he already had; he becomes a spiritual paralytic. It is those who, with love for God and for their fellow men, are striving to help others, who become established, strengthened, settled in the truth. The true Christian works for God, not from impulse, but from principle; not for a day or a month, but during the entire life.” {RH, May 23, 1912 par. 13}

“The mind must be exercised on the solemn truths of God's word, or it will grow weak.” {RH, March 4, 1884 par. 11}

“But solid food is for the mature, who because of practice have their senses trained to discern good and evil.” Hebrews 5:14 (NASB)

Law of Sowing & Reaping - Cause and effect.

“If you plant in the field of your natural desires, from it you will gather the harvest of death; if you plant in the field of the Spirit, from the Spirit you will gather the harvest of eternal life.” Galatians 6:8 GNT

“The Spirit of God keeps evil under the control of conscience. When man exalts himself above the influence of the Spirit, he reaps a harvest of iniquity. Over such a man the Spirit has less and less influence to restrain him from sowing seeds of disobedience. Warnings have less and less power over him. He gradually loses his fear of God. He sows to the flesh; he will reap corruption. The harvest of the seed that he himself has sown, is ripening. He has a contempt for God's holy commandments. His heart of flesh becomes a heart of stone. Resistance to truth confirms him in iniquity. It is because men sowed seeds of evil, that lawlessness, crime, and violence prevailed in the antediluvian world.

All should be intelligent in regard to the agency by which the soul is destroyed. It is not because of any decree that God has sent out against man. He does not make man spiritually blind. God gives sufficient light and evidence to enable man to distinguish truth from error. But He does not force man to receive truth. He leaves him free to choose the good or to choose the evil. If man resists evidence that is sufficient to guide his judgment in the right direction, and chooses evil once, he will do this more readily the second time. The third time he will still more eagerly withdraw himself from God and choose to stand on the side of Satan. And in this course he will continue until he is confirmed in evil, and believes the lie he has cherished as truth. His resistance has produced its harvest (MS 126, 1901).”—Ellen G. White Comments, The SDA Bible Commentary, vol. 6, p. 1112.

Law of Love - the law of giving...the more you give, the more you receive - this is the principle of giving upon which life is built to operate, and we many examples throughout nature (water cycle, breathing, food cycle, circulation).

“One of the divine plans for growth is impartation. The Christian is to gain strength by strengthening others. "He that watereth shall be watered also himself" (Proverbs 11:25). This is not merely a promise; it is a divine law, [what kind of law?] a law by which God designs that the streams of benevolence, like the waters of the great deep, shall be kept in constant circulation, continually flowing back to their source. In the fulfilling of this law is the secret of spiritual growth... {Amazing Grace 285.4}

Law of Restoration – When a resource has been used or expended, it must be rested and restored. Mothers/parents, caregivers, Sabbath.

Again, when Isaac Newton “discovered” and documented the Law of Gravity in 1687...that did not mark the creation or origination of that law, only the recognition and naming of an existing constant...and folks were surprised that there was a law - they thought stuff stayed on the ground or fell to the ground because that’s just how things work, it’s just reality.

MONDAY

False Worship

The second paragraph states,

“Satan seeks to establish a false system of worship, one that takes people away from the true God and, even if subtly, direct worship toward himself.”

How does he establish a false system of worship...how does he subtly direct worship toward himself?

The first paragraph mentions Jesus' third temptation in the wilderness as an example...what is tempting about devil worship?

Are most Christians...or even atheists...tempted to openly worship Satan?
What does Satan truly desire?

2 Thes 2:3-4 says,

“Don't let anyone deceive you in any way, for that day will not come until the rebellion occurs and the man of lawlessness is revealed, the man doomed to destruction. He will oppose and will exalt himself over everything that is called God or is worshiped, so that he sets himself up in God's temple, proclaiming himself to be God.”

Since we don't believe that he flies up to heaven and physically bumps Christ off his throne, how does Satan accomplish this...how does he “set himself up in God's temple, proclaiming himself to be God” ...and have so many people buy it?

Reading that same Thessalonians text in the Remedy gives us some clues:

“Don't be fooled by any idea like this, because, before the Lord returns, Satan will counter everything Christ taught, and a rebellion against God's law of love will occur: a man-made theological system of imposed law will form, and this system—which promotes god-concepts outside God's law of love—will be exposed. This man-made system is destined for destruction, because it opposes God's design for life and instead exalts a human concept of law and punishment over the way God built things to operate. This distorted view of God will become so accepted and orthodox that it will set itself up in God's spirit temple—the minds of people—and it will be proclaimed that God is like Satan in character.”

So, he gets people...not just people...he gets Christians, Christ-followers, Christ's ambassadors to accept and proclaim and teach that God is like Satan in character and in methods. Then he gets them to agree and endorse and value those coercive methods (marked in the forehead), and practice/carry out those coercive, punitive methods (marked in the hand) - as described in Revelation 14:9-11

“And a third messenger followed the first two and proclaimed in a voice that was heard throughout the world: ‘If anyone gives worth and honor to the beastly system of coercion by choosing the methods of the beast and thus marking themselves as ‘loyal in heart’ by embracing the character of the beast, or marking themselves as ‘loyal in deed’ by practicing his methods, they will reap the full fury of unremedied sin when God no longer shields them from their destructive choice. They will experience immeasurable torment of mind and burning anguish of heart when they stand in God's fiery presence and are bathed in unquenchable fire of truth and love—all in the very presence of Jesus and the holy angels. The memory of their suffering and the lesson of their self-destructive choice will never be forgotten throughout all eternity. There will be no peace of mind—day or night—for those who prefer the methods of the beast and model after him, or for any who choose to mark themselves as followers of the beast.”

“By accepting the pagan imposed law constructs as representative of God’s kingdom, people actually worshiped the dragon, as these distortions about God originated from him; and since the beast used the dragon’s lies as the basis for its authority, they also worshiped the beast. They marveled, ‘Who can compare to the beast? Who can fight against it?’” Revelation 13:4

This is the true essence of false worship - worshipping a god whose character, methods, and principles are those of Satan.

TUESDAY

The First Angel’s Message

This is the true essence of false worship - worshipping a god whose character, methods, and principles are those of Satan. Is this happening right now...and can we come up with some examples?

Let’s bring this around full circle here...we were just talking about the natural design Law of Liberty. We said violations of it had some very predictable results...and these results are proveable, reproducible, and therefore the law is “testable”...right?

So what does that mean and what does that look like in practical application - how can we use this knowledge practically to gain some insight and wisdom?

Well, once you are convinced that this law is real, that it works, that it is a constant, that it never changes, then we have a standard against which we can test our theories, our doctrines, our beliefs about God. God will NEVER violate His own character of love, which means God will never violate freedom or the law of liberty. This standard, this law of liberty is one of the spiritual weapons you can wield in warfare against evil forces - remember, we are in a war over the knowledge of God - who is God, what is He like, can He be trusted.

Is God like Satan has alleged OR Is God like Jesus revealed Him to be?

This is THE question. Well now we have a standard against which we can test our theories - Is God a power monger, is God a being of stern justice who must use His power to inflict penalties - Does God say, “All I want is your love, but if you don’t love me I will kill you, I will burn you in hell and torture you until you die?”

In every false religion of the world, the central fallacy is a distorted picture of God. He is either a being who is too busy to care, detached and disinterested or a cruel being of absolute power that must be appeased. And what is the final contest over?

What will be the culmination of events as the Bible predicts?

A conflict of worship, over two systems - over two pictures of God - 1) The Beast System which violates liberty, you can neither buy nor sell (sanctions)...and 2) God’s system of love, greater love has no man than he give his life...This is how we know what love is....For God so loved the world that he gave...These are they who do not love their lives so much as to shrink from death. And what is the result of worshiping a God who does not value our freedom?

What is the price we pay for accepting lies about God?

What is the consequence to believing in a God who will use His power to destroy, a God who must be appeased in order to forgive?

It is a violation of the Law of Liberty, and these outcomes are just as predictable as what happens in human relationships - love is damaged and eventually destroyed, rebellion is instilled, and individuality is eroded. Jesus states that at the end of time, the love of most will grow cold.

Paul states they will have a form of godliness, but deny its power.

Why will love grow cold?

Why will they have a form of godliness but without any power?

Because they have accepted Satan’s version of God, and preach it from the pulpit! When we have a form of godliness but worship a god who is like Satan alleges, love is destroyed and over time:

We either become shadow people

- people who have lost their ability to reason
- people who worship out of fear of punishment (from God...or a compliance committee?)
- people who become non-thinking empty shells, afraid to have an independent thought - God said it, I believe it that settles it, we don’t ask questions we take that on faith
- people who rigidly clinging to rules, rituals and ceremony without understanding of what they mean
- we become like that god we worship, and will use power to control others, dominate others, coerce others into our way...to cleanse/purify his church?

- we will bomb abortion clinics, fly planes into buildings
- we use our power to silence freedom of thought and opposing views
- no one can buy or sell save him who is like this god OR
- We rebel completely, reject the idea of God altogether, and become a postmodernist agnostic, evolutionary-teaching atheist.

This is Satan's goal – to destroy love and trust for God, and thus destroy humanity!

Love cannot exist in an atmosphere without freedom. God cannot be saying – love me or I'll kill you. If you hear a such concepts, test them, do experiments. If you see doctrines or practices or methods employed that violate the Law of Liberty, test them... perform some diagnostics and root cause analysis. We are to practice God's law in our lives. We are to live a life in complete harmony with God and his natural laws, so if someone is teaching such distortions and you are confused, challenge and test those teachings and see what happens.

WEDNESDAY

Bible Study & Fellowship

The first Christians were faithful in studying the Scriptures for what they said about Jesus the Messiah.

They were in constant fellowship to share with one another the blessings God had given them and to encourage each other in their spiritual walk with God. In the Word they mined the sacred truths that became the foundation of their message to the world.

THURSDAY

Breaking of Bread & Prayer

Acts 2:42-47 “They committed themselves to studying the truth taught by Christ's ambassadors, encouraging each other, sharing meals together, and talking with God daily. Everyone was filled with awe at the miracles performed and signs shown by Christ's ambassadors. They were filled with love for one another and were united, sharing with each other what they had. They sold what they owned and pooled their resources for the benefit of all, and provided for everyone's needs. They fellowshiped and studied together in the temple courts each day. They had meals together in their homes, with hearts full of gladness and affection for each other, giving praise to God. They were so kind and gentle that the people enjoyed having them around. And every day the Lord brought more people to them to partake of the Remedy and be healed.”

Oneness in Christ Lesson 12 4Q 2018

Church Organization and Unity

Tim Jennings

How many watched the funeral services at the National Cathedral for President George H.W. Bush?

What did you think?

- Was God glorified in the service?
- Was the message of God's character of love presented?
- Was the power of Christ and the victory over death presented?
- Was the message a message of unity?
- Unity upon what?

SABBATH

Read first paragraph, "As Seventh-day Adventists..." Do you agree that salvation is found in a personal relationship with Jesus Christ and is not found or linked to institutional affiliation?

Read second paragraph, "Nevertheless the church..." When we speak of the church as God's creation are we speaking of denominations or the church universal, the church made up of all those who have been truly reconciled to Christ?

And believing that the church is God's creation for the distribution of the gospel, God's remedy to sin, would we expect that Satan would try to infiltrate and corrupt the church?

How would Satan do that? Would he try and substitute a false remedy, a false gospel for the truth?

Would his primary attack on the church be that there is no God, or an attack on the kind of being God is?

How might he do this?

If you were dying of a terminal disease and a physician had a remedy that would cure you, but you had an enemy that wanted to ensure that you would not take the remedy, what might that enemy do?

What would happen if the enemy got you to believe your condition isn't killing you, but your legal standing with the examiner, the one coming to look you over is the problem. If that doctor, now called a judge, comes and gets a good look at you, he will be required by all that is pure and right to kill you.

If you believed that what might you do?

How could Satan get Christians to twist their view of Jesus to believe Jesus wasn't coming to help them but was going to kill them? He didn't—Satan twisted our view of God, so in our metaphor, the physician is the prince and the prince of the realm would like to heal us, but his father is a king who tolerates no breaking of his law. So, if the king sees you he will kill you for your law breaking.

So, how did Satan get Christians to believe God was the one from whom we needed to be protected and that Jesus is our agent to protect us from God? By getting Christians to change how they view God's law from design law.

Did God know Satan was going to do this?

Yes, in Daniel 7:21,22,25 states:

As I watched, this horn was waging war against the saints and defeating them, until the Ancient of Days came and judgment was given to the saints of the Most High, and the time came that the saints possessed the kingdom...He will speak against the Most High and oppress his saints and try to change the set times and the laws...

What kind of war?

For though we live in the world, we do not wage war as the world does. The weapons we fight with are not the weapons of the world. On the contrary, they have divine power to demolish strongholds. We demolish arguments and every pretension that sets itself up against the knowledge of God, and we take captive every thought to make it obedient to Christ. 2 Cor 10:3-5

What kind of war? Where is it being fought? And what is it over?

This is a war between truth and lies, centering on God's character, and being fought in our minds!

Amazingly, Paul describes the same thing:

Don't let anyone deceive you in any way, for that day will not come until the rebellion occurs and the man of lawlessness is revealed, the man doomed to destruction. He will oppose and will exalt himself over everything that is called God or is worshiped, so that he sets himself up in God's temple, proclaiming himself to be God. 2Thes 2:1-4

What temple? The spirit temple, Satan distorts the truth about God so effectively that he sets himself up in the hearts and minds of people to believe that God is like Satan in character. Thus, the church becomes infected with Satan's view of God while claiming to be worshippers of God.

God, looking down the corridors of time told Daniel in Daniel 8:14 that it would be 2300 years before these lies would be cleansed from the hearts and minds of people.

Can we be specific, can we identify the core lie that is the root to all the distortions about God and from which we are to free ourselves in order to fulfill God's end-time mission for His people?

- The last great conflict between truth and error is but the final struggle of the long-standing controversy concerning the law of God. Upon this battle we are now entering,—a battle between the laws of men and the precepts of Jehovah, between the religion of the Bible and the religion of fable and tradition. {GC88 582.2}
- There is no such thing as weakening or strengthening the law of Jehovah. As it has been, so it is. It always has been, and always will be, holy, just, and good, complete in itself. It cannot be repealed or changed. [what kind of law is this? It is design law] To "honor" or "dishonor" it is but the speech of men. {PK 625.1}

Between the laws of men and the precepts of Jehovah will come the last great conflict of the controversy between truth and error. [What kind of laws do men enact? Imposed law, but God's law is design law. The final conflict will be over this issue, and upon what type of law does penal substitution theology rest? Imposed law! It is a lie that has infected Christianity and God is waiting for a people to cast it off] Upon this battle we are now entering—a battle not between rival churches contending for the supremacy, but between the religion of the Bible and the religions of fable and tradition... [We are not in a battle between rival churches? How much of SDA eschatology has pitted the SDA church against the Roman and other Sunday keeping churches? Such a construct is a lie, we are not battling against other churches, but against the pagan god constructs that operate upon imposed law, inflict imposed punishments and require propitiation with a human sacrifice. This is most prominently manifested in Penal Substitution Theology. We must reject this legal fraud and come back and worship Him who made the heavens...] {PK 625.2}

Has Christianity been infected with lies about God? And did God call for a message to be given at this time in earth's history? What is that message?

The 3 angels' messages, which calls people out of a system of human imposed law constructs back to worshipping the Creator, the Designer who is working to heal and restore all who trust Him!

When we consider how human systems and God's system operate, what methods they employ, can we distinguish the movements of God's Spirit from Satan's?

Which system brings pressure and coercion to bear to get compliance God's or Satan's?

Which system presents truth in love and leaves people free?

What method did Saul of Tarsus use? What method did Paul the Apostle use?

What method does the beast of Revelation use? What about those who are sealed to God?

How does truth progress through the population? What organizational system would enhance the avenues for truth and what organizational system would obstruct the progression of truth?

A system with local control and without a top down authoritarian rule would keep open the avenues for truth, a system of top down authority would place obstacles in the path of truth.

Why are some in leadership in the SDA church seeking to impose a top-down authoritarian rule? Because they have accepted the lie about God's law. That lie is the root to all rebellion against God and one of God's design laws—by beholding we are changed, the law of worship—means that those who accept the lie eventually practice the false methods.

I received this email from an online listener this week:

Dear Come and Reason Team,

I thought deeply about your story when you went to talk to the Theologians about whether Design Law results in bringing Adventist people into or out of the Adventist denomination. The message brought Russell and a Pastor back.

I have been listening/studying for over six years now and God's design law is the only concept that brings the Bible into the perfect unity of love and the exquisite beauty of how all laws work together.

This is where I need your help/ advice. My church and conference are infected with the penal/legal view of God's law. This view has resulted in a fear-based organization that protects the organization above individual liberty. Almost everyone thinks the same and there is little learning where members refuse to consider new ideas. When these ideas are surfaced, members subtly demean us... The Pastor is an "out of the closet" penal legalist where each sermon becomes more and more painful to listen to. The church and conference penal/legal view misrepresents God's character and their refusal to have a discussion drives me away from this Church. When I first entered the church, I was on fire to learn more, but now these same people are stagnant. My life has been all about learning, but now I don't know what to do? I am very active in the community, Chaplain, Stephen Ministry, bible studies, Prison ministry, etc and know that I am part of the end-time remnant church, but am compelled to leave as I am being smothered. Can you provide any wisdom for me?

What wisdom do you have for our friend and brother?

This reminds me of what EGW described many years ago:

- "But as real spiritual life declines, it has ever been the tendency to cease to advance in the knowledge of the truth. Men rest satisfied with the light already received from God's word and discourage any further investigation of the Scriptures. They become conservative and seek to avoid discussion.

"The fact that there is no controversy or agitation among God's people should not be regarded as conclusive evidence that they are holding fast to sound doctrine. There is reason to fear that they may not be clearly discriminating between truth and error. When no new questions are started by investigation of the Scriptures, when no difference of opinion arises which will set men to searching the Bible for themselves to make sure that they have the truth, there will be many now, as in ancient times, who will hold to tradition and worship they know not what." Testimonies, vol. 5, pp. 706,707 (1889); GW 297,298; CWE 39

Why do people in error fear investigation of their positions?

And what will organizations do in order to ensure their system remains in control? Make up rules

AW Tozer wrote:

Whenever a church backslides from the truth and runs away from the plain Word of God, that church begins establishing its own laws. -- The Quotable Tozer p. 74

This reminded me of a quote from Ellen White, one of the founders of the SDA church:

The effort to earn salvation by one's own works inevitably leads men to pile up human exactions as a barrier against sin. For, seeing that they fail to keep the law, they will devise rules and regulations of their own to force themselves to obey. All this turns the mind away from God to self. His love dies out of the heart, and with it perishes love for his fellow men. A system of human invention, with its multitudinous exactions, will lead its advocates to judge all who come short of the prescribed human standard. The atmosphere of selfish and narrow criticism stifles the noble and generous emotions, and causes men to become self-centered judges and petty spies. {MB 123.1}

Would this idea of judging others, of spying on others, to ensure they keep the rules be similar to setting up compliance committees?

We must come back to worship our Designer and that means we reject the lies about God's law and begin practicing God's methods again.

SUNDAY

Read the second paragraph, "The church also derives..." What do you think of the idea that Jesus is the originator of the church's beliefs and teachings?

Have all the teachings that are found in Christianity originated in Christ? Are there any teachings within Christianity that you would suggest originated with Satan, yet these teachings are accepted as Christian? Can you name any?

- Eternal burning hell?
 - Satan has ascribed to God all the evils to which flesh is heir. He has represented him as a God who delights in the sufferings of his creatures, who is revengeful and implacable. It was Satan who originated the doctrine of eternal torment as a punishment for sin, because in this way he could lead men into infidelity and rebellion, distract souls, and dethrone the human reason. {CE 73.2}
 - Why does believing in an eternal burning hell dethrone human reason? Is it reasonable to believe God is love yet will torture people who don't love Him for all eternity? So what do people do? "I don't think about that. I just take that on faith" which means they dethrone reason.
- What about any hell in which God uses His power to inflict death in order to punish sin? Would that also dethrone human reason?
 - Satan is the author of death. What did Christ do after He brought Satan under the dominion of death? The very last words of Christ while expiring on the cross were "It is finished" (John 19:30). The devil saw that he had overdone himself. Christ by dying accomplished the death of Satan and brought immortality to light. {CTr 287.3}
 - Who do you believe is the source of death—God or Satan?
 - Then if God is the source of life and Satan is the author of death, why do many Christians, including many SDAs teach that God will use His power to execute, i.e. kill, the unrepentant in the end?
 - Why do they teach this? Because they accept the lie about God's law that it is imposed requiring the law giver to impose penalties, but this also dethrones human reason because it has God saying love me or I will kill you.
 - Only when we come back to design law and realize that death is the unavoidable outcome for those who insist on staying out of harmony with God's design for life, do we get it right.
- Immortality of the soul
 - In Eden Satan's first lie to Eve was that she would not die—
 - In 1Tim 6:16 the Bible says God alone is immortal—do we teach in Christianity today that we are immortal?
 - Is this a lie of Satan infecting Christianity?
 - What impact does it have on how we see God?
- God's law functions like human law
 - How many teach that God in order to be just must punish sin?
 - Why? Because they believe God's law is not design law, but like the laws sinners make—Satan's view all along.

Read third paragraph, "Although we may be hesitant..." To what kind of leadership are we to submit?

The problem with the idea of submission is that it is taught through the lens of imposed law, rules over, enforcement by coercion and threat. This is Satan's government and Christianity is deeply infected with this lie.

We are to be worshippers of the Creator God, who builds reality. His laws are the laws of life, the laws which bring health, peace, and the good of all. We are to submit to goodness, to love, to righteousness, to healing, to restoration, to recreation, to eternal peace—all of which flow from the heart, mind and character of our Creator God of love!

We are to rebel against sin, which is selfishness, which is based upon lies about God, founded in imperial law constructs. We are not to submit to Satan or Satan's view of God.

Read last paragraph, "The church is built upon Christ..." What do you think about the idea that we are not to rely upon another human to dictate what we believe?

Would this include the General Conference (GC)?

Would this then invalidate and negate any type of compliance committee?

Some people at the GC attempt to suggest that when the GC meets in session and votes it is God's highest authority on earth. They do this because of this quote, written in 1875:

I have been shown that no man's judgment should be surrendered to the judgment of any one man. But when the judgment of the General Conference, which is the highest authority that God has upon the earth, is exercised, private independence and private judgment must not be maintained, but surrendered. - Testimonies For The Church, Vol. III page 492 (1875) {PC 422.2}

What do you think about this statement? Is it a statement that is written in stone and is true and will always be true and to which we must submit our thinking? Or are we to reason for ourselves and consider whether this was true only at one point in time and then is no longer true?

What I find interesting is that the current GC leaders who want to promote their authority by the pen of Ellen White, insisting that we must all submit to the vote of the GC, refuse to incorporate what she wrote on this very subject in 1896, 1898, and 1901. Consider these statements:

- The voice from Battle Creek [the GC], which has been regarded as authority in counseling how the work should be done, is no longer the voice of God.--17MR 185 (1896). {LDE 50.2}
- It has been some years since I have considered the General Conference as the voice of God.--17MR 216 (1898). {LDE 50.3}
- That these men should stand in a sacred place, to be as the voice of God to the people, as we once believed the General Conference to be--that is past.--GCB April 3, 1901, p. 25. {LDE 50.4}

- It is working upon wrong principles that has brought the cause of God into its present embarrassment. The people have lost confidence in those who have the management of the work. Yet we hear that the voice of the Conference is the voice of God. Every time I have heard this, I have thought it was almost blasphemy. The voice of the Conference ought to be the voice of God, but it is not, because some in connection with it are not men of faith and prayer, they are not men of elevated principle. [Notice she doesn't say they are not men who follow the rules, but that they don't practice elevated principles. They have embraced the imperial law, rule oriented approach and corrupt the church by using coercive power.] There is not a seeking of God with the whole heart; there is not a realization of the terrible responsibility that rests upon those in this institution to mold and fashion minds after the divine similitude.--Manuscript 37, 1901, p. 8 (April, 1901, Talk by Mrs. E. G. White in the Review Chapel regarding the Southern work). {ChL 20.4} [Notice the responsibility is to mold and fashion minds after the divine similitude, NOT rule the institution by enforcing rules. The only way minds can be transformed is through God's methods, truth, love and freedom. Thus the GC, practicing methods of top down authority are not practicing God's principles and are not working to heal hearts and minds and are not to be accepted as the voice of God!]

And what would it indicate if people, who profess to be supporting Christ and profess to love the church, were to implement methods of attempting to exert authority over what others in the church believe and teach?

Would it not indicate they are practicing the enemy's methods, which would be evidence of accepting the lie about God's law?

What happens when we replace God's design law with imposed law? We get a god who punishes and this leads to all kinds of distortions. Like the story Russell emailed me yesterday about the Minnesota State University professor who tweeted that the virgin Mary did not give consent to be impregnated because of the power difference between a created being and God. He cites the history of God punishing disobedience as evidence that she didn't really have a choice. He tweeted:

The biblical god regularly punished disobedience. The power difference (deity vs mortal) and the potential for violence for saying 'no' negates her 'yes.' To put someone in this position is an unethical abuse of power at best and grossly predatory at worst.

If God's law functions like human law and God is the source of inflicted suffering, pain and death, then this professor is right.

The problem, of course, is that the professor is making an argument based on a false reality—the lie that God's law is imposed, and He uses coercive power.

The sad part though is, that almost all of Christianity accepts the lie about God's law and agrees with the professor that the God of the Bible is the source of inflicted punishment for disobedience.

The truth of design law and God's character of love resolves this. If Mary would have said no, the only consequence to Mary would have been not having the blessing of being the mother of Jesus. There would have been no punishment or retaliation from God.

MONDAY

The lesson asks us to read Matthew 20:25-28:

²⁵ Jesus called them together and said, "You know that the rulers of the Gentiles lord it over them, and their high officials exercise authority over them. ²⁶ Not so with you. Instead, whoever wants to become great among you must be your servant, ²⁷ and whoever wants to be first must be your slave— ²⁸ just as the Son of Man did not come to be served, but to serve, and to give his life as a ransom for many." NIV

Read second paragraph, "In this concise passage..." This is well said—the Roman idea of authority is power over, rules over, enforcement, coercion—it is the power of imperialism and it is not the power of God's kingdom.

Why would Christians then, resort to using this type of power in the church?

Can we get unity in this way?

Will love grow with more rules, more enforcement, more compliance?

How does love grow?

Is there a difference in using power to coerce consciences and establishing organizational policy or structure?

Where is the line drawn?

What about hours of operation, dress, diet rules, marriage, is there a difference between what is endorsed i.e. approved and thereby promoted, and what is allowed/permitted in individuals without organizational retaliation?

When a person attends 12 step meeting and acknowledges they have been using their substance, how are they treated? Does anyone send the message that continuing the addiction is desirable, healthy, acceptable? Is it understood by all parties that the addiction needs to be overcome?

What enables the 12 step groups to continue fellowship without reprisal with people who are still using their substances?

While they allow and encourage fellowship with people not yet in recovery, do they allow those who are known to not be in recovery to lead out, to sponsor others? Why not?

Are there any lessons to apply to the church?

Would making healthy decisions require we actually understand reality, understand design law, be able to recognize spiritual pathology in order to differentiate those who are mature in Christ from those who are still struggling for victory in their lives?

What would be elements that would differentiate the struggling sinner seeking victory in Christ, from a mature Christian who is growing in Christ and ready to be in position of leadership?

What does the writer of Hebrews use to differentiate the mature from the immature? What do the immature focus upon? Rule keeping and ritual, what do the mature focus upon? Reality, the transformation of character and the ability to discern right from wrong.

Should we desire that our leaders to have a mature understanding of God's character and design law? Should we ever hold out as a job requirement that those in leadership understand design law, reject imposed law penal legal views and practice God's methods?

What would an organization look like if run by those who hold to Satan's imposed law method?

What would an organization look like if run by those who hold God's design law method?

What is the difference between being a servant leader and being a doormat?

How do we serve without letting those we serve dictate what we do?

TUESDAY

The title is Preserving Church Unity. What would you say is the key to church unity?

Read 2Timothy 2:15 and Titus 1:9:

Do your best to present yourself to God as one approved, a workman who does not need to be ashamed and who correctly handles the word of truth.

He must hold firmly to the trustworthy message as it has been taught, so that he can encourage others by sound doctrine and refute those who oppose it.

Read first paragraph, "Notice how much..." What is the key to unity? What is the sound doctrine or teaching that is the key to unity? Is it a list of fundamental beliefs that one must attest to, and if we all agree on the right day of worship, the right standard for dress, the right diet, the right amount to give in tithes and offerings, if we can just formulate the right list of things to believe and do, then we will have unity?

This is the lie—this is the thinking one gets when one accepts Satan’s lie about God’s government and laws. When we think through the lens of human imperial law then we think we have to all agree on the right definition and we will get unity—not so, we actually get more fragmentation and division.

What did Jesus say?

“A new command I give you: Love one another. As I have loved you, so you must love one another. ³⁵ By this all men will know that you are my disciples, if you love one another.” John 13:34,35

What about Romans 12:10:

Be devoted to one another in brotherly love. Honor one another above yourselves.

Can we love others and be devoted to each other’s eternal good while disagreeing on what happens to the soul at death, whether the rapture is secret or not, what day to go to church upon, what foods we eat, how we dress etc.?

WEDNESDAY

Read first paragraph, “One of the main issues...” do you agree?

Is one of the main issues of church organization, i.e. to organize together is so that we can monitor each other and discipline those who diverge from the organizational standard—particularly in what they think?

Or is the purpose of church organization something entirely different?

- Spread the love and truth of God to heal hearts and minds?
- To oppose evil, i.e. elements that break God’s design and actually cause harm
- To demonstrate by action how God’s methods work, truth, presented in love while leaving others free?
- To minister to each other in love in order to help each member grow, mature and experience victory over fear and selfishness in their lives?
- More like 12 step programs?

THURSDAY

Read first paragraph, “As we have seen throughout...” What is the mission of our church organization? How would you describe it?

Is our mission to convert people to an organization or to Jesus?

Could a person be a disciple of Jesus and not be a member of a church organization?

Read second paragraph, “Jesus’ great commission...” Do we all agree on what the gospel is, how to baptize and what Jesus said?

What is the gospel that you would want to take to the world?

What does it mean to baptize?

What is the core message of Jesus that we need to teach people?

Oneness in Christ Lesson 13 4Q 2018

Final Restoration and Unity

As I was preparing the lesson for this week, one of our online listeners, Terry Utt, sent me a link to a short 5 minute YouTube video, produced by the US Airforce, filmed in the National Cathedral. He said he wished our church could have made this video. Consider the message of unity and whether there is a lesson for us.

SABBATH

What do you think when you hear the title? Do you get excited? Do you get enthusiastic? Do you get anxious and fearful?

Read memory text: “Nevertheless we, according to His promise, look for new heavens and a new earth in which righteousness dwells.” NKJV

What is righteousness? The state of being righteous, which means what? To be morally upright—which is defined by what? What is the standard to determine what is right, just, upright, righteous?

I am going to read you a quote from EGW that some might use to promote a legal penal view of righteousness, but I am going to insert the author’s own definitions and descriptions of the terms used and you will see that it is not penal/legal at all, but healing and transforming through Christ. The challenge for each of us is to know the truth so well and have our minds so filled with the facts that when people pull quotes like this you can immediately insert the various definitions to know the true meaning and not get confused.

Righteousness is obedience to the law. The law demands righteousness, and this the sinner owes to the law; [what does this mean? What law, design or imposed? Why do we owe the law righteousness?] but he is incapable of rendering it. [Why are we incapable? Did we make a choice to be incapable or were we born incapable?] The only way in which he can attain to righteousness is through faith. [Which means what? Trust, in what or who? And when we trust God does something happen in us? What?] By faith he can bring to God the merits of Christ, and the Lord places the obedience of His Son to the sinner's account. [What does by faith mean? Does it mean by trusting and having confidence in Christ? What are the merits of Christ? They are the attributes and achievements which are his perfect character. What account? Would it be our heavenly record? What is recorded in the heavenly record, a list of deeds or our actual character? This same author wrote “Remember, your character is being daguerretyped [photographed] by the great Master Artist in the record books of heaven, as minutely as the face is reproduced upon the polished plate of the artist. What do the books of heaven say in your case? Are you conforming your character to the Pattern, Jesus Christ? {TSB 62.1}. So how does the merits of Christ get put in your heavenly account? By recreating Christ within you. And this is how we by faith bring the merits of Christ to God by having Christ live in us.] Christ's righteousness is accepted in place of man's failure, and God receives, pardons, justifies, the repentant, believing soul, treats him as though he were righteous, and loves him as He loves His Son. [Why does the Father receive us as holy and righteous as the Son? Because as Paul said, "I have been crucified with Christ and I no longer live, but Christ lives in me. The life I live in the body, I live by faith in the Son of God, who loved me and gave himself for me." Gal 2:20 NIV, Why does the Father see Christ's righteousness? EGW said it this way: "This robe, woven in the loom of heaven, has in it not one thread of human devising. Christ in His humanity wrought out a perfect character, and this character He offers to impart to us... By His perfect obedience He has made it possible for every human being to obey God's commandments. When we submit ourselves to Christ, the heart is united with His heart, the will is merged in His will, the mind becomes one with His mind, the thoughts are brought into captivity to Him; we live His life. This is what it means to be clothed with the garment of His righteousness. Then as the Lord looks upon us He sees, not the fig-leaf garment, not the nakedness and deformity of sin, but His own robe of righteousness, which is perfect obedience to the law of Jehovah. COL 311 Why does the Father see Christ's righteousness when we exercise faith/trust in Jesus? How does faith get the righteousness of Christ into our records? All the legal descriptions cheat people from this reality!] This is how faith is accounted righteousness; and the pardoned soul goes on from grace to grace, from light to a greater light. He can say with rejoicing, "Not by works of righteousness which we have done, but according to His mercy He saved us, by the washing of regeneration, and renewing of the Holy Ghost; which He shed on us abundantly through Jesus Christ our Saviour; that being justified by His grace, we should be made heirs according to the hope of eternal life" (Titus 3:5-7). {FW 101.1}

She quoted Titus 3, lets read verses 4-8 from The Remedy:

But when our God and Savior appeared with the kindness and love of God,⁵ he healed us—he procured the Remedy. We could not do it ourselves, neither have we contributed anything to the cure. He did it because of his compassion. He heals us through the work of the Holy Spirit who cleanses our hearts and minds⁶ by taking what Christ achieved and generously reproducing it into us,⁷ so that—having been regenerated to be right in heart by the Remedy Christ achieved—we actually receive eternal life.⁸ This is the truth. I want you to make this truth clear, so that those who have partaken of the Remedy and trust God will focus their resources on doing good; for living in harmony with the law of love is healthy for everyone! Titus 3:4-8 The Remedy

Or consider this quote about righteousness, remember we are talking about the new heaven and new earth the home of the righteous:

Righteousness is holiness, likeness to God, and "God is love." 1 John 4:16. It is conformity to the law of God, for "all thy commandments are righteousness" (Psalm 119:172), and "love is the fulfilling of the law" (Romans 13:10). Righteousness is love, and love is the light and the life of God. The righteousness of God is embodied in Christ. We receive righteousness by receiving Him. {FLB 109.2}

Not by painful struggles or wearisome toil, not by gift or sacrifice, is righteousness obtained; but it is freely given to every soul who hungers and thirsts to receive it. "Ho, every one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and he that hath no money; come ye, buy, and eat;. . . without money and without price." Isaiah 55:1. "Their righteousness is of me, saith the Lord," and, "This is his name whereby he shall be called, The Lord our righteousness." Isaiah 54:17; Jeremiah 23:6. {FLB 109.3}

What is righteousness? It is love—God's character of love reproduced in us. It is not rule keeping, but living as God constructed and designed life to live!

So all of this is described in this way in the book The Desire of Ages and I think this is one of the best summation descriptions:

The law requires righteousness,—a righteous life, a perfect character; and this man has not to give. [Why does the law require it? Because it is the protocol life operates upon, like saying the law of respiration requires that we breathe"] He cannot meet the claims of God's holy law. But Christ, coming to the earth as man, lived a holy life, and developed a perfect character. These He offers as a free gift to all who will receive them. His life stands for the life of men. Thus they have remission of sins that are past, through the forbearance of God. [How do we have remission of sins that are past, by a legal payment? No! By God's forbearance] More than this, Christ imbues men with the attributes of God. He builds up the human character after the similitude of the divine character, a goodly fabric of spiritual strength and beauty. Thus the very righteousness of the law is fulfilled in the believer in Christ. God can "be just, and the justifier of him which believeth in Jesus." Romans 3:26. {DA 762.2}

So what is an effective method to break people out of the penal/legal view of salvation which is a lie and keeps people trapped in sin rather than experiencing the freedom of a new heart provided by Christ?

Would connecting the presentation of the gospel with some aspect of reality in which design law is obviously demonstrated and which brings healing and health be beneficial in promoting the gospel?

Consider this quote:

Medical missionaries and workers in the gospel ministry are to be bound together by indissoluble ties. Their work is to be done with freshness and power. By their combined efforts the world is to be prepared for the second advent of Christ. Through their united labors the Sun of Righteousness is to rise, with healing in His wings, to lighten the benighted regions of the earth, where the people have long lived in gross darkness. Many who are now dwelling in the shadow of sin and death, as they see in God's faithful servants a reflection of the Light of the world, will realize that they have a hope of salvation, and they will open their hearts to receive the healing beams, and will in turn become light bearers to others yet in darkness. {CT 468.2}

This is what our ministries does—weaves together the design laws of life, the laws of health and the gospel truth!

What law does our physical health operate upon? When medical personal bring healing interventions what laws are they utilizing?

- Can doctors get patients well in violations of the laws of health?
- Do doctors try and teach people how to live in harmony with the laws of health?
- What kind of laws are the laws of health?
- If patients refuse to follow medical advice, what happens to them?
- Do medical personal inflict pain and suffering and death upon non-compliant patients?
- Are there powerful lessons that apply to the plan of salvation and how sin kills and how God through Christ heals?
- Can you see why Satan wants to separate the medical work from the gospel?
- Can you see that the legal/penal ideas have nothing to offer the medical work and are exposed as a fraud, thus Satan wants to separate the gospel from the medical work.
- And can you see how he has done this in the SDA church?

So how is it that a person with a serious medical condition dies if they refuse treatment? Is this how the wicked die if they refuse God's salvation? Here is a very powerful quotation that Karin Covi sent me this week written by EGW one of the founders of the SDA church, what do you think?

The Spirit of God keeps evil under the control of conscience. When people exalt themselves above the influence of the Spirit, they reap a harvest of iniquity.... Warnings have less and less power over them. They gradually lose their fear of God. They sow to the flesh; they will reap corruption. The harvest of the seed that they themselves have sown is ripening.... Their heart of flesh becomes a heart of stone. Resistance to truth confirms them in iniquity.... All should be intelligent in regard to the agency by which the soul is destroyed. It is not because of any decree that God has sent out against men or women. He does not make them spiritually blind. God gives sufficient light and evidence to enable them to distinguish truth from error. But He does not force them to receive truth. He leaves them free to choose the good or to choose the evil. If people resist evidence that is sufficient to guide their judgment in the right direction and choose evil once, they will do this more readily the second time. The third time they will still more eagerly withdraw from God and choose to stand on the side of Satan. And in this course they will continue until they are confirmed in evil and believe the lie they have cherished as truth.—

Manuscript 126, 1901 (Sermons and Talks 2:183, 184). {CTr 103.4}

Read first paragraph, “One of the greatest promises...” Do you think Jesus wants to come again as soon as possible?

Then why has He not yet returned?

The Lord is not slow in keeping his promise, as some understand slowness. He is patient with you, not wanting anyone to perish, but everyone to come to repentance. 2Pet 3:9 NIV

Jesus said,

And this gospel of the kingdom will be preached in the whole world as a testimony to all nations, and then the end will come. MT 24:14 NIV

What does this mean?

What kingdom? Would it be the kingdom of love? Has Christianity taken that message to the world, or has Christianity taken the message of a dictator god, who will use his power to torture and kill all who disobey him?

If God is waiting because He wants people to be saved, to be healed, to not perish, to repent and experience a new heart and right spirit within—can that be achieved by teaching people a false penal/legal view of God?

Or, does the penal/legal view actually obstruct the gospel and prevent hearts and minds from being healed?

It is the darkness of misapprehension of God that is enshrouding the world. Men are losing their knowledge of His character. It has been misunderstood and misinterpreted. At this time a message from God is to be proclaimed, a message illuminating in its influence and saving in its power. His character is to be made known. Into the darkness of the world is to be shed the light of His glory, the light of His goodness, mercy, and truth... The last rays of merciful light, the last message of mercy to be given to the world, is a revelation of His character of love. The children of God are to manifest His glory. In their own life and character they are to reveal what the grace of God has done for them. {COL 415}

Is there anything we can do to hasten the coming of the Lord?

Would it not be to reject the false legal/penal view, embrace the truth of God’s design law and character of love, enter into a trust relationship with Him and reveal His character of love in how we live and treat others?

SUNDAY

The title is The Certainty of Christ's Return—does this give you hope or fear?

In the second paragraph the lesson quotes Enoch from the book of Jude:

“Behold, the Lord comes with ten thousands of His saints, to execute judgment on all, to convict all who are ungodly among them of all their ungodly deeds which they have committed in an ungodly way, and of all the harsh things which ungodly sinners have spoken against Him.” vs 14,15

What do you hear? Does this sound like a healing message or a punishing message?

What is this judgment?

- Is it a determination of who is saved and who is lost?
- In other words, is the judge weighing forensic evidence and deciding who will be saved and who will be lost?
- Are our cases in the hands of the judge and it is up to the judge to decide whether we are saved or lost?
- Is it the decision of the judge that determines our eternal destiny?
- Or, is this judgment merely the final diagnosis, the final declaration of the actual condition of each person's character?

When God declares:

He who is unjust, let him be unjust still; he who is filthy, let him be filthy still; he who is righteous, let him be righteous still; he who is holy, let him be holy still. Rev 22:11 is God making it so, or is God merely stating what already is so? Who made the choices for some to be righteous and some to be unrighteous?

When God said in Hosea 4:17 that Ephraim is joined to idols, let him go, was that God making a judgment? Was God's judgment what caused it to be this way or simply the declaration that it was already this way?

In the judgment will God's declaration of our state make us that way or merely acknowledge and accept that we are the way we are?

How did we get that way? By either trusting God and opening the heart to receive the remedy Jesus has provided applied via the Holy Spirit, or by holding to lies and keeping our hearts closed and hardening in selfishness.

So, Enoch's words in Jude, from The Remedy:

"Be aware, the Lord is coming to earth with millions of his holy angels in order to bring about the accurate diagnosis of all things—to bring all selfish beings face to face with their own terminal condition, with the pain and suffering they have caused, and with all the lies about God they have told."

MONDAY

The Promise of Restoration—is this real or metaphor?

This is real—so when we talk in this class about healing, restoration, recreation we are not talking metaphor but the reality to which all the metaphors point.

Those who hold to the legal lie suggest that the healing view we teach is just one metaphor among many and that because they include all the metaphors along with the healing metaphor their view is richer and deeper. What is wrong with their position?

They have taken reality—restoration, healing, renewal, recreation and denied it is real and made it only a metaphor, so that people don't actually seek healing, they instead seek legal pardon and covering over their iniquity.

It would be like a person dying of cancer seeking to be forgiven for cancer and have the medical record altered to say there is no cancer, even though they are still terminal. It is a fraud and this is what the penal legal model does to people. This is why God is waiting. This is why we are not in our new earth, because millions of hearts and minds are trapped in a false view of God which keeps them in fear and insecurity.

We have a message for this time—the message of God's character and law of love to be shared to free hearts and minds to experience genuine renewal to be like Christ!

Do we believe that the home of the righteous will be a real physical place with physical bodies, and real earth, water, sky, and animals and people? Absolutely yes!

And what kind of place will the new earth be?

Will it be like it was before Adam's fall?

Here is one commentator's description of the earth before sin:

When God had formed the earth, there were mountains, hills, and plains, and interspersed among them were rivers and bodies of water. The earth was not one extensive plain, but the monotony of the scenery was broken by hills and mountains, not high and ragged as they now are, but regular and beautiful in shape. The bare, high rocks were never seen upon them, but lay beneath the surface, answering as bones to the earth. The waters were regularly dispersed. The hills, mountains, and very beautiful plains, were adorned with plants and flowers, and tall, majestic trees of every description, which were many times larger, and much more beautiful, than trees now are. The air was pure and healthful, and the earth seemed like a noble palace. Angels beheld and rejoiced at the wonderful and beautiful works of God. {3SG 33.1}

A description of the earth after the fall and before the flood:

The curse did not change at once the appearance of the earth. It was still rich in the bounty God had provided for it. There was gold and silver in abundance. The race of men then living were of very great stature, and possessed wonderful strength. The trees were vastly larger, and far surpassing in beauty and perfect proportions anything mortals can now look upon. The wood of these trees was of fine grain and hard substance--in this respect more like stone. It required much more time and labor, even of that powerful race, to prepare the timber for building, than it requires in this degenerate age to prepare trees that are now growing upon the earth, even with the present weaker strength men now possess. These trees were of great durability, and would know nothing of decay for very many years. {3SG 61.2}

What about Adam's abilities before the fall? Do you think we have degenerated not only in physical ability, but mental ability? Do you think Adam had control over nature? Could Adam walk on water? Could Adam move things with his mind?

Here is a commentary for consideration:

While they remained true to God, Adam and his companion were to bear rule over the earth. Unlimited control was given them over every living thing. The lion and the lamb sported peacefully around them or lay down together at their feet. The happy birds flitted about them without fear; and as their glad songs ascended to the praise of their Creator, Adam and Eve united with them in thanksgiving to the Father and the Son. {PP 50.2}

TUESDAY

Will the earth made new be a physical place in which the righteous will live with real physical bodies?

Job said:

But I know there is someone in heaven who will come at last to my defence.
Even after my skin is eaten by disease,
while still in this body I will see God.

I will see him with my own eyes, and he will not be a stranger. Job 19:25-27

Paul of course describes the resurrection in 1Cor 15 and 1Thes 4 and our corruptible bodies will be changed to incorruptible bodies, these mortal bodies will be made immortal.

We can't conceive of what that will be like.

WEDNESDAY

Read the top paragraph, "For behold..." What does this mean?

Does this mean in heaven we won't have any memory of sin? Will the events on planet earth be wiped from the collective consciousness of all intelligent beings?

Will the memory of history be erased?

Why is this not possible?

What is it that makes us who we are as unique individuals?

It is our life experiences—identical twins are not identical people. Our biology doesn't make us who we are, it is our life experiences, which is embedded in our memories. To wipe out our memories would wipe out our identities—it cannot be done while preserving us.

And such an interpretation of this passage contradicts the rest of Scripture. What to these text describe:

- The 144,000 people stood before the throne, the four living creatures, and the elders; they were singing a new song, which only they could learn. Rev 14:3
 - What does this mean? Why can't others learn it? Because it is the song of their experience. Here is what the SDA Bible commentary says of this text:
 - The experience is of such a personal nature that only those who pass through it can appreciate its significance. To them the song is a treasured and comprehensive summation of the experiences through which they have passed in the closing stages of the conflict between good and evil.¹
 - What is required in order to sing a song of one's experience? That one remembers their experience!
- What about David, Bathsheba, Solomon and Uriah? Will they know each other, what will that mean?
- What did Jesus mean when he said "I tell you, then, the great love she has shown proves that her many sins have been forgiven. But whoever has been forgiven little shows only a little love.” Luke 7:47 GNB

¹ Nichol, F. D. (Ed.). (1980). The Seventh-day Adventist Bible Commentary (Vol. 7, p. 826). Review and Herald Publishing Association.

- Does our memory of how much we have been forgiven impact our love?

What about this quote from the book Maranatha:

Every question of truth and error in the long-standing controversy has now been made plain. The results of rebellion, the fruits of setting aside the divine statutes, have been laid open to the view of all created intelligences. The working out of Satan's rule in contrast with the government of God has been presented to the whole universe. Satan's own works have condemned him. God's wisdom, His justice, and His goodness stand fully vindicated. It is seen that all His dealings in the great controversy have been conducted with respect to the eternal good of His people and the good of all the worlds that He has created. . . The history of sin will stand to all eternity as a witness that with the existence of God's law is bound up the happiness of all the beings He has created. With all the facts of the great controversy in view, the whole universe, both loyal and rebellious, with one accord declare: "Just and true are thy ways, thou King of saints." {Mar 346.2}

The inhabitants of all worlds will be convinced of the justice of the law in the overthrow of rebellion and the eradication of sin. [What does this mean, do you hear it through imposed or design law lenses, keep reading] When man, beguiled by Satan's power, disobeyed the divine law, God could not, even to save the lost race, change that law. [Why not? Because God's law is design law, how He built the universe to operate, which is in harmony with His own character of love. To change the law would be to change His own character and destroy the foundation of life itself, notice what she says next] God is love, and to change the law would be to deny Himself, to overthrow those principles with which are bound up the good of the universe. [His laws are the principles, protocols, upon which life is built. All the legal imposed law views are Satan's lies] The working out of the plan of salvation reveals not only to men but to angels, the character of God, and through the ages of eternity the malignant character of sin will be understood by the cost to the Father and the Son of the redemption of a rebel race. [What will be understood for all eternity? Both the beauty and wonder of God's character of love and the malignant character of sin. How is it understood? By remembering exactly what happened when God's principles were set aside and Satan's imposed law methods practiced.] In Christ, the Lamb slain from the foundation of the world, all worlds will behold the marks of the curse, and angels as well as men will ascribe honour and glory to the Redeemer through whom they are all made secure from apostasy. The efficiency of the cross guards the redeemed race from the danger of a second fall. [Why will there be no second fall? Because we all remember!] The life and death of Christ effectually unveils the deceptions of Satan, and refutes his claims. The sacrifice of Christ for a fallen world draws not only men, but angels unto Him bonds of indissoluble union. Through the plan of salvation the justice and mercy of God are fully vindicated, and to all eternity rebellion will never again arise, affliction never again touch the universe of God. {Messenger, June 7, 1893 par. 6}

But this eternal security is only possible if all intelligent beings remember. If we have our memories erased then we haven't learned the truth of the difference and we are vulnerable to having the rebellion arise again.

And who would teach the idea that memory would be erased? And what system of theology always includes this? The penal substitution system, which is further evidence of its false origins.

So what does the Isaiah text mean? Simply what it says, we won't think about, won't focus on it, it won't come to mind, but that doesn't mean we don't have memory of it. In fact, we will travel the universe to tell the wonderful story of redemption through Jesus, which will require we remember.

THURSDAY

Life on the New Earth—all things made new.

What about the New Jerusalem?

Compare the New Jerusalem with the Most Holy Place in the sanctuary:

Most Holy Place

Cube covered gold saved are at-one
God dwells there
High Priest cleanses
Surrounded by 12 tribes

New Jerusalem

Cube
paved gold saved are at-one
God dwells there
High Priest cleanses hearts
Gates of 12 tribes

The New Jerusalem is the Bride of Christ—the church is the Bride of Christ and the people live in the New Jerusalem and are the shining living stones that beautify the city.

So is the New Jerusalem real? I think it is, but it is also an object lesson of our restored perfection and unity with Christ.

FRIDAY

Read first paragraph, "The resurrection..." What does this mean? What is the blood of the Lamb that we wash our characters in?

Jesus is the Word made flesh and we are to eat the flesh of Jesus; what does this mean?

When Jesus said unless we eat his flesh and drink his blood we have no part with him, what does that mean?

What of this description?

“In the study of the Bible the converted soul eats the flesh and drinks the blood of the Son of God, which He himself interprets as the receiving and doing of His words, that are spirit and life.” Fundamentals of Christian Education 378.1

“The leaven of truth works a change in the whole man, making the coarse refined, the rough gentle, the selfish generous. By it [the truth] the impure are cleansed, washed in the blood of the Lamb.” Christ’s Object Lessons 102

So, how do we understand the paragraph about washing our robes of character in the blood of Jesus?

What would happen if we conclude that it means we are to claim the legal payment of Jesus death, the blood, and present it by faith to the Father, and that will have our records expunged in the courtroom of heaven and we will be declared to be righteous even though we are not?

It would mean we put an idea into people’s minds that prevents them from experiencing the true washing of their robes. They accept a lie and their characters remain infected with fear and selfishness and they never even think to ask for the Holy Spirit to transform them to Christlikeness.

This is what the penal substitution lie does.

The Book of Revelation 1Q 201

The Gospel from Patmos

Introduction

In the second to the last paragraph there is a quote from Testimonies to Ministers and Gospel Workers, p. 113 which says: “When we as a people understand what this book means to us, there will be seen among us a great revival. We do not understand fully the lessons that it teaches, notwithstanding the injunction given us to search and study it.”

What does this mean?

Does it mean that we have room to expand our understanding? That we should not be dogmatic about a certain interpretation? That we should allow for various views to be considered?

The introduction points out that in most of the Bible things should be taken literally unless there is clear reason to consider it symbolically, however, in Revelation things should be taken symbolically first and only literally if there is clear reason to do so.

Do you agree? We might need to come back to this principle throughout the quarter—let’s help each other do this.

SABBATH

Read first paragraph, “The prophecies of Revelation...” What is the blessing that one receives from reading this book?

- Why are they blessed?
- Is it like a knighthood, something that is bestowed by a higher authority on their subject for some great achievement—so if we read the book God hands out a blessing?
- Is it some design law—some natural result that comes from reading it?
- Is there a blessing in enlightenment, in knowing the truth, in knowing the truth about God and His kingdom of love? Is there a blessing in having one’s mind freed from lies?
- So, what is the blessing one receives? Would it be healing of their heart and mind as the truth penetrates and wins them to trust in God?

But the lesson says it isn’t just reading that results in blessing, but obeying that results in blessing—what does that mean and again, why would obeying result in blessing?

Is the blessing that comes from obedience, like the knighthood, something that is bestowed by the Sovereign because of good performance?

Or, is the blessing from obedience that natural result of what occurs when one lives in harmony with design law?

- Is there a blessing in obeying the doctor's instructions (assuming the instructions are correct)? From where does the blessing come?
- Is there a blessing in obeying the commandments not to murder, steal, commit adultery, bear false witness etc.? From where does the blessing come?
- Is there a blessing in worshipping the one and only true God—from where does the blessing come? Is it some imperial decree from God, or is a natural result of God's design law of worship?
 - What does Paul in Romans 1 say happens to people who exchange the truth of God for a lie? Their minds become depraved, darkened, and futile—why?
 - What happens to the minds of people who worship the true God?
 - Would the expansion of their mental faculties be a one-time event, or a continual event that expands with time?
 - Would that require we continue to study and expand our understanding?
 - Is this connected to the saying that sanctification is a work of a lifetime? Does that mean we only obtain it at the end of life, or that it is a part of living, we continue to grow in our knowledge of God and His methods and thus continue in our spiritual maturity as long as we are alive?

And what does it mean to obey? Is obedience in God's kingdom measured by how well one performs, or by the intention of the heart to comply?

It is the desire, the intent, not the actual performance that is the primary issue in obeying God. Why?

SUNDAY

Read first paragraph, "Revelation 1:1 states..." Why would Jesus need to reveal Himself?

Has Jesus been hidden from our understanding?

How and why has Jesus been hidden?

Does Jesus want to remain hidden?

What keeps Jesus from greater revelations of Himself today?

Was the message of Revelation only for the people of John's day, or perhaps even more for the people living at the end of time?

Would that mean that Jesus knew that before the second coming He would not be understood, that the truth about God would be obscured and He would have to provide a special revelation of Himself to reveal His true character and nature to us?

Paul wrote to Timothy about the end of time telling him that the people at the end of time would have a form of godliness but deny the power. They would not really know Jesus.

Do we find that in the world today there are many religions and religious people who have a view of God that is more like the character of Satan, a punishing being who requires some legal payment in order to buy him off?

Do you find in the book of Revelation a message from Jesus that is to refute this satanic view of God?

MONDAY

What is the purpose of Bible prophecy?

Read second paragraph, “The primary purpose...” What is God in control of?

- Is God in control of whether a person is saved or not saved? Why or why not?
 - If salvation is a legal problem, why can't God just legally pardon everyone and take everyone to heaven?
 - Doesn't God have the power to do so?
 - What would be the problem if He did?
 - Wouldn't it be that such an action would result in sinners who have sinful hearts being in heaven i.e. such a legal action would not fix the problem, it would not heal the heart, renew the mind, recreate the being in righteousness. The entire legal model is a fraud, a lie, and it is the primary reason the church has not fulfilled its mission in preparing the world for Christ's return!
- Is God in control of whether a person sins or doesn't sin? Why or why not?
- So, is God in control of whether good people get mistreated and abused? Why or why not?
- Is God in control of whether a man rapes a woman or not?
- Is God in control of whether a woman gets pregnant or not?
 - When God healed women in Bible times of infertility, did God then impregnate them, or did those women still have to have sexual relations with their husbands? Who chose to do that, God or those people?
 - So, what was God in control of?
- Is God in control of whether a child is born with some physical defect? Why or why not?
- Is God in control of what God does?
- Was God in control of whether Nebuchadnezzar threw the three worthies in the fiery furnace? Was God in control of whether He would intervene to save them?

So, what is the purpose of Bible prophecy? To teach us what? That God is in control of Himself, His laws, His designs and is working through human history to heal and restore all who cooperate with Him. That God is not caught by surprise and knows the events of the future before they happen.

Consider some prophecies of the OT:

- The multi-medal image and the beasts of Daniel, which describe the rise and fall of nations:
 - Do these prophecies mean that God caused these nations to rise and fall, and God wanted the wars to happen, or that God foreknew it would happen this way and so revealed it?
- When God gave conditional prophecies for the prosperity of Israel, what does that reveal?
 - Does it reveal God didn't really know what would happen and was covering His bases?
 - Or, that God revealed two possible futures to Israel that were dependent on the choices that Israel made? Like revealing two paths, but rather than two paths over geography that lead to two different destinations, these were two paths were through time that led to two different destinations. And just as with the fork in the geographic road, we could accurately predict where one will end up if they take either fork, so too God could accurately predict where Israel will end up if they take either fork—the one fork of loyalty to God would free God to take actions to bless them in ways they would not receive if they chose disloyalty to God.
 - Does that mean God didn't know which fork in the road of time they would take until they took it? No! Then why give both views? To show that they did have a choice, they were not predestined to end up where they did, to entice, woo, encourage them to take the right road, just as a parent would tell a child of all the benefits of taking the right road.
 - So we see that God does have foreknowledge, but we still have complete freedom

The lesson points out that in Dt 29:29 the Lord keeps some things secret, and asks us why the Lord does this?

Jesus said to his Apostles: "I have yet many things to say unto you, but ye cannot bear them now."
John 16:12

Does God keep some things secret because He wants us to be ignorant, or because of either our limited capacity or that we would be injured with the knowledge?

Do you ever keep things from your children? Why?

- To protect them?
- Because they are too immature to understand?
- Do we ever withhold information from our children out of embarrassment, guilt or shame—fear our children might reject us?
- God never withholds information for this third reason!

TUESDAY

The lesson emphasizes that Revelation and much of Bible prophecy is symbolic in nature—what does that mean?

It means that symbols stand for other ideas.

Consider the letters TREE, these are symbols that stand for a living organism—a tree. The letters TREE are not a tree, they are only a symbolic representation of a tree.

In the Bible we have letters that are symbolic representations of other symbolic representations.

For instance, the letters LAMB represent a docile animal, but that docile animal in Bible prophecy represents Jesus.

The problem in much of Bible prophecy is in determining what the symbol actually represents.

- What is the danger in failing to take a symbol symbolically?
- What is the danger in misinterpreting the meaning of the symbol?
- Any examples of this?
 - Taking the description of fire as combustion rather than the fire of God's life-giving glory—infinite truth and love
 - Taking the war and battle descriptions as physical battles rather than mental battles over ideas and beliefs—like the battle of Armageddon
 - Taking vials of wrath as plagues that literally come out from God rather than what happens when God surrenders sinners to their own selves.
 - Taking the descriptions of souls under the altar as living disembodied intelligences rather than symbols of beings who had been alive and are waiting for the resurrection and whose life-history and sacrifice call out through history for God to fix the sin problem

The lesson in the third paragraph states, “we must be careful not to impose on the text a meaning that comes out of human imagination or the current meanings of those symbols in our culture.”

Do you agree?

Does this only apply to physical objects like trees, beasts, rivers, angels, lamps, altars—or does this same rule apply to ideas, concepts, actions?

- Wrath and anger—do we apply modern human understanding, or realize these terms when applied to God are representative of His letting go, releasing people to their own choices?
- Atonement—do we apply the modern meaning of appeasement or realize it means unity, reconciliation, making at-one?
- Justification—do we apply the modern meaning of legal declaration, or do we realize it means setting things right in reality?
- Law—do we apply the human law concept of imposed rules, or realize God's laws are design protocols?

How much of Scripture and prophecy is misunderstood because we misunderstand the meaning of the terms?

Is there an overarching key for rightly interpreting Bible symbolism?

What about this idea?

The significance of the Jewish economy is not yet fully comprehended. [another system of symbols, which in the next paragraph is connected to Revelation] Truths vast and profound are shadowed forth in its rites and symbols. The gospel is the key that unlocks its mysteries. [What is the key?] Through a knowledge of the plan of redemption, its truths are opened to the understanding. Far more than we do, it is our privilege to understand these wonderful themes. We are to comprehend the deep things of God. Angels desire to look into the truths that are revealed to the people who with contrite hearts are searching the word of God, and praying for greater lengths and breadths and depths and heights of the knowledge which He alone can give. {COL 133.1}

As we near the close of this world's history, the prophecies relating to the last days especially demand our study. The last book of the New Testament scriptures is full of truth that we need to understand. Satan has blinded the minds of many, so that they have been glad of any excuse for not making the Revelation their study. But Christ through His servant John has here declared what shall be in the last days, and He says, "Blessed is he that readeth, and they that hear the words of this prophecy, and keep those things which are written therein." Revelation 1:3. {COL 133.2}

What is the key to unlock Bible mysteries? The gospel, if we misunderstand the gospel will we misunderstand the Bible symbols, so what is the gospel?

Consider this quote—do you agree?

No man can rightly present the law of God without the gospel, or the gospel without the law. The law is the gospel embodied, and the gospel is the law unfolded. The law is the root, the gospel is the fragrant blossom and fruit which it bears. {COL 128.2}

What does this mean?

- Does it mean that the legal penal proponents are right, that God imposes a law and only by getting the right set of rules with right obedience can we understand the gospel?
- Or does it refer to God's design law, the protocols upon which life is built and it is good news to live in harmony with God and His design, and God and Jesus have been working to restore us to that design?

And, can you see how important it will be to decide what law is the law that is the root?

So how do you describe God's law?

Consider this quote:

The same power that upholds nature, is working also in man. The same great laws that guide alike the star and the atom control human life. The laws that govern the heart's action, regulating the flow of the current of life to the body, are the laws of the mighty Intelligence that has the jurisdiction of the soul. From Him all life proceeds. Only in harmony with Him can be found its true sphere of action. For all the objects of His creation the condition is the same--a life sustained by receiving the life of God, a life exercised in harmony with the Creator's will. To transgress His law, physical, mental, or moral, is to place one's self out of harmony with the universe, to introduce discord, anarchy, ruin.
{Ed 99.2}

What kind of law is this?

Can you see what will happen if we replace God's design law with Satan's imperial/imposed law? Then the gospel is perverted and we take a false gospel to the world—which is exactly what has happened to all of Christianity.

So, why is the law the root and the gospel the fruit?

What is the law? The law of God is the principle of love upon which life is built, and the gospel is the good news that God is love and love is the outward movement of God toward the healing and saving of His creation. Thus, we see manifest in Christ the character of God, the movement of love toward a fallen race, to bring the truth about God back to our awareness while simultaneously taking up the sickness of sin in order to cure the condition and provide remedy to our terminal state.

But Satan has worked to replace God's design law with imposed law and to get humans to misinterpret God as a being of stern justice, who must inflict punishment for breaking the law, and the cross is perverted as a means of legal payment and propitiation of divine wrath.

Thus, the world languishes, darkness covers the people a gross and disgusting darkness and this darkness constantly spews forth from pulpits and religious publications, including those of the SDA church.

If we want to see Christ return, then we must reject the false law with its penal substitution theology and start promoting the truth about Our Creator God and His design law and the true gospel of His kingdom of love!

WEDNESDAY

The lesson points out that the three members of the Godhead are described in the first chapter of

Revelation:

From John to the seven churches in the province of Asia: Grace and peace be yours from God, who is, who was, and who is to come, and from the seven spirits in front of his throne, and from Jesus Christ, the faithful witness, the first to be raised from death and who is also the ruler of the kings of the world. vs 4,5.

Read the fifth paragraph, “Jesus Christ is identified by...” What was washed by His blood?

- Is this literal or symbolic?
- What is it symbolic of?
- What does the blood represent?
- How are we washed in the blood?

When Jesus said unless we eat his flesh and drink his blood we have no part with him, what does that mean?

Jesus is the Word made flesh and we are to eat the flesh of Jesus; what does this mean?

What of this description?

“In the study of the Bible the converted soul eats the flesh and drinks the blood of the Son of God, which He himself interprets as the receiving and doing of His words, that are spirit and life.” Fundamentals of Christian Education 378.1

“The leaven of truth works a change in the whole man, making the coarse refined, the rough gentle, the selfish generous. By it [the truth] the impure are cleansed, washed in the blood of the Lamb.” Christ’s Object Lessons 102

So, how do we understand the paragraph about being washed in the blood of Jesus?

What would happen if we conclude that it means we are to claim the legal payment of Jesus death, the blood, and present it by faith to the Father, and that will have our records expunged in the courtroom of heaven and we will be declared to be righteous even though we are not?

It would mean we put an idea into people’s minds that prevents them from experiencing the true washing of their robes. They accept a lie and their characters remain infected with fear and selfishness and they never even think to ask for the Holy Spirit to transform them to Christlikeness.

This is what the penal substitution lie does.

Read last paragraph, “In the original Greek...” What does it mean? How are we released from our sins? Is it talking about being released from the penalty and punishment for sin, or being released from sinfulness—being cured?

What does it mean He provided the perfect atonement for our sins? Does this mean a legal payment to a punishing god that would otherwise kill us if this god isn't placated with a human sacrifice?

Or does it mean that He restored God's design into humanity and provides the remedy we need to fix what is broken in us?

THURSDAY

The lesson points out that the end point in history to which all the prophecy points is the second coming of Christ and the eradication of sin, sickness, and death.

Why, has Christ not returned?

Is there anything currently happening within Christianity that is obstructing Christ's return?

Is there anything Christianity could be doing that can hasten the day of Christ's return?

Is there a message that is to be given before Christ returns and is Christianity giving it?

The Book of Revelation 2Q 2019 Among the Lampstands

By Dr. Tim Jennings

Before we get into today's lesson, I wanted to follow up with where we ended last week's lesson. The question:

Is there an overarching key for rightly interpreting Bible symbolism?

What about this idea?

The significance of the Jewish economy is not yet fully comprehended. [another system of symbols, which in the next paragraph is connected to Revelation] Truths vast and profound are shadowed forth in its rites and symbols. The gospel is the key that unlocks its mysteries. [What is the key?] Through a knowledge of the plan of redemption, its truths are opened to the understanding. Far more than we do, it is our privilege to understand these wonderful themes. We are to comprehend the deep things of God. Angels desire to look into the truths that are revealed to the people who with contrite hearts are searching the word of God, and praying for greater lengths and breadths and depths and heights of the knowledge which He alone can give. {COL 133.1}

As we near the close of this world's history, the prophecies relating to the last days especially demand our study. The last book of the New Testament scriptures is full of truth that we need to understand. Satan has blinded the minds of many, so that they have been glad of any excuse for not making the Revelation their study. But Christ through His servant John has here declared what shall be in the last days, and He says, "Blessed is he that readeth, and they that hear the words of this prophecy, and keep those things which are written therein." Revelation 1:3. {COL 133.2}

What is the key to unlock Bible mysteries? The gospel, if we misunderstand the gospel we will misunderstand the Bible symbols, so what is the gospel?

Consider this quote—do you agree?

No man can rightly present the law of God without the gospel, or the gospel without the law. The law is the gospel embodied, and the gospel is the law unfolded. The law is the root, the gospel is the fragrant blossom and fruit which it bears. {COL 128.2}

What does this mean?

- Does it mean that the legal penal proponents are right, that God imposes a law and only by getting the right set of rules with right obedience can we understand the gospel?
- Or does this mean that when we correctly understand the gospel, that we understand correctly the law—all law, the design law upon which life is built, but also God's use of written law and if we fail to correctly understand the gospel we will misunderstand God's law?

And, can you see how important it will be to decide what is the gospel and what is the law?

"To fulfil the law." In His own life the Saviour gave the children of men an example of perfect obedience. In His teachings He made clear and distinct every precept of the divine law; He swept away the rubbish of erroneous tradition with which the Jews had encumbered it; He illustrated and enforced its principles, and showed in all its particulars the length and breadth and height and depth of the righteousness required by the law of God. {BEcho, April 16, 1894 par. 5} [why does the law require righteousness? For the same reason the law of respiration require we breathe, it is how life is built to exist]

The Pharisees were dissatisfied with the teachings of Christ. The practical godliness which He enjoined condemned them. They desired Him to dwell upon the external observances of the ceremonial law, and the customs and traditions of the fathers. But Jesus taught the spiritual nature of the law, and made clear its far reaching claims. Love to God and to men must live in the heart and control the life, as the spring of every thought and every action. {BEcho, April 16, 1894 par. 6} [What kind of law can do this? Can this be achieved by imperial rules enforced by threats of punishment?]

There is perfect harmony between the law of God and the gospel of Jesus Christ. "I and My Father are one," says the great Teacher. The gospel is the good news of grace, or favour, by which man may be released from the condemnation of sin, and enabled to render acceptable obedience to the law. [What does this sound like to you? Think it through—does it sound penal legal or healing restorative? How are we released from condemnation, by a legal payment or by healing and recreation? Does a legal payment enable us to obey the law? Does restoring Godliness within us enable us to obey the law, so which is it? If Godliness is resorted within use and sinfulness removed, then will the law condemn us? So, this is healing and restoration not legal payment.] The gospel points to the moral code as a rule of life. That law, by its demands for undeviating obedience, is continually pointing the sinner to the gospel for pardon and peace. {BEcho, April 16, 1894 par. 7} [Does this sound legal? How do we understand it?]

As penitent sinners, contrite before God, [heart change takes place first] discern Christ's atonement in their behalf, and accept this atonement as their only hope in this life and the future life, their sins are pardoned. This is justification by faith. ... (CTr 150.3)

Justification is the opposite of condemnation. ... (CTr 150.4)

David was pardoned of his transgression because he humbled his heart before God in repentance and contrition of soul and believed that God's promise to forgive would be fulfilled. [Heart change happens first.] (Manuscript 21, 1891; Manuscript Releases, vol. 9, pp. 300, 301; CTr 150.5)

But while God can be just, and yet justify the sinner through the merits of Christ, no man can cover his soul with the garments of Christ's righteousness while practicing known sins or neglecting known duties. God requires the entire surrender of the heart, before justification can take place; [again, heart change before justification] and in order for man to retain justification, there must be continual obedience, through active, living faith that works by love and purifies the soul. (FW 100.1)

The only way this makes sense is design law and we are talking about surrender to allow healing of heart and mind. Healing of heart and mind does not happen without our trust in God. We must be won to trust in God first and invite Him in and this sets the heart right with God and He dwells in us and we follow the leading of God in our daily lives growing in godliness.

So how do you describe God's law?

Consider this quote:

The same power that upholds nature, is working also in man. The same great laws that guide alike the star and the atom control human life. The laws that govern the heart's action, regulating the flow of the current of life to the body, are the laws of the mighty Intelligence that has the jurisdiction of the soul. From Him all life proceeds. Only in harmony with Him can be found its true sphere of action. For all the objects of His creation the condition is the same--a life sustained by receiving the life of God, a life exercised in harmony with the Creator's will. To transgress His law, physical, mental, or moral, is to place one's self out of harmony with the universe, to introduce discord, anarchy, ruin. {Ed 99.2}

What kind of law is this?

Can you see what will happen if we replace God's design law with Satan's imperial/imposed law? Then the gospel is perverted and we take a false gospel to the world—which is exactly what has happened to all of Christianity.

This is the primary reason Christ has not returned because He is waiting for the gospel to go to the world and we have yet to take it. Further, within the SDA church much of what the Bible has to teach us has been misunderstood because it has been filtered through the false law lens.

So, why is the law the root and the gospel the fruit?

Keep in mind the quote just read and consider these quotes:

Both the redeemed and the unfallen beings will find in the cross of Christ their science and their song. It will be seen that the glory shining in the face of Jesus is the glory of self-sacrificing love. In the light from Calvary it will be seen that the law of self-renouncing love is the law of life for earth and heaven; that the love which "seeketh not her own" has its source in the heart of God; and that in the meek and lowly One is manifested the character of Him who dwelleth in the light which no man can approach unto. {DA 19.2}

But turning from all lesser representations, we behold God in Jesus. Looking unto Jesus we see that it is the glory of our God to give. "I do nothing of Myself," said Christ; "the living Father hath sent Me, and I live by the Father." "I seek not Mine own glory," but the glory of Him that sent Me. John 8:28; 6:57; 8:50; 7:18. In these words is set forth the great principle which is the law of life for the universe. All things Christ received from God, but He took to give. So in the heavenly courts, in His ministry for all created beings: through the beloved Son, the Father's life flows out to all; through the Son it returns, in praise and joyous service, a tide of love, to the great Source of all. And thus through Christ the circuit of beneficence is complete, representing the character of the great Giver, the law of life. {DA 21.2}

In heaven itself this law was broken. Sin originated in self-seeking. Lucifer, the covering cherub, desired to be first in heaven. He sought to gain control of heavenly beings, to draw them away from their Creator, and to win their homage to himself. Therefore he misrepresented God, attributing to Him the desire for self-exaltation. With his own evil characteristics he sought to invest the loving Creator. Thus he deceived angels. Thus he deceived men. He led them to doubt the word of God, and to distrust His goodness. Because God is a God of justice and terrible majesty, Satan caused them to look upon Him as severe and unforgiving. Thus he drew men to join him in rebellion against God, and the night of woe settled down upon the world. {DA 21.3}

How did Satan do this specifically? He lied about God's law:

In the opening of the great controversy, Satan had declared that the law of God could not be obeyed, that justice was inconsistent with mercy, and that, should the law be broken, it would be impossible for the sinner to be pardoned. Every sin must meet its punishment, urged Satan; and if God should remit the punishment of sin, He would not be a God of truth and justice. {DA 761.4}

Why is the law the root and the gospel the fruit?

The law of God is the principle of love upon which life is built, and the gospel is the good news that God is love and love is the outward movement of God toward the healing and saving of His creation. Thus, we see manifest in Christ the character of God, the movement of love toward a fallen race, to bring the truth about God back to our awareness while simultaneously taking up the sickness of sin in order to cure the condition and provide remedy to our terminal state.

The gospel is what love does, how love acts, the way love functions—which is the law of life in operation!

But Satan has worked to replace God's design law with imposed law and to get humans to misinterpret God as a being of stern justice, who must inflict punishment for breaking the law, and the cross is perverted as a means of legal payment and propitiation of divine wrath.

Thus, the world languishes, darkness covers the people a gross and disgusting darkness and this darkness constantly spews forth from pulpits and religious publications, including those of the SDA church.

If we want to see Christ return, then we must reject the false law with its penal substitution theology and start promoting the truth about Our Creator God and His design law and the true gospel of His kingdom of love!

SABBATH

The Title for this week's lesson is Among the Lampstands: Read second paragraph, "Centuries later..."

The lesson points out that John was given a vision of the resurrected Christ in the heavenly sanctuary—I find this very interesting for a couple of reasons.

Why do the author's say John was given a vision of Jesus in the heavenly sanctuary? Because He is walking among the lampstands. Okay, in last week's lesson the lesson said we should take Revelation as symbolic unless specific reasons to take it literal.

Is the sanctuary imagery of a literal physical building, or is it symbolic of something else?

Hmmm... what about the lampstands that Christ is walking amongst, are they literal pieces of gold with combustion flames, or are they symbolic?

Read Revelation 1:20:

This is the secret meaning of the seven stars that you see in my right hand, and of the seven gold lamp-stands: the seven stars are the angels of the seven churches, and the seven lamp-stands are the seven churches. (GNB)

In TUESDAY's lesson we read, "In Revelation, the lampstands represent the seven churches in Asia to which Revelation was originally sent and the lampstands also symbolize God's church throughout history."

So, should we take the lampstands as literal pieces of gold, or as symbolic of the seven churches? And are the seven churches seven buildings made of brick and mortar or the saints of God?

So, if the lampstands are symbolic of the people of God, and the image was that of Christ walking in the heavenly sanctuary, what would that say about the heavenly sanctuary? From what is the sanctuary in heaven constructed if we accept Jesus's words here?

And then if this is the heavenly sanctuary, constructed of the seven churches, which means the people of God through all time, then what would Christ be cleansing in the heavenly sanctuary?

Why do you think there is so much resistance in the SDA church to accepting what Jesus revealed in Revelation about the heavenly sanctuary?

Because the church is infected with a false law lens and with that false law lens they misinterpret the meaning to be legal and penal rather than healing and restorative. With the design law lens of love we realize that Jesus is working in human beings to heal and restore us to righteousness!

We must stop going along with the legal lie.

MONDAY

The Lord's day, which is what day of the week? Why is the seventh-day Sabbath the Lord's day?

Is the most important aspect of the Sabbath to realize which day in the seven-day cycle it is? Or, is it to realize its purpose, what it was created for?

What happens if we defined accurately which of the week is the Sabbath day, but we then understand its significance through the imposed law lens? Then we have the right day but the wrong meaning, and get the wrong god, and could end up killing the God of the Sabbath and want Him off the cross to worship on the Sabbath.

Sadly, the fourth commandment has been translated through the lens of imposed law causing the commandment to sound like some prohibition.

Remember the Sabbath day by keeping it holy (Exodus 20:8)

The key word in this verse is "it" the Hebrew translate "it" is: הוא, היא [huw' , beyond, Pentateuch), hiy' /hoo/ pron 3p s. A primitive word; TWOT 480; GK 2085 and 2115; 38 occurrences; AV translates as "that", "him", "same", "this", "he", "which", "who", "such", and "wherein". 1 he, she, it.

1a himself (with emphasis).¹

This allows for a completely different interpretation: Remember the Sabbath day keeping yourself holy. Or, Remember the Sabbath day in order to stay holy.

Think about it, if we were to build a golden calf and have an orgy of pagan worship during the Sabbath hours have we made the Sabbath less holy? If we spent the Sabbath hours in total righteous living, would we make the Sabbath more holy? We cannot keep the Sabbath holy for we didn't make it holy and we can't make it unholy—we can only keep ourselves holy. And can a person keep themselves holy only one day in seven?

The Sabbath was made for man—for what reason? To aide humankind in holiness, in keeping themselves holy!

And what is holiness? Holiness is the state of being holy—which is what? I would like to suggest being holy is being in harmony with God in all aspects of our being. Thus, being holy is living in harmony with God's character, protocols, methods—His design laws!

And how is the Sabbath related to this?

When was the Sabbath created (remember the Sabbath was made for man)?

At the end of creation of planet earth and this solar system.

What was happening in the rest of the universe during that week?

War—what kind of war and over what?

And there was war in heaven. Michael and his angels fought against the dragon, and the dragon and his angels fought back. But he was not strong enough, and they lost their place in heaven. The great dragon was hurled down—that ancient serpent called the devil, or Satan, who leads the whole world astray. He was hurled to the earth, and his angels with him.

Revelation 12:7-9

The Greek translated “war” is πόλεμος [polemos /pol-em-os/], from which we get polemic—it is a war of words, a war of ideas. And Satan is the father of lies (John 8:44).

And what has been the focus or target of Satan's lies and where is this war fought?

For though we live in the world, we do not wage war as the world does.⁴ The weapons we fight with are not the weapons of the world. On the contrary, they have divine power to demolish strongholds. We demolish arguments and every pretension that sets itself up against the knowledge of God, and we take captive every thought to make it obedient to Christ.

2Corinthians 10:3-5.

The war is over the truth about God—whether we can trust God, whether God is worthy of our love, devotion, loyalty.

God wants our love, trust, loyalty and devotion—can any being get this from another by threat, by coercion, by infliction of punishment? In fact, what happens to love, trust, loyalty and devotion when one threatens and coerces another? Love and trust are broken and rebellion ensues.

So, if Satan could get intelligent beings to believe God is coercive, threatening, the source of inflicted pain, suffering, torture and death then love and trust would break down and rebellion against God ensue.

How could Satan get intelligent beings to conclude this about God? By alleging God's laws are not the design protocols the Creator built life to operate upon, but instead function no differently than the rules enacted by human beings—imperial laws that require the ruling authority to inflict punishment for disobedience.

Then how does the Sabbath fit in?

What does it say about God, that in the context of an assault on His right to rule, rather than using His power to force all beings to bow to Him, He instead creates a day of freedom to think?

And after six days of overwhelming display of creative power, the Godhead says to all the watching beings, "You have heard the allegations against us, you have seen the evidence we have just given, now universe—We rest our case! Take 24 hours aside and think for yourselves, come to your own conclusions and decide who you are going to trust."

Days one through six of creation week we learn God has incredible power, but God doesn't want His intelligent creatures to be intimidated, to be afraid, to follow Him because of power. God wants His creatures to love Him, trust Him, and be devoted to Him in loyal admiration. Thus, after six days of creation, God created a day of freedom, a day where God stops using power and steps back giving His creatures space and time to consider and think. Day seven reveals the character of the One who wields the power: God presented evidence (truth), in love, while leaving His creatures free to decide for themselves. No coercion, to intimidation, no pressure—freedom!

Then what is the Sabbath commandment about? It is about how one lives their life—in harmony with God and His design for life—do we present truth in love and leave others free or do we use imperial rules and coerce others with threats of punishment?

All week long we are to Remember the Sabbath to keep ourselves holy. We are to be beings who present truth in love while leaving others free. Only those who practice these principles of God in their lives are true Sabbath keepers. Those who crucified Christ had the right day of the week, but did not have God's principles written into their characters. They were not Sabbath keepers.

With this in mind we realize God is Creator and His laws are the protocols upon which all life is built to operate. As the Creator of time God built into time a day for human health, holiness, growth, development; a day of evidence to reveal truth about how God governs. Every seven days every human being passes through this day, this reminder, this piece of evidence, this opportunity for healing, growth, renewal, transformation, contemplation, and freedom from the lies about God.

We can only experience these blessings if we throw off the lies about God and His law and accept His design protocols for life. But, if we insist on viewing the Sabbath as a "test of obedience" as a rule enacted by a powerful potentate who is watching to see if we break his rule, then the Sabbath becomes, not a sign of godliness, but a mark of beastliness.

The historic two days of worship within Christianity—Sabbath and Sunday—stand as two banners, signs, flags, marks, pennants that represent two divergent systems of governing.

Just as the US Flag, the grand old Stars and Stripes, is a symbol or sign of the United States of America so these two days of worship are signs of two different systems of governing. However, the flag is not the reality for which it stands. The US flag is only a symbol of the USA. And a person can wave the flag of America while being an enemy of the US. During WWII German soldiers donned American uniforms with the US flag and infiltrated American lines to sow discord and disrupt the US war effort. Just because someone waves the flag doesn't mean they support what the flag actually stands for.

Likewise, with Sabbath and Sunday, these two days are signs of two different systems of governing. The Sabbath is a day of rest by its creation; it was made by God for this purpose at the end of creation week. The Sabbath is an evidence of design law—truth, presented in love while leaving others free—and is a sign of God's method of governing.

Sunday, however, became a day of rest by legislative action, by human authorities making rules. Therefore, Sunday is a mark of imperialism, of law and government that functions like sinful humans—imposed rules that require infliction of punishment for disobedience.

But these days of worship, with their origins establishing their significance, are just like the US flag—symbols, signs, marks—they are not the governments they represent. So, a person could be a Sabbath keeper, but practice the imposed law model and teach that Sabbath breaking requires God to inflict punishment on the violator; that person would be like the German soldiers described above, infiltrating God's church to sow discord and confusion. They would not be on God's team, but actually promoting the methods of the beast. These religious traitors to God's kingdom would be most powerfully exemplified by the Sabbath keepers who crucified the Lord of the Sabbath.

Conversely, a person who worships on Sunday, but promotes truth in love while leaving others free is promoting the principles of the Sabbath and is on God's team.

TUESDAY

Read second paragraph, "Moreover, the picture..." Where does Jesus intercede?

If the lamps represent the church, and the High Priest represents Jesus and the High Priest trims the wick of the lamp so it burns more brightly, and we are the light of God in this dark world, then where is Jesus interceding?

When you think of Jesus's intercessions in the heavenly sanctuary do you think of your heart and mind, cutting away the lies, bad habits, misunderstandings, unhealthy longings, so that we will burn more brightly for God's kingdom? If we do not think this way why not?

Because we have been lied to and told God's law is like human law, imposed rules that require judicial oversight. Therefore, our heavenly High Priest is NOT interceding in our hearts and minds, but in a heavenly courtroom with God in order to protect us from the heavenly judge. What does such an idea do in OUR minds and hearts? It incites fear, doubt, insecurity, and obstructs the growth of love and goodness. Thus the light within us, the light of heavenly truth and love is hidden or extinguished in this false legal system.

One of God's laws is the law of worship, by beholding we are changed. When we accept lies about God and view Him in Satan's mold we become more authoritarian, less compassionate and more willing to use beastly methods of coercion.

With whom is our High Priest interceding?

When we reject the imposed law lie and return to design law—God intercedes in three places:

- Gen 3, intercedes in our hearts to break up the unity sinful humans would have with Satan and fallen angels. "I will put enmity between thee and the woman..."
- He intercedes with the principalities and powers of darkness, protective hedge (Elisha, Job etc.)
- He interceded in the natural course of what sin would do to humanity, "God made him who had no sin to be sin for us, so that in him we might become the righteousness of God." 2Cor 5:21

Then what do we do with statements like this one, because those who prefer the human imposed law view and falsely believe Jesus must plead to his Father for us, will throw statements like this at you:

In the sacrificial offering on every altar was seen a Redeemer. With the cloud of incense arose from every contrite heart the prayer that God would accept their offerings as showing faith in the coming Saviour. Our Saviour has come and shed his blood as a sacrifice, and now he pleads that blood before his Father in the sanctuary in heaven. It is now, as anciently, only through the merits of that blood that the transgressor of God's law can find pardon. It is by exercising repentance toward God and faith in our Lord Jesus Christ. {RH, March 2, 1886 par. 11}

What do we believe the sanctuary in heaven is constructed out of? Do we believe Jesus's words in Revelation that the lampstands are the churches? Then He pleads His blood before His Father in the churches?

If the Holy Spirit leads a person to promote a message, will that message disagree with Jesus and what Jesus taught?

Jesus said:

In that day you will ask in my name. I am not saying that I will ask the Father on your behalf.
²⁷ No, the Father himself loves you... John 16:26,27

Do we believe Jesus? Are there more texts to support what Jesus said here?

- Anyone who has seen me has seen the Father. Jn 14:9
- I and the Father are one." John 10:30
- For God so loved the world...John 3:16

Does Jesus need to plead with the Father? Does the Father need some convincing in order to save us?

Who needs to be convinced? We do!

Jesus said:

"I have much more to say to you, more than you can now bear. ¹³ But when he, the Spirit of truth, comes, he will guide you into all truth. He will not speak on his own; he will speak only what he hears, and he will tell you what is yet to come. ¹⁴ He will bring glory to me by taking from what is mine and making it known to you. Jn 16:12-14

What is being described?

To whom is the Holy Spirit listening? If the Holy Spirit is not speaking on His own, then for whom is He speaking? Jesus! And what is another metaphor for the Holy Spirit? Oil and where do we find the oil? In the lampstands, which represent what?

Then, if Jesus is in heavenly sanctuary before God pleading—to whom is He pleading? To you and me! The Holy Spirit takes the pleas of Christ and brings them to your heart and mind—Jesus, via the Holy Spirit, knocks on the door to your heart, pleading to you for you to let Him in to heal and restore you to righteousness.

Biblical evidence?

Then he showed me Joshua the high priest standing before the angel of the Lord, and Satan standing at his right side to accuse him. 2 The Lord said to Satan, “The Lord rebuke you, Satan! The Lord, who has chosen Jerusalem, rebuke you! Is not this man a burning stick snatched from the fire?”

3 Now Joshua was dressed in filthy clothes as he stood before the angel. 4 The angel said to those who were standing before him, “Take off his filthy clothes.”

Then he said to Joshua, “See, I have taken away your sin, and I will put rich garments on you.”

5 Then I said, “Put a clean turban on his head.” So they put a clean turban on his head and clothed him, while the angel of the Lord stood by. Zech 3:1-5

Notice, Satan accuses—to whom is Satan accusing?

Does God listen to what Satan says? Does God get confused by Satan’s arguments and need Jesus there to present the truth in order to get it right? Does God say to Jesus, “Wow thank you Son, I almost believed what Satan was saying, if you hadn’t been here to present the truth I wouldn’t have been able to know it?”

Who does get confused by Satan’s arguments, allegations, lies? Who listens to the devil and gets discouraged, guilt ridden, overcome with shame such that they think they are beyond salvation, beyond healing, too sinful, too awful for God to love and for God to save? Human beings! We are the ones to whom Satan makes allegations—then to whom is Christ pleading the power of His blood, the power of His grace, the power of His goodness, the power of the gospel? To you and to me!

So, one of the founders of the SDA church:

Through the plan of salvation, Jesus is breaking Satan's hold upon the human family and rescuing souls from his power. All the hatred and malignity of the archrebel is stirred as he beholds the evidence of Christ's supremacy, and with fiendish power and cunning he works to wrest from Him the remnant of the children of men who have accepted His salvation. {LHU 234.2}

He leads men into skepticism, causing them to lose confidence in God and to separate from His love; he tempts them to break His law, and then he claims them as his captives and contests the right of Christ to take them from him. He knows that those who seek God earnestly for pardon and grace will obtain it; therefore he presents their sins before them to discourage them. He is constantly seeking occasion against those who are trying to obey God.

Even their best and most acceptable services he seeks to make appear corrupt. By countless devices, the most subtle and the most cruel, he endeavors to secure their condemnation. [by whom? Whom does Satan seek to get us condemned? Is it not in our own minds, that we conclude we are beyond salvation, too sinful to be loved?] Man cannot meet these charges himself. In his sin-stained garments, confessing his guilt, he stands before God. But Jesus our Advocate presents an effectual plea in behalf of all who by repentance and faith have committed the keeping of their souls to Him. He pleads their cause and vanquishes their accuser by the mighty arguments of Calvary. [To whom is Jesus pleading? Who needs to have the allegations of Satan refuted? Who needs to believe that God loves them and Jesus' righteousness is sufficient for them? Does God need to be persuaded that Jesus' righteousness is sufficient to save a sinner? Who doubts? It is you and me that need to hear Jesus' plea!] His perfect obedience to God's law, even unto the death of the cross, has given Him all power in heaven and in earth, and He claims of His Father mercy and reconciliation for guilty man. [notice now to whom Jesus speaks] To the accuser of His people He declares: "'The Lord rebuke thee, O Satan.' These are the purchase of My blood, brands plucked from the burning." Those who rely upon Him in faith receive the comforting assurance: "Behold, I have caused thine iniquity to pass from thee, and I will clothe thee with change of raiment." [to whom is Jesus pleading? He rebukes the accuser and pleads for us not to listen to his lies and to trust in Him!] All that have put on the robe of Christ's righteousness will stand before Him as chosen and faithful and true. Satan has no power to pluck them out of the hand of Christ. . . . We cannot answer the charges of Satan against us. Christ alone can make an effectual plea in our behalf. He is able to silence the accuser with arguments founded not upon our merits, but on His own (Testimonies, vol. 5, pp. 470-472). [To whom does Christ's plea need to effect? you and me!]

Jesus pleads before the Father, carrying out the Father's purpose to save sinners, the Holy Spirit listens to Christ and works in you and me communicating the love, grace and pleas of Christ to you and me to win us back to trust, so we will open the door to our hearts and let Him save us from fear and selfishness!

Read last paragraph, "Jesus identified Himself..." What are the keys to death and the grave? Why does Jesus's death and resurrection hold the power over death and the grave?

Since the children have flesh and blood, he too shared in their humanity so that by his death he might destroy him who holds the power of death—that is, the devil—and free those who all their lives were held in slavery by their fear of death. Heb 2:14,15 NIV84

What does this mean and how is it related to Christ's victory and the keys to death and the grave?

- What is life eternal? John 17:3: live eternal = knowing God
- Then what is eternal death? Not knowing God
- Then what is Satan's power of death? Lies about God that we believe, which results in broken love/trust and inciting fear and selfishness-the carnal drives, also known as the law of sin and death

- Then how does Christ's death and resurrection gain the keys to death and the grave and have the authority to overrule death?
 - Christ revealed truth to destroy lies, thus destroying Satan's power and winning all who accept the truth about God He reveals back to trust and
 - Christ developed a perfect sinless human character restoring God's design law of love back into humanity while simultaneously destroying, in His humanity, the infection of fear and selfishness. Thus, He arises with a perfect humanity that becomes the source of salvation for all who obey Him. Those won to trust experience the infusion of Christ's perfection and have the infection of fear and selfishness removed.

The keys are the actual elements that are required by the reality of God's character and how He built life to operate. It isn't a legal achievement, but an actual accomplishing of what is necessary for death to be defeated—destroying the cause of death—lies, fear and selfishness—in all who trust Him.

WEDNESDAY

The lesson points out the literal and symbolic nature of the seven churches in Revelation that there is a:

- Historical application to the churches in John's day
- Prophetic application to periods of time corresponding to each church
- Universal application that some people will identify with one of each of these messages no matter what time they exist

THURSDAY

Read the message to the church of Ephesus, from The Remedy:

¹"Write to the messenger to my recovering children in the church in Ephesus: This message comes from Jesus, who holds the seven stars in his right hand and walks among the seven lampstands.² I know you—your choices, actions, works, determination, and commitment. I know that your hearts are repulsed by wickedness in humanity, and that you have examined those who claim to be my ambassadors but are not; and you rightly determined them to be false.³ I know that you have stayed true, revealing my character of love despite persecution, and have not given up.

⁴"Yet I have diagnosed you with one serious problem: You have let go of your first love.⁵ I implore you, remember the pinnacle of purity from which you have fallen! Turn back to your first love and practice again the methods you did then. If you do not turn back, the light of truth will be lost to you and your minds will be darkened.⁶ To your advantage, you have hated the hedonistic practices of the Nicolaitans that so damage the mind—which I also hate.

⁷ "Those whose minds are open to truth will understand what the Spirit reveals to the churches. Those who overcome—complete the treatment and are renewed in love—will eat from the tree of life, which is in the paradise of God.

What contributes to love waning?

Read story beginning page 77 in The God-Shaped Heart

Linda was eager to be married, to have someone special to spend her life with, but there were not many prospects on the horizon. Then one day she met Herman. He treated her so nicely. He opened the door for her, held her hand as they walked, and pulled her chair out as she sat down. After months of courtship, Herman proposed. Joyfully, she immediately said yes, and they were married.

For the honeymoon Herman took her to a very nice place. They had a wonderful time, but all too quickly the honeymoon was over. Their first morning home Linda was awakened early at 5 a.m. by a bright light. She opened her eyes and there stood Herman saying, "Rise and shine. The honeymoon is over, and we need to get down to real life."

She noticed he was holding a piece of paper in his hand, and he presented to her the first of many lists to come. He had spelled out in great detail her responsibilities in two-week segments.

March 1–14:

5:30 rise and shower

6:00 begin breakfast; see attached menu

6:15 awaken Hermie-cuddles with a gentle kiss and turn on his shower

6:45 serve breakfast (do not forget grapefruit)

7:15 begin breakfast cleanup while husband brushes teeth

7:25 meet Hermie-cuddles at the door with appropriate jacket (be sure to pay attention to the weather), and say good-bye with a smile and a kiss

7:30 finish breakfast cleanup

8:00 free time

8:15 housecleaning; see attached cleaning supply list and detailed instructions

M—north rooms

T—east rooms

W—south rooms

TH—west rooms

F—the garage

11:00 balance checkbook
12:00 lunch, whatever you like except marked items; check list
12:30 miscellaneous duties

M—car maintenance and wash car
T—dry cleaning and banking
W—shopping
TH—wash windows
F—yard work

3:30 dinner prep; see attached menu
4:30 meet husband at door with kiss and hang up his coat
5:00 serve dinner
5:45 dinner cleanup
6:15 free time; see list of suggestions
6:45 draw Hermie-cuddles's bath
7:00 do next day's ironing
7:45 hand husband towel as he exits bath
8:00 neck and back massage for the man of your dreams
9:00 lights out, pleasant dreams sweetheart

Linda was given a new list with slight variations every two weeks without fail. As the years dragged on—and they were dragging—ten years into the relationship Hermie-cuddles dropped dead of an unknown cause. Linda's first reaction was to praise God! She didn't know whether to rejoice or grieve.

She made a vow that she would never, ever, get married again. But after three years of being single, she met a guy named Michael. He was like Herman in some ways. He opened the door for a lady to walk through. He was polite and courteous. He pulled out her chair as she sat and enjoyed holding her hand. And she kept telling herself, "No way, no way, no way." Then one day Michael popped the question, and she said yes.

They had a wonderful honeymoon. The first day back she woke up with a start at 5:30 a.m. and saw Michael standing at the end of the bed with a piece of paper in his hand. Immediately, she jumped into a karate stance, yelled "no way," and yanked the paper from him ripping it in two. Michael, with a sad and surprised look, said, "Linda that was a poem I wrote for you after you fell asleep last night."

As his words sank in, she felt bad about her reaction. She picked up the pieces and read his beautiful expression of love, and it broke her heart. While she was reading, Michael came in and served her breakfast in bed. And no list was forthcoming. Ten years passed being married to this wonderful man. One spring day while cleaning in the attic she came across an old shoebox filled with lists given to her by Herman the horrible.

She pulled out one of the lists and began to read. The strangest realization came over her. She said quietly to herself, “Wow, I do all of these things for Michael, and I never think about it.”

What happened to Linda’s love? Is there a lesson for us in the history of Christianity? What happens when we replace design law with a list of rules?

Jesus' Messages to the Seven Churches

SABBATH

Let's start with Ephesus which was in last week's lesson:

Read the message to the church of Ephesus, from The Remedy:

¹"Write to the messenger to my recovering children in the church in Ephesus: This message comes from Jesus, who holds the seven stars in his right hand and walks among the seven lampstands:² I know you—your choices, actions, works, determination, and commitment. I know that your hearts are repulsed by wickedness in humanity, and that you have examined those who claim to be my ambassadors but are not; and you rightly determined them to be false.³ I know that you have stayed true, revealing my character of love despite persecution, and have not given up.

⁴"Yet I have diagnosed you with one serious problem: You have let go of your first love.⁵ I implore you, remember the pinnacle of purity from which you have fallen! Turn back to your first love and practice again the methods you did then. If you do not turn back, the light of truth will be lost to you and your minds will be darkened.⁶ To your advantage, you have hated the hedonistic practices of the Nicolaitans that so damage the mind—which I also hate.

⁷"Those whose minds are open to truth will understand what the Spirit reveals to the churches. Those who overcome—complete the treatment and are renewed in love—will eat from the tree of life, which is in the paradise of God.

What do the lampstands represent? What contributes to love waning?

- lies believed break the circle of love and trust—were there any lies about God being told in the first century of Christianity?
- what happens to love when actions become legal requirements?
- can injury, betrayal, hardship damage love?

Why did Jesus say that if they don't turn back the light of truth they have will be lost and their minds will be darkened?

Is it that God uses His divine power to make a mind misunderstand and lose the wisdom, knowledge, understanding of God's kingdom that the person once had? Or, is this a design law—if you don't use it you lose it? If you exercise circuits that promote falsehood, selfishness, fear, close the mind to light and truth what happens in that person? Because truth is unfolding if we stop advancing in truth what we once understood will become perverted with lies.

Consider this quote from the book Thoughts from the Mount of Blessing:

The same law obtains in the spiritual as in the natural world. [Now this author understood design law and understood that violations of God's law are violations of the protocols upon which life is built. There is no legal courtroom in the natural world and neither is there a legal courtroom in heaven in which legal punishments are being tallied up to be inflicted by a heavenly judge. That view is a lie.] He who abides in darkness will at last lose the power of vision. He is shut in by a deeper than midnight blackness; and to him the brightest noontide can bring no light. He "walketh in darkness, and knoweth not whither he goeth, because that darkness hath blinded his eyes." 1 John 2:11. Through persistently cherishing evil, willfully disregarding the pleadings of divine love, the sinner loses the love for good, the desire for God, the very capacity to receive the light of heaven. [What is happening? Is God using power to inflict this? Or is this the natural result of the choices of the person?] The invitation of mercy is still full of love, the light is shining as brightly as when it first dawned upon his soul; but the voice falls on deaf ears, the light on blinded eyes. [Did God change or is love and light still flowing from God? Then what happened?] {MB 92.3}

No soul is ever finally deserted of God, given up to his own ways, so long as there is any hope of his salvation. "Man turns from God, not God from him." Our heavenly Father follows us with appeals and warnings and assurances of compassion, until further opportunities and privileges would be wholly in vain. The responsibility rests with the sinner. By resisting the Spirit of God today, he prepares the way for a second resistance of light when it comes with mightier power. Thus he passes on from one stage of resistance to another, until at last the light will fail to impress, and he will cease to respond in any measure to the Spirit of God. Then even "the light that is in thee" has become darkness. The very truth we do know has become so perverted as to increase the blindness of the soul. {MB 93.1}

What happens to the light if we refuse to move forward in advancing truth? Why does it happen?

SUNDAY

Read Revelation 2:8-11 from The Remedy:

"To the messenger to my recovering children in the church in Smyrna, write:

This message comes from Jesus, who is the Beginning and the Ending, the Origin and Completion; who died, but in so doing destroyed death and now lives again:⁹ I know about your suffering and poverty, but in reality, you are incredibly rich in what heaven values! I know that you have been misrepresented by those who claim to be loyal to God but really are not; they have enthroned Satan in their hearts—their spirit temples.¹⁰ Don't fear the coming trials. Satan will put some of you in prison, and your faith will be tried; and some will be persecuted for ten days. Trust me—even if threatened with death—and I will give you eternal life.

¹¹"Those whose minds are open to truth will understand what the Spirit reveals to the churches. Those who prevail by completing the treatment and by being renewed in love cannot be harmed by the second, eternal death.

The messages to the seven churches have 3 applications:

- Historic—to the churches in John's day
- Prophetic—to time periods
- Universal—to Christians in every age

The prophetic period of Ephesus was CE 31 to around 100 CE, and the prophetic period of Smyrna was 100 – 313 CE.

But as we consider the "time" of these periods we should remember that the messages to the 7 churches were not time prophecies, so the years suggested when these eras applied are general and not specific.

Regarding the 10 days of persecution, the lesson utilizes the prophetic application of 10 years of persecution under Diocletian which ended in 313 when Constantine legalized Christianity. However, other commentators suggest that because the prisons are literal, Satan is literal, that the time period should be literal and apply it to the historic church of Smyrna during the first century CE.

But what is most likely is that, as in many places in the Bible it is not either/or, but both.

What is the message to Smyrna that applies to us today?

- Jesus is the Creator and Savior who has destroyed the cause of death and has the remedy that provides eternal life for all who trust Him
- If you value what heaven values—which is—Godly character, principles and methods—then you will be misrepresented and mistreated
- We don't need to fear earthly trials as long as we trust Jesus

Read Revelation 2:12-18 from The Remedy:

¹²"To the messenger to my recovering children in the church in Pergamum, write:

This message comes from Jesus—the source of truth as sharp as a double-edged sword:¹³I know you live, where Satan has enthroned himself, yet you have continued to live in harmony with my character, methods, and principles. You did not reject me, even when Antipas, my trustworthy witness, was executed in the place where Satan lives.

¹⁴"Yet I have diagnosed a few serious problems: Some of you are like Balaam, seeking to empower and enrich yourselves. You have infected the Remedy with appeasement theology, and you promote sexual practices deviant from my design in Eden.¹⁵ And as if this isn't bad enough, you have those who advocate the hedonistic practices of the Nicolaitans, which destroy the mind.¹⁶ Reject these falsehoods and return to my methods! Otherwise, I will come and fight against these distortions with the sword of truth spoken from my mouth.

¹⁷"Those whose minds are open to truth will understand what the Spirit reveals to the churches. To everyone who prevails by completing the treatment and being renewed in love, I will give some of the hidden manna—my nature and character of love. I will recreate them in my likeness, with their own unique individuality purified by my character. They will be like pure-white stones, each stamped with their own unique self, signed by me.

What are the lessons for today from the message to Pergamum?

- Be careful not to fall into the trap of Balaam seeking to empower oneself by working against God's plan yet claiming to be God's representative
- Be careful not to pervert God's design for life
- We are promised the character of Christ to be renewed in heart and mind and sealed by God if we trust Him

Read the fourth paragraph, "The Christians in Pergamum..." What does it mean to compromise our faith?

- Is it a compromise of our faith to have faith in the wrong thing? Or is that a corruption of our faith?
- Is it a compromise to be deceived into a lie—or is a compromise when one willingly settles for something less than the truth they know?
- Is it a compromise to go along with something we know is wrong?
- What is the true standard of righteousness—to be able to tell if we are compromising our faith?

Consider this quote from Our High Calling:

Our Redeemer testifies: "Behold, I have set before thee an open door, and no man can shut it." Revelation 3:8. Through this open door into the temple of God, we see the royal law, deposited in the ark of the testament. Through this open door, light shines from that holy, just, and good law, presenting to man the true standard of righteousness, that he may make no mistake in the formation of a character that will meet the requirements of God. [why does God require a righteous character? Because that is how He built life to exist] Sin is condemned by that law; we must put it away. Pride and selfishness can find no place in the character without crowding out Him who was meek and lowly of heart. {OHC 138.2}

The law of God is the standard by which character is to be tested; if we erect a standard to suit ourselves, and attempt to follow a criterion of our own devising, we shall utterly fail to secure heaven at last. . . . {OHC 138.3} [What law lens are you thinking through when you hear quotes like this, design or imposed? Is the law which is the standard of character a list of rules without inherent consequence or is it the protocol upon which life is built?]

The mind must yield obedience to the royal law of liberty, the law which the Spirit of God impresses upon the heart, and makes plain to the understanding. [Can an imposed law change the heart and provide genuine freedom while enlightening the mind? No! Only God's design realities can!] The expulsion of sin must be the act of the soul itself, in calling into exercise its noblest powers. [How can the soul expel sin? The remedy to sin is not found in the soul itself, the power to overcome sin is not found in the soul itself, so how can the soul expel sin? Note the key work is the act, or action, of the soul to expel sin and what is that act or action? It is the choice to reject the lie, to say yes to the truth, to surrender to Jesus, thus we are required to think to reason, to come to a conclusion—is God like Jesus revealed or is He like Satan alleges? What kind of law does God use to govern His universe?] The only freedom a finite will can enjoy, consists in coming into harmony with the will of God, complying with the conditions that make man a partaker of the divine nature. {OHC 138.4} [What are those conditions? It is the conditions of God's reality—how He constructed His universe to operate, which is design law. When we substitute His law of love, liberty and truth for human imposed law then we become slaves, not free beings—just like the Pharisees in Christ's day!]

The law of God given from Sinai is a copy of the mind and will of the Infinite God. [Does this mean the 10 commandments were always in existence, or the principles of love and liberty were always in existence and when humanity became sinful God distilled these principles into a form specifically for the need of sinful humans? From the same author "The law of God existed before the creation of man or else Adam could not have sinned. After the transgression of Adam the principles of the law were not changed, but were definitely arranged and expressed to meet man in his fallen condition." {ISM 230.1} It is sacredly revered by the holy angels. Obedience to its requirements will perfect Christian character, and restore man, through Christ, to his condition before the Fall. [Is this true? When we understand design law it makes perfect sense—a doctor cannot get patients well in violations of the laws of health. All violations of the laws of health injure and undermine life. However, harmony with the laws of health heal. We cannot avoid the damage for violating God's law, likewise we cannot avoid the blessings for harmonizing with His design law!] The sins forbidden in the law could never find place in heaven. {OHC 138.5}

It was the love of God to man that prompted Him to express His will in the ten precepts of the Decalogue. . . . God has given man a complete rule of life in His law. Obeyed, he shall live by it, through the merits of Christ. Transgressed, it has power to condemn. The law sends men to Christ, and Christ points them back to the law. [The law diagnoses us as sick, which sends us to Christ, who procured the remedy, and in trust we open the heart and have our desires, motives, attitudes change and we receive the indwelling Spirit, then we begin to choose differently and as we choose differently we receive greater enlightenment, and transformation which comes from Christ through the working of the Spirit!] {OHC 138.6}

But Satan doesn't want us to understand the truth about God's law, he wants us to believe the lie that it is like human law, a legal system that requires imposition of punishments and legal payments. Consider this insight from the book Prophets and Kings:

In Isaiah's day the spiritual understanding of mankind was dark through misapprehension of God. Long had Satan sought to lead men to look upon their Creator as the author of sin and suffering and death. [How? By teaching them that sin requires punishment and God in order to be just must execute sinners] Those whom he had thus deceived, imagined that God was hard and exacting. They regarded Him as watching to denounce and condemn, unwilling to receive the sinner so long as there was a legal excuse for not helping him. [What is the lie? What is the common view taught in Christianity today?] The law of love by which heaven is ruled had been misrepresented by the archdeceiver as a restriction upon men's happiness, a burdensome yoke from which they should be glad to escape. He declared that its precepts could not be obeyed and that the penalties of transgression were bestowed arbitrarily. p. 311 [What is the law that heaven is ruled by? The law of love and what kind of law is this? Design law, and are there penalties for breaking it? Yes, but how are they bestowed? They are the natural results of stepping out of harmony with how God constructed reality to exist. What kind of law has arbitrary penalties? Imposed human law—which is what Christianity has been infected with and why we have failed to prepare people for Christ's return!]

MONDAY

Read Revelation 2:18-29 from The Remedy:

¹⁸"To the messenger to my recovering children in the church in Thyatira, write: This message is from Jesus—the Son of God—whose eyes shine brightly like a fire, and whose feet glow like metal in a furnace.¹⁹ I know the choices you have made, your love and devotion, your service and dedication, and how your healing progresses as you are achieving more now than when you first took the Remedy.

²⁰"Yet I have diagnosed this problem: You have accepted the teachings of Jezebel, which make me look like Baal—a being who imposes law, inflicts torture, and must be appeased. Her teachings mislead people into internalizing pagan ideas about God—including God being like Baal and requiring bloody payments—and thus committing spiritual adultery by giving their hearts to a false god.²¹ I have given her time to turn away from the lies about God, but she refuses;²² so I will let her reap the suffering that comes from operating outside my design for life. And all those who accept her view of God commit adultery with her and will suffer terribly unless they reject the lies and return to the truth about God and his methods of love.²³ I will destroy her offshoots—then all my children will know that I diagnose perfectly the condition of hearts and minds—and I will provide to each person what is in accord with their own choice.²⁴ Now for the rest of you in Thyatira: Those who have rejected the lies about me and refused to believe that I am like Satan alleges—no other burden will come upon you;²⁵ just hold true to what you currently know until I return.

²⁶Everyone who prevails by completing the treatment and lives in harmony with my methods of love until the end, I will free from the power and authority of the nations.

²⁷He will intervene with an unbreakable shepherd's rod; he will destroy the nation's ability to coerce and deceive, like iron crushing pottery.' I will give them the same power to break free as I received from my Father.²⁸I will give them the morning star—I will give them all of myself.

²⁹"Those whose minds are open to truth will understand what the Spirit reveals to the churches.

What are the lessons for us today?

- God is working through Jesus to heal all who trust Him, but God has been misrepresented in the church to be like Baal
- We are to reject this false version of God and stay true to Jesus and we will receive His indwelling and transforming presence

The general time period covered in the prophetic application is 538 CE until 1565 CE.

What does the name Jezebel refer to in this prophecy?

Jezebel was queen of Baal worship, and who was Baal?

- Son of El
- God of weather, rain, lightning which refreshed the earth and brought the harvest
- Fought against the leviathan the great serpent
- Fought against Mot the God of death and in this battle dies and rises again to bring life to the land

So what was wrong with Baal worship? Baal required appeasement, a blood payment in order to appease anger and bring blessings.

Baal became:

- Zeus to the Greeks
- Jupiter to the Romans
- Thor to the Norse
- Jesus Christ to Christians who worship an angry god who requires the blood of a human sacrifice to propitiate his wrath

Thus the prophecy to Thyatira, that during the Middle and Dark Ages the imperial law lie become orthodoxy within Christianity and the view of God that God functions like Baal would take root. And that lie has yet to be eliminated from Christianity and is the final lie to be confronted and rejected in order to complete the Reformation.

TUESDAY

Read Revelation 3:1-6 from The Remedy:

¹"To the messenger to my children in the church in Sardis, write:

This message is from Jesus, who directs the seven intelligent beings standing before the throne of God, and the seven messengers who are—like bright stars—shining forth the truth: I know your choices. You appear to be alive—living in harmony with the law of love—but you are dead in fear and self-centeredness.²Wake up before it is too late! Heal what remains viable but is about to die if you don't take action soon, for despite all your rituals and religious acts, you are devoid of love in the sight of my Father.³Remember the Remedy you have received: accept it, apply it to your lives, and turn away from the ways of the world. But if you refuse to wake up to your condition and embrace the truth, you will be unaware of what is happening, and my coming will be like a thief's—you will not know the time I will come to you.

⁴"Yet you still have a few faithful people in Sardis whose characters have not been stained with selfishness. They will walk by my side, dressed in the perfection of my character of love—pure and white—for they are healed.⁵Everyone who prevails by completing the treatment and lives in harmony with my methods of love until the end will also have character perfect and pure. I will never remove them from the book of life, but proclaim to my Father and his angels that they have been completely healed.⁶Those whose minds are open to truth will understand what the Spirit reveals to the churches.

What are the lessons for us today?

- God wants to heal and transform us in heart, mind and character
- If we refuse to trust Him He lets us go to die of our terminal condition
- Religious organization and structure do not save and often obstruct God's healing plan

The prophetic time period application is from 1565 CE – 1740 CE, the post-Reformation period.

The SDA Bible Commentary has the following regarding the time period of the church in Sardis:

Some decades after the beginning of the Reformation the new churches experienced a period of violent doctrinal controversy. Eventually, differences of opinion were settled by the adoption of definitive creeds that tended to discourage the search for additional truth. By a similar process the Roman Catholic Church, in the early centuries of its history, had crystallized much of its theology. Protected by the power and prestige of the state, and ensconced within the shelter of rigid creedal confessions, the national churches of the Protestant world generally came to content themselves with the form of godliness without its power. Another important factor that contributed to apathy toward spiritual things was the rise of rationalism in the 17th and 18th centuries. Under the impact of scientific discovery, many scholars came to believe that natural law was sufficient to account for the workings of the universe. Often they concluded that God's chief function in relation to this world is only that of a first cause, and that since His initial act of creation, the world has functioned more or less independently of Him. Thinking men who found the avenues of independent theological thought closed to them by the rigid formulas of Protestant orthodoxy turned, in some instances, to the new philosophical rationalism. Although rationalism produced much high idealism and commendable thinking in such fields as political science and humanitarianism, its presuppositions when applied to religion went far to encourage the spiritual coldness that characterized much of Protestantism in the centuries following the Reformation.¹

First, what is suggested as shutting down growth in advancing truth in the churches? Creeds with centralized authority to enforce those creeds—and what is happening in the SDA church now? Not only has the SDA developed its own creed, it is now in the process of centralizing authority to enforce its creeds.

What about rationalism—what is wrong with rationalism and how is it NOT what we teach in this class about God's design law?

Rationalism has a Creator who built reality and then left it alone to run on its own upon the laws of nature without God involved any more. This is quite distinct from understanding that all God's design laws are the outflow and working of God's divine presence and purpose through His universe.

From EGW:

Upon all created things is seen the impress of the Deity. Nature testifies of God. The susceptible mind, brought in contact with the miracle and mystery of the universe, cannot but recognize the working of infinite power. Not by its own inherent energy does the earth produce its bounties, and year by year continue its motion around the sun. An unseen hand guides the planets in their circuit of the heavens. A mysterious life pervades all nature--a life that sustains the unnumbered worlds throughout immensity, that lives in the insect atom which floats in the summer breeze, that wings the flight of the swallow and feeds the young ravens which cry, that brings the bud to blossom and the flower to fruit. {Ed 99.1}

The same power that upholds nature, is working also in man. The same great laws that guide alike the star and the atom control human life. The laws that govern the heart's action, regulating the flow of the current of life to the body, are the laws of the mighty Intelligence that has the jurisdiction of the soul. From Him all life proceeds. Only in harmony with Him can be found its true sphere of action. For all the objects of His creation the condition is the same--a life sustained by receiving the life of God, a life exercised in harmony with the Creator's will. To transgress His law, physical, mental, or moral, is to place one's self out of harmony with the universe, to introduce discord, anarchy, ruin. {Ed 99.2}

It is God's plan that every part of His government shall depend on every other part, the whole as a wheel within a wheel, working with entire harmony. He moves upon human forces, causing His Spirit to touch invisible chords, and the vibration rings to the extremity of the universe.--Manuscript 22, 1897. {Ev 93.1}

This is quantum physics described—God the source of life, connected to every aspect of His universe as the life source and energy that sustains it all and only in harmony with Him is there life and health. Thus, we cannot simply by following the laws of nature, separate from the God who created and built nature and sustains its function, find life.

WEDNESDAY

Read Revelation 3:7-13 from The Remedy:

⁷"To the messenger to my children in the church in Philadelphia, write:

This message is from Jesus, who is holy and true, and who is the Key from David's line—the door to restoration, which he opens, no one can shut; and the doors he shuts no one can open.⁸ I know your choices. Recognize that I have opened before you a door for your healing, that no one can shut. I know you are exhausted, but you have not given up. You have lived in harmony with my methods and have not rejected my character of love.⁹ But those whose minds have become a sanctuary for Satan—who claim to be my children but are liars, as their characters are like Satan's—I will make them see the truth, and they will fall down at your feet and acknowledge that what I love is my children being healed, like you.¹⁰ Since you have unwaveringly followed my instructions and lived in harmony with my methods, I will heal your characters, and you will have nothing to fear during the difficult time to come upon the world, which will differentiate the true nature of those who live on the earth.

¹¹"I am returning soon. Hold on to the Remedy you have received, and no one will trick you out of eternal life.¹² Everyone who prevails by completing the treatment and lives in harmony with my methods of love until the end, I will make a pillar, a living stone, in the heavenly temple of my God—a community of holy beings. Their connection with God will never be severed and I will write in their beings the character of my God, and they will be marked by me as citizens of the New Jerusalem which is coming down out of heaven from my God. I will also write my name upon their hearts and minds.¹³ Those whose minds are open to truth will understand what the Spirit reveals to the churches.

What are the lessons for us today?

- God's plan of salvation is to heal and restore His character in human beings
- We either become a sanctuary for God and reveal His character of love or a sanctuary for Satan and reveal his character of selfishness

The prophetic application is from 1740 until 1844, the Great Awakening.

What do you think of the open and shut door metaphor?

Is it referring to a literal door made of matter, or a door of ideas, the path of truth, a door in our hearts and minds that we must choose to follow through?

From one of the founders of the SDA church:

I am still a believer in the shut-door theory, but not in the sense in which we at first employed the term or in which it is employed by my opponents. {1SM 63.2}

There was a shut door in Noah's day. There was at that time a withdrawal of the Spirit of God from the sinful race that perished in the waters of the Flood. God Himself gave the shut-door message to Noah: {1SM 63.3} [What kept them off the ark? They shut their hearts to the message of Noah. Their hearts were shut]

"My spirit shall not always strive with man, for that he also is flesh: yet his days shall be an hundred and twenty years" (Genesis 6:3). {1SM 63.4}

There was a shut door in the days of Abraham. Mercy ceased to plead with the inhabitants of Sodom, and all but Lot, with his wife and two daughters, were consumed by the fire sent down from heaven. {1SM 63.5} [What caused the condition of things in Sodom? Their hearts were shut to the Spirit of God.]

There was a shut door in Christ's day. The Son of God declared to the unbelieving Jews of that generation, "Your house is left unto you desolate" (Matthew 23:38). {1SM 63.6} [Who caused their house to be left like this? Their hearts and minds were shut to Jesus! Who shut the door to their hearts?]

Looking down the stream of time to the last days, the same infinite power proclaimed through John: {1SM 63.7}

"These things saith he that is holy, he that is true, he that hath the key of David, he that openeth, and no man shutteth; and shutteth, and no man openeth" (Revelation 3:7). {1SM 63.8} [So what door do you think Revelation is referring to when it says a door opens and a door shuts? Is it not a door of understanding and some accept the light and move forward with Christ and some reject and the light of truth moves on without them.]

I was shown in vision, and I still believe, that there was a shut door in 1844. All who saw the light of the first and second angels' messages and rejected that light, were left in darkness. [they shut the door to their own hearts by rejecting truth] And those who accepted it and received the Holy Spirit [the door was open to their hearts] which attended the proclamation of the message from heaven, and who afterward renounced their faith and pronounced their experience a delusion, thereby rejected the Spirit of God, and it no longer pleaded with them. {1SM 63.9} [they closed the door to their hearts to God's Spirit]

Those who did not see the light, had not the guilt of its rejection. It was only the class who had despised the light from heaven that the Spirit of God could not reach. [the doors of their heart were still open to truth having not decided to reject it] And this class included, as I have stated, both those who refused to accept the message when it was presented to them, and also those who, having received it, afterward renounced their faith. These might have a form of godliness, and profess to be followers of Christ; but having no living connection with God, they would be taken captive by the delusions of Satan. [their minds become the synagogue of Satan, i.e. he sets himself up in God's temple...] These two classes are brought to view in the vision--those who declared the light which they had followed a delusion, and the wicked of the world who, having rejected the light, had been rejected of God. No reference is made to those who had not seen the light, and therefore were not guilty of its rejection. {1SM 63.10}

So, what type of door do you think is referred to in Revelation? Is it not the door to our hearts and whether we are lovers of truth and willing to follow it where it leads?

And what is the truth of the Three Angel's? Is it not the truth of God's character of love and design law of love? This is the message God is working through Christ to free us from all the lies about Him and heal us to be able to live in His presence.

THURSDAY

Read Revelation 3:14-22 from The Remedy:

¹⁴"To the messenger to my children in the church in Laodicea, write:

This message is from Jesus—the consistent, reliable, faithful and true Witness—who is the origin of God's creation:¹⁵I know your choices. I know that you are neither on fire with love, nor do you appear cold with selfishness. I wish you were either on fire for my kingdom, or clearly opposed to it!¹⁶But because you are a lukewarm mix of cold hearts practicing selfish methods while appearing to be on fire for my kingdom, you misrepresent me and make me sick to my stomach. I am about to vomit you out.¹⁷You claim to be spiritually rich and full of heavenly treasure, thinking you have the truth and are in need of nothing, but you are so self-deceived that you don't realize you are devoid of my character of love. You are decrepit, pathetic, bereft of true godliness, with minds so closed that you can't even comprehend truth. You stand naked and exposed.¹⁸My prescription for you is to exchange your corrupt motives for the gold of godly love purified through fiery trials, so that you can be rich in what heaven values. Exchange your filthy, selfish characters for the perfect character of Christ—pure and white—so that you can cover the shame of your imperfection. And apply the salve of the Holy Spirit to your minds, so that you can see and understand the reality of your own condition, and that of God's kingdom of love.

¹⁹"It is those whom I love that I diagnose and provide these therapeutic interventions, so take ownership of yourselves: turn away from destruction, and apply the Remedy. ²⁰I am here now! I am standing at the door to your hearts, knocking with truth and love. If any hear my voice and open their hearts, I will come in and commune with them, and they with me.

²¹"Everyone who prevails by completing the treatment, and lives in harmony with my methods of love until the end, will sit enthroned with me—just as I overcame, and sit enthroned with my Father. ²²Those whose minds are open to truth will understand what the Spirit reveals to the churches."

What is the message for us today?

- A form of godliness without heart change is nauseating
- God wants to heal our hearts and minds to be ready to stand in His presence

This prophetic time period is from 1844 until Christ returns.

What do the gold, eye salve and white garment symbolize?

How do we buy them from Jesus?

by Tim Jennings

SABBATH

Read second paragraph, “The vision of chapters 4...” What does this mean, “God’s control of history and of the plan of salvation.”

Does God control history?

In what way does God control history and in what way does God not control history?

Are people puppets on strings that God pulls and makes them do what He wants?

As we read about the rise and fall of nations as foretold in Scripture, does that mean God made it happen this way? Does it mean that the rulers of Babylon had no desire for conquest, for riches, for domination of others, but God inspired and moved on their hearts to incite them to war, pillaging, rape, killing, enslaving and abusing others as all nations did during war?

So, if God did not inspire them to such acts, what do we mean by God being in control of history?

Is there a difference between God being in control of history and God being in control of the plan of salvation? Yes, why? Because the plan of salvation is God’s initiative, God’s action, God’s intervention and thus originates and flows out from God. It is God in governance of Himself.

But what about human history—does God control it? Has God make history happen the way it has happened? Was God in control of Adam and Eve’s rebellion into sin? Was God in control of the violence before the flood and the refusal of all but 8 to get on the ark? Was God in control of David’s seduction of Bathsheba and murder of Uriah? Was God in control of Egypt enslaving the Hebrews?

Consider this quote from EGW in the SDA Bible Commentary:

The Lord is regarded as cruel by many in requiring His people to make war with other nations. They say that it is contrary to His benevolent character. But He who made the world, and formed man to dwell upon the earth, has unlimited control over all the works of His hands, and it is His right to do as He pleases, and what He pleases with the work of His hands. Man has no right to say to his Maker, Why doest Thou thus? There is no injustice in His character. He is the Ruler of the world, and a large portion of His subjects have rebelled against His authority, and have trampled upon His law. . . . He has used His people as instruments of His wrath, to punish wicked nations, who have vexed them, and seduced them into idolatry (Ibid., 50, 51). {1BC 1117.2}

So, is God in control of the nations? If so, then why not just have the wicked nations be holy nations to start with and avoid all the conflict, war and need for any type of wrath?

Doesn't the fact that nations rebel against God indicate He is not in control of what they are doing?

Then what does it mean he has unlimited control over all the works of His hands?

While God is not in control of what the people are doing, He remains in control of all the laws upon which the universe operates, which enables them to do what they do. One of those laws, is the law of liberty—God grants His intelligent beings genuine freedom—even if that freedom is a violation of His design, law, will and purpose.

So, God is in control of reality—the laws and protocols upon which it all operates, but does not control the actual choices of people.

From the same author:

God never forces the will or the conscience; but Satan's constant resort—to gain control of those whom he cannot otherwise seduce—is compulsion by cruelty. Through fear or force he endeavors to rule the conscience, and to secure homage to himself. To accomplish this, he works through both religious and secular authorities, moving them to the enforcement of human laws in defiance of the law of God. {GC88 591.3}

What kind of law is being described that Satan uses to achieve his ends? Imperial, imposed law.

Is there a theology that uses force and fear to rule consciences? Penal Substitution Theology—the god of penal theology uses power to punish, torture, kill and calls it justice, this incites fear and coerces the conscience. Thus, Satan sets himself up in God's temple—the hearts and minds of people—proclaiming himself to be God.

How are we to mature, to grow, to train and teach our children to obey? Are we to teach them to live in an imperial law model, in which they fear breaking a rule lest some punishment be inflicted upon them? To learn the right lists of do's and don'ts so that they no longer think of how reality works, but merely abide by a codified system of conformity?

Consider these quotes:

The discipline [which means education, discipling] of a human being who has reached the years of intelligence should differ from the training of a dumb animal. The beast is taught only submission to its master. For the beast, the master is mind, judgement, and will. This method, sometimes employed in the training of children, makes them little more than automatons. Mind, will, conscience, are under the control of another. {2MCP 707.1}

In matters of conscience the soul must be left untrammelled. No one is to control another's mind, to judge for another, or to prescribe his duty. God gives to every soul freedom to think and to follow his own convictions. "Every one of us shall give account of himself to God" (Romans 14:12). No one has a right to merge his own individuality in that of another. In all matters where principle is involved, "let every man be fully persuaded in his own mind" (verse 5). In Christ's kingdom there is no lordly oppression, no compulsion of manner.--DA 550, 551 (1898). {2MCP 707.3}

In the work of redemption there is no compulsion. No external force is employed. Under the influence of the Spirit of God, man is left free to choose whom he will serve. In the change that takes place when the soul surrenders to Christ, there is the highest sense of freedom. {DA 466.4}

So, in what way is God in control?

- In control of Himself, His actions, designs, methods and the sustaining of His laws
- Because His laws are the laws upon which reality exist, as people pass beyond the point of responding to the movements of God (truth and love) and God releases them to their choice, they suffer the results of being out of harmony with God and His design for life and ultimately, all deviations from God's design (sin) will be eliminated and God's perfection restored through God's methods of truth, love and freedom.

SUNDAY

Read second and third paragraph, "The apostle looked through..." In Ezekiel 10 we see the throne of God, which is a sapphire throne and below the sapphire throne are cherubim and wheels within wheels.

What does this symbolize?

Remember that the Ten Commandments were initially written on Sapphire:

Moses and Aaron, Nadab and Abihu, and the seventy elders of Israel went up and saw the God of Israel. Under his feet was something like a pavement made of sapphire, clear as the sky itself. Exodus 24:9, 10

Note two verses later:

The Lord said to Moses, "Come up to me on the mountain and stay here, and I will give you the tablets of stone, with the law and commands I have written for their instruction." Exodus 24:12

Literal reading, "Tablets of THE stone..."

What stone, the only stone referenced in the text, which was two verses before, the sapphire stone.

Now, note Numbers 15:37-39:

Again the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, ³⁸ “Speak to the children of Israel: Tell them to make tassels on the corners of their garments throughout their generations, and to put a blue thread in the tassels of the corners. ³⁹ And you shall have the tassel, that you may look upon it and remember all the commandments of the Lord and do them...

What was the thread to remind them of? God’s commandments! and Why blue thread? Because the 10 Commandments were written on Sapphire, blue stone!

And the commandments were not imposed, imperial laws like humans make, but the communication of the law of love, God’s design law for human health and happiness. It is Satan who has clouded the minds of men to consider that God’s law functions like human law, thus He removes the law of love from religion and replaces it with imperialism.

The Harlot of Revelation:

Then one of the seven angels who had the seven bowls came and talked with me, saying to me, “Come, I will show you the judgment of the great harlot who sits on many waters, ² with whom the kings of the earth committed fornication, and the inhabitants of the earth were made drunk with the wine of her fornication.”

³ So he carried me away in the Spirit into the wilderness. And I saw a woman sitting on a scarlet beast which was full of names of blasphemy, having seven heads and ten horns. ⁴ The woman was arrayed in purple and scarlet, and adorned with gold and precious stones and pearls, having in her hand a golden cup full of abominations and the filthiness of her fornication. ⁵ And on her forehead a name was written:

MYSTERY,
BABYLON THE GREAT,
THE MOTHER OF HARLOTS AND OF THE ABOMINATIONS OF THE EARTH.
Rev 17:1-5

The false church, the harlot woman is adorned in Purple, Scarlet and Gold:

But the High Priest of God wore four colors:

“They shall take the gold, blue, purple, and scarlet thread, and the fine linen, ⁶ and they shall make the ephod of gold, blue, purple, and scarlet thread, and fine woven linen, artistically worked. Exodus 28: 5,6

What color does the Harlot not have? Blue—which means the false church rejects the law of God, which means she rejects the law of love, design law and have imposed law instead.

But note what the breast plate of the High Priest, which contained the 12 stones which represents the peoples of the earth, tied to the heart, the chest of the High Priest, was bound to the High Priest by what?

They shall bind the breastplate by means of its rings to the rings of the ephod, using a blue cord, so that it is above the intricately woven band of the ephod, and so that the breastplate does not come loose from the ephod. Exodus 28:28

Which represents the law of love! God's law of love is what binds us to Him, only His design does this.

The false religions of the world, including false Christianity deny God's law of love, they don't deny the Ten Commandments, but teach them as imposed rules rather than principles of love. Thus no blue thread.

So, what does a throne of sapphire represent? God's government of love—and what is the throne above, in other words, what is below the throne? A wheel within a wheel rotating, which are symbolic representations of what? The law of love in action, the principle of giving, the never ending circle of love.

And the cherubim—amongst the wheels symbolic of God's intelligent creatures operating in harmony with His law of love under the governance of God's kingdom of love.

The lesson notes that the central issue in the great controversy between God and Satan is about who has the right to rule.

How has Satan's attack on God's right to rule been advanced? What is the core, underlying issue that Satan alleged in heaven that caused disaffection and led angels and humans into rebellion against God?

Here is a commentary in the book The Desire of Ages what do you think?

In the opening of the great controversy, Satan had declared that the law of God could not be obeyed, that justice was inconsistent with mercy, and that, should the law be broken, it would be impossible for the sinner to be pardoned. Every sin must meet its punishment, urged Satan; and if God should remit the punishment of sin, He would not be a God of truth and justice. {DA 761.4}

What kind of law requires the infliction of punishment? Imperial/imposed law, the types we sinners make up. Breaking design law does not require punishment, it requires healing lest suffering and death naturally result.

But, if Satan is correct, and God's law does require God to use power to inflict punishment for disobedience, then from where does pain, suffering and death originate? From God, and God is the one from whom we must be protected. This is the lie of Satan.

It violates God's design law of liberty—love can only exist in an atmosphere of freedom. Threaten someone with punishment for not loving you and love is destroyed and rebellion ensues.

Understand this—rebellion from oppression, from coercion, from compelling of conscience, from threat that violate individuality is Godly! Because if we surrender to the oppression, the coercion we will have our individuality destroyed and be unfit for heaven, thus to rebel against such treatment that results in restored liberty and autonomy is Godly.

Consider if someone is drowning you, it is Godly to rebel against that, without seeking to dominate or destroy the other person, and get your head above water. If someone is submerging your individuality under theirs it is Godly to rebel against that treatment and get your freedom back.

This is design law, we cannot avoid the damaging consequences to being drowned, either in water, or under the unhealthy control and domination of another.

Consider this quote from EGW, notice the design law realities described, see if you agree or disagree:

If we mistake the wisdom of man for the wisdom of God we are led astray by the foolishness of man's wisdom. [I would submit the core to human wisdom is imposed law with is authoritarian control—all human systems operate in this way—this is man's wisdom, surrendering to some high authority for fear of punishment] Here is the great danger of many in ----- They have not an experience for themselves. They have not been in the habit of prayerfully considering for themselves, with unprejudiced, unbiased judgment, questions and subjects that are new and that are ever liable to arise. They wait to see what others will think. If these dissent, that is all that is needed to convince them that the subject under consideration is of no account whatever. Although this class is large, it does not change the fact that they are inexperienced and weak-minded through long yielding to the enemy, and will always be as sickly as babes, walking by others' light, living on others' experience, feeling as others feel, and acting as others act. They act as though they had not an individuality. Their identity is submerged in others; they are merely shadows of those whom they think [are] right. Unless these become sensible of their wavering character and correct it, they will all fail of everlasting life; they will be unable to cope with the perils of the last days. They will possess no stamina to resist the devil, for they do not know that it is he. Someone must be at their side to inform them whether a foe or a friend is approaching. They are not spiritual, therefore spiritual things are not discerned. They are not wise in those things which relate to the kingdom of God. {2T 129.2}

So, what is God wanting for us and from us? For us to think, to reason with Him, to understand His character, His methods, His principles, His design laws and choose to trust Him and follow Him in how we live. This means we must reject the human law model, the imposed law model, the penal/legal model. This view has darkened the minds of humanity and has prevented the final message of mercy from going to the world. Thus Jesus waits for us to wake up from our slumber and embrace Him and His true kingdom of love.

MONDAY

Read Revelation Chapter 4:6 to 5 from NIV84:

⁶ Also before the throne there was what looked like a sea of glass, clear as crystal.

In the center, around the throne, were four living creatures, and they were covered with eyes, in front and in back. ⁷ The first living creature was like a lion, the second was like an ox, the third had a face like a man, the fourth was like a flying eagle. ⁸ Each of the four living creatures had six wings and was covered with eyes all around, even under his wings. Day and night they never stop saying:

“Holy, holy, holy is the Lord God Almighty, who was, and is, and is to come.”

⁹ Whenever the living creatures give glory, honor and thanks to him who sits on the throne and who lives for ever and ever, ¹⁰ the twenty-four elders fall down before him who sits on the throne, and worship him who lives for ever and ever. They lay their crowns before the throne and say:

¹¹ “You are worthy, our Lord and God, to receive glory and honor and power,
for you created all things, and by your will they were created and have their being.”

^{5:1} Then I saw in the right hand of him who sat on the throne a scroll with writing on both sides and sealed with seven seals. ² And I saw a mighty angel proclaiming in a loud voice, “Who is worthy to break the seals and open the scroll?” ³ But no one in heaven or on earth or under the earth could open the scroll or even look inside it. ⁴ I wept and wept because no one was found who was worthy to open the scroll or look inside. ⁵ Then one of the elders said to me, “Do not weep! See, the Lion of the tribe of Judah, the Root of David, has triumphed. He is able to open the scroll and its seven seals.”

⁶ Then I saw a Lamb, looking as if it had been slain, standing in the center of the throne, encircled by the four living creatures and the elders. He had seven horns and seven eyes, which are the seven spirits of God sent out into all the earth. ⁷ He came and took the scroll from the right hand of him who sat on the throne. ⁸ And when he had taken it, the four living creatures and the twenty-four elders fell down before the Lamb. Each one had a harp and they were holding golden bowls full of incense, which are the prayers of the saints. ⁹ And they sang a new song:

“You are worthy to take the scroll
and to open its seals,
because you were slain,
and with your blood you purchased men for God
from every tribe and language and people and nation.

¹⁰ You have made them to be a kingdom and priests to serve our God,
and they will reign on the earth.”

¹¹ Then I looked and heard the voice of many angels, numbering thousands upon thousands, and ten thousand times ten thousand. They encircled the throne and the living creatures and the elders. ¹² In a loud voice they sang:

“Worthy is the Lamb, who was slain,
to receive power and wealth and wisdom and strength
and honor and glory and praise!”

¹³ Then I heard every creature in heaven and on earth and under the earth and on the sea, and all that is in them, singing:

“To him who sits on the throne and to the Lamb be praise and honor and glory and power, for ever and ever!”

¹⁴ The four living creatures said, “Amen,” and the elders fell down and worshiped.

What is being described?

Jesus is coming to take the throne, be recognized as worthy to rule, is being worshipped and he takes a book and opens it.

Does this sound familiar from some other previous description in the Bible?

Read Daniel 7:9,10, 13,14

⁹ “As I looked,
“thrones were set in place,
and the Ancient of Days took his seat.
His clothing was as white as snow;
the hair of his head was white like wool.
His throne was flaming with fire,
and its wheels were all ablaze.
¹⁰ A river of fire was flowing,
coming out from before him.
Thousands upon thousands attended him;

ten thousand times ten thousand stood before him.

The court was seated,

and the books were opened.

“In my vision at night I looked, and there before me was one like a son of man, coming with the clouds of heaven. He approached the Ancient of Days and was led into his presence. ¹⁴ He was given authority, glory and sovereign power; all peoples, nations and men of every language worshiped him. His dominion is an everlasting dominion that will not pass away, and his kingdom is one that will never be destroyed.

What is being described?

Are both Daniel and Revelation are describing the coronation of Christ as the ruler of heaven and earth and the opening of the book with seven seals?

The lesson asks about the 24 elders, wondering what they represent?

Hmmm... Is there anything else in Scripture in which we have 24 elders or leaders of God's people mentioned?

And he carried me away in the Spirit to a mountain great and high, and showed me the Holy City, Jerusalem, coming down out of heaven from God. ¹¹ It shone with the glory of God, and its brilliance was like that of a very precious jewel, like a jasper, clear as crystal. ¹² It had a great, high wall with twelve gates, and with twelve angels at the gates. On the gates were written the names of the twelve tribes of Israel. ¹³ There were three gates on the east, three on the north, three on the south and three on the west. ¹⁴ The wall of the city had twelve foundations, and on them were the names of the twelve apostles of the Lamb. Rev 21:10-14

We have New Jerusalem with 12 gates and on the name of each gate were the twelve tribes of Israel, 3 on each side—what is being depicted here?

In the OT Israel were the actors in God's system to act out the plan of salvation. The 12 tribes represented the peoples of the entire world, those from the East, West, North and South. God has people from the entire world, from all people groups, who are part of His church, the Holy City, represented by the 12 tribes.

But, the Holy City is also described as being built on 12 foundations:

The wall of the city had twelve foundations, and on them were the names of the twelve apostles of the Lamb. Rev 21:14

And the twelve apostles represent all those who have founded their lives upon Jesus Christ.

Thus the Holy City is composed of the saved from all human history from all over the world who have been renewed into Christlikeness and the 24 elders may represent these people who have returned to God through the various human agencies that have taken the gospel to the world.

Then, what is the New Jerusalem?

I saw the Holy City, the new Jerusalem, coming down out of heaven from God, prepared as a bride beautifully dressed for her husband. Rev 21:2

Who is the bride of Christ?

TUESDAY

What is contained in the book sealed with seven seals? Read second paragraph, "In the words of..." Do you agree?

Revelation 5:1-3 from The Remedy:

Then I looked, and I saw that he who sits on the throne had written out the history of the world before the world began, and sealed it up. It was symbolized by a book in his right hand, with writing within, and sealed with seven seals.² And I watched as a mighty angel asked in a loud voice, "Who is worthy to break the seals and open the book of God's foreknowledge, and intervene in human history?"

My view is that the book is the book of God's foreknowledge, of what would happen before anything was created, which God recorded and sealed. Then God created angels and directed some of them to begin accurately recording history as it unfolded. Then, at the proper point in time, which I believe was in the recent past, Jesus began opening the book sealed with seven seals and revealing God's foreknowledge of history and all beings compare it with what the angels recorded and it is demonstrated that they are exactly the same.

Why would this be necessary? What might be a benefit of this?

To reveal that God's foreknowledge is perfect and yet we all still have absolute freedom. God's character, government, methods, design laws are all revealed to be perfect.

WEDNESDAY

Why is the Lamb found to be worthy? Because He was slain—what does this mean?

Why is the Lamb worthy because He was slain, yet Peter who was also slain or Stephen who was slain are not worthy?

Because, Jesus not only was slain, but had all power available to Him, the others did not.

So, what is revealed uniquely about Jesus being slain that is not revealed about other mere humans who have been slain?

Have you heard that power corrupts and absolute power corrupts absolutely?

This is true for all those who operate on Satan's principles of fear, selfishness and imposed law with coercive inflicted punishments. And Satan has alleged that God is just like this, requiring sacrifice from others, but not willing to sacrifice Himself.

Consider this quote from The Desire of Ages:

In the light of the Saviour's life, the hearts of all, even from the Creator to the prince of darkness, are revealed. Satan has represented God as selfish and oppressive, as claiming all, and giving nothing, as requiring the service of His creatures for His own glory, and making no sacrifice for their good. But the gift of Christ reveals the Father's heart. It testifies that the thoughts of God toward us are "thoughts of peace, and not of evil." Jeremiah 29:11. {DA 57.1}

What did Jesus' death reveal? That not only is God willing to sacrifice Himself for the good of His creatures but that all power does not corrupt Him. That He would even allow His creatures to torture and kill Him rather than use His power to stop them.

Is Jesus safe with all power? Is He worthy of all power?

Read first paragraph, "As Christ the Lamb..." All authority was given to Christ—can you think of another time in the Scripture when this was said to have happened?

Jesus knew that the Father had given him authority over everything and that he had come from God and would return to God. ⁴ So he got up from the table, took off his robe, wrapped a towel around his waist, ⁵ and poured water into a basin. Then he began to wash the disciples' feet, drying them with the towel he had around him. John 13:3-5 NLV

Some version say all power was given to Jesus, but regardless, when all authority, or all power was given to Jesus in this passage what did He do with it?

He washed dirty feet—what is this symbolic of? This is symbolic of washing away sin.

What do you think Jesus does in Daniel 7 and Rev 4/5 when all authority is given to Him?

He is in His heavenly sanctuary and begins washing away sin—what does this mean? He begins removing recorded history? No! He cleanses hearts and minds preparing us to meet God face to face. This is what Jesus does with His authority or power.

Second paragraph states, “With His blood, He has paid the ransom for fallen human beings and offers them all the hope of redemption and the promise of a future we barely can imaging.”

What does this mean?

To whom is the ransom paid?

Is it paid in red corpuscles? So, what does it mean?

Jesus said that unless we eat His flesh and drink His blood we don’t have any part with Him—what is He talking about?

Who receives the “blood” in this metaphor of Jesus’ in John 6? We do, does that give an indication of who gets the ransom price of blood?

What does a ransom do? It is the price necessary to set one free from captivity.

What holds human beings in captivity? Lies about God that we believe and our own carnal natures.

What is the price to set us free? The truth about God to destroy lies and win us to trust and a new perfect, sinless human nature. Jesus provides both of these to us as a free gift and His blood is a symbolic representation of this.

Thus, the ransom price was paid to us to provide us what was actually needed in reality to fix the sin-damage in us.

THURSDAY

Read first paragraph, “In the outpouring...” What does this mean?

What is Jesus working to save us from? Sin, where does sin occur or exist? Does it occur or exist in God or God’s law? Or does it occur and exist in our hearts and minds?

And what is sin? It is deviation from God’s law or design for life. So if Jesus wants to save us from sin, which is deviation from God’s law or design, which is occurring in us, where must He work?

And thus, the Holy Spirit is described as working or dwelling where? And taking what to whom?

The second paragraph states, “The outpouring of the holy Spirit meant that Jesus had appeared before the Father and that God had accepted His sacrifice on behalf of humanity.”

How do you hear this?

Do you hear it as, the Father required a legal payment and the payment of Jesus was sufficient for the Father now to be willing and legally able to dispense the Holy Spirit? That description is Baal worship. It is paganism gussied up in Christian language. It is a god who requires some payment be made in order to dispense blessings—paganism.

Or do you hear it as, God was satisfied that Christ had achieved what was necessary to heal and restore humanity to His perfect design and thus the Holy Spirit could be dispatched to take the remedy Christ had procured and apply it in all who respond in trust to the truth Jesus revealed?

The Book of Revelation Lesson 5 1Q 2019

The Seven Seals

by Tim Jennings

SUNDAY

We will be referring to Revelation from The Remedy New Testament Paraphrase today and I wanted to read the preface to Revelation from The Remedy:

In the book of Revelation, I did a little more than paraphrase. I also added some decoding of the symbolism, some of which will be without controversy, such as "Jesus, the Lamb" rather than just "the Lamb," but other places might challenge various traditional views. The reason I decided to do this is not that I want to suggest I have been gifted with some special insight beyond any believer's prayerful study guided by the Holy Spirit, but to stimulate the reader to think. Throughout the rest of this paraphrase, I have used new words to get at the real meaning and move past cliché, such as "Remedy" for "gospel." In Revelation, I want the reader to move past the symbolism to consider a cosmic reality beyond the symbol—a reality in which God is love all the time, and Satan is a real being of complete selfishness, seeking to contaminate our minds with his lies about God. I have no doubt that as the future unfolds, events will require modification and reinterpretation of some of the conclusions I have suggested in this book. The point is not that we need to know with total certainty every detail of every symbol, but to know God and Jesus Christ whom he has sent. You will therefore notice that all of the suggested interpretations always reveal God's character of love—working against Satan for the good of his creation. I hope you will enjoy reading Revelation, and that it will stimulate you with a new appreciation and love for our amazing God.

Some rules of interpretation used in the book of Revelation:

- If one part of a passage is symbolic or metaphor, then the rest is symbolic or metaphor unless clear reasons to be literal are expressed in the text.
- The Bible will be used to interpret itself (i.e. symbol interpretations will use Bible definitions before other definitions).
- The general theme is that of the conflict between Christ and Satan.
- God's character of love never changes, therefore interpretations will never result in God being represented in a character other than love.
- God's law of love never changes, therefore interpretations will always be in harmony with God's law of love.

Read first paragraph, "The events of the seven seals must..." Before we read the seven seals, what is our understanding about the meaning of the information contained in the seven seals?

What is recorded there?

The lesson takes the approach that it can be only one thing, the same information which is covered by the seven churches.

But, Bible prophecy often has more than one application. The lesson acknowledged this with the seven churches—that it had historic application, prophetic application and universal application.

Jesus' prophecy in Matthew 24 mixed events about the destruction of Jerusalem and the end of the world.

So, could the prophecy of the seven seals have more than one meaning?

In last Tuesday's lesson there was a quote from EGW describing what is contained in the book with seven seals:

“the history of God's providences, the prophetic history of nations and the church. Herein was contained the divine utterances, His authority, His commandments, His laws, the whole symbolic counsel of the Eternal, and the history of all ruling powers in the nations. In symbolic language was contained in that roll the influence of every nation, tongue, and people from the beginning of earth's history to its close.” {9MR 7.2}

What do you hear described?

If we value this description then what is contained in the book with seven seals?

Does it sound like it is only God's dealing with human history during the last 2000 years? We would limit our understanding if we take it to mean it covers the same time period of the seven churches.

But the quote suggests something much broader and more encompassing than just the last 2000 years:

- The history of God's providences—which means what?
 - the foreseeing and caring for His creation
 - did that creation include only earth?
- The prophetic history of nations and the church
- His divine utterances and God's law
- The whole symbolic counsel of the Eternal
- The history of all ruling powers in the nations
- From the beginning of earth's history to its close

So, does this sound like just the history of the last 2000 years?

So, what else might be contained within? Could it be a broader revelation of the Great Controversy between Christ and Satan?

Read Revelation 6:1,2:

I watched as the Lamb opened the first of the seven seals. Then I heard one of the four living creatures say in a voice like thunder, “Come!”² I looked, and there before me was a white horse! Its rider held a bow, and he was given a crown, and he rode out as a conqueror bent on conquest. (NIV84)

What is the meaning of this? Is it literal or symbolic?

One interpretation is in the second paragraph, “Although symbolic...”

And the lesson goes on to say, “The scene of the first seal describes the spread of the gospel, which started powerfully at Pentecost.”

I can see where they get this, what would be reasons why this might be a less than adequate interpretation?

- Where does this put the starting point of the first seal? 2000 years ago.
 - Would that starting point cut off much of history?
- Would this book with seven seals contain God’s actions with all powers, nations, the whole symbolic counsel of the Eternal if it only covers the last 2000 years?
- Would the book, if it started 2000 years ago, give us the knowledge of how sin began, what the actual problem is, who the enemy is?

So, another interpretation is that the first seal does not represent Christ but represents a being who impersonates Christ.

Does Scripture teach of another being who attempted to take Christ’s place?

- Did that being start his rebellion by open revolt, or by claiming to be concerned for the welfare of others?
- Did that being start out sharing a name of Christ, and appeared similar in many respects as Christ?
 - Lucifer—means light bearer, Jesus is the light bearer
 - Lucifer was a covering cherub, Jesus appeared in form of a covering cherub
- Does Bible represent Jesus and Satan with the same symbolism in other places?
 - Serpent the devil; the brass serpent to heal the people
 - Roaring lion seeking to devour; Lion tribe of Judah
- So, could the symbolism of a rider on a white horse rather than refer to Christ, refer to Lucifer, the light bearer, and the origins of his rebellion?

Here is Revelation 6:1,2 from The Remedy:

Excitedly, I watched as Jesus the Lamb opened the first section of God's book of foreknowledge and began to reveal the warfare between God and Satan. I heard one of the living creatures say in a powerful voice that rumbled like thunder, "Come and see!"² So I looked, and I saw that the war began with a rider on a white horse, holding a bow and wearing a crown—symbolizing Lucifer beginning his war in heaven under the guise of righteousness, yet intent on inciting rebellion and war, and achieving conquest.

MONDAY

Read Revelation 6:3,4:

When the Lamb opened the second seal, I heard the second living creature say, "Come!"⁴ Then another horse came out, a fiery red one. Its rider was given power to take peace from the earth and to make men slay each other. To him was given a large sword. (NIV84)

What does this mean?

Read second paragraph, "The second seal describes..." What are the problems with their interpretation?

- When was peace taken from the earth?
- Was there peace on earth prior to Christ's advent?
- Was there peace on earth during Christ's 33 years?
- Has there been peace on earth since Christ's resurrection?
- When was there peace on earth? In Eden—and when was peace taken from the earth?
- How was peace taken from the earth?

Somehow this rider has power to take peace and cause people to slay each other—would that be the power of death?

Consider this quote:

Since the children have flesh and blood, he too shared in their humanity so that by his death he might destroy him who holds the power of death—that is, the devil... (Heb 2:14 NIV84)

What is the power of death? Life eternal is that we know God (Jn 17:3) so eternal death is not knowing God, so Satan's power is the lies he tells about God that we believe.

Was there a time when human beings knew and trusted God and lived in a face to face relationship with God?

What changed that state of being? Believing Satan's lies:

- Lies believed break the circle of love and trust
- Broken love and trust result in fear and selfishness
- Fear and selfishness result in acts of sin
- Acts of sin damage mind, character, body—a terminal condition

EGW wrote:

Eve believed the words of Satan, and the belief of that falsehood in regard to God's character, changed the condition and character of both herself and husband. They were changed from good and obedient children into transgressors, {RH, January 5, 1886 par. 8}

And what happened after they believed Satan's lies? Cain kills Abel—and by Genesis six humanity was violent and violent constantly.

So, what might be another interpretation that is broader, more encompassing, actually applies to the time when peace was taken from the earth and violence and slaying quickly began to happen between humans?

Revelation 6:3,4 from The Remedy:

When Jesus the Lamb opened the second section of God's book of foreknowledge, I heard another living creature say, "Come and see!"⁴ Then I saw a rider on a fiery red horse, holding a large sword symbolic of Satan's lies about God severing the bonds of love and trust and inciting fear and selfishness, and resulting in people killing each other.

Read Revelation 6:5,6:

When the Lamb opened the third seal, I heard the third living creature say, "Come!" I looked, and there before me was a black horse! Its rider was holding a pair of scales in his hand. ⁶ Then I heard what sounded like a voice among the four living creatures, saying, "A quart of wheat for a day's wages, and three quarts of barley for a day's wages, and do not damage the oil and the wine!" (NIV84)

What does this mean?

Read last paragraph, "The scene of the third seal..." This version interprets the Greek as "scales" but another equally valid interpretation of that same Greek word is "yoke."

If we interpret using the word yoke instead of scales does that help our understanding at all?

"I looked, and there before me was a black horse! Its rider was holding a yoke in his hand."

The rider was holding a yoke, what does a yoke do? It binds two beings together.

If we agree with the GC view of the first two seals as is translated in The Remedy does that lead us to any insights in regard to any type of a yoke this rider put upon humanity?

Would it be a yoke of fear and selfishness as a result of believing lies about God and perhaps the subsequent yoke of false religions (paganism) that require the worshipper to do something to pay a legal payment to the offended deity in order to get a blessing?

What would the meaning of the wheat, barley and oil and wine be?

Wheat and barley can be made into bread, which is symbolic of the Word of God.

What is symbolically represented by the high cost of wheat and barley and the famine conditions?

That the truth about God, as represented in His Word, would be scarce and because it would be scarce a famine of truth would occur in which people would be starving for the truth about God.

What would the oil and wine represent? The oil represents Holy Spirit and the wine represents Remedy, the perfect life of Jesus, which Satan cannot damage.

So, from The Remedy:

When Jesus the Lamb opened the third section of God's book of foreknowledge, I heard a third living creature say, "Come and see!" I looked and saw a black horse, symbolic of humanity necrotic with lies about God. Its rider was holding a yoke in his hand, symbolic of the spiritual enslavement that occurs when the mind is bound by lies about God.⁶ Then I heard a voice coming from the four living creatures, saying, "A handful of wheat or three handfuls of barley will cost an entire day's pay, but the oil and wine won't be destroyed"—which means that the lies about God will be so pervasive that a famine of spiritual truth will occur, and humanity will be near spiritual starvation; but the oil of truth and the wine of God's Remedy will not be destroyed.

TUESDAY

Read Revelation 6:7,8:

When the Lamb opened the fourth seal, I heard the voice of the fourth living creature say, "Come!"⁸ I looked, and there before me was a pale horse! Its rider was named Death, and Hades was following close behind him. They were given power over a fourth of the earth to kill by sword, famine and plague, and by the wild beasts of the earth. (NIV84)

What does it mean?

What is this rider going to bring? Death and what is the basis of death? Lies about God, so this rider is going to bring more lies about God.

What is Hades? It is the grave, the place where there is no life, so it can represent the actual grave and it can also represent the place devoid of God's life-giving presence, principles, laws, truths, love etc.

So, the lies told will lead to systems devoid of God's love and truth and result in death and millions of people ¼ of the world's population will embrace this system of thinking.

What does it mean it has power to kill by sword, famine and plague? Is this literal or symbolic?

What kind of war is going on between Christ and Satan, is it a physical war or a spiritual war, a war of ideas, who and what do we love, are loyal to, trust, and believe?

In a spiritual war, what is a sword? God's sword is the sword of truth, so what would Satan's sword be? The sword of lies. So, one interpretation is that this power has the ability to destroy with lies about God.

What about famine, what would this represent? The ability to starve people from knowing the truth—so by restricting access to the Word of God.

And what about pestilence? What is pestilence? A disease that spreads rapidly and brings destruction—and what could this symbolically represent? Sinfulness of the soul which is selfishness with its fear-based survival drive.

What do beasts represent? Both human nations, which rule on what methods? Coercion, and beasts represent pagan deities—Marduk—Bull, Dagon—Fish Heket—Frog. So it is represents by systems of pagan imperialism and coercion.

So, from The Remedy:

When Jesus the Lamb opened the fourth section of God's book of foreknowledge, I heard the fourth living creature say, "Come and see!"⁸ Then I saw a pale horse, and its rider was named Death—symbolic of a church fighting against the truth and promoting a false remedy—and the grave was filling up behind him. It had power over one-fourth of the world's population and could destroy by warring against the truth with lies about God; by restricting access to the written word of God and thereby inciting spiritual famine; by indulging selfishness—the pestilence of the soul; and by introducing wild, beastly, pagan traditions.

And has there been any historic events or organizations that have done this?

WEDNESDAY

Read Revelation 6:9-11:

When he opened the fifth seal, I saw under the altar the souls of those who had been slain because of the word of God and the testimony they had maintained. ¹⁰ They called out in a loud voice, “How long, Sovereign Lord, holy and true, until you judge the inhabitants of the earth and avenge our blood?” ¹¹ Then each of them was given a white robe, and they were told to wait a little longer, until the number of their fellow servants and brothers who were to be killed as they had been was completed. (NIV84)

What does this mean?

Is it literal or symbolic? What is symbolized by the altar? The sanctuary, which is a metaphor of God’s plan to heal restore. The altar is a metaphor of hearts and minds that have the Holy Spirit burning within and which praise God, as incense is burned upon it.

What about the souls, what is represented by this?

Read, first paragraph in Wednesday’s lesson, “The word ‘soul’ in the Bible...” They are not wrong in that soul can mean what they say. But the lesson has chosen one possible Biblical meaning for the word soul and in fact they have chosen the wrong meaning. The Bible has another meaning for the soul that does not mean the entire being:

- May God himself, the God of peace, sanctify you through and through. May your whole spirit, soul and body be kept blameless at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ. (1Thes 5:23 NIV84)
 - Does this sound like soul refers to the entire human being or only a part?
- Do not be afraid of those who kill the body but cannot kill the soul. Rather, be afraid of the One who can destroy both soul and body in hell. (Mt 10:28 NIV84)
 - Does Jesus make a distinction between the body and soul here? So does soul mean the entire person in this context?

Would you conclude from these two passages that the soul represents the whole person or only one part of the whole person?

The Greek word for soul is psuche from which we get psyche, as in psychiatry and psychology and means our unique identity, individuality, personhood.

If we use a computer metaphor a computer has three parts:

- Hardware (body)
- Software (soul/psyche)
- Energy (spirit/pneuma/breath of life)

So, then, if we realize that soul represents the identity, individuality, the software of the person and not the entire living being, what might this mean for this text?

When we die where do the dead go?

- the body returns to dust (see Gen 3:19, Ps 44:25, Ecc 3:20);
- the spirit—life energy—returns to God who gave the breath of life (see Ecc 12:7);
- the soul, software, individuality, are safely stored with Christ in heaven on the Lamb's book of life, the heavenly servers

Thus, Paul writes in 1Thes:

Brothers, we do not want you to be ignorant about those who fall asleep, or to grieve like the rest of men, who have no hope. We believe that Jesus died and rose again and so we believe that God will bring with Jesus those who have fallen asleep in him. The Lord himself will come down from heaven, with a loud command, with the voice of the archangel and with the trumpet call of God, and the dead in Christ will rise first. After that, we who are still alive and are left will be caught up together with them in the clouds to meet the Lord in the air. And so we will be with the Lord forever. (1Thes 4:13-18 NIV84, emphasis supplied)

So, we have the recorded individualities of the righteous calling out from under the altar—what does this mean?

And what happens to them? They are purified and given the character of Christ, which is a cleansing, i.e. the cleansing of the sanctuary. This would be describing events after the great apostacy in which the church caused a famine of truth by hiding the Bible from people, perpetuated lies about God, and promoted selfishness—a time when the cleansing of the sanctuary would be happening. When did this begin?

So, from The Remedy:

When Jesus the Lamb opened the fifth section of God's book of foreknowledge, I saw an altar, and beneath it I saw the individual identities of those who were killed because they embraced the truth about God's character of love and faithfully revealed his methods, rejecting the lies about God.¹⁰ Their lives called out, "Almighty Lord who always does what is right, how long until your diagnosis of the inhabitants of earth is made known and you set right the wrong done to us?"¹¹ Then they were each given white clothes to symbolize that they were healed to be like Jesus in character. They were told to be patient a little longer, until the rest of their co-workers and friends completed their witness and were martyred for the truth.

THURSDAY

Read Revelation 6:12-14:

I watched as he opened the sixth seal. There was a great earthquake. The sun turned black like sackcloth made of goat hair, the whole moon turned blood red,¹³ and the stars in the sky fell to earth, as late figs drop from a fig tree when shaken by a strong wind.¹⁴ The sky receded like a scroll, rolling up, and every mountain and island was removed from its place. (NIV84)

What is the meaning?

Is this literal or symbolic?

The SDA church has taken this literally—to a point, which is strange since all along the rest of the seals are all symbolic and then suddenly these signs become literal?

The historic Adventist view is that this is fulfilled by:

- Lisbon earthquake of 1755
- The Dark Day of May 19, 1780
- The meteor shower over the Atlantic Nov 13, 1833

What is the problem with this interpretation?

First, I am not being dogmatic and saying this absolutely cannot be correct, only questioning it and suggesting an alternate understanding that seems to make more sense.

The problems with this historic interpretation:

- It suddenly shifts from symbolic to literal without any real reason to do so; is there anything in the text that says the seals now contain literal elements?
- If we take the earthquake Sun, Moon, stars literally and apply it to the events above, what about the mountains and islands being moved from their location—how can we ignore those aspects?
- It places the events of the sixth seal before 1844, yet the events which began in 1844 are described in the fifth seal.
- It makes the signs of this event far removed from the generation living at the time of the second advent such that it has no actual impact on the people living in our day

So, what might a symbolic, rather than literal, interpretation be?

Where is the war between Christ and Satan fought? What are the weapons?

So, could this be symbolic of the warfare moving into its final phase before Christ returns?

And throughout human history and Bible history, what has the Sun, Moon and stars always symbolized? The Creator—God. So, could the blackening of the sun, a blood moon and the falling stars symbolize the loss of the belief in God from humanity?

From The Remedy:

I watched as Jesus the Lamb opened the sixth section of God's book of foreknowledge. There was a great shaking of ideas in the minds of people on earth: their unshakable confidence in religion was broken, as evolutionary theory—like a black cloth obscuring the sun—covered over their minds. The moon bled dry for believers,¹³ and the stars fell from their high places of esteem, shaken by the mighty wind of changing ideas.¹⁴ The mystery of the cosmos was rolled back like a scroll as science and astronomy advanced; every high place of worship was removed from its place of esteem, and every island of belief was thrown aside.

Read Revelation 6:15-17:

Then the kings of the earth, the princes, the generals, the rich, the mighty, and every slave and every free man hid in caves and among the rocks of the mountains.¹⁶ They called to the mountains and the rocks, "Fall on us and hide us from the face of him who sits on the throne and from the wrath of the Lamb!"¹⁷ For the great day of their wrath has come, and who can stand?" (NIV84)

What does this mean? How much is literal and how much is symbolic?

What type of war is being fought? What are the weapons? Where is the battlefield?

What is the Biblical definition of wrath? (See Romans 1:18-28)

Why do these people who have rejected God call for the mountains to fall on them and hide them from God?

Why did Judas hang himself?

What does this tell us about sin?

What does sin do to the sinner?

Here is a quote from EGW:

We are not to regard God as waiting to punish the sinner for his sin. The sinner brings the punishment upon himself. His own actions start a train of circumstances that bring the sure result. Every act of transgression reacts upon the sinner, works in him a change of character, and makes it more easy for him to transgress again. By choosing to sin, men separate themselves from God, cut themselves off from the channel of blessing, and the sure result is ruin and death. {1SM 235.2}

What is being described? What law is in operation? Is there wrath being described?

From The Remedy:

But the leaders on earth—presidents, kings, princes, generals, rich and poor—hid from the truth in the caves of their own lies and amongst the rocks of the mountain of false ideas.¹⁶They begged for their ideas to be true: they cried out, "Hide us from the truth! Hide us from him who sits on the throne of truth, and protect us from what happens when Jesus the Lamb lets us go."¹⁷For the day when he lets us go has come, and who can stand on their own?"

So, after reading Revelation 6, what picture of God do you have? Do you have a picture of an angry deity, who uses power to coerce and punish, or a loving being who has been working to overcome an infection of thought that breaks love and trust and heal His children?

The Book of Revelation Lesson 6 1Q 2019

The Sealed People of God

SABBATH

As we discuss Revelation let's keep in mind its purpose, which is to encourage believers in their relationship with Christ, to provide hope, to inspire to better living, to motivate us to study and dig into God's Word to comprehend its mysteries that God would have us know.

Why? Because strength comes by exercise and we grow neurobiologically, characterologically, in wisdom as we study for ourselves. Revelation is written as it is to inspire us to study and grow.

But, what Revelation is not—it is not a test of fellowship, a requirement for salvation, or a crystal ball we can use to map out an exact future.

In other words, a person doesn't have to believe a certain interpretation of Revelation in order to be saved.

What is required for salvation is to be restored to godliness in heart/character, what some call being reborn, via the work of the Holy Spirit bringing the character of Christ into your heart and mind.

Therefore, it is okay to have different views of various elements of Revelation as long as the following remain true:

- God is always portrayed as love
- God's laws are design laws
- Trust and faith in God are increased
- Fear and distrust in God are decreased
- You are growing to be more like Christ in character and method
- You become engaged as a worker to share the truth about God

With this in mind let's turn to our lesson:

The lesson takes the position that the seven seals begin in AD 34, at Pentecost, and is a history of the Christian dispensation, covering the same ground as the message to the seven churches.

However, I am not satisfied with this explanation because it leaves out more than half of human history and begins way downstream of the opening of the GC. If one values EGW it also is inconsistent with her statements that the book sealed with seven seals contains:

- The history of God's providences—which means God's creation and care
- The prophetic history of nations and the church
- His divine utterances and God's law
- The whole symbolic counsel of the Eternal

- The history of all ruling powers in the nations
- The beginning of earth's history to its close

So, I prefer the explanation that the seals represent God's foreknowledge from the opening of the GC in heaven to its conclusion as follows, seal:

1. Satan's rebellion in heaven

- a. White horse, pretends to be pure
- b. Bow—which shoots arrows and in Ephesians 6 we are told: “In addition to all this, take up the shield of faith, with which you can extinguish all the flaming arrows of the evil one.” V. 16
- c. crown—he claims equality to Christ and later to be the ruler of earth
- d. Wants to conquer—which means dominate, compel
- e. Some are concerned this is the same rider as in Revelation 19, starting in verse 11.

Let's examine the difference:

I saw heaven standing open and there before me was a white horse, whose rider is called Faithful and True. With justice he judges and makes war.¹² His eyes are like blazing fire, and on his head are many crowns. He has a name written on him that no one knows but he himself.¹³ He is dressed in a robe dipped in blood, and his name is the Word of God.¹⁴ The armies of heaven were following him, riding on white horses and dressed in fine linen, white and clean.¹⁵ Out of his mouth comes a sharp sword with which to strike down the nations. “He will rule them with an iron scepter.” He treads the winepress of the fury of the wrath of God Almighty.¹⁶ On his robe and on his thigh he has this name written:

KING OF KINGS AND LORD OF LORDS.

f. What is the difference in these two riders?

- i. Weapon is bow versus sword—the sword is the sword of truth
- ii. many crowns instead of one crown
- iii. robe dipped in blood
- iv. makes war does not seek conquest—and the war is the war of truth and love over lies and selfishness, not to conquer but to free those who have been conquered
- v. From The Remedy:

I looked and saw the heavens open, and before me was a white horse whose rider is called Faithful and True—which symbolizes that Christ makes war using the weapons of truth and righteousness, and diagnoses all things perfectly.¹² His eyes are like blazing fire, symbolic of the penetrating power of truth and love that burns within his heart and with which he sees all things. On his head are many crowns, symbolizing his rightful rule over all domains, spheres, orders, and territories. Upon him is a name that only he knows, for it represents the fullness of his infinite true self.¹³ His clothes are dipped in blood, symbolic of self-sacrificing death by which he procured the Remedy. His name is the Word of God, for he is God's very thoughts made audible and visible.¹⁴ The host of heaven followed him, also riding on white horses and dressed in pure linen—spotless white and clean—symbolic of the methods of truth, love and freedom with which they wage war.¹⁵ He struck down the nations with a sharp sword that came out of his mouth, which symbolized the spoken words of truth that destroy everything built on the lies about God. "He will rule them with an unbreakable shepherd's rod." He crushes out all lies and selfishness in the winepress of the unrestrained burning rivers of truth and love flowing from God Almighty.¹⁶ On his robe and on his thigh, this name is written: KING OF KINGS AND LORD OF LORDS.

2. The fall of mankind in Eden
 - a. This rider takes peace from the earth, when did peace get taken from the earth 100 years after Christ's death, or in Eden?
3. The history of humanity in the OT up until Christ
 - a. This was a period of spiritual starvation in which truth about God was difficult to find, but the Holy Spirit and the life of Christ could not be destroyed
4. Christianity through the Middle and Dark Ages
 - a. The power of the church to distort the truth about God by distorted teachings about God, restricting access to the Word of God and introducing pagan god concepts.
5. 1844 the opening of the Investigative Judgment
 - a. individualities were being cleansed from sin, given white robes
6. The shaking and end-time rejection of God and rise of atheism and evolutionism
7. The final events culminating in the second coming of Christ

Read second paragraph, "Chapter 7 is an interlude..." What is meant by the sixth seal brings us to the second coming of Christ? Does it mean that the sixth seal ends with the second coming of Christ, or that the events that follow under the seventh seal will culminate in the second coming of Christ?

In other words, are there more events to follow the sixth seal before the second coming of Christ or when the sixth seal is over Jesus comes?

I believe, that there are significant events that occur after what is described in the sixth seal and are described in Chapter 7 and under the seventh seal culminating in the second coming of Christ.

In fact, I believe Chapter 7 gives insight into what has contributed to the delay in the second coming.

SUNDAY

Read Revelation 7:1-3:

After this I saw four angels standing at the four corners of the earth, holding back the four winds of the earth to prevent any wind from blowing on the land or on the sea or on any tree. Then I saw another angel coming up from the east, having the seal of the living God. He called out in a loud voice to the four angels who had been given power to harm the land and the sea: Do not harm the land or the sea or the trees until we put a seal on the foreheads of the servants of our God.” (NIV84)

Is this literal or symbolic or combo of both?

What does it mean?

Read first paragraph, “In the Old Testament...” The first sentence says that winds are metaphors for God’s executes judgments upon the wicked. The second sentence, a quote from EGW, says, “As the angels of God cease to hold in check the fierce winds of human passions, all the elements of strife will be let loose.”

Questions:

- Is EGW’s description of the angels letting loose the winds consistent with what Revelation 7 describes the angels are doing?
- So, is the means of harming the angels use by expending power to inflict harm, or by the cessation of their power and letting loose what they have held in check?
- Then is the lesson suggesting God’s execution of judgment upon the wicked is passive, God judges that there is nothing more He can do for the wicked so He sets them free to their own choice?
- Was this passive aspect of God’s executive judgment clear to your understanding from the way the lesson wrote it?

What are the four winds?

Here is one historic view, what do you think?

We feel depressed, greatly depressed, as we see the world and its wickedness. The professed Christian world is enveloped in the darkness that covers the earth. We sigh and cry for the abominations that are done in the land. Why is it that all this wickedness does not break forth in decided violence against righteousness and truth? It is because the four angels are holding the four winds, that they shall not blow upon the earth. But human passions are reaching a high pass, and the Spirit of the Lord is being withdrawn from the earth. Were it not that God has commanded angelic agencies to control the satanic agencies that are seeking to break loose and to destroy, there would be no hope. But the winds are to be held until the servants of God are sealed in their foreheads. . . . {HP 96.3}

And what causes them to blow? God acting or God withdrawing His restraining influence?

EGW gives further confirmation that this is her view of it:

"I was shown that the judgments of God would not come directly out from the Lord upon them, but in this way;

"They place themselves beyond His protection. He warns, corrects, reproves, and points out the only path of safety; then if those who have been the objects of His special care will follow their own course, independent of the Spirit of God, after repeated warnings, if they choose their own way, then He does not commission His angels to prevent Satan's decided attacks upon them.

"It is Satan's power that is at work at sea and on land, bringing calamity and distress, and sweeping off multitudes to make sure of his prey, and storm and tempest both by sea and land will be, for Satan has come down in great wrath. He is at work. He knows his time is short and, he is not restrained; we shall see more terrible manifestations of his great power than we have ever dreamed of." Manuscript Release vol. 14, p. 3

What would cause the Spirit of God to withdraw?

Where is the dwelling place for God's Spirit on earth? Our hearts and minds, we are the Spirit Temple, so what happens when billions of people harden their heart to God?

Is the withdrawal of the Spirit some arbitrary act on God's part, some cosmic clock has reached a point and God says, "Okay, time's up, time to withdraw?" No! It is a result of our rejection!

What is the seal of God?

- When you believed, you were marked in him with a seal, the promised Holy Spirit (Ephesians 1:13)
- What does the Holy Spirit do that "seals" us?
- Holy Spirit is the Spirit of truth and love – and
- Jesus said that the Spirit would take what is Christ's and make it known to us

The Holy Spirit settles our minds, hearts and characters into the truth and love of God such that we cannot be moved. Through the Spirit, we become partakers of the divine nature and like Christ in character: sealed to God.

Read second paragraph: "In ancient times..." Sealing is being settled into the truth intellectually and spiritually so we cannot be moved. What does this mean?

1. Intellectually—comprehending reality so that we will not be moved from it:

- We understand the truth of God's character and methods of love
- We understand God's law is design law and how it functions
- We understand that pain, suffering and death come from sin not from God

- We understand love only works in an atmosphere of freedom and thus reject theologies that have God in role of cosmic executioner

2. Spiritually—we have incorporated what we understand into our characters, what we love, what we practice, who we are in heart, and would rather die than turn away from truth and love. Thus, the saved are described in Revelation as “these are they who do not love their lives so much as to shrink from death.” Rev 12:11

A person can understand cognitively that smoking is unhealthy and causes cancer, yet have no desire to quit and continue to smoke. This would be an example of someone who is not settled spiritually, they are settled intellectually on the dangers of smoking, but their life has not been changed to live in harmony with that truth.

An alcoholic may be convinced that they have to quit because of liver failure and multiple DUI's, and so they don't drink, but they long to, they dream about it, they wish they could figure a way to drink without experiencing the harm. They are settled intellectually about the truth and even behaviorally change because of fear of the consequences, but they are not spiritually settled, their heart is still tied to the alcohol. In AA these are called dry drunks.

What about the idea of keeping the Commandments, how do they fit in to the sealing?

Can someone keep the commandments and not be settled into the truth spiritually?

Can someone be like the dry drunk, afraid of the consequences of sinning so they obey the rules, but in their heart they want to do their own thing? These individuals would not be sealed.

What is the mark of the beast? Settling into mind and heart the methods of the beast, coercion—a willingness to punish others who disobey the rules you think should be followed. The beastly methods of human governments.

Read third paragraph, “The faithfulness of God’s sealed...” What is the key to correctly understanding this idea?

What Law Lens? If one tries to understand the idea of the Commandments with the human imposed law lens they will ultimately promote the beast’s view of God. We can only correctly promote God’s end-time message by rejecting imposed law and returning to design law.

Imposed law views the Sabbath as a test of obedience and makes it specifically about the day of the week one attends church and avoids work. This leads to a rules-oriented behavioral approach to salvation and misrepresents God, and people become very Pharisaical.

The design law view realizes that the Sabbath is a sign, a mark and a tool/gift to aide human beings in holiness. It is an evidence of God’s methods of truth, presented in love, while leaving people free. It was designed and created as a day of rest—a day in which God rested from using power; a day for God's created beings to think and examine evidence. Thus, the Sabbath is a sign of God the Creator whose laws are design laws. It helps us avoid falling into the beastly system of human governments that run on imposed rules.

But if we present the Sabbath as an imposed rule and God is monitoring it to see who breaks it and will punish those who break it then we take this amazing gift to aide is in our holiness and we twist it to make God appear beastly and this in turn corrupts our character to be like the beast and we could end up killing the Lord of the Sabbath, just like the Sabbath keepers 2000 years ago.

MONDAY

Read Revelation 7:4-8:

Then I heard the number of those who were sealed: 144,000 from all the tribes of Israel.

From the tribe of Judah 12,000 were sealed, from the tribe of Reuben 12,000, from the tribe of Gad 12,000, from the tribe of Asher 12,000,
from the tribe of Naphtali 12,000, from the tribe of Manasseh 12,000, from the tribe of Simeon 12,000, from the tribe of Levi 12,000,
from the tribe of Issachar 12,000, from the tribe of Zebulun 12,000, from the tribe of Joseph 12,000, (NIV84)

Is this symbolic or literal?

Who is symbolically represented by this group?

Read first paragraph, "The announcement of the number..." Why 12,000 from 12 different tribes?

What does this symbolically represent? The ceremonial system of ancient Israel was a grand theatrical enactment of the plan of salvation. The 12 tribes encamped around the sanctuary, symbolically represented the people groups from all four corners of the earth. The Levites, which represent the priest or the saved of God, camped between the other tribes and the sanctuary, symbolically demonstrating that the saved are God's agents, representatives, evangelists, missionaries, to the world to share the truth about God with the people of the world to bring them back into unity at-one-ment with Him.

So, the tribes represent people from all over the world.

There are two possibilities regarding the 144,000—that they represent the saved from all over the world—the great multitude, or they represent a different group of saved, a subset of saved, both are possibilities.

One piece of identifying information that adds insight as to who the 144,000 are is in verse three.

In verse 3 who is being sealed? The servants of God and in Bible symbolism, who are God's servants? I am giving you only a small sample of the OT references for this, but notice how widely this is stated throughout the OT:

- until the Lord removed them from his presence, as he had warned through all his servants the prophets. (2Kings 17:23 NIV84)
- The Lord said through his servants the prophets: (2Kings 21:10 NIV84)
- But now, O our God, what can we say after this? For we have disregarded the commands you gave through your servants the prophets... (Ezra 9:10,11 NIV84)
- From the time your forefathers left Egypt until now, day after day, again and again I sent you my servants the prophets. (Jeremiah 7:25 NIV84)
- This is what the Sovereign Lord says: Are you not the one I spoke of in former days by my servants the prophets of Israel? (Ezekiel 38:17)
- We have not listened to your servants the prophets, who spoke in your name to our kings, our princes and our fathers, and to all the people of the land. (Daniel 9:6 NIV84)
- Surely the Sovereign Lord does nothing without revealing his plan to his servants the prophets. (Amos 3:7 NIV84)
- But did not my words and my decrees, which I commanded my servants the prophets, overtake your forefathers? (Zechariah 1:6 NIV84)

So, in the Bible the “servants of God” is a symbolic reference to God's prophets?

And what are God's prophets—primarily people who predict the future, or people sent by God to the people of their time with a message for them at that time? So we could call them God's spokespersons.

Thus, Revelation 7 could describe a group of people from all over the world who become God's spokespersons to give an end-time message, and from their witness a great multitude responds and is saved.

But another view is that the 144,000 and the Great Multitude are the same and a piece of evidence that supports this view is:

I saw that the four angels would hold the four winds until Jesus' work was done in the sanctuary, and then will come the seven last plagues. {EW 36.2}

So, some take the position that the sealing of the 144,000 includes all the great multitude because the sealing is complete when Jesus leaves the sanctuary.

However, EGW says in other places:

The time of trouble is before us. The angels are, as it were, just loosening the four winds, but they cannot loose them yet. The church is too far behind her privileges. The people of God are too indolent. Many are unfaithful; many are unclean and polluted. We are not prepared for the crisis. The question is, How long will God wait for our tardy movements? {15MR 86.2}

So, another view is that the angels are loosening their hold, allowing increase in human passion and troubles to overtake the world, but have not fully let loose, because too many aren't ready. So, during the loosening phase the 144,000 spokespersons are sealed and their witness brings in the great multitude and when there are no others capable of being saved, then they completely let loose.

Both interpretations are possible and both have supporting evidence, I don't think we need to argue about it, and ultimately it doesn't really make a difference as long as we know the truth about God and are among the sealed.

But I prefer the view that God sends a message to the angels at the four corners of the earth instructing them to hold back the winds of strife until God's spokespersons are sealed in their forehead.

Then, after they are sealed the winds loosen and that awakens the rest of the sleeping world to inquire what is happening, and from the witness of the 144,000 the great multitude is saved and sealed and then the winds are fully loosed

So, perhaps the loosening of the winds isn't a distinct point but a gradual process until finally completely loosed.

TUESDAY

Read Revelation 7:9,10:

After this I looked and there before me was a great multitude that no one could count, from every nation, tribe, people and language, standing before the throne and in front of the Lamb. They were wearing white robes and were holding palm branches in their hands. And they cried out in a loud voice:

“Salvation belongs to our God, who sits on the throne, and to the Lamb.” (NIV84)

Combination of literal and symbolic? Literal great multitude, from literally all people groups on earth, but the Lamb is symbolic of Christ, white robes symbolic of healed character, palm branches symbolic of their triumph over sin.

Read first paragraph, “John sees...” Regardless of whether we view the two groups as different groups, or the same group, what is God waiting for in order to let loose the four winds and bring about the events that lead to the second coming of Christ?

The sealing of the 144,000—and what is obstructing that from occurring? The imperial law lie that teaches that salvation is a legal process and that God is the source of inflicted punishment for sin from whom we need protection.

Read last paragraph, “Nearest the throne...” The bottom green section states, “Yes, we are covered by the robe of Christ’s righteousness, a gift of faith.”

What does it mean to be covered by the robe of Christ’s righteousness?

Do you find any significance in the fact the lesson authors state it this way, but in the sentence right before EGW says “The palm branch in their hands is a symbol of their triumph, the white robe an emblem of the spotless righteousness of Christ which now is theirs.”

Does the phrase, “covered by the robe of Christ’s righteousness,” immediately sound the same as possessing the righteousness of Christ, having a character that has been purified to be righteous like Christ?

What is an emblem? A symbolic representation of something else. So, EGW says the white robes are a symbolic representation of a reality—and that reality is the saved HAVE/POSSESS the righteousness of Christ, are not unrighteous and covered by the righteousness of Christ.

Why do you think the lesson authors, given the quote, didn’t say, “Yes, we are transformed and healed to be righteous like Christ, a gift of faith?”

Could it be, operating on imposed law, they fail to see the healing reality that God provides in Christ, and instead misrepresent the plan of salvation as a legal covering over unrighteousness by a legal declaration?

When EGW uses the language of covered by the robe of righteousness in other places, how does she explain what it means in reality?

When we submit ourselves to Christ, the heart is united with His heart, the will is merged in His will, the mind becomes one with His mind, the thoughts are brought into captivity to Him; we live His life. This is what it means to be clothed with the garment of His righteousness. Then as the Lord looks upon us He sees, not the fig-leaf garment, not the nakedness and deformity of sin, but His own robe of righteousness, which is perfect obedience to the law of Jehovah. {COL 311.4}

WEDNESDAY

Read Revelation 14:1-5:

Then I looked, and there before me was the Lamb, standing on Mount Zion, and with him 144,000 who had his name and his Father's name written on their foreheads. And I heard a sound from heaven like the roar of rushing waters and like a loud peal of thunder. The sound I heard was like that of harpists playing their harps. And they sang a new song before the throne and before the four living creatures and the elders. No one could learn the song except the 144,000 who had been redeemed from the earth. These are those who did not defile themselves with women, for they kept themselves pure. They follow the Lamb wherever he goes. They were purchased from among men and offered as firstfruits to God and the Lamb. No lie was found in their mouths; they are blameless. (NIV84)

The lesson asks, "What are the chief characteristics of the 144,000?"

- They didn't defile themselves with women, they kept themselves pure
- They follow Jesus wherever He goes
- No lie was found in their mouth
- They are blameless

What does this mean? How do you understand it?

Is it literal? Are we speaking of only men who take vows of celibacy? Or is it symbolic?

What do women represent in Bible symbolism? Systems of religion—the pure woman represents God's church; the harlot represents false religions. So, what would it mean to not defile themselves with women?

Does this mean they always had every detail and every fact of Scripture correctly understood, or that they never embraced and valued the principles that are contrary to God's character?

What about following Jesus? Would it mean they are lovers of the truth and are willing to have their ideas changed and improved as the truth is revealed to them? Whereas, those that won't follow Jesus refuse advancing truth to hold to tradition and historic views?

So, in the metaphor of the sanctuary when Jesus moved from the Holy Place to the Most Holy Place, what is the truth that was to be understood and embraced by those who follow Him?

I submit, the essential truth, is that God is Creator, and His laws are design laws, which are signified by the Sabbath, the day of rest which stands for our Creator God. We are to follow Him in worshipping “Him who made the heavens, earth, sea and fountains of water,” which means rejecting the lie of Roman Imperial law as God’s law.

Thus, all those who are still teaching in the SDA church that God’s law functions like human law are not following Jesus where He leads. They are like the Jews 2000 years ago who would not accept the truth of Jesus as Messiah. And what happened, all the symbolic rituals, given to teach them truth became a source of darkness. And what happens in the SDA church when people promote the Sabbath, or Sanctuary, or any other doctrine through the imposed law lens? It becomes a source of darkness because it promotes God’s character as coercive and compelling rather than love!

THURSDAY

Read first paragraph, “The final...” No lie was found in their mouth—what does this mean? Would it mean:

- Every word uttered in their life was 100% factually correct?
- They never told someone they liked their hair dew when they really didn’t, or said to a friend or family member they enjoyed a meal when they didn’t?
- They never said “No, mommy I didn’t take the candy” with chocolate on their lips?
- They never said anything about God that wasn’t true in their entire life?
- OR, they never said anything about God that wasn’t true once they were sealed of God and called by Him to be one of His end-time spokespersons? In other words, in their end-time witness about God they told the truth about God!

Read second paragraph, “Without fault...” What does it mean they are blameless?

For he chose us in him before the creation of the world to be holy and blameless in his sight.
(Ephesians 1:4 NIV84)

If a child is born of two HIV parents with HIV infection, is the child to blame? Is the child blameless?

But as the child grows to age of accountability and a remedy is offered to cure the HIV infection and the child refuses it and remains infected will the child remain blameless?

So, what does it mean to be blameless? Would it mean to be healed, cured, recreated, renewed to be like Jesus in character? These are the ones who have accepted the Remedy provided by Jesus and cooperated with His healing plan and thus have been reborn, recreated within and are no longer diagnosed as terminal, but are found blameless through the healing work of Christ.

But, those who refuse are to blame, not for having the sin condition, but for refusing the remedy that would cure them. This is taught in the parable of the wedding in which the man who didn't have the free garment provided was cast out.

Read Revelation 7 from The Remedy:

After the events of the first six seals, I saw four angels standing at key positions around the earth, holding back the four winds of strife to prevent them from blowing on the land, or sea, or any tree.² Then I saw another one of God's messengers coming from the east, with the truth about God's character of love and the Remedy of the living God, to seal the characters of God's children. He called in a loud voice to the four angels who had the power to harm the land and sea by releasing the winds:³ "Hold! And do not harm the land or sea until we seal the minds of God's helpers and spokespersons, settling them into the truth about God's character and methods of love, so that nothing can shake them from it."⁴ Then I heard the symbolic representation of those who were sealed—144,000 from all peoples of the earth, symbolized by the tribes of Israel:

⁵From Judah 12,000 from Reuben 12,000 from Gad 12,000 ⁶from Asher 12,000 from Naphtali 12,000 from Manasseh 12,000 ⁷from Simeon 12,000 from Levi 12,000 from Issachar 12,000 ⁸from Zebulun 12,000 from Joseph 12,000 from Benjamin 12,000.

⁹After the spokespersons for God were sealed, the four winds were loosed, and I saw before me a great multitude won to God from the witness of God's spokespersons: They were more than anyone could count—from every nation, tribe, people, and language—standing before the throne and in front of Jesus the Lamb. Their characters had been purified to be like Jesus'—symbolized by the wearing of white clothing—and they were holding palm branches in their hands, indicating their praise and acknowledgment of Jesus as King.¹⁰ They cried out in a loud voice: "Healing and restoration come from our God who sits on the throne and from Jesus the Lamb!"

¹¹And all the angels who were standing around the throne, and the elders, and the four living beings—they all fell down in love and awe and worshiped God,¹² singing, "Absolutely right! God is worthy of all praise, and glory, and honor, and thanks, and wisdom, and power, and strength—forever and ever without end! So let it always be!"

¹³Then one of the elders looked at me and asked, "These people in white clothes—who are they and how did they get here?"

¹⁴I answered, "Sir, surely you know." And he did know: he said, "These are they who—after the four winds are loosed—hear the testimony of God's spokespersons and during the great tribulation respond to the truth, accept the Remedy, and have their minds and hearts renewed to be like Jesus'—symbolized by their clothes being washed in the blood of the Lamb."¹⁵ Therefore they are united to the throne of God, and—as living stones in his temple—reveal his character continually; and he who sits on the throne will cover them with his constant love and care.¹⁶They will never again hunger for truth or thirst for love. No sun or scorching heat will ever harm them—symbolizing that they will never again be burned by trial or tribulation.¹⁷For Jesus the Lamb, who stands at the command center of the universe, will be their protector; he will provide them with springs of living water. And God will comfort them and wipe away all their tears."

FRIDAY

The lesson points out in question 2, that the 144,000 sing a song no one else can sing, because it is a song of their experience. Question: Would that mean they would have to remember their experience in order to sing the song?

2019 Q1 “The Book of Revelation” Lesson 7 The Seven Trumpets

by Lori Atkins

What are your thoughts about our study in this quarterly so far? Just wondering if anyone else has had their minds completely blown over the past couple of weeks?! I have been reading and studying extensively preparing to teach this week just like normal...but then, after our lesson two weeks ago on the seven seals, I was motivated to dig an study even more – because some of those new, paradigm-shattering concepts of what time periods in earth’s history are covered by each seal...and who the rider is in each seal...are so revolutionary and so contradict everything I have ever heard, everything I have ever been taught – I mean, I was born and raised on the concept of a good revelation seminar...and now what I am discovering has me thinking that there are a bunch of powerpoint slides out there that may need to be changed.

Again, in my research, every document I read, every presentation I listened to, every video I watched – prominent Adventist teachers, seminary professors, theologians, evangelists – all of them... 100%... agree with our quarterly’s view that the seven seals prophecy covers the span of time from Christ’s ascension to the second coming. But because I believe what we are learning and studying is so groundbreakingly different, even though I know Dr. Jennings reviewed the seals briefly last week, I’m going to do it again today because I think it is that vital and important.

Remember we talked about Bible prophecy often having more than one application – the lesson even acknowledged this by stating that the seven churches had historic, prophetic, and universal applications. This realization opens us up to the question, “Could the prophecy of the seven seals have more than one meaning?”

And we read this quote from EGW describing what is contained in the book of the seven seals:

“the history of God’s providences, the prophetic history of nations and the church. Herein was contained the divine utterances, His authority, His commandments, His laws, the whole symbolic counsel of the Eternal, and the history of all ruling powers in the nations. In symbolic language was contained in that roll the influence of every nation, tongue, and people from the beginning of earth’s history to its close.” {9MR 7.2}

There seems to be so much more being described there than the last 2000 years of human history – something much broader and more encompassing – and believe there is compelling evidence to support the explanation that the seven seals represent God's foreknowledge from the opening of the GC in heaven through to its conclusion...and here's quick recap of each one.

1st Seal – represents Satan's rebellion in heaven with these key elements:

- White horse, presents himself and pretends to be pure
- Holds a bow that shoots arrows
- Wears a crown – claims equality with Christ and later ruler of the Earth.
- Wants to conquer – dominate and compel

2nd Seal – The fall of mankind in Eden

- This rider takes peace from the earth! When did peace get taken from the Earth? After Pentecost or in Eden? I think this is one of the most compelling evidences against the limited historical scope of the seals.

3rd Seal – The history of humanity in the Old Testament up until Christ

- This was a period of spiritual starvation in which truth about God was difficult to find, but the Holy Spirit and the life of Christ could not be destroyed.

4th Seal – Christianity through the Middle and Dark Ages

- The power of the church to distort the truth about God by distorted teachings about God, restricting access to the Word of God, and introducing pagan god concepts.

5th Seal – 1844 and the opening of the Investigative Judgment

- individualities were being cleansed from sin and given white robes

6th Seal – The shaking and end-time rejection of God and rise of atheism and evolutionism

7th Seal – The final events culminating in the second coming of Christ

And is this important? Why? Remember we also learned last week that it is okay to have different views of various elements of Revelation as long as the following remain true:

- God is always portrayed as love
- God's laws are design laws
- Trust and faith in God are increased
- Fear and distrust in God are decreased
- You are growing to be more like Christ in character and method
- You become engaged as a worker to share the truth about God.

What happens if we see Christ as the rider with a bow who seeks to conquer?
Does it make a difference who/when we see peace being taken from the earth?
Does it make a difference if we Christ or Satan holding a yoke and binding us to something?
Does it make a difference if we see Christ or Satan bringing death and Hades?

I believe in this book specifically designed to be a revelation of God's love and truth, it is every bit as important to reveal the lies and the deceptions and the deceivers...in fact, I do not believe you can't do one without the other. It's so important that we see how Satan's deceitful, destructive actions throughout (not just human) history...have been countered repeatedly and consistently with God's loving intervention, intercession, and healing truth.

SATURDAY

Some early insight (spoiler alert) into the authors' attitudes and viewpoints regarding what the seven trumpets represent...as well as their picture of God and how He and His law operate. So there is some correlation between the vision of the seven trumpets and the scene of the fifth seal – we just discussed this fifth seal where we saw

“... under the altar the souls of those who had been slain because of the word of God and the testimony they had maintained. They called out in a loud voice, “How long, Sovereign Lord, holy and true, until you judge the inhabitants of the earth and avenge our blood?” Then each of them was given a white robe, and they were told to wait a little longer, until the number of their fellow servants and brothers who were to be killed as they had been was completed. (Rev 6:9-11, NIV)

Again, what does this mean...is this language literal or symbolic? Of course, it is symbolic with the sanctuary a metaphor for God's plan to heal and restore...the altar represents hearts and minds that have the Holy Spirit burning within...and the incense signifies their praises and prayers ascending.

So, not surprisingly, the quarterly seems to focus in on these souls under the altar, crying to God for “justice and vindication”...in fact, the lesson states,

“The voice from heaven urged them to wait, because the day was coming when God would judge those who harmed them...and points to Revelation 6:15-17 as a picture of Jesus returning to this earth and bringing judgment upon those who did evil to His faithful followers.”

What does this mean? How do you hear it? How has it typically been taught?

Saturday's last paragraph says,

"The vision of the seven trumpets shows that, throughout history, God has already intervened on behalf of His oppressed people and has judged those who harmed them."

Has God intervened throughout history? On whose behalf – only His oppressed people?

"The purpose of the seven trumpets is to assure God's people that heaven is not indifferent to their suffering."

Is this the real purpose for the revelation of the seven trumpets? Let's examine these trumpets a little more closely and see if we agree on whether that is their purpose...or whether there are other possible reasons why they might be included in John's revelation.

SUNDAY

The Prayers of the Saints

We first see this reference to the seven trumpets in Revelation chapter 8, after the 6th seal has been opened, and during an interlude before the 7th seal is opened.

Do you remember what time in earth's history this represents, based on our past 2 weeks of study and brief review?

The events of the 6th seal included a great earthquake, the sun turning black, the moon turning blood red, and the stars falling. Then the sky rolled back, and every mountain and island was removed from its place. Our alternate understanding is that this language references the war between God and Satan, where it's being fought, and the weapons being used. This language is symbolic of the warfare moving into its final phase – where an escalating spread of the true gospel is met with escalating darkness and evil, and it takes place between the shaking and end-time rejection of God (evidenced by the rise of atheism and evolutionism)...and the final end-time events culminating in the second coming of Christ.

So it is at this point we see the story in Rev 8:3-4 that correlates closely with the description of the daily services in the temple in Jerusalem, where at the evening sacrifice the lamb was placed on the altar of burnt offering, and the blood was poured out at the base of the altar...then an appointed priest took the golden censer inside the temple and offered incense on the golden altar in the Holy Place.

When the priest came out, he threw the censer down on the pavement, producing a loud noise...at that point, seven priests blew their trumpets, marking the end of the temple services for that day.

Please read Revelation 8: 3 through 6. You can hear the strong parallels between this scene in John's vision and the daily temple service, right?

The quarterly concludes again, "The seven trumpets are God's judgments on rebellious humanity in response to the prayers of His oppressed people."

Agree or disagree?

Same Rev 8 passage from the Remedy:

"But a different angel, holding a golden censer and standing in front of the golden altar, was burning a large amount of incense mixed with the prayers of the saints. This symbolized the character of Christ, burning within the hearts of God's representatives on earth as they prayed for the revelation of God's character of love and the redemption of humankind. Then the angel took the censer, filled it with fire from the altar, and hurled it on the earth. This symbolized the Holy Spirit empowering God's spokespersons to reveal the truth with stunning clarity. There was an incredible shaking of the minds of the people, accompanied by flashes of brilliance that battled rumblings of confusion and the thundering of opposition. Then the seven angels holding the seven trumpets prepared to sound them, which represents seven warning messages of truth trumpeting the approaching end and exposing Satan's counterfeits to God's Remedy."

And don't forget...this is also right around the time when the Holy Spirit is being withdrawn from the earth (why?), and the 4 angels who had been holding back the winds of strife...were waiting for what? Remember the 144,000 and the "sealed of God"? What did these folks represent? And what was their purpose...why is there an interlude – why did the angels continue to hold and why did these seven trumpets not sound until they were sealed? How many groups will there be at the end of time?

I believe everyone alive then will be brought to the ultimate decision point – fear or love, selfishness or giving, do I love myself so much that I will do whatever is necessary – including kill you – that I might live...or do I love you so much that I will do whatever is necessary – including die – that you might live? This IS the war, the battle that is being fought in these texts.

So how will every single living being on earth be brought to this decision point? I believe it is these warning messages and events...the disasters and catastrophes that happen as the four winds are loosed...that get people's attention – where even the most agnostic and atheistic folks are asking what's happening – and the sealed of God have a healing answer and can rightly represent God, and while there are still hearts open to hear...while the Holy Spirit's presence is still here on this earth, many choose love and are saved.

But we will also see when we look at the later trumpets, that eventually, just as the saved are so settled into the truth that they cannot be moved...so the lost are so settled into the lies that they will not be moved, no matter how dire and urgent the warnings become.

Are “warning messages of truth trumpeting the approaching end” the same as “God's judgments on rebellious humanity”...do you hear those the same?

The last paragraph in Sunday's lesson does say that the throwing down of the censer “also may be a warning that Christ's intercession will not last forever.”

What does that mean? Why won't it?

MONDAY

The Meaning of the Trumpets

While most of the New Testament references to trumpets are right here in Rev 8 and 9, the Greek words for trumpets/trumpeting occur 144 times in the Old Testament, and 105/144 (73%) of those references concern either signaling in warfare, worship, and prayer – or a combination of these. In ancient Israel the trumpets were always to be handled by the priests, even in warfare...providing a spiritual parallel signaling trumpets represented a prayer to God for intervention in battle.

Likewise, in the temple and on feast days, the blowing of trumpets invited God's spiritual intervention in the lives of his people. Essentially, trumpets in the Bible represent covenant-based prayer, calling on God to remember His people. The quarterly says,

“The seven trumpets are a response to the prayers of the suffering saints of God. It assures them that God has noticed their suffering, and, even though He may seem silent in their experience, He is already acting in history against those who have persecuted them.”

I watched a presentation on The Fifth and Sixth Trumpets by Dr. Jon Pauline and Dr. Graham Bradford. Again, these are leading theologians...religion professors...and they had this to say:

“To those who are abused and oppressed, the trumpet message is this: God hears your prayers – it may not seem like He’s acting now, but He is acting even when you cannot see it. He is making note of what you have suffered and the day is coming when He will address that and bring justice. Just as the trumpets offer comfort to those who pray...those who have been abused, they also should be a warning to those who oppress, to those who do the abusing – because the day is coming, may not be right away, but in time, in history, God does act. Those who act abusively, oppressively toward others, the Day of Judgment does come. So, if we are acting in ways that are harmful to other people, and no consequences seem to come to us, that’s just the way it is right now. When God has marked those, there is a judgment at the end when God does respond to those prayers of the saints. So the trumpets, in a real sense, are a call to repentance, especially to those who are hardened, to those who feel like, ‘I can get away with anything,’ the trumpets have some powerful things to say to them.”

Can we “act in ways that are harmful to other people and no consequences come to us?” Why?

Do people who abuse an oppress “get away with it” if God does not “mark” those deeds, and then intervene to impose judgment/punishment? Why?

In the middle of Sunday’s lesson, point (b) indicates the timeframe of these seven trumpets begin at Christ’s resurrection and run consecutively throughout history until the Second Coming...which differs somewhat from Dr. Jennings’ view in the Remedy paraphrase, where the trumpets are viewed as seven last warning messages to the people of earth at the end of time in order to prepare the world for the coming of Christ and expose Satan’s fraud. The particular timeframe and who is impacted in each trumpet event are open to various interpretations, so I think it’s okay to examine possible explanations by considering the merits and then asking – why is this important, what does it tell us about God, what does it say about God’s character and methods – those are the really important considerations, not locking in on an absolute meaning for each trumpet as these are presumably future events.

Let’s quickly review the contents of the seven trumpets, and we are going to contrast the traditional NIV with the Remedy...we have done this in the last couple of weeks with the seven churches and the seven seals, and I thought it was really powerful to see side by side how tweaking or shifting a word or a meaning even slightly completely changes the perspective and the paradigm and how I understand and receive that message.

We are starting in Rev 8:7-9:

Trumpet 1

NIV: “The first angel sounded his trumpet, and there came hail and fire mixed with blood, and it was hurled down on the earth. A third of the earth was burned up, a third of the trees were burned up, and all the green grass was burned up.”

The quarterly suggests that the use of Old Testament judgment-y language of hail, fire, and blood represents God’s judgment on the Jerusalem that had rejected Christ.

Now from the Remedy:

“The first angel sounded his trumpet, and a hailstorm of fiery truth revealing the Remedy achieved by Christ's shed blood was poured upon the earth. One-third of the earth was consumed in fiery turmoil, and the hearts of one-third of earth's leaders and people burned within them as the truth shone forth.”

Does a hailstorm of fiery truth and the Remedy achieved by Christ’s shed blood, and believers’ hearts burning as they shine forth truth change your picture of God when reading this passage?

Trumpet 2

NIV: “The second angel sounded his trumpet, and something like a huge mountain, all ablaze, was thrown into the sea. A third of the sea turned into blood, a third of the living creatures in the sea died, and a third of the ships were destroyed.”

The lesson suggests proposes that this second trumpet recalls God’s general judgments on all who oppose him, in particular the fall of ancient Babylon...so this trumpet is associated with the fall of the Roman Empire (comparing Peter’s apparent designation of Rome as “Babylon”).

Now from the Remedy:

“The second angel sounded his trumpet, and a huge mountain of truth revealing God's kingdom, ablaze with love, was made known to the sea of earth's inhabitants. One-third of the people accepted the Remedy and partook of the life of Christ, symbolized by the blood—they died to self and gave up their selfish trade.”

Trumpet 3

NIV: “The third angel sounded his trumpet, and a great star, blazing like a torch, fell from the sky on a third of the rivers and on the springs of water — the name of the star is Wormwood. A third of the waters turned bitter, and many people died from the waters that had become bitter.”

The lesson suggests that the biblical imagery and symbolism suggest a perversion of truth and a rise of apostasy; therefore, they associate this trumpet with the condition of the church in the Middle Ages.

Remedy: “The third angel sounded his trumpet to make it known that an angel, like a brilliant star blazing through the sky, had fallen from heaven, and one-third of the people had their minds filled with his lies about God. This attack was called Bitterness, and many people died from drinking in his bitter lies.”

Trumpet 4

NIV: “The fourth angel sounded his trumpet, and a third of the sun was struck, a third of the moon, and a third of the stars, so that a third of them turned dark. A third of the day was without light, and also a third of the night.”

The quarterly suggests that the sources of light being darkened represents the symbols of truth being partially eclipsed and parallels the deepening of apostasy in the church.

Remedy: “The fourth angel sounded his trumpet with the warning that one-third of people would believe the lie of evolution and no longer recognize the light from the sun, moon and stars as evidence of God's creatorship. The minds of one-third of the people would be darkened and their hearts hardened by this lie, both night and day, as they no longer searched for God.”

Trumpet 5

NIV: “The fifth angel sounded his trumpet, and I saw a star that had fallen from the sky to the earth. The star was given the key to the shaft of the Abyss. When he opened the Abyss, smoke rose from it like the smoke from a gigantic furnace. The sun and sky were darkened by the smoke from the Abyss. And out of the smoke locusts came down on the earth and were given power like that of scorpions of the earth. They were told not to harm the grass of the earth or any plant or tree, but only those people who did not have the seal of God on their foreheads. They were not allowed to kill them but only to torture them for five months, and the agony they suffered was like that of the sting of a scorpion when it strikes. During those days people will seek death but will not find it; they will long to die, but death will elude them.”

The lesson suggests that the transition from partial darkness to total darkness represents the triumph of religious apostasy and secularism in the modern age. With God and truth totally eclipsed, sinful humankind is left to the demonic torment of destructive desires.

Remedy: “The fifth angel trumpeted his warning, and I saw a fallen angel symbolized by a star falling from the sky to the earth. The fallen angel had the key to accessing the abyss, symbolizing spiritualism and mysticism being the key to accessing the pit of demonic influences. He opened the abyss, and smoke rose from it like that from a huge furnace, symbolizing the immense rise in popularity and acceptance of spiritualism and mysticism. The sun and sky were darkened by the smoke, symbolizing the minds of people having become dark and no longer looking to God for enlightenment. Out of the smoke came locusts that had the power of scorpions. As locusts consume the fruit of the land, so too the sting of sin consumes the fruit of the Spirit. The locusts were unable to harm the people whose minds were so settled into the truth about God that they could not be moved—symbolized by the healthy grass, plants, and trees—but could harm those whose minds were not sealed into the truth about God. They were not able to inflict direct physical harm, but caused tortured thinking and mental anguish for five months. And the agony suffered was from the sting of living outside God's design for life—the scorpion-sting of sin. Dying to self and being renewed in righteousness is preferable to living in the anguish of sin, therefore many will seek to die to self and be renewed, but they will not find it, because they seek their own mystical method of renewal.”

Trumpet 6

NIV: “The sixth angel sounded his trumpet, and I heard a voice coming from the four horns of the golden altar that is before God. It said to the sixth angel who had the trumpet, “Release the four angels who are bound at the great river Euphrates.” And the four angels who had been kept ready for this very hour and day and month and year were released to kill a third of mankind. The number of the mounted troops was twice ten thousand times ten thousand. I heard their number. The horses and riders I saw in my vision looked like this: Their breastplates were fiery red, dark blue, and yellow as sulfur. The heads of the horses resembled the heads of lions, and out of their mouths came fire, smoke and sulfur. A third of mankind was killed by the three plagues of fire, smoke and sulfur that came out of their mouths. The power of the horses was in their mouths and in their tails; for their tails were like snakes, having heads with which they inflict injury. The rest of mankind who were not killed by these plagues still did not repent of the work of their hands; they did not stop worshiping demons, and idols of gold, silver, bronze, stone and wood—idols that cannot see or hear or walk. Nor did they repent of their murders, their magic arts, their sexual immorality or their thefts.”

Why not? The quarterly suggests the events of this trumpet again echo biblical accounts of ancient Babylon, so the sixth trumpet describes an opposition to God similar to that of end-time Babylon.

Remedy: “The sixth angel trumpeted his warning, and I heard a voice—coming from the horns of the golden altar before God—which is Christ speaking while he works to cleanse the minds of his people. The voice said to the sixth angel, who held the warning trumpet, “It is time to release the four angels bound to the great river Euphrates, who have stood as a barrier protecting the people.” Then the four angels who had been waiting for that hour, day, month and year were released, and they let go of what they held back; and one-third of people on earth died. The number of the enemy forces was more than two times ten thousand times ten thousand—the number was beyond counting, symbolizing the number composed of peoples from the entire world. The horses and riders were a conglomerate of diverse forces uniting together to oppose God. They were assembled in three main divisions: Those who believed the lies about God and promoted them through churches had breastplates of fiery red; those who practiced mysticism and spiritualism had breastplates of metallic blue; and those who merely pursued political power and coerced with the power of the state had breastplates of sulfur yellow. They were all bent on destroying truth, love and freedom, as symbolized by their horses with heads like the heads of lions. They destroyed with fiery lies, smoky mysticism, and coercive pressure. One-third of humanity had their characters destroyed by the combined effect of the fiery lies, smoky mysticism, and coercive pressure. The power of these enemy forces came from the lies and falsehoods they promoted—symbolized by the smoke coming from their mouths, and by their tails being like heads of snakes, which were able to inflict injury. The rest of humanity whose consciences were not completely seared by these assaults still refused to turn away from their own self-promotion; they continued to trust demons, and the idols of their own hearts’ desire, that are not even alive. They did not turn away from destroying others, or from mystical and magical practices, or from sexual immorality or theft.”

Trumpet 7

Rev 11:15-19 NIV: “The seventh angel sounded his trumpet, and there were loud voices in heaven, which said: ‘The kingdom of the world has become the kingdom of our Lord and of his Messiah, and he will reign for ever and ever.’ And the twenty-four elders, who were seated on their thrones before God, fell on their faces and worshiped God, saying: ‘We give thanks to you, Lord God Almighty, the One who is and who was, because you have taken your great power and have begun to reign. The nations were angry, and your wrath has come. The time has come for judging the dead, and for rewarding your servants the prophets and your people who revere your name, both great and small— and for destroying those who destroy the earth.’ Then God’s temple in heaven was opened, and within his temple was seen the ark of his covenant. And there came flashes of lightning, rumblings, peals of thunder, an earthquake and a severe hailstorm.”

Remedy: “The seventh angel sounded his trumpet, and loud voices proclaimed in heaven: ‘The kingdom of selfishness, based on earth, has been eradicated, and the earth has become the kingdom of our Lord and his Christ; and he will reign forever and ever.’ And the twenty-four elders who were seated on thrones before God humbled themselves in awe and admiration, and said, ‘We are thankful to you, Lord God Almighty—who lives today and who has always existed—because you have unveiled your great power and begun to reign in truth and love. The nations of the selfish world lived in anger, and you have let them reap what they have chosen. The time has come for accurately diagnosing those who sleep in the grave, for rewarding your spokespersons—the prophets, and your saints, and all those who revere your character of love, both small and great, and for the destruction of those who destroy the earth.’ Then God’s Healing Plan—represented by the Sanctuary—was disclosed, and at its heart was Jesus the Lamb, who unites the universe into one, represented by the Ark. And there came flashes of insight, rumblings of understanding, peals of thunderous adoration, a foundational collapse of earth-based thinking, and a great hailstorm of truth.”

WEDNESDAY

Eating the Scroll

Eating in the Bible is used to describe the acceptance of a message from God in order to proclaim it to the people. When received, the message is good news; but when it is proclaimed, it sometimes results in bitterness as it is resisted and rejected by many.

Has anyone here experienced this?

John’s commission to “prophesy again” to the world points to Sabbath-keeping Adventists, raised up to proclaim the message of the Second Coming in connection with the prophecies of Daniel and Revelation...is this what John’s commission points to?

What were we raised up to proclaim?

Bottom box: “Keeping in mind how central blood was to the Day of Atonement ritual, how can we always keep before us the reality that the judgment is good news? Why is this truth so important?”

THURSDAY

The Two Witnesses

The idea of two witnesses comes from the Jewish legal system which requires at least two witnesses to establish something as true.

The Book of Revelation Lesson 8 1Q 2019

Satan, a Defeated Enemy

SABBATH

Remember:

- Revelation is highly symbolic—every person is to be fully persuaded in their own mind.
- We don't have to interpret every detail of the symbols correctly to be saved
- Salvation is found in Jesus, trusting Him, opening the heart and being reborn by the indwelling Spirit—saved people can disagree on technical points of interpretation—it's okay
- No interpretation should be accepted that represents God in a character different that Jesus revealed, or which has God violating His design laws of love and liberty

Read Memory Text Rev 12:11:

They overcame him by the blood of the Lamb and by the word of their testimony; they did not love their lives so much as to shrink from death.

What does it mean?

- Is the blood of the Lamb literal or metaphorical? Is it red corpuscles?
- Does the blood stand for life or death or both?
 - The blood is symbolic of the perfect righteous character—life of Christ that was developed as the Remedy for our sinfulness. This perfect sinless life was developed by Jesus, as a human, and the complete victory was achieved at the cross when love (the law of life) defeated fear and selfishness “by his death he destroyed death and brought life and immortality to light” 1Tim 1:9,10. The blood can also represent the truth about God as revealed in Jesus's life; the truth which dispels the lies which restores us to trust.
- How is the blood of the Lamb related to overcoming the devil?
 - We partake the flesh and blood (John 6), which is representative of the truth about God which wins us to trust and then receive via a real indwelling connection by the Spirit the life of Jesus—the motives, attitudes, desires, thoughts of Christ so that we love what He loves, we become like Him as we choose to identify with, cherish, value, embrace the life of Jesus.
- What is the word of their testimony?
 - Would they give the same teaching about God that Jesus gave?
 - Would they not only teach the truth about God and His character and methods of love, but also would they live out the principles of God in their lives?
- What is revealed by “they did not love their life so much as to shrink from death?”
 - Would it mean a change of heart from survival drive to love for others?
 - Would this be healing of their characters, restoring them to righteousness?

- Would this be taking away the damage of sin and restoring the perfection of Jesus?
- Would this be setting right that which is wrong? Which is called justification.

Is any of this possible by human willpower and human effort alone?

SUNDAY

Read Revelation 12:1-5:

A great and wondrous sign appeared in heaven: a woman clothed with the sun, with the moon under her feet and a crown of twelve stars on her head. ² She was pregnant and cried out in pain as she was about to give birth. ³ Then another sign appeared in heaven: an enormous red dragon with seven heads and ten horns and seven crowns on his heads. ⁴ His tail swept a third of the stars out of the sky and flung them to the earth. The dragon stood in front of the woman who was about to give birth, so that he might devour her child the moment it was born. ⁵ She gave birth to a son, a male child, who will rule all the nations with an iron scepter. And her child was snatched up to God and to his throne. (NIV84)

What does the woman represent? In this case, the people of God—God’s church of that day.

What is represented by the Sun and Moon?

The Sun represents the love and righteousness of Christ, but the Moon has a couple of possible interpretations. It can be interpreted to mean of the OT which taught about the righteousness of Christ, but it the Moon can also stand for the promises of God. In other words, the woman stands on the promises of God. This comes from:

Once for all, I have sworn by my holiness— and I will not lie to David—that his line will continue forever and his throne endure before me like the sun; it will be established forever like the moon, the faithful witness in the sky.” Ps 89:35-37

What does the crown of 12 stars represent? The twelve patriarchs, twelve tribes and alludes to the 12 apostles, all of whom were leaders/founders of God’s church of their time.

What is symbolized by a pregnancy and about to give birth? The incarnation of Christ.

Who is the red dragon? Satan

What is symbolized by the seven heads and ten horns?

The beast in Revelation 13 also has seven heads and ten horns, but the dragon has crowns on the seven heads, whereas the beast has crowns on the ten horns, why the difference? What is symbolized by this difference?

Well, what is symbolized by the heads and horns and the number 7 and 10?

Seven is a spiritual number, a number that relates to worship, to completion. Ten is a temporal number associated with nations and states: the ten toes of the multi-metal idol representing 10 nations. It represents a worldwide or complete number of national or temporal powers. Whereas, seven represents spiritual powers.

We have some indication of this in Revelation 13 where one of the heads have blasphemous names, which means they assume God's role or misrepresent God. One of the heads of the beast that receives a wound and is healed, not one of the horns, and we have multiple identifiers that we will explore in a later lesson, that indicate that head refers to the Roman Catholic Church and its wounding in 1798 when Berthier took the Pope captive at the end of the 1260 years.

So, if one head is specifically identified as the Roman church, what might the other 6 heads represent that are part of the dragon and the beast?

Further in Revelation 17 the seven heads are seven hills, and hills in the Bible were represented as places of worship. Ancient temples and shrines were built on hills and God called his place of worship "my holy hill" or Mt Zion. (Dan 9:16, Ps 2:6, 15:1, 24:3, Joel 2:1,

Could it be the other major false religious systems of the world that dominate and are part of the beastly system of deception?

- Paganism/Heathenism
- Atheism
- Eastern mysticism
- Judaism (after the rejection of Christ)
- Islam (which traces its origin back to Ishmael and his twelve sons and Muhammad was the last prophet or formally organized it)
- Roman Catholicism
- False Protestantism

If this is true, why does the dragon have crowns on the heads but the beast has crowns on its horns?

What is Satan's primary goal for rulership? Is it not to be worshipped as a god? But the beast system never claimed its rulers were gods to be worshipped; they claimed to be agents of their god and their power came not through seeking to get people to believe they were god, but through the power of coercion, the power of arms, the power of the state, by enforcing their false beliefs and practices.

So, the crowns represent ruling authority or power—Satan claims to rule as a god, who has the right to be worshipped, thus the crowns on the heads of the dragon beast. Whereas the beast of Revelation 13 claims to be the enforcer of its false god and thus the crowns on the horns.

If this is right, why did EGW in the last paragraph, say, “Thus the dragon, primarily, represents Satan, it is, in a secondary sense, a symbol of pagan Rome.”

Because pagan Rome devolved into false god worship as a source of its power where the Caesars eventually claimed to be living gods and their power was derived from their god-status. So, in a lesser degree the dragon beast. with crowns on the heads, represents pagan Rome.

MONDAY

Read Revelation 12:7-9:

And there was war in heaven. Michael and his angels fought against the dragon, and the dragon and his angels fought back. ⁸ But he was not strong enough, and they lost their place in heaven. ⁹ The great dragon was hurled down—that ancient serpent called the devil, or Satan, who leads the whole world astray. He was hurled to the earth, and his angels with him. (NIV84)

What kind of war was this? The Greek word for war is polemo, from which we get polemic, a war of words or ideas. Satan is the father of lies—he wars by infecting the minds of intelligent beings with falsehood in order to change loyalty, pervert hearts, damage minds, and corrupt characters. The war between good and evil has never a war over who is powerful.

And when was he cast to the earth?

Your heart became proud on account of your beauty, and you corrupted your wisdom because of your splendor. So I threw you to the earth; Eze 28:17 NIV84

When was Satan hurled out of heaven? There are two views on this:

- At the opening of the war in heaven
- At the cross

The Ezekiel text above, supports Satan was cast out of heaven and to the earth when he corrupted himself at the beginning of the GC in heaven—before mankind existed!

My view is that there are actually two castings out or down, one at the opening of the Great Controversy and the second at the cross. And both had a specific purpose in God’s plan to win the war of ideas and secure the universe in perfection.

The casting out at the opening of the Great Controversy in heaven.

What condition was the earth in at that time?

Consider this quote from EGW, does it fit the timeline we get from Scripture:

Angels on probation had been deceived by Satan, and had been led on by him in the great rebellion in heaven against Christ. They failed to endure the test brought to bear upon them, and they fell. Adam was then created in the image of God and placed upon probation. {Con 18.2}

If this is correct, then the timeline may go like this. Satan began his war of words undermining the character of God in heaven before the creation of earth. One of his allegations was that he was equal to Jesus and it wasn't fair that Jesus could go into councils with the Father that Lucifer wasn't invited into.

Why was Lucifer not invited into the councils that Jesus was included in?

- God lives in unapproachable light 1Tim 6:16, unapproachable by whom? By any finite being—God is infinite and finite beings cannot process infinity it would destroy us. This is why Lucifer was not allowed in.
- But why did Lucifer think he should be?
- If an infinite God, who is love, wants the closest intimacy and fellowship possible with His creatures and His creatures cannot enter into infinity, what must happen? A member of the Godhead leaves infinity and enters linear existence in the form of a physical created being—that member what Jesus. Jesus presented Himself in the form of an angel in order to bring the intelligent beings into the closest connection with God possible.

So, Satan alleges equality with Christ and that God is unfair and arbitrary in setting rules that prohibit Lucifer from going into the councils that Jesus can go into. If you were God in this setting what evidence might you provide?

Might Jesus, the member of the Godhead, whom Satan alleges equality with, begin to demonstrate He is not a created being but the Creator? But before Jesus does this, might God permit Lucifer the opportunity to demonstrate his claimed supremacy and equality to Jesus?

So, Lucifer is cast out to this earth and it is a formless void full of darkness—and Satan can do nothing.

Then Jesus comes and in seven days makes a world teeming with life, all operating upon the law of love a microcosm of the universe, with Adam and Eve, two new beings made in God's image with procreative powers governing the planet. All designed to give evidence that God is love, that Jesus is God and that God rules on other-centeredness.

Read first paragraph, "Satan was cast out of..." So, Satan is cast to the earth at the beginning of the rebellion in heaven and he is unable to create, but has a front row seat as Jesus creates. But after the creation of humanity, and Adam's fall, is Satan restricted to the earth, or is he able to travel to heaven?

The first chapter of Job demonstrates he is still traveling to heaven and tempting the angels there with his lies.

What about today—is Satan still traveling to heaven and tempting angels? Why or why not?

What happened that changed his ability to do this?

Jesus said, “Now is the time for judgment on this world; now the prince of this world will be driven out. But I, when I am lifted up from the earth, will draw all men (not in the Greek, supplied by translators) to myself.” John 12:31,32

- Who is the prince of this world? Satan
- From where is he being driven out? –from the hearts and affections of all who embrace the truth Jesus reveals
- Who is drawn to Jesus when He is lifted up? Please note, the word “men” is supplied, it should read will “draw all to myself.” Who would that include?
- Col 1:20, “to reconcile to himself all things, whether things on earth or things in heaven, by making peace through his blood, shed on the cross.”

So, Satan was cast out of heaven at the beginning of the GC in order to demonstrate his claims, which he failed to do, and in order for Christ to demonstrate He is Creator. But Satan, was cast out of the affections of all intelligent beings outside planet earth at the cross.

Read second paragraph, “By His death...” So, is Satan restricted to earth by God using a force shield to keep him here, or is he restricted by the fact there are no intelligent beings anywhere else in the universe who will listen to his lies? In other words, all the other intelligent beings have been settled into the truth and won’t give Satan a moment of their time.

Is this restriction an arbitrary restriction, or a design law restriction?

And what was it that helped the angels in heaven come to this conclusion and close Satan out of their hearts? Was it not the truth that Jesus revealed and Satan being exposed?

Do human beings need to see this same truth?

But, do human beings need something more from Jesus than the angels needed?

What more do we need?

We need the truth to dispel lies and restore trust that the angels needed but we also need a new sinless nature or character operating in perfect harmony with God’s design law of love.

Can any human, other than Jesus, provide such a perfect character? No, but Jesus provides both to sinful humans. He provides the truth that exposes Satan as a liar and confirms God as completely true and trustworthy, while simultaneously destroying, in the humanity He assumed, the infection of fear and selfishness, and by the exercise of His human abilities, He developed a perfect, sinless, human character that He offers to us as a free gift.

Heb 5:8,9, “Although he was a son, he learned obedience from what he suffered ⁹ and, once made perfect, he became the source of eternal salvation for all who obey him ¹⁰ and was designated by God to be high priest in the order of Melchizedek.” (NIV84)

Wasn't He always perfect? He was always sinless. Bible perfection is about mature character and character cannot be created, it must be developed by the freewill choices of the intelligent being. Jesus, as a human, did this.

So EGW writes it this way:

The law requires righteousness,--a righteous life, a perfect character; and this man has not to give. He cannot meet the claims of God's holy law. But Christ, coming to the earth as man, lived a holy life, and developed a perfect character. These He offers as a free gift to all who will receive them. His life stands for the life of men. Thus they have remission of sins that are past, through the forbearance of God. More than this, Christ imbues men with the attributes of God. He builds up the human character after the similitude of the divine character, a goodly fabric of spiritual strength and beauty. Thus the very righteousness of the law is fulfilled in the believer in Christ. God can "be just, and the justifier of him which believeth in Jesus." Romans 3:26. {DA 762.2}

Notice what justifying is—it is building up in the believer a righteous character from the achievements of Christ. It is setting us right in heart and mind to love like Jesus loves.

What about the idea in the paragraph “Before the whole universe, the rule over earth was transferred from Satan to Jesus, and He was proclaimed the legitimate ruler over earth.”

Does this mean:

- That Satan was the legitimate ruler until the cross and at the cross Christ became the legitimate ruler OR
- That Jesus was always the legitimate ruler—even before the cross, but after the cross the intelligent beings recognized that truth and in their minds the rulership was transferred to Jesus from Satan?

EGW says:

When Satan declared to Christ, The kingdom and glory of the world are delivered unto me, and to whomsoever I will I give it, he stated what was true only in part, and he declared it to serve his own purpose of deception. Satan's dominion was that wrested from Adam, but Adam was the vicegerent of the Creator. His was not an independent rule. The earth is God's, and He has committed all things to His Son. Adam was to reign subject to Christ. When Adam betrayed his sovereignty into Satan's hands, Christ still remained the rightful King. Thus the Lord had said to King Nebuchadnezzar, "The Most High ruleth in the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomsoever He will." Daniel 4:17. Satan can exercise his usurped authority only as God permits. {DA 129.4}

Read Revelation 12:13,14:

When the dragon saw that he had been hurled to the earth, he pursued the woman who had given birth to the male child. ¹⁴ The woman was given the two wings of a great eagle, so that she might fly to the place prepared for her in the desert, where she would be taken care of for a time, times and half a time, out of the serpent's reach.

What does this mean?

- Who is the dragon—Satan, as he was hurled to the earth
- Who is the woman that gave birth to a male child? The people of God
- What do wings represent? Speed ability to fly away, to flee
- What does the desert represent? places without water—which would be places without people. Rev 17:15 "Then the angel said to me, "The waters you saw, where the prostitute sits, are peoples, multitudes, nations and languages. (NIV 84)
- So, if waters represent populated places, desert—a place without water—would represent unpopulated places
- What is the time, times, and half a time represent?

Read the third paragraph, "The period of Satan's..." A time would be a year, times would be two years, and half a time would be half a year. In Jewish timekeeping a year had 360 days, so $360 \times 3.5 = 1260$ days which is the same as what was described in verse six.

But, how do we get from 1260 days to 1260 years? Because this is Bible prophecy, not literal events. And in Bible prophecy, just as:

- the dragon is symbolic of Satan
- the woman is symbolic of God's people
- the male child is symbolic of Jesus
- the water is symbolic of seas of people
- the desert is symbolic of places with few people
- the wings are symbolic of speed to flee
- the days are symbolic of years
 - see Numbers 14:34 Israel spend 1 year in wilderness for every day the spies spent in Canaan;

- Ezekiel 4:5,6, the number of days Ezekiel was instructed to lie on his side, would be the number of years of punishment on Israel and Judah;
- Daniel 9:24-27 the 70 weeks map out perfectly to 490 years until Messiah

Why, after the victory of Christ at the cross, has the completion of God's plan to save humanity and rid the universe of sin taken so long?

Because, God's laws are design laws, truth, love, liberty, and God is Sovereign and runs His universe on these principles. And while Christ revealed the truth and procured the Remedy during His 33 years on earth, Satan counterattacked with other lies about the cross to misinterpret the cross and infect the minds of people with such gross distortions about God that the healing truth has been blunted in its ability to spread throughout the world. Paul describes it this way:

Concerning the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ and our being gathered to him, we ask you, brothers, ² not to become easily unsettled or alarmed by some prophecy, report or letter supposed to have come from us, saying that the day of the Lord has already come. ³ Don't let anyone deceive you in any way, for that day will not come until the rebellion occurs and the man of lawlessness is revealed, the man doomed to destruction. ⁴ He will oppose and will exalt himself over everything that is called God or is worshiped, so that he sets himself up in God's temple, proclaiming himself to be God. (2Thes 2:1-4 NIV84)

What is described here? That Satan would counterattack the work of Christ and so misrepresent what Jesus achieved that the lies would become predominant and Satan would be established in the temple of God as the one people value and worship. How? By replacing design law with imposed law and thus teaching God is like Satan in character, a being who must use his power to torture and kill rule-breakers unless some legal payment buys him off.

This is the woman riding on the beast which intoxicates the entire world with her wine—the wine of these false ideas.

Minds are darkened by this false theology and the healing plan of God is obstructed. That is why God prophesied through Daniel that it would be 2300 years before the sanctuary would be cleansed, before enough truth was recovered to free the minds of people from these lies about God. And why has it taken so long? Because the lies initially obscure truth and it takes time for the corruption, abuse, darkness to be seen. In time, thinking people see the failings of the imperial law lie as coercive pressure, inquisitions, executions, dominations do not work to transform people to be like Jesus. Godly people eventually rebel against the lie and the truth slowly makes its way through the fabric of humanity—and we are in the midst of this reformation.

We are still fighting this war, fighting against these lies, but we have divine weapons to demolish the strongholds of Satan—truth love and freedom.

WEDNESDAY

Read Revelation 12:17:

Then the dragon was enraged at the woman and went off to make war against the rest of her offspring—those who obey God’s commandments and hold to the testimony of Jesus. (NIV84)

What does this mean?

- Who is the dragon? Satan
- Who is the woman? God’s people—those loyal to Him
- What kind of war? physical or primarily spiritual, attacking their minds with lies about God?

Who are the “rest of her offspring” sometimes called the remnant?

They are identified with two identifiers—what are they?

Obey God’s commandments and hold to the testimony of Jesus.

Let’s examine these two identifiers.

What does it mean to obey God’s commandments?

It is really very simple—they live in harmony with God’s design laws for life—they no longer live based on fear and selfishness, but on trust and love in harmony with God’s design for life.

The only ones who can do this are those who have had their hearts changed, such that they do not love their own lives so much as to shrink from death. Rev 12:11

Consider this for a moment, applying this principle. What would it mean to love one’s own life that we do shrink from death?

Consider the following scenarios and tell me how the righteous respond:

- Brought before counsel and told that when the music plays they must bow to the golden idol or be thrown in the fiery furnace?
 - How to the righteous respond?
 - The righteous don’t bow—they are not so afraid to die that they compromise their characters.
- How about they are told that if they work on a certain day of the week they will be imprisoned—say Friday or Sunday?
 - How do the righteous respond do they work or not work?

- They don't work on that day—there is no violation of God's command to rest on a day the state says to rest on. We do this now if the state shuts down businesses for certain holidays etc.
- What if they are told they must attend worship services on Sabbath and shut down their business or be imprisoned?
 - How do the righteous respond?
- How about the state passes a law that all citizens must be baptized into Jesus Christ?
 - How do the righteous respond?

Is it a violation of God's law for the state to create holidays and shut down businesses?

What is a violation of God's law? Coercive enforcement on matters of conscience.

God's law is design law, truth, presented in love, leaving others free—any religious laws that are matters of conscience that are enforced upon people are violations of God's law—regardless of whether the law agrees with Scripture or not.

The lesson says the main issue at the end of time is worship—what does this mean—does it mean the forms and ceremonies of worship, or the God we are worshipping?

What about the testimony of Jesus identifier?

Read the last paragraph, “Also, the end-time...” what do you think of this interpretation?

The SDA church takes the position that Ellen G. White (EGW) had the Biblical gift of prophecy. Let's assume for a moment that EGW did have the Bible gift of prophecy; that would then mean her writings are the writings of a dead prophet. What is the Bible? The writings of dead prophets.

So, does this indicator mean that the end-time remnant will be identified by possessing the writings of dead prophets?

Or, does it mean something more than this? Do God's end-time remnant have to have something more than the writings of dead prophets?

Did you notice that the NIV says “hold to the testimony of Jesus” rather than “have the testimony of Jesus.”

What is the testimony of Jesus, Revelation 19:10:

- For the testimony of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy.” NIV 84
- For the truth that Jesus revealed is what inspires the prophets. GNB
- Worship God, because the message about Jesus is the spirit that gives all prophecy. NCV

So, one view is that the remnant are those who obey all 10 commandments, including the Sabbath commandment, and have had a historical person, who is now deceased, that possessed the gift of prophecy.

Another view, is that the remnant are those who live in harmony with God's design law in their lives, have the law written in their heart and mind and give the same testimony about God that Jesus and all the prophets gave because that truth about God is what the Spirit always brings.

THUS—this group become the spokespersons for God described in Revelation 7, represented by the 144,000 sealed and called the servants of God, which are his prophets or spokes persons. So, I propose that the remnant are the group of people at the end of time who have been renewed in heart to live in harmony with God's design law (keep the commandments) and give the truth about God that Jesus gave, thus have the gift of prophecy manifested in their lives as they are giving the Spirit inspired truth about God for the people in their day!

Could there be people who obey the Sabbath commandment and who are members of a church that has had a deceased prophet, yet those people do not love others, have not been reborn, are not like Jesus in character?

Would such individuals be part of the remnant? So, does the remnant describe an institution or does it describe people who have been restored to Godlikeness—having the law written on their hearts and minds (Heb 8:10) and give the testimony about God that Jesus did?

Now, have I just attacked any institution? No, I have merely focused the reality of God's plan of salvation to where it has always been—healing the hearts and minds of people to be like Jesus.

THURSDAY

Read first paragraph, "Revelation 12:17..." What kind of war does Satan wage?

What are Satan's weapons?

How has Satan infected Christianity with his lies?

What is the root lie to all lies in Christianity? That God's law functions like human law and therefore requires the infliction of punishment by God.

What is Satan's end-time strategy?

Would it be to get people to become more fearful, and in fear they seek to take more control to enforce order, stop rebellion, put an end to evil—because they are frightened?

Can fear be vanquished by force, might, coercion, punishment of wickedness?

Can fear be vanquished by teaching God is coming back to punish the nations?

“Darkness cannot drive out darkness: only light can do that. Hate cannot drive out hate: only love can do that.”—Martin Luther King Jr., Strength to Love (1963)

Can love be restored by teaching God’s law require God punish law breakers?

The Book of Revelation Lesson 8 1Q 2019

Satan and His Allies

by Tim Jennings

I received this email this week from an online listener:

I will be the first to admit that the Remedy message is liberating albeit I still struggle with some concepts, but by God's grace the pieces will start to fit one day.

May I share the following,

I was once told that a father who confesses his sins to Jesus in family prayer is considered a noble act...

I did this saying Jesus please forgive my sins, thinking it was a learning that my children would get that Jesus wipes the record away. But no change took place.

But after hearing the Remedy message, I prayed that I knew my sin was harming my character and family, please forgive me and teach me to overcome my impatience and replace it with your patience. Whilst praying, I felt sooo humiliated admitting my sin to my family, humbling myself before my God and family, recognizing I needed change in my character. Yet after this prayer there has been transformation in my life and immediate impact on the family. Change takes place when it is applied correctly.

God bless the ministry of the Come and Reason team

SABBATH

Remember:

- Revelation is highly symbolic—every person is to be fully persuaded in their own mind.
- We don't have to interpret every detail of the symbols correctly to be saved
- Salvation is found in Jesus, trusting Him, opening the heart and being reborn by the indwelling Spirit—saved people can disagree on technical points of interpretation—it's okay
- No interpretation should be accepted that represents God in a character different that Jesus revealed, or which has God violating His design laws of love and liberty

Read Memory Text: "Then the dragon was angry with the woman, and he went to wage war with the remnant of her offspring, who keep the commandments of God and have the testimony of Jesus Christ."

Who are the remnant?

These are the end-time people of God who:

- Live in harmony with God's design laws AND
- Who give the same testimony about God that Jesus gave—in other words, who have the same testimony that the Spirit inspired the prophets to give about God.

Who are Satan's allies?

Any and all who accept and spread Satan's lies, use Satan's methods, and develop Satan's character.

What are Satan's lies, methods and character? (the following is not a complete list)

Lies of Satan:

- God's law is imperial/impose and God therefore must use His power to inflict punishment for sin—i.e. sin must be punished, which leads to all the penal/legal lies about God, all the payment myths, and pagan distortions.
- You will not surely die—i.e. we are immortal so we can never die no matter what we do—which leads to...
- Eternal burning hell in which the unrepentant are tortured by God for all eternity or recycling through endless lives (reincarnation)
- There is no God, which leads to either godless evolution, or an amorphous force of energy that we can tap into and we become our own god.

Satan's Methods:

- Lies (in all their various forms)
- Flattery
- Bribery (remember offering Jesus all the nations of the world)
- Threat, coercion, force, intimidation—playing on fear
- Lawlessness—i.e. promoting violations of design law (unhealthy practices physically, relationally, psychologically, spiritually) and often under the guise of religious fervor

Satan's Character:

- Selfish, cruel, without mercy, without compassion, hateful, vengeful

So, who are Satan's allies? Those who promote Satan's lies, practice Satan's methods and develop Satan's character.

SUNDAY

Read Revelation 13::1-8:

And I saw a beast coming out of the sea. He had ten horns and seven heads, with ten crowns on his horns, and on each head a blasphemous name. ² The beast I saw resembled a leopard, but had feet like those of a bear and a mouth like that of a lion. The dragon gave the beast his power and his throne and great authority. ³ One of the heads of the beast seemed to have had a fatal wound, but the fatal wound had been healed. The whole world was astonished and followed the beast. ⁴ Men worshiped the dragon because he had given authority to the beast, and they also worshiped the beast and asked, “Who is like the beast? Who can make war against him?”

⁵ The beast was given a mouth to utter proud words and blasphemies and to exercise his authority for forty-two months. ⁶ He opened his mouth to blaspheme God, and to slander his name and his dwelling place and those who live in heaven. ⁷ He was given power to make war against the saints and to conquer them. And he was given authority over every tribe, people, language and nation. ⁸ All inhabitants of the earth will worship the beast—all whose names have not been written in the book of life belonging to the Lamb that was slain from the creation of the world. NIV84

Let's decode what the symbols represent in this passage?

- Beasts—nations
- sea—populated places
- horns—political powers—power of the state
- heads—religious powers
- crowns—the source of authority
- blasphemy—misrepresents God
- name—character
- leopard, bear, lion—Greece, Persia, Babylon
- dragon—Satan
- dragon's power—lies that lead to death (Heb 2:14)
- throne and authority—foundation of one's government i.e. the law upon which it runs (God's throne in Ezekiel 1 and 10 rests upon a rotating wheel inside a rotating wheel, symbolic of the law of love, the principle of giving ie. design law. Satan's throne and authority rests on the principles or methods of imperial law with coercive force. This beastly power will practice the methods of coercion and promote God's law as imposed law—thus blaspheming God).
- Wounding and healing—a blow to the organization threatening to destroy it but with subsequent reemergence of its power
- Following the beast—accepting and promoting the methods of the beast, which are teaching God's law is imperial and enforcing issues of conscious by coercive pressure
- Worship—esteeming, valuing, looking up to, adoring, a frame of orientation that gives life direction and meaning
- War—what kind of war? 2Cor 10:3-5
- 42 months—time frame

- book of life—data storage system where individualities the saved are stored

What then is the message in these verses?

An organization will arise that combines various nation states and religious systems to misrepresent God as an imperial dictator. The power used will not be the power of truth, love and freedom (design law principles), but will be the power of lies, selfishness and coercion (rules—imperial law methods—which is the foundation and basis Satan’s power and kingdom). The entire world will come to accept Satan’s view of God and teach that God is a rule-maker and the source of inflicted pain, suffering and death for those who sin (drinking the wine of this harlot and beast)—thus giving honor to Satan—because they become like the god they worship and Satan’s image is reproduced in those who worship the system of the beast. All will become like Satan in character except those who have rejected Satan’s lies about God and worshipped Jesus the Creator and had God’s design law of love produced within them and thus their individualities/names are stored/written in the Lamb’s book of life.

MONDAY

Read first paragraph, “Revelation 13:5 specifies...” What do you think of this time period?

There is a compelling case to be made for the historic view articulated here and I think it is reasonable. However, there are elements of the prophecy that are not addressed in the historic view and this leaves open the possibility that this prophecy is a dual prophecy with two applications—one historic and one yet future.

What is not addressed in the historic view is:

- If the Catholic church is one of seven heads and that head was wounded who are the other six heads and ten horns?
- The entire world wondered after the beast, yet the papacy impacted only Europe during this time frame
- If the entire beast represents the papacy why was the wound to only one head—why not say and the beast was wounded but the wound was healed?

So, in addition to the literal application of papal abuse from 538-1798 this, it is possible this prophecy could also have a literal application for a 3.5 year period of tribulation referencing the battle of Armageddon in which the world unites against God’s end-time saints. I am not saying it does have this application, but it could have this application and we won’t know until the future events unfold.

Read second paragraph, “The sea beast’s activities...” What does it mean to blaspheme God’s name? To misrepresent God’s character—and how has this been done within Christianity?

By replacing design law with imposed law, i.e. teaching the idea that God’s law functions like human law, a system of rules requiring judicial oversight and enforcement. This results in presenting God with Satan's character and the entire world reacts to this view by either embracing it, teaching it, being deformed in character by it, or by rejecting God and teaching godless theories of existence.

What is the evidence or mark that the imperial view of God's law has indeed been accepted within Christianity? The change of the day of worship from Sabbath to Sunday—remember this is only the evidence or mark, it is not the actual problem.

If someone have a fever or rash from a disease like scarlet fever, the rash and fever are the signs and marks—the rash and fever are NOT the infection, not the disease. Likewise, Sunday sacredness is not the infection or disease but the sign or mark of the disease—which is what? The lie that God's law is imperial, like human law and thus is subject to change, which leads to worshipping a god who is like Satan in character.

What church counsel ever voted to change the law of respiration so their members are not required to breathe on bad smog days? Why don't church counsels vote to do this? So, what does it mean if church a counsel does vote to change God's law—that they no longer recognize God's law as design protocols, but instead view it as imperial rules.

This is what happened historically and how the day of worship came to be changed from the Bible Sabbath to Sunday.

There is nothing evil in going to church on Sunday any more than there is evil in going to prayer meeting on Wednesdays. The evil is in accepting lies about who God is—thus believing God's law functions like human law and this means we see God in a distorted light and fail to genuinely know Him and His methods. Instead, in the name of God we end up promoting the methods of the beast.

Many SDAs, while promoting the seventh-day Sabbath, promote the false view of God by teaching that God is the source of inflicted pain and suffering for sin and must have His wrath propitiated by the blood of a human sacrifice—namely His Son. Thus, while they have the right day of worship they still have the wrong law—the law that is the basis of Satan's system of government.

How does the beast blaspheme the tabernacle of God?

Don't let anyone deceive you in any way, for that day will not come until the rebellion occurs and the man of lawlessness is revealed, the man doomed to destruction. He will oppose and will exalt himself over everything that is called God or is worshiped, so that he sets himself up in God's temple, proclaiming himself to be God. 2Thes 2:3,4 NIV84

When in human history is the period described in this text? After the ascension of Christ.

- Who is the man of lawlessness?
- What does lawlessness mean? One who rejects the law, denies the law, steps outside the law—what law?
- God's law, which is what?

- Design law—so the man of lawlessness represents the powers that deny God's design law and promote a system outside of it. This would be Satan the dragon and his beastly powers, those religious systems that teach God's law functions like human law.

What temple? The Spirit temple—and this power sets itself up in our hearts and minds when we accept the lie about God's law and then worship a God who is the source of inflicted pain and suffering. Thus, the beast blasphemes God's tabernacle by defiling it with Satan's character traits which automatically arise when we worship the false god-construct.

What is the meaning of blaspheming what is going on in heaven?

The lesson suggests it is by replacing Christ as our heavenly mediator with a system of human priests who claim to be the mediator between God and man. Is this the only way in which the heavenly work of Christ is blasphemed?

There is only one truth—but there are many lies that misrepresent the truth. One lie is the idea of humans replacing Christ as our Priest in heaven.

But another way Christ's work in heaven is corrupted or blasphemed is to keep Jesus as our High Priest in heaven, but to teach a lie about what He is doing in heaven. To replace design law and Christ's true work of writing His law in our hearts and minds (Heb 8:10), with the lie that Christ is doing a legal/judicial work in books in heaven all based on accepting the human law lie.

In other words, both the Catholic system and Protestant system teach the legal lie that salvation is a legal process based on rules like humans use. Thus, the heavenly work of Christ is blasphemed.

A few years ago, I received an email with a link to a Christian talk show on which a Catholic priest and a Protestant theologian discussed the Eucharist and transubstantiation. They went back and forth over several points, then the Protestant honed in on the allegation that transubstantiation sacrifices Christ again and again whereas the Bible teaches Jesus died once for all.

To this the Catholic priest responded:

There are two elements to any sacrifice: the immolation and the offering. The immolation is a bloody death. The lamb is slain. What is precious about that is the life in the blood of the lamb that is precious and pays back God. That's how the Old Testament rituals used to work. The immolation happened once but the offering is something Christ does for all eternity. He is right now in the presence of the Father, in the holy of holies, in the eternal presence, offering himself to the Father for the forgiveness of our sins. . . . Christ isn't killed again and again and again, he is offered [in the Eucharist] in the same eternal presence as Christ offers himself.

The priest said it was by this offering of his sacrifice over and over again that the sins were paid for. So each time we sin, we must take mass in order to have the sacrifice of Christ pay the Father for that sin.

How do you think the Protestant theologian responded?

He argued that Christ is in heaven not offering his sacrifice to the Father over and over, oh no! He emphatically stated that Jesus is in heaven offering his merits to the Father over and over again to remind the Father that he has already paid for our sins.¹

In the Protestant view, all human sins were placed on Christ at the cross and paid for there. When we pray for forgiveness, Jesus goes to the Father and reminds him of what Jesus has already done in paying for the sins and makes the legal application of his “merits” as the payment he offers to the Father into our individual accounts.

And how has the false legal idea infected the SDA view? It is taught that Jesus is in heaven opening legal record books and examining them and erasing from the historic record the recorded bad deeds of those who have been legally pardoned.

So many problems with this view:

- based on idea that God’s law functions like human law
- makes the focus on deeds and behaviors rather than character
- makes the punishment for sin coming out from God rather than from sin itself
- makes the problem God’s inflicted punishment rather than sin and thus we need to be protected from God which is what the priest and minister were both promoting. But the Bible teaches that:
 - The sting of death is sin, and the power of sin is the law. 1Cor 15:56 NIV84
 - What does this mean?
 - Where does the power come from to kill someone who ties a plastic bag over their head or jumps into the ocean with weights on their legs?
 - Where does the power come from to kill someone who jumps off the Empire State Building?
 - Where does the power come from to kill someone who shoots up with heroin?
 - The power comes from the laws upon which life is built, law of respiration, gravity, physics, laws of health. Violating the design laws is where the power of sin to kill comes from.
 - Thus the problem is sin itself and God is the solution. But the legal lie makes God the problem as the inflictor of punishments for sin
- keeps us afraid of not being loved if our sins were ever known so creates a lie that Jesus is erasing history so no one will know our sins in heaven
 - Why will sin never arise again?
 - Why will we love God so much?

- Where does sin occur, in record books or in hearts and minds? Then from where does sin need to be erased?

Christ is not in heaven doing a legal accounting in a judicial system and erasing facts of history. What Christ is actually doing is so much more profound—Christ is healing His people.

On March 16, when I am back from Australia, we will release a pamphlet with a new paradigm which presents this unique SDA doctrine through the design law lens.

TUESDAY

Read Revelation 13:11: “Then I saw another beast, coming out of the earth. He had two horns like a lamb, but he spoke like a dragon.” NIV84

What do the symbols mean?

- Then—after the previous beast’s time or perhaps after it’s wound so after 1798
- another beast—a nation that is not the same nation as the first beast
- earth—unpopulated places
- lamblike horns—horns represent power, lamblike represents Jesus, Jesus’s power is truth, love and freedom—so this power would arise on the principles of liberty or freedom around 1798 in a part of the world that was previous uncivilized and undeveloped—any nations come to mind?
- dragon—Satan

What does it mean that this nation will eventually speak like a dragon? Despite its foundation on the principles of liberty—it will eventually practice the methods of coercive force and take away liberty.

Do we see any evidences of this happening?

WEDNESDAY

Read last two paragraphs, “When the early church...” What principles are being described?

What methods employed?

What underlying law system are being practiced?

What is most important, to identify the points of doctrines that people will eventually unite around, or to recognize regardless of the points of doctrines they unite around that these methods are not the methods of God?

- We cannot win God’s cause by using Satan’s methods

But, if we were to identify points of doctrines that Christians might unite around today, in order to seek to influence their legislators to pass laws that would enforce their beliefs on others, what points of doctrines in today's society, at least in America, might they be?

Do you think SDA Christians will unite with other Protestants to pass Sunday legislation? I don't think so, but are there other issues that all Christians might unite around in order to, as EGW says: "influence the state to enforce their decrees and to sustain their institutions... and the infliction of civil penalties upon dissenters will inevitably result." {GC 445.1}?

- Sanctity of male/female marriage to pass marriage laws?
- Sanctity of life to pass laws to make abortion illegal?

Let me be clear—I am not speaking of the righteousness or sinfulness of homosexual marriage or abortion. I am speaking of whether either of these two issues might be used to unite various Christian groups (including SDA Christians) to impose laws to force people who are not converted in their heart to comply with those laws?

Would this be an image to the beast?

The last paragraph, quoting the GC 445, states:

The "image to the beast" represents that form of apostate Protestantism which will be developed when the Protestant churches shall seek the aid of the civil power for the enforcement of their dogmas.

Would uniting around the sanctity of marriage and/or the sanctity of life and passing laws to enforce such beliefs on others meet this description?

Does that mean we should support values that we do not agree with? No—what does it mean?

That we oppose values that we do not agree with by using the methods of God—we present truth, in love, and leave others free.

We educate about design law, the impact decisions and choices have upon character, how every violation of God's design reacts upon the person to damage that person and that only in harmony with God's principles of truth, love and liberty can the character be healed.

We also focus on character development and don't presume to judge another person's situation or circumstances when it comes to matters of conscience.

God promises that we can experience a new heart, right spirit, mature character here and now. We are not promised new biology until the second coming when this mortal and corruptible puts on the immortal/incorruptible. So, biological divergence from biological perfection is not sin, but is the result of sin in the world and does impact how one lives today. Being born blind is not sinful, but blindness exists in the world because of sin and impacts how that person lives their life.

But despite the biological corruption with which we all struggle, character can be changed from selfish to love for others, from deceitful to honest, from cruel to kind, from brutal to merciful, from divisive to a peacemaker.

It is the transformation of character to be like Christ which is the greatest evidence of the working of God's Spirit. And transformation of character cannot be accomplished by passing legislation—that is the devil's trick. Get good people to think they are doing good by passing laws for good goals, but ultimately using Satan's methods to coerce people which will only cause more division and damage more character.

THURSDAY

What is the Mark of the Beast?

The lesson says, "The mark of the beast involves the substitution of a human commandment for God's commandment."

Is it really the substitution of human rule or the substitution of human law i.e. substituting imperialism for God's design law, of which changing the 10 Commandments are merely an evidence or sign or mark?

What does it mean to be marked in the forehead and hand?

Forehead is where God's saints are sealed—it is the place of the mind, of worship, of choice, of belief. Thus, the saints are sealed in their characters, minds, hearts to be like God—because they have accepted the truth from the Spirit of truth and are like God in heart.

The lost fall into two camps—those who truly believe the lies and value the methods of coercion and they are marked in their foreheads, and those who don't believe the lies, but still have hearts of selfishness so they choose to practice the methods of the beast to promote and protect themselves, thus they are marked in their hands.

Consider these quotes regarding the mark of the beast:

Why are men not interested to know what constitutes the mark of the beast? Exodus 31:12-17. The Sabbath question will be the issue in the great conflict in which all the world will act a part. [How does the entire world act a part? Will Muslims give up Friday and start worshipping on Sunday? What about agnostics and atheists? Or, is it these two days (Sabbath and Sunday) stand as signs of something more, and everyone will choose one or the other of two methods, of which these days stand as symbols?] Revelation 13:4-17. {RH, April 27, 1911 par. 3}

"Christ died to save sinners, not in their sins, but from their sins. [Imposed law constructs all teach that we are saved in our sins, from the legal penalty, but not saved from our sins, that we continue live sinfully until Christ returns. The truth is that God actually transforms us here and now and we stop living for self, and instead live to love God and others!] The warning given in Revelation shows us the terrible consequence of transgression. By lips that will not lie, God's law is declared to be holy, just, and good. Our duty to obey this law is to be the burden of the last message of mercy to the world.¹ God's law is not a new thing. It is not holiness created, but holiness made known. It is a code of principles expressing mercy, goodness, and love. It presents to fallen humanity the character of God, and states plainly the whole duty of man. {RH, April 27, 1911 par. 4}

"'Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength.' This command contains the principles of the first four precepts. And 'thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself.' Upon these two great principles, the Word of God declares, hang all the law and the prophets. {RH, April 27, 1911 par. 5}

"These principles are made known by the third angel's message, which declares that the Creator has always required and always will require obedience to his royal law. [Why does the Creator require obedience? Why does the Creator require we breathe? Because that is how life is built to operate. Remember the law is not holiness created but holiness made known. The commandments did not impose a law, but made the law known] But this law has been disregarded and transgressed, and is now being ignored by the churches. Human enactments are placed where God's law should be. [What kind of law is replacing God's law? Enactments, this is by teaching in the churches that God's law functions like human law. One evidence of this is the belief that God's law can be changed like human law, of which the day of worship change is a sign] Sunday, a child of the Papacy, has taken the place of God's holy Sabbath. As Nebuchadnezzar made a golden image, and set it up to be worshiped by all, so Sunday is placed before the people to be regarded as sacred. This day bears not a vestige of sanctity, yet it is held up to be honored by all. {RH, April 27, 1911 par. 6}

The time has come for the true light to shine amid moral darkness. The third angel's message has been sent forth to the world, warning men against receiving the mark of the beast or of his image in their foreheads or in their hands. To receive this mark means to come to the same decision as the beast has done, and to advocate the same ideas, in direct opposition to the word of God. {RH, July 13, 1897 par. 5}

¹ It is the darkness of misapprehension of God that is enshrouding the world. Men are losing their knowledge of His character. It has been misunderstood and misinterpreted. At this time a message from God is to be proclaimed, a message illuminating in its influence and saving in its power. His character is to be made known. Into the darkness of the world is to be shed the light of His glory, the light of His goodness, mercy, and truth... The last rays of merciful light, the last message of mercy to be given to the world, is a revelation of His character of love. The children of God are to manifest His glory. In their own life and character they are to reveal what the grace of God has done for them. {COL 415}

What does it mean to come to the same decision as the beast and to advocate the same principle as the beast? To teach God's law is imperial and that coercive enforcement is godly.

FRIDAY

Read first second paragraph, "No one..." What is described—a method, protocol, practice, which is imperialism with coercion that is what is beastly.

2019 Q1 The Book of Revelation - Lesson 10

God's Everlasting Gospel

By Linda Ojala

SABBATH

Memory Text – “Here is the patience of the saints: here are those who keep the commandments of God and the faith of Jesus.” Revelation 14:12

- Revelation Disclaimer: Understanding Revelation is not a requirement for Salvation.
- People are saved through a loving relationship of trust/faith in Jesus Christ and an understanding obedience to God's laws that he used to build this universe to operate. Matthew 19:16-26 Story of the Rich young man. Matthew 22:34-40 All the Law and prophets hand on these two commandments – Love God supremely and your neighbor as yourself

So, why study it?

“Gospel” means “Good News” and there is plenty of it in Revelation

- Proverbs 24:3-6, “By wisdom a house is built, and through understanding it is established; through knowledge its rooms are filled with rare and beautiful treasures. A wise man has great power and a man of knowledge increases strength; for waging war you need guidance, and for victory many advisers.”
- So let's look at the good news, guidance and victory contained in Revelation!.

Revelation, even without the prophecies, shows the great controversy and plan of salvation. My summary of each page:

- This calls for taking it to heart.
- He loves us and has freed us from our sins.
- Repent, go back to your first love, do what you did at first and overcome.
- Do God's will to the end. Remember what you received and heard, obey it and repent, be earnest.
- Worthy is the Lamb! He purchased men for God.
- God will lead to springs of living water – we will never thirst again.
- Repent of the work of your hands and acts.
- It is time for God to judge.
- Overcome by the blood of the Lamb and your testimony.
- Obey God's commands, hold to the testimony of Jesus.
- This calls for faithfulness, patient endurance and wisdom.

- Stay awake and keep your clothes on – He comes like a thief.
- Come out of Babylon so you don't sin or receive her plagues.
- God's judgments are just and true – He gives us the righteous acts we do.
- The dead are judged by what they have done.
- God will live with us, wipe every tear from our eyes, and make everything new.
- Worship God - "I am coming soon" to give to everyone according to what he has done.

SUNDAY

Read Revelation 14 from the NIV – the Six Angel's messages – three to men, three to heavenly beings

Layers of the three angels' messages:

Personal:

1. Give glory to God by worshiping the creator of everything good in this world, including humans
2. IF you do, confusion falls away from your life.
3. IF you don't, the consequence of following the beast and receiving his mark will be torment with no rest.
4. IF you do, you are rewarded by being totally healed/saved and taken out of this world.
5. IF you do not, your will not be healed, so that the fire of truth will be too much for you.
6. And the full weight of truth on the unhealed life will destroy you.

Church:

1. Worship the creator God – examine the evidence and use good judgment about Him.
2. Babylon is not the world, it's the church! - Identify confused and erroneous teachings and rid them from the church of believers.
3. What happens to a church group that does not purge erroneous teachings about God? It is marked with error and condemns the group to lack of healing and restless torment.
4. IF the church does, the reward is being healed and promoting salvation.
5. IF the church does not, the fire of truth will reveal the error.
6. And the church members will clearly see that their leaders have taken them to a point of restless torment without true healing.

World outside of the church:

1. Discover and worship only the true creator of this world.
2. Identify error and replace error with truth.
3. If you don't, error isn't harmless; it will destroy you.
4. There is escape from the craziness of error and salvation from it through the truth about yourself and God that Jesus reveals.
5. Your true life, your decisions and results of them will be revealed, without any ability to hide or manipulate them.

6. The weight of that truth will put an end to your life.

MONDAY and TUESDAY

The First Angel's Message

“Then I saw another angel flying in midair and he had the eternal gospel to proclaim to those who live on the earth – to every nation, tribe, language, and people. He said in a loud voice, 'Fear God and give him glory because the hour of his judgment has come. Worship him who made the heavens, the earth, the sea and the springs of water.'” Revelation 14:6,7

What is the good news here?

- This is for all eternity, not just temporary
- No one on earth is excluded
- God has given us the ability to use good judgment to identify the truth about God
- What gives glory to God is following the truth about this awesome God to the point where you understand, love and worship Him without fear (Luke 1:74 – John the Baptist's father, Zechariah's prophecy that part of the mission of Christ is to enable us to serve him without fear in holiness and righteousness before him all our days.”)
- The same judgment we make about God and others, will God make about us as being healed or not healed. Unselfishly loving, or judgmental and misjudging of others and God? He makes an accurate diagnosis. Matthew 7:1,2 Matthew 25: 31-46 Isaiah 11:1-4
- The sign or banner of this creator God is the brilliant choice of a period of time (the 7th day Sabbath), rather than an icon or item (like a wedding ring). He created this 7th day as the last day of creation, where He “rests His case”. A day for us to consider how He uses his mighty power, and who we are in relationship with Him. A day to keep ourselves holy through staying connected to and healed by Him. Gen.2:1-3 Exodus 8-11

E.G. White, Desire of Ages, pg 308

“Till heaven and earth pass,' said Jesus. 'one jot or one tittle shall in nowise pas from the law, till all be fulfilled.' The sun shining in the heavens, the solid earth upon which you dwell, are God's witnesses that His law is changeless and eternal. Though they may pass away, the divine precepts shall endure. 'It is easier for heaven and earth to pass, than one tittle of the law to fail.' Luke 16:17. The system of types that pointed to Jesus as the lamb of God was to be abolished at His death; the but precepts of the Decalogue are as immutable as the throne of God. Since 'the law of the Lord is perfect,' every variation from it must be evil. Those who disobey the commandments of God, and teach others to do so, are condemned by Christ. The Saviour's life of obedience maintained the claims of the law: it proved that the law could be kept in humanity, and showed the excellence of character that obedience would develop. All who obey as He did are likewise declaring that the law is 'holy, and just, and good.' Romans 7:12. On the other hand, all who break God's commandments are sustaining Satan's claim that the law is unjust, and cannot be obeyed. Thus they second the deceptions of the great adversary, and cast dishonor upon God. They are the children of the wicked one, who was the first rebel against God's law. To admit them into heaven would again bring in the elements of discord and rebellion, and imperil the well-being of the universe. No man who willfully disregards one principle of the law shall enter the kingdom of heaven."

E.G. White, Desire of Ages, pg 309

"The greatest deception of the human mind in Christ's day was that a mere assent to the truth constitutes righteousness. In all human experience a theoretical knowledge of the truth has been proved to be insufficient for the saving of the soul. It does not bring forth the fruits of righteousness. A jealous regard for what is termed theological truth often accompanies a hatred of genuine truth as made manifest in life. The darkest Chapters of history are burdened with the record of crimes committed by bigoted religionists. The Pharisees claimed to be children of Abraham, and boasted of their possession of the oracles of God, yet these advantages did not preserve them from selfishness, malignity, greed for gain, and the basest hypocrisy. They thought themselves the greatest religionists of the world, but their so-called orthodoxy led them to crucify the Lord of glory. The same danger still exists. Many take it for granted that they are Christians, simply because they subscribe to certain theological tenets. But they have not brought the truth into practical life. They have not believed and loved it, therefore they have not received the power and grace that come through sanctification of the truth. Men may profess faith in the truth; but if it does not make them sincere, kind, patient, forbearing, heavenly-minded, it is a curse to its possessors, and through their influence it is a curse to the world."

E.G. White, Council to the Churches, pg 261

"Great blessings are enfolded in the observance of the Sabbath, and God desires that the Sabbath day shall be to us a day of joy. There was joy at the institution of the Sabbath. God looked with satisfaction upon the work of His hands. All things that he had made He pronounced 'very good.' Genesis 1:31. Heaven and earth were filled with rejoicing. 'The morning stars sang together, and all the sons of God shouted for joy.' Job 38:7. Though sin has entered the world to mar His perfect work, God still gives to us the Sabbath as a witness that One omnipotent, infinite in goodness and mercy, created all things. Our heavenly Father desires through the observance of the Sabbath to preserve among men a knowledge of Himself. He desires that the Sabbath shall direct our minds to Him as the true and living God, and that through knowing Him we may have life and peace. When The Lord delivered His people Israel from Egypt and committed to them His law, He taught them that by the observance of the Sabbath they were to be distinguished from idolaters. It was this that made the distinction between those who acknowledge the sovereignty of God and those who refuse to accept Him as their Creator and King. 'It is a sign between Me and the children of Israel forever,' the Lord said. 'Wherefore the children of Israel shall keep the Sabbath, to observe the Sabbath throughout their generations, for a perpetual covenant.' Exodus 31:17, 16. As the Sabbath was the sign that distinguished Israel when they came out of Egypt to enter the earthly Canaan, so it is the sign that now distinguishes God's people as they come out from the world to enter the heavenly rest. The Sabbath is a sign of the relationship existing between God and His people, a sign that they honor His law. It distinguishes between His loyal subjects and transgressors."

WEDNESDAY

The Second Angel's Message

"A second angel followed and said, 'Fallen! Fallen is Babylon the Great, which made all the nations drink the maddening wine of her adulteries.'" Revelation 14: 8

According to the New Oxford American Dictionary, to adulterate means, "to render something poorer in quality by adding another substance, typically an inferior one."

Babylon is the "Church," not the "World"

E.G. White, pg 178, "Concerning Babylon, the symbol of the apostate church, He says to His minister of judgment, 'Her sins have reached unto heaven, and God hath remembered her iniquities.'"

What is the good news here?

- The errors of Babylon will fall away – only truth will be left!

THURSDAY

The Third Angel's Message

"A third angel followed them and said in a loud voice: 'If anyone worships the beast and his image and receives his mark on the forehead or on the hand, he, too, will drink of the wine of God's fury, which has been poured full strength into the cup of his wrath. He will be tormented with burning sulfur in the presence of the holy angels and of the Lamb. And the smoke of their torment rises for ever and ever. There is no rest day or night for those who worship the beast and his image, or for anyone who receives the mark of his name. This calls for patient endurance on the part of the saints who obey God's commandments and remain faithful to Jesus.'" Revelation 14:9-12

How are the wicked tormented with burning sulfur in the presence of the holy angels and of the Lamb?

1 Corinthians 15:20-58 talks about the resurrection of Christ and of the dead, and the resurrection body:

“The body that is sown is perishable, it is raised imperishable...Flesh and Blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God, nor does the perishable inherit the imperishable...”

Why?

Creatures God made that CAN tolerate the intense heat, sulfur and pressure of underwater volcanoes.

- What happens to people in that environment? They would die.

Animals that create light, both on and above the ground and under the water – phosphorous

Angels of light

“And there were shepherds living out in the fields nearby, keeping watch over their flocks at night. An angel of the Lord appeared to them, and the glory of the Lord shone around them, and they were terrified.” Luke 2:8,9

God is called “...the Father of the heavenly lights, who does not change like shifting shadows.” James 1:17

“At the resurrection people will neither marry nor be given in marriage; they will be like the angels in heaven.” Matthew 22:30

Fire flooding from God's presence. Isaiah 33

We must allow God to change us. We will have different abilities, to play harps, to fly, to see God as He is in his brightness, to see long distances, to live and learn without fatigue.

God is a gentleman – He won't force us to let Him in to make the changes to our spirit, characters, and ultimately our bodies.

- How does God take His world back and live among us, when his presence would consume us?
- People must allow Him to change them.
- The wicked will be resurrected unchanged in spirit and with evidences of decay in their bodies. The Great Controversy, by E.G. White, page 662 says, “The wicked bear the traces of disease and death....As the wicked went into their graves, so they come forth with the same enmity to Christ and the same spirit of rebellion.”

We may not be carbon-based beings, because carbon based beings will be tormented mentally in the presence of the fire of truth, and physically in the fiery sulfur of God's presence (which is brimstone).

Click to see pictures of burning sulfur

Plague described in Bible:

“This is the plague with which the Lord will strike all the nations that fought against Jerusalem: Their flesh will rot while they are still standing on their feet, their eyes will rot in their sockets, and their tongues will rot in their mouths. On that day people will be stricken by the Lord with great panic. They will seize each other by the hand and attach one another.”
Zechariah 14:12,13

What is the good news here?

- God warns us in time to make the changes needed. RE: Eden, the flood, Israelites in the dessert and those before the end of time.
- Wickedness will end!
- “Therefore the Lord, the Lord Almighty, the Mighty One of Israel, declares: ‘Ah, I will vent my wrath on my foes and avenge myself on my enemies. I will turn my hand against you; I will thoroughly purge away your dross and remove all your impurities’.” Isaiah 1:24, 25
- “Strengthen the feeble hands, steady the knees that give way; say to those with fearful hearts, ‘Be strong, do not fear; your God will come, he will come with vengeance; with divine retribution he will come to save you.’” Isaiah 35:3,4 What is the best retribution for a person who has been killed, diseased, deceived, etc? Healing and restoration – Salvation!

2019 Q1 The Book of Revelation - Lesson 11

The Seven Last Plagues

by Dr. Karin Covi

Not being a theologian, by any stretch, instead a seeking believer trying to make sense of Revelation, I owe it to myself and you all, to read widely and to at least TRY to distill the information.

We have the two foremost SDA Revelation scholars represented in the Bible Study Guide and the accompanying Teacher's notes. We can channel Tim in the reading of The Remedy.

With this in mind, I'd like to introduce the concept of Differential Diagnosis (D/Dx):

In medicine, there may be more than one possible explanation for a given set of symptoms; e. g cough. Cough is a symptom, usually one of several, with which a patient presents. While most likely representing some form of URTI, is it viral or bacterial? Is it pneumonia or just a "cold"? Is there an underlying condition that could predispose the patient to complications? Is it possible that it represents GERD, or even a side effect of other medications?

Nowadays, anyone can google "D/DX of Cough" and come up with percentages of likelihood of any given symptom represents one condition vs another. This is how patients think medicine is practiced: "Dr. Google". (Not back in 1980s, for sure; today's TV docs all walk around with an iPad! - fonts of knowledge of the most obscure diagnoses. Practical? Because only rarely is a single symptom present in isolation, e.g., our patient with a cough: is there accompanying fever and chills? Nausea/vomiting? Post nasal drip? Sputum production? You can see how quickly one would need multiple Google searches, all able to correlate and integrate information from the others to rule in or out particular options for your single diagnosis of the patient's condition.

I don't know what medical education is like today, but in my day we spent years honing our abilities to discern which details of the patients history and physical were pertinent; D/Dx is the task of finding the most persuasive explanation for ALL the findings/symptoms in a given patient.

Wiki Definition "the process of weighing the probability of one disease versus that of others possibly accounting for a patients' illness"

- Why does one's diagnosis matter? BECAUSE IT CHANGES THE TREATMENT! The physician's or provider's DIAGNOSIS -- their JUDGMENT -- matters in how they recommend and implement treatment for the patient towards healing and restoration of health. You can't arrive at the correct treatment until you have the correct diagnosis.

Applying these concepts to spiritual matters:

- How has "God's Judgment" been defined by those adhering to the penal substitution? A legal finding and determination of imposed punishment for breaking of arbitrary rules
- How have we defined "judgment of God"? His DIAGNOSIS of the condition of the heart; His therapeutic intervention to heal and save; His pronouncement of the natural result of the condition of the heart and mind (depending on the context of the use of "judgment")

But God's judgment is not the only judgment discussed in Scripture:

Come now, and let us reason together, says the LORD. Isaiah 1:18

May you be proved right in what you say, and you will win your case in court." Romans 3:4 (GNB)

"God, may you be proved right and true in the hearts and minds of your intelligent creatures when you present yourself openly for their judgment." Romans 3:4 Rem

So, what about YOUR judgment of the evidence? We are invited to weigh all the evidence in the case of God's trustworthiness, of his Righteousness. All the various motivations ascribed to God in the stories revealed in the Bible, the ways in which He designed the universe to function, and the degree to which He manifests/abides with His law of Love --> your assessment of Him, your "diagnosis" of His character will define the way you become, for we become like that which we worship and admire. the way you treat others and, ultimately, whether your heart has his Law of Love written upon it, and you love others more than self. Other-centered giving, service, and love results in maturing and perfecting of character, and healing of mind and body.

In D/Dx - not all evidence is equal; not all diagnoses are equal; In the spiritual realm, while each thoughtful person's "diagnosis" of God's character may deserve thoughtful consideration, one must ultimately arrive at a "diagnosis" of God, His character, His methods, His judgments.

Turning to our study of Revelation and the awful, AWE-ful plagues:

Review provisos:

- Revelation is highly symbolic: If one part of a passage is symbolic or metaphor, then the rest is symbolic or metaphor unless clear reasons to be literal are expressed in the text; the Bible will be used to interpret itself (i.e. symbol interpretations will use Bible definitions before other definitions).
- The general theme is that of the conflict between Christ and Satan.

- No interpretation should be accepted that represents God in a character different that Jesus revealed, or which has God violating His design laws of love and liberty

This being said, we may still come to different conclusions about what symbols mean; We don't have to interpret every detail of the symbols "correctly" to be saved; Salvation is found in Jesus, trusting Him, opening the heart and being reborn by the indwelling Spirit—Saved people can disagree on technical points of interpretation—it's okay!

Let's listen to each other and possibly learn.... Ultimately, you'll find that I ultimately, ask:

- What does this perspective say about God?
- Is it in keeping with what I KNOW to be true: through Scripture, through Design Law and science, and through life experience; all overlapping/intersecting to reveal harmonized Truth - with a capital T! The Integrative, Evidence-based Approach?

SABBATH

The challenge of Revelation is that it all must be taken in context; this is a book named “reveal”, to “open” our eyes to what's going on, even tho' using strange (to us!) imagery and symbols to depict events.

One can't pick up the study of the plagues, for example, without seeing the setting in the chapter just prior. Or recognizing the familiarity of "7's", or the “thirds”, particularly regarding the trumpets previously. [The intricacies of Revelation allow for people to do dissertations on one symbol!]

Memory Verse: starting with Rev 15:1-4 (Phillips):

1 Then I saw another sign in heaven, great and marvelous, seven angels who had seven plagues, which are the last, because in them the wrath of God is finished.
2 And I saw something like a sea of glass mixed with fire, and those who had been victorious over the beast and his image and the number of his name, standing on the sea of glass, holding harps of God. 3 And they *sang the song of Moses, the bond-servant of God, and the song of the Lamb, saying,
“Great and marvelous are Your works,
O Lord God, the Almighty;
Righteous (setting right) and true (trustworthy) are Your ways,
King of the nations!
4 “Who will not fear, O Lord, and glorify (speak well of) Your name?
For You alone are holy (faultless);
For ALL THE NATIONS WILL COME AND WORSHIP BEFORE YOU,
For Your RIGHTEOUS ACTS (RIGHT-NESS) HAVE BEEN REVEALED .”

The setting for the upcoming plagues is: the throne room, the heavenly council. Familiar? Same as it was for the seals (Rev 4 and 5) and the trumpets (Rev 8:2-5)

- God is active: HIS angels, HE directs the releasing of the actions of the adversary; even actively “letting go”...

but at the same time:

- God is revealing: the nature of the adversary; allowing him to show himself for what he is.

V. 1: another revelation is about to begin; the “last” plagues, maybe in contrast to the trumpets (“first”?); also, the wrath of God...is finished. We have come to the end of a process. The “wrath of God”:

1. letting go – permission to loose the restraints, and
2. revelation – exposing the adversary for who he is Vv2-4: the sea of glass – at the foot of the throne of the heavenly council (Rev 4:);
 - a. The harps of God – Rev 14:1-2

A victory celebration for and by those who had won the war. Singing (echoes of the seeming chaotic choirs, chants, etc described in the heavenly council after the Lamb stepped up to open the seals). Hymns that speak primarily to the kind of person God is! Your deeds, Your ways, Your name and Your judgments – have been revealed!

Song of Moses (Deut 32:4); review Moses’ story: Moses was kept from entering the Promised Land after striking the rock, when God had told him to speak to it (Num 20:7-11); He was God’s representative, and by striking the rock, he misrepresented God’s character and methods. Moses admits to his failure, and in his song, he “gets it right!”

But this song is sung by both Moses and the Lamb! What a Seal of Approval! And sung in concert with Jesus.

Revelation 15:5-8 continues the heavenly context for the giving of the seven last plagues.

v. 8: Read . 8 And the temple was filled with smoke from the glory of God and from His power; and no one was able to enter the temple until the seven plagues of the seven angels were finished.

It is important to notice that no one is in the temple in heaven when these plagues fall. Previously, the throne room in heaven was full of millions upon millions of heavenly beings. Might this “mean” (?)/lead us to believe that the events connected to the seven last plagues will take place after the close of probation.

Would someone like to summarize what we mean by “close of probation”?

Does anyone have any insight to affirm the idea that the close of probation has already happened PRIOR to the 7 last plagues? Why would it even matter?

To one who believes that the catastrophes wrought in the 7 seals/trumpets/plagues are “from the hand of God”, as “punitive judgement” or “covenant curses” on the unbelieving/unrepentant -- these plagues would then be falling on permanently deaf ears. So, to what end? punishment? retribution?? Stick it to ‘em? WHAT DOES THAT SAY ABOUT GOD?!?!

SUNDAY

(last para) The expression “no one was able to enter into the temple” (Rev. 15:8, NKJV) points to the close of probation (Rev. 22:11). As Christ’s mediatorial ministry in heaven (He is certainly in heaven, but his mediatorial ministry is involved in changing His people here...working in their minds to heal and restore.) comes to an end, the door of opportunity to repent closes forever. Therefore, the last plagues will not bring anyone to repentance, but only disclose the hardness of the hearts of those who chose to side with Babylon, prompting them to hate God even more (Rev. 16:9, 11).

The temple is a symbol of God’s people. We are all spiritual stones built into one building that is designed to house God. In all the previous times mentioned when God’s glory fills the temple, nobody could enter it. In Exodus 40:34-35, Moses could not enter the tent of meeting. In 1 Kings 8:10-11 and 2 Chronicles 5:13-14, the glory of God filled the temple like a cloud, and the priests could no longer serve. So, in this metaphor, God’s people -- his temple -- is so filled with the character of God Himself that there is no longer any need for the “priest’s” duties to be fulfilled.

Summation thus far:

- God is active: HIS angels, HE directs the releasing of the actions of the adversary; even actively “letting go”...

but at the same time:

- God is revealing: the nature of the adversary; allowing him to show himself for what he is.

MONDAY

(1st para) With the cessation of Christ’s intercession in the heavenly sanctuary, the destiny of each individual is forever determined. Determined by what? Jesus stops because what He has been working for has been achieved. The glory of the Lord is in His temple. (glory=character, temple=His people) Everyone else has rejected the truth enough that they no longer hear it. The time has come for those who have spurned the gospel to experience God’s wrath in its fullness. True, but written poorly. “The time has come for those who have rejected the truth, the good news about God’s character, to experience what happens when God lets them stay in error. They are so tied the lies that He cannot reach them anymore, so He lets them go.

Going back to v. 7 imagery:

7 Then one of the four living creatures gave to the seven angels seven golden bowls full of the wrath of God (NASB)

Some might say, “How can this be read as anything OTHER than coming from the hand of God?”

Here I want to point out the picture from The Remedy: aren't you drawn to The Remedy's description of the 7 bowls as "God's heartbreaking disengagement" and "the final 7-step release of God's restraint"

In fact, let me read them by verse, from The Remedy :

15:7 . seven gold bowls filled with the heartbreaking disengagement of God who is the source of all life. The gold bowls are symbolic of God's stepwise release of those who choose to be separate from him.

15:8 . the final seven-step release of God's restraint

16:1 ...the seven bowls God's heartbreaking disengagement upon the earth.

16:2 ... symbolizing God's love granting people their final choice of rejecting him, and allowing them to reap the consequences of their choice by no longer shielding them with his protective hand

16:3,4,8,10 symbolizing the withdrawing of God's protective and life-sustaining presence from the earth

16:12 ...symbolizing the withdrawing of God's forces of righteousness

16:17 ... symbolizing God's restraining and protective presence being completely removed from the earth

SUNDAY

The Meaning of the Seven Last Plagues

(1st para) People have already made their choice either for God or for Babylon. Before Christ comes, however, the destructive winds of Satan's fury that have been restrained (Rev. 7:1-3) are unleashed, followed by the seven last plagues.

Review imagery of 4 angels releasing winds of strife: Rev 7:1-3.

What are the four angels doing? Holding back the winds of strife, the forces of evil, satanic agencies, thus their power to harm the earth is by letting go their hold – just like God let Satan loose in the book of Job.

EGW supports this view:

The restraining Spirit of God is even now being withdrawn from the world. Hurricanes, storms, tempests, fire and flood, disasters by sea and land, follow each other in quick succession. Science seeks to explain all these. The signs thickening around us, telling of the near approach of the Son of God, are attributed to any other than the true cause. Men cannot discern the sentinel angels restraining the four winds that they shall not blow until the servants of God are sealed; but when God shall bid His angels loose the winds, there shall be such a scene of strife as no pen can picture.—Testimonies, vol. 6, p. 408.

Four mighty angels are still holding the four winds of the earth. Terrible destruction is forbidden to come in full. The accidents by land and by sea; the loss of life, steadily increasing, by storm, by tempest, by railroad disaster, by conflagration; the terrible floods, the earthquakes, and the winds will be the stirring up of the nations to one deadly combat, while the angels hold the four winds, forbidding the terrible power of Satan to be exercised in its fury until the servants of God are sealed in their foreheads. {ML 308.2}

If there are no objections, I'm going to skip Sunday's content, because, it asks us to "compare and contrast" the 7 last plagues with the 10 plagues on Egypt.

1. The analogy is weak, vaguely repetitive and only incomplete alignment between the 7 last plagues and the 10 plagues upon Egypt
2. And, as I understand them, in the plagues of Egypt, GOD was the acting subject, yet the 7 last plagues are NOT God acting, but demonic activity.

Later, I'd like to demonstrate the comparison of the last plagues and the TRUMPETS sequence. (And then ask yourself why the quarterly might not be making this much more OBVIOUS comparison?)

[The plagues of Egypt were intended to reveal the truth about God and to convince the Egyptians (and probably also the Israelites) of the uselessness of worshiping false gods. Each plague pointed out and worked against one of the false gods and its "power." Pharaoh hardened his own heart against this truth, as did many of his people.

God was acting to demonstrate that He is the only true God, that the gods they worshiped were not God. God was responsible for presenting the evidence, but then God left Pharaoh free to decide how they would respond to the evidence. Would they repent and humble themselves before the Lord or would they reject the truth and thereby harden their heart?]

(2st para) The seven last plagues are referred to as the "last" plagues because they come at the very end of earth's history. Maybe to contrast the "first" plagues, i.e., the trumpets? "Last" in that with them, God's wrath (letting go) is complete. 15:2 Rem: "last" because when these are released, God will have ceased all intercession on earth. In contrast, the plagues of the seven trumpets cover the time period that includes the entire Christian age and are restricted in their scope. Historicist/New Historicist viewpoint. They are executed while the gospel still is being preached ([Rev. 10:8-11:14) and intercession is taking place (Rev. 8:2-5). They are mixed with mercy, and their purpose is to bring the enemy of God's people to repentance.]

 (3rd para) On the other hand, the seven last plagues are poured out just prior to the Second Coming. They are poured out upon those who, like Pharaoh, hardened their hearts against God's redeeming love and would not repent (Rev. 16:11). Divine wrath is God's righteous judgment on the choices people have made (Rom. 1:26-28), and at that time the lost are reaping the consequences of their own choices. Translation: Gods righteous judgment is His correct diagnosis of the condition of all, based on the choices they have made. God lets go of those who have rejected Him, leaving them to the consequences of their own choices.*

Do you see how EASY it is to interpret using the penal view?

All the more reason to flood our minds with this picture of God!

MONDAY

The Outpouring of the Last Plagues

I am a member in the library SS class at the big church; I taught the week of the Trumpets, to less than grand fanfare. I dissented with the Quarterly position that the trumpet “plagues” were “divine judgments of retribution, “punitive judgments” and/or “covenant curses”, as described by its authors. Instead, I hold that the plaques were delivered by the adversary; they have his “fingerprints” all over them!

And while the vast majority of Christianity agrees with the SS authors’ conclusions, I’m holding out: based on what I know to be true about God, He just can’t be saying all along, “All I want from you is your love and devotion”. Only to, in the end, say, “... or I’ll have to kill you.”

Particularly Trumpet/Bowl #6: Both revolve around the Euphrates river.

Can you imagine that this correlation is an accident? This is “recapitulation”; Revelation being consistent with itself, within the text itself (see Proviso #1). More easily seen when RE-reading Revelation, as I have strived to do during this quarter and would recommend doing – particularly listening to audio version. Do your own thinking and come to your own conclusions.

Can you imagine why the quarterly authors might not have drawn attention to these comparisons?

Read Rev 16:12-16: 6th bowl

Conclusions of the Bowl plagues:

1. The bowls recapitulate the trumpets – only they are worse
2. The identity of the acting subject that is in the foreground in the trumpet cycle carries over into the bowl cycle.
3. In the sixth trumpet, Satan is not just barely active; he is not just acted upon; he is – instead – acting with all stops pulled!

#	TRUMPETS	BOWLS
1	Hail, fire, and blood fall on the earth .	The bowl is poured on the earth .
2	A blazing mountain falls into the sea . One third of the sea becomes blood . A third of sea creatures die.	The bowl is poured on the seas . The seas become blood . Every living thing in them dies .
3	A blazing star falls on a third of rivers and fountains of water .	The bowl is poured on rivers and fountains of water .
4	A third of sun, moon, and stars are struck, resulting in darkness.	The bowl is poured on the sun , resulting in fierce heat.
5	Shaft of the bottomless pit opened. Sun and air are darkened with smoke. Locusts appear to torture people.	The bowl is poured out on the throne of the beast , plunging it into darkness. People bit their tongues in severe pain.
6	The four angels bound at the great river Euphrates are released. Cavalry numbering two hundred million kills a third of humanity.	The bowl is poured on the great river Euphrates . Kings of the world assemble for battle on the great day of God the Almighty in a place called Armageddon .
7	Loud voices in heaven announce the coming of the kingdom of God and Christ.	The bowl is poured into the air . A loud voice from the throne announces “It is done.”

TUESDAY

Drying Up the Euphrates River

Read Revelation 16:12 along with Revelation 17:1 and 15. What does the symbol of the Euphrates stand for? What is the significance of the drying up of the Euphrates in the context of the seven last plagues?

Compare and contrast the quarterly's interpretation of this event with Tim's understanding of the "drying up of the Euphrates" and the "kings from the east" (Wednesday), as we read in The Remedy. Diametrically opposite.

I'll leave interpretation of particular symbols to others...

(3rd para) The symbolic drying up of the Euphrates in Revelation 16:12 results in the collapse of Babylon in the end time. Because the Euphrates in Revelation represents the world's civil, secular, and political powers giving their support to Babylon, the drying up of the Euphrates symbolizes the withdrawal of their support and their subsequent attack against Babylon, thereby causing its downfall.

As the people of the world witness the upheaval in nature (Rev. 16:3-9), they turn to Babylon for protection. However, as the fifth plague strikes the seat of Babylon's authority (Rev. 16:10-11), they see the futility of seeking help there. Feeling deceived, they turn against Babylon, causing her downfall (Rev. 17:16). Yet, as we have seen, their hearts remain hard against God and His people. As such, they become fertile soil for the final deception by which Satan will draw the world to unite against God's people to wipe them off the face of the earth.

In what ways have you learned how risky it is to place your trust in humans and in human institutions?

Interesting question...for isn't our church a human institution? I agree, that our trust should be in God and not in individual people or in the institutions people create and/or maintain.

Read Revelation 16:13-14. What is the role of the three unclean spirits in the preparation for the battle of Armageddon? How are they a satanic counterfeit of the three angels' messages in Revelation 14 ? (See 1 Tim. 4:1)

WEDNESDAY

(Wed 3rd para) Through the final events leading up to the close of probation, every human being will be led to choose on which of the two sides he or she will stand in the battle of Armageddon. As a prelude to this spiritual warfare, John sees three demonic spirits resembling frogs. Satan's last attempt to deceive involves demonic, lying spirits.

The dragon (paganism and spiritualism), the sea beast (Roman Catholicism) , and the false prophet (apostate Protestantism) unite under Satan's command (Rev. 13:11-12). Satan enables the lamblike beast to perform miraculous signs (Rev. 13:13-17) that includes spiritualistic manifestations. These signs are part of Satan's end-time deceptive strategy to persuade the world to follow him rather than the true God.

Blinded by their hatred of God and His truth, the leaders of the world readily believe Satan's lies, which are cloaked in a pleasing religious guise (2 Thess. 2:9-12). Ultimately, they will unite in the final battle leading to the end of this world.

THURSDAY

Gathering for the Battle of Armageddon

(3rd para) The "mountain of Megiddo" is an apparent allusion to Mount Carmel that towers above the valley in which the ancient city of Megiddo was located. Mount Carmel was the site of one of the greatest clashes in Israel's history, between God's true prophet (Elijah) and the false prophets of Baal (1 Kings 18). This showdown answered the question, "Who is the true God?" The fire that came from heaven demonstrated that the Lord was the only true God and the only one to be worshiped. While the spiritual issue of the battle of Armageddon - Will we obey God or man? - is decided before the plagues fall, those who side with the dragon, the beast, and the false prophet (Rev. 16:13), will then be totally controlled by the devil (as Judas was, leading up to Christ's crucifixion [Luke 22:3]).

Having chosen the losing side, they will be among those who cry for the mountains to hide them (Rev. 6:16; read also 2 Thess. 1:7-8). Before the plagues fall, however, Revelation 13:13-14 portrays the earth beast bringing fire down from heaven to deceive the world into thinking that Satan's counterfeit, which will include false revivals led by another spirit, is the work of God.

(5th para) Armageddon is not a military battle among nations to be fought somewhere in the Middle East, but a global spiritual contest in which Christ decisively confronts the forces of darkness (2 Cor. 10:4). The outcome will be like that at Carmel but on a worldwide scale - with God's triumph over the forces of darkness.

Armageddon will not be some kind of military battle either in the Middle East or anywhere else on the earth. It will be a spiritual battle over who is telling the truth and whom we can trust. The weapon will be truth vs. falsehood, love vs. selfishness.

2019 Q1 The Book of Revelation - Lesson 12

Judgment on Babylon

By Linda Ojala

SABBATH

Read Revelation 17, 18

Memory Text - "And I heard another voice from heaven saying, 'Come out of her, my people, lest you share in her sins, and lest you receive of her plagues. For her sins have reached to heaven, and God has remembered her iniquities.'" Rev. 18:4,5

Two weeks ago, I gave the view that the multiple Christian beliefs stem from a vital truth/s being found, out of all the error in the previous beliefs, and the joy of this discovery, followed by the creation of a new denomination, as being like hot lava. This enthusiasm cools down over time, as lava does, and the believers stay right where they are, holding tight to this/these new belief/s.

Another new truth is found, and the same thing happens. Then another and another and another.

We have to ask ourselves, "Could this be true of our church as well? Could we be so content with the truth we have, that we are not open to any other truth God may reveal, and so become like cold lava...hardened and unyielding?"

I recommend reading Councils to Writers and Editors, by E.G. White, Pages 34-41 for her position on new light that should be coming even until the end of time. A few examples of what you will find there:

"A spirit of pharisaism has been coming in upon the people who claim to believe the truth for these last days. They are self-satisfied. They have said, 'We have the truth. There is no more light for the people of God.' But we are not safe when we take a position that we will not accept anything else than that upon which we have settled as truth. We should take the Bible, and investigate it closely for ourselves. We should dig in the mine of God's word for truth. 'Light is sown for the righteous, and gladness for the upright in heart.' Some have asked me if I thought there was any more light for the people of God. Our minds have become so narrow that we do not seem to understand that the Lord has a mighty work to do for us. Increasing light is to shine upon us; for 'the path of the just is as the shining light, that shineth more and more unto the perfect day.'" Page 34

"New light will ever be revealed on the word of God to him who is in living connection with the Sun of Righteousness. Let no one come to the conclusion that there is no more truth to be revealed. The diligent, prayerful seeker for truth will find precious rays of light yet to shine forth from the work of God. Many gems are yet scattered that are to be gathered together to become the property of the remnant people of God.” Page 35

“There is no excuse for anyone in taking the position that there is no more truth to be revealed, and that all our expositions of Scripture are without an error. The fact that certain doctrines have been held as truth for many years by our people, is not a proof that our ideas are infallible. Age will not make error into truth, and truth can afford to be fair. No true doctrine will lose anything by close investigation.” Page 35

Great Controversy, by E.G. White, page 651 says

“...through the eternal ages new truth will continually unfold to the wondering and delighted mind.”

So, what is Babylon?

According to abarim-publications.com, Babel means a “confused” mix of voices and other sounds, from Babhel (Hebrew) “Gate of the deity” or “Gate of God.” When a tower was being made to reach up to God and prevent death from another flood.

- Then, it came to mean “confusion” when the multiple languages were created and distributed by God.
- How is something adulterated – it is made impure by mixing something else in.

The Great Controversy, by E.G. White, pg. 382, 383,

“Says the Apostle James: “Ye adulterers and adulteresses, know ye not that the friendship of the world is enmity with God? Whosoever therefore will be a friend of the world is the enemy of God.”.....“It was by departure from the Lord, and alliance with the heathen, that the Jewish church became a harlot; and Rome, corrupting herself in like manner by seeking the support of worldly powers, receives a like condemnation. Babylon is said to be 'the mother of harlots.' By her daughters must be symbolized churches that cling to her doctrines and traditions, and follow her example of sacrificing the truth and the approval of God, in order to form an unlawful alliance with the world. The message of Revelation 14, announcing the fall of Babylon must apply to religious bodies that were once pure and have become corrupt. Since this message follows the warning of the judgment, it must be given in the last days.....in the eighteenth chapter of the Revelation the people of God are called upon to come out of Babylon. According to this scripture, many of God's people must still be in Babylon.”

Speaking about the people of Israel in slavery in Egypt prior to their exodus, Patriarchs and Prophets, by E.G. White, pg 260, says, “Many were content to remain in bondage rather than leave Egypt.” We understand this as, 'Better the evil you know, than the evil you don't'. The plagues encouraged them to look to God and want to follow Him out into the great unknown.

In Sabbath's lesson, first paragraph,

“The sixth plague causes the symbolic drying up of the Euphrates, as the disillusioned people of the world withdraw their popular support from end-time Babylon.”

In Sabbath's lesson, second paragraph,

“At the outset of the final battle, a great earthquake occurs as part of the seventh plague. The earthquake shatters the unity of Babylon and splits it into three parts (Rev. 16:18,19). End-time Babylon is portrayed as a city, signifying the short-term union of the political and religious powers of the world in opposition to God's people. This unity is shattered, causing the breakup of end-time Babylon.”

The shake up of what appears to be solid ground.

SUNDAY

The Harlot Babylon

Sunday's lesson, first paragraph says,

“A woman in the Bible is a symbol for God's people (church). In Revelation, God's true church is portrayed as a pure woman (Rev. 12:1, 22:17). A harlot thus represents a false apostate church. In Revelation 17:5, this harlot is identified as Babylon the Great. Just as ancient Babylon depended on the Euphrates River for its existence, so will end-time Babylon rely on the support of the masses to enforce her plans.”

- Revelation 14:8, “Babylon the Great, which made all nations drink of the maddening wine of her adulteries.”
- Revelation 17:2, “Great prostitute, who sits on many waters. With her the kings of the earth committed adultery and the inhabitants of the earth were intoxicated with the wine of her adulteries.”
- Revelation 18:2,3, “Fallen, Fallen is Babylon the Great! She has become a home for demons and a haunt for every evil spirit, a haunt for every unclean and detestable bird. For all the nations have drunk the maddening wine of her adulteries. The kings of the earth committed adultery with her, and the merchants of the earth grew rich from her excessive luxuries.”

What two groups of people are specified as being involved in an illicit relationship with, and being seduced by, end-time Babylon?

1. Kings of the earth, the governing political powers – A union of church and state.

2. The inhabitants of the earth, the governed masses, who are intoxicated by Babylon's false teaching and practices, deceived into thinking that she can protect them. When people are drunk, they do not think clearly and are controlled easily.

The point: The masses of the people get it wrong. What should this tell us about the dangers of following popular sentiment?

MONDAY

The Harlot Riding on the Scarlet Beast

Monday's lesson, first paragraph,

“While the harlot represents a religious entity, the beast symbolized a political power....The picture of religion riding the secular and political power....shows...that these two entities will join together at the end time. The concept of riding a beast denotes dominance....this end-time religious system will dominate the secular and political powers.”

Second paragraph, “The harlot is pictured as extravagantly arrayed in purple and scarlet and adorned with ornaments of gold, precious stones, and pearls; such adornments of gold, precious stones, and pearls; such adornment was a practice of harlots in antiquity to enhance their power of seduction (Jer. 4:30).”

Symbolic of her vanity and self-promotion.

- “As the color of blood, scarlet corresponds to the oppressive character of this religious system.”
- “The harlot's dress counterfeits the attire of the high priest in the old Testament, attire that included the colors purple, scarlet, and gold.(Exod. 28:5,6)”
- “The blasphemous inscription on the harlot's forehead also replaces the priestly inscription, 'Holiness to the Lord' on the miter of the high priest (Exod. 28:36-38)” “Mysterious Babylon the Great” – the confusing system of religious tradition, fable and falsehood that obscures the truth about God. “The Mother of Prostitutes” - the many diverse religious sects who sell their virtue for earthly advantage and seduce others into their bed of lies about God.” “The Abomination of the Earth”
- “The cup in her hand reminds us of the vessels of the sanctuary from which Belshazzar, king of Babylon, and his guests drank wine (Dan. 5:2-4). The cup on the harlot's hand uses the appearance of truth to conceal the wine – the falsehoods of Satan's end-time religious system – in order to seduce the world away from God.” Intoxicating brew of lies, distortions, and false presentation about God.
- The harlot Babylon is further described as drunk with the blood of the saints and the martyrs of Jesus who died as a result of their witness to Christ. This blood-guiltiness links end-time Babylon to medieval apostate Christianity, which was led by the papacy and responsible for the deaths of millions of Christians who remained faithful to the gospel.”

In the green section:

“The description of the harlot Babylon reflects the image of Jezebel in the church of Thyatira (Rev. 2:20-23). How do the parallels between these two women elucidate the character of end-time Babylon? Dictatorial, Destructive, Deceptive, and Demonic.”

TUESDAY

The Identification of the Scarlet Beast

Tuesday's lesson, first paragraph,

“Though living in an age of ecumenism, Protestants would do well to remember the terrible persecution of the past, because, according to prophecy, something similar, but only worse, will happen again.”

“The beast, which you saw, once was, now is not, and will come up out of the Abyss and go to his destruction.” Revelation 17:8

- “How does Revelation 13:3 clarify the three phases of the existence and activities of the beast?” “One of the heads of the beast seemed to have had a fatal wound, but the fatal wound had been healed. The whole world was astonished and followed the beast.”
- Revelation 13:8, “All inhabitants of the earth will worship the beast – all whose names have not been written in the book of life, belonging to the Lamb that was slain from the creation of the world.”

Second paragraph,

“The scarlet beast is identified as the one that was, and is not, and will ascend out of the bottomless pit and go to perdition. This tripartite phrase is, first of all, a counterfeit of the divine name, Yahweh, “who is and who was and who is to come.” (Rev. 1:4, Rev. 4:8)

It also further points to the three phases of existence through which the beast has passed:

1. The beast “once was” - It existed in the past. It's prior activities lasted for the prophetic period of 42 months, also known as 1,260 days/years (see Rev. 13:5 and Lesson 9, Sunday).
2. “Now is not.” With its deadly wound (see Rev. 13:3), the beast went into its “nonexistence phase, at least as a persecutor, in 1798. It vanished for some time from the world scene; yet it survived.

3. Finally, with the healing of the deadly wound, the beast will regain its power “Will come up out of the Abyss and go to his destruction” and exert it in full satanic rage. Once again there will be a short-lived union of religion and politics as it existed during the Middle Ages, and persecution again will take place.

“Let opposition arise, let bigotry and intolerance again bear sway, let persecution be kindled, and the halfhearted and hypocritical will waver and yield the faith; but the true Christian will stand firm as a rock, his faith stronger, his hope brighter, than in the days of prosperity.” Ellen G. White, The Great Controversy, P. 602

The Seven Heads of the Beast

Wednesday's lesson, first paragraph,

“The angel explains that the seven heads are seven mountains. Some translators think that these mountains allude to the seven hills upon which the city of Rome is situated, and for this reason, they translate the Greek word oroi (“mountains”) as “hills.”

“There are seven kings, too, who are symbolized by the seven mountains. Also, these mountains are successive, not simultaneous.”

Second paragraph,

“These mountains do not symbolize individual kings, because Revelation does not deal with individual persons, but with systems.”

- In the Bible, mountains often symbolize world powers or empires (Jer. 51:25; Ezek. 35:2,3)
- In biblical prophecy, “Kings” represent kingdoms (Dan. 2:37-39, Dan. 7:17)
- Thus, the seven mountains symbolize seven great successive empires that dominated the world throughout history, through which Satan opposed God and harmed God's people.
- From John's time perspective, five of these empires have fallen, one is, and the other has not yet come.
- While no single view has been agreed upon by all Adventist interpreters, many hold that the five that have fallen are the great kingdoms that in Old Testament times dominated and (on occasion) harmed God's people: Egypt, Assyria, Babylon, Media-Persia, and Greece.
- The “one is” kingdom was the Roman Empire of John's time.
- These kingdoms sound like the image Nebuchadnezzar saw in a dream predicting the current and subsequent kingdoms (Dan. 2,3)
- The seventh kingdom that “Has not yet come” is the sea beast of Revelation 13 – the Papacy, which dominated and harmed God's people. History has powerfully attested to the truth of this prophecy, written many centuries before the events unfolded.

- John is further told that the scarlet beast is an eighth world power, although it is one of the seven heads (world powers). Because these heads are sequential in time, the eighth must be the seventh head that received the deadly wound....Today, we live at the time of the healing of the deadly wound. This eighth world power will appear on the scene right before the end and will go to perdition.

Another point of view is that the seven heads represent seven false theories, or theological systems, that fill the minds of human beings, and are represented as seven mountains, or high places of worship, on which the woman sits.

They are also represented as seven false kings who try to usurp the place of Jesus, the true King.

THURSDAY

The Judgment of Babylon

Thursday's lesson, first paragraph,

“Different interpretations have been offered regarding the identities of the ten kings....we can derive from the text is that they are a short-lived political confederacy appearing right before the end and supporting the harlot.

- Their number signifies that the world powers will render total, unwavering allegiance to the beast.
- *Could it be the ten toes of the image that Nebuchadnezzar saw?

Second paragraph, Revelation 17:3,4 reiterates the battle of Armageddon – introduced in Rev. 16:12-16.

“...the battle of Armageddon is not a military battle in the Middle East but the final conflict of the Second Coming in which Satan and his confederacy fight against Christ and His angelic host.

Third paragraph,

“Filled with hatred, the ten horns, which are the successor powers to the divided nations of Europe, suddenly turn against the harlot Babylon (the end-time manifestation of the papacy), making her desolate and naked; they symbolically will eat her flesh and burn her with fire....Burning by fire was the punishment for a priest's daughter who was involved in sexual immorality (Lev 21:9). The deceived political powers have become disillusioned because of the inability of Babylon to protect them from the plagues. They feel deceived and, in hostility, attack her. This end-time apostate religious system, together with all those who choose to identify themselves with it, experiences the fullness of divine judgment.”

Could what is being described be experiencing the release of God's protections? They think it is God's divine judgment, but in fact, God is letting them go, giving them up to their own choices.

“They [the ten horns] will make war against the Lamb, but the Lamb will overcome them because he is Lord of lords and King of kings – and with him will be his called, chosen and faithful followers.” Revelation 17:14,

Spend so much time learning about God and communing with Him through prayer and His work, that we know, love and trust Him. So that we “know His voice” and follow His directions.

“Pay her double from her own cup. Give her as much torture and grief as the glory and luxury she gave herself.” Revelation 18:6,7

NOTE: What a surprising thing to say!

Who would think that self-centeredness was the core issue that is the problem with Babylon!

What does this say about the “Prosperity Gospel” so popular now?

“It will be just like this [Referencing Noah/The flood and Lot/destruction of Sodom and Gomorrah] on the day the Son of Man is revealed.” Luke 17:20-37

By their own choices their fate was “Sealed.”

Judgment vs punishment – same event, different point of view?

“When your judgments come upon the earth, the people of the world learn righteousness. Though grace is shown to the wicked, they do not learn righteousness; even in a land of uprightness they go on doing evil and regard not the majesty of the Lord.” Isaiah 26:9-11

“...They were seared by the intense heat and they cursed the name of God, who had control over these plagues, but they refused to repent and glorify Him.....Men gnawed their tongues in agony and cursed the God of heaven because of their pains and their sores, but they refused to repent of what they had done.” Revelation 16:9-11

Doesn't this remind you of Pharaoh with the plagues of Egypt in Exodus 7-12?

The Great Controversy, by E.G. White, pg. 639, 640

“That holy law, God's Righteousness, that amid thunder and flames was proclaimed from Sinai as the guide of life, is now revealed to men as the rule of judgment. ...God's ten words, brief, comprehensive, and authoritative, are presented to the view of all the inhabitants of the earth...The Lord have them His law; they might have compared their characters with it and learned their defects while there was yet opportunity for repentance and reform; but in order to secure the favor of the world, they set aside its precepts and taught others to transgress. They have endeavored to compel God's people to profane His Sabbath. Now they are condemned by that law which they have despised. With awful distinctness they see that they are without excuse. The chose whom they would serve and worship.....The enemies of God's law, from the ministers down to the least among, them, have a new conception of truth and duty. Too late they see that the Sabbath of the fourth commandment is the seal of the living God."

Whose "sign" do we believe in and support? Whose "wedding ring" do we wear? Whose "flag" do we fight under? THIS is our God!!

The Great Controversy, by E.G. White, pg. 638,

"Through a rift in the clouds there beams a star whose brilliancy is increased fourfold in contrast with the darkness. It speaks hope and joy to the faithful, but severity and wrath to the transgressors of God's law."

NOTE: The same events are seen differently by the two groups.

FRIDAY

Further Thought

Friday's lesson, Discussion Questions:

How should we treat others that hold different beliefs than we do?

Evangelism, by E. G. White, pg. 575 says,

"This message must be given, but while it must be given, we should be careful not to thrust and crowd and condemn those who have no the light that we have....Those who have had great privileges and opportunities, and who have failed to improve their physical, mental, and moral powers....are in greater danger and in greater condemnation before God than those who are in error upon doctrinal points yet who seek to live to do good to others."

When Elijah thought he was the only Godly man left, God assured him he had 7,000 who have not bowed to Bael. 1 Kings 19:14-18, Romans 11:2-5

"Do not judge, or you too will be judged. For in the same way you judge others, you will be judges, and with the measure you use, it will be measured to you. Why do you look at the speck of sawdust in your brother's eye and pay no attention to the plank in your own eye? How can you say to your brother, 'Let me take the speck out of your eye.' when all the time there is a plank in your own eye? You hypocrite, first take the plank out of your own eye, and then you will see clearly to remove the speck from your brother's eye.” Matthew 7:1-5

How easy is it for us to think the error is all “Out there”?

Remember the story of David, Bathsheba, and the prophet Nathan in 2 Samuel 11 and 12. “You are the man!” By condemning the man who took his neighbor's pet lamb, David condemned himself

“In one day” and “in one hour” - Notice the speed of Babylon's downfall which is emphasized in Revelation 18:8, 10, 17, 19. In prophetic time (a day = a year), “one hour” in prophetic time would translate to around two weeks.

Testimonies for the Church, by E. G. White, Volume 6, pg 408, says,

“The restraining Spirit of God is even now being withdrawn from the world. Hurricanes, storms, tempests, fire and flood, disasters by sea and land, follow each other in quick succession. Science seeks to explain all these. The signs thickening around us, telling of the near approach of the Son of God, are attributed to any other than the true cause. Men cannot discern the sentinel angels restraining the four winds that they shall not blow until the servants of God are sealed; but when God shall bid His angels loose the winds, there shall be such a scene of strife as no pen can picture.”

Testimonies for the Church, by E. G. White, Volume 69 pg 11, says,

“The days in which we live are solemn and important. The Spirit of God is gradually but surely being withdrawn from the earth. Plagues and judgments are already falling upon the despisers of the grace of God. The calamities by land and sea, the unsettled state of society, the alarms of war, are portentous. They forecast approaching events of the greatest magnitude. The agencies of evil are combining their forces, and consolidating. They are strengthening for the last great crisis. Great changes are soon to take place in our world, and the final movements will be rapid ones.”

Christ's Object Lessons, by E.G. White, pg 415, 416 says,

“The last message of mercy to be given to the world is a revelation of His character of love. The children of God are to manifest His glory. In their own life and character they are to reveal what the grace of God has done for them.”

“Therefore the Lord, the Lord Almighty, the Mighty One of Israel, declares: ‘Ah, I will vent my wrath on my foes and avenge myself on my enemies. I will turn my hand against you; I will thoroughly purge away your dross and remove all your impurities’.” Isaiah 1:24, 25

“Strengthen the feeble hands, steady the knees that give way; say to those with fearful hearts, ‘Be strong, do not fear; your God will come, he will come with vengeance; with divine retribution he will come to save you.’” Isaiah 35:3,4

*What is the best retribution for a person who has been killed, diseased, deceived, etc? Healing and restoration – Salvation!

Read Revelation 17 and 18 in the Remedy Bible

“When I think of the wisdom and scope of God's plan, I fall to my knees and pray to the Father, the Creator of everything in heaven and on earth, I pray that from His glorious, unlimited resources He will give you mighty inner strength through His Holy Spirit. And I pray that Christ will be more and more at home in your hearts as you trust in Him. May your roots go down deep into the soil of God's marvelous love. And may you have the power to understand, as all God's people should, how wide, how long, how high, and how deep His love really is. May you experience the love of Christ, though it is so great you will never fully understand it. Then you will be filled with the fullness of life and power that comes from God. Now glory be to God! By His mighty power at work within us, He is able to accomplish infinitely more than we would ever dare to ask of hope.” Ephesians 3:14-20

“Lord, you establish peace for us; all that we have accomplished you have done for us.” Isaiah 26:12

NEXT WEEK CLASS WILL START AT 10 A.M. AND STOP AT 11 A.M. FOLLOWED BY Q&A TO DISCUSS THE NEW PAMPHLET

Australia Report:

First HUGE Thanks to Simon Harrison and his fiancé Maani who have been so helpful in not only organizing this entire event, but also in heading up C&R Ministries in Australia.

Also, if you have appreciated The Remedy New Testament all the editing has been done by Mirra Huber, who lives in Tasmania Australia. Well it was such a privilege to get to meet Mirra and her sister at our last stop in Melbourne. What a blessing Mirra has been to us!

There are so many more people we want to thank, but are fearful of forgetting someone—truly too many to remember everyone but we have so many friends down under who love this message—thank you all!

We were reminded that we are in a war between Christ and Satan and the devil does not want this message going forward, but God overruled every time.

When we left our plane was delayed in ATL 45 minutes and then after we took off in the first few minutes of flight our plane was hit by lightning, which was quite frightening, but no harm and we kept going. Then when we got to LAX we were held on the tarmac for 45 minutes so when we finally got off we had to run through the airport and barely made our connection to Brisbane, but we made it—but our luggage didn't. We arrived in Brisbane Friday morning, spoke Friday evening and Sabbath and then left Brisbane Sunday morning. Our luggage finally caught up with us an hour before we left on Sunday morning. While there I got food poisoning or a GI bug and was nauseated and sick on my stomach for 7 days—so to all our Australian friends, if I seemed less social, please forgive me. But, every time I got up to speak the nausea went away and I was energized and had a clear mind.

We were so positively received and this message is changing lives all over the world.

We had people come up to us at every venue and tell us they watch this class every week and it has changed their lives. Many said to tell each of you hello and how they appreciate you and your questions and all our substitute teachers when I am gone. Truly there were far too many stories for me to remember them all but here is a sampling:

- A young man in late 20's came up to me and told how he had been an atheist but came across our material online and it has completely changed his life and he now believes in God and has given his life to Christ.
- A lovely gentleman and his wife drove over five hours to come to our event and he told me they are Christians but not SDAs and came across our material online and have read all my books and it has transformed their lives.
- A woman in her 70's came up to me and told me she has been a lifelong Adventist, a pastor's wife but had been so discouraged with Adventism that she was about to leave the church when she came across our material. And with tears in her eyes and as smile on her face, she grabbed my hands and squeezed them telling me how much God has used this ministry to reach her—that she has such a love relationship with God now.
- One lady came up to me and said that she was in the SDA church her entire life but so many things didn't make sense and she was really struggling. She came across our materials and started reading and listening, but was afraid because it seemed to contradict so many things she had been taught in the church. She said that she had been praying that God would show her the truth, but as she was studying our material it was contradicting so much of the traditional stuff that was getting stressed and afraid and unsure and was just calling out to God to know what to do. Then one evening as she was struggling with this question, she heard God speak to her and say, “You wanted to know the truth—this is the truth.” She said, since then she has embraced this message and has had such peace and the doubts have resolved.

- After my talk on The Science of Belief in which I describe quantum mechanics and string theory, how all reality is connected through these invisible strings, a woman and her husband came up and said that she knows what I am teaching is the truth because she didn’t believe in God, and refused to believe in God, was living with a lot of stress and one day God gave her the awareness of how all things in the universe are connected by Him and through Him. She said it was so powerful she knew God was real and gave her heart to Him.
- In Melbourne, a Baptist pastor came to the meetings and stopped to tell us how much he appreciated the message and wanted our materials to share at his church.
- A message came in online: “Thank you for your ministry and visit to Nunawading Victoria Australia, it is helping my family members who stopped worshipping God many years ago get a new fresh positive perspective of God and His character. May God continue to bless you as you share the ‘Good News’ of a loving Creator Designer God around the world.”

Our last stop in Melbourne, was such a positive experience. We were in the main church auditorium at the Conference Office Headquarters and there was standing room only, they opened a bonus room and had to bring in extra chairs and still people were standing out in the hall, which was a surprise for the church leadership as it was a holiday weekend and they didn’t expect a large attendance.

I received a couple of emails since getting back:

Dear Tim, We wish to pass on to you and your team our deep appreciation for your fabulous presentation/s at Nunawading SDA Church last Friday night and Sabbath. Chris and I are familiar with your YouTube Sabbath School classes as well as your books and DVD's but it was such a pleasure to hear you once again in person. I had the pleasure of meeting you and to be in the audience at the New Zealand Conference. The content last weekend was so relevant and illuminating and is helping both of us understand more the Father's plan and the unbelievable and extraordinary life and sacrifice of Jesus. I know from many others that I have spoken to since, others we deeply respect for their commitment to God, that they too felt the Holy Spirit moving and feel so encouraged to continue to dig deeper and explore both Scripture and the writings of Ellen White... for us and I'm thinking most of the 400+ people who attended, that having Come and Reason Ministries attend our church was such a blessing. It was so inspirational and we are grateful for your study, your commitment and your willingness to travel to the other side of the world and head to Melbourne after what must be an exhausting tour. Could you also kindly pass on to your wife, your team and all involved our appreciation and grateful thanks.

To our Collegedale Class I received this email and a card:

I am emailing from Melbourne. A big thank you to you all for sharing Dr. Jennings with us here in Australia these past weeks. We were blessed to hear him speak today and last night. We managed to sneak in a very quick hello and thank you to Tim but was mindful of his time. What we really wanted to do was ramble on and on about the difference Come and Reason has made to EVERYTHING since discovering you on YouTube about a year ago. This message is exciting!! Thank you all for what you are doing to get God's true character 'out there'.

Well done also to the ladies teaching in Dr. Jennings absence. We have very much enjoyed listening to them :))

Also, for our Australian friends, we are in the final stages of receiving Not For Profit Status in Australia. Check with Simon at Australia@comeandreason.com for when this is finalized—all paperwork is in, just waiting for the government to grant the status.

SABBATH

What things are made new?

- The earth—all physical things on the earth, mountains, trees, waters, animals—what about people?
- Do we get new hearts? When do we get new hearts before or at the second coming?
- So would this mean we are set right, in heart, with God before the second coming? What is another word for setting right? Justified or justification—so do we actually get justified before the second coming or are we just declared to be righteous, set right, justified but really we are not, which is what penal substitution teaches?

Read first paragraph, “The destruction...” It says Babylon induces secular powers to persecute—what does this suggest the problem is and what we need to watch out for?

Does it suggest the problem is a physical conflict, one in which physical force is brought to bear?

But what kind of war does Paul say we are in, (2Cor 10:3-5)? A war for our minds—is Babylon's primary attack one of inducing state powers to inflict coercion, or is the real attack in our minds—getting Christians to believe that government enforcement of law is how God operates so that Christians will support the beastly system?

How could Christians come to support the state in passing laws to coerce the consciences of people? What issues might be involved? Could it be:

- to save the earth—climate reform—not enforcing worship, but rest from work for environmental reasons? Would this really be coercion of conscience if no worship is involved? No, it would be no different than laws that require cars to get inspection for emissions—this is not a matter of conscience. So, don't confuse Revelation's warnings with laws to take a day off each week to reduce carbon emissions if no issues of worship are involved.

- what about laws regarding marriage? Could these be avenues that Satan could use to get Christians to seek to enforce their beliefs on others by the power of the state? In other words, be tricked into pursuing what they believe is a good goal, but with Satan's methods of coercion?
- What is the difference between carbon emission laws and laws on marriage?
 - Carbon emission laws would be about environmental and economic policy—not about personal matters of conscience—like laws on recycling, clean air, car exhaust emissions, etc.
 - But laws on marriage move past community and environmental issues to personal issues of conscience and belief.

Read second paragraph, “With the destruction of Babylon...”

The lesson references the fifth seal—let's read this seal:

When he opened the fifth seal, I saw under the altar the souls of those who had been slain because of the word of God and the testimony they had maintained. ¹⁰ They called out in a loud voice, “How long, Sovereign Lord, holy and true, until you judge the inhabitants of the earth and avenge our blood?” ¹¹ Then each of them was given a white robe, and they were told to wait a little longer, until the number of their fellow servants and brothers who were to be killed as they had been was completed. Rev 6:9-11

What do you hear happening? Do you hear anything about the Investigative Judgment or Sanctuary message?

There is an altar, where does that symbol (altar) place the scene? In the sanctuary, so this seal is focusing our attention on the work of Christ in the sanctuary.

What is under the altar? Souls—what does this mean?

Do we understand it through a legal view based on human law and teach that God is functioning like a human law court? Or, do we teach that God is Creator and He is functioning in harmony with His design law in whatever He is doing?

It is taught that Jesus is in the sanctuary opening records, reviewing sins, removing sins from the record of the saved etc. Do we understand such descriptions in legal terms or in design law terms?

Have you considered where the dead go when they die? Do they return to dust? Do they go to God? Do they go to heaven? Or do they do all three?

According to the Bible, human beings are tripartite:

“Now may the God of peace himself make you completely holy and may your spirit and soul and body be kept entirely blameless at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ.” (1Thes 5:23 NET, emphasis supplied).

Is it possible that at death, one part of a human returns to dust, one part goes to God, and one part goes to heaven?

Interestingly, computers are also tripartite and serve as a very poignant object lesson. In order to have an operational computer, one needs hardware, software, and an energy source. Having only two of these three, results in a computer that will not operate. All three are required for actual functioning.

In a similar way, to have an operational (or functioning) human being, it requires all three components—body, soul, and spirit:

- The Greek word for body is σῶμα [soma] and is analogous to a computer’s hardware—the physical machine, including our brain.
- The Greek word for soul is ψυχή [psuche], from which we get psyche, as in psychiatry and psychology, and means our unique individuality, personhood, identity. It is analogous to a computer’s software.
- And the Greek word for spirit is πνεῦμα [pneuma], from which we get pneumonia or pneumatic and means wind, air or breath, as in the breath-of-life. This is our energy source—the life-energy originating from God.

If a computer runs out of power, then into what state does it go? It sleeps. And how does the Bible describe those who die the first death? They sleep, awaiting the resurrection. So, with this in mind, we can now answer what actually happens to the various components of a human being at death.

At the first death,

- the body returns to dust (see Gen 3:19, Ps 44:25, Ecc 3:20);
- the spirit—life energy—returns to God who gave the breath of life (see Ecc 12:7);
- but what about the soul—the psyche, the individuality, the software? Where does that go?

If someone stole your laptop and was threatening to destroy it unless you paid a great price, but you had a perfect copy of the data backed up on a cloud-server, you might say, “I’m not afraid of the one who can destroy my laptop (body) but cannot destroy the software (soul/psyche).” This is what Jesus described in Matthew 10:28 when He spoke about those who might kill us for our faith in Him.

Why is it, that killing of the body cannot destroy the soul? Because the soul is our psyche, our individuality, our unique personhood and is distinct from the body. The question is, Where does the soul go when it is absent from the body?

The apostle Paul said, “Therefore we are always confident, knowing that, whilst we are at home in the body, we are absent from the Lord: (For we walk by faith, not by sight:) We are confident, I say, and willing rather to be absent from the body, and to be present with the Lord.” (2Cor 5:6-8 KJV, emphasis supplied)

But where would our identities (souls) be stored in heaven? Would it not be in the heavenly records, the Lamb's book of life? EGW says this:

Remember, your character is being daguerreotyped [photographed] by the great Master Artist in the record books of heaven, as minutely as the face is reproduced upon the polished plate of the artist. What do the books of heaven say in your case? Are you conforming your character to the Pattern, Jesus Christ? Are you washing your robes of character and making them white in the blood of the Lamb? (TSB 62.1, emphasis supplied)

Every passing hour of the present is shaping our future life. These moments spent in carelessness, in self-pleasing, as if of no value, are deciding our everlasting destinies. The words we utter today will go on echoing when time shall be no more. The deeds done today are transferred to the books of heaven, just as the features are transferred by the artist onto the polished plate. They will determine our destiny for eternity, for bliss or eternal loss and agonizing remorse. Character cannot be changed when Christ comes, nor just as a man is about to die. Character building must be done in this life. (TM 429.3, emphasis supplied)

What is the relationship between deeds and character?

When you hear “deeds” do you think legal, judicial, the bad acts are the problem and require punishment—like in human law. Or, do you think through God's design law and realize that the deeds are evidence of character and further develop and reinforce the type of character one has?

The words are an indication of that which is in the heart. "Out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh." [this would be evidence of the character] But the words are more than an indication of character; they have power to react on the character. Men are influenced by their own words. Often under a momentary impulse, prompted by Satan, they give utterance to jealousy or evil surmising, expressing that which they do not really believe; but the expression reacts on the thoughts. They are deceived by their words, and come to believe that true which was spoken at Satan's instigation. Having once expressed an opinion or decision, they are often too proud to retract it, and try to prove themselves in the right, until they come to believe that they are. It is dangerous to utter a word of doubt, dangerous to question and criticize divine light. The habit of careless and irreverent criticism reacts upon the character, in fostering irreverence and unbelief. Many a man indulging this habit has gone on unconscious of danger, until he was ready to criticize and reject the work of the Holy Spirit. Jesus said, "Every idle word that men shall speak, they shall give account thereof in the day of judgment. For by thy words thou shalt be justified, and by thy words thou shalt be condemned." {DA 323.1}

So, what is recorded in the record books—merely lists of bad deeds that are legal in nature, requiring legal accounting and punishment, or our actual characters, individualities, personhoods?

This is why Paul could write:

Brothers, we do not want you to be ignorant about those who fall asleep, or to grieve like the rest of men, who have no hope. We believe that Jesus died and rose again and so we believe that God will bring with Jesus those who have fallen asleep in him. The Lord himself will come down from heaven, with a loud command, with the voice of the archangel and with the trumpet call of God, and the dead in Christ will rise first. After that, we who are still alive and are left will be caught up together with them in the clouds to meet the Lord in the air. And so we will be with the Lord forever. (1Thes 4:13-18 NIV84, emphasis supplied)

Did you notice that the very same righteous dead who arise out of the ground are also coming down out of heaven with Christ, and that they are described as coming from heaven in a state of sleep? How can this be? Because their souls (psyches/software), which are stored/recorded on the heavenly servers, are coming down with Christ to be downloaded into their new immortal bodies during the resurrection at the Second Coming!

This is why Jesus could say, “I am the resurrection and the life. He who believes in me will live, even though he dies; and whoever lives and believes in me will never die.” (Jn 11:25,26 NIV84)

The righteous may sleep, but they never die. Their individualities are safe with Christ in heaven!¹

Do you see a connection with this and the doctrine of Investigative Judgment and the removing of sins from the Sanctuary in heaven?

When Jesus raises the righteous at the first resurrection, will they arise defective and sinful, or perfect and sinless? Obviously, perfect and sinless, but did all the saved who have died throughout history, die in perfect sinlessness or did they die as sinners who loved Jesus and trusted Him for their salvation, but who still struggled with defects in their lives?

Will they rise with those same defects? Will the thief on the cross, who found salvation in Christ, arise with the heart of a thief longing to steal? Will the great Reformer Martin Luther, who held staunch hatred of the Jews, arise hating the Jews and longing to kill them?

Then, would something need to happen in these saved souls before the resurrection so that at the moment of resurrection their previous evil habits, selfish natures, addictive tendencies and other lusts would be gone? Would all such defects, sinfulness, need to be removed?

Could we describe this process as a healing, cleansing, or removing sins? And from where are these “sins” being removed? From the individualities/characters of the sleeping people who have trusted in Jesus. They are receiving from Jesus His perfection, so that when they arise, they arise perfected!

¹ This article does not address the fate of the unrepentant wicked. Nothing in this article speaks to the mortality or immortality of the soul—that is a different discussion. However, it is the author’s position that the soul is mortal and immortality is a gift from God for the saved (see Rom 6:23).

EGW describes it this way:

We believe without a doubt that Christ is soon coming. This is not a fable to us; it is a reality. When He comes He is not to cleanse us of our sins, to remove from us the defects in our characters, or to cure us of the infirmities of our tempers and dispositions. If wrought for us at all, this work will all be accomplished before that time. (Counsels for the Church 214.4, emphasis supplied)

Do you see how the penal substitution lie cheats people, deceives people, and keeps people trapped in sin? It doesn't teach people that they can be renewed now, but that they can't be renewed now, only declared to be legally righteous, even though they remain unrighteous.

So, our souls, our individualities, or safe and secure in heaven, on the heavenly servers—and what other metaphor does the Bible use for the safekeeping of the individualities of the righteous? The heavenly Sanctuary! (see Eph 2:19-22; 1Pet 2:5; 2Cor 5:1). Using beautiful symbolism Revelation describes this cleansing of the individualities (souls) of the dead:

When he opened the fifth seal, I saw under the altar [sanctuary] the souls [individualities] of those who had been slain because of the word of God and the testimony they had maintained. They called out in a loud voice, “How long, Sovereign Lord, holy and true, until you judge [Investigative Judgment] the inhabitants of the earth and avenge our blood?” Then each of them was given a white robe [cleansing of their characters at that time], and they were told to wait a little longer, until the number of their fellow servants and brothers who were to be killed as they had been was completed [cleansing of the living on earth]. (Rev 6:9-11 NIV84)

So, we could describe this process as cleansing of the Sanctuary.

We could say that:

Jesus, our heavenly High Priest, is opening every individual record and examining it closely, and for all those who have trusted Him, He removes the sins from their account; which means

He examines in detail the stored data (code) that constitutes every person, and for those who trust Him, He removes all damaged code—all elements of selfishness, all tendencies to sin—and writes in His perfection!

The cleansing of the sanctuary is the cleansing of individualities, and EGW connects this cleansing of the temple directly to Malachi 3:1-3, which is critical, because Malachi 3:1-3 is the same event as the one described in Daniel 8:14 that began in 1844.

The coming of Christ as our high priest to the most holy place, for the cleansing of the sanctuary, brought to view in Daniel 8:14; the coming of the Son of man to the Ancient of days, as presented in Daniel 7:13; and the coming of the Lord to his temple, foretold by Malachi, are descriptions of the same event; and this is also represented by the coming of the bridegroom to the marriage, described by Christ in the parable of the ten virgins, of Matthew 25. (GC88 426.1, emphasis supplied)

In 1844, Christ began His final work in heaven of cleansing the souls, databases of all who trust Him from the residual elements of sinfulness people had when they died, so when they arise they arise in sinless perfection.

But why wait until 1844 to start this final work? Because Jesus needs to not only perfect the individualities of the dead/asleep who have placed their trust in Him, but He also has to do the same for those who are still alive on earth at the time of His Second Coming.

This means He needs a people who have comprehended the truth sufficiently enough to expunge the lies about God from their minds and experience the transformation of their souls as described above. Because of Satan's counterattack on Christ's work at the Cross, it wasn't until 1844 that people on earth were ready to begin this final preparation.

But why wait until 1844 to start this final cleansing work?

After Christ's victory at the cross, Satan's man of sin—the little-horn power, as Paul and Daniel describe him—wages war against God's people by attacking the truth about God. This evil power advances its assault on God's character by changing people's perception of God's law—it replaces the truth of God's design-law with the human imposed-law lie. This little-horn power—man of sin—thereby sets himself up in God's temple, proclaiming himself to be God (see Dan 7:25; 2Cor 10:3-5; 2Thes 2:4), by getting humans to conceive of God as an authoritarian dictator—an imposer of rules who, in order to be just, must use His power to inflict punishment and death on the unrepentant. This little-horn power is winning the war of ideas by filling hearts and minds with imperialism and dictator-views of God until the Ancient of Days comes and gives judgment/discernment to the saints (see Dan 7:22).

God, looking down the corridors of time, tells His friend Daniel that 490 years remain for the Jewish people to be the avenue for the Messiah. In the middle of the last week of their mission, the Messiah will come and end the ceremonial system, and He will provide the remedy for human salvation. But the little-horn power will arise after Christ's victory at the cross, and it will war against the saints until a message goes forth from God, proclaiming to the world: Be in awe of God, for the time has come for people to make a right judgment about God—to worship the Designer, Creator, Him who made the heavens, earth, seas and fountains of waters (see Rev 14:7).

This message is specific in its design to turn the minds of people away from the imperial dictator-god with its false, imposed Roman-law construct, back to our Creator God, whose laws are the design-protocols upon which life is built. Those who accept the truth about God and His design-law understand their need for healing and transformation, and they cooperate with Jesus in His work of cleansing the Sanctuary—their souls—so that they will be prepared to meet Him face to face. Those who reject the truth about God and His design-law, continue to perpetuate the lie of the little horn and teach the Investigative Judgment concept through legal lenses, subvert the church, and obstruct the final healing message.

This perspective is developed in more detail in our pamphlet we are making available today. It is currently on our website in digital form and we have print copies here in class for you to take. I want you to take it, study it this week, and next Sabbath we will start our regular class at 10 a.m. instead of 10:20, and at 11:00 a.m. we will do Q&A over this new pamphlet.

In the pamphlet is the main article, followed by several addendum—please read the addendum also. I will share one section now

The last paragraph states the Babylon is destroyed—how do you destroy a system of belief? By destroying the ideas in the minds of intelligent beings it is based upon—this final destruction of Babylon is not a war of physical power, but of truth destroying all the lies about God and removing all the confusion Babylon has caused.

SUNDAY

The Wedding Supper of the Lamb—what is this referring to?

When does the Wedding Supper take place? At the second coming—then when does the wedding take place? Before the second coming, and when did the wedding ceremony occur?

To whom is Christ married?

Read first paragraph, “Two thousand years ago...” What does this mean? Does it mean Christ gets married to inanimate matter?

Or does the New Jerusalem symbolically represent something else?

Similarities between the MHP and the NJ:

Most Holy Place

- Cube
- Covered in Gold-Perfect
- Saved at-one with God
- Where God dwells
- HP cleanses MHP

New Jerusalem

Cube
Paved in Gold
Saved at-one with God
Where God dwells
HP cleanses the hearts of the saved

So, prior to the coming of Christ, He receives His kingdom, which is primarily a concern for objects or people? And when a wedding occurs, what happens between the bride and groom? Does intimacy occur? Does union occur? Do the two become one? In other words, at a wedding at-one-ment happens!!!!

So, could we consider, that the receiving of His kingdom, the wedding for which we are guests, is Christ bringing into perfect at-one-ment all those who have put their trust in Him. In other words, the cleansing of their data-sets, their individualities, their characters as they are united to Christ like a bride to her groom, so that at the resurrection they are perfect?

Consider Revelation 3:12, describing the saved:

I will write upon him the name of my God, and the name of the city of my God, which is new Jerusalem, which cometh down out of heaven from my God: and I will write upon him my new name. Revelation 3:12. {CTr 227.1}

What is being described here? The cleansing of character to restore the saved to God's original design for humanity, receiving the perfection of Christ as their own—being united or at-one with Christ, i.e. being married to Him.

I found this EGW quote in connection with Revelation 3:12 and found it instructive:

Never will the human family—redeemed by the example of the Son of God, the only begotten of the Father—understand and fully comprehend the terrible conflict waged with deceptive, alluring power and concealed, deadly hatred by Satan against our Lord when He lived upon earth. After the battle of the great day of God shall take place, when the power of rebellion is forever broken and Christ's mediatorial work in its magnitude is represented so plainly that all of the redeemed of God's family shall, with clear comprehension, understand the mission of His Son as the mediatorial remedy to make of the fallen race a repentant, humble, meek, reclaimed order of beings—then there will be seen developed the difference between the person that serveth God and the one that serveth Him not. {CTr 227.2}

Rebellion will exist in our world until in heaven are spoken the words "It is done." Rebellion in the church is caused by its members feeling opposed to God and to His terms of salvation. Human beings want abundant room to express themselves and to attract attention. They do not know or understand that they are working out the plans of Satan. If they refuse to see and to become enlightened, if they refuse to be instructed, they reject the mediatorial remedy that has been given to save the sinner—not in sin but from sin. [Come let us reason together... Those who refuse to reason, to examine evidence, to pursue the truth have closed their minds to the truth that Jesus has brought. It is only through the truth we are won to genuine trust in God and then transformed by the Spirit of Truth and Love. Notice the purpose of Christ was not legal, but remedial, healing, to fix the damage sin has done to His creation.] For the express purpose of saving sinners was the remedial work of Christ planned. {CTr 227.3}

Here is another EGW quote:

Jesus sent His angels to direct the minds of the disappointed ones to the most holy place, where He had gone to cleanse the sanctuary and make a special atonement for Israel. Jesus told the angels that all who found Him would understand the work which He was to perform. I saw that while Jesus was in the most holy place He would be married to the New Jerusalem; and after His work should be accomplished in the holiest, He would descend to the earth in kingly power and take to Himself the precious ones who had patiently waited His return. {EW 251.1}

Do you see the reality through the metaphorical language? Jesus is uniting Himself in heart, mind, character with all the saints through history who have trusted in Him, thus cleansing their records (their individualities/data sets) which are stored in heaven. This unity, is oneness in the most intimate way and is described as a marriage.

In COL 311, describing the parable of the wedding feast EGW writes:

When we submit ourselves to Christ, the heart is united with His heart, the will is merged in His will, the mind becomes one with His mind, the thoughts are brought into captivity to Him; we live His life. This is what it means to be clothed with the garment of His righteousness. Then as the Lord looks upon us He sees, not the fig-leaf garment, not the nakedness and deformity of sin, but His own robe of righteousness, which is perfect obedience to the law of Jehovah. {COL 311.4}

Again, do you see the reality through the metaphor of an actual healing of the character, mind, motives to be at-one with Christ.

Those who have died trusting in Him, have their individualities stored in the heavenly records, the Lamb's book of Life, and during the IJ, the Wedding, Jesus unites Himself with them by opening their datasets, their unique stored personhoods and removes all residual defects and writes in His perfection. Thus, they are "washed in the blood" metaphor for the life of Christ, His character restored in them, or covered by the robe of righteousness.

We who are alive on earth receive the same transformation of character through the indwelling of the Holy Spirit and our humble and purposeful trust in Him.

The Church will never fulfill its mission to take the final message of mercy to the world until we reject the imperial law lie with its penal substitution theology and return to worship our Creator God whose laws are design laws. If you want to see Jesus come in your lifetime, then I implore you to reject the legal lie and promote the truth about God.

MONDAY

Armageddon Ends

What is the battle of Armageddon?

- Is it a local battle, or worldwide battle? Worldwide
- Is it a battle of physical armies? No
- Is it a battle for hearts and minds? Yes
- What are the weapons employed by both sides?
 - Satan—lies, coercion, bribes, appeal to survival instincts, impersonation of Christ, miracles, imprisonment, physical torture, death penalty
 - God/Jesus/Saints—truth, love, freedom, never coercion, always leaves free, self-sacrifice, not loving own life so much as to shrink from death, trust God with one's life.

The lesson references 2Thes 1 as a description of the end of the wicked, let's read verses 6-10:

God is just: He will pay back trouble to those who trouble you ⁷ and give relief to you who are troubled, and to us as well. This will happen when the Lord Jesus is revealed from heaven in blazing fire with his powerful angels. ⁸ He will punish those who do not know God and do not obey the gospel of our Lord Jesus. ⁹ They will be punished with everlasting destruction and shut out from the presence of the Lord and from the majesty of his power ¹⁰ on the day he comes to be glorified in his holy people and to be marveled at among all those who have believed. This includes you, because you believed our testimony to you. (NIV84)

How do you understand this? What law lens are you reading it through?

If we believe Satan's lie that God's law functions like human law, requiring the law-giver to inflict punishment, what conclusions do we draw? That Jesus will use His power to inflict pain, suffering and death on the wicked.

If we reject this view, because we reject the lie that God's law functions like human law, and instead believe God is Creator and His laws are the laws upon which all reality operate and life depend, then what conclusions do we draw from the passage?

Do the wicked receive punishment? Yes, but from where? The Bible tells us, Galatians 6:8:

The one who sows to please his sinful nature, from that nature will reap destruction...(NIV84)

So, 2Thes 2:6-8 from The Remedy:

God always does what is merciful, loving and right: those who refuse the Remedy and cause harm, he will give up to reap the torment they have chosen—the destruction that comes from unremedied selfishness—⁷ but he will free us from our afflictions. This will happen when the Lord Jesus appears in the sky in the full brilliance of his unveiled fiery glory, surrounded by his powerful angels.⁸ Truth and love will burn free, and those who have rejected the Remedy procured by Jesus will experience the punishment that unremedied selfishness and sin bring: they will be unfit to tolerate the intensity of absolute truth and pure love of God's presence; the anguish of facing the reality of their true selves and of all they have done will overwhelm them;⁹ they will be punished with eternal separation from the glorious presence of God—separation from their source of life that unremedied sin and selfishness bring—and sink into everlasting non-existence.¹⁰ This will happen on the day Christ returns to be glorified in his people when he restores to his original ideal those who have taken the Remedy. This includes you, because you have believed us and have taken the Remedy.

TUESDAY

The Millennium

When does it begin?

Who is on earth?

Where are the saints?

How is Satan bound?

What do you think the lesson means in the first paragraph where it says, “The chaining of Satan is symbolic, because spiritual beings cannot be physically bound.”

Are they suggesting that Satan is not a physical being that angels don't have physical bodies?

EGW wrote the following in EW 152:

I was shown Satan as he once was, a happy, exalted angel. Then I was shown him as he now is. He still bears a kingly form. His features are still noble, for he is an angel fallen. But the expression of his countenance is full of anxiety, care, unhappiness, malice, hate, mischief, deceit, and every evil. That brow which was once so noble, I particularly noticed. His forehead commenced from his eyes to recede. I saw that he had so long bent himself to evil that every good quality was debased, and every evil trait was developed. His eyes were cunning, sly, and showed great penetration. His frame was large, but the flesh hung loosely about his hands and face. As I beheld him, his chin was resting upon his left hand. He appeared to be in deep thought. A smile was upon his countenance, which made me tremble, it was so full of evil and satanic slyness. This smile is the one he wears just before he makes sure of his victim, and as he fastens the victim in his snare, this smile grows horrible. {EW 152.3}

I have always thought that angels were physical beings, with bodies, just made out of different stuff than our bodies.

WEDNESDAY

The lesson points out that the planet will be purged by fire—this is the fire of combustion which burns up physical matter, the fire in which the elements melt—is this the same fire that consumes sin? No, the fire that consumes sin, is the fire of God’s life-giving glory, the fires of truth and love that consume lies and selfishness. It is only after the wicked are dead that the fires of combustion cleanse the physical matter of the earth.

Read the fourth paragraph, “A life free of suffering...”

Why does God’s presence guarantee a life free of suffering and death? Did God’s presence in heaven guarantee a universe free of suffering and death or did Lucifer rebel in God’s presence?

So, why do they say God’s presence is the guarantee? What is the guarantee that sin will never rise again? The truth—all truth—the truth about God revealed by Jesus, the truth about God’s law—perfect and righteous—the design protocols for life, not imperial rules—the truth about Satan and his lies about God’s law, the knowledge that violations of God’s law only injures and damages the one who violates it. Thus, the universe is safe and secure because all have the knowledge of the truth and have chosen the truth, thus being settled in their hearts and minds on the issue.

Consider this EGW quote:

Through Christ's redeeming work the government of God stands justified. [to whom? what is the redeeming work? Would this mean that we would remember we were redeemed and from what?] The Omnipotent One is made known as the God of love. Satan's charges are refuted, and his character unveiled. [to whom is God made known as the God of love and to whom is Satan's character unveiled? Will we remember?] Rebellion can never again arise. Sin can never again enter the universe. Through eternal ages all are secure from apostasy. By love's self-sacrifice, the inhabitants of earth and heaven are bound to their Creator in bonds of indissoluble union. [why can rebellion never arise again? because we all remember. It is Satan's lie that memory is erased in the hereafter.] {DA 26.2}

FRIDAY

The lesson points out that we are still waiting for the second coming of Christ—why do you think there has been a delay?

Is there anything we can do to hasten the day?

I believe the delay has occurred because the truth about God's design law, the eternal good news about God's character and methods has still not gone to the world. Instead, all Christianity has been infected with the beastly view of God as a dictator who makes up rules and then punishes rule breakers.

The SDA church was called into existence to finish the reformation by rejecting Imperial Rome's view of law and calling people back to worship Him who made the heavens, earth, sea and fountains of waters, i.e. the Creator whose laws are design laws. But the SDA leadership rejected this view in 1888 and embraced the imperial law lie and teaches its pastors and leaders that God is the source of inflicted pain, suffering and death—the lie Satan told from the beginning. We can only finish the work and hasten the day by rejecting the imperial law lie and returning to the truth about God and His law as design law.

Family Seasons Lesson 1 2Q 2019

The Rhythms of Life

by Tim Jennings

Before we get to the lesson I received an email recently:

I was so blessed by a friend that gave me your book, The God Shaped Brain, while I was sitting in church asking God to please help me learn more about Him and help me not to be so confused and scared. That was about 2 years ago. Your books have helped me to love God even more. I'm not confused or scared anymore!!! I have listened to all of your sabbath school classes and feel like I know the wonderful people that attend every week. I know their voices because I jog while I'm listening, and the five miles I jog feels effortless.

January 15th I found out I had cancer in my breast. February 14th I had them removed and implants were put in. God has blessed me so much through this time. I stand in awe of His love. The anesthesiologist, who is a good friend of mine, asked if he could pray with me while I was on the operating table. One of the nurses overheard him and asked if she can join us. Later after the surgery my friend came to visit and told me that he's never felt the Holy Spirit fill the operating room like that before. God's Love is absolutely amazing!

I am at home recovering now, and after my daughter's wedding I plan on taking a trip to come and sit in your class. Thank you for all that you're doing in spreading the true message about God and His law of love. God bless you and your whole Sabbath school class. With a heart full of love,

SABBATH

The lesson points out attention to Ecc 3:1-8, so let's read it from the NIV84:

There is a time for everything, and a season for every activity under heaven:
² a time to be born and a time to die,
a time to plant and a time to uproot,
³ a time to kill and a time to heal,
a time to tear down and a time to build,
⁴ a time to weep and a time to laugh,
a time to mourn and a time to dance, ⁵ a time to scatter stones and a time to gather them,
a time to embrace and a time to refrain,
⁶ a time to search and a time to give up,
a time to keep and a time to throw away,
⁷ a time to tear and a time to mend,

a time to be silent and a time to speak,
8 a time to love and a time to hate,
a time for war and a time for peace.

Is this true? Is this eternal truth? Or, is this a true description of the ebbs and flows of life in a world of sin? Is this describing the pull and tug of the battle between good and evil? Is it describing the tension between the forces of life and the forces of death, between the law of life and the law of sin and death?

So, these truths are truths for two reasons—which are?

- sin infecting God’s creation and...
- God’s grace not abandoning sinners in sin

Would there be any tension between sinful humans and sinful angels naturally, or is the fact we see tension an evidence of God’s interventions, grace, intercession?

EGW puts it this way, do you agree?

The Lord says, "I will put enmity between thee and the woman." The enmity does not exist as a natural fact. As soon as Adam sinned, he was in harmony with the first great apostate, and at war with God; and if God had not interfered in man's behalf, Satan and man would have formed a confederacy against heaven, and carried on united opposition against the God of hosts. There is no natural enmity between evil angels and evil men; both are evil through transgression of the law of God, and evil will always league against good. Fallen men and fallen angels enter into a desperate companionship. {ST, July 11, 1895 par. 5}

When you think of God’s intercession, do you think through human law of Jesus interceding with His blood to a punishing Father, or do you think through design law and see the Father, Son and Holy Spirit united to intercede with the forces of evil for the healing of their creation?

SUNDAY

Genesis 1:1 states “In the beginning God created the heavens and earth...” Of what is this the beginning of?

John 1:1 says “In the beginning was the Word and the Word was with God and the Word was God....” Is this a different beginning?

Which is the first?

To what is Genesis 1:1 referring?

Were humans in existence at the time of Genesis 1:1?

Were angels in existence at the time of Genesis 1:1? (Job 38)

Was sin in existence when humans were created? In other words, did Satan start his rebellion in heaven before or after humans were created?

Here is why I think Satan sinned first—because immediately, in a sinless world after Adam and Eve were created the tree of knowledge of good and evil is there along with Satan who tempts them. There is no history of living many years in perfection and then along comes the tempter.

EGW also holds this view:

Angels on probation had been deceived by Satan, and had been led on by him in the great rebellion in heaven against Christ. They failed to endure the test brought to bear upon them, and they fell. Adam was then created in the image of God and placed upon probation. {Con 18.2}

Humanity was the crowning act in God's creation, planned by God to possess and reveal the most abilities or qualities of God Himself—not only individuality, freedom of choice, capacity for reason, creative thought, capacity for art, music, industry, but also dominion to govern and ability to procreate beings in their image.

The earth was to be the pinnacle of all God's creation and this is one reason Satan specifically targeted earth over all other planets or species in God's universe. Realizing that human beings were gifted with the ability to adapt and change, and to procreate beings in their own image, Satan realized if he could infect humanity with the principles of selfishness and sin, then Satan could produce offspring with his attributes and grow an army of his agents to promote his kingdom.

Not only would Adam and Eve be recruited into selfishness, they become the progenitors of an entire planet of beings infected with Satan's principles.

But God was not taken by surprise and foreknew and already had a plan to destroy the infection of selfishness and heal and restore all human beings who would respond to truth and love and trust Him to heal and restore His perfect design into their being.

Read second paragraph, "Ellen G. White wrote..." From the article cited,

Order is Heaven's first law, and the Lord desires His people to give in their homes a representation of the order and harmony which pervade the heavenly courts. Truth never places her delicate feet in the path of uncleanness and impurity. Truth does not make men and women coarse or rough or untidy. It raises all who accept it to a higher level. Under Christ's influence, a work of constant refinement goes on. {ST, July 8, 1908 par. 4} [what does this mean? growth, advancement, healing development, which means we always have more to grow, so we don't get discouraged or feel guilty when we discover areas we can do better or advance in. It is part of living]

We are living in the last days. Soon Christ is coming for His people, to take them to the mansions He is preparing for them. But nothing that defiles can enter those mansions. Heaven is pure and holy, and those who pass thru the gates of the city of God must be clothed with inward and outward purity. They must be without "spot, or wrinkle, or any such thing." The charge to us is, "Come out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord, and touch not the unclean thing; and I will receive you, and will be a Father unto you, and ye shall be My sons and daughters, saith the Lord Almighty. Having therefore these promises, dearly beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from all filthiness of the flesh and spirit, perfecting [holiness] in the fear of God." {ST, July 8, 1908 par. 5}

What kind of law? Is this imperial rules, or design law?

Why can't we live in heaven with impurity? What would we experience in heaven if our hearts, minds, characters were selfish, deceitful, corrupt, vile, vain?

Would the presence of our infinite God, who emanates infinite love and infinite truth be a place of joy and pleasantness for those who are solidified in selfishness and deceit?

Consider this quote:

The principles of kindness, mercy, and love, taught and exemplified by our Saviour, are a transcript of the will and character of God. Christ declared that He taught nothing except that which He had received from His Father. The principles of the divine government are in perfect harmony with the Saviour's precept, "Love your enemies." [What kind of law is this? Keep this in mind with the next words] God executes justice upon the wicked, for the good of the universe, and even for the good of those upon whom His judgments are visited. [Through what law lens do you hear justice and judgment, human imperial law or God's design law? What does justice look like through human law? What does justice look like through design law?] He would make them happy if He could do so in accordance with the laws of His government and the justice of His character. [What are the laws of His government and justice of His character? Can love be forced? Can love be achieved by threat? Can God program a being, like a computer, to love Him? Can any law, that functions like human law, requiring external punishment for breaking ever bring greater love and trust?] He surrounds them with the tokens of His love, He grants them a knowledge of His law, and follows them with the offers of His mercy; but they despise His love, make void His law, and reject His mercy. While constantly receiving His gifts, they dishonor the Giver; they hate God because they know that He abhors their sins. [like a doctor abhors bubonic plague and the deforming lesions it produces] The Lord bears long with their perversity; but the decisive hour will come at last, when their destiny is to be decided. [By whom will their destiny be decided? If we think through human law what is the answer—by God—He judges; He decides.

But if we think through design law, who decides their destiny? Continue reading and see.] Will He then chain these rebels to His side? Will He force them to do His will? {GC 541.4}

Those who have chosen Satan as their leader and have been controlled by his power are not prepared to enter the presence of God. [What does this mean? Why are they not prepared? What law lens—are they not prepared because they haven’t filed the proper legal briefs, or is there something about their actual state of being that unfits them to be in God’s presence? Continue reading.] Pride, deception, licentiousness, cruelty, have become fixed in their characters. [How did these attributes become fixed in their characters? Who fixed them in their characters? Does this have any bearing on a decisive hour coming that decides their destiny?] Can they enter heaven to dwell forever with those whom they despised and hated on earth? Truth will never be agreeable to a liar; meekness will not satisfy self-esteem and pride; purity is not acceptable to the corrupt; disinterested love does not appear attractive to the selfish. What source of enjoyment could heaven offer to those who are wholly absorbed in earthly and selfish interests? {GC 542.1}

Could those whose lives have been spent in rebellion against God be suddenly transported to heaven and witness the high, the holy state of perfection that ever exists there,— every soul filled with love, every countenance beaming with joy, enrapturing music in melodious strains rising in honor of God and the Lamb, and ceaseless streams of light flowing upon the redeemed from the face of Him who sitteth upon the throne,—could those whose hearts are filled with hatred of God, of truth and holiness, mingle with the heavenly throng and join their songs of praise? Could they endure the glory of God and the Lamb? No, no; [Why not? What law lens do you use to answer and understand what is happening? Why can’t they endure the glory of God because He gets upset, angry, wrathful and lashes out against them using divine power to hurt them, or that there is something in them that hates holiness and suffers in the presence of purity...continuing the quote] years of probation were granted them, that they might form characters for heaven; but they have never trained the mind to love purity; they have never learned the language of heaven, and now it is too late. A life of rebellion against God has unfitted them for heaven. Its purity, holiness, and peace would be torture to them; the glory of God would be a consuming fire. [What kind of law? Is this just on God’s part, why? Is it an infliction?] They would long to flee from that holy place. They would welcome destruction, that they might be hidden from the face of Him who died to redeem them. The destiny of the wicked is fixed by their own choice. [Who decided the destiny of the wicked? Was this a judicial decision made by God or a result of the choices of the wicked to reject the only healing solution that God freely provided?] Their exclusion from heaven is voluntary with themselves, and just and merciful on the part of God. {GC 542.2} [Why are they excluded from heaven? Who makes the choice for them not to be there? And God’s role is to what? Grant them THEIR choice and let them go!]
Like the waters of the Flood the fires of the great day declare God’s verdict that the wicked are incurable... {GC 543.1} [What is God’s verdict or judgment? That they are incurable, which means what? And why does God make this judgment? Because it is the reality or truth of their condition. Does God's judgment make them this way? No—they made themselves this way by rejecting the only cure to their condition.]

Do you see why the imperial law lie with its penal substitution theology has obstructed and prevented the church from taking the truth about God to the world, has kept millions in the bondage of fear and selfishness and undermined our ability to trust God and experience His healing?

So a question that was sent in this week, which I think fits better here than at the end of class today is:

When we consider God's wrath, either letting go, or the unveiled glory consuming sinfulness, or Jesus on the cross experiencing God's wrath, does God's will play a role in deciding when to unveil His wrath and if so, wouldn't it be better for some law to determine this than some other mechanism?

How do we understand God's design law and why God's wrath, His willful choice to "let go" happens? Why did God let go of Jesus at the cross? Was it to punish Jesus? No, it was because God (F, S, HS) chose to save mankind from sin. In order for that to happen, Jesus had to become human, partake of our condition and cure it. In order to cure the condition He had eliminate the infection of fear and selfishness, the survival of the fittest drive by destroying it and restoring God's perfection of love into humanity. Thus, he "destroyed death and brought life and immortality to light" 2Tim 1:10.

So, the only way for Jesus to complete His mission to reveal truth to win to trust and destroy the death causing infection of selfishness and perfect the humanity He assumed, was to be tempted to act in self interest, but to love perfectly instead. Thus His death was the means to end sin; it was not a punishment, and the only way for Christ to develop a perfect humanity, was for the Father—the source of life to let go so He could die and destroy the selfish infection that tempted Him. God's wrath is letting one go to reap what one has chosen, and in this case God let Jesus go to reap what Jesus had chosen, which was to be our Savior and remedy to sin. This was in full harmony with design law, restoring the law of life into humanity—this is why Jesus arose because He restored the law of life into the humanity He assumed.

The wicked in the end are likewise let go by God based on design law as described above, they are fixed in their hatred and rebellion of God and all things holy and lovely and pure and they do not want God to keep them alive—they are incurable—so God set them free to reap what they have chosen.

So, design law is the most reliable, unwavering, unchangeable, consistent, law—any other construct which brings in imperialism and rules introduces confusion and misunderstanding and inconsistency.

MONDAY

The rhythms of life—all life operates in predictable patterns or rhythms. Examples:

- Earth's magnetic fields cycle every day
- Earth's rotation every 24 hours
- Moon's phases and cycles

- Seasons
- Human circadian rhythm—the natural cycle for the human body is every 25 hours, unless influenced by the sun which adapts to every 24 hours. The moon cycles in a 24 hour 50 minute rhythm, which is closer to the body's natural cycle. Which makes one wonder if the original rhythm of our creation was in harmony with the moon and not the sun, because the earth was made with a water layer over the earth and a worldwide temperate climate, with the moon shining as bright as the sun, and the sun 7 times brighter. ("The moon will shine like the sun, and the sunlight will be seven times brighter, like the light of seven full days, when the Lord binds up the bruises of his people and heals the wounds he inflicted." Isa 30:26 NIV84) And it was only after the flood that the sun became the primary solar object to which we respond?
- Body temperature is lowest at 4 a.m. and highest at 4 p.m.
- Many more examples all through the natural world

What rhythms were part of God's creation and what are a result of sin and the battle between God's principles and Satan's?

Rhythms created by God:

- Each day, with an evening and morning
- Earth rotating around the sun and moon rotating around the earth

Assumed to be part of God's creation:

- Changes in biorhythms of living organisms throughout each day

Unknown

- Tidal changes—as oceans likely didn't exist as they do now
- menstrual cycles—likely but unknown
- sleep cycles—was sleep necessary before sin—unknown (Genesis tells of God causing an artificial deep sleep to come upon Adam and during this deep sleep Eve was created. Sounds like anesthesia, but it doesn't sound like nightly sleep).

From sin

- Seasons in which things die and decay
- hibernation of animals

TUESDAY

The lesson talks about unexpected changes and quotes a Greek philosopher who said, "there is nothing permanent except change."

What do you think of that quote?

The lesson points us to examples of people who suffered unexpected painful change, Job, Joseph, Abel—pointing out that in this life change happens and sometimes that change is painful and destructive even to those who choose to do good rather than evil.

What is the lesson from these examples?

We live in a world currently infected with sin—a world that is not operating as God intended, but in which two antagonistic principles are at war. This current circumstance is evidence of God's grace refusing to allow sin to win and His interventions to cure the problem and in the end all pain, suffering and defects from God's design will be eliminated.

WEDNESDAY

Read first paragraph, "The fact is that human..." do you agree?

EGW wrote:

Men and women of mature age are generally as insensible to impressions as is the hardened rock... {RH, March 30, 1897 par. 3}

Why is this so?

- Mindset—people of mature years have formed a mindset in which they are comfortable, in which they seem to have answers for their life's problems and to question their framework would cause a certain discomfort for which they don't want to experience
- Neurobiology—the older we get the more difficult to change and the more effort it takes
- Fear—fear of years of being wrong and the potential guilt one might have if one acknowledges new truth
- Pride—if one has gone on record promoting a certain belief or practice pride can obstruct acknowledging one was wrong

Read the second paragraph, "Indeed, we don't change..." What is wrong with this paragraph? Where is the wife placing the emphasis for change? Where does the wife have authority to make change?

Read third paragraph, "However, God is in the business..." How does God make this change? What method does He use? Can God make change in our hearts, minds, characters without our cooperation? Can we make godly change without God's participation?

- We are laborers together with God. This is the Lord's own wise arrangement. The cooperation of the human will and endeavor with divine energy is the link that binds men up with one another and with God. The apostle says, "We are laborers together with God: ye are God's husbandry, ye are God's building" (1 Corinthians 3:9). Man is to work with the facilities God has given him. "Work out your own salvation with fear and trembling," He says. "For it is God which worketh in you both to will and to do of His good pleasure" (Philippians 2:12, 13).--MS 113, 1898. {2MCP 694.3}

- There are two grand forces at work in the salvation of the human soul. It requires the cooperation of man with the divine agencies-- divine influences, and a strong, living, working faith. It is in this way only that the human agent can become a laborer together with God. The Lord does not sanction in any one of us a blind, stupid credulity. He does not dishonor the human understanding, but, far from this, He calls for the human will to be brought into connection with the divine will. He calls for the ingenuity of the human mind, the tact, the skill, to be strenuously exercised in searching out the truth as it is in Jesus. . . Ye are labourers together with God. {OHC 310.5}
- And he who seeks to give light to others will himself be blessed. "There shall be showers of blessing." "He that watereth shall be watered also himself." Proverbs 11:25. God could have reached His object in saving sinners without our aid; but in order for us to develop a character like Christ's, we must share in His work. In order to enter into His joy,--the joy of seeing souls redeemed by His sacrifice,--we must participate in His labors for their redemption. {DA 142.2}

So, while we are alive we are working in cooperation with God to grow in ever increasing godliness.

Are there people who have died trusting in Jesus who still had struggles for which they longed to experience victory, but they had not yet experienced victory in this life? What happens to them? They are saved—when they arise at the resurrection do they arise still struggling with sinful tendencies or are those eliminated before they arise? When and where are they eliminated? That is the doctrine of the IJ, Christ working in each person's individuality to perfect all who trust in Him so when they arise they arise perfected.

THURSDAY

Read first paragraph, "The Bible is a book..." Scientific studies compared socially connected people to socially isolated people and found that those with social connections had gene expression differences which reduced inflammation and improved the ability to resist infections.

People who engage in volunteerism live longer, have less disability, depression, dementia and stay out of nursing homes longer than those who don't volunteer.

The science would agree with the Bible that we are designed for relationships.

Yet, even though this is true, our changing social media and world has resulted in ever increasing social isolation, with increased mental breakdown, drug and alcohol use disorders. Why?

My hypothesis is that the digital world has markedly increased the selfish tilt of relationships, where people can be voyeurs, bullies, project avatars or false images all designed to get for self and never really having to be open, honest, patient, compassionate or caring of another.

Read last paragraph, “In many ways...” Can we make up rules on kindness and compassion? Does context ever matter in directing what is the kind and compassionate action to take?

What is required to actually be nice, kind or compassionate toward another?

Before we can actually be nice, kind, or compassionate we must understand reality, understand God’s design law, and have love for people in our hearts. It is a combination of both truth and love that results in genuine kindness and compassion.

Examples:

- Your son has an addiction problem and refuses any treatment, denies he has a problem and is now unable to pay his bills and car is going to get repossessed and he will be evicted from his apartment and doesn’t have any money for food. What is the kind and compassionate action to take?
- You are a pastor and a member of your church comes to you telling you her husband has been physically abusive to her, but he hasn’t been sexually involved with anyone else. The abuse has been going on for many years and he refuses to acknowledge any wrong doing or get help. She wants to divorce, but doesn’t want to disobey God’s Word and wants to do the most loving thing she can for her husband. What do you tell her to do?

Jesus said:

“Do not suppose that I have come to bring peace to the earth. I did not come to bring peace, but a sword. For I have come to turn “ ‘a man against his father, a daughter against her mother, a daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law— man’s enemies will be the members of his own household... MT 10:34-35 (NIV84)

From The Remedy

"Don't think that I have come to make peace with a selfish world. I have not come to bring peace with selfishness, but a sword to cut selfishness out of the hearts of people.³⁵ I have come to cut dysfunctional family ties: to free a son from selfish loyalty to his father's ambitions and feuds, to sever a daughter from the control of an oppressive and manipulative mother, to cut through the fear and hostility a daughter-in-law has toward her mother-in-law.³⁶ A person's worst enemies are often members of their own family.

Family Seasons Lesson 2 2Q 2019

The Choices We Make

By Tim Jennings (announcements at end)

I viewed a few minutes of the Q&A session from last week and was quite disappointed with myself in how I appear to have come across. I allowed the pressure of trying to answer 27 pages of questions in only 60 minutes to increase my sense of urgency and came across too stern; perhaps it would have been better to not be so pressured and to have covered fewer questions. So, if I came across to stern I apologize to you and will try to slow down—but it's hard!

A news article this week on Spectrum Magazine reported:

In business meetings held last week, March 21-24, 2019, delegates of the Czech-Slovak Union voted their affirmation that women pastors should be ordained to pastoral ministry while rejecting the document "Regard for and Practice of General Conference Session and General Conference Executive Committee Actions" that was voted at the GC's Annual Council on October 14, 2018.

In their resolution they state:

The Czech-Slovak Union Conference does not agree with the enforcement of unity by a "higher organizational body"; they believe that unity comes from the action of the Holy Spirit on every individual.

Do you think people who lived under a dictatorship for decades are perhaps a little more savvy, sensitive, to the movements of imperialism and recognize a little more quickly such tactics are not in keeping with God's design for unity?

In the discussion after this article, some argued that the actions of the Czech union could cause a split and that church members should not rebel against the church leadership of the GC. What I found interesting was in a response to that concern another person cited the following quotation from EGW, which she wrote after the 1888 Minneapolis GC, and then the person made an observation. Here is the EGW quote cited:

"When I purposed to leave Minneapolis, the angel of the Lord stood by me and said: [The following is a quote from the angel of the Lord, who is Christ] "Not so; God has a work for you to do in this place. The people are acting over [re-enacting] the rebellion of Korah, Dathan, and Abiram. I have placed you in your proper position, which those who are not in the light will not acknowledge; they will not heed your testimony; [What was EGW advocating? For the healing view of the gospel promoted by Jones and Waggoner.

Righteousness by faith message—which is actual, real, genuine righteousness within the heart/mind of those who trust in Jesus. The rebuilding and healing of our characters when we trust in Jesus—the fulfillment of the day of at-one-ment metaphor, the cleansing of the bride, the groom receiving His bride bringing her into unity/oneness with Him, the cleansing of the sanctuary. All the same. But church leadership rejected this healing view and chose instead to embrace the false imperial legal view of declared righteousness even though we are not. This, is, according to the angel of the Lord, like Korah saying “we can’t succeed in going into the promised land.” And church leaders, who prefer the imperial law view, have been telling Adventists ever since that we can’t succeed in experiencing Christ’s righteousness, which prepares us to stand in His presence; we can only be declared legally righteous, even though we are not.] but I will be with you; My grace and power shall sustain you. It is not you they are despising, but the messengers and the message I send to My people. [Friends of Come and Reason around the world, realize that when you are told you are not welcome, you cannot teach your SS class, that you cannot share the wonders of God’s love that has so transformed your life—that it is not you they are rejecting but Christ they are rejecting—just like Korah.] They have shown contempt for the word of the Lord. Satan has blinded their eyes and perverted their judgment; and unless every soul shall repent of this their sin, this unsanctified independence that is doing insult to the Spirit of God, they will walk in darkness. I will remove the candlestick out of his place except they repent and be converted, that I should heal them. They have obscured their spiritual eyesight. [What does this mean? How? By refusing the truth of God’s design law, by holding to Rome’s imperial law lie, they have blinded themselves to how reality actually works and live in a fantasy of confusion and contradictions mirroring this sinful world with a god who is the source of pain, suffering and death which they call justice.] They would not that God should manifest His Spirit and His power; for they have a spirit of mockery and disgust at My word. Lightness, trifling, jesting and joking are daily practiced. They have not set their hearts to seek Me. They walk in the sparks of their own kindling, and unless they repent, they shall lie down in sorrow. Thus saith the Lord: “Stand at your post of duty; for I am with thee, and will not leave thee nor forsake thee.” These words from God I have not dared to disregard.”—Letter 2a, 1892, pp. 4, 5. (To “Dear Nephew and Niece, Frank (F.E.) and Hattie,” Nov. 5, 1892.) {3MR 191.2}

The person who posted this on Spectrum noted that EGW took the position that church leadership became represented by Korah and to reject those who hold the legal/penal position is not rejecting God, but rejecting the leadership of those who have rebelled against God.

Can you see why they shipped her to Australia?

Can you see why our church is still wandering in the wilderness instead of going home to our heavenly promised land?

An online listener, Jonathan Mahurin, in aftermath of our Q&A last week sent this quote from DA in relationship to God cleansing people from sin:

“I indeed baptize you in water unto repentance,” said John; “but He that cometh after me is mightier than I, whose shoes I am not worthy to bear: He shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost and with fire.” Matthew 3:11, R. V., margin. The prophet Isaiah had declared that the Lord would cleanse His people from their iniquities “by the spirit of judgment, and by the spirit of burning.” The word of the Lord to Israel was, “I will turn My hand upon thee, and surely purge away thy dross, and take away all thy sin.” Isaiah 4:4; 1:25. To sin, wherever found, “our God is a consuming fire.” Hebrews 12:29. In all who submit to His power the Spirit of God will consume sin. But if men cling to sin, they become identified with it. Then the glory of God, which destroys sin, must destroy them. Jacob, after his night of wrestling with the Angel, exclaimed, “I have seen God face to face, and my life is preserved.” Genesis 32:30. Jacob had been guilty of a great sin in his conduct toward Esau; but he had repented. His transgression had been forgiven, and his sin purged; therefore he could endure the revelation of God's presence. [from where was his sin purged? What was purged? Fear and selfishness and the lies he had been telling himself that justified his selfish choices] But wherever men came before God while willfully cherishing evil, they were destroyed. At the second advent of Christ the wicked shall be consumed “with the Spirit of His mouth,” and destroyed “with the brightness of His coming.” 2 Thessalonians 2:8. The light of the glory of God, which imparts life to the righteous, will slay the wicked. DA 107.4

Sin has two roots, lies and fear-based selfishness, truth burns out lies and love burns out fear and selfishness. Thus, God’s presence of truth and love burns out lies about God and fear and selfishness.

So, how do we get healed? How do we get the lies, fear and selfishness burned out of our hearts, minds, characters, without being destroyed in the process?

Malachi writes, after the previous chapter where he wrote about the cleansing of the sanctuary, in which our hearts and minds are cleansed:

“Surely the day is coming; it will burn like a furnace. All the arrogant and every evildoer will be stubble, and that day that is coming will set them on fire,” says the Lord Almighty. “Not a root or a branch will be left to them.” ² But for you who revere my name, the sun of righteousness will rise with healing in its wings. 4:1,2

What do you understand this to mean?

Christ is the source of truth, spiritual light, at the end of time truth increases in its intensity and those who love truth assimilate it and grow in the truth until they are ready to meet Christ face to face. But those who do not love the truth, deny it and stay in the darkness of false ideas about God, rooted in the false law lens of an imperial dictator and they are not prepared to stand in His presence.

Consider, being in a dark cave for days and then being brought out at 4 a.m. and allowed to sit there while the sun rises, how would that be?

What if you were in that dark cave for days and being brought out at noon on a sunny day, how would that be?

Jesus is rising now, truth is increasing in its intensity for this generation, are we advancing in it, assimilating it, being transformed by it or are we clinging to old ideas, preferring the darkness of the Dark Ages view of God?

Consider these quotes:

The earth was dark through misapprehension of God. [What is the cause of darkness in the minds of humans?] That the gloomy shadows might be lightened, that the world might be brought back to God, Satan's deceptive power was to be broken. This could not be done by force. [Why could this not be done by force? What kind of law uses force? What kind of law does Satan allege God uses?] The exercise of force is contrary to the principles of God's government; He desires only the service of love; and love cannot be commanded; it cannot be won by force or authority. [Is there darkness in the world today because essentially all of Christianity teaches that God's justice requires Him to use force to torture and kill those who don't love Him? But at this time in history the Sun of righteousness is rising with healing—healing for our minds, hearts, characters as we reject the imperial law lie and the penal substitution lie and return to worship our Creator God whose laws are design laws] Only by love is love awakened. To know God is to love Him; His character must be manifested in contrast to the character of Satan. This work only one Being in all the universe could do. Only He who knew the height and depth of the love of God could make it known. Upon the world's dark night the Sun of Righteousness must rise, "with healing in His wings." Malachi 4:2. {DA 22.1}

In these final hours of probation for the sons of men, when the fate of every soul is so soon to be decided forever, [decided by who?] the Lord of heaven and earth expects His church to arouse to action as never before... The good news of salvation is to go to every nation, kindred, tongue, and people. [For what purpose? Would it be for people to make a decision upon? And what decision? Would it be whether to trust God? And would the message be different from the dictator view of a punishing god that Christianity has spread for over a thousand years?] {PK 716.2}

In the visions of the prophets of old the Lord of glory was represented as bestowing special light upon His church in the days of darkness and unbelief preceding His second coming. As the Sun of Righteousness, He was to arise upon His church, "with healing in His wings." Malachi 4:2. And from every true disciple was to be diffused an influence for life, courage, helpfulness, and true healing. {PK 716.3}

The coming of Christ will take place in the darkest period of this earth's history. The days of Noah and of Lot picture the condition of the world just before the coming of the Son of man. The Scriptures, pointing forward to this time, declare that Satan will work with all power and
